

CLEAN UP DAY IN CANYON NEXT WEDNESDAY

ALL BUSINESS HOUSES WILL CLOSE FOR DAY AND GENERAL CLEAN UP OF THE TOWN WILL BE MADE

Wednesday, March 10, will be clean up day in Canyon.

Every citizen is expected to put on his working clothes and get into the job for a big day's work.

All weeds are to be raked up and burned. All Tin cans gathered and put in sacks or boxes.

All rubbish that will burn must be piled up and burned, and all other refuse put in boxes and sacks and hauled away.

Some parts of Canyon are in a very bad condition on account of so much rubbish scattered over vacant property. Many of the alleys in the business section are in very bad condition.

Mayor J. D. Gamble calls attention to the fact that it is not the city's business to pick up scattered tin cans. Put them in boxes or sacks and the city will haul them away.

The city will need twenty wagons that day to haul away the trash. If you have a wagon bring it out and help clean up the city.

The councilmen in each ward are responsible for the clean up of their wards. They are to organize their forces before next Saturday. The following are the members of the city council: Ward 1. C. T. Thompson, J. W. Reid; Ward 2. C. D. Lester, C. N. Harrison; Ward 3. Grady Holland, Jim Rerfean.

The mayor will fine any person who closes his business and then runs away from town for the day to get out of work.

4 INDICTMENTS BY GRAND JURY

Few Civil Cases Have been Tried in District Court—Special Verdicts for Next Monday.

The grand jury returned four bills Saturday and asked for a recess until March 15th. There were three bills for felonies and one for misdemeanor.

Roy Davis was indicted upon two counts—one for theft of wheat and one for forgery. This case attracted attention last fall in the city when Mr. Davis was arrested and in the examining trial bound over to wait the action of the grand jury. The court placed his bond at $750 in one case and $1000 in the other. As yet he has been unable to furnish the bond and is still in jail.

No arrests have been made on the other two indictments.

The petit jury for this week appeared Monday, but was dismissed until Friday of this week.

The case Joe Foster vs. J. P. Hix was tried Friday before a jury, the verdict being $100 for the plaintiff.

Rogers For Sheriff.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Randall county subject to the primary election in July. I earnestly solicit the support and influence of the voters of Randall county, and promise, if elected to fulfill the duties of the office to the very best of my ability.

I have been Constable and Tax Collector for the city and Ind. School some three years, and have some experience in collecting taxes, and looking after the law breakers.

J. E. ROGERS.

Vetesk Building House.

J. M. Vetesk has let the contract to Coffee Bros. for a new house just across the street from the J. B. Gamble home. The house will have five rooms and bath, and will be of the modern bungalow style.

Mr. Vetesk has great faith in the future of Canyon and is building the house for rent purposes.

RANDALL COUNTY JOINS PANHANDLE CHAMBER COMMERCE

At a meeting of a number of citizens at the News office Tuesday night sixteen men voted unanimously to pledge themselves to the support of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, and Frank R. Jamison, Secretary-Treasurer, has been notified that Randall County is in. The county has been receiving the benefits of the organization, but has given it no support. The cost is only $750 per year, and this year the benefits along in getting cars for the wheat will amount to many thousands of dollars.

The committee in charge of the matter as appointed from the Randall County Commercial League is composed of J. A. Hill, T. C. Thompson, B. F. Fronabarger, J. D. Gamble and C. R. Burrow.

Normal Closed Tuesday.

On account of having no heat in the Normal building there was no school today. In the construction of the new boiler house it was necessary to shut down the boilers to make certain changes, this work starting Monday. The norther of yesterday made the building too cold for comfort, and the school was dismissed. It is thought that the connection will be completed tomorrow.

The work on the new $30,000 boiler house is progressing rapidly.

Alfalfa Makes 60 Bushels

Jno. Knight finished threshing his alfalfa this week, making 60 bushels to the acre. Alfalfa stood in the shock for five months before threshing it. This is an exceptionally fine crop and shows what can be done in the Panhandle.

University Students Meet.

Dr. R. E. Vinson, president of the state University of Texas, will address the Panhandle Teachers Association during their meeting in the city, and on the night of March 19th the Ex-Students Association of the University will hold their annual meeting. The members of the Association are planning upon a very pleasant evening with their former "prexy."

DINNER MONDAY WAS A SUCCESS

Seventy Men Attend Randall County Commercial League Dinner—Officers Are Elected.

The dinner given Monday night at Palace Hotel for the Randall County Commercial League and served by Manager M. A. Henson of the Ideal Cafe was very successful in every way.

Owing to illness Wallace R. Clark was unable to serve as toastmaster, and D. A. Shirley served instead. Mr. Shirley is an old hand at the business and performed his part as well as if he had been given time to prepare rather than being called upon late Monday.

T. C. Thompson and J. W. McCree were also unable to be present to fill their places on the toast program.

J. L. Duflet spoke on Civic Attractiveness, and contended that there was enough property tax in every town to do all of its necessary improvements if this was utilized. He urged full renditions of property and urged needed improvements in Canyon. The big cities have improved as the improvements were needed no matter the conditions.

J. D. Gamble followed Mr. Duflet by stating the difficulties the city was in on account of lack of funds and outlined how the city council was going to get the tax dodgers in the city of Canyon.

Rev. Simeon Shaw spoke on the subject, how to make a better town. He urged that improvements be made now. Better churches were needed, and when things started to get cheaper there would not be as much money available as there is now.

C. L. Sone spoke on the need of better schools in Canyon. This he outlined with the need for more funds for the schools in order to make the public schools the kind there should be in Canyon which is the educational center of the Panhandle.

J. W. Reid spoke on the Panhandle Chamber of Commerce. He showed what a great work this body was doing for the country and what its possibilities were, how little was asked from Randall County, and pointed out that the county had given the organization nothing in return for the service rendered.

Frank R. Jameson, Secretary-Manager of the Panhandle Chamber of Commerce, was introduced and in a characteristic speech told of the wonderful opportunities of the Texas Panhandle. He pointed out there had been sold from this section alone this year grain amounting to more than the entire output of the oil wells of Texas. In addition there was the enormous income from the livestock industry.

C. W. Warwick discussed advertising a town, and pointed out the needs of putting before the world the resources of Randall county in the way of cheap land, the fine stock business and the educational opportunities. He urged a closer and stronger organization of the Randall County Commercial League to accomplish this.

C. F. Walker further explained the pig club movement and what he has in view for the boys who would enter the stock judging course which he has secured for the boys of the county.

Dr. R. Thomsen of Amarillo was called upon and expressed his gratefulness for an opportunity of coming to the city.

President J. A. Hill was called upon and spoke very earnestly regarding his dreams and ambitions for the West Texas State Normal College. The institution has just begun to grow and improve under the plans Mr. Hill has in mind. He urged a clean town, more civic improvements, better churches and public schools and told of the scores of pupils that had to be turned away from the higher grades of the training school who wanted to come here from surrounding towns, but there was no room. Mr. Hill presented for the nomination committee the names of the following officers, who were elected for the coming year:

President—C. W. Warwick. Vice-President—E. H. Powell. Sec'y-Treas.—C. L. Thompson. Directors—F. H. Ives, C. H. Jarrett and three officers.

B. Frank Buie closed the program with a terse statement regarding the duty of public officials in enforcing the laws of taxation.

Come to Canyon to Live.

LOCATION FOR NEW DORMITORY

Girls' Dormitory of Episcopal Church to be Located South of M. B. Johnson Home.

The committee in charge of the locating the new dormitory to be built in Canyon by the Episcopal church has closed a deal for the four lots south of the M. B. Johnson home. The lots are ideal in location in regard to the distance from the Normal and the business section, and have access to the sewer and the water lines.

The Episcopal Church has made an appropriation of $36,000 for the erection of the dormitory in Canyon. Bishop Temple is most vitally interested in the proposition, and if the dormitory is as successful as he is confident of, he will recommend to his church that a larger amount of money be put in the plant.

The first $12,000 is now available, and work will be started on the first section of the building just as soon as plans can be completed.

At a meeting of the Randall County Commercial League recently, the proposition of Canyon making a present of the lots to the church was highly endorsed, and a committee appointed to assist Archdeacon Wm Garner and Bishop Temple in the selection of a site. The lots selected cost $1000, which is a very cheap sum of money considering their location, and plans will now be made to raise the money. It will save a great deal of time if the boosters of the town will get their checks ready so the committee will not have to spend a great deal of time in soliciting the funds.

U. S. GRAIN GRADING SCHOOL WELL ATTENDED

Over one hundred farmers attended the grain grading demonstration conducted in Canyon last Saturday. Mr. H. C. Adams, of the Federal Grain Supervision office, Fort Worth, Texas, had charge of the work. The demonstration was complete, including methods of sampling, test weight, dockage and moisture tests with the government approved apparatus. More than twenty samples of grain were brought in by farmers here and the grade determined. The equipment included a number of specimen samples of grain, dockage, etc., and special charts describing the standard grade requirements for marketing.

Probably the greatest error made by the local buyers in grading grain is in the method of making the test weight. Mr. Adams demonstrated that different methods of filling the test kettle would cause a difference of three pounds per bushel in the test weight. The government method of filling from a funnel having a one and fourth inch opening held two inches above the kettle gives uniform results. The percentage of oats or other dockage in wheat can be accurately determined with the use of dockage sieves.

Mr. Adams states that the greatest need in the practical improvement of local grain grading is that the buyers should use the simple equipment and methods of testing used by the government offices, and that the farmer should understand these methods and know when they are being properly used. Grain that is mixed or dirty should be cleaned by using a fan mill and grader before sowing and again before marketing.

This demonstration will be worth a great deal to the farmers who attended, and to the grain business here, if they will follow the suggestions given.

Next: Tractor operator's school in May.

Myers-Womble Wedding.

Last night at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. I. C. Jenkins, Mrs. Ola Myers and Troy Womble of Hereford were united in marriage, Rev. Simeon Shaw officiating.

Only a few close friends of the bridal couple were present.

Mrs. Womble has lived in Canyon for a number of years and has a large circle of friends who extend most hearty congratulations. Mr. Womble is a prosperous stock-farmer in Deaf Smith county, and very well known as a breeder of registered Herefords.

The bridal couple left last night on the train for Hereford where they make their future home.

MONTHLY TRADES DAY HELD IN CITY MONDAY

MARCH TRADES DAY WILL BE BIG DAY IN CANYON—NORMAL BAND WILL PLAY IN AFTERNOON

Next Monday will be the regular monthly Trades Day in Canyon. The business houses of the city are preparing to give the people of Randall County some real bargains for the day.

The Randall County Commercial League is issuing a special invitation to the farmers of Randall county to come to the city on next Monday.

The auction sale in the afternoon promises to be large, and there are always many bargains to be had in the auction sale.

The Normal Band under the direction of Wallace R. Clark will play on the court house lawn at one o'clock in the afternoon.

Prof. Fred H. Ives will have a plow demonstration at the Normal during the afternoon.

The people who come to Canyon regularly on Trades Day always are highly repaid by the bargains they procure, and next Monday will be a special good time to make Canyon a visit.

SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION OF PLOW AND TRACTOR MONDAY

Land for wheat sowing must be broken quickly. Good preparation of soil means a bigger crop. Have you ever seen a plow that will turn a clean, smooth furrow, forty-eight inches wide, full depth for wheat, with a six horse team or a ten horse tractor for power?

The Right Lap Plow will do this. See the fine work possible with this machine demonstration at the Normal College farm on Trades Day, Monday, March 8th, all afternoon.

FRED H. IVES, Director of Agriculture.

Some Unsanitary Places.

Complaint has been made to the city officials regarding certain places in town being unsanitary. Some of the places are public institutions and in a few instances the complaints are made against private homes.

Mayor J. D. Gamble and City Health Officer Dr. F. M. Wilson are making an inspection of the city and such places are going to be closed as a public nuisance. The powers of a health official are final in all such cases, and if the people don't want to keep their premises clean, then they will be closed. Better have a few vacated houses in Canyon than typhoid from the results of a few individuals who are filthy in their habits and methods of living.

Clean up your tin cans so they may be hauled away. Burn all paper and trash. Make Canyon a healthy and clean town.

Clean Up Day at Normal.

Tuesday was Texas Independence Day and being a holiday the Normal faculty turned it into a clean up day for the campus.

The faculty and students gather on the campus early in the morning and all day long worked hard raking the campus, trimming the trees and a coat of white wash was added to each tree on the campus. The results of the day's work is gratifying indeed, and the Normal people are to be complimented upon the appearance of the grounds surrounding the school building.

Two Kinds of Weather.

Such a beautiful spring day on Tuesday. It was ideal.

But such a difference in the morning! The wind began with a gale from the west, and before noon was hitting it up from the north with a cold blast.

NORMAL BAND WILL PLAY MONDAY AFTERNOON AT 1

Wallace R. Clark, leader of the Normal Band, has kindly agreed to have his band on the court house lawn at one o'clock Monday afternoon for a concert if the weather is suitable.

The Normal Band is doing fine work this year and all our citizens should hear them play Monday afternoon.

JUDGING COURSE IS OF INTEREST

Randall County Boys Enter Into the Plans—Big Trips Will be Given Free to Winners.

County Agent C. W. Walker's announcement last week of the stock judging course which he has procured for the boys of Randall county, is causing considerable interest among the boys of the county. Mr. Walker stated yesterday that if he could get the proper cooperation among the parents of the boys, he would have a large number taking the course, and most excellent results would be gained.

Two great treats are assured some one or more of the boys who take the course, and a third is possible from every way of reasoning.

First: Three or more boys will be selected by Mr. Walker to take a trip with him to College Station in the summer where they will enjoy a great week. Second, the boy from Randall county who makes the best record at College Station will get to take a trip covering ten or fifteen states in order to visit the biggest and best stock farms in America. This boy will represent Randall county, and will carry advertising from Randall county. Third, the boys who go to College Station and make the best grade in competition with boys from every section of Texas will get to go to the International at Chicago in December. This would be a very great honor, not only for the boys, but also for Randall County.

Those boys who enter the stock judging course and do not get to make any of these trips will not have wasted their time, but will be better able to produce fine stock when they are grown up and go into the stock farming business for themselves. Every boy who has not given his application to Mr. Walker for the stock judging course should do so at once.

Regents Here March 15th

The members of the Board of Regents for Normal Schools of Texas will be in Canyon Monday, March 15th for the annual visit to the West Texas State Normal College.

At this meeting the present and future needs of the school will be discussed, in order that the Board may make recommendations to the legislature when it meets in January.

Announces for Legislature.

In this issue of the News is found the political announcement of Burke Mathes of Plainview as a candidate for the legislature from this the 123 district. Burke is a graduate of the West Texas State Normal College and is remembered by many friends in the city. He is heartily endorsed by a large number of the leading business and professional men for Plainview, whose approval is found in this issue of the News.

Panhandle Hereford Sale.

Handicapped as they were by lack of space to accommodate the crowds, the Panhandle Hereford Breeders nevertheless pulled off a record sale. It also seems to be their luck to incur the displeasure of the weatherman so that disagreeable weather is always a feature of their annual auction sales and this year was no exception. Though it did not actually rain or snow, it was cold and cloudy and generally unpleasant.

The 57 head offered for sale brought a total of $26,850, an average of $471 per head. Of these animals, the 25 cows brought $8,555, or an average of $342.20, while the 32 bulls brought $18,295, averaging $571.71.

The bull Pathfinder, 513766, bred by B. J. Connor, brought the top price of $2,550 and was bought by Chas. Carpenter, of McLean. Connor also the top cow, Lady Picture, 623314, the purchaser being E. L. Dana, of Parkman, Wyo., and the price, $1,250.

The sale attracted cattlemen from many quarters, the most of them coming from Kansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Bidding was brisk and the excellence of the offering was commented upon by all the visitors.

At the annual meeting of the Association held the evening after the sale, the subject of providing suitable quarters for future events was discussed and the members agreed that the success of the organization thus far warrants the prediction that it will, in the not distant future, take its place in the front ranks in point of numbers and importance and the annual sales will become events of interest to an ever widening territory. In consequence of their faith in the continued growth of their sales, the membership, which now totals nearly one hundred, agreed to each donate a yearling to be sold at the next auction sale and the proceeds given to create a fund with which to build a permanent sale pavilion for the use of the Association.

This is a timely and progressive move. Each year the Association is put to considerable expense to secure a place in which to hold the sales and build the pens for the stock. Nearly always the quarters secured have been too small for the comfortable seating of those attending and this movement will be heartily commended not only by the stockmen but many others who enjoy seeing fine stock.

The following were the sales made at auction by the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association on Wednesday: Name of owner is in parenthesis:

Found Wandering in the Woods.
Miss Margaret Haynie, daughter of Judge Haynie of Canadian, Texas and adopted daughter of Thomas F. Moody, of Wichita Falls, has been located following her mysterious disappearance from a train which she had boarded at Amarillo last Friday night for Wichita Falls. She had been in Amarillo with the Moody Oil & Refining Company and was a guest at the Amarillo Hotel during the Buyers and Sellers of Livestock Association Convention.
Miss Haynie was found wandering in the woods near the banks of Wichita river in Wilbarger county by Sheriff W. A. Ish. Relatives said that she had suffered a nervous breakdown due to overwork during the past few months. Regarding her disappearance the Ft. Worth Record contained the following story yesterday:

"Wandering deliriously for hours through fields and forests, her mind blank and suffering beneath her thin garments from biting winds, Miss Margaret Haynie, who mysteriously disappeared from a Fort Worth & Denver train between Amarillo and Wichita Falls Saturday morning, was found late Sunday near the banks of the Wichita river in Wilbarger county.

"The young woman was discovered by Sheriff W. A. Ish, of Wilbarger county, and was apparently in a dead condition, according to telegraphic advices received by The Record Monday.

"She was taken to her home and after twenty-four hours' sleep was reported Monday partly recovered from the nervous collapse caused from overwork and which was said by her relatives to be responsible for her leaving the train before it reached Wichita Falls.

"With the disappearance of the young woman Saturday, police and sheriffs all through this section of the State were put on the lookout for her. Fort Worth detectives and police kept watch on the railroad stations as well as outlying parts of the city as the train had reached here before her absence was discovered.

"Miss Haynie is the adopted daughter of Thomas F. Moody, banker and oil man of Wichita Falls, whose offices are in the Heane Hotel, in that city.

"Mr. and Mrs. Moody had been visiting in Amarillo accompanied by Miss Haynie and her twin sister. The party boarded the train at Amarillo for Wichita Falls Friday night and retired to their berths. The last to be seen of Miss Haynie before she was found was when Mrs. Moody bade her good night as the train was passing through Childress.

"Miss Haynie did not appear when the others of the party awakened Saturday morning in Wichita Falls and her berth was found empty.

"Immediately word was sent to police all over this section. A $500 reward was offered by relatives for information leading to discovery of the young woman."

Man Shot At Hale Center.

Joe Patterson, age 26, received a wound that will likely prove fatal yesterday morning at eight o'clock when he dropped a gun against the edge of a trunk. It seems that the hammer of the gun was jarred off safety and discharged one of the two shells contained in it. The bullet entered at the right of the left shoulder blade and came out on the left side of his chest. This would indicate that the bullet did not miss his heart more than a fraction of an inch and the physicians are inclined to believe that it barely touched his heart. Although he rested fairly well last night and is reported to be doing well this afternoon, little hope is given for his recovery.—Plainview Herald.

Dragged Roads Are Good.

Col R. P. Smyth was over in Floyd county several days ago, in fact made a trip through the county. He says Floyd county roads are in good shape, all because the people have used drags on their roads following rains.

It seems that the county pays farmers living along each main road to drag certain distances of the road after each rain, and that the farmers are doing their full duty, too. Col. Smyth declares that the road over which he traveled is for miles as smooth and hard as the paved streets in Plainview, and that it is a delight to joy ride over same.—Plainview News.

Cow Saved Family From Fire.

History records the fact that the honking of geese once saved Rome, and now a cow from Egg Harbor, N. J., makes a bid for fame. When fire was destroying the house of William Foster, on the night of Feb. 2, and the flames were about to reach the room in which the family was sleeping, the bellowing of the family cow awakened Mrs. Foster and the household was saved.—American Hereford Journal.

Shipped 15,000 Pounds of Poultry.

C. R. Wilkinson, manager of the Lockney Produce Company, informs the Beacon that he shipped out last Saturday 15,000 pounds of poultry. This poultry went forward in one car and was consigned to parties in New York.—Lockney Beacon.

Pat Neff Is Caustic.

Pat Neff in his Hillsboro speech said: "From the day that this government declared war in behalf of human liberty up to this hour, Bailey's voice has never been heard to utter but one kind word in behalf of his government, his party or his president and that was when Wilson vetoed the wartime prohibition law. According to Bailey's opinion, that is the only meritorious thing this world-wide citizen has done for humanity since he became the spokesman of the American republic.

"With his self-admitted ability as a great statesman, Bailey has never been able to connect his name with any worthy constructive legislative problems. He never championed a big meritorious cause that was successful. He and his kind fought the federal savings banks. We have them He and the express companies opposed the parcel post law. It was passed. He and his Republican manufacturing clients contended against the passage of the child labor law. Congress passed it. He and the Wall street money lenders ranted against the federal reserve banks. These great institutions are now blessing the people. He and the transcontinental railroad opposed the Panama canal. The oceans were soon shaking hands, however, across the isthmus. Bailey opposed the pure food bill. The enacted law now adds to the health of the world. Bailey fought the nomination of Woodrow Wilson. It made Wilson popular in Texas and he became the choice of the nation.

"Bailey and the breweries opposed the submission of the prohibition amendment. The amendment was submitted and adopted. He fought the nomination of Morris Sheppard. Sheppard won. He grew indignant at the submission of the suffrage amendment. It is being ratified as fast as state legislatures can meet. He and the liquor interests fought war-time prohibition. It became the law of the land.

"He said it was unconstitutional. The supreme court, however, as usual, did not agree with him. He fought Jim Hogg and his constitutional amendments. Both were triumphant. Bailey dares not suggest the repeal of these amendments, though he says he never changes.

"I recall that ex-Senator Bailey championed one cause, the notorious Lorimer, who bought his seat in the United States Senate. Lorimer was expelled and Bailey afterwards resigned.

Uncle Sam, Spendthrift
Washington is in as ridiculous a position as ever a government got into. It is preaching thrift, conservation and economy to the people. It is urging them like an auctioneer to buy War Saving Stamps. But all the time it continues to live far beyond its means itself and to throw millions and billions out of the window. It doesn't even stop to say do as I say and not as I do.

In 1891 a billion dollar income was ample for Uncle Sam. Now his bare living expenses are about 10 times that much. From 1866 to 1893 he always had a comfortable surplus, much of it coming from indirect taxation. But it is much easier to spend money than to save or keep it, especially if it comes to you by the wagon load. Gradually Uncle Sam got the Americanitis disease, nervous prosperity. His river and harbor bills, his public building bills, a multitude of army posts and other forms of pork, grew and grew and ate deeper and deeper into his income. Spent more than 900 million dollars on creeks and rivers alone and has little to show for it.

This great annual wasting of money has been and is amazingly helped along by the branching out and extension of government departments in all directions and by the mushroom growth of government boards and commissions. It soon became necessary to pile on more and more direct, or corporation taxes. These direct taxes were an expense to the corporations so they regularly added this expense to their other expenses, as they now have their excess profits tax to the price of their products, and let the people pay the total.

There are figures here in Washington to show the growth of these corporation taxes. In 1910, when the H. C. L. first began to make its presence known, they amounted to nearly 21 million dollars a year. By 1913—three years later—they had risen to 35 millions. Now, with income and profit taxes included, they are over 2 1/2 billion dollars a year.

ing public in high priced goods.

The big cause of the big boost in the high cost of living is the big boost in the high cost of government. This huge load of taxes will fall heaviest upon the poor, less heavy on the well-to-do, lightest on the rich, the best able to bear it, despite an income tax which is graduated steeply upward.

It means that the men and women who constitute the great common people must pay the cost of our wasteful and extravagant system of government. It is true that buying War Savings Stamps will help them save what groceries, rent, fuel and other necessities do not take from them, but War Savings Stamps by the hay wagon load won't lessen Uncle Sam's demands upon them by as much as 1 cent. He is asking us to save that he may spend more. The only thing that will reduce his demands will be a drastic application of his own advice to save and economize.

I am for cutting off every item of expense—down to and including the franking privilege—that is not absolutely and vitally essential to the maintenance of government or the welfare of the people. That means reducing expenses fully one-third. The greatest reduction that can be made in the cost of living—can and should be made right here in Washington.

To do this we must have a better budget system than has yet been devised, or appropriation committees with the backbone of an elephant, the obstinacy of a mule and the industry of a beaver, to cut down estimates. I shall do all I can to bring one or both of these aids to the rescue and to give it or them my utmost support.

—Arthur Capper, Washington, D. C.

Some Just Demands.

There is an editor in West Texas who is hunting trouble. He demands a division of the state. West Texas demands an agricultural and mechanical college. West Texas demands a fair senatorial apportionment. West Texas demands a fair legislative apportionment and in the near future West Texas will demand a fair congressional apportionment. It goes without saying that all these demands are just. West Texas has the voters. West Texas has the leaders. There is an open road to travel. The leaders know the way.—Ft. Worth Record.

There are not one but several editors in West Texas demanding state division—as well as a number of people who are not editors.

PROBATE NOTICE.

The State of Texas. To the Sheriff or any Constable of Randall county Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to cause the following notice to be published in a newspaper of a general circulation which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year, next preceding this notice, in the county of Randall and State of Texas, and you shall cause said notice to be printed at least once each week for the period of ten days exclusive of the first day of publication, before the return day hereof:

Notice of Application For Probate of Will and Letter as Executor.

To all persons interested in the estate of Charlotte Sophia Park, you will take notice that Moses Smith Park, has filed in the County Court of Randall County Texas, an application to probate the last will and Testament of Charlotte Sophia Park, deceased, and for letters Testamentary, which said Application will be heard at the next term of said court, commencing on the First Monday in April, A. D. 1920. The same being the 5th day of April A. D. 1920, at the court house thereof in Canyon, Texas, at which time all persons interested in the said estate will appear and contest said application, should they desire to do so.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Canyon, Texas, this 28th day of February, A. D. 1920.

Labor in Politics.

Organized labor, with Samuel Gompers as leader, has boldly begun a national campaign to elect a congress that will carry out its far-reaching and radical program. Organized labor proposes to work in both parties, and to vote against any candidate for congress who does not bind himself to become a serf of Sam Gompers. Organized labor constitutes only five per cent of the people of the country, so it is said. Then why should the other 95 per cent be robbed for the benefit of only five per cent? The farmers constitute the greater per cent of the population of the country; the interests of organized labor are exactly in opposition to those of farmers. Why should not the farmers and the professional class vote against the candidates of organized labor? Ultra organized labor is dictatorial, unfair and un-American. It should be shown that it must respect the rights of other people.—Plainview News.

A Big Event in Hog Circles.

The greatest event in the way of a registered hog sale in the county was the one held at the Jack Jones farm twelve miles southeast of Wellington last Monday. An offering of about forty-four sows and gilts, and two boars was made, and the prices they brought astounded the natives who were there from all over the Northwest part of the State and they had the money to spend when it came to buying the Big Type Poland Chinas.

The largest bid made was $2,500 for a sow, unbred. Clark & McFarland of Hedley were the lucky bidders in this instance. The sales totaled more than $14,000, and the animals were sold at an average of better than $305 each.—Wellington Leader.

The Fordson

By Theodore A. Peck, one of the five engineers who built the first internal combustion engine. He spent 25 years with the Mobile Oil people, and the past three with the Pierce Oil Corporation.

The Motor is in many respects a "big brother" to the Ford, and right there the similarity ends, so far as the lubrication engineer is concerned. Just as a draft horse requires more food and more substantial food than a phaeton pony, so does the plodding over-worked, never-resting Fordson Tractor need better care and "richer rations" than the light-weight over-powered Ford passenger car which at best seldom is called upon to exert over a fraction of the draw-bar effort of the tractor. In general, the same elements of design obtain in both Motors. The cylinders are cast in one block, the valve arrangement is "L-Head," the valves are not adjustable, the cooling water circulates by thermosiphon, ignition is by means of the same series of low tension magnets mounted on the fly-wheel and the method of circulating the lubricating oil also utilizes the fly-wheel as the pump.

The Carburetor is so designed as to operate with washed air on either gasoline or kerosene. The former being for starting purposes only. See Instruction Manual for details on handling the entire Fuel Supply System. The Lubricating System while embodying the basic principles of the Ford, is considerably improved, and provides by a generous margin for the additional wear and tear (and the hazards) entailed. In spite of the abuse which every Fordson suffers, it will stand up indefinitely, and pull the maximum draw-bar horsepower, if the operator will only give it clean oil—high grade oil—right grade oil every day and use horse-sense. Enough of lubricating Oil (Pennant Auto Heavy is the correct grade and about three gallons is the correct amount) should be carried to keep the level between the two oil pet cocks. Do not test the level with the motor running.

Principle of Operation. The crank case encloses the fly-wheel and the oil is carried—in part—in this depression. The fly-wheel picks the oil up and whirled it into a funnel which carries the oil by means of a tubing along the inside of the crank case. From this tubing the oil is distributed to the timing gears and to the second storey of the crank case—which is a steel shelf having a trough under each connecting rod. The excess oil overflows from these troughs and falls back to the bottom of the crank case, so that the connecting rods should have a constant level of oil to dip into all the time.

Crank-Shaft Bearings. Catch basins are located over each bearing. The oil spray settles in these basins and passes through channels which deposit it on the crank-shaft bearings, the excess overflows to the splash pans again.

Crank Pin Bearings. The connecting rod caps have holes drilled in them which permit the oil to reach these bearings as they dip into the splash troughs.

Piston Pin Bearings. The connecting rod is locked to the pin and the bearings are on each side of the piston body. The spray of oil falls back from the piston head and passes through channels in the bearing bosses, the excess oil falling back to the oil splash lever for recirculation.

Cylinder Walls and Pistons are lubricated from the spray generated by the connecting rod dippers. The use of Pennant Auto Heavy will combat the tendency of the unburned kerosene to "wash" off the oil film and by preserving the protecting coat of oil, will prolong the life of the cylinder indefinitely—IF—the lubricating oil is changed with every twenty acres plowed, and the crank case thoroughly cleaned by rinsing out with kerosene.

Caution: Always be sure to remove all kerosene before pouring in the fresh oil. The preservation of the quality of the oil will hold the motor up to its rated pulling power so the importance of taking every precaution to maintain a perfect piston "seal" cannot be over-estimated.

Cam-Shaft, Push Rods and Valve Stems are lubricated also by the spray which the revolving rods create.

The Transmission and Rear Axle are carried in one housing and should be lubricated with Pennant Transmission Oil "SS." Fill the compartment entirely full and be sure to keep it in this condition. Drain off every two hundred acres plowed—or the equivalent in work—and be sure to keep the filler cap securely screwed in. Never use any form of grease. Worm drives always require a rich non-fluid oil.

General Instructions. Grease cups on the Fordson have been cut down to the absolute minimum. Do not neglect them. Keep them well filled and keep clean—clear down to the bearing. Almost everyone remembers to turn down the front hub cups and spindles and axle bearing and the steering joints—but too many overlook the front axle trunnion and the fan. Remember your tractor does not speed along like an auto, the fan need all the help you can give it to keep the motor from boiling so keep the grease cup working!

And Remember Always Farm machinery—just like any other—has no choice in the matter; it must grind away in the dirt and mud, if you will not keep it clean. It wears out the lubricant you give it, or it wears out—itsself!

CITIZENS RECOMMEND BURKE MATHES

Plainview, Texas, Feb. 10, 1920.
We take pleasure in expressing our gratification, and approval of the announcement of Mr. Burke Mathes, son of Judge W. C. Mathes, deceased, for representative of this, the 123rd Representative District.

Burke is a young man of sterling worth and fitness for this position. He is a graduate of the West Texas State Normal at Canyon, Texas, and is now finishing his course in the law department of the State University.

When our country entered the World War, although too young to be drafted, he volunteered and served his country well and faithfully for two and a half years. He was soon made an instructor in the aerial work of the navy.

While away serving his country, his father, one of God's noblemen, was taken seriously ill, after having made one of his noted patriotic addresses and only lived a short time.

We know that when the destinies of our country are placed in the hands of a young man of such sterling worth, strong character and qualifications, as Burke Mathes possesses, we need have no fear. The ship of state will be directed right and the country kept safe for Democracy.

We appeal to the citizenship of the 123rd district to rally to the support of this deserving young soldier. He may not be able to see you personally, on account of the necessity of his remaining in his work in Austin, to make up the lost time while absent in the army.

We commend him to you for your consideration, and assure you you will never have reason to regret having cast your ballot for him.

HOW MANY PRESIDENTS THE WAR PRODUCE?

Fourteen of the twenty-seven presidents of the United States have been soldiers.

According to the House Sector, a war record in not a necessity, but it helps a lot in drawing attention to men of presidential timber who have been in the service fighting for the United States.

The ex-soldiers weekly says: "It's a damned poor war if it can't produce at least one president, declared that matchless manipulator of presidential pulleys, Thurlow Weed, when, toward the close of the Mexican campaign fastened his eyes on Zachary Taylor as the Whig candidate for the highest office in the land.

"Weed was right. Every American war has produced a president-most of them several. Newspapers have been pointing out that fact for many months. The public has accepted it as almost inevitable. But both press and public have overlooked one important detail.

"That detail is: While more than half of America's presidents—four out of twenty-seven—have been soldiers, in only three instances was a soldier president chosen immediately after the war in which he earned his fame contributing to his elevation to the White House. The three instances are Washington, Taylor and Grant.

"After every war both great parties, whatever their particular appellations at the time, have looked either definitely toward or away from the possible soldier candidate. Whatever happened, they have taken special cognizance of his existence. And the impending campaign of 1920 is no exception.

Texas Has No Special Status.

There is no sentiment of consequence in any part of Texas for a division of the State, but somehow or other the question is getting into the newspapers again, and along with it is the old myth that Texas enjoys some special status, as compared with other states, in the matter of dividing into new states. Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent recently quoted Champ Clark and Uncle Joe Cannon as saying that Texas could deluge Washington with Senators any time its people decided to do so. This of course, is based upon the provisions of the agreement upon which Texas was admitted to the Union, which provided that new states might be formed from Texas and prescribed which should be "slave" and which should be "free" in the event such new states were formed. But in reality Texas enjoys no special status, for that agreement provides that the new states shall be admitted into the Union under the provisions of the Constitution, and the Constitution provides that the consent of Congress must as to other states:

Here is the provision of the Constitution relative to the admission of new states, and it applies to Texas as must as to other states:

"New states may be admitted by Congress into this Union; but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state; nor any state be formed by the junction of two states, or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned as well as of the Congress."

Under the terms of the agreement which is often quoted, this provision of the Constitution applies to Texas. If the Texas Legislature were to decide to divide Texas into two or more states, the new states thus created would have to ask for admission into the Union as separate jurisdictions in the regular way. Their Senators would not be seated until this had been done, nor would they be legally recognized as states under the Constitution until then.

The real reason for the agreement was the slavery question, for it provides that any state formed from that part of Texas north of the Missouri compromise line should be "free". This no longer has any significance, of course, and it is very doubtful that it would have had anything more than moral significance had new states been created prior to the Civil War. It would have been a matter of votes in Congress as to whether or not a new "free" or "slave" state would be admitted.

In any event the idea that Congress would have no choice but to admit new states carved out of Texas is erroneous. The Constitution applies to Texas in all its provisions quite as much as it does to other states.—Star Telegram.

Beware Fake Stock.

With Liberty Bonds selling from $6 to $8 below par, the game of the fake stock salesman is easier played. This very gentlemanly appearing fellow offers to take these bonds in exchange for his stock at par, and as he makes strong assertions for the earning power of his stock, his proposition looks good to the unsuspecting. But why does he wish to make the exchange? Why does he offer something he says is better for something he declares not to be as good? The real truth comes out when it is found, in a few months, that the highly engraved stock is worth only the cost of its printing—at least, that is all it cost the "company" selling it; while the Liberty Bonds still have the good old U. S. A., behind them, and in a few years will be worth well above par, and be paid at the rate of dollar for dollar, in any event, when due. One of the duties of the farm dog should be to "heel" off the farm every stock salesman who comes on it.

SCHOOL BOOKS MUST BE FUMIGATED BEFORE REISSUE

Austin, Texas, Feb. 26.—"Local boards of trustees shall make provision for the fumigation of books before the reissue of the books. Covers of all the books shall be removed before reissue and the pupil to whom the book is issued shall replace cover, under the direction of the teacher," says the Texas State free textbook law.

To determine the most effective method of fumigation, a series of tests was ordered by Dr. C. W. Goddard, State Health Officer, at the request of Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent of Education. And these tests were begun today in the Health Department, Dr. Goddard assigning Dr. G. M. Graham, bacteriologist, and L. O. Bernhagen, assistant sanitary engineer, to the task.

There will be from six to ten tests made, different concentrations of gas being employed to kill tubercular, diphtheria and other pathogenic germs, placed between the pages of school books, and records of the experiment will automatically show which is the desired 100 per cent efficient.

The result of the information thus obtained will be sent to the school boards of the State by the Department of Education as a guide to carry

After The Dollar.

Altho the dollar is said to be worth but fifty cents now, isn't it a fact that getting it is putting the hustle into us more than ever before? We're all after it, and because we are the price of everything remains high. There's little hope of a reduction in prices so long as everyone asks the same price he has been asking. Labor cannot work for less until the cost of living is less; the producer of the bacon, flour and eggs cannot sell for less until labor is cheaper—and there you are.

While everyone is getting more dollars for performing the same labor or producing the same bushel of wheat, no one seems satisfied. Do you not suppose that, some day, we will look back to this period of high prices with longing, and wish for the return of those "good old times?" But none of us seems satisfied, now that rollars are easy to get.

The politician has now to face a double uncertainty—"the silent vote" and the women.—Boston Herald.

A DANGEROUS BILL.

Senator Calder, of New York, is fathering a bill that, if it should become a law, would take out of the hands of the states all power to regulate food and drug standards for articles in interstate commerce, substituting for all existing laws the federal regulations. The effect of such a law, as pointed out in bulletin No. 1 of the Western Slope association, would be as follows:

1. Oleomargarine manufacturers could send into any state, regardless of state laws, colored oleomargarine in package form, although some twenty-eight or thirty states have anti-colored oleomargarine laws. Our present Colorado oleomargarine laws are among the best of the Union.

2. "Hebe" would be permitted to come on to our Colorado markets. It is a product made of skim milk with coconut oil substituted for the original butterfat or cream. According to investigations made on actual sales of this product, it retails to the consumer as condensed milk and at the same price generally. Our present state laws exclude the sale of this inferior product.

3. This law would take away from the states any initiative for perfecting existing food laws.

4. Establishes a precedent for overriding the privileges and blessings of each state enjoyed in the enactment of laws governing their domestic affairs.—Western Farm Life.

Heed The Warning.

Were it not that the average American citizen is too much engrossed in his own affairs and too confident that his government, embodying as it does the sanest and most liberal ideas of national and personal freedom, is amply able to take care of itself without any effort or attention on his part, it would have been impossible for the radical aliens who have come among us, to secure such a following as they have. Recent developments have brought forcibly home to loyal citizens that their indifference has allowed a viper to thrive and multiply in our midst and the following editorial from the Saturday Evening Post sounds a much needed warning to our easy-going people:

Two ships, the Mayflower and the Buford, mark epochs in the history of America. The Mayflower brought the first of the builders to this country; the Buford has taken away the first destroyers. In the wake of the Mayflower came many ships bringing desirables to these shores. Many ships must follow the Buford, taking back undesirables to the lands from which they came, there to stay. We have no room in America for a Society of Buford descendants.

The men of the Mayflower came here to escape oppression and remained to build a great nation. The men of the Buford came here ostensibly to escape oppression and sought to destroy their protectors. The radical mind sees no difference between them and pronounces them both good—and red.

Loud cries are going up from both the out-and-out and the in-and-out Bolshevik papers. Knouts crack and chains rattle in their pages. They are making a martyr a minute. And they have succeeded in confusing a good many of the more simple-minded among their sitting-room and parlor readers, both street and college educated, in making them believe that in shipping back the reds to Utopia some awful thing has been done to them. They may be right at that, for it looks like work or starve in Russia this winter. But whatever befalls the comrades at the hands of their brothers we shall bear up bravely here in America.

Particularly in those curious periodicals devoted to governmental jazz and economic hokum that, together with spiritualism, have found a large following among our war psychopaths, the cry is being raised that America is no longer true to her old ideals; that she no longer offers asylum to those oppressed for conscience' sake and political beliefs.

Passing by as irrelevant the fact that a majority of these latter-day refugees show no signs of having a conscience and worship no god but the Revolution, it is probable that America will always offer asylum under proper conditions to the genuinely oppressed of the world. But it is highly improbable that she will continue to be the world lunatic asylum. In the past we have freely offered to these Russians, Germans and other aliens everything that we have—freedom to worship as they please; a chance to become citizens and to vote side by side with us; opportunity to make a living on equal terms with the native born. The law of self-preservation forbids this for the future. First, we discover that one group of aliens is trying to impose the Kaiser on us as a master, and then that another is plotting to deliver us over to Lenin. And not only are these aliens seeking to destroy our country but they are progressively limiting opportunity for Americans.

We are in the position of a farmer who has granted shelter to a passing tramp, only to wake up from pleasant dreams to find him pouring kerosene on the kitchen floor, preparatory to looting and firing the house. And these pyromaniac editors, in pretty little pieces, bid us be perfectly calm and not throw out the poor tramp, who has been oppressed by a heartless brakeman on Number Three. Besides, the burning house will light up the surrounding landscape beautifully.

If these aliens for whom they bleed so freely and redly ever really needed asylum the occasion for it has passed. If they fear oppression at home it is at the hands of their comrades. If they linger on here it is not because Europe does not offer men of their expressed beliefs a congenial home. Their hopes have been wholly realized in Russia and partially realized elsewhere on the Continent. Their brothers are in the saddle, their ideals are in practical operation. Why then do they fight and kick and scratch against deportation to Utopia? Why do they conspire against the Government that has befriended them?

Simply because the pickings are poor just now in Europe. Because over there the comrades must work or starve if they are not in on the ground floor. Because their real ideal is loot, and America is the richest country in the world, as it is the most careless, the most given to accepting men at their own valuations and professions. When a man proclaims that he is working for the brotherhood of man it seems to Americans like sacrilege to doubt and to investigate the holy one to see whether it is really for brotherhood or for his own pocket that he is working.

The average American is the easiest fellow in the world to con with professional uplift patter, because he is always an innocent bystander in the things that most concern him—politics, profiteering, labor-and-capital disputes, and now alien radicalism. He is only half awake to the extent and organization of this sinister red campaign against his Government, his prosperity and his liberties. "Let George do it" is the national motto where anything except the immediate dollar is concerned. And after George has done it the bystander is pretty apt to round on George and ask him why he kicked up all that fuss. The world is still wagging and business is as usual or a little better.

When it comes to public affairs and duties the average American leads a sheltered life that makes a convent-bred girl look unprotected. But there can be no innocent bystanders in this business, no hairsplitting, no passing the buck. It is not "just newspaper talk." It is a menacing fact, and sooner or later everyone must line up on one side or the other and take an active part in deciding whether this country shall remain America or become Russia.

Hand in hand with this demand that we keep our doors open to everyone is the demand that we open our mails to anything. In this instance the reds and their pink allies are pulling the strings that work the suppression-of-free-speech boggy, and under their manipulations it is making some terrifying faces.

Free speech, like the liberty to worship and to vote as one's conscience dictates, is one of the great rights of an American citizen, but a situation might easily arise where any or all those rights would have to be abridged for the protection of the people. A group might conscientiously believe in human sacrifice or in its right to nominate a convicted murderer for President; but in either event its conscience would promptly be told to behave. The right of free speech that is being denied is simply the right to incite listeners and readers to free love, free loot, free murder and a free field to overturn the Government by violence. Anyone who has studied the tons of red and pink pamphlets, newspapers and periodicals that are pouring from presses all over the country knows that this is being done boldly and directly by the reds, and timidly and indirectly by the pinkies.

This free-speech campaign has even deceived perfectly good American editors, who tremble lest their inherent right to print a corking scandal on the front page or to roast anything editorially is going to be taken away from them. They fear that an open season on skunks may in some way curtail their right to kill a frying chicken for supper. A country that has successfully distinguished between liberty and license in religion and voting can probably be depended on to show a little common sense in distinguishing between free speech and incitement to murder.

Any good citizen who will conscientiously attend a class in red rhetoric or take a course in Bolshevik literature will graduate with some pretty clear convictions on the proper limits to free speech.

People who demand free and unlimited speech for themselves are quite intolerant of it in others. There is no free speech, no free press in "free" Russia. A tendency to shut off all discussion of economic theories or criticism of government that is not in agreement with their views shows wherever radicals get the upper hand.

ADVERTISING PAYS IF IT IS FULL OF FACTS

A very successful merchant from a small town called on us not long ago. After we had discussed the probabilities of the retail merchant ever being looked upon as anything but a profiteer, and the probable effect of prohibition upon the attendance at trade conventions and other more or less timely subjects, we branched off into a discussion of retail advertising.

Said my visitor: You know my business has grown to pretty good size proportions. Why? Because I advertised at a time when I wasn't putting out a dollar without pretty nearly iron-clad assurance that I would get it back with a profit to boot.

"I have heard some men say they would start advertising as soon as business began to pick up. Can you imagine a farmer making the remark that he would begin to plant his seed when the crops were ready to harvest?"

"Advertising is the seed that means a steady growth and prosperous business. It may be through the local paper, through the window display, through letters, circulars, cards or personal calls. We used a combination of all of them. And there is one thing I always insisted upon, that our advertising be full of facts. Our newspaper ads tell what we have to sell and how much we sell it for. Our windows, our letters, and circulars do the same thing.

"Advertising—that is advertising full of facts—pays.

"The merchant who refuses to advertise is either lacking in foresight or else is not interested in handling more business."

All of which I pass along without comment.—Houston County Herald.

Is A Boss Gardener.

Our good friend, H. C. Dolcater, who farms down on the edge of the canyon, came to town with some of the good things he is raising down there, recently, and was so thoughtful as to stop and give The Plainsman family a very generous sample of parsnips and carrots. Being of good old New England stock, we are extravagantly fond of parsnips and these being freshly dug, surely were good eating. Carrots are said to make people amiable and we have always been careful to see that the business manager was well fed on this delectable vegetable. Yes, of course, everybody notices what an amiable disposition he has but if all of the carrots we bought were the size of Dolcater's, we wouldn't have to cook more than one a week.

Mr. Dolcater seems to have solved the problem of raising truck on the Plains and always has an abundance of fine fresh vegetables.

SUBSCRIPTION, $1.50 PER YEAR

We believe that a majority of the four million men who served America during the war will oppose the plan now on foot to bond America to pay a bonus of $50 per month to the men for each month that they were in service. It smacks too much of charity. Most of the men are now back on their old jobs with no personal injuries and to pay them this bonus would be an insult to the pride and patriotism of the men who fought for their country.

The politicians of both parties are trying to read Hoover off the presidential map. He is too big a man for presidential timber according to the dictates of the professional politicians. The republicans don't want Hoover because he didn't have any more sense than to save America and the allies while Wilson was president. The democrats don't want him because he won't jump through the hoop when the ringmaster cracks his whip.

Every boy in Randall county should get into the stock judging course procured for their benefit by County Agent Walker. The best three get a trip to College Station in the summer. The one who makes the best grade there gets a trip over ten or more states to see the big stock farms. Every boy who goes to College Station gets a chance to make the judging team which will represent Texas at the International at Chicago in December. Boys, get busy. Its a great chance.

Canyon must pave her streets. The city needs the money to do it. The city officials charge there are tax dodgers in the city. The officials are out after this bunch of undesirable citizens with a vengeance. When the assessor comes around, better dig up all of the notes you have. The law allows the officials to go back two years and stick the tax dodger. A word to the wise is sufficient; to the fool, some action is needed.

Those swine breeders in the Happy community are making the Panhandle set up and take notice. The two highest priced gilts sold in the southwest are owned in this community. The swine industry is just in its infancy in the Panhandle and the breeders in on the ground floor will have the edge on his neighbor less farsighted.

The railroads are again in the hands of the owners. The government officials say the roads are in as good condition as when taken over. The physical property may be as good but the service is rotten. The public need not expect any better service for several months. It will take months to get the government tangle straightened out.

Jack Dempsey is indicted as a draft dodger. Jack has little support in his coming fight with the Frenchman among the men who faced the shot and shell of the huns. Jack sought an easy berth when his country needed him; now he is paying for his acts.

Winter has started two or three poor come-backs during the past week, but spring is advancing all along the southwestern front.

If you don't like Canyon there are several trains leaving every day. Some of your neighbors would no doubt be glad to pay your railroad fare. A knocker is a pest whom no one likes to have around.

Join the Randall County Commercial League. You are needed in the organization, and you need the organization in your business.

Have you filed your income tax report? Better hustle. Only ten days more until a big heavy fine will be tacked on.

This spring weather brings on the lazy feeling with some folks, and merely increases it with others.

Yes, you should attend the Trades Day in Canyon next Monday, March 8. It will be a big day for Canyon.

Canyon needs a clean up day. Most of the back alleys in the business section are in a deplorable condition.

Airline Representative Here. Capt. N. Fe Mackela of the National Airlines Association, was in the city this week looking after the project of getting a landing place in Canyon. He asked $500 from the city and the free use of a landing place. L. G. Conner agreed to donate the use of his land east of the city for a landing place, and the location is ideal.

The project was then taken up as to the finances. There was varied opinions as to the project and after H. C. Gamble and C. H. Jarrett had spent nearly all one day soliciting funds the directors of the Randall County Commercial League were called to the News office yesterday afternoon and after another conference with Captain Mackela the proposition was turned down.

With the advent of spring, the baseball players of Canyon feel a natural itch to get into their uniforms and chase the ball over the diamond. But the uniforms of the club have largely disappeared. The men are on a search for the missing uniforms, and every man who has borrowed (or otherwise possesses one) is requested to turn the same to Hud Prichard.

Canyon has always had a very fast team, and the boys say there will be something doing along this line this spring if the fellows who have the uniforms will only turn them in.

Presbyterian Church. It is hoped that all Presbyterians of Canyon will make an especial effort to be present at the services on next Sunday morning. The Rev. Ted Holifield, will be here to begin his work among us as our pastor and he is desirous of meeting as many of the members of the Canyon Presbyterian church as he can and also form the acquaintance of those who do not belong to this church but whose church preference is toward the Presbyterian system.

We want to give our pastor a good reception and we invite all our friends to feel thoroughly at home and welcome in our midst. We want our church to be a powerful factor in the religious thought and life of this community and to this end we ask your co-operation and pledge ours.

The services for Sunday are as follows: Sunday School meets at 9:45 a. m. Morning worship at 11 o'clock and evening worship at 7:00 o'clock. Subject to be discussed by Mr. Mollifield are respectively, "Everybody at It" and "Humanity's Echo." We extend an invitation to all to hear him at these hours.

Board of Stewards Meet. The Board of Stewards of the Methodist church met Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Foster for the regular monthly meeting. The wives of the members were invited, and after business session, a social hour was enjoyed.

The Board voted to recommend to the coming Quarterly Conference of that church that a building committee be appointed which committee will begin work looking forward to the building of a new church in Canyon next year. The Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church at the Annual Conference last fall offered to give to the Methodist congregation of Canyon $20,000 at such a time as the local church would raise $30,000.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served by Mr. and Mrs. Foster.

What It Takes To Make A Man. Harold, aged seven, and Tom, aged eight, were considerably put out because their mother would not let them go to the picture show by themselves.

"Just you wait," Harold complained to Tom—"Just you wait until I get to be a man and put on long pants; then I'll go to the picture show every night."

"Yes, you will!" Tom hooted. "And anyway, long pants ain't what makes you a man."

"Well, if I'm not a man when I wear long pants when will I be one?" Harold demanded.

Out of his superior age and wisdom Tom explained: "You'll be a man when you wear money in your pants pockets."

Farmers And I. W. W.'s. Apparently the I. W. W.'s in the North-West have acquired a dominating influence in some farmers' organizations. In the state of Washington, for example, a group of conservative farmers have issued a warning to the farmers of that state against what they call the triple alliance, which is now making a determined campaign to control the next state legislature, for the purpose of enacting into law their socialistic and bolshevistic ideas.

They say it is time for the conservative farmers to wake up and organize to protect their own interest as producers. These farmers are seeing the matter clearly. The doctrines preached by some of the extreme labor leaders sound very attractive to farmers who do not think them through; but they will not prove very attractive when carried to their logical conclusion. When government ownership gets under full swing, it will not stop short of price-fixing of farm products and finally government ownership of land. The moral influence of the farmer should be with every working man who is trying to get a square deal in wages and hours and conditions of employment, but when a farm organization is tied up with a labor organization, the farmers who belong to that organization are being betrayed.—Wallace's Farmer.

Good Stock Pays. The experience of T. H. Coburn, who is growing Poland China hogs at Tolbert, is of interest to every person in Wilbarger county. In this edition of the News is the announcement of J. E. Rogers as a candidate for sheriff and tax collector. Mr. Rogers hardly needs an introduction to the voters of Randall county. He has made this county his home for a long while and has always been affiliated with every progressive movement started in the county. He has served as city marshal of Canyon, city and school tax collector and constable, and is therefore acquainted with all of the duties that are connected with the office he is now seeking. If the voters of the county should elect Mr. Rogers they would find him ever-willing and anxious to perform every task that is connected with the office in a most conscientious and efficient manner.

WAR IS IMMINENT ON 10 FRONTS IN SPITE OF LEAGUE

Frenzy is growing in Central Europe. Bloodshed is imminent on almost ten different fronts. Five nations are now mobilized with all classes between the ages of 18 and 42.

Roumania, Hungary, Serbia, Poland and Czechoslovakia are almost ready to jump at one another's throats. From Prague comes the report that the Pressburg border bristles with machine guns and artillery of the Czo-Slovaks entrenched against the Hungarians.

Bucharest fears a Red invasion by the victorious armies to the East.

Budapest is daily watching the Hungaro-Roumanian frontier and revenge for the spoilation of their capital moves the strong nationalist feeling. If Roumania's eastern menace necessitates the withdrawal of Roumanian divisions occupying the Hungarian frontier positions, Hungary may be expected to strike.

Fear of Entente intervention is lessening daily. Superior and competent authorities are absent. The Roumanian occupation of Budapest and Annunzio's occupation of Fiume—both in defiance of peace zone ultimatums—have made even less effective any dictation from the conferences. Roumania is on the verge of war on both the eastern and western fronts and faces the danger of revolution within.

Hungary is prepared any day to resist a Czechoslovak attack from the west or to launch an advance eastward to liberate the Hungarian territory held by Roumania.

Although peace talk continues to emanate from Bolshevik sources in the Baltic, Poland dare not demobilize its ragged armies, fearing internal disaster.

From the viewpoint of Paris, the League of Nations, in so far as it has worked out in Central Europe, is a failure.

More Trouble Ahead.

Many estimable people are fondly of the opinion that the trouble of America are at an end—at least in so far as our relations with foreign governments are concerned.

They believe that because we raised an army of 4,000,000 in a few months and sent 2,000,000 to France we have demonstrated our superiority in such a striking manner that the rest of the world will be glad to let us alone.

They are in error, as was clearly shown when England and France calmly ignored the threat of President Wilson on the Jugo-Slav question.

England and France expected enormous additional credits from the United States government. They did not get them.

They expected the United States to assume much of the burden of rehabilitating devastated Europe. They were disappointed.

They charged that we commercialized the war and annexed the wealth of the world, and that now we will not open our money bags for the alleviation of humanity.

They are disappointed—chagrined—sore.

They will bide their time until the proper opportunity presents itself, and then they will strike, either commercially or with the mailed fist, or both.

Just what particular form that retaliation will take, no one on this side of the Atlantic knows.

But Europe has a long memory. It never forgets.

Those German Claims.

Germans are now filing a number of interesting damage claims against the United States, each being based upon the fact that the army of occupation, while on German territory did damage.

In view of the fact that Americans "paid their way" among the vanquished people and brought the first real prosperity in some sections of Germany that had been seen by the inhabitants in many years, we have an idea that the score is about even, that the Germans did, in fact, receive far more benefits than damage through the presence of American troops, and we can hardly see why our people should be taxed for the purpose of assisting in the work of reconstruction of a country in which, in truth, property suffered but little.

As Others See Us.

A stranger judges this town mainly by its appearance.

If it is clean, sanitary and inviting, he carries the good word afar. But if it is dirty, and ill kept, he carries the word along.

We should have a reputation second to none in this section, but we will have only that which we carve out by our own efforts.

Let's all pitch in and make this the cleanest and the brightest and the most progressive year in our history. Spring is the time to begin.

Come to Canyon to live.

Won His Bet.

On a $200 wager, Warren Heater, cattleman, dug a hole in the north part of town Friday, 28 inches in diameter and fifteen feet deep in less than twelve hours, and took down the purse. The condition was that the hole should not vary more than two inches at any place from a diameter of 28 inches. Those who inspected the work say that there was not more than one inch variation at any point.

A discussion came up in a local barbershop several days ago about digging wells, and Heater made the claim that he would put up $200 as a wager that he would dig such a hole in twelve hours. The challenge was immediately accepted and the time set for the trial. He began at 6:20 Friday morning and finished at 3:15 in the afternoon and came to town immediately and claimed his money. —Dalhart Texan.

Short Measure At Plainview.

Joe Jayne, Inspector of the Department of Food and Drug Inspection of the State of Texas, at Austin, spent yesterday and today in Plainview. Mr. Jayne also acts as Inspector of measure and quality of petroleum products offered on the local markets.

Of the eight pumps inspected here, five were found to give short measures. Complaints were filed against these men in the county court and Mr. Jayne stated that the operators had plead guilty and had paid their fines. He thinks that in most or all cases the short measures were unintentional and unknown to the men who owned and had charge of the pumps. This is no excuse from conviction however, and all of the men were given the minimum penalty.

"If the short measures continue," said Mr. Jayne, "arrests will be made next time I visit here and some of the offenders will likely have to serve jail sentences. The law is very strict in this respect. Sections eight, nine and twelve of the Texas Gasoline Law make this very clear. Every dealer should have a copy of this law and he must be careful to comply with it." —Plainview Herald.

Lucky.

Speaking of luck, did you ever notice that the man you call lucky always happens to be a fellow who is right on the job all the time?—Ex.

Co-Operation.

When the "Work or Fight" order was issued, a loafer in San Francisco decided that he had better have at least the appearance of working. He appeared at a ship yard and was given a job. He put on overalls, shouldered a sledge hammer and started off. All day long he would walk about the yard from one place to another. At night he would leave with the rest of the gang, and with the rest of them would draw his ten dollars a day.

But a serpent entered his garden of Eden. One day he noticed that a man was following him wherever he went. This continued for several days, and he was unable to shake the shadow on his trail. Finally he became desperate, and dodging around a corner, lay in wait. As the trailer came around the corner he raised his hammer to strike, but the man called out, "Wait a minute. You're getting awfully harsh all of a sudden. What's the matter?"

"Well, you have been following me around now for several days and I want to know what you mean by it. "Why," explained the man, "I am your helper."—Ohio Print.

Man Killed By Thresher.

Leslie Monroe Byrd was killed 20 miles southeast of Plainview late last Friday afternoon when he was caught in the belt of a threshing machine he was oiling. It seems that Mr. Byrd was oiling a bearing on which the fast revolving cylinder pulley was running. A part of his sleeve was caught in the main belt and before he could loosen it his arm caught. He was thrown against the side of the machine with great force, his head striking one of the iron supports. His skull was fractured and he died almost instantly. His arm was broken in several places and he suffered other injuries sufficient to have caused death.—Plainview Herald.

They couldn't be built now for twice $71,000

When the talk turns from politics to railroads, and the traveler with the cocksure air breaks in with, "There's an awful lot of 'water' in the railroads," here are some hard-pan facts to give him:

American railroads have cost $80,900 a mile—roadbed, structures, stations, yards, terminals, freight and passenger trains—everything from the great city terminals to the last spike.

A good concrete-and-asphalt highway costs $36,000 a mile—just a bare road, not counting the cost of culverts, bridges, etc.

Our railroads couldn't be duplicated today for $150,000 a mile.

They are capitalized for only $71,000 a mile—much less than their actual value. Seventy-one thousand dollars today will buy one locomotive.

English railways are capitalized at $274,000 a mile; the French at $155,000; German $132,000; even in Canada (still in pioneer development) they are capitalized at $67,000 a mile. The average for all foreign countries is $100,000.

Low capitalization and high operating efficiency have enabled American Railroads to pay the highest wages while charging the lowest rates.

Scenes of various student activities in the West Texas State Normal College

A West Texas A. & M.
(Amarillo Daily News)

Editor Lee Satterwhite, of the Panhandle Herald, started it. But since then, West Texas newspapers have discussed the matter pro and con. It's this West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College proposition, which is bubbling up again.

Mr. Satterwhite, who is strongly in favor of the establishment of such an institution, is also strongly in favor of having the legislature, itself, select the site at the same time that the bill creating the school is carried We are in full accord.

There is no reason under the shining sun why a commission should be appointed for a tiresome and expensive junket over the Western part of the State to select the town which shall have the proposed school. West Texas towns will have an opportunity to present their claims to the legislature and there is no reason why the legislature should "pass the buck" to a commission. The members of the legislature are fully able to determine what city in this part of the State is justly entitled to the institution.

Amarillo and Amarilloans were thoroughly disgusted with the way in which the matter was handled. We are, therefore, perfectly willing to accept a settlement of this question as part of the bill creating the school, feeling that whether Abilene or Plainview, Amarillo or Canyon or any other city in West Texas is chosen, it will be of real benefit to the people of Amarillo and the North Plains region, and that almost any settlement would be better than to have West Texas cities again in a scramble for the school—a scramble which caused hard feeling and disgust before and would er contest this time.

News From Wayside.

The weather has been quite cold for some days, disagreeably so. After the warm spell we feel it the more.

Father Derr of Clarendon, formerly of Swisher county, died Friday morning at Clarendon. Failed to learn particulars, but had been sick for some time.

Eugene F. Malone, who has been with his uncle, M. L. McGeehe for some time recently made a trip to Columbus, Texas, returning Friday, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Aycock, and two children. Mr. Aycock recently died with the "flu." They will occupy the house recently occupied by W. J. Lane.

Mrs. E. B. Bradford is considered critically ill.

Mrs. J. C. Mayo was very sick Saturday night.

An infant born Monday morning died and was buried Monday evening in Wayside cemetery. We understand the mother is very sick with pneumonia.

Mrs. G. W. Mayo of Clarendon was called to the bedside of Mrs. J. C. Mayo Monday morning. She reached her in the afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Payne and Doyle spent several days past week with her sister, Mrs. Franklin, in Amarillo, returning home Sunday. She reports mother and Fannie May doing well. After nearly three weeks visiting with Mrs. W. R. Franklin, Mrs. Ida Sluder returned home Thursday, with Wm. Payne.

A Panhandler's Experience.

We have one man in this county that is breeding and developing as fine if not finer Holstein dairy stock than can be found in New York and Wisconsin States. We speak of F. Davenport, who has a large Holstein farm north of Lockney. He has recently shipped to his place near Lockney 400 head of pure bred Holstein heifers from Wisconsin. These young heifers will be kept on his ranch and developed and then sold to various people and dairy concerns of the Panhandle and West Texas. Recently he shipped to the Stinson Dairy at Amarillo 50 cows, and to Byron Gist of Vega 40 head. These cows were largely bred and developed on his farm here. Besides the above shipments he sold and delivered 40 head of milk Holstein dairy cattle to the Mauldin Dairy at Amarillo.

Mr. Davenport now has 100 head of pure bred Holstein milk cattle on his Lockney county ranch. He bought calves from Wisconsin and New York, and has been gradually and systematically building up his herd from a pure bred stand point, until today he has one of the best herds to be found any where.

In conversation with Mr. Davenport in Lockney last Saturday, he stated that a Holstein calf is worth $25 more if raised in New York or Wisconsin. "There is a reason for this," explained Mr. Davenport, "They grow larger, and develop more thoroughly into milk stock here than in other states." He stated that he recently offered Mr. Bert Bobbitt, who resides in the Lone Star Community, $150 for two calves he raised from his thoroughbred stock. Of course he refused the offer, knowing that he had future prize-winning milk stock.

Speaking of his recent sales, and those he had made since he had been in the Holstein business in Floyd county, he stated that he sold a renter at Mule Shoe, Texas, 13 dairy cows, and the 3 years he had owned the cows the increase and cream produced from his small herd had paid for his original investment. Not only has his Holstein stock paid for themselves, but recently he was offered $2,000 for his herd.

Two calves Mr. Davenport raised to 22 months old brought in Amarillo Wednesday of last week $400. They will pay for themselves and feed in 6 months.

Speaking of the dairy possibilities Mr. Davenport stated that the Nissley Creamery at Amarillo was built two years ago at a cost of $75,000 and in 12 months they had to double the capacity of their creamery. When the Nissley people went into Amarillo, the people were skeptical of the success of the enterprise, but so thorough has been the test that no one longer doubts the possibility of the creamery business of that section.

Mr. Davenport recently made a trip to Seattle, Washington, on business, and he states that in all of the country through which he passed, including Colorado, Arizona and Washington, he did not see anything like the favorable conditions that we have here. He says that Floyd county and the Lockney country has more advantages from a dairy standpoint than any one or all of the above states with Wisconsin and New York state included.

Mr. Davenport's experience and success as a breeder of Holstein dairy cattle could be the experience of numerous like concerns or of all our people on smaller scales. What has been Amarillo's experience in the dairy business could be our experience. Lockney needs a $75,000 dairy and cheese factory to start with. Floydada needs the same enterprise. Why? Because we have as many advantages from a natural resource view point as Amarillo. We could make it a success, and be the means of adding much revenue to this section and country. Nature has given us the many advantages and it is up to us to take advantage of same.—Lockney Beacon.

Made Money Feeding Sheep.

It has been clearly demonstrated that it pays better to feed crops to live stock than it does to harvest, thresh and haul it to the market. Several feeding demonstrations have been conducted this year in both pasturing off the crops and in pen feeding. The following two demonstrations carried on with sheep show methods used and results.

W. A. Romine of the Plainview district near Texline purchased 719 head of sheep last fall and turned them into 50 acres of maize just when it was about ripe. He kept them in this field for sixty-five days or until they had about cleaned up all the grain and forage. He then sold them for a profit of $1 per head above the buying price or for 719 more than was paid for them. He turned them into his poorest maize and at the above price they made him about $24 per acre. By this method he received a fair return for his feed and was saved the labor and expense of harvesting the grain.

D. T. Stone of the same neighborhood pastured off maize with sheep also. He let them run in standing maize for two months and then pen fed them for five weeks. At the end of the feeding period he shipped them to Fort Worth and topped the market there with them at $16.50 per cwt. They averaged sixty pounds in weight and were the only finished sheep sold on the market that day. Accurate records of the cost were kept and the sheep cost $1.10 per head for feed, salt, labor and all other expenses. Feed was figured at a little more than market price. After deducting all expenses the sheep netted him $1.45 per head for his venture.

They are both well pleased with the results and Mr. Stone stated that it was a profitable business as he received a fair price for his feed and was saved the labor of harvesting, threshing and marketing the large per cent of his crop and besides made about $20 an acre from feeding the sheep. He sold 315 sheep in the first shipment and still has 400 more to sell. In the face of unsatisfactory markets this looks like the best way to dispose of the grain crops of this county.—Union County (N. M.) Farmer-Stockman Exchange Bulletin.

Scurry County Farmers Pay Loan.

County Judge, W. S. Adamson is in Austin this week to refund to the State $60,000 which is the repayment by farmers of Scurry county of the money loaned them by the state to enable them to make a crop. Many farmers were so badly worsted by the long drouth that they had to have help to make crops in 1919. The state loaned them the money, they made rousing crops and have paid back the loan with interest and are abundantly able to go into another crop year without state aid.—Snyder Signal.

Swisher Citizens Carry Road Tax.

Last Saturday the citizens of Swisher county spoke in strong terms of their approval of the 15 cents additional road tax for Swisher county. We are unable to give the exact vote in each voting box in the county, but Clerk, J. M. Simpson states that the total vote shows almost three to one in favor of the tax.—Tulia Herald.

RANDALL COUNTY

FARMER'S INCOME SUBJECT TO TAX

Gains for 1919 Must Be Figured Under U. S. Law—Returns Due March 15.

LAND SALE PROFITS TAXABLE.

Necessary Farm Expenses May Be Deducted—Special Form for Farm Income—Cash or Accrual Basis for Computing.

A farmer, shopkeeper, or tradesman must figure up his net income for 1919; and if the farm or business income plus his other income was sufficient to require an income tax return a complete return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue by March 15.

A farmer should ascertain the gross income of his farm by computing all gains derived from the sale or exchange of his products, whether produced on the farm or purchased and resold.

Farm Expenses.

From his gross income a farmer is allowed to charge off all of his necessary expenses in the conduct of the farm during the year. These include costs of planting, cultivating, harvesting and marketing. In addition to these costs he may deduct money spent for ordinary farm tools of short life bought during the year, such as shovels, rakes, etc. Also, the cost of feed purchased for his live stock may be treated as an expense in so far as this cost represents actual outlay, but the value of his own products fed to animals is not a deductible item.

Other farm expenses allowable are the cost of minor repairs on buildings (but not the dwelling house), on fences, wagons and farm machinery; also bills paid for horseshoeing, stock powders, rock salt, services of veterinary, insurance (except on dwelling house), gasoline for operating power and sundry other expenses which were paid for in cash.

As to hired help, all the productive labor is a deductible expense; but the wages of household servants, or help hired to improve the farm, as in tree planting, ditching, etc., cannot be claimed against earnings. A farmer is not allowed to claim a salary for himself or members of his family who work on the farm.

Wear and Tear.

Purchase of farm machinery, wagons, work animals, etc., also the cost of construction or extension of buildings, silos, fencing, etc., should be considered additional investments in the farm and are not proper deductions against income.

A reasonable allowance may be claimed for wear and tear on farm buildings (except the farmhouse), fences, machinery, work animals, wagons, tanks, windmills and other farm equipment which is used in the conduct of the farm.

As to autos and tractors, the cost of these is not an expense, although the cost of their upkeep is an allowable deduction, if the machines are used exclusively for farm purposes and not for pleasure. Also, in such cases, a deduction for wear and tear is allowed.

Farm Losses.

The loss of a growing crop is not a proper deduction from income, inasmuch as the value of the crop had not been taken into gross income. The loss of a building or of machinery through storm, lightning, flood, etc., is an allowable deduction, but care should be used to ascertain the correct loss sustained, as restricted by income tax regulations.

No deduction is allowed in the case of loss of animals raised on the farm, but a loss is deductible from gross income if the animals had been purchased for draft or breeding purposes.

Shrinkage in weight or value of farm products held for favorable market prices cannot be deducted as a loss, for the reason that when such products are sold the shrinkage will be reflected in the selling price.

Sale of Farms and Land.

The value of agricultural lands has been jumping during the past few years, and during 1919 many owners sold out part or all of their lands at big profits. All such gains constitute income and must be taken into the net income for the year.

Any person who sold part of a farm or ranch, or part of a parcel of land must also show any gains realized by the sale.

The method of figuring gains and losses on such transactions is prescribed in the Income Tax regulations, copies of which may be secured from Internal Revenue Collectors.

Forms for Returns.

The Internal Revenue Bureau has issued an improved Form 1040F for the use of farmers. This form, together with Form 1040A or 1040, will give the farmer explicit information as to how to properly figure his net income for 1919.

There are two methods of figuring a farmer's income tax return this year. He may make his return on the basis of the difference between the money and goods received for his products and the cash paid out for actual allowable farm expenses within the year. Or he may make his return on the accrual basis, which means computing the receipts and expenses that pertain to the taxable year, excluding income earned and expenses incurred in previous or succeeding years.

ENTRIES FOR BIG FORT WORTH SHOW CLOSE ON FEB. 28

SHEEP AND HOG EXHIBITIONS ARE BEING GIVEN ESPECIAL ATTENTION THIS YEAR—POULTRY SHOW TO BE UNDER CONTROL OF STOCK SHOW.

Entries for all classes of livestock in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, which will be held at Fort Worth, March 6-13, will close Feb. 28, according to official announcement of M. Sansom Jr., secretary-manager, and so stated in the premium lists that have been spread broadcast to prospective exhibitors throughout the land.

While the cattle classes have been amplified and the greatest and most representative exhibit in history is anticipated, with contestants from many states, other livestock departments of the show have not been neglected. Around three times as much money as in the past has been hung up in the sheep department. J. N. Jones, Texas A. & M. College, has been secured as manager of the sheep and goat department and, after a thorough canvass of the situation, declares that the exhibition will be far and away better than any previous one ever held at Fort Worth. G. R. Warren of Solora will officiate as superintendent in the sheep department. The judges will be: R. S. Matheson, head buyer for Swift & Co. at Chicago, carlot sheep; W. J. Kennedy, Sioux City, Iowa, fat wethers; R. F. Miller, Texas A. & M., registered sheep; E. M. Peters, Sonora, goats.

Special classes have been made this year for Angora and milch goats.

A. L. Ward of Paris has been made superintendent of the students livestock judging contest, which will be divided into two sections this year—one for college and one for vocational schools. Strong competition is expected in both classes. Prof. H. W. Mumford of Ann Arbor, Michigan, will be judge of the contest.

George P. Lillard of Arlington, former president of the Texas Swine Breeders' association, has agreed to act as manager of the swine department. D. W. Williams of Texas A. & M. will be superintendent, while Eck Gentry, Armour & Co.'s head buyer at Chicago, will judge the carlots. Prof. H. W. Mumford of Ann Arbor, Mich., will judge the pens and barrows.

Especially effort is being made to build up a fine barrow show and early indications are that it will be all that is hoped for. Additional appropriations have been made for this class.

W. H. Furse will again be department manager for horses and W. J. Kennedy of Sioux City, Iowa, will be judge.

Tom Hines of Venus has been appointed manager of the mules, jacks and jennets department, W. T. Wheeler of Baird superintendent, and Captain Tuck Hill of McKinney, judge.

C. C. Miller of Fort Worth will be department manager for poultry, which is under direct control of the stock show this year. Walter Burton of Arlington will be superintendent. The poultry show promises better than ever this year.

Carnival features of the stock show will be better in every detail this year. J. George Loos has twenty carloads of paraphernalia and has been accorded extra space on the Coliseum grounds for the handling of many new amusement devices, a number of which few of the stock show visitors have ever seen.

No detail is being overlooked to make this year's show the best in history from every standpoint. Work of preparation was begun early and competent men are handling every department.

The Rodeo, the big night performance of the stock show, gives greater promise even than last year. The best bucking horse and trick riders, the champion ropers and the best cowgirl performers of the country have been lined up.

A purse of $1,000 has been set aside for the cutting contest, which again will be a big feature of the Rodeo.

This will be a "clean" show. However, there will be a sales division on the regular stockyards for bulls from below the line.

The sales events, both public and private, promise exceptionally well.

BIBLES THAT ARE PRICELESS

Four Copies of Sacred Book Regarded as Treasures by Their Fortunate Owners.

The largest Bible in existence is in the royal library at Stockholm. The covers are made of solid planks, four inches thick, and the pages measure a yard in length. It is estimated that 100 asses' skins must have been used to furnish the 300 parchment leaves of this colossal book. It is considered priceless.

A well-to-do New Yorker is the proud possessor of a manuscript Bible written by his only son, a cripple. He could only work about two hours a day, so he took over two years to complete his task. It does not contain a single error or slip, for if error or slip occurred the youth discarded the whole page. The verses and headings are all in red ink, and the whole is beautifully written.

In a house in Grafton street, London, there is a shorthand Bible which was written at least two centuries before Pitman was born. It was written by an apprentice in the day of James II, when to possess a "common" or "garden" Bible was rather dangerous.

An American lady cherishes a Bible probably as old as the one written in shorthand, which an ancestress baked in a loaf of bread when a household search was being made for stray copies of the scriptures. The soldiers came to search the house, but it is not a matter of wonder that they failed to find the book, which now, looking pretty old, is the lady's chief treasure.

WHERE BEDS ARE UNKNOWN

Residents of Merida, Yucatan, Enjoy Repose in Hammocks Which May Be Slung Anywhere.

In Merida, Yucatan, the majority of the people do not use beds, in fact very few of them have even seen one. They sleep in hammocks, which are swung across the rooms at night and with no fuss of bedmaking; the person just goes to bed and is gently rocked to sleep by any passing breeze. The climate is so hot that it is only during the months of January and February that a light sheet may be required as covering.

These hammocks are usually made by the mother of the family, writes Lilly deG. Osborn, in St. Nicholas, and consist of thread, more or less fine, woven together on great frames with a kind of shuttle or needle. Some of the designs are wonderfully intricate and the colors beautifully blended. I saw one very large one, made in the colors of the United States flag, which was to be sent up to the United States for a gift. It was certainly a work of art, made of the very finest mercerized thread; and yet the hammock could easily support a weight of 300 pounds. A servant always brings his or her own hammock, which is very convenient.

Quoit is Really Ancient Game.

The quoit is a flattish ring of iron, used in playing. It is generally from eight and a half to nine and a half inches in external diameter, and between one and two inches in breadth, convex on the upper side and slightly concave on the under side, so that the outer edge curves downward, and is sharp enough to cut into soft ground. The game played with such rings requires two pins, called hobs, driven part of their length into the ground some distance apart; and the players, who are divided into two sides, stand beside one hob, and in regular succession throw their quoits, of which each player has two, as near the other hob as they can. The side which has the quoit nearest the hob counts a point toward the game, or, if the quoit is thrown so as to surround the hob, it counts two. The game slightly resembles the ancient exercise of throwing the discus, which has, however, been often translated by this English word.

First Wheat Grown in Canada.

The first wheat that ripened in Canadian sunshine was grown in 1607 at Port Royal, now Annapolis Basin, Nova Scotia. Here Champlain and de Monts founded a post and built a fort. They were joined by Marc Lescarbot, a lawyer of Paris, a poet, and the earliest writer of Canadian history. Love of adventure drew him to Port Royal. Outside the palisades of the fort he cultivated a plot of land in part of which he sowed wheat, brought, of course, from France. His sowing was fall or winter wheat. It grew well, ripened perfectly, and with sickles Lescarbot and his associates cut the crop. That was the first wheat crop harvested on land now within the Dominion of Canada.

The Income Tax.

The English income tax, first imposed by Pitt in 1798 as a war tax, was abolished at the Peace of Amiens in 1801, and again imposed on the resumption of hostilities in 1803. At the downfall of Napoleon it ceased to be levied for twenty-six years—1816-1842—when it was reimposed by Sir Robert Peel, in June, 1842, at seven pence in the pound, and produced about five million pounds. As showing the rapid advance of the country in prosperity, the tax which produced about seven hundred and ten thousand pounds for each penny of tax in 1842 yielded two million six hundred and ninety-one thousand four hundred and twenty-two pounds per penny in 1900-1910, and at the present time considerably over three million pounds for each penny.

Our Debating Record.

The history of our inter-collegiate debates is very interesting in that we are rapidly gaining success. Almost from the beginning the West Texas State Normal College has taken its place in the contests held between the sister normals for the purpose of developing the representatives of these institutions along the lines of oratory, English, and study of National problems.

Our first entry into these contests was in 1912, when R. A. Stuart and S. N. George went to Denton, while Guy Rogers and John Younger debated at home against the San Marcos team, composed of Alfred Cherry and A. C. Zoellers. Both decisions went for our opponents, Denton winning a two to one victory and San Marcos a unanimous decision.

In the following year, Ohmer Kirk and Ewell Condon went to San Marcos, while A. L. Tarlton and W. F. Cook represented us here against Denton. For the second time we were very unfortunate and lost a unanimous decision to each of our opponents. However, these two years were our first in the debating game, and, of course, we were inexperienced from every point of view.

In 1914 we were to meet our old rivals again. The home teams were much better prepared than before, and everything seemed to assure us of success. Just before the debate one of the saddest things in the history of the institution occurred. The normal building burned, and the debate material was destroyed, and the debates had to be called off.

Owing to the readjustment of college activities, we did not enter the debating again until 1917. Marion Foote and William Gibson represented us against Denton, while Charles Keffler and James Younger visited San Marcos. We won a decision of 2 to 1 against Denton, but lost by the same decision to San Marcos.

The next year was a very successful year for our debaters. William Gibson and Mody Boatright went to Denton and annihilated them by a unanimous decision. Melvin Roberts and Robert Hill also won a unanimous decision over San Marcos here.

In April 1919, Charles Keffler and Frank Day lost a two to one decision to San Marcos at Canyon, and Chase Condrey and Grady Hazelwood, with Kenneth Burns as alternate, won a like victory from Commerce.

This year the Normal debaters will meet the famous rivals of San Marcos and Denton. Kenneth Burns and Grady Hazelwood, with Lem Sone as alternate, are to go to San Marcos. A. E. Hunt and Wyatt Hester, with Ethridge Dockery as their alternate, will debate the Denton team here.

Although the debaters were selected only a few weeks ago, they are being trained with all haste and we feel sure that both teams are strong enough to defeat our opponents if it must be done. And, from the way the coaches are talking, "it must be done!"

The Sunset Express.

One cold morning in December Tom Davis, an orphan boy, was hunting in the mountains close to the railroad track. He was climbing the mountain when he heard a noise behind him. He looked around and saw a large rock rolling down the mountain and going toward the railroad track. He stood watching it. The big rock rolled to the foot of the mountain and lodged between the rails. The track-inspector had just passed and was almost out of sight. What would he do? He gave a loud whistle, but the inspector did not hear him. He raised his gun and fired, but the wheels of the hand-car were making so much noise that the report never reached the ears of the inspector.

The boy rushed down the mountain, and, using his gun for a lever, tried to raise the rock from the track; but it was in vain. He looked at his watch. Fifteen minutes more and the express would be there! What would he do? He rushed down the track until he could hear the express coming. He was half way across the big bridge that spanned the river. He didn't have time to go on across or to go back; so he pulled off his coat and began to wave it. He waved it until the engine was almost upon him. Had the engineer seen him yet? What could he do now? For it was death to jump. He flung himself flat on his back between the rails. By the time the last coach had passed over him the express had almost stopped. The wheels were locked solid, and the engineer had reversed the engine. Tom had saved the express and many lives. —Andrew Allen, Ninth Grade.

The Difference.

The difference between the kind of collective bargaining desired by the farmers and by the labor unions is well set forth by Jonathan Bourne as follows:

"The hope of labor union leaders that they would be able to enlist the aid of organized farmers was doubtless due to the fact that the agricultural producers have been endeavoring for many years to better their condition through the adoption of the policy of 'collective bargaining.' The labor union leaders failed, however, to note one vital difference between the policy adopted by themselves and that pursued by organized farmers. The farmers have endeavored to utilize collective bargaining in a thoroughly democratic manner. The labor union leaders, on the other hand, have endeavored to transform collective bargaining into collective dictation in a manner that is autocratic.

"Fruit producers, grain producers, and cattle producers have endeavored to secure better prices for their products by pooling their output and bargaining with buyers for the sale of the total. They have never, however, forbidden or endeavored to forbid any other farmer from selling his product anywhere, at any time, at any price. The effort of the organized farmers has been entirely legitimate, conducted for a proper end and by proper means.

"With collective bargaining on the part of the labor unions there is no material fault to be found so long as it is bargaining in fact. The flaw in the labor union procedure has been, however, that the union not only proposes to sell its own labor at prices which it may fix by collective bargaining or dictation, but it proposes to deny to any other man the right to sell his labor at any other price. It denies the fundamental principle of individual liberty. It endeavors to enforce the rule that no man shall work unless he first subscribes to the contracts of the labor union and renders himself subject to the mandates of the walking delegate.

"This policy the farmer has never adopted and never will adopt. Such a policy is contrary to the principles of the American government, and, though it may succeed temporarily, it must fail eventually because an tagonistic to the public welfare. It is quite possible that a group of agricultural producers could organize its particular branch of agriculture so extensively and adopt methods so severe as to practically dictate the price of its output. Organized dairymen for instance, might for a time intimidate non-union dairymen by overturning their milk wagons, shooting their drivers, poisoning their herds, and bombing their families, but such methods would not long succeed. Nor is there any danger that such methods will be adopted. Agricultural producers are owners of property; they are heads of families; all their interests are aligned with law and order; all their methods, therefore, will be in accordance with law, and with full recognition of the rights of others.

"Because the labor union leaders have adopted methods which can not possibly be approved by organized farmers, the labor union invitation to the farmers to co-operate with them has met a decisive and final rebuff." —The Agricultural Review.

Six Hours and the Farms.

Recent comment by farmers' associations and the agricultural press has disclosed the fact that the conditions of industrial warfare now prevailing are deeply resented by the men who till the soil.

For genuine efforts to correct unjust conditions of labor the farmer unquestionably feels sympathy. But looked at from the vantage point of his tilled field, the industrial struggle discloses facts and tendencies which cannot appeal to one who is himself the most important of all laborers—a skilled laborer working long hours under heavy responsibility for a moderate and unstable reward.

As a producer he finds himself threatened by paralysis of transportation and increased rates, although from his point of view the compensation and conditions of railroad work are reasonable, and he has seen this compensation advance sharply in the last three years.

As a consumer he finds all his necessities greatly increased in price while he confronts a fall in prices for what he has to sell.

As a producer he has been exhorted for over two years to produce to the limit, and he has responded to the limit of his strength. He has been told it was his duty to work unceasingly that the world may be fed and his country meet her great obligations. Yet he finds labor ignoring this appeal and engaged everywhere in a struggle for more money, for shorter hours, for more power, a struggle which slows down the whole machinery of production, increases its cost, and reduces its output.

And finally he has become aware that this struggle for material betterment includes also an attempt to seize vast power over the economic organization. He sees radicalism expressed not only in excessive economic demands, but also in revolutionary projects for the overthrow of our system of industry, government and society.

No wonder the farmer is beginning to take notice, to assert his interest, and to let it be known that he intends to defend it and the institutions in which he continues to believe—in individual liberty, in private property, in progress through education, persuasion, and evolution, in the rule of the majority, and intelligent acceptance of majority decision, in the ballot, in representative government, in the supremacy of law.—Chicago Tribune.

THE OLYMPIC—MARCH 17-18. BY ALL STAR CAST. IT SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE—AT

VERY PROFITABLE MEETING OF TIERRA BLANCA ASSOC. Rev. B. F. Fronabarger pronounced the Fifth Sunday meeting of the Tierra Blanca Association held in the local Baptist church Friday Saturday and Sunday one of the best and most interesting meetings it had ever been his privilege of attending.

The attendance was not large owing to the illness of all the towns in the association, but the interest great.

In discussing the plans for a new Baptist church in Canyon, it was the sense of the meeting that the Baptists of the Plains should contribute an auditorium Friday and Saturday the new Baptist church in Canyon that the interests of the church might be properly looked after. No official action was taken upon the proposition.
