It breaks my heart to be unable to get this column in this week, I had so much to say (early April fool joke), but it looks like the news crowded me out again.

Do want to mention a few things of interest on the local scene. This is national Girl Scout Week, and we have six super-active Girl Scout troops with various goals they are working toward. The local chapter of Beta Sigma Phi is planning a Bicentennial county fair for July 3, sound like a fun thing for all. They have finished landscaping the courthouse grounds and are finishing up cutting stuff out of the park (I hope) in order that the courthouse might better be seen, another Bicentennial project. I miss the hedge, though, it hid a multitude of debris and I could still see the courthouse.

As for fact and rumor on the Ozona scene, for a fact Oscar Kost sold all his shoe repair equipment and retired from that activity after 53 years. Rumor has it that Dudley McCary bought a couple of variety store type snakes and rid the courthouse of pigeons. The way it's supposed to work is when the pigeons see the snakes, they'll leave and never return. This should be inter-

Crockett County Commissioners Have Light Adgenda For Month

Commissioners Court met Monday, March 8, in regular meeting with a light adgenda.
Monthly bills were approved and reports received. The afternoon session was combined with the annual meeting of the Cemetery Association.

Dudley McCary was directed to secure estimates of costs of painting the outside of the Courthouse and glazing the windows. He was instructed to work with Nancy Hale and install the metal benches and chairs somewhere in the park with concrete foundations, which were purchased by the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Billy Hoover requested five miles of emergency paving on the Miller Lane Road. He observed that this was the most traveled road in Crockett County, except the 290 and 163 and the road services a number of large ranches as well as the heart of the Canyon Gas Production. The Court promised to include some paving in the next year's budget.

Juanita Gutierrez made the Auditorium-Coliseum Report. She requested the banquet tables be repaired before the 15th of March. Dudley McCary promised to get the tables repaired. Keith Peters, Hospital

CONVERSATIONS WITH KISSINGER

One of the most chilling perceptions of detente and what it means for the United States is coming from former Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Elmo Zumwalt. His basic theme is to tell it to the American people like it really is.

And what he is telling us is that the Nixon-Kissinger detente is simply a passport to power for the Russians. The United States' big Cold War victories - the Berlin Blockade, Lebanon, the Cuban Missile Crisis - were only won because we had the power: a 10 to 1 nuclear superiority. We are losing that power under detente. Ever since the Yom Kippur War, in fact, we are the ones who have been backing down.

Zumwalt lays much of the blame on Kissinger's doorstep. He claims to have had two conversations with Kissinger which go far toward explaining the rationale behind Kissinger's actions. "Kissinger feels that the U.S. has passed its historic point like so many earlier civilizations," he noted about his first talk in 1970. "He believes the U.S. is on the downhill and cannot be roused by political challenge. . . . Kissinger does not agree with the President that the American people can be turned around . . . he states that his job is to persuade the Russians to give us the best deal we can get, recognizing that the historical forces favor them. He says that he realizes that in the light of history he will be recognized as one of those who negotiated terms favorable to the Soviets, but that the American people have only themselves to blame because they lack the stamina to stay the course against the Russians, who are Sparta to our Athens.'

In a second conversation he quotes Kissinger as saying: "I believe the American people lack the will to do things necessary to achieve parity and to maintain maritime superiority. I believe we must get the best deal we can in our negotiations before the Soviets and the United States both perceive these changes in balance have occurred. When these perceptions are in agreement, and both sides know that the United States is inferior, we must have gotten the best deal we can. Americans at that time will not be happy that I have settled for second, but it will be too late.

Kissinger, it should be noted, formally denies the accuracy of Zumwalt's memoranda of his views, but we see little in Kissinger's performance as Secretary of State to make us doubt that the Admiral's account is correct. It would explain Kissinger's well-known brooding pessimism.

The point is that Kissinger, apparently, believes that telling the American people how it really is would only make matters worse because it would not "turn them around" but would only advertise U.S. weakness.

Perhaps so. But the gamble, it seems to us, is worth taking, since the present course seems to lead to certain disaster over the long run. Far better to tell the naked truth to the American people now, while there still might be time to reverse the trends. Otherwise, it may be even worse than Athens versus Sparta. We may be playing Carthage to Russia's Rome.

SOVIET AGENTS IN CONGRESS?

Radio newscaster Philip C. Clarke of "Washington Report of the Air" was intrigued by what he heard about a German television documentary broadcast over Radio Stuttgart. In the documentary, produced by one Gerhard Konzelman, it was reported that over 10,000 Soviet spies now operate in West Germany. It was said that through the systematic use of blackmail, money, and threats, thousands of additional agents are being recruited by the KGB. It was reported that under the cover of detente, the USSR has built up "the largest and most effective espionage network in all of Europe.'

"What about the United States?" wondered Clarke. To find the answer to that question, he summoned - and interviewed over the air - Mr. Frank J. McNamara, former Executive Secretary of the Subversive Activities Control Board and former staff director of the House Committee on Internal Security, (both of which, by the way, have been abolished by Congress).

In the interview with Clarke, McNamara declared, among other

- that the Communist apparatus has for years been making efforts to infiltrate Capitol Hill:

that the FBI has, in fact, confirmed that there has been increased KGB efforts in that direction;

that a Senate Committee has confirmed that Communists had successfully "colonized" key committees of the U.S.

Congress; that secret members of the Communist organization have conspired to write laws, conduct congressional hearings and write congressional reports; that undercover Communist agents on congressional staffs have given valuable publicity to friendly witnesses, smeared unfriendly witnesses, slanted research material and provided propaganda material for or against legislation depending upon whether it helped or harmed the Communist party.

He also made the shocking statement that there is NO security check or investigation of any of the personnel employed by and working for the U.S. Senate or House, in fact, no personnel security program of any kind which would prevent a Soviet spy from going to work on a congressional staff. If Senator Frank Church of Idaho and Congressman Otis Pike of New York are genuinely concerned about the safety and security of the American people (which was the excuse they gave for investigating the FBI and the CIA), why don't they launch an investigation into the activities of Soviet spies who, it has been charged, are operating right in their own legislative halls?

BEGINNING TO SEE THE LIGHT

AUSTIN—State agencies and institutions got strict fiscal downhold orders from the top last week

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton served notice on nearly 1,000 board and commission members and agency heads at a special budget conference the lid is on state government spending.

Briscoe said he will veto any legislation that requires new or additional

The three top officials in budget matters left no doubt they are united in the effort to hold expenditures in line with revenue, and they claimed they are acting on a mandate from Texas citizens "tired of excess government.

Briscoe ordered a five per cent reduction in the state government work-force through normal attrition and increased efficiency. He said he will return to the agencies any budget request which does not show fiscal restraint.'

Continued increases (appropriations have jumped 250 per cent in a decade) will "bankrupt" the state, Briscoe said.

House Speaker Clayton, echoing the governor's hard-line stance, suggested admittedlysuch controversial economies as cutting one year out of the 12-grade public school curriculum.

About $1 billion more in additional revenue is expected to be available next year from present tax sources.

Handicapped

Texas Education Agency launched a $9.8 million program to find and assist 10,000 uneducated handicapped children.

The program will be conducted through education service centers in 20 regions in cooperation with 1,121 school districts.

'Child Find" will seek out those between the ages of three and 21 who are blind. deaf, physically handicapped, emotionally disturbed or mentally retarded.

About 300,000 are enrolled in special education programs, but that is only 76 per cent of the handicapped children in Texas. The program has as its goal reaching more than 450,000 chil-

Spending Jumps

State spending is running 29 per cent over fiscal 1975 levels, Comptroller Bob

Bullock said. The comptroller said salaries and wages are up 26 per cent, medical care for the needy 32 per cent, foundation school program grants 43 per cent and grants to higher education 33 per cent.

Tax revenues also are up-19 per cent. Natural gas revenues are 40 per cent above 1975, motor vehicle sales 27 per cent and insurance occupation taxation 33 per cent.

State revenues during January totalled $476 million, but spending totalled $528 million. So far this fiscal year, spending adds up to $2.8 billion and revenues $2.4 billion. State government's fiscal year began September 1.

Courts Speak

A Victoria trial court was wrong in throwing out the $325,000 medical malpractice suit of a woman who claimed x-ray injury following a breast cancer operation, the State Supreme Court held.

In another medical malpractice case, the high court upheld a $21,644 damage verdict for a Pampa woman who had a 16-inch square of gauze left in her abdomen after ulcer surgery.

An Arlington man lost an appeal from a life sentence in sex attacks on two Tarrant County women. The Court of Criminal Appeals also rejected the appeal of a Midland County man sentenced to life for strangling his wife to death

The Court of Criminal Appeals ordered resentencing of a Dallas man because prosecutors did not document earlier convictions to support a life sentence.

AG Opinions

A state agency does not have to produce confidential personnel records on general demand of a legislator that he needs them for "legislative purposes," Atty. Gen. John Hill held. In another recent opinion, Hill concluded: A court-appointed attorney for an indigent defendant at the trial court level may not be compensated if he does not appear in court.

Hill was asked for a formal opinion on whether Gov. Briscoe could withhold part of the funds appropriated to Texas Youth Coucil for community-based services based on executive findings that the money cannot yet be used effectively.

Short Snorts

Atty. Gen. John Hill filed suit here to halt payment to Lower Colorado River Authority by Houston Lighting and Power Company for Colorado River waters used in cooling a nuclear power plant near Bay City.

Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation will experiment with solar energy heating and cooling (in a small cottage for the retarded at El Paso).

Date of the big state Democratic party fund raising dinner in Houston has been postponed until June 17, eve of the state party' convention in the same city.

Crude oil production in Texas last year totalled 1,185,682,816 barrels and averaged 3.2 million barrels a day The Texas Governor's

Child Care Bill

WASHINGTON-Misleading information that is being circulated about the proposed Child and Family Services Act is making it more difficult for opponents of this misguided legislation to ensure that it will never be enacted into

Two bills-S. 626 and H. 2966-bear the name: "Child and Family Services Act." Their provisions are essentially similar. Each would establish an Office of Child and Family Services within HEW, and a Child and Family Services Coordinating Council to coordinate federal activity in the field. Each would require the Secretary of HEW to develop program standards for child care services and a uniform code for facilities to be used for child and family service

The Senate bill also would authorize the HEW Secretary to make grants for child and family service programs and for training professionals in the field of child development. I consider passage of either bill to be at best a frivolous waste of money, and at worst an unwarranted and potentially dangerous intrusion of the federal government into passage of the act. Those of us who oppose this measure find that our hand is being weakened by pamphlets being circulated by an anonymous group. The inaccurate charges being made in the pamphlets are causing those on the fence to doubt all arguments against the bill. In addition, many citizens have been needlessly alarmed.

an area in which it has no business being. I intend to fight

The Child and Family Services Act is a bad bill, but it would not take responsibility for rearing children away from parents and bestow it upon the federal government. Section 504(a) of the Senate bill specifically prohibits any practice which would infringe on or usurp the moral and legal repsonsibilities of parents or guardians. There is a similar provision in the House Bill.

Nor would the Child and Family Services Act permit the federal government to take children away from their parents. The programs that would be established are completely voluntary. No child could participate in them without the permission of a parent or guardian.

The Child and Family Services Act is fiscally irresponsible and administratively unworkable. The projected cost of $2 billion over the next three years is no doubt greatly under-estimated. The bill would duplicate many existing federal, state and local programs, and swath them all in red tape. It provides dangerous latitude for federal incursion in state, local and family affairs. While it is not the nightmare some opponents claim it would be, it is a bad bill and should be defeated.

Tips For Gardeners From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Usually March is a month as varied as any during the year, especially in our area. It can be one of the most beautiful of the year, as pleasant as April, or more This month and next you can purchase flats, packs, and individual pots of ageratums, begonias, impatiens, marigolds, petunias, and others at the nurseries and garden shops. You can continue planting snapdragons, pansies, and violas for they will be dependable for several weeks yet, or until hot weather

If plant parasitic nematodes have become a problem in the garden or flower border, now is the time to treat the soil to reduce their number.

The chemical available at nurseries and garden supply centers for nematode control may either be applied to the soil before planting or used around established plants. Read the labels thoroughly, and follow instructions care-

Many vegetables can be planted this month, but wait another month for the soil to warm up before planting tender seedlings. Have protection available

Most established lawns get their initial spring mowing this month. Cut the grass as short as possible and rake up the clippings. Also, rake out any dead grass killed over the winter. This will allow Bride of Mr. Beckwith easier movement of air, fertilizer, and water into the root zone. After mowing, apply a complete fertilizer such as 8-8-8 at the rate of 25 pounds per 1000 square feet of lawn area. In addition make an application of iron sulfate (copperas) or chelated iron if grass looks yellow. Keep grass well watered if no rain comes our way. Also don't forget the evergreens especially need to be watered. Some lawns are having to be treated and replanted due to grub worm damage, by Debra Price H. D. Agent CHAMPS COMMENTS

Turquoise is more fragile than diamonds, so Indian jewelry should be treated carefully.

Avoid wearing the jewelry when doing rough work that could scratch or chip the stones. Also chemicals found in some detergents and hand lotions can discolor turquoise and affect the patina of the silver.

The silver itself should not be polished with any kind of solvent. The patina would be stripped, removing the natural highlights of the silver. To clean the silver. use a jeweler's polishing cloth (for sale at jewelry stores) to remove surface

To store jewelry, wrap the pieces in old clothes and avoid stacking the pieces. Some jewelers suggest using the Indian method for storageplace the jewelry in cornmeal and store in a dry place. The small amount of oil in the cornmeal helps maintain the luster of the stone. MERINGUE TOPPED PEACH

Religious faith is very much like a mighty mountain — its peak seemingly lost in the clouds. On the lower slopes all you can do is plod onward and upward. You cannot see your goal or even know the many turns of the trail as it rises through the mist. Yet on the high reaches, the brightness of the sun is everywhere. And with fascination you can look down on the clouds while pursuing your path to the peak.

We are trying to say: Never get discouraged in your quest for Christian faith and strength. One Sunday in church doesn't answer all our questions. One earnest prayer doesn't set up a communications center with God.

But every rising step brings us closer to that vantage point where the heights are clothed in brightness, and faith looks down on the clouds.

One collection was snuff bottles, showing a dot (maybe 2 or 3 dots) to designate the strength imprinted on the bottom of the bottle; a mustache cup, known to be more than 100 years in age; two quilts made by the collectors' grandmothers, each one hundred or more years old and in good condition. Junior High Frontier Day

Ozona junior high school students celebrated the Bicentennial and Texas Public School last week and had "Frontier Day" Thursday.

Students dressed for school as students did in 1850. Some rode horseback to school and they all had dinner on the ground at noon. The event was sponsored by Texas History teacher Mrs. Sherry Scott and American History teacher Jerry Ayers.

As an added attraction, Mrs. Scott cooked and served mush and johnny cakes to give the students a taste of frontier food.
