

STATE HEALTH OFFICE STARTS CLEAN-UP MOVE

EVERY TOWN IN TEXAS WILL BE INSPECTED

Health Week Starts March 13th—Governor Neff and City Officials Will Back Campaign.

A State-wide clean-up campaign is to be conducted, according to Dr. Manton M. Carrick, State Health Officer, upon the conclusion of this campaign the cities and towns of the State will be inspected and rated according to their sanitary condition. This rating will be filed with the State Board of Health.

"Texas must be the cleanest State in the Union," declared Dr. Carrick in an interview today. "We shall be content with no halfway measures of sanitation in this campaign, but expect to give Texas a thorough spring house-cleaning."

By special proclamation, Governor Neff has set aside the week beginning March 13th as Health Week, and telegrams from towns over the State, promising co-operation, are already being received by Dr. Carrick. The campaign for better sanitary conditions will be conducted on a larger scale but along the same lines as the "Clean-up Campaign" of several years ago. "Each town and city of the State will realize the importance of such a campaign," said Dr. Carrick, "for it will give them a definite status with the State Board of Health. We are constantly receiving from persons interested in locating in a new community, inquiries as to the sanitary and health conditions of the place. After the sanitary inspection has been made, we shall be able to answer them by quoting the sanitary rating of the particular town or city in question. It is easily seen what effect a low rating will have upon the increase in population of a community."

Literature on how to conduct a campaign is to be sent to the citizens of the State by the State Board of Health, prior to the official opening of the campaign. Dr. Carrick suggests that every community perfect a strong committee organization before beginning the actual work of cleaning up, and that the aid of the children of the town be enlisted. A separate committee should be formed to handle each sanitary problem, and it is expected that the Women's Civic Clubs will take the initiative.

"To have a clean city, it is absolutely necessary that every lot of building, each street and alley, be clean," declared Dr. Carrick. "The streets of the town must be free from rubbish; every town should work toward a sewer system and should see that there is a sanitary disposal of sewerage, for this is one of the most dangerous sources of disease. The garbage can of the home is also a menace unless properly constructed and frequently cleaned. Not only 'Swat the Fly,' but 'Prevent the Fly' is to be our slogan, and the breeding places of these dangerous creatures manure, garbage, and dump piles—are to be attacked vigorously. The same is true of the malaria and yellow fever bearing mosquito; we shall see to it that its birth-rate is decreased. The milk and water supplies of our State are to be subjects of careful inspection in our campaign for sanitation. We are going to do away with the insanitary handling of food by a thorough inspection of slaughterhouses, dairies, grocery stores all that can be kept under glass will be put there, and no person suffering from a communicable disease will be allowed to handle food for sale. The local committees on housing will see to it that all public buildings are clean and properly ventilated; particularly are school buildings objects of concern. And there will be a mighty war waged on the death-bearing rat. One whole day of Health Week will be devoted exclusively to the eradication of this pest in every community in the State. At the close of our campaign, we shall see an increase in civic pride and civic sanitation that will extend to each and every corner of Texas."

Shipped Hogs to California

The California market has been very much better for light hogs than any market in the country, and S. M. Downing has made two shipments to the West. The California market has been ranging more than a dollar per hundred above any market in the country during the past few weeks. Many shippers have availed themselves of this better price.

A meeting of a few publishers of the Panhandle was held in Amarillo Monday evening at which time a draft of the program was made and general arrangements were determined upon.

Stop Watches to Be Used on Speeders

Some of the streets of Canyon have become regular race tracks for the speed maniacs, and the city officials have decided to enrich the treasury of the municipality with a few hard earned shovels of the careless ones. Two men have been provided with stop watches and will constantly be on the streets of the city to arrest the speeders.

Mayor Gamble states that the city means business about the enforcement of the speed laws.

Had Serious Operation

Word from C. O. Keiser yesterday at Iowa City, Iowa, indicates that his daughter, Miss Phyllis, is recovering from her recent operation, but she will likely have to remain in the hospital for six weeks or more. It was necessary to operate both below and above the eye, and finally the surgeon thought it wise to go behind the eye ball. It was a very serious and delicate operation, but several specialists are confident that the eye will not be affected by the operation and that Miss Phyllis is now recovering as well as could be expected. The condition of Miss Phyllis was much more serious than was anticipated when Mr. and Mrs. Keiser were called to Iowa City.

The program was one of the most pleasing ever presented in the school, and the large audience was very high in praise of the readings by Miss Brown and the music by Miss Hamill.

March Come Like a Lamb—Will It Roar?

Back in the distant past, it became known that March, once entering like a lamb would roar like a lion before it went out. Some other fellow discovered that if he layed through March, he stood a fine chance to survive all of the rest of the year.

Old Julius Caesar got tangled up with the Ides of March, and got himself killed.

Probably other dire things other than the inauguration of a republican president will transpire during the month of March.

At any rate March started off in grand old spring fashion—just like all of the rest of the months this winter. If the lion roars a little during March, it cannot wipe out the recollection of the most magnificent winter the Panhandle has ever had.

SUPREME COURT AFFIRMS FARM LAND LOAN ACT

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS WILL COME WEST

Case Has Been Watched Before U. S. Supreme Court—Local Bankers Highly Pleased.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The Federal farm loan act was held constitutional today by the Supreme Court. This is the act under which farm lands were established to extend loans to farmers.

Millions of dollars in loans to farmers have been held up pending a decision of the court in this case, which was brought by Charles W. Smith, a stockholder in the Kansas City Title and Trust Company, who sought an injunction to restrain that institution from investing its funds in bonds issued by the farm loan banks.

The act was attacked on the ground that Congress was without constitutional authority to establish farm loan banks and to exempt their bonds from taxation. Justice Day, who rendered the opinion for the court, said the power of Congress to establish had in a broad sense been upheld by the Supreme Court in the days of Chief Justice Marshall.

The Court, in sustaining Federal Court decrees dismissing injunction proceedings brought by Smith, also held that Congress had the authority to exempt the bonds of the bank from taxation.

W. J. Flesher, secretary of the Canyon National Farm Loan Association, received a telegram from Marvin Jones giving the news of action of the court as it means many loans can be consummated which have been hanging fire for several months while the case has been in the court.

Representatives of both Canyon banks expressed themselves as highly pleased that the farm loan act has been upheld and believe that it will mean much to the farmers of Randall county.

Tractor School Held at Normal Mar. 22-24

Prof. Fred H. Ives is working on the program for the tractor operators' school which will be held at the Normal building on March 22, 23, 24.

Mr. Ives stated yesterday that he had been assured of representatives with eight tractors being in the school, and was quite certain that at least four more would accept the invitation to participate in the school.

Mr. Ives has received acceptances from the following tractor companies for the school: Avery, Case, Cleveland, Moline, Chalmers, Standard, Toro and Wallace. Invitations have been sent to several others.

A thorough course in tractor operation has been outlined, covering every possible question that may arise in the mind of the tractor owner, or the man thinking of buying a tractor.

Night programs will be given, with slides covering all features of tractor work.

WILL NEED MANY ROOMS DURING PANHANDLE MEET

J. L. Duflot, director general of the Panhandle district of the Interscholastic League, stated yesterday that it would take every available room in Canyon to take care of the boys and girls who would come to the meet in Canyon next month. He is anxious that the people of Canyon begin now to make arrangements to care for these young people. A committee will ask that every available bed be prepared for the young people the night they are here.

Last year more than 200 boys and girls attended the meet, and it was a difficult matter to secure rooms for them. It will probably not be so difficult this year owing to the fact there are more houses, but every citizen will be asked to open his home and rent all of the beds possible.

Normal Presidents Salary Reduced

According to the statements in the daily press, the legislative appropriations committee has reduced the salaries of the Normal president from $4500 as recommended by the Board of Control to $4000.

No other information has been given out as to the disposition of the Normal budgets.

Royal Arch Masonic Degrees Conferred

Nineteen members of the Amarillo Royal Arch Masonic Chapter were in Canyon Saturday afternoon and night to confer four degrees to local men. The degree work was done by the visiting team.

The Mark and Past degrees were conferred before supper. At 6 o'clock a dinner was given at the Ideal Cafe for about 40 visiting and local Masons. Companion Cyrus Eakman delivered the invocation, there being special talks given at the dinner.

Following the initiation a number of talks were made, and light refreshments were served. J. Grady Holland, high priest of the Canyon chapter, expressed his thanks to the Amarillo delegation attending and conferring the degrees. Companion J. D. Sweeney, Miller J. Beard and R. R. Swift made short talks.

MYRNA SHARLOW WILL SING MARCH 14 AT AUDITORIUM

Miss Myrna Sharlow, who will appear on March 14 at the Normal Auditorium, won added laurels with the Boston Opera Company, when at short notice she replaced Alice Neilson, who had been announced to sing but owing to indisposition was unable to appear.

Miss Sharlow creditably filled the vacancy, and sang arias from "Madame Butterfly" and "Pagliacci" in which her clear soprano voice was heard to advantage. She also interpreted a group of Scotch folk songs with rare charm.

But the greatest opportunity presented itself at the close of the season, when, virtually at the twelfth hour, she was called upon by Mr. Russell to substitute for Mme. Melba as "Mimi" in "La Boheme," without opportunity for as much as a single rehearsal. With perfect assurance and the self-possession of a veteran, Miss Sharlow interpreted the role in so finished a fashion as to win the heartiest approval of the most exacting critics.

Imagine the embarrassment and difficulty of having to unexpectedly face a large and fashionable audience, who had assembled purposely to hear the great Melba, and whose disappointment was unmistakable.

Sunday School Rally In Canyon June 11-12

E. F. Arnold of Happy was a business caller in the city Friday and stated that as secretary of the Panhandle District Sunday School Convention, he was now arranging the program which would be given at the Methodist Church in Canyon on June 11-12.

There will be a number of eminent Sunday School specialists at the convention and the program will be very highly interesting.

Mr. Arnold states he will have about one thousand delegates from over the district during the convention. A big basket dinner will be the feature for one day.

Notice to Auto Drivers and Bicycle Riders

Owing to the condition of the streets around the square we have not tried, recently, to carry out our ordinance relative to going around the Monuments; neither do we intend to until the streets can be put in better condition. But so far as other traffic ordinances are concerned, we will enforce them to the best of our ability.

Our speed limit is 15 miles an hour and you are expected to keep to the right. Lights must be on after sundown.

NO ONE allowed to ride a bicycle on the sidewalks. Don't get peeved at the officers if you get in bad.

J. D. GAMBLE, Mayor.

Business Luncheon Next Tuesday Noon

The luncheon idea was suggested at the last meeting of the Commercial League. The members will enter the dining room at 12 o'clock sharp. The meal will be served and then business will be transacted. The program must be put through with a snap, as the meeting will adjourn promptly at 1 o'clock.

Manager M. A. Henson of the Ideal will make a canvass of the business houses and sell tickets. A limited number will attend the luncheon and reservations should be made at once.

The championship of northwest Texas will be decided Saturday night at the Normal auditorium when the teams from the Higgins and Lubbock high schools will play for the championship of the two districts. The winner of the game will go to Austin March 11-12 where the state championship of the Interscholastic League will be settled.

The Lubbock team is coming Friday night to play the second Normal team, the receipts of the game being used to defray the expenses of the team coming to Canyon.

LEGISLATURE IS INVITED TO WEST BY ALL CITIES

TELEGRAMS SENT OUT FROM CANYON

Representative Lee Satterwhite in Charge of Plans—Body Would Have Supper in Canyon.

The members of the legislature are contemplating a trip to West Texas and the Panhandle in the near future. Canyon would be visited and represented by the citizens of Canyon and members of the Normal faculty. Telegrams endorsing the trip have been sent from the Commercial League and from the Normal faculty, and it is hoped that the legislature will make the trip.

The following information is given out from Austin:

West Texas is anxious for the Thirty-seventh Legislature to visit, according to letters and telegrams which Representative Lee Satterwhite of Panhandle has been receiving since the announcement on Monday that plans were on foot for a special train from Austin to West Texas and the Panhandle and Plains.

Various towns have already communicated with Satterwhite, asking him for definite information so that they could be included in the itinerary. It will, of course, be impossible, Satterwhite said today, for the legislative special to stop at all of the towns on the route to be followed, but if the trip is made an effort will be made to stop at as many as possible.

No assurance have been had yet that the Legislature will make the trip because it has never been presented to them in a definite proposal. No effort will be made to have any invitation officially accepted during the present session, because both houses are busy considering the 600 bills on their calendars, but during the special session, when most of the appropriation bills are disposed of, the invitation will be presented and informal expressions of members indicate that it will be accepted.

The tentative schedule which has been drawn up by Satterwhite provides for the departure of the train from Austin either Thursday night or Thursday noon. If the evening of Thursday is to be spent in Fort Worth the train will leave here at noon, but if Ft. Worth is not included in the trip the departure will be made on Thursday night, and the tourists will take breakfast at Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, or Breckinridge Friday morning. Friday will be spent between the oil fields and Lubbock with stops at Abilene and Sweetwater, and the night will be spent at Lubbock, where breakfast will be taken the morning of Saturday.

Departure will be taken from Lubbock Saturday morning so that Plainview and intervening points between Lubbock and Amarillo will be visited, with probably a jump to Hereford for a half-hour's visit to the great Hereford Barus there and the evening will be spent at the Canyon Normal School.

Sunday morning will be passed in Amarillo, after the party arrives there the evening previous in time to attend a reception, and while in Amarillo the members of the Legislature will see the famous Palo Duro Canyon, and the Goodnight ranch, upon which is the largest herd of buffalo in the world. The evening of Sunday will be passed in Wichita Falls and the Legislators will be back in Austin Monday.

"The schedule is a fast one, but with good equipment and a carefully arranged railroad direction, we can make it with plenty of time to see the towns," Satterwhite said. "We first simply want the Legislature of Texas to visit the wealthiest part of the State. West of Fort Worth there is a billion dollar trade territory, the wealthiest section of Texas. Many members of the Legislature, probably a majority of them, have never seen this country."

"We do not have in mind asking anything of the membership. We will not have West Texas measures before them at that time. We just want them to come out where the West not only begins, but is, and visit with us."

Golf Links Not Open to Public

Notice is given this week by the Canyon Golf Club that the golf links are for the use and benefit only of the members of the Club, and no trespassing will be allowed upon the grounds.

There were many people on the course Sunday who do not hold membership in the club, which is against the rules of the club. The only visitors allowed on the grounds are those from outside of Randall county, and these must be invited and accompanied by a member.

A very important meeting of the members of the Golf Club has been called for Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the office of C. N. Harrison.

Cowling Visits Here Sunday

J. E. Cowling of Wichita Falls was in the city over Sunday on matters of business and to visit with his many old friends in Canyon. Mr. Cowling has an unquenchable desire and longing for the Plains country which will be satisfied only when he returns to Canyon to make his home. His friends will be glad to welcome him back to his old home.

There has been considerable stir regarding the threatened impeachment proceedings against Judge Landis. Any person who knows the least thing about Judge Landis will scoff at the idea that the judge could be impeached by the big salary he is being paid as an official in the baseball world. However, the News believes that the appointment of Landis to this position is a bad precedent. Landis will not be influenced by his position, but if he is allowed to accept this position and still retain his place on the bench, the bars are down for appointment of every federal judge in the nation to such outside lucrative positions, which in itself would be a bad thing for the courts of this land. The News does not criticize Judge Landis, for he is above suspicion in both his private and public life, but as a general proposition, we do not consider it a safe and sane thing to do.

The McClain News was late last week, and devoted considerable space in telling why the paper was delayed nearly two days. The advertisers would not get their copy ready until the very last minute that the paper should have gone to press, and consequently there was a general delay. The Randall County News has had considerable trouble of late with advertisers wanting the solicitor to visit them about a dozen times before they write their ads, and then wait until late Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning. There are also a number of regular contributors with church and other kinds of notices who should have these notices in Tuesday, but wait until Thursday morning to rush in a lot of stuff. A little closer cooperation will make a better newspaper, and that is what the people want.

It was a dastardly act which resulted in the death of the telegraph operator at Lubbock last Friday morning. There may be no doubt about the correctness of the statement given out by the bandits that the gun was accidental, but it is not their intention of killing the young man. No matter whether the act was accidental or not, the fact remains that the boys had worked on the plan of the robbery for weeks, and the further evidence is that they pointed the gun toward the operator and threatened to shoot if he did not open the safe in face of the statement made by him that he did not know the combination. A few handings will do a lot toward stopping the crime wave which threatens to engulf this country.

It is regrettable that Governor Neff and the members of the House of Representatives have locked horns, and almost declared war the one upon the other. At best, it is a hard job to get through the legislature the needed legislation, but under the present condition, many good bills are going to die on the calendar. The Neff program of consolidation is doomed unless he is able to handle successfully those in the House who are disposed to pick a quarrel with him. The members of the legislature are very jealous of their position, and perhaps the Governor was a little hasty in his criticism of the acts of the House.

A referendum was taken in Floyd County, as to the employment of a county agent and 884 voters favored the county agent as against 89 disapproving. Randall county was served by the first county agent coming to the Plains. The commissioners have employed an agent ever since the first experience, and consider the money spent as drawing more than 100 per cent interest. Floyd county will find this a most valuable investment.

The News trusts that Representative Leo Satterwhite will be able to put over the proposition of bringing the whole of the Texas Legislature on the proposed West Texas trip. Canyon would appreciate very much the honor of having the members of the legislature visit the town, and we are confident that it would do all of the members good to see the West and especially to visit the West Texas State Normal College.

A number of newspapers are continually boosting Cullen Thomas for United States senator to succeed Chas. Culberson. As for this paper, we are going to wait and see whether Culberson wants a successor before losing any sleep over Cullen Thomas or any other candidate. If Culberson decides he is going to stay in the senate, it is a pretty sure sign that he will stay.

Down in Texas there is on a rat campaign in which rats are measured, not by the head, but by the ton. It looks incredible that so many rats could be killed in any community. Perhaps if all of the people of Canyon would get into a rat killing campaign, the results would astonish the citizens of this community who are fair to believe that the rat is so numerous and so destructive.

The Quannah Chamber of Commerce has 422 members. Quannah is not so much larger than Canyon, but there are only about 60 in Canyon. The comparison does not look well for Canyon.

General Petain's famous expression is applicable to about 600 bills in the legislature. "They shall not pass."

March 14 is Trades Day in Canyon. Get ready to come.

"The buying power of the public today is as great as it ever was," asserted H. T. Parson, president of the F. W. Woolworth company of New York. "The people have money but they are not spending it recklessly, because they want value in return for it. For this reason merchants must meet the demand by putting their goods down to appropriate levels. The business men of St. Louis had a meeting and established uniform prices for goods, stabilizing prices. I think that this should be done in every city, for it would help the merchants as well as the buyers. I consider one of the most encouraging signs of the times, the large increase in the savings deposits of the people, showing that they are practicing thrift more than ever. I expect to see material improvement when the new administration policy becomes known."

Lockney Beacon: In a recent import shipment there were received in this country several billion eggs from China. It is reported that the Chinamen are shaving by the thousands. Then why don't they eat their own eggs? We favor a tariff on paper hen fruit from China. Our own well bred hens should have protection if they are to continue laying fortunes for the American people. Biddy can't compete with these coolie hens. It costs her more to produce her eggs in this country than in China. Give Biddy the protection her long service in this country has entitled her to. We favor the Republican tariff as applied to American hens and hen fruit. Let the Chinamen eat their own eggs.

Now comes Henry Ford with a sweeping refutation of the allegation that he endeavored to borrow $50,000,000 or $75,000,000 from Wall street magnates; that he authorized any of his agents to negotiate a loan; that he is in need of large sums of money to operate his various enterprises and furthermore he says that he is not going to Wall street to borrow money, nor does he need the assistance of the Napoleons of Wall street or the financiers of the East to operate his enterprises, to conduct his business or to dictate his policies. Lucky man.

Miami Chief: The Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce is gaining favor in the eyes of everyone in the Panhandle. It is doing a wonderful work which is being recognized by almost every county in the Panhandle in a financial way.

Clarendon News: Clarendon merchants report better business last Saturday than they have enjoyed in many weeks. It is as the News has said before—conditions are getting slowly better and the further we get away from the first of January, 1921 the better we are off. Step on the gas and let's go.

Come to Canyon to live.

CATTLEMEN ARE TOLD BETTER TIMES COMING

"Back up and take your medicine like the men you are, the men who built the Panhandle and things will come out alright, in fact, times are already beginning to look much better." Such was the essence of the talks made Thursday morning at the closing session of the Buyers and Sellers of Live Stock Sixth Annual Convention, held at the Mission Theater.

Cattlemen have passed the turning point, and are on a much safer basis than for many months, according to J. C. Swift, Kansas City commission man, who made the first talk. To prove his statement that better days are coming he quoted from a telegram from Kansas City, saying that a bunch of cattle fed at Quannah had sold for $8.00, whereas two weeks ago they would not have brought over $7. He declared the market was $1.50 better two weeks ago, and that even the wool market was showing signs of life.

No business man in the world, nor any man in any pursuit whatsoever would take the knocks and troubles the cattlemen has taken and keep going as he has. Other men have had their troubles—the cotton grower, wool grower, and rice grower. Why, rice is bringing but one-seventh of what it brought during the war. The speaker said he found encouragement in what he termed as a fact that few cattle were in the country now than a few months ago.

The year 1921 is one for courage and fight, I hope that we "carry on." A strong protective tariff was advocated by William Solfrer of Miltonville, Kan., the next speaker, he quoted figures that the 700,000,000 pounds of mutton, 400,000,000 pounds of lard and 750,000,000 hives imported into this country last year had helped almost ruin American cattlemen. He said cattlemen in this country could not hope to compete with South American cattle raisers who got their land for nothing and paid their cowboys $17 a year in wages.

He expressed the belief that Congress would pass a tariff law, and predicted that cattle prices would go to $12 by July 1.

C. T. Herring of Amarillo made the startling statement that if it were necessary for Texas Democrats to turn Republican to get a protective tariff, they should do so.

"Cattlemen are the nerviest set of men I have ever seen or have ever known. They are equal to a Spanish broncho. If they will hold on and practice economy, they will come through alright." Mr. Herring said it was high time to "come back to earth" and quit reckless spending.—Amarillo Tribune.

American Legion Weekly: "Here after there will be absolutely no smoking in the barracks at any time," belated a Captain in Raritan Arsenal, New Jersey, after a fire caused by a forgotten butt had been quelled. "Absolutely. Not at any time." Then he paused and added as an afterthought in a louder bellow even than before: "Especially at night."

The Rat Menace

Right now there are a hundred million rats in the United States. They are eating food at the rate of $200,000,000 a year.

The guinea-pigs of Ellis Butler's story have nothing on the brown-rat when it comes to fecundity. It is a good thing nobody tries to ship a pair by express unless red tape has been cut since the day that Mr. Butler's characters tried the experiment.

Anyway, the biological swarthy warns people against the depredation and the expense incurred to the public by the common rat.

Rats are disease carriers. Typhus and bubonic plague have been transmitted by them. Cooperative efforts to stamp out the rat plague are recommended by the survey, which also emphasizes the use of barium carbonate as an effective poison now easily obtainable.

Many a Pretty Face Spoiled by Pimples

Not only are those pimples and blotches disfiguring, but they lead to serious skin diseases that spread and cause the most discomforting irritation and pain. Sometimes they spread to the nose, throat, and other organs and other annoyances that hamper the life and make you feel that your skin is a slave. If you are afflicted with this form of skin disease do not expect to be cured by lotions, ointments, salves and other local remedies, as they can not possibly reach the source of the trouble, which is in the blood. TRAVELING MEN ATTACK PRICES OF HOTELS OF STATE

Alleged exorbitant rates which they alleged are being charged by railroads, hotels and service cars will be fought by Texas traveling men, they announced in perfecting an organization for that purpose.

C. E. Booth, Austin, was elected president of the organization; J. W. Reeves, Sherman, vice president and W. H. Cross, Austin, secretary and treasurer.

The traveling men contended that while there is a slump in prices all down the line, hotels, railroads and service car operators should be compelled to reduce rates.

"Rates charged by some of the hotels would make Jesse James blush with shame, while facilities and conditions of many of these hotels would insult the decency of the humblest alley rat," a speaker charged during the discussion.

Freight Toll on Food

Houston Post: The Texas onion crop this spring is estimated at 2,500,000 crates. Although Texas consumes part of this crop, the bulk of it will be shipped to other states, chiefly to the big markets of the North and East.

The freight rate on onion shipments to the East has been hoisted from 62c per crate last year to 98c this year, an increase of 36c per crate. Assuming that 2,000,000 crates of the crop will go to distant markets, this means that the railroads will collect more than $700,000 this year from Texas onion growers for hauling their products to market than for the same service a year ago.

But while the railroads are exacting their increase in freight tolls, commodity prices are falling and are far below the levels prevailing at this time last year. For instance, for the sake of comparison, onions were selling on this market a year ago at 6c to 8c per pound, while at present they are selling at 3c a pound, a decline of more than 50 per cent.

Onions in primary markets now are approximately 50 per cent lower than a year ago, before this boost in freight took effect.

The onion growers claim that it costs $1.38 per crate to get the onions on the market this spring. Prices at leading points are not over 82c per crate. No argument is required to show that the onion farmer can not stay in business on a profit of 2c per crate.

But the onion grower is confronted with the same problem that the cabbage grower, the potato grower and the fruit grower faces now. Rio Grande Valley cabbage brings $25 to $28 per ton in St. Louis and other northern markets at wholesale. Freight and icing amount to nearly $25 per ton, according to traffic experts, which means that Texas cabbage is bringing a little more than freight charges in northern markets. The growers are asking $4 to $5 per ton, but are having a hard time finding buyers. The railroads are the only ones getting anything out of this movement at present.

Western potato growers are hard hit. They are getting about 45c to 50c per hundred for potatoes, after cutting them and furnishing sacks. These potatoes, laid down here bring $1.75 per hundred, the railroads requiring about $1.20 per hundred for freight toll or nearly three times the value of the product to the producer.

Freight bills on many cars of oranges and apples now reaching Houston from the West amount to more than the invoice of the fruit. And all this happens at a time when prices on fruit and vegetables are from 25 to 50 per cent lower in the wholesale markets.

There can be only one result of this situation. A decrease in production, possibly to the point of a serious food shortage, is inevitable. Farmers and fruit growers can not be expected to produce for the sole purpose of furnishing fat revenues to transportation companies.

The freight rate problem, as it applies to food supplies, will soon be vital to the people of the country. Owing to the enormous surplus this year, the producers are being hurt worse, but the blow to the consumer will come with the advent of the shortage. Railroad rates must be readjusted before that time comes if the country would avoid economic disaster.

PLAINVIEW BANKER HEADS SEVENTH DISTRICT ASSN.

Robert A. Underwood, vice president of the First National Bank of Plainview, will head the Seventh District Bankers of the Texas State Bankers Association for the ensuing year and Ft. Worth will be the 1922 meeting place.

Both were chosen by acclamation following a luncheon held at the Metropolitan Hotel, Tuesday afternoon. In nominating Underwood, Warren M. Andrews of Ft. Worth declared that the Panhandle section had been a potent influence in the building of West Texas and the Seventh District organization. "I therefore nominate a man who twenty years ago was the best broncho buster in Plainview and today is one of West Texas' leading bankers, 'Bob' Underwood," he said.

The Indemnity

Lufkin News: David Lloyd George still remains firm in his declaration that Germany must pay to the full extent of her capacity. German strategy, however, is yet to be employed.

Dallas News: The indemnity that has been named for Germany is huge in the aggregate. It was possibly made so with the expectation that world sentiment would induce a reduction in any case, and that the penalty might as well be started high as low. However, it should be remembered that the indemnity is payable in forty-two installments and does not bear interest. It automatically amortizes itself year by year. The cash value of the $55,000,000,000 charged to Germany has been figured-out as being about $21,000,000,000. France is paying interest on a sum nearly twice as large. So is Great Britain. The United States indeed owes almost that. Considering the other side of the picture, can it be said that Germany has been treated more harshly than she could have expected? We must remember that, if Germany does not pay, France must become bankrupt. A bankrupt France would be equivalent to bankruptcy for the whole continent of Europe. Such a possibility is not worrying France, for she means to collect the German indemnity, and declares herself prepared to march any day. Germany could, if she would, raise $21,000,000,000 in cash and pay the indemnity off in a year or two if she would issue prior bonds and offer them for sale throughout the world. Nobody doubts that Germany is a solvent, going concern. But of course, in order to sell her indemnity bonds she would have to refund and retire for not less than half a century her internal debt. This amounts to a huge sum. But as it stands it is not worth much to those who own it in the form of German bonds. Present holders of such bonds might better afford to have pay day postponed rather than abolished altogether.

Doubtless the reparation sum fixed by the Allies will stimulate production of Rhine wines.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

HARDING'S SALARY LESS THAN PRESIDENT WILSON'S

Warren G. Harding, as president of the United States, will receive something like $18,000 less compensation from the government annually than Woodrow Wilson has received. The treasury will pay Mr. Harding the same amount that it pays Mr. Wilson—$75,000 annually—but internal revenue bureau officials say that Mr. Harding must return nearly one-fourth of his income tax. President Wilson was exempted from the income tax under a Supreme Court ruling because he came into the office before the enactment of the 1918 revenue laws under which taxes were sought to be imposed on the salaries of President or Federal Judge.

Silence is Golden

New York Evening Post: A German soldier had lost his power of speech through shell shock, but he could still make his wants known in writing. As his physician came to his ward one morning the soldier wrote: "I can speak again."

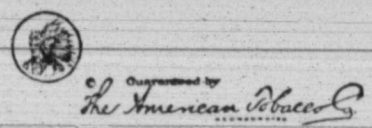

"Well, then, for heaven's sake talk," But the soldier wrote: "I shall never speak again. Through the medium of speech, immature and illogical thoughts are spread throughout the world. This war is the result of speaking. When I am obliged to put my ideas in writing I think them over first."

The soldier was transferred to a special hospital with the report: "Not dangerous, but incurable."

"The Fordson at Work"

A mighty valuable booklet just issued by the Ford Motor Company. It is yours for the asking. Drop in and get one or drop a card or letter and we will mail you a copy.

This book is not what the Ford Motor Company has to say about the Fordson Tractor, but what the tens of thousands of users have to say. Get the book! It is yours for the asking. Keep in mind the fact that behind every Fordson Tractor are all the resources of the great Ford Motor Company, likewise that reliable "Ford After-Service" which assures the keeping of the Tractor in working order every day in the year. Remember also that the Fordson Tractor, like the Ford car, is simplicity itself in design and construction; easy to understand and easy to operate. Come in and let us tell you more about it. It is more important to the farmer today than anything else.

The Age of Machine Power on the Farm is no longer a matter of speculation; it is here—an established fact. It is the latest advanced step civilization has taken. It comes to the farmer with the full promise to life the great burden of drudgery and wearisome, wearing-out toil from the muscles of man and carrying them with much more profit by power of machinery, with the result that larger production, more comfort and greater wealth will come to the farm homes wherever the Fordson is employed. Come in and talk it over.

Watch for the date of the Fordson Demonstration to be given at our garage.

Canyon B. Y. P. Upers Go to Hereford

It was a gay crowd of young people that left the Baptist church at 7:00 o'clock Sunday morning for Hereford. At ten o'clock the Hereford Baptist church was full to overflowing, for the Canyon B. Y. P. Upers were there fifty-five strong in time for Sunday School. They had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Atwood of Wayland preach at the morning service.

On the way over, someone started a prophetic whisper that perhaps Hereford would not be expecting so large a crowd. But at noon there were so many more invitations to dinner that there were guests that the Hereford ladies said they were very much disappointed because they had looked for at least twice that many. And judging from the abundance of good eats which all reported this must certainly have been a fact.

In the afternoon the Canyon B. Y. P. U. rendered the program, after which the Hereford leader took a group picture of the guests. The young people returned to Canyon in time for church that night. And all of them feel that the delightful hospitality of the Hereford people will not soon be forgotten by the Canyon B. Y. P. Upers.

AMARILLO RECEIVES ADVERTISING IN NEW U. S. ALMANAC

Washington, Feb. 26.—A lot of other towns in Texas have a kick. Uncle Sam has published an almanac mentioning Houston and Amarillo on every one of the twelve illustrated pages in it, and never mentioning any other town in Texas. Think of it! Here's a farmer's almanac going into millions of homes. Know how a farmer does business an almanac? Well, Uncle Sam prepared an especially attractive one. Every four or five pages there is a calendar page, nicely illustrated. Farmers do like to look at pictures. And when he has looked at the picture his eyes drop down the page and what does he see? Amarillo and Houston. Maybe the farmer is thinking about moving to another part of the country.

He'll ask: "Where in the duce is Amarillo?" Down in the Texas Panhandle, he'll find by investigation. Surrounded by acres and acres of fertile land, part cash, balance on easy terms. "And where is Houston?" "Everyone knows that," his wife replies. "Land may be a little steep, but think of picking strawberries in midwinter." So look at the advertising Amarillo and Houston get free. In fact, besides Amarillo and Houston, the only towns that have made Uncle Sam's almanac are Jacksonville, New Orleans, Charlotte, Memphis, Needles, Philadelphia, Columbus, Denver, Red Bluff, East Port, Alpena, St. Paul and Portland.

Uncle Sam claims that he gave them all this free advertising for the following reason: Jacksonville, New Orleans and Houston are the four principal cities on latitude 30 north; Charlotte, Memphis, Amarillo and Needles on latitude 35 north; Philadelphia, Columbus, Denver and Red Bluff on latitude 40 north; East Port, Alpena, St. Paul and Portland on latitude 45 north.

Uncle Sam's almanac out less than ten days has almost exhausted an edition and still the pressure for copies on the department of agriculture, senators and congressmen continues.

Oriental Rugs Boomed

Dry Goods Economist: What is described as the biggest carpet-making business in the world until the war, operated by a German firm, has been purchased by V. Behar, governing director of Cardinal & Hartford, Ltd., High Dearborn, London, W. C., according to the Daily Mail, for a price in excess of £500,000. It is understood that American and European business houses have been endeavoring for some time to secure an option on this business.

It is the plan of the new owners to operate looms at Tiflis, Caucasia; Teheran and Hamadan, Persia, as well as in other eastern centers. In addition, a pioneer party will start soon for Tabriz, Persia, to get the large plant there in full working order.

Normally the plant furnishes employment to 24,000 operatives.

As soon as the necessary arrangements can be made a force of 1,000 British work people will be sent to Tabriz.

The British Foreign Office is reported to have promised constant State protection to the various plants and the British people employed in them.

The purchase of the properties named marks the abandonment by the Germans of the hope of covering the Oriental fabrics industry of the world, as was their declared intention at the time they raised a fund of over £1,000,000 to exploit the industry, which for thousands of years has been the principal source of income for the people of Tabriz.

New methods of operation are to be introduced, where practicable in order to increase production and facilitate the transportation of the finished product to market. For example, a new railroad and a special line of steamships is talked of, motor vehicles are to supersede camels, and it is even stated that power looms will be employed for quantity production of certain goods, though of course the bulk of the output of the plants will be, as always, hand work.

Jeweler's Floors Yield Much Gold

New York World: The time-honored gold-miner's term for gold ore, or auriferous gravel in placer diggings, is "pay dirt." This desirable material is found not only in the Golden West, but knowing jewelry manufacturers "strike it rich" right here in Manhattan. Maiden Lane district gold-mining prospects are in jewelry factory floors, which yield platinum, gold and silver.

These metals are also extracted from dentists' refuse and from the sweepings of gold beaters, book-binders, pottery decorators, picture frame and mirror manufacturers.

Few manufacturing firms melt their own sweeps. In the '70s none of the manufacturers thought of covering their shop floors with either tar felt or linoleum, and the floors were of pine wood, with open cracks between the boards. When a manufacturer moved he requisitioned a refiner to superintend the ripping up of the floors, and these sometimes yielded nearly thousands of dollars.

Julius Wodiska, the jewel expert, relates an experience of his own. From 1879 to 1885 he had a factory at No. 44 Fulton street, over the store of an exterminator of rats and other vermin, who owned the building. In the summer of 1884 a shrewd gold refiner who knew the large amount of precious metals handled in Mr. Wodiska's place, told the landlord that any time the jeweler moved, he, the refiner, would pay the rat-catching landlord $300 for the privilege of taking up and relaying the floor of the jewelry factory. The landlord notified Wodiska that on the first of the coming May his rent would be doubled. Wodiska refused to pay and said he would move. The landlord was more than pleased. But Mr. Wodiska moved on April 1, and during that month he had the floor carefully turned up and every square inch of it and the space below it scraped. In vain the landlord protested and threatened a lawsuit. Before his lease expired, Mr. Wodiska had replaced the old floor, and he was quite astonished at the large amount of gold his refiner returned to him after the scrapings and dirt had been put through a furnace.

Fear

The chief fears that lower the vitality and invite disease are the fear of ill health, the fear of misfortune or bereavement, and of loss of money or position. But should sickness, bereavement or adversity come to you, face the facts courageously, catching the spirit of the ancient song, "I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me." Do not fear anything. Every morning, when you awake, repeat the words of this song until the strength of them is felt in your mind and body. "In quietness and in confidence shall be my strength." Begin each day with these promises uttered aloud with a confident assurance, and again each night as you prepare for sleep, and you will be surprised how much easier your days will be and how much more restful will be your nights. The habit of serious, resolute, trustful meditation upon these divine assurances, once formed and held, works its own marvels. The verifiable results of such a practice upon health, upon mental adequacy, upon character, delicate imperceptible though they seem at first, are increasingly registered upon the life within until they utter themselves in an enlarged and well-founded efficiency for all life's tasks. This is what the Psalmist said—he was perfectly aware of the fact that life would not be all green pastures and still waters; he would be compelled to walk in and through the valley of many a shadow; but, come what might, still he would not fear nor be afraid. The man whose inmost soul is filled with and possessed by such thoughts finds himself fortified against the encroachments of disease.

According to your faith, your openness, your willingness, your capacity, be it unto you! If everyone could form the habit of going about with the words, "I will be well! I will be well! I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me! I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me!" on his lips, in his mind and deeply imbedded in his heart, I do not say it would enable him to lie down with rattlesnakes or to drink water full of typhoid germs unharmed, but it would add greatly to his prospects of good health. Pitch your expectation high. Look for the best, hope for the best, strive for the best, and, according to your faith, be it unto you. If you will say these words resolutely, and keep on saying them trustfully, hopefully, that very action of your inner life will work wonders.

I do not say that no disease can stand before you, for you are not omnipotent; but I do say that you will set in operation one of the great healing forces of the world. Fear of disease and death is normal; still, to allow the mind to dwell on these things is to become a hypochondriac. To shrink from pain is as natural as hunger and as necessary for the preservation of the race; however, to be a slave to suffering is to be a nervous wreck.

Stop talking about your ills; stop thinking about them; stop pitying yourself. Fix your eyes on something high, fine, useful. Be unafraid, and say bravely and steadily, "I will be well! I will be well! I will fear no evil! You will be helped, because then you will be in tune with the infinite; your desires and determination will be linked with the purpose of God for you.

We are put into this world with a clean waybill to another port than this. Across the ocean of life our way lies straight to the harbor of Eternity. We are freighted with a consignment that is bound to be delivered, sooner or later, at the Master's wharf. Let us be alert, then, to recognize the seriousness of our destinies, and content ourselves no longer with shallow soundings. Look to it that your ship is in good order; then spread the sails, weigh the anchor, and point the prow fearlessly and trustfully for the country that lies on the other side of the deep and restless sea. Sooner or later the voyage must be made. Let us make it, then hopefully, courageously, uncomplainingly, with a resolute will at the wheel and the great God himself to furnish the chart. Then shall we weather the wildest gales, and find entrance at last to the Harbor of Peace.

Survey for Aristocracy or Democracy
(Statement by A. E. Winship, chairman for Discussion by National Council of Education in Atlantic City, 1921.)

The National Council of Education should only consider large and vital educational problems, and the most vital of America's present educational problems is to eliminate all causes for a death grapple between aristocratic and democratic ambitions in American education.

Let present tendencies continue to develop antagonism and there will be at no distant day such a catastrophe as has not been in America since the Civil War.

The stage is already set. He is wilfully blind who does not see it.

It is not a question of school men and women alone. It already involves Capital and Labor. Big business and big politics are organizing; it is already a race question and a religious question. It requires no considerable wit and no wisdom to see the classes that are arrayed with aristocracy and the masses that are arrayed with democracy. The National Council of Education should be big enough and broad enough to avoid being caught up by the fascinating charms of educational royalty and too staunch and strong to be caught by the under-tow that is so seductive when the cry of autoocracy is raised.

If aristocracy ever rules and reigns the public will be mere slaves, but if democracy becomes merely anti-aristocracy the world will go back to the autoocracy of savagery.

If for twenty-four hours the Ten Commandments should be absolutely and completely ignored it would take a thousand years to get back to law and order. We must not be the slaves of aristocracy and we must not be barbarians.

To avoid both, we must consider the tendency of the Educational Survey. If it is allowed to be an aristocratic scheme, if it becomes the tool of aristocrats in big business, in finance and in scholasticism it will repeat the experiences of the Czar, the Kaiser, the Sultan and Belshazzar.

Create educational rulers who thru surveys can say: "Whom they will they can slay and whom they will they can keep alive and whom they will they can set up and whom they will they can put down" and in that day will be written on the walls of their banquetting hall the words "MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN," weighed in the balances and found wanting.

If that day shall ever come the surveyors will be dancing at their own funeral.

On the other hand a wayfaring man though a fool can see the massing of limitless forces,—industrial, political and social—ready for some Lenin and Trotsky to lead them when Belshazzar's feast is the wake of the anti-common people.

The great hope of America, industrially, financially, socially and religiously, is an Educational Survey in which there shall be equitably represented scholastics and industrialists, university and normal colleges, superintendents and principals, secondary and classroom teachers—a survey in which there shall be no monopoly of propagandists of any color, hue or tint of professionalists.

Exchanges

Canada is busy buying airplanes from England for fire patrol and survey work. An attempt will also be made to use them in the seal industry.

It is predicted that the famine stalking thru China will claim more lives in the next six months than were lost in all the armies during the world's war.

A Chicago woman left $3,000 to provide a home and luxuries for her pet poodle dog.

LOBOES ON THE X I T

Note—This story is based on an incident that occurred on the X I T ranch about twenty-five years ago, as related by Mr. McCormick of this city. This ranch was one of the most noted of the early West Texas ranches. It consisted of about three million acres, and for purposes of administration was divided into divisions 35 by 50 miles in dimensions, each having headquarters, while the general headquarters were at Channing.

Large herds of antelope and mustangs roamed over the pastures. Employees were furnished by the company with arms and ammunition for the purpose of exterminating wolves that constantly made depredations on the cattle.

This ranch was sold and settled about 1913. —EDITOR.

Boots Davis was very tired. He was lying in some tall grass, in pretty much the same attitude in which he had fallen some hours before. How long he had been asleep he could not tell. He realized that it was near sunset, and already the chill of the night air could be felt. Now, Boots must be up and going, for the X I T ranch was very large, and he was a long distance from the house. Looking around, he discovered that his horse had wandered off. Fire-Fly had never deserted his master, and Boots felt sure he was somewhere near. As he began confidently looking for Fire-Fly, these words to the rhythm of clinking spurs, rang out over the plains:

"John may have my saddle, Bill may have my bed, Frank may have my pistol, — All after I am dead." The cold west wind moaned around him, bringing to his ears the mysterious sound of an uninhabited prairie. He walked on. Suddenly he saw a pair of glaring eyes no mean distance from him. Looking around, he saw a sea of hungry, steadfast eyes. These eyes were so set that they seemed to waver the length or width of his body. He tried to soothe himself by thinking they were there to do him no harm, but a backward glance revealed the fact that the vicious animals were in search of prey. Without an instant's thought he fled. The loboes paused at finding their victim so suddenly escaped. With a leap and a howl the leader pursued. Half the pack, anticipating a turn in his course, started off on a counter-attack. Without knowing it, he was soon headed into the counter-park. Nearer and nearer he came to the hungry wolves; nearer and nearer they came to him.

He realized now that the wolves had surrounded him. There was no use running. Where were his weapons? He reached for his pistol but found only one match. He was panic stricken. But remembering that a fire frightens loboes, he snatched the match from his pocket and struck it with the same movement. Then shielding the tiny flame with one hand he swept together a heap of prairie grass. The tiny flames sprang up and began spreading rapidly. Boots, in order to keep up his courage, began singing:

"John may have my saddle, Bill may have my bed, Frank may have my pistol, — All after I am dead." The spreading fire was a surprise to the loboes, and in their excitement they ran in every direction. Boots wondered what he should do should the wolves return, which he knew they would—a shot rang out upon the air. One lobo fell. Instantly the others were upon him.

Boots! Frank! With lightning speed two men were borne across the pasture and the hungry loboes spend away in search of another victim.

Petrograd; City of the Dead
New Republic: To be sure, Petrograd looks at a first glance like a dead city. Grass grows literally in the streets, and I even saw a wild flower here and there. Hamburg quays in the latter years of the war were in the same condition. Petrograd was in the industrial sense always an artificial creation. It depended on sea-borne English coal and American cotton. Its decay began long before the revolution, and it is lucky that only about 600,000 remain of its former 2,000,000 inhabitants. The mortality must have been heavy, but on the whole most of the vanished population has returned to its native villages. The city looked unspeakably dreary with its closed shops and its deserted streets while the pillless Northern light revealed the crumbling stucco and faded paint of its grandiose Italian palaces. Its fate, I imagine is to be a Northern Ghent, a superb architectural monument to a vanished past. It will begin to recover only when trade is resumed. Its harbor has been renovated this summer, but no ship has entered it.

World's Most Famous Mirages

Kansas City Star: One of the most celebrated mirages is that which is observed now and then from the neighborhood of Glacier Bay, in Alaska, where, in the distance, above a vast sheet of glacial ice, a city is seen as if suspended in the air. It has buildings of beautiful and imposing architecture, tall churches with spires and buttresses and many streets of houses, plain to the view.

This is the so-called Silent City of Alaska. Some persons have gone so far as to declare it is a view of the city of Bristol, in England.

There is a famous mirage called "Fata Morgana," which on occasions is seen from the neighborhood of Reggio, in Italy. Here the effect produced is due to a layer of heated air, which by refraction of light brings into view a distorted picture of the far-away Sicilian shore. To the Italian peasant, it appears as a city, with palaces, towers and minarets—the mysterious home of the fairy Morgana.

William Scoresby, the Arctic explorer, describes a similar mirage which he beheld from off the coast of Greenland. He writes:

"The general appearance of the coast, as viewed through a telescope, was that of an extensive, ancient city, abounding in ruins of castles, obelisks, churches and monuments—a grand and interesting phantasmagoria."

A feature of Arctic geography which appears on all the maps is Crocker Land, which Perry thought he saw from a mountain peak in Grant Land.

As everybody knows, mirages are very common in hot desert regions. A layer of warmed and rarified air serves as a mirror, reflecting objects above it. Thus, reflecting the sky, it may produce the effect of a sheet of water, the mistiness of the heated air lending ripples to help out the picture and render it more deceptive.

Women Hungrier Than Men

Spokane Spokesman Review: Do women get hungrier than men? This is a question which, while not exciting any one in particular, is causing considerable comment in the downtown lunch counter circles of cities in all parts of the country. Owners and clerks of these quick-eating places, which have sprung up like mushrooms since prohibition, say that more than half of their business is with girls and women. And they argue that some of their office girl customers eat two or three times each day.

The proprietor of a soda and lunch counter in a New York office building which houses thousands of employees about equally divided as to sex, says that the stenographers and other girls in these offices are more or less organized into what he terms the "Ten-Thirty Lunch Club." As regularly as the clock rolls around each day these girls drift down to the fountain one or two at a time, and stand there eating as if they had been forced to do without breakfast.

Then around noon or about 12:30 o'clock back they come for more and lots of it. About 3:30 in the afternoon comes the third rush of the lunch club, and the manager of this fountain says the combined business of these three rushes about pays his rent.

"Men get hungry, too," this manager states, "but they are not in it with the girls and women, for the men come down at regular lunch time, have their bite and then spend the rest of the lunch hour walking or playing billiards. But few men come down in between-meals-for anything to eat, while on the other hand, there is scarcely an hour during the morning or afternoon when my counter is not lined with girls and women."

Straw May Furnish New Fuel

Pittsburg Gazette Times: The straw stack on the farm may prove the solution for the increasing shortage of gasoline. In Kansas where straw stacks grow in greater profusion than elsewhere in the land, Government chemists are conducting experiments in the destructive distillation of wheat straw into fuel suitable for use in heating, lighting and for driving internal-combustion engines. The process hitherto used is too expensive to make the fuel commercially profitable, but it is hoped to cheapen it so that it may be produced as cheaply as the present price of gasoline. It has been demonstrated, according to the reports given out, that one ton of straw will produce forty gallons of fuel. On the basis of the estimate of this year's crop of straw, there is enough in Kansas alone to produce 45,000,000 gallons, and the State is but a galaxy of states that grow wheat in somewhat lesser quantities. It is the dream of the chemists that the day will dawn when the Kansas farmer will have his own still to turn his straw, now valueless, into fuel to drive his sedan, and that when he drives to town he will be able to load into his car a few gallons of the home product, gasoline, or its equivalent, of course to sell to some of his friends who do not have their straw stack. It is estimated that Kansas has been wasting straw that would produce $12 an acre additional gross revenue if the dream comes true. Kansas may point the way to every farmer—his own automobile fuel producer, and here's hoping she may. The straw stack provided the fodder for the yoke of oxen, the motive power of an earlier day. In harmony with progress it is fitting that it should feed the modern method of locomotion.

The Law of Prayer

O. S. Marden in New Success: Many people seem to think that the Creator answers prayers because of the importance of the one who prays, and that all we need therefore in order to get what we want. This is to ignore the law of prayer, or to imagine it can be changed. But nothing of the kind is possible. No law of the Creator has ever changed, or ever will change one iota. God does not change his laws, any more than the laws of mathematics change, simply because of the ignorance of those who do not know or do not try to apply them. They must know and obey the law, and then they will get results. If we knew and obeyed all of God's laws, we should not be sick, we should not be unsuccessful, we should not be poor, we should not be miserable; we should be the opposite of all these; we should be healthy, successful, prosperous, happy.

If God were to make exceptions in individual cases and change his laws simply because we plead to him hard enough; if he were to change any of his supposedly immutable laws for the sake of performing a miracle to prove to human beings that he is a God; if he were to alter eternal principles because of the impurity of his children, he would not be the perfect God, the unchanging truth we worship. We could not respect such a God any more than we could respect an earthly father who could violate a law to satisfy the demands for an impudent or wilful child.

Realistic Literature

Detroit Free Press: Brander Matthews, the noted critic, discussed at a Columbia tea the American short story.

"The American short story would be better," he said, "if the American short story writer were less mercenary. I'd like him to think more of beauty and less of cash."

"A short story writer read one of his tales the other day. It wasn't bad and I told him so.

"I like the thing," I said. "It's realistic."

"The short story writer beamed. 'Realistic,' he cried. 'That's the word I want to hear. And how much Mr. Matthews, do you think it will realize?'"

Texas Holidays

There are no legal holidays in the United States, each state or territory fixing by act of its legislature what days shall be legal holidays therein. The President's proclamation makes Thanksgiving day a legal holiday only in the District of Columbia, although most states provide by law that any date appointed by the President as a day of fasting and prayer, or of thanksgiving shall be a legal holiday in such states. The governor of each state is usually given power to designate certain days as holidays by proclamation. Election day is expressly stated to be a legal holiday in the statutes of most of the states, but is not a legal holiday in others. Very few states will hold general elections in 1921, although local elections and town meetings take place in many of them. These are usually not legal holidays.

In a book issued by the Guaranty Trust company of New York, all information is given relative to bank and public holidays throughout the world. In this book the holidays for each state and territory in the Union and for each American possession overseas will be found in its respective alphabetical order. These are the Texas holidays:

Jan. 1, New Year's day; Feb. 22, Washington's birthday; March 2, Texas Flag day-Sam Houston Memorial day; April 21, San Jacinto day; June 3, Jefferson Davis' birthday; July 4, Independence day; Sept. 5, Labor day; Oct. 12, Columbus day; Nov. 11, Victory day; Nov. 24, Thanksgiving day; Dec. 25, Christmas day, and as this latter day falls on Sunday, the following day will be observed.

John Barleycorn and John Bull

A well known Fort Worth minister using the Fosdick figures proves to his own satisfaction at least that there is a thousand per cent more crime unwhipped or unpunished in America than in Great Britain.

America is a dry country. Texas is a dry state. There are 19,000 public houses in England. There are more breweries and distilleries in England than America ever knew. There is a saloon or a drinking place for every 200 persons in the tight little isle.

Now is booze a crime preventative? The liquor bill of the British Isles in 1920 went beyond the $2,000,000,000 mark and the British Isles contain a population of less than 40,000,000. In the good old days John Barleycorn was held responsible for American crime and criminals. Now it appears that the suspended sentence law, the movies and the newspapers are responsible for crime and criminals.

Kenneth L. Russell says the peering article in the Saturday Evening Post of last week. He devoted his pen and the space allotted to him to the drink habit of the people of the British Isles, the quantity of booze consumed last year and the cost to the British exchequer.

It appears according to some of the wise men of the world that in "the good old days" booze made men criminals in America but it appears to make them lovers of law and order in the British Isles.

Kenneth L. Russell says the people over there are drink sodden. If so, is it possible that they are robbed or deprived of their criminal instincts by the flowing bowl?—Fort Worth Record.

Marshall Field Ideas

In the dealer service for February, Marshall Field & Co., Chicago, urge dealers to use a larger variety of advertising methods for 1921.

"The flow of trade will continue toward your store if you keep the buying public well informed of your preparedness to meet its needs," the report says.

"Advertising will sell the merchandise if liberally and consistently used. Make printers ink work hard for you. Change the windows oftener; attract attention to the interior displays. Advertising initiative helps to keep business normal and healthy."

"Plan now for brisk business. Advertise and display the merchandise the moment it reaches your shelves. Look with confidence into the future."—Clarendon News.

The Palo Duro Canyon

"Nationalization of the Palo Duro canyon south of Amarillo is a wish of the Panhandle which will be gratified in time, believe leading West Texans," says the Waco Times-Herald. "Very few people of the state realize that in the Plains country there is a grand canyon which is more comprehensive and capable of appreciation than that in Arizona; that it could be made the greatest playground in the Southwest by the expenditure of an insignificant sum; that it could be made the greatest storage reservoir in the Southwest and that it has scenery that outclasses anything in the Rockies or the Grand Canyon itself. The great defile, 1,000 feet in Mother Earth is not discoverable until one reaches the brink of the chasm. The entire country thereabouts is as level as a pool table. Then comes the abrupt "jump-off" into nature. Down at the bottom in the coldest weather beautiful flowers, plants and herbs are growing. Up on the plains, just above, the grass is brown and dead. A small flow of pure water rushes through the canyon, fed here and there at short distances by purring springs. Already private club and church associations have built parks along the course of this stream. In summer large crowds from Amarillo and elsewhere picnic on its banks. A trip to Amarillo is not complete without a visit to this great wonder of the Southwest. But why not its nationalization, brethren beloved of the Panhandle? The federal government has nothing whatever to do with public lands of Texas; it waived all claims when Texas was annexed to the Union. Can't we have a state park?"

Defunct Curtain Raisers

Idea: At the moment the curtain raiser seems to have received a knock-out, for not being shown in London. This is rather a pity, for I have seen the plays that followed them, and the curtain raiser gave the pit and gallery the idea that they were getting value for money when the long play was rather skimpy. There is some talk of revising this form of play writing, which certainly afforded scope for budding dramatists before they tried their typewriters at longer plays.

Not to Be Bribed

Boston Transcript: "Pat," said the excise officer, "I'll give you five shillings if you'll take me to a private still." Pat agreed, pocketed the money and off they started.

For many weary miles, over mountain bog and moor they tramped, until they came into view of a barracks. Pointing to a soldier seated on a step inside the square, Pat said, "There ye are, sor, me brother, Mike; he's been a soldier for tin years an' he's a private still."

We wish to make a correction of the report in last week's paper. It was reported that we had 49 present on the 29th, but that was a mistake. We had only 40 present on that date.

Last Sunday, the 27th, there were 63 present and we got the $5.00 offered. We have now set our eyes on claiming that promise of $10.00 when we reach the 100 mark. Come on, fellows, it is no time to let down now.

Our class is open to anyone who desires to meet with us. You are welcome.

BACK OCHE IS DISCOURAGING
But Not So Bad If You Know How To Reach The Cause.

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pain pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Canyon people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this case:

Mrs. W. E. Bates, Canyon, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for some time. Often my back begins to ache and gets lame and sore. Sometimes I get so dizzy I almost fall over and I have spells of headache. I also feel tired and worn out. Then again my kidneys get out of order. Whenever I feel this way I begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills and a few never fail to give me instant relief."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Bates had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
