BOBCATS SHOW REAL STYLE AND CLASS IN DECEMBER CLASHES

DECEMBER RECORD OF BOBCATS IS EXCELLENT

Beginning the season with only one first string member of last year's basketball squad, the Dimmitt High School Bobcats have turned in a record to be proud of during December. The team has played eleven games, losing three, tying one and winning seven. Many of the fans are of the opinion that this year's Bobcat quint is superior to any local team of late years.

Coach Batchelder has been working consistently on the fundamentals of the game and by the middle of January the Bobcats should develop into a smooth, fast and deceptive club.

Early in December fifteen players elected C. G. Maples to lead the team this year as captain and "Big John" Johnson was named co-captain. Maples has been handicapped thus far in the season with a weak knee, but with a special knee brace ordered, Captain Maples should be in fine condition to play a stellar game from now on. Johnson, a transfer from Canyon this year, is shifty on the floor and will develop into a good player when he begins to find the basket more often. Summers has an eye for the hoop but needs considerable floor work to gain the smoothness that characterizes an all-round player. Boren, playing one of the guard positions is handling the ball well and can take care of himself on the floor to advantage, but like Johnson, needs more practice at hitting the basket. Lile, who plays the other guard, is fast on the floor but needs to iron out his passing game.

There are several other members of the team who are taking advantage of the practice sessions to work out their individual faults and who promise to keep the first team working constantly for their starting positions. Among these who have been outstanding are: Kirkpatrick and Blanton, center;

BOBBIES DEFEAT OKLAHOMA LANE BY 21-8 SCORE

Playing an uninspired and somewhat shiftless game, the local girls overpowered Oklahoma Lane December 20.

Hyatt, Estes, Ramey, Elder and Summers, forwards; Snapke, Johnson, Redwine and Stagner for guard. There may be combinations of the above named players that will work to a better advantage than the team that is now on the floor, for practice sessions will bring out faults and at the same time show the individual strength of each player.

COUNTY INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE OFFICERS TO MEET

The officers of the Castro County Interscholastic League met tonight at 8:30 p. m. At this meeting the details for the spring meet will be worked out and the date of the meet will be decided. The last week-end for holding the county meet is April 3 and 4. All teachers of the county are invited to attend this meeting. H. P. Clemons, Superintendent of the local public schools is Director General of the League.

Bob Estes—Do you mean to tell me you flirted with your sister all evening at masquerade party and didn't know her?

Bob McLean—That's right. But she was so agreeable, how was I to know her?

Mys Terious ??

Sybel Nell Waggoner stepped into my booth last Tuesday to ask my advice on her love affairs. She is in love with a boy and some day expects to marry him, but the question is he does not go to high school and he cannot take her to class parties and so on. The boy she loves is very jealous and every time she goes with another boy he threatens to break their engagement.

I advised Miss Waggoner that the best thing for her to do was to break the engagement herself and be free. By doing this she can do what she pleases. If her fiance really loves her he will come back and ask forgiveness.

Displaying a valiant fighting spirit, the hapless Oklahoma Lane sextette never ceased trying but found the going too tough, relinquishing at last by the score of 21 to 8.

KEYHOLE KELLY

Well, Folks, here I am again. I have been on a long rest and out of town a part of the time, but am here to stay now. During the holidays I have seen several things—some of them happened before the holidays. I have seen a little red wagon at Miss Brown's very often and then I would notice a black Chevrolet in its place. It seems to me the road is becoming very worn. I suggest that you match to see who the lucky one will be. . . just a hint. Then I find little Ed going with all the girls. He should just go with one, it isn't right for the other lads. I wonder why Happy is so strong on going to Hereford to see the ladies. Methinks he should inhabit the home grounds a bit more. By-the-way, wonder what Zonelle got for Christmas? I wonder. Looks like she'd tell some one. I want the girls to stop treating "Big John" like they do. It's a shame the way they do him. Bob Estes has been doing some courting in the north part of town. Your guess is as good as mine as to who it is. Well, I will be here from now on, so don't be trying to get by with anything.

HOLIDAYS ARE OVER

Monday morning the Dimmitt High School started on with their regular line of work after a week's vacation. Most all the students were present to start the term off right. Every one enjoyed their vacation. Most of the students were away from Dimmitt and all had a great time. The entire faculty went away for the holidays.

After watching the old year out and the new year in every one is studying for their mid-term exams.

EXES TAKE HIGH SCHOOL CATS BY SMALL MARGIN

In an annual affair Monday night December 30th between the high school Bobcats and the ex-students, the ghost aces of former years led by Spurgeon Webb put on a series of the game to nose out the Bobcat quintet by three field goals. Despite the lack of practice on the part of the exes and the usual result of breaking training during the recent holidays by the Bobcat cagers, the game was fast throughout and climaxed at times with brilliant floor work and passing.

High point man for the exes was Webb who scored nineteen points while Summers was high for the felines with a dozen.

Come up again, exes, we like your sportsmanship and enjoy the practice.

Ex - Bobbies Are Defeated

EX-BOBBIES OUTCLASSED BY 1936 TEAM MONDAY BY 44-9

The Ex-Bobbies, presenting a flashy array of stars from the past, were unable to get started Monday night against the 1936 edition of the Bobbies and bowed beneath an avalanche of goals to the tune of 44 to 9.

Smith, Conner, Wright, Ramey and others who have done much toward developing the tradition of great basketball in Dimmitt found that "youth must be served".

The guards for the high school played their usual brilliant game to hold the exes scoreless for two quarters. Merritt, Smith and Waggoner proved their ability to carry the purple and white. Their fine floor work continually left opposing guards "out in the cold".

The small crowd enjoyed the melee despite its uneven score, and both sides derived a degree of pleasure from it. Floyd Smith's officiating drew approval from players and spectators and his kindness in calling the game is appreciated.

BOBCATS-OKLAHOMA LANE

In a game December 20th between Oklahoma Lane's accurate goal shooting quintet and the Dimmitt High School Bobcats, three extra periods were played with the game ending in a hopelessly dead-locked tie, 28-28.

In the closing seconds of the fourth quarter with the Bobcats trailing by one point, Lile was awarded a free pitch which tied up the game. Eight extra minutes added four points to each score and by mutual consent the game was declared a tie.

The Cats journey to Oklahoma Lane for a return game in January.

ECONOMIC SIDELIGHTS

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of very Individual.

National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

The long anticipated split between industry and the New Deal has occurred at last.

For almost three years American business has had relatively little to say in opposition to New Deal policies.

The delegates asserted that "the American system has not failed"

They protested "blind experimentation and hasty legislation which undermine the American system"

They then adopted a platform for 1936, that in the light of their last year's platform, which said little save to vaguely promise "co-operation" to the Administration.

They then adopted a platform for 1936, that in the light of their last year's platform, which said little save to vaguely promise "co-operation" to the Administration.

Briefly expressed like this, these planks do not seem startling. But the full text in which they were written, does.

In the case of the first plank, for example, it was charged that governmental officials and legislators have attempted to circumvent through technicalities the true intent of our Constitution.

In the case of the second, it was said that governmental planning (a basic New Deal policy) would make revival of private enterprise impossible.

In the case of the third, it was charged that security cannot be achieved by legislative decree.

And in the case of the last, the Administration's fiscal policy was denounced, by intimation, in its entirety.

The plank demanded government spending only for essential government functions, a currency maintained upon a dollar of fixed gold value, and a limitation of government's supervisory powers over banking and credit.

A devout Christian was called to his eternal reward Tuesday, December 25, when Edward Lange of the Holy Family Parish died at his home.

To some, it may appear strange, that business leaders should take that attitude at a time when business is going ahead, and when industrial conditions are the best since 1930, so far as production and sales are concerned.

That seeming anomaly is easily explained. Today many industries are selling almost as much as they sold in boom days—but are earning much smaller profits, largely because of higher taxes.

Many industries are involved in an endless struggle with Washington official bodies, such as the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission.

And fear that continuance of New Deal policies will eventually mean the usurpation of the functions of industrial management by the government.

Many business leaders honestly believe that the current business improvement is without a sound foundation—that it results from vast government spending, from tampering with the money system, from a sort of credit inflation, and that a crash is inevitable.

And practically all business men are certain that the rising public debt, which must be reflected in higher taxes, is the worst possible threat to stability.

This attitude may be justified or not, but current trends indicate that the President will go into the 1936 campaign with business solidly against him.

In 1932 business leaders had little actual enmity toward Mr. Roosevelt and he had a good measure of industrial support. Has the changed attitude of business seriously damaged his chance of re-election? One man's guess is as good as another's in answering that riddle.

Many political commentators believe that President Roosevelt's recent Atlanta speech marked the opening gun of his 1936 campaign. The speech, well phrased, delivered in the President's best manner, amounted to a vigorous defense of his national stewardship.

The President stood solidly behind his farm policy, his spending policy, and his money policy. He claimed fine results for his acts in the fields of banking and security regulation. He stated that the size of the public debt does not menace America credit, saying, "The credit of the Government is today higher than that of any other great nation..."

He forecast a dwindling deficit. From this speech, it seems certain that the President will ask re-election on his record, will make no apologies, and will make no major change in general policy.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By Minnie Fisher Cunningham, Extension Service Editor

From two rows planted in her garden, Thelma Rousseau, garden demonstrator for the Wood Glen girls' 4-H club in Rusk county, gathered 17 bushels of beans, 350 pints of which she canned.

According to Thelma the large yield was due to the fact that the ground on which they were planted was covered with well rotted barn-yard fertilizer early in January and then plowed deep and allowed to stand until the first of March when it was thoroughly cultivated and planted.

D. A. James has doubled the carrying capacity of the pastures on the Bennett Ranch in Jackson county which he has seeded to Dallis grass. Fall seeding with about 10 pounds of seed per acre has proved most satisfactory. And a good sod is developed about a year earlier if it is sown in a field following a row crop rather than in the native sod.

Cattle prefer it to other grasses, and is always the first to put out following a heavy frost, James stated. This grass seeds freely and James is devising a seed harvester to use in the spring, so that he might seed his entire pastures just as fast as practical.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Copeland spent Christmas in Altus, Oklahoma, visiting Mrs. Copeland's relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barnett spent Christmas visiting in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Elder.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Triamble visited Christmas with relatives at Mobeetie.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed. Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold by the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)
