Otus Mitchell, star all around athlete of the Buffalo herd, broke the T. I. A. pole vault record at Abilene Friday by one inch, setting the new record at 11 feet 3 5/8 inches. Mitchell has won first place in all vaulting contests this year for the Buffalo team. He also tied for third place in the high jump.

The Buffalo team won sixth place in the meet with a score of 13 3/4 points. The following men won places:

Mitchell, first in pole vault.
Davis Hill, 2nd in high hurdles.
Pearson, 2nd in half miles.
M. Goodwin, 3rd in shot put.
Mitchell, tied for 3rd in high jump.
The following was the standing of the schools in the meet: Southwestern, 37 1/2; Howard Payne, 35 1/2; San Marcos, 21; Austin College 19; Denton, 14; W. T. S. T. C., 13 1/4; Sam Houston, 4; A. C. C., 3 1/2; Simmons, 3.

SHUMAN-McMANIGAL MARRIAGE

Ernest C. Shuman and Miss Mildred McManigal were married in Happy last Sunday at the Baptist church, Rev. D. H. Bryanoff officiating. The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for Dallas and McKinney where they will visit for two weeks before they will return to Canyon.

The bride is a well known young woman of Happy. She attended the College here and since graduation has been a successful teacher in the Randall county schools. Mr. Shuman is working with his father in the contracting business and has been in Canyon on various construction jobs during the past two years.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

The following marriage licenses were issued this week by the County Clerk's office:

Earl Crist and Miss Edna Schramm, May 8.
Ernest C. Shuman and Miss Mildred McManigal, May 10.
Dave Baker and Miss Mary Florence Weehun, May 10.
George E. Phillips and Miss Edna E. Ingram, May 13.

NEW JUSTICE OF PEACE.

The Commissioners Court appointed David Burnett justice of the peace in precinct No. One Monday in place of Arnott Moreland, who recently resigned this office.

Band Left Monday for Brownwood With the Amarillo Special Train

After weeks of hard practice, the College Band is at Brownwood this week, and today will enter the contest of college bands. In this class, there are eight of ten bands from the leading colleges and universities of Texas. It is reported that there are more than forty hands at the Brownwood convention.

The College Band is with the Amarillo trade booster train, and is playing at all stops made by this organization on the way to and from Brownwood.

The special train returning from the Brownwood convention will reach Canyon about eight o'clock Friday night.

The following members of the Band made the trip:

Prof. C. E. Strain, Director.

Gin Machinery Shipped and Manager Moving to Canyon This Week

T. R. Logan of McAllister has phoned Mayor C. N. Harrison that his partner, O. W. Degarimore of McKinney, will move Friday from McKinney to Canyon and that work will be started by next week on the new gin.

All difficulties regarding the purchase of the site were ironed out yesterday, and deeds to the location are now on the way here.

Mr. Horn assured Mr. Harrison that the engine for the plant would be shipped this week, and that other machinery would be shipped from Dallas as soon as the building was under construction.

A careful investigation of the cotton situation shows that more than 10,000 acres will be planted during the coming two weeks in the Canyon trade territory. It is estimated that probably 25,000 acres will be planted in the entire county.

County Singing Convention Pleasantview School Next Sunday

There will be an all day singing at Pleasantview Sunday, May 18, for the purpose of laying plans for the Great Plateau Singing Convention which meets in Canyon only one month from that date.

Every community is urged to send some one to represent them, as the country folks are to furnish the beef for the barbecue each community is expected to do their part.

We will need some eight or ten beebes. The indications are that we will have a very large crowd at the Plateau Convention. Lets be prepared to take care of them in a great way, and make their visit to Canyon and Randall county a pleasant one. I also ask that the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce be present.

President John F. Taylor of the Plateau Convention has agreed to come with his quartet from Clovis to help us. Come early with a well filled basket and lets put in the day.

Yours in Song,
J. L. LÖVVORN, President,
Randall County Singing Convention.

MOISTURE GOES DEEP.

Herman Kuehlman has finished a deep storm cave at his place four miles east of the city. He states that he went down 14 feet deep and the moisture extended all the way. He did not have to use the pick in handling the dirt as he could spade the damp earth to that depth.

This moisture is said to be the deepest for a number of years, and points to a splendid crop year if there are showers along to take care of the top moisture needs.

ENJOYABLE RECITAL.

A very enjoyable recital was given Friday night at the high school auditorium by Miss Imogene McIntire, pianist, assisted by Miss Frances Reid, reader and Miss Willie Mae Beavers, violinist.

C. L. Thompson Re-elected Secretary of Hardware Association

At the closing session of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Association yesterday afternoon in Amarillo, C. L. Thompson of Canyon was re-elected secretary for the coming year. Mr. Thompson has been secretary of this association for the past four years, and has made one of the most efficient officials the association has ever had. Through his untiring efforts, the association has greatly increased, and the annual meetings have increased in interest and attendance.

The largest and most comprehensive program the association has ever undertaken was put over this year.

SCHRAMM-CRIST WEDDING.

Miss Edna Schramm of this city and Earl Crist of Amarillo were married Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. M. M. Beavers, officiating.

Miss Schramm is well known in this city. She has lived with her brothers and sisters south of town for a number of years, and was a member of the graduating class of the high school last year. The groom is a well known young man of Amarillo where they will make their future home.

J. D. Gamble, Junior, of this city, was winner of the state senior declamation contest at Austin last week, when he was given unanimous decision of five judges.

J. D. has represented this district in Austin four times, the first three being in the junior declamation contest. He won his first trial in the senior declamation contest.

J. D. is a junior in the Canyon high school.

The big roller and asphalt pot for the paving work came yesterday and it is expected that brick laying will start at once. Harry Matthews arrived Saturday from Lubbock and put the street in condition for the roller by the time it had arrived.

Will Canyon Have Cows and Chickens, or Trees and Flowers

Although Canyon is recognized educational center of Northwest Texas.

Although Canyon is recognized to be one of the most beautiful towns in this section.

Although Canyon has more paved streets than any town in the Southwest, and a larger per capita high school attendance than any town in Texas.

Although the town is improving rapidly and becoming more and more attractive, we still have the problem of the family pen of chickens and the town cow.

Owners of cows stake out the cow, and she gets away. The cows wander over on to a beautiful blue grass lawn which has been recently watered, and the cow sinks knee deep into the turf. The owner of the lawn curses and wonders what is the use of trying. After all he decides to try again and adds a few dollars to his hundred dollar investment, and fills up the holes the cow has left, leaving ugly marks upon the previously beautiful blue grass lawn.

The owner of the cow ties her to a neighbor's fence, and she pulls over the fence and breaks off a few posts.

The cows gets away and ranges upon the flower beds in the vicinity—ordinary grass does not satisfy these dainty town cows.

The cows have become such a menace that the city commission has been appealed to and asked to offer assistance to those who are trying to beautify the town. It has been suggested that a city pound be established and a biggest price be charged for each cow caught.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT PLAY WILL BE GIVEN TONIGHT AND FINAL CLOSING PROGRAM FRIDAY NIGHT

SENIORS HAVE ENJOYED MANY OCCASIONS OF FESTIVITIES DURING PAST WEEK—TWENTY-SIX WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS AT FINAL EXERCISES FRIDAY NIGHT—CLASS PLAY TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT.

The graduating exercises of the high school are fast nearing the end.

Saturday a group of the Seniors took the class play to Happy. At eight o'clock that evening, the curtain rose and the play was given before a fine audience; needless to say, the play was a great success, as was the entire trip to Happy.

Sunday evening, twenty-six graduates marched down the aisles of the high school auditorium to the music of "O, Mother Dear, Jerusalem" sung by the choir. In spite of the fact that rain was falling several minutes before the time for the services, the auditorium was well filled with friends of the school and the graduates. The Baccalaureate Exercises were a great success, and the Seniors feel indebted to Dr. D. H. Munson for the educational and inspirational sermon which he preached.

We do not feel like talking about our Class Night, for bragging on oneself is not always advisable (so we've been told.) That was one program which you should have seen for yourself, because we acted natural, and different people have different opinions about us.

Tuesday night our mothers entertained us in the high school gym, and our good times only went to prove further that mothers can certainly put things over.

The preceding events have been a great success. We want your cooperation in the only two more programs—our Senior class play and graduation evening.

Thursday (tonight) at eight o'clock the Senior Class presents the play "Come Out of the Kitchen," a charming comedy in three acts, adapted by A. E. Thomas from the story by the same name written by Alice Duer Miller. This play was made a notable success on its production in New York by professional actors, and we felt that our cast, though amateurs, can give a good production of this play in our auditorium. We have placed the admission fee low enough for everyone to come. The Seniors need about $150 to complete paying for the stage scenery, and we want to make this amount tonight. Come!

The following is the cast of characters:

Olivia Dangerfield, alias Jane Ellen—Ruth Jennings.
Elizabeth Dangerfield, alias Araminta—Lela Gill.
Mrs. Falkener, Tucker's sister—Lura Oliver.
Corra Falkener, her daughter—Jean Vetesk.
Amanda, Olivia's black nanny—Ruby Combs.
Burton Crane, from the north—Vester Hill.
Thomas Lefferts, statistical poet—Wallace Williams.
Solon Tucker, Crane's attorney and guest—Irby Carruth.
Paul Dangerfield, alias Smithfield—Winfield Miller.
Charles Dangerfield, alias Brindlebury—Beryl Avery.

Randolph Weeks, agent of the Dangerfields—Willard Miller.
Friday evening at eight o'clock the graduation exercises will be held. The class of '24 is the first class to graduate out of the new High School, and we are very proud of having that honor.

Rev. Mr. McCallum, the Episcopal minister from Amarillo will deliver the address of the evening. Everyone is urged to come.

These exercises will end the commencement week of the Seniors of '24. Everybody come to the remaining programs.

The following seniors will receive diplomas Friday night:

John Vetesk, Ewgl Brown, Burl Avery, Alex Hale, Vester Hill, Wallace Williams, Fred Williams, Winfield Miller, Willard Miller, Lura Oliver, Ruby Combs, Frances Croson, Frances Reid, Jean Vetesk, Olive Schramm, Imogene McIntire, Golda Gibson, Jessie Mae Scott, Ruth Jennings, Corie Reynolds, Irene Cluck, Lela Gill, Leona Pinnell, Lillian Cash and Dalma Fry.

Imogene McIntire is valedictorian and Frances Reid salutatorian.

The following will be the program at the high school auditorium Friday night at eight o'clock:

Professional—Miss Ruth Knight.
Invocation.
Chorus—Class.
Salutatorium address—Frances Reid.
Piano solo—Olive Schramm.
Valedictorian address—Imogene McIntire.
Commencement address—Rev. R. M. McCallum, Amarillo.
Awarding of Diplomas—Supt. A. D. Payne.

—A SENIOR.

Now comes Jim Ferguson, impeached governor of Texas, and proposes to cut off ten millions of dollars in operating expenses but taking it away from the state colleges. That is his only remedy for high taxes. Just save the money, but refusing to invest it in education. Jim had one go in the governor's office, and there was no particular lowering of taxes during his administration. His theory is pure bunk, aimed to catch the ignorant and prejudiced voters who know nothing and care less for the welfare of their state. Jim always has been able to pull enough votes to get into the second primary. The laws of the state definitely and clearly state that he cannot hold office since his impeachment. Why then bother with him during this campaign. The state executive committee should keep his name from the ticket, for he would never be seated as governor, even if Texas was so unfortunate as to elect him.

The county and the city and the independent schools will soon have boards of equalization sitting to determine the value of property for tax purposes. The News believes it expresses the desire of ninety percent of the people of Canyon when it says to these boards of equalization to go the limit in placing the values on those people who are offered a fair value for vacant property and refuse to dispose of it at any price. Canyon is being endangered of losing valuable improvements in the city because owners of vacant property will not accept a reasonable price for this property, and back out of the deal once their exorbitant prices are met. The people of Canyon do not keep this kind of property owners, and the sooner their property is taxed out of their hands, the better it will be for all concerned. An application of the single tax idea, such as used in Houston will cure a lot of these people.

The supreme court has defeated State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs in his effort to save the school money for the children of the state, rather than turn it over to the textbook publishers. The court refused to go into the merits of the case and settle the question of validity of the contracts, but entirely side-stepped this question. Now Comptroller Lon Smith steps in and takes up the fight started by Mr. Marrs, refusing to issue state warrants in payment of the books purchased from the book companies involved in the case. We trust that the case will be kept in court until such a time that the state has no need for these books and cannot be forced to pay for them. The contracts probably are valid, but the entire idea of "free" textbooks is pure bunk.

The fact that nine candidates for governor are centering their attention upon Lynch Davidson should be sufficient evidence that they think he is the leading candidate in the campaign. The fact that Lynch Davidson is not a monumental failure and that he is not a pauper are the two strongest arguments against his candidacy. The fact that he has made a success of his own business and made a great success of the state's business while he was in charge of the state's bankrupt railroad seems to argue that he is not a fit man for governor. If he had been a failure and needed a job, he would be the ideal candidate—as viewed by too many voters in Texas.

The fact that not one voter in a hundred can even name the state officials below lieutenant governor, is evidence enough that these officials should not be elective. Most of the minor state officials are elected through accident, rather than through sheer worth for the office.

An Amarillo man paid a fine for letting his chickens get out of the pen and molest his neighbors. Why not? Chickens have no business bothering neighbors, and if chickens get out and do damage, the owner should be made to pay the damage.

We are glad that Jim Ferguson has found two honest departments in the state capital. We had gained the impression that he wanted to go to Austin and turn all out as rascals.

THE PASSING DAY
By Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, University of Texas.

About the most pathetic story I have read in the newspapers in many days was that about Governor McCray, of Indiana, resigning the governorship to enter upon a ten years sentence in prison for using the mails to defraud. No doubt McCray did not get more than was coming to him. Men who have been honored by high positions should be held even more accountable for violations of law than the humble, ignorant citizen, but there is something sad about the fall of a man to whom great things have been intrusted. McCray knew better, he now has ten long years to reflect upon his mistakes, and his punishment will be much harder on him than it would be on the hardened criminal.

Not long ago ten persons came from a distant county in Texas to the Pasteur Institute at Austin to be treated for the bite of a dog that proved to be mad—an ordinary, useless, town dog. The expense to those people was several hundred dollars and some of them could poorly afford it. The fear and distress of mind can not be measured in dollars. Of course a dog with a collar on is just as dangerous as the untaxed dog, but if the unlicensed dogs in the towns were disposed of the danger would be reduced just that much. The Pasteur Institutes of the country are constantly crowded with rabies patients, and occasionally a precious life is offered up as a sacrifice to the dog. It is sad, but there is little prospect that the average family will allow itself to be divorced from its dog.

The general interest shown in Music Week in Texas is encouraging. Every year more interest is being shown everywhere in music and musical entertainments. Music is being taught by capable teachers in most of the public schools of the cities and towns and it is gradually making its way into the country schools. A few years ago, when the talking machine and the player piano were introduced the people who always fear innovations told us in all seriousness that the study of music would soon be obsolete. Instead of that, the appreciation of good music has increased manifold.

If the proposed Texas Centennial Exposition is put over on the extensive plan that is now proposed and is made, as is contemplated, a world-attracting exhibition, it will prove the most valuable undertaking Texas has ever fostered. The selection of commissioners from each of the 31 senatorial districts and the plan to distribute the entire commission of 100 members as equitably as possible over the whole State will eliminate localism and sectional favoritism and make the Centennial, as it should be, of the utmost State-wide interest.

The "unloaded gun" is running a close race with the railroad grade crossing in Texas in number of fatalities. It is hard to tell which is the most heedless of life, the fellow that plays with a gun or the speed maniac who tries to beat a train to a crossing. A Mineral Wells man recently shot his bride a few weeks when he played the part of a dangerous hold-up man and fired what he thought was an unloaded pistol at her. Guns of any kind are dangerous playthings. Railway trains have the right of way over their crossing. Be sure that they have it.

Southern Methodist University did a courageous thing recently in expelling nine students and suspending 25 others for participating in a "wild drinking" party. Boys who go to college to drink and carouse have no right to contaminate the others who are there for serious work, or to injure the reputation of the school. Respectable girls and boys should not have to associate with such moral degenerates, even though they may come from the "best families." That was a courageous act on the part of S. M. U. because it cut itself out of some nice tuition fees and antagonized the dotting parents of the expelled and suspended students.

A few nights ago I saw a well dressed young man, evidently a student, stealing a ride on the back end of an Austin street car that was passing along a crowded street. The young fellow seemed to be enjoying himself and feeling proud of the fact that he was a petty thief. He was stealing seven cents from the street railway company as though it were a commendable accomplishment. The fellow who will steal seven cents will likely steal seven dollars or seven thousand dollars if the opportunity is presented. There are no degrees in the morals of thieves.

Corruption Old and New

Those who like to trace historic parallels have probably been interested in the resemblance between the state of affairs in Washington today and the state of affairs there fifty years ago. Then as now there were charges of political and financial corruption, committees of investigation, court proceedings, scandals on the front pages of the newspapers and a general feeling of uneasiness concerning the extent to which high public officials might be shown to be immersed in the mess. It is noteworthy that both instances came only a few years after the end of a great and costly war in which the moral fervor of the people had been roused to a high pitch. Were both the lapses from integrity a reaction from years of elevated public sentiment? Is it one of the evil effects of war that it always lowers the standard of honesty? Or by exhausting the vigor of a people does it give the scrupulous politician his chance?

There is much that is depressing in the revelations from Washington. It is encouraging to observe how less serious the situation is than was after the Civil War. We have yet had to meet such a succession of disagreeable shocks as our country faced when the Credit Mobilier, the Whiskey Ring and the Standard Oil frauds were one after another exposed, and two departments, the heads of them were not only found to be full of corruption, but two of the leading members of the House were publicly rebuked by their colleagues for their connection with the Credit Mobilier. There were other less important members under heavy suspicion. A former speaker of the House and a Vice-President were accused of improper conduct, and the investigation of the Standard Oil affairs, undertaken by his political opponents, was quite as sensational as anything we have seen this year. The private secretary to the President was accused of participating in the profits of the Whiskey Ring. Though he was acquitted, the public believed him guilty.

This hurried summary of the scandals that stirred the country fifty years ago will indicate how much more serious was the situation to public confidence in our government than any that we are called to meet today. That there has been reprehensible conduct here and there in Washington may be taken as a matter of course. But the misconduct seems confined to a few public men and their satellites. Generally speaking, the government has been honestly carried on. Neither in Congress nor in the departments is there any evidence of epidemic corruption. The lowered moral tone seems to be not general but individual. We can still have faith in the Republic.

But this code, like the earlier one, proves the same of character. There are some public men now, as there were then, whose years of transparent integrity have built for themselves an impeccable reputation; no one would listen to whisper against them. There are others whose standing among their acquaintances is such that accusations against them are taken as probably justified even in advance of the evidence. Reputations have crumbled and will continue to crumble so long as the investigations continue, but they will be reputations that their owners undermined long ago. High office is a dangerous place for a man who lacks character. Nothing else will help him to keep his balance there for long, and the fall therefrom is a disastrous thing to undergo and a distressing thing to watch.

There are fewer germs on paper money, investigations show, than people have been lead to suppose. Even old and dirty money was found to be astonishingly free of them. The investigators attribute the condition to "something in the composition of the paper," but very likely the germs have the same difficulty that human beings have in getting money to stick to them.

Antelope Baseball Game Cousins on Day Afternoon

The Literary Society of the College of Business Tuesday afternoon at Buffalo Park by a score of 6 to 0. The game was well played and hotly contested at every stage by both of the teams.

The fat man was excused, and a thin one was sworn in.

TEACHERS COLLEGE TO TRAIN STUDENTS FOR COUNTY POSITIONS

According to plans submitted by Director of Extension T. O. Walton, of the A. & M. College, while here to attend the Stock Judging Contest, graduates of the Teachers College who have done satisfactory work in the Home Economics and Agricultural Departments will be considered eligible for county agent positions.

Mr. Walton stated that there is a law on the statute books of Texas which requires that an examination be given at the A. & M. College for all men and women entering this particular field of service. However, he assured Miss Burton and Mr. Phillips that any of their graduates could expect to pass such an examination with a very creditable showing.

In speaking about this matter, Mr. Phillips, who paid his expenses while at A. & M. College by working in Mr. Walton's department, said that he expected to give the courses in agriculture which Mr. Walton thought it desirable for the men agents and also the lady agents to take, and that the Agricultural Department had anticipated this requirement for girls when the courses in dairying, poultry, and gardening were outlined. These courses which Mr. Walton was of the opinion one should have previous to becoming a home demonstration agent will not be separate from the courses which are given for the boys.

Mr. Walton stated to Miss Burton that the average turnover in the home demonstration field was about two years, while in the county agent field it is a longer period of time, due perhaps to the fact that county agents do not resign upon entering the field of matrimony.

Three of the former students of this institution are now doing extension work in Texas. The salaries in the county agent work runs from $2,000 to $5,000 per year. Those interested in this particular field of service should talk to Miss Burton or Mr. Phillips.

Horn—When I graduate I shall step into a position at $5,000 per.

Horn—Perhaps.

Canyon Offers Many Inducements to Her Prospective Citizens

BY MRS. T. V. REEVES
(From the Texas Commercial News)

When the stream of emigration started toward Northwest Texas in the late eighties, just a few years after the buffalo hunters abandoned this section, L. G. Conner and a few of his associates chose the site for Canyon, Texas.

During the first hard years of its existence the pioneer families who came suffered poverty, drought, hardships brought about because of their lack of knowledge of the country, and perhaps most of all, the loneliness which beset them so far from familiar scenes and loved ones. These first families were true homeseekers though, and had no thought of turning their faces toward the east again, and the tiny hamlet grew until today it is a pleasant town of more than two thousand people, with a large student population for eleven months of the year.

Canyon was well located, and its present citizens have reason to thank the men who first chose to lay off a town in this place. Situated on the divide between Tierra Blanca and Palo Duro creek, it has perfect drainage. An unlimited supply of pure water adds to the health and comfort of its people. It is the natural gateway to the wonderful Palo Duro Canyon which begins within sight of the town and slowly widens into a beautiful chasm about twelve miles from the little city. The time will doubtless come when the Palo Duro Canyon will be the most valued asset of the place.

This canyon comes as a happy relief and surprise as one crosses the long stretch of level prairies. Ranging in depth from one hundred to 2,000 feet it offers warmth when the surrounding country shivers in winter winds; when eyes are tired from the distances above, the tiny stream that is Red river, and the somber green of the cedars, mingled with the reds, yellows, browns and grays of the canyon walls bring repose and peace; when the busy worker grows tired of the sounds that accompany the work of every day he has only to retire to the depths of the canyon to hear the songs of many birds—here the cardinal whistles from the tree top; the woodpecker hammers among the limbs of the hackberries; the rock wren sings among the boulders; hundreds of robins, juncos, towhees, vireos, warblers, and timice add their bit to nature's choir; at night the great owl sends his call forth from among the shadows as the moon turns the whole landscape into fairy land. Here hundreds, now and in the days to come, will find peace and strength and courage to fight the battles of life.

The Palo Duro Canyon is not interesting only to the nature-lover and weary workers; its depths are constantly challenging the attention of the geologist; bits of strange minerals that have been found there lure the investigative mind to make further searches. Masses of petrified trees are mute question marks asking how the canyon was formed and when. Picture writing on its walls tell of a budding civilization that had passed on long before the founders of the first towns came to the Plains region.

This great recreation ground, placed here by a beneficent hand will later become a park, a playground of all the people of Texas who will come and avail themselves of its beauty and joy.

Canyon's Material Resources
Canyon and Randall county have other sources of prosperity than those mentioned above; this territory does not "live off tourists" by any manner of means; in fact the tourists have sought it rather than it having sought them.

Not many years ago 70,000 head of cattle were shipped from this point; but the town was not particularly fortunate because of that, for miles of cattle range meant few families. Now the great ranch is gone forever, and where there were no fences for miles there are small farms, and homes and children and school houses and churches. The farms are equipped with good machinery; dairy cows, hogs, and chickens have been found worth while. Last year more than half a million dollars worth of hogs found their way to Kansas City and California markets from Randall county; chickens have paid all the running expenses of many farms for the past three years. Gardening and dairying have added a large share to the comfort and prosperity of the Plains farmer. Just now cotton is being added to the long list of profitable crops which also include oats, wheat, barley, maize kafir corn and Sudan grass.

The railroad facilities of Canyon are excellent; the Santa Fe furnishes a high class outlet east and west, north and south, and good connections are made at Amarillo with the Rock Island and Denver lines.

Educational Center of Northwest Texas

It is an educational center that Canyon is best and most affectionately known to the people of the entire Panhandle of Texas. The West Texas State Teachers College, of which J. A. Hill is president, has now been serving the people of this vast territory for fourteen years. From a small school of undetermined scholastic rank it has grown to a first class college with a student body of 900 splendid young people during the regular session and 2,000 during the summer months. Aside from the young people who do work in residence at the college it furnishes courses for nearly six hundred women who are studying in their local clubs. Lyceum courses for schools and communities are planned and carried out by the college faculty; communities are helped with their agricultural, social and school problems—in short the West Texas State Teachers College tries to be the servant of the people, as it was intended to be when created.

Canyon has recently completed a $100,000 high school building, and is rapidly equipping it. The high school is constantly increasing its affiliation and is taking its place as one of the best in this part of Texas.

The Methodists of Canyon are now erecting a $60,000 church and other denominations have building programs planned and nearly ready for execution; there are now six churches with creditable memberships in the city.

During the past year and a half more than 250 houses have been built here although there has been no boom. A healthy, consistent growth is in progress and will continue during the months to come.

A city hall, which houses the city offices and the fire department has been built within the past year. Fire fighting equipment has been added during the past twelve months and the fire rate has been lowered.

Canyon has more than three miles of paved streets and will add another half mile during the coming four months; this is the greatest amount of paving for its size, of any town in Texas.

A Forward Looking Citizenry
To be known as an educational center, to have a town known for its hospitality and culture, to have its people happily prosperous is the ambition of the leaders of Canyon. The town will grow with the years. More homes will dot the wide prairies; more stores will be added to the business streets; more tourists will tarry to view the splendors of the Palo Duro Canyons; more wagons will leave their loads at the cotton gin; more livestock will be sent to the markets. But the greatest pride of the town of Canyon, born in the life stream of America's finest pioneers, will still be the character of the men and women who go out from her midst, or who stay within her portals to fight the battles of a rapidly developing civilization.

"What a rotten boulder you turned out to be," murmured the girl disgustedly looking for a more lively tennis ball.—Brown Jug.

Woman is the light of mankind most useful in the dark.—Widow.

S.S.S. keeps away Pimples

THERE are thousands of women who wonder why their complexions do not improve in spite of all the face treatments they use. They should not continue to wonder. Eruptions come from blood impurities and a lack of rich blood-cells. S.S.S. is acknowledged to be one of the most powerful, rapid and effective blood cleansers known. S.S.S. builds new blood-cells. This is why S.S.S. routs out of your system the impurities which cause boils, pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash. S.S.S. is a remarkable flesh-builder. That's why underweight people can quickly build up their lost flesh, get back their normal weight, pink, plump cheeks, bright eyes, and "pep."

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

CHILDREN'S AID WORKER TELLS OF WELFARE WORK

"I have the best job in Texas," asserted Reverend W. A. Nicholas, Superintendent of the West Texas Children's Aid and Welfare Association of Abilene, Texas, in a talk before the College faculty and student body Friday.

The speaker outlined the work of the Association in befriending homeless children, and told how they are placed in Christian homes where they have a chance to become honest, industrious and happy.

In the midst of his address Reverend Nicholas alluded to one of his wards, a four year old youngster, sitting near Dean Allen on the platform. The little fellow thoroughly enjoyed the publicity. Moving closer, he played with the Dean's watch fob, and when the speaker referred to the "money in the deep pocket" the youngster mischievously fished for Mr. Allen's pocket book. All except the speaker lost the course of the lecture.

Those wishing to render a kindly service to the childhood of Texas, concluded Reverend Nicholas, "can do no greater thing than assist me in finding Christian homes for such children as the little fellow here on the stage." At this, the little man bounded off the stage and was lost in the throng of students as they passed from the auditorium.

EQUIPMENT OF SCHOOL IS GOOD

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING IS OVER 300 FEET LONG.

College Has Two Dormitories, Light and Power Plant, Infirmary, Dairy Athletic House, Etc.

The College is located on a seventy-acre tract three-fourths mile east of the public square of Canyon. It consists of the Administration Building, Consins and Randall Halls (dormitories for girls), a light, water, and power plant, an infirmary, a dairy barn, exhibition barn, a house for the President, and a well-house. The value of this property is conservatively estimated at $750,000 and as far as it goes is high class in every respect.

The Administration Building is 312 feet long, 168 feet deep, is three stories high above the basement, is constructed of steel, concrete, and brick, is heated by steam, lighted by electricity, ventilated by a specially designed process, contains a gymnasium, two large locker rooms, two sets of showers, a 90,000 gallon swimming pool, two large and well equipped lavatories, auditorium with seating capacity of 1500, Y. W. C. A. rest room, small print shop, twenty-four offices, six laboratories, the manual training shops, six music studios, a book store, a 15,000 volume library, an art studio, twenty-five recitation rooms, two kitchens, two pantries, and four twelve-foot halls running the full length of the building.

Consins Hall is a modern, fireproof dormitory, housing 82 girls, and is adequately equipped with kitchen, dining room, and laundry facilities. It is located immediately east of the Administration Building.

Randall Hall is the new name given to Huntleigh Hall when same was recently purchased by the state. It is located at the corner of the Campus nearest town and has rooms for 120 girls. While not fire-proof it is otherwise modern in every respect and is rapidly being made into a most excellent home for girls.

The light, water, and power plant is situated a hundred feet north and east of the Administration Building, and is built of steel, brick, and concrete. It houses two boilers, two gas engines, necessary pumps and other machinery, and a metal shop for manual training and agriculture.

The Infirmary, President's house, and dairy barns are frame structures that fairly meet the needs in these respects. There are other small improvements of a temporary kind, such as chicken house, machinery shed, athletic house, park fence, etc.

Week's Doings of Politicians

Dallas, Texas, May 13.—While the Democratic Convention may be somewhat overshadowing the Texas gubernatorial race, the candidates for governor have by no means let up in their stumping. With a weather eye on Waco, they have all been giving the eastern portion of the state daily planks from their platforms.

A hitherto stabled horse was shot into the race Saturday at Kerens, when Jim Ferguson thundered out in his well known style. Mr. Ferguson came to Dallas just a few weeks prior to his campaign after chicken feed and stated that he was waiting for his hens to lay before he could open. With his entrance, only two candidates are remaining idle—T. D. Barton and H. L. Darwin.

Lynch Davidson, the Houston candidate, repeatedly pointing out himself as the leading candidate and offering as proof the fact, that other candidates in the race have attacked him without mentioning each other, has been in the heart of East Texas. For the past week he has somewhat turned aside from his denunciation of blocs and cliques, and what he terms socialism in the Farm Labor platform, to his plans for reforestation.

W. E. Pope has been hot after him and has challenged him for a debate, the loser to drop out of the race. Lynch has replied in an interview to the effect that he considered the challenge only political trickery toward a feared man.

T. W. Davidson has been joining V. A. Collins in loudly denouncing the Klan and Felix Robertson as its exponent. Collins has been stating that he is connected with no clique or bloc, while Whit Davidson has been turning his fire on Lynch in protection of his Farm Labor Union platform trusts.

Joe Burket has been "lonewolfing" it and pointing out Whit as being run by the labor unions, Lynch, a "business" and Robertson, a Ku Klux candidate.

"Can't" and "Can" candidates have developed in one instance. Lynch Davidson says he can save the state $10,000,000 biennially and Collins says taxes cannot be reduced.

With the seven almost within hearing distance of each other and appearing in many cities right on each other's heels, Southeastern Texas has been having a political picnic. With the state Democratic nominee for president out of the way Texas is looking forward to a rather warm gubernatorial Fourth of July.

Delegates from Local Church Attend Meeting at Tulia Tuesday

Fourteen members of the Methodist Missionary Society of Canyon made a trip to Tulia Tuesday afternoon and met at the home of Mrs. Porter of that place. They were joined in a group meeting by members of Societies from Plainview, Happy, and Kress.

During the course of a program which consisted of several songs, a devotional reading and a prayer, some very interesting talks were given by Mrs. Hunter of Plainview, Mrs. Delaney and Mrs. Graves of Canyon. Mrs. Hunter told of some things that had been done in the Plainview District, and through the use of posters she made very plain the possibilities of what could be done in the future. Mrs. Delaney told of her duties as Student Secretary at West Texas State Teachers College. She told of the Christian benefit that had been derived from attending the Girls Camp during the summer. Mrs. Graves gave an interesting talk on the Belle Bennett Memorial. After the program, Mrs. Delaney, with several girls retired to the lawn where they organized a Young People's Missionary Society.

A pleasant social hour was then enjoyed during which Miss Porter sang several songs, and refreshments of tea and cake were served. We left with a resolve to have many of these group meetings, for there is nothing like the sweet fellowship of Christians.—Contributed.

SAYS LATIN IS NOT A DEAD LANGUAGE

So-called dead languages are not dead, declared Professor B. A. Stafford, Head of the Latin Department of the College, in an address at chapel Tuesday. They are much in evidence every where one chances to be and in every walk of life. As illustrations the speaker cited his audience to the names of the months, the days of the week and many other terms that originated in the dead languages but are still in use.

UNUSUAL TEST SHOWN IN TECHNICAL AGRICULTURE

If one is to judge by the letters which have reached the Agricultural Department of Teachers College in the last few weeks there will be more students in this department of the college next year than there has ever been before. Many letters have been received from high school students who offer to do work on the college farm to pay their necessary expenses while in school. There are far more applicants for places on the farm than can be given work. However, those in charge expect to use every effort to secure places in town where worthy students may work to help in paying their expenses.

The number of students in the Agricultural Department has trebled in the last few years.

JAMES JETT GREEN: AN APPRECIATION

James Jett Green was born near Washington, Rappahannock County, Virginia, April 28th, 1861. This romantic section is in the Piedmont belt, and at the head of navigation of the valley. Born too late to play his part in the great Lost Cause, he suffered with his family the ravages and vicissitudes of the Civil War. The family home "The Shade" still stands and is occupied by one of his brothers. Of the members of the distinguished Green and Jett families of Virginia, I am the best acquainted with the Rt. Rev. Robert Carter Jett, D. D., Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia.

At the age of fifteen James Jett Green matriculated at Washington College, Lexington, Virginia, of which General Robert Edward Lee was president. This institution after this illustrious leader's death was named in his honor, the Washington and Lee University. At the rear of the University Chapel, back of the rostrum, lies the famous recumbent statue by Valentine, and below the family vault, where the remains of the Lee family are buried.

After a year at the college, Mr. Green entered the third class of the famous rival institution in Lexington, The Virginia Military Institute, graduating at the age of nineteen. It has been said that if you stand under the guard tree on the parade ground, you will see in the course of time all of the distinguished men of the age, because they come to visit the shrines and the institutions associated with Stonewall Jackson and Robert Edward Lee.

James Jett Green received his education in this historic and inspiring environment, and became imbued with many of those ideals, which he cherished through life.

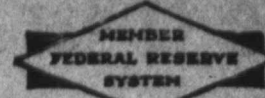

He felt the call of the Great West at the age of 21, and came to Brown county, Texas, where he engaged in the adventurous life of cattle raising for forty-five years. Here he met Miss Georgetta George, the daughter of a pioneer, who embodied the charms and accomplishments of a native daughter of the Lone Star State. Five sons and three daughters were born to this happy union.

He removed to Canyon in 1920, where he was engaged in the real estate business, until the time of his death. This occurred recently at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William L. Baugh in Lubbock. Mr. Green is survived by his widow, eight children and a brother in Virginia.

The writer had the pleasure of spending several evenings with this charming and cultured gentleman last summer at his daughter's home in Lubbock and has rarely enjoyed more the mutual reminiscences of people and places in the Old Dominion. One of the great heritages of Texas is the attraction of such men to her soil and the contribution they have made to her culture and history.

Old Timer Makes Canyon Visit

UNCLE HEZ HANKIN WRITES A VERY INTERESTING LETTER TO PAPER.

Good Farmer Likes This Progressive City and its Live Merchants, and Praises It as a Cotton and Produce Market.

By gosh I didn't know Canyon wuz sich a blazy little town, but I can tell you she's all right and a plum good un. Me and Liza and the kids, had been aworking hard all fall and winter and got together a bunch of country produce an half a dozen bales of cotton what we had to sell So Liza sez to me one night we mite as well sell the things right now and git em of'en our minis.

We had been a readin' all along bout the markets, and from what we could get by word of mouth, and thru the local paper we decided that Canyon wuz about the best market in reach, and Liza decided, she alius does the decidin for the family case she's decidedly the better half as how I'd better hitch up ole Beck and Jude to we-un horseless kerridge and drive a few lodes er ruther pull a few lodes—oh no, I mean to drive the mules and let them pull a few lodes of produce and cotton to Canyon and sell at once.

First thing I done was to drive round to Canyon Produce Company, whar I sold my country produce for more'n I could agot anywhere. Ain't no tellin what a good market for prod'ice is wuth to us farmers and I tell you now we're powerful proud of sich houses as Mr. Duffel the manager is a awful clever feller an buys all kinds of produce an eggs an hides an wool an fur an chickens an sich an he always pays us more'n we kin git any'where else. He is a rale friend to us farmers and believes in treatin us just like a friend.

I wuz felin purty good ever my trade on that thar cotton and produce as I nacherly felt like buyin something in Canyon I went roun to Orton's Grocery Store. Bein as how Liza wants to have biscuits for breakfast and a little sweet-gh for the coffee when company comes, I bought a few sacks of that famous Amarylis Flour which he sells. Taken some uv them well knowed Tea Garden Preserves, an some of that honest-to-goodness ole-time Seal Brand Coffee—very best ground. This an a dollar's worth of sugar—an a-mity biggun it was—got me kinder started and when I wound up I had to give Mr. Orton a check for twenty dollars to square up.

Sim spied some ice cream cones in the City Pharmacy an jest hed to stop an git one. They've a big sody water contraption in front thar wher a feller can git all kinds uv soft drinks. Sides that the City Pharmacy carries a lot uv good smellin articles fur the wimmin' folks' toilet, to say nuthin of combs an brushes an face whitenin an fountain pens an sich. Everybody in thar is polite as a basket uv chips, an they allus sells everything a little less. Thar's plenty uv fisiks in thar thar store to fill any kind uv doctor's perskripshuns and Mr. McIntire knows how, caze they's regular registered pharmacists.

Me and Sim kinder begun to feel a-leetle empty in the craw bout twelve o'clock en so we went roun to the Palace Cafe, J. S. McCormick, Prop., to get us a snack. They shore feed you good thar; but they orter for they keep sum uv the finest meats I ever stuk my grinders into anywhere, an Mr. McCormick, the boss thar, knows just how to have em cooked an served to a hungry man. I jes couldn't help but wish Liza wuz erlong to help me and the kid to put erway all them good things that wuz put down thar fer our dinner.

The parson in our church sent along a suit by me what he wanted the Canyon Tailor Shop ter clean up an press fur him. Durn my skin if I didn't think they'd made a mistake an gimme ther rong sute, it all looked so elene an dandified when they got thru with it. They take pride in turnin out ther very best work an they've got updatate cleannin and pressin plant what turns work out in a hurry. They's jist installed a big boiler an so they can do the same class uv work an give you the same service you git in a city. Its no wonder that they git lots uv work to do, because they pize ther customers. All work's guaranteed.

Nuther one of my neighbors ast me to go to Johnson's Filling Station fer one uv them thar tires fer his flivver.

Saw lot uv things that what I didn't know the names uv—folks say they's called fan belts and all kinds uv taps and bolts fer to put on Ford's—and they's got an up to date filling station wher they sells that good new Navy Gasoline an Mobiloil. Them fellers is nachel borned hustlers—fact uv business is this place is one of Canyon's most enterprizin, and everybody thar is on the jump all the time. Jest stood thar and gazed at em fer about fifteen minits—didn't know thar's that many ortymobiles in the world. And they's got a swell new ladies rest room, too.

Scat my dads, if one of the tires on the ole waggin didn't come off right there in the middle uv of the street. I used a Sunday School word or two an then yelled for O. A. May, the blacksmith, to come over an help us. Well sir, it never taken him no time to git that there waggin tire back on in fine shape. He's got a tire swinker what swinks 'em up in lessen twenty minits an so I jest taken all my wheels off and had 'em swunk right then, and thare. He's got a lot of masheinery for doin different kinds of blacksmith an waggin work. He's also great on shewin horses an you jest orter see him handle them ther rasps an hoof trimmin implements.

Me an one of my nabors is been dickerin on a piece of land what I wanted fer some time, and when we agreed on the price we decided to have The Canyon City Abstract Company git up a Abstract for it. He's been in that kinda business for nigh onto sixteen years an he's wrote up several Abstracts fer me. He knows the tracts of land in this county considerable well an he's careful in every detale of the work. If I'm any jedge of good Abstractin—an I think I am—that Mr. Flesher is one what can't be beat for accuracy and prompt service. Any-way's he's always did my work powerful satisfactory in every peticular, an his charges has been low enuf.

I come mity nigh fer gittin bout buyin one of them there fine cream separators what Thompson Hardware & Furniture Store sells, but it come to me suddint like when I started apast the Store. On the inside I found so many good things in hardware what I needed that I didn't kno hardly when to stop byin. They wuz trace chains an plow plints, elvises an hames an collars, every thing in mule jewelry a feller mought need an I jest blowed myself fer ole Beck. An ther cheap prices didn't near brake me, nuther. Mr. Thompson is a accommodatin feller an carries a complete line uv floor coverins an talkin machines an wind-mills an pumps, as well as hardware an farm implements at pore folks' prices.

Well, I left town in a hurry to git home and show the ole lady an the kids what I had fer em an so I ferogot to come by the News an pay up my perskripshun to the paper. I am sending a check on the First National Bank for $1.50 in this letter caze I jest couldn't get along without the "Old Reliable." I recken everybody in town an around takes it don't they? Ef they don't they orter caze they git all the city an county an lots uv the state news in it an sees whurs the best place to trade when they git to town. I alius trade with the News advertisers caze I kno they ain't ashamed of ther goods ner the prices nuther, besides ther klurks air more courteous peers like.

Hereafter when I want to sell cotton or country produce sich as chickens an eggs an the likes, or bye any kind of store bought goods you can jest put it down I'll go to Canyon caze I know I'll git all my crops worth an them thar store merchants treats you so nice you wanto go back an trade with them.

Hezekiah Hankins.

Any American town that has a population of a thousand or more and is willing to change its name to Curbshman can have a legacy that now amounts to more than $15,000. Another condition attached to the legacy is that only the income of the fund be spent, and that it be spent for the support of a high school or a grammar school. The legacy has been available and accumulating for twenty years. By and by some town will take over the name and the legacy of a former Lieutenant governor of Massachusetts.

Broad Aims for 1924 Announced By "Better Homes in America" Prominent Women Head Movement

Believing with President Coolidge that "the American home is the foundation of our national and individual well being" some of the foremost women of the United States are affiliated with Better Homes in America, recently incorporated as a national public service institution, with Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, as president, and James Ford, widely known housing specialist, as executive director. Here are three of the women who, although engrossed in other work of vast importance still find time to devote themselves to what they regard as the most important work of all—the betterment of the American home.

Mrs. William Brown Meloney, nationally known editor is vice-president of Better Homes in America. The movement which has to-day grown into an educational force throughout America was initiated by her in 1922, when it was suggested to her by a speech of the late President Harding. Mrs. John D. Sherman, Chairman of the Department of Applied Education of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is a member of the board of directors of Better Homes in America. Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the new Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, is a member of the organization's advisory council.

Better Homes in America announces as among its aims for 1924 the following purposes: To show the advantages of thrift for home ownership, to overcome our national shortage of homes, now estimated at 600,000, to introduce greater efficiency into the homes of the United States, where fully 90 per cent of the home women of the country do their own work, to make American homes more attractive, to promote the physical and moral development of American children by improving their home environment, to stimulate judicious purchasing for home improvement, and to mobilize community pride for a common object—pride of home.

Better Homes week will take place from May 11 to May 18, when hundreds of communities throughout the nation will foster the public education in the fundamentals of home-making by Better Homes demonstrations. Communities in every state in the Union have already signified their intention of taking part in these demonstrations, the purpose of which is to sow seeds which will reap a harvest of better homes throughout the United States. Approximately 1000 such demonstrations were held 1923, and it is expected that the number will greatly increased this year.

"I commend participation in Better Homes demonstrations and in the other work of the movement," President Coolidge said in a recent letter to Secretary Hoover.

One Hundred Amarillo Business Men Invaded Canyon Early Monday

A special train bearing one hundred Amarillo business men arrived in Canyon Monday morning at 7:30 for an hour's visit among the citizens of the town.

The College Band met the special at the depot and headed the parade to the business section.

An address of welcome was made by W. J. Flesher, who welcomed the visitors from the neighboring city, and called attention to the excellent educational advantages offered by Canyon. Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman of the trade excursion, responded and stated that it was not the intention to injure in any way the advantages offered by any town in the Panhandle, and likewise praised the educational advantages of Canyon.

The College Band will be the official band for Amarillo on the trade trip and at the Brownwood convention.

Amarillo is after the convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for 1925 and has the support of practically every town of this section.

WHO OWNS THE ROADSIDE?

The increasing use of the automobile has given new importance to the scenery along the public highways. The enjoyment of a motor trip depends on the character of the landscape that unfolds itself as well as on that of the roadbed, so that preserving and improving the scenery becomes a matter of general interest. Less than half a generation ago few people traveled except by train or trolley more than a few miles from their homes. Now a family that owns an automobile has what the navy calls a "cruising radius" of hundreds of miles. The motor car has given wings to the average person. At the New England summer resorts and along the coasts of Florida and southern California in winter there are automobiles from nearly every state in the union.

The worst disfigurement of the roadside scenery has been billboard advertising. Resentment against it has become widespread, but, since it is usually on private property, it has resisted attempts to remove it by legislation. But what lawmakers have not been able to do is now likely to be accomplished by the pressure of public opinion. The advertisers themselves, seeking public favor, have begun to realize that publicity in a form that is objectionable to the public taste does not pay, and already fifteen large firms, all so-called national advertisers, have announced that as soon as present contracts expire they will voluntarily desist from defacing the rural landscape.

In time others will probably find it to their advantage to follow the same course.

Automobilists too, have certain obligations. Among them are the duties of respecting the roadside scenery by refraining from building camp fires in dangerous places, leaving picnic sites untidy and destroying flowers and shrubbery along the roadway. The trailing arbutus, the mountain laurel, willow hedges, the black alder and the holly have all suffered so severely from the vandalism of those who ride in automobiles that public opinion has been roused to vigorous protest and in some places has resulted in restrictive legislation.

A study of windmill efficiency is being undertaken in England, but we think they would have better opportunities for research if they would send their experts to Washington and let them observe the operations of Congress.—Houston Post.

Former Graduate of the High School Writes to Students in the School

The following letter from a former graduate of the Canyon high school was received this week by Supt. A. D. Payne and was greatly enjoyed by the students of the school when read to them at chapel period:

Montrose, Colorado, April 28, 1924.
Superintendent, Canyon High School, Canyon, Texas.

Dear Sir:

Twenty-one years ago, in May, 1903, the first class of graduates from Canyon City (Texas) high school was awarded diplomas. The members of the class were: Misses Una Long, Belle Shotwell, Cumnie Redfearn, LaRose Bratton, Mary Wansley, and Tom Frank Wilson and Dean B. McGue. Prof. A. Ernsberger was superintendent and together with his estimable wife, composed the entire high school faculty. Miss Vera Odell entering in mid-year, in 1902, was awarded a diploma that year, inasmuch as she had been a member of the graduating class in the town from which she came.

Commencement day is near once more, and although more than a score of years have passed, memory carries me back to Canyon City, for—

So long as my quick pulses thrill,
And my fierce heart will not be still,

Nor grow blasé and cold;
So long as I have eager joy,
And love's emotion do not cloy—

I am not old!

So long as enthusiasm springs,
And laughter teaps, and hope has wings
And enterprise far flung,

So long as I dream, dare, and do,
And pin my faith to what is new—
I still am young!

Unfortunately for me, shortly after receiving my diploma with the class of 1903, my father with his family shortly left Canyon City, and never since have I had the pleasure of renewing school day acquaintances. With the exception of hearing from one or two members of succeeding classes, which correspondence unhappily ended with the exchange of an invitation to attend class commencements, I have never heard about the progress of my Alma Mater.

If any of the students of twenty years ago are still there, would appreciate a letter from them. Among those I recall besides the class of '03, are: Wm. Word, Robert Campbell, Nash and J. P. Hicks, Lloyd Garrison, Clyde Baird, James and Grady Pipkin, James and Hayden Donaldson, Earl Dunbar, as well as Misses Avis and Clara Baird, Jessie Long, Erline Garrison, Lola Word, Jessie Sinclair, Addie Money, Pauline Dunbar, and others.

NEAR 'POSSUM ROAST

ONE cold night Grandpa Possum sat beside the stove warming his feet, when little Popsy, his grandson, opened the oven door. "Put your feet in, grandpa; they will get a toasty feeling in a jiffy," he said.

Grandpa Possum jumped up. "Close that door! he cried, in such a cross voice that his grandson looked in wonderment, for Grandpa was never cross to him. "An open oven always reminds me of something that happened to me when I was a young fellow, and I never think about it without shuddering." Grandpa explained when Popsy closed the door.

"Oh, tell me about it grandpa! Was it an adventure?" asked Popsy.

"Yes, I guess you would call it that, but I call it a very narrow escape."

"Oh, Tell Me About It, Grandpa."

said Grandpa Possum. "I don't like to talk about it, but I will tell you, my son, if you will promise never to open an oven door again when I am around."

Little Popsy promised to be very careful about oven doors and Grandpa began his story.

"It was a bright, moonlight night," he said, "and I had run up to the farm to find something for my supper, when all at once I heard noises that made me forget I was hungry, and I ran for the woods. I had hardly reached the foot of a big tree when behind me came men and dogs and the dogs were barking so they sent shivers along my spine, but I managed to get up in the tree and lay flat on a big branch.

"I was all nicely fixed when, what did one of those men do, but reach up with a long pole and knock me off, and somehow I fell into a bag which one man held instead of landing on the ground among the dogs, as I thought I should.

"They carried me off with men shouting and the dogs barking in the most nerve-racking manner and the next thing I knew I was in a kitchen, for there was a small hole in the bag through which I could see a little of what was going on around me.

"Pretty soon I heard one of the men say: 'Put him in the oven; he will be safe there, and, anyway, he may as well get used to it because he will have to stay there quite a long time tomorrow.' And then they all laughed in a way that made me feel very unhappy.

"Then they opened the bag. I was playing dead of course, all the time after they had me in the bag, so they took me by the tail and very roughly tossed me into the oven and banged the door.

"After a while all was still and I began to move about, and the first thing I knew out I rolled on the floor of the kitchen. I had managed to push open the oven door.

"Luckily for me the window was open and out I went and ran for home, but I did not sleep a wink that night for thinking of how near I came to being roasted.

"And that is the reason I can never see an oven door open without a shudder, and would rather warm my feet some other way than by putting them in the oven."

Little Popsy was wide-eyed when his Grandpa finished the story. "I'll never open an oven door again," he said. And Grandpa nodded and smiled as he lighted his pipe for a smoke to make him forget the terrible adventure of his younger days.

CLUB WOMEN TO CANYON IN 1925

WOMEN OF 52 COUNTIES TO COME HERE NEXT YEAR.

275 Women Were in Attendance at Meet of Seventh District Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Seventh District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, which extends over 52 counties of Northwest Texas, will hold its 1925 meeting in the city of Canyon. This decision, so important to Canyon, was made after a heated contest at the annual meeting which closed last Wednesday in Lubbock.

Vernon and Childress both wished the Federation meeting next year, but before the final vote was cast Childress withdrew in favor of Vernon.

The invitation was extended by all the organized bodies of Canyon: Mrs. J. A. Hill presented the invitation of the Woman's Book Club, and the City Federation; Miss Ruth Loves read an invitation from President J. A. Hill, in behalf of the West Texas State Teachers College; Mrs. C. L. Thompson read a communication from the Chamber of Commerce; a telegram from C. N. Harrison, Mayor, represented the desire of the entire city to have the gathering at Canyon next year; Miss Jessie Carpenter, representing the Home Economics Club made the speech which brought the convention to Canyon. It is said. She stressed the fact that the young women of the Teachers College, about 700 in number, are the potential club women of the Seventh District.

Her point was well received and the vote stood 39 to 33 in favor of Canyon. The small number of votes cast was due to the fact that the place of the next meeting is the last bit of business transacted and a great number of the delegates had gone home.

Mrs. Reece Tatum of Dalhart is president of the Seventh District; Mrs. A. Q. Bonner of Dalhart is secretary, Mrs. Percy Spencer of Lubbock is first vice-president, Mrs. R. A. Underwood of Plainview is second vice-president.

The meeting which just closed at Lubbock was attended by more than 275 women; this was the largest number ever in attendance in the Seventh District which is the youngest and the most sparsely settled district in Texas.

Plans are already being made to make the meeting in Canyon next year, interesting and helpful to the women of this portion of the State.

PRESIDENT TELLS SCHOOL NEEDS

NUMBER OF BUILDINGS IMPERATIVE SOON.

Attendance at College Two and One Half Times Larger Than Eight Years Ago.

BY PRESIDENT J. A. HILL

When the present commodious Administration building was completed in April, 1916, it was thought the plant would adequately meet all needs for many years. It is always difficult to see far into the future; and the growth of the College could not reasonably be foreseen. It has far surpassed the expectations of that man of matchless vision, President R. B. Cousins, who directed the destinies of the institution through the first eight years of its life.

And now, because of the ever increasing numbers of those who seek its advantages, new buildings and facilities are imperative. The eight years since the first occupying of the present plant has seen the attendance multiplied by two and one-half, the faculty double in size, the curriculum lengthened by two years and standardized, the rank of the College raised to that of a Senior College in class A with membership in the Texas Association of Colleges and in the American Association of Teachers Colleges and full recognition of its degrees by the best graduate schools of the nation.

This unexpected growth makes immediately necessary the following improvements:

Need Education Building

1. An Education building, costing, fully equipped, $200,000. It would be used to house the Department of Education with its classrooms and laboratories and the Demonstration and Practice School. It would temporarily give relief to the crowded conditions throughout the Administration building and would greatly add to the efficiency of both the Demonstration School and the College.

2. A library building, to cost $150,000. At present the Library is housed in greatly cramped quarters on the second floor of the Administration building. Only about one-twentieth of the present student body can get into these quarters at one time. Moreover, the Library has reached its maximum size in its present quarters without creating almost impossible conditions.

TELLS NEEDS OF WEST TEXAS STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

3. Manual Training shops, as an adjunct to the present power plant, to cost $40,000. No argument is needed as to the propriety of removing this department from its present place of interference with the other departments and giving it a better opportunity to function.

4. A Physical Education Building, costing from $125,000 to $175,000. Health and recreation are coming to be recognized as fundamental factors in all educational activities and hence must become a part of the preparation of every teacher. Supervised play and games are such an integral part of modern education the Teachers Colleges must provide ample facilities for this phase of teacher preparation.

Want New Infirmary

5. A fire-proof infirmary, to cost $30,000. Our present infirmary is a two-story, frame structure, originally erected and used as a barn. It is too small, unsafe, and ill-adapted for its purposes. Some well-to-do citizen of the Panhandle would do well to perpetuate his name by erecting here a suitable building to care for the sick.

6. More housing facilities for our students. The state will never get the maximum service from the College until the great majority of our students have proper living conditions. 7. Other buildings and minor improvements are greatly needed and must come in the course of time. In view of the above situation it is confidently hoped that the next legislature will rise to its opportunity in the matter of appropriations for the West Texas State Teachers College.

Students Given Best of Religious Care at College

"Spiritual insight, carrying with it a deep appreciation of the value of Christian living, is an important qualification of every successful teacher. Moreover, the power of leadership in Christian Service increases greatly the value of a teacher to a community." Such is the opinion of the administrative authorities and the faculty of the West Texas State Teachers College. Religious activities are encouraged and cultivated by the College. Although denominationalism is studiously avoided, every effort is made to develop a widespread appreciation of the fundamental values of the Christian religion. Devotional exercises are held in chapel four times a week. Three courses in Christian education, counting as credit towards diplomas and degrees, are offered the students. The Y. W. C. A. is one of the largest organizations in the institution, and does a great deal for the students in a religious nature.

The Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Christian, Disciples, Episcopal and Catholic churches maintain organizations in the town and materially assist in the spiritual and social welfare of the students. The Methodist Church has a paid secretary to look after the religious interests of the students, and the ministers of the town co-operate with the school in making the spiritual atmosphere wholesome. The Methodists are now building a new $80,000 church building. Student classes are organized in the churches, some churches having as many as four or five classes made up of college students only.

Ex-Student Banquet Will Be on May 30

The annual Alumni banquet of the graduates of the West Texas State Teachers College will be held Friday evening, May 30, at six o'clock. Invitations have been sent to all alumni of the College, and a large number of guests are expected.

Miss Mary L. Clark, of the Department of Music, is chairman of the program committee, and an interesting and instructive program is being prepared.

Child-birth

WHEN the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradford Regulator Co., 24-25 Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ball were in Amarillo Saturday.

Misses Dewey and Edith Gibson returned home Tuesday from Canadian where they have been teaching school for the past year. They have accepted the same position for the coming year.

Bertha and Lester Dowell spent from Monday to Thursday visiting at the home of friends at Dimmitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dixon and children of Dimmitt spent the week end at the A. M. Dowell home.

There will be an all day singing at the Pleasantview school house Sunday, May 18th. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Preaching services will be held in the afternoon.

Captain Lowell Yerex and Lieut. R. H. Gray, the two former British Aces who have been in Amarillo the past week are there for this week, and are to put on a night flying exhibition Saturday night. The program will consist of doing spirals and loops while the aeroplane is a blaze of light in the sky. The flight will be made directly over Amarillo at a height of about 5,000 feet, and will be made at an hour planned so that it will not interfere with shows or other arrangements. Many passengers are being taken up while in Amarillo. During their stay in Canyon the three days over 250 passengers went up and several from here have gone to Amarillo and took a flight. A large number is expected to be there Saturday night and see the night flying exhibition.
