

Lockney's Longhorns will be playoff bound!

By Holly Norwood
How sweet it is to beat Abernathy!
How sweet it is to beat Abernathy in Abernathy. How sweet it is to beat Abernathy 28 to Zero. Oh how sweet it is to beat Abernathy for a play-off berth.

"I don't think anything could have kept us from winning Friay night," Coach Jim Clark said, "We wanted it alot more than they did."

Friday night was all Lockney beginning with a blocked 'Lope punt by Gary Ruff and a Horn TD by Joe Luna. The "Black Attack" defense dominated from the openign kickoff. The Horn defense forced turnovers, bad passes but more importantly kept Abernathy scoreless.

Horns Michael Monroe turned on the juice and never turned it off until the last second ticked off the clock. Monroe totaled 155 yards and three touchdowns. The first TD came in the early second quarter, on a two yard scamper. Guerrero's kick was good increasing their lead 14-0.

Abernathy's next possession was the only true threat to Lockney's shut-out. A 34 yard TD run by 'Lopes Larry Norris was the only time the Horns defense allowed Abernathy in the end zone, only to be called back on a holding penalty.

Lockney continued to dominate through the third quarter. The "Black Attack" forced a fumbled snap and Horns Carlos Rendon recovered, which set up the next Horn T.D.

Seven plays later, the Horn offensive line opened a huge hole to allow Monroe his second T.D. After Monroe's 41-yard run, PAT kick failed. Lockney sat a comfortable lead 20-0.

The Antelopes drove regret down the field deep in Longhorn territory on their next possession. On fourth down, Horn Phillip Glasson tipped down a 'Lope pass to Joe Luna which sat up the final score for the Horns.

Monroe topped the night off with his third T.D. QB Louis Peralez was successful on the 2 point conversion. Horns shut out Abernathy 28-0. Coach Clark said between the 7th, 8th Shorthorns and the Horns, a total of 65 points were scored to Abernathy's 0.

"We didn't give an offensive or defensive player of the week this time because we feel the whole team deserves it," Coach Clark said, "The team has really grown together and works together better than I have ever seen them. We started the year off sluggish but we are getting better every week and we'll keep getting better. We began to play as a team beginning the first district game and will still improve all the way to Shallowater."

Clark also said, "We gave the Longhorn of the week to you, the fns. Because without your support we couldn't have done it. I truly believe the key to our success Friday night was the Lockney fans. We need that support against Olton. They beat us 35-0 last year and we owe them. Keep that spirit up."

Spirit of the Week — Continue to stand on 3rd downs.

Hang red and black streamers in your business, home or school.

State law requires all of us to stop for any school bus that has flashing red lights. This law is being ignored by some.

Please don't be the individual that has to explain to some parent why you hit or ran over their child.

Student safety is everyone's responsibility. We need your help! Report all violations. Passing a stopped school bus deserves a heavy fine.

Hance names Hale as Floyd County chairman

Republican gubernatorial candidate Kent Hance today selected Bill Hale as the Floyd County chairman of his campaign.

Hance, a former State Senator and U.S. Congressman, currently serves as chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission. He announced his candidacy for governor on August 15.

"Bill is one of the best grass-roots leaders in our party," Hance said. "With strong support from people like Bill, I'm confident we will have the best organization of any campaign."

Hance has named county chairmen in 150 of the state's counties and has compiled a list of more than 5,000 volunteers from across Texas.

"Voters are looking for an experienced candidate who is ready to lead on Day One," Hance said. "I have the experience Texas needs as we enter the next decade."

"I have outlined a specific program for dealing with the challenges that face our state," Hance said. "As governor I will lead a serious battle against crime and drugs, improve our public schools and fight for our continued economic recovery."

Chimneys need checking

By Brent Crossland
With cold weather expected in many parts of the state soon, homeowners should check out their chimneys before using them.

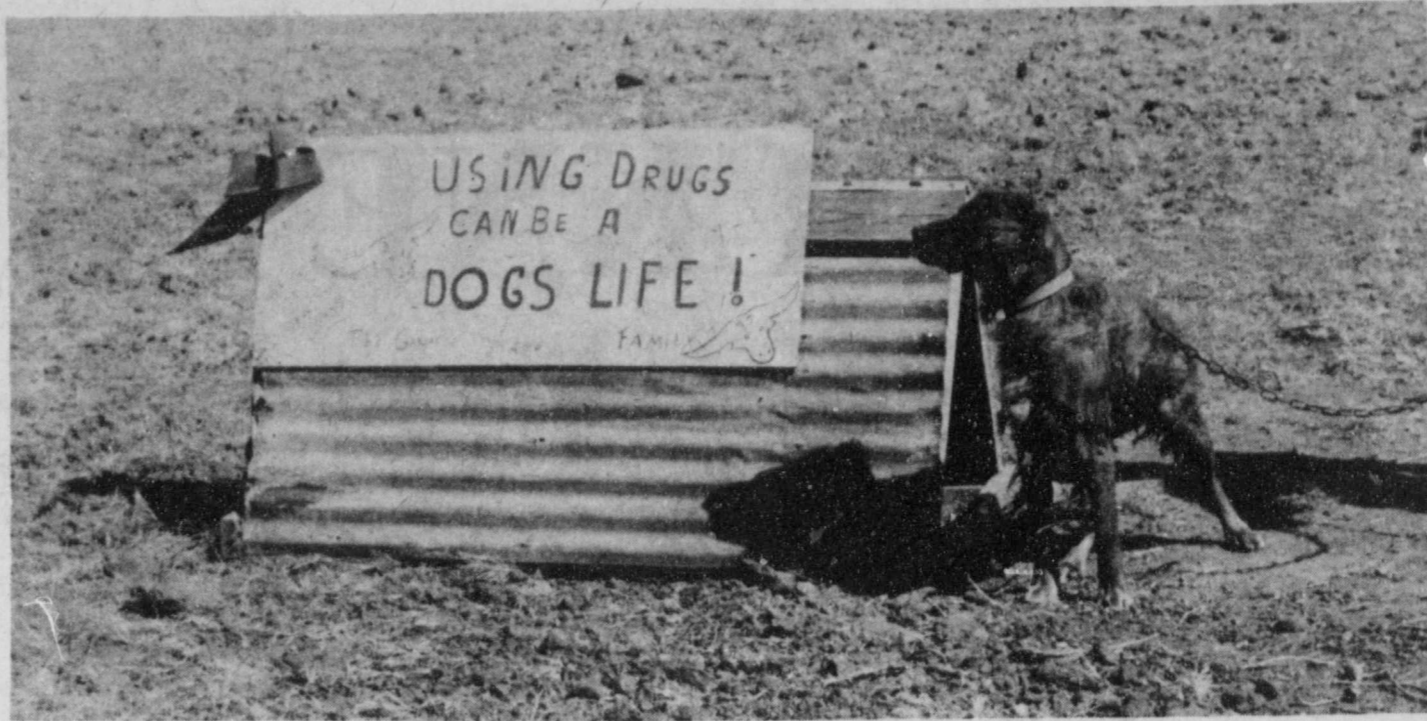

Wood-heating accounts for more fires, more fire deaths and greater property damage than any other type of heating fuel, the Consumer Product Safety Commission has reported.

Most wood heating fires involve ignition of creosote inside the chimney, said Brent Crossland, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The agent said creosote is a black tar-like substance that builds up inside the chimney in normal use. "While most of these fires are contained within the chimney and cause no damage to the house, there's still much cause for concern since a potential hazard exists," said Crossland. Homeowners who have a wood-burning stove or fireplace should check the chimney for any damage that may have occurred in the past heating season, said the agent. A local "chimney sweep" or dealer can help with this effort. Have any damage repaired. Crossland said causes of some fires involving chimneys can be avoided. They include:

- * Improper chimney installation too close to wood framing.
- * Installation of thermal insulation too close to the chimney.
- * Improperly passing the stovepipe or chimney through a ceiling or wall, causing ignition of wood framing.
- * Structural damage to the chimney caused by the ignition of creosote.

Stress is necessary ingredient

Stress is a necessary ingredient in everyone's life. Without stress, life would be dull and unexciting. Stress in the form of challenge or competition keeps the body performing to its potential.

Too many demands, however, can cause serious mental or physical damage if a person does not know how to deal with them properly, said Katie Goar, community education coordinator at Methodist Hospital. There are actually two kinds of stress: "eustress", which is good stress, and "distress", which is harmful stress.

Different forms of stress surround us daily. Learning to recognize these pressures is the first step to learning to handle them. Here are some of the tips Goar teaches in her stress management classes at Methodist Hospital.

1. Exercise. When pressures from the home or office cause anxiety, burn that nervous energy by getting some exercise.
2. Talk about it. Sharing worries with loved ones can help put stress into perspective.
3. Set limits. Know when to say "no" to extra work.
4. Make time for fun. Recreation can be very important to a person's frame of mind. Work time can be more effective after play.
5. Check off accomplishments. Making lists of tasks and checking them off as they are finished can bring a sense of accomplishment.
6. Eat a well-balanced diet. Nutritional needs increase under stress since the body uses food faster. Beware the tendency to overeat!

The best strategy for avoiding stress is to learn how to relax. Unfortunately, many people try to relax at the same pace they lead the rest of their lives. Tuning out worries about time, productivity, and "doing right" for a short time each day can be very beneficial.

"Focus on relaxation, enjoyment and good health," Goar said.

Williams elected president of Texas Angus Association

Jerry Williams of Lockney was elected to serve as president for the coming year at the 1989 Greater West Texas Angus Association annual meeting held in Amarillo. He previously served as vice president.

Steve Olson, Hereford, was voted in as vice president and Ginger Olson, Hereford, was elected secretary-treasurer.

The members of the board of directors include: Richmond Hales, Canyon; Worth Jones, Happy; Billy Colston, Floydada; James Walker, Kress; and Rick Hales, Canyon.

The group discussed plans for a tour and upcoming activities for 1990.

Waymon Ashley, American Angus Association regional manager, talked about the 1989 National Angus Confer-

Representative to be in Floydada on November 16

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Thursday that a representative from his agency will be in Floydada, November 16, 1989, to answer questions about Texas taxes and assist taxpayers with paperwork and problems.

"I don't want to see state taxes turn into a burden for folks who can't get to a field office. Our visits are a service we're happy to provide to Texas taxpayers," Bullock said.

Jim Chauncey, Enforcement Officer, from the Lubbock Field Office will be at the Floyd County Courthouse in the Court Room from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. The public is welcome and there is no charge.

"I'm sending my employees out to help people with questions, filling out forms, and working out problems on a local, one-to-one basis. There's some things you just don't do as well over the phone or through the mail," Bullock said.

Floydada area taxpayers who can't attend the courthouse visit can still get individual tax assistance by calling the Comptroller's toll-free telephone number, 1-800-252-5555 from anywhere in Texas.

The Lubbock Office, headed by David Cain, serves 19 counties including Floyd County.

Alzheimer's patients and families benefit from grant

Alzheimer's disease patients and their families can benefit as a result of a $4.1 million grant made by the National Institutes of Health (NIH) to the Department of Neurology at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

The NIH funds will establish one of three new centers in the nation from research in clinical approaches to Alzheimer's disease, a degenerative affliction of the central nervous system.

Victims of Alzheimer's disease suffer from gradual loss of memory, impairment of judgment, disorientation, changes in personality, loss of language skills and deterioration in the ability to perform routine tasks.

"Baylor is already part of a network of Alzheimer's centers," said Dr. Stanley H. Appel, professor and chairman of the Department of Neurology. "This NIH grant is a recognition by our peers of the level of excellence of our research and clinical programs in neurology, especially in Alzheimer's disease," Appel said.

He described the new center as "a really valuable resource for not only the Houston community but also for Alzheimer's patients and their families in many areas." Baylor already attracts Alzheimer's patients from throughout Texas as well as from Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

"We want to get the word out to doctors in all these areas they can be interacting with this program. Also, we want the patients throughout these areas to know this resource is available," Appel said.

"From the patients' point of view, what we're trying to do is to get them diagnosed and then provide support to them and to their families and to get them involved in our ongoing basic science research projects," he said.

Dr. Warren Strittmatter, a Baylor associate professor of neurology and the executive director of the Alzheimer's center, said, "Right now there aren't adequate facilities for taking care of Alzheimer's patients on an ongoing basis, but we're planning to identify what community resources there are, such as in-home care and nursing-home care.

Once identified, such facilities can serve as resources for the families, Strittmatter said.

Services to be provided under the NIH grant will include counseling, group support and drug research. Counseling will include working with families as individual problems arise, Strittmatter said.

The five-year NIH grant also provides for basic scientific research into the disease which afflicts as many as 3 million people in the United States. Researchers will seek to learn, among other things, the role of genetics and environment in the development of the disease, Appel said.

The Baylor College of Medicine clinicians and scientists who will study

Also participating will be Dr. Sozos Papisozomenos and Dr. Howard M. Rhoades, both of the University of Texas Medical School at Houston, and Dr. John F. Anegers of the University of Texas School of Public Health, also in Houston.

There will be a BLOOD DRIVE Tuesday, November 14 2:00 - 5:00 p.m. at the Hospital Annex (West of Hospital) Your donation of blood is needed and appreciated.

Lockney Care Center Capers

By Linda Cumbie

Hi everyone! Hope you are doing fine. We at the center are just fine.

We have had some great devotionals this week. We appreciate everyone for helping with them.

Monday, we went on our weekly bus ride. We had several going this time. McDonalds treated us to ice cream. Thanks for the goodies!

Tuesday, the staff and several residents dressed up for Halloween. They looked really cute. We had a party in the afternoon. We voted on the best costume. Two of our aides won, Aurora Gonzales won first place and Rick Hernandez won second place. We passed out treats to the kids later on.

We want to welcome three new residents to our family, they are: Ona Jones, Zerah Meriwether, and Hazel Robinson. Hope they will make themselves right at home with us.

It is time for us to start thinking about Thanksgiving and Christmas. Our residents Christmas party is planned for December 22. Please keep this date in mind.

Will close for now. Have a great week! Until next time!

Samples to lead revival at Grace Fellowship Church

Grace Fellowship Church will be celebrating the purchase of their new building, with their first revival and Baptism's.

The revival will be led by Grace Fellowship's own Rev. Ted R. Samples. Special music will be coordinated and led by his wife, Mona.

The Samples have spent most of their ministry involved in the establishment and development of new churches, primarily on Indian reservations. They served thirteen years in the Northern Plains Baptist Convention, ten years of which was among the Native American tribes of Sioux, Assiniboine, Shoshone and Arapahoe.

Rev. Samples has served the entire standing Rock Indian Reservation in North & South Dakota and began new work in the Little Eagle Community and Mobridge, South Dakota. He has also served as pastor of Standing Rock Indian Baptist Missions at Cannon Ball and Fort Yates on the reservation.

Bro. Samples has also served as mission pastor in Douglas, Wyoming, and pastor of the First Baptist Church and Indian Mission in Wolf Point, Montana.

In Wyoming he served the Indians in Fort Washakie and the Wind River Reservation.

Bro. Samples is a native of Texas, born in Amarillo, and spent most of his growing up years in Lockney. He and his wife are the parents of four and the grandparents of seven.

Bro. Ted and Mona presently live in Plainview and besides serving Grace Fellowship Church, they are also both employed at Central Plains Mental Health and Mental Retardation Center.

In the short time Rev. Sample and Mona have been serving Grace Fellowship Church they have been instrumental in helping the church receive it's charter and create their by-laws. Membership has increased since their arrival and the church has purchased the building with the faith that they will continue to grow.

Much work remains ahead for the church and the congregation wants you to celebrate and share in their joy for the future. They invite everyone to come to their first revival Nov. 10-12.

Services on Friday, Nov. 10, and Saturday, Nov. 11, will start at 7:00 p.m.

Two services will be held on Sunday, at 10:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. Baptism's and the Lord's Supper will be observed Sunday evening.

Grace Fellowship Church is an interdenominational church, located at 211 N. Main, Lockney (across from the hospital).

Tech plans family weekend

Texas Tech University's annual Family Weekend November 10-11, will offer students' families the opportunity to meet administrators and faculty and to experience student life on the West Texas campus of the state's fifth largest public university.

Families of Texas Tech's 25,000 students will be guests at a series of awards ceremonies, tours and banquets with the weekend highlighted by a Saturday afternoon football matchup between Texas Tech and Texas Christian University (TCU).

"This event is always fun for the families and the students. The parents of freshmen especially enjoy seeing how their children have adjusted to college life," said Dudley Faver, executive director of the Texas Tech Dads and Moms Association, sponsor of the annual weekend.

The event begins on Friday, November 10, with a recognition banquet on campus at 7 p.m. During the banquet, an annual award will be presented to the outstanding faculty member and the Big Daddy and Magnificent Mom awards will go to outstanding association members.

The official Family Day, Saturday, November 11, will include parents awards presented by the Women's Service Organization during a ceremony before the Texas Tech/TCU kickoff at 2 p.m. Awards will go to the parents with the most children currently enrolled at Texas Tech and to the parents who traveled the greatest distance to attend the weekend event.

Faver said the family weekend grew out of a 1950s annual picnic where members of the Women's Service Organization hosted their fathers and then accompanied them to the football game. After a few years, Dads Day expanded to include fathers of all Texas Tech students. In 1982, the event evolved to include the entire family in a full weekend of activities.

Reservations and tickets to any of the weekend events can be obtained by writing the Texas Tech Dads and Moms Association, P.O. Box 4293, Lubbock, Texas 79409, or by calling the association office at (806) 742-3630.

What parents can do Young Children and Drugs

Editor's Note--This is the first in a series of articles on drugs and alcohol and how families are affected. These articles were furnished by the local Parent Teachers Association.

"My son is only 7 years old - I don't have to think about drugs yet, right?"

WRONG. As early as fourth grade, your children may have some knowledge of the drug scene, says the National Institute on Drug Abuse. Children feel pressure to use drugs and drink alcohol by the fourth grade, says the White House drug Abuse Policy Office.

YOU CAN DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT NOW, says the National PTA.

Why do young people use alcohol and other drugs? The reasons are complex and varied. Your challenge as a parent, however, is to try to keep your children from using drugs in the first place. You have a lot more power to prevent your children's future use and abuse of drugs than you may think. The time to begin is now, whether your child is 5 or 7 or 10 years old. Here are some ideas to help you raise strong, healthy children who won't abuse drugs.

TEACH YOUR CHILDREN TO FEEL GOOD ABOUT THEMSELVES

To build a strong self-image, children need to learn:

 HONEST COMMUNICATION - Children need to learn how to express their feelings such as anger, joy, love, and fear, and they need to believe it's safe and appropriate for them to do so. Since children learn by example, you must also learn to express your feelings honestly. Get in the habit of asking your children how they feel, especially if you know something is bothering them or if you have just scolded them. Be open about your feelings as well. Be a good listener yourself and teach your children to be good listeners.

 COOPERATION - Children must learn to cooperate, negotiate, and put themselves in another person's shoes so they can get along with others. Practice these skills by negotiating about what TV programs to watch or where to go on vacation. Praise your children for cooperating, especially when they don't get what they want. When they do get what they want, make sure they are considerate of those who did not.

 PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY - Teach your children to take responsibility at an early age, and gradually increase their responsibilities to help them build a strong self-image. Give your children meaningful tasks that demand the use of their mental and physical abilities - tasks for which they are ultimately accountable. Make sure they are capable of doing the tasks, and help and encourage them along. Children know when they're being given only meaningless work, and they resent it.

 THE ABILITY TO MAKE JUDGMENTS AND DECISIONS - These are valuable tools in helping your children resist the crowd that offers them drugs. Children learn these skills by being with mature people who make judgments and decisions. In making judgments or decisions, create opportunities for your children to think through what they would do in the same situation. Also, let your children practice making judgments and decisions often. Urge them to think of the various choices they have and the consequences of each.

 THE ABILITY TO GIVE AND RECEIVE UNCONDITIONAL LOVE - Love your children for who they are regardless of what they achieve or how they perform. Even if they anger you, let them know that you still love and respect them as persons. When your children are angry at someone, help them separate their anger from their good feelings for that person.

Eighth grade shutsout Abernathy, 15-0

By Holly Norwood

The visitors side of the scoreboard at Mitchell-Zimmerman Field went unused last Thursday night as Abernathy never crossed the goal line in a 15-0 win for the 8th grade Shorthorns.

After holding Abernathy to minus eleven yards on the first three plays, Abernathy made its longest play of the game on a fake punt. After that play the Shorthorns held the Lopes to 49 yards rushing the rest of the game. "It was another solid defensive effort," said Coach Dick Van Hoose. The Shorthorns have given up only 18 points in four district ballgames.

David Luna started the scoring with a three yard run up the middle of the Lopes defense. Luna also scored the extra points on an option pitchout from quarterback Leo Vargas. Vargas completed one of two passes on the night for 13 yards. Fullback Carlos Raissez carried the ball nine times for 80 yards and scored in the final quarter of play. Luna booted the extra point for the final score of 15-0. Luna for the night had nine carries for 52 yards. Both backs credited the offensive line for great blocking.

The games were delayed over two hours due to an Abernathy mix-up on the game site. After the Lopes finally arrived and were shut out in both ballgames, one member of the Shorthorns noted, "they should have stayed home and saved the gas."

Next action for the Shorthorns will be Thursday in Olton.

Shorthorns whip Abernathy 22-0

By Holly Norwood

The 7th grade Shorthorns defeated Abernathy 22-0 for their fourth straight victory. The Shorthorns used a balanced offensive attack to roll up 212 yards of total offense. The Shorthorns four pronged offensive attack consisted of quarterback Jared Mosley, fullback Mikhael Durham and halfbacks O'Brien McDonald and Tanner Johnson.

Johnson lead the Shorthorns ground attack with 73 yards on 8 carries. McDonald added 61 yards on 12 carries. Mosley and Durham rounded out the Shorthorns offensive attack by adding 56 yards on seven carries, and 22 yards on 3 carries.

After a scoreless first quarter the Shorthorn offense began to click after forcing Abernathy to punt. The Shorthorns drove 57 yards to take a 6 to 0 lead. O'Brien McDonald scored the first Shorthorn touchdown on a spectacular 3 yard run. Jared Mosley added the two point conversion on a well executed option run.

A diving interception by cornerback Jason Clark set up the Shorthorn second touchdown drive. After the interception by Clark, the Shorthorn offensive line began to wear down the frontline Abernathy. The Shorthorns drove 50 yards for their second touchdown of the evening. O'Brien McDonald put the Shorthorns up 14-0 with an impressive 6 yard run. The Shorthorns lead 14-0 at the half. The Shorthorns last touchdown came with 4:55 remaining in the fourth period.

On the first play of the fourth quarter Tanner Johnson took the handoff from quarterback Jared Mosely on first through the Abernathy defense for a big 44 yard gain. Johnson later added the touchdown on a one yard run. Mikhael Durham added the extra point to put the Shorthorns up 22-0.

The 7th grade Shorthorns improved their season record to 5-2 and will play Olton next week.

Coach Norwood stated, "The team has only one thing on its mind now, they want to defeat Olton, which would make it two District championships in a row for the 7th grade.
