

TODAY and TOMORROW

PARDON for Roger in my home state of Massachusetts, Justice may sometimes move slowly, but wrongs are usually righted in the course of time.

Williams' offense was that he held and taught in his church school at Salem such subversive doctrines as that the civil power could not control a man's conscience, and that the Indians be paid for lands.

That was the beginning of the state now named "Rhode Island and Providence Plantations," which is celebrating its 300th anniversary this year.

WEASELS and cats Nothing can happen anywhere without affecting somebody some where else.

The ermine is nothing but the ordinary weasel in his white winter coat. It takes 150 ermine skins for an ordinary cape.

"BEEN" you're right I have heard folk deride the great Quaker poet, John G. Whittier, as uncouth and uncultured because he wrote in "Moud Muller" these lines:

Probably Whittier never heard anyone in his New England home pronounce "been" in any other way than to rhyme with "pen."

NATIONALISM the trend From all I can learn, from friends who keep in touch with Europe, the nations that have been trying to run on the principle of buying nothing from other nations are having a hard time of it.

School Building At Duffau Destroyed By Fire Tuesday

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the Duffau school building late Tuesday afternoon, according to E. E. Giesecke, the News Review correspondent at that place.

Several hundred dollars worth of teachers' equipment such as typewriters, mimeographs, hectographs, primary equipment, etc., besides children's supplies, were lost in the fire.

RESIDENCE OCCUPIED BY AARON SANDERS DESTROYED BY EARLY MORNING FIRE

Shrieking fear into every Hico resident who heard it early last Friday morning, the siren on the fire station called to the Hico Volunteer Fire Department to the home of Aaron Sanders, on schoolhouse hill, where a strong north wind had fanned the blaze into a holocaust.

The fire, of undetermined origin started shortly before 4 o'clock, and the Sanders family awakened barely in time to escape from the house without injury.

The residence, owned by M. L. Rainwater, was insured for a few hundred dollars, it is reported. The Sanders family carried no insurance on their belongings.

J. L. GOODMAN TO OPEN NEW CLEANING & PRESSING SHOP HERE NEXT MONDAY

In this issue of the News Review will be found a display advertisement of the Modern Cleaners, in which plans for opening business next Monday, February 24, are announced by J. L. Goodman, Proprietor.

Mr. Goodman is already well known in Hico, having been reared at Iredell where his family has long been prominent. He was married to the former Miss Eugenia Pike about two years ago, and plans to make this his home.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church in Clairette Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mrs. D. G. Lane who passed away at the family home in that community Friday morning.

RETURNS Monday showed Bosque County voted beer in Saturday's election by more than 200 majority. Bosque Co. voted dry March 30, 1935, but beer had been sold in some precincts, which voted wet, until Jan. 1.

Pledge I will think-talk-write... Texas Centennial in 1936! This is to be my celebration. In its achievement I may give free play to my patriotic love for Texas' heroic past; my confidence in its glories that are to be...

Who Do You Think? He was born in North Carolina where he'd hardly entered school. When his father took him off to fight the Creeks; But much too young for fighting he kept the muster roll. And he liked it as his soldier's life bespeaks. When Andrew Jackson saw him he thought the boy'd go far. So he taught him what he knew about the art of war. He made his way to Texas at the age of thirty-three. When the colonists were much in need of aid— Through his self-control and courage he was soon a nominee. And presently he led his own brigade. His men would always follow, and since he always led. If there was any fleeing done it was the foe who fled. He conquered San Antonio in his first important fight. Where his treatment of the captured was humane; On the field at San Jacinto he led the Texas right. And the Mexicans again had fought in vain. He was Houston's right hand man throughout the Texas war. And his bravery in battle smothered Santa Anna's star. More than ten years later, with Texas now a State. He fought against the Mexicans once more; And both before and after he helped eradicate The lawless who came in our open door. Here of thirty battles and never known to run— Proud are those who bear his name beneath the Texas sun. (Answer on Page 8, Top of Column 1)

DICK ANDERSON DIED AT DAUGHTER'S HOME IN DALLAS FRIDAY NIGHT

The town was made sad last Saturday morning when Mrs. Jack Woods received the message that her brother, Dick Anderson, had died suddenly Friday night, Feb. 14, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jessie Rinker, in Dallas, of heart failure. He took sick Sunday afternoon, and medical aid was administered at once, and Friday he seemed much better. After the family had retired, his daughter heard him make a noise so she hastened to his room and saw death was upon him, and he passed away in a few minutes. Those attending the funeral from here were his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Purdom, who had just arrived from California, his sisters, Mrs. Jack Woods, and Mrs. W. E. Russell, and brother, Isaac Anderson. Dick Anderson was born Jan. 26, 1857 in Fairfield, Freestone Co., Texas. Moved to Hamilton County with his parents Feb. 18, 1858 where he spent his life except the last few years. He was married Jan. 29, 1878 to Miss Eltonia King. To this union six children were born, four girls and two boys, the second daughter, Mattie, and baby boy, Woods, preceded him in death. He joined the First Baptist Church here in middle age and was marshal of the town from Jan. 2, 1923 to Aug. 7, 1925. He was loved by all who came in contact with him. He leaves to mourn his death, his wife and four children, Mrs. Clemmie Purdom, Mrs. Pearl Justis, Mrs. Jessie Rinker, all of Dallas, Texas; seven grand children and one great-grand child; two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Jack Woods, Mrs. W. E. Russell, and Isaac Anderson all of Hico, and Asa Anderson of San Antonio, Texas, and a host of friends.

Value of V-A Course Explained In Article By Superintendent

During 1934-1935 I had my first experience with Vocational Agriculture as a subject to be taught in school. I had long felt that this and other vocational subjects should be added to the course of study so that there might be closer contact between community life and school work.

Hico Chapter Organized In 1934; Brief History of Club's Accomplishments

Members of the Future Farmers, Dads and Friends:

I have been asked to give a brief history of the Future Farmers chapter of Hico High School. All of you know that this is the first year that vocational agriculture is being taught in the Hico High School. In every school where Vocational Agriculture is taught there is F. F. A. chapter similar to ours.

The first meeting of the Hico Chapter was held Friday September 14th for the purpose of electing Senior officers and drawing up our objectives. We drew up a list of 15 objectives which we hope to complete before our school year is up.

By using some of the states and district objectives with our own we reached the number of 18 in all.

On September 22, the Senior officers of the Hico Chapter attended the Brazos Valley District F. F. A. meeting. Out of seven different schools, Hico was the only one that had a full corps of Senior officers.

On October 5, Herman Leach sent into J. B. Rutland 90 per cent of our F. F. A. dues; and on October 6 this F. F. A. chapter's milk judging team competed with sixteen different schools, and won fourth place. C. A. Giesecke won ninth place in our individual which was a Green Hand pen.

On October 2, the Hico F. F. A. chapter met for the purpose of electing the Junior officers, and they were as follows:

President, Jack Hollis; Vice President, Claude Christopher; Secretary, W. H. Brown; Treasurer, C. A. Giesecke; and Reporter, Raymond Johnson.

On October 20, forty-seven members of the Hico Chapter of F. F. A. left at 4 o'clock a. m. for the Dallas fair. All had an enjoyable trip. On the 23, our adviser took five officers to Comyn for their initiation of the Green Hand degree.

October 31, the Hico Chapter sponsored a Hallowe'en carnival. The local merchants donated us small articles for different acts. The purpose was to raise money for the treasury.

November 5, a meeting was called for the election of four officers, Parliamentarian, Historian, Watch Dog and song leader, and they were elected as follows:

Parliamentarian, Howard Stasy; Historian, Herman Leach; Watch Dog, Johnnie Elkins; Song Leader, C. A. Giesecke.

Nov. 24, 1934, a fine horse show was sponsored by Hico F. F. A. chapter. Everyone who owned good draft horses, stallions, jacks and mules were present. Our F. F. A. show prizes were given to certain individuals.

Nov. 30, 1934, the Hico F. F. A. chapter was greatly surprised, because they received their project record books. These books are for keeping accounts of their accounts so that to know the amount of profit made when finished.

Dec. 7, 1934, all of the chapter are devoting all of their time preparing for the Father and Son Banquet.

Dec. 14, 1934, Hico F. F. A. chapter sponsored their Father and Son banquet. We believe that everything was carried to the top notch. We had something over one hundred present.

December 24, 1934, there were made happy by the Hico F. F. A. some one hundred children. Toys were given to these children by the aid of Miss Persons and Mrs. Higgins, and our adviser, J. E. Lockhart.

Dec. 21-23, 1934, two hundred and ten feet of rope were made by Hico F. F. A. boys last week making a total of $1.05; one 65c ball of twine was used. Ten F. F. A. chapter members were initiated as Green Hands with regular official Green Hand ceremony. They were as follows: Herman Leach, Johnnie Elkins, C. A. Giesecke, Bill Nix, Max Ragsdale, A. D. Land, Arthur Land, Jack Hollis, and Claude Christopher.

Dec. 24, 27, 28, 1934, 1825 yards of terrace lines were run; 117 fruit trees pruned, 25 head of cattle dehorned, and 2 hogs and 1 calf were castrated on these three days.

Jan. 23, 1935, seventeen F. F. A. boys with adviser J. E. Lockhart, visited Randals feed lots for the purpose of dehorning and castrating.

Feb. 15, 1935, a gravel of native Texas walnut made and engraved by the J. T. A. CC. woodworking department was officially presented to Hico Chapter of the Future Farmers of America by C. G. Masterson Wednesday morning at the assembly program.

Feb. 23, 1935, the Hico Chapter will be represented by a judging team of most composed of Max Ragsdale, Otis Holliday, Joe Powers, and Jack Meadow. The Hico chapter took eighth place in the contest.

March 8, 1935, the Hico Future Farmers are now a member of the Texas Association. The requirements which the Hico Chapter have come to meet, to belong to this association are very strict. After fulfilling these requirements the charter was presented to our chapter.

March 18, 1935, the Hico Future Farmers meat team attended the state contest, and got 16th place in the contest.

Creed of Future Farmers Adopted During Convention

I believe in the future of farming with a faith born not of words but of deeds—achievements won by the present and past generations of the farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I can not deny.

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly with such knowledge, and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our soil. I believe that we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in re-gaining; in life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so—for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depend upon you.

I believe that rural America can and true to the best tradition in our National life and that I can exercise an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

(Adopted at the third National Convention of F. F. A.)

PLANS FOR YEARS' WORK IN HICO CHAPTER 1934-35

The members of the Hico Chapter of F. F. A. have in this class supervised practice study. In this each of the forty members of chapter have three projects. A major, a first minor, and a second minor. In each of these projects an accurate record is kept, by student, of all expense, labor, and investment accounts.

I have, with the help of our adviser, and chapter members, got the entire scope of all the projects combined. The girls of this chapter are going to can five hundred and ninety-five cans of meat, vegetables, and fruits this year as a part of their practice study.

There are many who have livestock and poultry for projects. There are six hundred and sixty hens and broilers being raised; eleven pigs are being raised for pork production; five baby beavers, and two heifers are being raised; and four turkeys are being kept for breeding purposes. This makes a total of eighteen head of livestock and six hundred and sixty-four head of poultry.

All of the members of the chapter have either one or two field crop projects. It might be interesting to note how many have field crop projects which will produce feed for the poultry and livestock which are to be raised. There are eight acres of oats to be raised, fifteen acres of be-kari, one and one-fourth acre of watermelons, twenty-seven acres of cotton, thirty-two acres of corn, one-eighth acre of tomatoes, one and three-eighths acres of Irish potatoes, and "last but not least" is six and one half acres of onions. Most, if not all, of the members have onions for a project. If we are successful in raising these onions, we are going to try to provide some kind of transportation to Dallas for market.

We, the members of the Hico Chapter of F. F. A. are striving to make this a more prosperous era.

Origin and Growth of Future Farmer Boys' Organization

The Future Farmers of America is a National organization of boys studying Vocational agriculture. The first chapter of Future Farmers was organized by Henry Groseclose for farm boys of Virginia. This organization bore the title of "The Future Farmers of Virginia" but later was proved to be of so much benefit to the farm boys of Virginia that a national organization was chartered at Kansas City. This organization is now known under the name of the Future Farmers of America.

Today this organization extends from Washington to Florida and from Maine to Hawaii. This organization is a non-profit corporation designed to encourage farm boys to put pleasure into their work and play. By establishing strong state wide organizations with local chapters in every high school numerous opportunities are offered us vocational students.

Boys are taught the fundamental principles of group leadership and how to do things in an organized way. Training for use in future is given to boys enrolled in V. A. through judging contests and other competitive acts. Also boys who are members of this organization are taught how to be dependable through the responsibilities placed upon them in carrying out the work of this organization.

Since in later years farming has become such an unprofitable vocation the boys are taught how to apply better methods in farming so that in the future when they shall assume the great responsibilities of feeding the nations their vocation will be pleasant as well as challenging.

WOMEN IN POLITICS

The appointment of Mrs. Huey Long to fill the vacancy in the United States Senate caused by the death of her husband, raises the number of women in this Congress to a total of seven. The only other woman Senator is Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway of Arkansas, also a Senator's widow.

In the House, Representative Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts has been six times elected to the seat formerly held by her late husband, Mrs. Mary T. Norton of New Jersey is also serving her sixth term in the House, as is Representative Florence P. Kahn of California who also succeeded her husband on his death. Mrs. Isabella Greenway, Arizona's sole Representative, is serving her second term, and Mrs. Caroline O'Day, New York's Representative at-large, is in her first term. John Erskine, author of "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," who is supposed to know more about women than most men do, has just written another book in which he says that women have no business to go into politics or any other mass movement. Maybe John knows what he's talking about, but it would be easy to name a lot of male Senators and more masculine Congressmen who are worse fizzes in political life than are any of the ladies who now grace the halls of Congress.

UNEMPLOYMENT

A great deal of the talk about unemployment is based upon insufficient knowledge of the facts. There never was a time when everybody was employed, just as there never was a time when everybody is employable.

Manufacturers in many lines are complaining today that they cannot find enough skilled workers to meet the needs of industry. The American Management Association reports that in the automobile industry particularly they are trying to train men to fill the skilled and semi-skilled jobs but are facing an acute shortage of competent workers.

A great deal of bunk is heard about machinery throwing men out of work. A survey recently made by the Machinery and Allied Products Institute demonstrates that since the general adoption of machines in industry the proportion of employment has steadily increased and wages have also risen. That is broadly true for all industries.

The effect of the introduction of machines has been, in almost every case, to stimulate the demand for the product by making it cheaper, and this stimulation, instead of throwing men out of work, has led to the employment of more workers. In the 30 years between 1900 and 1930 the number of jobs increased by more than 20 million. Today, the Institute reports, employment is more nearly normal in the highly mechanized industries than in those in which little machinery is used.

With the general adoption of unemployment compensation systems by the several states, we shall be able in the course of a year or two to find out the real facts about unemployment. At present it seems prudent to distrust most of the so-called statistics on unemployment.

TRAVELING

With the outlook of a general European war fading into the background, and a widespread increase in the incomes of most average Americans, the Trans-Atlantic steamship lines are looking forward to the biggest tourist season in history, beginning this coming Spring. The big addition to the Atlantic ferry system this year will be the new British "Queen Mary" and the big French liner "Normandie" can ever be profitable is somewhat doubtful. Shipping men point to the great success of the two moderate-sized American liners "Manhattan" and "Washington" as proof that ocean giants don't pay as well as craft of somewhat smaller tonnage.

The operators of all the Trans-Atlantic lines got together the other day in Paris and agreed to abolish the distinction between first class and second class. All of the big ships are now what are termed "cabin" liners. The only difference in rates is in proportion to the location and desirability of the cabin accommodations. That is going to make it easier for a lot of travelers who have trouble in swallowing their pride and who would never travel "second class." Now they can go to Europe on the same social footing with the free-spenders in the first-class cabins.

This looks like a good year to go abroad.

MODERN WOMEN

CHARL ORMOND WILLIAMS, President of National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

Mrs. Alvin Bravencor of Nelsonville beautified her yard with native shrubs which her husband said he was glad to transplant for her because they "looked so pretty in the woods."

Youpon, winter willow, coral berry, French mulberry, sumac, red cedar, elder bush, holly, dogwood, redbud, cherry laurel and spice bush are all growing wild in Austin county, and are available for yard improvement work there.

Twenty-three women members of the St. Thomas Teachers Association, Virgin Islands, helped to win the fight for equal suffrage. The board of elections refused when they sought registration, but the teachers took their case to the Federal District Court and won.

Miss Henrietta Szold, now 75, founder of Hadassah, now has an organization of 45,000 women whose aim is to promote medical and cultural advancement in Palestine.

Twenty years ago Miss Calm M. Hoke, the first woman consulting chemist in the country, applied science to problems relating to the jewelry business. She has since developed the use of platinum.

For the first time in Great Britain a woman has been honored by not having to canvass for her seat in Parliament. Miss Eleanor Rathbone, without opposition, has been returned to the House of Commons. She is an "independent," uncommitted to any particular party. She was the first woman member of the Liverpool City Council and has been associated with movements for the promotion of industrial and social welfare.

Mrs. Thomas Reed Powell of Cambridge, Mass., has been awarded a prize for her slogan, "Find the Man for the Job, not the Job for the Man," in a contest conducted by the League of Women Voters.

Bringing HOME the FACTS by BARBARA DALY

Not long ago a woman came to me with a look of sheer disgust on her face. "I never want to look at another food budget again as long as I live. They suggest the same thing day after day, stewed prunes, cooked cereal, beef stew and baked apples, until I'm fit to be tied."

"Well," I said, "Tying yourself in emotional knots isn't going to help either. I could sit down and tell you just how many pounds of this and that to buy to keep within your budget. But I won't. You are experienced enough to buy carefully and not spend your money for foolish food trills. Tell you what I'll do. I'll give you a batch of my choice economy recipes and you can fit them into your own food budget."

She beamed and I brought out the recipes two of which I give you here. They are inexpensive but quite aristocratic enough to hold their own on Park Avenue.

Crown Steer. In a heavy frying pan brown two large chopped onions in a generous tablespoon of cooking fat. Add a pound of hamburger, brown the meat lightly then lower the heat and add three cups of hot water or the vitalizing water drained from cooked vegetables. Let simmer very gently with a teaspoon of salt, a half teaspoon of pepper and a fourth teaspoon of ground cloves, for 15 minutes. Stir in two tablespoons of flour mixed to a smooth paste in cold water. Cook until thickened and serve with boiled rice potatoes. Serves four comfortably.

Custard Apples. Peel and core four whole apples. Save the skins. Drop the apples into a syrup made of four cups of water, half a cup of sugar, four whole cloves and a slice of lemon peel (optional). Cook until tender, but still firm. Remove the apples and chill. Add the apple peels and cook down 20 minutes, strain, bottle and store for future use as syrup with pancakes. Just add brown sugar and cook until thickened. Meanwhile, prepare the custard. Heat to steaming point two cups of milk. Add one-half cup of sugar and stir in one tablespoon of flour smoothed to a paste in cold water. Cook over hot water until thickened. Remove from the heat. Stir in one beaten egg yolk. Cool slightly and fold in the egg white whipped stiff. Chill. Flavor with lemon extract or leave plain. Pour over the apples for serving.

H. G. Wells says, "It is only when knowledge is sought after for its own sake that she gives rich and unexpected returns in abundance to her servants."

BITS O' PHILOSOPHY

Dean E. V. White, Texas State College for Women. Some people find nothing unamusing until they are alone. One who fibs while courting will lie when he's married. Hard knocks make us enjoy easy kicks. To be proud of your faults is to commend a jackass. Some folks want jobs without work.

Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Charles E. Duan

People Before Property Lesson for February 23rd. Luke 8:26-37. Golden Text: Luke 16:13. The history of our country reveals an amazing advance in the accumulation of wealth. In 1804 the Secretary of the Treasury reported that there were not "one hundred thousand dollars in Philadelphia. New York and Boston put together." Today, by startling contrast, we have 22 billion-dollar corporations.

Now if our phenomenal possessions were equitably distributed in harmony with democratic processes, we should not have reason to complain. But it is significant that the 200 largest corporations in America control 38 per cent or more of its entire business wealth, and that these corporations are in the hands of a few hundred men. There are thousands of stockholders, but they are concerned chiefly about dividends. The real control of a modern corporation is vested in a small board of directors, and these in numerous cases, are dominated by three or four super-financiers. Not long ago a large holding company failed with losses of $129,000,000. Testimony in court indicated that only four men really knew what was going on! It is obvious that this excessive concentration of power in the hands of a privileged minority has resulted in very grave abuses. The depression is the result, with millions unemployed, and other millions suffering because their incomes have been drastically cut. All this agony is quite unnecessary for, unlike our forefathers we do not live under an economy of scarcity, but under one of abundance. There is enough potential wealth in the country at the present moment to provide every family with an income of $4,000 a year.

Were Jesus alive today he would repeat his warnings against the piling up of wealth, and would identify himself, as of old, with the poor and underprivileged in their struggle for opportunity. He would place God in the center of the circle, but would make it clear

BRUCE BARTON Says! PAS

Make Home Building Easy... Home is a little white cottage with green blinds, where love locks the door against the world, and the warm light of the open fire weaves a halo around every head. Yes, indeed.

Also, Home is a piece of land which you buy after weeks of horse trading with a real estate. Home is an expensive journey with a lawyer back through the title records. "Do Home is a contract supposed to include everything, but which, by the time you have suggested a couple of little changes, such as a light in the front hall and some shelves over the kitchen sink, turns out to represent only a very minor part of your cost."

Home is a place where you hear the electrician who installs the door bell saying to the electrician who installs the lighting fixture: "Do you think I am going to let you run your wires through my conduits?" A place where you hear the plumber saying to the steam-fitter: "That is my job, not yours—how do you get that way?"

Home is a place that was to be all ready for occupancy on October first, and into which you move on February first in order to get the painters out. Home is a place where every time you make the slightest improvement the tax assessor comes around and boosts your assessment.

The above remarks, intended somewhat in the spirit of good clean fun, doubtless will raise a small riot among such members of my congregation as happen to be engaged in real estate, law, architecture, contracting, or labor union management.

To all such I would say earnestly and prayerfully: "You have no idea how much more business you could do if you only would get together, work together, and iron out the hundreds of needless annoyances that now plague the G-men of a home."

In Washington recently I took occasion to pay my respects to J. Edgar Hoover, head of the G-Men. As we were friends, he gave me a little special attention, but any citizen is invited to visit the department.

Here are five million fingerprints, sent in by police departments all over the country. Some departments send only the prints of felons; others file prints of every one who comes into even the slightest conflict with the law. It has happened more than once that an offender, picked up in one city for so small a thing as running past a traffic light, has proved to be wanted in another city for a major crime.

The finger-prints never lie, and so marvellous is the system of filing them that even you or I, with a couple of hours' instruction, could locate any particular set of prints.

Of the criminals the G-Men have brought to trial in the last year, nine out of ten were convicted. The principal reason for this astonishing record is that every G-Man must be either a lawyer or a chartered accountant; they know how to get the kind of evidence that will stand up.

The G-Men are paid altogether too little. The total expenses of the Department last year were about four million dollars, and it collected, in fines and recoveries, more than thirty-nine millions. The wonderfully efficient and economic service of governmental employers who protect our lives and property, handle our mail and guard our health, should always be properly paid.

These unsung millions give an awful lot for the little they are paid. And right up near the top of this good list is Edgar Hoover and his G-Men.

The Family Doctor

THE WAR ON "GAS" They're trying to outlaw gas as a weapon of warfare. And I've been fighting "gas" in my patients all my professional life. Yes, gas is always an enemy unless it comes through a meter for the range, and you run certain risks of being blown up there, if you don't watch your step.

I have learned a few things about the "gas-patient." The first he has been overloading. That's the first question I ask myself, when I begin to show symptoms of inflation. I find the cause of discomfort right there, nine times out of ten—just over-indulgence in eating. You, dear reader, may find the same thing in your own case. Attend to volume in diet.

Next, I learn that gases will accumulate if the sewer is clogged. To combat this, I use a simple, but effective laxative to relieve immediate distress. This MUST be done. Always with a MILD but CERTAIN laxative. Then shut off the excess of eating for a few days. This will cure the average patient with "just gas."

Third, there may be fermentation in the digestive tract. I find this in the fellow who is extremely nervous, or the worried, anxious patient. The bowels are not really constive, and there is belching, eructations, sour eructs. The mild, alkaline laxative again, with alkaline powders for a few days to neutralize excesses of acid. Milk diet, and rest the nerves.

Rarely do I prescribe an artificial digestive, unless my patient is confined to bed with disease of other organs than the stomach. I don't like to hurry a stomach that needs rest, nor do I encourage a lazy one by doing its work for it.

IT WORKED FOR ME

Women should take only liquid laxatives

MORE people could feel fine, be fit and regular, if they would only follow the rule of doctors and hospitals in relieving constipation. Never take any laxative that is harsh in action. Or one, the dose of which can't be exactly measured. Doctors know the danger if this rule is violated. They use a liquid laxative, and keep reducing the dose until the bowels need no help at all.

Reduced dosage is the secret of aiding Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why it should be a liquid like Syrup Pepsin. Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if it doesn't give you absolute relief, if it isn't a joy and comfort in the way it overcomes any sluggishness or biliousness, your money back.

place in the toy room. In one corner was an old rag doll, better known as Grandma, by the other dolls. She was very sad. The next day was her birthday and she thought that no one would think of it. Tears came into her eyes and she was afraid she would cry out so that she would disturb the other dolls, but finally she fell asleep.

The next morning she awoke and found that the sun was shining very bright, and everyone seemed happy but herself.

The day passed and her birthday wasn't mentioned by anyone. She took her place in her corner again earlier than usual, but no one seemed to notice that either.

That night after the people of the house had gone to bed and everything was quiet, Grandma was called out into the moonlight which shone through the window. She was so surprised she didn't know what to do.

"Happy birthday," cried a chorus of voices. "We have a surprise for you."

About that time two of the dolls came with a big box of gifts.

"I am so happy I don't know what to do," cried the old doll. "I will never forget this," she said and began to cry from happiness.

The next morning the little girl came into her room and found some litter on the floor, and she only thought that the mice had torn some paper to pieces.

Seventh Grade Gossip

Hazel Russell is ill with the flu. We miss her very much, and we will be glad to have her with us again.

We had some excellent grades made in some of our mid-term tests.

In arithmetic Willadine Lee made 96, Jossie Mae Parks and Mildred Shepherd made 93 1-3, Eugene Tinkle made 83 1-3, and Carl Patterson made 81 1-3.

The highest grade in history was 96, Jessie Mae Parks and Mildred Shepherd and the honor.

Willadine Lee made 94 in English. In Geography Mamie Jack Hedgepeth and Willadine Lee made 90.

Willadine Lee made 89 on spelling, there was many 80's and above.

First and Second Grade News

The second grade pupils recently completed their spelling contest and Patsy Ann Hoover and Don Griffiths tied for first, or had more perfect lessons and earned more stars than anyone in their class of twenty-nine. Their completion was very commendable.

Earlene Proffitt and James Abel won first, the last six weeks, in the reading contest for the primary folks.

Last Friday afternoon St. Valentine's Day, the first and second grade pupils had a valentine program and box out in our room. We recited verses, sang songs, played games, and read stories suited for the occasion. All had a good time. Sorry some of the pupils were out.

Did you ever hear of a girl named Vance "Did Blackie"? Well, we have. She's one of our senior girls. "Did" does not say much but when she does she says a mouthful. She was one of our star basketball players. "Did" is interested in a certain Junior boy. We wonder who.

Besides being the tallest, Sammie Davis is one of our most popular Seniors. He is a happy-go-lucky and takes life as it comes. He is a center-jump on our boy's basketball team and is feared by many a rival team, because he always gets the tip-off.

The only active organization of its kind in our school, and one of which we are very proud is the Future Farmers of America, under the leadership of J. E. Lockhart. This is an organization of only two years in our school but has already gained recognition in all parts of the state. Also it has attracted many new students to Hico High School.

The boys have accomplished much in their work. They not only learn how to farm but experience it. Some of the boys are raising their own chickens to see how to make a profit with them. Others have dehorned cattle. Most of them are excellent judges of eggs, fowls, cattle, hogs, etc. These are only a few of the many things they do and have done.

The organization has its own equipment, including a nice library and many farm implements.

GOOD LIGHTING
does this to DARNING

WHY is darning so much harder than reading? Because the color of the darning cotton and material is usually about the same... the materials are often dark and absorb much of the light... and threads and needles are small. Better lighting reduces the handicap of poor color contrast between the darning cotton and the goods. More light serves to compensate for the dark material and also serves to "magnify" the size of the needle and thread. Next time you darn or sew, try a 100-watt MAZDA bulb in a good lamp beside your chair. You'll get through in much less time with considerably less effort and the finished work will be better done.

Lamp Prices Are Lower Than Ever

Good lighting costs only a few cents a day more than poor lighting and lamp prices have been drastically reduced. You can now buy lamps in sight-saving sizes at these new low prices:

50 and 60 watt lamps, were 20c	now 15c
100-watt, was 25c	now 20c
150-watt, was 50c	now 35c
200-watt, was 70c	now 55c

Consult us about your home lighting problems today. We will gladly advise you on the proper sizes of lamp bulbs for the various fixtures in your home and show you how to arrange your lighting for maximum eye comfort. There is no charge for this service.

Hicoan Gets Credit For Initiating Coin And Museum Drive

The following excerpts are from a recent letter received by Geo. W. Winningham, Post correspondent from A. Garland Adair, Chairman American Legion Texas Centennial Committee, Austin It throws a bit of light on the origin of the idea of the Centennial Coin and the beginning of the movement in behalf of a Texas Memorial Museum.

"I scraped up a few hundred of your poem pamphlet, 'The Birth of the Lone Star,' and have been sending them to citizens outside of Texas who are co-operating with us in our Texas Centennial Coin and Texas Memorial Museum campaign. You would be elated to see the fine expressions of appreciation that come in as a result of this distribution. I thought I should tell you about this as someone might write to you, the author of that wonderful work."

The poem mentioned was first published by The Radio Post four years ago. Later it appeared in The College Digest Magazine and The Houston Press. It was published in pamphlet form and thousands of copies distributed by the American Legion Texas Centennial Committee in the interest of a Texas Memorial Museum. It depicts the Texas Revolution.

"The campaign" Mr. Adair continues, "is going forward nicely. I really get a great thrill out of seeing the successful heights to which the movement has attained. I am sure that you would also, because you were the first personal friend, and the first legislator to whom I ever mentioned the coins and the museum. You will recall that it was just about three years ago that I whispered the plan in your ear and you gave me the pledge that you would mention it to no one, and that you would, at the proper time, prepare a resolution memorializing Congress to assist us. That was the beginning of the museum movement in Texas. Since that time our program has progressed, and Texas has been made museum-minded as a result of our work. Since the day that I talked to you, there are to be museums at El Paso, Alpine, Lubbock, Canyon, and at the Exposition at Dallas. Without the encouragement you gave to me at the conference here referred to, I am now wondering if I would have had the courage and conviction to have carried on."

In discussing the matter today the Post correspondent remarked: "I recall the incident very distinctly. Chairman Adair approached me on Congress Avenue and requested my opinion relative to a Texas Memorial Museum and the idea of memorializing Congress to assist by having the Federal mint to coin, if memory serves me right, 1,000,000 50-cent Centennial coins. At first the bigness of the undertaking fairly stunned me. There flashed through my mind the millions of yards of political red tape it would be necessary to unwind and untangle, but I soon caught Adair's enthusiasm and I promised to back his idea as far as I was able to do so. The sheer audacity and bigness of the undertaking was fascinating and thrilling and the longer I pondered his idea the more feasible the plan appeared. We talked and planned until near midnight. Outside of encouraging Adair, it is little I contributed to the movement. "It was his idea and he deserves all the credit. However, I am happy that I was half the audience, Adair was the other half, which attended that conference three years ago in a cafe on Congress Avenue and discussed the idea and helped to plan a movement which will result in a Texas Memorial Museum." (Taken from the Radio Post, Fredericksburg, Texas).

BRINGS YOU SAVINGS GALORE!!

Our Major Event of the Year... 9c Sale STARTS SATURDAY

THE MORE YOU BUY, THE MORE YOU SAVE —BUY FOR NOW AND FOR WEEKS TO COME!!

YOU SAVE, because months ago we planned a 9c SALE that would generate excitement everywhere within MILES of our store. Together with thousands of home-owned stores like our own, we made large purchases while factories were looking for work. We had several items built specially for this event. These lucky "buys" are being passed right on to our customers. Figure out your savings—then come on down to see hundreds of other bargains too numerous to mention!
