TODAY and TOMORROW

THESE PARKS ARE OURS

EDUCATION

new thoughts

I often quote a remark I heard Woodrow Wilson make, years ago. "The purpose of education," he said, "is to make young people different from their parents." Parents lose sight of the fact that, sooner or later, their children are going to take their lives into their own hands, and exercise the inalienable human right of making their own mistakes.

The last thing a school or college should do is to discourage individual thinking. I liked what President Hutchins of Chicago University said the other day. "If you're going to meet new ideas some time, it would seem the part of wisdom to have them meet those new ideas where they are fairly presented by intelligent people who have no axes to grind."

opens doors

There never has been a time, in my experience, when so much thought was being given to the ideas of the young. On the one hand I hear old fogies expressing alarm lest youth get radical ideas from the study of what is going on in Communist Russia and Socialist Germany; and on the other hand I hear ardent young men and women protesting that they should be allowed to express their own beliefs, whether they conform to tradition or not.

of the future

My guess about the kind of social order that is going to come out of the thinking of the youth of today is that it will be based very much more upon collective effort in every phase of life than upon individual initiative. I have a feeling that we are going to evolve in America some sort of a collectivist philosophy which will be neither Communism, Socialism—as we use the term today—nor Fascism.

in churches

I vote 100 percent for the proposal that churches should be "lighted up like motion picture cathedrals." That was recommended to the Methodist Protestant Church Conference last week by its Lord's Day Committee.

GYMNASIUMS

in earnest

The Methodist church has authorized a revised hymn-book, and I am glad to see that most of the thrilling old hymns and tunes have been retained, and only a few of the "unsingable" ones have been dropped. I would like to see more of that sort of thing in our own churches.

EARL HUDDLESTON ABLE TO RETURN TO AUSTIN FOLLOWING CAR MISHAP

In a letter to the News Review, Representative Earl Huddleston includes the following statement, which will be of interest to his constituents:

Singing at Fairly Sunday.

The regular monthly singing at Fairly will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Day represents the Vaughn Music Co. has promised to be here with his new books entitled, "Sunrise in Glory." Other visitors are also expected. We have made a special effort to make this one of our best monthly singings so don't fail to be here and enjoy the singing with us.

TEAGUE VARIETY STORE NOW IN NEW LOCATION

The "Teague" Variety Store, conducted in Hico since the first part of August of this year by Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Teague, has been moved across the street to the building vacated by G. M. Carlton Bros. & Co., until recently used for their men's department.

The move was made over the weekend, the Teagues taking care of their customers at their old location Saturday, and opening up for business Monday morning in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Teague report that their business had been all that they could have expected since coming to Hico, and that it is growing as time goes by and customers learn of their many offerings.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE IN HAMILTON

A vote of 209 to 17 in favor of continuing the Corn-Hog Control Program was the result of the referendum held in Hamilton County last Saturday. The National vote was about 6 to 1 in favor of continuance, and the AAA has already begun plans for a four-year program which will permit an increase in the number of hogs produced, but which will hold the corn acreage in line.

Wheat producers who wish to sign applications for the 1936-37 wheat production control contract will be given an opportunity to fill out these applications in the County Agent's office next week, November 4th to 9th. All applications must be received during that period. Jack Durham is secretary of the recently reorganized Hamilton-Lampasas District Wheat Production Control Association. John W. Hawkins is president, and D. H. Carter is vice-president, and Sid F. Dickerson a member of the Allotment Committee for the association.

The control program for producers of Sugar Cane Syrup does not apply to seeded ribbon cane and sweet sorghums ordinarily used in Hamilton County for syrup making.

Small grain pastures in Hamilton Co. are good this fall, and dairymen are getting a good flow of milk from their cows. However it should be remembered that early train pastures are watery, and for this reason the cows should give access to a little bundle feed or hay. They will not eat much of this dry feed but the little will do them lots of good. Then a concentrate ration composed of 100 pounds ground oats, 200 pounds ground corn, cob, and shucks, and 100 pounds cottonseed meal should be fed at the rate of about 1 pound for each 2-1/2 pounds of milk produced. Dry shelter is also very essential during wet weather and northers.

Dehorning cattle can be done this month to advantage, and will save space and injury during the winter. Properly done, dehorning will not effect cattle much.

Quite a number of cotton producers are securing the 110 pound lint exemption cotton for home use. A quantity of these forms are on hand, and will be issued by Mr. Hinyard to all persons whose names appear on Bank head applications. For example, a producer may have several tenants whose names appear on the B. A. 209. Each one of these parties may secure the 110 pound exemption. Hamilton County should boast a good size crop of new mattresses as a result of this ruling by the cotton section.

Application forms for the subsidy payments to be made by the Cotton Section of the AAA have not yet been received at the County Agent's office, but Sale Certificates for the buyers to sign have been received, and will be sent to the buyers at their request. An adequate supply of these forms are on hand now, and the application forms are expected soon. Payments will be made on an amount of cotton up to the Bankhead allotment for each producer. Applications may be made at any time up to Aug. 1, 1935.

Come one! Come all! - Town-Wide DOLLAR DAYS

Wednesday, Nov. 6th

Time for another big Trades Day has rolled around, and next Wednesday is expected to be a banner day in Hico. The customary gift distribution will be held at 4 o'clock, and many special bargains are advertised for the day.

The staff of the News Review is genuinely proud of this issue of the paper, carrying as it does messages from so many progressive merchants. A special effort was made to secure the cooperation of every business house in town in offering extra inducements for trade, and the result is indeed satisfactory. It seems that most merchants have taken on new life, and are determined to get the ball to rolling.

Take time to look over the advertisements. They represent not only considerable cash outlay on the part of merchants in trying to serve better, but also a great deal of work on the part of the force.

BE SURE TO COME TO HICO WEDNESDAY ...$50.00 FREE...

WEATHER REPORT FOR WEEK ENDING OCT. 29

The following report submitted by L. L. Hudson, cooperative observer for the Climatological Service of the Weather Bureau, U. S. Department of Agriculture, gives a record of conditions for the seven-day period noted:

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Day

Oct. 28	80	45	0.00	Clear
Oct. 29	80	50	0.00	Pt. Cd.

Total precipitation so far this year was brought to 41.40 inches by the heavy rains the first part of last week.

TURKEY RAISERS WARNED TO SHIP PRIME BIRDS ONLY

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26.—Texas turkey raisers were warned Saturday to eliminate short-sighted methods that have resulted in shipping gobblers from this State before the birds were in prime condition which has led to discrimination against the Lone Star product on the Eastern markets.

"Texas producers should feed their birds and not market them until they are in prime condition. With plenty of feed for the purpose, farmers haven't been doing this, and naturally the Texas doing hasn't been what it should be," said John B. Collier, Jr., head of a large poultry firm and chamber of commerce leader here.

"However, Texas still is the largest turkey shipping State, usually supplying about 39,000,000 pounds of dressed birds for the Nation's Thanksgiving and Christmas tables. But the prestige of the Texas turkey has suffered in recent years because of the comparative better finish and quality of birds produced in competing States, notably the Dakotas, California and Missouri. This is a short-sighted procedure on the part of Texas farmers and should be abandoned immediately. Steps should be taken to guard against its recurrence."

NUMBER BALES GINNED.

Census report shows that there were 7,829 bales of cotton ginned in Hamilton County from the crop of 1935 prior to Oct. 18 as compared with 7,668 bales ginned to Oct. 18 crop of 1934.

Applications for Green Hands.

BILL NIX, Chairman of the receiving greenhand application committee, reports there are sixteen boys making application for the greenhand degree. These boys are all enrolled in the first year class, have paid their dues, and have chosen supervised projects for the year. They are: Louis Abel, Sam Abel, Robert Anderson, O. D. Belcher, Grady Brown, Dalton Bullard, Billy Collier, Clifford Herrington, Harry Hodnett, Dan Holladay, Winifred Houston, J. W. McConnell, Travis Nix, Eldon Rogers, Donald Russell and Harold Russell.

Eradication of Peach Tree Borer.

One of the greatest problems of the fruit grower is the eradication of the peach tree borer. This insect resembles the red wax when it is in the adult stage. Its presence is usually marked by a gummy substance on the bark of the tree. The final result is an unhealthy condition and death of the tree. There are several methods of controlling this pest, and one of the best ways is by the use of paradichlorobenzene which is in crystal form. This is applied in late September or early October.

The method of applying this chemical is to fill in all the low places about the base of the tree. The fumigant is then placed in a continuous ring around the tree trunk, there are several methods of controlling this pest, and one of the best ways is by the use of paradichlorobenzene which is in crystal form. This is applied in late September or early October.

Guest of Hamilton Lions Club

Officers of the V. A. Classes were guests of the Hamilton Lions Club for luncheon Tuesday and entertained them by presenting the opening and closing ceremony, the creed, and a description of the emblem that is used by the Future Farmer organization.

The boys who made the trip were: Dan Holladay, O. D. Belcher, Winifred Houston, Bill Nix, A. D. Land, Johnny Wilkins and Robert Anderson.

"POPULARITY MUST BE DE-SERVED"

That is why Chesterfield is the outstanding cigarette. The leaf tobacco used in making Chesterfield is different, the cigarette paper is different and the way Chesterfields are made is different from any other cigarette. Every thing that modern science knows about or that money can buy is used in making Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette.

If you really enjoy a cigarette, that means it is mild—not strong that that cigarette has the right taste—a pleasing flavor and aroma, it just means it satisfies—all a cigarette can do.

CHESTERFIELDS REALLY DO SATISFY.

ANNIVERSARY SALE MARKS BEGINNING OF FIFTH YEAR FOR CAMPBELL'S GROCERY

Marking the close of its fourth year in business at Hico and the beginning of its fifth year of continuous operation, Campbell's Grocery is featuring an Anniversary Sale, details of which may be found in a large display advertisement on Page 5 of this issue of the News Review.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Campbell have applied themselves closely to the operation of their business since establishing their food store here four years ago, and the intervening time has witnessed many improvements in their store and stock as well as a natural, healthy growth in the patronage accorded them.

Mr. Campbell stated to a News Review representative that he had put a lot of thought into preparation for the Anniversary Sale, and that the merchandise and prices featured constitute real values.

FEE AUDIT COMPLETED AFTER FOUR YEARS' WORK BY STATE EMPLOYEES

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—"More than a million and a half dollars has been saved the State of Texas by an investigation of deficiency certificates held by local officers for felony case fees," said State Auditor Orville S. Carpenter about a report completed this week.

Four years ago the audit was started by the Senate Investigating Committee in conjunction with the State Auditor and the State Comptroller. At that time a number of sheriff's were indicted and two other officials committed suicide.

"Local officers receive fees from the State for felony cases and for the legal procedure necessary in prosecution. Deficiency certificates (promises of the State to pay when the Legislature makes an appropriation) are given these local officials. When the Legislature appropriates the money, local officers bring their certificates in and receive payment. Our audit was to determine whether or not these claims were just," Mr. Carpenter explained.

"Forgeries and other irregularities were discovered, but the principal reason for refusing payment on a fee account is that the official has already been paid fees in excess of the amount to which he is legally entitled," the State Auditor said.

"Claims totalling $574,255.53 have been set up against fee officers, and of this amount $19,498.13 in cash has been collected. At present the greater part of the balance of these claims is in the hands of the Attorney General for collection. Of the deficiency certificate audited, $306,850.99 was refused as representing invalid claims for payment against the State. By elimination of practices heretofore existing, $831,714.51 in fees was cut from the judiciary appropriation," he continued.

"Actual saving to the taxpayer made possible by this audit was $1,712,821," Mr. Carpenter declared.

Keeping Up With TEXAS

Victim of a freak shooting, M. U. Frink, 18, Beaumont youth, died Saturday night at a hospital. Frink, an employe of a shooting gallery at the South Texas State Fair grounds, was accidentally wounded when a woman patron, aiming at a "rabbi" target, shot him in the back with a 22 rifle. The bullet pierced his kidney.

Howard Pierson of Austin probably will be committed to a state insane asylum at an early date, according to County Judge of that county. The verdict of a district court jury that the youthful slayer of his parents is insane at present will be certified to the county court and commitment will follow without delay. As a result of the verdict returned Saturday after two hours' deliberation by the jury, Pierson can not be tried on charges that he murdered his father and mother until he becomes sane. Should he ever become sane, the charges could be pressed.

Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and Maj. Paul L. Wakefield, personal representative of Gov. James V. Allred, arrived in Marshall Saturday evening by plane to spend a few hours. They were enroute to Washington. Mr. Jones and Maj. Wakefield were guests of Gov. and Mrs. Allred in Austin at the Rice-Texas football game. They were joined at Marshall by H. R. Safford, senior vice president of the Missouri Pacific, and boarded his private car en route to St. Louis. Mr. Jones went to Houston two weeks ago from Austin where a portrait of him was unveiled in the legislature in an elaborate ceremony.

After next Monday it will cost Dallas motorists a nickel to park at 1,000 choice spots in the downtown business section. The police traffic department, rushing the installation of posts for parking meters, announced the nickel collectors would be set up over the week end and ready to do business bright and early Monday. Police have hope the meters will relieve congestion and double parking downtown. They also expect the meters—costing $30 apiece—to pay for themselves in a few months and then provide cash to buy other traffic control equipment.

More music and color than have ever marked a preceding homecoming event at Baylor is planned for this year's celebration in Waco Saturday morning when a parade featuring 25 decorated floats and five bands will pass through principal streets of the business section of the city. Gaily decorated floats will be entered in the parade by all of the Baylor classes and by most of the campus organizations while music for the occasion will be supplied by Baylor's own Golden Wave band, the bands of Waco High School, West and South Junior High schools, and the Waco Firemen.

William Newland, who has been handling Corpus Christi arrangements for a proposed state park on Padre Island, said Wednesday the project was practically assured with the state highway commission on record agreeing to build causeways across Laguna Madre, connecting the island with the mainland. The Jones brothers of Kansas City, owners of the island, Newland said, have agreed to sell the property to the state park board for $400,000. Both Newland and Dave Colp, state park board chairman expressed confidence of success.

One hundred visiting delegates and 290 local representatives registered in Fort Worth Wednesday for the twenty-first biennial meeting of the Masonic relief association of the United States and Canada which will hold a two-day session here. Following the registration, the group held a business meeting. Lewis E. Smith of Omaha, Neb., president, called the meeting to order.

Fred Glassie, 35, who lived the past six years on the blood of others, lost his fight against pneumonia Wednesday and died in a Fort Worth hospital. Once every six weeks, Glassie, suffered from aplastic anemia, had to go to a hospital for a blood transfusion. Without those transfusions he became weaker and weaker and was faced with certain death. Glassie entered a Fort Worth hospital Oct. 18. Doctors said he apparently had recovered from the pneumonia but he suddenly became weaker, due to decrease in the number of blood cells in his body. At the time of his death, physicians said he had only 500 white blood cells, compared to 8,000 in the normal person. He had 800,000 red blood cells, compared to 5,000,000 in the normal adult.

By John Thomas Wilson
 NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Popular votes, electoral votes and percentages this week enter into calculations on the balloting in the nation-wide "Next President" poll. With total returns of 84,042 ballots from 38 states received here at national headquarters, the tabulations today show President Roosevelt leading in popular votes, 42,119 to 35,091 but Republican presidential choices leading in electoral votes, 355 to 223.

In popular vote, President Roosevelt is leading in 19 states; Republican choices are leading in 18 states; while one state, Georgia, is in the column of "Other Democratic choices." The percentage distribution of the total number of 84,042 votes received here to date, are as follows:

Roosevelt 51 per cent
 Other Democratic choices 5 per cent
 All Republican choices 42 per cent
 Third Party choices 1 per cent.

The state by state tabulation of the nation-wide vote, printed here with, shows a close race in many states. At one point Roosevelt may be leading by a narrow margin and at another point the Republican choices may show only a slight lead. But regardless, as the vote now stands, the distribution of electoral votes is as follows:

For Roosevelt: Ala. 12; Ark. 7; Cal. 5; Fla. 14; Ind. 15; Ky. 12; La. 10; Me. 3; Mass. 14; Mich. 15; Mo. 18; N. C. 12; Okla. 10; S. C. 9; Tenn. 12; Tex. 20; Va. 12; W. Va. 5; Wyo. 1. Total 223.

Electoral votes for Republican choices: Calif. 13; Ill. 20; Iowa 11; Kan. 10; Me. 4; Minn. 12; Neb. 5; N. H. 4; N. J. 14; N. Y. 41; N. Da. 5; Ohio 14; Ore. 1; Pa. 18; S. Da. 1; Vt. 4; Wash. 7; Wyo. 1. Total 255.

Local Battle Ground

Some leading political observers have recently pointed out that indications for a tight and close presidential race next year were already being manifest... and that the battle ground would most likely be in key eastern and mid-western states.

The returns in this nation-wide poll, which is being conducted by this and some 1,000 other newspapers, bear out these predictions, even at this early stage of the balloting.

By eliminating the total "solid south" votes for all choices, the closeness of the race may be judged. The "solid south" states are: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia.

The total votes for the respective choices in those 10 states and from which returns have been received are as follows: Roosevelt, 17,942; Other Democratic choices, 1,817; All Republican choices, 1,532. By deducting the above totals from the total votes cast in 38 states, these results in the other 28 states are shown: Roosevelt, 24,217; Other Democratic choices, 2,894; All Republican choices, 27,548.

Conceding that the "Other Democratic" votes would go to Roosevelt in official balloting, we get these figures for the 28 states outside the solid south:

Roosevelt 24,511
 Republican Choices 27,548

In popular vote percentages for the entire 38 states, to date, as strictly between Roosevelt and Republican choices, they stand: Roosevelt 56 per cent.
 Republican Choices 42 per cent.

Roosevelt shows a gain of 1.81 per cent over one week ago, when on 34,477 ballots he had 54 per cent to Republican choices 45 per cent.

The state by state tabulation of the national vote and the breakdown of the first, second and third choice vote for the respective favorites, furnish some interesting figures for the voters' perusal. They are printed herewith.

You Can Still Vote.

There is still time to vote in this nation-wide poll. If you will hurry, the "Next President" ballot is printed on another page of this newspaper. Clip, vote and mail the ballot to this newspaper today. We will rush it along to the Publishers Association Service in New York, the newspaper service company which agreed to tabulate the national vote and give us weekly reports.

It is strictly a non-partisan poll. You do not have to sign your name. Let's all help show the voters everywhere who is our favorite presidential choice for the 1936 race.

Ritchie	142	458	130
Jim Reed	89	54	55
Murray	104		15

Each week brings forward new names for sparse and scattered votes as loyal followers cast ballots for favorite sons and governors in the respective states. Included in the balloting this week were: Garner, Gore, Wallace, Drury, Douglas, Clark, Tidings, Col. Workman, Davis, Harry Moore, McAdoo, Baker, Hall, Tagwell, Henry Ford, Robinson, Ickes and Sheppard.

Final Installment.
Mechanically Ben made an effort to rise, but could not manage it.

"Must have hit on my head," he mumbled thickly, and raised groping fingers. Then he sat up. He knew now that he had not fallen into a pit.

"Where are they? What's happened?"
Betty was sobbing wildly; her hair hung in a cascade about her shoulders; she was clad only in her nightdress, and it was soaked with the water she had poured over Ben to revive him.

Beside the open door to the hall lay the wreck of a chair; two of its legs were splintered, broken off; Ben realized more clearly now what it was that had crashed down upon his head. With an effort he scrambled dizzily to his feet. Water was trickling into his eyes and blinding him; he brushed it away, then discovered, to his great surprise, that it was not water at all, but blood, his own blood. His head felt twice its normal size; his brain did not work clearly and his limbs refused to obey.

Betty's voice came to him as if from a long distance; she was telling him something, trying to make him understand that they were alone in the house and that their assailant had fled. When this became plain to Furlong, he sat down.

It was some time before the girl succeeded in stanching that flow of blood wound, for she was scarcely in condition to render help to anybody. By the time her task was completed Ben had managed to get a pretty clear idea of what had happened. She had been awakened by a sound and had realized that somebody was in her room; she had uttered a frightened challenge, only to feel groping hands upon her, to find herself in the grasp of some unseen person. She retained no very clear recollection of anything after that; the rest was a hideous nightmare. Not until the miscreant had bolted out of the house and she had finally managed somehow to strike a light was she made aware of the reason for his flight. Then she had stumbled over Ben and had realized that it was his voice she had heard calling to her, that it was the sound of his coming that had interrupted the attack. His plight had done a good deal to bring her back to herself, but now she threatened to again abandon her self-control.

Furlong checked this by saying: "Betty Durham! You've got nothing on but your nightgown!"

It was some time later when the girl merged from her room, dressed after fashion, to find her deliverer waiting in the kitchen with a scowl upon his face.

"You got a gun?" he inquired, harshly.

"No, Ben. Why?"

"I'm going to kill Maddox."

For a moment Betty stared at the speaker; with shaking fingers she plucked at her dress. It was in a thin, greedy voice that she said: "It wasn't Maddox."

"How do you know?"

"Oh, I know! It wasn't Maddox."

"How do you know?"

"Oh, I know! It wasn't Maddox."

"Are you sure?" The girl nodded, and Ben bowed his throbbing head in his hands. "I'm glad," he groaned. "Providence certainly brought me back. It wouldn't happen that way once in a thousand times. Whoever it was, I'll find him."

Both the man and the girl were in wretched condition. The rest of the night they sat together, watching the clock and listening for a possible return of the marauder, waiting for the day to break.

It was shortly after they had finished breakfast that Furlong was surprised to discover signs of activity, movements, goings-on at the well which caused him to stare fixedly, then to announce incredulously: "Say! I believe Maddox is fixing to shoot the well!"

Betty took her place at his side. "Why—he can't! He dasset! The powder men won't be here till tomorrow."

"All the same, he's doing something queer. See those cans—those shiny things?"

"You couldn't hire Tiller to touch nitroglycerine. He's scared of it."

Ben uttered an oath. "I tell you he's filling those cartridges. He's crazy! You've got to stop him!"

Betty turned white; she shook her head. "I won't go near the place. It's—it's Aunt Mary's well."

frantic tones of appeal: "Let him go, Ben. He knows what he's doing. You've got no right stopping him. You'll just make trouble—"

"It's none of my business," the latter agreed, impatiently. "but there's something crooked—"

He ceased speaking; then he seized Betty and whirled her around with sharp command. "Run! Get back!"

They were still a hundred yards from the well, but Furlong's practiced eye had seen something that suddenly raised the hair upon his head. That rope from which was suspended the heavy charge of liquid death no longer hung vertically. It no longer ran over the block and into the casing; instead it was falling in loops about Maddox. It was coming up out of the well!

Maddox himself was alive to what had happened. That which he most greatly feared had come upon him, and he also turned to scrambled to their feet, dazed, shaken, terrified, it was to find themselves enveloped in a mighty dust cloud. The eighty-foot tower of heavy timbers was gone; in an instant it had utterly vanished. Where it had stood was a shallow, smoking crater. Splinters of planking, debris of every sort, were scattered far and wide; particles of earth and gravel were raining from the heavens with the sound of a heavy hailstorm; nothing remained except the boiler and engine, and the former lay upon its side. Even the bushes had been shipped out, uprooted, shaved off as by a sweeping scythe.

That afternoon Furlong's friend, the engineer, came over to the farmhouse with a considerable bundle in his arms.

"How's Betty?" he inquired.

"She's alright, but pretty well bruised, of course."

"Well, I guess there's nothing more us boys can do, so we're going to town."

"Right; I'll stay here until Mrs. Durham gets back."

"Here's all of Tiller's stuff that we could find. I reckon you better look after it."

"Anything besides clothes?"

"Not much. A few letters and things we found in his bunk. Miz' Durham can keep 'em in case he's got relatives. There's one suit of clothes that would fit me. No use to throw 'em away. Say! It's funny how scared he was of powder. It musta been a hunch."

Shortly after the engineer had left, Ben came to Betty with a queer light in his eyes. In his hand he held an old sheet of foolscap paper.

"Feel strong enough to stand another explosion?" he inquired with an effort to suppress his agitation. "Well, the queerest thing! This farm doesn't belong to your aunt Mary, after all; it belongs to you!" The girl gasped; she voiced some breathless query, but Ben ran on: "Your uncle Joe left it to you, just as he promised. He left everything to you, except a thousand dollars to her. This is his will and Maddox had it. I guess it's a good will, even though your uncle wrote it himself. Anyhow, it's witnessed by two people—Maddox and another. From the date I figure it must have been signed just a day or so before he was killed."

"Where did it come from? How did Maddox—?"

"I've figured that out, too. Mr. Durham must have had it in his pocket when Maddox found him. That would explain everything—how he made your aunt do just what he wanted and why she didn't dare to fire him."

"That's why she said I'd have to marry him! That's why—Oh, Ben! Betty rose suddenly and clutched Furlong. "I knew she was a mean, selfish old thing, but I never thought she was so—wicked. This oil is a curse to poor people. I hate it!"

"Why, Betty?" Furlong exclaimed. "You're the wicked one to quarrel—"

"She's the only kin I've got left and I tried my best to love her."

He seized Betty, whirled her around and yelled, "Run! Get back!"

"Then I'll stop him. Why, it's men to one he'll tear the rock, ruin the whole job and—damned if I don't believe he's trying to do that very thing!"

Furlong started for the door, but Betty clung to him. When he pushed on past her she followed him. Together they hurried across the field and took the path through the mesquite. As they went the girl continued to implore him not to interfere.

Halfway to the drilling camp they met the engineer hastening towards the farmhouse, and the latter announced, breathlessly: "Tiller's gone plumb off his nut! He's going to shoot the well himself. You better stay clear."

Furlong dashed past the speaker and emerged from the shelter of the bushes in time to see Maddox gingerly swing a long cylindrical tin over the well mouth and guide it into the opening. A new manila rope had been run through a block on the derrick, and with this he lowered the charge.

Ben yelled at him; he waved his arms. Maddox glanced over his shoulder, then let the line slide smoothly through his hands.

"Take my tip an' don't go too close," the engineer shouted. "He ain't no powder man an' that well's makin' gas. She blows off every few minutes."

Betty seconded this warning in flee. But the platform was slippery, or else he tripped over the rope and fell. The others heard his cry in terror. He quickly regained his feet, but to Furlong it seemed as if his movements thereafter were maddenedly slow and deliberate.

The engineer's apprehensions had been well grounded. Once again gas had been released far down in the earth, and now, like breath forced from the lungs, of some tortured giant, it rose, propelling the smoothly fitting cartridge of nitroglycerine ahead of it as a pea is propelled out of a pea-shooter. It was a phenomenon by no means unusual in a well as unstable in its balance of forces as this one. In fact, under like conditions none but a madman would have dared to risk Maddox's menuever.

The latter had not put fifty feet behind him when up out of well mouth shot the gleaming tin cylinder. Directly above and in its path hung the massive forty-foot steel bit suspended from its wire cable.

What happened next the observers were never able to agree upon, but the world dissolved into an inferno of smoke and flame and the suddenness of it rocked the sky, upheaved the earth. The two came together with a cataclysmic roar. Furlong and Betty Durham were tossed headlong, flung down like straws. When they

DOCTORS KNOW

Mothers read this:

THREE STEPS TO RELIEVING CONSTIPATION

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use a liquid laxative.

If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.

But she was so greedy for quick money that nothing mattered. Maddox, too! It made beasts of them. I almost wish we'd never heard of oil. After a moment the speaker continued, more quietly: "I lied to you last night. It was Tiller who came here."

Furlong's body stiffened, he breathed an oath, then he muttered: "I thought so. Why didn't you tell me?"

"What's more, she knew he was coming! They arranged it. She as good as sent him! That's how he got the kitchen key." This announcement the man greeted with the growl of an animal. He began to pace about the room; his face had grown black and threatening; his fingers were working as he stormed:

"Wait! Wait, till she gets back here!" "You can't lay your hands on a woman—"

"Can't I?" he breathed. Betty shook her head; a moment, then a new expression slowly crept into her eyes; her chin set itself firmly. "No!" she declared. "But you can lay 'em on her trunk and drag it out here where I can pack it!"

"I sure can." Ben agreed. "And what's more, when you get it packed I can lug it out to the gate where it will be nice and handy for her." As he finished speaking his frown disappeared; it was replaced by a grin and he said: "Say Betty! What d'you think? I'm going to marry an heiress, after all."

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Oct. 30.—Nothing since the adjournment of Congress has stirred up so much real interest in Washington as the fact that Col. Louis McHenry Howe, Chief of the White House Secretariat, has so far recovered from his long illness that he was able to give an extended interview on politics at the Naval Hospital the other day. Col. Howe has been for more than 20 years Mr. Roosevelt's closest friend and chief political mentor. Those who are most familiar with the President's rise from State Assemblyman to the White House, give Col. Howe much credit for the political strategy by which those steps were achieved.

For more than a year Col. Howe has been so ill that he had to stay under an oxygen tent in his bed at the White House. He was later removed to the Naval Hospital and is still a very sick man, but he talked about politics the other day in a way that indicates that his mind is functioning along political lines as clearly as ever.

Campaign of Policies.
Col. Howe's view is that the Presidential campaign of 1936 will be fought on questions of policies rather than of personalities. The real issue, as he sees it, will be whether the efforts of the Administration to protect the liberties and the rights of "the little fellows" have been wise and effective.

The veteran political adviser to the President believes that the mass of voters is taking a greater interest in Government than ever before, and that the issues of the next campaign will be determined by the people rather than by political leaders. He gave it as his opinion that the Opposition is a little too eager and somewhat premature in its efforts to determine the issues so far in advance of the campaign.

Borah and Teddy.
Of almost equal interest was the exchange of views between Senator Borah of Idaho and Col. Theodore Roosevelt of New York. Senator Borah suggested that the main issue of the Republican campaign next year might well be based upon the "Trust Busting" policy for which President Theodore Roosevelt stood so firmly.

To this, "Yung Teddy" took exception. Without questioning the importance of the anti-monopoly issue of his distinguished father, he did not agree that it would be the major issue of the campaign. He thought the Republicans could get farther by attacking waste and extravagance under the present Administration.

Senator Borah, is, as always, a bit of an enigma. Every poll of Republican voters that has been taken on Presidential preferences continues to show the veteran statesman from Idaho as far in the lead. Yet there is a very decided belief in all political quarters that he will not be the Republican nominee. Whatever he has to say about the party platform, however, will have a great deal of influence.

Much the same is true of former President Hoover. Whether or not Mr. Hoover desires a re-election, evidence accumulates that he is setting up a propaganda machine for the purpose of spreading his own views on issues and candidates before the people.

Hoover in Ohio.
The latest bit of gossip about Mr. Hoover's political activities is that he is working with party leaders in Ohio, including his Postmaster General, Walter F. Brown of Toledo, and ex-Senator Simon Pess, who was the Republican National Chairman in the 1932 campaign. The purpose is said to be that of sending a hand-picked Ohio delegation to the Convention next year, ostensibly in favor of former Governor Cooper, but ready to swing to Mr. Hoover if the favorable moment should arise.

New Consumer Division.
The latest effort of the Administration to bring the Government into closer touch with the people is the establishment of a "Consumers' Division" the purpose of which is to aid the buying public to get more for its money. Mrs. Emily Newell Blair of Missouri is at the head of it. The official title is the Directors' Council. Its purpose, announced by Walter K. Hamilton, Adviser to the President on Consumer Problems, is to devise ways of giving expert personal and group advice, to stimulate interest in the problems of the consumer and find ways and means to induce larger and more economical production of useful goods and betterment of the American standard of living.

Plans are being worked out for the consolidation of all the various bureaus having to do with home-building into one compact and workable organization.

A CONVICTION NAILED DOWN

There may be some folks who still believe Bruno Hauptmann is not guilty of the kidnaping and killing of the Lindbergh baby, even though the High Court of Appeals of New Jersey has affirmed his conviction. Apparently in the hope that the orderly processes of law can be stayed in their course, a great effort has been made and still persists to create doubt. One can hardly blame a man under sentence of death for resorting to any means to save his neck. But if there still were any reasonable doubt of Hauptmann's guilt, the last vestige of that doubt seems to have been removed by the disclosure that even the very nails with which the kidnap ladder was put together came from the identical keg of nails he bought to build his own garage.

The tracing of the wood from which the ladder was made, to the floorboards of Hauptmann's attic, was a most remarkable feat of scientific detection. Now it appears that this was matched by painstaking work of another scientific investigator, who found that all the 45 nails in the ladder matched in every detail the unused nails in a keg in the Hauptmann garage, but also some 275 nails which had been used in building the garage, even to minor imperfections.

There would seem to be no way for a criminal to escape detection, if sufficient skill and patience is devoted to his pursuit. Human beings may give false evidence, intentionally or by inadvertence, but boards and nails, tool-marks and fingerprints, tell nothing but the truth. They cannot lie.

A famous hand lotion is now sold in a bottle that pours out just the right amount in your hand. Nonsticky, and quick drying. It makes an excellent base for your powder.

Salem Community Club to Meet Friday Night, Nov. 8th

The Salem Community Club will meet Friday night, November 8, at the school auditorium. One of the outstanding club programs of the year is expected. Bill Gee's orchestra including himself, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Paulkner, and Luther Pittman will entertain with both modern popular songs and breakdown numbers. Mr. and Mrs. Paulkner will delight the audience with several novelty numbers. Gee's orchestra has recently added a loud speaker to its equipment which will be used in this program.

Teachers of the school will produce several interesting numbers from each room. Miss Hazel Joe English's room will have as its feature attraction a balloon blowing contest, and Mr. Harbin's room will do a cracker contest. These and other numbers are expected to bring plenty of fun and laughter.

J. W. Hornburg, superintendent of the Shiloh school will address the club, but his subject has not been announced.

Thurman Harbin of the Salem school will outline the year's work and make a plea for cooperation of the Salem community.

This program, as all other community club programs will be given free. Mr. Harbin announces and he heartily invites you to attend each program.

School has now been in progress for six weeks.

Senior Class News.
The Senior Class of Fairly High School met Monday morning for the purpose of electing class officers. The following were elected: Pres., Eursie Hackett; Vice Pres., Ruby Davis; Sec.-Treas., Carroll Akin; Class Reporter, Woodrow Williamson; Water-entertainment committee, Elton Freeman, Odum Russell, and Waynard Allison; reporter, Mr. Miller. Colors, pink and white; Motto, "Strive for Success;" Flowers, roses.

We, the Seniors of Fairly High School have ordered our class rings and we think they are the prettiest Fairly has ever possessed. We also picked our diplomas.

Junior Class News.
The Juniors met last Tuesday afternoon and organized their class. The following officers were elected: Pres., Dalton Driver; Vice Pres., Etheridge Williamson; Class Reporter, Donnie Wolfe; Sec. and Treas., Loyd Bullard; Sec.-Treas., Loyd Bullard; program com., Hazel Hargrove, Shirley Arrant and Donnie Wolfe.

This is examination week and we are very busy getting ready for the tests.

Sophomore News.
The ninth grade have elected their class officers, they are as follows:
Pres., Ruth Trimmier; Vice Pres., Tommie Joe Allison; Sec.-Treas., Lucille Herricks; Class reporter, Wynell Blacklock; sponsor, Miss Stringer; program committee, J. N. Pitts, Geraldine Brummett and Margie Lee Hutton.

Freshman Class News.
The freshman class elected their officers Friday afternoon. They are as follows: Pres., Kenneth Miller; Sec.-Treas., Daphne Hoover; Class reporter, Wilma Shepherd; sponsor, Miss Christenson.

Fifth and Sixth Grade News.
The fifth and sixth grades have a larger enrollment than they had last year. There are sixteen in the fifth grade and seventeen in the sixth. Although many were forced to stay out the first week to pick cotton, attendance is now practically a hundred per cent. This is the week for our first six weeks' test and everybody has been so busy that the detention hall has not been necessary.

Third and Fourth Grades.
We are starting the week off with quite a fall room. There are sixteen enrolled in the fourth grade and seventeen in the third grade.

Everyone is quite anxious to get his report card the last of the week and we hope nobody is disappointed.

We did not get any reports from the first, second, and seventh grades, but don't get disappointed because we have those grades. If you were here you could hear them.

Sport News.
The Fairly basketball squad has been working very hard while it was dry. The Fairly Tigers have a good showing this year. We have a game this week with Alexander. The Fairly Tigers are going to play the Lamkin Ponies Friday night, Nov. 5 at Lamkin.

The girls have met and elected their officials for this basketball team. The following officers were elected: Captain, Etheridge Williamson; Lieut. Captain, Vance Bakley; Sec., Ruby Davis; Manager, Wilma Shepherd.

"Nonsense."
Eursie: "Fee Wee, did you know that your dog killed my cat?"
Pee Wee: "Yes, but I put a muzzle on him last night. I'm sure he won't do it again."

Old Backwoodsman: "Hey there son, quit pointing that shotgun at your little bud. It might go off and kill one of those chickens he's playing with."

I was told Monday morning that the school had installed a bath tub, on investigating I found it was only a sink in the science room.

Entertainment.
There will be a carnival at the school house Thursday night. Ev-

Mrs. J. Earle Harrison, Mrs. F. M. Richbourg and son, and Miss Quata Richbourg were visitors in Dallas and Waco Wednesday. Mrs. Richbourg and son remained in Dallas for a more extended visit with relatives.

Ben White of Pampa and his father-in-law, Will Rusk of near Hico visited his brother, Clem White last week end. Mrs. Orville Glover and son of Prairie Springs also visited in the White home.

Leslie Wall has accepted a position with the Garner-Alvis Dry Goods Co. at Hamilton having started his duties on Tuesday of last week. Mr. Wall is a young, energetic business man and the Hamilton store is fortunate in securing his services.

Mrs. N. A. Leath who has been in the Hamilton Sanitarium for sometime where she underwent an operation, is improving rapidly. Mr. Leath has been over there most every day since she has been ill. Her many friends will be delighted to hear this good news.

See us before you sell Cream. We have a good price.—N. A. Leath & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Aycock spent the week end in Dallas visiting their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alexander and son, Mr. Aycock returned home Monday but Mrs. Aycock remained for the week.

Miss Mildred Persons left this week for Dallas where she will remain for the next four weeks attending the Social Service Institute. Through the PWA she was given a leave of absence to attend this institute. She will take up seven subjects, studying them thoroughly to better qualify her in her position with the PWA. This school is conducted at the Civic Federation Building in Dallas.

Mrs. E. E. Dawson was called to Goliad last week by the illness of a daughter, Mrs. C. E. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Creath of Coleman were recent guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Wiseman.

Mrs. H. Smith and granddaughter, Betty Baldwin, spent the week end in Dallas, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Blackburn. Mrs. Blackburn was the former Miss Mary Smith of Hico.

The ladies of the Methodist Church will sell cakes, pies and other good things to eat at Barrow's Store Saturday, Nov. 2. Phone special orders to Miss Wilena Purcell or Mrs. Whigham.

W. M. U. Met at Baptist Church Monday Afternoon

The Circle Edna Mosley met Monday afternoon at 3 p. m. The hostess being absent, we went to the church and had a short business session, and arranged the program for Thursday evening at 3 o'clock. It is for State Missions.

Next Monday, Nov. 4, we will have a Royal Service program and refreshments will be served. The meeting will be at the church at 3 p. m. You are cordially invited. REFORTER.

W. M. S. Held Interesting Meeting With Mrs. Angell Monday

The Woman's Missionary Society met with Mrs. Louise Angell on Monday afternoon, October 28th, with Mrs. Eakins as leader. The devotional by Mrs. Cole consisted of Scriptures: Matt. 5:16-12; Rom. 8:18; 1 Peter 4:13; John 15:29, with prayer by Mrs. Cunningham.

The leaflet: "A Workers' Conference on City Evangelistic Work in Korea," was participated in by all present and proved very instructive as to our work in Korea.

Mrs. Cunningham, as Christian Social Relations Supt. brought before us several items of interest and thought in our political and economic conditions in our own land.

The hymn "Publish Glad Tidings" followed by the W. M. S. benediction concluded the service. During the social hour, Mrs. Angell assisted by Mrs. Dix and little Miss Francis Angell, served the following members: Mrs. Eakins, Mrs. Cole, Miss Rosalie Eakins, Mrs. Lusk Randall, Mrs. W. P. Cunningham, Miss Wilena Purcell, refreshments of gingerbread topped with whipped cream, and hot tea.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Clepper and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Clepper were called to Gordon last Monday on account of the serious illness of Mrs. J. P. Clepper's father, Joseph F. Butler, who passed away that night at 11 o'clock. He had been ill about a week. At the time of his death he was 74 years, 11 months and 18 days of age. Mr. Butler was a native of South Carolina, having been born at Greenville, S. C. in the year 1860. He moved to Texas when 17 years of age. At the age of 21, he was converted and united with the Methodist church. He was married to Miss Louisa Hubbard at Gordon in 1882. Seven boys and one girl survive, also 41 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren. The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Gordon Methodist Church and interment made in the Fox Mountain Cemetery.

How To Get Rich.

Most of us have the ambition to accumulate a surplus of wealth and treasure, which is perfectly natural and proper. Now is the time to prepare ourselves to meet the possible needs of the future. No one can accomplish all of which he is capable if he is uneducated, so let everyone study hard and someday he may be rich. However, he must try to realize which treasures will prove most enduring and satisfactory. Once a small boy worked all of his spare time for three weeks for a pretty looking watch chain which resembled gold, but turned to brass in a few weeks. Many spend their entire lives laboring for gold plated treasures and are dismayed when the brass appears. Let us lay foundations for our treasures now.

The See All-Know All

Wonder where Eddie Mae and Juanita Jones went Friday night. Poor Margaret Reilhan—she goes about in the hall saying: "I'd just love to go with Tom Herbert, but if I can't have him, I'll just go with O. M. since his hair is cut so cute."

Who likes the names William, Willard and Herman? It couldn't have been a Junior girl.

I wonder if Jack Hollis' rib is giving him any trouble.

We hear Louise likes to stop at drug stores with her boy friends.

Wonder when Loyd is going to start cutting wood.

Our Dignified Ones.

Monday the Seniors elected their two candidates for the popularity contest. They were Louise Seago and A. D. Land. We want the support of all who are interested in these candidates. We are sure the Seniors will stand behind their "curly-headed" boy candidate and do our best to make him the winner.

Miss SaraLee certainly believes in giving the Seniors the work. On Monday we had a very hard essay to ready by DeQuincy. Tuesday we had a five-page Fire Prevention theme; and Wednesday we had memory work from Macbeth. Look out, Miss SaraLee, you will be giving us more D's if you are not careful.

Social Sandbag

Katherine had a private party Saturday night. This is such a rare occurrence that I can think of nothing else to write. M. M.

what did you learn in Sunday School today?
Daisy: (Absentmindedly): "His eyes are blue."

The Jolly Juniors.

The "Prodical" son had returned. We, the Juniors, are very glad to have A. C. back after an absence of about three weeks of roaming the country.

Lorraine Logan and Dan Holliday were elected for the most popular girl and boy out of the tenth grade for the popularity contest. We would appreciate any votes cast in their favor.

With Halloween just a few days off, preparations are being made for a party Thursday night. It is to be sponsored by the football boys and pep squad girls; and will be in the former "Teague Building."

Seventh Grade News.

A. C.: "I say, Glen, what do you think of a fellow who deliberately makes a girl blush?"
Glen: "I think he is a genius."

Although we are not entering the popularity contest we are going to lend our support to our choice of the high school contestants.

The seventh grade organized a book club, Friday. Those elected were as follows: President, Mary Brown; Vice President, Wilma Whigham; Secretary, Mary Ella McCullough.

The seventh grade is making a collection of maps. We have quite a few nice ones.

Mary Ella and Richard fishing. Mary Ella: "Richard, how much does that little cork that floats in the water cost?"

Richard: "Oh, about a dime, why?"
Mary Ella: "Well, I guess I owe you a dime, my cork went under the water."

By MISS STELLA JONES, Local Correspondent

A. L. Harris is very ill and is at the Stephenville Hospital.

Miss Mittie Gordon reports her brothers, John W. and Willie Gordon as getting along fine. John was operated on and is back at his home in Denton. Willie is in the Santa Fe Hospital at Temple, and is getting along fine. He was knocked off or fell off a freight train and badly hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McLaughlin and daughter of Fort Worth spent the week end here.

James Fowler of Georgetown visited his friend, Miss Johns this week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Daves of Wichita Falls visited his parents this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Anderson who lived here several years ago, were here Saturday. They live in Dublin.

Albert Pike who is in school at Austin spent the week end with homefolks.

Miss Eunice Davis is in Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Whitley and mother were in Meridian Saturday.

Mrs. Ivis Hanshaw of Flag Branch visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Koonsman this week.

Mrs. O. L. Tidwell visited in Fort Worth and Cisco this week.

Roy Harris came in Sunday from his home in Houston and went on Sunday to Stephenville to see his father who is very ill.

Mrs. Ione Blue was in Hico Saturday.

Mrs. Fouts, Mrs. C. R. Conley and Mrs. Coleman Newman were in Stephenville Saturday to see their father, Ed. Newman's grandfather, Mr. Harris.

Mrs. Leland Neighbors has started her school at Spring Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wyche entertained some young folks at their home Thursday night.

Miss Irene Huckabee, who is in John Tarleton spent the week end at home.

Mrs. John Miller was called to Dallas Wednesday as her daughter, Mrs. Ed. Haggert would be operated on that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Woody spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff.

Olin Brantley, who lives close to Meridian and works here in the barber shop, spent the week end with his wife.

Some of the relatives of Mr. Harris visited him Sunday at Stephenville. His friends hope he will recover soon.

The Flag Branch school has started and Coleman Newman is teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Park Ogden and Mr. and Mrs. Lawson of near Meridian, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gann. Mrs. Gann went home with them.

Word was received here that Albert Matthews had died. He was in a sanitarium at Waco. He lived in Walnut. He died Sunday morning at 11. Dr. and Mrs. Pike went to Walnut Sunday afternoon. His wife is Mrs. Pike's cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sadler and son of Beaumont visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bryan from Tuesday until Saturday.

Mrs. Putnam, who fell and hurt herself has recovered and is back with Mr. and Mrs. Dearing.

A new fence has been put up on one side of the Riverside Cemetery to keep the cows out. The stock should not be allowed to go in there and the fence has been put up to stop the cows from coming in.

Rev. Lester got a hand burned Sunday when he turned a gas burner on. The hand isn't burnt as bad as they thought it was.

Mrs. Jackson is improving some and able to sit up of which her friends are glad to know.

Mrs. Emma Roberts of Hico is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dearing.

Ray Tidwell was very ill Sunday night but is some better. Was able to be in town Monday afternoon.

After nearly a week of rainy weather, Monday morning dawned very bright and beautiful.

Remember next Sunday will be Rev. Nation's last time to preach here, so all come and hear him. All the members are urged to bring a dollar to pay on the salary. It is hoped Rev. Nation will be returned here.

Mr. Gann got kicked by a mule Monday morning. He was leading him and without warning, he kicked him in the chest. He was taking the mule to Mr. White.

Some one came along and brought him to the doctor. It is hoped he will not have any bad results from the kick. He will have to stay in bed a few days.

Edna Blue spent the week end with Neva Koonsman.

Dr. and Mrs. Pike, Mrs. J. L. Goodman, Mrs. T. Mitchell and Mrs. Clanton attended the funeral of Mr. Matthews at Walnut Monday afternoon. He is known here and their friends extend to the bereaved wife their sympathy. She was Miss Mattie Gene Smith, and is well known here.

"DRAGON'S DEN"

Tidiness in School.

It may be said that the school building is our home for about nine months. It is the place we stay most of the day; therefore, let us strive to make it a desirable place to stay.

In order to accomplish this goal, we should resolve to be tidier. This can be done by following these simple precepts; use the paper basket to dispose of your desk; return magazines to the library when you have finished with them; avoid eating nuts; place all scraps and peelings in the waste paper basket at noon; and clean your feet before entering the building.

These are not difficult to do, so let's do them so frequently that they will finally become fixed habits in our daily lives.

The Junior Chorus, which consists of grammar school students selected by Miss McMahan, went to Cleburne Saturday to sing Centennial songs for the district teachers' meeting.

The following students went: Irma Jo Whitley, Delpha Dawson, Madeline Harper, Allene Chaffin, Willena Partain, Bruce Myers, Bascom Mitchell, Georgella Harris, Alta Mae Fritz, Billie Louise Montgomery, John D. Smith, Wilma Gene Herring, Charlene Conley, Dorothy Jaque Weeks, Jack Fodd, James Arthur Davis, James Cavness, Byron Loader, Joe Dale Parter, Rudell Blue, Bernice Pylant and Kathryn Harris.

There were about four hundred children in all representing various schools in district ten, however, Iredell was the only school in this county that was represented.

This group of four hundred children had been trained by their individual music instructors, but they were so trained that they gave a splendid program under the direction of a man whom they had never seen before.

From the reports brought back by the teachers, the Iredell students performed well, and their conduct was irreproachable.

Home Projects in Home Ecs.

This year each home economics student is required to work out some sort of problem at home putting into practice the knowledge she gained in class.

Miss Stanton will check these projects from time to time. She'll probably drop in when the girls are least expecting her.

It has required some little consideration on their part to determine what project to choose. At last each girl has selected her home project.

In choosing a project, each girl should ask herself such questions as: "Do I want to do this project?" "Will it develop the ability which I need?" "Will mother consent to my doing this?" "Is it hard enough for me but not too hard?" "Is it connected with what we're having in class?"

There are many possible projects a girl might work up. Some of the things chosen were: Planning and packing the school lunch, setting the table, learning to entertain small children, and beautifying the outside of the house.

Assembly.

Miss McMahan's Junior chorus will put on a program Monday morning in assembly. They will sing the songs they prepared for the Cleburne performance last week.

New Magazines for H. S. Students

Subscriptions have been sent in for the Review of Reviews, Current History, American, Atlantic Monthly, Popular Mechanics, Reader's Digest, Colliers, The Golden Book, and the Literary Digest. These magazines will be of special value to the speech class, but all other students will find them interesting as well as worthwhile for the reading of current literature of this type is both recreational and educational.

Dragons Become Web-Footed.

There have been several suggestions to the effect that Iredell Jack Fodd should change his name to Ducks since last Friday's exhibition on Cranfill's Gap's zidiron. The field was too muddy for the dauntless Dragons to hold their own with shoes on, so all of them finally removed their shoes. That is, all of them did except Charles Appleby who kept his night shoe on for punning purposes. After a few more plays however, he had to dispose of it too.

During the first two minutes of play, Jewel Ramage sprained his ankle and had to be taken out of the game. Right after that, the Gaps got away from Iredell and ran for the only score made during the entire game.

Even though most of the game was played on Iredell's territory, the Gaps just couldn't break through that line again and the final score was 6 to 0.

The Dragons and their loyal supporters are looking forward to Friday's game here against Meridian. The Dragons have some scores to even up with Meridian, and they are anxious to do it.

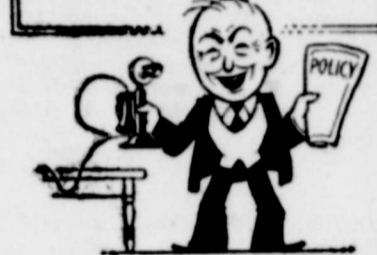

Come out and watch them do it!

Double Insurance

The fire at Tom Fink's bungalow did very little damage this morning. Tom says the fire boys pulled up in front of the house almost before he hung up the telephone after calling them. We asked Tom if he had insurance. He said "Yes, two kinds. A policy to pay for the loss, and a telephone to get help in a hurry!"

Find Out

From Your Doctor if the "Pain" Remedy You Take Is Safe.

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches, or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis of neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by never asking for it by the name "aspirin" alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

MENUS AND RECIPES

DENTON, Oct. 30.—The root vegetables have a very important part in the menu planning of the housewife. As previously pointed out the green leafy vegetables are valuable as a year round item in the menu, but they may well be supplemented with the good substantial food source in the root crops.

the carrots, turnips, parsnips, beets, and salsify or oyster plant.

Carrots are perhaps the most universally used of this group, because of the spreading knowledge of their food value and the varied ways of preparing them. As outlined by the U. S. Bureau of Home Economics they may be used—raw in salads, creamed, baked, mashed, as well as steamed or boiled or fried or in combination with apples, or stewed with celery or onions or in souffles and custards. Each method results in a new dish. And it is satisfying to know they furnish the same vitamin A that comes from the green leafy vegetables.

Turnips are also valuable for the minerals and vitamins. When served raw, cut in sticks "celery-fashion" or in salads, they are an excellent source of vitamin C. Parsnips offer a nice variety to the meal. They should be parboiled before the skin is scraped off. Then they may be sliced lengthwise and baked, or dipped in flour and fried, or they may be mashed and made into cakes for frying.

Beets are usually boiled and buttered or prepared as sweet-sour beets. It should be remembered that they "bleed," losing their color, when the skin is broken or when the tops are cut off too close. Salsify is usually cooked in small pieces which may be creamed, buttered or mashed and baked.

MASHED CARROTS IN CREAM
Steam or cook carrots in as small an amount of water as possible. Young carrots need not be peeled. When tender mash to a pulp and half cover with rich whole milk or cream and serve hot.

HARVARD BEETS: 3 c cooked diced beets, 3 T corn-starch, 1-4 c water, 6 T sugar, 1-2 c vinegar, 2 T melted butter. Combine sugar, cornstarch, butter, water, and vinegar. Cook over hot water until smooth and thick. Salt may be added to taste. Add the beets. Heat thoroughly. Serve at once.

SPIRITUAL LIFE OR RETREAT FOR WOMEN

The Women of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will hold an all-day spiritual life gathering of "retreat" Monday, Nov. 4th, beginning at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Mary Eakins.

The gathering will be under the leadership of Mrs. W. P. Cunningham, recently a delegate to a conference wide three-day retreat at Georgetown, Texas. The day's meeting will close with the administering of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper by the pastor, and marks the opening of the annual week of prayer.

Each woman attending is requested to bring a Bible, a Methodist hymnal (if available) and a sandwich for the noon intermission.

On Thursday at 3 p. m. at the church the program will be continued with the presentation of playlets: "When the Walls Fell," and "Helpers, one of Another."

On Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 3 p. m. at the church, the final program will be carried out. A presentation of the Home, Special: "The Community Work at Bayley, Ala." This will be in connection with the regular monthly business meeting. Each woman of the church is invited to all of these meetings.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

DENTON, Oct. 22.—Have you ever tried to pick out a working girl by her clothes? Look around any smart restaurant, and ten to one you can't tell her from her leisured sister. The former drab clothes that screamed "office" have vanished and the modern girl goes to the office tastefully and correctly groomed—a credit to any organization.

Business women have asked that we suggest an office wardrobe, so suppose we begin with a soft wool coat dress. It can be worn with a scarf stuffed in at the neck, or can be slipped on over tailored frocks. Select a novelty gray color for this costume and you can brighten it with a royal purple velvet scarf. Tailored frocks come next in the office wardrobe. Neat as a pin, these dresses display feminine touches of white or flesh at the neck, and have elbow or three-quarter length sleeves. Of course a suit is necessary for the working girl, and you will need two skirts this year—one to match and one to contrast. Your suit can be slim and tailored with a short jacket, and after 5 o'clock you can add a trotter length coat with a fur collar. Your strictly business costume will be well concealed.

Dark crepe dresses, quiet enough for the office, yet gay enough for dinner are nice to have. Military braid and chiffon make effective trimming for these dresses, and soft little velvet hats complete the ensemble.

The office worker needs a coat for "everything"—on that is not too tailored and not too fussy. Girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) suggest a novelty wool coat topped by a handsome fur collar.

BITS O' PHILOSOPHY

Dean E. V. White, CIA
Don't be a freshman at everything you attempt.

Get into the grave when you die.

He who does yesterday's sleeping today also lives tomorrow's life today.

Don't let your head be a sepulchre for wrong thoughts.

Both are richer when two intelligent persons exchange ideas.

TURNIP SOUFFLE: 6 medium turnips, 2 T butter, 1-2 c milk, 1-4 c grated cheese, 2 eggs, well beaten, salt, pepper. Boil turnips in salt water until tender. Drain. Mash. Add butter, milk, cheese and well-beaten egg yolks. Season to taste. Mix thoroughly. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pile lightly in oiled baking dish. Set in pan of warm water. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) until an inserted knife comes out clean.

Sunday School Lesson

by Rev. Charles E. Dunn

Judah Taken Captive.
Lesson for November 3rd. 2 Kings 25:1-12.

Golden Text: Proverbs 14:34.

Jerusalem fell under the shattering blows of her Babylonian conquerors in July 586 B. C., after a siege lasting only eighteen months.

The defenders were weak, and the invaders conducted their operations with great energy. Finally the battering rams broke down a portion of the wall, and the enemy soldiers poured on through the breach.

King Zedekiah and his warriors escaped in the darkness of night, but they were quickly captured and brought before Nebuchadnezzar who, as a terrible warning, slew the king's sons in his presence, put out his eyes, and then dismissed the desolate monarch to a tragic imprisonment and death in Babylon.

But Zedekiah did not suffer alone. No man either was shown to the other leaders. The chief priest, his deputies and the ranking religious, civic, and military officers were haled, too, before Nebuchadnezzar, and put to death. How many were carried into captivity we do not precisely know.

But it is clear that the greater portion of Jerusalem's population was marched off into exile. Only the poorer classes were spared, and their fate was quite as desolate, for the Chaldean troops destroyed the city with thoroughness. The temple was stripped of all its precious valuables, and then burnt to the ground. The royal palace, and the homes of the nobles and the wealthy were also burned, and the city walls were razed.

But Nebuchadnezzar was wise enough not to allow the city to lapse into complete barbarism and decay. So he appointed an excellent governor, Gedaliah, who
