

THE MELTING POT PLAYS TO BIG HOUSE HERE TUESDAY

One of Greatest Plays on the Stage Today Well Presented by a Stong Company.

The Melting Pot played a return engagement at Amalio Monday night. About twenty-five people went from Canyon to see it.

The play is one of the great modern productions of race problem involving the Jewish race.

The people of Canyon are very grateful to Messrs. Hill and Guertner for procuring this splendid play for Canyon.

Buys More Land.

M. A. Bingham has bought 213 acres in the same section where he now lives from Sheriff W. A. Jennings, getting the north part of the section.

Mr. Bingham came to Randall county a few years ago from Nebraska and by hard work and economy has made money enough to pay out his place, buy a good bunch of stock and now is getting more land.

Mose Wesley Married.

M. M. Wesley and Miss Ethel LaRoe of Tulsa were married yesterday afternoon at the J. M. Redfearn home in the presence of a few friends.

Baptist Services.

Regular services in the morning. At eight the pastor will preach on the subject: "The Melting Pot" of God.

COUSINS PRESENTS ESTIMATE FOR THE NORMAL EXPENSES

$136,000 for First and $117,000 for the Second Year, Will be Asked of the Legislature.

President Cousins states that he has asked for $136,000 for the year beginning September, 1917, and $117,000 for the year beginning September, 1918.

The Normal is asking for less than any of the other three schools, since all of them must have new buildings.

Collided With Eagle.

The fire of last week having failed to put Joe Gamble's big Super-Six out of the running, a big eagle tried to put the finishing touches on it Tuesday morning, but likewise failed.

He was driving into town at about thirty miles when a big eagle arose from a fence post east of the city and flew in front of the car.

$195 for Armerians.

Treasurer C. D. Lester, of the Armenian fund, Monday sent $195.00 to the relief committee in New York to be forwarded to the starving Armenians.

Indicating the spirit of the western people, it was an astonishing fact to note that in an old settled country in the Mississippi Valley with which the writer is familiar, the small sum of $60 was sent from the united meeting of the churches of the town.

Come to the west, if you want to find a big hearted people.

McAFEE HOME FROM STATE FAIR—RANDALL COUNTY WINS

Greatly Pleased With the Exhibit of the County and Winning the Panhandle Championship.

The News did not receive last week until nearly all of the edition was off the press the news that Randall county won at the State Fair the championship of all Panhandle counties, and consequently, only a part of our readers got the message in last week's edition.

In the state contest Floyd county won fourth place and $150. In the Panhandle contest, Randall county won over Floyd by 22 points, which shows that if Randall had received the freight shipment in time, this county would have received the fourth place in the state contest.

Mr. McAfee entertained the Panhandle exhibitors at a dinner after the award of the first prize to this county. He was also honored with being elected vice president of the permanent Panhandle organization which was formed.

Mr. McAfee is well pleased with the exhibit at the fair and believes that it was a great investment for the county.

Clarendon Here Monday.

The Normal football team will play the Clarendon College Monday on the local grounds. In the first game of the season Clarendon won by a score of 19 to 0.

The Normal team will go into the game Monday considerably strengthened since the game in which they were defeated by the Clarendon bunch.

Dr. Farris Here Tonight.

Dr. G. A. Farris of Hereford will preach tonight at the Christian church. Dr. Farris is a very scholarly preacher, and one of the strongest in his church.

The public is cordially invited to hear him.

DAILY ROUTE WEST BEGUN YESTERDAY MORNING, NOV. 1

Increased Business Brings Information from Washington to Start Service.

Rural Route Mail Carrier E. F. Miller had a happy surprise Tuesday morning when he received advice from Washington that beginning on November first he would deliver mail to the patrons of his route daily instead of three times a week.

For three years there has been an effort to obtain daily service on the route. Each time a reply would come that as soon as the business justified the change to daily service, it would be inaugurated.

Mr. Miller sent in his quarterly report a few weeks ago. Based upon this report the service was ordered started. The good people of the route are greatly pleased to know of the change.

There was been considerable talk of a route running south from Canyon. Now would be a fine time to get in behind the proposition and work for a new route out of the city.

Great Lyceum Number.

The first number of the Normal Lyceum course was given at the Auditorium Friday night by the Kaltenborn Quartet, with Elsie Baker, contralto.

The quartet was the finest ever heard in the city. Many stated that their music was well worth the price of the entire course—$2.00. In fact there are many musical organizations on the road today which charge $1.50 for single performances which could not equal this organization.

Elsie Baker did not live up to her reputation in her songs here. She is a wonderful singer but represented a rather poor selection.

Election Returns in City.

Full election returns will be received in Canyon next Tuesday night at the Burroughs & Jarrett Drug Store. L. T. Jeffries will handle the messages for the Western Union and the returns will be flashed on a screen in front of the drug store. The service will be as complete and accurate as is possible to get in any town in the United States.

TRAFFIC ORDINANCE GOES INTO FULL EFFECT IN CITY

Sign Posts Up at all corners of the Public Square—"Drive to Right" is Order of Day.

Before dig up a copy of that new city traffic ordinance and memorize it, or the marshal will get you.

The traffic ordinance went into full force Friday morning with the erection of the sign posts on the public square. At first they were woefully ignored by the autos and the wagons, but since the marshal has been tying a sign of warning on cars which go astray, with the promise of a fine for further violations, the ordinance is being very well observed.

Mayne Closing Year.

Rev. J. W. Mayne is closing up the business of the Methodist church and will leave next Sunday for conference at Stamford. According to the laws governing the Methodist church he will not know until one week from Sunday whether or not he will be returned to Canyon for the coming year.

A Surprise Party.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Roffey gave a surprise Halloween party for Elbert. The guests met with Misses Blanche and Helen Cronson and from there went in a crowd to the Roffey home.

Witches haunted the house, the decorations were appropriate for the occasion. A witch stirred a pot-full of peanuts and each one were given one. This told the fortune of the owner of the peanut. Interesting contests followed and booty and first prize were awarded to the winners respectfully.

At a late hour delicious refreshments were served of sandwiches, cake and salad. All departed declaring that Mrs. Roffey was indeed a good hostess.

M. M. M. Club Election.

The Merry Maids and Matrons club held the election of officers Wednesday for the coming year, the following being selected: Mrs. T. V. Reeves, President.

Rain Friday Night.

A good rain of over quarter inch fell in Canyon and Randall county on Friday night.

School Tax Notice.

The tax rolls for the Canyon City Independent School District are now ready for the payment of taxes. You will find them at my store.

ASK FOR TWO YEARS MORE FOR TEXAS NORMAL COLLEGES

Wish to be Made Teachers Colleges, Preparing for Work in All Classes of Schools.

At the meeting of the Board of Regents for Normal Schools, a resolution was adopted asking the legislature to appropriate funds to add two years to the courses of the Normal Colleges in Texas in order that the school may become Teachers Colleges such as are found in many states of the union.

The new step, if taken will add two years to the course of the schools, but will not affect the certificates and diplomas now issued by the schools. It will put the normal colleges in position to fulfill the demands made by the high schools of the state in their teachers training, or give the graduate of the new course an A. B. degree.

Mr. Cousins states that high schools now require their teachers to have a degree from a school of college rank, or an A. B. degree. Therefore under the standard requirements of the Texas normal schools, the graduates are not regarded of high school proportion. The normal schools of Texas desire to cover the entire field, instead of only a part as at present.

There are two groups of normal colleges—the standard normal, and the one which gives two additional years work, which is designated as teachers college, such as the schools in Missouri, Colorado, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, New York and others. The Texas normals desire to attain the same standing as the latter schools, and to give standard course in Mathematics-Science, History-English and the Languages, thus being able to furnish the teachers for any high school in the state.

Mr. Cousins states that the additional two years work would require three new teachers in the West Texas State Normal the first year, and cost about $5,000. For the second year, he estimates the cost at $10,000. No change in the plan for issuing certificates and diplomas would be made, the two years being new work.

President Sam Sparks resigned at the meeting of the board, since his term of office expires on January 1st, and H. A. C. Goeth was elected to the presidency of the board. Mr. Sparks has been very efficient in his work while a member of the board and these connected with the normals of the state feel very kindly toward him for his work.

Flushing Ozark Trail.

Plans are now being made in Canyon to push the project of the Ozark Trail which will come through this section of the state. It has been resurveyed as far as Amarillo, and it is now up to the towns along the line from Amarillo on west to make the proper pull in order to get the trail.

H. C. Docater is pushing the idea of running the trail south from Amarillo and crossing the canyon at the Six Mile Crossing. He says that the crossing can be fixed into a good auto road with little expense to the county, and the tourists thus get a chance to see a part of the great Palo Duro. It would also bring the cars into Canyon from the east past the Normal and into the business section of the town.

The Canyon Business Men's Association expects to take the matter up at a meeting to be held within a few days.

Strawberries may be successfully spread out, and the soil packed about transplanted either in the fall or the spring, provided the ground is in good condition. Before planting the ground should be plowed deeply and, if not rich, a coating of well-rotted manure should be turned under. As a general rule the best plants are not obtained from old beds, as the old plants have exhausted their vitality in producing fruit and the young plants are likely to be weak. The best runners are obtained from young vigorous plants.

The young plants should be transplanted as soon after digging as possible. At intervals of the lower part of the roots should be clipped off and all but one or three leaves removed. The leaves should be well spread out, and the soil packed about them firmly. Set the plants so that the crown is just about flush with the top of the soil. If planted shallower than this the plant is likely to dry out and die and if the crown is covered with soil there is danger of smothering it.

The strawberry is a very shallow-rooted plant, and must have frequent shallow cultivation. The field should be kept free of weeds and the plants cultivated every ten days till they are well established, after which the ground should be cultivated deeply the rest of the season. — W. B. Latham A. & M. College.

Watch for Bands on Wild Ducks.

If you kill or capture a wild duck bearing an aluminum band around one leg and a number on the other side, and on the other a statement requesting that the United States Department of Agriculture, or the Biological survey be notified you are requested to send this band at once to the Bureau of Biological Survey, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. This band, if accompanied by a statement as to date, place, and circumstances under which the bird was taken, will be of service to the survey in its efforts to determine the longevity of individual ducks and the routes of migration of the species. The bands are being attached to considerable numbers of wild ducks of several species which have been cured of duck sickness prevalent around Great Salt Lake, Utah, and their release. The department is particularly interested and anxious to secure reports from these birds to determine their complete recovery from this animal malady, which has killed hundreds of thousands of ducks in Utah.

Game Laws

H. L. Stewart, deputy game warden, submits the following information on the seasons for game, for the benefit that it may do:

- Doves.—Sept. 1 to March 1.
- Ducks and Geese—Oct. to February 1.
- Quail—December 1 until February 1.
- Deer—Bucks only Nov. 1 until January 1.
- Turkey—December 1 until April 1.
- Plover and Snipe—Nov. 1 until February 1.

There is no open season on cranes, curlews or swans until after September 1, 1918. House Sparrow, hawks, buzzards, blackbirds or owls or not protected.

No license is required to hunt in the county of your residence or counties adjoining the county of your residence, but a state license costing $1.75 is required for hunting outside of these counties. The non-residence license is $15.

The Federal law prohibits the hunting of any game between sunset and sunrise.

The limited amount of game each hunter is permitted to take is as follows:

- Doves, quail, prairie chicken, ducks and Geese—15 in a day.
- Deer—Three bucks a season.
- Turkey—Three in one season.

A peculiar condition pertaining to the hunting of prairie chickens comes about through the law formerly operative on their hunting, terminating before another can be passed by the next session of the legislature next year. This makes an open season on prairie chickens and will continue until the next legislature takes action. The first five year periods on them expired June 12, 1916 and unless the next legislature renews this law persons will be allowed to shoot these birds Nov. 1 until February 1.—Panhandle.

A Chicago editor says he would like to hear a preacher pray in conversational tones, as if the Lord were present and not a long ways off. Yes, and then some son of a sea cock would complain because the preacher was not in earnest. People are hard to please. The Methodists used to be too demonstrative, the Presbyterians kept right on attracting people who liked their style. Most of the preachers in these days are dignified in the pulpit and they reach only the people who like that style. When Billy Sunday comes to town and makes a great hullabaloo, the quiet people criticize his words and methods, but the demonstrative people hit the trail at the rate of a thousand a day.

You will find a lot of people who drive an automobile as quietly as possible and who run at a conservative rate. Then you run across a fellow who opens his muffler and hikes down the road at forty miles an hour. The tastes differ.—Exchange.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

With the exception of black ink, all raw materials used in manufacture of a newspaper have advanced in cost during the past twelve months approximately 100 per cent. This means that it will cost your publisher practically double to supply you with a newspaper the coming year.

Under stress of these unusual conditions, The Star-Telegram has been forced to increase its "Bargain Days" rate from $2.25 to $3.65. An increase of 40c per year (3 1-3c per month) or 12 per cent. Based on the conservative estimate increase in production cost of 100 per cent, under this price the division of added expense will be as follows:

Increased expense to The Star-Telegram ..... 88%
Increased expense to The Reader ..... 12%

This situation means that after "Bargain Days" the regular rate of $6.00 per year must be strictly enforced. We have battered the price to the very bottom in order to protect our Annual Subscription Cheap Rate Period, which has been in effect since the establishment of The Star-Telegram.

Do not take chances, save the $2.35, by ordering before Bargain Days expire. Take advantage of the $3.65 rate.

PANHANDLE RAISES CROP PAYS BEST TO "FEED" IT.

In the current issue of the Oklahoma Farmer, H. M. Bainer, head agriculturist for the Santa Fe system, writes an article of more than usual merit.

"There is no one system of farming better adapted to Western Oklahoma, the Panhandle of Texas, South Plains of Texas or Eastern New Mexico than a combination of live stock along with the growing of the adapted crops. For the past fifty years, or more, this country has been known as a cattle country. It has only been during the last few years that the raising of cultivated crops has been considered at all.

With the new agricultural development of the last 10 years, we have positive proof that more livestock can be and is profitably raised 12 to one, than ever before in the history of the country.

With the incoming of the homeseeker, greater crops had to be produced. Every attention possible is now being given toward the production of better crops, including a greater variety of them. Demonstrations have proved that crops can be produced thruout the Southwest every year with the right kind of farming. But these crops, aside from the small grains and cotton, are natural livestock feeds and must be fed for best results. As cash crops, kaffir, milo, feterita, sudan and sweet-sorghums do not bring the money returns that are insured by handling them in the form of beef, pork, mutton, dairy products, and poultry products.

Southwestern farmers are also aware that the selling of crops for cash removes every element of fertility from the farms.

Sheep and Hogs.

A large number of sheep are not only raised, but are finished for the market in the Panhandle of Texas and Eastern New Mexico. Fully 25,000 lambs are being finished in the Pecos Valley of New Mexico this season. Where alfalfa is scarce, in connection with range conditions, the unfinished sheep and lambs are driven to the irrigated section, both in the Pecos Valley and in the pumping districts of northwest Texas, for finishing. Sheepmen are finding that there is no need for shipping out of this section for finishing, when an abundance of just the right kinds of feed are available here. The home grown feeds fed to the native sheep and lambs under the mild winters and excellent climatic conditions, combine to produce as cheap mutton as any other section of the United States.

During the last three years the number of hogs grown and finished in this section has increased several times over what it was before. This line of livestock farming is proving to be one of the best for this section. Many breeders of this line of stock in this part of the country say that pork is produced cheaper here than in many of the corn states. Comparatively little disease is known in this region. Kaffir, milo and feterita are sure crops and are 90 per cent as good for pork production as corn.

Along with the settlement of the Southwest, breaking up of the large cattle ranges into small farms, many have expressed the opinion that the cattle business would suffer, and that there would be less and less attention given to it with a correspondingly decreased number of animals as the agricultural developments continue. There really is no reason for uneasiness along this line, for with the settling of the ranges there is an opportunity for handling more cattle than ever. While it is true that the grazing area is becoming less yearly, at the same time the feed available for raising and finishing is increasing rapidly.

In the past it has been customary to raise cattle here, and then to ship them into the corn sections for finishing, but these conditions are now changing. Cattle are not only raised here, but they are finished where grown, and one-shipment takes them direct to market. Every necessary feed for the raising and finishing of beef is produced in this section. Kaffir, milo, and feterita grains and other are equal to corn, grain and fodder. Silage made from these crops is equal to that made from corn, and these yields to the acre are fully as heavy. These crops combined with compressed products, these being also produced in this section, form as cheap and satisfactory feeds as can be obtained anywhere. Again, there is no more satisfactory feeding climate than here, no long, cold winters and practically no disagreeable storms, but an abundance of sunny weather.

Many farmers of the Southwest are now entering the dairy business, and find that this line of livestock handling insures constant paying returns and offers an outlet for products at good prices. Mature as well as immature crops, handled thru the silo and fed to dairy cows have a wonderful cash return in the form of cream, milk, and butter the highest priced products of the farm. Southwest farmers are finding that dairying is a dependable line of farm business; which keeps up the fertility of the farm.

NOTED ENGLISH CATTLE BREEDER IN PANHANDLE.

Amarillo News: That the Hereford breeders in America have sacrificed much weight, bone, scale and masculine characteristics in their effort to secure compactness was the assertion of W. E. C. Britten, secretary of the Hereford Herd Book Society of England, in a conversation with friends in Amarillo last evening. Mr. Britten is the guest of J. L. Van Natta and will be driven by his host and W. E. Herring over the numerous Hereford breeding ranches in Northwest Texas during the next few days.

The visitor expresses himself as greatly interested in America having arrived in the United States for the first time October 1. He comes for the purpose of studying the Hereford cattle situation in the United States and since landing here has traversed a number of the states to the northwest. He first attended the Kansas City Royal Stock Show and then started on his tour of the states. Mr. Britten lives in Hereford, England, the home of the original Hereford breeders of whom his great grandfather, Thomas Jeffries, was one of the first in the establishment of the present type. Cotmore, the famous Hereford bull, was the property of Mr. Jeffries, and weighed somewhat more than 3,900.

That England is scarcely so large as the Thirteenth Congressional District of Texas, was stated by the visitor yet he declares that there are twenty pure breeds of cattle, to say nothing of hogs, sheep and other animals. He stated that England has furnished the foundation stock to all of the pure breeds practically. With considerable animation, Mr. Britten stated that the original Hereford type still produced by the breeders in England is a very different animal to the Hereford of the United States. In this connection attention was called to the fact that the grand champion bull in England this year weighed 3,100 pounds.

According to the estimate of the visitor, the Hereford breeders of the United States have allowed their ideals to become warped to a dangerous degree by seeking after compactness of body. He states that the tendency is to effeminacy among the bulls, which is according to his conception a dangerous thing. He sees in these "revised type," a weakness of character in the masculinity of the bulls, and a consequent detraction of power. He is especially strong for the sturdy, rugged masculinity of the

Keeping Yourself Well HOW YOU GET SICK

Sometimes you overload your stomach with rich foods. Your life may be an active one, and thus you may care for all you eat. But a few days of inactivity show your system does not call for so much. You awake in the morning tired. Your body feels heavy; you know you are not up to the mark. Your digestion has not cared for the overload. Part of it remains. It generates gas that inflames the delicate linings. They fall to pour out the digestive fluids and neglect to absorb the life-giving elements. You know something is wrong. Your body gets weak, and soon opportunity is offered for some severe illness.

Taken in time, the indigestion would not become serious. First remove the overload; then soothe the sore membranes; then build up the weakened body. It's simple to say, but not too easy to do. You need help. A tonic that will quicken digestion, help remove waste, soothe the soreness and arouse the system—that's just what you need. Peruna has an enviable record in this respect. It has aided many thousands in the last century to overcome just these conditions, and thereby prevent serious sickness. The tablet form is convenient for regular administration.

Manilla Tablets are the ideal laxative and liver tonic. They have no unpleasant effects and form no habits. 10c and 25c. The Peruna Co. Columbus, O.

shire of a herd, coupled with liberal physical form. It is interesting to hear this expert talk of the Hereford cattle. He states that originally there were three types of Herefords; that the greys, the thick-faced or speckled, and the red white-faces. Forty years ago or thereabouts the first mentioned types became extinct and attention centered in the white-faced red-cattle, the type now exclusively produced.

In the judgment of Mr. Britten, the American will be forced to return to the original stock at intervals for an infusion of new blood with which to rejuvenate their herds. In this way, Mr. Britten thinks, the American strains may be greatly benefited and prevented from falling into degeneracy.

W. E. Britten, father of the visitor was one of the largest exporters of Hereford cattle from England into America. In this connection he claimed as customers J. H. Van Natta, father of J. L. Van Natta, of this city and his uncle W. S. Van Natta. During this period of exportation from England, the elder Britten made numerous trips to the United States claiming as his friend the Messrs. Van Natta.

Asked at the end of the conversation relative to cattle, about the European war, Mr. Britten said very frankly: "The people of this country have but the slightest concept of the horrors of the war. You Americans pray that the war may soon end and yet I see nothing at present upon which to base the hope of an abatement. The vast preparations for war, the equipment and the training are all opposed to an early ending of the struggle. We, of England, feel that we are fighting not alone for ourselves, but practically the entire world. This must be a fight to the finish and we cannot afford, now that the war is on, to stop until the ultimate end shall have been reached."

The visitor is fascinated with the magnificent distances of the Plains of Texas. He is viewing with interest the evident developments here and although from the little country of England is accustomed his vision to the broader expanses. He is operating a camera and will return to the country of his nativity with mental and material pictures of the places he has visited the people he has met and the facts gleaned.

Altogether Mr. Britten is an interesting character talking with easy comprehension and appreciation on many subjects besides his hobby, the Hereford cattle of England.

Free Traveling Library.

Do you want a traveling library in your community? Do you know what a traveling library is?

Traveling libraries are collections of 50 books which are sent by the State from one community to another. They are maintained by the state, and circulate from the library of the Texas Library and Historical Commission in the Capitol, free of all charge except the cost of transportation upon receipt and return of each library. The libraries are made up of the best popular books in English, for adults and children; approximately one-third of the books being juvenile books, one-third fiction, and one-third interesting books of history, travel, biography and literature. The libraries are shipped in stout hinged cases and are accompanied by supplies necessary for keeping records of circulation.

The traveling libraries are in tendency for rural communities and small villages not enjoying public library privileges. When the people of a station have read a library, it is returned to the Commission, where the books are checked up, record of their circulation is taken, necessary repairs made and binding done, and then it is sent to another station.

To secure a traveling library for a rural community or a town too small to support a public library, or where it is at present impracticable to take advantage of the county library law, or where it is felt a traveling library will be of benefit in arousing interest in taking advantage of the county library law, at least two taxpayers and a banker guaranteeing the responsi-

Sufferers from Backache, Rheumatism, Lumbago and Kidney Trouble.

Before an Insurance Company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headaches, dizzy spells, or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time when you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10 cents for large trial package of his new discovery—"Anuric." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anuric" is the most potent agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar. 50c. at druggists.

ability of the taxpayers should make application on the blank furnished by the commission and select a responsible person to care for the library.

In many cases a woman's club borrows the library for the community, the application must be signed by the three officers of the club, who will remain responsible for the books even if their term of office expires before the books are returned.

For further information, or application card, address Miss Octavia F. Rogan, Texas Library and Historical Commission, the Capitol, Austin.

Good Health and Teeth.

A recent investigation made by the U. S. Public Health Service in connection with studies of rural school children showed that 49.3 per cent had defective teeth, 21.1 per cent had had dental attention. Over 14 per cent never used a tooth brush, 58.2 per cent used one occasionally and only 27.4 per cent used one daily. Defective teeth reduce physical efficiency. Dirty, suppurating, snaggle-toothed mouths are responsible for many cases of heart disease, rheumatism and other chronic affections. The children are not responsible for the neglected state of their teeth. The condition which hampers mental and physical growth and puts a permanent handicap on our future citizens. School teachers can and are doing much in inculcating habits of personal cleanliness of the rural child but this will fall of the highest accomplishment unless parents co-operate heartily and continuously. This is a duty which we owe our children.

ACIDS IN THE SYSTEM

Acids accumulating in the system in excess, poison the blood and cause a great variety of diseases, affecting the skin and other mucous surfaces, the heart and arteries, brain and general nervous system, joints and muscles. Some of these diseases are Rheumatism in its many forms, Catarrh, Eczema, Hives, itching and burning of the skin, dizziness, mental depression and a variety of other ailments. You must eliminate the acid from your system and purify your blood before you can be rid of your trouble. S. S. S. has been purifying and nourishing the blood for over half a century. It is also a very efficient tonic and being purely vegetable, it is the most efficient agent known in the cleansing of the blood and toning up of the system. Call for it at your druggists and don't accept a substitute. If special medical advice is desired write Medical Department 93, Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

SUBSCRIPTION, $1.50 PER YEAR

It is too bad that so many good people in Canyon are not taking advantage of the excellent lyceum course offered at the Normal this year. The first number was well worth the price of the entire course. And that leads up to the question of amusements. Today is a day of amusement. People are hunting and hunting for it. Many good people deride the idea of amusement, and preach long and loud against everything which they term questionable amusement. Many such people are not taking advantage of the lyceum course. Every number given this year is of the highest character. Every performer is an artist in his or her line. There will be music of the highest class, but interpreted in such a manner as all may enjoy it. You need not be a finished musician to have enjoyed that wonderful program at the auditorium Friday night—and that number was only the beginning of the good course. Do you enjoy brainy lectures? There will be two. The person or person who stand out against what they term shoddy amusements and will not approve of high class and inspirational entertainment by their patronage is as useful to the cause of better amusement and entertainment, as would be the gospel missionary who goes to the starving native with no bread to offer the human body.

The presidential contest comes off next Tuesday when the battle of votes will determine the president for the coming four years. Republicans were jubilant a few weeks ago over the prospects. But times have changed. T. R. lead a bunch of the G. O. P. cut in the woods four years ago to satisfy his passion for power. Now he would rather beat Wilson than anything else in the world—except be president, himself, which he knows is impossible at this time. Now he is trying the lead his bunch back into to lead. But voters are more independent than ever before in the history of this country. The independent voter knows that Wilson has made a good president. Hughes has about talked himself to death. What is the independent to do? Either stay with the democrats or stay at home on election day. A writer in the Saturday Evening Post of last week says that Hughes has a little best of the poll so far taken. The Literary Digest says that Wilson has a safe lead in 3,000 communities from which it has information. Straw votes count for little, but it now looks that Wilson will be elected president on next Tuesday, taking even the poll of the New York Herald, which is strong for Hughes.

The Santa Fe is the best railroad in the world, and Randall county people are glad to have the road run through out territory, but she has some clerks who ought to be in other service than the employ of the greatest railroad on earth. This fellow, whoever he may be, by changing the billing on Randall county's exhibit to the State Fair cheated Randall county out of the honor of the fourth or fifth place in the state wide contest at the great State Fair of Texas.

The sentiment for paving around the public square of Canyon and to the depot is growing daily. Saturday a man who owns no property here but who has the welfare of Canyon at heart, stated that he would be in with a donation if the paving was done. Let the city fathers express themselves. Hereford, Dalhart, Lubbock and Plainview are fixing to pave their principle streets.

Still the rains come and still the wheat grows and still Randall county is the banner country of Northwest Texas. Come here to live.

Every voter in Randall county should go to the polls next Tuesday and vote for the constitutional amendment which is printed across the bottom of the ticket. Texans are adverse to voting for any kind of a constitutional amendment, but for once let's put this one through. It carries no raise in taxes. It is a means whereby schools may be improved if the community desires. The state educational leaders are for the amendment. Let Randall county vote strong for it.

Randall county is the banner county of the Panhandle and Plains by right of its county exhibit at both the Panhandle State Fair and the State Fair of Texas. Canyon is recognized as the educational center of the Panhandle and Northwest Texas. Why not Randall county and Canyon work together in the paving of the public square and the street leading to the depot.

Vote For the Amendment.

To the Voters of Texas: The constitutional amendment to be voted upon by the people on the seventh of November is distinctly an educational amendment and is the only amendment to be considered at that time. One leading feature of the amendment is that it does not impose a tax of itself but if adopted will give the various districts and counties of the State an opportunity to secure additional support for their schools if they need it and want it.

The amendment was submitted to the people of Texas in response to a wide spread demand throughout the State for an opportunity to secure greater support for the schools than is now permitted by the Constitution of the state. Many districts in Texas have already reached the constitutional limit in taxation and are yet short of funds with which to provide an adequate system of public free school. Inasmuch as the amendment does not levy a tax on any district or county, the voters of such counties and districts as may not need additional support should in good neighborhood spirit vote for the amendment, for by so doing they will give the needy districts of Texas an opportunity to establish good schools for their children.

Four hundred and sixty seven independent school districts, and approximately two thousand common school districts in the state have already voted upon themselves the limit in taxation permitted by the present Constitution. Many of these districts need additional support and cannot secure another dollar for their schools

The regular meeting of the Eastern Star was held at the Masonic Hall last Thursday evening with quite a crowd of members and visitors present. After the business meeting several guests were admitted to partake of the pleasure of the evening. A very delightful feature of the program was the music rendered by our very efficient orchestra consisting of Dr. Ingham, Messers Conner, Hatley, Moreland and Ingham. Refreshments of sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee were served by the refreshment committee after which various games were indulged in.

Regarding Y. M. C. A. Work.

Dallas, Texas, August 10, 1916

Mr. Cleveland Baker, Canyon, Texas.

Dear Mr. Baker:

We wish to acknowledge receipt of $115.00 as a contribution from the Y. M. C. of Canyon Normal and the citizens of Canyon Texas. If you have magazines for shipment to the soldiers on the border you may ship them to D. L. Rogers, Army Y. M. C. A. Building, San Antonio. I have delayed sending you these instructions thus far, because there have been no definite arrangements for handling this matter until recently. From now on however, all magazines and reading matter intended for the soldiers in the various camps on the border will be received at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters in San Antonio for systematic distribution.

Yours very truly,

Joe J. MURRAY, Office Secretary.

Items of Interest for June and July 1916.

Dallas quietly canvassing for $9,000 toward annual current expense fund; nearly $6,000 of this amount has been secured.

Boy's camps conducted by Dallas, Ft. Worth, Waco, Sherman and Corsicana Associations.

Twenty students from seven Texas Colleges, under the leadership of Mr. Wilson, attended summer school at Blue Ridge, North Carolina.

The First Older Boys' Training Camp was conducted near Georgetown, with forty boys and leaders in attendance from 15 different points. Mr. Hunter reports the gathering, while disappointing in numbers, very successful as to results.

Work Among Soldiers.

Much time has been given to thorough investigation and to the inauguration of work among the soldiers of the border. State Secretary Coulter has given practically all of June and July to this phase of Association effort. Three buildings are now open at Harlingen, Mercedes and Donna. These buildings, though small, are larger than originally contemplated, because of the concentration of the troops at these points. (It looks as if there would be further concentration of troops (Texas) demanding one large building.)

WILL DRAFT BILL FOR CREATION OF A. & M. NO. 2.

West Texas Association Will Look to Present College for Suggestions for Proposed School.

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 29.—Thomas F. Hodge of Sweetwater, secretary-treasurer of the West Texas A. & M. Association, who was in the city today announced the personnel of a committee from the West Texas A. & M. College Association which will meet a committee from the A. & M. College to draft a bill for submission to the next legislature for the establishment of a West Texas A. & M. college. The personnel of the committee is as follows: T. F. Hodge, secretary, Sweetwater; B. O. Coleman, Colorado; E. R. Spencer, Sweetwater; Senator C. R. Buchanan, Snyder; C. R. Metcalf, San Angelo and Senator Claude B. Hudspeth El Paso.

It is understood that Colorado, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Azilené, San Angelo, Lubbock, Snyder, Post, Spur, Amarillo and possibly some other towns are in the race for the school.

The campaign for the new college was begun last April when a meeting was called in Sweetwater of the West Texas people who favored it. Since that time a persistent campaign has been carried on, and several meetings have been held, one of which was in Fort Worth several weeks ago. The last Democratic platform carried a demand for the establishment of this school and the West Texas people are hopeful that but little opposition will develop in the next legislature. It is the intention of the Association to work in harmony with the old A. & M. and to accept suggestion from them as to the scope of the proposed college. It is for the purpose of reaching an agreement along these lines that the present committee has been appointed.

JUDGE H. C. RANDOLPH ENDORSED FOR FEDERAL SENATOR.

Advantages of Standard Prices.

The standardization of prices has been a much-mooted question with manufacturers, jobbers and retailers during the past few years.

There is now pending a bill, known as the Stevens-Ashurst Bill, which, if it becomes a law, will permit manufacturers of trademarked or patented products to name a retail price on their goods.

At first thought one is impressed with the opinion that this piece of legislation might possibly tend to stifle competition and consequently put an unnecessary burden upon the consuming public.

This, however, is an erroneous idea as this proposed law does not permit two or more manufacturers to enter into an understanding with regard to prices. It simply permits an individual manufacturer to regulate prices to be paid for his goods by consumers, and as his products must come into open competition with other lines on the market, his prices must be right to secure and hold a profitable share of patronage.

I personally know of a concern manufacturing watches which brings every legal pressure to bear, an effort to maintain prices to the public that represent legitimate margins of profit—no more, no less. The policy of this concern protects the dealer and consumer alike, and if adopted by manufacturers of other lines will undoubtedly result in much good to all concerned.

The public should be called on to pay for any piece of merchandise—a price commensurate with the cost of raw materials, manufacturing and distributing costs, and legitimate margins of profit—no more, no less. The policy of this concern protects the dealer and consumer alike, and if adopted by manufacturers of other lines will undoubtedly result in much good to all concerned.

No consumer should expect or want to buy goods for less than the cost of manufacture and distribution, plus "let live" prices. On the other hand, the public should not be called upon to pay exorbitant margins of profits, and no far-sighted manufacturer will expect them to.

It is the opinion of those who have studied merchandising, that the standardization of prices will benefit the public as much as manufacturers and dealers, and many who formerly opposed the establishment of standard prices are changing her opinions after mature investigation and consideration.

ITALIAN FINDS
LOCKJAW CURE

Professor Ingianni Invents Portable Bath for Hot Immersions.

GIVES SATISFACTORY RESULTS

After Few Days Treatment the Wound Begins to Heal, Suppuration Disappears, Swelling Subsides and Fever Ceases.

Headquarters of the Italian Army in the Field.—Surgeon Major Professor Ingianni of the Italian medical corps, in charge of a field hospital, has applied on a large scale a special treatment for lockjaw which is giving most satisfactory results.

The antitoxin treatment of lockjaw is extensively used in the Italian army as a preventive and, thanks to it, the cases of tetanus have been greatly diminished. Unfortunately, however, the disease has not been stamped out and nothing so far had been discovered to check its almost certainly fatal course.

Naturally in field hospitals local conditions are such that it is impossible to resort to prolonged antiseptic bathing of the wounded or infected part, and the most effective remedy consisted in amputation. But even early amputation often proved of no avail when the germs in the wound already had set free a lethal dose of their toxin. Besides, even when amputation saved a man's life it left him a cripple.

Doctors Amputate Too Freely.
Often for fear of infection surgeons in the field resort freely to amputation knowing full well that it would be impossible for them to keep the wound clean until it is completely healed.

Professor Ingianni instead is convinced that amputation should only be resorted to in extreme cases, as a doctor's first duty is to cure, not to cripple a man. Prolonged warm bath of the wound is an almost infallible remedy against lockjaw, and nothing prevents its being administered even in the field under ordinary conditions. The professor has invented a special portable bath which can be folded, as it is made of rubber and shaped in such a way that any limb can be immersed in it. The bath is then tied to the patient by means of bandages and placed in any position, either horizontal or vertical.

Antiseptic Solution is Used.
A warm antiseptic solution can be easily kept in it at the same temperature for five or six hours. As a rule a 3 per cent solution of hypochlorite is used or else corrosive sublimate in the proportion of one-half per 1,000. But permanganate of potassium, iodine or lead water also can be used to advantage. It has been found better to alternate the employment of these antiseptics.

The results of this treatment are wonderful. After a few days the wound begins to heal, suppuration disappears, swelling subsides and fever ceases. Recovery follows as a matter of course even in cases where amputation was considered the only remedy. The danger of lockjaw is entirely obviated.

Hound in Chase Across Bridge Hangs From Trestle While Quarry Is Killed.

Princeton, W. Va.—Several persons witnessed a remarkable display of canine intelligence here when a fox-hound belonging to James McPherson saved himself from death under a train on the railroad bridge at Black Lick, four miles west of here. The bridge is 207 feet high.

The dog was pursuing a fox across the bridge when the train came rapidly upon the chase. Witnesses thought the dog had been killed and the owner walked out on the bridge to see what had become of his pet. To his surprise he found the dog near the center of the bridge hanging by his feet between the ties and unharmed. The fox was killed.

SHOULD HELP HER HUSBAND

Court Decides Crime is No Cause for Divorce—Defines Habitual Drunkard.

Des Moines, Ia.—The Iowa supreme court, in session here, has handed down several Solomonian decisions.

In one ruling, the court held that confession of a crime on the part of a husband does not constitute grounds for divorce proceedings.

"It ill becomes a wife," said the court, "to prefer criminal charges against her husband. She took him for better or for worse, and she should try to redeem him."

In the same decision the court defined a habitual drunkard as "one who becomes even moderately intoxicated whenever the opportunity is presented."

MUST CARE FOR MOTHER

Clara Bishoff, twenty years old and pretty, is looking for a husband who will provide for her mother. In desperate straits financially the girl says she will try to make the man who meets her requirements happy.

Here are some of the qualifications: The man must be between the ages of twenty-three and thirty. He must earn at least $50 a week. He must be gentle and kind. And above all he must provide for her mother.

You might call all this a "husband advertisement" if you look at it one way, but Clara Bishoff's announcement means more than that. Twenty is not so very old when it comes to making a fair living for two. Here is a girl who tried to make a meager salary do the impossible. Yesterday she frankly admitted she had failed.

"For days I faced this," the girl explained. "Can't you see how hard it would be for any girl to come to a public announcement that she wanted a husband? It was the hardest thing I have ever had to do. But for mother's sake I mean to see it through now."

His transfer has, therefore, been also a promotion.

It is reported on good authority that Lieutenant Commander Marconi will have charge of both the naval wireless and aeronautical services, which will be reorganized and improved with the introduction of recent inventions, already successfully experimented, and destined to play an important part in the forthcoming naval operations in the Adriatic.

Welsh Soldier Recovers the Power in London Hospital Lost in Battle.

London.—Many remarkable instances of the recovery of soldiers of the power of speech, lost through shell shock or wounds, have been told. The latest is that of a Welshman, Private Morris, who had his voice restored in a dream.

He was injured during the battle of the Somme, and on recovering consciousness found that he had lost the power of speech. While in a hospital in London he dreamed that a shell burst near him. He shouted at the top of his voice, and on waking was spoken to about it. To his astonishment he found he was able to reply, and he has now completely regained his speech.

Washington as president and Adams as vice president were inaugurated in Philadelphia, March 4, 1793. At the end of his term Washington refused to be a candidate for a third term and the unwritten law he laid down has never been overturned.

BUILD A SUBWAY TO VERDUN FRONT

Tunnel, 45 Feet Underground, Leads to Within 300 Yards of Germans.

AMERICANS MAKE THE TRIP

New York Lawyer Narrowly Escapes Shots as He Views Trenches—Tunnel Cook Was Formerly Chef to an Ambassador.

Verdun.—Just west of here, in the forest of Argonne, there is a remarkable military tunnel, 45 feet underground, running right up to within 300 yards of the German trenches. It is one of the most hard-pressed points around Verdun, but through this tunnel re-enforcements move forward without danger, relieving every two hours the men on the firing line.

There was a very American atmosphere about this tunnel when the writer visited it, for the curious fact developed that the two officers in command were American residents, one a stock raiser in Alberta, Canada, and the other a bank official of the Franco-American bank at Los Angeles, Cal. Both were born in France, and when the war broke out left their American businesses to come home and fight. And now they are in full charge of this underground highway, leading up to one of the most desperate positions along the front. They are so American that they speak English instead of French, and the commandant's headquarters—a little nest in the clay—has a big picture of Uncle Sam hanging on the wall.

Creeping through this tunnel toward the front line, the members of the visiting party knocked their steel casques on the roof, and plunged through water ankle deep. Paul D. Cravath, the New York lawyer, a man of large build, 6 feet 6 inches tall, was bent double in the struggle through the tunnel. Along the way they passed an electric plant, throbbing with energy, and pumping the fresh air which keeps the tunnel habitable. Farther on, in a large clay hole, a kitchen was in full operation, with soldiers eating bowls of noodles.

Chef to an Ambassador.
"Let me introduce you to our chef," said the commandant, as a young soldier cook came forward. "He is now the cook for this tunnel—and he ought to be a good cook, for before the war he was chef to the French ambassador at Rome."

Emerging from the tunnel into the front line, the German trenches were plainly visible on the crest only 300 yards away. The intervening space was swept clear as though by a cyclone. Instead of the beautiful green of the forest, that was left at the other end of the tunnel, here the whole outlook was gray and desolate; the ground jagged and torn as by eccentric plows, not a vestige of grass or verdure, and the few gaunt trunks of trees stripped of their last leaf and looking like so many scarecrows.

"This has been a rather quiet day—only two mine explosions," said the commandant, "two men injured, one in the shoulder, the other in the leg. That is little, for often we have forty to sixty men killed or injured in these mine explosions, which go on continually as the Germans try to mine under our trenches and we try to mine under theirs."

Even beyond the front line French trenches the French soldiers had pushed their observation posts into the fire-swept dividing line, 300 yards wide. Some of these daring men could be seen almost up to the crest, where the German line ran. They were crouched behind heaps of bowlders, rifles ready.

"Those men are only ten yards from the Germans," said the commandant. As he spoke, Mr. Cravath of New York, said: "I see a German; there he is on the crest; you can see his uniform with the round cap."

"And he sees you too," said the commandant. "You have been under fire," he added as he led Mr. Cravath and the others to a more secure position.

Americans Are Lucky.
"It's good that German didn't fire," remarked Cravath. "It might have been an international incident. Think of it—killing an American visitor to the French trenches."

Coming back from the front-line trenches one had a view of the many ceaseless activities in carrying on this great battle. At one point soldiers in shirt sleeves were digging graves in an improvised cemetery along the forest path. The cemetery was very large and had been given a name, "Maison Forresterie," or Forest Home. Every grave had a wooden cross above it with the name and regiment of the dead soldier.

The shells kept whizzing and bursting as the party moved along, and it got to be a pleasant pastime to note the long s-z-z-z as the shells flew overhead. One of them struck a few hundred feet away, throwing up trees, earth and clouds of smoke.

To those who wanted souvenirs there were big fragments of shrapnel lying at every turn. It was pleasant at first to pick them up, but after three or four of these heavy chunks of steel were carried half a mile the task was abandoned.

The ingenuity of some of the trench quarters along the way is shown in the use of empty glass bottles for windows. One officer pointed with pride to the very artistic effect he had secured with these empty wine bottles. A triple row extended all across the front of his log shack, giving it a window effect without. The bottles are of white glass, used for bottling the white wine of Bordeaux.

Lives Outside City.

The headquarters of General Nivelle, in command of the operations at Verdun, are quite a way outside the city, at a little crossroad hamlet, which cannot be named for military reasons. The general's offices are in the town courthouse, a two-story stone structure. It was in this same building that General Petain, who preceded Nivelle, and General de Castelnau quickly made the plans at the first onrush of the Germans, which held them until re-enforcements could be brought up.

General Nivelle goes to Verdun and along the trench front frequently. But most of his time is at headquarters, in telegraph and telephone communication with the whole circle of defenses, and in touch, too, with the other army corps and masses of supplies ready to be moved forward to fill any gap the Germans may make.

As we were at General Nivelle's headquarters a party of German prisoners came by. They marched two and two, their gray uniforms and round caps contrasting with the French blue and casque. Already they were being set to work, and instead of a gun each German carried a spade over his shoulder. At Verdun there is no civilian life whatever, but around General Nivelle's headquarters there were peasant women and girls mingling with the poilus, indicating civilian life still existed thus near to the bombarded town.

The roads back of Verdun present the most varied scenes of activity. On one side is a vast aeroplane camp, with some twenty enormous hangars of basket steel construction covered with canvas. Across the road is a riding course running for miles, where officers can exercise their mounts and cavalry can push forward in emergency without blocking the highroad. Every now and then one sees a big vehicle shoot by bearing the sign "American Ambulance Corps."

Mules in Good Shape.

The thousands of horses and mules along the road are in good condition. Many of the horses came from America and were run down by sea voyage, but after a month's feeding they proved very serviceable. On seeing the mules one of the officers said:

"The demobilization of the Greek army had one very important result for the allies—it released 10,000 mules which the Greeks had been using, and now these mules are proving invaluable to the allies."

While the fields back of Verdun are rich with yellow grain, yet there is one melancholy evidence of the war in the burning of manure, usually the very life blood of the soil. The grain can be gathered by the soldiers and the women who remain, but there is no time to distribute the manure over the land, and so it is burned.

The last glimpse of Verdun came as the party passed a detachment of French soldiers just out of the trenches and going to the rear for rest. They were tired and heavily laden, but happy and cheerful as they swung along in irregular ranks, laughing and smoking as though they came from some agreeable occupation. They were all fine looking young fellows, and they typified that calm and invincible spirit which the young French soldiers are putting into their service.

Fortune and Fame in Pies.

Cleveland, O.—Pies have brought fortune and honor to Fred C. Elmer, father of the nickel pie—once a prized lunch in itself. "I became so well known as the original pie baker that when I ran for State Senator I was easily elected," he says. "I was the first to see the possibilities of nickel pies and to make them go. From Dec. 10, 1877, when I opened my shop, pies went like wildfire. The kids were my best customers."

Von Arnim Admits British Superiority in Air and Artillery—Short of Everything but Food—Draws Lessons From Battle.

War Correspondents' Headquarters in France.—Germany is short of guns, aeroplanes and war material of all sorts, but not of food, according to a most sensationally interesting document the British have captured, which is called "the experience of the Fourth German Corps in the Battle of the Somme."

The document was written as instructions to the troops. It was drawn from the lessons of the battle by Gen. Count Sixt von Arnim, the corps commander, who has been fighting opposite the British throughout the offensive. This long detailed revelation of the inner thoughts of the German staff discusses the methods and shortcomings of every branch of the German army in view of the unexpected power and organization the British have shown.

The document starts out by paying a tribute to the British infantry, "which undoubtedly has learned much since last autumn's offensive. It shows great dash in attack. The Englishman also has physique and training in his favor. One must acknowledge the skill of the English in rapidly consolidating captured positions and their great tenacity in the defense of them."

British Artillery Very Effective.

Explicit instructions are given in the document to the artillery to change their methods of placing batteries in villages and behind steep slopes, because of the British method of distribution of their artillery fire, which prodigally searches all obvious shelters. Owing to the terrific concentration of the British artillery fire, says the document, front lines of trenches should be thinly held and dependence placed on small groups of machine gunners. Once the British lay a curtain of fire on a trench, it adds, the men had better evacuate it and lay down in the open.

Most interesting to the officers, in view of the fact that the British have so consistently held ground they have taken against counter-attacks, is what Gen. von Arnim says on the subject.

"If the counter-attacks, which on account of the situation ought to be methodically prepared, are hurried, they cost much blood, because the troops lose their trust in the leaders if they fail, which nearly always happens," says Gen. von Arnim.

He then complains that the "existing telephone system has proved totally inadequate in consequence of the development of the fighting," and says the artillery signal system broke down. The commander asserts that he has discovered that British aeroplanes use sound signals to tell gunners where their shells are falling, and says the Fourth corps already has started an experiment on the same kind of method as a complement to the wireless, which is frequently interrupted.

Superiority of British Airmen.

"The numerical superiority of the British airmen and the fact that their machines were better made are disagreeably apparent to us," Gen. von Arnim says, and he speaks of the surprisingly bold procedure of British airmen, who were often "able to fire successfully on our troops with machine guns by descending to within a few hundred feet of the ground." He adds that the German anti-aircraft guns could not continue firing at that height "without exposing their own troops to the serious danger of shell fragments." Before the battle of the Somme airmen kept at anywhere from 6,000 to 12,000 feet over the lines on account of anti-aircraft gunfire.

Gen. von Arnim in the document warns his infantry to use their rifles against the daring British aviators. He says that the ammunition supply and the artillery are inadequate, and that maps were insufficient in quantity and bad as regard details. Also the supply of horses has reached the utmost limit. Of the food supply Gen. von Arnim says: "No special difficulties arose. The supply columns prove sufficient."

Missouri Man Sidesteps the Law in Marriage to Girl in Alabama.

Fulton, Mo.—It became known that the Rev. Z. T. McCann, pastor of the Memorial Methodist church, St. Louis, was married to Miss Carrie McCann of Oxford, Ala., by long distance telephone. The bride is his first cousin. She was at her home in Alabama and he was in St. Louis when the ceremony was performed.

The marriage of first cousins is forbidden in Missouri, but there is no Alabama law against it. Lawyers assured McCann that a telephone marriage would be legal.

AMARILLO BEATS NORMAL
34 TO 0 IN FAST GAME

Normal Boys Put Up Fifty Percent Better Game Than Play Against Wayland College.

The Amarillo High School was too much for the Normal bunch Saturday in the football game played on the Amarillo grounds Saturday afternoon.

The Normal put up a great battle and showed superior talent that was displayed in the Wayland game the Monday previous. In fact had the Normal team put up the same brand of football as they administered in the Amarillo game, they would have easily defeated Wayland.

In the Amarillo game it was only a case of a little inexperienced team meeting a team composed of men who had grown up on the football field. The Normal team played a clean game but were opposed by hardened warriors.

The game started with the Normal kicking west. Amarillo was held for downs on her 50 yard line. By brilliant playing, the ball was advanced to the Amarillo 15 yard line where a drop kick failed.

Amarillo carried the ball across the field to the Normal's 20 yard line where it was lost. The Normal lost the ball on a fumble on the first down and the high school carried it over for a touchdown and kicked goal.

The Normal received on her 25 yard line. A forward pass was intercepted on the first play. Amarillo made 15 yards through the line, when the time for the quarter was called.

The Normal boys fought hard to keep the ball from going over at the beginning of the second quarter but failed, the pig skin being placed about six inches over the line on the fourth down. Goal was kicked, making the score 14 to 0.

The Normal received on her 25 yard line and made first down on a line smash. She was forced to punt. The ball was downed on Amarillo's 35 yard line. Amarillo failed to gain and punted the ball rolling over the Normal's goal line, and was put in play on the 20 yard line. Normal fumbled on the second play, the ball going to Amarillo on the 22 yard line. Amarillo carried it to the 12 yard line, when the half ended.

Amarillo kicked west to the 35 yard line in the opening of the second half. Ballard received a forward pass and went 50 yards. The team put up a great fight and carried the ball to the Amarillo 8 yard line where it was lost. Amarillo carried the ball across the field to the Normal's 18 yard line where they lost on the fourth down. The Normal punted to the Amarillo 32 yard line. It is well to note that the punts made by the Normal were at least twenty yard longer on an average than in the game against Wayland and the ends usually downed the Amarillo receiving man near the point of catching it. It is also well to note that the Normal were more successful in returning kickoffs and received punts that were the rivals.

Amarillo was forced to kick on the first down in the fourth period of the game. The Normal received on her 18 yard line. 15 yards was added by a forward pass. Punted to the 45 yard line. Normal intercepted a forward pass on Amarillo's 38 yard line. Normal penalized 5 yards. Amarillo makes touchdown, Ingerton going 55 yards on a fake play, kicked goal, score 1. Amarillo 21, Normal 0.

The next touchdown came quickly. Normal received on her 30 yard line, made two short forward passes, when Amarillo intercepted the third on the 40 yard line. Made 20 yards through the line and then went over for the fourth touchdown, kicking the goal, making score of 28 to 0.

Normal received on the 10 yard line and returned to the 42 yard line. Made 15 yards on forward pass. Amarillo intercepted forward pass, went to 20 yard line. Normal penalized 15 yards. Ball taken over, goal failed, making score of 34 to 0.

The Normal came back with vengeance. She received on her 38 yard line. By two forward passes she carried the ball to Amarillo's 21 yard line when time was called.

While the followers of the Normal were disappointed in the size of the score, they were not disappointed in the game the boys put up and came home rejoicing even in defeat.

On Monday night, Oct. 30th, the Juniors entertained the Freshman and faculty of the West Texas State Normal College, at a Halloween party at the college.

On reaching the front entrance you were met by two spooks who told you to follow the rope and you would find your way to Hades. After passing down corridors and stairs as dark as a "stack" of "black" cats, you at last reached the portals of a very realistic reproduction of that awful place. Indeed it was so real with "the lake of fire" and devils jumping at you that you could not help from screaming. When you did get out by the means of the rope, you were led along the still dark corridor up the stairs into the light and into the main reception room where each one was given a number to match with a personage perhaps more spooky than himself.

After which you were admitted into the gypsy tent where you were told of your fate. "Bobbing for Apples," "The Ghost March" and the scramble for the front door to see the "King of Hades" were among the amusements. After all had unmasked refreshments of peanuts and pop-corn were served, after which the spooks departed for their various places of a bobo, declaring they had had almost a delightful evening.

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of his place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.

WAYSIDE NEWS.

Rev. Whitley from Amarillo gave us an excellent sermon Sunday morning and preached at Happy Sunday night. He was accompanied by Rev. J. A. Lindley, of Tulsa.

Nice open weather and the farmers are making the best of it. Quite a lot of wheat up and growing nicely and still much more is being put in. Stockmen are expecting wheat pasture to help tide over short feed crops made in our section of the country.

H. H. Gillham's sale was called on Wednesday last by J. W. Creery, D. L. Adams, clerk. A fair crowd in attendance and nearly everything sold reasonably well. Ladies of the piano school committee served dinner and cleared about $15.00.

Often Lost Sight Of.

We call attention to a few of the points that are often overlooked when selecting a school to attend. System of Shorthand: Most of the schools teach the old Pitman system which was published in 1832. The Tyler Commercial College teaches the famous Byrne Simplified, which is a modern system that produces greater speed and accuracy than any other system and in less than half the time. We give the student the choice of writing the Byrne Simplified Shorthand with a pencil or on the typewriter. When written on the typewriter, we call it steno-typewriting. Steno-type writing is the stenographic marvel of the age. It is printed shorthand. Systems of Bookkeeping: Most of the schools teach a theory course; the student reads about what someone else has done, and posts his work accordingly theoretically. The students of our school have to transact every item of business for which they make an entry; they learn to do by doing, they buy and sell goods, write deeds, mortgages, drafts and all kinds of commercial papers, ship goods just as the would in actual life. They not only learn a thorough course in the bookkeeping, but they obtain a practical business training as well; this business training is worth as much to them as the course in bookkeeping, and it costs nothing extra.

POTASH DEVELOPEMENT
NOW AT CLIFFSIDE

After the suspension of the preliminary work at Cliffside last January, the United States Geological Survey, Tuesday began the permanent work of developing the field there. The work is in charge of Dr. D. H. Walker, of Washington, D. C., who has brought his family here and taken a house for the winter. Dr. Walker today declined to say anything further than that the field would be thoroughly tested, but the fact that the government had sent the noted geologist here, following the preliminary work last winter indicates that the field is well thought of.

No sex is spared and no age is exempt from its painful demands.

RESOLUTIONS BY THE NORMAL PRESIDENTS.

The following resolutions were prepared by the presidents of the four Texas Normal Schools at the request of the Board of Regents:

Whereas, the increased attendance upon the Normal Schools of Texas indicate an enlarged demand for professionally trained teachers; and Whereas, the State Normal Schools are expected to give this training of teachers for all the grades of the public free schools from the primary through the high school.

Therefore be it Resolved: That each of the four State Normal Schools of Texas, be and they are hereby authorized and directed to add to their present curriculum two years of work of college rank, laying especial stress upon the preparation to do efficient teaching in the high schools.

It is expressly understood that the four years of college work which the normal schools shall undertake shall be equal to the work done in the best Normal schools in the United States, and shall be the full equivalent of the courses required in such standard normal schools for the Bachelor's Degree.

It is further understood that it is not the purpose of the Board of Regents to duplicate the purely academic and professional work of other colleges and universities of Texas except in the fields of teaching, which is clearly the field of the Normal Schools.

It is understood by the Board of Regents and the Presidents of the Normal Schools that the enlargements of the scope of the work of the normal school would enable said schools to perform more fully their legitimate service to the people by fitting and preparing these schools to train teachers for all the public free schools of the State, rather than for a part of them, as is now the case.

It is further understood by the Board of Regents and the Presidents of the Normal Schools that this advanced work is not to be done at any sacrifice to the more elementary and practical subjects of the present courses of study, and that in the judgment of the Board of Regents this resolution covers the latest and best development of normal school work in the United States, and that further enlargement of the course of study will not be necessary for many years to come.

With this understanding, the Board of Regents approves the budgets submitted by the Presidents of the Normal Schools, which makes this progress possible.

Prepare by the Presidents of the Normal Schools of Texas at the request of the Board of Regents.
