D. L. PAYNE DRAWS 5 YEARS IN PEN FOR MANSLAUGHTER

TRACTOR CAUSES BIGGEST EXCITEMENT OF TRIAL

Second Trial of Payne Will be Held in Amarillo—Motion for New Trial Today.

The jury in the case of D. L. Payne returned a verdict Sunday morning at ten o'clock, convicting Payne of manslaughter and assessing the penalty as five years in the penitentiary. This was on the charge of shooting J. Sweaza on the steps leading to the Crosbyton court house in May of this year.

The case against Payne, charging him with the death of Maud Rippy at the same time, was transferred to the Potter county court, it being thought impossible to get another jury in this county.

The only excitement in connection with the case occurred Friday afternoon. Affairs were going very quietly in the case, when all of a sudden "pow—pow—pow—pow—pow," five of them in rapid succession broke the quiet of the afternoon. Half a dozen officers rushed from the room and down the stairs. The court room would have been emptied in a moment had not the presence of mind of the officer at the door stopped the rush that was being made. Judge Bishop rapped for order, but to no avail. Witnesses and counsel rushed to the window to see who the next victim of this case had been.

The rush of the officers led to the rear of the Jarrett Drug store building where the back fire of a tractor had caused all of the excitement. Those who recalled the incident later said that there certainly never had been a more perfect resemblance to gun fires than was the case of the back firing of that tractor—or possibly it may be that since people were looking for trouble during the case, their ears deceived them when the backfiring started.

A motion for a new trial is to be made before Judge Bishop today.

No other business was attempted in the court this week.

The session closes Saturday, and the Potter court session starts next Monday.

President Hill Not Candidate for Presidency of the Tech College

The daily press has stated several times for the past month that President J. A. Hill is being considered by the Board of Regents of the new Tech College for the position of president of that institution.

Mr. Hill stated Saturday that he was not interested in the position. He stated that his whole life has been devoted to the idea of teacher training and that it was his ambition to serve in this field of work. Mr. Hill stated that he was not an applicant for the presidency of the Tech College nor has he been asked by any of the members of the Board of Regents to consider the position.

The Board will meet in Lubbock Tuesday, and the position will likely be filled at that time.

President R. L. Marquis of the Denton Teachers College is also mentioned as a likely candidate for the position, but it is understood in Canyon that Mr. Marquis is likely not interested in the presidency of the new College.

Amarillo Sheriff Arrested for Part Taken in Flogging Prisoner

Sheriff Less Whitaker of Potter county was placed under arrest Friday by the Rangers who were on duty in Canyon last week, the Sheriff being charged with having connections with a flogging case in Amarillo last week.

Whitaker was released on bond and awaits the action of the grand jury next week.

Band Not Able to Go to Tech Rally at Lubbock Next Tuesday

The College had intended sending the band to the Tech College rally to be held in Lubbock, when the date was first announced as yesterday, but since the date has been changed until next Tuesday the band will be unable to go. A large number of the students in the organization left for their homes today owing to the close of the summer session of the College.

President Hill has appointed D. A. Shirley, I. F. Sheffy, Travis Shaw, R. A. Terrill and Mrs. T. V. Reeves as official representatives of the College at the Tech rally. He intends going to the rally if not detained by business.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE MEETING CALLED FOR NEXT MONDAY NIGHT TO DISCUSS EMPLOYMENT OF SECRETARY

A special meeting of the Commercial League will be held next Monday night at the Court House at 8:00 o'clock, and every live wire booster in Canyon is expected to be at this meeting.

Two meetings of the League have been held during the past week, but the attendance has been very small. Only eight were present at the meeting Thursday night, and only six were at the meeting held Monday night.

A program of purpose for the Commercial League was adopted Monday night, which is printed on this page of the News. It is a big program, but one that can be put over by Canyon, if the business men of Canyon will get in behind the program.

The chief need of the city was said by all attending these meetings to be a League—a man to devote his entire time to the enterprises of the city.

At the meeting next Monday night it will be the purpose to try to devise ways and means of putting on a paid secretary for the Commercial League.

No commercial organization has ever been able to accomplish much in the way of city building until it has employed a secretary to give his entire time to the needs of the city.

A full attendance of the live wire boosters of Canyon is desired at the meeting Monday night.

It is reported that a contest will be made upon the location of the Tech College at Lubbock. Just what the grounds are, has not been stated. It is intimated that some towns believe that the location was fixed before the committee started upon the tour of inspection. The News has nothing to say regarding the so-called contest. Probably the only result in such a contest would be the repeal of the law creating the school. If the school is worth anything to West Texas, then it is more than a community affair, and should be looked upon as such. Simply because a particular town failed to get the school is no reason why those disappointed ones should refuse to abide by the decision of the locating committee. We recall the great cry that went up by particular towns when the West Texas State Teachers College was located in Canyon. But the influence of this College has not been confined to Canyon. It has not made a big town of Canyon, in spite of the fact that the physical plant of the College is worth more today than the physical plant of the Tech will be worth. The commercial worth of the College has been good for the town of Canyon, but if that were the only worth of the College, better had it not been established. The great worth of the College has been in the great influence that it has had upon the young life of Northwest and West Texas. Hardly a school in this great school but has felt the influence in better trained teachers. Every town has profited by the great educational environment of the College. If the Tech College is worth anything, its worth will not be confined to Lubbock; it will work hand in hand with the West Texas State Teachers College, the Clarendon College, Wayland College and others in this section for the better life of the people of this section. A contest of the location of the Tech looks from the outside to be absurd.

Lieutenant Governor Davidson has been fortunate in having the breaks in his favor regarding his gubernatorial candidacy for next year. He has served as Governor twice during the past summer, and each time has been able to jump into prominence by making an honest effort to enforce the law against mob violence. This fact is going to have a lot of weight in the coming campaign. Davidson has been accused of stage play. At least, he is not responsible for the stage setting or scenery, which has helped him so much. He has clearly shown that he has no respect for mob rule and mob violence, and is after this kind of stuff. This characteristic will have considerable weight with a lot of people in Texas just now.

It is a quiet week, indeed, which does not bring forth some kind of an injunction in the Texas textbook controversy. State Superintendent Marrs is doing the right thing in keeping the question in the courts so long that it will be impossible to put the new law into effect this year, even should the courts finally approve the contracts. One federal court has held that the textbook contracts are illegal and cannot be enforced. The book company has failed to procure an injunction prohibiting Marrs from making shipment of the adopted books used during the past two years. The News is interested in the contracts only in that it means $1.00 per capita for each child in Texas. We would rather see the children get this money than have it go to the book publishers.

The News has observed that it never fails to rain in August in time to do the row crops a lot of good. Farmers state that the rains the early part of this week will make one of the biggest row crops the country has ever had. The Panhandle country can stage a come-back under the most trying conditions, and make more than could possibly be expected.

Help Get Canyon Clean!

Even Ireland has joined the League of Nations.

Randall County will have a County Fair next month. Get ready for it.

Canyon is going to send a big delegation to the Tech rally in Lubbock next Tuesday.

The rains of this week will break the backbone of summer, which has been an exceedingly long drawn out affair this year.

THE FLIGHT OF THE FARMER

Before the war a bricklayer or a plasterer in New York could earn perhaps five dollars a day. The farmer had to plant and raise and harvest something like five bushels of wheat to get the same money. Today the bricklayer gets fifteen or sixteen dollars a day, and it takes at least fifteen bushels of wheat—more at latest reports—to return the same sum to the farmer.

This indicates that relatively to the farmer the bricklayer is three times as well off as he was ten years ago. Relatively to the plasterer the farmer is only one third as well off as he was then. In a few words, that is the reason why there is so much economic dissatisfaction and political protest throughout the West.

Why is it that the farmer has lost ground economically as compared with the laboring man in the city? There are three reasons. First, the war encouraged the farmer to extend his fields and to increase his production; but to cut general building down to the very lowest amount. Now, that the warring nations have returned to agriculture the demand for our wheat has fallen off, but the great deficiency of houses and office buildings has created an insistent demand for labor. Next, the bricklayers and plasterers are organized. They control their market and do not fear the competition of Argentinians or Japanese. But farmers, who are business men and not wage earners, cannot combine as building workers can, and so far from controlling their market they have to face the competition of a dozen other countries. Finally, the building trades, by limiting the number of apprentices, diminishing their output and forcing shorter hours have created an artificial demand for their services. But the farmer—again a business man rather than a wage earner—cannot forget his pride in large and efficient production. He could raise prices if he would cut down his acreage, but he is slow to do that. Most good farmers like to see things grow and do not consider the price that they are to get for them until afterwards.

In the circumstances no one can be astonished that there is dissatisfaction in the farming states of the Northwest, for it is the wheat farmer of that region that has been most seriously injured. Whether anything can really be gained by strictly political means is the question. The last Congress put a substantial duty on wheat and passed other legislation that the agricultural representatives desired, yet as we write wheat is lower than it has been in nine years. The leaders whom the voters of the Northwest are following believe that more legislation will help; they will press for it at the coming session of Congress. Like the rest of us, in this era of democracy and parliamentary government they rely, perhaps too confidently, on the power of a written law to alter unfortunate conditions of life.

Whatever more laws can or cannot do, the surest way out of the present situation is intelligently restricting production to a point where a profit is to be found and practicing some degree of diversified farming in the wheat belt until the situation changes. The cotton planter has found in the peanut a means of escaping from the tyranny of a single crop. Is there not some profitable crop that is adapted to the soil and climate of the Northwest? So long as more wheat is raised than the market demands and attempts are made to hold up the price by legislation, we fear only one disappointment after another. Nothing except the return of actual peace and prosperity in Europe and the reestablishment of the old economic balance between the nations seems to us capable of strengthening permanently the market for American wheat.

The returns from Minnesota indicate that there has been no ebb in the tide of revolt against the Administration at Washington and against the economic situation in which the agricultural states have found themselves since 1920. Last November the voters of Minnesota sent Dr. Shipstead, a Farmer-Labor Senator, to Washington in place of Senator Kellogg, an able and rather liberal Republican. Now they have defeated Governor Preus, perhaps the best vote-getter among the Republicans, and have given Dr. Shipstead a Farmer-Labor colleague in Mr. Mangus Johnson. Senator Johnson is a native of Sweden who has lived in the United States some thirty years. He began life as a glass blower, but since he came to Minnesota he has been a farmer and a successful one. In politics he is what is called a radical, though there is no evidence that he would be so described in Europe, where the radical is an advanced Socialist or Communist. Senator Johnson will act with Senators La Follette and Brookhart. His election to succeed the late Senator Nelson still further imperils the uncertain control of the Senate by the regular Republicans.

On July 14 the Academy of International Law was opened at The Hague. It is proposed to gather students and professors of international law from all over the world for an annual lecture course of three months. It is hoped that the Academy will build up and establish a universally recognized code of international law and help to encourage among the intellectual leaders of the world an international spirit and an enthusiasm for for justice to all nations. Mr. James Brown Scott, the American publicist, has been particularly active in bringing the Academy to pass, and the Carnegie Foundation has advanced the money to make it possible.

The faking of sculpture has reached such proportions in France that a movement is on foot to forbid the departure of any art work from that country unless the sale is approved by the Ministry of Fine Arts and a group of connoisseurs.

Automobiles have become so common in California, Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota that you could put the entire population of those states into the registered motor cars within their borders. In California there is actually a car for every three and eight-tenths persons. The world is certainly on wheels in those Western states.

It is proposed by the American Farm Bureau Federation that the government assist the farmers to withdraw two hundred million bushels of wheat from the market and store it for a year with the aid of the intermediate credit facilities that the new national law provides. It is argued that that would raise the price of wheat on the farm to as much as $1.40. The danger with such a plan is that it would cause more wheat to be planted instead of less, as present conditions demand. Next year it might be necessary to store three hundred million or four hundred million bushels in order to keep up the price, and so on until the market broke ruinously under the burden of the tons of stored wheat. If the farmers would plant only what they can sell at a profitable price, there would be no need of withdrawing any wheat from the market, but as yet there is no way to find out just how much each man should plant.

Canada has authorized by act of Parliament the Governor-General at his discretion to put an embargo on the exportation of wood pulp from the Dominion. If that embargo should be enforced it would send the price of paper kiting, seriously disarrange the paper market on this side of the border and hasten the destruction of our own dwindling forests. The action of the Canadians is general attributed to irritation with the present tariff law, so far as its agricultural schedules are concerned, they regard as hostile to them without being of any service to our own farmers.

Antlers and Elapheians Contribute to the Mary E. Hudspeth Hall Fund

The Antler and Elapheian Societies have made a contribution of thirty-five dollars to the Mary E. Hudspeth Hall fund this summer. These societies cleared this money from sales held during the Interscholastic League Meet in April. All of the Societies in school have now contributed to the fund.

It is estimated that approximately one thousand dollars has been added to the fund this summer, counting both pledges and cash turned in. If there are students or faculty members who wish to pay their pledges before they leave Canyon, the Treasurer, Mr. J. J. Powell, will be found in his office, 102, to receive the money.

Cousins Make Plans For the Coming Year

The members of the Cousins Literary Society met Thursday, August 16, to make plans for the next year's society work. The Society will emphasize debating above everything else next year. Plans for arousing a real interest in society work were discussed. The Cousins expect to start the year with more pep than ever before.

Quesnay de Beaurepaire, the judge who presided over the famous Dreyfus case in France nearly a generation ago, is now an inmate of a poorhouse. He resigned from the judgeship in 1899 when a movement was started to reverse his Dreyfus decisions. By so doing he lost all claim to the government pension. Members of the Paris bar are raising a subscription fund to aid him. He is a commander of the Legion of Honor.

Within 100 miles of the Arctic Circle, Cordelia M. Karshner has succeeded in raising as many as 350 bushels of potatoes to the acre. She has homesteaded a piece of property in Alaska in a valley containing hot springs and it is due to the warmth given off by the springs that she is able to raise to maturity melons and tomatoes.

David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Leland Stanford Junior University, said, "The bane of higher education is the desire to substitute system and drill for inspiration, to develop methods and standards in place of intellect. The university, as such, does not give opinions, but means to form them."

Former Representative Patrick H. Kelley, of Lansing, said, "In my judgment, there is no person now living who will see the Eighteenth Amendment either modified or repealed. There is no doubt pre-Prohibition beer intoxicated many, even with an alcoholic percentage of only three and one-half per cent. Legalization of five per cent beer would, in effect, nullify the Eighteenth Amendment."

Only one per cent of 80,000 samples of liquor seized during the last of the year was genuine, according to a report of the prohibition commissioner at Washington. He said that adulteration of bootleg liquor was leading to serious physical consequences. Drinking of moonshine may not cause death directly, but its toxins are cumulative and result in death if indulged in for a protracted period.

In India the money lender in many cases takes two receipts, one for the exact amount loaned and the other for sometimes twice the amount. The interest charged is usually one anna on a rupee a month or about 6 1/2 per cent a month. If the amount borrowed is paid back by the borrower, both of the receipts taken are returned to him, but if he cannot pay and the money lender has to go to court to foreclose, he produces the receipt for the larger amount and collects on that basis.

A large, seated statue of Minerva, carved from colored alabaster, has been discovered in Rome on the site of the Forum. This point was a landing place on the Tiber for marble shipments in the days of olden Rome. It was found while excavating for a new building. A workman near Ognia, Italy, found two ancient bronze vases containing 300 gold coins dating back to 300 B. C.

HABIT

A retail merchant has found that the right-hand side of his store does fifty per cent more business than the left-hand side, although the stock on each side is in his judgment of equal attractiveness. On inquiry he learned that other merchants had observed a similar condition in their shops. He concluded that the American rule of the road, "turn to the right," had inculcated in people a habit so strong that it affected their actions of shopping expeditions.

The habit of observing the rule of the road is a good one, but it should not be permitted to control all of a man's power of attention. People who accustom themselves comfortably to any worthy habit are in danger of becoming a little blind. The habit of concentrating on a certain kind of group of problems is for most persons essential to success in life, yet, if persevered in without the mental relaxation that interest in problems of an entirely different character would bring, it is likely at last to make the success that it achieves seem rather barren. It is an excellent thing to form the habit of considering carefully the possible consequences of your acts, yet there is some danger that those who form that habit will occasionally fail in a crisis to which those who are accustomed to heeding the call of impulse may rise. And on the other hand, persons who have been educated mainly to the importance of promptness and decision in action are often liable to displays of recklessness and bad judgment. The strict observance of good habits does not mean always that charity dwells in the heart. Sometimes it seems as if charity had a weakness for the companionship of the more imperfect members of the human race.

It has been said that men who have the qualities of their defects may be forgiven for the defects of their qualities. It is better, however, for people to eliminate their defects if they can than to be forgiven for them. A man should of course never become the slave of bad habits, nor should he ever let himself become wholly a creature of good ones.

A building syndicate in New York is putting up a kind of house that seems to sell better than the conventional two-family house that has the same number of rooms in both apartments. The design is that of a three-story brick building with four rooms on the first floor, three bedrooms and a bathroom on the second, and three rooms, a kitchenette and a bathroom on the third floor. The two lower floors make the owners apartment larger than the ordinary one in a two-family house, and the third floor apartment at $50 a month pays most of the charges.

Two Scenari Presented in Auditorium

Two interesting pictures were shown in the Auditorium, August 6th and 8th. "To Have and To Hold," a historical story, and "Hunting Big Game in Africa," a moving picture of the actual experiences of an exploring party in Africa; headed by H. A. and Sid Snow.

The latter picture was considerably like a visit to a well filled zoo, except that the animals were wild and unrestricted by cage or fence, and were in their natural haunts. Traveling in a donkey, oxen, camel, or "ford" caravan we made calls on various animals peculiar to "the dark continent." The zebra, bush-buck, white rhinoceros, steinbok, bushbok, and various other "boks," lion, leopard, giraffe, elephant, and numerous other animals of that continent were "caught at home" by the telescopic lens, and their secrets made known to us.

Too, we saw something of the thrills and perils of whaling; got a good view of the Kimberly diamond mines—the heaven of social lions and love sick youths—visited Bechuana-land and Zululand where we were royally entertained by dances, and many other amusing customs. On the whole, the picture was truly educative and of especial value to those who would teach geography or to those who would better understand geographic, political, and social conditions in the land of the dark people.

One of the worst insect pests that ever got into this country is the Japanese beetle. It feeds on grass, and on the leaves of fruit trees, vines and cornstalks and is spreading very rapidly. In certain sections the beetles have grown so dense that during fruit time the orchards have the appearance of being overwhelmed with bee swarms. They are a brilliant iridescent bronze green in color. They came in with some imported Japanese iris.

In 1920 there were more than 20,000 Indian children of school age who were not in school because of lack of facilities. All the Indians are not Osages, wealthy in oil lands. Others live on poorer reservations whose homes are hovels, tents, shacks, tepees, and houses with dirt floors.

In twenty years the Alaskan Eskimos have made great strides in the ways of civilization. They have churches and schools, many of them read and write, and owing to the reindeer herds that the United States government started for them most of them are prosperous. Deer meat in the north sells at the rate of seven dollars for one hundred and sixty pounds, which is the weight of the ordinary carcass. The natives now own at least two hundred thousand reindeer, which are under government supervision.

Thirteen members of the senior class will receive degrees and 165 will receive diplomas and certificates.

Who pays the piper in the national income tax entertainment is revealed in statistics lately published by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Ninety-two per cent of the taxpayers are in the groups of those whose incomes are less than $5,000 a year, but all of them together pay less than thirteen per cent of the total taxes. Three per cent of the taxpayers, those who have incomes of more than $10,000, pay seventy-seven per cent of the taxes. In spite of the popular belief to the contrary, it appears that the few persons with the larger incomes are standing the treat.

Floyd County Club Stage Enjoyable Picnic

The Floyd County Club, fifty strong, met down town at 6:30 Tuesday afternoon and proceeded by "Lizzie caravan" to the Gordon-Cumming Country Club. An hour and a half of vigorous swimming sharpened everybody's appetite to such an extent that there was no delay in "falling to" the sumptuous spread that followed.

The club is one of the strongest in the institution and promises to be second to none in "peptomistic" sport and social activities as well as the more serious functions of school life. There is a membership of eighty-eight students, a majority of which will be in school this fall.

"T" CLUB BANQUET.

Night o'clock Friday evening found the members of the Buffalo "T" Club in the dining room of Cousins Hall. This banquet will be remembered above many others because each buffalo had "the only girl" with him.

The purpose of the banquet was to get the fellows who are in school together and create an interest in the coming football team. There were several "peppy" speeches. Mr. Shirley, chairman of the Athletic committee, was toastmaster.

Das Sanders, who is the first president of the "T" Club, gave the welcome address to the young ladies, and Miss Lila Simms replied with a pledge from the co-eds to always stand behind the Buffaloes in honorable battle. Floyd Golden gave a toast to members of the faculty who have stood behind us in our fight for recognition in athletics.

Wimer Shotwell, coach of Abilene High School's wonder team, gave us some ancient Buffalo history. He told of the hardships of infant athletics in the West Texas State Teachers College.

Coach Burton, made a "peppy" speech describing the kind of "pep" speeches that he wants the team to hear this fall. In substance he said, "Our team heretofore has been told that the student body and faculty will stay behind them win or lose. This fall I want to hear you girls say 'Get in there and fight and win or we will kick you out!'"

When asked what she had to say to the Buffaloes, Mrs. Hill said, "From the beginning of my husband's connections with this institution, it has been my greatest ambition to be thought of as the mother of the boys and girls who come here. You could confer no greater honor upon me than to call me Mother Hill." A motion that the Buffalo "T" Club adopt the name of Mother Hill for Mrs. Hill was unanimously carried.

Mr. Hill was the last speaker and he told us many interesting things. He announced that the new field house is to be started next week. It is to be constructed near the athletic field, and will be used by the athletic teams exclusively. He assured us that this institution will always be behind the right kind of athletics but opposed to any other kind.

The "T" Club could have no better purpose or aim than the realization of the spirit of clean athletics as voiced by our president.

Most of the successful women riders at the English Olympic horse show this year used an old-fashioned sidesaddle. Only four of twenty-one competitors rode astride. Princess Mary, as a leader of fashion, rides sidesaddle, and others point out that a woman not only looks more graceful riding in that way but needs to be a better horse-woman.

THE FINEST PRESS IN WEST TEXAS

The Randall County News has taken a step forward in equipment by installing the finest press in the entire West Texas territory. The press is bought with a view of giving the buyers of printing in Canyon better service and better printing.

The News is the best equipped plant in West Texas. Everything in our equipment is up-to-date and the very finest in its individual line. The equipment of this printing plant would be a credit to a town ten times the size of Canyon.

Buyers of printing sometimes get the idea that some mail order outfit can do a better job than the local plant. This is just as much a fallacy as to think the farmer can get better goods by buying from a mail order house.

Every dollar of printing money invested in Canyon will make this plant a bigger and better plant to serve the needs of this community. Every dollar YOU send away for printing takes just so much away from the possibilities of a better plant to serve YOUR needs.

REV. McDOWELL TO PREACH

Rev. F. B. McDowell, new pastor of the Presbyterian church, did not arrive last week, but came Monday night and will preach his first sermons Sunday morning and night at the Presbyterian church.

Ever since the state of Jugo-Slavia was organized at the end of the war by the union of Serbia, Montenegro, Bosnia and Croatia there has been discussion within the new nation. The Serbians, regarding themselves as the natural leaders of the southern Slavs, have tried to dominate the government and to rule the country as if it were entirely Serbian. The Croats and Slovenes resent that; they were long a part of the Austrian Empire and think that their culture is superior to that of the Serbians. They understood that they were to have a large degree of self-government, but they find that Belgrade allows them less local independence than Vienna allowed them. The Croatian members of Parliament, unable to gain their point, have declined to sit any longer in that body; and the premier, M. Pashitch, has forbidden the Croatian party to hold any public meetings. It is a situation favorable to civil war and the breaking up of the Jugo-Slavian state. Only good sense and reasonable concession on both sides can bring about any other result.

A CLEVER MANAGER

Mrs. Marks—You never wear mourning.
Mrs. Muchwed—No. If isn't becoming to me, and for that reason I never keep a husband long enough to have him die on my hands.—Boston Evening Transcript.

He: I love you.
She: But I haven't a cent in this world.

He: Pardon me. You didn't let me finish. I love you not—
She: So, I only wanted to try your love. I have a fortune of $50,000,000.

He: Yes, but you interrupted me again. I love you not for your money's sake.
She: Well, I'm so glad, for that was only a joke about the $50,000,000.

He: Yes, and I was only joking about loving you.

"The next student that makes any unnecessary noise will be dismissed from the dean's office," said the irate dean.

"Hello, old timer—fishing?"
"No, you half-wit, I'm drowning worms."

But why have you so much?
Because—go away and do your lessons, you naughty boy.—Exchange.

THE FRESHMAN'S DREAM

Within a scanty furnished room,
A weary Freshman toiled,
His head bent low above a book
With pages worn and soiled.
The clock chimed ten—
The fire burned low—
Still the Freshman struggled on
O'er math he did not know.

What was a tangent to a plane?
What was an arc inscribed?
It was eleven by the clock,
And still the Freshman tried.

The room grew cold—
The lights went out—
Low the Freshman bowed his head
Upon the Math in doubt.

Discouraged, heartsick, tired, and cold
The Freshman made his vow,
This path of knowledge was too steep
He'd quit it here and now.
The way grew smooth—
The path grew light—
With his sheepskin in his hand
He had attained his height.

The sleeping Freshman yawned and rose,
Within the cold, dark room,
Yet in his heart a halo shone
That lighted up the gloom.
He'd gain the top—
He'd scale the craig—
That one sweet moment of success
Would spur if aim should lag.

Swearing has bad kin. It goes with ignorance, brutality, drunkenness, licentiousness, viciousness, and anger. And you can tell a habit by the company it keeps.—Dr. Frank Crane.

FACT AND COMMENT

At Princeton the faculty has prohibited the preparation and sale of syllabuses and reviews of the college courses.

Great Heart, an Illinois horse, made a high-jump record when, with a rider up, he cleared the bars at more than eight feet.

A building stone for interior purposes is made from the pulp recovered from the extraction of oil from the castor bean.

The fellow who prayed this prayer is still at large, but a diligent search of the campus will be made next fall and if said person can be found he will be slain instantly and his body fed to the Lobos of the Mountains. That no more remembrance might be had of him on the college campus.

The Prayer of the Knocker

Lord, please don't let this school grow. I've been here for several years and during that time I have fought every progressive movement. I've knocked everything and everybody. I have done all I can to keep this school from growing and have never spoken a good word for it. I have knocked hard and often. Whenever I saw anything progressive, or any one enjoying himself I have tried to delay progress or stop the fun.

I do not want the students to stay here in this school and will do all I can to drive them away. It pains me, O Lord to see that in spite of me the school is beginning to grow. If more people come I may lose some of my pull and this, Oh Lord, is more than I can bear. I ask therefore that you keep this school down.

GEORGE'S LAMENT

In the gloaming, oh, my darling,
When the lights are dim and low:
That your face is powder painted,
How am I, sweetheart, to know?
Twice this month, I've had to bundle
Every coat that I possess
To the cleaners—won't you, darling,
Love me more, and powder less?

TO IRENE

Dear little girl with smiling eyes
As bright and blue as the summer skies,
I love you.
I love your smiles and laughter too;
I love it all because it's you,
My dear.

And if the years should come between
Our parting here we meet again,
I won't forget.
I'm happy for I've known you dear;
I'll always treasure the memorable year
I met you.

Antlers and Elapheians Make Plans for Next Year's Society Work

The last meeting of the Antlers and Elapheian Literary Societies for the summer session was held Friday evening, August 17. Plans for the coming year were formulated. The societies pledged a closer co-operation for the coming year towards the furtherance of debating, declamation, and all other functions of a literary society. "The greatest year of our existence," is the cry of all the members and many interesting events are planned. Mr. Carl Kemp was elected President of the Antlers for the fall quarter and Mr. George Terry, Vice President. All returning Antlers are urged to be on the ground early. The first meeting will be Monday night, October 1.

Miss Elizabeth Reck Is Entertained

Saturday afternoon, August 11, Miss Ritchie's lawn was the scene of a delightful going-away party honoring Miss Elizabeth Reck, who leaves this week for Havre, Mont. The guests at this party were the girls of Miss Reck's graduating class of 1922, and Miss Mabel Rogers of Clayton, New Mexico, Miss Ruth Lowes, and Mr. and Mrs. Powell. Soon after Miss Reck arrived, she received a telephone message stating that she had a special delivery package, and asking if it should be brought to Miss Ritchie's. Soon the package was delivered and Miss Reck was urged to open it in the presence of the guests. To her surprise she found that the large package was made up of numerous smaller ones, each containing pleasing gifts to her from some member of the part. Comfortable seats on the blue grass, victrola music, and apricot sherbet served by Miss Ritchie, the charming hostess of the occasion, proved a most satisfying combination for a "lest-we-forget" affair.

Class of '22 Enjoys Party at the Home of Mrs. Montfort

Mrs. Montfort and Miss Swayne entertained the class of '22 with a very delightful forty-two party at the home of Mrs. Montfort last Thursday evening. Mr. Tarleton and Mr. Powell ran a close race for high score, but Mrs. Powell also contested because her card had not been punched every time. By the close of the evening reminiscing had ceased and some of the more prophetic members of the class were looking into the future. Delicious refreshments were served to the following guests: Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, Miss Elizabeth Beck, Miss Emma Carley, Miss Joye Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Tarleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hill.

Lieutenant Reese Lectures in College Auditorium Aug. 11

Friday evening, August 11, a number of the normal students were entertained at the expense of their blanket tax by Lieutenant Morris Reese who was with the A. E. F. as a machine-gunner, and later with the American Division in Germany.

For some thirty minutes Lieutenant Reese showed souvenirs of the war and discussed the use of each. His collection contained some novelties and he told interesting stories in connection; also, he had a number of lantern slides which he followed up with a lecture. The pictures were true scenes and of no little interest to some of those present. Finally, he gave a two-reel moving picture of scenes under shell fire in 1918. These pictures were made on the battlefield. Bombing, aircraft fighting, airplane battles, and many of the more horrible phases of the war were presented.

Lieutenant Reese closed by begging that something be done to avoid another such tragedy, and by stressing the individual and national responsibility of the American Citizen. His slogan is "Something must be done."

New Field House For Athletics

The athletic department of the College is from time to time making bits of improvement that add to the departments appearance. The athletic field has a coat of Bermuda grass that will be inviting to the boys when they don their uniforms for their first practice.

The latest improvement in the way of buildings and equipment is the erection on the grounds, a field house that will furnish showers and space for dressing. The house will be divided into two apartments—one for the home team, and one part for visitors. This is an addition that will be of very great help and convenience to the boys.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend."

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to "Bradfield Regulator Co., Box 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

THE LEADER

"In every line there is a LEADER"

Says Our Old Friend Jiggs:

INSURE

Before the Fire Comes

There is little need to lock the barn after the horse is stolen:

there is no need to insure after the fire destroys your property.

Better be safe than sorry.

As the price of commodities fall gold increases in value. At the same time gold mining becomes more profitable and the output of gold is greater. The present activity of the gold mining companies is owing to the fall in prices and to the expectation of further recession. The mines in this country, Canada and the Transvaal are producing considerably more gold now than a year ago.

PALO DURO THE HANDIWORK OF GOD

When the prairie comes to a sudden ending:
Where the cedars bend and nod;
There's the Palo Duro Canyon,
The magic handiwork of God!

Where the brooklets glide and glitter:
Where the cunning coyote calls;
And the lone wolf howls throughout the night,
Above the thundering water falls.

There, the birds sing gaily all day long,
The grass springs fresh and green,
The flowers bloom, and the sun shines bright.

On the glorious canyon scene.

Where the Red man fought, and bled and died:
Where the wild deer lived and roamed;

There, the Indian sought in his own wild way,
A peaceful outdoor home.

The day break comes, and a glorious dawn,
Where the chasms yaw and the cliffs rise high

The sun sets there in a sea of gold,
While the soft breeze sighs, and the tall trees sigh.

Our souls, then swell within us,
And we feel so weak and small
We bow our heads and wonder,
At the grandeur of it all.

Where a great break comes in the prairie land,
Where the cedars sway and nod;
We realize, then, within our souls,
The handiwork of God!

A Consular report from Bremen says that in the last year there have been many German emigrants to Brazil and to other South American countries. The United States is still the destination of most of the German emigrants, but the number is decreasing, and more and more Germans are thinking of trying their luck in the southern republics.
