

COMMENCEMENT NORMAL CLOSED SATURDAY, JUNE 4

ONE OF BEST PROGRAMS EVER PRESENTED IN THE SCHOOL

Large Number of Visitors Attended Exercises of the School During Commencement.

The Eleventh Annual Commencement of the West Texas State Normal College closed Saturday at noon, after one of the most enjoyable week's entertainment and educational programs the school has ever had. Every program of the week was highly interesting and had the finished qualities which made for the advancement of the school's standing among its friends and patrons of this section of the state who had gathered to celebrate the annual event of commencement and to congratulate the large class which was completing its work in the school.

The commencement sermon of Dr. Roy Rutherford of Amarillo was one of the most delightful addresses ever heard in this city. Dr. Rutherford is not only an entertaining pulpit orator, but an advanced thinker who delighted and held his large audience.

The Alumni Banquet at Cousins Hall Thursday evening was very largely attended and greatly appreciated by the members of the organization.

The concert of the College Orchestra Thursday night was one of the best musical treats the school has ever had. Rain fell for nearly an hour before the time for the concert, yet the auditorium was nearly filled with a highly appreciative audience. The program presented by the orchestra was of a varied class of music which appealed to and held the audience. The violin solo of Miss Hamill was highly praised. Wallace R. Clark, conductor, and the members of his orchestra are to be highly commended upon the success of this program, and likely the music which this organization furnished for both the Class Play Friday night and the Commencement Program Saturday morning.

Friday was Class Day in the school and the program Friday morning was highly interesting. Each class put on stunts which were highly appreciated and showed very commendable work and talent among the performers.

The Training School Section was under the direction of Miss Anna Hibbert; the first and second year Normal Classes under the direction of Miss Mary Dockery and Frank Farmer; the Freshman class under the direction of Dean Crawford; the Sophomore class under the direction of Chas. Wilson; the Junior class under the direction of Mody C. Boatright; the Senior class under the direction of Miss Lizzie Kate Smith.

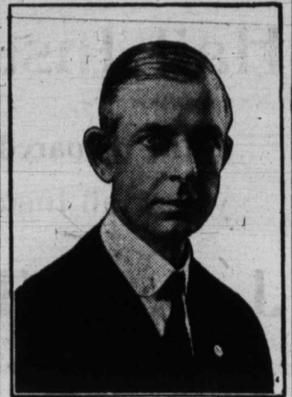

The afternoon was devoted to various exhibits in the arts and domestic science departments, which were visited by large numbers and were highly pleasing.

Friday night came another great treat in the presentation of the play by the Public Speaking Department, "The Prince of Liars." The play under the direction of Misses Mary Morgan Brown and Sadie O'Connell was pronounced to be the best the school has ever had, and all members of the cast doing exceptional work. The following was the cast of characters:

- Arthur Hummingtop, Hubert Hamill
- Ralph Ormerod, his friend
- Leskins Wells
- Joshua Gillibrand, his brother-in-law
- W. Archie Johdan
- Dodson, his butler
- Robert G. Hill
- Mrs. Gillibrand, his mother-in-law
- Joye Mills
- Mrs. Hummingtop, his wife
- Frances Ramsey
- Daisy Mattland, his niece
- Edith Edllis
- Rosa Colombier, Carlotta Cheney
- Barbara, a maid
- Marie Dodson

Saturday afternoon the rain again interfered with the attendance, but the auditorium was nearly filled who greatly enjoyed the address of Judge A. B. Watkins of Athens, member of the Board of Regents. Short talks were also made by Martin O. Flowers of Lockhart, J. J. Bennett of Stephenville and Miss Margie E. Neal of Carthage, members of the Board of Regents. Owing to illness A. C. Goeth of Austin was unable to be present and R. J. Eckhardt of Taylor was to be at one of the other Normal schools and could not attend. The members of the Board spent the day looking after the institution and inquiring into its needs. This was the first trip to the school of Miss Neal and Mr. Bennett who qualified on the Board last month.

MOBLEY, DAIRY EXPERT, WILL SPEAK HERE NEXT MONDAY

One of the big features of Trades Day will be the address of H. S. Mobley, dairy expert.

With the battery of four wells and two engines, Canyon will have an excellent pumping station which can take care of the needs of the city for several years to come.

FORMER CANYON BANKER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

W. D. MORRELL FOUND DEAD IN FORT WORTH HOTEL

Left Canyon Three Years Ago—Was Cashier of First State Bank in Canyon.

W. D. Morrell, formerly of this city, was found dead in a Fort Worth Hotel last Wednesday with a bullet wound through his heart. Mr. Morrell is well known in Canyon, having lived here with his family for nearly two years while he was cashier of the First State Bank.

The following story was printed in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram regarding the sad affair:

W. D. Morrell, 35, vice president of the Farmers State Bank and Trust Company of Gorman, was found dead about 3 p. m. Wednesday with a bullet wound through his heart in a room at the Terminal Hotel, Fort Worth. A verdict of suicide was returned following an inquest held by Justice of the Peace Moore. Morrell registered at the hotel Tuesday and it is thought that he shot himself sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

When found the body was clothed in a bathrobe, the pockets of which contained notes to his brother, G. W. Morrell and to his 12 year old son, Griffin. In the note to his son the boy was cautioned by his father to live right, save part of every cent he made and not to go into debt. The letter closed with a touching farewell. The contents of the letter to the brother are unknown. G. W. Morrell arrived here from Denton Thursday morning. Another brother, C. D. Morrell of Post, and officials of the Farmers State Bank and Trust Company of Gorman are expected here during the day.

All banks in Gorman were closed Thursday in respect to Morrell, who began his banking career there two years ago, during the oil boom. Why he killed himself is a mystery as his own and the bank's affairs are declared to be in excellent condition.

Morrell was a star athlete at the Austin College, Sherman, at one time. It was while in school that he met a north Texas girl whom he afterward married. They were divorced about nine months ago, it is said, and she is living somewhere near Fort Worth, it was stated Thursday. His relatives were unable to ascribe a single reason why Morrell should want to take his life.

The dead banker before, coming to Gorman had lived at Denton, where his children, Griffin, 12, and Lucy C, 5, live with his mother. The body is being held at the undertaking establishment of Sloan-Harveson pending completion of funeral arrangements. Morrell will be buried at Denton Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Services at the First Presbyterian Church, Denton.

Terrill Publicity Manager

At the meeting of the Commercial League Tuesday, a committee of E. H. Powell, J. A. Hill and E. E. Foy was appointed to select a publicity man for this city. The committee secured the services of R. A. Terrill, who started work yesterday. He will maintain an office with the Prairie staff in the Normal building, and will handle all outside publicity for the Normal and Randall County. Mr. Terrill was editor of the Randall County News eleven years ago, and served on the Denton newspapers. His selection means much publicity in the big daily newspapers of the state.

Trades Trip Not Attempted

Owing to the uncertainty of the weather, and the fact that the roads are in bad condition, no Trades Day Excursion will be made tomorrow.

Rats on the Increase

Dr. S. L. Ingham brought up the rat subject at the Commercial League luncheon Tuesday, and urged that a concerted action be taken by all the citizens to kill off the rats. Various methods of trapping and poisoning the rats were discussed, and all citizens urged to do their best to exterminate this pest.

TWO RANDALL COUNTY MEN ARE LISTED AS SLACKERS

Sheriff W. C. Black has notice from the war department to arrest William Ford Rippey and Jack Adams Stamps, both of whom registered from Randall county and did not go into the army from the local draft board.

Rippey was a telegraph operator stationed at Umbarger. The members of the local board state that he was called, but had left the county and did not respond.

Stamps seems to be unknown, and the Sheriff has been unable to get any trace of him.

It has been discovered that many of the men who are posted by the war department as slackers had volunteered and served nobly in either the army or navy. Should there be any person in this county knowing the whereabouts of either of these men, their names might be cleared by the government, as no doubt one or both of them served without going through the Randall County Draft Board.

RAIN FALLS IN RANDALL COUNTY EACH DAY SINCE LAST THURSDAY—OVER 4 IN.

Randall County has received from four to eight inches of rain during the past six days. The rain is the best the country has had in several years, falling slowly at all times and putting the ground in most excellent condition.

The lakes over the county are filling up, which is a good sign for good summer and fall moisture.

The roads which have not been graded are in almost impassable condition.

On account of the washouts in Colorado and Kansas, the Santa Fe is running all passenger service over this line. Tuesday evening seven passenger trains went through the city going west. Passenger trains may be seen at almost any hour of the day or night. Freight trains are held up in order to clear the passenger traffic. Station Agent R. McGee stated yesterday that it was likely all trains from the north line would have to come over this line for six or seven days yet owing to the great destruction of the railroads.

SANTA FE AUTHORIZES THREE MORE LIGHTS AT CROSSINGS

A. J. Arnold stated Tuesday at the Commercial League Luncheon that he had been authorized by the Santa Fe to place lights at three railroad crossings. The one north of the First National Bank, the one west of the depot, and the one at the mill.

Mr. Arnold stated that with the assurance of paying, he was interested in seeing that four ornamental lights be placed on the public square, one at each of the four corners. Mr. Arnold is rebuilding his lines in order to provide a separate street lighting unit. The work is practically completed in all territory east of the square. He wants to make provision for lighting the square on this circuit.

Mr. Arnold states that the price for these lights would come under the present contract with the city. He would do all of the installation of the system free of charge. Each of the ornamental lights set firmly in concrete would cost about $70. C. D. Lester was appointed to take this matter up with the city council and if this body does not install the lights, a donation will be sought from the citizens of Canyon.

Paving Election is Called for July 9

In this issue of the News is found the election notice issued by the City Council in its meeting Monday night for a new election on paving.

This new election is brought about by the fact that the bonds authorized in the election last October are to run 40 years with a 20 year option. This class of bonds will sell for only 75 cents on the dollar.

The council has had opportunity to sell 20 year bonds at par.

The voters will be asked to authorize the city council to cancel the 40 year bonds and issue in their place 20 year bonds. A vote for the new bonds means that paving can be started within a few weeks. A vote against the new bonds means that the city council will have to wait until the bond market improves in order to dispose of the 40 year bonds at par.

In the October election there were only two votes against the paving bonds. There should be no votes against the change of the bonds next month, as the citizens have already signified their intention of backing the council in paving, and the sooner Canyon gets this paving, the sooner general civic improvements will start.

Dr. S. L. Ingham brought up the rat subject at the Commercial League luncheon Tuesday, and urged that a concerted action be taken by all the citizens to kill off the rats. Various methods of trapping and poisoning the rats were discussed, and all citizens urged to do their best to exterminate this pest.

Bronc Riding, Boxing, Athletic Contests, Public Speaking and Auction Sale Will Be Worth Attending.

Next Monday will be the regular monthly Trades Day in Canyon, and everything points to a most interesting and entertaining day in Canyon.

An admission of 15 cents will be charged, all of this money to go toward paying for the new Sales Pavilion and Fair building. E. A. Driver, Lloyd Rusk, Jesse Poston and other well known riders will donate their services in this contest to further the building fund.

CHAUTAQUA PROCEEDS WILL TAKE BOYS TO STATE FAIR

The Chautauqua which will be handled this year by the Boys' Club under the direction of C. F. Walker, will use the proceeds of the entertainment to pay the expenses of the Club to the Dallas Fair. Mr. Walker believes that the Fair is a great educational institution for the boys of the Club and wants to take a large number on the trip.

The Chautauqua comes August 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5.

Work of collecting the Randall county exhibit for the Dallas Fair will start just as soon as the grain crop is ready to gather.

A committee was appointed at the Commercial League luncheon Tuesday to see the Commissioners Court regarding their part of the exhibit. This committee is composed of A. J. Arnold, C. D. Lester, and C. W. Warwick.

440 Students Enrolled in Normal Yesterday

Yesterday was the opening day for registration in the summer session of the Normal. The total enrollment of the day was 440, being the largest ever enrolled in a single day. More than one hundred students were in the building unable to be enrolled for want of time.

The students commenced to arrive early last week, and every train during the past few days has been loaded.

There is no way of estimating the number which will be enrolled for the summer session, but it is expected that all records of the school will be far surpassed.

All members of the summer faculty are here ready for work.

Dr. Grimes Dies in Iowa

Mrs. S. L. Ingham received a message Tuesday night telling of the death of her father, Dr. W. S. Grimes at the family home in Wapello, Iowa. Dr. Grimes has been in very poor health for the past year, and Mrs. Ingham spent several weeks at his bedside this spring. He is well known in Canyon, having visited his daughter here several times.

The many friends of Mrs. Ingham sincerely sympathize with her in the death of her father.

A. Warren, C. F. Walker, E. E. Foy, C. W. Warwick, W. W. Kuehn, A. E. Wise, J. A. Cheatnam, C. D. Lester, A. J. Arnold, J. A. Hill and A. N. Henson.

W. A. Warren, a new business man in Canyon made a talk on the wonderful opportunities of the business interest in Canyon, pointing out the fact that this city need not live in the shadow of another town, but make a distinct light of its own. The advantages that Canyon has surpass those of any town in this section, and it was on account of these advantages that Mr. Warren decided to move to Canyon after making a close investigation of many other towns in this section.

AMERICAN LEGION CLUB HOUSE SOON TO BE COMPLETED

First Club House of Legion in This Section of the State—Very Fine Home.

The American Legion Club House located just north of the square will be completed by the middle of next week, and arrangements are now being made for the formal opening of the Club.

The people of Canyon congratulates the officers of the Club and the American Legion Post upon the completion of this building. The Palo Duro Post is the first American Legion Post in the whole of Northwest Texas to build and equip a club house. The Post was among the very first in this territory to organize.

The building is one story, 40x80 feet. A gallery runs along the entire east side, with two entrances to the building.

PANHANDLE BAPTISTS WILL MEET AT CANYON CLUB, JUNE 15 TO 22

The Panhandle Baptist Assembly will be held June 15-22, at the Canyon Club grounds, Canyon, Texas.

Everything is ready for the second annual session of the Panhandle Baptist Assembly. This is the youngest of our Texas assemblies but it is a healthy infant and is growing stronger right along. There is a great need for a rallying place for the Baptists of this section of Texas, a section which is as large as the state of Ohio. The Assembly is planning to take care of this need, furnishing a place where our people can meet each year for inspiration, information and recreation. What can be better for our people than to meet and mingle together each year in this kind of an Assembly, to which will come our State Leaders, and our outstanding preachers and laymen as well as our leaders among the women. Here we will study the plans for putting over great programs on our several fields, here we will forget the cares of business and the ordinary drudgeries of the day, and engage in good, clean wholesome play. Here we will listen to men of God who will set our own souls on fire to do greater things in His Kingdom, and here we will witness in the serene beauty of our surroundings one of God's own temples, placed here with His own hands.

Time and Place

Time:—The Assembly program will begin with the quiet hour, Wednesday morning, June 15 and will run eight days, closing Wednesday evening, June 22. Let Panhandle Baptists plan to make this week a "red letter" week in the history of our work in this section of the state. You are urged to arrive so as to be ready to take up work Wednesday the 15th, and not to think of leaving until after the benediction on the evening of the 22nd. It will be arranged so that the night of the 22nd may be spent on the grounds.

Place:—The Assembly will be held on the Canyon Club grounds, located in the beautiful canyon of the Panhandle country, next to nature's heart. The grounds are located three miles west of the little city of Canyon. Here one will find the head waters of the Red River, winding in and out among the many beautiful groves. Here one may explore to his or her heart's content, a spot made for the eye of man to marvel at. A visit to the Assembly with its magnificent splendor will speedily convince one that no more beautiful site could have been chosen.

The Santa Fe Railroad runs through the town of Canyon. People using the Rock Island or Fort Worth & Denver will change at Amarillo, making the rest of the trip on the Santa Fe. Cars may be secured at Canyon which will take you directly to the grounds.

Coming by Auto:—You will find the roads delightful. A special place will be prepared where you may park your cars throughout the assembly.

Rooming and Boarding Facilities

Tents:—There will be room for all, so come. Small tents will be rented for $5. These tents will accommodate four people. Cots may be secured to place in the tents for $2 per cot. Larger tents which will accommodate as many as eight people may be rented for $8. Cots to go in these tents will be rented as stated above.

Dormitory tents will be erected to accommodate any who may not come with a party and will want a cot, tent space and cot in the dormitory tents will be $4 per person.

Many of our people have their own tents and cots. BRING THEM. The sum of one dollar will be charged for tent space. Should you have just your tent, cots may be rented.

Meals:—Arrangements have been made with the Canyon Cafe to take charge of the restaurant for the period of the Assembly. A meal ticket may be purchased upon your arrival upon the grounds for $10. This will be good for three meals a day for the entire eight days. If you do not care to purchase the ticket, each meal will cost you fifty cents.

It will be possible for you to do your own cooking if you so desire. Parties may bring small oil stoves or cook over camp fires. Many will want to furnish their own breakfast and supper and eat dinner at the restaurant. This can be arranged.

What to Bring:—It is important that you note carefully these essentials. Each person should bring a quilt of some sort to use as a mattress. It will also be necessary for each person to have blankets. Bring your own towels, soap, wash basin, comb, brush, etc. The Assembly will not be prepared to furnish these things. If you plan to prepare your own meals, be certain to bring cooking utensils, etc. It will not be necessary to bring groceries, these may be secured on the grounds.

Text Books for Teachers

In preparing the curriculum for this year's Assembly, the program committee sought to select text books covering every phase of our Sunday School work and B. Y. P. U. activities, as well as to provide conferences on other problems of church life. In selecting the faculty to teach these books, the committee feels amply rewarded for the time and trouble by having been able to engage a corps of teachers thoroughly capable in every way.

Sunday School:—Work for Sunday School officers, members and all others who are interested in Sunday School work will be represented by four books. The first and second divisions of the New Normal manual will be taught by secretary J. W. Wiley, of Texas.

The third division of the New Normal manual will be taught by Rev. G. A. Curlee of Childress, Texas.

Winning to Christ will be taught by Field Secretary W. S. Wiley, of the Baptist Sunday School Board.

Plans and programs for Cradle Roll, Beginners and Primary workers will be taught by Miss Elsie Hardin, Elementary worker for Texas.

B. Y. P. U. Work:—Will be represented by four books as well. The Senior B. Y. P. U. Manual will be taught by Secretary O. J. Christian. The Junior B. Y. P. U. manual will be taught by Miss Lucy T. Sprecker. Training the Baptist Spirit will be taught by Rev. J. H. Matthews of Plainview. Studying for Service will be taught by Miss Anna Morris of Fort Worth.

Conferences

W. M. U.—Conference will be conducted every day by Mrs. A. B. Beddoe, State Secretary of Woman's work in Texas. This is going to be one of the most important conferences of the Assembly. Our Baptist women of the Panhandle are urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

Pastors and Laymen:—Will have a conference daily conducted by Dr. W. D. Morrow of the Oklahoma Baptist University. Dr. Morrow has a great deal of experience and will prove a great help to our pastors in the Panhandle section of the State. Let every pastor take advantage of this splendid opportunity.

Inspirational Speakers

Every morning from eleven thirty to twelve fifteen we are to have addresses by men who can deliver the goods. Such men as Dr. H. W. Virgin of Amarillo, Dr. W. S. Wiley of Muskogee, Okla., Dr. E. B. Atwood of Plainview, State Sunday School Secretary, W. B. Phillips, State B. Y. P. U. Secretary, T. C. Gardner and others will thrill us with their messages.

In the evening Dr. Benj. Lawrence, Pastor of the First Baptist church of Shawnee, Okla., will be the inspirational speaker. For seven years Dr. Lawrence led the Baptist of Mississippi, and is thoroughly capable to bring messages that will inspire as well as instruct. He is now pastor of the most influential church in the state of Oklahoma. Where Dr. Lawrence to be the only speaker at the Assembly, it would be well worth your while to attend in order to hear him.

We are also to have with us Dr. Harold Major, president of the Simmons Baptist College, who will deliver the inspirational addresses the three last evenings of the Assembly. Those who know Dr. Major will realize the treat they have in store for them.

Quiet Hour

It is well to begin the day right, and so a series of Sunrise Devotional meetings will be held every morning during the assembly. For this purpose we have secured such men as Rev. W. L. Tabbs, Rev. Chas. T. Whaley, Rev. E. G. Pennington, Dr. E. B. Atwood, Rev. H. B. Whaley and Rev. J. R. Hicks. These men are well qualified to lead the devotions of the people during the Assembly.

Music

Music that will match the finest ever heard has been arranged for each evening for one hour, the people who attend the Assembly will be entertained by the great chorus choir which will be organized. What greater inspiration can be furnished than that which comes from great congregational singing? We are to have that. The music will be under the personal direction of Rev. H. V. Hamilton.

If you have a larger and stronger car than the car coming in the opposite direction, you have the right of way. Aim the nose of your car at the nose of the opposing driver's car, blow your horn violently and step on the gas. The chances are ten-to-one he will get out of the way.

Exception—If the other man is in a Ford, especially a second-hand Ford, don't take any chances. He may want a new car and believe the quickest way to get one is to let you run into him. —James J. Montague, in Auto Sparks.

No one has been able to discover just what "Normalcy" is or stands for. The business man would like to have it stand for war profits, with pre-war prices on labor. The farmer would like to sell his produce at war prices, and buy back at pre-war prices. The laboring man would like to have war-time wages and buy his food and clothing at pre-war prices. "Normalcy" has not been reached and will not be reached until every fellow is willing to cut his profits down to pre-war basis, no matter whether he is a business man, farmer or laboring man.

The tourists are coming thick and fast. Randall county has good roads and these are appreciated by the tourist. Canyon, with the only state educational institution in Northwest Texas, and the greatest educational institution in Texas, has a wonderful opportunity to make an impression upon these tourists which will bring many of them back as permanent residents of our town. Make Canyon a city of beautiful homes.

A little paint is the cheapest way to beautify your home and incidentally add materially to its value. There are houses in Canyon which might be sold at a good price or rented at a profitable price if painted up. Paint is a very cheap investment when it comes to increasing the value of property. Clean up and paint up.

The Randall County News has turned out several hundred dollars worth of printing for Amarillo firms during the past five months. There is not a town in Northwest Texas with better printing equipment than the Randall County News. The buyers of good printing know the best place to come for their work.

As educational center of the Panhandle, Canyon should be a city of beautiful homes. Improving the streets and putting in side-walks is imperative. More trees are necessary. Cutting weeds and planting flowers cannot be overlooked. Painting up will help. Let's make Canyon the prettiest town in the Panhandle-Plains country.

With earthquakes in California, floods in Colorado, race riots in Oklahoma, ague in Louisiana, cyclones in Central Texas, and excessive heat in South Texas, the Panhandle country has it on the whole bunch as a desirable place to live.

That was most assuredly a grand and glorious rain. It will do much toward developing the wheat crop and makes possible a great row crop for this year.

Since the rain it is necessary to get busy and cut weeds. They are growing fast. Cut them while they are small.

Do not overlook Trades Day in Canyon next Monday. It will be a rare opportunity, to buy a big supply of necessities for the home at a good discount.

A Good Platform
(Plainview News).

John Temple Graves, who lectured at the Chautauque here Friday afternoon, is one of the nation's most eminent editors. He is a Georgian by birth and was raised a state's right democrat. He is of the South. He gained a name as editor of the Atlanta Journal, and afterwards became editor of the New York Journal, and Hearst's string of mighty newspapers. He now resides in Washington City.

In his lecture here on "Armageddon" he announced a platform for America. It is terse but it fills nearly the whole bill. It is "Work or starve," "Save or suffer," "Play together or play hell," "Be an American or get out of this country."

Let's analyze this short platform: The man who will not work should starve, for the man who does not work does not deserve to eat, no matter how poor or rich he may be. Man was put on earth to work. Work is the greatest blessing ever bestowed upon mankind. It is the sheet-anchor of progress and happiness. It converts the desert into a paradise. Work is the tonic of life. When great sorrow comes into life, but for work one would lose his mind. "Hit the ball," hit it hard and keep hitting it is the duty of man, for it makes him a man.

The person who will not save does not deserve to have, and usually will suffer. This was proven during the past several years. Wages and profits were high, and people made money faster than ever before in their lives—yet few saved much. Now they are suffering. People spent their money like drunken sailors in port. A $10 a week raise in wages meant too often that the recipient began to spend $20 a week more. Dr. NG Poon Chew in his lecture Wednesday declared the American people are the most wasteful in the world, and the average American family wastes enough to keep up a family in any foreign country. Americans need the spirit of economy and thrift, for the Lord gives men the young and middle age periods of production for the purpose of making and laying in store enough to keep them during the rainy days and in old age. It is astonishing how few men when they die and leave an estate of as much as $500; most men leave not enough to pay their funeral expenses. The world would indeed be much happier if people would save; it would progress faster, for only saved capital is ever available for the building of industrial enterprises. If somebody did not save there would be no railroads, no ships, no factories, no skyscraping buildings, no homes, no churches. The person who does not save is never happy; radicalism and bolshevism is the result of non-saving for the minute a man begins to save and have he becomes a better citizen. If people worked and saved the greater part of our economic and political problems would be automatically, rightly and satisfactorily solved.

"Play together or play hell," is rather a harsh statement, but it is expressive of true Americanism. The man who will not play the game fair, and take the guff if needs be without squaking he is a very sorry American. Be a sport. Live and let live. Don't profiteer. Meet your fellowman on fair grounds. Live by the Golden Rule. Never hit below the belt. Never sulk or grouch. If things are not going right, labor to remedy them, but do it in a constructive, not an incoercive manner.

"Be an American or get out of the country," needs no comment, except that America is the greatest, freest and best land the sun ever shown upon. It is God's promised land for modern people. There are more opportunities here than in all the other countries on the round world. The worst day ever in America was a hundred times better for mankind than the best day in any of the countries of Europe and Asia. The man who does not believe in America with his whole soul is not fit to live on its soil. There should be no hyphenates in the United States.

Yes, Col. Graves' platform is a good one.

What is in a Name?

An exchange says that France has a home brew that is called "prunelle." In that case we might call the home-made kind of the Panhandle "raisin-ell."

Rag Tom

Forlorn he lies, high upon a dusty shelf, tattered, torn, and dirty. His one-time Boy Blue suit is faded; his ears and thumbs have long since been chewed off by his vicious baby cousins.

His twelve years have been rough years during which time he has been the playmate of children of every sort. He was looked upon with pride by every member of the family; the children's grandfather has been seen to carry him tenderly in out of the rain, where he had been left asleep in the play house. He has ridden on horses, and once two small boys even tied him on a calf's back. The calf, finding himself under unusual circumstances, kicked and ran until poor Tommie's saddle slipped and he fell face downward on the sand, where he was picked up a few minutes later by the laughing youngsters.

His life has made many others happy, but his days are limited. He is my own doll, given to me on my sixth birthday, and is kept only as a relic of by-gone days and in remembrance of a very dear friend.

To look at him causes a sad smile, but continuing to look at him one cannot help but sense the humor in the jolly grin of Rag Tom.

ling whiteness. Every salt crystal reflected a glad "good morning" to the sun. From a distant spring ran a tiny stream of salt water, which supplied the beds. This stream was plainly marked by the crusts of salt along its edge. The ground surrounding this and the salt beds was a greyish white. Originally there were more than a dozen of the beds, though now only four were in use. The unused beds were a greyish white, and seemed sinister and sad, like the ashes of a dead hope.

The Mint Bed

From the high rock cliffs down to the verge of broken rocks, there overshadowed by cottonwood trees entwined with grapevine, a mint bed is growing. Around the moss covered rocks and in the crevices this mint grows in profusion. The mint is spread out over a small patch of ground, but this little space is thickly covered over the surface. The plant is about eight or ten inches high, with dark green scalloped leaves. Each plant has from eight to twelve leaves growing on it. In the latter part of summer there are many small white blossoms. Mint is an odoriferous plant, and its leaves are very good to eat. It requires a cool, damp place to grow; in the center of these fragrant sprays is a spring of fresh bubbling water. This is the home of many little frogs. As twilight deepens they may be heard croaking to their heart's content.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

THE AMERICAN DEAD SEA.

IF YOU can imagine a lake 100 miles long, 25 miles wide, with an average depth of 20 feet—80 feet is the greatest depth recorded—almost 1,000 miles inland and 4,250 feet above sea level, you can form some conception of this world marvel—Great Salt Lake.

Its waters are six times as salty as the ocean. Put five bucketsful in a tank, let it evaporate and one bucketful of pure salt will be left. A bath in its buoyant waters is both delightful and exhilarating. Salt-air—an immense, crescent-shaped, domed and towered bathing pavilion—has been built out into the lake 2,000 feet from shore.

The lake contains eight islands. Four rivers empty fresh water into it, but its surface neither rises nor falls. Having no outlet, it gets rid of the excess water by evaporation.

Scientists figure that the lake contains more than 8,000,000,000 tons of salt and almost 800,000,000 tons of sulphate of soda. Allowing 60 tons to a carload, that would be 133,333,333 cars of salt and 13,333,333 cars of soda. Assuming 40 feet as the average length of a freight car and you have a train of salt 1,010,101 miles long and a train of soda 101,010 miles long. The average speed of a freight train is about 20 miles an hour. Running at this speed, day and night, it would take the two trains over six years to pass a given point. The value of these cargoes would be probably $10,000,000,000.

Gloom Spreaders Should Get Off The Job Quick

On talking to several of Lubbock's most prominent business men, and observation of conservation we find most of the "brains" of our city taking the same attitude along the finance and labor problems.

"The first and one of the most serious things the world is confronted with today is the laborers, as a whole, the unions," says one of Lubbock's most prominent real estate men. "And until open shops and the realization of the laboring class of people that wages must come down to compete with products the whole world will be at odds."

In some lectures we have heard lately, left the impression that the country is full of gloom-spreaders, and if they were to quit talking hard times an cheer up the country will be in normal condition one-third sooner. "We must practice this and talk it more," says a leading merchant of our city. While as long as things are stirred up to the pitch they are now there will be more or less hard times talked.

"Yes merchandise is coming down, and will continue for some months to come," says one of the leading merchants, and the loss must come like the gain. Many people have conceived the idea that because merchandise was high during war times that the merchants were making the whole thing. While it is very true that there were cases of profiteering and for this the whole retail world has gotten a black eye. There is no more reason for this than for a dozen men going to the penitentiary for open man's crime.

"Salesmen have been ruined during the period of high wages and scarcity of merchandise," says one of the leading furniture men of this city. During the war people would come into a store and you might say, beg the salesmen for a certain article, and this of course led the salesmen to believe he did not have to talk to sell a bill of goods. Therefore 90 per cent of the world's best salesmen have lost their ability to sell. And on the other hand, he figures that a man who has been in the selling game for several years should draw at least two hundred dollars per month. This must not last for the time has come when wages and merchandise must compete. And it is an evident fact that all merchandise is worth at least 40 per cent more on the dollar to the consumer than it was 18 months ago. Or in other words, a dollar is worth 75 cents today, while 18 months ago it was worth 35 cents.—Lubbock Avalanche.

From The Prairie

The Barnyard on Sunday Morning
I had often wondered if the barnyard looked different on Sunday morning from what it looked on any other morning, so one Sunday morning I went to see for myself.

The barnyard was surrounded by a high woven wire fence, topped by three-fourth by six inch boards, which were nailed slightly slanting on the tops of the posts. A large rectangular barn stood to one side of the "lot." It was painted white, with a green gable shaped roof. A hay fork was in the open left door, and inside, the roomy loft was filled with alfalfa hay. A big gray horse was trying to reach a bit of hay which hung out of the door. But he could not reach it, no matter how much he stretched his neck; so he finally walked over to join the other horses, who stood together in one corner of the barnyard, either for the sake of being sociable, or in order to keep off the flies more easily. Four Jersey cows stood on a "feed rack" in the middle of the lot in a leisurely way pulling out hay and chewing it. Several small calves were running and frisking about, while a playful colt, in lack of other amusement, would occasionally chase or bite them.

Just outside the fence was a dirt lake, supplied with water by the overflow from a round concrete "horse tank." Several white ducks swam about on the surface, now and then diving partly under the water to burrow in the mud. Soon two of them waded to the bank and after smoothing their feathers, settled down in the ever changing shade of a willow tree, to blink sleepily and enjoy the sunshine.

A fussy old hen came into the barnyard, followed by a bunch of small black chickens, to which she clucked incessantly. It seemed that her "children" were unusually bad that Sunday morning. A rooster was making "great ado about nothing" over a small piece of grain, which he had found while walking around as if he were "monarch of all he surveyed." He did not have to share his authority with anyone this morning as he usually did, for the horses were taking advantage of their week end holiday and were resting, while the calves had retreated to the barn to escape the torments of the colt, and the colt had run through a small gate into an alfalfa field, where he began to chase several pigs which had been quietly eating the alfalfa. —A. How to Write a Theme

Just as surely as that 7:30 English class on Friday recurs I know that the next assignment will be directions for writing a theme, for Tuesday is theme day, just as Monday is wash day. My mind seems to be in a buzz and a continual uproar. What shall the subject of this theme be? How to write a theme is the next thought. I go to my room determined to release my mind from the awful dread and commence my task.

From the shelf I take down the little brown note book containing all previous assignments. I turn to the page with a list of subjects from which to choose. The question of what to write on still weighs on my mind. After pondering for several minutes, I choose my subject. The length of the theme must be considered, and the form of discourse: Putting special attention on "Points of Technique Emphasized in English 31a" must not be neglected. "Webster" and "Woolley" must be where one can have access to them, for they are one's "soul helpers" in English 31a. Before the theme is started an outline must be made for a guide.

By this time I am having nervous prostration. After a paragraph is finished I read it over. There are incomplete sentences, and the "comma blunder." In disgust I push aside the theme paper and go for a short promenade, to try and clear away my theme troubles. But I cannot rest until my theme is written and I go sauntering down the hall to my room and resume my discussion of How to Write a Theme. I hear the town clock toll out a number of strikes in the "wee" hour of night.

A Head Rise

Early one morning after a heavy rain my brother and I went to the creek to see the head rise.

As we looked up the creek, we saw a great volume of water coming toward us. We stood near a large hole to await the water, which we could hear coming with a mad rush. Soon the muddy water, hidden by a white foam, began to pour into this hole. The bottom of the hole was covered. Slowly the water crept up its sides and overflowed; from this large hole the water crawled over the grassy bed of the creek, filling the empty holes as it passed. Several birds began to soar above the on-rushing water. We wondered why they were so terrified, but our question was answered when we saw three small birds in their nests floating down the stream.

We followed the water to the Double Falls at the head of Happy Canyon. Here the water tumbled over the rocks and fell about twenty feet, making the first fall. It flowed swiftly for ten feet, only to meet the second fall. —A. McG.

The Old Home

The appearance of the old home when I came back, after several years of absence, was very much the same. The house, of wooden structure, lay in an "L" shape, surrounded on the inner sides by a low gallery. Looking northward from the steps of this fast-crumbing old building, I could see a walk which led to the road. On either side of the walk ran a row of rose bushes, now in full bloom, the perfumes of which completely saturated the cool evening air, bringing back to me memories of boyhood days. To my right, in the midst of a locust grove, stood the old pump, its handle outstretched just as the last casual wayfarer had left it. To my left bloomed the orchard, now pink with apple blossoms, in spite of long neglect. Beyond the orchard and a little to the south lay the pasture, through which ran the winding unchanged course of the little stream. —C. L.

Feeding the Hungry

The following scene took place in Ire Le Sec, France, shortly after the evacuation of the village by the German soldiers, who left the population in a deplorable condition. The two hundred and one old men, women, and children were barely existing on such herbs and roots as they could find. As soon as our regiment reached the village, and our officers came to realize the real seriousness of the situation, they immediately took steps to relieve it.

I was standing behind the improvised counter in the little stone building, which we were using as a relief store. Long before the appointed time there assembled in front of the store a very interesting group of people. Although they were starving, there was a marked absence of crowding and pushing which is so characteristic of such groups. When the time came to distribute the rations, the Mother, or another representative from each home was called to receive them. In no case did we discover that any person had misinformed us as to the number in the family in the hope of receiving more food.

I shall never forget the expressions of wonder, astonishment and gratitude that I saw there that morning. Poor discouraged mothers, who came in the hope of returning home with a few morsels of food, left, burdened with a supply of canned meat, fresh meat, potatoes, tomatoes, bread, coffee, sugar and fruit. The attempts to thank us were pitiful indeed. As they passed out the door those who were waiting throbbed about them, eager to see what was in store for them. I regret that I could not understand all that they were saying but from their actions, the tears in their eyes and their frequent reference to America, I was satisfied to draw my own conclusions. —L. H. J.

At Seven-Thirty

Did you ever ask for something that you didn't want, and then feel downcast and blue because it was given to you? If you have, you can understand the feeling of Jimmie when he was given a seven-thirty class.

Jimmie was a boy who always meant well, and who made many good resolutions; but when the time came to carry them out, he did not always find it convenient to do so.

As I have said before, Jimmie had a seven-thirty class; and he was feeling very blue about it. He could not talk to his friends about it, for they would only laugh; he could not drop it, because he did not have an excuse for the dean; he could not get to class in time, for he was too sleepy. He could not help abusing himself as far as his vocabulary permitted, for ever believing that he would have energy to meet a class at such an unearthly hour. So there was nothing to do but accept his fate.

Jimmie was usually a very friendly boy, but as I passed through the corridor, I heard a girl say, "What is the matter with Jimmie today? He seemed to hate the whole world." —M. T.

Tommy

Tommy was a cat. To an outsider he might have appeared to be just an over-sized house cat, but not to me. He was a friend, a companion. It is true—he was extraordinarily large; I once weighed him with pride, to find the scales balanced at ten pounds. Tommy was of a bright glowing yellow and white, almost the same colors on each side. His eyes were the exact color of the yellow. Unlike most cats, he had a soft look and feeling—his fur seemed more like soft feathers than ordinary cat fur, and I do not remem-

Swat the Rooster Will Be Slogan for Trades Day in City Monday

C. F. Walker completed arrangements this morning for another big feature for the regular monthly Trades Day next Monday by inaugurating a "SWAT THE ROOSTER CAMPAIGN."

Such a campaign was put on one day last year and resulted in scores of roosters being brought to Canyon. Six cents per pound will be paid in cash for all roosters brought to Mr. Walker. He will have plenty of coops on the court house lawn.

Cash prizes will be paid by the Commercial League as follows:

$2.50 for the person bringing roosters the farthest distance.

$2.50 for the person bringing in the largest number of roosters.

$2.50 for the person bringing in the ugliest rooster—this to be determined by the largest number of different colored feathers, shape, etc.

$2.50 for the person bringing in the heaviest rooster.

$2.50 for the person bringing in the oldest rooster—this to be determined by the length of the spurs.

6 cents per pound paid for ALL roosters brought in and sold to Mr. Walker.

ber ever having seen him the least bit soiled. His "meow" was of a pleading, plaintive sort; I could easily distinguish it at night from the calls of the other cats.

He was as unlike other cats in actions as in looks. He did not like to be tumbled and played with, and what is more, would not stand for it. He would lie peacefully in my lap for a nap, while I read or crocheted, but preferred a bed on the ground if anyone disturbed him.

One of my pastimes was shooting sparrows in the trees. Tommy had learned this, and every time a shot was heard he was there waiting for the bird. He would follow us on rabbit hunts too, and delighted in killing the wounded rabbits. We often went hunting in a cake cart (formerly used for feeding cake). This cart had a plank across the bed to sit on, and there sat Tommy, unless all three of us children were along, at which times he was forced to sit or lie in someone's lap.

Another thing connected with the memory of Tommy is bringing the cows home. About six o'clock in the evening three gay children, pulling a little wagon, and a cat following, could be seen going to the pasture. In not more than an hour, a cow bearing one child and a cat on her back, and pulling two children in a wagon (the one in front holding her tail with one hand and guiding with the other) ambled peacefully up the same path.

No, Tommy was not like a cat to us. He was like a faithful dog or a loved human companion, sharing in all our pleasures. —T. B.

On Getting Up on the Wrong Side of the Bed

Did you ever get up on the wrong side of the bed? (I suppose you know what that particular misfortune is). Don't ever do it, for you are sure to have an unpleasant time afterwards!

Suppose you get up in that unhappy mood one morning at six-thirty, eat a light breakfast at six-forty-five, and have only ten minutes left in which to clean your room before seven-thirty. Of course it must be cleaned, for it might be "graded" while you are at chapel, and surely you want to get "ninty-eight" on it. So there is nothing to do but start, although you are tempted to lock the door and leave the "mess."

First, you go to get a broom and dustpan, but they are all gone. Consequently you go back to your room, and "spread up" the bed. Then while you are shaking the rug from the window, in your hurry you drop it, and, as luck would have it, the thing falls on somebody's head. Somebody emerges from the dusty depths, demanding to know why you don't "watch what you are doing." You utter some half-hearted apologies and hurry down to recover your property. By the time you get back up a broom is waiting for you, but you are almost desperate—only five minutes! You start sweeping vigorously, meanwhile trying to work off some of your anger and resolving not to dust. But while you are sweeping you hit one of the dresser legs so hard that your fountain pen falls off and breaks. You do not shed any tears, however, for you haven't time. Lastly you put the books and pictures on the table in some kind of slip shod arrangements, sling the floor pillows into place, grab your books, slam the door, and almost run to school, only to find that you are tardy. And when the teacher says "Miss B.—this must not happen again!" You open your mouth to give an excuse, but you close it, remembering it was your own fault. Fortunately you have prepared your first lesson.

and in Virgil class that "dear ole" gong rings just as you must recite—so you begin to think you are not having such a hard time after all. But your hopes sink when you see the "Trig" examinations on the board, and after an hour of exasperating work, you go home disheartened to eat your dinner. All the world seems to be against you, and working for your discomfort.

That afternoon you try to cheer up by taking a walk, but you are not in a better humor when you return, for you have worn a blister on your heel. At supper you see the girls with "scratched" arms, for it has been reported that smallpox is in town. Some carry their arms in slings, some hold them, and others look natural except for a "Don't you dare touch me" expression. You realize that you will soon be joining them.

After supper you get no better and when you cannot study well, or get interested in reading a book, which you have been told is one of your best friends, you finally decide to go to bed. There you lie, thankful that neither you nor anyone else can disturb you—for a while at least.

Then take my advice, and keep the "wrong" side of the bed pushed up against the wall hard and tight. —A. T.

Swat the Fly is Movement Advocated

Procrastination covers a multitude of sins, we are so prone to put off a little until it suits us, in fact let necessity call on us before we do the things we should do now. Summer is here, and with it comes the heat and the absolute necessity of keeping every thing in a sanitary condition, how easy it will be if each one will do their part. If you will ask any of our boys that have been in camp to tell you their experience, it will be that they were likely to be penalized if a fly was found in the mess tent. It is needed to save our boys while in war; do we need it any less now. A healthy community means one that is clean, no one but the individual exercises the benefit, no other person profits one bit, you alone receive the benefit of what you do. Cleanliness is next to Godliness.

If you have a magnifying glass, if not borrow one to convince yourself of what an ordinary house fly is, put him on his back, use the magnifying glass and look carefully at his feet and then in your own mind say, well where has that fly been? Let each one buy a fly trap. They don't cost much. It may save your child or some one else's child this summer. Typhoid fever is hard to combat and all disease is carried into our bodies from the outside. We were born healthy, lets try to keep the body strong and well. The sayings of Swift regarding the flea:
So NATURALISTS observe a flea,
Hath smaller fleas that on him bite;
And these have smaller still to bite 'em
And so proceed ad infinitum.

This can be applied to the ordinary fly. Let's swat the fly.
DO IT NOW.

W. B. Sheffy, Pioneer Citizen, Dies (Plainview News).
W. B. Sheffy, aged 75 years and six months, died at his home on the hill in South Plainview, Wednesday night about 1 o'clock.

The funeral will take place at the Methodist church this afternoon, and Rev. G. S. Hardy of Sweetwater, pioneer pastor of the Methodist church here, will conduct the services. The interment will be in Plainview cemetery, beside the grave of his wife, who died about two years ago.

His death was caused from the effects of influenza, and he had been sick for about nine weeks.

He was born in Washington county, Tenn., Oct. 30, 1845. He moved to Hale county with his family about thirty years ago, settling on a ranch six or eight miles south of Plainview on the Happy Union road, and lived there until a year or two ago he sold the place and moved into town. He was a life-long Methodist and a man of staunch character and leaves a host of friends to mourn his death.

He leaves four sons and three daughters—Lester, who is a member of the Canyon Normal faculty; Sid, who is a lawyer in San Francisco; Ray and Sid, ranchmen in Castro county; Mrs. M. A. McCraw and Miss Minerva Sheffy of Plainview; Mrs. McMahan of Wellington. All of them except Sid will likely attend the funeral.

The honorary pall bearers will be J. M. Graham, W. F. Brooks, W. B. Martine, H. M. Buch, W. A. Paxton, J. M. Oswald, all pioneer citizens of Hale county.

The active pall bearers will be L. W. Stoneker, Jo. W. Wayland, W. I. Johnson, William Buntin, Hall Brown and Fred Rastetter, also long-time neighbors of the deceased.

Hereford Pastor Announces Wedding To School Teacher
Hereford, June 3.—The Rev. J. R. Sharp of the First Presbyterian church of Hereford announced from the pulpit last Sunday morning the news of his forthcoming marriage, Wednesday June 1, in Dallas, Texas to Miss Laura Ellen James, teacher of history in the Hereford High School the past year. Following the announcement and close of the services the congregation flocked about the pastor and wished him all kinds of good luck, prosperity and happiness in his married life.

Rev. Sharp recently purchased a home just across the street from the church, improved it in a number of ways. Miss James has a host of friends here who will be sorry to lose a most excellent teacher from our schools but will rejoice that they are to have the teacher return permanently as one of the young matrons of Hereford. Rev. and Mrs. Sharp will return the latter part of the week and regular services will be held by him next Sunday.

Ira Andrews, the newly elected city clerk of Terre Haute, is active in Sunday School work. Last Sunday he advised the children of his class that the morning study would be about Ruth, referring, of course, to the gleaner.

"Now," said Andrews, after introducing the subject, "who can tell me anything about Ruth?"

"Up went a hand in the rear of the class."
"Well, Willie, asked the teacher, what do you know about Ruth?"
"He made 54 home runs last season," was the answer.—Indianapolis News.

TRADE MARK

The Fordson Tractor

For thirty-five years Henry Ford, a farmer's boy, has been working on the problem of a successful tractor for the farm, and for the past fourteen years has devoted much time and a vast amount of money to the development of the present Fordson Tractor. Today that Tractor is in use on nearly 200,000 farms and if you have any doubt as to the satisfaction it gives to those who are using it, call in and get the booklet, just issued by the Ford Motor Company, and called "The Fordson at Work" and read the testimony which is there given by the multitude of owners of Fordson Tractors. No evidence can be more conclusive than that of the man who actually knows by personal experience and this is the line of testimony carried in this little booklet. There is no cost for this booklet. If you cannot call for it, write, drop us a postal and we will mail it to you without charge. It is so valuable you ought to have it because it is the open door through which the farmer will pass from the hard working drudge to the comparative comfort of the manufacturer. The Fordson makes it possible for the farmer to plan and direct, while the machine will do the work. It presents the widest latitude for the farmer to exercise his brain power and plan how he can get the most from the soil, knowing that the Tractor will do the hard work, do it better, do it quicker, and therefore do it more profitably. This means not alone in the cultivation of the soil, in the harvesting of the crops, but in a hundred and one different demands that are made for labor, cutting of ensilage and the filling of the silo; cutting of wood; operation of the washing machine; in the lighting of the house with electricity; supplying the house with running water; bringing to the farmer's wife and daughters the conveniences of the city, relieving them of much of the hard, unpleasant part of housework.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

OUR MIGHTIEST HOT SPRING.

ALMOST in the center of Wyoming, near a bend in the Big Horn river and 4,350 feet above sea level, nature brought to the surface, for the benefit of all humanity, her most notable work in the hot-spring line. Here, from a rough-edged opening approximately 25 feet in diameter, and which may come through from China for all anybody knows—since it has been sounded to a depth of 1,000 feet and no bottom found, there bubbles forth about 18,000,000 gallons of 135-degree hot water, possessing untold medicinal value, every 24 hours.

This health fount was discovered by a wandering band of Indians. When the white man came he named it "Big Horn Hot Spring," because the water was finally tumbled over a 40-foot cliff in a beautiful waterfall to the river below. A city was built by the river. They called it Thermopolis (Hot City), because of its nearness to the spring.

The government purchased the tract on which the spring is located in 1887. Washakie, chief of the Shoshone, agreed only on condition that a portion of the water be reserved forever free for public use. Later, when the government ceded the land to the state, the same clause was inserted in the patent. Thus this great nature-made anti-toxin for many ills which beset humanity has been preserved for the use of everybody for all time. A natural admixture of sulphur, lime, magnesia, iron and silica, this water possesses exceptional restorative properties in the treatment of blood and skin diseases and rheumatism.

The Ranch Watering-Place

It was the mid-afternoon of one of those sultry, deep-blue-skied-fleecy-cloudy spring days, which often pass over South Texas. The lone-ranch-mill wheel hung hesitatingly and rather lazily in the parching, intermittent breezes. The cotton-wood leaves looked yellow, and for the most part hung lifelessly still. The cawing ravens, driven in from the carcasses in the near by valley, perched on the mill and in the trees, gasping for cool breezes. They were never located, but always rising and flying to another place like so many dark spectres, and clapping the new perch with faltering claws. The small gray prairie birds fluttered in for drink, resting for a minute on the moist grassy dam, and quavering their lonely little songs. But the small fish in the cool water below the dam flipped and flirted noiselessly among their mates near the shaded bank, unmindful of the parching heat that brooded over the land.

To My Pillow

My dearest friend of college days,
 Fashioned by skillful hand,
 Ample in size thou art, and round,
 And of the finest brand.

By day my bed you ornament,
 A calmer look has none;
 At night, by gayer spirits moved,
 I sling you at some one.

You take up gladly all my cares,
 My weary head I hide
 Within your sympathizing depths;
 And there I let them 'bide.

All of my hopes and joys you know,
 My plans you never tell,
 A care-free head you will support
 If final tests go well.

The times may be hard, but the drinks are soft.—Brooklyn Eagle.

J. L. Dufflot Brings Report on Work of General Assembly

The Presbyterian denomination grew more last year and raised more money than any year in its history.

This is the report brought home from the meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly by J. L. Dufflot of this city, who was one of the 900 commissioners at this annual legislative body of the denomination. It met for ten days at Winona Lake, Indiana.

Although official figures have not yet been sent out, reports from 8,000 of the 9,700 churches in the denomination show that last year there were added on confession of faith about 124,000 new members of Presbyterian churches. Death and other causes reduced the net gain to 77,000. This is double the net gain of any previous year.

Gifts to local expenses and to benevolences in the denomination increased $21,000,000 in two years, practically doubling the amount of money passing through the hands of treasurers of the church.

This result has been brought about according to church officers, by more intensive work on the part of individuals. This growth has been coincidental with the operation of the New Era Movement, a joint effort to intensify the work of all churches. The development of the evangelistic spirit has also had much to do with the result. This plan makes use of neighboring pastors to work in nearby fields.

Plans were adopted at this meeting for a thorough study of all the work of the church with a committee instructed to continue investigations looking to a report next year at Des Moines, Iowa, which may reorganize all the fourteen boards and agencies of the church along lines alleged to be more in keeping with efficiency and the present needs of the church.

Another committee was instructed to continue negotiations with other churches looking to organic union of all evangelical denominations. An overture furthering this was defeated this year, it being alleged the effort looked to mere federation. Another effort at union rather than federation was made in overtures to the Southern Presbyterian Church.

Requests from a number of Presbyteries that the general assembly be reduced in size and that it meet only every two years were not looked upon with favor.

The National Service Commission, called into being during the war, which has since been aiding wounded and sick soldiers, was discharged.

The moderator elected to hold office for one year was Dr. H. C. Swearingen, pastor of Hope church of St. Paul, Minn. The stated clerk elected for five years was Rev. L. S. Mudge, D.D., pastor at Harrisburg, Pa.

William Jennings Bryan was one of the well-known laymen at the Assembly and spoke to nearly 4,000 in the new tabernacle at Winona Lake on Sunday night during the session. He delivered an entertaining lecture on materialistic evolution.

The General Assembly is composed half of the laymen and half of the ministers, though the presiding officer is usually a minister.

France, Belgium, Hungary and other European countries are to be continued.

Twelve Presbyterian colleges the past two years have raised over $5,000,000 as part of a campaign whereby it is hoped to add $35,000,000 to the resources of Christian education through the fifty-seven colleges of this denomination in the United States.

An overture seeking to have women as elders, thus opening the way for them to sit as commissioners in the Assembly, failed to receive enough votes to embody it in the fundamental laws of the church.

Assembly urged that marriage licenses be not valid until five days after issuance.

There were thirty returned missionaries at the Assembly from all corners of the earth, representing 1,500 employed on the foreign field. The charges of unfaithfulness to Christian fundamentals of our foreign missionaries were not sustained in a single instance. The fault-finding with the heroic and Christian workers in the foreign fields appears to be the vain imaginings of chronic heresy hunters in the church.

Automatic stereopticons of various sorts were used in the exhibits of the boards of the church to show the work the denomination is accomplishing in its many fields.

Miss Alice Robertson, member of Congress from Oklahoma, and a former home missionary of the Presbyterian church to the Indians of her state, was one of the most popular speakers at the meeting.

The Assembly next year will be held at Des Moines, Iowa.

Members of the Welsh Calvinistic church, which united with the Presbyterians last year, sat for the first time in this assembly.

Work among negroes of the north and south will be furthered by recent gifts of over $200,000.

The Woman's Board of Home Missions increased its work largely last year, having 1,500 more children in schools, 15,000 more patients in hospitals and adding 54,000 members to mission organizations.

The spirit of Christian fellowship and optimism was dominant throughout the entire session. When one takes a broad perspective of the constructive forces of the Christian religion at work, there should be no reason for doubting the efficiency of the Christian faith. There is no question but what we are experiencing a slump in the moral tone of our social order. This has followed every war and political upheaval, but those who have faith in the wonderful transforming power of the gospel of our Savior and who have not lost sight of the heavenly vision revealed to us out of the Book of Hope, Faith, and Love can see from a thousand hills the silent but conquering Christ leading the world in paths of righteousness and to faith in a living God.

All in the Bible
Bishop Hoss said at the Nashville picnic:

"The religious knowledge of too many adults resembles, I am afraid, the religious knowledge of little Eve. 'So you attend Sunday School regularly?' the minister said to little Eve.

"Oh, yes, sir. 'And you know your Bible?'"

"Oh, yes, sir. 'Could you perhaps tell me something that is in it?'"

"I could tell you everything that is in it."

"Indeed," and the minister smiled.

"Do tell me then."

"Sister's beau's photo is in it," said little Eve, promptly, "and ma's recipe for vanishing cream is in it, and a lock of my hair cut off when I was a baby is in it, and the ticket for pa's watch is in it."—Los Angeles Times.

Fistic Propaganda

Lincoln, Nebraska Journal.—News-paper readers have been confused for several days over a series of dispatches from here and there affirming and denying that the contract for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight has been canceled. Until these men meet it will be necessary for the press to print countless columns of twaddle about their goings and comings, their alleged thoughts and their putative sayings, their defiance and their comebacks all because it is supposed the great American public desires this literature. The fact that it is all done in the interest of the box office, that the principals are perhaps on the friendliest personal terms, even when glaring at each other through the newspaper columns, does not seem to occur to the fatuous followers of fistiana.

Wayside Items

(Too late for last week).
Memorial exercises were appropriately observed at Wayside. A goodly number of men and boys met early in the morning and cleaned off the yard and graves. The crowd then assembled at the church where the wreaths and flowers had been arranged by the ladies and girls of the community. After a pleasing program, consisting of patriotic hymns, recitations and readings by quite a number of our young people, an opportunity and a number responded to speak in honor of those resting in our city of the dead. Mrs. Ruby O'Neal played the march for the little ones and older girls who served as flower bearers who decorated the graves. Quite a large crowd in attendance, and a number from a distance.

R. E. Carter is still slowly improving, much to the satisfaction of his relatives and friends.

Jno. McGehee, wife and sons spent the latter part of the week at their home in Wayside, returning to Canyon Sunday afternoon.

L. B. Rogers came out last week to visit his brother, Reuben Rogers.

Louise Gillham is improving some. Able to be carried to Tulia to have her foot dressed. Attended Memorial exercises with her parents, remaining in the car near the door.

Vincent Grounds is in the sanitarium at Plainview. Mrs. Grounds is also in poor health, unable to be with him much of the time.

W. J. Studer and wife have spent the past week with their daughter, Mrs. Wm. Payne.

Quite a number of Waysiders enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Annie Heisler last Sunday.

Protests "Black List"

The Plainview Board of City Development has issued a protest to the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, which has state headquarters at Dallas, against the publication of an area map being published in the official organ of the Federation and also in several prominent farm journals of the state. This map shows the various counties of the state in their relation to the Federation and the counties in black are termed as "largely non-agricultural." Included in this "black-list of non-agricultural" counties are Hale, Swisher, Floyd, Randall, Potter, and practically all other Panhandle counties.

The Plainview organization has filed statistics with the Farm Bureau of Federation showing that the Panhandle counties in the "black list" produced more wheat and other small grain than the entire remainder of the state.

"The Other Four-Fifths"

When some one at the last Jackson-day dinner in Washington spoke of the increasing influence of women Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska was reminded of the widespread habit of American men calling their wives their "better halves." In this connection he told a story that had been related to him by the Prince of Wales when the latter visited this country last year.

The Prince had gone into a dugout occupied by American soldiers in the war zone, he said, and was somewhat surprised to find side by side on the wall large pictures of his father and mother which the doughboys had clipped from some magazine or other. Noting a hand-written inscription under each picture he stepped up closer and read under the portrait of his father: "King George the Fifth." The inscription under Queen Mary's portrait was: "The Other Four-Fifths."

The householder smothered his wrath, and descended to the basement. "Are you the plumber?" he asked of the grimy looking individual who was tinkering with the pipes.

"Yes, guvnor," replied the man.

"Been long in the trade?"

"'Bout a year, guvnor."

"Ever make any mistakes?"

"Bless you, no, guvnor."

"Oh, then I suppose it's all right. I imagined you had connected up the wrong pipes, for the chandelier in the parlor is spraying like a fountain and the bath room faucet's on fire.—Paat Finder.

Issues Students' Hand-Book

The second edition of the Students' Hand-Book was printed this week by the News, and the young women of the Y. W. C. A. are distributing the book to the students as they arrive in Canyon. The Hand-Book contains very important information regarding the steps the student must take in entering school—and is a great help to those coming to Canyon for the first time. Miss Roberta McKnight is editor-in-chief of the publication, with Misses Sara Thompson, Ada Clark, Grace Penrod and Elizabeth Reck, assistants. Misses Gladys Puckett and Thelma Black are business managers.

Printing Telephone Directories

The summer edition of the telephone directory is being printed by the News and will be ready for distribution the first of the week. The telephone list shows a very substantial gain in numbers of subscribers during the past year. Manager H. Prichard states that his switch-board will care for a very few additional subscribers.

Quite a large crowd gathered at the D. L. Adams home Friday night to enjoy a social by the B. Y. P. U. After a number of games on the outside were participated in by almost the entire crowd, they gathered in the spacious rooms to enjoy some diversions. Elegant refreshments of cake and punch were served after which the crowd dispersed.

Louise Gillham is confined to her bed, but is getting along as well as could be expected.
