Head Of British Troops In Holy Land Replaced

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Maj. Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan, who stormed the Rhine with the 51st Highland Division, took command of British troops in Palestine and Trans-Jordan Thursday, succeeding Lt. Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker.

The change of command came in the midst of a new outbreak of violence in the Holy Land.

The British army, battling the elusive Jewish underground, arranged to clamp on the most rigid security measures yet invoked in the Jerusalem area at noon—putting into full effect a new cantoning of the city into four heavily secured compounds, where limited restrictions have been in effect for a week.

Jerusalem Takes Skirmishes

Wednesday night seven Jews were reported wounded and four kidnaped in skirmishes between Arabs and Jews in Haifa Harbor.

LONDON — (AP) — Britain's proposals for a Palestine settlement have been sent to the U. S. State Department, a foreign office spokesman said Thursday, but the only reply received thus far from Secretary of State George C. Marshall was an expression of appreciation "for the information".

Has Extractions—At Three Weeks

Apparently not minding in the least, three-week-old Sharron Lee Engels, of Los Angeles, looks calmly at dentist E. E. Torsch as he extracts the two teeth with which she was born. X-rays showed that her "baby" teeth were developing normally under the premature ones and extractions were made to prevent deformities of the lower jaw. Local anesthetic was administered with hypodermic needle. Pictured, left to right, are: Dr. Torsch, Mrs. Evelyn Engels, the baby's mother; Sharron; and nurse Esther Englund.

U. S. And Canada To Exchange Military Facts

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States and Canada were disclosed Thursday to have agreed on a full exchange of military intelligence information on what other nations are up to.

The provision is one of a series of point-by-point agreements underlying a general accord to extend indefinitely the wartime collaboration of American and Canadian armed forces, persons familiar with the year-long negotiations said.

They asserted privately that more than a score of specific understandings were reached before Washington and Ottawa jointly announced the overall agreement late Wednesday.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Harold E. Stassen's Declaration that the Republican Party must make a "major adjustment" in tariff policies to avoid a "slide backward into economic isolation," Thursday pointed up policy differences among possible GOP presidential candidates.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Republican fiscal managers refused to yield Thursday on their decision to slash the 1948 budget by $6,000,000,000 despite Army-Navy protests that cutting their funds will endanger the nation's security.

BUCHAREST, ROMANIA — (AP) — The Magyar Popular Union decided Thursday to join the government bloc of parties, leaving only a shadow of opposition to the government in parliament.

Attlee Informs Parliament Of Brownout Savings

LONDON — (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee informed Parliament Thursday that the power brownout, now enforced throughout the island on a virtual wartime footing, had saved 78,000 tons of coal in three days, but that "the situation remains very critical".

He said the six big power stations of London had only a week's supply of fuel and that the London Gas Company's coal piles had dwindled to stocks that would last nine and a half days.

While he spoke, grimly colliers beat down the east coast from northeast loading ports and scores of trains carried fuel supplies toward stilled industrial centers in battle against the economic crisis which has thrown 5,000,000 or more persons out of work and forced an island-wide power reduction, under wartime penalties of fines and prison for violations.

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman said Thursday that the United States is ready to do everything within its power to relieve the plight of the British people in their present fuel emergency.

Temperatures dropped to 23 degrees, Fahrenheit, Wednesday night and no immediate relief was forecast. All four British railroads reported every effort was being made to get coal through on lines which snow drifts had clogged.

A national Defense Act carrying penalties ranging up to fines of $2,000 and imprisonment for two years for violators was invoked as the daily five-hour ban on the use of electricity for homes and other domestic consumption was extended.

LONDON — (P) — Members of a trade delegation from Iceland arrived in London Thursday. They want to buy coal.

to all of England, Scotland and Wales—shivering in the bitterest cold wave in half a century.

Attlee, calling for measures as urgent as for a major military operation to speed the mining and transport of coal, set up a special nine-man "coal cabinet" and ordered Labor Minister George Isaacs to organize immediately additional civilian labor to help in clearing the snow-blocked arteries of transport.

Midlanders Pay Their Taxes; The Percentage Rate Being 97 Per Cent

By TANNER LAINE

Taxes! Whatever you think about them! Midlanders pay them. And the percentage of payment is very good indeed. In fact it is 97 per cent.

A study of the school, city and county taxes with the assistance of Ily Pratt, school and city tax official, and J. H. Fine, county tax assessor-collector, proved that statement to be true.

It goes without saying this is a compliment to our citizenry. To the fulfillment of its obligations to school, city and county.

Penalty Increases

Penalties for delinquency of payment of one per cent apply until July when the penalty becomes eight per cent in the case of school taxes. Interest rates are six per cent per annum from February 1 to date of payment.

The 1945 city tax rolls of Midland totaled $128,421.57, and for 1946, $197,053.36.

Midlanders have paid $167,601.94 in 1946 school taxes. One-half payment of 1946 taxes total $6,528.80. Unpaid 1946 school taxes on which penalty and interest charges will apply are $19,668.16, approximately 10 per cent of the 1946 roll.

UN Council Summoned To Approve Arms Reduction Machinery

LAKE SUCCESS — (P) — The United Nations Security Council was summoned Thursday to give final approval to proposed arms reduction machinery after the United States had won a preliminary victory in the fight over atomic control procedure.

By a vote of 9 to 0, with Russia and Poland abstaining, the council Wednesday night approved a clause which would set up an 11-nation "commission for conventional armaments" to study all phases of arms reduction not already being examined by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Russian Veto Unlikely

Wednesday night's vote—taken at the end of a seven-hour debate—came as the council considered clause by clause of a draft resolution outlining the entire machinery of arms reduction. This resolution must be voted upon as a whole Thursday, but it was considered unlikely that Russia would invoke the veto.

Much Sought-After Bandit Surrenders To Patrolmen Near Lamar - Fanning Line

PARIS — (AP) — A man sought for three days in connection with a series of Northeast Texas crimes surrendered to two state highway patrolmen stationed at Paris early Thursday afternoon.

A report to the Paris Police Department said the fugitive surrendered to Patrolmen Ross Kemp and W. A. Beaty shortly after 2 p. m.

The man surrendered on a farm situated on the Lamar-Fanning County line.

Officers said the man's home was in Edinburg, Texas.

A report to the Paris Police Department said two deputy sheriffs sighted the man early Thursday in the brush six miles south of the Red River. Bloodhounds, rushed here Wednesday night from Gatesville, were immediately placed on his trail, but shortly before noon the man had avoided capture.

Airplanes joined in the search Thursday. One was piloted by Capt. Edward Welsh of Bonham. Deputy Sheriff A. C. McClure, who knows the territory well, acted as his observer. Another plane was reported to have taken off from Paris, in adjoining Lamar County.

Nomination Of Lilienthal Will Not Be Withdrawn

WASHINGTON — (P) — The White House said Thursday that President Truman "hasn't the faintest intention" of withdrawing David E. Lilienthal's nomination for chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

In response to a question as to whether the former TVA chairman had asked withdrawal of his name from the Senate, Ross replied with a blunt, "he has not."

Ross spoke after Senator Hatch (D-NM), a Lilienthal supporter, said that during a talk with Truman he got the impression the President would insist on confirmation of the nominee.

Two other senators already had added their support Thursday for Lilienthal in the saw-saw contest over his confirmation. Senators John Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Wayne Morse (R-Ore.), told a reporter they will vote for the former TVA chairman.

Odessa Man Is Rotary Speaker

Malvern McDonald, city attorney of Odessa, told Midland Rotarians, at their meeting in Hotel Scharbauer Thursday noon, of a three-hour interview he had with Father Divine as an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He described Father Divine's "heaven" in Philadelphia, and told of his disciples and angels. The appearance and dress of the man also were described.

McDonald said the "father" requires his members, when they join his sect, to pay-off all their debts, and to assign to him all their worldly possessions.

"Father Divine did a good work with his sect during the war," McDonald said. He told of the War Bonds sold by the man who has a big following of both whites and blacks.

The beliefs of the sect were outlined.

McDonald was introduced by Tom Sealy, R. L. Miller, president, presided.

U. S. Blocks Red Attempt To Write Clause In Treaty

LONDON — (P) — The United States Thursday blocked a Russian attempt to write into the forthcoming Austrian peace treaty a clause prohibiting pan-German propaganda in any form and "propaganda hostile to the United Nations."

The issue, cropping up a second time at the Four-Power Deputy Foreign Ministers Conference, was referred to the Foreign Ministers March Conference in Moscow. British sources said after U. S. delegates expressed fear such a clause would justify future interference in Austrian internal affairs.

Gen. Mark W. Clark, U. S. deputy, said the question was one of freedom of speech. He was supported by the British delegate.

The Californian will be flown to El Paso Friday.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Representative Gwinn (R-N. Y.), back from a "work-bench" survey, reported Thursday he found rank and file jobholders strongly in favor of "improving" the Wagner Labor Relations Act and banning industry-wide wage bargaining.

Reaction to the closed shop Gwinn told a reporter, "was very mixed".

The New Yorker flew to Nashville and Indianapolis to sound out opinions of ordinary working men for the House Labor Committee. A committee member, he plans a similar trip shortly to Rochester, Syracuse and Yonkers, N. Y.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcinate (formerly called Barcel Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Lord, TEACH US TO PRAY

When Jesus taught His disciples the now familiar words of what we call the Lord's Prayer, He placed in their hands the most powerful spiritual weapon ever devised.

This materialistic age, engrossed as it is in the things that can be touched and seen, but vaguely comprehends the dynamic power of prayer.

PRAYER gives direction to life. There is nowhere a greater waste than in the realm of misdirected human energies.

PRAYER gives perspective. How difficult it is always to give first place in life to those values of first importance, and to treat as trivial, things that are really trivial! Yet, earnest sincere prayer helps us do just that.

PRAYER releases spiritual power. It may not always remove the burden or sorrow, but it gives power to bear and overcome.

Nor is prayer just a one-way street in which we ask something of God. One of its principal values is that through reverent listening, we hear God speak to us.

The Church has been called the House of Prayer. And so it is. The one business of the Church is properly to relate the individual to God. And the chief means of achieving this end is Prayer.

When in the right spirit we go to Church, we give God a better chance to speak to us, and we, in turn, may the better talk with Him.

Won't you go to Church this Sunday?

The Church needs you.

YOU need the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the Church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake of his children's sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday.

On rural routes everywhere in America, on snowy highways of the north, on sunny by-ways of the south, live the 5,500,000 ranch and farm families who produce America's supply of food. It's a big supply, too, the greatest in the world. From your farms and ranches in 1946 came livestock, dairy and poultry products and crops to the value of about twenty-three billion dollars, according to latest available government estimates. Meat animals and dairy and poultry products accounted for about 60 percent of the total farm cash income, current estimates reveal. Agriculture, the nation's most essential industry, is "big business" in every sense of the phrase.
 Of all your cash income last year, $981,660,783* came from Swift & Company in payments for livestock and other agricultural raw materials. We purchased your livestock and other products and converted them into millions of pounds of quality meats, valuable by-products, other foods and products. Part of the money you received from Swift came from our meat packing plants, dairy and poultry plants and buying stations. Another portion of the money paid out by us was for soybeans, cottonseed, peanuts and other raw materials.

 Swift provides a wide, ready, year 'round market for your livestock and other products—and out of every dollar we receive in a year from sales, we return, on the average, 75¢ to you. Last year, 1.3¢ out of each dollar of sales was profit. Part of this amount was paid out as dividends to the 63,365 shareholders as a return on their investment. Part was retained in the business for future needs.
 *The actual amount paid for livestock and other agricultural products is greater than shown by the amount of the subsidies paid by the Government.

For People . . . By People
 We at Swift & Company think of our business as being owned by 63,365 people, the shareholders and their families, and operated by 66,000 employees. We provide essential services for agricultural producers and many other large groups of people. Employment is created for other thousands who work for railroads, trucking firms, livestock commission houses, stockyards companies, and the suppliers who furnish us salt, sugar, boxes, barrels, machinery and a thousand-and-one other things. A part of the business of thousands upon thousands of retailers everywhere in the nation is in purveying Swift's quality meats and other products to millions of American families.
 In return for all the effort that made these services possible, the folks who work for Swift earned $164,013,099 in wages and salaries in 1946. This sum is 88% of the total remaining after all bills except taxes were paid, and is ten times more than the company's total net profit.

FEED VALUES ARE SOIL VALUES
 by Wm. A. Albrecht University of Missouri
 Recently a farmer friend of mine told me, "I've moved to another farm where I get bigger yields in all my feed crops. But even though I shovel much more corn and pitch a lot more hay, I can't get my calves to market as early. I'm just not growing as much meat per acre."
 This man doesn't realize that feed bulk is no indication of feed value. Livestock will not gain on larger rations unless the feed value of any crop is derived from the basic nutrients found in the soil. The crop must first build up the woody structure that makes up its bulk. Then, if soil conditions are right, the plant will support a supply of the raw materials of protein, vitamins, and mineral compounds. Thus, whether a crop offers anything more than bulk and fattening power depends on the condition of the soil on which it grew. Livestock may be fed great quantities of feedstuffs produced on poor soils and still fail to gain weight. It is soil that has been guarded against erosion, fertilized properly, and carefully managed, that grows nutritious crops. Such soil will produce crops that give better feeding results and make more meat per acre.

"WHERE DID THAT $1,308,364,155 GO?"

During 1946 Swift & Company received $1,308,364,155 from the sale of its products and by-products. By the end of the year the Company had earned a net profit of $16,394,739, which is slightly less than 1.3¢ on each dollar of sales.

What happened to the rest of that money?

Well, the largest part was paid to farmers and ranchers who sold us livestock and other agricultural products. They got $981,660,783* or 75¢ out of the average sales dollar we received for products sold, including all by-products such as hides, wool, soybean meal, etc.

The next largest portion of our sales dollar went to all Swift employees. Their share of the dollar was 12.6¢.

Fuel, barrels, boxes, paper, salt, sugar and other supplies took 4.8¢ out of the average dollar.

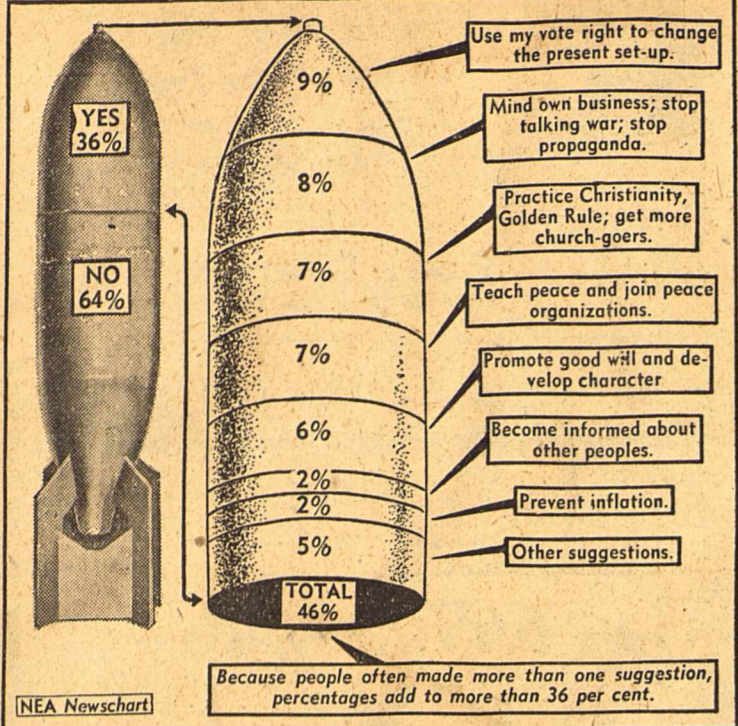

Transportation took 2¢ (Meat travels, on the average, over 1,000 miles from producer to consumer.)

Taxes took another 1¢. All other expenses, including depreciation, interest and miscellaneous business costs, amounted to 3.3¢.

All these costs taken out of the sales dollar left 1.3¢. This was Swift & Company's net profit in 1946—a profit of only 1/4 of 1¢ on each pound of the millions of pounds of products and by-products handled.

"How Can You Help Prevent War?"

Americans generally had very specific ideas on how they, as individuals, could do their bit for the war effort. But nearly two-thirds of them can think of no way in which they can do their bit toward eliminating future war, according to a recent survey made by Denver University's National Opinion Research Center. As Newschart above shows, 64 per cent answered "No" when asked if they could think of anything that they, personally, could do to help prevent another war. The suggestions offered by the 36 per cent who answered "Yes" are shown at right.

Quaker Oats Company Announces New "Win A Home" Contest

"WIN A HOME!" is the appealing theme of a timely new contest sponsored by The Quaker Oats Company of Chicago, for Quaker Puffed Wheat and Rice Sparkies. In view of the fact that America's No. 1 shortage is housing, interest in this nationwide contest is certain to be sensational. First prize is a genuine P & H Pre-Assembled Home of 5 rooms, plus $1,000 toward a lot, $8,000 in cash is offered as an alternate prize. There are 302 prizes in all, totaling $10,000. The contest will be announced February 23 in color roto sections and American Weekly pages. The rules will be published and announced over the air.

Hundreds Of Scientists From Eight Countries Are Expected In Brazil To Witness Sun's Eclipse

By HOYT WARE
RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Several hundred prominent astronomers are expected to come to Brazil next May 20 to observe an eclipse of the sun from an area considered the most advantageous in the world for witnessing the phenomenon. Astronomers from eight countries, representing official and private scientific groups, have accepted invitations from Brazil's National Observatory to participate in the experiment. Delegations are expected from Finland, Sweden, England, Australia, France, the United States, Argentina and Russia.

The observers will establish their headquarters at the town of Araxa (arra-shah), about 200 miles inland from the city of Belo Horizonte, capital of the state of Minas Gerais. Belo Horizonte is some 400 miles northwest and inland from Rio de Janeiro. Indians Were Mystified The scientists, armed with man's most advanced knowledge of the universe and miraculous modern equipment, will watch the eclipse on the same ground where uncivilized Indians centuries before them gazed at the sun through bits of quartz crystal.

Indian legends call the area of Araxa "the place where one first sees the sun." Nearby waters are radioactive, and these too were exploited by primitive Indians for their healing properties. A recent scientific report said the waters contain thorium and possibly uranium; one of the substances with which atomic bombs are made. On May 20 the sun is expected to traverse this area on a path directly across the South American continent from Salvador, capital of the Brazilian coastal state of Bahia, southwestward to Santiago, Chile on the Pacific coast. A small strip of this line in Minas Gerais is described as the perfect point of observation for the eclipse. Plans are already well under way to house more than 1,000 persons in the observation area. Near Araxa, a town of nearly 20,000 population, is a luxurious resort hotel with a lake of radioactive waters. A well-known health resort, it is called Estancia. The hotel itself is expected to take in 400 guests while 200 more will live in adjacent buildings. Others will stay in the town or in nearby villages along the path of the sun in that vicinity. Landing fields are being prepared for planes bringing the scientists and their equipment. Cement bases will be built to hold modern telescopes, and a veritable laboratory and observatory will be concentrated there. Two of the earliest unofficial delegations registered for the occasion are the National Geographic Society and Brown University from the United States.

Cowboy Dick Griffith Most Worried When Jumping Horses Over Car

By TOM ADEN
DENVER—(AP)—Dick Griffith has been a trick rider since he was big enough to straddle a horse, but he's a worried cowboy when he thunders across the arena with one foot planted on one horse, one on another, and soars into the air over an automobile. "The main danger is that they'll hesitate at the car, I'll go over without them and then they'll come on over and land on top of me," explained the 33-year-old Scottsdale, Ariz., cowboy between shows at the National Western Stock Show, where he presented his new stunt for the first time. They Spill Rider The jumpers—2,500 pounds of handsome horseflesh — are connected only by the reins Griffith holds. On their second try at the stunt before the stock show crowds, they refused the jump, split apart and dumped Griffith between them. But he remounted, calmed them with a few slow turns around the arena and then drove them to and over the barrier safely on another try. The horse-wise cowhands who make the rodeo circuit with Griffith agree that as long as his luck and nerve hold he has just about the most spectacular act in the game. Trick riding is old stuff for Griffith. His dad, Curly Griffith, was a trick rider, and had Dick following in his hoofprints on the back of a Brahma calf when he was six. By the time he was nine, Dick had his first trick riding championship and they've been coming his way ever since. His most prized title is the international trick riding crown won in London in 1934. Griffith is equally at home on the back of a Brahma steer. He was the champion steer rider five years, the last time in 1946. He still rides the Brahmas in rodeos where he doesn't give his new trick. That makes him solid with the other cowhands. Many Real Crackups Just about every bone in Griffith's body has been broken during his 27 years on the rodeo circuit, including a broken neck at Boston in 1944. But his worst spill which landed him in the hospital with a broken back for 60 days came while he was punching cattle. For the last six years Griffith had his new stunt in the back of his mind. He finally started his half-thoroughbreds by jumping them over a low barrier a year ago. Next he substituted a car body, and finally worked them up for an automobile. His attractive brunette wife is on the edge of the arena each time he makes the jump and admits she "sweats him out."

Yam Buns Spark Up Breakfast

Louisiana yam buns perk up breakfast.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Winter mornings call for something with substantial appeal. Try these buns from Louisiana. They are worth 10 times the work.

Yam Buns (Makes 18 buns)

One-half cake compressed yeast, 1/4 cup lukewarm water, 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup milk, scalded; 3/4 cup cold mashed yam sweet potatoes, 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, icing sugar, 1/2 cup molasses, or 400 pounds of fodder yeast, 800 pounds of baking soda, 320 pounds of gypsum or 1,050 pounds of lignin.

The only sure protection from battery freezing is to keep the battery fully charged.

Blend 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar with 2 teaspoons warm water. Sugar-Easy Drop Cookies (Makes 3 dozen cookies)

One-half cup fat, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup molasses, 1 cup grated raw sweet potatoes, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, if desired, 1/4 cup sour or buttermilk. Cream together fat and sugar; add egg and beat thoroughly. Add molasses, sweet potato (grated just before using), and orange rind. Sift together the rest of the dry ingredients; add them alternately with milk to the sweet potato mixture. Mix well and drop from a teaspoon onto a greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until golden brown.

Woodpeckers On Lark Picked Larch Wood

MISSOULA, MONT.—(P)—I. V. Anderson, a Federal Forest Service employe, attended a session at the Federal Forest Products Laboratory and returned convinced that maybe the woodpeckers know what they're doing. He said he learned that one cord of larch wood, a common Montana growth, when put through certain chemical processes, could yield 240 gallons of sugar molasses, or 400 pounds of fodder yeast, 800 pounds of baking soda, 320 pounds of gypsum or 1,050 pounds of lignin.

The only sure protection from battery freezing is to keep the battery fully charged.

Raucous Laughter Wrecks Charm

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

A woman can be beautiful well-dressed, suavely-mannered and know her way around the world, yet have these impressions of charm wrecked by her loud or raucous laughter.

Charm exponent Margery Wilson describes that kind of laughter as nervous explosiveness. She says it's often mirthless, and is more apt to be a defense mechanism than a happy emotional reaction. But luckily an unpleasant guffaw can be changed into a merry, rippling laugh which, says our expert, is the way a laugh should sound.

To remedy the trouble which effects the boisterous laugh—it's trapped in the throat by muscular constructions—Miss Wilson says to re-train it to start from the diaphragm. At that point of origin a laugh can be controlled, made flexible, be released loudly or softly.

The training? Practice deep-breathing exercises. While breathing deeper, as deep down as the diaphragm, says Miss Wilson, practice exploding silent mirthless ha-ha-ha sounds from that point of origin in jerky gusts of air. These exercises create a channel for a laugh which with practice will take to the new longer route with hearty, bubbling or rippling sound.

TRANSPARENT EXCUSE

Inmates Of Berlin Zoo Suffer From Night Prowlers

By DANIEL DE LUCE
BERLIN—(P)—Thieves are now the greatest hazard to the 250 surviving denizens of the Berlin Zoo, where more than 3,000 animals were killed by Allied air raids and a final pitched battle between Russian and SS tanks.

Current losses to night prowlers range from a speckled porcupine to a small white rat. "The porcupine probably went into a stew," reported Dr. Katharina Heiroth, zoo director. Animals Get Rations
Unlike the human population of Berlin, the zoo's inmates have solved the food problem. Siam, an old tent-eared elephant, who has never seemed to have forgotten his fear of the bomb explosions that did away with eight of his brethren, regularly gets 100 pounds of fodder a day from the city government. Sisi, a tricky chimpanzee, draws a No. 5 food ration like a child. The three lions—King, Prince, and Fussy—are quite satisfied with 20 pounds of horsemeat each morning.

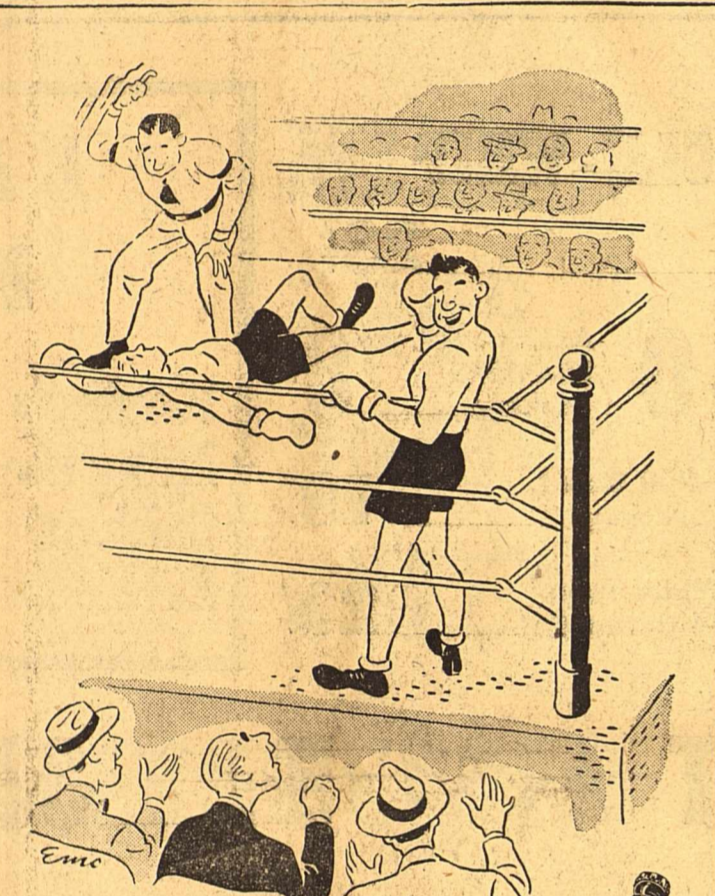

The zoo, near the Tiergarten in the center of Berlin, took more of a pounding from high explosives than most places of the Siegfried Line. A sea elephant was mortally wounded by flak. Wehrmacht veterans, entrenching for a last stand against the Red Army, executed two gorillas rather than risk having them suddenly escape in the midst of their foxholes. They're Battle Veterans
Dr. Heiroth, who moved her office back into the battered Aquarium when it was evacuated by a Russian infantry battalion, said a war neurosis was still evident in the animals, even at this late date. "Sisi, our chimpanzee, can't bear to hear any loud noise," she said. "Siam, the elephant, has never recovered his good disposition."

3-Minute Oats Speedy, Delicious And Thrifty

A luscious, steaming dish of energy-packed oatmeal is your "best bet" for breakfast, according to eminent food and health experts of the nation. Yes, doctors, dietitians, nurses and home economists recommend a hot cereal as the breakfast with get-up-and-go that lasts 'til noon. And 3-Minute Oats, the cereal that meets the four requirements of the perfect oatmeal, is your "best bet." 3-Minute Oats is nutritious. . . for each two ounce serving furnishes 30 per cent of the phosphorus, 24 per cent of the Vitamin B1, 19 per cent of the iron and 14 per cent of the protein needed in the daily adult diet. It's delicious. It's thrifty. It's speedy.

A heavy-duty steam oil-drilling rig capable of drilling two miles down cost nearly $250,000.

Coast-to-Coast Railroad Plan Goes a Step Ahead

When Robert R. Young, 48-year-old scrappy, progressive Cleveland railroader, recently wrested working control of the New York Central Railroad, he forged another link in his plan for the nation's first coast-to-coast railroad. Young, whose dynamic criticism of current railroad practice gives his competitors bad dreams, is chairman of the Allegheny Corp., and the Chesapeake and Ohio. Through the C. & O., he controls the Pere Marquette and the Nickel Plate. He aims to tie up to western lines as shown on map above.

Mayor Has A Bird Of An Accompanist

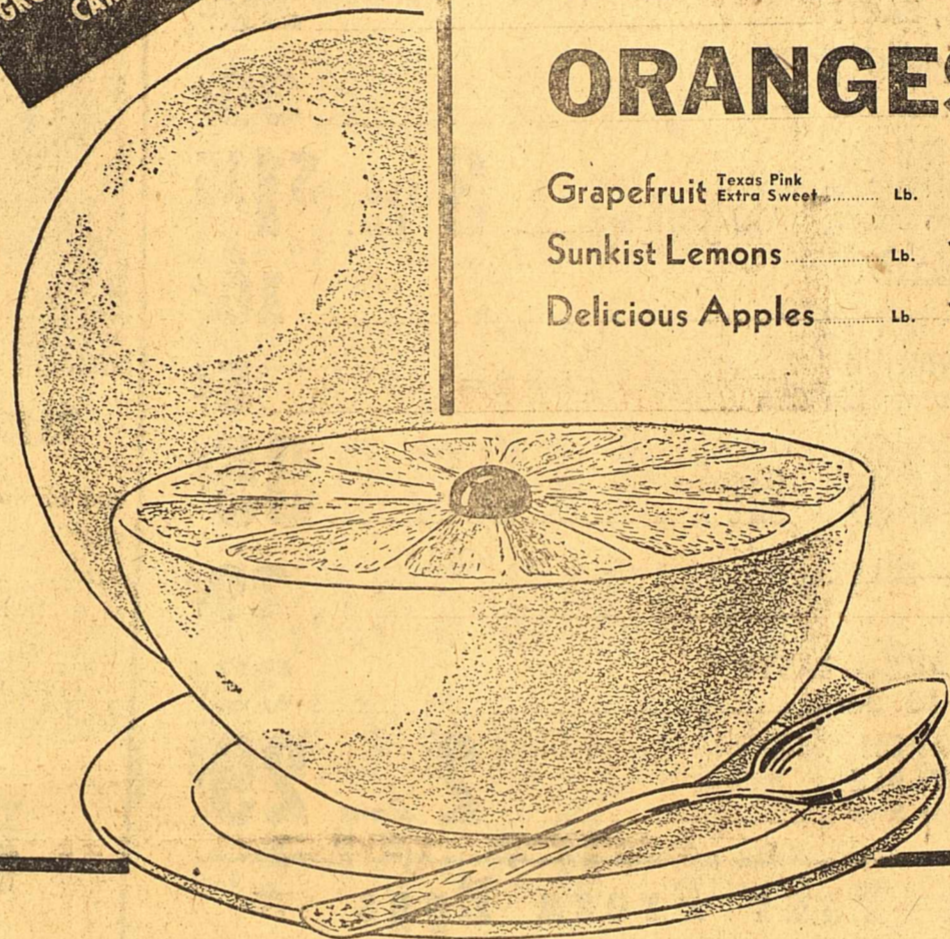

FLORISSANT, MO.—(P)—Mayor Arthur F. Bangert often needs relaxation in the evenings from his strenuous duties as combination city official-bus company manager. So results a strange musical duo—"Art and Dickie"—weight 292 pounds and two ounces. The two ounces belong to the family canary which sings to Bangert's music at the electric organ console.

Judge 'Possum Sentences Himself

SNOW HILL, N. C.—(P)—Squire Sugg, janitor for the Greene county courthouse, arrives early every morning to get the offices cleaned. The other morning he found a four-pound opossum seated on the stairway in the main hall of the building. Sugg captured the animal and gave him to a friend who reports he had possum and "tater" for a couple of days.

Science Studies Mean to Keep Age Seal

WEEKS
BALTIMORE, Md.—When they wheeled the frosty-haired old man into the hospital ward, a weary nurse led him into a bed. She pulled the sheet up under the stubbed chin and sighed.
"How do they do it? This one must be 80 if he's a day."
"How they do it is just one of the problems connected with old age being studied by the United States Public Health Service unit on gerontology at the Baltimore city hospital. This study—the only one of its kind supported entirely by federal tax—has as its ultimate goal the answer to the ultimate question:
What makes people grow old?
The final answer to that one, of course, the unit's personnel never expect to find. But along the road to its solution they expect to turn up answers to some equally important questions, among them:
What makes waistlines expand and hairlines recede?
What makes human kidneys slow down after middle age?
Why do arteries harden? Joints become stiff? What makes heart action weaken?
Heading this work is Dr. Nathan Wetherill Shock, who says:
"We aren't interested in finding ways to help people to live longer than they already do."
"We are interested in is trying to help them to live a normal life-spans as long as possible."
"Empty hospital beds are too scarce these days to allow us to go on filling them with people who should be up and around."
"From an economic point of view, this country can't afford to be paying millions in old-age benefits to people whose usefulness is ended prematurely."
"The country's two most important assets—brains and skill—are too scarce to allow us to throw them out the window simply because their owners have passed middle age."
Census figures on Dr. Shock's desk disclosed:
Normal life expectancy today is 65.1 years; it was 49.7 in 1900.
In the decade 1930-1940, the total population increased 7.2 per cent; the part of the population aged 65 and over increased 35 per cent.
If present trends continue, by 1980 some 40.4 per cent of the population will be 45 years of age or more.
The public health unit began its study at the National Institute of Health, the service's research center at Bethesda, Md., under a grant from the University of California Medical School, where he had been assistant professor of physiology.
Ages of the subjects will range from 30 to 90.
"We want fellows who have kicked the main pillar to post," says Shock of the people who have repeated their bodies and survived.
They are sent to the city hospitals, where a group has available 800 to 1,000 beds. For their troubles, a number of the tests get the latest in diagnostic and treatment.
Shock has his own theory on what causes old-age disability, but he emphasizes that it's totally unproved so far by research. He guesses the results from a failure of the various systems of organs—respiratory, digestive, eliminatory—to work together properly.

Heart Disease Caused By Five Basic Factors

By MARC J. PARSONS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It was a brisk but sunny February morning, and a middle-aged businessman decided to walk to the station instead of drive. Half an hour later he had had his first heart attack.

He had, he admitted to his doctor later, stepped up his pace when he discovered he was late. He had even run the last few steps to be sure of catching his train. He felt that first sharp pain in his chest just before he reached a seat; it lasted only a minute or so, "wind-ec'd," he thought at the time.

When the same pain came again a few mornings later under similar circumstances, he went to his doctor. "Angina pectoris," literally "strangling in the chest," is one of the symptoms of arteriosclerosis or hardening of the coronary arteries which supply the heart muscle with blood. Deprived of its normal supply of blood, the muscle aches. In a more serious attack, a clot, called a coronary thrombosis, may form and physically scar the muscle. This scarring is known as a myocardial infarction.

Either the simple pain or the clot are manifestations of arteriosclerosis in the coronary vessels. The first attack sometimes is fatal; in many more cases the patient lives for years with proper medical care.

Hardening Is Basic Cause

Hardening of the arteries is one of five basic causes of the heart diseases and one of the most common. The others are hypertensive heart disease (high blood pressure), rheumatic heart disease, congenital, and syphilitic.

The prevalence of syphilitic heart disease is lessening with medical advances in the treatment of syphilis. Some surgical treatments for congenital heart disease which result from a malformed heart at birth, have been developed, especially in the case of so-called "blue babies." Far less is known of the cure for the others.

Hypertension can result from a number of causes and becomes serious as it slowly increases the pumping load of the heart until it can no longer perform its normal functions. Death may come suddenly from apoplexy, or the rupture of an artery; it may come slowly as the burden on the heart slowly increases. One may even have both hypertension and arteriosclerosis at the same time.

Blood pressure is measured in two ways, systolic (the pressure of the heart beat), and diastolic (the pressure when the heart is relaxed between beats). If either pressure is high, it is a danger sign. But high diastolic pressure is considered by doctors the more serious because it means the heart is laboring even during the periods it normally would rest. Contrary to common belief that normal systolic pressure should be 100 plus the individual's age, doctors consider a systolic pressure above 140 high, regardless of the age of the patient. Diastolic pressure above 90 is excessive.

Rheumatic Fever

Rheumatic fever causes 90 per cent of the heart disease among children and 40 per cent of that at all ages. Yet at the end of 10 years two-fifths of all those who suffer from rheumatic heart disease are recovered and lead normal lives, another fifth find their post-disease activities restricted slightly, another fifth must drastically curb their activities. Only about one-fifth of all who have the disease are dead at the end of 10 years. But treatment is long and costly, and recovery measured in decades, not weeks and months.

And among children, the sociological factors of recovery are as important as the medical cure itself.

"Facts such as these are not presented with the aim of scaring the public into appreciation of heart disease," says Dr. David D. Rutstein, medical director of the American Heart Association.

"Fear is no substitute for knowledge. By presenting the truth the American Heart Association hopes to enlist the willing and intelligent cooperation of every serious-minded citizen in the fight against heart disease."

Love Has Two Faces

THE room seemed to swim for an instant before Cassie's eyes. Leni picked up her black kitten and began to stroke its silky fur so that it purred loudly. "Mike and I, as a matter of fact, had cocktails at the Mandarin Club. We talked over old times."

"How is he?" The words were trite, but they were all that Cassie could manage.

"Very prosperous, to say the least." Again that mocking look in Leni's eyes. Shrewd appraisal, too. "And he asked all about you. He's coming down to Mortonville two weeks from tomorrow. Said he'd phone you."

Cassie got up from the table. "Cassie, aren't you going to finish your pudding?" Mama whined plaintively.

"I'm not a bit hungry. I shouldn't have taken the pudding," Leni followed her out, still carrying the kitten. They went upstairs. "He wanted to know how you and Parker were making out, and I told him."

"Leni, you have no right to discuss my personal affairs with anyone—much less Mike."

"I told him it looked like a complete bust-up to me." Leni's laughter rang hollowly.

Two weeks from tomorrow! Mike would phone her! Cassie picked up a book and turned on the bed lamp and flung herself across the bed. She pretended to read, and presently Leni went away.

The two weeks crept by. There was no word from Parker. The house seemed strange without him. The morning Leni had said Mike was to phone her she dressed with feverish care. The new cocoa brown suit, a guilty extravagance at $60, was worthwhile now. It gave her a sleek, well-groomed look. And the brown pixie hat with the tall feather was smart too. Her hair, just washed, curled under just right.

She hadn't time for breakfast, and hurrying down to try to make it to the corner to catch the bus, she met Leni in the hall.

Leni's shrewd glance took in the new suit, the perfection, and she smiled. "Very opportune, isn't it, Cassie—Mike's coming back just now?"

Cassie didn't answer. Riding in on the bus she felt guilty. And yet there was no reason to feel guilty because she was going to see Mike again. Hadn't Parker asked her for a divorce?

SHE had recognized Mike's voice anytime. Husky, with a hint of laughter hidden in it somewhere.

"Hello, baby, how about taking the afternoon off?"

"Oh Mike! It's so nice to hear your voice!"

"Same here, baby!"

They compromised on his meeting her after work.

Mike still wore his hat at an angle, and his eyes were the same—reckless, and very blue. He was a lot heavier.

"Hello, baby! Gosh, it's been a long time, hasn't it?"

He took her arm, squeezing it a little, and she trembled.

Cassie heard someone behind them whispering, "Look—there's Cassie Hamilton meeting her old flame!"

They walked briskly down the street to where his car was parked.

"You look wonderful, Mike. I can hardly believe it's you, though."

He hugged her arm against him, and then opened the car door.

Cassie's heart pounded with excitement, as he came around and slid under the wheel. She tried to think of something to say.

"Leni and I had quite a chat yesterday," he said as he pulled the car away from the curb. "She told me all about you and Parker."

"Please, Mike, let's not talk about me. What about you? What's happened to you? How did the business go? Are you still in California—living there, I mean?"

"I've done quite well, baby," he said. He laughed and reached over and patted her knee. "And you did too, for a while, didn't you?"

"Don't say things like that to me, Mike."

"It's true, isn't it? I could have told you though exactly what would happen. I knew all about Parker. He's not a business man—just not the type. 'Playin' the piano is more his speed!'"

CASSIE stiffened. "Parker plays wonderfully well!" she flared, and the moment the words were out she wondered why she should be defending Parker to Mike.

"He'll never amount to anything, Cassie, and you know it. You're showing good sense—a little late—but not too late—by divorcing him!"

The shock of his words silenced her. So Leni had known the truth—Parker had told her he'd discussed a divorce. She realized quite suddenly that divorcing Parker had not seemed real to her—until now, hearing Mike speak so casually and definitely about it.

"Parker certainly made a fizzle of the machine works, didn't he? Leni said he'd had two or three jobs since, too, that he couldn't hold down. You must have had a pretty rugged time after the money was gone."

Again that queer feeling of wanting to defend Parker possessed her. And there was something fantastic too about her being here with Mike—as though it were all just a dream. She had dreamed so many times of being with Mike again. She should be very happy—wildly so—instead of feeling so numb and bewildered.

"There's a nice place to eat out here on the State road. How about it?"

"I'm not hungry, Mike."

"But we could both stand a drink!" He swung the car into the gravel drive behind the small roadhouse.

"Look, baby," he turned toward her, his face gruff, longing and excitement in his eyes. "I'm going to kiss you. Come here." He pulled her against him.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
(Written for NEA Service)

There is a good lesson in today's hand in connection with the trump holding. Declarer wins the first trick in dummy with the ace of clubs and cashes the ace of hearts. Neither honor drops. He enters his hand with the king of spades.

Now should he lead the jack or a small heart? Looking at the East and West hands, you will say

♠ A Q 7 4	♠ 9 5
♠ A	♠ Q J 4
♠ K 9 5 3	♠ Q 7 4
♠ A 6 5	♠ J 10 9 4

♠ J 10 8 3	♠ 9 5
♠ K 9 7 2	♠ Q 7 4
♠ 10 8	♠ Q J 4
♠ K Q 7	♠ J 10 9 4

♠ K 6 2
♠ J 10 6 5 4 3
♠ 7 6 2

Rubber—Neither vul.
South—West—North—East
Pass—Pass—1—Pass
1—Pass—3 N.T.—Pass
4—Pass—Pass—Pass

Opening—♠ K 13

but let us analyze the situation to find out what the correct play is. If the trumps are divided three-three, it does not make much difference how declarer plays them because he can afford to lose two trump tricks and a diamond. What he has to avoid is the loss of three trump tricks.

If he leads the jack of hearts East will win with the queen and declarer still must lose the king and nine. Then a contract that should be safe will go down one trick. Therefore the correct play is the small heart.

Although this looks like a simple play, very often the beginner, and even the average player, will make the wrong lead. Plays of this type should be stored away in your memory for future reference.

BILLINGS, MONT.—(AP)—Unlike the owners of some parrots who like to brag about their birds, Jerry Holzer has trouble the other way. Enthusiastic neighbors always are putting more words into the mouth of his pet crow, "Blackie," than Jerry admits that he says.

Picked up as a nestling two summers ago, "Blackie" began talking without instruction or urging.

All the Holzer family ever have heard "Blackie" say was "Oh Boy" although he's mighty good at imitating a dog's bark or a woman's laugh.

But neighbors insist they've heard the bird say "I want some toast," "I don't want toast," and "I won't do it."

Meatless Sandwich Loaf For Lent

Meatless sandwich loaf for Lenten entertaining.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Lent starts next week, February 19, Ash Wednesday. So begin now to collect recipes that use eggs and fish (both first-class sources of protein) to take the place of meat on certain days.

Here's a meatless sandwich loaf good for any special occasion. You can decorate it for a birthday, or a Sunday morning party at home.

Meatless Sandwich Loaf
(Serves 12)

One loaf unsliced sandwich bread, 1/3 cup butter.

Trim crusts from bread and cut lengthwise in four slices. Spread each slice with creamed butter.

Egg Filling: Three hard-cooked eggs, 1/4 cup chopped olives, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, 1/8 teaspoon onion salt.

Mince yolks of the three hard-cooked eggs. (Reserve egg whites for tuna fish filling.) Stir in chopped olives, mayonnaise and onion salt. Spread egg filling on first slice of bread. Cover with second slice.

Tuna Fish Filling: One can tuna fish (6 ounces), 2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle, 1/4 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 teaspoons lemon juice.

Cnoop whites of three eggs. To flaked tuna fish add chopped whites, sweet pickle, celery, mayonnaise and lemon juice. Spread this filling on second slice of loaf. Cover with third slice.

Pimiento Cheese Filling: One jar pimiento cream cheese (5 ounces). Beat cheese until light and spread on third slice of bread. Cover with last slice.

Cream Cheese Icing: Three packages cream cheese (3-ounce packages), 1/4 cup light cream, few drops red vegetable coloring.

Mix cream cheese with cream and beat until light. Place sandwich loaf in a glass utility dish. Reserve three tablespoons of icing and spread remaining icing on sides and top of loaf. Stir red coloring into the three tablespoons of icing and use in a cake decorator to decorate sandwich loaf, according to the occasion. Set loaf in refrigerator to chill for at least 1 hour. Before serving garnish with radish roses and sprigs of parsley.

Historic Road Which Linked Florida With San Antonio May Be Restored

By CONRAD MANLEY

BATON ROUGE, LA.—(AP)—The old Mission Road, which bore also the names of the Natchez Trace, the Route de Bienville, the San Antonio Trace and others now lost in many places in Louisiana, may once again become an artery of travel across the state.

The old road once provided a route connecting Spanish possessions in Florida with those in Texas and Mexico. Later in its history it provided a pathway across Louisiana for travelers to and from the Natchez Trace and the Wilderness Road.

Now before Congress is a proposal by Rep. A. Leonard Allen of Winnfield for a $150,000 survey of the Natchez Trace extension between Vidalia on the Mississippi and Pendleton's Ferry on the Sabine. If approved, the result may be the creation of a national parkway along the route.

The historic road, old when the first white man beheld it, followed the paths of buffaloes, once numerous in Louisiana, along the ridges north of the state's Alluvial Plains which were often under water before the streams were confined by levees. Indians followed the buffaloes and the trail was well defined when French and Spanish explorers began their conquests of the territory.

Long Main Thoroughfare

Growing in importance, it was long the main thoroughfare of travel from the Mississippi at Vidalia to the French outpost at Natchitoches from the East and from the Spanish province of New Spain to the Iberian frontier post in Louisiana, Los Adais, only seven leagues from Natchitoches.

Later the ancient thoroughfare felt the hurry hordes of Anglo-Americans streaming westward with their herds and covered wagons into Texas, followed later by troops of the young republic as war with Mexico drew near.

And the old trail again rang to the martial tread of soldiers and horses during the War Between the States.

Beyond Natchez, the road swung up to Nashville and, joining with the Wilderness Road, went over the mountains into Kentucky, dropping back into Tennessee at Knoxville. Other roads connected the Trace with the new capital at Washington.

To San Antonio, Mexico

To the west, beyond the Rio Sabinas, the San Antonio Trace, or El Camino Real, passed through San Augustine and Nacogdoches to San Antonio and on across the Rio Grande to the provincial capital at Mexico City.

Of late years, sections of the road, once so crowded, are used no longer. Some parts of it have been incorporated into the state's highway system, while others have been completely lost from the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

The exact route followed by the Mission Road is a question to be decided by the National Park Service's surveyors, if and when they take up the search. Various organizations in central Louisiana seek to have the road routed through their respective towns.

One authority on the road, Dr. Milton Dunn, in his History of Natchitoches, located the route as follows:

"From East Pendleton on the Sabine River it crosses Sabine Parish, by Fort Jesup, Natchitoches, St. Maurice on Red River, through the pine forests of Winn to the head of Catahoula and Little Rivers, at the junction of Dugdemona and Castor thence through La-Salle and Catahoula Parishes to Harrisonburg on the Ouachita, across Sicily Island, through the Texas and Mississippi bottom and across the Mississippi at Natchez."

New Town Of Ulmoris Inherits That Name

LORDSBURG, N. M. —(P)— A new town is scheduled to bud soon in New Mexico—Ulmoris. The township, five miles east of here, was purchased for a veterans housing community recently by Mrs. Merle Horzmann. The name "Ulmoris" doesn't appeal to Mrs. Horzmann but she explained that in order to secure a stop on the railroad, it was necessary to retain the name of the siding. Anyway, she wonders, what Ulmoris means.

Efficient Officials

FREDERICKSBURG, VA. —(P)— When two cartons of medicine bottles bounced off a truck and crashed in the street here, City Councilman J. Roger Clarke and Chamber of Commerce Secretary Fred G. Haines, assisted by W. H. Bass, rushed out with brooms and halted traffic until they could sweep the broken glass out of the way of tires.

Nation Honors A War Hero

President Truman is pictured claspung the ribbon of the Medal of Honor around the neck of Comdr. Richard N. Antrim, USN, of Peru, Ind., one of the nation's most unusual war heroes. In Jap internment camp, a fellow officer was beaten into unconsciousness by a guard and Comdr. Antrim intervened, offering to take the rest of the officer's punishment himself. His act amazed the Japs that it not only saved the beaten officer's life but won new respect for the Americans.

CHICAGO —(P)— Coxswain George McNamara, 21, has lost that lonesome feeling for the boys in his home town of Monmouth, Ill.

McNamara, who is assigned to general duty at nearby Grenville Naval Air Station, went home recently on a weekend pass. He advised the station that he had persuaded eight of his home town friends to enlist in the organized reserve.

The station, pleased of McNamara's recruiting prowess, furnished an R4D twin engine transport to bring McNamara and the eight recruits to the station.

Time For Family To Take Year Off

LORDSBURG, N. M. —(P)— V. L. Thompson hopes the old saw about a family doing the rest of the year what it does at the beginning has no foundation in fact.

Thompson's son, "Dickie," smashed a finger in the door at the dawn of 1947, took ether treatment and then caught pneumonia and suffered an attack of tonsillitis. Then Thompson put up a shop and a high wind blew it down. The next day he went to bed with the mumps.
