

BUSINESS MEN FOR ALL NIGHT LIGHTS

At Meeting Thursday Night Pass Resolutions Urging City Council to Act at Once on Lights.

The Canyon Business Men's Association favor all night service of the lights, and at the meeting held Thursday night at the News office passed the following resolutions:

Be it resolved by the Canyon Business Men's Association, That we heartily endorse all night service in Canyon and that we recommend to the City Council that they order at once the Canyon Power Company to install the additional street lights necessary for procuring this service.

The attendance at the meeting was the largest since the organization of the association. The discussions were lively and all of those present showed great interest in the things the association is trying to do.

The members of the City Council were invited to be present and three came to consider the question with the association.

Mayor Wilson was present and spoke very favorably to the all night light service. He invited closer cooperation between the council and the association and invited the business men to come to the council meetings and see what the City Council was trying to do for the town. He stated that if the council could devise the proper means he highly favored the all night light service.

Mayor Wilson further stated that he wanted the cooperation of the business men in cleaning up the city before April 21st when the Normal will be dedicated. He stated that the business men could do a great deal, especially in burning all papers, rather than throwing them out for the wind to blow all over town. April 21st will be a great day in Canyon with hundreds of visitors from all over the Panhandle and the city should be perfectly clean on that date.

Regarding the phone proposition, it was decided that on the next regular meeting, the second Thursday in March, Manager H. Prichard would have the district superintendent come here from Amarillo and tell the business men and council members just what would be expected if the new telephone system is to be installed. The business men will then cooperate with the telephone company in making a canvass of the city to see what the people think of the change.

District Court Business.

The time of the court has been taken up since Monday morning with the case, State of Texas vs. Robert Hazelwood. It was moved here from Amarillo. Young Hazelwood is charged with entering the home of two ladies and assaulting them. The case will go to the jury sometime today. Hazelwood has entered the plea of insanity as a cause, in fact he was brought here from the hospital at San Antonio for the trial.

Other business of the court this week has been as follows:

Margaret A. Stinson and J. A. Stinson vs. H. H. Shriver, judgment for the plaintiff.

Three indictments were returned by the grand jury on Wednesday, all of which will come in the county court. Jose Gutierrez, the Mexican who is in jail charged with assault with intent to murder, was indicted by the grand jury. It will be remembered that he shot through the head another Mexican west of the city recently. The grand jury was excused Thursday until next Tuesday, March 7th.

Geo. A. Brandon vs. John A. Wallace and I. H. Hollabaugh, judgment for the plaintiff.

Judge R. R. Hazelwood of Amarillo was elected special judge Saturday for the trial of the case Mrs. Lula Tension, et al, vs. Mrs. L. P. Palmer, which resulted in a judgment for the plaintiffs.

BASEBALL OPENS WITH SETH WARD

First Games Scheduled for April 3 and 4 with Seth Ward College of Plainview.

D. A. Shirley, president of the Panhandle Athletic Association called a meeting of the association Monday in Amarillo, with representatives from Seth Ward, Wayland, A. M. A. Clarendon and the Normal. It was decided that each team would play four games during the spring with each other team of the association, making sixteen games in all for each team, and these sixteen games would determine the championship of the Panhandle. Of course, each team has the right to play as many games as it pleases and with any team it chooses, but only the sixteen games will be used in the championship determination.

The Normal will open the season with a series of two games with Seth Ward College of Plainview in this city on April 3 and 4. There will likely be a season game with some of the high schools and possibly some with the town team, but April 3 will see the official opening of the season.

Coach R. A. Terrill of the Normal team stated Monday that he has the best material the Normal has ever had and he is certain of a strong team.

City Federation Met Yesterday.

The ladies of the City Federation met yesterday at the rest room in a very interesting session. The Federation appointed committees which will go before the City Council for assistance in their work. First, a committee will seek from the council authority to compel the business houses which have refused to be inspected by the committee from the Federation, to submit to this inspection. If the council will or cannot grant this authority there was talk of the ladies taking things into their own hands regarding the inspection. It was pointed out at the meeting yesterday that practically every woman in Canyon was interested in the work of the Federation, since all of the woman's clubs in the city had joined. The merchants, perhaps, do not understand that the inspection committees which are sent out are direct representatives of all of the ladies of the city, and since it is impossible for each and every lady in Canyon to make the rounds of the stores every week to see how the foods they buy are handled, the Federation would take steps to compel those who have refused inspection to submit to the same every week.

Another committee was appointed to see the city council regarding the condition and care of the trees of the city.

In the third place a committee will take up with the council the care of the vacant lots. The ladies wish to make these lots more beautiful.

In the fourth place, the ladies will ask the city council to pass and enforce a chicken ordinance, compelling the owners of chickens to keep them penned. It was suggested that each member of the federation see how many chickens they could kill during the next few days, and see if that would not have some effect on the owners of chickens who persist in letting them run at large.

The Federation elected the following officers for the coming year:

- Mrs. C. R. Burrow, President.
- Mrs. D. A. Park, Vice President
- Mrs. C. W. Warwick, Secy-Treas.

Julia Culp Began Giving Song Recitals at Age of Fifteen

From the Musical American, we select the following regarding Julia Culp, who will sing in Canyon on the night of April 21st:

In the minds of American concert-goers the name of Julia Culp, the Dutch lieder singer, has come to represent the highest expression in vocal art. This is her third season in the United States and her recitals have gained steadily in popularity among those who follow the art of song singing.

Mme. Culp recently compiled her own autobiographical sketch, in which she related her life-story as follows: "I was born at Groningen, a little town in Holland, Oct. 6, 1883. My mother discovered my beautiful voice when I was two years old, for I cried so terribly that she constantly told my father, 'You see she will become a singer, she has such lungs and temperament.' My father would not believe it, and so when I was seven years old he wanted me to study the violin first. So I did, but I did not like it at all. Nevertheless, I was such a good pupil that I often played violin solos in our little town, being then nine years old. Of those 'classical' concerts I can say so loud he could not hear the voices of the other children. I began my singing lessons when I was twelve years old. My voice was always very natural and easy, so I really had no trouble with technical things.

"A real song recital I sang for the first time when I was fifteen years old, in Groningen and in Amsterdam. After those first recitals I became a pupil at the Amsterdam Conservatory, where I studied with Cornelle van Zanten. When nineteen years old I came to Berlin, and though I gave my first recital there with great success, I felt that I had so much to learn I stopped giving concerts and studied two years with Etelka Gerster, from whom I learned everything.

"After those two years I began my career, singing everywhere in Germany, Russia, France, Austria, Spain, Italy, Holland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark; in fact, all over Europe. I gave recitals with Grieg, Saint-Saens and Richard Strauss, and sang with the principal European orchestras under Nikisch, Weingartner, Richard Strauss, Max Reger, Mengelberg, Fiedler, Haussegger, and others. I sang also at the different royal courts in Europe. I first came to America in January, 1913 and I must say that I feel at home here, and I am happy to sing my songs to the American public, which has such a fine understanding of music.

"My different accompanists have been Dr. Heinrich Potpeschnigg, the intimate friend of Hugo Wolf, my sister Betsy, then the late Erich Wolff, and for the last four years Coenraad v. Bos."

University Banquet Tonight.

The alumni and former students of the Texas university will hold a banquet in Amarillo tonight. A number of Canyon people will go for the occasion.

BIG DAY TUESDAY DOLLAR DAY SUGGEST

Hundreds of People Come to Canyon and are Repaid by Getting Big Line of Bargains.

Prosperity Day—April 29—was a big day in Canyon. The town was full of people, who came after the bargains offered by the business houses for the day.

The weather was bad and hundreds who lived at a distance were unable to come. Monday it turned cold and the wind was high. Tuesday was warmer but still threatening so that farmers hesitated about coming from a distance.

However, in spite of the weather, the town was full of people and they took the bargains offered. In addition, they bought largely of the new spring goods offered and the necessities of life which they will need during the coming months.

As a whole, the day was very successful, both for the business men and the people who came to buy.

Papers, Rags, Feathers, Tin Cans, Etc.

Winter in its flight has left behind the usual accumulation on vacant lots, back yards and alleys, which is not only repulsive to the eye, but is a menace to the health and well being of our citizens. We therefore earnestly request that all of our people enlist in a clean up campaign, not for thirty days, but until all waste, paper, rags, feathers, ashes, etc., are disposed of, and until not a tin can dare cast a reflection on the fair name of our town.

By order of the City Council, the merchants are requested to construct a device in which to burn all waste paper and other combustible material, specifications of which will be furnished.

We most earnestly desire and entreat our people, all our people, to join heartily this worthy effort that we may not only sustain our reputation of being one of the cleanest towns in the state, but the cleanest town in the state.

F. M. WILSON, Mayor

Cullum Quits Hardware Store.

J. R. Cullum has resigned his position with the Thompson Hardware Company and on March 15th will go into the automobile business. He will handle the Dodge Bros. cars and have the Panhandle for his territory. His friends are glad that he will still making Canyon his headquarters, the family continuing to live here.

His brother-in-law, Joe Myers, of Mineral Wells will take his place in the store. Mr. Myers is a hardware man with experience and his family will arrive here about the first of April.

Block Number Six.

Rev. Smith of Hereford conducted the regular monthly service at the Keenan school house Sunday afternoon. There was a good attendance.

The Keenan Sunday School meets every Sunday afternoon at 3:30. The Sunday School was organized in November and has an enrollment of over thirty.

Judge C. E. Coss visited the Keenan and Edmonds schools last week.

Messrs. Edmonds, Deeke and Miller delivered hogs in Canyon Saturday.

The schools were closed Tuesday on account of Prosperity Day, in order that the children might share with their parents the excitement of bargain hunting.

Several farmers in this community have begun sowing oats. The ground is in good condition.

With a gasp it is discovered that President Wilson will be unable to come to Amarillo. Well, it's too bad, but maybe the shock can be overcome by quick and cooperative work.—Amarillo Daily News.

CANYON RAID ON CANYON APRIL 21

Big Guns from Austin Will be Trained on City for Volley of Salute at Normal Dedication.

Canyon will be the scene of a raid with the big brass cannon from Austin on April 21st. The city will be taken and turned over to the conquerors—for the one day. The hosts of friends—not enemies—will be given the keys of the town to do with as they like.

The University Club of Amarillo expects to "pull off a stunt" of its own in Canyon on April 21st, when the new Normal building is dedicated. The members are planning to send to the State University and bring one or more of the big brass cannon that stand on the university campus. The cannon will be shipped to Canyon and on the dedication day, under the direction of the club a salute will be fired on the Normal campus. That is the part of the program which the University Club has disclosed. The club will then put on some stunts of its own—known to no one but themselves up to this time, but the stunt will be worth going miles to see. A bunch of university men, when once they set out to do some unique stunt will not disappoint their audience.

Moved from Nebraska.

Ben Gatz and family arrived two weeks ago from Falls City, Nebraska, and will make their home on their land near Ceta. Mr. and Mrs. Gatz came down four months ago, and seeing that the county was in such prosperous condition, decided to move down this winter. Mr. Gatz and E. A. Oberst and cousins.

Mrs. J. F. White Dead.

Mrs. J. F. White was taken seriously at her home in Happy Friday and died within a short while. The funeral services were held Saturday.

The White family are well known in Randall county. Mr. White has been associated with the Happy Hardware since its organization.

The many friends of the family extend heartfelt sympathy to Mr. White and his family in this hour of sadness.

AT AN END—the "female complaints" and weaknesses that make woman's life a misery. They're cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For all the druggists, disorders, and diseases peculiar to the sex, this is the only remedy certain to benefit.

It's a legitimate medicine for woman, carefully adapted to her delicate organization, and never conflicting with any of her conditions. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions, builds up and invigorates the entire system, and restores health and strength.

Are you weak, nervous and ailing, or "run-down" and overworked? Then it will bring you special help. It's the mother's friend. It lessens pain and insures life of both mother and child.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has a record of years of success. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful drugs. Sold in Tablet or Liquid form by dealers.

There is some earnest agitation to change the freezing point to zero, but it would probably get just as cold under any other arrangement.—Milwaukee News.

BURROUGHS & JARRETT

Increase of Live Stock Feasible.

(A. M. Hove.)
"Changes have been coming fast out in our part of the range territory," said George East of Baca county, Colorado when in Kansas City a few days ago. Mr. East has ranched in four states the last twenty-five years and knows whereof he speaks.

"Few years ago when settlers came in and the free range began to disappear, we supposed that no more cattle would be raised. In this belief we were mistaken. Stock farmers seem to be increasing the number of cattle right along for the reason that they are raising such a great amount of feed to properly care for them and in that way never suffer any losses. In the free range days we lost thousands of our cattle."

They are drifting into stock farming in Oklahoma and western Kansas. The stock farmer has made the last few years. His is the correct diversified farming and he always has something to sell, be the years bad or good. There is always something growing to feed the cow and the pig and the chickens and the turkeys.

Northwest Texas and eastern New Mexico will in time become a great stock farming section. When it comes to natural advantages, the great southern plains has many. The climate is mild. The climate is healthful for man and beast. The feed lots are dry. The growing season is long. The forage grains and small grains produce abundantly on virgin land in the newest and best west of today. Rich is the native grass.

And this section is no longer far from everywhere. The new southern trans-continental route of the Santa Fe across the plains gives direct and quick service to the best live stock and grain markets. The new Galveston San Francisco line runs direct to the Gulf.

Civility.
Don't try to bully the world. It does not pay. Whoever enters the ring for a rough and tumble fight with Public Opinion is pretty sure, eventually to be "doubled up." Society is a Briareus, and who but a mad man would think of encountering with a single pair of fists, a hundred-armed fellows! Better shake the multitudinous hand of the giant good-naturedly, than unnecessarily provoke his wrath. Despite the world if it so please you—though to do so is proof of arrogance, conceit and egotism—but, as you have to live in the world, to learn on the world, it is just as well to treat it civilly. Shrewd men, who understand their race, never seek a quarrel with society. They understand that it is possible for an individual to persuade lead and quietly control a community, but not to fight it down. If you desire to reform social evils or to disabuse your fellow men of their prejudices, the surest way not to succeed is to resort to denunciation and abuse. Kindness, conciliation, the influence of good example—these are the true and effective means and appliances of reform.

West After Agricultural College.

According to information from Amarillo a meeting will be held in Sweetwater on March 6th for the purpose of making a united effort on the part of the western town for the establishment of a branch of the A. & M. college west of the 100th meridian.

All of the towns of the west are interested in the proposed school and many delegates have signified their intention of attending this meeting.

Some Pointed Sayings.

Real merit of any kind can not long be concealed. It will be discovered and nothing can depreciate it, but a man exhibiting it himself. It may not always be rewarded, but it will be known.—Lord Chesterfield.

Farm Building Plans.

In order to meet the insistent demands of our farmers for better farm buildings the Department of Agricultural Engineering has prepared the following plans for distribution to farmers of Texas.

1. Beef Cattle Barn for 75 head of cattle.
2. Cattle Dipping Vat.
3. Dairy Barn, two-story, for 20 head of cattle, farming details included.
5. Dwellings, five-room bungalow.
6. Dwellings, four-room cottage.
7. Horse Barn, for 18 head, 36 feet wide, also one 38 feet wide.
8. Hog House, 16 farrowing pens.
9. Hog House, individual.
10. (2) Homemade terracing levels.
11. Homemade V terracing drag.
12. Milk House (in preparation.)
13. Poultry House for 65 hens.
14. Silo plans (Homemade Gurler Silo.)
15. Silo plans (Homemade Modified Wisconsin.)
16. Soil saving dam.

These plans have been prepared by Mr. J. C. Olsen, Associate Prof. Agricultural Engineering who has charge of Farm Terracing and are the result of a careful study of the needs of Texas farmers. Blue prints of these plans are for free distribution.

Write to the Extension Service of Texas, College Station, Texas and tell them which of the plans you are interested in. Only one set of plans will be sent out at one time.

A Little Dutch Garden.

I passed by a garden, a little Dutch garden,
Where useful and pretty things grew
Heartsease and tomatoes,
And pinks and potatoes,
And lilies and onions and rue.

I saw in that garden, that little Dutch garden,
A chubby Dutchman with a spade,
A rosy Dutch frau
With a shoe like a cow,
And a flaxen-haired little Dutch maid.

There grew in that garden, that little Dutch garden,
Blue flag-flowers, lovely and tall,
And early blush roses,
And little pink posies;
But Gretchen was fairer than all.

My heart's in that garden, that little Dutch garden,
It tumbled right in as I passed,
'Mid wildering mazes
Of spinach and daisies,
And Gretchen is holding it fast.

Lord Bryce to the Farm Boys.
I am glad to send to the farm boys of the Southern states this message. Here are the qualities I would emphasize as being essential to your success as men and farmers:
As farmers, (1) close and constant observation of the land and the crops, watching every change as it comes. (2) Close and constant reflection on everything observed, always asking "Why is this so?" and always persevering till an answer has been found.

Think, think, think!
As men, (1) truthfulness in word and act, which means courage also. You can't be truthful unless you are brave. (2) Consideration for the other man's feelings, trying to understand his position and his claims as well as your own. This means insight and patience, and it helps you to turn many bad corners.

WEST TEXAS STATE NORMAL COLLEGE
Canyon, Texas

ADVANTAGES OFFERED FOR THE SUMMER SESSION OF 1916

FACULTY—A faculty composed of men and women of scholarly attainments, teaching ability, and progressive spirit.

CLIMATE—A climate unexcelled anywhere in Texas. Canyon is on the caprock of the plains, 3,300 feet above sea-level, and is as "cool as Colorado." Light wraps are necessary on mornings and evenings; people coming for the summer should not forget to bring them.

THE NEW BUILDING—The new home of the West Texas State Normal College is a massive structure of steel, concrete, and brick. It is absolutely fire proof. It is 300 feet long, almost 200 feet deep, four stories high, and contains 85 rooms. The building is equipped with all the modern conveniences for the comfort of the student, and the auditorium has a seating capacity of 1400 people.

GYMNASIUM AND SWIMMING POOL—The gymnasium is well equipped with modern apparatus for healthful exercise. The exercises are directed by competent instructors in physical education.

The swimming pool is 70 feet by 35 feet by 8 feet. It is kept filled with sparkling water in which one may take a plunge after the day's work is over. In connection with the swimming pool are both hot and cold shower baths.

LIBRARY—The library, well supplied with books for collateral reading, is administered by a trained librarian. Many periodicals and daily newspapers are available for the free use of the students. The library and the reading rooms occupy one-fourth of the third floor.

LABORATORIES—There are six well equipped, separate laboratories; namely, (a) Domestic Science, (b) Manual Training, (c) Agriculture, (d) Physics, (e) Chemistry, and (f) Biology.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL—For the benefit of those students whose course requires it, a school of observation in the primary grades is conducted by teachers. All students are at liberty to visit the Training School at any time they desire.

NINE WEEKS' SESSION—The sessions of both the Summer School and of the Summer Normal will open June 6, 1916, and continue nine weeks. The Summer School has heretofore been continued for twelve weeks. In order that this school shall offer its work in the summer on the same basis as the other Texas Normal Schools, we have changed from twelve weeks to nine weeks for this summer, and will give a full unit of credit for all work satisfactorily completed.

CREDIT COURSES—Credit courses are offered in all of the departments of the College. The Department of Manual Training, The Department of Spanish, and The Department of Expression, all will offer courses this summer, as well as those departments that have regularly offered courses heretofore.

SUMMER NORMAL REVIEWS—Review classes in all work upon which the State Superintendent of Public Instruction requires examinations for the various certificates will be maintained. Any person who wishes to review for any examination for certificates in Texas may get the work suited to his desires.

SERIES OF EXAMINATIONS—Those who wish to take the examinations for certificates may enter either or both series of examinations under the regulations of the State Superintendent.

FEES—The enrollment fee is $10 for either the Summer School or the Summer Normal. The incidental fee is $1. The book fee is $2. No fee is returned, except $1 of the book fee, which is returned upon withdrawal if all books taken from the library are returned in good order.

REDUCED RAILROAD RATES—Reduced railroad rates on all railroads will be offered, the details of which will be announced in Bulletin No. 12, which will be issued about February 15, 1916. This Bulletin will give full information as to the faculty, courses, programs, etc. If you are interested, write to President R. B. Cousins, Canyon, Texas, for a copy of the bulletin.

MANY "SIDE" EVENTS

Saddle Horse Classes Are Given Special Notice and Baby Beef Classes Arouse Much Interest.

Approximately $18,000 in prizes are offered in the various classes of the National Feeders and Breeders show, which will be held at Fort Worth March 13-18. Every class of livestock produced in the Southwest is given ample consideration in the comprehensive premium list that has just been spread broadcast among big stockmen and small producers alike and it is anticipated that the greatest and finest exhibit ever witnessed in the twenty years of the show's existence will be on hand when opening day arrives.

Because of the repeated solicitation of prominent breeders of Texas and Oklahoma, the management of the show changed the dates back to spring. It has been argued that the exhibitors were able to get their offering in much better condition for spring showing than for fall. In acceding to the wishes of the breeders, the stock show earned a co-operation that will go far towards making the coming event the best in history.

Comparatively few changes have been made in the premium list, inasmuch as the management has been studying livestock conditions in this state for years and had never hesitated to take any step to amplify the list when it was warranted. Several additions, however, have been made. Among the most important of these is an increase in the classes for saddle animals. During the past year and a half, foreign powers have been making extensive purchases of Texas saddle horses and have greatly depleted the supply of good stuff. The breeders have found that there is an excellent future for the saddle horse business in this state and are going into the business on a more extensive scale. The stock show is always willing to push a good thing along and it amplified its classes so as to give further encouragement.

The baby beef classes will again prove of greatest interest and early indications are that the greatest number of entries in history will be rolled up in this department. From all over the state have come inquiries about this department and information to the effect that the youngsters are getting their product into condition to send to the show. The fight for the state baby beef championship for county exhibits is expected to be one of the keenest that will be staged in the great arena of the Coliseum building.

Outside of the stock show proper, there will be many events that will thrill and attract. Most interesting of these will be the Big Round-Up, which will be this year's night entertainment. This will be under the direction of Miller Bros., of 101 Ranch Show fame, and will be a varied and interesting performance.

A splendid carnival will pitch its tents on the Coliseum grounds, a magnificent industrial display will be held in the vast halls on either side of the Coliseum, a poultry show, the finest in the Southwest, will come in for a large share of consideration and many and varied special attractions will be staged during the great livestock exposition.

ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS OF A CITIZEN DEFINED.

More Efficient Citizenship Suggested as Remedy.

(Editor's Note:—The following is the first of a series of articles by J. S. Cullinan, of the Texas Economic League, on the Administration of Justice, to which subject the League is now addressing itself.)

By J. S. Cullinan.

The Texas Economic League in listing for discussion the subject "Administration of Justice," brings to the attention of the public a question of community, state, nation and world-wide importance. The Declaration of Principles adopted by the League sets forth that the ills which we are now suffering are due in a large measure to the incompetent application of law, the faulty administration of justice and to indifference on the part of citizens to the welfare of society, and the League is pledged to acquaint the people of Texas with the causes that have contributed toward defeating Justice and promoting injustice, and to a study of the fundamental principles of modern civilization, and it is to this task that the League now addresses itself.

As a citizen, I want, in a measure, to plead guilty to the charge of indifference to the public welfare, for, in common with many men in my class, I have not always performed my full duty as a citizen, but as a member of the League, I am endeavoring to atone for my sins of omission by giving such time and ability as I am able to devote to a study of public affairs. I invite others who may feel remorse of conscience, or who, for any reason, have a desire to become more efficient citizens and help others to do likewise, to join the League and become identified with an organized effort of "preparedness" for citizenship.

The Administration of Justice is the heart and soul of government. It is there that the citizen comes in contact with his government and hears an interpretation of the Bill of Rights and the Constitution of the United States, which is the citizen's contract with government for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. To those who may feel that this subject is not one of pressing importance, I want to say that no matter what Sherman said about war, in my opinion we are reaching a point where PEACE IS HELL, and I believe that most of the active and responsible members of society in this state will join me in this conclusion. When government reaches a point where to enjoy liberty one must become a tramp, and to be free one must seek the habitat of a savage, then the citizen is justified in demanding a cancellation of his contract with government.

It is my conception of our government that its mission is to increase liberty and expand freedom, and it is not only the privilege, but the duty, of the citizens to challenge any act of government that interferes with these ends. In the Constitution, the citizen has a written agreement with government for liberty, freedom and justice, and he is sole authority on what constitutes liberty, freedom and justice; our government contracts to preserve, safeguard and administer them.

I am not one of those who believe that this subject is wholly a legal question. I consider the legal profession, more than any other class, responsible for the present state of affairs, for the pathway to justice is lined with lawyers, and liberty cannot be taken from the people without the consent of the Judiciary, composed wholly of lawyers. In order that every citizen may feel perfectly within his rights in entering into this discussion, I want to quote a clause from the Declaration of Independence, giving the citizen the right to alter or abolish government: "We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men; deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness." And continuing the discussion of the rights of a citizen, the Declaration of Independence states: "It is their right, it is their duty to throw off such government and to provide new guards for their future security." I would neither abolish nor alter our form of government, but I would use it. I, for one, claim my Constitutional rights as a citizen to liberty and freedom, and to the extent of my ability, I propose to defend it. It is not a better form of government we need, but better citizenship and a more efficient administration of Justice.

Poultry Feeding.

There is no economy in feeding fowls one kind of grain, for that compels them to eat more than they ought in order to get a sufficient quantity of food elements. A large part of the egg is water, a fact which shows the necessity of providing layers with an ample supply of pure, clean water in fountains or dishes which are frequently disinfected. A sluggish hen is never a good layer. The flock should be made to exercise by scratching for whole and cracked grains in a deep litter of clean material and jumping for green food, such as a cabbage or a mangel.—Ohio Agricultural College.

The Randall County News

Incorporated under the laws of Texas. C. W. Warwick, Managing Editor

Entered at postoffice at Canyon, Texas, as second class matter. Office of publication, West Houston St.

SUBSCRIPTION, $1.50 PER YEAR

To the News it seems that there are some questions in our government that can be better handled by one man to whom all of the possible questions involved are perfectly known, than can the same question be handled by a large body of men, many of whom are ruled by prejudices and an overdesire to make some sort of a grandstand play for the benefit for constituents.

Some republicans are talking about Root as the most possible republican candidate for president. Let the republicans put him out. He is just the kind of a man to most easily defeat. Here is what the Iowa City (Iowa) Republican says about Root: "Mr. Root has eliminated himself as a presidential possibility, if he ever was one, by his recent convention speech. He would have this country mix up in the affairs of Europe. He says this country should have protested against the invasion of Belgium. But what good would that have done, unless we went into the war, and from what Root says about preparedness, we would have cut a sorry spectacle as a fighting nation."

There may yet be a presidential primary in Texas. The state committee decided against the primary as it would cost thousands of dollars and there is only one democratic candidate—Woodrow Wilson. A suit has been brought in the Galveston district court to force the primary. The court held that there should be a primary. It will be now appealed, and the civil court of appeals will probably send the case directly to the supreme court in order the save time. It looks like foolishness to the News to hold this primary. Texas people will have all the politics necessary in the July primaries, and the second primary, if none of the candidates for the senate receives a majority.

The new charges filed against Brandeis all make him appear higher in the estimation of the common man. Brandeis is in bad with the higher ups and they are straining every muscle to block his confirmation by the senate. The fight on Brandeis is not from a political standpoint. It is a fight of principle, with Brandeis standing for the common people when they are right in their demands, and equally against them when they are wrong.

It seems certain that the voters of Texas will have a chance to express their opinion on the Gibson bill at the coming primaries in July. Both the friends and opponents of the Gibson bill have expressed a desire to place the question on the primary ballot.

Again our old friend "elimination" is the talk in the pro camp in Texas. Having seen "elimination" worked a few times, and the consequences thereof, the News is a little doubtful of the advisability.

They're calling Charlie Fairbanks an artful dodger, but it's a safe guess he won't have to dodge very hard.—Milwaukee Journal.

TRY A WANT AD IN THE NEWS

Indications are that on April 21st Canyon will have the largest number of visitors in the history of the city. We want to put on our best clothes and show our most pleasing side. To do this the city must be thoroughly cleaned up before that date. The city officials and business men are cooperating to make Canyon a perfectly clean town on that date. Let every citizen do his best during the two months that remain to put his property in perfect condition.

The churches of Chicago held a conference last week with the advertising experts with a view of entering the scientific field of advertising. The most common way for the church to advertise is to ask for all the space they can get in the newspapers, on the "thank-you" basis.

Reading—Miss Angel. Piano solo—Ruth Knight. Reading—Miss Edwards. Piano solo—Dorothy Burrows. Trombone solo—Chas. Lofton, accompanied by Miss Lottie Lofton at the piano. Reading—Miss Winkelman. Piano solo—Miss Swigert. Refreshments were served after the program. Contributed.

Dr. and Mrs. S. R. Griffin entertained the Cosmos club Thursday night at 500. The home was decorated with pink and white carnations. After a pleasant evening at cards refreshments were served of pressed chicken, banana salad, olives, cheese balls, sandwiches, coffee. Carnations were given as favors. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Terrill were guests of the club.

Miss Locha Mae Myers and Miss Mary Walker entertained a number of their friends Saturday night at the Joe Service home. Many games were played, after which refreshments were served of fruits and candy.

The Woman's Book Club met yesterday afternoon at the rest rooms for the regular study period. Mesdames W. G. Word, McGee and Thompson were the leaders. The next regular meeting will be held March 10, the following being the lesson: Act. V, scenes 4-6 of Shakespeare's Coriolanus. Roll call: Favorite quotation from the play, or current events. Paper: "Thou hast saved Rome, but lost a son."

Discussions: Contrast afforded by characterization of Volunmia and Virginia. The Temple Fortuna Muliebris. Queries. Symposium: "Think'st thou it is honorable for a noble man still to remember wrongs?" Leaders—Mrs. Terrill, Miss Wiley, Mrs. Hunt.

Washington.

Like some lone mountain in the stary night, lifting its head snow-capped, severely white, into the silence of the upper air, serene, remote, and always changeless there! Firm as that mountain in the day of dread, when Freedom wept, and pointed to her dead; grim as that mountain to the ruthless foe, wasting the land that wearied of its woe; strong as that mountain, 'neath his load of care, when brave men faltered in a sick despair. So does his fame, like that lone mountain, rise, cleaving the mists and reaching to the skies; bright as the beams that on its summit glow, firm as its rocks and stainless as its snow!

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and removes dandruff. It is excellent for falling hair and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.

Transportation of Live Stock.

(A. M. Hove.)

The marketing problem is a serious one to the producer and not least to the live stock grower. It is a question of reaching a good market with reasonable speed. In early days the cowman trailed his cattle long distances. Was the season favorable, he might reach market without serious loss on the way or excessive shrinkage.

In time the railroads built into the cattle country and carried the stock to market. But even then the losses were great from overloaded cars, weak cattle, delayed trains, and bad weather conditions. The claim agent was a busy man.

But the carrying of livestock has been wholly revolutionized. The Santa Fe Railroad, a great live stock road for instance is today giving very careful attention to stock shipments. Additional service like the weekly live stock special out of Slaton, is provided as the country develops. This special by way of Plainview to Amarillo makes the run to Kansas City in about thirty hours.

"The live stock trains are so accelerated," says F. S. Brooks the General Live Stock Agent of the Santa Fe, "as to arrive at market centers in ample time for the benefit for the early morning market. In order to operate our trains on schedule, the shipper must co-operate.

"In our campaign looking to the improvement of the service, we did not overlook overhauling our transit feed yards by the installation of about 11,500 cars of live stock of all kinds and ages. It is no small task to surround the movement with such supervision as will insure proper care and expedited handling," Mr. Brooks continued. Taken all in all the transportation of live stock is revolutionized.

Swimming and Fighting.

Here's a little sermon on preparedness from the New York Sun:

We take it to be beyond dispute that nobody ought to learn to swim. Man being a terrestrial animal, it is impossible that he should ever find himself in water beyond his depth. Time and money spent in learning the art of swimming are therefore sheer waste—just as much so as if spent in military training. Obviously there is no more chance of a man's being drowned than there is of having to fight for his country."

It stands ridiculous enough, as the Sun meant that it should. But there are people who talk just as ridiculously about military preparedness.

If there is any class of Americans more absurd than the jingoes who clamor for the biggest army and navy in the world, it's the pacifists who are so perfectly sure that there will never again be any need of fighting for our country.

Her voice is sweet music, her smiles his brightest day, her kiss the guardian of his innocence, her arms the pale of his safety, the balm of his health, the balsam of his life; her industry his safest steward, her lips his faithful counselors, her bosom—the safest pillow of his cares, and her prayers, the ablest advocate of Heaven's blessings on his head—Jeremy Taylor.

Milking Cows.

Milking cows is to some a most interesting and disagreeable task. But once begin to put some mental effort into the handling of the cow, and all this is changed: The boy milking his own cow and selling the product does not think it much of a job. He is financially concerned with the results. He is interested in the quantity and quality of the milk she is giving. An increase of a quarter of a half pound is cause for rejoicing. He will eagerly watch the feed record to see that the increase has not been at too great a cost to be profitable.

Week by week and month by month as the record lengthens, the interest will grow. If the cow is a good one and has been well fed, the butter fat for the year may bring $50 or $60

How cows and horses get up? Lots of people don't know, and perhaps some people think that both animals behave in the same way. But a cow always rises first on her hind legs, leaning on her "elbows" in front; and a horse, on the other hand rises high on his forelegs first, sitting back for a moment just like a dog.

An official decree has been issued confiscating the entire stock of leather in Austria and Hungary for military purposes. The sudden and unexpected measure, it is expected, will have a serious effect on the manufacture of leather goods, one of the most profitable of Austrian industries, and also upon the shoes are said to have risen already.

A scheme for artificially producing rain is to be tried in Australia, where there are large sections of land that would be valuable for agricultural purposes if sufficient moisture could be insured. A captive balloon ascending to a height of 6,000 or 7,000 feet and anchored in the path of prevailing winds will be used to discharge electricity into the atmosphere, and it is hoped thus to cause sufficient ionization to provide nuclei upon which the moisture of the clouds will condense.

The successive discoveries of worth or value in natural products make an interesting tale as, one by one, common and uncommon objects are first found to be useful, and then are marketed because of their utility. To illustrate: the present shortage of dice in the United States is bringing manufacturers back to the vegetable realm for supplies. In the Orange orange, or bois d'arc, which at one time was so popular as a hedge shrub, they are finding yellows considered equal to those derived from the fustic woods of South and Central America. As it was once shown that no other wood made wagon wheel felloes equal to those made of bois d'arc, so now Oklahoma and Texas owners of ranges that are overgrown with the shrub are finding that there are sources of quick money-making in their territories other than oil wells and fertile soil.

The big packing houses are behind powerful interest: that are manipulating livestock market of the country is the belief of Arthur Capper, governor of Kansas, as expressed by him in an address recently before the Kansas Livestock association. "We know that in various ways they discipline the producer: who shows a little independence. There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that the livestock markets are controlled by factors other than supply and demand." The governor cited instances of sharp declines in the prices of hogs last fall which, he said, resulted in a scramble to market hogs that caused serious losses to producers. Remedies for the condition, he asserted, are organizations and cooperation. He urged the establishment of public abattoirs and cold storage plants.

PAIGE

The Standard of Value and Quality

The Fleetwood
"Six-38" $1050 Cab Detroit

For Your Own Protection—a Paige

We want you and your family to FIND FOR YOURSELVES in this new Paige Fleetwood "Six-38" ($1050) all the VALUE and QUALITY which, we claim, make it supreme among five-passenger motor cars.

We want you to find for yourself the tremendous POWER, sturdiness and reliability of the motor. You will need this on steep hills, in sand, for all those road-conditions that bring out the real worth of a motor. We want you to find for yourself the flexibility of the motor (from a speed of 2½ miles an hour to almost a mile a minute) and the remarkable ease of control.

We want you to see for yourself the beauty of line and design, the elegance and the luxury of the equipment and furnishing throughout.

We want you to find for yourself the REAL VALUE and QUALITY and SUPREMACY of Paige cars.

Last year the "Six-36" sold for $1095. Now we offer you the Fleetwood "Six-38" with a longer wheelbase (117 inches), with even more luxurious roominess, with even more elegance in upholstery and-furnishing throughout, with a motor even-more powerful and flexible. Now we offer you in the new five-passenger Fleetwood a greater car—a larger car—a more luxurious car—and a reduction of $45 in price.

In their efforts to keep pace with Paige cars—the Fleetwood and the seven-passenger "Six-46"—other manufacturers of Light Sixes are introducing radical features—new designs—new power plants—new engineering theories. These are all experiments.

Why should YOU risk an experiment?

Why should YOU consider anything but the national standards of six-cylinder value—the five-passenger Fleetwood "Six-38" at $1050 and the seven-passenger Fairfield "Six-46" at $1295?

Paige cars have won the overwhelming endorsement of the American people. They have been perfected to the current hour of motor car building. They are built and backed by one of the strongest companies in the industry.

Why buy anything but a proven, an established success? Why anything but a Paige?

A. M. AND C. N. WILLIAMSON

"GRAFT"

SYNOPSIS.

Dudley Larnigan, district attorney, because of his fight on the vice and liquor trusts, is killed by an agent of a secret society, the committee of fifteen. The fight is continued by his son, Bruce, who is elected district attorney, and by another son, Tom. Bruce is in love with Dorothy Maxwell, whose father is head of the insurance trust.

ELEVENTH EPISODE

"The Bucket Shops"
Suggested by C. N. and A. M. WILLIAMSON, Authors of "The Lightning Conductor," "The Love Pirate," "The Princess Passes"

IT was nearing 1 o'clock and the editorial rooms of the Independent had taken on their customary daily bustle and activity. Editors, reporters and office boys elbowed and jostled each other in their hurry to get things "under way." Jack Stevens, the city editor, had already made up his assignment sheet and was engaged in conversation with his friend Bruce Larnigan, who had dropped in.

"Of all the forms of graft," said Larnigan, "the one I most detest is the gambling halls for women, which are better known as 'bucket shops.'"

"The city is honeycombed with them," continued Larnigan, "and I am convinced from the uniform manner in which they are all conducted that they are operated by a syndicate with one common head."

"Well, as to the last part of your statement I agree with you," added Stevens, "but it strikes me it will prove more than an ordinary reporter's job to get anything on these vultures. Now, if we could only get hold of some one who has been the victim of their greed we might have some line to start on."

"We'll need no victim. I have the very person who can give us the information we want," broke in Larnigan. "It's Kitty Richford, and if you'll let me use that phone for about five minutes I'll get enough to start things a-humming."

Larnigan was soon talking to Miss Richford, who on several occasions had done some very clever amateur detective work and whose father had been a member of the graft trust.

After less than five minutes' conversation Larnigan hung up the receiver and turned to Stevens with a cheery smile as he said:

"Well, I've got the dope all right." "The dickens you say!" said Stevens in delightful astonishment.

"Yes, and got it right," continued Larnigan. "The head of this graft is a man by the name of Rupert Kruger Hall, prominent banker and broker."

Stevens whistled his surprise, for the man was well known to him.

"This man Hall," continued Larnigan, "is supposed to be very wealthy and highly respectable. This much is in our favor, as he will never suspect that there is any suspicion directed toward him. We must keep a shadow on him day and night and discover what connections he makes and run them down."

With a few more words as to using extraordinary caution Larnigan bade farewell to Stevens and hurried from the office.

Reaching the street, Larnigan hailed the first taxi and was soon being driven at good speed to the "street," as the financial district is known.

His knowledge of financial speculation and the district told him that Hall had never been seen about any of the places he had in mind and that accordingly the man must transact his business in secret from his residence.

Two hours later Bruce Larnigan found himself in possession of a group of facts which seemed to prove this theory, and he had learned also that Hall, who occupied a pretentious residence on Riverside drive, was leaving the city late that night after a fashionable theater party which he and his young wife were giving.

When Bruce left the financial district his plans for the evening were definitely made. He would visit the Hall residence in the absence of the owner and if necessary obtain a burglarious entrance in search of the evidence.

Had Larnigan been able to witness a scene even then transpiring in the handsomely appointed library of the house of Rupert Hall perhaps he might have changed his plans for the evening. Hall was pacing moodily up and down the floor. In his hand he held an anonymous note. It read:

Watch your wife and Justin Thompson, the district attorney. They are in love with each other and think that you are blind.

A FRIEND.
Hall ceased his restless pacing with a muttered curse and slipped the crumpled note into his pocket. There was a light step outside the door and a young and beautiful woman in a ravishing evening costume entered the room. It was his wife.

She watched him with a little frown.

"It is too bad you have to leave town, Rupert. Can't you postpone your trip?" Hall shook his head. "Impossible," he answered gruffly.

He followed her into the dining room, where the two partook of a silent dinner. There was a ring at the bell before they had finished, and the butler announced "Mr. Thompson." A moment later the district attorney, a dark, handsome man of middle age, followed the servant, shook Hall's hand and bowed over that of Mrs. Hall. The master of the house watched the two sullenly as he thought of the contents of the anonymous note.

"Sorry to have to leave you two," he jerked out suddenly. "And it is mighty good of you, Thompson, to consent to act as my wife's escort this evening while I am gone." He kissed his wife lightly, nodded to the district attorney and swung out of the house. Hardly had the door closed behind him when Mrs. Hall threw herself into the arms of Justin Thompson.

"Must we go to the theater, Justin?" she asked.

The man stroked her hair. "Not if you don't wish it, darling. We can have a quiet evening here." The two wandered into the library.

Two hours elapsed. The great house had settled down to a shadowy silence. Mrs. Hall and Justin Thompson had drawn their chairs close to an open fireplace. The servants had retired to an upper floor, and the couple were apparently absolutely alone. Suddenly Thompson leaned forward, listening intently. Then, with a motion to the woman at his side, he rose softly and peered through the draperies into the other room. Before the private safe of Hall a masked man was crouching.

Thompson's self control was remarkable. He grasped a heavy cane in the corner. Three swift, catlike steps and the next second the cane descended with brutal force, and the figure of the intruder crumpled on to the floor, the mask slipping from the features. Although Thompson did not recognize the features, they were those of Bruce Larnigan! Besides, the district attorney was given no time for speculation. At almost the same instant as his blow Mrs. Hall pulled aside the draperies. With a scream at the sight which met her startled eyes, she sprang into the room just as the hall door was jerked open and another actor appeared as part of the strange drama. It was her husband.

"I thought so!" snapped Rupert Hall. And then without a word his hand flashed back to his pocket and he was covering Thompson with a revolver. Swiftly the district attorney bounded forward, his hand gripping Hall's arm just in time to deflect the course of a bullet. For a moment the two men struggled, and then there was a second report, and Hall sank to the floor without a word. Thompson stooped swiftly over him. Hall was dead!

"What shall we do? What shall we do?" moaned Mrs. Hall, dropping limp into a chair. "Justin, you have killed him!"

"It was his life or mine," said Thompson curtly. He glanced swiftly about him. No one realized better than he the disastrous results if the true facts of the tragedy should be exposed. Without further ceremony he stooped down, altered the position of Hall's body and then bent over the unconscious figure of Bruce Larnigan. When he straightened the smoking revolver which had done Hall to death was clutched in Larnigan's fingers.

Thompson glanced down with a mocking smile about his thin lips.

"You go up to your room," he directed the sobbing woman at his side. "In a few minutes you are to rush downstairs, discover the tragedy and notify the police. They will think that Hall was shot by a burglar."

He caught the woman in his arms, saw her stagger toward the stairway and then, turning off the light, made his way to the front door and out into the street.

When the police arrived Bruce Larnigan was still insensible, but beginning to struggle slowly and incoherently back to consciousness. It was plain to the authorities that he had been dealt a violent blow. But at whose hands? If he had shot Hall before he himself had been attacked there must have been more than two persons present at the time. Mrs. Hall was hysterical and in the hands of a physician and trained nurse. She could supply no information, and the frightened servants could tell even less. When the coroner arrived a policeman took possession of Bruce Larnigan, who was still dazed, and the young man was hurried to a police hospital.

The next morning newspapers shrieked scare headlines at the crowds of early risers and displayed the gruesome accounts of the tragedy in heavy type. The prisoner had recovered consciousness and had been identified as Bruce Larnigan. Further than giving his name he had resolutely refused to commit himself. His friends of the Independent, including Jack Stevens, had been summoned, and the next issue of the Independent was expected to contain some sensational details.

Contrary to general opinion, however, when the afternoon edition of the newspaper did appear, there was little or no comment in reference to the case beyond the bare outlines of events as given by the police, and so the case dragged on until the day arrived for the trial.

The case was placed in the hands of District Attorney Thompson for the state. He said he was certain of a quick verdict and one which would establish beyond doubt that Hall had met his death at the hands of Bruce Larnigan while the latter was trying to burglarize the house.

Friends of Bruce kept strangely and persistently silent. However, had the movements of Jack Stevens been chronicled in the public press there is no doubt as to the interest which they'd arouse from the man in the street.

"Don't worry, old pal!" Stevens had said on a visit to the cell as Bruce glanced up wearily. "We'll have you out of this with flying colors or my name isn't Stevens!"

A crowd packed the courtroom when the trial opened.

The witnesses for the state were called in quick, steady succession and gave the conventional evidence as to the finding of the body, the discovery of the crime and such other details.

It was not until the second day of the trial and the witnesses in rebuttal, summoned by the defense, were placed on the stand that the interest in the case reached fever heat.

The monotone of the court crier called the name of a very prominent physician, Dr. Jordan.

He quickly took the stand. "I have made some interesting experiments in connection with this case," Dr. Jordan began. "It is an established scientific fact, your honor, that in cases of violent death the pupil of the victim's eye very often retains a photographic impression of the assailant. I have made certain plates of the retina of Rupert Hall's eyes, and they have been developed with marvelous results." He produced some photographic prints. Counsel for Bruce Larnigan accepted them and addressed the court.

"If you will allow us to call Mrs. Hall to the stand for a moment I fancy that she will be able to identify these pictures."

The judge nodded, and a few moments later the black robed figure of the dead man's widow was led to the stand. The lawyer without preamble extended the prints which he held.

"Do you recognize these, madam?" Mrs. Hall hesitated, and her face paled. With a scream she sprang to her feet as the district attorney rushed to catch her fainting form. The next second he likewise crumpled into a chair, for the fear distorted face staring at him from the wierd pictures of the dead man's eyes was his own. The evidence from beyond the grave, the evidence on which he had never reckoned, was shrieking out his guilt.

An hour later Bruce Larnigan, again a free man, stepped from the forbidding building with Jack Stevens at his side.

"What will be the next?" the former asked wearily as the two climbed into the car.

P. & O. No. 111 Lister

This Lister is known by farmers wherever sold as P. & O. No. 11, but the improved type is called No. 111 on account of important improvements.

There are more of them in the hands of farmers than all other makes combined—over 2,000 sold by one dealer in one county in West Texas. The special feature on this Lister made it superior of its immense sale. Its use is not confined to preparing for row crops; it is now almost universally used for plowing for small grain crops by listing and re-listing, leaving the ground in oval waves, which not only catches and holds the moisture but prevents the loose soils of the West from blowing away.

The adjusting link on front end of beam is an important exclusive feature on the No. 111, absolutely preventing the point from running below the desired depth. The wheels are provided with dust-proof boxes, an innovation help in the sandy loam lands of the West.

The feeding device absolutely deposits one seed at a time of any of the row crops, besides can be equipped for both corn and cotton. You will have to see this wonderful improvement to appreciate it. The sitting hoppers allow change of plants without employing them. Furnished with either dies or shovel covers.

This Lister has embodied many other important features that will convince you that it is the best on the market.

The P. & O. No. 123 4-Wheel Lister

This Lister has all the advantages of the No. 111 and in addition has rear wheels. It is desired in many localities as it enables the operator to see the seed as planted. The rear wheels have cushion springs to hold them in line with the row and following the unevenness of the ground and conform to the ridge without straining the rear frame, compelling, also, the Lister to remain in proper working position at all times. The friction lock disengages automatically, allowing the wheels to cast and turn round in a very small space.

A MERCILESS JUDGE

No Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Canyon resident has withstood this sternest of all tests:

T. A. Ridgway, farmer, Canyon St. Canyon, Texas, says: "I suffered from bladder trouble, causing too frequent and profuse passages of the kidney secretions. I have noticed that since using Doan's Kidney Pills, I have much better control over my kidneys." (Statement given January 3, 1912.)

On November 18, 1915, Mr. Ridgway said: "I have not had any trouble with my kidneys since I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I believe the cure is permanent."

More Live Stock Grown in the Great Plains Area of the Southwest.

By H. M. Bainer.

There is no question now claiming attention of the people within the great Plains Area of the Southwest, than that of livestock growing. Men of training and intellect are expressing themselves regarding the future of this industry along lines heretofore untouched.

In view of this deep and growing interest, the following from the pen of H. M. Bainer, agricultural demonstrator for the Santa Fe System, with headquarters in Amarillo, and printed in the Oklahoma Daily Livestock News of Oklahoma City, under date of February 24, will be generally read:

There is no "one" system of farming better adapted to Western Oklahoma, the Panhandle of Texas, South Plains of Texas of Eastern New Mexico than a combination of livestock along with the growing of the adapted crops. For the past fifty years or more this country has been known as a "cattle country". It has only been during the past few years that the raising of cultivated crops has been considered at all.

With the new agricultural development of the past ten years, we have positive proof that more livestock can be, and is being raised, two to one, than ever before in the history of the country.

With the incoming of the homeseeker, greater crops had to be produced. Every attention possible is now being given towards the production of better crops, including a greater variety of them. Demonstrations have proven that crops can be produced throughout the Southwest every year, with the right kind of farming. But these crops, aside from the small grains and cotton, are natural livestock feeds and must be fed for best returns. As cash crops, kafir, milo, feterita, sudan, sweet sorghums, etc., do not bring the money returns that are insured by handling them in the form of beef, pork, mutton, dairy products and poultry products. Southwestern farmers are also aware that the selling of crops for cash removes every element of fertility from their farms.

Beef Feeding

Along with the settlement of the southwest, breaking up of the large cattle ranges into small farms, many have expressed the opinion that the "cattle business" would suffer, and that there would be less and less attention given to it with a correspondingly decreased number of animals as the agricultural developments continue. There really is no reason for uneasiness along this line, for with the settling of the ranges there is an opportunity for handling more cattle than ever. While it is true that the grazing area is becoming less each year, at the same time the feed available for raising and finishing is increasing very rapidly. In the past it has been customary to raise cattle here, and then to ship them into the corn sections for finishing, but these conditions are now changing; cattle are not only raised here, but they are also finished here, and one shipment takes them direct to market. Every necessary feed for the raising and finishing of beef is produced in this section. Kafir, milo maize and feterita grains and fodder. Silage made from these crops is equal to that made from corn, and the yields per acre are fully as heavy. These crops combined with cotton seed products, these being also produced in this section, form as cheap and as satisfactory feed as can be obtained anywhere. Again, there is no more satisfactory feeding climate than here, no long, cold winters, and practically no disagreeable storms, but an abundance of sunny weather. Thus the favorable climatic conditions, combine to form one of the best beef finishing districts in the United States. Already large numbers of Southwestern farmers have installed silos and feed lots, and are finishing beef with results that are not surpassed in any of the older and more famous finishing districts.

Dairy Farming.

Many farmers of the southwest are now entering the dairy business along with diversified farming, they find that this line of livestock handling means constant paying returns and offers an outlet for demands at good prices. Mature as well as immature crops, handled through the silo and fed to dairy cows have a wonderful cash return in the form of cream, milk and butter, the highest priced products of the farm. Southwestern farmers are finding that dairying is a dependable line of farm business, which keeps up the fertility of the farm, calls for diversified crops, divides the farm labor and disposes of the crops in a concentrated form at high prices. It seems as if the feeds produced here have just been waiting for the dairy cow to convert them into products that will double their value. There are no feeds more desirable, even in the well-established dairy districts than a well-mixed ration of kafir, milo or feterita as grain, fodder and silage crops, in connection with a little good alfalfa, cow peas or sweet clover hay. This section is also the home of cotton seed products and wheat, both of which added to a dairy cow ration in the form of cotton seed meal or wheat bran, cannot be excelled. Climatic conditions here are fully as favorable to dairying as it is to beef or mutton production.

Sheep Feeding.

A large number of sheep are not only raised, but are finished for the only rased, but are finished for the market in the Panhandle of Texas and Eastern New Mexico. Fully 25,000 lambs are being finished in the Pecos Valley of New Mexico this season. Where alfalfa is scarce, in connection with range conditions, the unfinished sheep and lambs are driven to the irrigated sections, both in the Pecos Valley and in the pumping districts of Northwest Texas, for finishing. Sheepmen are finding that there is no need for shipping out of this section for finishing, when an abundance of just the right kind of feeds are available here. The home grown feeds fed to the native sheep and lambs, under the mild winters and excellent climatic conditions, combine to produce as cheap mutton as any other section of the United States.

Hog Raising

During the past three years, the number of hogs grown and finished in this section has increased several times over what it was before. This line of livestock farming is proving to be one of the best for this section. Many breeders of this line of stock in this part of the country claim that pork is produced cheaper here than

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it.

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

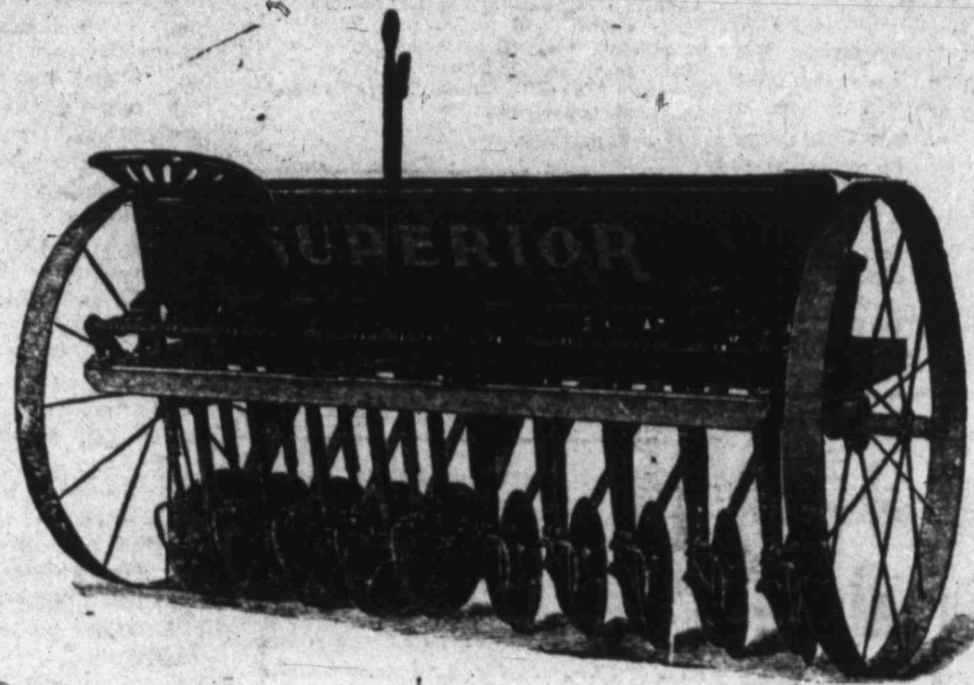

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.
