

City tables discussion, sets called session

In the regular monthly meeting of the Lockney City Council, aldermen voted to table discussion of the possible purchase of a new tractor and problems with the dumpgrounds until a special called meeting Thursday, August 11 (today) at 9:00 a.m. This step was taken due to the absence of council members Ronnie Aston and Jerry Johnson. Both of the proposed situations could result in large expenditures and it was felt that a full council should be present before making any decisions.

The possible purchase of a tractor is needed in that both small tractors in use by the city at the present time are in need of repairs and they are not fully able to handle all the shredding and blading which the city needs to do.

Bids for the purchase of tractors were opened at the August 4 meeting. Several horsepower tractors were called for in the bid specifications to allow council members a wide range of prices and sizes to choose from. Bidders, horsepower, and prices are listed as follows:

Floyd County Implement, 33 hp $4745, 40 hp $5500, 50 hp $7160, 60 hp $8960, 65 hp $11,300, 75 hp $13,450; James Brothers Implement, 38 hp $5880, 45 hp $8050, 65 hp $11,150, 67 hp $8400. James Brothers also submitted bids on Kubota tractors and these were 36 hp $6775, 40 hp $7900, 57 hp $10,900, 76 hp $14,000; Briscoe County Implement, 45 hp $10,325, 55 hp $11,175, 75 hp $14,400.

Also bidding were Brown's Implement, 35 hp $6800, 42 hp $6900, 52 hp $8500, 62 hp $9700, and 72 hp $11,700; and Scott Tractor with bids of 35 hp $5516, 42 hp $6359.50, 52 hp $7340, 62 hp $8986 and 72 hp $10,672.

All these bid prices include trade-in allowances for the two tractors presently owned by the city. A decision will be made on the tractor purchase in today's called meeting.

The city dumpgrounds are another topic which will be discussed in the morning meeting. A recent inspection by the State Health Department has raised the topic of what action will be taken to bring the area into compliance with state mandates. The city is facing the possible letting of a contract with an independent to work the area or the possible purchase of a caterpillar with which they can do the work themselves. Outcome of the meeting will be in next week's Beacon.

Also discussed during the meeting was the proposed budget for Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority, the water supplier for the city. On hand for this presentation were MMWA manager John Simpson and secretary Gayle White.

The budget for the 1988-89 year reflects a slight increase in all participating cities budgets, however this increase was expected.

For the 1988-89 year Lockney's base monthly payment will increase to $12,913, an increase of $1,509 over the payment for 1987-88. During the 1986-87 year the base monthly payment for Lockney was $13,382.00 and for 1987-88 it was $11,404. The decrease last year came after surplus funds were generated from previous year collections and these were "returned" to the participating cities in the form of reduced monthly payments. Last year during the meeting with the council, MMWA officials informed council members that the amount would be reduced for one year and that it would probably be increased this year.

The Lockney monthly payment of $12,913.00 for the 1988-89 year includes $2759.79 for operation and maintenance of the water supply, $2542.94 for electricity and chemicals, $6743.92 in bond payments, and $866.00 per month into bond reserve. Lockney's total payments for the 1988-89 year will be an estimated $154,951.79.

The other three participating cities, Floydada, Silverton and Tulia will also have increased payments this year. Floydada will pay an estimated total of $283,264.83, Silverton's cost will be $68,019.55, and Tulia incurs the largest bill with $365,359.84. The largest portion of each cities monthly payment goes toward bond payments.

MMWA officials did bring some good news with them to the meeting. It is expected that a $30,000 surplus in the recreational department will be returned to the cities this coming year and this credit has been deducted from each cities fixed cost (water supply) portion of the 1988-89 budget. Lockney will receive a $5,034 credit, Floydada $8,577.00, Silverton $2,208 and Tulia $14,181 in credits if this proposition is approved at the next meeting of MMWA's board of directors.

MOSQUITO COST INCREASED

Due to the increased spraying for mosquitoes in the city of Lockney and a loss of revenue in this area, council members approved increasing the monthly charge for spraying from $3 to $4 per month per customer. "We are losing money since we had to spray more this year due to increased wet weather," commented city secretary Erma Lee Duckworth. Council members agreed that by raising the cost by $1 per customer per month it will cover the city cost and will allow them to spray

Wofford, on windmills and wine

By Lisa R. Head
Tech Journalism Student

"There are more windmills now than 20 years ago," said Nelson Wofford, owner of Wofford Manufacturing Company of Lockney. Wofford produces sucker rods which are vital to the operation of the windmill.

The sucker rod is responsible for pulling water from beneath the ground to the surface in order to aid cattlemen and farmers. Wofford explained that cattlemen are his major purchasers, taking approximately 90% of the market.

The Lubbock resident ships his product across the United States, as well as exporting to Canada and Mexico. Keru- ing wood, which imported from Indonesia and Malaysia, is used to make the sucker rods. This type of wood is favored because it is straight-grained and it is possible to receive intact lengths of up to 25 feet long.

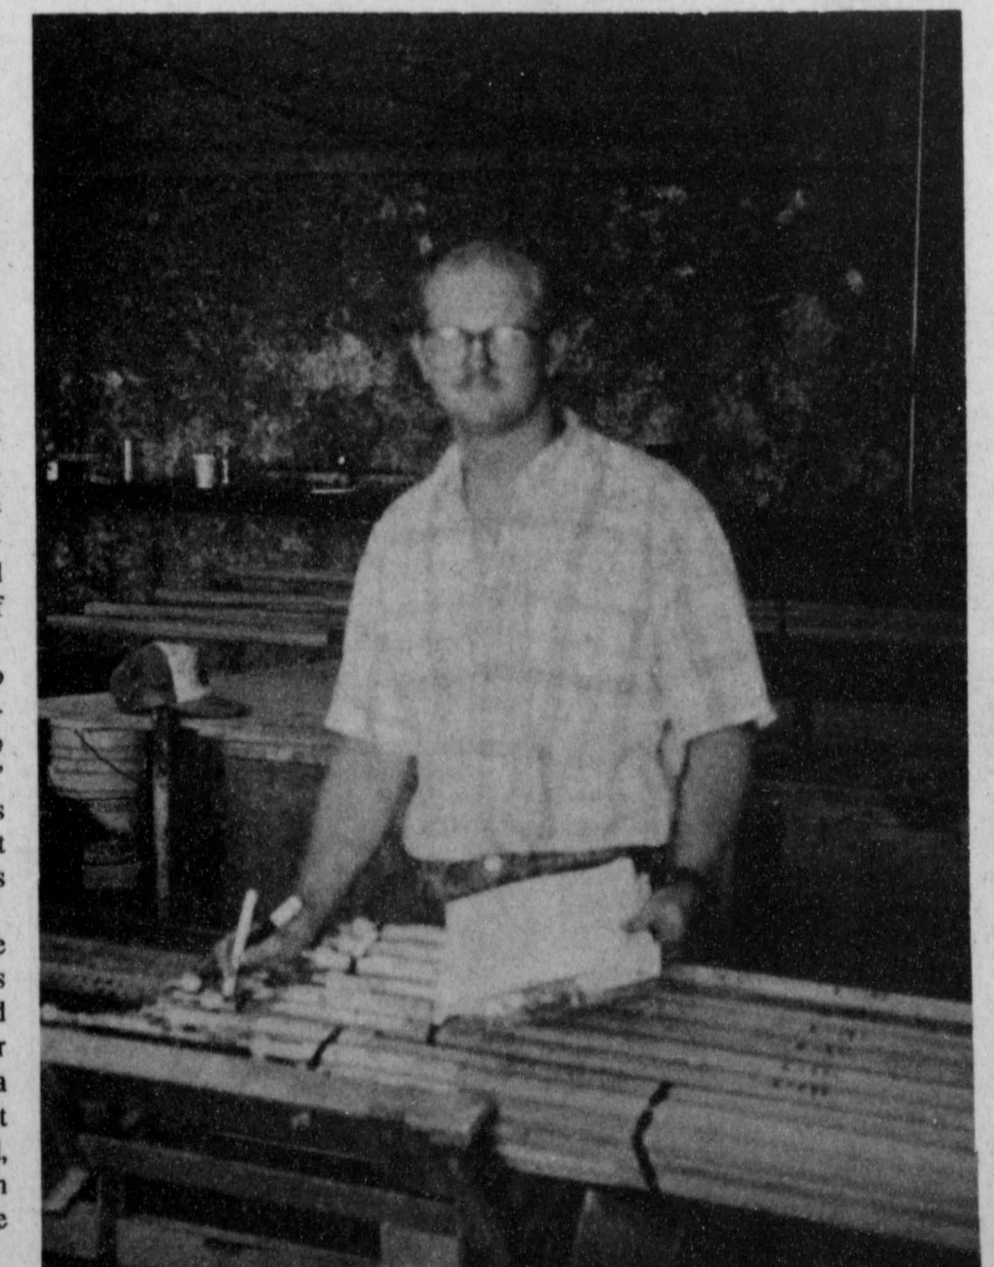

"The energy crunch caused people to go back to wind power instead of electric pumps," said Wofford. "We are up 25% in production over 15 years ago." He explained that the sucker rod has always been an octagon shape because it cuts down on the wear of the round pipes it fits into.

"We use wood because it is still the best product and is considerably less expensive," said Wofford when asked of alternative materials such as steel or fiberglass. The eventual wear on a sucker rod is inevitable no matter what material is used. According to Wofford, it seems more logical to sacrifice an inexpensive wooden rod than the more valuable pipe it is encased in.

But sucker rods are not Wofford's only business. He is also the owner of a 45 acre vineyard located eight miles south of Lockney. "In the next few years, I hope to have at least 100 acres," said Wofford of his vineyard. His product is sold to Llano Estacado wine factory located on the South Plains. Wofford expects bright futures for both his manufacturing company, as well as his vineyard.

A fight behind Las Maracas at 1:30 a.m. July 31 resulted in one man going to the hospital for stitches. According to Police Chief Leonard Gilroy, "Several persons were involved in the fight behind Las Maracas. One man, was transported to Lockney General Hospital where he received eight stitches to the back of his head." He was later transferred to Plainview General Hospital to undergo a CATSCAN and later released. "Charges are expected to be filed on individuals who were involved in the disturbance later this week," said Gilroy.

A fight at the gas pump at Allsup's August 7 led to two men being arrested and charged with disorderly conduct and public intoxication. "Officer Jerry Edwards observed the two men fighting at approximately 9:45 p.m.," said Chief Gilroy. "He arrested Francisco Ramos Gonzalez of Lakeview and Roberto Bautista Martinez of Petersburg. They appeared before Judge Green, pled guilty to the charges and were fined $200.00."

Morgan - St. John wed in Irving ceremony

Karen D'Lynn Morgan of Carrollton became the bride of Bryan Jay St. John of Richardson on Saturday, August 6 in Irving, Texas. The ceremony was held in Central Church of Christ at 3:00 p.m. with Dean Morgan, father of the bride, officiating.

The bride was a teacher at Lockney Junior High School before moving to Carrollton and becoming a teacher at the Lewisville Independent School District. She teaches English as a second language.

The bride is the daughter of Dean and Beverly Morgan of Amarillo and the groom's parents are Bob and Katherine St. John of Richardson.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, Dean Morgan.

She chose a long white formal bridal gown fashioned of taffeta. The molded bodice featured heavily beaded alencon lace with a deep v-back, a ruffled bustle attached at the back waistline and a matching lace v-point at the front of the basque waistline. The long, slender sleeves of the dress featured puffed shoulders, open beaded lace appliques, and bridal point cuffs.

The skirt of the gown was softly gathered, with beaded alencon lace appliques on the front. The back of the skirt featured cut-out lace appliques and the bottom edge was completed with alencon lace. The chapel length train was also decorated with applique lace.

Bridal attendants included Deneane Morgan of Bedford, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; Pam Murray of Hurst and Monique Matthews of Carrollton, bridesmaids.

All three women wore tea length peach taffeta dresses with peach lace overlays and applique pearls. They carried bouquets of various flowers in peach, blue, and white. The bouquets also featured pearls and lace.

The best man was Bob St. John of Richardson, father of the groom. Groomsmen included Scott St. John and Todd St. John, both of Richardson, brothers of the groom.

Other attendants included flower girl Mindy Morgan of Spring, niece of the bride, and ring bearer Thad Lusk of Wellman.

Ushers were Terry St. John, brother of the groom; Derryl Morgan, brother of the bride; Max Hudson, Gary Duke and Jeremy Duke. Raymond Lusk welcomed guests to the wedding.

Candlelighters for the special event were Keri Dee Lusk and Holly Duke. Kay Lynn Lusk and Jayson Lusk served as junior bridesmaid and groomsmen.

Church decorations included a 15-light arch behind the altar and a 15-light spiral on each side. All were decorated with greenery and ribbon. The altar area also held a unity candle.

Music for the occasion was performed by soloists Shelly Morgan, sister-in-law of the bride, and Rick Bowden of Fort Worth. Choral music was provided by Prestoncrest Accapella.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for guests.

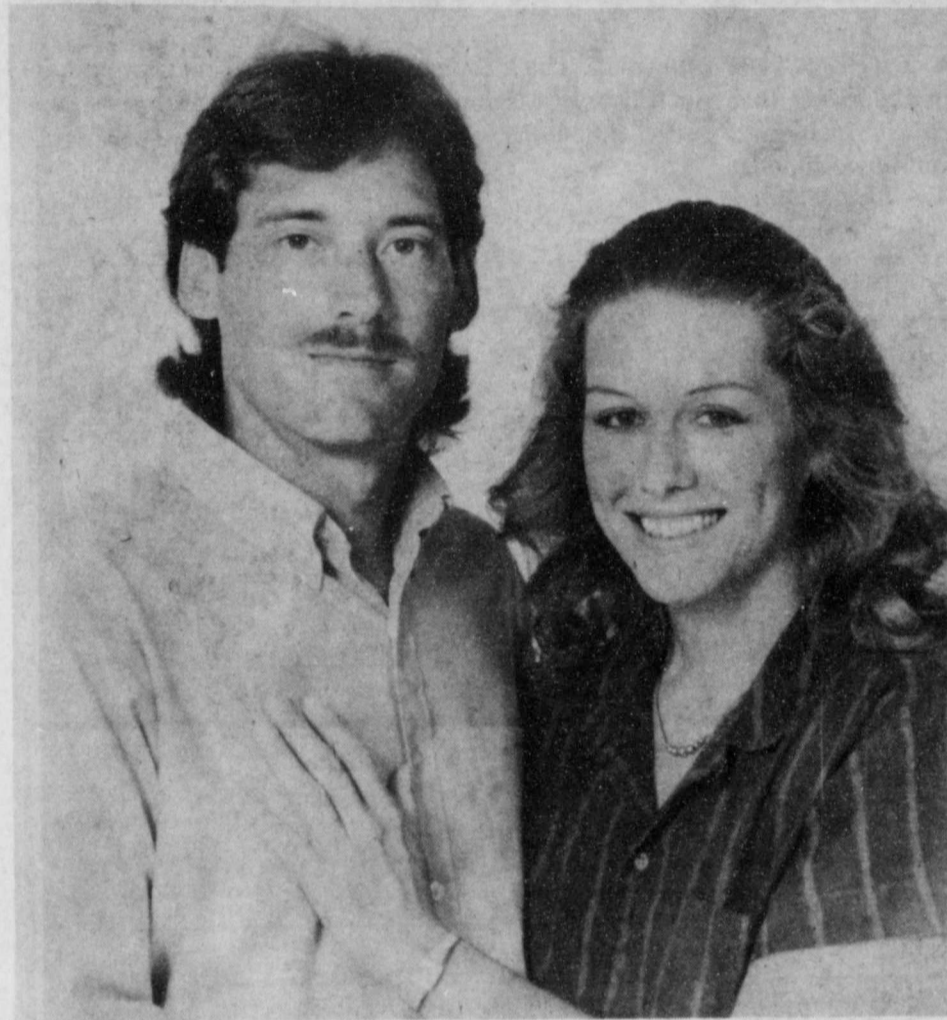

Karyn Foster of Lockney served from the bride's table, which held a silk bridal arrangement and crystal punch bowls on each end. Accenting the table were crystal candleholders given to the bride by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lusk. The table held a three tier Italian creme wedding cake decorated with silk flowers. Also on the table were a fruit sculpture and cheese cubes.

The groom's table was laid with a brass coffee service and brass and teakwood flatware. Brass and crystal candlesticks, baby pictures of the bride and groom, and a casual engagement picture of the couple completed the setting.

The couple left the reception in their bridal attire to a waiting limousine and departed for a honeymoon trip to the Bahamas. Following their return, the couple will reside in Carrollton, where the groom is a self-employed contractor. The bride is a school teacher in Lewisville.

Lockney Care Center Notes

By Dianne Galvan
Director of Activities

Hello all! Sorry you haven't heard from us lately but we have been staying so busy it has been hard to get anything down in writing.

On Tuesday, July 26, John and Maebelle Francis came to sing for us. We had a wonderful time. Mrs. Francis has a beautiful voice and Mr. Francis is an excellent keyboard player.

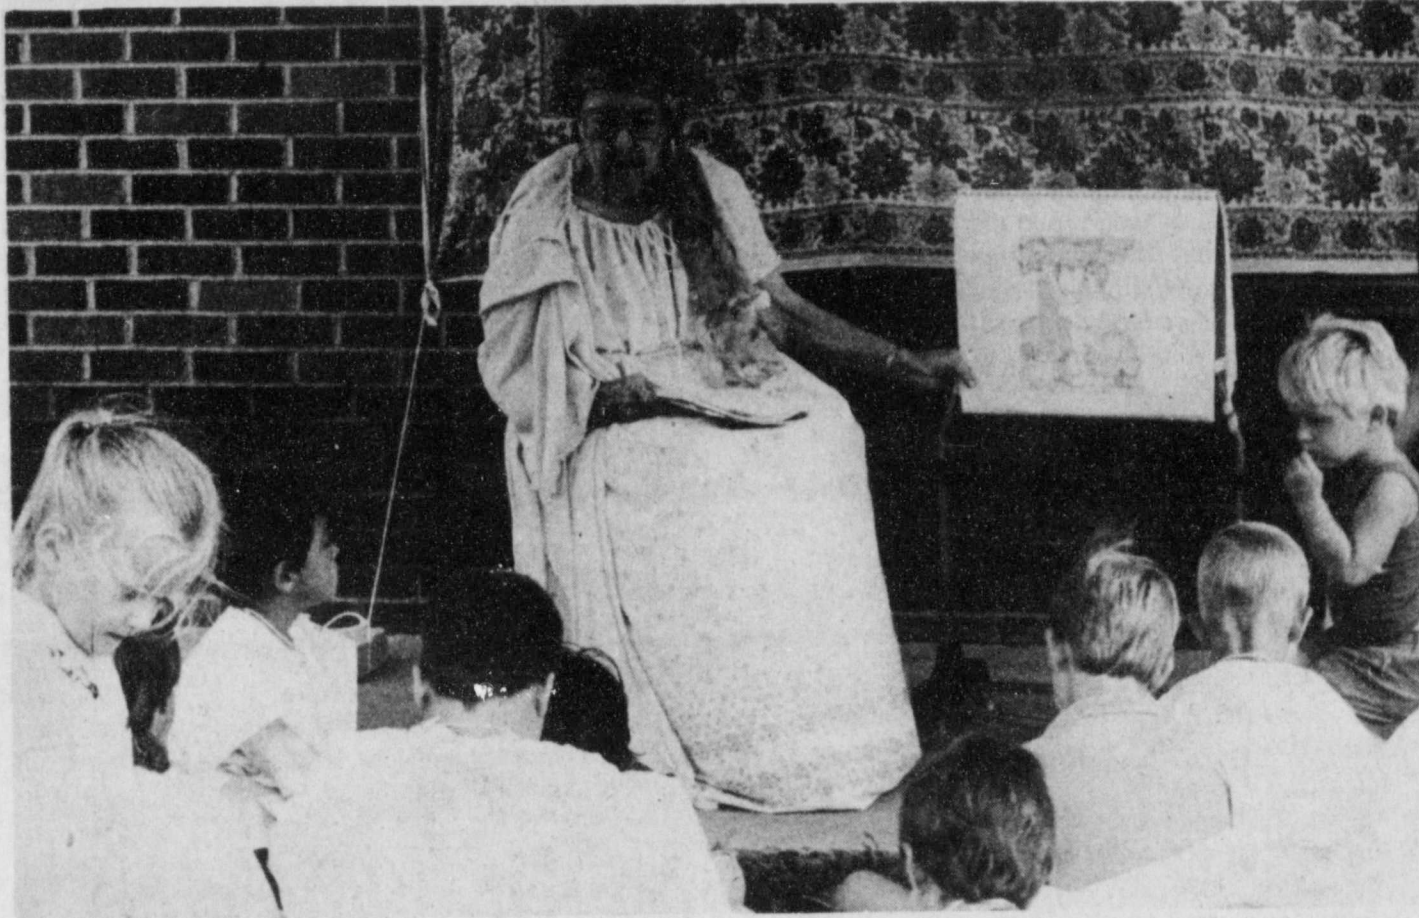

We are still keeping up our weekly bus rides. Last Monday we traveled to Floydada to see the sites. Billy Probasco had a nice visit with his mother at the nursing home there and we were treated to ice cream at the Lockney Dairy Queen by Myrtle Gibson. Thanks, Myrtle!

We also would like to thank Mr. Gerald Rascoe for the squash and turnips, Mrs. Charlotte Carthel for the corn on the cob, Mrs. Lanita Cantwell for the squash and green beans and a big thank you goes out to the First Baptist Church for the cookies that they brought over. We have really enjoyed all of these treats. In this month of August we are looking forward to lots of fun activities. One of which is the making of our float for the Floyd County Parade on August 20. If you would like to help out in any way, please feel free to come by and do so.

We are proud to announce that our resident of the month is Mrs. Lottie Stewart. Born and raised in Dickens County, she is the daughter of E.B. and Kathleen Shaw and the wife of the late Mr. Albert Stewart. The Stewarts had two children, Dean Stewart of Lockney, and Doris Blankenship of Plainview. Mrs. Stewart has been with us for two months and we have really enjoyed her company. Congratulations, Lottie!

MAKING BRICKS OR JUST PLAYING IN THE MUD—These youngsters enjoyed a fun experience that they might not get to have at home. They played in the mud (under adult supervision) at the Vacation Bible School at the First United Methodist Church in Lockney Monday morning. The kids were learning the fine art of making bricks as it was done in Bible times. Youngsters enjoyed several "booths" which featured Bible era activities. — Staff photo

Combination adds to unwelcome illness

The combination of summer heat, uninsulated containers and prepared deli foods can add up to an unwelcome bout of food-borne illness.

There's no doubt that supermarket delis are the latest fast food phenomenon. Industry figures show that almost 62 percent of supermarkets now have delis with salad bars and prepared foods for a quick lunch, completely prepared dinner or instant picnic.

It's not the deli food itself that has food safety experts concerned, but how people handle the food once they buy it.

"In-store delis and salad bars have to meet health department standards in keeping hot foods at 140 degrees and cold foods below 40 degrees. In both cases that inhibits the growth of bacteria in the food," said Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"But if you buy a carton of cold food, take it out to a hot car and then run a few errands before you eat it, the food may become warm enough for rapid growth of bacteria," she said.

"Protein foods, such as those containing meat, eggs, poultry and milk are most susceptible to the growth of salmonella bacteria when not handled properly," said the specialist.

"Many of the most popular deli items, like smoked meats, potato or macaroni salads and puddings fit in this category," she said.

The specialist said that when planning a picnic of deli foods, it's safest to buy hot foods as close to your destination as possible so they can be eaten right away.

"Carry an insulated cooler with ice for cold deli foods. Cardboard or styro-foam containers do not provide adequate insulation," she said.

"If you buy prepared foods for dinner, be sure to take them right home and serve immediately. After the meal, promptly refrigerate the cartons of leftovers," said Cooksey.

Whenever cartons of food have been sitting out for more than two hours, the specialist said they should be discarded.

"With a few precautions, consumers can enjoy the convenience of supermarket delis without the discomfort of flu-like symptoms from a food-borne illness," she said.
