

SCHOOL PROBLEMS DISCUSSED AT THE NOON LUNCHEON

G. G. FOSTER LEADER OF SCHOOL DISCUSSION.

Election to Increase Tax Rate in the Independent District Will be Held Very Soon.

The problems of the Canyon school was the subject of the Tuesday luncheon, after plans for the Clean Up Day campaign had been completed.

G. G. Foster, president of the Board of Trustees, presided at the meeting.

Mr. Foster recalled the meeting a year ago when the subject of the public school was discussed and of the fact that it was then proposed to build a new high school building in Canyon.

Superintendent A. D. Payne was called upon and spoke interestingly of a few things that had come to his attention in the school.

He told of the study of the health subject among the pupils of the school and a few things that he had been able to ascertain regarding their mode of living.

Of the 125 who sleep eight hours and more, 96 are doing satisfactory work in all subjects.

This study had brought up the subject of eating and some interesting things had been discovered.

Of the 154 in high school, 49 eat cold lunches. Of this 49, 23 report they go to a store and buy lunches, which Mr. Payne discovered was mostly candy and junk.

Of the 105 who seem to be eating reasonably substantial lunches, 90 are doing satisfactory work.

Mr. Payne stated that he was able to find a relation between right sleeping and right eating with satisfactory work in school.

Mr. Payne stated that he had been studying the problem of so many boys wanting to quit school and had been asking the boys who had thought of it.

Mr. Foster stated that he had heard parents say they had no control over their boys. He could have no sympathy for these parents.

Mrs. Harvey Cash, president of the Parent-Teachers Association stated that the organization stood for child welfare.

Miss Burton of the home economics department will feature the fireless cooker.

Mr. Phillips states that Wayside has applied for an all day meeting and the Fairview school for a night meeting.

Meetings will be held as far as possible on Fridays, and will start within a few weeks, probably before the end of the month.

Mexican Section Hand Killed by Another Mexican Friday Afternoon

Chico Miguen, 25, Mexican section hand here, was shot and fatally wounded here Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and Ernesto Morales, another Mexican section hand at Umberger, was taken to Amarillo and lodged in the Potter County jail with the formal charges of murder against him.

The shooting grew out of an old quarrel over family relations. Morales is married and has one girl eight years old. Miguen was unmarried.

The two men walked from a Mexican house to the field together and had started back, when Morales apparently squatted down and began firing. He immediately got in his car and left for Umberger where he was later arrested by Sheriff Black. It is reported that Miguen was armed.

Before Miguen died, he identified Morales as the man who had shot him. Miguen was buried in the potters field of Dreamland cemetery.

A Ford touring car turned over Monday morning near the Mrs. Gano home with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hicks, injuring both of them considerably.

Mr. Hicks had his collar bone and two ribs broken. Mrs. Hicks was badly cut on the face and right wrist broken. They are reported as resting well after the accident.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. Hicks are able to understand just how the accident occurred.

Church Architect Here to Plan for New Methodist Church Building

Dr. J. A. Baylor, architect for the Church Extension Board of the Methodist Church, was here over Sunday to look after the building needs of the local church.

The plans for the new church were carefully gone over with Dr. Baylor, and he investigated the needs of the local church. He will revise his plans so as to come within the $60,000 available for the new church, and start work on the blue prints at once.

Up until that time the local church will work on the financial end of the building.

Phillips Arranging Trip Over County for Agricultural-Stock Meeting

Frank R. Phillips states that final arrangements are being made for the trip over Randall county by the agricultural department of the College, assisted by the home economics department.

Miss Burton of the home economics department will feature the fireless cooker.

Mr. Phillips states that Wayside has applied for an all day meeting and the Fairview school for a night meeting.

School Election Saturday for Three Members Board Trustees

Saturday is the time for the annual election of school trustees. Three trustees are to be elected to take the places of John Guthrie, John Fry and C. W. Warwick.

In view of the fact that the Canyon Independent School District is in the midst of a building program, it is the belief of the hold-over members of the Board of Trustees that those members whose term of office expires this spring should continue on the Board till the high school building is completed.

The following was the vote for each For Mayor, C. N. Harrison, 128. For Commissioners, T. C. Thompson 123; C. R. Burrow 121.

New Uniforms Coming for Baseball Team of National Guard, G. F.

Captain H. C. Gamble of Company F, states that new uniforms for the company's baseball team have been ordered and will be here next week in order that practice may start.

Indications are good for a strong team this year to play in the National Guard league being organized with the neighboring Guard units.

COUNTY COURT MONDAY

County Court will be in session next week, with several cases likely to be tried before a jury.

CANYON TAKES ONE OF BIGGEST DELEGATIONS TO TECH RALLY IN AMARILLO YESTERDAY--MORE THAN THOUSAND

Randall County had more than a thousand people at the Tech College rally held in Amarillo yesterday. This delegation was one of the largest attending the rally at Amarillo.

A holiday was declared for the College and the public schools. Nearly three hundred people went on the special train which left at 9:30 and fully 300 automobiles made the trip from the city and county.

In the parade from the Amarillo depot to the business section, there were more than 750 people. In the parade during the afternoon, there were more than a thousand Randall county people.

The college band was one of the best musical organizations in Amarillo for the day, and attracted much favorable attention. The students of the Normal were decorated with Buffalo badges which were very attractive. College pennants were very noticeable during the day in the big crowd.

President J. A. Hill was one of the speakers at the Coliseum during the afternoon.

At the banquet held last night, there were five to seven representatives from practically every town on the Plains. Frank R. Phillips was one of the speakers at the banquet.

The Tech rally was larger than the Sweetwater rally, and was considered to be the most successful gathering ever held for Panhandle-Plains people.

The Canyon high school took a track team to Amarillo to take part in the meet between Amarillo, Plainview and Canyon. Turner of Canyon was easily the best distance man in the meet.

Amarillo won the meet with 70 points, Plainview second with 54 and Canyon third with 18.

BUSINESS HOUSES OF CANYON WILL REMAIN CLOSED FRIDAY MORNING FOR A BIG CLEAN CAMPAIGN IN CITY

Friday morning will be the regularly appointed time for a Big Clean Up Campaign in Canyon, under the direction of the Civic Improvement League.

The business houses have agreed to remain closed until noon, and the business men together with all clerks will spend the morning in a great Clean Up for the entire city.

The Civic Improvement League has the support of the Randall County Commercial League in this Big Clean Up Campaign, and urges all of the citizens of Canyon to don their working clothes early Friday morning and put in the entire morning in a campaign that will put the city in a strictly clean condition.

Captains have been appointed for the various sections of the city and all these captains are urged to see that their particular sections are given a thorough cleaning up.

Mrs. J. B. Gamble opened the program at the Commercial League luncheon Tuesday by announcing the plans for Clean Up Day Friday, and calling for reports of standing committees.

C. F. Walker stated that he had two letters from the Sanitary Board at Ft. Worth agreeing to come to Canyon and cooperate with the city in eradicating tuberculosis by making a test of all cows for tuberculosis if the city will pass the proper ordinance.

Mr. Walker stated that the Board had no authority to go outside the city limits to enforce testing of cows, but that the city could prohibit the selling of milk and milk products within the city limit from all cows not tested. He urged that merchants refuse to buy butter and cream from cows which had not been tested, as is done in all large cities.

Mrs. J. A. Hill, chairman of the committee to inspect stores, stated that her committee was preparing for work. The world is more interested today in health than anything else. During the past thirteen years there has been each year some kind of an epidemic. Many of these common diseases are contracted through the nose and throat. Mrs. Hill deplored the fact that there are men who will spit on the floors of public buildings.

The committee has sent letters to all grocers in Canyon asking for suggestions for the work of inspection and asking assistance. It is not the wish of the committee to dictate, but to cooperate in keeping the town clean.

C. F. Walker stated that a few days ago he put out some poisoned grain on (Continued on page four).

Of the 159 students enrolled in the second year normal class the ages range from 13 to 40 years. The average being 19.39 years.

The first and second year normal work correspond to the 10th and 11 grades in high school, and according to this study the average age for these two grades correlate very closely with the average ages of the two high school grades.

MAYOR MARRS DEFEATED

Mayor Lon D. Marrs was defeated in the Amarillo city election Tuesday. Marrs ran a poor third in a three-cornered race. There will be a run-off between Eugene S. Blasdel and Jeff Capehart, the latter being the labor candidate.

The commissioners under Marrs, Armstrong and Trolinger, were both defeated.

The News was threatened last week with a libel suit on account of publishing the death of the Amarillo Tribune before that notable event took place. We agree that prematurely announcing the death of any person or concern is unfortunate. The Tribune paid us a great compliment by accusing us of being the cause of the great loss in its business a few weeks before the departure of the deceased. We blushing acknowledge the compliment. We have modestly considered that the Randall County News is one of the most widely read newspapers in the Panhandle, but the departed Tribune paid us a higher compliment than we ever expected—that of having such a circulation as to cause its death once we had unwittingly published the fact that it was to die. The Tribune passed away Friday afternoon. We recall the fact now that we told one of the promoters of the Tribune before it started that it would not likely live—but it did live two years longer than we anticipated.

East Texas schools are closing on account for lack of funds. West Texas schools are running as per schedule. East Texas school tax rates are 15c to 25c. West Texas school tax rates are 50c to $1.00. East Texas schools get the bulk of the state aid allotments on account of the low tax rates. Our tax system is a fraud and a farce. The Governor who gets back bone enough to make the legislature remedy this absurdity will live long in the hearts and minds of Texas.

Some business men argue that a small town business concern is able to do business more cheaply than the big town concern—and we believe it is right. Yet these same business men will send all their printing to some big town concern a thousand miles, more or less away, who have no interest in the small town except to bleed it for all the money they can get. What about fair play on this question of the mail order business?

The Ft. Worth Star-Telegram is performing a notable service for Texas in the publication of a series of articles comparing the taxation figures of East and West Texas counties. Read these editorials if you live in West Texas and by all means read them if you live in one of the tax dodging East Texas counties.

The Electra News came out last week with 64 pages, commemorating the 12th anniversary of opening the oil field in that territory. This is one of the oldest fields in Texas and seems to be coming back. Buford O. Brown is editor of the Electra News and is publishing a highly creditable newspaper.

The great state of Texas is now on a deficiency basis, and will be possibly until January first. The legislature is keen on creating more and more expenses, and will absolutely refuse to provide for more revenues.

The free advertising old King Tut is getting makes the 1923 press agent green with envy. But 3,000 years is considerable time to wait for this free stuff.

THE CLAUDE NEWS OBJECTS

The Randall County News has caused the great displeasure of the Claude News by referring to the issues of the recent primaries in Texas. In fact, the Claude News objects rather strenuously to the entire policy of this great religious weekly and says that we "cast dirty insinuations" upon the people of Texas.

The Claude editor starts his tirade against this paper by the solemn declaration that he recently "silenced his editorial pen relative to the money question." The Claude paper, at the time referred to, spoiled a column of perfectly good news print airing his ideas regarding the money question, taking as the text for his remarks an editorial which he stated appeared in our paper, but which for some reason was not from our paper, and which we called his attention to the following week. Yet he silenced us. We were perfectly silenced before his tirade, as we don't claim to have enough sense to write an editorial of a column length upon the money question. If we knew that much, we probably would not be running a country newspaper.

The Claude man now rises up as the Moses of the Democratic party to defend that party against the unwarranted onslaughts of the Randall County News. This Moses builds up a beautiful straw man of honesty and integrity with the God-like powers of being wholly unable to make a mistake on election day, and therefore the choice at the ballot box is something holy and never to be criticised. In other words the ballot box is infallible, and the man behind the ballot is therefore likewise. If this logic is carried out, how does it appear that there are so many human errors in this world? A man may make a mistake at the ballot box, just as easily as he can make a mistake in business, or betting on a horse race.

If the Claude News had been reading past utterances in this paper as he has been studying the money question, he would have found that we have time and again utter a confidence in the mass of voters, once they are given all the truth and allowed to vote with all the facts before them. We have derided the politician's attempt to muddy the political waters so that voter's attention is attracted to the side show, instead of the main show. We have deplored the fact that politicians have carried around silk flags to make a noise like patriotism which would detract the attention of the voters from the economic questions of the day. And it was with this in mind that caused us to say in our editorial that "Texas was more interested in who wore bed sheets and pillow cases than we were in great economic questions."

We state above that it is the politician's business to muddy the water, and he will do it, if there is the least chance. What does the Claude man think of the infallibility of the Texas voters who time and again rejected prohibition and woman suffrage? Was the ballot box right in these elections? Did the Democratic party of Texas do the right thing in refusing to vote for these great reforms? The common people voted time and again to reject the reforms, but finally accepted them. So far as we are concerned, we believe that the American people are perfectly able to make a fool of themselves at the ballot box and have done so upon numerous occasions, and that a majority vote does not make any question right or wrong. However, we have all the confidence in the world that given the facts, the people will vote right; but too often the voter refuses to consider the facts.

The Claude News uses its stock phrase of "stand up and be counted" on us, and wants to classify us. All right here you are, old top: We are a Democrat with little enough sense to refuse to stand hitched to any politician that the high-gods of the Democratic party try to put over on us. If we are convinced that the candidate is not the right man, is that clear? But so far as we are concerned, we never yet have considered that we were endowed with the destinies of the Democratic party to be placed in the high rank of a dictator as our Claude friend assumes he is, and toll off our neighbors as to their political standing. The Democratic party has never yet bowed to the will of a dictator, and certainly will not, after its hundred years existence appoint our Claude contemporary keeper of the rolls to separate the sheep from the goats.

The Claude News has been trying to get under the bed sheet of the Klan during the past few months, and may have succeeded. At least it has pulled a few tail feathers out of the Eagle and issued the war whoop into the Democratic donkey's ear everytime a Klan candidate bobbed up. According to our notion a Klan candidate may be a h— of a long way from Democracy, and if we believe he is, we reserve the right to vote for the best man in the race, whether he is branded Democratic or otherwise. Of course this would not suit a political dictator, as our Claude editor, who puts party before principle and common sense.

They also failed to say anything about the 1,000 Amarillo merchandise buyers who park at the Canyon Supply Co. every week, and return home happier in the thought that they have saved a good one-third on their spring merchandise purchases.

TWELVE HUNDRED PEOPLE VISITED THE SANTA FE COLLEGE STATION DEMONSTRATION TRAIN IN CITY THURSDAY

The Santa Fe Railway-Texas A. & M. College Demonstration Train arrived in Canyon at 2:35 p. m. Thursday afternoon and was met by nearly 1200 people. The train features the cow, the sow, and the hen as important activities in a well organized farming system.

The train carries an able staff of lecturers from the College and a compact well selected exhibit of dairy cattle, hogs, and poultry. The exhibit includes the big Holstein bull of national fame, weighing 2,700 pounds, a Holstein cow with a record of 20,000 pounds of milk and a net income of $1,000.00 in one year, a Jersey cow with a record of 10,000 pounds of milk and six hundred pounds of butter in one year, fine individual Guernsey and Ayrshire young cattle, fine hogs, and good poultry.

J. D. Tinsley, agricultural agent of the Santa Fe Railway in charge of the speaking program, opened the meeting and called attention to the splendid work the A. & M. College is doing to help the farmers of the state increase their production.

"The Santa Fe Railway," said Mr. Tinsley, "is glad to be able to bring the College to the farmer's door by this train. The College brings you a vital message about the cow, the hog, and the hen, and their proper place on the farm. We find that the farmer who milked a few cows, had some hogs, and kept a bunch of chickens came through the depression in better shape than the farmer depending on wheat only. We are not asking any farmer to give up any crop that he may be growing, but we do ask that he milk cows, grow hogs, and raise chickens at least to the extent of paying the family living expenses in combination with his other crops."

Geo. P. Grout, head of the Dairy Department of the College urged the improvement of the farm herd by the use of good dairy sires. He explained that this may be accomplished surely and quickly. He stated that the cow holds a very important place in the farm operation. "Raise better cows from the present herd by the use of high class sires and feed them well for an all year income," said Mr. Grout.

D. W. Williams, professor Animal Husbandry at the College in charge of swine, said the hog is rightly classed as the "farmer's mortgage lifter" when given half a chance. He furnishes a most satisfactory package in which to market farm feed, particularly grain feed. Ten car loads of grain can go to market as hog meat in one car, saving time and a big freight bill. Mr. Williams urged the large type of hogs because they may be ready for market in six months.

E. O. Edson, poultry husbandman of the Extension Service, said that good birds, given proper feed and care will return a very handsome income. The farm flocks may be readily improved by the use of good male birds and culling out the poor layers. The little hen is the farmer's friend and with fair treatment fills the egg basket.

The interest that the people have taken in the lectures and the exhibits in this section has been very gratifying to the College and the Santa Fe Railway. The school children have been enthusiastic over the lesson and special attention have been given the boys and girls. All indicates that the people of the plains are wide awake to the possibilities of diversified farming.

Grout Hits the Ball

Livestock farming should be looked upon largely as a means of guaranteeing at home a satisfactory market for crops most easily grown in any particular section of Texas, according to Geo. P. Grout, head of the Dairy Department of the A. & M. College, who delivered the first lecture at the meeting here. "Livestock farming," he said, "makes possible the utilization of by-products, such as stalk fields that might otherwise go to waste. It is also a means of using efficiently the available labor throughout the year."

"People who live on specialized farms, such as those devoted entirely to cotton or grain, work only a part of the year, while on stock farms, there is something for every member of the family to do every day in the year. Naturally, a steady job pays better than an irregular job. Therefore, investigation indicates that stock farms, properly managed, are the most profitable. Livestock farming increases production because fertility is added to the soil barnyard manure, which is the most ideal fertilizer yet devised."

Diversification the Slogan

It is not desirable that Texas farmers should specialize in stock farming to the exclusion of every thing else, the speaker emphasized, but every farm should be sufficiently diversified with crops, livestock, etc., to insure a well balanced business with a steady and regular income and a constantly improving soil fertility. Practically every part of Texas is adapted to some type of livestock production, so that every person should thoroughly inform himself with reference to the different phases and select that type of animal best suited to his personal fancy, and his local soil and market conditions.

"This train," Mr. Grout said, "brings to you examples of what other Texas farmers are doing. The Santa Fe railroad and the A. & M. College simply submit these demonstrations for the farmer's consideration. They offer one piece of general advice, and that is: Do not match your time against a scrub."

Dairying a Steady Job

"Dairying is the steadiest job in the world, and therefore, on the average, is the best paying type of farming for those who manage it properly. It furnishes light work for every member of the family every day. It furnishes a relief from the credit system because it brings a regular weekly or monthly cash income, from which operating expenses may be defrayed so that any cash crop sales at the end of the year may be added to the savings account."

"The requisites for successful dairying are: (1) good cows, (2) proper feeding and management, (3) sensible marketing of the product. Good cows may be selected from any of the regular dairy breeds that suit the fancy, but they must be heavy producers to return a profit. A cow that will produce 600 pounds of butter in a year will make more profit than 20 cows producing 150 pounds of butter in a year, with considerably less labor."

"The difference between profit and loss is often determined by the intelligent mixing of a balanced ration. The dairy cow is a high geared machine and will not run in low gear profitably."

Good Send Off for the Pig

D. W. Williams, professor of Animal

Husbandry in charge of swine at the college, gave the pig a particularly good send off. "The pig," he said, "is the only farm crop that can be produced twice each year, and he is the only crop that can be produced and marketed all in six to eight months. Any good brood sow can have 16 to 20 pigs per year; this means 1000 to 2000 percent increase per year."

"Two of the greatest drawbacks to farming are lack of capital for economic operations and slow turn-overs. The big type prolific sow of today can do much to overcome these two handicaps. No other line of livestock farming can be brought so quickly to profitable production with so limited an amount of capital invested in stock and equipment as the production of meat from the pig. This fact makes pork production attractive on practically all farms, large or small."

A Swat at Scrubs

"Success in pig raising cannot come from the use of scrub boars and common place or 'cold blooded' sows. The Golden Text for successful pig production is: Breed right, feed right, care for right, market right."

Mr. Williams pointed out that farmers who own herds of common hogs for pork production have been aroused by the hard jolt given them by the United States Department of Agriculture in the announcement that purebred hogs have an earning capacity for pork production of 38 per cent greater than common or scrub hogs. Purebred hogs of today are of a type adapted to making the greatest gains in the least number of days, and at the same time meet the market requirements, Mr. Williams insisted. There is no standard breed of hogs from which market toppers cannot be raised, he asserted.

No farm animal can manufacture as much meat from a given quantity of feedstuffs as the pig, provided the feeds are not too bulky, he said in conclusion.

Hen, Faithful and Helpful

The last lecturer was E. O. Edson, poultry husbandman at the College. He said that the poultry business, if started on a sound basis, generally is a thriving business; at least a small plant in connection with general farming can be made a very profitable side line. It is a fact that a small investment with the farm equipment for poultry production has given larger returns than most any other line of farming, the speaker contended.

"Good birds, given proper houses, a balanced ration, with plenty of fresh water, grit, oystershell, etc., and houses kept clean and sanitary at all times with plenty of sunshine and fresh air, will prove profitable producers in the poultry business," Mr. Edson said. This holds true either as a side line or on the commercial plant.

Mr. Edson told of numerous instances in which a flock of good hens on the farm had saved the day for the farmer's family when crops had failed. He expressed the hope that the day would come when it would be impossible to find a Texas farm without a good poultry yard.

ARTHUR MIDDLETON TO SING.

One of the most pleasing numbers in the Panhandle Music Festival to be held in Amarillo next week will be the recital of Arthur Middleton, on the night of April 13.

INSTALLS BIG INCUBATOR

Elmer R. Wilson, manager of the Sunrise White Leghorn Farm, states that he is installing a 2,000 capacity incubator which will make his total egg capacity 3,000. The new incubator will be ready for operation by April 10th. It is said that this will be one of the largest and best equipped incubators in this section.

Mr. Wilson states that he is doing this in order to take care of the spring rush and in order to produce at least three or four thousand laying pullets for next fall.

Children who have worms are pale, sickly and peevish. A dose or two of White's Cream Vermifuge will clear them out and restore rosy cheeks and cheerful spirits. Price, 35c. Sold by City Pharmacy.

BUSINESS HOUSES TO CLOSE FRIDAY FOR CLEANUP DAY

The court house yard, and later picked up 55 dead sparrows. The sparrow builds around homes and makes a fire trap for sparks from chimneys. The sparrow is death to early flowers and gardens. Fifteen pounds of poisoned grain will kill all of the sparrows in Canyon. Mr. Walker and M. S. Bishir were appointed to take this up with the citizens.

C. L. Condrey suggested that it would help the looks of the city if those who are compelled to have junk piled in their back yards to build a high board fence and shut off the view of the public. He did not believe that it ought to be necessary for business houses to have to close a day to clean up, as he managed to keep his place of business open all the time and keep it clean too. He thought others ought to do the same.

J. M. Vetek urged that kitchens in the boarding houses be inspected as well as the stores which handle foods. Mrs. Gamble stated that the rules for inspection would be adopted and presented at the next meeting. J. M. Vetek and C. L. Condrey were appointed to work with the inspection committee in formulating these rules.

D. A. Shirley was asked to tell how the alleys could be kept free of weeds. He stated that he tried all kinds of experiments, and had found that the only satisfactory and sure way was the use of the hoe.

Mrs. Gamble stated that talks would be made at the next meeting on the care of the court house and how to handle the vacant lots.

Mrs. Gamble stated that all of the citizens of Canyon do their best Friday to make Canyon the cleanest town in the state.

The following division of the town into districts has been made and chairmen appointed for each district in order to put over the Clean Up Campaign Friday.

West of the branch railroad—C. F. Walker.

Between the branch railroad and the high school building—O. I. Smith.

The next divisions will run from the high school street to the street running north and south on the west side of the square—First West Street—From Cedar Street to the railroad—W. A. Jennings.

Between Cedar and Houston—S. B. McClure.

Between Houston and Evelyn—S. B. Orton.

Between Evelyn and Chestnut—G. Oldham.

Between Chestnut and Pecan—J. M. Vetek.

South of Pecan—J. M. Fite.

The blocks running north from the court house—A. W. Hancock.

The blocks running south from the court house—R. E. Foster.

Starting with First East Street and running to the Highway the districts are as follows:

Canyon Street to railroad—C. M. Ackerman.

Between Cedar and Houston—I. C. Jenkins.

Between Houston and Evelyn—C. L. Thompson.

Between Evelyn and Chestnut—W. J. Wooten.

Between Chestnut and Pecan—Dan K. Usery.

South of Pecan—D. Thomas.

East of Highway—President J. A. Hill.

North of main line railroad—Dr. J. M. Black.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS DISCUSSED AT THE NOON LUNCHEON

in the tax rate, which election will be called for May or June.

Mr. Foster called attention to the trustee election which is to be held Saturday, and that no candidates had been presented for the ticket.

J. M. Vetek, president of the Commercial League, looked over the 36 present, and noted the fact that very few business men were in attendance. He deplored this fact, and believed that it was the business of every merchant in Canyon to be at these luncheons.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will serve the luncheon in two weeks at Casey's Cafe, the proceeds of which luncheon will go toward a memorial for the Randall County boys who lost their lives during the war. C. L. Condrey will be the leader at this luncheon.

R. M. Field, secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. Geo. S. Slover, president of Clarendon College, were present, but neither had time to address the meeting.

Mr. Foster brought up the idea of planning for the corner stone laying celebration of the new high school building, but there was not time to enter into the discussion at this luncheon.

There is some good looking wheat, and gardening is under head way, but the wind still continues to blow and the dirt and sand to roll, but such is life in the west.

OPENING BASEBALL GAME TODAY

Buffaloes Will Open Baseball Season With Simmons Here Today

The Buffaloes took their final workout Tuesday afternoon for the series with the Simmons College Cowboys which will be played Thursday and Friday afternoons on the West Texas State Normal College athletic field. Coach Burton is better pleased with the showing of his men during the last practice game than ever before. The team as a whole seemed to use more "snap" and were hitting the old apple much better than in previous workouts. The big Coach worked his men until nearly six o'clock in all kinds of grueling tests before he could decide upon the lineup for the opening game Thursday.

With this combination Burton will have to use only one sub on the road trips because of the fact that the men can play the different positions equally well. While Graves is taking his turn in the box, Whitacre can be used in the outer rim. When Hale is used on the mound Whitacre will fill the place at second. Should Johnson need some relief at the receiving end, Gordon can be used as a catcher and in a pinch Capt. Hill could be used behind the bat.

Local fans are very eager for the opening of the season because they want to see the Buffaloes in action against the strong Simmons College Cowboys, considered to be one of the best teams in the T. I. A. A. If the Burton men can win these two games then they have a good chance to take a large majority of the games in the Association this season.

It was announced some time ago that the Buffaloes would open the season with Clarendon College, but a change was made late last week and Simmons came for the opening game.

The Clarendon games will be played on April 26-27. The Oklahoma Central Teachers College will come here for two games April 11-12. Two games are arranged with the Lubbock league team and two with the Amarillo league team.

The team goes on the road trip May 7th, to play Daniel Baker, John Tarlton, Commerce, Trinity and Simmons.

A BACKWARD PARTY

Did you ever hear of a Backward party? Well, there was one Friday evening at 7:30. The Girl Reserve from the High School knocked at Miss Vivian Coffman's back door and were admitted at once.

The light revealed an amusing crowd. It was hard to tell which side of the persons to give a welcome, for it came to light that many had a back face. Much skill was required to step in backwards and to keep the right face showing. Proceedings were delayed at each entrance by the loud sounds of merriment caused by the queer, backward guests.

As soon as the girls were seated refreshments were served consisting of Easter eggs, sandwiches and punch. Paper napkins were passed afterward. The girls indulged in much laughter. Games were played for a short while, and then the skill of the Backward Guests was tested by having them reverse the alphabet and sing Old Black Joe backward.

Peals of laughter rang out from 7:30 until 10 o'clock. Every girl you question will testify that they had the best of times and that Miss Coffman was indeed a pleasing hostess.

KID PARTY SATURDAY

A jolly band of young folk were highly entertained at the home of Mrs. Hubber last Saturday evening. Those present were: Mesdames Hubber, Byrd, Kelly, Gregory; Messrs. Bryan and Griffith Witt, Roy and Grover Carver, Thomas Groves, N. Sharp, George Lowe, J. C. Curry; Misses Annie Hart, Annie Williams, Artie Bell King, Vera Denton, Linnie Babston, Corene Todd, Effie Krabbs, Mary Campbell, Ethyl Carver, Muriel Sanders and Berta Thompson. They were all dressed as a "kid." After many games were played they drew candy and went home. Everyone reported to have had a good time.

Coach Burton believes that the Buffalo herd will have the strongest track team the school has yet produced. The boys are determined to win the big loving cup back from Clarendon college, which had held it for two years now, and a victory this year would give them its permanent ownership.

Invitations have been sent to Clarendon, Goodwell, Okla., Roswell, Howard Payne and Weatherford, Okla. All of these schools will likely have men in the meet.

81 YEARS OLD GAINS 21 POUNDS

Pioneer Citizen Has Remarkable Experience in Regaining Lost Health; Now "Sleeps Like a Kid."

Mr. J. E. Selby, proprietor Selby Supply Co., Marthville, La., says, "I am 81 years old. Enjoyed phenomenal health from 1872 until last May. I began to lose flesh, indigestion was manifested, appetite variable, complicated with insomnia. My weight was reduced to 144 pounds; I became so weak I staggered—was barely able to walk 200 yards from my home to my store. Thinking I might be deficient in iron and vitamins, I began taking Ironized Yeast. In less than 30 days I had regained my customary weight (165), gaining 21 pounds in that time, can now eat and enjoy three hearty meals per day and sleep like a 'kid.' The gain is solid flesh, and I feel as able to attend to my business as I was ten years ago."

The principle of Ironized Yeast is endorsed by the world's greatest chemists. It supplies the very elements you must have to maintain health. It is guaranteed to bring back your old time, vigorous health. Do not confuse Ironized Yeast with yeast cakes. It is a concentrated extract of brewer's yeast, the kind doctors recommend for use in medicine. If you are weak, underweight, nervous, run down, profit by Mr. Selby's experience. Get a package of Ironized Yeast from your druggist—a ten day treatment costs only a dollar and your money will be refunded unless you are delighted with results. Ironized Yeast Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Though returns from a questionnaire sent out by the Department of Agriculture are incomplete, it appears that at least five hundred ranchers in the United States are raising silver foxes, that they have between twelve and fifteen thousand foxes in captivity and that the value of their investment is not far from eight million dollars. But many of the foxes suffer from internal parasites that affect their fecundity and that make one of the serious problems of fox farming.

Few concerns in the United States now export goods to Germany except for cash in American money. The usual procedure is for the German buyer to open an account in an American bank against which shipping documents can be charged. The banks themselves will not lend on consignments to Germany more than they are willing to lend on the credit of the shipper. Such difficulties naturally reduce the volume of German business.

OLD TIMERS PANHANDLE-PLAINS WILL MEET AT ADOBE WALLS FOR REUNION

A move is now on foot to hold a general get-together meeting of all the old timers of the Panhandle country on the site of the old Adobe Walls battle-ground in the northeastern portion of Hutchinson County recalls the story of one of the most famous and one of the most desperate fights with the Indians ever staged in Texas—a fight in which twenty-eight white men were pitted against nearly 700 redskins in an all-day battle, resulting in the killing of three of the whites and many scores of the Indians.

The present plan is to call this reunion of the old-timers some time this spring when the weather gets warmer. At the same time, the members of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, will get together to mingle with the old-timers and gather as much of the rapidly vanishing data on the early days of the Panhandle as they are able to "dig up."

This reunion will also be connected in a way with a move now on foot to build a bridge across the Canadian River near Adobe Walls as a part of highway 33-B. Several hundred pioneers and their descendants are expected to be present.

The Adobe Walls Indian fight took place on June 27, 1874. The white men who were attacked were, for the most part, buffalo hunters and freighters, who had moved south from Dodge City, Kan., early in the spring of 1874 in search of hides and meat. Among the more famous of the hunters were Bat Masterson, afterward a famous gunman and still later a newspaper reporter in New York City, and Billy Dixon, the famous scout and plainsman, later a scout for Gen. Nelson A. Miles' command in the operations against the Indians in the Southwest.

Other white men who held the Indians at bay in that memorable fight were James Hanrahan, Mike Welch, Hiram Watson, Billy Ogg, James McKinley, Bernarda Carlisle, Fred Leonard, James Campbell, Edward Trevor, Frank Brown, Harry Armitage, Dutch Henry, Billy Tyler, Mike McCabe, Henry Lease, James Longton, George Eddy, Thomas O'Keefe, William Olds, Sam Smith, Andy Johnson, a bartender named Shepherd, a man called French and another known as Old Man Keeler. One woman was also behind the walls—the beleaguered houses that day—Mrs. William Olds, wife of one of the fighters.

Attack Began at Dawn

The attack of the Indians began at dawn, and had it not been for the fact that a cottonwood ridge log in one of the three picket and sod houses occupied by the buffalo hunters broke at about 2 o'clock that same morning, all of the whites would undoubtedly have been killed as they slept. However, due to the breaking of this pole, the hunters had been working at repairing it during the early morning hours, and some were still awake when the attack started. These quickly spread the alarm, and all took to shelter in time except the two Shadler brothers, freighters, who were asleep in their wagon. They were killed and scalped.

The Indian warriors were mostly Kiowas, Comanches and Cheyennes. The Comanches were led by their half white chief, Quannah Parker; the Kiowas by Lone Wolf, and the Cheyennes by Little Robe and White Shield.

Billy Dixon, the famous scout, in his book "The Life of Billy Dixon," describes the initial attack of the Indians as follows:

"I rushed for my guns and turned to get a few good shots before the Indians could turn to run away. I started to run forward a few steps. Indians running away! They were coming as straight as a bullet toward the buildings whipping their horses at every jump.

"There never was a more splendid barbaric sight. In after years I was glad that I had seen it. Hundreds of warriors, the flower of the fighting men of the Southwestern plains mounted upon their finest horses, armed with guns and lances, and carrying heavy shields of buffalo hide, were coming like the wind. Over all was splashed the rich colors of red, vermilion and ochre, on the bodies of the men, on the bodies of the running horses. Scapels dangled from the bridles, georgons war bonnets fluttered their plumes, bright feathers dangled from the tails and manes of their horses, and the bronze, half naked bodies of the riders glittered with ornaments of silver and brass. Behind this headlong, charging host stretched the plains on whose horizon the rising sun was lifting its morning fires. The warriors seemed to emerge from the glowing background."

For the first half hour the Indians were reckless and continually charged the sod buildings occupied by the buffalo hunters. But all of the latter were deadshots and their bullets finally caused so many gaps in the ranks of the redskins that more cautious methods began to prevail. They fell back out of range and only charged now and then.

At the beginning of the attack the white men were surprised to hear the sound of a bugle, and even more surprised to learn that the redskins were maneuvering and charging to the commands of this bugle in strictly military fashion. Who this mysterious bugler with the Indians was remains one of the unsolved riddles of the battle. Some say he was a negro deserter from the Tenth Cavalry, while others say he was a half-breed Mexican who had been kidnapped by the Indians earlier. However, this may have been the ordering of the Indian attack to the notes of the bugle was a "tip-off" to the hunters, as two of them were ex-soldiers and understood the various calls as they were blown.

Lead Poured Like Rain

By noon the Indians had quit charging and had stationed themselves at various places under cover, from whence they poured a devastating fire into the sod walls of the buffalo hunters' buildings. Why more of the white men were not killed has ever remained a mystery, as at times the pouring of the lead through the walls was like rain.

At 2 o'clock the Indians drew off to a fringe of trees near the creek several hundred yards from the buildings and contented themselves with riding here and there in groups, keeping up an intermittent fire at the hunters and being "picked off" now and then by the long-range buffalo guns of the sharpshooters inside the camp.

When night began to fall the besieged hunters emerged from their places of refuge long enough to find the dead bodies of thirteen Indians. These were bodies that the Indians could not remove after they had fallen. More than a score of other redskins were killed in the engagement, but true to their religion, the Indian warriors dragged back their dead or helpless comrades beyond reach of the enemy. They were animated in this way by the belief that if a warrior should lose his scalp lock his spirit would fall to reach the happy hunting grounds.

The Indians, with well-planned military strategy, attempted to kill off all of the hunters' horses tied outside the buildings in the idea of cutting off the retreat of the white men to the north and leaving them helpless on the plains. In this endeavor they were nearly successful, as several score of the faithful ponies of the hunters were killed by bullets or arrows as they pitifully crowded up close to the shelter of their beleaguered masters.

Besides the Shadler brothers, Billy Tyler was killed by the Indians. Tyler with Fred Leonard had gone into a stockade built around one of the houses when the Indians opened fire through the pickets. The two hunters retreated, but Tyler was struck by a bullet as he was entering the door of the adobe store. The bullet penetrated his lungs and he died about half an hour later inside the walls.

day, but for two days afterward the Indians remained in the vicinity of the hunters' camp, keeping up a kind of siege. It was on this day that Billy Dixon made a shot which was talked of for years in the western country, picking off an Indian brave from the summit of a high bluff 1,200 yards away. Concerning this, Dixon modestly states:

"A number of exaggerated accounts have been written about this incident. I was admittedly a good marksman, yet this was what might be called a scratch shot."

The Adobe Walls fight was only part of an extensive raid made by the Indians at this time through New Mexico, Texas, Colorado and Kansas, resulting in the killing of a total of 180 white persons, according to reports of Government agents.

As the Indians had planned, the fight at Adobe Walls broke up buffalo hunting in the Canadian River country for some time. The final result of this fight and other massacres of the Indians was an expedition led by General Miles into the Southwest against the redskins in August 1874.

Before Baby Comes

THERE are thousands of expectant mothers who undergo much useless suffering for months before, as well as at the moment when delivery occurs. These months of suffering, with nerves and vital organs weakened, leave their effect upon the child. An eminent physician found the way to stop much of this unnecessary suffering—the same easy way which thousands of mothers have used for three generations.

Mrs. Walter S. Hadley, Bridgeport, Ind., says: "Before my little boy came I was so paralyzed in my hips and limbs I could hardly walk, and some days after a little extra exertion I couldn't walk a step. I felt it coming on this time; in fact, I could hardly get up when I sat down, but now, after using one bottle of Mother's Friend, I am so much better. I feel that I almost owe my life to Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates remarkably, permitting the easier relaxation and distention of muscles, nerves, tissues and ligaments, and their constant easier readjustment during expectancy and at child-birth. Have no more fear or dread, mother! Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor, because I wasn't very sick—only about 1/2 or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of such useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid more groans and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

A Hindu of high caste is not a "free white person" within the meaning of the naturalization law, and, therefore, is not entitled to citizenship, according to a ruling of the Supreme Court. The court ruled that the words "white person" must be given the meaning they have in common usage. Even though the Hindu in question was a descendant of the Aryans of India it availed him nothing as the new construction narrows the Caucasian race to those who are today commonly known by that designation.

The birds are taken to the scene of a fire by the ranger and are then used to carry a report to headquarters which gives the actual location of and condition at the fire. POWER OF EXPRESSION

That a person has no special gift of expression, in speech, in writing, in drawing or in music, should neither discourage him from trying to increase his power of expression nor cause him to undervalue the importance of expression as a means to success and happiness in life. Many persons think that power of acquisition is the first requirement for success and happiness; that the acquisition of knowledge, of wealth and of friends, if they could all be gained simultaneously, would be the surest guaranty of happiness. Perhaps they are right in so thinking; but they should not overlook the fact that the power to acquire depends almost as much on readiness in giving out as on labor in taking in.

"Talk is cheap" is a scornful epigram, the application of which is often deserved. But the talk that flows from sound knowledge of a subject and from an earnest interest and belief in it, or from a friendly and hospitable attitude of mind toward people and their work, is not cheap, nor is it unprofitable to the talker. It wins for him the confidence and the liking of others; it enables him the more readily to market his wares; it induces reciprocal freedom and sincerity of speech and leads often to a discovery of new opportunities.

As a man becomes known in his neighborhood for substantial qualities of character he finds increasing demands made upon his power of expression. Whether as a member of boards of directors or trustees, or as a citizen who is drafted for public service of some sort or other, or as a leader in large enterprises, he has to cultivate his faculty for clear and persuasive expression. The man who early in life appreciates the importance of cultivating that faculty is not likely to be at a disadvantage under the demands that are made upon him as the years go on.

Trial of several Eskimos under white man's law on a charge of murder will take place at Herschel Island in the Arctic Ocean near the mouth of the Mackenzie River. A captain and a corporal of the Mounted Police will make the final dash up the Porcupine and Crow rivers, across the arctic divide, then through the timber limits to Tundra, and finally to Herschel. A bill passed in the Federal House at Ottawa provides for the trial at Herschel instead of taking the prisoners out to civilization. In all probability it will take the form of a drum-head court-martial, with the redcoats as the court of last appeal.

HOSPITALITY TO IDEAS

The friendly mind is as necessary to the peace of the world as the friendly heart. An unfriendly mind and a friendly heart cannot dwell together in the same person; but often, though the heart may be friendly enough, the mind is cold—not kindled to interest or understanding. Sometimes the lack of interest or understanding arises from mental incapacity, and then it cannot be corrected; more often it comes from a habit of closing the door against certain subjects, or modes of thought, or ideas that are unfamiliar.

Nothing could be more pernicious than to advocate hospitality to dab ideas, false doctrines, evil sentiments. It would have been far better for the world if fewer people had been hospitable to the ideas of militarism in Germany and to the theories of Bolshevism in Russia. But in fact the people who were hospitable to those ideas had become through training or through ignorance, of an inhospitable disposition mentally. Any supposition argument or assertion that supported the prepossession already implanted in them they welcomed; every idea that was antagonistic to that prepossession they rejected.

Most Americans know that their hearts are friendly. They think that because they welcome enthusiastically and advocate with fervor certain ideas that seem liberal their minds are friendly too. But from the very enthusiasm of the welcome is likely to ensue indifference to the claims of other ideas that may be no less important and worthy than those which receive special hospitality and honor. In our zeal to make the world a better place to live in we must not be unwilling to consider whether our conception of an improved world is really sounder than our neighbor's—which may be quite different. The best progress is made when people who are equally earnest and devoted cooperate to bring about the reforms that they agree are needed instead of antagonizing one another in individual efforts to attain ends that are irreconcilable.

HILL CALLED TO AUSTIN.

President J. A. Hill was called to Austin this morning to meet with the senate appropriations committee, which is in session to go over the appropriations bill as recommended by the board of control for the coming two years. Governor Neff has called the legislature to meet April 16.

FACT AND COMMENT

The linen industry in Ireland is going through a trying period. Irish farmers seem not to be interested in raising flax, which requires a considerable amount of labor, and the supply from Russia is small and irregular. The price of linen naturally depends on the cost of the raw material and on wages. Flax now costs three times as much as before the war and labor twice as much.

Some extravagant statements about the rapid gain in population that the United States has made since 1920 are discredited by the figures of the National Bureau of Economic Research, which estimates the gain since the last census to be 4,500,000. The rate seems to be almost as high as in the years before the war. At that rate of growth the population will be at least 120,000,000 when the next census is taken, in 1930.

General Wood has proposed to the Philippine legislature a new port on the Pacific coast of the island of Luzon. The chosen site is at Hondagua, about ten miles beyond Gumaca, which is already connected by rail with Manila. Such a port would somewhat reduce the cost of transport for Philippine products coming to the United States.

Experimenters at McCook Field, near Dayton, Ohio, dispersed clouds and precipitated the moisture that they contained by scattering electrically charged sand above them. The object was not to make rain, but to clear the air of mist above the flying field. Usually the moisture evaporated before it reached the earth, but the rapidity with which the clouds disappeared when the sand struck them was astonishing.

The Peanut Growers' Association plans to make peanuts as much of a grocery staple as any of the cereals. Under the proposed method of merchandising the association will shell and grade peanuts and pack them uniformly in one-pound cartons, which will be distributed through the regular channels of the grocery business. The housewife will be told how to roast peanuts perfectly in the kitchen oven and how to use them in a variety of ways. A pound of nut meats will cost about twenty-five cents.

At the Montreal sale of the Canadian Fur Auction Sales Company the best silver fox skins brought $325, a few sold for $200, but most of those of fair quality fetched between $70 and $125. The American import duty of fifty per cent on furs kept away many buyers from the United States.

Fox farming in Alaska utilizes material from the salmon canneries that would otherwise be wasted.

THE RADIO WEDDING

Now comes the news that in several states on the mainland, marriage by radio has been declared illegal.

We can easily see that there would be confusion in the broad casting something like this:

Minister—"Do you utah-dah-dah-ta-tahadadab Eloise Inch take this prunes closed firm to be your Texas Gulf Oil preferred 34 bid 36 lawfully wedded titmouse and woodchuck fable by Millicent Muddle?"

Answer—"Shake a little shimie on the shores of Kakaako."

Minister—"Do you, Clarence snap-snap-buzz-lick take this bedtime story by Kenneth Knee to be your lawfully wedded Sousa's band in new and novel program?"

Answer—"Good-by, Tootsie, good-by."

Minister—"I pronounce you McKinley high school glee club in songs and instrumental music."—Honolulu Star Bulletin.

Are They Helping Building Canyon? Well, Hardly!

A St. Louis printing concern is appealing to Canyon business men to buy their printing and help their salesman in this territory win some prize!

How much does that salesman contribute to the upbuilding of Canyon? NOT A PENNY!

How much time does this printing concern ever contribute to advertising Canyon, or working for Canyon, or spend in improving Canyon, or pay in taxes in Canyon, or contribute to the schools, and churches, and society in general in Canyon?

Not a penny—

The St. Louis firm wants YOUR business in order that they may build up a better printing plant in St. Louis, and make St. Louis a better town.

Every dollar of printing invested in Canyon makes our plant a better and bigger plant—so much more valuable to Canyon and to Canyon's needs.

Think it over!
