Marshall And Aides Figure Out New Plan

WASHINGTON - (AP) - Secretary of State Marshall and his top advisers have now worked out an approach to what they consider the twin threats of chaos and Communism in Europe. Their program will either unite that continent by this year's end or divide it worse than ever before—depending on Russian eaction.

Diplomatic officials say if Russia nolds to her refusal to cooperate it almost certainly wi'l force the or-ganization of Western Europe alone nto a sort of economic federation. House Likely To Over-Ride Hungarian Is President's Act Tuesday: Senate Strength Doubtful

WASHINGTON -(P)- President Truman Monday vetoed the $4,000,000,000 tax reduction bill, virtually killing any possibility of a cut in income taxes this year. The Republican-dominated Congress will vote on whether to pass the bill over the veto, but backers of the legislation conceded they saw no chance for success. It requires a two-thirds vote to enact a law over the President's disapproval. Leaders said that can be mustered in the House, which will vote Tuesday, but not in he Senate.

In a message to Congress, Truman said the bill "offers Veto Is Greeted dubious, ill-apportioned, and risky benefits at the expense With Caustic of a sound tax policy and is, from the standpoint of government finances, unsafe."

A Starting Place

If the American people intend taking General Eisenhower's excellent advice to begin active individual and community efforts for peace, the first question is where to start. One answer has already been provided by some forward-looking communities which anticipated the gen-

These communities have been stirring up a concerted sentiment in favor of strengthening the UN. And surely there could be no better place for the American people to exert the united weight of their efforts toward the pre-

The U.S. is the UN's permanent home. The delegates of the 55 nations will spend much of their time here, and they cannot fail to be conscious of the national feeling that surrounds them. It is up to us, the UN's host, whether feeling is to be one of passive despair or active hope.

The UN is not yet a forum for the world's peoples. It is an organization of world governments. This was made clear during the setting up of the Palestine commission of inquiry. But that is no reason why it should not be sensitive to popular opinion, in America and elsewhere. For once the American people were mobilized for by far the largest yield on record. failed to develop for any sort of and feeder calves, yearlings and the prevention of war, other democratic peoples certainly would follow their lead.

How should the UN be strengthened, then? Its present weaknesses are apparent. The UN obviously lacks a genuine authority. It lacks a body of international police to enforce what limited authority it has. It lacks even the power to act by majority decision on vitally important matters.

This last weakness, while perhaps not the most important, has caused the most trouble thus far. The root of that weakness, it hardly need be said, is the veto power.

Whether the veto power is a good or bad thing is, unfortunately beside the point. The big-power governments are committed to it and seem to be sold on it. Russia's use of the veto is not what the other Big Five members had in mind when they accepted this Yalta-made although many fields were agreement at San Francisco. There seems to have been and in need of cultivation. a sort of gentlemen's agreement at that time to use this power only in extreme cases.

It hasn't worked out that way. So it seems necessary to amend the UN Charter limiting the veto to the matters envisioned in this gentlemen's agreement. This is one sizes are smaller. goal which a united popular sentiment might aim its efforts toward a permanent peace. Of course, Russia or any other of the Big Five has power now to veto changes in the Charter. But the pressure of the opinions of millions throughout the world might be more persuasive than the arguments of delegates.

The marshalling of that opinion would be a long, hard job, but that is no reason why a start should be delayed. No one has said it would be easy. But no one can say that it is not worth trying.

Also Fine For Snakebite

A Russian doctor claims that vodka is good for slowing down the development of disease processes.

It will probably comfort our champions of total abstinence to learn that all those vodka toasts at Russian banquets which our statesmen have been subjected to were strictly medicinal.

Chiropractors are trained to locate where nerves are pinched and to correct the basic cause with a skillful spinal adjustment. When the life forces get through freely, health returns as is shown by the following case histories:

Case No. 10,810, man, age 42, had pain in the lower back that extended around to the front. He was tired all the time, had stomach trouble and faulty elimination. After going to the chiropractor for a short time, however, all his symptoms cleared up.

Case No. 10,229, woman, age 20, had backache for a long time and it appeared to be getting worse. She was nervous and had headaches. She worried easily and had rheumatic pains in legs and arms. After going to the chiropractor a few weeks, the case reports feeling better in every respect.

Board of Directors: Midland Chamber of Commerce

Gentlemen:

I received a card from you asking me to write to President Truman protesting the cut in appropriations to the Post Office Department. This card was written by you following a resolution of the Directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

I would like to write President Truman and Congress objecting to Government bureaus trying to perpetuate their large staffs on the tax payers and the attempted maintenance of large appropriations from the Federal

In my estimation the Post Office Department is attempting one of the most stupendous lobbies ever tried on the Congress of the United States. I believe it is a sorry state of affairs when a federal bureau bludgeons the people in an attempt to force appropriations out of Congress. The Post Office Department having been refused an increased budget is now resorting to a sit down strike knowing that a lot of people will do just what the Chamber of Commerce is asking, namely write somebody in Washington.

About five days ago, I was annoyed when two out of five of our windows in the local post office were closed, and when the delivery of certain second class mail essential to my business was held up. I inquired of the postmaster as to just what conditions required this curtailment of service as well as Saturday closing. I found that there has been no cut in the local budget, in fact this office gets more money now than in 1944, 1945 and 1946.

There is probably no doubt that certain areas in the United States handles much more mail than they did in 1946 but even so there is no reason to operate the office with less personnel than last year when the budget is larger now than last year.

I am forced to make certain assumptions from this point because of lack of data but I would guess that somebody in the Post Office Department has ordered a general curtailment regardless of local conditions, in various places, throughout the nation, knowing that Congress would be flooded with messages thus bringing pressure to bear to increase the budget, which Congress recently refused to do.

I repeat I'd like to write Washington objecting, but I'd ask for an investigation as to who is responsible in the Post Office Department for such a slow down order.

> I am, yours truly, George R. Kribbs.

The training received in the mechanics school covered basic airplane and engine mechanic operations. The technical course extended over a period of approximately 16 weeks and included instruction in aircraft electrical systems, engine operation, fuel and oil systems, propellers, structures, instruments and basic inspection. Suppose that East held four diamonds to the queen-jack-ten. After winning the trick with the ten, he would have to return the queen of diamonds and dummy's king would win, West showing out. Then a small diamond would be led from dummy and declarer could finesse East out of his jack.

At most tables West held the opening lead and played another spade, which declarer trumped. Two rounds of trumps were taken and a small diamond led to the king. A small diamond was played back from dummy, East showing out, and declarer complained of hard luck when he went down one, losing two diamonds and a spade.

Don't suppose any of you folks have missed my Column latelly, but in case you have, will beg your pardon. What with playing nursemaid to all these Orphan "Klunks" down on the lot, and the water pipes and chickens at home during the recent Norther, plus the other hazards of trying to stay right side up on the snow and ice here in this part of Sunny Texas, I haven't been too much in the Humor to worry you with my troubles. Alf of which leads up to the point that you don't have to have two heads to know that we've got some real Bargains down here among this growing crowd of "Beauties." I'll sell 'em for Cash, Credit or trade—maybe even for fun if you catch me feeling that way. Here's our ine-up of Bargains—Read 'em and Rejoice:

TED SAYS: ★★★★ Did You Know . . .

that fires are burning a bigger hole in your pocketbook than ever before in history. Fire alarm bells ring once out of every 52 seconds. A home is destroyed or damaged by fire every 79 seconds. The annual damage in dollars and cents exceeds $600,000,000. You do not know for sure just when a fire will start in your home, but here are a few things you can do for sure: Don't throw matches or cigarettes around in your house; don't try to install or repair your electrical wiring; don't leave home with your stove burning; don't allow rubbish or trash to pile up in your basement, attic or storerooms. In case of a fire, keep a level head. . report the fire immediately to the Fire Department giving them the correct address. These will help in case of a fire.

BUT JUST PLAY SAFE AND HAVE YOUR PROPERTY AND VALUABLES COVERED WITH SUFFICIENT FIRE IN SUR ANCE THROUGH THE WORLD'S LARGEST AND MOST RELIABLE STOCK COMPANIES.

We make GI, FHA and Conventional loans to buy or build. All of this service is as close as your phone.
