

CANYON-AMARILLO DELEGATION AT CONVENTION

MANY TOWNS VISITED ON TRIP TO BROWNWOOD LAST WEEK.

College Band Highly Praised by Trade Trippers from Amarillo, and by the Towns Visited.

Canyon's boosters returned Friday night from Brownwood and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention, at which the city was well represented, and reported much good accomplished, in addition to a thoroughly enjoyable trip.

The outbound journey aboard the Amarillo special train was in the nature of a trade trip as far as Lubbock, stops being made at Happy, Tulla, Kress, Plainview, Hale Center, Abernathy and Lubbock, parades and band concerts being held at each. Literature and advertising novelties also were distributed.

A night run was then made to the convention city and the excursionists awoke to find themselves in the Pullman city at Brownwood. Breakfast at the Harvey House was followed by a parade uptown, at which the West Texas State Teachers College band gave "the old grey mare" a real serenade. The first day was devoted to registration, parading and joining in the various demonstrations.

Had the trippers not been so tired they would not have enjoyed much rest during the terrific thunderstorm which came up the first night of the convention, keeping thousands away from the celebration as the roads were made almost impassable over a wide radius.

Convention politics warmed up the second day, with the election of C. C. Walsh of San Angelo as president of the West Texas Chamber and the development of factional lines in the race for the next convention. Canyon stayed loyally by Amarillo in the fight and paraded, played and whooped it up for the Potter County seat all day. Following the parade of illuminated floats that night and the coronation of the Queen, Canyon's boosters scattered to the various dances, the one in the auditorium continuing until 7 a. m.

After a short sleep the delegates were up and in the fight again which waged incessantly all day, Mineral Wells, Amarillo and El Paso vying with each other in thinking up new and amusing stunts to attract attention and advertise their respective candidacies. El Paso at this time, however, dropped behind in the race, and could be seen not to expect much of the election. On this day, however, Sweetwater's boosters came out with their banners asking for the 1926 convention, which was interpreted to mean that they would make their fight at the 1925 gathering, expecting to win probably the next year.

A monster barbecue, covering several acres, was given at 6 p. m. the last day and was followed by a comic pantomime entitled "Cornashun of Eskota's Queen," put on by the Fort Worth trade boosters, who have consistently backed Eskota (a hamlet in Fisher County) as a cloak for their neutrality in the annual fight.

After a thunderous demonstration by both Mineral Wells and Amarillo, the band contest awards were announced. These awards, it was the general opinion, were made in every case to the noisiest bands entered, Canyon's splendid musical organization, flawlessly directed, receiving not even honorable mention from Bohumir Kryl of Chicago, former teacher of Wright Armstrong, who directs the "Old Grey Mare Band" of Brownwood.

Accredited delegates were then called to the platform and the voting began. Canvases had previously been held by the delegates to choose their representatives and instruct them. Amarillo lost to Mineral Wells by about 400 votes out of 3,500. Not discouraged, however, the Amarilloans announced they will continue the fight at the next convention and congratulated the winning town.

One of the surprises of the voting was the defection of Lubbock, Snyder and Abilene from the cause of the Plains country, these centers apparently preferring to send the convention to a resort town with no agricultural impediments, on the Eastern fringe of West Texas, rather than have it go to their fellow-townsmen of the great plains.

Another demonstration followed the election, after which the delegates entrained for their respective homes. The Amarillo train left about 1 a. m., arriving in Sweetwater for breakfast.

REGENTS HERE IN ANNUAL VISIT TO COLLEGE MONDAY

THREE MEMBERS OF BOARD INSPECT INSTITUTION.

Are Given a Rousing Welcome by the Student Body at Chapel Exercises.

Three members of the Board of Regents of the Texas State Teachers College visited the West Texas State Teachers College last Monday. The other three members of the Board expect to visit the College some time during the summer session. Those here Monday were Mr. Eckhart of Austin, vice-chairman of the Board, Miss Margie Neal of Carthage, and Mr. Bennett of Stephenville. Mr. Eckhart's little daughter accompanied him.

The three members of the Board spent the day in inspecting the College plant and in discussing the needs of the school with President J. A. Hill. The budget for the next two years will be presented at the meeting of the Board on the thirty-first of this month. Members of the Board have expressed themselves as being highly pleased with Randall Hall which was purchased by the College some time ago.

The Normal High School and the Training School met classes Monday in order that the Regents might see the entire school at work. The students in these schools will be given a holiday later on in the week.

Chapel exercises were held Monday morning, and the Regents were given a chance to see the student body and to talk to them for a few minutes. The Red Men gave a pep demonstration at the opening of the exercise, and Chief Slitting Bull Fry, told of some of the achievements of the Buffalo teams, the Band, The Prairie, and the debating teams this year. Much pep and enthusiasm was shown by the students on the visit of the Regents. Each member of the Board was called upon by President Hill to make short speeches.

FINAL EXERCISES OF PUBLIC SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

ONE OF BEST PLAYS EVER PRESENTED BY HIGH SCHOOL.

Class Completes Payment on $700.00 Stage Scenery Given School—Diplomas Presented Friday.

The closing exercises of the high school commencement Friday night ended the most enjoyable commencement exercises the Canyon school has ever had. The fact that the class of 1924 was the first class to graduate from the new high school building added much to the pleasure of the occasion, and furthermore, the fact that the class had bought and paid for the $700.00 stage scenery was another distinctive feature of the pleasantness of this year's commencement.

The play Thursday night before a capacity house was a decided success. There were no particular stars, for each of the eleven characters played so well his or her particular part in this splendid production. The leading characters were delightful of their role, while each of the others played on an equal with their leads. It was pronounced by many in the large audience to be the best high school play that it had been their pleasure to witness. Great credit is given Miss Agnes Thomas, teacher of expression in the school, for the excellence of the production.

Friday night was the final exercise of commencement with diplomas were awarded by Supt. A. D. Payne.

Miss Frances Reid, salutatorian, and Miss Imogene McIntire, valedictorian, read very pleasing addresses to the class.

Rev. R. M. McCollom of Amarillo gave the commencement address.

The following received diplomas:

John Veteski, Ewell Brown, Burl Avery, Alex Hale, Vester Hill, Wallace Williams, Fred Williams, Winfield Miller, Willard Miller, Lura Oliver Ruby Combs, Frances Croson, Frances Reid, Jean Veteski, Olive Schramm, Imogene McIntire, Golda Gibson, Jessie Mae Scott, Ruth Jennings, Corine McKeynolds, Irene Cluck, Lela Gill, Leona Pinnell, Lillian Cash, Dalma Fry and Erma Dowd.

East End Grocery Burns Thursday Night Almost Total Loss

The East End Grocery burned Thursday night a little after midnight with a loss of more than five thousand dollars to the owners.

A mystery surrounds the fire, but it is thought most certainly that the store was set on fire. The fire seemed to originate in the roof north of, the back door and over a coal shed. The building burned very rapidly after its discovery.

Frank Hicks, Carl Scott and Floyd Catnam were owners of the business. They have not decided what they shall do, but are awaiting an adjustment of the insurance.

Insurance carried amounted to $8,550.00, while the loss of the building, furniture and fixtures amounts to more than $12,000.00.

Driving Over the Fire Hose Has Cost City $500 During Month

The city of Canyon is out $500.00 as a result of careless people driving over the fire hose!

Yes, five hundred useless expense—and for what? Purely for mere curiosity sake!

It is very likely that not one person who would drive over a fire hose will ever get out of his car to assist in any way with a fire—but he is in an awful hurry to get a choice place at the fire so he can see everything that goes on.

Members of the fire department are needed at a fire, and needed in a hurry if they miss the fire trucks—but they will drive blocks out of their way to avoid driving over a fire hose, because they realize the seriousness and the danger of running over a hose, either full of water, or laying on the ground empty. But the onlookers haven't the time to go around. They must get to the fire in a hurry.

As a result of cars running over the fire hose, four sections of new hose, costing $125.00 per section have been ruined the past month. These sections show exactly where the car wheels have passed over, as they first start to leak in those places, and then burst.

If this practice is allowed to continue, Canyon may suffer a serious fire loss as there will not be sufficient hose to fight a big fire.

Driving over a fire hose is a criminal offense, under state laws and under the city ordinance.

HALEY ELECTED EDITOR-IN-CHIEF OF COLLEGE YEAR BOOK FOR 1925

J. Evetts Haley, a Junior in the College, from Midland, was elected Editor-in-Chief of the 1925 Le Mirage at a meeting of the Students Council last Thursday afternoon, May 15. Haley was editor of this year's book, having been elected to fill the vacancy left by Jeff D. Smith, who was forced to resign on account of illness in his family.

Haley was elected to the editorship upon the unanimous recommendation of the members of the entire 1924 annual staff. He was heartily endorsed by a number of College students.

He is well qualified to fill the position since he has had a year's experience on the staff and as editor of the book. Practically everyone who has inspected this year's book have praised it as being the best ever put out by this institution. Haley, with Olin E. HOW UNITED STATES WAS CALLED UNCLE SAM

The accepted story is that the original Uncle Sam was Samuel Wilson, an inspector of purchase made by the government, during the war of 1812. He was known to the soldiers as Uncle Sam and from that fact they referred to the supplies as Uncle Sam's supplies. The term came into general use as referring to federal government, and has been continued in vogue ever since.

LECTURES TO BOOK CLUB
Prof. Gordon Lang, head of the Department of Sociology in the College, delivered a lecture to the Canyon Book Club last Wednesday afternoon at the Club's room in the County Court house.

Although Japan has a total population of about 52,000,000 in an area the size of the State of California, two-thirds of the total area of the empire is forest land containing 1,100,000,000,000 feet of standing timber—about half of the estimated timber supply of the United States today. Japan has been practicing forestry for 400 years, and it is one of the recognized principles of the country.

By a unanimous vote, the Legislative Committee on the Judiciary, at the Massachusetts State House, has voted against the plan to have the painting, "The Synagogue," removed from the Boston Public Library. The bill calls for the repeal of the act passed in 1922 requiring the Department of Education to take the painting by right of eminent domain, to remove it from the library and use it in connection with educational work.

To authorize the coinage of fifty-cent pieces in commemoration of the carving on Stone Mountain, and in memory of Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, in whose administration the work was begun, a bill has been introduced in the Senate.

Higher education is more devastating to the human race than war, according to Dr. J. S. Holmes, professor of zoology at the University of California. He is reported as saying that the prevalence of small families among the "highly intelligent" tends toward the extinction of "better endowed stock."

Neff was elected president of the university, two regents resigned rather than be a party to such an absurdity: Neff refuses to serve; Dr. Guy Stanton Ford of Minnesota was elected, but rejects the offer. Thus we have the events of two days' session of the board of regents of the university. If there was an understanding between Neff and the regents, it was a disgraceful affair. If the regents chose Neff in good faith, then the university needs a new set of regents. Governor Neff is a lawyer. As a lawyer he would resent opening the bar and allowing school teachers to step into court to practice. If school teaching is not a profession and a distinctive one requiring special training, then we are certainly squandering a lot of good money in our school system. If the regents would select a lawyer to do a school teacher's job, they have a poor opinion of the facilities of the university to train men and women for the school rooms in Texas. It is altogether likely that the antics of the regents caused Dr. Ford to decline second place in the choice, and causes Texas to lose the services of a noted educator—all for the sake of tickling the political pride of our governor.

Now comes Dr. Nicholas Murry Butler and discovers that prohibition is a failure. Perhaps Dr. Butler is more interested in seeing prohibition made a failure than he is in looking for its success. At least, proclaiming it to be a great failure is not going to materially assist in making it a success. If all parts of the United States ignored prohibition as does Dr. Butler's town, then prohibition might easily be termed a failure. Murder has been a crime from the days of Moses, and yet never a day passes in New York without murder. Dr. Butler would hardly advocate the commandment "thou shalt not kill," and yet that is what he would do with the prohibition law because it does not totally prohibit, and is likely never to entirely prohibit. The ways of a nation cannot be changed in a day, and even the more ardent prohibitionists hardly expected such a thing when prohibition became effective.

Amarillo lost the 1925 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce because a number of Plains towns did not support Amarillo. It is indicated that some towns opposing Amarillo are to be candidates for the convention in a year or two, and that if the convention came to Amarillo next year, it would hurt their chances a little later. That is no spirit for West Texas, especially the Plains section, which is the fastest growing part of our great state. The eyes of the Southwest are upon the Plains country, and any move that helps one section of the Plains will be reflected to all parts of this great section. The good that comes to Amarillo in the way of great convention will be of benefit to every town on the Plains. Towns of the Plains should get in behind Amarillo and win the 1926 convention.

An injunction has been granted in a district court to keep Jim Ferguson's name off the primary ballot in July. That means nothing in particular as an injunction may be procured for most any kind of a move in some of the district courts of Texas. But the case is going backward to its natural course. The state executive committee should vote to keep his name off the ticket, and then let Jim see whether or not he can force himself on to the ticket.

President Coolidge has had several mix-ups with the leaders of his own party since taking over the office and assuming the leadership inherited from the Harding administration, and invariably has been turned down by his own party. The President has sufficient votes pledged to assure his nomination at the national convention. He does not hold the balance of power in his own party, and if the democratic party presents the right kind of a man, there is an excellent chance to elect him in November. None of the present leading candidates would stand much of a chance, and it will be up to the democratic convention in New York to do some accurate figuring upon the qualities of the man they are presenting.

The immigration bill becomes effective July 1st, and will exclude all Japs after that date. Asiatics have been practically excluded for many years, and we wonder if too many of our people have not worried unduly over the effect of Japanese life in America than the case would actually warrant. While we have been allowing a few Japs to come into our midst, we have virtually had the gates wide open to the most ignorant and more dangerous people of Europe. This element is no more assimilated and given American ideals than is the Jap. This element lies by treachery, while the Jap is industrious.

Congress is trying to open the federal income tax reports for public inspection. That is as dangerous as to compel banks to open wide their books for public inspection. The big concerns could easily ascertain the standing of the small concerns which they wished to swallow. While it might force some of the big financiers to pay a just income tax, yet the good of the tax would not begin to offset the dangers possible in its passage.

Two of our old newspaper friends are sick, to whom we extend our deepest regrets over their ill health. Sam Braswell, who recently moved to Richardson, has been compelled to return to Clarendon and once again breathe the pure air of the Panhandle. J. C. Thomas of the Childress Post left Sunday for Mayos seeking treatment. To both we wish a speedy recovery.

Congress overruled the veto of the compensation bill by the President, and the act is now a law. This bill is the opening wedge of getting the world war veterans on the pension list. Congress will pass most any kind of a pension bill presented to it, because it is afraid of the voters back home.

We don't like to pour cold water upon the political aspirations of our friend, Col. Alvin Owsley of Denton, but if he really thinks he can secure the democratic nomination for the vice presidency, he is badly mistaken. This nomination goes to a doubtful state, and Texas could hardly be called a doubtful state.

In view of the fact that this is election year, it is well to call attention to our people that if they do not express an opinion or a choice at the polls they have little room to complain at the outcome of our elections. It is usually the fellows who do not vote who have the greatest objections to the way the government is run.

Morris Sheppard has announced for re-election to the office of Senator for Texas. Last year he had a whole flock of opponents. As election day draws nearer, the likelihood of an active candidate becomes smaller and smaller.

The Christianizing spirit of Christianity is needed by those who pretend to be Christians, and yet hate those who are not of their particular creed or doctrine.

CHARLES SQUIRE

A Canyon man talked with two candidates for governor during the past week, each of whom was certain that he would be elected governor, and that the other nine candidates in the race were certain to be left out in the cold. A politician must be optimistic.

Thirty-three states adopted prohibition before their women could vote. Hence we think the hope of the antics for light wines and beer is not likely to ever be realized.—Quanah Tribune-Chief.

THE PASSING DAY

By Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, University of Texas.

Most of the failures in life are due to absence of fixed purpose or to lack of systematic method in the accomplishment of that purpose. It is surprising how few people have a well defined idea of what they expect to do with their lives, or even with a year, a month or a week of their time. Most persons of small means, if asked to state their definite aims, would answer that they wished to make a living, to care for themselves and those dependent on them, and to accumulate something for old age. That is commendable, but it does not go far enough. There is no special credit in continuing to live, even to live comfortably. The Creator must have brought us into life for something more than that, and it is for each of us to try to find for himself what we can best do with the life with which we have been endowed.

If we can't be of some special service while we live, life must be a very empty thing; if we can't reach out and help in some way those less fortunate in endowments—can't do something constructive in character—what excuse have we for cumbering the earth? What is success, any way? Certainly, in its broad sense, it is not the accumulation of wealth, for most wealthy people know that they are most miserable failures. It is not in the acquirements of honors, for honors are empty baubles that soon vanish. It is in doing well the thing that we are most anxious to do and doing it in a way that life may be a blessing to as many as possible.

If circumstances are such that we can't plan far ahead the things we want to do, we should at least adopt some measure of system in our work, even though it be but for a day or a week or a month, that will enable us to put our best efforts into our undertakings. Haphazard effort seldom accomplishes anything really worth while. The good housewife knows that she must have her day's work well planned and well timed, or her housekeeping will be a failure. The men seem not to have learned that lesson as well as the women, and many of them fail utterly for just that reason.

Much community effort is almost entirely lost for the same reason that individual effort fails. Chambers of Commerce, in small towns especially, drift into a state of general doing-nothingness, when the members begin to get careless about attending meetings. Clubs, like the Rotary, the Kiwanis and the Lions, find that they cannot do anything worth while unless they meet regularly, and so they meet at lunch or dinner, and fine their members or drop them for non-attendance. They strive about as hard to maintain a high attendance record as for anything else, for they know that poor attendance means poor interest. They keep their members constantly on the job or put them out of the organizations. Town building and community development can not be done by "fits and jerks."

Like individual effort, community effort is often largely wasted because there is no definite plan of work. Every organization working for city or community good should outline the work for some definite period ahead and then stick to that outline as closely as possible. If this is not done there is sure to be much going off after inconsequential things that results in wasted effort. The places that put things over that are worth while are those that know what they want to do and then stay right on the job until it is done. That is about the only secret there is as to why some places do things worth while and others flutter around and accomplish little or nothing.

It is a bit surprising to know the large number of Texas men and women that go north or east and do really big things in their new homes. It is a pity that we can't keep the best Texas talent in the state, but it can't always be done. New York is always drawing on us for bankers, for business men, for lawyers, for doctors, for journalists, for writers, for actors and all classes of workers, and when they succeed there they seem to feel that it is a bigger success than if the same things were done in Texas. Texas, with its vast area and its resources, will in time become the magnet for the really great and they will be drawn here as they are now being attracted to the East. In the mean time, encourage Texas people to stay here and help build up Texas.

RESULTS THAT LAST!

Proven by Canyon People.
Thousands of kidney sufferers have tried remedy after remedy with only temporary benefit. That's mighty discouraging! But one kidney remedy has earned a reputation for lasting results and there's plenty of proof right here in Canyon.

Read the experience of one who used Doan's Pills years ago and now makes her endorsement even stronger.
Mrs. W. W. Clouch, 1601 3rd Ave., Canyon, says: "I had a dull ache across my back most all the time, and it was hard for me to do my work. When I stooped, sharp, stinging pains caught me in my back and shoulders. I had headaches and dizzy spells and my kidneys acted irregularly, too. I bought Doan's Pills and three boxes cured me of all this trouble."
On March 5, 1924, Mrs. Clouch said: "Doan's cured me some years ago and the cure has lasted."

BAND PLAYED IN FIFTEEN TOWNS

MADE BIG HIT AT TOWNS DOWN THE SANTA FE.

Thirty Men Made Trip to Brownwood; Powell Represented Teachers College.

The College Band played in fifteen West Texas towns besides taking part in the contests at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention at Brownwood last week when it went to that city with the Amarillo trade excursionists on a special train. The Band was the official band for Amarillo. At the convention it took third place in the college band contest.

The Buffalo Band was given a special car on Amarillo's special train. At every town where the train stopped the band was highly lauded by the citizens. The Amarillo delegation were very appreciative of the band's services, and upon their return to the Panhandle made a $200 gift to the organization.

The Amarillo train was among the first to arrive in Brownwood, and the West Texas State Teachers College Band was the first band to parade over the city of Brownwood on the opening day of the convention. Amarillo men say that the Buffalo Band attracted more attention than any other band in Brownwood. In the college band contests the John Tarleton Agriculture College's forty-piece band won first place, and the North Texas-Junior A. & M. College band won second place.

The Band was very active in aiding Amarillo boost for the 1925 Convention. After a very spirited contest Mineral Wells won the contest for the next convention.

The Band got on the Amarillo special at Canyon Monday morning at 8:30 a. m. The first stop was made at Happy. On the first day the band gave concerts at Canyon, Happy, Tulia, Kress, Plainview, Hale Center, Abernathy, and Lubbock. At all of these places the delegation was well received and in many instances schools turned out in order that the children might see them. From Lubbock the trippers went directly to Brownwood, where they spent three days at the Chamber of Commerce Convention.

The train left Brownwood on Thursday night at about twelve o'clock and arrived in Sweetwater in the early morning. The trippers, headed by the band paraded that city and staged a concert. Other towns visited during the day were Hermleigh, Snyder, Justiceburg, Post, Southland, and Slaton. From Slaton the train made a flying trip on to Canyon where they were welcomed back. However, the Band accompanied the train on to Amarillo.

Amarillo welcomed the trippers back in glorious fashion. The walks were crowded as the trade trippers headed by the College Band paraded down the street. In front of the Amarillo Hotel, a halt was called and speeches were made by Col. Thompson, Judge Hamlin, Mayor Blasdel, and Prof. Wallace R. Clark. Col. Thompson, chairman of the trade excursion trip, declared that the trip was a great success for Amarillo and the Panhandle.

Prof. J. J. Powell, Prof. Humphreys, Louis F. Hart, manager of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, and several business men accompanied the Band to Brownwood. Mr. Powell attended to the distribution of the special edition of The Prairie and of other advertising material of the College.

The following men made the trip with the Band:

Prof. C. E. Strain, Director.
Prof. Wallace R. Clark, Manager and Picaloist.

Cornets: Kenneth Sherer, Preston Wolford, Charles Strain, Preston Roberson, Lynson Thomas, Travis Shaw, Jr.

Game laws in most of the states are antiquated and inadequate. The good roads, the automobiles and the increasing number of people who spend their vacations in the open country have reduced the once-abundant wild life almost to extinction. A good authority, lately estimated that, if all the hunters succeeded in killing their legal allowance of game, they would destroy all the birds and mammals in the country in one year.

A new plan for harnessing volcanoes comes from Hawaii. The territorial government has consulted the Department of Commerce about a suggestion, seemingly practical, for making bricks of molten lava from the crater of Kilauea. The idea is to stretch across the crater a trolley that will carry an endless chain of buckets to scoop up the liquid lava, bring it to the rim of the volcano and pour it into moulds.

Twelve athletic fields are now available for 75,000 school girls of New York City who participate in some form of athletics, according to a report made at the eighteenth annual meeting of the girls' branch, Public School Athletic League. As many as 1,500 girls report each week for athletic instruction, whereas a few years ago only a handful could be rallied for the work.

Canyon 40-8 Society to Take Flat Car Trip to Brownwood in Aug.

Voiture Locale 296, Society of Forty and Eight, will hold a special ceremonial Friday night at the American Legion Club. It was announced today by Chef de Gare H. A. Brown.

The voiture is rebuilding its box car according to the French design, which is considerably different from the American. It will be painted French grey when completed and will be used as a reading room by the members.

It is also planned to take the box car to Brownwood in August for the Grand Promenade of the order at the State American Legion convention, at which the local "wrecking crew" will be official degree team, according to a communication from Chester Hollis, Fort Worth, Grand Chef de Gare.

It is the plan of the local "voyagers," as the members are called, to load their box car on a regular railway flat car, and, taking their cots, to go as an immigrant car, obtaining nationwide publicity by the novel stunt, originated by the local chef de gare.

"WHO'S WHO IN CANYON?"

THIS CAMPAIGN IS MADE POSSIBLE BY THE FOLLOWING PROGRESSIVE FIRMS OF CANYON

It behooves every man and woman in Canyon to spend their money where their homes are, where they pay taxes. The merchants of larger cities do not pay in Canyon, nor do they contribute to the growth of this community. If you spend a dollar here you know that money will benefit someone else and still in turn benefit you. Cast your money on the waters of trading at home and it will come back to you in many fold. When a man chooses a town like Canyon to make his home and derives his income from the town he owes it to himself to keep his dollar in his own community. Investigations show that there is little need for a resident of Canyon to do any trading away from Canyon. Join the buy at home movement if you do not already belong. There are many arguments in favor of buying at home there is one fact that cannot be disputed, that is to be the personal interest of every citizen of the town to do his or her trading at home. Keep your money where you will get another look at it. Become acquainted with your home institutions with an intimate understanding of Canyon industries you can better understand why you should keep your dollar at home. How many people realize that right here in Canyon can be had everything that a community needs. Suppose this city should suddenly be cut off from the entire world for about thirty days, who would you buy your requirements from? Canyon of course. Then if your merchants are prepared to supply you in time of emergency it is the duty of every citizen of Canyon to patronize them at normal times.

Miss Lamb Giving the Teachers Practical Instruction in Products

Schools talk a great deal about helping children to learn to do by doing. Most of them stop right there and the children go on through school getting dry facts out of text books without relating them to their every day experiences. Or, if they are children who are cramped by school room routine which seems to contain none of the life in which they are so intensely interested, they drop out at the earliest possible moment.

As a matter of fact only seven out of each 100 who start to school ever reach the high school. Lack of real live school rooms is one reason for this.

At the College there is one teacher who is trying to teach young teachers how to make their schools interesting by using materials which at hand, ready to use for the asking or for a very small fee. Recently an exhibit of such material which may be used in the teaching of reading, geography, arithmetic, history and almost any other subject was held at the College and was seen by hundreds of prospective teachers. This exhibit was prepared by the students of Miss Mary Adaline Lamb under her direction. Nearly all of the students who did this work will be teaching in the schools of the Panhandle of Texas next year.

Among the articles shown in this exhibit was a cotton plantation; on it was the farm house, the cabins occupied by the helpers, cotton ready to be picked, a bale of cotton ready for market. Nearby was a graph which showed how Texas ranks in the production of cotton as compared with other states. There were bulletins on the production of cotton and booklets showing samples and telling the story of many cotton products.

Such problems as those of health, of school room arrangement, of playground apparatus, school ground beautification and sanitation were worked out in the same graphic way. Food products common in the lives of the children, rubber articles that touch their lives daily and others furnished the motive for intensely interesting work in nearly all the common branches of the public school.

Moreover, these young, teachers-in-training have learned how to avail themselves of the unlimited materials which may be had for the asking from the United States department of Agriculture, from various state departments from industrial sources. They have learned ways to finance libraries and lunches and playground apparatus for their schools.

Through their own interesting contacts with the real stories of articles which they have heretofore considered unworthy of notice they have learned to enrich the lives of the whole of their communities. They will be better teachers and the Panhandle will have better schools for their training.

POPE WILL SPEAK HERE.

W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi will speak in Canyon next Thursday, May 29th at 8:15 p. m.

In medical education in America, the truly excellent is still exceptional; we are still near the beginning, in the opinion of Abraham Flexner, secretary of the General Education Board. Nevertheless, no nation in the world has within the past 10 or 12 years made such progress in the organization, improvement, and financing of medical education as the United States.

Tentative standards for all library training agencies and plans for accrediting such agencies are in preparation by the temporary library training board appointed by the American Library Association. This board was recently subsidized with a fund of $10,000 by the Carnegie corporation.

A nursery school, modeled after the Merrill-Palmer School in Detroit, will be established at the Rainbow Hospital in South Euclid, Cleveland. A teacher will be brought from the Mary Warde Settlement in London. The school will be open to children from 22 months old to school age, and it will be financed by the Kiwanis club.

Elementary school teachers of Italy continue to send fervent thanks to Minister Gentile for the recent noteworthy improvement in their salaries. One teacher in the Abruzzi sent as a sign of gratitude 2,000 lire for use in organizing an infants' school.

AT BROWNWOOD CONVENTION.

Parades were then held at Snyder, Justiceburg, Post, Southland and Slaton, receiving the warmest welcome of the trip at the Lubbock County railroad center.

No stop was made at Lubbock on the return, and when the train reached Canyon the band was induced to go to Amarillo to receive the applause of the citizens who met the train there, returning in a special car through the generosity of J. W. Reid.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce was active at the convention, distributing much literature, posting signs and otherwise obtaining publicity for Canyon and Randall County. From the standpoint of advertising, according to Louis F. Hart, manager, the trip was well worth the time, effort and expense incurred.

Probably the greatest gain of the trip was the cementing of the friendship between Amarillo and Canyon, whose co-operation in future may be expected to develop much for both cities. The Panhandle Retail Merchants Association also was furthered by the trip, and organization plans will be announced shortly.
