City Takes Over MAAF Sunday

Air Terminal Will Be Operated By Midland As Commercial Field

The City of Midland at 12:01 a. m. Sunday, June 1, will take over the custody of Midland Air Terminal, formerly the Midland Army Air Field, and will operate it as a commercial airfield serving Midland and the Permian Basin area, Mayor R. H. (Rusty) Gifford, announced Friday.

Custody of the field was granted to the city by the War Assets Administration pending formal and final disposition of the former world's largest bombardier training school.

At a joint meeting of representatives of the Army, U. S. Engineers, WAA and City of Midland at the field Thursday, the giant airport was transferred by the Army Air Force to the U. S. Engineers, who in turn transferred it to the WAA for final disposition.

The WAA will retain the use of five buildings to dispose of miscellaneous property at the field.

Necessary personnel for temporary maintenance and protective measures at the field have been provided by the city. Police and fire protection will be maintained by the city.

The airport has been owned by the city a number of years and was leased to the Army Air Forces in 1941. The city for several months has been working to regain possession of the field.

Eight European Nations Do Not Forget Our Dead

PARIS — (AP) — Eight European nations joined the United States Friday in homage to American soldiers who died in two World Wars against German tyranny and aggression.

Royalty, statesmen and military leaders bowed at the 200,000 American graves. Every grave in the 59 American Army cemeteries had newly painted crosses or stars of David and tiny American flags for the memorial services.

Florists in France, Great Britain, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Italy, Sweden and Switzerland worked overtime delivering flowers from relatives back home.

Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., U. S. deputy military governor, sounded a keynote before 4,000 parading American troops: "You are charged with winning the peace. It must be done. It shall be done."

Bugles sounded over the military cemetery at Hamm, Luxembourg, where Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., lay among many of his Third Army troops at the scene of their greatest triumph, the decisive battle of the Ardennes.

Speakers at Hamm, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany, addressed himself particularly to the parents of 8,411 American war dead buried there: "I wish they could see this lovely place of hallowed ground, serene and quiet," he said. "They would know their loved ones have found a resting place among people who share their ideals, and rever our dead as if they were their own."

Both Houses are set to ratify on Monday the agreement reached by the conferees in less than two hours. The President has 10 days from the time the bill reaches him to approve or veto it.

Meanwhile, the Internal Revenue Bureau rushed to the printer—just in case—the new tax withholding tables to be used if the bill becomes law.

Officials stressed that they have no idea, one way or the other, but are getting ready because there will be little time to meet the July 1 deadline for getting the new tax reductions into effect if the measure goes through.

The tables would guide employers in adjusting the amount of tax deductions from pay checks.

George Predicts Senate Would Uphold Tax Veto

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator George (D-Ga.), a leading Democratic tax authority, Friday predicted if President Truman vetoes the income tax reduction bill, the Senate will uphold his action.

George, who voted for the bill "reluctantly," told reporters he will not vote to override the President if a veto comes.

The President returned to Washington late Thursday, a few hours after Senate-House conferees agreed on final terms as to Truman's intentions toward the bill. He has said several times in the past few months this is not the time to lower taxes.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

BELFAST, NORTHERN IRELAND — (AP) — Memorial Day was observed in Northern Ireland's "Little America" Lisnabreeny military cemetery, high up on the castle Reagh Hill overlooking Belfast.

BELTON — (AP) — At least seven passengers were injured Friday when Santa Fe train 75 en route to California crashed into the engine of an east-bound passenger train standing in front of the Belton railroad station.

LONDON — (AP) — Two barges blew up in the Thames River in East London Friday in a series of terrific explosions which shattered windows nearby and spread a pall of smoke over a wide area.

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — William (Shorty) Canton, 43, was injured fatally Friday while competing in the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway.

GUATEMALA — (AP) — Authorities announced Friday the last of the 15 U. S. soldiers who parachuted from a burning Flying Fortress still were held by the fastnesses of a Nicaraguan jungle.

THESE are the graves of American servicemen on the beachhead where they fell in battle. Where? Well, it might be Normandy or Tarawa or Anzio or Iwo Jima or North Africa or some nameless islet that became a stepping stone to Tokyo. It doesn't matter. What does matter is that the men who died in those places and others gave their lives believing that their sacrifice would make the world a better place to live in. That means a world of peace. Not peace that just happens because of the lack of war—but peace that endures because the people of the world have outlawed war and banished it forever from the face of the earth.

Texas Remembers Its War Dead In Various Ways

By The Associated Press

Texas paused Friday to honor its war dead with Memorial Day ceremonies in many cities.

A floral wreath and other floral offerings were towed into the bay at Corpus Christi and sunk in tribute to those who died at sea.

A marble statue was unveiled in Dallas—a victory memorial in which a large urn will contain miniature bronze tablets honoring the names of all Dallas County men who died in World War II.

General Jonathan M. Wainwright, Fourth Army commander and hero of Bataan, is to make his final Memorial Day message in San Antonio before retiring.

At Normangee, a monument built of 8,000 roses was erected in honor of the war dead of Robertson, Brazos, Madison and Leon counties.

Ceremonies were scheduled at Kilgore, Brownsville, McAllen, Midland, Mission, Pharr, Galveston, and scores of other cities.

A salute was fired, taps sounded, and Vincent Tudor made a brief address at Plainview. The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion was to drop 2,000 poppies from a plane over the Big Spring cemetery.

The Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars at Wichita Falls held graveside ceremonies.

A VFW, Legion and Auxiliary joint Memorial Day ceremony was held at Lubbock, where graves of war dead were decorated with white crosses, flags and flowers.

Two Memorial Day programs were scheduled at Brownwood. Lexie Dean Robertson of Rising Star, former poet laureate of Texas, will read her Memorial Day poem, written for the occasion. Hardy Hollers of Austin, who prepared war crimes cases against major Nazis, will speak.

At Sherman, a World War II memorial plot in a cemetery was dedicated by Mayor T. F. Aston. A squadron of B-25s from Barksdale Field, Shreveport, flew over the cemetery.

Sunset services will be held in Borger, as chiming will play all day at the cemetery.

More business offices closed in Amarillo than any other time in the city's history. All government offices closed.

Know, Remember, This Is Memorial Day Everywhere

By TANNER LAINE

We hope on this day peoples of foreign lands—from the fountained islands of the Pacific to the near-hedged lands of France—know that this is Memorial Day. And, we hope we here at home—remember.

We have seen them go quietly in Europe to the beautiful green cemeteries with the white crosses, row on row. And they carried flowers, pretty red, white and blue flowers, honoring the flag of our dead.

This was their tribute to the laughing, bright-eyed boys in khaki from across the seas, who gave lives for their freedom, and ours.

We have had letters from England from friends there telling us people still go to Cambridge and put flowers by the white-crossed rows, where we have stood for taps for departed fliers, who had made the last mission. For their flowers, we thank the British. For the deeds of the airman, we can't express enough thanks. Can you?

One look at the cemeteries in England, France, and other European countries, yes just one look, and we were convinced—WAR ISN'T WORTH IT!

But what can we do? We can remember—this is Memorial Day.

Fort Worth Trade Trippers Say 'Hello', And Get Big Welcome

Fort Worth said howdy to Midland Friday and got a great big welcome in return as this city was visited by the Fort Worth Business Executives Tour, rolling by special train through West Texas and New Mexico.

The hospitality centered at an all-civic luncheon in honor of the visitors at the Scharbauer Hotel. The Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce was host civic unit. Other service clubs and the senior Chamber of Commerce cooperated.

Midland likes Fort Worth and Fort Worth likes Midland. That was manifested at the cordial luncheon, which was a rousing event indeed.

More than 250 persons were at the luncheon, including the 118 Fort Worth businessmen, who were mingled with our businessmen, ranchers, farmers, oil men and other citizens.

"We Are Linked" William Holden, executive vice president of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, was guest speaker. He said:

"We are the gateway to West Texas; you are West Texas. Your neat little city looks like one of 50,000 and it is a credit to West Texas. We will be back; we want you to come and see us. We are linked with you."

Various businessmen and civic leaders of both Fort Worth and Midland were introduced at the luncheon.

Ted Thompson, president of Midland JayCees, presided. Homer Covey was the Fort Worth master of ceremonies. He barked out in productions at a rapid rate. Mayor R. H. (Rusty) Gifford of Midland said "Hello, you cowtown friends, glad to have you."

George Ratliff was introduced as a cowboy before the war, Dave Cole as a modern cowboy after the war. Holden hit the keynote of the whole purpose of the visit in his talk at the luncheon, putting it, "The American way of life is found in better relations among ourselves."

The trippers, with loud speakers on their special train blaring, arrived in Midland at 11:20 a. m., and promptly went to the Scharbauer Hotel to greet friends.

A number of Midland city officials and Midland Chamber of Commerce representatives journeyed to Odessa and rode the special train to Midland with the Fort Worth delegation. Other Midland citizens were at the T. & P. Railroad station to welcome the visitors.

The Fort Worth business executives tour was conceived as a means of becoming better acquainted with West Texas and Eastern New Mexico and thereby becoming qualified with first hand information to solve problems for our mutual benefit. Melvin J. Miller, president of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, said in Midland.

"We are very much impressed with the fine reception we have received so far. It is evident that (Continued on Page 2)

World-Wide Air Accidents Cause Deaths Of 119

By The Associated Press

At least 119 persons were killed or missing in a series of airplane mishaps around the world Thursday, and almost a score were injured.

Thirty-nine persons died in the worst disaster in the history of American commercial aviation—the crash of a United Airlines DC-4 plane with 48 aboard just after the take-off at La Guardia Field, New York City, Thursday night. Nine other persons were injured, at least three of them critically, as the plane burned after the crash.

A four-engine U. S. Army plane crashed in the mountains near Tokyo, Japan. It was believed that 40 aboard had perished. Burned wreckage of the plane, carrying 33 passengers and a crew of eight inbound from Korea, was sighted by aerial observers.

Nine members of a 12-man crew escaped when a B-29 plane crashed shortly after the take-off from Fairbanks, Alaska. Three crew members were reported missing.

Twelve were killed in a collision of two planes at Tillburg, the Netherlands.

In Iceland, the shattered wreckage of a missing Icelandic Airways DC-3 plane was spotted Friday on a steep and rocky mountain, and fears were expressed that all 25 aboard had perished.

Legion Head Pleas For Military Preparedness

BALTIMORE — (AP) — National Commander Paul H. Griffith of the American Legion, Friday said the United States is living on borrowed time because it has scrapped its military might.

Speaking at National cemetery memorial services, Griffith declared "We have been guilty of selfishness and stupidity since the guns of World War II have been stilled" and said failure to accept the lessons of the earlier World War helped create 328,000 American graves in the later conflict.

"Since the turn of the century, our indifference to the take-off security has sent nearly half a million patriotic Americans to death," Griffith asserted.

Poppy Day Saturday

Disabled veterans of Midland County and their families will be assisted by funds obtained from the annual poppy sale sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

The sale is scheduled Saturday with headquarters to be in the lobby of the Scharbauer Hotel. Sales will begin at 9 a. m.

Poppies are made by disabled veterans in Legion, Texas, and bought by the Midland auxiliary.

Mrs. T. E. Steele is chairman of the sale. She will be assisted by approximately 20 high school girls.

US Army Rocket Flies 'South Of The Border'

EL PASO — (AP) — One of the U. S. Army's captured German V-2 rockets wandered south of the border Thursday night and exploded harmlessly on a knoll three and one-half miles south of the crowded downtown district of Juarez, Mexico.

The explosion blasted a crater 50 feet across and about 20 feet deep, but no injuries were reported. Both Juarez and El Paso, across the Rio Grande, were rocked by the concussion.

An airplane which had just landed at the Buena Vista airport, a half-mile away, was tipped over. The occupants had left the craft.

Lt. Col. Harold R. Turner, commander of the Army's proving ground at White Sands, N. M., where experiments with modified V-2 rockets have proceeded for many months, blamed failure of the missile's German-made gyroscope for its departure from its set northerly course.

The commandant said there were no explosives in the missile's warhead. It was assumed that unaccounted fuel was responsible for the explosion.

SCURRY AND CROCKETT WILDCATS BEING WATCHED

Wildcats in Scurry County and in Crockett County were being given attention by the oil fraternity Friday.

The Scurry County exploration, The Ohio Oil Company No. 1-C Neal, located about 18 miles north-east of Snyder, and in R. N. Miller survey 1, abstract 868, was drilling out cement plug in 5 1/2-inch casing which had been set near the top of the Ellenburger at 7224 feet, and was to then condition the hole to the total depth of 7290 feet, to start making production tests on that horizon.

It developed some oil and gas cut drilling mud and small quantities of free oil, on drillstem tests which covered the entire section before the casing was run.

Definite information on the actual value of the shows likely will not be developed until the first of next week.

Ted Weiner No. 1 Vaughn, Crockett County wildcat, 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 86, block OP, GC&SF survey, and seven miles east of the Todd Deep field, was bottomed at 6,490 feet in sand and shale and was fishing for stuck drill pipe.

Interested observers report that rumors of the project having entered the Ellenburger are in error. It is understood that one sample from a formation drilled through during the past few days showed some dolomite—but examination of that cutting revealed that it was not from the lower Ordovician—and the formation continues to be sand and shale.

Some geologists say there is a possibility that this prospect may find the Ellenburger at any time—but they assert, that if it does, any time soon, it will be extra high. The project is to drill ahead as soon as the drill pipe is recovered.

AMERADA IS MAKING MORE HOLE AT 1-CTA UNITX

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-CTA University, Northeast Crockett County wildcat, located 665 feet from south and 1,987 feet from west lines of section 23, block 42, University survey, which recently set casing on bottom at 8,710 feet, in Ellenburger, entered at about 8,102 feet, had drilled the plug and was making more hole past 8,756 feet.

Operator representatives have not disclosed why the original plan to test the pay already drilled through perforations in the casing, was abandoned in favor of drilling ahead.

This prospector logged some fair prospects of production in the zone above the casing seat, and it is expected that those sections will be investigated soon.

BASIN CHAPTER OF API TO HOLD MEETING SATURDAY

An attendance of more than 1,000 men is expected at the first regular meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute, to be held at the Ector County Auditorium, in Odessa, Saturday, starting at 3:30 p. m.

The business program of the affair will be the first feature. It will present addresses by G. A. Mabry of Houston, an executive of Humble Oil & Refining Company, on "A Public Program for the Oil Industry," and by William J. Hilsweck of Midland, district geologist for Gulf Oil Corporation, and president of the West Texas Geological Society, on "An Introduction to the Petroleum Geology of the Permian Basin."

Don A. Miller, division production superintendent in Midland for Phillips Petroleum Company, and chairman of the Permian Basin Chapter of API, will preside at the Saturday session.

All persons attending the meeting will be served a barbecue dinner in the County Barn, adjacent to the auditorium, at 6:30 p. m. by the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang.

Several entertainment features will be presented during the dinner section of the program.

MANY OIL OFFICES CLOSED FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Very little work was being undertaken in the Midland oil offices which were open Friday. A majority of the companies were closed, on account of Memorial Day, and the personnel was holidaying.

A few offices were officially open—but only necessary routine was being handled.

EAST MIDLAND PROJECT WILL BE INACTIVE

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 L. E. Floyd, wildcat in East Midland County, about 15 miles southeast of town, and 630 feet from north and west lines of section 15, block 37, TP survey, T-3-S, ran a swabbing test at 5,054-5,285 feet, in middle Permian lime and shale.

The test was for four hours. Swabbing was from 2,400 feet below the surface, during the last hour. Recovery was salt water for that 60-minute period. No signs of oil or gas were reported.

Operator reported the section at 4,570-4,820 feet with 100 sacks of cement, and is now preparing to (Continued on page 2)

REV HESTER VOTED CONFERENCE MEMBER

AMARILLO—(P)—The requests of both preachers and congregations for frequent changes of pastors Wednesday drew the fire of Methodist Bishop Charles C. Sealeman of Dallas.

The Elshop, who spoke at the opening session of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference here, also criticized what he called the tendency to measure preachers by the dollar mark.

Seven young ministers were voted full connection with the conference. They are: J. V. Patterson, Truscott; Joseph A. Cooley, Tuscola; Grady Adcock, Pampa; Jesse Lenol Hester, Midland; O. A. McBrayer, Southern Methodist University; C. C. Hardaway, Hawley; and Ulmer Bird, Blackwell.

the people of this progressive area see eye to eye with us in developing this program of mutual helpfulness.

Fort Worth's hundreds of manufacturers, its stockyards, its packing houses, its livestock commission companies, its wholesale poultry houses, its creameries, its grain dealers, and its other concerns provide a major market for the vast products of West Texas, and Eastern New Mexico.

"Hundreds of millions of dollars of Fort Worth capital have been, and are now, invested in West Texas lands, cattle, oil developments and other enterprises.

"And it is in this great western region that Fort Worth's more than 600 manufacturers and 500 wholesale houses find their principal market. Our retailers enjoy fine business relations with our neighbors to the west."

Soon after their arrival, the boosters broadcast a 15-minute program over KCRS.

Before the noon luncheon, the Fort Worth executives visited business friends and distributed souvenirs.

On the tour the businessmen, representing 120 concerns, are traveling in a seven-car special train. They left Fort Worth Monday and will return home Saturday. From Midland, the boosters went to Stanton and Big Spring. Stops were scheduled at 26 cities during the tour.

Seven members of the Fort Worth group, including Mayor Edgar Deen, Dave Tandy, W. W. Collins, Johnnie Edwards, J. E. Montgomery, Phil North and Wilbur Davis, conducted a brief Memorial Day service at the grave of S/Sgt. Milton D. Johnson in Midland's Fairview Cemetery during the noon hour.

Montgomery, assistant to the president of Texas Christian University, delivered a brief message, and Mayor Deen placed flowers on the grave. Coach Walker of Texas Wesleyan College gave the benediction.

Several Midlanders accompanied the visitors to the cemetery.

Fumble No. 1 Farborough and Allen, prospective discovery from the Devonian in Southwest Ector County, seven miles west of the first Ellenburger producer in the shallow area adjacent to Penwell, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 18, block B-14, psi survey, was making hole below 8,352 feet in lime.

It ran a drillstem test for one hour at 8,278-8,349 feet. There was a very faint blow of air at the surface for a part of the period. Recovery was 120 feet of drilling mud, with no signs of oil or gas reported in it.

TERRY STEP-OUT RUNNING CASING TO BOTTOM
Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Elkins, northwest stepout from the discovery for commercial production in the Adair area, about 15 miles south of Brownfield, in South-Central Terry County, and 330 feet from east and 990 feet from south lines of section 5, block C-37, psi survey, had run 5 1/2-inch casing to total depth of 4,985 feet in San Andres lime, and will test the producing ability of a porous zone back up to about 4,863 feet, through casing perforations.

That horizon developed some oil and gas cut drilling mud, and some water, from the bottom, in a recent drillstem test.

Peacemaking Sense Of Humor

What does a sense of humor have to do with preserving world peace? A great deal, General Eisenhower seems to think. For he has included it in a prescription which he has offered his countrymen for attaining that goal. The other ingredients are firmness, patience, and military preparedness.

We agree with the chief of staff. At the same time, we think we would agree that a sense of humor is a commodity that isn't easy to keep on hand at all times in these days. There is so much disappointment and apprehension connected with the peace efforts. With half the world ill fed, with governments and economies tottering, with little quarrels threatening to become big ones, world affairs are no laughing matter.

But a sense of humor doesn't always need something to laugh at. It isn't an emotion that is satisfied by slapstick. Nor is it the gift of witty speech that is nourished by cynicism or a sense of superiority. Both of these are much too smug to deserve the name.

A sense of humor springs from an admission of the ridiculous pretensions that all of us are guilty of from time to time. And since every person who is anywhere near normal is predisposed in his own favor, that admission lends tolerance to one's general outlook.

Such an outlook makes it possible to understand better the pretensions and self-esteem of others. It leads to more temperate thinking. Without a sense of humor the firmness that General Eisenhower prescribes can become overbearing, and the exercise of patience becomes almost impossible.

Most of us are in no position to know how much of a sense of humor, as well as patience and firmness, today's statesmen bring to world deliberations. But we can guess from their photographs and their speeches. It might seem that America's Austin has a bit more than Secretary Marshall. Russia's Molotov seems to have a vestige of humor; Russia's Gromyko, nary a trace.

The presence or absence of a sense of humor among top diplomats conceivably can be of considerable importance. But General Eisenhower was not addressing himself to the top diplomats when he gave his prescription. He was talking to his fellow Americans, and his advice is worth heeding.

The more democratic a government is, the more its policies reflect the temper of its citizens. A democratic people with a well-developed national sense of humor would not be likely to ask for anger in their government's firmness.

We in the U. S. can impress our state of mind on the government. Most of us are blessed with some sense of humor. If only all of us could turn that happy sense upon world affairs and fix it there, it might even be that we could warm, by a few degrees, the atmosphere of international politics.

Frenzied Finance In Wartime

One of the biggest financial boners of the war was the U. S. government decision to turn over to the Russian military government the plates from which billions of German paper marks were printed as occupation currency for use of troops and civilians in Germany. The Russians have never made an accounting of how much of this stuff they turned out or what they did with it.

The general belief is that much of this funny money, which had nothing to back it up, was used for legalized loot of the Russian zone in occupied Germany. All the Russians had to do was take a fistful, a basket, or a trunkful of these occupation marks and buy whatever they wanted. If it was a factory, okay. Food, farm products, jewelry, junk—also okay.

The defeated Germans in the Russian zone had no choice. If they hadn't sold, the Russians might have taken the stuff anyway. Whatever the Russians "bought" was not counted as reparations.

The Russians paid their troops in it. The marks were no good in Russia, however, so all the Russian soldiers could do was buy whatever there was to be bought and ship their purchases home.

This Russian buying slopped over into the American and British zones. Yanks and Tommies who found the Russians would pay outlandish prices for wrist watches, cigars, clothing, and soap did a land office business. The money was worthless to the Russians. Americans could convert it into dollars and send the money home.

In August, 1945, the Army found that though its payroll in Germany was only $3,000,000 a month, it had to ship home for the soldiers three and a half million dollars in post office money orders.

Maj. Gen. John H. Hildring, then in charge of military government for the War Department in Washington, caught what was going on and cabled a warning to Berlin. It was several months, however, before any corrective measures were taken.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service
Psychology plays an important part in the game of bridge, and this is especially true in tournament bridge. Some players become known as under-bidders, others are definitely over-bidders. In today's hand West tried to maneuver his opponents into a bad spot, only to have his partner take the hook.

There is no denying that South's one spade bid was justified, and when North freely jumped to four

is proud of the Friends it has and the Companies it keeps.
In January, 1947, when KECK went on the air, it had 23 advertisers, and in April it soared to 70 advertisers, who had faith in the "Music and News" idea and the great coverage that KECK promised.
This upward trend proves conclusively that most business firms are taking advantage of KECK'S complete WEST TEXAS COVERAGE, and the fine Music and News programming that is a relief from "soap operas" and daytime network drudgeries.
When you want to cover West
Texas with an advertising message, use the station "Most people listen to MOST in West Texas."

Rankin Man Killed In Fall From Horse

McCAMEY—French Starley, 63, an employe of the Noelke Ranch, 13 miles south of Rankin, was killed Thursday in a fall from his horse while rounding up sheep at the ranch.

The body will be taken to Goldthwaite for burial. The Spaulding Funeral Home of McCamey is in charge of arrangements.

DAV Chapter Offers Memorial Day Prayer

As part of its observance of Memorial Day, the Midland Chapter No. 48 of the Disabled American Veterans, Friday offered this DAV "Prayer For Our War Dead."

"This Memorial Day, thousands of miles from home, in ground consecrated as American soil, sleep thousands of our comrades-in-arms. They sleep under the frosty skies of France and Germany, under the inky canopy of the tropics.

"But despite the distance that separates them from us, they sleep there in the watchful love of every American, as surely as if they were eternally cradled in the soil of their motherland.

"For every American is poignantly aware of their sacrifice. And no Americans are more deeply aware and more keenly understanding of those who have given all for their country than those who have given part of their bodies and their well-being.

"Members of the Disabled American Veterans are among the millions who have given a part of their bodies.

"And because they are perhaps closest to those who lie in those distant lands, they pay tribute to them, the highest tribute of love, comradeship, and honor.

"Let us pray with gratitude and with humility that they may sleep forever as close to us as they are today—that their memory may endure throughout the span of time."

Houston Maintain's Lead In Texas Race
By The Associated Press
The Texas League standings were on even keel Friday, one of the rare occasions this season when a night's games have not shuffled the standings.
Houston maintained its five-game lead with a 5-0 shut out of fourth-place Shreveport. Fort Worth hung on to second place by defeating sixth place Oklahoma City, 2-1. Last-place Tulsa stopped the Dallas Rebels 6-1, but the Rebels stayed in third place. Beaumont, in fifth place, trimmed the seventh-place San Antonio Missions, 5-2.

Indians Get Back In Stride, Take 4-2 Win, Even Up Sweetwater Series

Midland's Indians got back in the swing Thursday night, beating the Sweetwater Sports, 4 to 2, in one of the best games played so far this season.
The win gave Midland eight victories in nine recent starts.
You couldn't call it the same ball club Thursday which Wednesday booted the ball around and lost, 10-9. Webb's Warriors definitely were back on the beam.

Sweetwater out hit Midland but it also out-errored the home team. Engel, Sport shortstop, committed six errors, and this hurt his team. In fact, many fans say it was the difference Thursday night.

Pitchers Duel
Two tall pitchers duelled. Dickenson of Sweetwater put Midland down with four hits yet he lost. Claud Gray of Midland was hitting also, although he allowed eight, they were scattered.
A couple of walks and two hits right in a wad scored two runs for Midland in the third. Midland added another in the sixth and one in the eighth, that one being a nifty home run over the leftfield fence by Keon, Tribe catcher.
Sweetwater got one run in the seventh and one in the eighth.
