

The Hico News Review

VOLUME LII

HICO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1936.

NUMBER 21

Here In HICO

Shortly after the first of the year, when an appointment is made to fill the place now occupied by the State Highway Commission by its veteran member, D. K. Martin, the way will be laid for the making of a hero, especially in the eyes of the people of this section of the State.

After some ten years of service on the commission, it is understood that Mr. Martin will retire. He has said that he would not accept reappointment even in case same should be forthcoming, and daily press reports during the late campaign for so long. Mr. Alfred stated he would not reappoint Mr. Martin, which, in a way, is unfortunate at a time when we need seasoned experience in the handling of the affairs of all departments of government. But Mr. Martin can retire with full and serene knowledge of having done his job well, and with a clean record.

Personally we are glad to see him get out with his skirts clean. Never have we heard any hint of criticism as to his integrity, ability or industry. And this, in a job where criticism is always possible. We really don't see how he has done it, except that the manner in which he has worked left no room for criticism. And like every public office-holder, it's about time someone started rocking the boat for no good reason whatever. So his decision to retire is perhaps a fortunate one.

His successor will have no path of roses. There is a sentiment, doubtless well founded and ready to crystallize, that the commission should do something toward closing the gaps they have been talking about for so long. The members of the commission up to now have been builders. In the gigantic task of assembling a road system in biggest Texas they have had problems that were almost superhuman. It was a question of whether to concentrate on a few main roads and bring them to completion, or whether to take in the whole State with a foundation for a comprehensive system. They chose the latter course, and have initiated a program that will require ability and sagacity in no mean degree to continue and complete.

Following up the work planned by Mr. Martin, Mr. Ely, Mr. Sterling, Mr. Gilchrist, and others of their predecessors, the commission will be a new member should be able to reap a part of the reward for their efforts.

Locally there have been spent sums for preliminary work, but as yet we have no connected system of highways. The hardest part of the job has been done, but we are expecting some action in the direction of finishing them. And the man responsible for completing a highway system in Central Texas will be a hero in the eyes of a majority of the people of the State.

Who will it be, gentlemen?

From a clip-sheet service we take the following analysis of a driving condition which we repeat our another contribution to the safe-driving campaign. The article discusses "Over-confidence, the motorist's sin," and follows:

If a 1925 model car and a recent model were to start out on a drive, which would you think most likely to become involved in an accident?

Probably you will answer, "The old car, with out-moded brakes, relatively inefficient steering and general inferiority." The world's greatest cow, L. A. Powledge returned home with his son Orville and daughter Frances last Sunday.

Having already visited the Centennial on two previous occasions, Mr. Powledge feels at home up there, but stated before leaving that he was going to stay long enough on this trip to see a number of the interesting things he had not had time to visit yet.

Public Is Invited. The entire public is invited to attend open house at the W. P. A. sewing rooms next Tuesday afternoon, October 20, from 2 until 4 o'clock.

At this time various garments will be on display in order that the public may see what has been accomplished by the ladies in this project. Miss Myrtle Melton is supervisor.

Refreshments will be served to all who attend.

Take Daughter to Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jackson went to Dallas last Saturday to take Miss Minnie Jackson home following her recuperation from illness which has kept her away from her duties as teacher in Buckner's Orphan Home. She was to start her work in the school there Monday.

While in Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson visited the Centennial grounds and saw some of the sights at the big Texas show place.

Texas Press Making Plans For Following Up Texas Publicity

The Texas Press Educational Bureau of the Texas Press Association is mailing out this week an important questionnaire concerning future "advertising and selling" plans for "Texas of Tomorrow" following the close of Centennial year.

For some months the Texas Press Educational Bureau has been going into this matter very thoroughly with the hope that definite plans will be created and put into effect for an extensive publicity and advertising campaign throughout the nation as a follow-up of the great activity brought about by the Texas Centennial Celebrations during the year.

The purpose of the questionnaire being sent out is to get the reaction and recommendations from a cross section of Texas in the matter. If the returns are favorable, then the Bureau will co-operate fully in a campaign to secure the necessary funds.

Just as soon as the questionnaires have been filled out and returned, the Texas Press Educational Bureau will call a meeting of its committee at Austin to canvass the returns and make future plans according to the information and inspiration shown in the questionnaires.

The mailing list of the questionnaire includes every newspaper and periodical and every Chamber of Commerce in Texas—including the Board of Directors of the three Regional Chambers, all members of the Texas Centennial executive groups, all members of both houses of the Legislature, all state officials and many prominent business and professional executives of Texas.

The personnel of the Texas Press Educational Bureau having this year in charge consists of:

Lowry Martin, chairman, Corsicana; Sam P. Harben, secretary, Dallas; H. H. Jackson, Coleman; Louis C. Elbert, Galveston; R. J. Edwards, Denton; Ben F. Harigel, La Grange; Luther Watson, Sweetwater; Dale Miller, Dallas; Walter Buckner, San Marcos; Ross Woodall, Huntsville; Deskins Wells, Wellington; J. E. Josey, Houston; Wm. McIntosh, San Antonio; Jimmie North, Ft. Worth; S. W. Paupert, Dallas; Chuck Newell, Austin; Sam Fore, Floresville; Roy Miller, Corpus Christi; Jimmie Donahue, Tyler; Harry Olmsted, Dallas; Ray Nichols, Vernon; Carl Edwards, Longview; Ailin Mitchell, Corsicana; Henderson Shuffler, Odessa; Lewis Bailey, Dallas.

Married in San Antonio

Miss Catherine Cherry of Shreveport, La. and Robert Leeth of San Antonio were married on October 6 at 10 a. m. at the Travis Park Methodist Church in San Antonio. Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for Corpus Christi and other points before coming to Hico for a visit with relatives.

The groom was reared in Hico, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. Doc Leeth. He attended the Hico schools, and over a year ago secured a position with Metzger Creameries in San Antonio, which position he now holds. He has received a promotion and raise in salary several times from the firm.

The bride is not known in Hico, but she is also connected with the Metzger Company.

Hico friends extend congratulations and best wishes to the couple.

Went to See "Daisy."

Vowing that he was going up to Dallas to get better acquainted with Carnation Ormsby Butter King, nick-named "Daisy," the world's greatest cow, L. A. Powledge returned home with his son Orville and daughter Frances last Sunday.

Having already visited the Centennial on two previous occasions, Mr. Powledge feels at home up there, but stated before leaving that he was going to stay long enough on this trip to see a number of the interesting things he had not had time to visit yet.

TEXAS PLANNING BOARD LOOKING BACK OVER ITS RECORD FOR PAST YEAR

Austin, Texas, Oct. 12.—The Texas Planning Board today looked back over a year of outstanding accomplishments.

Since its creation in March, 1935, by the 44th legislature, the planning board has:

Secured the removal of the Resettlement Administration headquarters from Oklahoma to Texas.

Secured the continuation of public works allotments to Texas.

Created a state-wide interest in the elimination of preventable diseases, such as diphtheria, typhoid fever, typhus fever, smallpox, pellagra and malaria.

Revived interest in Texas minerals other than gas and oil and particularly the non-metals.

Started a survey on the possibilities of wool scouring and woolen manufacturing in Texas.

Compiled a comprehensive report for the National Resources Committee on the water resources of Texas.

Developed additional interest in the raising, feeding, finishing and slaughtering of livestock in Texas, not only for consumption in Texas, but also for export from Texas Gulf ports.

Increased interest in tanning Texas hides in Texas.

Arrangements Made For Contributions to Democratic Fund

In an effort to raise Hamilton County's quota of slightly over $700 in the drive for funds for the National Democratic Campaign, community chairmen have been appointed over the county to assist in this work. From Hamilton comes the announcement that W. M. Cheney has been designated to take charge of this work in Hico, and he has started collecting funds toward this end.

Mr. Cheney solicits the cooperation of all loyal Democrats in this matter, and states that while he is chairman of the local committee, this does not mean that he can accomplish the task alone. He will enlist the aid of other committee-men, and asks that those who wish to contribute see either him or one of the committee. In case this is inconvenient, he has made arrangements for contributions to be left at the News Review office, which will promptly be turned over to the local committee, forwarded to the county committee, and then to State headquarters at Austin.

In view of the fact that Travis, Duval, Williamson, Smith, Bosque, Culbertson, Crockett, Uvalde, Kerr, and Winkler Counties already have met and exceeded their quotas, it behooves loyal Democrats in Hamilton County to act at once. There are no large single donations anticipated from this county, and for that reason it is all the more important that each individual do his share in raising funds for the campaign.

Roy Miller, State Finance and Organization Director, recently made the following statement: "I am sure the local committee members throughout the State are fully conscious of their serious obligation to the party. It is an obligation which should challenge our highest patriotism."

WASHINGTONIANS IN HICO FOR VISIT, COMPLIMENT HOME STATE ON CENTENNIAL

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Cole of Washington, D. C., were in Fort Worth Saturday where he was negotiating business for the National Mediation Board with the Rock Island Railroad Company. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Cole, accompanied by his sister Mrs. N. A. Leeth and family, and Jack Leeth and family, attended the Dallas Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole highly complimented his home state in the Centennial celebration, and also Governor Alfred's address to the Italian-American Day in their dedication of an Italian Texas Hero Statue on the Court of Honor.

Mr. Cole left early Monday for Little Rock, Arkansas.

Attend Hereford Sale. Mr. and Mrs. John Golightly, Dr. C. M. Hall and Alva Hicks of Hico were among those present at the Pole Hereford auction held at the Burleson-Johns ranch near Whitney last Tuesday. Present at the sale were prominent Hereford breeders and interested buyers from all over the United States.

Dr. Hall reports the purchase of a prize bull which he placed on his farm southeast of town, formerly owned by T. U. Little. He said many animals changed hands at the sale at high prices, and he considered himself fortunate in his purchase, although he was out quite a neat sum for his Pole Hereford which is attracting quite a bit of attention from a number who have seen him at the farm.

F. F. A. Boys Make Ironing Boards.

The Hico F. F. A. Chapter members made two ironing boards, a magazine rack and a book case for the Home Economics class. All of the three classes helped to build these. The boys enjoyed the work very much. The tools that were used were a worn-out saw, hammer, a plane that wouldn't cut a draw knife and a square. Some of the boys plan to make ironing boards for their homes. The boys enjoyed this work very much and hope some day to have enough tools and supplies to have a complete farm shop where other similar jobs can be done.

Hico F. F. A. Put Up Two Booths at Hamilton County Fair.

There were thirteen community booths besides the two booths put up by the Hico Future Farmers at the Hamilton County Fair. One of the booths put up by the Hico Chapter consisted of the awards won by the Hico Chapter in 1935. The other one consisted of ideas on the tanning of leather and the making of rope.

Johnnie Elkins, Dub Brown, Joe Powers and Mr. Lockhart put up one of these booths. A. C. Odell and Wayne Polk assisted by Mr. Lockhart put up the other one. Of the thirteen community booths put up, Shive won first place.

F. F. A. Members Visit Hamilton County Fair.

Thursday morning, Oct. 8, 32 Hico Future Farmers visited the Hamilton County Fair. They enjoyed the trip immensely. Pictures were taken of the F. F. A. boys with the grand champion horses and mules.

F. F. A. Barbecue.

Forty-four members and guests of the Hico Future Farmers held a barbecue on the Bosque River at Mr. Rodgers' place on Monday afternoon, between 5:30 and 7:00 o'clock. The barbecue consisted of goat, cakes, black coffee, onions and pickles. One goat was given to the Chapter by Mr. J. E. Burleson and was supplemented by another goat that was bought by the Chapter. Mr. Marvin Marshall was the chief barbecuer. We boys believe him the best, as well as some of our guests who said the goat sure was fine.

The barbecue was prepared over an open pit and served by F. F. A. boys to our members and guests. Mr. French, who has charge of the school buses, furnished transportation for Mr. Rogstad, Mr. Jackson, and the guests who were late down to the river. The other guests came in their own cars. After the barbecue, when everyone had had their fill, Johnnie Elkins, our president, presided over a meeting in which Mr. French, Mr. Masterson, Mr. Holford, Mr. Rogstad, Mr. Jackson, Mr. Marshall, Mr. McCullough, Mr. Welborn and Mr. Burleson were elected as honorary members of the Hico F. F. A. Each one of these men made a speech expressing their appreciation of the barbecue and for the privilege of being a member of the chapter.

Herman Leach, our former Senior president, and Clay Collier were elected associate members.

COTTON REPORT SHOWS 3534 BALES TO OCT. 1ST

Census report shows that there were 3534 bales of cotton ginned in Hamilton County from the crop of 1936 prior to Oct. 1st, as compared with 2887 bales ginned to Oct. 1st in 1935.

Taken from the report of W. W. Martin, special agent of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, these figures show county ginnings to be considerably ahead of last year.

Making Telephone Survey.

Working on survey of telephone equipment in Hico, with a view to the elimination of obsolete equipment and the betterment of service in general, J. N. Hopper, district manager of the Gulf States Telephone Company has been working in Hico several days this week.

With headquarters at Stephenville, Mr. Hopper frequently has occasion to visit in Hico on business, and the work he is doing now has resulted in removal of his assistants, especially among the business men, as most of the work done so far has been in the business section.

Supervisor Visits.

Mrs. Aby of Waco, supervisor of emergency education, called recently to see Mrs. F. H. Wilson, the local emergency education teacher, according to Mrs. Wilson.

While here, Mrs. Aby also visited the sewing room and brought a short lecture on "Correct Posture." She was accompanied by Mrs. Wil-

HEART OF TEXAS EDITORS MEET AT KERRVILLE WITH PRESS FROM SOUTH TEXAS

Approximately 250 newspaper men and their wives are expected to be in Kerrville October 16 and 17 for the fall meeting of the Heart of Texas Press Association.

Members of the South Texas regional press association have been extended a special invitation to attend the Kerrville convention. Wendell Mayes of Brownwood, president of the Heart of Texas Press Association, has announced that the convention speakers will include Wilham H. McCraw, Attorney General of Texas, and Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodall.

Other addresses will be given by Rufus Higgs, publisher, Stephenville Empire-Tribune; H. H. Jackson, publisher, Coleman Democrat-Voice and president of the Texas Press Association; Marvin Hunter, publisher, Frontier Times, Bander, and J. E. Grimstead, Kerrville novelist and former newspaper publisher.

A golf tournament and a football game between Schreiner Institute and St. Edward's University will be entertainment features on the program.

Seaboard Starting On Another Well Located Near Fairy

After putting down two test near Hamilton and one between Hico and Dublin, announcement was recently made that the Seaboard Oil Corporation would drill a test in search of oil in the northeast corner of the A. Grimes Survey on a tract of land purchased by them from the Hamilton National Bank. This is in the Fairy blocking leased by this company, some seven miles south of Hico.

Contract for drilling has been let to Lawson and Gallagher, who have been busy on the location for the past several days. Truckloads of machinery and supplies have passed through Hico daily, the slush pit and cellar have been completed, and actual drilling operations are expected to start immediately.

Geological and geophysical surveys, according to authorities, show that a structure lies within the Fairy blocking, and much hope is held by people of this community that it will contain oil. This test should cause an increase in buying and selling of leases in that locality.

Standing at a depth of around 4300 feet the test oil well drilled by Seaboard near Alexander was given up as a dry hole week before last when officials gave definite instructions to abandon the test. This hole was put down in record time, continuing the record for speed which Seaboard has made in all their operations in this locality.

Last week's issue of the Stephenville Empire-Tribune stated that another test well that will be watched with more than passing interest is the one proposed near the Bosque-Erath county line in the vicinity of Iredehl. The paper said: "A block of acreage has been signed up and it appears now that the well will be started before the end of the year."

"Another section of Erath county that much interest is being shown in is the territory between a point north of Center Grove school house and the Evergreen county line southeast of Stephenville. In that vicinity of Center Grove a block of acreage is wanted. Judge Sam M. Russell discussed the matter with a group of oil men last week, but reported Monday that he had nothing new to report on developments."

FOURTH QUARTERLY CONFERENCE AT METHODIST CHURCH TUESDAY, OCT. 20

Tuesday night, Oct. 20th, of the Fourth Quarterly Conference, the most important of the church year, will be held. Bro. Baldrige, the Presiding Elder, will be present. Let all members, especially officials, be present.

Regular services Sunday. Only two more Sundays until the Annual Conference. Let us make them the best of the year.

P. L. SHULER, Pastor.

Here From Washington, D. C.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pierce, who have moved to the Mrs. J. T. Persons place in the Cox-Weaver addition, were their nieces, Mrs. Ethel Perry and Mrs. Zola Libby, and their friend, Mrs. Ethel Johns, all of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Pierce reported that the trio composed of a jolly party, making the trip by auto, and enjoying their visits in various parts of the State very much. While in Texas they also visited Coryell County, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and Galveston.

Their daughter, Mrs. W. C. Esry, of Dallas, came down from that city with the party for a short visit also.

PREACHING AT FAIRY NEXT SUNDAY.

Our regular Third-Sunday preaching service will be held next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at Unity. You are invited and we hope you will come.

All Good Democrats Should Come to the Aid of Their Party

Austin, Texas, Oct. 12.—With less than a month until the national election Nov. 3, the campaign in Texas for Roosevelt and Garner is operating like clock-work with all units cooperating and with quotas coming in steadily to the headquarters of Roy Miller, campaign director in this state. It is a real Democratic campaign, judging by the activity, rallies and meetings being held in all of the counties.

As a result of this, Miller and Myron Blalock, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, predict that 1,000,000 Democrats will go to the polls Nov. 3, breaking all Texas records for general elections.

John Garner, vice-president; Congressman Sam Rayburn, Senators Tom Connally and Norris Sheppard together with Miller, show why it is more necessary than at any time in past Texas history to get out a big Democratic vote this year. Since the national convention has abrogated the two-thirds rule in making nominations, in the future delegate strength at national conventions will be based on the number of votes cast in the general election. Unless all Democrats vote there will be danger of losing strength and prestige in the national conventions and in Washington government affairs, and at present Texas is pre-eminent in control of party and government matters. This should never be sacrificed, and to maintain this power the vote of every Democrat and a contribution, no matter how small, is needed.

Texas will go three or four to one for Roosevelt. As to the national result Director Miller is supremely confident that Roosevelt will be re-elected, and he bases this on advice from party leaders in doubtful states, leaders who have had to know the facts. While contributions have been satisfactory, the national war chest needs much more and promptly. Democrats do not have the sources of big wealth to go that is available to the Republicans.

Nearly a dozen counties have completed their quotas and have forwarded the money, including Travis, Smith, Duval, Bosque, Culbertson, Kerr, Crockett and Winkler. Smith and Travis counties exceeded their quotas. Where Smith county was assigned $2,108, it turned in to headquarters $3,750. Where Travis county had a quota of $3,200, it turned in over $4,100, doubling the amount, and leaders say they will run it up to $7,500. These are records that help out Roosevelt and thereby help out the masses of people.

Although serious floods in the San Angelo area caused some delay, E. E. Murphy, chairman of the twenty-first district, and his committee are putting their shoulders to the wheel and raising funds. Murphy made a classic, real American statement that should be a lesson to people in every state. "The administration has responded nobly in our flood crisis in furnishing money to the W. P. A. for repairing damage done by the flood in San Angelo. This work has given employment to hundreds of men and I find the same cooperation has been extended in all other parts of West Texas. There is not the slightest doubt that Roosevelt will be re-elected by a tremendous majority despite what a lot of Republican-minded straw votes show."

Bert King reports progress in fund raising at Wichita Falls, seeking $3,000, while W. H. P. Anderson, Paris, is active in getting up $1,875. Up in Amarillo, Mayor Ross Rogers has a victorious committee raising $3,500. But the activity is just as great in the Sixth district, where Will Hooks, Itasca, is chairman. The Hillsboro Mirror reports that business men and farmers of that district are cooperating, and adds: "Hill county received so much money in the agricultural program and from other agencies of the New Deal that it felt that nearly every citizen will want to help re-elect President Roosevelt. Business institutions that never take part in politics have become interested in this campaign because there is no question that Roosevelt brought back prosperity."

Such Democratic, yes, patriotic statements as these help a lot, and headquarters receive from all over the state. Your vote and a contribution will put Roosevelt, good government and humanity back in power again.

Jack Leeth Buys Back.

Of interest to Hico friends of Jack Leeth will be the announcement made last week in The Hamilton County News that he had purchased the Hamilton Market Place from Edgar Wilson, and that the store was to open for business again last Saturday after taking inventory the previous day.

Leaving Hico two or three years ago, Mr. Leeth had previously owned and operated this business, having recently sold it to Mr. Wilson. Clinton Leeth of Dallas has entered into a partnership with Jack, and has already moved his family to Hamilton.

Keeping Up With TEXAS

The floor of the Gulf of Mexico at Bay City has risen 13 feet in the last two years, according to data received by the Texas Planning Board. The 13 foot rise in the floor of the Gulf at this point represents top soil washed from Central Texas farms since 1934.

A campaign to get Texas architects and builders to use Texas materials has been launched by the Texas Planning Board. The finest building stone in the world is found in Texas.

Out of the floods which recently raged through central West Texas has come a new organization, the Central West Texas Conservation and Flood Control Association, organized at Ballinger by representatives of the flood ravaged counties and with permanent headquarters in San Angelo. The Association will seek further protection against future floods.

Roy Heckler, 34, faces prison sentences totaling 198 years—because he went to school. Heckler, who was not seeking education when he broke into numerous Fort Worth schools last Winter and Spring, pleaded guilty in Criminal District Court at Fort Worth Monday to 14 cases of burglary and three of theft. He was given 12 years in each of the burglary cases, and 30 years each of the theft cases. The sentences will run concurrently. "I've definitely made up my mind not to get in trouble any more," Heckler said in court. "And I hope you stick to your resolution," replied Judge McGregor.

Day Carter smelled a peculiar odor while working in his warehouse at San Saba the other day. Presently he ran upon a "Shicken" snake some four feet long in an old catsup bottle. Evidently the snake had chased a mouse into the bottle, swallowed the mouse and then attempted to get out of the bottle. He could get his head and part of the body into the neck of the bottle but no further. It seems that the muscles of a snake do not operate for it to back and it must go forward or stay put.

Mrs. George H. Reynolds of Los Angeles suffered serious injury Tuesday when she fell from a fast moving car 10 miles east of Abilene. Mrs. Reynolds inadvertently struck a door knob as she attempted to put on a coat, her husband and son said. With the car moving 50 miles an hour, she was thrown to the pavement. Her skull was fractured.

A jury at Dallas Tuesday told Mrs. L. Brunnet, widow, she could not recover $5,000 damages because Karl W. Hagedorn, a suitor, lugged her and broke four ribs May 1, 1934. Mrs. Brunnet contended the hug was not a gesture of esteem but an aggravated assault on her person. Jurors found, however, the muscular strain was not liable.

Bill Landon, 42, was convicted of murder with malice and given eight years in the penitentiary for the slaying of Wash Thompson at Hamilton, Sept. 21. The jury deliberated five hours. Landon testified in his own behalf, pleading self-defense. District Attorney H. W. Allen rushed the case to completion on a two-day trial. Defense attorneys H. B. Gordon and Eugene Tate said Wednesday there probably would be no appeal.

The origin of the name, and the location of each one of the 2,148 post offices in Texas are given in the alphabetical contents of a new book, "Texas Towns," by Fred I. Massengill of Terrell. Nomenclature of Texas towns is disclosed as arising from hero worship, geographical peculiarities, ludicrous events, plain and unconscious humor and the family or historical background of families.

Eddie A. Smith, 27, shot his 22-year-old wife to death at Houston Wednesday as she held their small son in her arms and then killed himself. The child was not hurt. The shooting occurred at the home of a neighbor, where they had lived until their separation Sunday. The neighbor said Smith appeared at the house and tried to persuade his wife to return to him and the shooting followed.

A 5-year-old Guernsey cow that was sold to lift the mortgage from an Illinois farmer's home a short time ago, was crowned the grand champion female of her breed at the Texas Centennial Exposition Wednesday. Boulder, Brierley, purchased the animal for $2,200 from James D. Horner of Bismarck, Ill., who developed her. After being awarded the championship, L. V. Wilson, Boulder Bridge manager, said no price could induce the owners to part with her.

GOES 'ROUND AND 'ROUND
(And It Comes Out Here)

We noticed in a paper recently where a lady who resided nine miles from El Paso across the line in New Mexico, at the age of 118 years was doing her own housework and chops wood occasionally. She attributes her long life to work and plenty of it. No wonder people in Hico live to a ripe old age for this city contains a lot of industrious people. If the older ones can't find enough to do around the place, then they usually take their needful exercise in going places, which by the way, also makes them young in ways as well as age.

Johnny Farmer says he sold four suits of clothes Saturday, besides shirts, ties, socks and work clothes galore. We'll bet the men are using that good old cotton money. But just wait until the turkey money rolls in, and the women will begin to dress up.

Circulars are out this week advertising the Nyal's "Two for One" Sale which is in progress at the Corner Drug Co. this week. A number of the Nyal products can be purchased at the price of two for one.

J. E. Burleson gave the F. F. A. boys and a few of the business men a treat on Monday evening of this week when a big barbecue was staged on the Bosque River. Besides the good, juicy, tender meats, the trimmings such as pickles, bread etc. were served. The adviser and boys of the local organization had done quite a few favors for J. E. at his ranch south of town, so Mr. Burleson could not think of a better way to repay them than honor them with a barbecue.

S. E. Blair is preparing to install a large neon sign at his place of business to inform motorists and the public in general that eats of all kinds are served inside. It will be installed on the west side, where the highway leads.

Miss Myrtle Melton, supervisor over the ladies in the WPA sewing project, is extending an invitation to everyone in this vicinity to attend open house at the sewing rooms on Tuesday afternoon of next week from 2 until 4 o'clock. At this time they will be allowed to inspect the garments and find out what the Hico ladies really are doing. It will pay you to take a few minutes of your time to see these things, and they say there will be something good to eat, too.

A young matron of the city who, we think, deserves praise as an all-around useful person is Mrs. Robert Jenkins, who by the way was reared here, then moved with her mother to Stephenville, then back to Hico some time ago as the bride of Robert Jenkins. Mrs. Jenkins is always ready and willing to help in anything concerning church work, and progressive steps of all kinds in the upbuilding of the city and community as a whole. Can you name another in Hico so young, who is as interested in her home town in so many ways? And she does all her deeds in such a pleasing manner.

Mrs. Jim Lovell reports the loss of their fine Jersey cow by death last Monday. This was quite a financial loss to Mr. and Mrs. Lovell, and their Hico friends are sorry to learn of the misfortune.

There is quite a lot of local talent right here in Hico, and very favorable comments were heard concerning those who took part in the Hamilton County Fair Centennial Pageant at Hamilton last Thursday evening when several thousand people witnessed the affair. Those from this city wore special costumes, and their numbers consisted of dancing and solos, but various other parts were taken in the pageant. The personnel from Hico included Mrs. Roger Bailey, George Hardy, Rachael Marcum, Roberta McMillan, Jean and Jane Wolfe, F. S. Little, Emory Gamble and Sam McCollum.

Halloween Carnival.

Having almost completed their project in sewing, the Home Economics classes have begun to turn their attentions toward the coming event, to be held Oct. 21. Monday there was some discussion as to what the Carnival would contain. This is rather early, but I'll try and give you a few of the attractions. There will be "Kisses Given Away By The Most Popular Girl in High School," "Ground Hog," and also that never-to-be-forgotten "Chamber of Horrors." For the "outsiders and adults there will be a "Fishing Pond" and a very interesting "Country Store." Sandwiches, Coca Cola, candy and chewing gum will be sold all during the carnival. Of course you will have a chance to have your past reviewed and the future revealed by a noted "Fortune Teller." Last but not least there are the "Pan Dancers" and the "Sleeping Beauty."

Since these are only a few of the things our carnival will contain for future details watch the paper and also any advertisements you may see anywhere.

We wish to say that all the profits will go to buy equipment for the Home Economic laboratory. Mrs. Barnett is being so kind as to give the class a per cent of the gate receipts of her play being given Oct. 20. She has a very nice class of dancers and we feel sure that your time as well as money will not be thrown away—so make arrangements to be present.

The Spanish Club.

The Spanish Club met Tuesday night at 7:30 at the home of Marguerite Vickrey to go hayriding. Each boy was to invite a girl and each girl was to invite a boy. Each had an enjoyable time. After the hayride Marguerite Vickrey gave a party.

Mr. O. W. Hefner furnished the wagon and the Hico Mill & Elevator Company furnished corn shulkers for the hayride. Mr. Lacey gave us a discount on Tamales. The Spanish class also wishes to thank the Hico Scout Master, Bob Jenkins, and the Boy Scouts who helped to make this possible by moving the Scout meeting up to 6:00.

Warnings.

Warning to all students. Begin your six-weeks studying early. Avoid the rush. Last minute snatches may result in a D, E, F, or something worse. Prepare now! You have been reminded, do not forget. Some people have been known to put off studying until the night before and they wonder why they fail. So study now and don't send out your S. O. S. too late—and such is my freshman advice to all upper classmen.

Sports.

The football team beat Glen Rose on the home field Friday by the scant margin of one point. The final score was seven (7) to six (6). This was the first conference game of the season. The officials for here were: Dick Little, Otis Holiday, and Billy Hays.

It seemed that the boys were expecting a "push over," but to their surprise the Glen Rose team proved to be a match for them.

There were not more than two who starred in the game. I will have to mention Jack Smith (Burhead) but I cannot decide who the other was. Bill Hall caused Glen Rose to lose ground several times. Tom Wolfe could not get his mind on the game. He could not keep his eyes off the Glen Rose pep squad.

We were very glad to see the attendance of the game increased. The game for next Friday is with Meridian, and I will be harder than either of the two games that we have played. It will be played on the home field, and I believe it will be a much harder played game. Football starts forty-five minutes earlier than usual each night this week. Coach Rogstad has fitted the dressing rooms with electric lights. If the game is not won, it will not be from the lack of practice.

Everyone Come To The Game Friday!

Parties.

Friday night we had a party at the Country Club House. Everyone danced and had a grand time.

Katherne had the bunch down to her house Saturday night for one more good time.

The ninth grade want to thank Mr. Masterson for letting them off last Tuesday afternoon. He gave us this short holiday as a reward for all saying our library fees before any other rooms in High School.

Rambblings.

The best way to find out the life history of anyone is to put them to sleep and then put their hand in water. This is very popular at our parties now.

Some girls' kinda like for their mothers to go visiting. Sometimes we wonder if Roline does not like trying to be a hypnotist. Sometimes his efforts aren't in vain.

Who was it that got so angry with Jane and Helon last Friday night? Could it be that she was behind while they went to Stephenville?

bert McEntire, Mr. and Mrs. Cap McEntire and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Noland and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Noland and children, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Scott and sons, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Smith, John Driver, Aulmal Bally, W. H. Koonsman. We wish Mrs. Russell many more happy birthdays.

Misses Doss Noland and Emmett Morris of Hamilton took dinner with Doss' mother, Mrs. W. D. Nims Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Carter and children of Colorado City spent Saturday night and Sunday with his sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vincent.

Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander of Alexander, spent Sunday with her mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Albright of Seaton, spent Sunday afternoon with W. C. Rogers and family.

Miss Tina Rogers spent Sunday with Miss Deloris Fallin at Duffau.

Postcards Help Farmers.

"Keep a quarter's worth of postcards always on hand," is advice that The Progressive Farmer is constantly giving its readers. In the current issue a farmer reports that the idea has been a great help to him. He says: "You have urged farmers to keep a supply of postcards on hand for ordering catalogs, requesting specific information on different problems, and other sorts of correspondence. I don't know anything that saves me more time or pays larger returns. I find that I will write a postal for something I need when I won't take the time to write a letter—and I try to keep a supply always on hand."

An annual event, but designed to be greater than ever before this year, the South Texas State Fair at Beaumont, Oct. 15-25, may be expected to be a Texas Centennial Celebration of great importance.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, puffiness under the eyes, feel nervous, miserable—all upset.

Don't delay? Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

The astonishing story of GULFPRIDE

THE WORLD'S FINEST MOTOR OIL

THE results you get from GULFPRIDE OIL can be obtained from no other motor oil in the world!

For only GULFPRIDE is made from choice Pennsylvania crude . . . refined to equal the best motor oils on the market . . . and then further refined by Gulf's exclusive Alchlor process.

This process was developed by Gulf after 15 years of scientific research—the kind of painstaking research that is behind every Gulf product.

Read the facts below. Then replace your summer-worn oil with GULFPRIDE now. At all Gulf dealers.

(Left) BEATING THE BEST. No other process refines oil so thoroughly as Gulf's Alchlor process. When a blend of 6 of the finest Pennsylvania motor oils—already highly refined—was put through this process, 20% waste came out. Proof that the Alchlor process makes GULFPRIDE finer than the finest other Pennsylvania oils.

A GULFPRIDE USER drove from Bennington, Vt. to Portland, Ore., averaging 400 miles a day. He did not add a single drop of oil. An unusual record, yes. But expect GULFPRIDE to take you farther before you need a quart than any other oil you ever used.

EASTERN AIR LINES' Great Silver Fleet uses GULFPRIDE only in every one of its 21 mighty planes. No other oil will do, because no other oil can match GULFPRIDE—the world's finest motor oil—for safety, stamina, and low cost per mile!

IREDELL ITEMS

By MISS STELLA JONES, Local Correspondent

Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Freeman were in Meridian Friday.

The Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon at Mrs. Homer Woodley's, it being "achievement day." A good many jars of fruits and vegetables were put on display and were beautiful. Some quilts and other pieces of hand work was also on display. The fruit and vegetables were judged and it was found that Mrs. John Miller had the best looking jars, one of fruit and one of Chinese cabbage. Mrs. Mangold gave an interesting talk on the work. Refreshments of iced lemonade and cake were served to the members and some guests. All enjoyed the meeting very much.

Mrs. Tom Strange and young daughter visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Appleby a few days this last week.

Mrs. Kimmius visited Mrs. Dr. Hubbard in Cleburne on Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McClelland of Abilene, visited her aunt, Mrs. Gregory here Monday.

DRAGONS' DEN

The Twelfth Man's Resurrection.

The Dragon's twelfth man came to life Friday and did some real good yelling from the first of the game until the last whistle, even though a big part of his body had to leave when the busses ran. Since we know it can be done, are we asking too much when we urge that each member of the student body to do his part to keep the twelfth man very much alive during the remainder of the season? We think not.

Freshmen Day.

The freshmen were initiated into high school Wednesday, October 7. That day they were required to wear shoes that were not mates, and socks of different colors. The boys wore their shirts backward and wore make up. The girls plaited their hair and were forbidden the use of cosmetics.

Some of the freshmen turned the tables on the Sophomores during the day and smeared lipstick undiscriminately over the sophomore boys' face.

Third Grade Presents Play.

The third grade, under the direction of Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Sadler, presented "The Doll's Symposium" for assembly Monday afternoon.

Pep Rally.

On Thursday night before the Dragon's victory over Morgan Friday afternoon a group of loyal students assembled in the gym for a pep rally. For about two hours, the walls of the gym echoed lusty yells and songs. The twelfth man was very much alive that night.

Senior Rings Selected.

The Senior Class has selected their rings, and the order has been sent off. The rings match the Junior pins which were bought last year. They are expected to return within four weeks.

P. T. A.

Nothing definite has been announced as to the date of the first P. T. A. meeting. An effort is being made to arrange a special program for Tuesday night, October 20, or Tuesday night, October 27. The first meetings have been delayed because almost all the parents are busy picking cotton and would likely be too tired to attend. Announcements will be made later on concerning the date and the program of the first meeting.

The Homemakers.

This week the home economics I girls are studying the preparation and serving of breakfast. During this unit, they are going to make their menus, prepare company and family style breakfast, and invite guests.

The second year girls are studying the preparation of salads. Next week they will prepare dinners and luncheons.

The home economics III students are taking up the study of different diets and their effect upon the body. They are going to perform various experiments during this study.

A new work table is going to be placed in the home ec. laboratory next week, so that the laboratory will accommodate twenty students instead of sixteen.

Pigskin Palaver.

The Dragons opened their football season Friday October 9, with a brilliant victory over Morgan's Eagles.

In the first quarter while the Dragons were still warming up, the Eagles made a short pass for a touchdown. Then they went through the Dragon's line for the free point.

From then on, the Dragon's got in there and played. During the second quarter, Captain Ramage made an end run for the Dragon's first touchdown. Even though they failed to win the free point, the team's spirits soared perceptibly.

In the third and fourth quarters, the Eagles were unable to hold the Dragons. They scored four more touchdowns off the Eagles and made one free point during those quarters. The final score was 25 to 7.

The Dragons will meet the Walnut Springs' eleven here Friday, October 15. Every one come out and help the boys by joining the good pep squad.

Grammer School News.

The Iredell Grammer School has its first pep squad lead by Winnie Thelma Polnac and Stanley Whitley. The first and second pep rallies were staged in the seventh grade room. The third pep rally was held in High School gymnasium in competing with the High School pep squad. There were some good yelling out on the field last Friday and I am sure we will hear more and they will be better next time. Johnnie Gregory

The smaller children of grammer school are smiling all over their faces, for they received a new silie from Flag Branch. They are enjoying it very much. Charlene Conley

The seventh grade welcomes a new student, Sidney Parton, which came from Camp Branch. We are very glad for him to enter our class. I think he is going to be a very good school citizen. Pauline Parker

New Health Scales for Grammer School.

The Grammer School has welcomed health scales in their Health Class this year. The scales are of a modern type, and are not mounted on a table but are small and flat.

We are glad to have these to assist us in our 1934-37 health class. Guin Jackson

The Grammer School has some new desks from Flag Branch. They save some of the pupils of Iredell from having to sit in chairs. We are very glad to get them.

Miss McMahan also has a teachers desk from Flag Branch. We are sure she is glad to get it. J. D. Bowman

New Library Books

Many new library books have been brought to the Iredell High School and Grammer School children from Flag Branch. We hope that they will be well taken care of.

We are sure that they will be occupied most of the time and they have very many interesting stories in them. We are glad to have the books.

One of the books is a large dictionary that is being used by the sixth grade boys and girls. They are glad to get to use the dictionary.

SCIENCE AND THE ARTS

Very few people every stop to think of the effect of science and invention upon such things as art, literature, and music. One of the big radio broadcasting companies has announced that it has arranged with a group of eminent composers to write musical compositions in symphony form, especially designed for radio use, so that an entire symphony can be broadcast within 40 minutes of time. This is very definite change in an established art brought about by the needs of the most modern of all scientific developments, the radio.

The late Brander Mathews, Professor of Dramatic Literature at Columbia University, pointed out some years ago the effect which the introduction of electric lights had had upon the form and manner of the drama. By making it possible for everyone in the audience to see clearly every facial expression of the actors, electric lighting eliminated the necessity of pantomime and violent gestures in order to convey the idea to the spectators; the drama became conversational in tone and quite different in substance after electricity replaced gas, which in turn had subdued the drama from the earlier days of candle light.

WILD WEST LIVES AGAIN

Wild and Whoopie Days Enacted in Frontier Centennial

BLANTON MOVES OUT

Departure of Thomas L. Blanton and family from Abilene to make their home in Washington is being mourned in the city where he has lived for the twenty-eight years. With two of his sons the congressman, whose term of service as representative of the seventh district will end in January, will go into the general practice of law in the national capital, and the family home is being transferred to that city.

Mr. Blanton is in the same sort of predicament in which many another man has found himself during a long period of service as a public official. Soon or later, the office is taken away from him, and he must begin at the beginning in his business or profession to build up a competence for the rainy days of old age that are certain to come. The retiring congressman, however, is much more fortunate than are most of those who, after twenty years of public service, must go back into private life. He accumulated little money during the two decades and more given to office holdings as district judge and congressman, but two of his sons are engaging with him in the practice of law with all their youth and vigor, and he has an acquaintance in Washington that should readily develop for him a lucrative law practice there.

Exercise the eyes to make them full of sparkle, is the advice of a prominent oculist who was asked for a few suggestions on keeping the eyes young and bright. "For one thing," he said, "when your eyes are so tired that things blur and jump before them they probably need not so much rest as exercise. Eyes have muscles that get taut and tired like any other part of our complicated organism, and need their daily dozen."

Honey Grove H. D. Club Has Local Achievement Day.

Thursday, Oct. 1st, was local achievement day for the Honey Grove H. D. Club, members and several guests assembling at the home of Mrs. J. S. Lemmon, who is food demonstrator for the club, in the morning for an interesting program which continued throughout the day.

Mrs. Sally Jones, County H. D. Agent, was present and gave a demonstration on cooking an entire meal at one time in the pressure cooker. The meal, which consisted of creamed onions, potatoes in jackets, smothered chicken and baked apples, was served to those present at the noon hour and was voted by everyone as most delicious, and very economical in time of preparation and fuel used.

One of the most interesting events of the day was the display of canned and preserved products from Mrs. Lemmon's pantry. She has more than reached her goal in canning to meet the daily needs of the family, and the value of her pantry was estimated at well over $100.00.

Most of the cooperators also have reached their goals in canning and preservation of food supplies, with the exception in some instances of canned meats, which will be added a little later at butchering time.

In the afternoon the following members from Olin and Sunshine clubs were our guests: Mmes. A. J. Patterson, E. H. Couch, J. B. Pool and Miss Jessie Miller Pool from the Olin club, and Mrs. Leonard Weaver from Sunshine club.

After quilting awhile on a lovely quilt Mrs. Lemmon had in frames, refreshments consisting of cookies, hot chocolate and coffee were served to the visitors and club members, numbering 17 in all.

"Selling Our Service"

Our prices are usually some higher than mail-order stores. They buy their parts or auto accessories in larger lots or under contracts which give them a chance to sell far below our shelf price.

We sell Our Service 365 days each year. Open at night a few hours and up early next morning ready to serve you. You pay for what you get, as there are not many people with hand-outs in a hurrying life as today is.

You may not appreciate paying us more than you could get it, by waiting a few days to receive it by mail. Neither does an old bachelor appreciate paying a school tax—but our service is worth a few pennies to maintain a handy place to come in and purchase your needs promptly. It does not take 75c worth of grease to lubricate your car, any more than it does 25c worth of cold patch to patch a tube, however we cannot give our labor or services to the public.

Keep your chin up and trade at home where the boys are always on the job to sell you your needs and get a fair wage for their services. Cold weather is only a few days off and your car may need a push or pull and you and your family may get cold waiting for some one from a mail-order house to push your car so you could go to see Grandma.

Remember, we sell Our Service. "The Magnolia Boys" D. R. PROFFITT, MGR.

P. S.—You pay ME—So I can pay HIM—So he can pay THEM—So they can pay YOU.

Make-Believe Bride

Ninth Installment
SYNOPSIS: Maris Trevor is discouraged because Rod O'Rourke spends all his money developing an invention which he hopes will provide an income so that they can marry. Maris thinks they should enjoy the present rather than deny themselves for the future. She becomes uncertain of her love for Rod. Perhaps there would be more happiness with someone else.

That was soon after she'd met Rod, and he was perfect in her eyes. How she had wished then that one day he'd ask her to marry him, for then she thought surely it would be heaven to have a husband like him. She smiled in the dark. Now Rod had asked her to marry him, and she had refused. Had she made a fatal mistake? Was it better to marry within your own class and rise or sink together? But, worn out with all the strain, she fell asleep, a smile on her lips as though she were still at one with Rod, loving him with all the fever of her youth.

"Say Maris, I guess you made a tremendous hit last night. Look what the papers say about you." Maris was entering the correspondence room, and Milly darted to her side with the morning papers.

Maris' cheeks were rosy as the different salesmen came up and told her what they thought of her presentation. But all their words of praise meant nothing to her, for she felt that what Stan might say to her would make a big difference in her life.

Presently Miss Riggs hurried down the aisle. "Mr. Stanley wants you in his office right away," she said breathlessly.

"All right," answered Maris nonchalantly, but beneath her apparent calm, her heart was beating like a sledge hammer. What would he say to her? Had those girls aired their opinions to him, or did they despise him and blame him as they blamed her?

She opened the door of his office, and he rose up quickly, and taking her hand in his, shook it enthusiastically. "Well, Maris, you put it over big and I'm mighty proud of you. But where did you vanish to last night? Didn't you know I was going to take you home?"

She could not meet his ardent gaze. Her glance dropped to the tablecloth and she nervously pleaded and unpleated the snowy surface. Why had Rod come to her this night of all nights?

She loved him, and yet something seemed to be urging her on to this adventure with Stan. Surely there was no harm to it. Anyway she would never want Rod to think that she had changed her mind and was ready to marry him just because he had some money.

Then as he ceased his pleading, she glanced casually at him. "Oh, Rod, why talk about marriage all the time? If only we could be friends like we used to—"

"You know that's impossible. I love you with every inch of my being. I want you for my wife, but—well, I guess I've made a big mistake. I thought you loved me just as I love you. I suppose there's no use saying any more. I'm sorry I intruded." Picking up his hat, he started for the door.

"There's no need to go away like that. Stay to supper with us," she urged although she was feverishly hoping he would go before Patsy could add her voice to her rather half-hearted invitation.

"No thank you, Maris, I'll be gone," and before she realized it he had opened the door and vanished. Once more Maris felt disturbed by something in the expression of his lips. Then she shook herself. Stan was getting horribly critical. Stan was a good fellow. He'd show her a good time.

As she returned to her desk, she had a sort of disturbed feeling. She'd never noticed his lips before. Were they smiling or frowning? But she shook herself. She was getting fanciful. That surely showed she wasn't accustomed to her nights! Well, she must change all that.

As Maris opened the door of her apartment, she heard the murmur of voices, and when she crossed the threshold Patsy called out, "Is that you, Maris? Come on in."

"Oh, hello, Rod!" she said as he rose. "What's new?" A little shadow darkened her eyes.

"Gosh, Maris, aren't you going to kiss your boy friend, and congratulate him? He's put his gadget over and soon he'll be rolling in wealth."

"That's fine," she said, but she remained standing at the other side of the table, while the light that had leaped to Rod's eyes as he heard her enter, seemed to be extinguished.

"Well, you're sure a queer pair. I was just telling him what a hit you made last night. But there, I guess I'm in the way. I'll go in the kitchen so you love-birds can have a chance to make things up."

Quickly Rod took a step toward Maris. "Oh, sweetheart, I know you refused to marry me, and maybe there's someone else, but now that I'm going to be well fixed financially, won't you change your mind? Won't you marry me, darling? And he held out his hands to her.

For a moment, looking at him, Maris wished that she might rush to the security of his arms, might pillow her head on his breast and

As he handed her into his smart limousine, she wished that Milly or some of the other girls might see her, and listen to the line she was giving her young boss.

He hadn't a great deal to say, a few stock phrases, a few snappy come-backs, that had Maris known it, had done duty many times before. At last, however, they swung into Park Avenue and Maris was thrilled at the speed at which they went.

"Say," Stan said, "you've got to pose in the wedding dress for me. I don't want to send out cuts of Rod's picture to all our customers, and they're all writing in raving about it. You didn't know you were in the movies, in the newsworld, did you?"

"Why no, how exciting!" cried Maris.

"Oh, you don't know what you've started. But say, here we are! We'll have dinner here, and then take in a night club or two. You'd like that?"

"Sure I would."

"Well, little girl, there isn't a thing I wouldn't do for you after you were such a peach helping me out the way you did."

"Oh, it was nothing," Mr. Fayson said.

"Say, he wdo you get that way? I'm Stan to you now and always, and don't you forget it, you little bit of sugar."

"You mean I should call you 'Stan'?" asked Maris.

"Sure, I don't want any 'mistress' around here, and just remember that," he announced as they entered a hotel together.

"Now," he said, after they were seated at a rather inconspicuous table, "what do you like, Maris? Anything you want is yours for the asking."

"Oh, why don't you order for me?" she answered, amazed at the magnificence of the jewels and dress of the women around them.

"Well, if you'd like me to, I will. I rather pride myself on knowing how to order a swell dinner."

"All right, I love surprises," Maris answered, relieved that she had escaped that ordeal, for never in all her life had she dined at such a sumptuous hotel.

"Well, that little thing's attend to. What brand do you smoke?" Maris named a popular brand.

"Here they are," replied Stan, taking a jewel-studded cigarette case from his pocket.

"That's one thing we have in common," and he laughed rather vacuously as though he had got off a clever crack.

"Like to dance now?" he asked as the crooning call of the orchestra was luring people from their tables.

"No, not yet," answered Maris, realizing all too well how out of place her simple little frock would look amongst the gorgeously dressed women who were on the floor.

"All right, little one. Well here comes the eats," and Maris surprised an almost wolfishly-hungry look in Stan's eyes as the waitress put the food before him. Somehow the picture of Rod rose before her, but quickly she banished it.

The very novelty of her experience intrigued Maris as the dinner proceeded from course to course, but she was glad when, about ten o'clock, they decided to seek amusement elsewhere.

"This whole street's full of speakeasies," Stan said as he cruised on. "I wonder which you'd like best," and he turned to her with a rather foolish grin on his face.

"Oh, the one with the best orchestra," she answered quickly. "I love to dance!"

"You do? Well, here's the place," and, drawing his car to the curb, he stepped out and helped her on to the street.

When they entered the "speakeasy" Maris had a strange feeling that she had left herself outside and that it was another person who crossed the threshold in her clothes.

Immediately Stan secured a table, then ordered some drinks, for a moment Maris hesitated as she glanced at the cocktail before her. She had rarely tasted liquor.

As she hesitated, Stan said, "Better try some of mine," and asking the waiter for a glass, he poured out a generous drink from his monogrammed silver flask. "It's the Grand MacNeish. How d'ye like it?"

Maris raised the glass to her lips, and took a sip. "I guess it's okay," she said uncertainly.

"Sure, it is," he answered, filling his own glass again and drinking the liquor in one swallow.

At last, when they left, Maris wondered how he could drive after all he drank, but the night air seemed to have a sobering effect on him. When they neared home, he seemed to be perfectly level-headed, as he quickly broached a new plan he had for stressing the style end of business.

"How'd you like to work with the 'stat'?"

"I'd love it."

"Better than typing?"

"A thousand times better," she declared, glancing at him with sparkling eyes.

"Then we'll have to see about that tomorrow—or, I guess today."

"I've had a wonderful evening, Stan. I've enjoyed every minute," she said as he walked with her to the door of the apartment house.

"Well, we'll have another, sweetness," and before she realized what he was doing, she felt his lips on hers.

"Oh, Stan," she said, the color dying her cheeks. Quickly he took her in his arms and raised her face to his. "You're not angry with me, are you, love-liest?"

She shook her head slowly. Concluded Next Issue.

Trench silos are on the increase in Wood county. Five new ones have been dug and filled as well as two old ones. Six more new ones are scheduled if late feed crops turn out well. All are being used as demonstrations, and it is believed by the county agricultural agent that there will be 50 new trench silos in Wood county in 1937 if a growing interest in dairying in the county continues.

Bayer Tablets Dissolve Almost Instantly

In 2 seconds by stop watch, a genuine BAYER Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work. Drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet into a glass of water. By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating. What happens in this glass happens in your stomach.

For Amazingly Quick Relief Get Genuine Bayer Aspirin

If you suffer from pains of neuritis what you want is quick relief. Genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets give quick relief, for one reason, because they dissolve or disintegrate almost instantly they touch moisture. (Note illustration above.)

Hence—when you take a real Bayer Aspirin tablet it starts to dissolve almost as quickly as you swallow it. And thus is ready to start working almost instantly—headaches, neuralgia and neuritis pains start easing almost at once.

That's why millions never ask for aspirin by the name aspirin alone when they buy, but always say "BAYER ASPIRIN" and see that they get it.

Try it. You'll say it's marvelous.

Defective Eyesight may be the cause

Many a school failure has been traced to defective eyesight. When a child begins to show signs of backwardness—don't be alarmed—but do have his eyes examined by an eyesight specialist. Eye glasses may entirely eliminate the difficulty.

On the other hand, why wait until symptoms of eye trouble appear in your home? Guard your child's eyesight—and your own—with better light.

Better home lighting means plenty of light, well shaded and free from glare. Moreover, the whole room should be lighted, not just parts of it.

You can easily determine whether or not your lighting conforms to the prescribed standards for safe seeing by having it measured with a Light Meter. We'll gladly render this service for you without cost or obligation. Phone for an appointment today.

The I. E. S. Better Sight Lamp (right) provides several times as much light as the ordinary lamp using the same amount of current. It is scientifically designed for safe seeing.

I. E. S. BETTER SIGHT LAMP

- 1 Wide opening at top throws light to ceiling, eliminating shadows.
- 2 Glass bowl softens light, prevents glare.
- 3 Wide shade plus extra height of lamp spreads light over wide area.

Prominent Laymen of Texas Discuss the Proposed Amendments

Proposed Amendment No. 1

S. J. R. No. 3-A—The first proposed Constitutional Amendment to face the voter on November 3rd is S. J. R. No. 3-A which provides for a State dispensary system to have exclusive sale of distilled liquors and all profits from the sale of such liquors would go to the State.

Such State Employees, as in its judgment is necessary or required; and to provide for the payment of all costs, charges, and premiums on such policies of insurance; providing the State shall never be required to purchase insurance for any employees."

Proposed Amendment No. 4

S. J. R. No. 26—Removal of the absolute power of pardon and parole from the hands of the Governor and vesting it largely in those of a non-political board, is the effect of Amendment No. 4, on the November 3rd ballot.

In interpreting the Amendment Secretary of State B. P. Matocha said: "The proposed Board of Pardons and Paroles would be comprised of three members; one of whom would be appointed by the Governor; one by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and one by the Chief Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals. They will serve for six years, one member's term expiring every two years. It would be impossible in this manner for any one individual or official to ever have complete control of the board."

The Governor is given the power to grant or deny a reprieve in a death case. This is his only initiative. However, he has the veto power on all recommendations and he may revoke paroles and conditional pardons.

This amendment was given its impetus by Governor James V. Allred, who is advocating its enactment. It is believed that its adoption may be a step toward ending abuses and stopping mistakes made in the issuance of various forms of clemency.

In cases of treason, under the terms of the proposed Amendment the Governor has the power to grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons with the advice and consent of the Legislature. At the present time all power of clemency, commutations, etc., is vested in the Governor and no small portion of his time is devoted to reviewing the thousands of applications. It is a strain and a responsibility which many feel is too much to place on any one individual.

Proposed Amendment No. 5

S. J. R. No. 14—Proposed No. 5 to the State Constitution known as S. J. R. No. 14 proposes to raise the salaries of certain Constitutional officers, namely, the Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller of Public Accounts, Treasurer, Commissioner of General Land Office, and Secretary of State.

This Amendment provides that the Governor shall receive as compensation for his services an annual salary of Twelve Thousand ($12,000) Dollars, as compared to the Four Thousand ($4,000) he now receives, and shall have the use and occupation of the Governor's Mansion, fixtures and furniture.

The salary of the Attorney General would be fixed at Ten Thousand ($10,000) Dollars as compared to the Four Thousand ($4,000) he now receives. The Comptroller of Public Accounts, the Treasurer, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office each hold office for a term of two years, reside at the Capitol of the State during continuance of office, perform the duties required by them by law, and now receive a salary of Twenty-five Hundred ($2,500) Dollars per year. This Amendment would increase the salary of these officials from Twenty-five Hundred ($2,500) Dollars to Six Thousand ($6,000) Dollars annually.

The Secretary of State is appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, and holds office during the term of the service of the Governor. The present salary of the Secretary of State is Two Thousand ($2,000) Dollars per year and this Amendment would provide for a salary of Six Thousand ($6,000) annually.

Proposed Amendment No. 6

R. J. R. No. 9—Limiting the representation of the larger cities is the clear intent of H. J. R. No.

9 relating to the apportionment of State Representatives for the counties of this State whose population exceeds seven hundred thousand (700,000) people, B. P. Matocha, Secretary of State, declared.

It is provided by this Amendment that no county in this State shall be entitled to or have under any apportionment more than seven (7) Representatives in the State Legislature unless the population of such county shall exceed seven hundred thousand (700,000) people as ascertained by the most recent United States Census.

In the event a county shall have a population in excess of seven hundred thousand (700,000) people, then such a county shall be entitled to one additional Representative for each one hundred thousand (100,000) population in excess of seven hundred thousand (700,000) population as shown by the latest United States Census.

This Amendment also provides that no district shall be created which would permit any county to have more than seven (7) Representatives except under the above conditions.

Simply speaking, H. J. R. No. 9 would limit the number of Representatives in the State Legislature to not more than seven (7) from any county, unless that county had a population of more than seven hundred thousand (700,000). In that case, one more would be allowed for every one hundred thousand (100,000) above the seven hundred thousand (700,000).

Against Republicans

I do not think you need to advise anyone to vote the Democratic ticket. People certainly are not going to be caught by a man who represents nothing and doesn't know what that is. Mr. Landon certainly ought to suit the Republican big-wigs. They have never nominated a leading citizen for president. Before the nomination of McKinley, Boise Penrose told Mark Hanna that they wanted a man who was too stupid to find the capitol. Mark Hanna answered that they had him and they nominated McKinley. At that time Theodore Roosevelt was governor of N. Y. and raising a lot of trouble with trusts. Hanna said, let's make him vice-president and we will be rid of him. McKinley got shot after the war which William R. Hearst went to Tokyo to size up Landon as to his suiting the republican party after Willie had asked him a lot of other questions he asked Alf what he thought of international affairs. Alf said he thought the International Company was not entitled to all the profits; it ought to divide up with Deering and McCormick—J. E. Fitzgerald, in the Stephenville Empire-Tribune.

It seems astounding that one woman has been able to trace more than 5,000 missing sailors, but that is the record of Mrs. Janet Roper, house-mother and head of the missing seamen's bureau of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York. She has devoted twenty-one years to this service, and is called the angel of worried mothers and wives. Mrs. Roper has established contacts with superintendents of seamen's missions and operators of seamen's boarding houses all over the world. Each month she sends to them a bulletin containing the names, ages and nationalities of all the seamen she is trying to find. Mrs. Roper has worked at missions in Portland, Oregon and Gloucester, Mass.

A Valley-Made Products Exhibit will be held in Edinburg on Nov. 13 for the benefit of Centennial visitors to the Rio Grande Valley.

The Secretary of State is appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, and holds office during the term of the service of the Governor. The present salary of the Secretary of State is Two Thousand ($2,000) Dollars per year and this Amendment would provide for a salary of Six Thousand ($6,000) annually.

Persons who are the recipients of pensions from such Retirement Fund shall not be eligible for any other pension retirement funds or direct aid from the State.

Proposed Amendment No. 3 H. J. R. No. 23—For a number of years there has been a definite movement to give State Employees the benefit of Workmen's Compensation insurance. The State, by law, requires other employers in all other industries to carry such insurance on its employees while the State has not done so.

It will be possible for the State to insure its workers under the terms of the third proposed Amendment to the Constitution, which will be submitted to Texas voters November 3rd, according to Secretary of State B. P. Matocha. The amendment is permissive and not compulsory. It gives the Legislature power to provide such insurance. It does not compel them to do so.

It is pointed out that perhaps the most men effected by this proposal are in the Highway Department where most of the hazardous work of the State is done. However, there are a number of other departments which would be interested.

The heart of the amendment is found in the following language: "The Legislature shall have power to pass such laws as may be necessary to provide for Workmen's Compensation Insurance for and have my place in Lamesa leased. After the first, I am going to make the proposition: To all that want to take advantage, if you are short on money and are a sufferer, come on and just pay me what you can and I will help you and you will help me. Don't stand back on account of not having the money—come on anyway. This is my way to pay tithes, help those that cannot help themselves.

Now if you want to take advantage of this offer, do so by Sunday, Oct. 18, as I will make other arrangements thereafter. If the sufferers of this community want to take the treatments I will be here until December the 1st.

TO THE PUBLIC:

This is to certify that I have been a sufferer for the past two years with liver, kidney and bladder trouble; had high blood pressure, one stroke of paralysis which put me in a very serious condition. My hearing was badly affected. When Dr. Shoultz came to Hico I went to him for treatment and am proud to say I am feeling very much improved in every respect. Don't Let Your Insurance Run Out!

One thing the average person never considers seriously enough until it is too late is insurance. While not an insurance salesman, I am a strong believer in the protection offered by insurance, especially life insurance. Every family should have this protection. You should at least carry a burial policy. Most folks on the farm can spare enough eggs, butter, or something of the kind each month to pay the necessary premium and the resulting feeling of security is worth much more than it costs. I know folks who could carry insurance on money spent foolishly. Unless you have seen some "put away in a common pine box" you may not give this very serious thought.

Once you decide to buy insurance, seek competent advice on the matter. Not everything that is called insurance is safe. Investigate before you invest! is a slogan

Notes From Office Of Hamilton Co. Home Dem. Agent

Timely Garden Hints. Strawberries and Cream for April and May. If you expect to have strawberries for shortcake next spring, you must start now. Set plants in rich, well drained soil in rows 3 feet apart and 1 foot apart in the row. For the Gulf Coastal Region plant the Missionary variety. In East Texas plant Klondike, and in West Texas where irrigation can be done, we suggest Mastodon Everbearing. Five hundred plants will be enough to start with. For best production, set them in October. Detailed information is given in MS-316, available from the Extension Mailing Room.

Don't Overlook These. Chinese cabbage is a vegetable you can plant or set now. Its mild, crisp flavor distinguishes it from all other cabbages. Fifty plants in every garden will be source of great pleasure to the owner. Try it and blame me if you don't pronounce it "A-1" at harvest time in late fall or early spring.

We should plant carrots now in the southern half of the State. Fall carrots will usually withstand the low temperatures of the winter, and early next spring they will be available for table use. This is your yellow vegetable for late winter and early spring. Danvers' Half Long or Nantes are good varieties to plant. Do not plant over 1-2 inch deep if you expect a good stand.

Spinach. In East Texas apply 2-3 lbs. of hydrated lime per 100 feet of row, before planting. Be sure beds on which planting is done are high enough to insure good drainage.

Mustard. Mustard or turnip greens to be tender and sweet must be young. It's about time to make a second planting of "greens." Try Japanese Mustard. (Tender greens). Three weeks from planting date you will find they can be "set."

Rutabagas. When rutabagas can be started in September or early October, sufficient growth and toughness can be attained that the plants will successfully withstand light frosts. Long Island Improved in a variety producing yellow, fine grained and sweet rutabagas that approach that perfection. Plant in rows, not in beds.

Some Bug Dope.

Reports from various areas indicate that the insects have renewed their energy, and it would appear that they have inspired appetites. To thwart the energetic endeavors of these marauders, it is suggested by Mr. Reppert, Extension Entomologist and Mr. J. N. Roney of the Plant Lice Laboratory, that the following weapons of protection be used.

Lice on Mustard, Cabbage, etc. Spray with a solution of 1 oz. oil soap or laundry soap, and 6 gallons water. Dust with mixture of 1 oz. nicotine sulphate, 6 oz. hydrated lime mixed together by a flour sifter, or if larger quantities are needed, mix in a barrel. This mixture is most effective at temperatures above 70 degrees F.

There are other mixtures which have been worked out by the Experiment Station which are less expensive and also more effective at lower temperatures than the spray mixture suggested above. Due to restrictions of the franking privilege, it is impossible to name these. If you have lice problems, drop us a card and we will give you the combinations for mixing these cheaper materials.

Cabbage Worms and Tomato Worms. (Non-arsenical materials used.) Dust with a mixture of 90 per cent flower of sulphur and 10 per cent derts. This mixture should cost about 10 cents per pound and 20 to 25 pounds of dust are required per acre for one application.

Belted Cucumber Beetle and Bean Leaf Hopper on Fall Beans. These pests attack the blooms and foliage causing shedding. The larva may feed on roots of the plants. To control these critters, use two to three applications of 300 mesh sulphur at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds per acre. This has proven very effective in increasing yields as much as 50 per cent per acre.

SALLY JONES, Home Demonstration Agent.

On Texas Farms and Ranches. Farm timber resources are coming into recognition in East Texas as it appears by the interest of the 100 farmers who attended the recent demonstration by Extension Agents of a portable sawmill on the J. A. Page farm in the Greenhill community in Titus county. Methods of stacking lumber for curing without warping, and chemical treatments were also demonstrated. In addition to the sawing of trees, logging them to the mill, sawing the logs, and planing the lumber. The 1,250 board feet produced during the two-day demonstration will be used by Mr. Page to make improvements on his farmstead.

Terraces on the farm of Dr. J. A. R. McCreary are reported by the Marion county agricultural agent as causing the land to produce this year a third more corn per acre than surrounding farms. These were practically level terraces and held all the moisture on the land.

Inoculating cowpeas at planting time produced 5,486 pounds of green vines per acre for C. W. Duncan, Cass county farmer. This was 1,716 pounds more than was produced on a plot where the seed were not inoculated, reports the county agricultural agent.

Hico Superintendent Seeks Presidency of State Teachers Assn.

C. G. Masterson, superintendent here for 19 years, holding degrees from both Southwestern and the University of Texas, Wednesday announced as a candidate for the presidency of the Texas State Teachers Association, which will elect at the Thanksgiving meeting at Fort Worth.

Before coming here Mr. Masterson was principal for two years at Round Rock, three years at Jonah, two years at Athens as superintendent and as a teacher for three years at Fort Worth.

In announcing Mr. Masterson made the following statement and outline of his platform:

In the next issue of the Texas Outlook will appear my announcement as a candidate for the office of President of the Texas State Teachers Association. The office is one of the most important in the State and carries with it considerable responsibility. I respectfully request the support and influence of the teachers in Texas generally. If elected to this office I promise faithful service to the organization and submit my platform upon which I ask the support of Texas teachers for the office of its president.

1. The State per capita appropriation should remain at its present level and should be raised if possible.

2. The teachers' retirement fund should be provided for by appropriate legislation.

3. The present curriculum revision movement should receive the support of every teacher in the State of Texas. The schools which receive aid from the State Department of Education should show unmistakable evidence of the fact that their teachers are adopting this new course of study as fast as the local conditions will warrant.

4. That the requirements for teachers' certificates should be gradually increased until all teachers who teach in the state shall be required to have college degrees.

5. Every teacher would be urged to become a member of the Texas State Teachers Association. This organization has done more to promote the interests of Texas Teachers than any other organization which has ever come into existence.

6. The marital status of women should not be in any way prejudicial to their teaching in our public schools.

7. That some sort of educational qualifications should be required of school trustees.

8. There should be no further restrictions placed upon boys and girls as to age limit as a condition to participating in the activities of the University Athletic League of Texas.

9. That the tenure of teachers in Texas should be made secure. The time has passed when competent teachers should be dismissed from their positions on the whims of those who have the lawful authority to hire and fire teachers at pleasure. I favor legislation which will give teachers the right of a hearing before being dismissed from their positions and that they may have the right to be represented by counsel at the hearing.

C. G. MASTERSON.

YOUTH approach
Whenever I encounter a young man or a young woman who shows some signs of understanding that inexperience is not the best qualification for starting at the top, I try to give him or her a helping hand.

The son of an old friend came in to ask me to help him to get a newspaper job. I gave the boy's father his first job, 35 years ago. I asked the son what his ideas about pay were.

"I don't care what the pay is," he said. "I know I don't know anything. I want to start at the bottom and learn." I sent him to three newspaper editors who are always looking for young people who know that they don't know anything yet.

Another young man came in. He had been offered $10 a week on a small paper, but that wasn't good enough. He, too, had no experience, but wanted to get in through a second-story window. I told him to come back after he had revised his ideas of his own value.

ART work first
One of the annual events in New York is the outdoor exhibition in Washington Square of the works of struggling young artists. I strolled around the Square the other day, looking over the pictures and statuary.

Most of the efforts were so terrible that they were pitiful. "What's wrong with these folks?" I asked a sculptor friend who was with me.

"They think they know it all," he replied. "They won't take the time and do the hard, slow work of learning how to draw before they begin to paint and model. They want to start with color and figures. Of course, they won't get anywhere."

It struck me that was sound criticism of the approach toward life of many young people. They've never learned how to work or what real work means.

EDUCATION never ends
Nobody really counts for much in human affairs unless he learns something each day, as long as he lives. One of the best-educated men I know never went to school after he was ten. He went to sea as a boy, learned everything there was to learn about ships and navigated until he became captain of a great trans-Atlantic liner. He found time, also to master three languages.

Now, in his retirement, he is still learning. He was at my house a few nights ago, filled with enthusiasm over a radio set he had built himself. A young engineer who was present said the old captain knew as much about radio as he did.

I know scores of men who keep themselves young and abreast of the times by trying all the time to learn more about things of which they admit their ignorance.

SATISFACTION master
Nobody I believe is really satisfied with life as he faces it until and unless he has made himself master of his own part in the general scheme of things. The unhappy people I have known are chiefly those who have never taken pains to master their own jobs.

"Art is long and life is short," is a true old proverb. It takes a life time to master any art or craft. The late Daniel Chester French, of the world's greatest sculptors, began work at 80 on a statue of which he had dreamed for years. "I have never felt until now that I had learned enough about sculpture to express my dream in stone just as I dreamed it," he said to me one day in his studio. "Perhaps this statue will make my reputation."

The sculptor of the great Lincoln Memorial in Washington had the modesty which all great craftsmen have. He knew there was so much yet to learn, even at 80.

PLAY essential
There is such a thing as too much devotion to learning. An extremely ambitious young man of serious mind told me not long ago that he spent all of his spare time in studying. Life was too short, he said, to waste any of it in play.

The other day his father told me the boy had a nervous breakdown from over-study.

If I were to lay down a formula for a successful and happy life it would, I think, run something like this: "Master your work, but don't let your work master you. Learn your craft as well as you can, but at the same time learn to play at least one game as well as you can, and drop your work, mentally as well as physically, in your play time."

Two married women teachers have just won a distinct victory in New Jersey. The news is particularly gratifying to the National Federation because we have opposed with all our strength discrimination because of marriage. The New Jersey Supreme Court, ruled in ordering the reinstatement of the two Mrs. Elsie Hokanson and Mrs. Beatrice M. Sharp, both of W. Wood, N. J., that married school teachers cannot be discharged simply because they have husbands to support them. The teachers were discharged two years ago without a hearing and solely because they were married.

Another advance for women in all business world is marked by the appointment of Miss Avis Lobbell as special representative of the Union Pacific System. She is the daughter of Judge Charles E. Lobbell, a member of the First Federal Farm Loan Board under President Wilson.

The imposter makes others believe him to be what he knows he is not.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

Denton, Oct. 13.—Appreciative shoppers are watching the new winter coat collections most enthusiastically. They're so different that even the keenest shoppers mistake them for stunning outer tops of particularly distinctive ensembles. They're long and fitted, they're graceful without a single suggestion of bulk or shapelessness anywhere. The fur is attached as decoration, not just thrown hit or miss anywhere on the wool.

A stone grey wool has a flaring skirtline, a nautically accented waistline with a grey suede belt; long, even modestly full sleeves, and shows silky brown nutria for the chest protector effect, the rounded moderately large collar and the narrow bands around the cuffs. This coat will be especially smart with old dresses or a grey wool suit of a darker tone. The coat dresses up or down to whatever you decide to wear.

Tuxedo collars are big successes with girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA). The plump individual looks inches thinner, even taller, and the tall can wear them with equal dash. A tuxedo collar of Persian lamb or grey wool dramatizes another high fashion note. It looks distinctly Russian with the flare to the skirt, the slenderizing long collar, and the wide, loose sleeves also cuffed in the fur.

Silver fox is worked into flattering collars on some of the black wool coats, and civet cat fur is especially smart on dull green coats.
