

THREE BUILDINGS FOR COLLEGE ARE OKED BY REGENTS

EDUCATION BUILDING STANDS AS GREATEST NEED.

Addition to Manual Training Department and Home Demonstration Cottage Approved.

The board of regents for Teachers Colleges approved the budget as presented by President J. A. Hill to the meeting Saturday in Dallas. The budget for the first year amounts to $520,000.00, and for the second year $300,000.00.

Three new buildings are on the approved budget which goes to the board of control, and word from that body indicates that all items will receive the approval of this body.

The education building is the outstanding need of the College, and was heartily approved by the regents. The estimate for this building is $175,000, with $25,000 for furniture.

An addition to the power house costing $40,000 was approved, and if passed by the legislature will make sufficient quarters to house the entire manual training department of the College.

An item of $7,500 was approved for a home demonstration cottage.

$10,000 was approved to repair and refurnish Randall Hall.

$10,000 was approved to extend the sewer system, connecting with the city in an addition to take care of the entire east part of town, which now badly needs a sewer system.

The permanent improvements asked for total $210,000 for the first year and $75,000 for the second year.

The departmental budgets were approved as presented.

Three additional faculty members were approved. The regents approved a salary list, placing the salaries of the Teachers College on the same basis as other state colleges doing undergraduate work.

A committee from the board of regents was here last week looking into the needs of the College, as was also a committee from the board of control which now must pass upon the budget and recommend it to the legislature when it meets in January.

He was editor of the Prairie the past year, and connected with all student activities of the College.

The many friends of the popular young couple extend to them most hearty congratulations.

Davis Hill and Tate Fry attended the ceremony.

Memorial Day Observed in Services Friday at American Legion Hall

The Memorial Services under the auspices of the American Legion, were held Friday morning at the Legion Hall. On account of the cloudy bad weather, the services were held in the Hall instead of in front of the building as last year. The bad weather and the commencement exercises at the College that morning kept many people away from the services. The program was:

Prayer—Rev. Lyn Claybrook.

America—Led by Wallace R. Clark.

Oath given by the soldier boys who were present.

"In Flanders Field"—reading by Miss Verain Stewart in memory of those who gave their lives for the flag.

Address by President J. A. Hill.

Star Spangled Banner—Band, directed by C. E. Strain.

In the speech by Mr. Hill, he talked of courage, and stated that it sometimes took more than courage, which was loyalty—loyalty to ideals and devotion to duty.

After the program at the Hall, all who could go went to the cemetery to decorate the graves. There are twenty-seven graves of soldiers, veterans of all wars in the cemetery.

In the afternoon Legion members went to Wayside to decorate the grave of a comrade.

More Valuable Gifts Made to Collection of the Historical Society

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society has recently added a number of interesting articles to its collection. Mr. N. E. Root of Canyon, recently loaned this society an old vest elaborately trimmed with Indian work; a bead trimmed raw hide gun case; two hair ropes; buttons from an army coat which was used during 1861-65 and a copy of a New York paper containing an account of the assassination of President Lincoln.

Miss Leona Hamilton of Texhoma has given to the society a very fine Indian arrow head of rare shape. Mr. Gordon Lang of the Department of Sociology, of the College has given the society a flint boring implement which was probably used for making holes in raw hide. This last named article was found in the Palo Duro Canyon a few miles east of this place.

SCOUTS ARE IN CAMP.

The Board of Regents for Teachers Colleges has designated as a special work for the West Texas State Teachers College the training of music teachers.

The regents has chosen this College to do this as a special work in addition to the regular work carried by all of these colleges. San Marcos was designated to do special work in the training of Home Economics teachers; Huntsville in agriculture teachers; Denton in manual training.

President Hill states that in making these special appointments, it does not follow that the regular work in other lines shall be lessened. He expects special appropriations to take care of these special assignments.

SUMMER QUARTER OF THE COLLEGE OPENED TUESDAY WITH ENROLLMENT OF MORE THAN THOUSAND STUDENTS

The summer session of the College started Tuesday, with an enrollment of 700 the first day as compared with 539 enrolled the first day of last summer's session. The enrollment up to last night was 921, and practically one hundred were enrolled this morning.

Not many of the students who went home during the few days intermission have returned, and these will be here before the end of the week.

It is expected that the enrollment of last summer will at least be equalled by the beginning of next week.

The West Texas State Teachers College is making preparations for the largest summer session that the institution has ever known. President J. A. Hill has increased his faculty to meet the greater demands made by the summer school. Special lecturers have been procured for the summer session.

W. B. Bizell, president of Texas A. & M. will deliver a series of lectures along the line of his special interests. President F. M. Bralley of C. I. A. will conduct a series of conferences and give several lectures. H. F. Estill, president of Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, will be one of the visiting lecturers. C. M. Hill, president of the State Teachers College Springfield, Mo., and a member of the educational survey commission of Texas, will give a number of lectures, probably dealing with the matter of standardization in education. P. W. Horn, President of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, formerly president of Georgetown University, will appear before the student body as a special lecturer. Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs, State president of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, will be a member of the college faculty for a week early in July, at which time she will hold a conference with representatives from P. T. A.'s of the entire Panhandle district and will give lectures regarding the work of these organizations. Dr. George A. Works of the rural education department, probably will lecture on current educational problems, with special emphasis on rural school work. J. A. Hill, President of the Teachers College at Canyon, will appear before the student (Continued on last page.)

Good Rain Yesterday With Showers Friday Saturday, Help Grain

A good rain yesterday following two showers of Friday and Saturday puts the ground in excellent condition, and will start the grain and cotton.

The temperature has been very low the past month, but this fact has made the wheat crop, and has kept alive the oats and barley, which suffered from want of top moisture.

It is thought this morning that the rains came in time to make a large deal of oats and barley.

The row crops and the cotton has not done much owing to the continued cool weather, but the past few days have been warmer, and these crops are now expected to start a rapid growth.

DEGREES, CERTIFICATES GIVEN 195 IN LAST PROGRAM

DR. P. W. HORN GIVES THE COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS.

Final Exercises of the Fourteenth Annual Commencement Exercises Held Saturday a. m.

After a week of pleasant programs, recitals, banquets and departmental exercises, the Commencement Exercises of the College came to a pleasant end Saturday morning when degrees and certificates were presented.

The degree graduates and faculty members formed a procession which entered the auditorium. All in the procession were dressed in cap and gown, adding dignity to the occasion. Special music was furnished by the College orchestra, directed by Prof. Wallace R. Clark.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the new Technological College at Lubbock, delivered the address. He stated that a great school has a great faculty and is a school where great people are. Then he asked the question—"Who is the most valuable member of the faculty of the West Texas State Teachers College?" Before answering the question he told who isn't the most valuable.

He said, "It isn't the one who gets the most salary; or the one that does the most good; or the one with the highest degree; the one member who has learned the most, although that it might be the case here, nor the one that is most popular with the student body." Dr. Horn answered that the most valuable member of the faculty was the teacher who not only works himself, but that makes the student work. The power to cause other minds to work; the power to cause other hearts to beat; causes other people to be what they ought to be—to produce fruit. A teacher who can do these things is a great teacher. He must himself have knowledge, let his influence be of the right kind. He appealed for men to be menly men and women to be womanly women.

Dr. Horn spoke of the open mind—that is, one that is willing to be changed if needs be. The unpardonable sin is the lack of control of the mind. One thing that is the making of minds is the ability to take pleasure in the success of others. With a big mind—there is pleasure; with a small narrow mind, there is sadness and regret. Minds are of three classes; the first class mind does its best all the time; the second class mind does its best a part of the time; the third class mind rarely does its best. His appeal was for us all to have a first class mind.

One hundred and ninety-five young people received certificates or degrees from the West Texas State Teachers College Saturday. Nineteen were granted Bachelor's Degrees; eight received permanent certificates under the new law; one was granted a Junior high school certificate under the new law. The remaining 186 received certificates under the provision of the old law which expires at the end of next year. Those receiving degrees were: Miss Orvie Bolton, Turkey; Kate Cleo Bullard; Floydada; Birdie Lee Burkhalter, Canyon; Carriewood Cleveland, Lamesa; Annie Gertrude Conner, Floydada; Ura V. Crawford, Canyon; Mrs. Allie Merle Dunaway, Canyon; Erna Helen Guenther, Canyon; Frank P. Hill Tahoka; Paul Johnson, Canyon; Joe J. Lancaster, Canyon; Lola McGuire, Tulla; Marie Euphemia McGuire, Tulla; Myrtle Miller, Lockney; Zelma Red, Lamesa; N. L. Sharpe. (Continued on last page.)

Daily Texan Tells of Work of Eckhardt as Distinguished Athlete

Daily Texan of May 28: At a late hour last night Oscar Eckhardt, premier gridiron star of the Southwest Conference in 1923 and also one of its leading baseball lights during the past three years confirmed the report that he would be in the athletic staff of W. T. S. T. C. next year. The Longhorn star will be head baseball coach and an assistant in all other branches of sport. He will be in full charge of the backfield of the Normalite eleven. Eckhardt will be connected solely with athletics and will not teach any academic courses.

Declared Ineligible

Until a few weeks ago it was believed that Eckhardt would be eligible for another year of Southwestern participation in football. However, his case was protested by other conference schools on the grounds that he had already played his full time and Eckhardt was declared ineligible on a technicality.

During the 1923 season Eckhardt flashed as one of the brightest offensive stars the Southwestern Conference has ever produced. He starred against the Vanderbilt Commodores, scoring a touchdown against the line that held the Michigan Wolverines, undefeated in the Big Ten, to three points; and making another touchdown possible. He was unanimous choice for the all-conference team and placed on several All-American combinations, being given honorable mention by Walter Camp.

Baseball Record

Eckhardt's baseball record is only slightly behind his mark on the gridiron. He was all-conference material this season, both as a pitcher and as an outfielder, being placed on every selection in either or both capacities. Many experts considered Eckhardt the most dangerous hitter in the conference in a pinch.

Several big league scouts have offered Eckhardt a contract and he will likely sign his name to one of them next season. With one summer more of work in semi-pro circles behind him, it is believed that Eckhardt will be almost ready for the majors.

TEXAS NEEDS A BUSINESS MAN FOR GOVERNOR

(Star-Telegram, May 27)

The final result of the gubernatorial primary will furnish the answer to the question of whether the voters really want a business-like administration of the State's affairs, or whether their off-heard cry for it has been idle talk.

There is one candidate for the gubernatorial nomination who is making his campaign solely on the issue of a business administration. He hasn't been arousing the boys "at the forks of the creek" with any wild flights of oratory. He hasn't been attacking this condition or that; he hasn't been slinging mud at his opponents. He has been making a simple, straightforward talk, trying to impress upon his hearers the necessity of handling the State's business in the same manner as private business. It's the kind of talk that one would expect from a conservative, successful business man.

It's probably the only kind of talk that Lynch Davidson knows how to make, for Lynch Davidson is not a politician. He isn't a handshaker or a stump speaker. But he is a business man, who has made a success and a big success, too, of his own business and who feels that as Governor he could make just as great success of handling the State's business, through application of the same principles that have guided his successful career. And that is, after all, the best test that can be applied to a candidate seeking office on a platform of business efficiency.

The business of the State of Texas is the biggest business in the State. It not only involves millions of dollars every year but it involves the welfare of every man, woman and child in Texas. Its problems are more complex than those found in the largest of private business concerns. Yet the voters year after year intrust the care of this business and its various branches to men whose records of experience and achievement offer in most cases not the slightest recommendation of their fitness. The result? The usual cries against extravagance, waste, and high taxes.

The answer to the problem is the selection of the right kind of men for state officers, men who are qualified by experience and achievement. Then there will be less reprimand.

But it is seldom that men of this type offer for public office. The salaries that are paid are ridiculously inadequate in the first place, and few business men of standing and character are willing to stand the mud slinging of a political campaign for the honor the offices carry and the opportunity of service.

Lynch Davidson would not now be making a strenuous campaign but for the fact that he feels he can do the State a great service and he can afford to make the sacrifice. He is a man of independent means. He has a well organized business that doesn't require his constant care. And a brief term in the State Senate and his experience with the state railroad have shown him what the application of business principles can do for the State of Texas. For years the state railroad was a nightmare to the State. Its losses were about $80,000 a year and it was proposed to junk it when Lynch Davidson made such a plea for saving it that the Legislature turned it over to him. He stopped the losses; put the road in good condition and on a self-sustaining basis. In three years he saved the State $324,000 on this road.

He thinks the application of business principles to the conduct of the penitentiary system might save the State enormous sums every year; he believes that expenses all down the line can be reduced through the same methods and that the State can be saved millions of dollars without ever cutting off needed appropriations. Exactly what Lynch Davidson can save the State of course is problematical. He can't tell and neither can anyone else, but it is certain that with a practical, successful business man at the head of the State Government, the voters would be assured of the greatest economy consistent with good business and a safe and sane administration of state affairs.

It is these things in Lynch Davidson's record and his platform that appeal to the Star-Telegram. It is these things that have determined the decision of this newspaper to support him in his campaign.

In these days of high taxes and wasteful handling of the public's business, reaching from municipal to national administrations, it's time the voters gave thought to the handling of public matters. "More business in government and less government in business" is what the country needs. That will help everything—industry, business, the salaried man, the wage earner and the farmer. And the first step is the election of business men to office.

Texas has the opportunity this year in Lynch Davidson. Let's see if she will seize it.

Pope, Candidate for Governor Spoke Here

In presenting his candidacy Mr. Pope declared that he opposed any increase in the taxes of the people and pointed out many eliminations which could be made in the state's budget to hold the taxes down without damage to the people of the state. He ridiculed Lynch Davidson's "business man" campaign and also took shots at Whit Davidson in connection with the textbooks litigation which has had prominence in the minds of the people of the state for more than a year. He ridiculed some of the plans presented for the betterment of the prison system in Texas and declared that he would not favor the idea of scattering the prisoners over the state to do road and farm work as it is being advocated in some quarters.

Mr. Pope has been representative from the Corpus Christi District in the legislature for the past ten years. As a result of his work in the legislature he has become cognizant with the state's administrative organization and declares that he can make good on his program of "no more taxes—no time, no place, against nobody nor nothing." To accomplish this he has thirty-two proposals. "I know what is needed," he declared in his speech here. "My friends say I have the courage and I believe I have the business ability to administer the affairs of state, with my power of veto, if not otherwise, so that we can pay our present debt out of present available revenues and give us a more efficient government. It requires a little business, some ability and lots of courage.

"The penitentiary can be put on a paying basis, the state's credit can be redeemed, better schools, better roads and a better government can be had on less money than we now have available, if the useless and unnecessary is eliminated.

John Bryan, of Riverside, Ohio, swore that the great trees which forested his estate of 500 acres should never fall the victim of man's greed for money. To make certain of this he had his trees heavily riddled with spikes that would bring grief to the best steel saw.

Of the 54,421,832 citizens entitled to the vote in 1920, only 26,786,753 voted.

Funeral Held For Father of Town of Happy

The burial of J. O. Bradenbaugh, of Happy, who died Thursday, May 29, was held Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock at Llano cemetery in Amarillo. The body, accompanied by his widow, Mrs. Bradenbaugh, Chas. Duke, a nephew, and other friends, arrived on the 5:30 Santa Fe, and the body was taken directly from the train to the cemetery where brief funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. H. Bryanoff, Baptist minister of Happy.

Mr. Bradenbaugh was 81 years of age. He was born February 7, 1843, in Hartford County, Maryland. He was married to Miss Mary R. Griffith of Baltimore, Nov. 26, 1866. One son, Claude C. Bradenbaugh, who was well and favorably known in Amarillo, worked here a number of years. He died suddenly about six years ago and was buried in Llano cemetery.

At the age of 22 years, Mr. Bradenbaugh united with the Episcopal Church of Baltimore and was a faithful and active worker in his church as long as he lived where there was a congregation of his denomination. He served on numerous occasions as lay reader in the absence of the rector in his church at Columbus, Indiana. He was optimistic to the highest degree and despite the many reverses and disappointments in his long and checkered career, he always looked on the bright side of things.

Mr. Bradenbaugh's first business efforts were in his father's country store. He then went to Baltimore, where he was connected with a large wholesale grocery concern for a number of years. His pioneering instinct then caused him to come west. He lived in various central states and visited practically every state in the Union, selling meat for a large Ohio packing concern. He became interested in the wheat industry and moved to Kansas City, Mo., in about 1876, where he was actively engaged in that line for more than 30 years. What success he achieved and the esteem that he held in Kansas City business circles may be judged from the fact that he resigned as the president of the Board of Trade at the time that he made his decision to come to Texas. He went to Happy in 1906 where he drove the first nail, built the first house and established the first business there before the time of the railroad. The Santa Fe upon reaching there used his residence as its terminal office and many products were distributed from Happy while it remained the only railroad town available to the great south plains territory.

Mr. Bradenbaugh has the credit of building the first grain elevators at Plainview, Kress, Tulia and Happy and was interested in many enterprises of that section. He took an enthusiastic interest in public school affairs and other civic problems and was always to the front in such work.

He was a diligent student of current events and until the time that death claimed him, he kept himself informed as to the trend of things. A large number of Amarillo friends as well as many from the South Plains were in attendance at the funeral and many beautiful floral offerings were placed on the grave by the side of his son.

Plainview News: Some of his opponents are trying to discredit the work of Lynch Davidson in rehabilitating the state railroad over in East Texas, but the fact remains that he took the road when it was two streaks of rust, completely run down and losing money very fast for the state, $1,450,000 having been sunk in it, and he repaired and resupplied it in a first-class manner and put it on a paying basis. Davidson is an outstanding business man, who has made a success of his own business, and is just the sort of a man we need as governor of the state.

The only trouble with Lynch Davidson is that he is a big and successful business man, who has his opponents professional politicians. If Texas does not elect Lynch Davidson governor, then we will be thoroughly convinced that Texas does not want a successful man at the head of the state government, but prefers a successful failure.

A scientific murder was done in Chicago last week by two young men, both sons of millionaires, and their victim was also the son of a millionaire. The murderers committed the crime for the fun of the thing, and really worked out scientific schedules that would seemingly baffle the greatest detectives. But the same scientific principles that were used in the murder, were used to find the murderers. One of the boys dropped a pair of glasses. The detectives had to find the owner of these glasses out of the two millions of people in the immediate territory. The particular kind of glass lead to three people, and of the three the guilty owner was soon found. "Be sure your sin will find you out," was said of old and holds good right here in 1924.

Both McAdoo and Al Smith will go to the National Democratic Convention lacking a few hundred sufficient instructed voters to win the nomination. McAdoo will have a hundred or so more than Smith. The probability of a "dark horse" is getting smaller as the time comes nearer for the convention, as the national leaders believe that they cannot sell to the American people an unknown man between July and November. It is very likely that the convention will name one of the present prominent democrats which seek the nomination. If the wets control the convention, it will be Al Smith. If the dries control the convention, Ralston will likely be the choice unless McAdoo can storm the convention in the early stages of voting.

Some of the newspapers who opposed the instruction of delegates to the state convention are preturbed because these delegates were elected by a small minority. The voters who took no part in the convention have no kick coming. In Randall county twenty-two voters cast the vote of our 1400 voters. A few minutes after the convention closed at least twenty voters wished they had been interested enough to come to the court house and reverse the decision, but they were too late. Neither the convention of the primary system is a success unless the voters will take a part.

We did not attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Brownwood, but have heard many complaints regarding the drunkenness at the convention. If this convention is being turned over to the bootleggers and booze hounds, the end of the annual convention is in sight. The old fashioned notion still exists among a certain class of our people that any convention gives license to get drunk. That is bad for the organization under whose auspices the drunkenness is allowed, and still worse for the town which allows this drunkenness.

The passage of the soldiers bonus has added 2800 hungry office seekers to the pay roll of Uncle Sam at the cost of a million dollars to the country. It is said that the salary list will increase steadily year by year.

America smoked 5,323,294,000 cigarettes in April. And yet these are hard times!

The Methodist Episcopal Church in general conference calls upon all the Christian people to join hands in a movement to stop war. The Christian people of America can do a great thing toward stopping war if they will really join hands in the movement. The Presbyterian General Assembly has approved the plan. That is encouraging. A few years ago such a thing would have been looked upon with suspicion, for fear one church or another would dominate the movement, or that some church would put over some propaganda regarding its creed. Christianity is progressing.

La Follette seeks to slip the republican party, in which case it would be easy to elect a democratic president. But La Follette is a sick man and has never had the following such as Roosevelt had when he bolted and elected Woodrow Wilson to the presidency. In addition to the weakness of La Follette as a personal leader, his cause is weakening, as seen by the fact that President Coolidge won over Hiram Johnson both in California and the Dakotas, which states are the stronghold of radicalism.

It is a noteworthy fact that most of the proposed bond issues over the country are being defeated by the voters. The question of bond issues for school purposes alone are being voted by the tax payers. Increased taxes are the reason for defeating the issues. Plainview News: We trust that our good friend, Congressman Marvin Jones, who voted for the soldier bonus, will not make himself ridiculous in his speeches this year by denouncing republican extravagance or declaring that he stands for economy and lower taxation.

Bishop William Montgomery Brown of the Protestant Episcopal Church at Cleveland deliever in his book that he did not believe in God at all, except in a vague, symbolic sense. He places Christ in the same category as Santa Claus. The church Bishop Brown represents bases its doctrines upon a living and real God and Christ. If the Bishop did not believe in that doctrine, he should have left his church without the necessity of being kicked out, as was the case.

Feeling quite certain that the courts will rule that he has no place on the primary election ballot, Jim Ferguson has filed the name of his wife for a place on the ticket. That is well and good. The main thing is that Jim Ferguson has no right to hold office in Texas as a result of his impeachment as governor, and with this legal right to office standing in the way, the voters should not be burdened with having him in the way on election day.

Dr. Herbert Eugene Bolton has been elected president of the University but has not yet accepted. Dr. Bolton was formerly a professor in the university and understands the difficulty of trying to run a political machine, which as the university has been made of late. He may not accept, owing to these difficulties. A great and capable educator hesitates to bear his best to the poisoned darts of the politicians, just for the sake of being the president of the university of Texas.

If the entire summer is anything like the weather starting the summer, there will be no danger of sweltering during the coming three months. There has been no really summer weather so far. The cold weather has saved the wheat crop, which would certainly have suffered owing to the lack of rain. But the oats and barley is suffering for want of showers. The cotton and row crops need hot weather to get the growth started.

The radicals of Japan are trying to stir up that country against America owing to the passage of the exclusion act. The passage of the exclusion act was the culmination of a like movement started in this country years ago. If Japan and the United States are ever forced into war, it will be the result of the radical element in both of these countries.

The World Court proposed by Senator Lodge is the same court which was ridiculous in his eyes when proposed by President Wilson and again proposed by President Harding. It would be a great thing for America if Lodge should be defeated in the Massachusetts election this fall.

A sure cure for war is to draft capital as this country drafted men in the world war. Unscrupulous men are able to drive most any nation into a war for the money they will make from this war. Making capital bear the brunt of the war will lessen the desire of these men for war.

One of the worst things about bobbed hair is that too many editors who need a haircut and shave and to wash the tobacco juice from the corners of their mouths are trying to say something funny about it.

T. E. SAYS

My father is a farmer—I was once a farmer lad. I have experienced the dreaded four o'clock breakfast and "time to harness up"—call, enjoyed the ecstasies of a clear sunrise, the stirring morning song of the lark and the perfume of the red bud and the willow blossoms wafted by the early morning breeze across the newly turned soil.

There was a lot of time for thinking, planning, day dreaming, as round and round the faithful team pulled and I followed closely between the plow handles.

Then the planting time came and went. There were no words of commendation from my father but when HOEING TIME had come, I would stride down those rows, swinging that hoe with an adroitness that put the other fellows wondering how it was done and my father would bubble over with his praise.

Then the hot Summer, the tense waiting time for soil and atmosphere to complete the growth of the corn. It was a dry year. Harvest time had come and as we gathered my father would say—"Getting big corn over here—I know who hoed down this row—that boy always cuts the stand for a dry season."

Soon after that boy drifted to town and took up the study of the Dry Goods business and now after many, many years comes a living over again—its a HOEING TIME SALE, and although the stock stands fine—never prettier and cleaner in the shelves and on the counters—we are going to hoe it down, conserving investments and growing satisfied patrons for the store that is daily proving that—

WHERE WOMEN WHO DRESS BEST BUY

This Week

By Arthur Brisbane
Florida—Great Empire to Be.
Two Political Questions.
Deep Plowing Pays.
Dress Up, Girls, Dress Up.

The stock of the Atlantic Coast Line in Florida reaches a "new high." Big profits are made, and the stockholders exult. If Florida interests you, or railroad profits, find out what S. Davies Warfield, president of the Seaboard Air Line, is doing with his new railroad in Florida. When he finishes the short cut from the West Coast of Florida across to Palm Beach and other points, establishing direct connection between New York and Southeast Florida, over his own rails, there will be an active fight for business and profits.

There will be plenty of business for both roads, however. No imagination can foresee what the prosperity of Florida is to be. That State, which, as the Jacksonville Journal tells you, Jefferson could once have bought for five cents an acre, and ultimately did buy for fifteen cents an acre, is apt one day to be in several different ways the greatest State in the Union.

Two questions that interest politicians are these:
Can the Democrats be persuaded to give up the rule that compels a man to get two-thirds of all the delegates before he can be nominated?
And will the Democrats put in their national platform a plank denouncing the Ku Klux Klan, and thus outlawing many Southern States on whom the Democrats must depend to win?
It is a delicate question and may be solved by some vague generalization concerning all secret societies.

by the terms of the new tax bill signed by the President Monday.
Buy, Build, and Live in Canyon.

In Baltimore, a farmer named Meyerly is said to be plowing up a good wheat field, with a sub-soil plow, having been told there is gold in his land. He won't find gold, but if he plows deeply enough, and plows his wheat under, he will improve his soil, and increase his farm's value.

In the second part of Faust, Goethe tells of the farmer plowing deep because under the Emperor's law he was allowed to keep all buried treasure, "turned over by the plow." That was probably an ingenious scheme to make the farmer plow deeper, make his soil richer, and thus be able to pay heavier taxes.

The State of Kentucky killed three men by electricity, two white, one colored, one white man seventy years old. Forty-six minutes after they began walking to the death chair, one after the other, all were dead. Only one spoke, as he was strapped into the chair. It was Frank Thomas, white man, who said, as the light was shut out from his eyes forever by the electrocution mask, "Good night, I'm going home."

Wouldn't it be interesting to know where, how, in what home those three men will awake—if at all. Will the black man still be black when he comes to and dimly remembers how he died? Will the gray-haired murderer still be seventy years old, or begin again as a new baby? Interesting questions.

College young ladies, of the Young Women's Christian Association, tell working girls to dress "plainly and demurely" for their souls' sake and to impress possible husbands with their good qualities. Sensible Helen Gwynne, retiring president of the Y. W. C. A., who is a factory worker, and has presided over an assembly of 30,000 factory girls, tells these girls to dress as conspicuously as they can, "even flashily."

The rich girl, says Miss Gwynne, can afford to dress plainly. That sets her off in her luxurious surroundings. But the working girl, in her plain home, must dress as well as she can, by way of contrast with her surroundings, if she wants to marry. Sensible Miss Gwynne.

THE PASSING DAY

By Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, University of Texas.

Just now, all over Texas, school commencement and graduating classes are the central interest, as they should be. There is something about a commencement program that has a universal appeal. Whether you are a graduate of any school, or not, you have an unusual interest in the boys and girls who have applied themselves closely enough to secure diplomas from the school they have attended. If you are a parent of one of those fortunate young people your interest is intensified, and if you are one of the fortunate number of graduates commencement day is a red letter day in your young life. It is a narrow-minded person who can not rejoice in the success of youth, and it must be an ossified soul that is not in a way rejuvenated by a sympathetic interest in the victorious achievements of the young.

Texas has never before been quite so awake to the value of a well educated citizenship. Almost every day, an announcement is made of a large gift from some wealthy citizen to one of our leading educational institutions. Such gifts are the best evidence of increasing interest in education, and they are sure to result in better facilities for training our young citizens. I have little patience with those who see in present conditions indications of a decline in the intellectual and moral standards of the people. The world has never before been quite so good, has never been quite so attuned to the Divine mind, despite the vagaries of a comparatively small number of persons. How much of this is due to the increased interest in education can not be stated definitely, but certainly a constantly broadening intellectuality is giving a broader outlook.

The Austin Statesman recently, in referring to its home city, made some terse statements that every city and community would do well to remember. Among those statements were these: "The prosperity of a community is not measured by population, but by its civic and commercial progress."

"A handful of workers achieve more than a city full of drones."
"Team work is what counts in everything. A prominent football coach recently said: 'Give me a team of average ability who will work together, each with the other and all for the team and I will win over any team made up solely of individual stars.'"

"Individual ability makes great men—shining lights, but it is mass co-operation of energetic men of civic spirit, home pride and community enterprise that builds a town's progress and prosperity."

There is enough in those three short paragraphs, if followed to make for the success of any place of even ordinary natural advantages. Places that have succeeded have done it in just that way.

There are many big things under way in Texas just now. In fact, Texas appears only now to have come to a realization of its own immensity and of its ability to do things on a mammoth scale, and is starting out in a way in keeping with the State's proportions, its wealth, its possibilities. Cotton mills will soon be constructed to care for the Texas cotton crop; railroads are securing the equipment to handle our immense crops expeditiously; factories of every kind are under construction; our oil fields are being developed as rapidly as is consistent with good business judgment; good roads are being built in almost every county in the State; schools of every class are preparing to better care for the development of the minds of the people. Everywhere there is evidence of an awakening in Texas.

Whatever the State as a whole may be doing, you are not going to do much better for it unless you put yourself and your personal effort into the progressive movement. Your community can stay moss-backish even when surrounded by communities that have caught the spirit of progress. There is a well known law of compensation that you can't get more out of life than you put into it. You must give out if you would receive, and your returns are proportioned to what you do with more exactness than you imagine. No one can fill your place in the world or do your work, nor can any one receive, in the personal way that you can, the blessings that come from your participation in the world's great work. If you would feel alive you must really live. This applies to the individual and the community alike.

AND HAVE EARNED IT
"How do you like that cigar I gave you, old man? For two hundred hands off that brand they give you a phonograph."
"You don't say; If I smoked two hundred of those cigars I wouldn't want a phonograph; I'd want a harp."

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK
If instead of a gem, or even a flower, we could cast the gift of a lovely thought into the heart of a friend, that would be giving as the angels must give.—George Macdonald.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells, and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes venus-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S. S. BELLAH FOR COMMISSIONER.

The News is authorized to announce the candidacy of Alfred Bellah as a candidate for County Commissioner from Precinct Number Three.

Mr. Bellah is a young farmer of the Ralph community. He has lived in the county for six years and has always taken an active part in the affairs of the county.

Before coming to Randall county, Mr. Bellah was in the mercantile business for several years at Dundee. His business experience would make him a valuable member of the commissioners court if chosen for this office.

Mr. Bellah states that he has never before offered for an office. If elected he will stand for a square deal for every taxpayer, no matter in what part of the county they reside, and for an economical administration of the county's business.

WELCOME BAPTIST STUDENTS.

As pastor of the Baptist church, I wish to extend to all Baptist students, who are here for the summer school, to make the Baptist church your church while in Canyon. I will be glad to counsel with you and help you touching any of your problems and want to be a friend and comrade to each of you. It will be a joy to me if you will feel free to come to me with your problems and I will advise with you and do all in my power to help you. Trusting that you will "Remember Jesus Christ" 2 Tim. 2:8 while you pursue your studies here. I am,

Your friend,
Lyn Claybrook, Pastor Baptist Church.

Wayside Items

June, with its many lovely flowers, is with us. But little warm weather up to the present. Some light showers have fallen but no general rain.

Memorial Day dawned cloudy and threatening. By noon the clouds lifted and a fair crowd assembled to pay tribute to the departed ones. Led by Mrs. Grace McCreery, assisted by some others, a good program was rendered after the graves and yard were cleaned off. The program consisted of special music, readings by pupils from several different schools. After decoration of the graves by the school children, a squad of soldiers in uniform gathered at the graves of Jesse Schaeffer and Edward Carter and paid tribute to our soldier dead, an appropriate and appreciated honor by Waysiders.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Payne and sons, Doyle and Lyn, attended the exercises at Wayside Memorial Day. In his talk Mr. Payne spoke of feeling grateful that his parents were laid to rest where Memorial Day was observed. He returned home the same day, leaving Mrs. Payne and the boys to visit with relatives for a week.

Mrs. Amanda Adams' improvement is slow. She is still unable to move her arm.

Henry J. Stockett accompanied the older Mr. Grigsby to Clarendon where he visited with friends of other days, returning to Canyon Sunday when his brother, W. R. and wife brought him to Wayside.

Miss Lorine McGehee accompanied her brother and sister, Dewitt and Miss Bernice to Canyon Sunday afternoon, where she boarded the train for C. I. A. Denton, Texas, to attend the summer term of school.

Invitations have been sent out for a seven o'clock luncheon by and for W. D. McGehee's 65th birthday, June 4.

Miss Leta Gillham of near Gainesville, Texas, formerly from Wayside, is visiting relatives and friends around Wayside. She and family have many warm friends here.

A bountiful dinner was spread at the church Memorial Day. Quite a number of candidates and their wives attended the exercises.

Charlie Burgess is conducting a singing school at Wayside school building at present to last two weeks. We understand the attendance is pretty good. We wish them much success to all concerned.

Miss Birdie Lou Lane is at home again from the Canyon Teachers' College.

Miss Ruby Lee and Kelly McGehee and O. R. Thomas have been visiting relatives at Wayside.

Miss Eloise Durham will teach English in the summer normal and C. H. Dillehay, superintendent of public schools of Hereford, will teach mathematics.

MOORE-MILTON WEDDING.

Miss Margaret Moore and Billy Milton were united in marriage Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Lester. Judge R. L. Lester officiating. Miss Moore was from Claude and Mr. Milton was from Mobeetie, and were both students of the college. A few of their friends were present. They left immediately for Claude and from there on to Canadian and Mobeetie to visit friends and relatives. They are going to make their home in Canyon.

"THE CONFLICT" PRESENTED.

One of the most enjoyable events of the commencement time was the presentation of "The Conflict" a health masque in three acts by the department of Physical Education Friday night at the auditorium. Miss Elizabeth Dabbs directed the performance, with Miss Frankie Broyles, pianist.

Fifty young women of the College were in the cast, and the presentation was one of the most spectacular and pleasing this department has ever given.

Out of every consumer dollar paid for meat in successful retail markets, seventy-six cents goes to the packer or wholesaler; nineteen cents goes for dealer's expenses; and five cents represents the dealer's profit.

The crisis in an industry, like diggin' coal, ye know—gives rise to apprehensions of the winter with its snow,—and the crisis in the meat-supply, or grain that makes our bread, keeps the average consumer in a constant state of dread. . . . And—it sends the prices skyward, every time the crisis frowns,—when the life preserver's out of reach, of course the sailor drowns. . . . While the wreckin' crew is patchin' up more economic laws, the panic devil tears us with his unrelentin' claws. . . . I have watched the operation through so many gloomy days, that I harbor my suspicions of the feller that it pays. . . . There's a reason, at the bottom of each economic mess,—and when a trouble's chronic, it is hard to cure I guess. . . . Ain't it time for changin' doctors—when the treatment seems to fail? Can small-pox treat itself without the drugs a-growin' stale? We'll never find the remedy in self-inflicted laws, while the pestilence is spreadin' under treatment by its cause!
