SO&GS TO DRILL WILDCAT IN NW MITCHELL DISTRICT

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has filed an application with the Railroad Commission for a permit to start drilling, by July 6, on an 8,000-foot wildcat in Northwest Martin County, about 35 miles northwest of Stanton, and approximately 40 miles, air line, north of Midland.

It will be Stanolind No. 1 J. E. Mabee, and is 660 feet from south and west lines of tract 37, league 258, Briscoe County School Land Survey.

MPC TO DIG 7,200-FOOT PROJECT IN W-C ANDREWS

Location for a wildcat to around 7,200 feet to explore the Clear Fork section of the lower Permian in West-Central Andrews County, about ten miles west of the town of Andrews, has been staked for immediate drilling by Magnolia Petroleum Company.

The prospector will be Magnolia No. 1 E. C. Nix, and is 1,900 feet from west and north lines of section 18, block A-17, ps1 survey.

It is a considerable distance south of the Fullerton field, the nearest area which produces from the Clear Fork.

LION PLANS 8,500-FOOT WILDCAT IN EAST CRANE

Lion Oil Company representatives have confirmed unofficial reports that the concern is planning to drill a wildcat in East Crane County, about three and one-half miles southwest of Crane.

It will be Lion No. 1 G. H. Cowden, and is located 690 feet from south and west lines of section 14, block X, CSD&RNGS survey. That puts it three-quarters of a mile north of a wildcat drilled in 1946 to 10,192 feet, by Humble Oil & Refining Company as its No. 1-B Cowden. It found the top of the Devonian at 7,834 feet, but failed to produce, commercially, from that, or any other zone penetrated.

Lion has a spread of 2,590 acres around the location for the proposed wildcat. All the details connected with the development have not been formally worked out—but it is expected that they shortly will be.

It will go to around 8,500 feet, to explore the Devonian, if, and when, it is drilled.

RRC HOLDS HEARINGS ON YATES PIPE LEAKS

William J. Murray of Austin, a member of the Railroad Commission of Texas, was to preside at a meeting Wednesday afternoon in Midland, to check on progress made in recent weeks in eliminating leaky pipe in wells in the Yates oil field in East Pecos County.

Officials of the Yates Field Engineering Committee, and of individual producers in the area, were to submit reports and Murray and commission engineers were then to determine whether or not the remedial work was up to the requirements of the regulatory body for proper conservation of oil and gas.

It is understood that leaks have been found in the casing in some of the wells in that pool. Interested engineers think that the leaks are mostly due to corrosion and it may be that some new pipe may have to be run in order to clear up the condition.

TEXACO GETS DEEP SHOWS IN N-W CRANE PROSPECTOR

The Texas Company No. 31 Connell, Northwest Crane County wildcat, about two miles west of the Jordan field, and 1,977 feet from south and 662 feet from west lines of section 29, block B-16, ps1 survey, was drilled ahead below 9,867 feet, in Ellenburger lime, which, according to unofficial sources, was entered at 9,805 feet.

A drillstem test was taken at 8,788-9,846 feet, with the tester open for two hours and 45 minutes. There was a fair blow of air throughout the period. No gas showed at the surface.

Recovery was 60 feet of drilling mud, slightly cut with oil, and one gallon of clean oil on top of the mud. No water was found. There was 3,000 feet of gas in the drill pipe when it was pulled after the investigation.

WEINER TO DRILL WILDCAT IN EAST CRANE REGION

Ted Weiner, of Fort Worth and associates, are to drill a 3,700-foot wildcat in East Crane County, about one and one-half miles east of the McElroy field.

It will be Weiner, et al, No. 1 University-McMillan, and is located 1,650 feet from east and 330 feet from north lines of section 23, block 30, University survey.

Report Coke Stevenson Has Made Up Mind To Run Against O'Daniel In 1948 Senate Race

DALLAS — (AP) — The Dallas Morning News said Wednesday former Gov. Coke Stevenson has informed close friends he will run for the United States Senate next year unless there is a radical change in the political picture.

The paper quoted Stevenson's friends as saying "he's running right now."

The story also said Stevenson's "unannounced candidacy" is rapidly becoming an open secret throughout the state with admirers already calling him "Senator."

The paper continued: "Stevenson and his political associates feel confident that the former governor can defeat Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel whose term expires next year."

"This is what Stevenson told his friends: 'He has made up his mind to run on the basis of the political situation as he now sizes it. Because there could be some change in the outlook, there will be no formal announcement until January or later.'

"Just what changes could cause Stevenson to reverse his decision to run are not clear," the paper said. "It is possible that he knows of none himself right now, but is proceeding with his traditional caution."

"Gov. Beauford Jester is figuring in speculation over the coming Senate race. He has Senate ambitions. There was talk shortly after his victory last Summer in the governor's race of Jester running for Senate in 1948 x x x there is talk (at the present time) that Stevenson and Jester will make a deal; that it will be one or the other next Summer for Senate."

First Rent Hikes For Permanent Guests In Hotels Range From 15 Per Cent Up To As High As 300

By The Associated Press

Permanent residents in many hotels throughout the nation have received notices their rents are to be increased—ranging upward from 15 per cent.

A boost of 15 per cent was the most frequently reported as the hotels were freed from controls under the new federal rent law there were instances of rent increases as much as from 25 to 165 per cent.

There also were reported isolated cases of extreme hikes—of 300 per cent for a resident of a Denver tourist camp, and 200 per cent at a St. Louis hotel. New York City reported boosts of up to 50 per cent were fairly common and one hostelry raised rates 125 per cent.

No Increase In Some Hotels
In contrast to increases by some hotels, there were others in some cities which announced there would be no boosts in rents for permanent residents. These included the Stevens in Chicago, the world's largest; the Somerset in Boston and the White Plaza in Dallas.

In some cities many hotels did not disclose their immediate plans under the new law. Some confusion was reported among tenants and landlords alike as they sought interpretation of the act. Federal rent offices were swamped by callers seeking explanation.

In Denver, Gov. Lee Knous of Colorado said he had received reports of several "sharp" rent jumps, including a hike of 300 per cent for a tourist camp resident whose rent was raised to $240 a month. In Los Angeles, H. K. D. Peachy, acting area rent director, said there was evidence of eviction notices in "wholesale quantities" over Los Angeles County. He advised tenants to await court action.

Most of New York's hotels started boosting rents 15 per cent, but realty interests in the nation's largest city expressed alarm over the size of some increases in residential and apartment hotels. A tenant in a fashionable midtown hotel was advised his rent would be raised from $80 a month to $180.

Five Lease Awards Made By Council On Midland Air Terminal Buildings

Five lease awards were made and six applications rejected when sealed bids on the rental of properties at Midland Air Terminal were opened Tuesday night at a lengthy session of the City Council.

Three amendments to the city's airport ordinance were voted. The former non-commissioned officers club building and swimming pool, located at the southeast corner of the field and adjacent to U. S.

Senate Sends Two More Money Bills To Truman

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate Wednesday passed and sent to the White House a bill appropriating $1,675,158,630 for the Labor Department and the Federal Security Agency for the 1948 fiscal year which began July 1.

Senate passage came on adoption by voice of a compromise version which the House passed shortly before. The measure is the second of 12 major money bills adopted for the fiscal year.

The total in the bill is approximately $105,455,000 under President Truman's budget estimates and $10,000,000 less than the House originally had voted.

The measure had been in deadlock in conference between the Senate and House over a House stipulation that no funds be appropriated for the Conciliation Service, the effect of which called for ousting of Director Edgar L. Warren and some of his top aides.

Warren resigned Tuesday and the conciliation service was dropped from the bill in the compromise version. Under the new Taft-Hartley labor union control bill the agency will go out of existence anyway after August 21.

The council approved the application of C. E. Aviation Company for the rental of hangar space and for certain other rights at the field. The firm will establish and operate a general aircraft servicing and fueling business. The city will receive from the company $150 per month, five per cent of gross receipts and other considerations as provided in the airport ordinance.

Bids Rejected
Floyd Owens of Midland leased a warehouse containing 1,296 square feet of floor space at 25 cents per square foot per year. E. H. Mills of Odessa rented a small day building to be converted into living quarters, for $35 per month.

Bids submitted by the Midwest Fruit Company of Brownwood, Keith Supply Company of Odessa, James Fitz-Gerald, Jr., of Midland, and M. L. Prichett were rejected.

Two buildings were leased to the U. S. Navy Reserve Unit on a temporary basis for storage and use until a more suitable location can be obtained. Clifford C. Cool, who submitted the proposal, said more than $300,000 worth of electronics gear will be stored in the buildings.

The council voted an ordinance amendment whereby the leasing of airport buildings in the future will be on a negotiation rather than a sealed bid basis. The other ordinance changes discontinue the provision requiring two-way radios for planes landing at the field, and for landing fees for private planes.

Other routine matters were discussed by the councilmen. The session adjourned at 12:17 a. m.

Three-Power Conference Is Failure

PARIS — (AP) — The three-power Foreign Ministers' Conference on the Marshall proposal ended in failure Wednesday when the Russians refused to agree to join in a cooperative international effort for European economic recovery.

Before the conference was terminated Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov declared British-French proposals relating to U. S. Secretary of State Marshall's suggestions would lead to a division of Europe. He also predicted the proposals would "lead to no good results."

The French government immediately announced France and Britain would pursue a study of the Marshall aid-to-Europe program along with any countries which wish to join them.

The British-French suggestions had dealt with organizing the continent for mutual self help with financial aid from the United States, as suggested by Secretary Marshall in a speech at Harvard University June 5.

A high Soviet official said Wednesday's session ended the conference.

"It is finished," French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault told French newspapermen as he walked out of the Foreign Ministry.

Failure of the conference raised the immediate prospect of British-French attempts to initiate the Marshall program without Russian help.

Five-Page Criticism
Molotov, opening Wednesday's session, made a five-page statement criticizing the British-French proposals.

"Under these conditions," Molotov said the proposals, "how would the small countries and in general the less powerful states be able to safeguard their national economies and their independence?"

"The Soviet government certainly cannot venture along this path and continue to support its proposals put forward at this conference on June 30."

The compromise under discussion was offered by Bidault in an effort to keep the conference alive.

Both Britain and France reportedly were ready to go ahead with Marshall's suggestion in the event Russia rejected the compromise.

'Shine' Shelton Named Commander Of Midland American Legion Post

Q. M. "Shine" Shelton was elected commander of the Woods W. Lyman Post No. 19 of the American Legion Tuesday night, noting out J. C. Pogue, the only other nominee.

Shelton succeeds J. F. Friberg, who automatically became first vice commander for the coming year. The new commander, as well as the other officers elected Tuesday night, will be installed sometime in September, probably in the first meeting of that month, it was announced.

Other officers elected in the meeting included Dave Allen, second vice commander; B. A. Kelly, third vice commander; the Rev. Fred McPherson, post chaplain; W. B. Franklin, historian; Clifford C. Keith, service officer; and A. J. Norton, sergeant-at-arms.

Appointive Offices
Appointive offices for the coming term were those of adjutant, finance officer, and child welfare officer. J. C. Pogue was named to fill the first two posts, and Willis Whitson was appointed child welfare officer.

The post will initiate a drive for building funds at a "kickoff" breakfast Tuesday at the Scharbauer Hotel. Foundation for the new legion hall has been laid just south of the City-County Auditorium, and the Tuesday breakfast will open a drive for funds with which to continue construction.

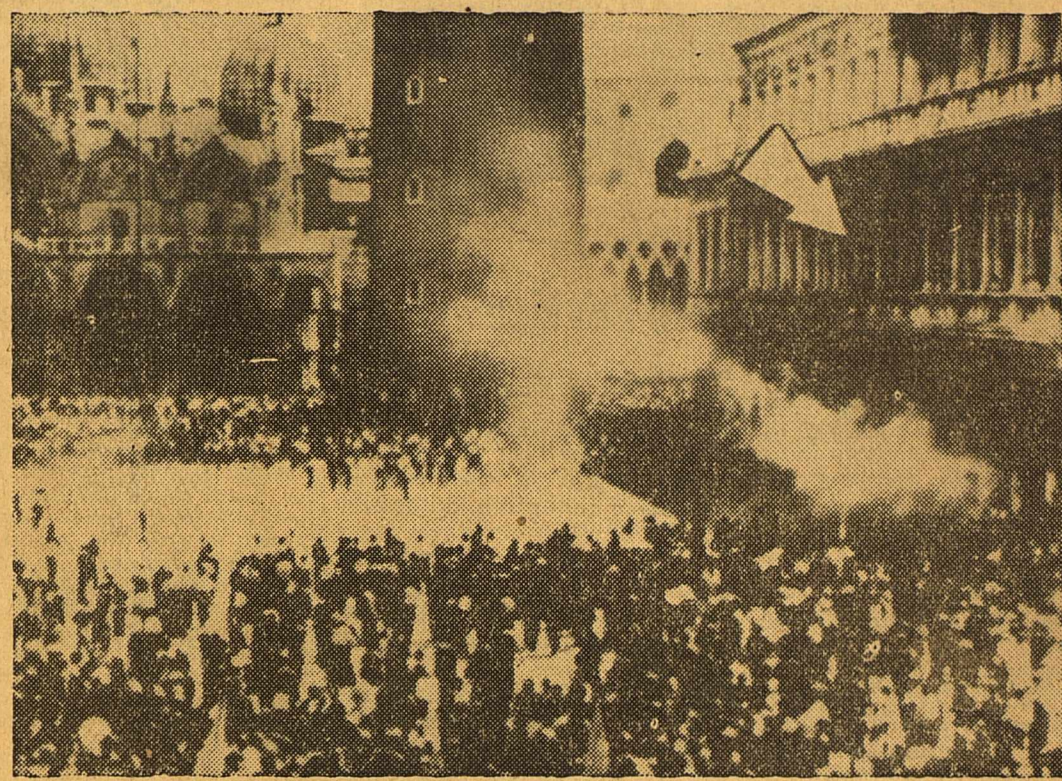

Willis Whitson, who presided at the meeting Tuesday night, issued a public invitation for all who would like to assist in financing the building to turn in their contributions to any Legionnaire or merely mail them to the post.

Next meeting of the post will be Tuesday evening in the county courtroom.

Communist Riot In Venice

Venetian policemen use tear gas to break up a riot in Piazza San Marco, Venice, Italy, as Communist mobs prevent the Italian premier, Alcide de Gasperi (arrow) from addressing a Christian Democrat meeting in the Red-dominated city. Action is taken as an indication the Communists intend to prevent de Gasperi and supporting parties from holding public meetings in the city.

Angry Republicans Demand Truman Prove Real Estate Lobby Charges

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Angry Republican demands that President Truman produce evidence real estate lobbyists influenced Congress' rent control action exploded a new political battle Wednesday between the Democratic White House and GOP lawmakers.

Calling on the President to order prosecution of any lobbyists he considers guilty of "subversive" activities, Senator Wherry (R-Ore.), the Republican whip, said if Truman has no concrete evidence to back up his charges "he ought to apologize to Congress."

In his message to Congress when he signed the rent control bill Monday, Truman said the "real estate lobby" had "displayed a ruthless disregard of the public welfare" by attempting to "weaken rent control and do away with necessary aid to housing."

Senator Buck (R-Del) challenged the President's right to send Congress a message with a bill he had signed.

Government Ends Year With $754 Million Surplus After Expenses

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Snyder Wednesday announced the government finished the 1947 fiscal year Monday with a budget surplus of almost $754,000,000.

That was approximately $500,000,000 less than President Truman had estimated on April 19 and $401,000,000 below the record high set under President Coolidge exactly 20 years ago.

But it was the first surplus in 17 years, and it broke up a string of deficits which began under Herbert Hoover and had continued under Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman.

Snyder told a news conference the surplus — which represents the amount which government income exceeded spending over the past 12 months — already has been applied on the national debt.

With this amount included, debt retirement over the fiscal year totaled $11,522,000,000, Snyder said.

The debt stood at $258,376,000,000 on June 30. That was $21,388,000,000 below the all-time peak reached 16 months ago.

The exact amount of the surplus was $753,787,660.28. For the previous year, the government had had a deficit of $20,676,000,000. This meant an improvement of more than $21,000,000,000 for last year compared with the preceding one.

Net budget receipts totaled $13,258,833,188 compared with a presidential estimate in April of $42,500,000,000.

Total budget expenditures were $42,505,045,528 compared with the President's April estimate of $41,250,000,000.

Quiet 4th Of July In Store Here; Most Firms To Be Closed

A doubleheader ball game between Midland and Odessa at 4 p. m. Friday is the only official entertainment scheduled here for the 4th of July holiday—but the tilt between the Longhorn League rivals should provide ample "fireworks."

The downtown section likely will be quiet and peaceful since practically all business firms will be closed. Oil company offices and city, county and federal offices also will be closed in observance of Independence Day.

Most real estate and general insurance offices, garages, cleaning and pressing establishments and perhaps other offices and service firms will be closed Friday through Sunday, allowing personnel a long weekend holiday. Many citizens are planning trips to the mountains, to rodeos and celebrations, and to visit relatives and friends.

Pagoda Pool and the city's recreation parks and other amusement spots likely will be crowded all day Friday.

PRESIDENT TO TAKE THREE-DAY VACATION

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman has decided to extend his Independence Day visit to Charlottesville, Va., to a three-night stay beginning Thursday night, the White House announced Wednesday. He will return to Washington Sunday instead of Saturday.

Truman will speak at 11:30 p. m. (CST) Friday from a specially constructed platform on the west portico of Thomas Jefferson's home "Monticello."

The Chronicle said the hike would apply to aviation gasoline and would be effective throughout the Texas area east of the Pecos River.

The action would boost premium grade gasoline to 23½ cents and standard grade to 21½ cents a gallon in the Houston area.

New tank wagon prices, the Chronicle said, will be 13 cents for premium, 11 cents standard and 10 cents third grade.

Prices vary in other sections of the state in accordance with distances from refineries and added costs of transportation.

Retirement To Active Service

If General Eisenhower has decided that after 32 years in the Army he has discharged his duty to his country, his fellow Americans will not be so ungrateful as to contradict him. Yet there is certain to be a feeling of regret at his decision, along with the happier and no less heartfelt congratulations to the general and to Columbia University on their mutual good fortune.

Dwight D. Eisenhower is already one of the truly beloved figures of our military history. Millions of Americans who know him only through photographs and newsreels must instinctively have liked and trusted him. They could scarcely help it.

They have respected him as a brilliant commander and an able administrator. They have admired the diplomacy which enabled him to reason with some of the more positive and temperamental Allied leaders, convince them, and persuade them to a unanimous decision when unanimity was of decisive importance to the whole world's future.

As chief of staff, General Eisenhower has not only worked to give the country an adequate peacetime defense. He has also urged his countrymen, with compelling sincerity, to increase their individual efforts to bring about lasting peace.

Quite possibly General Eisenhower might have had a presidential nomination by the nod of his head. Instead he has chosen to accept leadership of one of the country's oldest, largest and most famous universities. In doing so he has chosen to limit somewhat his service to the nation. But there seems little reason to fear that that service will be confined within the boundaries of campus or academic schedule.

General Eisenhower will be working in the great city which is now the home and capital of the United Nations. The position he will occupy, beginning next year, is of considerable consequence in the educational and cultural life of that city. The schools over which he will preside attract students from all over the world.

Also the general inherits with his position a pattern, almost a tradition, of activity from his predecessor. The venerable Nicholas Murray Butler, now retired, led an incredibly busy life for 50 years as scholar, executive, author, politician, civic leader, and internationally influential educator.

Most important of all, General Eisenhower will be close to the source of future history. For history is only the sum of human activity. And that activity is only the sum of dreams and conscious thoughts in individual human minds.

Plans for conquest, plans for peace, economic systems, great discoveries, great books, great treacheries—these and all other history-making actions were first of all a secret thought.

General Eisenhower and all other educators can help to shape the thoughts of future leaders toward the best goals. They can help train the minds of the followers to recognize and choose the best leaders. With such an opportunity, it cannot be said that the chief of staff and general of the Army is resigning his active role in national and world affairs.

Many people who know the least at least make the most of it.

A regional meeting here of child welfare workers from widely scattered West Texas cities and state offices in Austin ended Tuesday afternoon after a two-day discussion of training supervision.

Sally Fly, state supervisor of foster-care training, led the discussions. She compared the training of new social workers to the internship served by doctors. Child welfare workers must have at least one year of graduate study in a school of social work after having earned a bachelor's degree, she said.

Workers attending the meeting included Miss Rosalind Giles and Miss Lydia Cagle of the Austin offices; Mrs. Sarah Snare and Miss Dolores Fitzsimon, El Paso; Miss Jane Dixon, Amarillo; Mrs. Louise McKinzie, Brownwood; Miss Dorothy Wilson, Abilene; Miss Maureen Heath, Stueweater; Miss Yvette Whitfield, Odessa; and Miss Dorothy Sumner, Midland.

O'Daniel Says Dooley Backed By Railroads

WASHINGTON —(P)—Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex) Wednesday told the Senate Joe B. Dooley, nominated by President Truman to be Northern Texas federal judge, "was picked and sponsored for this nomination by railroad attorneys and railroad lobbyists."

O'Daniel also told the Senate there are reports Judge James C. Wilson, 73-year-old jurist Dooley was nominated to succeed, "seeks to retain the judgeship until he can name his successor."

"If that is not conclusively proved," O'Daniel said, "it is the opinion of many of the attorneys who practice in that district."

Before O'Daniel began his second day of speaking, it required more than 22 minutes to get a quorum of 52 Senators. Few of them remained to hear him.

Republicans May Try Tax Cut Plan Again

WASHINGTON —(P)—Republican leaders approached a decision Wednesday on a windup legislative program in which they may try again to cut taxes.

They probably will put off until next year, however, final action on universal military training, federal aid to education and a long-range housing program.

The top question before the Republican lawmakers at a conference arranged by House Speaker Martin (Mass) and Chairman Taft (Ohio) of the Senate GOP Policy Committee was whether to attempt to re-pass the vetoed $4,000,000,000 tax reduction bill.

Marshall Urges Funds For Information Use

WASHINGTON —(P)—Secretary of State Marshall Wednesday urged senators to approve in this session of Congress legislation to expand a foreign information program which he termed "vital to the success of our foreign policy."

Rep. Mundt (R-SD), author of the House-passed measure now before the committee, also urged speedy action. He told the senators "Russians and others are spreading malicious lies about us every day."

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm, flesh fill out, hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Ann Ulmer Entertains With Linen Shower For Marcille McClure

Marion Marcille McClure, bride-elect of James Flint Graham of Denver, Colo., was honored with a linen shower at the home of Ann Ulmer, 111 North C Street, at 10 a. m. Tuesday. Shirley Culbertson was co-hostess.

Approximately 37 guests attended the shower. Coffee, marshmallow snowballs, and melon balls were served in the dining room, where Mrs. Dayton A. Blevin was in charge of the coffee and Jane Butler assisted with the serving.

The table was decorated with a white, linen cut-work cloth, in the center of which was a large bowl of giant daisies. Smaller daisy bouquets adorned each corner of the table. The hostess and co-hostess wore daisy corsages at the Pratt residence, 911 West Kansas Street, Tuesday night.

Other members of the club were guests of the Pratts at a similar affair the previous Tuesday. The picnic-suppers are annual club events.

James C. Watson New Head Of Methodist Men's Brotherhood

James C. Watson was elected president of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Methodist Church at the organization meeting of that group Tuesday night. Keith M. Stuart was named secretary-treasurer.

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, was guest speaker. He compared the teachings of Jesus with various philosophies of life which have been followed in the world, and declared that in his opinion the future would depend in a large measure on how generally Christian ideals are accepted and followed.

The brotherhood is an organization for all men who are members of, or who attend the First Methodist Church. It will hold monthly dinner meetings at the church.

H. C. (Hub) Cheshire, president of the Men's Bible Class, presided at the Monday night meeting. The new officers will be installed at the August meeting.

Giants Submerge Braves Under Barrage Of Hits
 By The Associated Press
 The New York Giants committed mayhem on the diamond Tuesday night, collected 16 hits which included five home runs, a triple and a double, and handed the Boston Braves their worst drubbing of the season. The score was 15 to 3, and if it hadn't rained, it likely would have been worse. Johnny Mize got his 21st homer. Other Giants who hit round-trippers were Bobby Thompson, Buddy Kerr, Willard Marshall and Walker Cooper. Brooklyn muffed a chance to overtake the Braves by dropping a 5-3 game to the Phillies.
 The barging St. Louis Cards climbed a notch by squeezing past Pittsburgh 2-1.
 In the American League the Detroiters nipped the White Sox 2-1 to take over sole possession of third place. Cleveland's Indians whammed the St. Louis Browns 9-3, but the victory was clouded by an injury to Bob Feller. Feller had to quit in the second inning because of severe back pains thought to be the result of a bad strain suffered in a fall off the mound on June 13 in Philadelphia.

U. S. HAS NO PLAN IF EUROPE DOESN'T HAVE ONE
 GENEVA — (AP) — U. S. Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton said "so far as I know the United States is taking no steps" if the three-power conference in Paris breaks up without agreement of the Marshall Aid-For-Europe plan.
 Clayton, who conferred with top British officials on the Marshall plan in London before coming here, told a news conference that his government was "waiting for Europe to take action" on the American proposals.

A territory-wide plebiscite held in Hawaii in 1940 resulted in a two-to-one vote in favor of statehood.

Houston Buffs Nearly Clinch All-Star Honor

By The Associated Press
Houston's Buffs can wrap up the honor of acting as host team in the Texas League's all-star game July 9 by sweeping its series with San Antonio.

The Buffs need just two more victories to gain a mathematical edge over second place Fort Worth. They started off right by handing the cellar-dwelling San Antonio nine an 8-2 licking Tuesday night.

In other games, the red hot Tulsa Oilers defeated Fort Worth, 5-1; Beaumont beat Shreveport, 8-2, and Oklahoma City edged Dallas, 3-2.

Houston has four games left to play, holds a three-game advantage over Fort Worth. The Cats have five games before the deadline. The team on top after July 4th is host for the all-star tilt.

Indians Finally Spoil Jones' No-Hitter But Sports Win Game, 12-8

Lefty Leroy Jones, strikeout artist of the Sweetwater Sports and the Longhorn League, spun no-hit ball at the Midland Indians for seven innings here Tuesday night, but the Tribe spoiled his masterpiece with four solid smashes in the last half

Sports, Cats, Broncs Chalk Loop Victories

Longhorn teams had a new record to shoot at Wednesday—this one of the shortest ten inning game to date. Vernon and Ballinger unreled an extra-inning affair last night in just one hour and 26 minutes. Ballinger came out on the long end of a 3-2 score.

Odessa jumped to a big lead over Big Spring, but one wild, 10 run inning changed the game's complexion. Big Spring won it, 14-11.

Leroy Jones, Sweetwater south-paw, blew a no-hit game in the eighth inning, but won a 12-8 decision over Midland. In the eighth, Midland exploded for four hits, and punched out four more in the ninth.

Students Learn How To Plant Joke, But Don't Know How To Bury One

NEW YORK —(NEA)— In the library on the second floor of a public school in midtown Manhattan, "Prof." George Lewis called his class to order.

A hundred or more young men in sport coats and slacks lounged comfortably, legs across desk-arms of their chairs. Note pads on knees, they poised pencils to take down the solemn words of their short, well-fed mentor.

"Professor" Lewis plumped down a brick-red flower pot on the rostrum. In one hand he held a folded piece of paper. With stubby fingers he jabbed the paper into the pot.

"And that, dear students," he declared, "is the easiest way to plant a gag."

When the laughs died down, Lewis launched into his two-hour class in gag writing. Lewis is head of The Gag Writers Institute, the only school in the world devoted to molding joke-geniuses out of assorted clerks, salesmen and office workers who, not without ambition, aspire to the $3,000 pulled down weekly by top gag writers for network radio shows.

"In the past gag-writers came from vaudeville and show business," Lewis explains. "But now the well is crying up. We've got to train our own gag writers or they'll go and become extinct."

Anyone that's interested can sign up for the 22-week course. And for free, "Dean" of the Institute is moon-mouthed comedian Milton Berle. Graduates receive diplomas certifying them as "Bachelors of Gagology." But Lewis hastens to add that that doesn't mean they are really hot-stuff gagemen.

Studying gag writing is no non-class business. Students must dream up weekly scripts, assigned by Lewis to be modeled after shows of such comedians as Henry Morgan, Jack Benny, Bob Hope and Fred Allen. Then, at the weekly class sessions, the students read their scripts before the class. The Institute has an unwritten code "Don't laugh too hard at anybody else's rags." And that guarantees a dead-pan audience.

Lewis rips into each script, smothering cliches, injecting "punchy" lines and explaining how to anticipate audience reaction. "Guest lecturers" such as Berle and Goodman Ace give the class an intimate behind-the-mike view of the comedian and his problems.

"If only Benny were doing this—with his timing and his pacing!" exclaimed a desperate scholar after his best gags shriveled up and died before a straight-lipped audience. He's got something there. Gag writers aren't actors. But if their stuff clicks despite bad timing and super-critical audiences, well, maybe the $3,000 in crisp, green bills every week isn't just a vision after all.

Health Officer Here Charges Some Milk Watering By Dairymen

A survey of the milk supply in the Midland area has revealed approximately a third of the dairymen supplying the city with milk have added water to their product. W. M. Howard, sanitarian with the Midland-Ector-Howard County Health Unit, announced Wednesday.

He has not affected the quality of milk being distributed by Midland creameries. It means the creameries have to add additional fats and solids to such adulterated milk in order to bring it up to the standard of quality stipulated by state law.

Grade A milk, for example, must, by edict of the State Department of Health, contain not less than 3.25 per cent butterfat. Creameries here exceed this minimum, standardizing the butterfat content of the retail product at, usually, 3.6 to 3.8 per cent butterfat.

Requirements for the production and distribution of milk and milk products are set by state law and apply to the producer as well as the processor and distributor. And here are the only legalized bottlers. And the creameries buy from producers according to butterfat content, which definitely is not increased by addition of H₂O.

Not only has Howard detected excessive quantities of well water in milk from some dairies. He also has found that considerable unimproved, or "bootleg" milk is being sold in Midland. City ordinance and state law make it mandatory that milk distributors label their product with the name of the bottler or processor, the grade of the product, etc. Howard asked that consumers notify him of persons attempting to sell unlabeled milk.

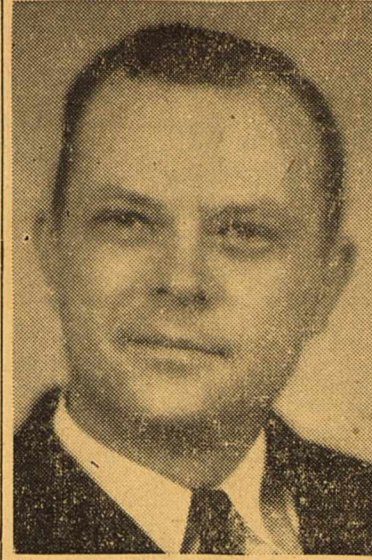

The sanitarian said he will continue inspecting the city's milk supply through the month of July.

Ironically, the adding of water to milk is not profitable to producers, anyway, according to the health officer, since creameries here are the only legalized bottlers. And the creameries buy from producers according to butterfat content, which definitely is not increased by addition of H₂O.

Overseas Marines Solve Housing Shortage—Move Families Abroad

By PFC. ROBERT A. KRAUCH
Written for NEA Service
WASHINGTON—Marine dependents had one big post-war problem solved for them.
They don't have to worry about a place to live when they join their husbands. From China to Cuba, from Argentina to Peleliu, wives and children of Marines on occupation duty are moving into neat new homes. They don't have to spend months looking for houses or apartments either. As quickly as the homes become available, dependents begin arriving at far-flung Marine bases, ready to set up housekeeping.
Though the types and conditions of housing vary, most wives are finding their new homes practical, if not pretentious.
Typical of the housing situation

on Peleliu, in the Palau Islands, is the home of Sgt. Frederick C. Wilburn of Madison, W. Va., and his wife, the former Elaine Hubbell of Quincy, Mass. Their comfortable bungalow—five rooms and a bath—is on high ground, only 30 yards from the beach.
Built by the Seabees during the war, the house has a spacious 20 x 20-foot living room. Bright-colored draperies from America and Australia close out the kitchen and other adjoining rooms.
Peleliu has no servant problem. The Wilburns employ a maid eight hours a day, five days a week, plus half a day on Saturday for 20 cents and one meal daily. The maid does everything but the cooking.

On Guam, the housing is equally plentiful. Sgt. Major John E. Steer, of Baltimore, Md., like many other Leathernecks whose families have joined them on Guam, had his Quonset hut well on the way to looking like a regular state-side efficiently apartment when his wife joined him. He had partitioned it off into five rooms with "L" shaped living and dining room in the center, kitchen and bath adjoining, and a bedroom at either end.
Several new coats of paint, the addition of furniture and installation of fluorescent lighting, and the Quonset was ready for the wife's approval and feminine touches. Cool night winds provide air conditioning, and insulation keeps out the hot tropical sun in the day. The Steer's home is situated on Apra Heights, overlooking Guam's Apra Harbor. The beautiful panorama of Guam's western coastline is spread out before it.

Marine dependents in Tsingtao, China, need warm clothing from October to April. Travel is by ricksha, taxi, commissary, bus, carriage, and private car. Tsingtao, built by the Germans when they had a naval base there, has a continental European atmosphere.
Throughout the islands of the Pacific, Alaska, China, Japan, the Philippines, the Caribbean, as in Newfoundland, adequate medical care and hospitalization facilities are available and, in most places, education for dependents is equal to that offered here in the U. S.

U. S. CONSUMERS MAY GET CHOICE BANANAS BY AIR

"Lady finger" bananas, which are one of the most popular varieties in countries where they can be eaten soon after being picked, but which are virtually unknown in the United States because they do not ship well, may soon enter U. S. markets via air shipments.

Fancy-Priced Turkish Tobacco Is Grown For First Time In United States In South Carolina Fields

Tobacco auction at Marlboro, Md. Auctioneer's folded arms signal that a transaction has been reached. No domestically grown Turkish tobaccos have been auctioned so far, but as supplies increase these too will find their way into auction warehouses.

CLEMSON, S. C.—(NEA)—That Turkish tobacco in your cigarette may soon come from the same part of the southeastern U. S. where the rest of your cigarette tobacco comes from.

Already it's growing in the Carolina foothills, not on a large scale as yet, but beyond the experimental stage.

Normally about 75 million pounds of Turkish tobacco is imported annually. That's not much tobacco, of course, when you consider that in a single year close to two billion pounds of various types of tobacco are produced in the United States.

But Turkish tobacco brings a fancy price. The crop requires much attention and hard labor. The acreage of Turkish tobacco a family can handle is relatively small. No one thought it could be grown on American soil until experiments at Duke University recently proved otherwise.

Now in the upper part of South Carolina—not a tobacco country like the lower part of the state—Clemson College has been promoting trial plantings of the Turkish crop. Duke University and big tobacco companies are cooperating.

All experts have said the quality is excellent. There are few crops—even the bright leaf tobacco generally produced in the Southeast—that offer as much promise in income per acre.

Price Now Fixed

Tobacco companies now buy the American-grown Turkish tobacco at a fixed price. However, there is every indication that as soon as more farmers venture into production, the customary auction system will be instituted. This is the way cigarette types of tobacco are sold, all the way from Florida on into Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The tobacco auction season opens each July on the Georgia-Florida belt. There, in a few weeks, nearly 100,000,000 pounds of bright leaf are sold to the unintelligible spiel of the auctioneer. It's sold at the amazing clip of 400 piles a minute sometimes to the pantomime of the buyers.

Then the season moves northward, by belts, into even larger tobacco producing areas. In times past the tobacco growers have had some tough sledding. In the early 30's there were "tobacco holidays" when growers refused to market their tobacco.

But in recent years there has been little complaint. Tobacco was one of the first crops to go under quotas and control. Then—it seems long ago now—there were wartime shortages. Consumption skyrocketed. Tobacco isn't smoked the year it's produced; it goes through a long curing process. Stockpiles were depleted.

That's all over now. But the tobacco country always has its chills and fevers.

BEHIND IN ITS PRINTING— Smithsonian Institution Can't Get Appropriations It Claims Is Needed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Smithsonian Institution, 100 years old in August, is way behind in its printing.

For example, it has been waiting several years to publish booklets on these subjects: Philippine nautilus mollusks, American gobiid fishes, albatross coepods, revision of atherine fishes Pycnogonida of North Atlantic, and a couple of dozen more. It can't get the money.

The subject came up recently in hearings made public as the House Appropriations Committee presented a bill carrying funds for several independent government offices for the 1948 fiscal year, beginning July 1.

Moreover, added Smithsonian officials, they have dozens of typewriters which they think might be more appropriately placed in the Institution's showcases than used by its stenographers.

"We have been living on a starvation diet for 15 years," said Dr. J. L. Keddy, Assistant Secretary. "The Institution is about the only agency that has never recovered from the 1933 economy wave."

The Institution asked for $1,987,000 for next year, $534,488 more than it was given for this year, but the committee refused $364,662 of the increase.

Dr. Alexander Wetmore, secretary, reviewed the Institution's first century briefly for the committee, remarking that the Smithsonian folks believe it has been "a very potent factor" in developing American natural science.

Among other things, Dr. Wetmore said, it founded the Weather Bureau, Fish and Wildlife Service, an astrophysical observatory second to none in the world, the National Museum, the Washington Zoo and the Bureau of American Ethnology.

The Smithsonian isn't resting on its oars, either, Dr. Wetmore added. It is studying deterioration of material and textiles for the Army at Petersburg, Va., and Miami, Fla.

Two biologists who went to the atomic bomb tests at Bikini are watching plants and animals they brought back.

A record number of events such as motorcycle races, baseball game and an amateur entertainment program are booked for the 4th of July calendar. A gigantic fireworks display at the City Park Amphitheater immediately following the amateur program will climax the day's activities. The motorcycle races will be held at 10 a. m.

which are 75 years old. It runs a biological station on an island in Gatun Lake in the Panama Canal Zone, and right now is busiest getting the National Air Museum established.

This project was the idea of Gen. H. H. Arnold, wartime chief of the Army Air Forces. A bill passed by Congress last year set aside $50,000 to start the Museum, and the Smithsonian has begun assembling a technical staff to hunt down important items before they are lost.

New Lidice Cornerstone Is Laid Five Years After Nazis Wiped It Off Map; Memory Weighs Heavy

WHERE LIDICE WAS, CZECHOSLOVAKIA —(P)— Five years and five days after Gestapo troopers brutally wiped the little village of Lidice off the map, a group of British miners tapped a gray block of granite into place here June 15 as the cornerstone of a new Lidice.

gunned bodies of all the village men—about 178 in all, a few grass-covered foundation stones of a church and untold memories. Most of the memories were here yesterday, in the thought of 140 black-gowned women and a few quiet children, the only survivors of a village of 500.

After the men were shot, on that June day in 1942, the women were sent to concentration camps, the children were scattered throughout the length and breadth of Europe, the village was burned, the ruins bulldozed flat and then the ground was plowed under. The thorough Germans even drained the village goose pond and filled it in.

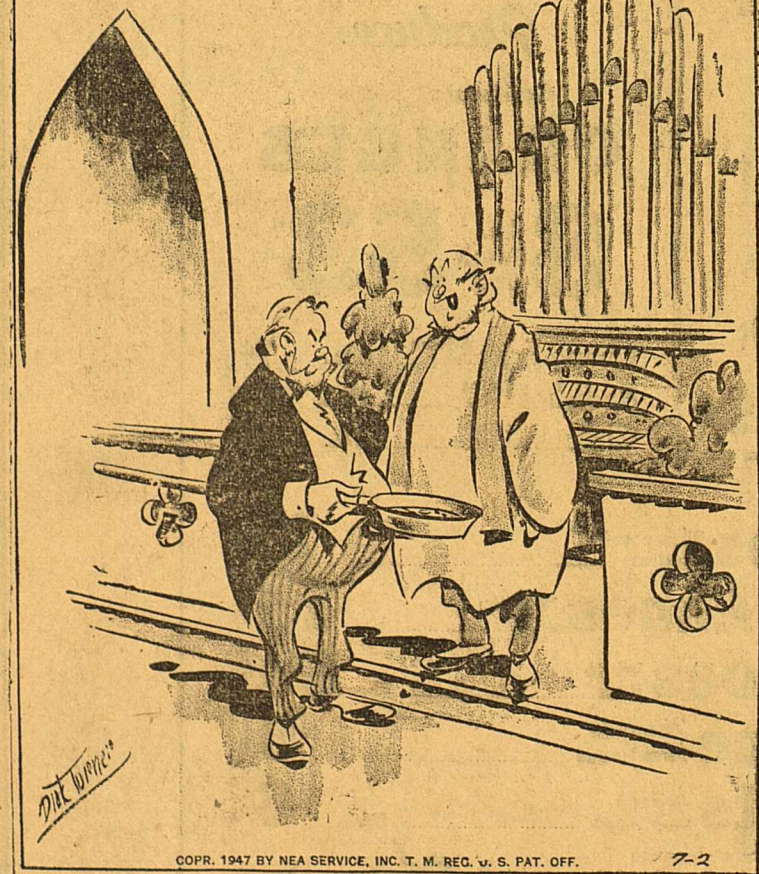

Of the old one, nothing remains save a huge timber cross and a wreath of thorns marking the common grave into which the Nazis dumped all the machinery-

Folk Costumes Worn

This was done because the Kladno district Gestapo, whose leaders went to the gallows a few weeks ago in Prague, said the village had harbored the assassins of Reinhard Heydrich, the German Reichs Protector whom the Czechs called "Der Henker," the Hangman.

Several hundred persons besides the survivors assembled for the June 15 ceremony in the grass-covered saddle between two hills where the old Lidice perished and the new one will be raised.

Mostly they were neighbors from Makotras, down the road, and brown-coal miners from Kladno. The visiting women wore the red-skirted, white-bonneted folk costumes and high-peaked hats with the feather slanting forward.

On a distant hillside they could see long rough barracks that will house the brigade of volunteer workers who will help rebuild the town. Already a few gray-clad boys and girls in their teens and early twenties are on hand to start the job.

Aid From British Miners "It is not often that the dead and the living participate in the same ceremony," said Bernard Stross, who led the delegation of British miners which brought along a check for 30,375 pounds raised in a campaign to start the rebuilding project.

Then he tapped into place a stone marked "Zakladni Kamen Novych Lidice"—which means foundation of the new Lidice. As he did so there was a heavy roll of thunder and then a down-pour began. The eternal flame which was to be lighted in a black cylindrical holder beside the stone was left unlighted until a future time.

A few of the women in black lingered. One of them whispered, "I would rather not live here again, but as they are building the village specially for us—we will have to, I guess."

She lost her husband and four children. Now she lives with relatives at Kladno. Memories do not weigh so heavily there.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

This is the third of a series of simple hands which too many people miss. Some players lost the contract on today's hand through carelessness, some through greed. North's bid over one spade is open to discussion. I do not consider his hand strong enough to bid three spades. I would prefer four spades rather than three, or maybe two diamonds. In the latter case South would have bid two spades and North then could have bid four spades. However, it is the play in which we are more interested.

Declarer lost the first two club tricks quickly, but he ruffed the third club. Now he thought that his whole problem was to guess the diamond finesse correctly. But why resort to a guess when there is a safe way to play it? He should cash the ace of hearts and ruff a heart in dummy.

If he takes the spade finesse now, West will win, lead back either the king of hearts or a spade, and declarer still will have to guess the diamond.

After ruffing the heart in dummy, declarer should lead a spade and go right up with the ace. Next, he should ruff his third heart in dummy and discard a diamond from his own hand. If West leads a diamond, declarer has a free finesse.

Canadian Trade Deficit With U. S. Creeping Up

OTTAWA —(P)— Canada's adverse trade balance with the United States is creeping higher, but financial circles while concerned do not consider the situation serious enough at the moment to engender drastic action.

Despite Canadian exports to the United States soaring above normal peacetime levels, figures issued this week by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics showed that for the four months ended last April the adverse balance totaled $296,300,000, a four-month record. During April the balance was $92,200,000 compared with $80,000,000 in March.

Preliminary figures indicated the adverse balance for May might total $100,000, causing officials to ponder how they can meet the balance and what the effect will be on Canada's United States dollar reserve which amounted to $124,900,000 on Jan. 1.

Providing the current trend continues, Canada likely will be behind its commodity trade with the United States by the year-end to the tune of at least $800,000,000.

On top of this Canada probably will require $200,000,000 to take care of earnings of American investment in Canada in excess of Canadian investment earnings in the United States. The two accounts would total $1,100,000,000.

A responsible official said he was optimistic the country could ride out the storm caused by Canadians buying up large quantities of American goods which have come on the market since the war.

More than 175,000 forest fires occur every year in the United States.

New Labor Law Vs. Coal Strike -- Here's Factual Interpretation Of How Measure Is Geared To Work

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The new labor law can stop a coal strike or any big strike—but only for a while. In the end—when all the machinery set up under the law to stave off a strike is exhausted—workers are free to strike.

Here's an ABC on coal and the new law. Both will be in the news now. Any big strike could be handled the same way.

1. The law's machinery starts with the President. He has to decide whether a big strike will affect national health and safety.

2. If he thinks so, he appoints a special board of inquiry. The board investigates and reports to the President what it has found.

3. If the President still thinks the strike would create a national emergency, he tells the Attorney General to act.

4. The Attorney General asks a federal court justice to issue a court order—an injunction—to stop the strike.

5. When, and if, the injunction is issued, the union and the employer are supposed to get together to try to reach an agreement.

6. While the union-employer talks go on, the President calls back his special board of inquiry for further investigation.

7. The board must report back to the President within 60 days after the injunction is granted.

8. In its report the board must say what the latest offer of the employer was, such as a wage increase. The President can make the report of the board public.

9. Then the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), which administers the law, steps in. It conducts a vote in all the plants where the union members work.

10. The workers vote on whether to accept the employer's last offer or to follow the judgment of their leaders in rejecting it.

11. Once NLRB announces the result of the vote—even though it means a strike through not accepting the offer—the Attorney General must ask the court to end the injunction against a strike.

12. That leaves the union free to strike. But the President must take one more step. He must report to Congress on the whole situation.

13. Then it's up to Congress either to do nothing, and let the strike occur, or pass a special law to prevent the strike.

The Big Question
If it passes such a law there's this question: can any law compel people to work if they don't want to?

Perhaps 100 or more days will have elapsed between the time the President first set up the special inquiry board and when he turned the case over to Congress.

So the strike will have been delayed that long unless Congress in the end tries to pass a law to stop it altogether.

As to the coal case:
The government seized the mines a year ago when John L. Lewis and the mine owners couldn't agree on a contract.

The government made a contract with Lewis. It had seized the mines and made the contract under a wartime law.

But the law—and the contract with it—expired June 30. On July 1 the government turned the mines back to the owners.

Under the government contract, the miners were allowed a 10-day vacation, starting June 27. They're due back July 8.

They started out while the government had the mines and are due to return when the owners have them.

But will they return July 8 if, by that time, the owners have not made a contract with Lewis? Probably not. In staying away they'll deny they're on strike. They'll say they can't work without a contract.

The President won't be able to tell till July 8 whether the country faces a coal strike. If he then starts the new law's machinery working the coal strike may be delayed until Fall, maybe.

If the miners stay away after July 8, the No. 1 problem will be: Can any injunction against a strike stop them from staying away?

FISH STORY
NEW HAVEN, CONN. — (AP) — State Rep. Irving Horowitz buys his fish bait in fruit stores. A year ago he jokingly told a nephew to put a chunk of orange peel on his hook. The nephew did and caught two fish. Horowitz says he now carries half a dozen oranges for refreshment and bait when he goes fishing, and rarely comes home empty handed.

Bitter China War Can Never End In Negotiation

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

When I was in China four and a half years ago this column recorded that impartial observers generally believed the terrible civil war between the Communists and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government must run its bloody course—until one side or the other was knocked out.

It seemed clear that the divergence between Communism and any other ism—political, economic or religious—was too great to be bridged by negotiation. It was the old story that oil and water don't mix.

That was during the World War. The United States then was giving the Chinese government material help in the struggle against Japan. Later General George Marshall, aided by other American officials, spent long months trying ineffectually to compose the internal differences which rapidly were wrecking the world's most populous nation—one of the big five.

From Bad To Worse

Since then things have raced madly from bad to worse. And now, having explored every visible avenue in an effort to aid our friend, Washington today is facing a dilemma. Trying to move either side in the civil war with advice or argument is like hollering down an empty rain-barrel. Loans of money are snow on a hot stove.

What more can America do to save a nation which not only is her friend but whose welfare is vital to world peace and prosperity? Bestowal of further credits and loans apparently would be the only feasible offering which could be made. But would additional money achieve the desired ends at this juncture?

The position in China is truly catastrophic. Fierce fighting continues between great Communist and Nationalist armies in Manchuria, and the government is hanging on by its teeth to this richest section of the empire.

The conflict is flaming across Northern China proper as well. Far South in Hong Kong Marshal I Chi-Shen, one time chief of staff for Chiang Kai-shek, says he favors a "democratic" secession of South China, and he asserts that this movement already is in progress. Marshal Li had a falling out with the Nationalist Government and then made his peace with the Communists.

But that's only part of the story. Famine has been taking a toll of millions in various parts of the country. The black marketeers are perched like carrion crows on the back of the stricken nation, and a crazy inflation has carried the national currency to the staggering figure of 53,000 Chinese dollars (yuan) to the American dollar, whereas the yuan normally is about 50 cents in U. S. money.

What Washington now has to decide is would it do any good to dump more millions of dollars or other aid into such a morass which

FOREVER WHITE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Forty-eight years ago, Charles E. Underdonk stepped aboard a New York Central railroad train and began shoveling coal into the engine. He was wearing a crisply laundered white shirt and white collar. Recently he ended his railroading career at the age of 69, still wearing a white shirt and collar. His fellow workers said he was the only railroader they knew who worked as fireman, steam engineer and electric engineer and reported to work each day in a clean white shirt.

Looking for a surprise for your hot weather guests? Then peek into a Chinese kitchen.

Mushroom Chow Mein
(Serves 4)

Four tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 2 green peppers, 3 stalks celery, 2 large onions, 1 cup boiling salted water, 1 cup cooked chicken or tuna, 1 dozen almonds, 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms, steamed rice, soy sauce.

Wash peppers, halve, remove seeds and slice into long, thin strips. Wash celery and slice diagonally into thin strips. Peel onions and cut into thin strips, down the grain of the onions. Put vegetables into saucepan, add boiling salted water, and cook quickly until tender, or until water is almost absorbed. Add chicken or tuna, cut into strips, and continue cooking until heated through. Blanch and slice almonds into long thin strips, saute with mushrooms (drained from liquid) in 2 tablespoons of the butter or margarine. Arrange steamed rice in bottom of serving dish. Top with vegetables. Add toasted almonds and mushrooms. Serve with soy sauce.

Shrimp With Mushrooms, Ruby Foo
(Serves 4)

Two tablespoons oil or fat, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 pound shrimp, 1 pound mushrooms, 1/2 cup chicken bouillon, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 teaspoons soy sauce, 1/4 cup water.

Place the oil or fat, salt and shrimp in preheated, heavy 10-inch frying pan. (To prepare shrimp, remove shells, clean and quarter.) Cook over moderately hot flame, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes. Dice and add mushrooms. Add chicken bouillon. Cover pan tightly and cook over low flame for 5 minutes. Blend together and add the cornstarch, soy sauce and water. Cook for a few more minutes, stirring constantly, until juice thickens and mixture is very hot. Serve immediately with hot, boiled rice.

Hungarian Chicken Fricassee
(Serves 6-8)

Two friers—2 1/2 to 3 pounds each, salt, pepper, 1/4 pound butter or fortified margarine, 2 medium sized onions finely chopped, 4 medium sized ripe tomatoes, 2 teaspoons paprika, 3 cups thin cream or rich top milk, 1/8 teaspoon baking soda.

Joint the chicken; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Melt butter or margarine in large heavy frying pan or deep Dutch oven. Turn heat low; spread onions in pot; add chicken. Cover and saute gently about 10 minutes, taking care to brown neither chicken nor onions. Scald, skin and cut up the tomatoes. Add to chicken with paprika. Stir together gently; cook gently another 10 minutes. Mix cream or milk with baking soda and pour over chicken. Mix gently; cover; cook until chicken is thoroughly cooked (about 35 minutes). To serve, remove chicken to serving platter and strain the sauce over top of chicken (although whole sauce may be served if preferred). Noodles Seasoned With Mace (Serves 6-8)

One pound fine noodles, powdered mace.

Drop noodles into boiling salted water; cook 15 to 20 minutes (or according to directions on package). Turn into colander, drain; rinse quickly with cold water. Drain; sprinkle very lightly with powdered mace. Serve at once.

Mile-Long Trains Carry Texas Oil On Eastward Trip

DALLAS —(AP)— A procession of mile-long trains of tank cars loaded with West Texas crude oil passed through Dallas this week en route to oil-thirsty states east of the Mississippi River.

As Eastern oilmen and congressmen warned of possible rationing of gasoline on the Eastern Seaboard, Clin Culbertson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, declared, "all this talk about a shortage of gasoline doesn't result from any lack of supply, it's transportation."

Culbertson said the United States is now using more gasoline than during the war and added "there is also a big demand for export to Europe while they are getting their refineries rebuilt. A lot of American oil is going over there."

For these reasons, the Railroad Commissioner said, Texas raised its allowable to 2,455,625 barrels daily, the greatest in Texas history.

Tank Car Rates Lowered

In an effort to speed the crude oil to market, he said, the Railroad Commission recently lowered tank car rates to approximately pipe line costs. This step was necessary because the Big and Little Inch pipe lines, which moved Texas oil to markets during the war, are now carrying natural gas.

Most of the oil which passed through Dallas came from the Permian Basin in the Midland area which last week was pumping 465,- 000 barrels of oil daily, an amount greater than its wartime peak.

Humble Oil Company, which has large holdings in the Basin, said it was shipping the oil by tank car to East Texas, where it was moved by pipe lines to Galveston and other Gulf ports and transhipped by tanker to Eastern refineries "to help break a tight situation."

Although Dallas railroad officials said they were marshaling every available tank car, Humble said it was having difficulty in finding enough cars.

Asked about recent criticism of shipment of American oil to Russia, Culbertson said "very little Texas oil is going to Russia. We have no control over the destination of

Dry Cleaner Sent To Indians By Airplane

AP Newsfeatures

WINSLOW, ARIZ.—Many times each day when Wayne L. Troutner's airplane glides to earth on remote Northern Arizona landing strips, Indian natives—both young and old—cry a greeting "Ka-Ya-Pa-Ne-Sha."

"Ka-Ya-Pa-Ne-Sha," means "the cleaner who flies." It describes Troutner's three months' old aerial pick-up and delivery service to the oil or its products, but it is by understanding that Russia is receiving heavy fuel and lubricating oil shipped from California. There is no pipe line from Texas to California."

widely scattered Northern Arizona trading posts, ranches, and resorts.

For the service, which gives the natives and others residing as far as 175 miles from Winslow, one or two day dry cleaning deliveries, Troutner uses a 4-place Stinson Voyager with removable rear seats.

Before he obtained the plane, Troutner's truck drivers could cover only a part of the territory with any frequency.

"After we proved to the Indians that we could improve the appearance of their rugs and ceremonial garments, our aerial service was literally swamped," Troutner said.

Among his other inventions, Leonardo de Vinci devised a machine for sharpening fish hooks.
