

SOLVING THE SCHOOL QUESTION

By PHOBE K. WARNER in Star-Telegram

Can't afford what? Can't afford a county high school. Course not. No little town can afford to build and equip and support a modern high school for the whole county. Yet that is just what most of our small county seats of our big, thinly settled counties are doing, or trying to do, minus the modern part. Here is the way it is in West Texas: The farmer or the big ranchman wants his children to have a good education. There are not enough children for more than one, or at the most a two-room school out in the country. In such a school the teacher has plenty to do, but no matter how hard she tries she cannot create as interesting a school with two or three pupils in a class as if there were a dozen or more. What happens?

If possible, as soon as the children are old enough to go to school the family moves to town to put the children in school. They may buy a home and they may not. They do not have to buy a home in town if they do not want to. The children whose parents are worth two or three thousand dollars has the same advantage of the town school as the man's child who pays a hundred dollars school tax annually. That is democratic, we say. So the rich man's child goes to a good school for eleven years and it may cost the father as much as $5.00 tax a year or the total sum of $55.00 to send his boy or girl through the whole public free school. "But," says the well-to-do farmer with a home wherever he needs one for convenience. "I pay MY school tax out in the country where my farm is. I help support the rural schools." True. But he does not build the kind of a school there he wants his child to attend or he would keep his child in the home school. No, he helps to build a school good enough for his neighbor's children who cannot go to town to school. And it is not long until he is losing interest in the home school because he has no interest in it. His child and his school interest is in another school that is not costing him anything. And naturally he is not so very deeply interested in the town school. When you tap him for a contribution for the town school he pays to keep up the country school. When you tap him for the country school his children are going to the town school.

But the hope of Texas is this: Not all of our town farmers belong to this class. But this is true: The town school is overtaxed and running overfull of pupils today because every year the country is coming more and more to town to school. The school roll is increasing but the tax roll is not. Consequently the town school, built by the town district for the town children, is crowded to an unhealthy condition for both teacher and pupils; the town teacher is imposed on by extra work, and the rural school is slowly dying of general starvation. What happens again? The country boy or girl that cannot come to town to school drops out along the way and is soon-lost from the school roll.

Here are a few facts from our own observations. Suppose you compare them with your county and see where you are. Last year in the primary room of our school there were sixty little tots to be taught their letters and the first year's work. All in the same room. One teacher to keep them all busy and happy. These beside a kindergarten of twenty-five more the first of the year. In the graduating class of the same school there were eight members. Out in the rural schools there were two and three and some places no graduates in the tenth grade. In our town school, a town of a thousand inhabitants, we have graduated one town boy in two years, or an average of a half boy a year. There were four other boy graduates in the two years, but all four from the farms. These boys traveled an average of ten miles per day to go to school, 1,800 miles a year, or 19,800 miles to get their public school education. Their parents had to keep an automobile or a team for that purpose. But they did it. Everybody who sends their children four or five miles to school must keep a team or a car for that purpose. Is there anything cheap about that?

Here is what we are all doing: Supporting thousands of poor little dried-up schools and thousands of poor teachers that are high priced at any price to keep all our little schools going. Then every man who can possibly afford it deserts his home school for the town school, because he wants his children to have the advantages of a graded school of nine months. On the other hand the town school does not control enough property to provide the kind of a school the whole county needs. But if we would all go together for a first-class high school for all the county, put our high school funds into one good school for all the boys and girls, give them all the same chance, put the cost of our own private cars and teams together, get a first-class truck, have a regular school route and bring our children to some central high school, we would soon discover that it was not costing us any more but we were getting more for our money.

Mrs. Warner, writer of the above article, lives at Claude. She is a student of school problems, as well as other civic problems. In the school question of West Texas, she has found a real problem in her own town, and the same problem is to be found in Canyon and every other county seat in West Texas.

The people of every county want good schools. But all are not willing to pay the bill necessary to meet the expenses of a first class school.

The people living within the boundaries of the Canyon Independent School District are being assessed $15,000 to support the school in this town for the term now in session. The state of Texas will pay $13 for each scholastic in the district, or about $7,000. A large number of families living within a few miles of Canyon send their children to Canyon to attend the good schools of this city. They move into town just before school starts, pay no taxes, but have the benefits of the school just the same as the heaviest tax payer in the district. There seems to be no way of stopping the practice, as every school board in every town in West Texas is confronted with the same practice.

The correct solution of the school problem of every town in West Texas is to enlarge the districts of the independent schools, so that sufficient territory may be taken in to run a first class school without burdening any of the people by heavy taxes. Some people object to being drawn into an independent school district for fear there might be a little increase in taxes. Certainly there will be a small increase. Graded schools with good teachers always require more money than little schools which attempt a few grades.

An attempt was made at the solution of the school problem in Canyon last fall by enlarging the district so that all of the patrons of the school might be taken into this district. The benefits of the proposition were misunderstood and legal steps were threatened by some who were to be taken into the Canyon Independent School District. The board of trustees refused to take the attitude of forcing people into doing this thing against their wills, and the matter was dropped. This spring the voters of the district voted to tax themselves fifty percent more than ever before in the history of the district in order that a first class high school might be maintained. The maintenance of this school in Canyon will be as much a distinct benefit to those patrons living outside the district, as those supporting the increased taxation believe the people of this district will be benefitted.

Canyon will never be able to support its schools as the people of Randall county expect they should without a district of larger size, or by placing a very heavy tax rate upon the people of the district. Those acquainted with school problems of the district believe that all who benefit from the schools should be willing to come into an enlarged district and pay their school tax toward the support of the Canyon school.

A move to enlarge the Canyon Independent School District would be a very wise move and offers the only solution to the school problems of Canyon.

Kanred Wheat Has Produced Large Yields

By M. B. Oates, Agricultural Agent, Fort Worth & Denver Ry.

The past season Kanred wheat has outyielded other varieties in Ford County from three to five bushels per acre. In the section around Amarillo it has surpassed other varieties from three to five bushels and in almost every instance it has at least equalled other varieties. It is so promising that it ought to be tried in every wheat county in Northwest Texas.

Kanred wheat was first grown in 1906 by the Kansas Experiment Station. It is a selection from Turkey Red, therefore, the name Kanred. It is a hard winter wheat. For several years it was tried out on many Kansas farms and nine times out of ten it outyielded other varieties.

The distinguishing characteristics of Kanred wheat are high yields, high milling quality, hardness, heavy stooling, resistance to drought and rust and stiffness of straw. The last, stiffness of straw, is important because it stands up much better after ripening. Also there is less loss from shattering. Kanred is injured less by winter killing than other varieties and stools so heavily that it may be seeded thinner than our common varieties.

It has been so carefully selected and improved that its characteristics are well fixed so that comes true to type.

It is desired that wheat growers act promptly and secure seed of this variety for a part of their fall seeding. Pure Kanred can be bought at $1.25 to $1.75 per bushel. Certified Kanred will cost about 75 cents more per bushel.

For further information consult your county agent or write the Agricultural Agent of the Fort Worth & Denver Railway at Wichita Falls.

PUBLIC SERVICE A DUTY OF THE PRESS

(Plainview Herald)

The function of the press seems to be little understood, not only by the public, but as well by some of the craft. The resolutions of the Texas Press Association against using so called "free publicity" from the schools and colleges has created with some publishers an unwarranted attitude toward the state institutions and other institutions of learning. It is true that if every communication purporting to be news should be published the publishers would be carrying a burden that is unwarranted. However, the extremists are overlooking one vital thing; that is the duty of the press in fomenting the common good. There is not a state institution of learning that is intended to be a money-making property. Education can never be sold at what it costs to produce it, if you care to reduce the educational institutions to a strict business proposition. That it is the duty of the press to cooperate with these institutions is evident.

In a letter to The Herald, President J. A. Hill of the West Texas State Normal College, says:

"I notice that the State Press Association has decided to eliminate all free publicity and has given the colleges of the state to understand very clearly that the newspapers object to being ridden for free advertising. Inasmuch as the resolutions sent out by the secretary of that association specifically exempted A. & M. and C. I. A., there is left only the Normal Colleges and the University at whom the resolutions are directed. I am sure you will agree that the Normal Colleges at least have never been a burden in this respect to the newspapers of the State. Of all institutions which have had no free publicity, the Normal Colleges are most conspicuous. We have maintained no publicity departments and as a matter of fact have had scant recognition by the press of the State. I will say, however, that this institution has no complaint to make at the treatment given us by the local papers. I appreciate very greatly the generous and helpful attitude with which we are surrounded, and I am lead to believe that they and we are serving the same kind of constituency, namely, the common people."

The right of the press to exist is inherent wholly in its service to the public. Just where the line is to be drawn between news and paid advertising is difficult. In order to exist the publisher must have money, and the integrity of the press is maintained only by a freedom in the news columns from the influence of the business columns—advertising.

The Herald's policy is to give the news regardless of the income from the publicity incident to it. Any publicity which results in or is intended for financial gain is advertising. If for the same entertainment sugar is not the name of the party seeking it and should be paid for. That is a service worth money and for which money must be obtained.

An example would be a ladies' aid society wishing publicity given a "social" to raise money. Such publicity, regardless of the cause intended for, is for financial gain and is advertising. If for the same entertainment sugar is got from the grocer, money is paid for it. Likewise for cheesecloth from the dry goods house. Advertising is the newspaper's stock in trade and is saleable, as any merchants' wares.

Bring those samples of Wheat, Kafir, Barley, Rye, Sudan, Oats, etc., to Randall County Fair.

However, the press owes society the obligation of giving it information—news. The paper which does not do this overlooks one of the inherent rights and duties of the press.

Marriage and Divorce

Divorce cases in numbers that swamp the courts and dismay social observers of English life are accompanied by a parallel decrease in marriages. English statesmen and philosophers try to explain the stillness of the wedding bells by the high cost of living and the thousands of divorcees as one of the post war phases of unrest that have spread into almost every sphere of modern life. And all this is a reflection of what is going on in the United States. Never were there less marriages and never so many divorcees. This is bad. Marriage is the holiest institution the world knows, and divorce is an evil to be shunned; it is, as a rule, excusable only on one count—that of infidelity. We do not side with the bigwigs in their finding of reasons. It is not high cost of living that has lessened marriages, but because marriage is lightly thought of by our younger generation, and the market is glutted with "mates on the European plan," if you know what that is. Also, the war has nothing to do with divorces. Everything is blamed on the war nowadays, instead of upon the natural cussedness of those who do wrong. Divorces are caused in such lots as a rule, because our young folks are no longer willing to put up with the hardships, the privations and the hard work that goes with the average marriage and the rearing of a family and its support. They want automobiles, theaters, dances, parties and joyrides, bonnets and glad raiment, and as a meager salary and two or three babies interferes with all that, and requires streling manhood and womanhood, incriminations and faultfindings take place and divorce results.

DID YOU EVER HEAR DERIVATION OF SANTA FE SYMBOL AND WHAT CIRCLE AND CROSS STAND FOR

Who knows where the Santa Fe railway got the symbol on its stationery, in its advertising, on the depots, box cars and on everything else possessed by the company, and what it stands for?

Miss Emily F. Weekes of Chicago, a large Castro county property owner, has been delving into the mystery with the following results:

"The symbol used by the Santa Fe railroad is an adaptation of a symbol used by astronomers every since the Stone Age. The Cross within the Circle means the four points of the horizon, north, south, east, west. The students of the Stone Age indicated the Sun, Moon, Earth and other planets by lines traced upon pebbles, with a mixture of animal fat and iron oxide. This symbol of the Cross, often with the Circle, occurs again and again in all cultures and arts descended from ancient times, from races whose history and religions were lost in the dimmest ages. But below the strata of objects lost—during the Iron and Bronze Ages—have been found the pebbles with various symbols, besides Astronomical. This cross is NOT the symbol of any present religion. This cross, alone, is now the symbol of the Greek Church, which is not Catholic. Both the Roman and the Celtic Crosses have an extension of the lower point. The use of this emblem by the Santa Fe is to indicate that this railroad serves the world, north, south, east and west."—Hereford Brand.

BIG TYPE HOGS ARE NEEDED MOST

J. S. COFFEY

Ohio State University, in the Breeder's Gazette.

Recently James Downing, Sagamon county, Illinois, contributed an article to one of the leading swine journals, under the foregoing article.

His contentions were based largely upon certain investigations made with reference to market demands. The information which he gained from the market standpoint was accurate. He was rather illogical in his conclusions, when he attempted to apply the change in market demands to a prospective change in the type of hog which is most popular in the country today. The article set forth the following with reference to the market demands in pork products: "The country utilizes less lard today than formerly, because of the extensive use of lard substitutes. The people of this country would use a greater proportion of pork to other kinds of meat in their dietary if pork were not fat. The market demands differ today from those of former years, in that a lighter hog, carrying a higher percentage of lean to fat in its carcass, is most favored."

Mr. Downing's investigations and conclusions are as a whole commendable. The type of hog, however, which he thinks would best fill these requirements, is not the type which the majority of the present-day breeders favor. Summing up the whole thing, Mr. Downing's diagnosis of conditions was good, but his prescription of a small or medium type hog to meet the situation would seem to be a mistake.

Big and Small Types

In the first place, the small and medium types are most disposed toward lard production than the big type. The former, as a rule, are short and thick in body, close to the ground, and have always carried a big production of fat to lean, when in high condition. On the other hand, big type animals are longer in body and legs. The linear dimensions of the various body muscles are greater, and they possess no serious defects in the thickness of these muscles. Therefore, in the big type hog, there should be a far greater proportion of edible and a lesser proportion of fat for lard production.

The big type hog is possessed of an inherent tendency to grow. In framework it stretches out and up rapidly, and the muscular anatomy of the animal keeps pace with the bony structure. It uses its feet efficiently in making pounds, but these pounds are not in the form of internal and external fat, which has always been true of the small and medium type hog. These observations have been made by feeders and breeders of both types, and thus it would seem that the small type hog does not fill the bill from the standpoint of minimum lard production and maximum lean meat production.

In taking up the second point, namely, that the American people are held back in their pork consumption by the over-fat condition of the meat, it may be said that as a matter of fact, we are not holding back in our pork consumption. The following, taken from Prof. Henry W. Vaughan's book "Market Classes and Grades of Livestock," demonstrates this point forcibly. Herewith is given figures showing the per capita consumption of various kinds of meats in the United States in 1909 and 1918:

Per capita consumption of beef in 1909 was 80.0 lbs.; in 1918, 78.4 lbs.
Veal 1909, 7.5 lbs.; in 1918 7.5 lbs.
Mutton and lamb, 1909, 6.5 lbs.; in 1918, 5.3 lbs.
Pork and pork products, 1909, 78.0 lbs.; in 1918, 102.3 lbs.

Total per capita meat consumption in 1909, 172.0 lbs.; in 1918, 193.5 lbs.

With reference to the American people and their use of pork, Mr. Downing says:

"We have never eaten so much pork as we shall eat later on, for the packer has at last awakened to the reason why people in the big centers of population do not eat more pork. The reason is that it is too fat. The office man, the business man, the professional man and the average man in the city are of sedentary habits. They do not get out into the open and do not have the exercise which creates a demand for heavy food. They eat beef, not so much because they prefer it, but because they must. They prefer pork, but it is too fat."

What the Record Shows

Mr. Downing, in the foregoing, attempts to show that our present-day big type hog is producing pork which is too fat for the average city consumer. According to the figures given by Professor Vaughn, however, the per capita consumption of pork has increased from 78 pounds in 1909 to 102.3 pounds in 1918. This is an increase of 31 per cent in nine years. It is well to keep in mind, too, that this increased per capita consumption has occurred concurrently with the promotion of the big type hog. If we were to accept Mr. Downing's style of argument on this point we should have to admit that the big type has found favor among consumers, as is shown by increased consumption.

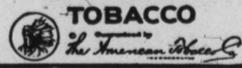

With reference to the third point in Mr. Downing's article, we will admit that the market has in recent items preferred a lighter hog showing not too much fat. This by no means convinces us that we need smaller breeding stock to produce a smaller type of market hog. What it does mean is this: We shall be permitted to sell our big type pigs at an earlier age to meet the market requirements. This cannot constitute an objection to the big type; it is rather a point in its favor.

The big type pig is big because it is bred that way. It is endowed with an inherent tendency to grow rather than fatten at an early age. The big type pig will carry more pounds at any age under six months than the small or medium type pig under the same conditions of feed and handling. Muscular development usually characterizes the growing pig rather than the accumulation of surplus fat. Therefore when it attains the weight desired by the market it may be sold, whether it be four, five or six months of age. It should also meet the demands of the market from the standpoint of producing a lean, edible carcass.

Reflection upon events of the past few years, along with a study of present conditions, should entrench us all more firmly in our belief in the merits of the big type hog. The experience of many breeders and feeders finds this type more prolific, better feeders, more active on their feet and legs, and, therefore, better adapted to forage feeding, and finally possessing leaner and more edible carcasses.

Immigrants That Prosper Here

There are several classes of immigrants of which no records are kept by the department over which the United States Commissioner of Immigration presides, but they are immigrants that, in their own quiet way, have done much to make the new world more like the old. These are trees and plants, and if the new world has drawn somewhat heavily on the old in this particular, it has paid its debt in kind, as may be seen by the following list:

- The chestnut came from Italy.
- The onion originated in Egypt.
- The nettle is a native of Europe.
- The citron is a native of Greece.
- Oats originated in North Africa.
- The poppy originated in the East.

- Rye came originally from Siberia.
- Parsley was first known in Sardinia.
- The pear and apple are from Europe.
- Spinach was first cultivated in Arabia.
- The sunflower was brought from Peru.
- The mulberry tree originated in Persia.
- The gourd is probably an Eastern plant.
- The walnut and peach came from Persia.
- The horse chestnut is a native of Thibet.
- The cucumber came from the East Indies.
- The quince came from Crete.
- The radish is a native of China and Japan.
- Peas are of Egyptian origin.

A JOB THAT CALLS "THE FRIENDS OF EDUCATION"

Representative Roundtree expressed the opinion, on returning home from Austin, that the "friends of education" should lose no time in preparing to make an organized campaign for the submission of a constitutional amendment levying a tax for the support of our institutions of higher learning. The News thinks so, too. It is not too early for the alumni of the University, the Agricultural and Mechanical College and the Klumme of the College of Industrial Arts, among whom such a campaign must have its beginning, to take thought of this matter. More than fifteen months must elapse before such an amendment can be submitted, it is true. But only about nine months will elapse before the members of the next Legislature will be nominated. The fit season for propagating this proposal will be during the three or four months, beginning early next year, when aspirants for legislative office will be promoting their candidacies. It is during that time that popular sentiment in favor of this proposal must be generated if the next legislature is to be put under the urge and constraint of public opinion. And not unless it is put under such urge and constraint can there be any confident expectation that such an amendment will be submitted. The Legislature, left to its own impulse, is not apt to be favorably disposed toward this proposal. For the adoption of such an amendment would deprive the Legislature of some of its power to direct the management and operation of these institutions, and the zest with which the last Legislature exercised its power should admonish one that it is not likely to surrender it if it is not commanded to do so by public opinion. To make sure of the submission of such amendment, those who favor it must show that the submission of it is desired by the people of the State. If the people of the State do not now desire the submission of such an amendment they can, The News believes, be made to desire it by educating them to an appreciative understanding of the evil consequences of the present method of financing their needs. The News has no doubt that a large majority of the people of Texas wish to see our institutions of higher learning grow and prosper. And if they do, they have only to be shown that the present system of subsidizing them financially greatly retards their growth to make certain that such an amendment will be submitted by the next Legislature. To enlighten them in this respect is a work that will require all the time between now and the primaries. To make certain of the submission of such an amendment, to organize behind it such a volume of popular sentiment as will compel its submission will be a big job. Failure to recognize that fact is apt to doom to defeat any effort that may be made.—Dallas News.

THINGS DON'T HAPPEN

Things don't happen; they are brought about. This is an aphorism that contains a world of wisdom. It is as true as the "law of cause and effect." It is certainly true of business, and of business in general. Neither does failure "happen." It, too, is brought about. The merchant or manufacturer who fails and attributes it to chance or bad luck, or who says it "just happened," is mistaken. If he seeks deep enough he will find that his failure came about just as logically as did the other fellow's success.

We are all creatures of circumstances; to some extent; conditions which we cannot influence, control us, for the most part. But the fact remains that nothing happens; everything is brought about, even though we may be impotent to prevent it being brought about.

Randall County will have the biggest County Fair in Northwest Texas this year. Sept. 28-30.

Value of Soil Survey Work
 Four years of soil survey work in Texas done by the State Experiment Station, cooperating with the Bureau of Soils of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has cost less than $1.00 per year for each 500 people living in Texas. This significant statement was made by Mr. W. T. Carter Jr., Chief of the Division of Soil Survey of the Texas Station, in a recent discussion of the progress of the soil survey work. In other words, each inhabitant of this state of average tax paying ability, has paid one-fifth of one cent per year and has paid to date almost one cent for the information developed by the several crews of soil surveyors engaged in exploring the state county by county and acre by acre, mapping the soils and recording the character of every grade of soil found even to a depth of three feet or more.

The report deals with each soil in a county and gives a description of the texture, structure, depth and color together with the topography and drainage. The suitability of each soil for different crops is given. Where field observations and the experience of farmers have shown that certain practices aid in maintaining soil productiveness, these results are distinctly brought out in the report.

The soil survey serves the farmer. The information is issued by the Experiment Station as a foundation in advising farmers concerning many agricultural problems. County demonstration agents are also aided in their work by the use of the soil survey reports and maps.

The soil survey records are also largely utilized by many people who desire information concerning the soils and agriculture in parts of the country with which they are unacquainted. In the latter case they are about the only absolutely unbiased basis of information for the prospective home-seeker. As farm lands become scarcer the eyes of thousands of people in other states are turning toward Texas and it is of great importance that the lands of Texas may be made known to them in such a way as to enable them to locate soils best suited for the type of agriculture in which they wish to engage. Thus the soil survey will be of untold aid in assisting in the settlement of the large areas of Texas lands and in bringing the vast domain of our state into the highest utilization of her natural agricultural resources.

The actual soil survey work is done by experienced field men who use long augers to bore to a depth of three feet in order to learn the character of both soil and subsoil. Samples of the soil are collected from several depths by the field men and forwarded to Washington and to the Chemist of the Experiment Station, where laboratory examinations and analysis are made to determine their value as well as their fertilizer and tillage requirements.

The Tariff and the Farmer
 The editor of the Country Gentleman, in commenting on the tariff on agricultural products, says:

"We have erected a barbed-wire fence to keep out foreign mice, and we shall likely tear our own pants on it."

Farm and Ranch has always contended that a tariff on agricultural products, such as we have in the emergency bill and in the Fordney bill, is calculated to help most everybody in business except the farmers and those consumers who must purchase the manufactured articles. Farmers have been considered in these bills largely because it was thought that it would effectually prevent them from logically protesting against a high tariff on manufactures. A tariff on wool means that the farmer will receive no more for his clip but that every buyer of clothing will pay an increased price. A tariff on shoes means higher prices for that article. This can be repeated from item to item in the tariff bill. It would take a super-wise man to point out where in the farmer will receive any lasting benefit from any tariff legislation proposed and passed by the present congress. What the farmer wants is a place where he can sell his products

 The least we should do with our smallest opportunity is to make the most of it.

The real name of Lenine is said to be Vladimir Ilich U-li-anoff. If his surname is accented on the second syllable, it was a mistake to change it. But speaking of names, what could be happier or more appropriate than that of Alfred Scattergood, the head of the relief organization of the Society of Friends that has provided one hundred and fifty million meals for poor children in Germany and other parts of Europe?

The expedition of Mr. Donald B. MacMillan, now well up in the Arctic Regions, has one advantage that no previous expedition to those regions possessed: a wireless outfit, with which it expects to keep in some degree in touch with civilization. The time signals sent out from the Naval Observatory at Arlington will be received on shipboard daily, and it will probably be some comfort merely to pass the time of day.

The Mooring Mast for dirigible balloons removes the chief expense of operating them. Instead of the two or three hundred men heretofore needed to handle an airship either in starting or in completing a flight only ten are required with the aid of the mast, which is a web-steel structure perhaps a hundred feet high. As the airship approaches the mast it pays out a steel cable, which when it touches the ground is connected with another cable that runs through the mooring apparatus at the top of the mast and to a winch operated by motor. When the connection has been made the airship is slowly drawn to the mast, where the steel nose of the craft is fitted into the mooring apparatus and locked. A swivel arrangement allows the airship to roll and swing with the wind.

Columbus reported that he found natives of Haiti playing with balls that bounced, which is the first reference to rubber of caoutchouc. Priestly, the English chemist, erased lead-pencil marks with the substance and called it rubber. Mackintosh, a canny Scot, in 1823 dissolved some rubber in naphtha and spread the solution on a slab to dry. He then fastened a rubberized sheet between two pieces of fabric and so introduced the raincoat to the world. But most important, Goodyear let some of a rubber-and-sulphur mixture fall on the lid of a hot stove and noted with amazement that it hardened without melting. He had discovered that it was possible to vulcanize rubber, a process that makes it no longer sensitive to the changes of the seasons and increases its strength and elasticity.

A VISITOR'S VIEW OF CANYON

The following is a letter written by Dr. F. Stryker, a dentist from Galena, Illinois, and published in the Galena Gazette.

Editor Gazette: Possibly some observations I have made in a two weeks sojourn in Texas, may be of interest to some of your readers, who may be looking either for investment or a change of location. Perhaps some who are satisfied in leaving well enough alone, or think "Illinois is good enough for me," may be pleased to hear something of the country to which some of their friends or neighbors may have gone. There have been a good many Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa people located in Texas. I shall try to be impartial or as near so as I may be able. I do not write in the interest of any real estate dealer, but to speak of things as I think them to be.

My observations have been confined to the Panhandle region. What seems to me the best reason for giving this name to this portion of Texas I give your readers: If you look at the map of Texas and are blessed with a sufficient imagination, you will observe that it has something of the outline of an immense pan with the handle projecting towards the North. This handle consists, I think, of five or six counties in width from East to West and six or seven from North to South. These constitute what is known as the Panhandle country.

Canyon, the county seat of Randall county, is near the center of the Panhandle and located on the Santa Fe railroad. A population of about two thousand is claimed. Like Zion of old, it is "beautiful for situation" having an elevation of about 3500 feet, the heat of the summer is greatly modified over the lower lying parts of the state, making it a very enjoyable summer home. It is situated on nearly the same parallel as Southern Tennessee. This gives the Panhandle a very much less rigorous winter than we are subjected to.

Stock needs little more than what they can forage for much of the winter and are raised very profitably. Hogs do well, especially in alfalfa regions. Canyon is near the junction of the Tirera Blanca and Palo Duro canyons. The latter of these I visited yesterday. It is certainly a place of wild rugged beauty, difficult to excel this side of the Rockies. I drank freely of water taken from springs in the Devil's Kitchen, and I liked the water.

My first impression of Texas was not all favorable. Daylight came as we were nearing Canadian on Canadian river. The country was cut up by high, rough and rocky ridges, separated by equally uninviting draws or ravines. Soon after leaving Amarillo, these ridges and draws began to leave us and the country took much the appearance of a great plain. The soil seems in the main to be excellent, a chocolate loam of good depth. One of the strongest impressions made on my mind on this trip, was the biggess of the country. I could not help thinking of the old song: "Uncle Sam has land enough to give us each a farm."

The value of land has been advancing rapidly during the past five or six years. Land could be bought for three dollars per acre 20 years ago is now selling for from thirty to sixty and what is known as alfalfa land, brings as high as one hundred dollars. Wheat, rye, barley, milo maize, kafir corn, millet, broom corn, sorghum, melons, and almost all kinds of garden truck are profitably grown.

Fruit raising is now receiving attention with prospect of good success. I saw several good sized young orchards.

Let no one think that there are no drawbacks here. Like every new country, and some older ones, this has disadvantages. I think the greatest need is moisture. For a number of years they had about twenty-two and a half inches rainfall. I think Northeast Illinois has about twenty-nine inches. Nature made, to quite an extent, provision for the shortage of rainfall. The whole country seems to be filled with a good supply of water for the homes and for stock raising, at a depth of from twenty to sixty feet. Wells are sunk to a depth of from 250 to 400 feet, where what seems an inexhaustible supply is reached.

Canyon has educational advantages over many older and larger towns. They have a good public school, with high school grades. About ten years ago the State located here what is known as the West Texas State Normal College, which has a large attendance. Canyon, by its citizens, subscribed and paid over one hundred thousand dollars toward this school, thus proving their interest in the cause of education.

In conclusion let me say: Let no one go to Texas with the idea that all is going to be smooth sailing. With such views they are doomed to disappointment. Take time to select your home and go over every foot of the land you think of purchasing. Even in the best locations, you are liable to find some undesirable spots. With pluck or grit and industry and a fair supply of cash, they will succeed, and to such, Texas offers a welcome to success and citizenship. Respectfully,
F. STRYKER.

NEWSPAPERS FURNISHES BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM

Every scheme that man has been able to think of has been tried out in order to attract the attention of the public.

Fair means and foul, falsehood and truth have all been in use to try and bring before the public, ATTENTION.

People have walked the streets with signs on their backs.

Electricity has been used to signal. Cow bells have been rung.

A house-to-house canvas has been made.

A sign here and a sign there.

Results, results are what the people are after.

The business man wants results when he puts his money in anything. The public wants results from their money.

But, when the business man or the public want results that count, they call on the newspapers of the country.

The merchant to bring before the buying public the goods he has for sale and the bargains he has to offer.

The public to see of these bargains and where their money will count the most.

No one ever lost a nickel on a subscription to his home newspaper, in fact, he has made a hundred times the cost of the paper by reading and taking advantage of the bargains he sees in its columns. Lots and lots of people take their home paper on account of this big saving.

Merchants use their home paper because it reaches all the people and is less expensive than any other form of advertising they might use. They have tried one thing, then two, but in the end it is always an ad in the local paper that they fall back on.

Mr. Merchant if you are puzzled as to why the fellow across the street is selling more goods than you, pick up your home newspaper and see if you can figure it out.

True advertising pays.

GO TO THE COUNTY FAIR

The County Fair, like Christmas, comes only once a year. Therefore, every farmer in the county ought to go. The next thought is that a county fair is a farmers show, therefore every farmer ought to take something to his county agricultural show. If only a few farmers take exhibits the fair is a poor one. If a great many take exhibits, then the fair is a good one.

This year there has been plenty of rain to make good crops and good pasture. The result is that there are some very fine crops. Any farmer can find on his place some excellent crop specimens to exhibit at the fair. Stock are in good condition and will require but little "fitting" for the fair. For those reasons this is the year that every county should try to have the best fair in the history of the country. This is possible if all farmers will make exhibits.

One of the most common remarks heard at a county fair is "I have a better hog than that at home," or better corn, or better maize. We have heard that ever since fairs were started; but remember the stuff you bring to the fair and get ribbons on is what counts. If you have better products at home then you could make your county fair better by bringing your products. But if you and others like you keep your stuff at home then you are to blame for the poor exhibits. Why don't you bring those fine exhibits and make the fair better? You will profit in two ways—first you will get your farm and yourself advertised a good deal which may quickly result in some good sales of your best products or livestock; second, your county becomes widely advertised agricultural county, which contributes indirectly to your prosperity.

If you are disposed to think your stock and crops are too sorry to show you should just remember that it is your neighbors who do take exhibits and some win the ribbons. Are you going to admit that they are all better farmers than yourself? Of course they are not, but if you don't go and prove your ability they will prove their superiority as farmers and the laugh is on you. Show what you have. You may be surprised at your winnings. Success is encouraging.

The Country Editor (Plainview News)

The editor of the News has rounded out thirty-four years of continuous work in a printing office, except for the time spent in going through high school, and during that time he worked afternoons and Saturdays to learn the business. For more than twenty-five years he has owned and operated a newspaper of his own. He loves the business and never expects to quit it. He hopes that when he dies he will still be "in harness" and at work.

Many have written about the trials and tribulations of the country editor, and he has many, but few have written about his joys.

He stands ahead of the preacher, the lawyer and the public speaker, because he never talks to empty benches, but speaks to thousands in the homes where his paper goes. The News has an audience of more than 7,500 readers every issue it sends out. He never makes impromptu speeches which generally disgust the audience, but writes with deliberation and premeditation, and what he says carries much more weight than the spoken word.

The preacher's influence for good seldom reaches much farther than his audience, while the editor's field for good reaches to all the congregations of the county. The lawyer makes a great speech in the court house and only one or two hundred persons hear him, but when the editor writes a good editorial it is copied by the various newspapers of the state.

The editor distributes more flowers than a florist and he asks nothing in return for them but thanks. The editor has an opportunity to do the individual citizen a service and he never hesitates to do it if consistent with his obligations to the public. The editor has the greatest opportunity to convert men and women to his way of thinking on public questions. As the lighthouse on the shore warns the ships from the rocks the editor can warn the public from the frauds and fakers. The editor has the greatest opportunity to protect society from evil by standing for the law and creating public sentiment for it, and this the News does at all seasons.

The editor never tires of boosting his town and county, and if both do not grow it is not his fault. He helps the deserving young men with words of commendation and restrains the old by words of warning. His field of usefulness is broader than any one else in the community, and if he does not get any returns for his efforts for settlement he has a sufficient reward in seeing things get better. He rejoices in his opportunity for service to his fellow-man, his town and his country, and goes off his way rejoicing, whether or not he gets any returns for it.

Come to Canyon to live.

haps English, breakfast that includes meat, fish and potatoes is becoming less usual. Fruit has taken the place of meat, "breakfast food" has displaced potatoes, and toast, made in a minute, has won its way over hot biscuits and muffins. It is only those who lead an active outdoor life that need a hearty breakfast. For those who work at light or sedentary occupations fruit is better than meat.

A tourist on the trip around the world always stops at Shanghai, the principal port of China, and from it visits the show places of the provinces of Kiangsu and Chekiang. He sees rice paddies, the canals, the Yangtze, the temples and pagodas, but he may not realize that the smokesacks rising here and there in the calm of the Chinese landscape denote important cotton, flour and baen-oil industries that are the beginning of a modern industrial nation. In Canton, the changing face of the city—broad streets, great stores, hotels comparable to the best of their kind anywhere in the world—is more striking. Once the tourist understands what Chinese planning is capable of he cannot but wonder if awakening China is not destined to become one of the greatest nations of the world.

As a result of research that has covered many years, a distinguished London physician, possibly the leading authority on diseases of the heart, had this to say recently about the symptoms of heart failure: "No physical sign so peculiarly of the heart itself can ever give the information as to its functional efficiency . . . so that one can say that no abnormal sign is of itself a basis of prognosis." Many people suffer anxiety on account of a supposed abnormal condition of the heart—unusual palpitation, shortness of breath, suddenly starting awake at night and other like symptoms. The truth is that irregularities in the heart action are more likely to be owing to infection or exhaustion than to any malady of the heart itself. Disease of the heart is not common, and symptoms of heart failure have not yet been determined by medical science. The knowledge should bring comfort to many who have been disturbed by signs the meaning of which they have not understood.

Roman sculptors used the same motive in all their art work, the only variety being in the quality and execution.

You never realize how far we are from the spirit that will insure everlasting peace until you watch the crowd when the umpire makes a close decision in favor of the visiting team.—Minnesota Star.

OPPORTUNITIES IN RANDALL COUNTY

Randall County today offers the best land values of any county in the Panhandle. Land values have rapidly advanced during the past few years, but I am offering some tracts of land, every inch tillable, at most attractive prices, and prices that certainly cannot long remain at their present low level.

Canyon is the home of the West Texas State Normal College, and is recognized as the educational center of Northwest Texas. Canyon has a first class high school and public school. To the man with a family Canyon is the logical place to move in order to educate his family. I have homes in Canyon for sale, and farms near the city for those seeking to take advantage of our educational advantages.

I can offer the buyer tracts of land from one-quarter section up, ranging in price from $20 per acre up. I have farms close to town and raw land at various distances from the city. Every piece of property offered I am confident will make money for the buyer.

Do not fail to call upon me when you are in the market for property in Randall or adjoining counties.

If you want a quick sale on your property, list it with me.

HOW IS BUSINESS?

"How is business with us?" repeated a trade authority who had been asked the inevitable question. "It has held up remarkably well, better perhaps than in most lines. But you wouldn't think so, to hear many of our people talk about it. You would think they were ruined. But here's the reason: In the boom times operators who had formerly considered themselves fortunate to make fifty dollars a week, found they were making two hundred dollars. You know what happened. They expanded their scale of living accordingly. Of course they had to have an automobile and of course the wife had to have a maid, although most of these women had never before dreamed of not doing their own work. Our business is bad when measured by abnormal standards, but not according to any standard which prevailed before the war boom."

Business has seemed worse than it actually has been because of the contrast, the comparison with wartime recklessness and extravagance. Most people are not built for retrenchment.

Expansion is an easier process than contraction. It is much easier for business men to concentrate on getting new orders at high profits and letting expenses run than to concern themselves with cutting expenses to the bone on small orders at low profits. Yet in the end one process may be as profitable as the other.

Increasing one's business is positive and constructive; economy and retrenchment are merely negative. But success for any length of time, through periods of depression as well as prosperity, seems to combine the elements of boldness and caution, of expense at one moment and economy at another. The most striking successful military offensive have often been preceded by Fabian tactics, by masterly retreats. Washington and Foch were not always advancing. Certainly the outstanding business enterprise is the one which cleans house quickly, which takes its medicine early and without wincing, and then goes ahead boldly.

It is often said that the companies, as well as men, who have achieved the most are those who had unwavering faith in the country. Many, perhaps most of the great fortunes have been started in bad times. Rockefeller, Carnegie, Frick and others bought out their partners when only a few people had confidence in the future. If history teaches any economic lesson clearly it is that money is to be made by buying when skies are black rather than when they are bright. "Business revivals are never recognized until they are well on their way"—to quote one of the country's leading banks—"just as now people are talking depression when it is safe to believe that its worst period is over. But we shall always have some drawback to our complete happiness. Man never is, but always to be, blest."

But faith without works is no weapon with which to fight depression. Working and thinking alone do not usher in prosperity. Propaganda to do this or refrain from doing that now, may help here and there in providing a constructive attitude, atmosphere and psychology. But the individual or company that years for larger profits must combine works with faith. To a belief in the future there must be added a down-to-the-bone organization, one which though hopeful of better times is built on lines to meet those that are even worse.—Saturday Evening Post.

Don't Buy Goods If Not Advertised

(Tampa, Fla., Tribune).

The average buyer would do well to look with care at the offerings of the merchant who does not advertise. No matter what claims that merchant may make concerning the facilities at his command for cutting profit to a point where the patron is the beneficiary, it is evident that he has not utilized the one biggest factor available in accomplishing that purpose.

Unless he advertises consistently, it is reasonable to assume that the merchant is not "turning over" his stock as many times a year as he should. And fewer "turn overs" of merchandise mean higher prices for the consumer. He cannot escape them.

Unless the merchant is taking advantage of every element to derive the fullest returns from his investment in floor space, heat, light, sales forces and service departments, he is compelled to boost the figures on his price tags in order to "come out" successfully on his net profits.

The persuasive appeal of intelligent, truthful advertising, persistently applied, is the only thing that really can bring the volume of sales to a peak that will permit the reduction of profit on individual items.

When you buy advertised goods, you have the satisfaction of knowing that the dealer who sells them does so with a confident belief in their merit.

It is natural that the lavishing of wide publicity on any product should tend to elevate the quality of that product. The manufacturer, through advertising, creates a demand for the article or articles he makes. If he expects to hold the market resulting from that demand he must make a worthy product. The volume of his production built up by the constantly growing market, due to advertising, lowers manufacturing costs and enables both the manufacturer and the retailer to take a minimum profit on their sales.

The alert retailer cashes in on the reputation established by honorable manufacturers and sticks with their goods. He knows it will hold his own trade and result in quick "turn overs."

The advertising columns of the newspapers sketch briefly and attractively the buying opportunities of the day. They lead the consumer to the counters of reliable dealers from whom he may expect square dealing and dollar-for-dollar values. The constitute an authentic guide to the legitimate stores in every community.

Because this is true it will pay you to read the advertisements closely and constantly. Compare values and make the most of your expenditures.

You'll save hours in time and dollars in money by knowing what you want, where to get it and, approximately, how much it will cost.

MR. FARMER, WHAT HAVE YOU TO EXHIBIT AT THE RANDALL COUNTY FAIR?

DOES IT PAY TO RAISE RUNTS QUERY PUT TO MANY FARMERS

A questionnaire survey conducted among 1,000 leading farmers and breeders by the United States Department of Agriculture indicates that about 7 per cent of the annual production of farm live stock in the United States consists of runts and undersized specimens of the various breeds and classes. Farmers report that their annual incomes from live stock would be increased an average of 13 per cent if runts could be eliminated. Better methods of feeding and breeding better stock, the use of purebred registered sires, good care and systematic attention, better housing and sanitation, proper care of the dam before the birth of young, practical control of such objectionable parasites as worms and lice, the control of disease, and the culling from the farm of all stunted stock which indicates no possibilities of successful reformation and rehabilitation are the control methods recommended by these experienced farmers. About three quarters of them say that it does not pay to raise runts, while the balance maintain that the Tom Thumbs of the livestock world can be raised successfully only when well bred and when plenty of cheap feed is available and dependable.

Add one pound of diced cheese to a can of heated tomato soup; when cheese is melted stir in one egg slightly beaten, add red pepper and serve on toast.

White or light colored furs can be cleaned with fine cornmeal or dry flour. Rub it into the skin with both hands against the way of the fur.

Put a little currant jelly in the heart of lettuce which accompanies the chicken sandwich. It will delight both eyes and palate.

If your range has a hot water reservoir, food can be kept hot by placing it in covered glass jars and setting in the hot water.

By scientific process, the silk worms of France were once saved by destroying the eggs of the diseased worm.

THE WEST TEXAS STATE NORMAL COLLEGE LOCATED AT CANYON

School Established in 1909 and Opened in 1910 Has Made Rapid and Steady Growth.

Historical

The Thirty-first Legislature of Texas, in 1909, enacted a law for the establishment of a normal school west of the 98th meridian, appropriating $50,000 therefor and designating the Governor of the State, the Speaker of the House, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction as a committee to select a location.

After a careful investigation of the various available sites, the committee selected Canyon as the best place for the school, accepting at the same time a bonus of $100,000 from the citizens of the town and county.

The control of the school was vested in the State Board of Education and a local board of three trustees. Under this system of government the school was opened September 25, 1910, with Hon. R. B. Cousins, former State Superintendent of Public Instruction, as President, and a faculty of fifteen men and women.

The enrollment for the first year (long session) was 227; the first summer session enrolled 355, a total for the first year of 582, exclusive of the Training School.

The curriculum for the first year was rather general in purpose, omitted specific admission requirements, and was evaluated by standard colleges as worth the equivalent of nine college hours above admission.

In 1911 a change in the management of Texas Normal Schools was effected through an act of the Thirty-second Legislature, transferring the powers hitherto exercised by the State Board of Education and local board of trustees to a Board of Normal School Regents, consisting of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and four other Regents appointed by the Governor and approved by the Senate. In 1913 the Legislature added a sixth member to this board, made the term of office six years, and provided for the appointment of two members each biennial period. Under this arrangement the Normal Schools of Texas have made tremendous progress. Under the act of 1911 they had begun to establish uniform entrance requirements and similar curricula.

In September, 1914, the Texas State Normal Schools took a very decided step toward standardization, fixing the completion of the ninth grade as the minimum entrance requirements to the Normal School, as distinguished from the Normal College, adding the fourth year to the work as previously outlined and followed, and fixing the standard fourteen high school units as admission requirements to the first college year.

In 1917, the Board of Normal School Regents, responding to the demand upon the Normal Schools, authorized the addition of two more college years and the conferring of the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science in Education. The wisdom of this step has been thoroughly vindicated not only by the service rendered in the preparation of high school teachers, but also by the discovery that four years of college work are necessary for the adequate preparation of kindergarten and grade teachers as well.

But during these years of rapid Normal School progress, the West Texas State Normal College was not without adversity. On March 25, 1914, the main building was totally destroyed by fire. For two years the school lived in public buildings of the community and in "shacks." In the spring of 1916 it moved into the present administration building—the most complete and best appointed schoolhouse owned by the State of Texas. The disaster by fire was followed quickly by one of the worst droughts in the history of the western part of the State, and contemporary with this was the World War. The institution has just rounded out its eleventh year, and has given instruction to more than seven thousand people, exclusive of the hundreds of children each year in the Training School.

Purpose

If public education is an essential safeguard to free institutions, then to the Republic. It has been said that teaching is a matter of grave concern teachers are born, not made." If so, then in so far as teachers influence our national destiny, the safety of our government is in the fortuitous hands of chance. There may be born enough teachers to keep us free, or there may not be.

The State of Texas does not accept this theory. She believes that men and women may be trained as efficiently in the art and science of teaching as in the art and science of medicine. She believes that it is no more impossible to train teachers than to train lawyers, and certainly more important. Indeed, a rational view of the public's interest in education suggests very clearly that teacher training is vastly more important than any other function which the State performs in the field of higher education. The truth is, "No other enterprise in the United States is as important to its future welfare as its teacher training. We may reorganize our systems, revolutionize our course of study, introduce innovations of scheme and scope, increase salaries, insure pensions, and mass endowments, but none or all of these can appreciably raise our standard of education unless we improve our teacher training. Wherever the Stars and Stripes fly there is immediate and urgent need for help in training teachers prior to and during their service as teachers."

The West Texas State Normal College believes, therefore, in both the importance and the dignity of its mission. It is dedicated, soul and body, to the business of preparing teachers for all the schools of the people—the rural school, kindergarten, the primary grades, the intermediate and grammar grades and the high school. In the accomplishment to this end, it is recognized that there are three essentials—scholarship, atmosphere, and professional approach to the subject matter under skilled direction. As soil, water, and tillage unite in the production of crops, so these unite in the production of teachers. All of these elements are properly provided and safeguarded and brought together in right proportion. The buildings have been constructed, the equipment has been bought, the curricula have been organized, the faculty has been employed with an eye single to the production of teachers whose training and power will set them apart as technical experts worthy of the respect which the public rightly accords to other high vocations and professions.

Location

The West Texas State Normal College is located in the town of Canyon, Randall County. It is situated on the main line of the Santa Fe, eighteen miles south of Amarillo, and is connected with all West and Central Texas Santa Fe points by a direct line thru Lubbock, Sweetwater, Coleman, Brownwood, and Temple. All Fort Worth & Denver and Rock Island trains connect with the Santa Fe in Amarillo, while all Texas & Pacific and Orient trains make Santa Fe connections in Sweetwater.

From a standpoint of health it would be difficult to find a better place than Canyon. Situated at and between the north and south forks of Palo Duro Canyon, the natural drainage of the town is perfect. Besides this, a sewer system is maintained at public expense and the College has its own disposal plant.

The altitude of the town is about 3300 feet and the nights, even in the midst of summer, are almost uniformly cool. The rainfall is about 21 inches per year, the larger part falling, as a rule, in spring and summer.

Both the town and the school have good electric light plants, pure and abundant water supply, and a fair equipment of good side walks. The College community is constantly making public improvements, and in a few more years will offer every advantage of a modern city.

Only a few miles away is the wonderful gorge known as Palo Duro Canyon. This "patch" of western scenery rivals in beauty and grandeur some of the most noted geographic phenomena in the Southwest and furnishes opportunity for both recreation and instruction to large numbers of our students.

The School Plant

The College plant consists of a forty-acre tract of land in the form of a square, and four buildings. The administration building is situated in the middle of the square, and gravel drives bordered by trees lead to it from four sides. It is four stories high, 300 feet long by 200 feet deep, and concrete walks approach it from all sides. It is trimmed in pressed gray brick, terra cotta and stone, and its estimated value at present is something over $800,000. This building is heated by steam and hot air, and every room is lighted by electricity.

The library consists of five rooms appropriately arranged for work; two of these are large reading rooms, with every convenience for quiet study. One room is set apart for a children's library, and the students of the elementary school make constant use of the many choice books. Seven well equipped laboratories accommodate students in the science departments.

Cousins Hall, the new dormitory for girls, is situated about 300 feet east of the main building. It is a fireproof building of brick, steel, and concrete, and with the equipment cost $155,000. It is three stories high, is heated by steam, cleaned by a vacuum cleaner, and lighted by the College plant. A concrete walkway leads from the main building to the dormitory. It has bath rooms and lavatories on each floor, and a laundry equipment where girls may do their own washing, ironing and pressing. In one wing is a reception room 34 feet by 60 feet, and the dining room will accommodate 150 people. No pains have been spared to make this hall a real home for the girls who attend the West Texas State Normal College. It is under the immediate charge of a matron, and at least one lady teacher rooms on each floor.

Historical Review of the Accomplishments of School--More Than 7000 Students Enroll Since 1910

The power plant and metal shop is located about 150 feet northeast of the main building, and it houses the heating and lighting plant, and furnishes quarters for the metal works of the manual training department. In the triangle formed by these three buildings is the pumping plant.

The dairy barn, built in the fall of 1920, is the latest addition to the College equipment. It is a wooden building with concrete and steel stalls, an underground silo, a manure pit and a mow space for forty tons of hay. The barn is 40 by 70 feet. A model poultry house has also been constructed as a part of this equipment.

Library

The West Texas State Normal College has one of the best libraries of its size in the South. The books were selected primarily for the purpose of supplementing the actual work of the classroom; for this reason very few volumes serve only the advantage of shelf decorations. However, the departments of English and history have adequate equipment for students wishing to do advanced work in these departments. The library is unusually well equipped in books of reference, and has on its subscription list more than 100 standard magazines. One special feature of the library is the children's department. This section of the library has more than 1000 well selected books adapted to the needs of children from the first to the sixth grade. The departments of English and history give special courses in literature for children. The librarian, also, gives special courses in the building of a library and how to make the best use of it. The library has, in all, more than 20,000 volumes on its shelves and the librarian and the departments make a systematic and persistent effort to secure the maximum good from this equipment.

Literary Societies

The students of the College maintain four literary societies, two for the girls and two for the boys. The Elaphelians and the Antlers work together, and the Sesames and the Cousins. At intervals throughout the year joint programs are given, and occasionally a public program is arranged. A spirit of the friendliest rivalry characterizes these organizations, and much enthusiasm is manifested in this important work.

The purpose of these organizations is to develop the ability to make impromptu speeches, to give training in proper platform appearance and behavior, to stimulate interest in intellectual contests and subjects of current importance, and to give additional practice in organizing and developing subject matter unassisted.

Religious Organizations

The West Texas State Normal College is permeated through and through with the spirit of Christianity, and it maintains two distinct organizations whose sole purpose is to develop Christian character. The Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association accept responsibility for leadership in the Christian work and moral standards of the student body. They meet regularly and give special training in this important work. Under the direction of a student secretary the work of the Y. W. C. A. is made spiritually uplifting by appealing to the social instincts of young life.

Besides these organizations, the Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian Christian, Disciples, Episcopalian, and Catholic churches maintain organizations in the town and materially assist in the spiritual and social care of the students. The Baptist church has a student secretary to look after the Christian interests as represented in this denomination, and the ministers of the various churches co-operate heartily with the school in making the spiritual atmosphere wholesome.

Devotional services are held daily in the chapel, with addresses by the President, members of the faculty, and resident and visiting ministers, and others. Members of the faculty conduct Sunday school classes in the various churches of the city, and student classes are organized.

Musical Organizations

The Department of Music is one of the most rapidly growing departments of the institution. It has purposely avoided the conservatory idea, but has built up a very strong department that is closely integrated with other departments of the school.

Chorus: The College Chorus is an organization of some hundred students, directed by the head of the Department of Music, and meets twice a week. Besides the services it renders to individual students, the organization functions regularly in the chapel, exercises and on numerous public occasions.

Band: The College Band is one of the most useful organizations in the institution. It is under the direction of a trained instructor and is conspicuous for its successful functioning.

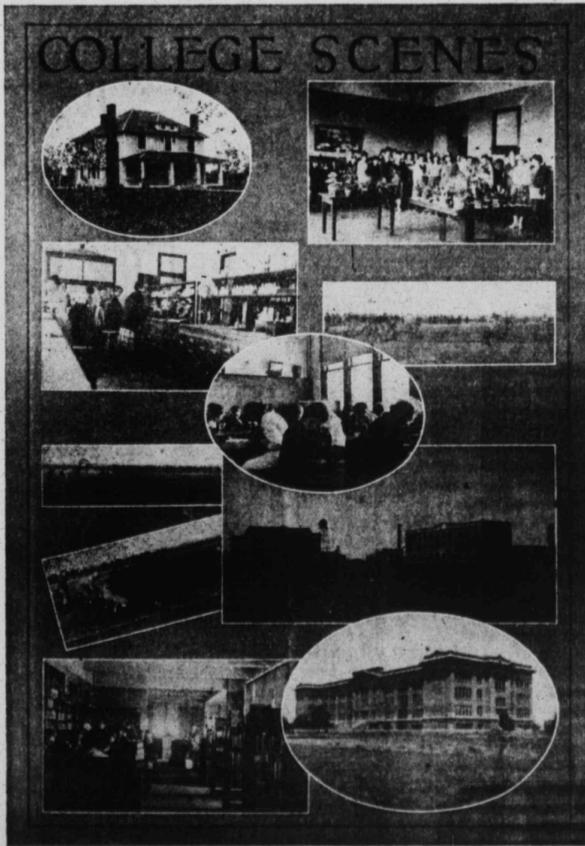

Orchestra: This organization is composed of some two dozen members and is one of the best of its kind in the State. It is being used not only by the College, but also by the general public in this section.

English Club

The English Club was organized primarily for the purpose of assisting students who are majoring in the subject of English. However, its programs are of such a nature as to be of general interest. The organization hopes to prepare students to teach better the subject of English in the public schools of the Panhandle country, and to give them a broader cultural outlook upon life.

During the past year the Club devoted its time to a study of the following program: (1) Professional English, (2) Journalism, (3) Modern Poetry. For the regular session of 1921-1922 the club will study the Modern Drama. One social program is given each quarter.

Membership in the English Club is open to all students of the institution who have made an average grade of "B" for two consecutive quarters in the subject of English. A member who is absent from the club for two consecutive meetings without a satisfactory expense is automatically dropped from the roll.

History Club

The History Club is a new organization. Its object is to stimulate a greater interest in current and historical questions. Its membership is limited to those who are especially interested in the subject of history. Students who are members of this club will receive due credit in their courses in history for all work done in this organization. Membership is maintained by regular attendance at its meetings, by interest manifested in subjects discussed, and also by the character of work done in the regular school work.

Panhandle-Plains Historical Society

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society is an organization for the preservation of all material relating to plant and animal life in this region, the collection of stories of the Indians and of the early settlers, and the preservation of relics and knowledge that may be of value in the future. It will encourage historical research, stimulate an interest in the past and in the men who have helped to make this region what it is, and will do much to bind us together. The society has the nucleus of what gives promise to be a valuable museum.

Membership in this organization is composed of students and faculty of the West Texas State Normal College, and of citizens throughout the Panhandle.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club was the first departmental club to be organized in the West Texas State Normal College. The girls interested in home economics met in December, 1913, and organized the Ellen H. Richards Club. This name was chosen for the reason that Mrs. Richards was the founder of the home economics movement and had a very successful career along this line. In 1919, the name of the club was changed to Home Economics Club because few, other than the members of the club, knew who Ellen H. Richards was, or what kind of an organization should have that name. The club has adopted as its motto the following quotation from Mrs. Richards: "Love of home and of what the home stands for converts the drudgery of daily routine into a high order of social service."

It is the purpose of the Home Economics Club to obtain a broader view of home economics and its relation to civilization, and to help each member to find herself. The club meets twice a month. One meeting is given over

DOLL UP THE OLD STORE FOR THE FAIR STARTS SOON

There is nothing that helps make a fair successful more than when the stores are all dolled up with lots of fags and bunting flying to the breeze: It just puts "pep" into the visitors and makes them return and brag on the town.

Business is going to be good this fall and winter and an impression should be made upon our visitors that will cause them to return and do some of their shopping in Canyon. If you will doll up the store you will be repaid later for your efforts.

to a home economics program; the other is a social meeting.

Mathematics-Science Club

The Mathematics-Science Club is an organization composed of college students interested in science and mathematics. Programs are rendered semi-monthly. It is the purpose of the club to make these both instructive and entertaining. Reports based on current mathematical and scientific investigations awaken special interest. Members are encouraged to keep informed on the leading mathematical and scientific publications.

Spanish Club

A few years ago a Spanish Club was organized in the West Texas State Normal College under the auspices of the head of the Spanish Department, Miss Hudspeeth. But this organization did not continue long. However, the Spanish spirit remained and was felt in the college.

This club was organized with the purposes: First, of furthering interest in this particular language to the extent that those students who did not take Spanish would be so attracted that they would take up the work, as well as increasing it among the Spanish students themselves; second, of studying the Spanish-speaking countries, their importance in the world today, their customs and manners of livelihood and the means by which they could be brought in closer relations with each other and with other countries of the world; and, third, of increasing the social activities of the Spanish students in the institution. These purposes have been kept in view throughout the work that the club has so far accomplished. So far a very interesting study of Mexico has been made. In respect to the social functions of the society, the club visited the Mexican camp near Canyon and was greatly entertained in various ways by the Mexicans. This trip was enlightening as well as entertaining to the members of the club.

Le Cercle Francais

The purpose of Le Cercle Francais is to study the literature and customs of the French people, and to insure a more intimate acquaintance with this language by providing social gatherings at which only French is spoken.

This club now numbers more than thirty young men and women, who have taken great interest in this work during the past year. Membership is conditioned by a speaking knowledge of French and an interest in the character of work which this club is undertaking.

Student Publications

The Prairie: "The Prairie" is a college newspaper of four pages, issued every two weeks. The purpose of this publication is to give students training in composition through the practice of writing up the various college activities, to stimulate interest in college enterprises, to disseminate information as to what other institutions are doing, and to encourage students with literary ability to write.

Le Mirage: "Le Mirage" is the students' annual publication. It reflects the many-sided life of the institution during the current year; it is intended as a permanent record of the year's achievements. It purports to give due prominence to the social, athletic, and literary activities of the student body. In its pages we hope that the public will find the spirit of the institution reflected; and we trust that the students will preserve the volume they helped to write as a trophy of their achievements.

Lyceum Attractions

The College provides a series of high class attractions for the benefit of the student body. The committee in charge of this work seeks always to secure the best obtainable talent for the money available. For the 1921-1922 session the following numbers have been engaged: (1) One play—"The Mollusc," (2) one lecture—Lorado Taft, (3) one high class musical number. The committee will provide one additional attraction.

In addition to these numbers the departments of Music and Public Speaking will give a number of recitals.

Athletics

Football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and all forms of indoor games are directed by trained experts. By reason of the student activities fee, athletics has made notable contribution to school spirit and has greatly increased the number of those who participate in athletic exercises.

A good record was maintained last session in all of these activities, and improvements in grounds and equipment are now being made that will enable this part of the school life to function more perfectly in the future.

Educational Home of the Plains People

The teachers of the Panhandle and Plains country very properly regard the West Texas State Normal College as their educational home. They have found here an atmosphere conducive to their best educational interests, and an equipment adequate for most of their needs. For the past few years the Interscholastic League has held its annual meet at the West Texas State Normal College. Last year more than

SHOES THAT ALWAYS SATISFY YOUR IDEAL OF BEAUTY AND COMFORT

Because Queen Quality "lasts" fit perfectly, there's comfort in Queen Quality shoes from the first day you wear them.

And there's style in the hand-tailored patterns; there's beauty in every line; there's the requisite lightness, flexibility and shapeliness demanded in each type of Shoe.

TRULY THE QUEENS OF SHOE QUALITY

'Tis so easy to make your choice wherever Queen Quality shoes are sold, for there's a quality about each style that sets it apart from common shoes; a distinction that your friends will recognize; a fitting ease and grace that are reflected in your walk and dress.

AND THEY FIT WHERE OTHERS FAIL

"Fit" is the great secret of Queen Quality shoemaking. Without it your shoes will become shapeless; they'll wrinkle and pinch and soon wear out. Queen Quality shoes are made and sold "for the right purpose, to the right wearer, in the right fitting, for the right price." They are the shoes for you.

We are exclusive agents for Queen Quality shoes in Amarillo.

CANYON PUBLIC SCHOOLS ARE BEST IN COUNTRY--LARGE ATTENDANCE

(Written especially for the Randall County News by Edward Gerald and Herschel Coffee.)

What, dear friends is the center of your city, that is, the institution which seems to you the most vital and most necessary in the life of your city? Is it your bank? Your merchant from whom you get all the material necessities of life? Or, is it your civil and city government? To all of these questions the answer is an emphatic "No."

In the extreme eastern and western portions of our city are two institutions in which the most important and necessary events in the life of our country and town take place. These are the schools that we are justly proud of.

Every citizen of Canyon is not familiar with the drawbacks that have constantly deterred the advancement of the Canyon High School. Unfortunately, a few years ago, contrary to the advice of the State Department of Education, our high school was made a Junior High and in consequence lost a rating from second in the state to very near the bottom. This was a severe blow but in the last few years sentiment has been growing for the re-establishment of a high school. Through the efforts of some of the school boosters a petition was circulated and more than enough signatures easily secured to order an election for the purpose of raising taxes sufficient for carrying on a full high school. This election, due largely to the united efforts of an earnest student body and their many friends, was carried, and now at the start of the 1921-22 school year, Canyon finds herself the proud possessor of a complete high school and is already on the road to its former rank among the affiliated schools of the state.

Class A School

Canyon High School is classed in the State Department as a class A school. Its affiliation is growing very rapidly and soon we hope to have a school which shall be the pride of the citizens of Canyon. The enrollment of the entire school, both grades and high school is about 420. This is quite a number to crowd into the accommodations that our small building affords but where there is a will there is a way, and the student body certainly has the will.

The following subjects are offered in the high school:

Eighth Grade

Ancient History
First Year Algebra
Rhetoric and Composition
Beginner's Latin
Physical Geography
Advanced Physiology and Hygiene

Ninth Grade

Modern European Civilization
Second Year Algebra
Advanced Composition and Rhetoric
Second Year Latin (Caesar)
Biology

Tenth Grade

American History
Geometry
English Literature
Latin (Cicero)
Chemistry

Eleventh Grade

Sociology
Civics
Geometry (Solid)
High School Arithmetic
American Literature
Latin (Virgil)
Physics

Credit is given for music and expression in all grades.

Standard Equipment

Our equipment in laboratory, thanks to the hearty co-operation of the school board is rapidly becoming standardized. Maps, charts, source books, etc., come up to the state requirements.

Equipment for physiology is practically complete, in fact nearly everything is complete including the building which is completely full. And speaking of equipment, we are equipped with a corps of teachers who know their business and know it well. As students we are thoroughly pleased with each and every one of them and we certainly want them to know it.

The music department is rapidly filling again and it will soon be impossible to get further places on the program. This department has turned out some excellent students and we are grateful for the work being done.

The expression department is starting out nicely and the teacher and pupils are greatly pleased with the prospects of the work for the coming year. Plans are rapidly taking shape and the expression pupils will often entertain. Watch for announcements of pupils recitals in both music and expression.

The following is a list of the teachers of the entire school:

High School Teachers

Superintendent—C. L. Sone.
Mathematics—C. L. Sone.
History—Mrs. J. J. Powell.
Science—L. A. Cooper.
English—Miss Loretti Wiggins.

Latin—Miss Sara Thompson.
Music—Miss Faire Wiggins.
Expression—Miss Margaret Whitaker.

Primary and Intermediate Teachers

1st grade—Miss Lena Perriman.
2nd grade—Miss Helen Croson.
3rd grade—Mrs. J. C. Hays.
4th grade—Miss Lois Nelson.
5th grade—Miss Ida Rowan.
6th grade—Miss Dana Lancaster.
7th grade—Miss Esther Rudolph.

Canyon High, like all other old schools has an interesting history. However, data is very hard to obtain but there are some interesting facts to which the students will add by diligent research during the current year and give the result of their work to the News.

Early School History

We find that the first graduate was Miss Vera O'Dell, who received her diploma in 1902. The first teacher was Miss Emma Turner. The next three or four teachers' names do not seem to be remembered by the old residents and the record has been destroyed, but we find that Mrs. D. M. Stewart, then Miss Katie Mills, taught a short while after Miss Turner. The school at this time seems to have been conducted in the building then used as the court house. Later a small school building was constructed and a force of three teachers employed. Good teachers were hard to get at that time and Mr. Cyrus Eakman resigned his unfinished term as County Judge to teach in the Canyon school. This was in 1896. Judge Eakman has always been a friend of education in Canyon and elsewhere and we of Canyon High are extremely proud to consider him in the front rank of our boosters. The following is a list of the superintendents who have served during the past twenty years: Rāzor, Ernsburger, Lackey, Johnston, Temple, Redus, Yoe, King, Willys, Sloop, Sone.

On Jan. 16th, 1903, the school board saw that the school must have a special tax and accordingly an election was called and a tax voted that was not to exceed one half of one per cent on the hundred dollar valuation.

First Trustees of School

The first trustees of the independent school district which was incorporated on Jan. 3, 1903, were: B. Frank Buie, L. T. Lester, R. W. O'Keefe, G. C. Long, E. A. Upfold, J. C. Pipkin and W. C. Baird. The taxes had to be increased to accommodate the new school district and in the election that followed that need there was a total of 119 votes cast—105 being for the tax. This raised the taxes to 50c on the hundred dollar valuation.

The first teachers of the new district were: W. J. Lackey, B. F. Hodges, Miss Maud Pope, Miss Eppie Earhart, and L. E. Lackey.

Brick Building Erected

The election on the issuance of bonds for building a brick school building was held on the eleventh day of August, 1903. There was a total of 73 votes cast—70 being for the issuance of bonds.

Scott and Roland were the contractors and the contract price $10,000, the highest bid made was $17,100.

The faculty for 1904 were: A. Ernsburger, B. F. Hodges, Mrs. Carrie Ernsburger, Mrs. A. H. Thompson, Miss Bell Parker, Miss Ona Long.

The first music teacher of the school was Miss Elsie M. Kilgore.

We find that the graduates of 1905 were: J. P. Hix, Maude Brandon, Audrey McLarty, Annie Laurie Buie, Willie Word, Lola Word, John Wiggins, Laura Wiggins, Isabel Pritchard, Minnie Willard, and Robert Lee Wilson.

The old school building was surrounded by a high board fence and in one corner of the enclosure was an old well equipped with four buckets. Water fights were not infrequent and many a boy has had his record and his peace of mind destroyed in one of these fights, especially if he did not manage to evade the teacher.

Greater Improvements Made

The school board which was perhaps responsible for the greatest improvements in a single term was: Dr. Black, Dr. Stewart, C. O. Keiser, T. C. Thompson, W. T. Moreland, Pat Young, Cyrus Eakman. The laboratory was especially improved during the term of

Apparel Fashions for Fall

True artistic designers have snatched inspiration from the Orient in fabrics of rich texture and in slim silhouette, and our stocks feature interpretations of Parisian styles as well as the most worthy creations of American designing.

NEW SUIT WAYS

—are so varying they leave the impression they are bent on pleasing all—coats are delightful in their vagaries; cap and blouse types with smart vestee effects, and pinched—straight line models and, too, sleeves play an important part in the mode. Prices are moderate from—

$29.50 to $75.00

FROCKS FOR FALL

—express the "new" from their unique neck-lines to their irregular hems—an engaging collection, featuring the new silhouette in the fabrics of the to-be-vogue and delightfully trimmed. Scores of smart styles fashioned of soft, supple fabrics, and all the new season colorings, in prices—

FALL BLOUSES

If a blouse has't a panel it flaunts a feature quite as unique. They are interestingly original and make one wonder where the inspiration for their designing was gleaned. Effects are charming—new boat shape neck-lines, gay beads, embroidery in fine traceries of colorings are all here, and prices are very reasonable.

THE FALL HAT

—strikes a keynote of style and color for your costumes. The new arrivals are so versatile that the choice of the hats will be an easy one—continentals vie with berettas and pokes for honors, and turbans claim a large clientele, and duvety, Panne, felt, and duvet denoir lead, and prices are—these trustees. The library was begun under Prof. Redus. It is now growing rapidly and will be greatly improved this year.

Canyon High has furnished the big leagues with two boys of considerable reputation. They are: Penan Reynolds and Pug Cavett.

One of the first schools taught in Canyon was a private school conducted by a Mr. Lyons.

Graduates of High School

The following is a list of graduates of the school since 1911. The records for the years previous to 1911 were either neglected or destroyed. For two years since 1911 the school was a Junior High and there were no graduates that year. Another year we find that almost a complete class failed to complete their work for some reason and as a consequence of these things the list of graduates is very small: Willie Mills, Rena Craig, Edith Eakman, Zerah McKeenolds, Frank Shotwell, Ernest Smith, Annie Smith, Watson Thompson, Ruby Ballard, Pearl Black, Ethel Crowley, Ralph Harter, Jesse Hicks, Neva Hicks, Louis Hix, Sarah Miller, Helen McNeil, Bertie Sanford, Clarence Thompson, Gertrude Van Zant, Grace Winder, Lyle Holland, William Younger, Bernie Vansant, Ola Ballard, Emily Bracks, Ruth Hood, Chas. Lofton, Lottie Lofton, Ray McReynolds, Freddie Prichard, Ida Fae Smith, Ross Craig, Walter Word, Beryle Edwards, Dewey Foster, Lee Foster, Gray Dean Foster, Venie Moreland, Sherman Prichard, Newton Harold, Hugh Shotwell, Bernie Slack, Helen Croson, Thelma McGee, Hazel Park, Thelma Reid, Paul Foster, Irene Berry.

Canyon High has had a steady growth of attendance in the last two years, and what is more it has not stopped growing yet. And paralleling this growth is that of school efficiency in all lines.

Football During Fair

If you are interested in athletics, you are assuredly going to be interested in the boys in purple and white this year. We are going to play Tulla High the second day of the Randall County Fair and that game will surely be worth your time even if it is not a fair sample of what the boys will be doing in the last games of the season.

If Canyon does not carry off the Panhandle championship in basketball it will be because there is no basketball played. We have a whale of a team or will have when the time comes. You all know what we had last year. Well we have that same bunch and about three times as many who are as good or better.

We also had a fair record in Baseball last year and this year it is going to be fair and warmer. We will be formidable anyway you take it. If you want proof, wait and see.

The following is a list of the football boys who appear daily in uniform: Claude Moore, Emel Brown, Leslie Key, Alton Key, Cecil Foust, Bob Stratton, Emmit McCormick, Floyd Callahan, Curran Shaw, Jack Covington, Horace Wooten, Roy Campbell, Ted Curlee, Clyde Moore, Joe Gregory, Tracy Service, Billy McClure, Robert McGee, Tom Ridgway, Jack Foster, John Hicks, Ace Wall and Edward Gerald.

Present Organization Strong

We are grateful to the school board for their prompt action in securing material and we appreciate their expressions of confidence in our future. Here are their names: G. G. Foster, John Fry, J. W. Warwick, J. A. Cheatham, J. T. Service, S. B. McClure and John Guthrie.

The band and orchestra will soon begin practice and we are sure that these organizations will be a great success. We are expecting a great deal from these two organizations this year. We know that we shall not be disappointed.

You will also be greatly interested in expression when you once see or hear our Miss Whitaker in her splendid work. There will be recitals and plays under her direction and they will all be very interesting.

provided some one does not let their load drag them down. Quite a few learned a dear lesson last year when they saw some of their classmates left behind. Let us hope that the senior class shall be perfect this year: Opal Gill, Clara Burtz, Robert McGee, Edna Schramm, Roy Campbell, Edith Harrison, Ruth Burdette, Hazel Findlay, Amelia Hazelwood, Myrtle Lou Biggers, Birch Campbell, Lexie Campbell, Mae Slack, Irene Jones, Leslie Key, Jack Foster, Herschel Coffee, Lillie Mae Fogarty, Grace Candel, Beulah Dodson and Earl Burtz.

Loyal Student Body

Friends, the best testimony we have to offer in favor of the Canyon High School is the aggressive loyalty of a solid student body. Every student is behind his school and is proud of her prospects. Ask them yourselves. Are they dissatisfied? Are they down on their teachers and the world in general? No! We have a corps of teachers second to none. Every single pupil in this school is here to win and if you watch the splendid material that will be graduated year after year you will find time to praise the teachers for their unselfish work and the great ideals they are planting in the minds of our men and women of tomorrow. Listen all you want to, but we are sure you will never hear a word of anything but praise for the school from the mouths of the student body.

The student writers wish to thank the following people for their information that enabled them to write this article: Mr. Cyrus Eakman, Dr. D. M. Stewart, Mrs. L. G. Conner and Mr. G. G. Foster.

THE PALO DURO CANYON AS A STATE PARK IS ENTIRELY POSSIBLE

While the broad, sunlit plains of the Panhandle have unending charms in the grandeur of their sweep, their glorious mirage and radiant sunsets, still there is an ever recurring longing for the stream with its babbling currents, the precipice and cliff, the woodland and the mellow, shadowy scenes of the landscape.

As astounding as it may seem to the uninitiated there is in the Panhandle and beginning just a couple of miles from Canyon the Palo Duro canyon, ranking in point of sublime proportions and all the elements of both wonder and beauty with the more memorable spots for scenic grandeur and renown of this or any of the continents of the earth.

Imagine yourself journeying over the level plains with your vision confronted only by the distant horizon and the shifting mirage, to suddenly halt upon the very verge of a precipice or wall of hundreds of feet, and as you stand appalled with the first distended vision you cover from one to three miles to a similar precipice or wall on the opposite side. These precipices give off every known shade and coloring and in their fantastic creation nature and geology combined their greatest forces in building an adamantine picture, awesome, weird and the acme of sublimity. The two or three miles intervening, the two stupendous canyon walls have perennial springs and rivulets and a tree and plant growth of semi-tropical luxuriance. There are over 100 distinct tree species, from the evergreen cedar, defying time and storm from the towering craig, to the delicate fern that enchants you from the margin of the stream.

The main portion of this great canyon is about 80 miles in length, and it is in the very heart of the altitudinous plains with the atmosphere of the canyon always cool, pure and exhilarating and with every part and depth of the canyon free from flies, mosquitoes, in-alternating crags and dizzy slopes to the bower and vine-embosomed valley below. As a fitting crown to such a bewildering panorama rest the graceful and sentinal-like cedars. Lower down and hugging the canyon walls, you see the honey locust, luxuriant in their feathery foliage, and still lower a rapturous intermingling of elm, hackberry, ash, walnut, Spanish oak, and innumerable other timber or tree species, and lastly the stately cottonwood, sycamore and the button and drooping willow. Just here your attention is arrested by a subdued murmur and rippling melody and a step further, beneath arboreal shade, there is the racing, laughing, crystalline rivulet, as if hurrying to hide itself in a mingling of rainbow, spray and foam of the cataract. Passing the rapids you enter upon a level stretch with edging waters, athwart whose broadening surface is cast the shadow of reposeful sycamores and willows, water out of whose crystal depths pond lilies peep and from whose moss-velled banks nodding ferns salute; and right here is a rapturous sylvan scene that would rekindle the smouldering emotions of everyone, however phlegmatic, old or young, and, following in quick succession, these scenes can never be overcrowded by seekers of soul's affinities—the extent of the area is too great.

The Palo Duro canyon defies the work of pen or painter's brush. It presents an awe-inspiring, kaleidoscopic picture fashioned by Nature and Nature's God which no man can faithfully portray. It is Edenic and enthralling in its charm. Here the lover of natural history, fossil and geology can explore to his heart's content.

Such an extended and elaborate narration of the places and scenery was attempted by the writer solely to enlighten the uninformed and to make clear to the outside world that there are means at hand for outdoor life and pleasing, soulful and healthful play

MUSIC IS A BLESSING

Have you music in your home? Are you making any effort to supplement the splendid offerings of the phonograph record and piano player roll with home-produced vocal and instrumental melody?

Will there be a singing school in your community this fall?

"Music is one of the good things will contribute much toward a wholesome contentment and a happy family life," Secretary Wallace recently wrote in response to a request for an expression on the subject.

"Music is one of the good things of our present civilization which, in common with other blessings, is as readily available to those who live in the open country as to those who dwell in the cities.

"In the old days music was an important factor in rural community life. Many of us remember the old-fashioned singing school.

"Community singing should be revived generally.

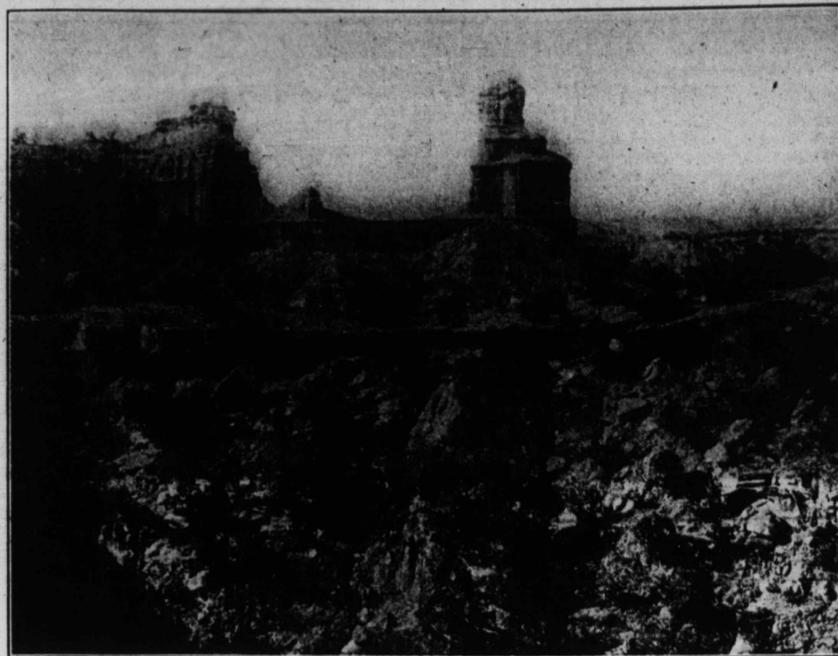

"The township music teacher should be working in every community."

Any Fool Can Quit

Whether you are day laborer or corporation president, office boy or superintendent of the works, you are sure to come to the point sooner or later, at which things will not go to suit you and you will be an unusual person if the first thing you think of is not—to quit your job.

This is the very place where you will need self-control. Just remember that any fool can quit, but the person who sticks and makes a success of his job, overcoming every obstacle to do so, is a genius.

There are unpleasant occurrences in every job; there are obstacles to overcome by all who would rise above the work which a person can do with his hands, without the use of his head; and the extent to which a person meets these conditions philosophically, with a smile instead of a frown, will mark

Boys in all the high schools and colleges in Japan now play baseball, and the people go to the games. At a recent match between two Japanese college teams fifty thousand "fans" stormed the stadium, and spectators swarmed on every roof and tree-overlooking the grounds. When a nation of fifty-six million people changes its national sport it is an event. For a thousand years or more wrestling has been the great sport of Japan, and the professional wrestlers have formed a class by themselves. Now the athletes are going in for baseball, and Japanese capitalists are preparing to organize and finance the sport as we in America do.

BE RID OF THE ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend? Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. C. R. Correy, Canyon, says: "My back and kidneys had been causing me a lot of trouble for a long while. My back ached steadily and there was lameness and soreness in it which made it hard for me to stoop over to do my housework. I would get dizzy and black specks would float before my eyes. Then again I would have headaches and my kidneys were inflamed and irregular in action. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and bought some at the Holland Drug Co. Three boxes fixed up my kidneys and relieved my back."

VULCAN TUBES AND COMPRESSION TIRES WILL SOLVE YOUR PUNCTURE TROUBLES

AT LAST!—A TUBE THAT CLOSES PUNCTURES

You Pull the Nail and Keep Moving

It Adds 20 to 50 per cent to the Casing's Life

With the Compression Inner Tube there are no long waits on the road—no dirty back-breaking tire changing—nothing to do but pull out the nail and keep moving. Here's why: Compression tubes are about three times as thick as ordinary tubes. Their circumference is greater than the inside circumference of the casing. They are moulded with corrugations which conform to the smooth surface of the casing when deflated. The air pressure, instead of stretching the tube, COMPRESSES it. Thus when the nail is removed the hole closes up automatically. No air is lost!

Compression Tubes—once inflated—are always firm—the proper air pressure is constantly maintained. They add many miles to the life of the casing—practically eliminates pinching and rim-cuts—makes the car ride easier. You are not only able to say—GOODBYE PUNCTURES—when your car is equipped with Compression Tubes—but you save money on tires, gasoline, etc. You owe it to your sense of motor economy to investigate Compression Tubes. Come in and let us SHOW you this puncture-closing tube—TODAY.

Plains Stockmen and Farmers Should Finish Their Hogs and Cattle for Market And Keep the Large Profits at Home

What is more inviting to a farmer than to come in from the barn on a cold, blustery winter morning to find on his breakfast table a dish well laden with home-cured ham, juicy, tender and smoking hot? Why do not more farmers convert their crop of summer pigs into meat for their own use instead of selling it on the market and buying cured meats and high priced pork products? There is profit in the transaction for the dealer and for the packer, but none for the farmer, who besides sacrificing profit has also given away one of his most valuable privileges—that of growing and preparing his own food products.

Any farm will support a few pigs. The waste of the farm may be profitably converted into a valuable food product through the agency of a few young porkers. If more pigs are raised and more pork cured than can be consumed at home there is always opportunity for its sale among the neighbors.

A great many farmers who raise pigs feel that the expense of curing hams and preparing pork products is too great, but some of the best results are secured through the use of inexpensive supplies and equipment. The tools and equipment necessary for killing and cutting up a pig are: A straight 8-inch sticking knife, a cutting knife, a bell-shaped scraper, a meat saw, a big hook and gambrel, and an old barrel for scalding.

Many farms have an outbuilding while others have regular brick smoke-houses in which the hams, shoulders, and bacons may be hung and smoked. A very satisfactory smoke-house can be constructed with a barrel and a cement fire pit. For a few pigs such small equipment is ample, but where many are to be killed and cured the equipment will need to be enlarged so that all the meat of a single killing can be cured at once.

The smoking process not only helps to preserve the meat but also imparts a very delicate and desirable flavor which cannot be obtained in any other way.

The meat for smoking, if brine cured, should be taken from the brine, soaked in water for half an hour, washed and hung in the smoke-house to drain. It should dry for 24 hours before the fire is started. Hang the meat at a distance from the fire so it will warm up gradually and not become too hot. Take care that the pieces do not touch one another.

For fuel, use green hickory, maple, or any hard wood. Never use resinous wood. The time required to smoke a lot of meat is from 36 to 48 hours, but a slower and longer smoking is desirable if the meat is to be kept for a long time.

When the smoking process is complete the meat should be allowed to cool and then be wrapped and stored. It should first be wrapped in heavy paper and then put into muslin sacks. In tying the top of the sack the old string by which the meat was hung should be removed and the top of the bag given a tight fold to keep out insects. The bag is then brushed with a coating of yellow wash and the meat hung up until needed.

Yellow wash sufficient for 100 pounds of smoked meat may be prepared from the following recipe:

- 3 pounds barium sulphate.
- .06 pound glue.
- .08 pound chrome yellow.
- .40 pound flour.

The celebrated Smithfield ham is like wine, the older the better, and it requires a different curing process. Smithfield hams are cured as follows:

The hams are placed in a large tray of Liverpool fine salt, then the flesh surface is sprinkled with finely ground crude saltpeter until the hams are as white as though covered by a moderate frost—or, say, use 4 to 6 ounces of the powdered saltpeter to each 100 pounds of green hams.

After applying the saltpeter, salt immediately with the Liverpool fine salt, covering the entire surface well. Then pack the hams in bulk, but not in piles more than three feet high. In ordinary weather the hams should remain in salt in bulk one day for each pound each ham weighs—that is, a ten pound ham should remain ten days, and in a like proportion of time for larger and smaller sizes. Next wash with tepid water until the hams are thoroughly cleaned, and after, partially drying, rub entire surface with finely ground black pepper, after which they should be hung in the smokehouse and the important operation of smoking begun.

After the hams are cured and smoked they should be re-peppered, to guard against vermin, and then bagged. These hams improve with age and are especially fine when one year old.—Southwest Plainsman.

There are many wonderful picnicking grounds near Canyon which are enjoyed by the students of the Normal as well as the citizens of Canyon.

The West Texas State Normal College

one thousand people were in attendance, and great interest was manifested in every feature of the occasion. The Gregg Cousins Memorial Loan Fund Association

During the fall of 1911 the faculty of the West Texas State Normal College provided a loan fund to aid worthy students in need. In the following January, Gregg Cousins, son of President Cousins, had died. The faculty named the organization the "Gregg Cousins Memorial Fund," in his memory.

The fund now contains $2892.83, contributed by the faculty and other friends of the institution. It is hoped that this fund may grow from year to year. Looking to this end, an annual loan fund entertainment has been provided, and other means are employed to increase the fund.

The money is loaned by the faculty to worthy students at six per cent interest, payable in any period not to exceed two years. To be eligible to receive this aid, a student must have been in the College for at least one year, and must have proved worthy of trust and confidence.

Schreiner Scholarship
Captain Chas. Schreiner of Kerrville, Texas, has established two scholarships, of the annual value of two hundred seventy-five dollars each, open to graduates of the Tivy High School, Kerrville, Texas, the holders having the right to enter any one of the State Normal Colleges or the University of Texas.

Regents' Scholarships
The State Board of Normal School Regents offers annually a scholarship worth one hundred dollars, payable from local funds, open to students who have completed with high rank a two-year college course or a three-year college course in a Normal College.

Scholarships to Affiliated High Schools
The State Board of Normal School Regents offers, also, two scholarships annually to graduates of fully affiliated high schools; one to the honor student among the young women, and one to the honor student among the young men. These scholarships carry with them exemption from any and all fees.

Teachers' Employment Bureau
The Teachers' Employment Bureau has a two-fold purpose. In the first place, its object is to secure positions for teachers, especially in the Panhandle, which will be suitable for them for which they will be best fitted. In the second place, it strives to cooperate with superintendents and school boards in selecting teachers who are best qualified for work in a particular subject or grade. Since this bureau was first established, it has been instrumental in locating hundreds of teachers who are helping to establish a reputable name for it by their good work. Its services are free both to teachers and school boards. Anyone who desires its assistance should address, the Committee on Teachers, West Texas State Normal College.

Care of the Sick

In order properly to protect the health of the student body and also to avoid unnecessary interruption of class work, each student is required to present at entrance a vaccination certificate showing immunity from small-pox. Also, each student in the long session is required to pay a fee of three dollars, and each student in the summer session a fee of one dollar, with which to pay for the services of a trained nurse. All student illness is under the immediate care of the nurse, though the general health of the student body is looked after by a committee composed of the Dean of the College as ex-officio chairman, the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, the head of the Home Economics Department, the director of Physical Education for Men, the director of Physical Education for Women, and the nurse.

The Training School

The Training School consists of a Kindergarten department, a primary department, an intermediate grade department, and a junior high school department. The administration of this school is under the direction of the superintendent and the supervisors of the respective departments. The critic teachers bear the same relation to the superintendent that teachers in public schools bear to their superintendent.

Its purpose is to furnish prospective teachers an opportunity to observe the work of trained experts,—to see professional theory translated into practice—and to furnish skilled direction and guidance to those who are only beginning their professional careers.

Each candidate for a diploma and permanent certificate is required to work one hour per day for nine months in that department of the Training School which corresponds with his major in the College. Semi-weekly conferences are held by the respective supervisors of the various departments of the Training School, at which all student teachers and critic teachers in a given department are brought together for a discussion of such practical questions and problems as experience may have developed. The critic teacher holds daily conferences with the student-teachers under her charge, and renders sympathetic aid whenever possible. The student-teacher, however, is given a perfectly free hand in the management of her class and is held responsible for results. It is believed that in this way only will the teacher's initiative and resourcefulness be developed. Every problem is approached from the viewpoint of the welfare of the child. If the child's interests and needs did not make this imperative, it would nevertheless be necessary to the welfare of the student-teacher. Each grade is limited to twenty-five students, and the various rooms are well equipped with specially selected furniture and apparatus.

Every school kid in Randall County will be the guest of the Randall County Fair, September 29.

SEPTEMBER 28, 29, 30

ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM FOR RANDALL COUNTY FAIR WILL HAVE STRONG FEATURES—SEVEN RODEO EVENTS EACH DAY OF FAIR.

Twenty-five steers and a whole herd of bad horses are being brought to Canyon for the Rodeo show which will be pulled off on the fair grounds during the Randall County Fair. A bunch of wild goats will be used for roping.

Some of the best known bulldoggers, ropers and riders of the southwest have been attracted to the show by the liberal prizes offered.

A big program will be pulled off each day with seven events. The following prizes are offered:

- 1st—Broncho riding, $100.
- 2nd—Steer roping, $100.
- 3rd—Goat roping, $100.
- 4th—Calf roping, $100.
- 5th—Steer bulldogging, $50.
- 6th—Steer riding, $50.
- 7th—Ladies broncho riding, $50.

Entries in these events are not limited. All events are opened to the world.

Thursday, September 29, the Fair Association will be host to the school children of Randall county. In the morning a big athletic program will be put on under the direction of Superintendent C. L. Some of the Canyon schools. All schools are urged to compete in the events. Foot races, sack races, potato races, three legged races, etc., will be staged. Cash prizes will be given. The school having the largest number at the fair, excepting the Canyon schools, will be given $5.00 cash.

The amusement program will be exceptionally strong and clean. If you are interested in good sport, see the events that will be staged at the Fair this year.

The Canyon high school is going to play the Tulia high school in football Thursday morning.

FAIR BUILDING TO BE READY SATURDAY PLANS FOR FAIR DISCUSSED MONDAY

A final meeting was held Monday night at the court house of those interested in the Randall County Fair in order to go over the plans as had been made and to see that nothing had been omitted from the arrangements in order to make this the biggest Fair in Northwest Texas.

C. F. Walker stated that the building would be completed by Saturday night of this week. Those present signified their great pleasure that the work had been so successfully accomplished under the direction of Mr. Walker.

The building will have 51 stalls and will house all of the hogs for the fair. No pen rents will be charged.

The cattle pens will be built near the sales pavilion.

The machine shed of the Normal will be used as the agricultural hall, with part of it for a woman's rest room.

The baby show will be in the rest room.

A committee was appointed of G. G. Foster, C. H. Jarrett, Oscar Gamble,

W. W. Kuehn and Mace Whitman to see all merchants of Canyon and urge them to have wholesale houses to have booths at the Fair.

Mr. Walker asked that all who had something to put in the donation sale to help pay for the building to bring it to the sale Saturday, October 1. The big registered hog sale will be held at that time.

No donations are asked this year for a premium list. All donations go to paying for the building. On motion it was decided to ask business men and others to sign up a guarantee list in case of rain which might cause a loss on premiums. M. A. Henson, B. B. Cluck, Bob Price, Roscoe Davis and Wm. Schmitz were appointed.

The Woman's Book Club will have charge of the rest room at the grounds, the Woman's Country Club will supervise the woman's department of the Fair and Mrs. Fred H. Ives will have charge of the baby show.

Premiums Offered For Pig Club Boys

The boys of the Randall County Pig Club will put on one of the biggest and best shows of the Randall County Fair, Sept. 28, 29, 30.

The following premiums are offered by the National Duroc Jersey Record Association: First $10, second $8, third $7, fourth $6, fifth $5, sixth $4, seventh $3, eighth $3, ninth $2 and tenth $2.00.

The same money is offered for both boars and sows.

The boys of the Pig Club are getting their pigs in shape and will make a great showing in the fair. This is the first Futurity Show to be held in Texas for Pig Club boys.

Boys and Girls Club Pigs
Cash prizes will be offered on pigs not showing in futurity show as follows:

Fall pigs farrowed after Sept. 1,

1920, $10, $7.50, $5, $5, $5.

Boys' Calf Club—Baby Beef
Cash prizes in addition to those offered by American Hereford Cattle Breeders' Association will be offered: $5 each for first five places.

Boys' Calf Club—Dairy
Cash prizes will be offered—$5 each for first five places.

Poland China Promotion Show
The Poland China Promotion Show will offer $150.00 in premiums to be divided as follows:

First $10; second $8; third $6; fourth $5; fifth $4; sixth $3; seventh $2; eighth, ninth and tenth, $1 each. The same premiums will be offered for both boar and gilt.

The following will be the cash offers on litter of four: first $15; second $10; third $7; fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth, $5.00 each.

Come to Canyon to live.

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO TAKE TO THE RANDALL COUNTY FAIR—TELL WALKER

C. F. Walker wants to know what you are going to exhibit at the Randall County Fair next week. Tell him quick.

All of the breeders of registered hogs are going to be there with their hogs and pigs.

A bunch of registered Herefords are going to be on exhibit.

The poultry department is going to be one of the strong features.

Of course the farm and garden exhibit will be one of the finest ever seen in this section of the Panhandle. The best that Randall county has will be there.

But—
Mr. Walker knows all this, but he wants to know just who is going to exhibit and what he is going to exhibit in order to get booths and spaces properly arranged. Please notify Mr. Walker at once.

But by all means, get something into that exhibit next week.

BIGGEST COUNTY FAIR IN NORTHWEST TEXAS WILL BE STAGED IN CANYON NEXT WEEK—DON'T MISS THE BIG EVENT.

The Randall County Fair will open its doors to the world on next Wednesday morning, September 28, and for three days will be the host to thousands of visitors from all over this section of the Panhandle-Plains country.

Indications were never more promising for a big fair, and those in charge of the Fair confidently believe the Randall County Fair will far surpass any county fair ever held in Northwest Texas.

The exhibit will be held on the Normal grounds, where a big hall and sales pavillion is being constructed. This is the biggest and best fair building in the whole of Northwest Texas, and will add much to the fair.

C. F. Walker, secretary-manager of the Fair, stated yesterday that he was well pleased with the response being made by the people of the county. Scores have promised to bring in exhibits for the Fair, and he has been unable to make a very wide canvass of the county. Every farmer is urged to bring in some product to add to the Fair. It takes the combined effort of all to make a great fair.

The Hereford breeders are going to have a fine exhibit at the Fair, with good money offered for prizes.

There will be plenty of Holsteins and Jerseys in the dairy section.

Futurity shows will be held for both Duroc and Poland China classes. The swine department is going to be the biggest ever held in the county.

A Futurity Show for the Boys' Pig Club will be held this year. This will be the first futurity show for boys ever held in the State of Texas. Competition is strong.

The boys' club will also be strong contenders with the baby beef and dairy calves.

The poultry show will be good, with premiums offered in all classes.

There will be good prizes offered for sheep and goats. Several will compete in this class.

The fair is going to be a big one. Every citizen of Randall county is expected to attend the Fair at least one day.

The following premiums will be offered in the Fall and Spring Futurity Show by the Duroc Record Association Plover, Ill.

On boars and sows, each, first $15; second $13; third $10; fourth $8; fifth $6; sixth $5.

On litter of four, first $25; second $20; third $15; fourth $14; fifth $12.

Horses and Mules

Heavy draft team, first $7; sec. $3.

Mule team $5; $3.

Best mare or horse, any age, $7.50; $5.00; $2.50.

Best mule, either sex or age $7.50; $5.00; $2.50.

Best 1921 horse colt, $7.50; $5.00; $2.50.

Best 1921 mule colt $7.50; $5.00; $2.50.

Dairy Cattle

Best Holstein cow, any age, first $5; second $3.

Best Jersey cow, any age, $5; $3.

Best Jersey heifer calf, $3; $2.

Best Holstein heifer calf, $3; $2.

The same premiums for bull in each above four classes.

Sheep

Best coarse wool ewe, first $3; second $2.

Best fine wool ewe, $3; $2.

Best fine wool lamb, $3; $2.

Best coarse wool lamb, $3; $2.

Poultry Department

R. A. Campbell, Superintendent

Entries to be made in the Poultry Show must be made not later than the first day of the fair, Sept. 28.

Premiums will be awarded upon six classes of all breeds of poultry which are entered in the Poultry Show as follows: First, second and third upon Cock, Hen, Cockerel, Pullet, Old Hen, Young Pen when in competition.

In the last two contests it is desired that the pens should be composed respectively of one cock, four hens and of one cockerel and four pullets.

Our County Fair is young and the funds for prizes are not flush, but our interest in the success of the Fair should cause us to enter into all its activities with zeal. If you have any poultry on your farm of which you are proud, don't fail to make an entry and let's endeavor to make the poultry show one of the most interesting and thorough features of the entire Fair.

Where there is one entry in any given contest, no monetary prize will be awarded.

J. M. Lipscomb, poultry expert from Plainview will be here to act as judge in this contest the first day of the fair.

The prizes on the individual entries will be: first prize $1.00; second 50c; third 25c. For the pen entries: first $3; second $2; third $1.

Woman's Department
Mrs. Allison, Director.

1. No entrance fee is required in this department.

2. Articles not called for by the evening of Oct. 1, will become the property of the Fair Association.

3. Not more than one entry will be permitted for any class by one exhibitor.

4. Articles must come up to the standard prescribed for them by the judges. No premium will be awarded to a poor or unworthy article, even though it be the best in its class.

5. No exhibitor will be allowed to interfere in any way with the judge in the performance of her duties. Any person violating this rule will forfeit all premiums awarded.

6. Exhibitors are prohibited from entering inside the railing, or from helping themselves in removing any of their exhibits at the close of the Fair.

7. The management will police the building, both day and night, and will give proper care to articles exhibited, but while every reasonable precaution will be taken for safeguarding exhibits, it should be understood that the exhibits are entered in competition for prizes, and that the owner assumes all responsibility for any accident, loss or damage that may occur in case of fire or otherwise to said articles.

Neither the Association or its officers will be responsible for any such

A number of newspapers of the state are devoting much valuable space to boosting Cullen Thomas for U. S. Senator to succeed Chas. Culberson. We haven't anything particular against Cullen. He is a nice young fellow and a brother-in-law of Morris Sheppard. It would be very fine of the voters of Texas to make the senatorial situation a family affair so as to not force one member of the family to live in Dallas and the other in Washington. Cullen is a layman of excellent ability and Morris is the spellbinder for the Woodman of the World. This will bring Cullen a big following if the family affair appeals to the voters. However, we are not inclined to lose much sleep over the senatorial race yet ten months off. At any rate we are first going to see whether Culberson believes it is time for a successor to be elected. Culberson is uncanny when it comes to putting his money on the winner, and if he presents himself for reelection, it is pretty certain he knows where the necessary votes are coming in to do the job.

Fatty Arbuckle's case will do a lot toward cleaning up the motion picture business. With the recent organization formed by the leading producers of the nation a few weeks ago, it was then given out that the motion picture business was going to be revolutionized. A high school girl who was pretty and could "make eyes" or portray her feelings otherwise effectively was picked up, became famous almost over night and drew more than a million a year. Another who could vamp drew equally as much. A fat man who could make a monkey or jackass of himself as the occasion demanded was a national hero. The producers spent money like drunken sailors vying with one another to get the services of these famous stars, who were usually without education, principle or common decency. The public paid the bill by excessive door charges of the theatres. The scandals of the past year in the motion picture business is going to call a halt. The big producers are going to spend money less freely, and demand more of their actors. If the motion picture business is to survive, the public must be satisfied that the characters shown on the screens are not harlots and vagabonds.

There are more beggars, "salesmen" and solicitors out working for money right now than at any time within five years. All kinds of excuses are offered by the beggars; all kinds of schemes, mostly fakes, are proposed by the solicitors; the "salesmen" have all kinds of things, mostly junk, to exchange for real American money. Since work became scarce it is easier to make a living through some fake agency than through real labor. It is a good idea to leave such fakery alone; ninety percent of the solicitors do not represent any sort of an organization or institution. The "salesmen" have nothing to offer that you cannot beat in quality and price at the local stores. To give money to these individuals is simply to assist in promoting a nation-wide grafting institution which lives and thrives through the softness of the American public to give up their money without knowing what they are getting.

The wheat acreage is going to be smaller than ever this fall owing to the lateness of the harvest which was occasioned by the heavy rains. It will be well not to plant wheat unless the ground is thoroughly prepared and the seed treated for smut. Better have half the acreage next spring and raise wheat rather than a big acreage which is planted hurriedly so that it has no chance to survive a drouth that might hit the country. The experience of the several men who have tried summer fallowing is sufficient to warrant the advice to be extended to all wheat farmers to give summer fallowing a thorough trial and see if it will not bring great returns.

The great Palo Duro canyon just east of Canyon has the most wonderful scenery in the world. Before many years the glories of this canyon will be as widely known as those of the Colorado river canyon.

Clarendon News: After all the "hot air" at Austin, from governor on down to the youngest legislator, declaring for greater economy in the state government, the state board was still forced to set the tax rate for next year at 22c on the hundred dollar valuation. This is the same rate that was collected this year. The point with all thinking citizens, is not what the tax rate is, but what do we get for our tax money. Frankly, The News is for high taxes—but we want something for our money, and this applies to city affairs just as strongly as it does state and national government. There is too much demagogery about this tax business.

The Clarendon News is right. If there was graft and waste of the state's money as charged in Austin this year, why the same tax rate? The institutions outside of Austin were punished and denied equitable appropriations; just where was the saving by eliminating graft and misusage of moneys? This talk about lowering taxes is all bunk. The people of Texas would be ashamed of its institutions and government if they were not better than they were ten years ago. Like the Clarendon News we do not believe there can be lower taxes, yet we listen with interest to the politicians who advocate it. The governor failed to substantiate his charges of graft; the legislature failed to find anything wrong with expenditures. Wind jamming about reducing taxes will accomplish nothing. Taxes cannot be reduced without hurting somebody.

The Randall County News this week is telling a few things that may be found in Randall county. This information is given not only for people living outside of Randall county, but primarily for residents of Randall county. We live in a good community. We have natural advantages that other communities do not have. We become used to these advantages and entirely overlook them. Once in a while it is well to stop and take an inventory of our advantages—compare ourselves and our county with other counties. If we are entirely satisfied with what we find, it will be a sad misfortune, for no self-satisfied person or community ever prospers. Randall county has advantages that other counties do not have. We are not perfect by a great deal, but by balancing up the sheet we trust to discover some of our weaknesses and find a way to strengthen them.

The newspapers of the Panhandle-Plains country have always boasted of the summer weather of this section. What about the winter weather? It deserves just as much boosting as our cool summers. There is no excessive cold in the winter, with plenty of warm days when heavy wraps are not needed. Central Texas newspapers have so long made the Panhandle an adjunct to the North Pole that too many people are prone to believe it. The Panhandle weather is the best all year-around weather most of us have ever seen. There is no sense letting other sections of the state making people believe stuff about the Panhandle which is not true.

The electric lighting system of Canyon is one of the best in the country. Manager A. J. Arnold bought the plant four years ago when it was nothing more than a mass of junk. All of the machinery in the plant at that time has been thrown out and replaced with the very latest types. The business was hard hit by the high cost of fuel and cost of construction material, but the service has been steadily increased throughout all these difficulties. Manager Arnold announced last week that 18-hour service would start soon after October first. The power will come on at five o'clock in the morning and continue until midnight. There are many users of "juice" in motors who greatly appreciate this additional service.

The people of Randall county appreciate living along the Santa Fe railroad. It is the best system in the west and the officials are anxious to give service. Canyon has been given excellent service by Station Agent R. McGee and his able assistants. The fact that the same men have been on the force for several years now indicates that they are doing their best to serve the public as well as protect the interests of their company.

Canyon has good telephone service. Of course the people would like to have the one unit system, which does away with the necessity for ringing central, but this will come with the restoration of normal times. Manager H. Prichard is accommodating and keeps the business and the system in good shape. He has a loyal bunch of operators as could possibly be had, who never fail to do all in their power to accommodate the subscribers.

There is plenty of pure water underlying Randall county at from 50 to 100 feet in depth. Water in this section tests 99.9 per cent pure.

If you like the Randall County News tell your friends about the paper; if there is any kick coming, make it to us.

You can tell the world Canyon is going to have paving one of these days. The voters of Canyon have almost voted unanimously for paving. The bond when this was fixed so the bonds could be sold, there was a difficulty of getting a suitable contract. But the paving is coming. When it starts, there will be a lot of paving in Canyon.

The Panhandle is the best home in America for the dairy cow, the hog and poultry. The farmers who have had plenty of these money makers on their places have a steady income which has defied the adversities of the financial stringency. Every farm should have plenty of dairy cows, hogs and poultry.

Next Wednesday the Randall County Fair will open. It will be the biggest fair Randall county has ever had, and will be one of the biggest county fairs held in Northwest Texas this year. Every citizen of Randall county is expected to attend this fair. Others are most cordially invited to see what Randall county has to offer.

Canyon is a town of good homes. It is the educational center of the Panhandle-Plains. As a residence city it cannot be excelled in the West. Come to Canyon to make your home and educate your family.

Randall county's roads are the best in Northwest Texas. A wide awake Commissioners' Court is on the job seeing that they are properly made and maintained.

There have been more houses built in Canyon this year than any two years, but there is now need for fifty new homes. A little money invested in homes in Canyon will bring a big return.

The all-Panhandle Fair will not be held in Amarillo this year. Here is your chance to see a real fair in 1921. Come to the Randall County Fair on Sept. 28, 29, 30. The best of the whole bunch is here for you. Come.

The country schools of Randall county are first class. There is need of some new school buildings, which will soon be looked after. The teachers are well trained and the very best in this section.

Climate is one of the most essential qualities of any country. The climate of the Panhandle is exceptionally fine. There are no long cold winters, nor excessive heat in the summer. It is a climate that makes California jealous.

Send the News to a friend "back home." A weekly message from Randall county will bring many new citizens to this county.

Canyon is an ideal place to live.

Lockhart Building Home
W. E. Lockhart, one of the new teachers in the Normal, is building a new six room house just west of the Jones residence on East Chestnut street.

Summer Fallow Pays
A number of farmers of Randall county have been summer fallowing their wheat land and find that it pays. More wheat than usual is going to be planted in summer fallowed ground this fall.

Fall plowing has been held up in most parts of the country during the past few weeks on account of the ground being dry. There are a number of men who have wheat land ready for planting, but few will plant any wheat until there is a good rain.

$1.50 PER YEAR

Big Subscription Offer SEPT. 25th TO OCT. 1st

In spite of the fact that print paper is 200 per cent above prewar prices; printer's ink is 300 per cent above pre-war prices; labor is more than 200 per cent above pre-war prices; everything that goes into making a newspaper is more than double pre-war times, the Randall County News increased the subscription rate only 50 cents, or 33 1-3 per cent, per year. This little increase has been willingly paid by the subscribers, but we are trying our best to get back to a pre-war basis. This will be impossible until the paper trust is smashed—and that seems to be a very remote time.

During the Randall County Fair Week, Sept. 25 to Oct. 1st, we are making a special subscription bargain offer for the paper for only $1.50 per year. You may pay for as many years as you like at this rate.

ANOTHER BIG SPECIAL

You can buy the Randall County News for one year and the Amarillo Daily News for one year, both for $7.90—the same price you pay for the Amarillo paper.

Or you can buy the Randall County News for one year and the Amarillo Daily Tribune for one year, both for $6.50—the same price you pay for the Amarillo paper.

FREE SUBSCRIPTIONS

During the Randall County Fair, Sept. 28, 29, 30, we will give away DAILY five yearly subscriptions to the Randall County News. All you have to do is to register at our booth at the Fair Grounds, giving your name and address. Each evening five numbers will be drawn and these will be given a year's subscription to the Randall County News.

$100 Fine Against Miller for Court Attack

A fine of $100 was assessed against E. T. Miller of Amarillo, former district attorney, by Judge Henry S. Bishop in court Monday for utterances made by Miller Friday night while addressing the jury in the H. C. McNeil case. Mr. Miller criticized the court for dismissing the jury in the first trial so soon after they had failed to agree. The fine was imposed for "words and manner used by him, wrongfully, purposely and intentionally assumed and exhibited and expressed a belligerent, hostile, disrespectful and contemptuous attitude to and toward the court." Miller is held in contempt of court.

The McNeil case was started Thursday morning, going to the jury Friday night. The jury voted three to nine for conviction on the first ballot. The second ballot stood two to ten, and no further changes were made. The jury was held from Friday night until late Monday afternoon, when finally dismissed.

Criminal cases against L. A. Mathews and C. H. Patton were dismissed. John Russell plead guilty to stealing C. O. Edwards' saddle in Canyon a month ago and was given two years in the penitentiary.

Ed Hawkins vs. N. F. Tate et al was dismissed.

First State Bank and Trust Company of Hereford vs. T. F. Burke, et al, judgment for the plaintiffs.

The case of State of Texas vs. A. A. McNeil was started yesterday morning in District Court. It will go to the jury this evening or tomorrow.

The grand jury has been in session most of the week.

J. W. Pipkin Died Tuesday in California

J. W. Pipkin, aged 36, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pipkin of this city, died Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in Los Angeles after three weeks' illness with typhoid.

Jim will be remembered by the people of Canyon as having grown to manhood in Canyon. He left here about thirteen years ago, moving to Plainview where he was in business for ten years. He has lived in Los Angeles for the past three years.

Mr. Pipkin and Miss Carrie Jordan were married in Canyon before moving to Plainview. Mrs. Pipkin is living. They have no children.

Grady Pipkin of Eastland left Tuesday for California, and it is expected that he and Mrs. Pipkin will bring the body back to Canyon for burial. They will arrive Saturday or Sunday.

The many friends of Jim Pipkin in Canyon are grieved to hear of his untimely death, and extend sympathy to the sorrowing parents.

Come to Canyon to live.

FEEDING FARM FLOCK RIGHT KIND OF FOOD IMPORTANT

Feeding the farm flock the right kind of food is important if it is to be a paying proposition. If hens do not get sufficient or proper feed, they cannot be expected to give satisfactory and profitable results. A complicated ration is not necessary. The aim in feeding the hens should be to use, so far as possible, the grains that are grown on the farm or that are available in the immediate neighborhood. One of the most successful methods of feeding is to give a light feed of grain with a mixture of grains in the morning and a feed of the same material at night, the night feed consisting of about as much as the hens will clean up.

In addition a dry mash should be provided where the hens can have access to it continuously. When considerable quantities of waste food are available for the hens to pick up from the fields, the amount of grain fed may be cut down. Oftentimes judgment in this respect is faulty, and but for the dry mash there would be danger that the hens would not receive enough feed. With the dry mash at their disposal they are able to make up any deficiency of feed due to faulty judgment as to the quantity they get in the fields.

One of the most common mistakes made in the feeding of farm poultry is failure to provide animal food in some form. Of course during the spring and summer, when quantities of insects are available, they may supply the hens' wants in this regard, but during those parts of the year when insects are not available or are scarce, it becomes necessary to provide animal food. Milk, usually fed either as skim milk or buttermilk, provides an excellent source of animal food, but when milk is not available the hen should have been scrap or meat scrap. While this product is high in price, it is economical, and should be included in the hens' ration because of the increased production that will result.

During the winter it is necessary to provide some form of green or succulent feed, such as mangel, cabbage, clover, alfalfa or sprouted oats.

We shall see better times when every body puts a little more emphasis on the "try" in industry.—Columbia (S. C.) Record.

It is no surprise to us that Henry Ford, having gone into the railway transportation business, is shaking things up.—Columbia Record.

Randall County has never been blessed with a more abundant feed crop than the farmers are enjoying this year.

The big question confronting the farmer now is how to dispose of this immense feed crop at a profit since the grain cannot be marketed at the present price except at a loss.

THE DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR is the solution of this problem. Cream could never be sold at a more profitable price than right now. Good cows are selling at a reasonable price. Then why not every farmer make a special effort to produce more milk, use the DE LAVAL SEPARATOR and cash in on the big feed crop which is now a drag on the market? Although A. W. Blough has been postmaster for the past year, a bulletin just issued by the Civil Service department states that the office has been vacant since August 21, 1920, and that it will be filled by examinations to be held on October 14.

This is in keeping with the decision of the republicans to require postmasters to take an examination and stand the scrutiny of the postmaster general and President before he is eligible for office.

TRACTOR EXPLOSION CAUSES DEATH OF YOUNG MAN AND TWO BOYS NEAR WILDORADO LATE TUESDAY EVENING

Arol Combs Makes Heroic Effort to Save Life of His Little Brother and W. D. Wallace—Funeral Here This Afternoon at 3:30.

Arol Combs, aged 20, Albert Combs, aged 10, and W. D. Wallace, aged 11, were burned to death near Wildorado Tuesday evening when a gas tank on a tractor Arol was driving exploded, saturating their clothing with flaming gasoline. All of the boys were dead before daylight Wednesday morning as a result of the accident.

W. D. Wallace, son of Jowell Wallace, was to stay all night at the George Combs home, father of the two Combs boys. Arol Combs was running a tractor about half a mile from the house, and the two lads decided to go out and ride with him. They had not been on the machine five minutes when the explosion occurred. All three started after the explosion that they were certain back firing was the cause of igniting the gasoline tank.

With flames eating at every thread of clothing on their bodies, the young lads started to run away from the scene of the disaster. Forgetful of his own plight, Arol started after the boys, caught them, tore the burning clothing from their bodies and laid them by a straw stack. All of the white his own clothing was burning fast, and as he tore away the burning garments from the younger boys' bodies, his hands were burned until skin and flesh slipped from his fingers. By the time he had finished the work of unaddressing the lads practically all of his own clothing had been consumed by the flames. Only the heels of his shoes remained, and his feet were cooked until the toe nails dropped off.

In spite of his deplorable condition, Arol walked and ran half a mile toward his home, calling for assistance. When he had attracted attention, he directed that the young boys be attended to first.

The young Combs boy died at 10:30 Tuesday night. Arol Combs died at 12:30. The doctors thought the Wallace boy had a chance to live, but a deep burn over his spinal column caused his death at 5:30 yesterday morning.

The news of the tragedy soon spread over the community and neighbors gathered to do what they might for the dying boys and comfort the grieved parents. All three boys were conscious until the last, and told of the explosion and of the noble fight Arol made to save the lives of the young boys. Practically the whole body of the young Combs boy was cooked to a crisp. Three-fourths of Arol's body was burned and about half of the Wallace boys.

The families are well known in Randall and Deaf Smith counties. Geo. Combs is a well to do farmer and ranchman with large interests. He had but the two sons. Two daughters are living. Jowell Wallace, father of W. D., is well known in Canyon. He is the son of Uncle Dan Wallace, both being former residents of the city. Jowell is a brother-in-law of J. C. Dowd. The dead boy is a grandson of J. O. Sharp of this city. The body was brought to Canyon yesterday afternoon and is at the Sharp home at the Crystal Cafe. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock conducted by Rev. B. F. Fronbarger.

The funeral of the two Combs boys will be held in Hereford today.

The many friends of the bereaved families extend their heart-felt sympathy in their hour of great sadness.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE FOR $600 IN RANDALL COUNTY THIS WEEK

Baron James V. Auriemma, grand opera singer of the Metropolitan and Chicago Opera Companies, is here this week in the interest of the Salvation Army.

Randall County is assigned $600 as its part for the support of the Salvation Army this year. Work was started yesterday in the business section of the city. A canvass is being made under the direction of W. J. Flesher, county chairman, assisted by Baron Auriemma and local people.

The Baron will sing at the Normal chapel today and present the needs of the Salvation Army. He will sing at the Olympic tonight and Friday night, at the Methodist church Sunday morning at the regular services. Sunday afternoon at 3:30 he will give a recital singing some of the famous grand opera selections as well as the good old popular melodies. No admission charged Sunday afternoon.

Ladies are wanted by Mr. Flesher to make a canvas of the residential district of Canyon Saturday.

Miss Helen Croson will accompany Mr. Auriemma in his recitals.

BARON AURIEMMA

Camp Grounds at New Sales Pavillion

At the Fair meeting Monday night it was definitely decided to establish free camping grounds at the new sales pavillion which is being constructed on the Normal grounds. Early in the year President J. A. Hill made the offer of use of the grounds. At that time it would have been necessary to erect some kind of a building for this purpose, and the sales pavillion now provides this building.

A committee was appointed to see the city council to obtain funds to put in toilets on the ground. This committee is composed of R. A. Terrill, President J. A. Hill and Supt. C. L. Sone. Mr. Terrill states that the boys of his department will do all of the carpenter work necessary free of charge. This committee will also take up the question of putting proper signs along the highways leading to Canyon.

A large number of Canyon people have traveled in cars this summer and appreciate what a good free camping ground means to a town. It will be one of the best investments Canyon can make right now to establish a camp ground and put up these signs along the highway telling the tourists of the grounds.

Come to Canyon to live.

Pep Meeting Held For Football Game

The student body of the Normal had hardly started to arrive in the city this week until all were filled with expectancy over the prospects of the T. C. U. football game Saturday in Amarillo.

A mass meeting was called for last night in order to organize and get yells ready for the game. A large percent of those who had registered were in attendance at the meeting and showed all kinds of pep and interest in the work that the football team has been doing since it went into training two weeks ago Monday.

John McCarty was elected yellmaster with Miss Amy Daniels his assistant.

Interspersing the yells and songs, a number of talks were made by members of the faculty, business men and members of the team.

From all indications a very large crowd will accompany the team to Amarillo Saturday and there will be some good rooting for the Buffaloes by the student body.

The Ona and Yahgan tribes of the extreme southern lands of South America have been gradually crowded toward extinction by white sheep herders.

One of the acts of the special session of the Legislature was the investigation of the charges made by Governor Neff and State Health Officer Carrick. These men made charges of graft and theft in public office. The committee appointed to investigate these matters found that there was absolutely no ground for such charges. Dr. Carrick charge in public print that his successor offered him $1,800 as a bribe to overlook what Mr. Carrick termed shortage in Davis' Department. The committee found that Carrick had maliciously misled the public in these matters, and the report was a severe arraignment of the present State health officer. Mr. Davis committed suicide over Carrick's charges. It is understood that Neff is not satisfied with same and will take the matter to the people. The money that Carrick alleged was given him as a bribe was a fund collected by doctors at Brownsville as a health fee charged Mexicans who came over to this country. After the sum of $1,800 and some odd dollars had been collected, the Attorney General ruled that there was no authority under the law for such a charge. So the $1,800 remained as a fund in the State Health Department and was transferred to the different State Health officers from time to time. Dr. Davis, according to the custom of his predecessors, turned this money over to Dr. Carrick, and it was this transaction that the charge of graft and theft was predicated. Carrick stated in public print that a mysterious man with a black hat handed him the money. On the witness stand before the investigating committee Carrick admitted that it was Dr. Davis that handed him the money. Notwithstanding these facts which had branded Dr. Carrick as a traducer and slanderer of the dead, Governor Neff is not satisfied with the committee's report and says he will take it to the people. One of the acts of the special session of the Legislature was the investigation of the charges made by Governor Neff and State Health Officer Carrick. These men made charges of graft and theft in public office. The committee appointed to investigate these matters found that there was absolutely no ground for such charges. Dr. Carrick charge in public print that his successor offered him $1,800 as a bribe to overlook what Mr. Carrick termed shortage in Davis' Department. The committee found that Carrick had maliciously misled the public in these matters, and the report was a severe arraignment of the present State health officer. Mr. Davis committed suicide over Carrick's charges. It is understood that Neff is not satisfied with same and will take the matter to the people. The money that Carrick alleged was given him as a bribe was a fund collected by doctors at Brownsville as a health fee charged Mexicans who came over to this country. After the sum of $1,800 and some odd dollars had been collected, the Attorney General ruled that there was no authority under the law for such a charge. So the $1,800 remained as a fund in the State Health Department and was transferred to the different State Health officers from time to time. Dr. Davis, according to the custom of his predecessors, turned this money over to Dr. Carrick, and it was this transaction that the charge of graft and theft was predicated. Carrick stated in public print that a mysterious man with a black hat handed him the money. On the witness stand before the investigating committee Carrick admitted that it was Dr. Davis that handed him the money. Notwithstanding these facts which had branded Dr. Carrick as a traducer and slanderer of the dead, Governor Neff is not satisfied with the committee's report and says he will take it to the people. YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK.

YELLOWSTONE, our oldest and largest national park, is considerably larger than the state of Delaware. Its altitude ranges from 6,000 to 11,000 feet above sea level. It contains such a large collection of weird and freak natural phenomena that the visitor gains the impression the Great Creator of all things must have roamed over the world, collecting all the odd things he saw, dumping them here in one great disordered heap.

There are more geysers than in all the rest of the world put together. They range from tiny openings, spouting water but a few feet, at intervals of a few minutes, to the great giant, larger than a well, projecting a column of water 250 to 300 feet high, for a period of several minutes, at intervals of several days. There are numerous waterfalls, the great fall of the Yellowstone river in the gorgeously colored, 20-mile-long Grand canyon, being 308 feet high. There are many hot springs and small lakes, also the largest lake—Yellowstone—at its height in North America. There are several paint pots—great cauldrons of blubbering, hissing mud; many steam vents and boiling pools, a natural bridge, a roaring mountain, a mountain of volcanic glass, petrified trees and wedded trees.

At Norris basin is said to be the thinnest known portion of the earth's crust. Standing there, the visitor needs no assurance that his satanic majesty resides near by.

Yellowstone, known far and wide for its wild flowers, is also the largest wild game preserve in the world.

TWO MEN ARRESTED BY SHERIFF ON CHARGE OF HOME BREW STILLS

J. B. Weaver, living two miles southwest of town on the Schee place, was arrested Sunday afternoon by Sheriff W. C. Black and Deputy J. B. Hensley. The Weaver place was raided, six bottles of whiskey, a key usually used with stills and other apparatus being found by the sheriff. Weaver was brought to town and placed under bond awaiting the action of the grand jury.

Last night A. F. Bohne, living east of Happy, was arrested by Sheriff Black and Dr. McElroy of Happy, and brought to town. He is being held this morning, but will probably be given bond before noon. He was found with a pint of whiskey. The officers are at his place this morning looking for evidences of a still.

Both of these cases are before the grand jury today.

Soliciting

A man comes to the door soliciting funds for a home for crippled children. The housewife who answers his ring is busy. She is ironing and there is a pie in the oven, and, oh, ever so many other things on her mind; but crippled children! Of course she can't very well refuse an appeal of that kind. But later, when a girl comes to ask donations to a hospital, and the neighbor's little boy asks her to buy tickets for the Sunday School entertainment for the benefit of some other good cause, her patience, as well as her time, begins to be exhausted. It is the same way with the man in the office, only demands upon him are apt to be heavier. After a time both the man and the woman find it easier to refuse. The canvassers call them callous. We don't think they are. It is simply that both come to the realization that if they are to give time and money to all who ask themselves be candidates for homes for the aged or some other philanthropic institutions for which canvassers will be asking funds.

Business and home affairs cannot be neglected without loss to the whole community; and it is undoubtedly the first duty of every individual to so provide for the future that he will not become a burden upon the philanthropic.

We think that is one interpretation of the phrase, "charity begins at home." Of course, most of us can well afford to spare a little time and money for the accredited canvassers of worthy causes without neglecting our families or ourselves. But the point is that the business of house to house soliciting has been a bit overdone; and as a result needy charities are apt to suffer, along with others that do not deserve as much consideration.

Mrs. Maggie Guthrie came in Friday to visit her son, J. A. Guthrie and family.

THE AMERICAN LEGION CLUB HOUSE

The people of Canyon are proud of the fine American Legion Club House which stands a half block north of the public square. The Palo Duro Post in Canyon was the first Post of the American Legion in the Southwest to build and equip a Club House. The home is 40x80 feet with a gallery running entirely across the east side, with two double entrances into the building from this side. The auditorium is situated in the north part of the building, 40x46 feet, with a large stage at the west. The auditorium has hard wood floor and is one of the best dance halls in this section of the state. In the southeast part of the building is a game room, 24x34 feet, equipped with four billiard and pool tables. At the front of the building is a women's rest room and a men's reading room. There are more than 125 members of the club, consisting of ex-service men and business men of Canyon.

McGee Will Judge Stock at County Fair

W. T. McGee of College Station has been secured by C. F. Walker to judge the stock at the Randall County Fair on September 28, 29, 30.

Mr. McGee is one of the best judges in the Southwest and has worked in the rings of the biggest fairs and shows of the Southwest. The breeders of Randall county will receive expert advice and suggestions from Mr. McGee.

Mr. McGee is a specialist in sheep raising. Mr. Walker suggests that every sheep raiser who has problems with his herd to be sure and bring them to Mr. McGee during the Fair, and he will receive expert advice. Mr. McGee will judge all cattle, hogs, sheep and horses in the show.

An All-Church Social

A progressive church social to meet the Normal students will be given Saturday night, September 24, at the various churches of the town, beginning at eight o'clock.

The students are invited to come first to the Baptist church. Introductions and get-together games will be the order there.

After twenty minutes the following churches will be visited: the Christian, Presbyterian, and the Methodist.

Delightful programs have been planned for the students at each of these places. Refreshments will be served at the last church visited, the Methodist. The journey between the churches will be made pleasant by singing and getting better acquainted.

We want to make this one of the most delightful social gatherings of the year. These young people are away from the sheltering care of home, and it is a great opportunity for the churches of Canyon to welcome them and to receive them into the church and social life of the town.

Come—let us have a happy time together.

County Women's Club

The Country Women's Club met with Mrs. E. E. Whitley Thursday, Sept. 14. A delicious dinner was served. Mrs. O. S. Brown, Mrs. A. G. Thomas, and Mrs. R. A. Stratton being assistant hostesses. The ladies quilted a very beautiful quilt for Mrs. Whitley which had been pieced by Mr. Whitley's mother, thirty five years ago, the pattern being that of a mountain rose. The club will have a very pretty hand made quilt on display at the Fair which will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. O. C. Tarpenning Thursday, Oct. 6th.

Notice of Intention to Form a Cemetery Corporation

All persons owning lots in Llano Cemetery, situated in Randall County, Texas, and near the city of Amarillo, are hereby notified and requested to be present at a meeting of such lot owners to be held at said Llano Cemetery, on Saturday the 29th day of October, 1921, at 10 o'clock, a. m., to determine whether it is desired to create a corporation under chapter 23, Title 25, Revised Statutes of Texas, to receive the title to the land heretofore dedicated to the purpose of said Llano Cemetery; and if such question be decided affirmatively, then to select the board of directors to be named in the charter. This 21st day of September, 1921.

Normal Attendance Was 405 Yesterday

The enrollment at the Normal yesterday afternoon reached 405. This number is 69 ahead of the enrollment the first two days of last year.

Secretary Shaw stated last night there would likely be a number to enroll today.

All of the faculty who have been away for their vacation arrived for the first faculty meeting Monday afternoon.

Miss Haines of the Kindergarten department will be detained at home for a month owing to an operation.

Fair Grounds Will be Carefully Guarded

At the Fair meeting Monday night it was decided that the Fair grounds should be patrolled by six or eight men who had been deputized by the sheriff in order to keep people from coming into the grounds without paying, and to prevent any disturbances on the grounds.

Reports come from other fairs that undesirable people are making a round of the fairs. This stuff won't go in Canyon next week. There will be plenty of officers present to see that the people of Randall county are not imposed upon by outside undesirables.

"I Am a Chump; I Know It"

Canadian Record: Printers wages have not been reduced any. A good printer still commands as high a salary as he has been receiving for the past three years. There is a labor strike now in the Typographical Union. This strike has been in force for several weeks and a settlement is not in sight. As a result many shops that were union are now operating as open shops. But this has not reduced wages any. Good printers still command good salaries, and the prices of printing must be fixed to meet the operating expense as based on the salary paid. A country publisher who puts his prices down to a pre-war basis and does the work himself is merely saying to the public:

"Yes, you can get printing at my shop cheaper. I pay myself $15.00—that's all I value myself at. If I hired a printer he would cost me between $30 and $40 per week. I would rather put my prices down to a mere bread and butter diet and work for $15 per week than to place a value on myself equal to that of a common printer who drifts from shop to shop. I am a chump and I know it, but I just love to think I am a cheap man. The community doesn't respect a cheap, hand to mouth, object of charity home printer, but I am sat-ified with a few crumbs from the tables of men who are rated as successes in the business world."

The home printer with such an ideal in life is the only fellow who in the face of the still high operating expenses, can come down to pre-war prices. The Record editor is one who labors under the idea that a newspaper publisher has just as much right to expect proper remuneration for the investment put into his business and for the hours of labor he gives to that business, as does the big merchant, the banker and the professional man. Whenever it becomes necessary for us to surrender that ideal we will get out of the business. In the old days when men worked for 50c a day the printer did not object to be bandied about as an object of charity, but quoting the chautauqua lecturer, "Times have changed."

And this does not mean to carry by inference or otherwise that there are not courtesies due the editor for which the donor will receive many times full value in free-will publicity, on which there can be no commercial value placed. Those courtesies are due the editor where editorial courtesies are expected.

NORMAL FOOTBALL TEAM WILL BATTLE T. C. U. AT AMARILLO SATURDAY P. M.

The Normal team of 1921 will make its bow to fandom Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when they meet the strong team from T. C. U. of Fort Worth.

That is going to be a battle worth seeing. T. C. U. has been a distinctively big college team for the past two years, tackling the biggest and best in the South. This year the team is talking championship stuff.

Coach Burton is putting his men through some real workouts this week, and the raw material of two weeks ago almost look like veterans in the daily scrimmages held on the Normal field.

The Coach was highly pleased Monday when one of the best freshmen kickers from last year's Oklahoma U. joined his crew.

There will be a very large crowd from Canyon at the Amarillo field Saturday afternoon when the whistle blows. It is likely that a special train will be run, although this has not yet been decided. It will be the fans' opportunity to see a big college team in action, and a chance to root for the Buffaloes away from home.

The following games have been scheduled for the Normal team:
Sept. 24—T. C. U. at Amarillo.

Sept. 30—Clarendon at Clarendon.
Oct. 8—Wayland at Canyon.
Oct. 14—New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell.
Oct. 22—Abilene Christian College at Canyon.
Oct. 29—Open.
Nov. 5—Simmons at Abilene.
Nov. 11—Oklahoma Northwestern Normal at Canyon.
Nov. 19—Wayland at Plainview.
Nov. 24 (Thanksgiving)—Clarendon at Canyon.

Tulia High School to Play Canyon Thursday

The football team of the Tulia high school will play the Canyon high school at the Fair grounds next Thursday morning at 10:00 o'clock. That is school day at the Fair and the rooters from the high school will be out in force.

The Canyon team has just received $300 worth of new equipment. They are working hard in practice, and will put up a snappy game next week.

Supt. C. L. Sone is planning a program of fun for the young folks Thursday morning, including foot races, potato races, three-legged races, etc.

The school in Randall county, outside of Canyon, having the largest attendance will receive a $5.00 cash prize.

Hutchinson-Overton Wedding
Miss Gayetta Hutchinson and Mr. Albert L. Overton of this city were married at seven o'clock Sunday evening at the home of Rev. Sharpe at Hereford, Texas.

Miss Hutchinson was charming in a handsome navy blue tricot suit with all accessories to match.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Price were the only witnesses to the beautiful double ring ceremony that united this well known couple.

After Oct. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Overton will be at home to their friends at Huntleigh Hall.

Twenty Head of Hogs In Donation Sale

The first sale to be held in the new sales pavilion at the fair grounds is dated for October 1.

C. F. Walker states that he has about twenty head of registered hogs which will be offered in this sale, the proceeds of which will go to pay for the building. There are several others to be sold in the sale.

Mr. Walker wishes that all who have anything to offer as a donation toward the sale for the benefit of the building to see him at once and bring the donation to the sale. All the auctioneers of Randall county and J. W. McCreery of Wayside are donating their services for the sale.

THE BEDSPRING LUXURIOUS

DeLuxe is the most luxuriously comfortable bedspring made. It will give you a lifetime of satisfactory service and more soothing delightful beathful repose than you have ever known

Luxurious comfort in the bedspring DeLuxe is a result of special features in the construction, among which are the extra long highly tempered conical coils tied together diagonally at the top with elastic helical coils. These helical coils are securely attached to the large coils by Patented S-Hook Fasteners which insure the integrity of the entire fabric and distinguish DeLuxe from its many inferior imitations. Each coil is thus given freedom of action and the bedspring is made flexible, so that it follows the contour of the figure and supports the whole body buoyantly in a natural and therefore healthful position. It does not sag like a hammock or pitch to the side by two persons. Tranquilized and made drowsy with a sense of physical comfort, you drift off into sound and refreshing sleep.

DeLuxe is handsewnly finished in Remo Gray Enamel and will fit metal or wood beds (and four-foot wood beds) without any change.

"It's the Bedspring, not the bed or mattress that makes all the difference."

Judges Selected for Randall County Fair

C. F. Walker, secretary-manager of the Randall County Fair, has secured the services of the following men as judges for the fair next week:

Harmon Benton, county agent of Potter county, to judge the agricultural exhibit.

W. T. McGee of College Station will judge the live stock. Mr. McGee is an expert on live stock and breeding, being a specialist with handling sheep.

J. M. Lipscomb of Plainview will judge the poultry. Mr. Lipscomb judged the poultry in the Randall County Poultry Show last winter and is a recognized authority on poultry.

Rat Jewell of Hereford will judge the Registered Herefords Thursday afternoon.

Eight Tractors Will Exhibit at the Fair

J. C. Dowd, superintendent of the farm machinery department of the fair, states that eight tractors will exhibit at the fair next week.

This exhibit always attracts a great amount of attention and will be of interest to the farmers of Randall county.

Mr. Dowd reports that the following tractors were sure of exhibiting: Case, Fordson, International, Cletrac, Avery, Allis-Chalmers. Three others have promised to come.

Happy Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott and son, Fance, were shopping in Amarillo Friday.

Alton Grounds came in Saturday from Houston where he has been in the sanitarium for some time.

Jack Hayes was a business caller in Canyon Monday.

Rev. Edwards, the Presbyterian minister will preach his farewell sermon Sunday at the school auditorium.

The Junior Missionary Society of the Methodist church gave a short program before preaching Sunday night that was enjoyed by all present.

H. E. Hendrix went to Plainview last week for an operation.

C. Shuman was a business caller in Amarillo Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith entertained a few of the young people Saturday night with a Japanese lawn party. Owing to the rain only a few were present.

Mrs. C. L. Gatlen and Miss Vivian moved to Canyon this week where Miss Vivian will attend school.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Grounds, E. L. Grounds and Dr. McElroy left Saturday for Dallas where Vincent had an operation. Word was received Tuesday that he was doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith and little grand daughter, Gereldeen Fonken, were shopping in Tulsa Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Waite and Mrs. C. W. McNeely were shopping in Amarillo Thursday.

The entertainment given at the school auditorium by the Missionary Society was fine and all had a good time in the social hour spent. About $25 was cleared by the society.

Dr. McElroy returned Tuesday from Dallas where he was several days.

Guy Garrison returned Friday from Greneville, Va., where he went to attend the funeral of his mother.

Claire Miller left Monday for Canyon where he will attend the Normal. Jess Miller has opened up his new grocery and market.

Mrs. Wm. F. Miller and W. H. Doyle entertained at the home of Mrs. Doyle, Sept. 14, with a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Miller Currie. The house was tastefully decorated with pink and white crepe paper, music by Mrs. Frank Scott and a number of contests furnished entertainment and amusement. In the swing contest, first prize was awarded to Mrs. Long for the fastest and neatest work, while the "booby" prize went to Mrs. J. A. Currie. Punch was served in the meantime then while the music continued, the guest of honor was asked to follow a ribbon which had been tied to the back of her chair, and thus find the fortune.

After several minutes winding in and out, through bedrooms, bath room and closets, she came at last to the end of the rainbow, to find a sure enough treasure pot, containing no gold of course, but many dainty and useful gifts. Ice cream and cake were served to about twenty guests.
