Plains Electrical System Bid Awards Due Friday

Bids Opened On Plant In Council Session Tuesday

City Council will meet Friday (Sept. 6) at 9 a. m. for the purpose of opening bids and awarding a contract for construction of an electrical distribution system to the City of Plains.

The system will consist of poles, wiring, meter connections and other materials necessary to supply electric power from the generating plant to the customer.

Tuesday night the council opened bids and heard from bidders on installation of the electric generating plant. Three bidders were present and a total of nine proposals were offered for the city's consideration.

Contract for the plant is expected to be awarded Friday at the same time as the distribution system contract.

Prewitt Electric Co. of Brownfield bid $85,690 on a plant they recently purchased from Stanolind Oil Co., at the Cedar Lake station of Stanolind. The bid includes erecting a building to house the plant, rebuilding and installation of three motor and generator units, fence and all other items necessary for supplying electric power. The motors are of 172 kilowatt capacity and it is believed that amount would be sufficient to supply the city and have one motor on stand-by status at all times.

Industrial Electric Co. of Fort Worth bid $104,359 for a similar installation with the difference being in supplying only two units manufactured by Interprise Engine Co., having a kilowatt rating of 250 kw per unit.

Stewart & Stevenson Services of Houston offered the city seven bids, all including the same installation of building, etc., as the other bidders; again the difference was in generating equipment.

Stewart & Stevenson bid three new 180 kw Climax generator sets for $82,900; 3 new General Motors diesels of 185 kw for $84,499; three remanufactured General Motors diesels of 185 kw for $78,099; three new 220 kw Climax units for $95,177; three new 275 kw Climax units for $112,277; two new 275 kw Climax units for $85,277; two new 350 kw General Motors diesels units for $99,680 and one 500 kw General Motors unit for $95,000.

The Climax engines offered by Stewart & Stevenson, the Interprise and the Ingersoll-Rand units bid by Prewitt are all gas driven. The city owning the gas system here hopes to purchase gas driven equipment.

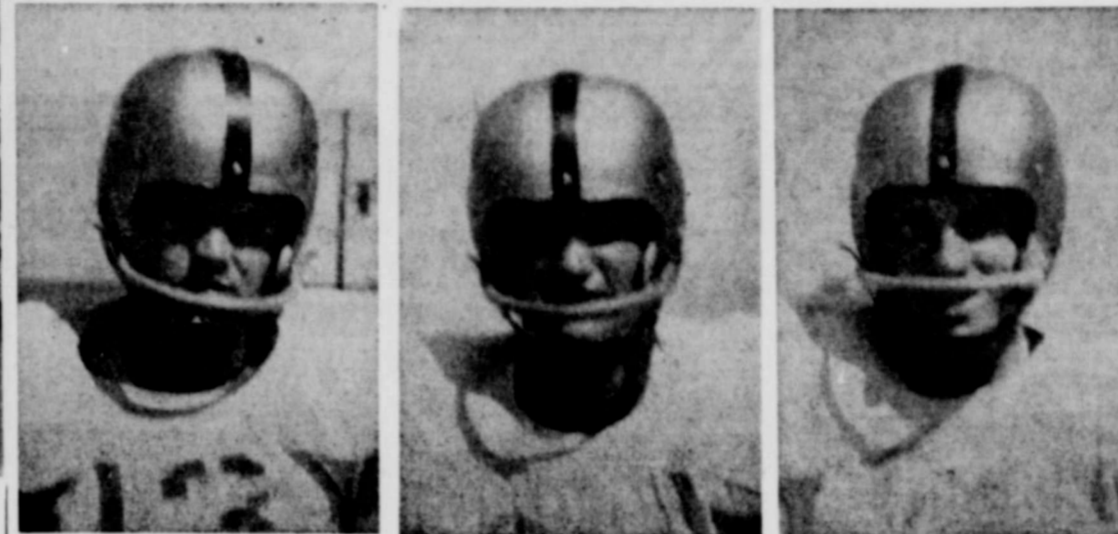

Another proposal offered by Stewart & Stevenson was for two of the 220 kw Climax units and one of the 180 kw units for approximately $87,000.

City Engineer Cecil Hawk estimates the average kilowatt load of the city to be at 250 kw and any combination of the Prewitt bid and Stewart & Stevenson's last proposal would be sufficient to carry the city load if the estimates are correct.

Major problem in buying the equipment and principal reason the contract was not awarded until the distribution system contract is signed is that the city has only $130,000 that can be spent for both the generating plant and distribution system. The balance of a $159,000 voted bond issue is already earmarked for interest on the bonds, bonding fees, engineer's fees and attorney's fees.

PLAINS COWBOY CAPTAINS

DOUGLAS PAYNE      KENNETH BLOUNT      JAMES OVERTON

Plains High Cowboys Will Face Tough Tahoka Eleven In Opener Friday Night

Coach Ed Robertson has announced the probable starting lineup for the Plains Cowboy football squad against Tahoka Friday night. The game will be played in Tahoka and kickoff time is 8 p. m.

Probable starters are: Ends Jimmy Williams and James Overton or Jim Roy Robertson; tackles Gerald Kennedy and Ross Stotts; guards Dallas Powell and Gene Payne; center Merl Todd; quarterback Harold Smith; right halfback Gean James; fullback Kenneth Blount or James Overton and left halfback Dwain Rowland or Kenneth Blount.

The team has been working out for the past two weeks and coach Robertson says they will employ the split-T formation, or as he puts it "its more of an Ed Robertson T." Last year's Cowboy team finished the season with a good record but was weak in the passing department. This year the coach is putting quite a bit of hope in Harold Smith who has looked good in practice and in scrimmage game against Meadow here last Saturday. Smith connected with 11 of 17 pass attempts in that scrimmage.

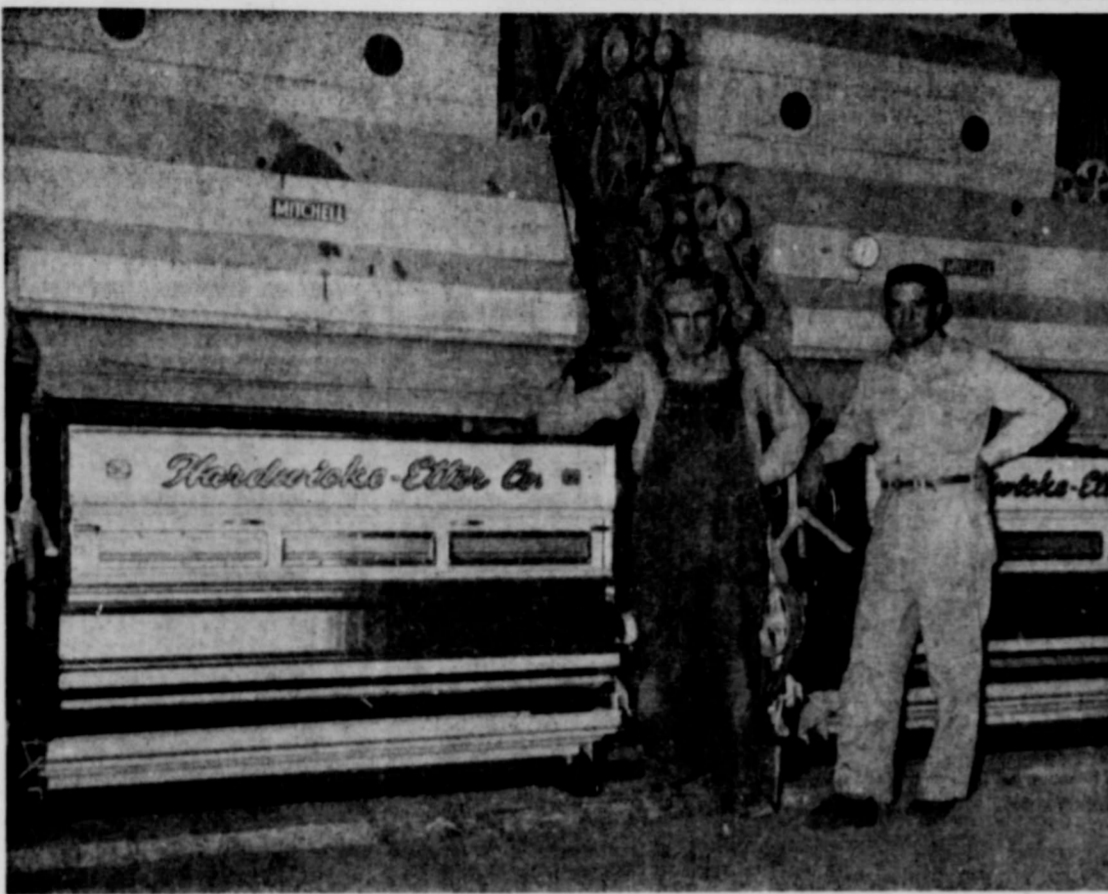

There are 11 returning lettermen for the Plains team. Coach Robertson also announced his probable kickoff team, both kicking and receiving. They are: linemen Jimmie Williams, Douglas Payne, Ross Stotts, Jim Roy Robertson and Harold Smith; backs Kenneth Blount, James Overton, Jackie Bass, Gean James, Dwain Rowland and Vennum Fitzgerald.

This will be the first year Plains footballers have contested in Class A football, being in District 3-B last year and being advanced to District 5-A this year. Tahoka is a AA football team. The Cowboy's record last year was a good one to finish Class B ball. They scored 332 points to the opponents 160, won 8 and lost 2 games, gained 3110 yards rushing for an average of 311 per game and finished second in the district.

Coach Robertson has announced that the B squad will play Seagraves Oct. 11 in Seagraves and Oct. 25 here and Denver City Nov. 1 at Denver City and Nov. 8 here. There are two more games to be scheduled for the B squad in addition to a scrimmage game Saturday morning (Sept. 8) in Seminole.

Assisting Coach Robertson with the Cowboy teams are Jack Pierce line coach, and Ralph Dahl, B squad coach.

D. C. Newsom Gin Completes Installation Of New Ginning Equipment; $17,922 Job

D. C. Newsom & Son Gin in Plains last week finished an equipment replacement operation to completely modernize the gin at a cost of $17,922.

Four new Hardwicke-Etter Hot Roll gins, all individually driven electric units, have been installed. Also new, is a 16-foot green leaf and stick separator.

This equipment is in addition to machinery installed in recent years, newest of which was the Moss lint cleaner installed two years ago.

First bale of cotton processed through the new equipment is that brought in by Neil Hickman last Thursday night. This is one of the first bales of cotton picked from Yoakum County land. Mr. Hickman farms about nine miles northeast of Plains.

Mr. Newsom, in announcing the reason for delay in being ready to gin this season, stated they wanted the gins to be installed right to do the best possible job for the cotton grower. He also stated that with the new machinery the gin is now one of the most modern and complete in all of Texas.

Commissioners Court consolidates Voting Boxes; Renews Tax Contract

Commissioners Court in session last Friday for a public hearing on the proposed county budget utilized the occasion to contract several items of county business. The session was a quiet one with very few people showing any interest in the budget and no opposition was recorded.

In other business the court merged county voting precincts 8 and 10 and consolidated a small portion of precinct seven into the new district. All three precincts are in Road Commissioner Precinct No. 2.

Precinct 8 has voted at the school building in Allred and Precinct 10 votes at the city hall in Denver City. The voting box will now be Precinct 8 and all those people who voted in Allred will vote at the city hall. This change does not take effect until after Jan. 1, 1957.

A small portion of Prec. 7—that which is south of the Hobbs-Highway in Denver City and runs from Main Street west to approximately the Mustang Drive-In Theater was also changed to Precinct 8. Precinct 7 votes at the Denver City elementary school.

Commissioners had to take this action Friday as the month for changing voting precincts is in August although the change does not take effect until the first of the year. All ballots cast in the elections this year will be voted in the usual locations.

Commissioners had planned to consolidate voting precincts 4 and 5 into the box at the courthouse (box 4) but there was some opposition in the northeast portion of the county to the change. Precinct 5 votes at Turner School site and both boxes are in Commissioner's Precinct 4.

Jones, Hickman To Share Premium For "First Bale"

Tow Yoakum County farmers, Bob Jones and Neil Hickman, will share a "first bale" premium for bringing in early cotton to Plains, Leo White, Lions Club president has announced.

The Lions Club directors held a meeting Tuesday afternoon and decided to work up a premium for the bales.

Mr. Hickman delivered his cotton to the D. C. Newsom & Son gin last Thursday but it was not ginned until this week. Mr. Jones cotton was ginned last weekend by the Hilburn & Spears gin at the state line on the Lovington highway.

Lions members will contact local merchants for donations to the "first bale" premium fund.

The Jones bale is paymaster grade from approximately 3 acres. The bale weighs 510 pounds and produced 780 pounds of seed.

The C. G. & S. Gin at Tokio was ginning some cotton last week, all of which was from Terry County, it was reported. In addition the two gins at Denver City have been ginning cotton for two weeks. Each Denver City gin had their first bale Thursday night, Aug. 23, within minutes of each other. The Denver City first bales are reported to have been produced in Gaines County.

One reason why I have never become overly enthused about this business of hauling cotton burs from the gin back to the land is because it amounts to so little when it is compared to the acreage of land that is in need of the organic matter. The spreading of burs is certainly a good thing to do and it would be nice if there were enough burs to cover each acre of cultivated land in the county. What burs there are need to be back on the land instead of being burned at the gin.

Dorman (Scottie) Scott told me the other day that he was planning to put about five tons of burs to the acre on something like 60 acres of his land. He was going to fix up a couple of trailers to haul the burs from the gin and spread them on his field. He had a neighbor who wants cotton burs spread on about 100 acres of his field.

Scottie and I took a pencil and paper and hurriedly came up with some astonishing figures. We estimated that the gin would have a fairly successful season and gin about 3,000 bales this year. We figured that the average farmer would take about 2,000 pounds of seed cotton to the gin and from that 2,000 pounds he would get 500 pounds of lint, 700 pounds of seed, and the other 800 pounds would be burs and trash.

Three thousand bales at 800 pounds of burs to the bale will make 1,200 tons of burs and trash. This 1,200 tons, when applied at the rate of five tons per acre, will cover only 240 acres. Scottie and his neighbor have 160 acres so that leaves only 70 acres for someone else in that neighborhood to want burs on, to take care of all the burs that come through one gin during an average season. From the looks of some of the bur piles that we used to see around a gin, we would naturally think that more acres than that would be benefitted if it were hauled back to the land.

When we think of adding organic matter to the land in the form of cotton burs, we sometimes think that the burs can replace most or all of the sack fertilizer we have been using. There is a need for additional information on that subject. We need someone to demonstrate with about a 40 acre plot.

If the 40 acres were divided into four 10 acre plots and burs were put on three plots and the fourth one used as a check plot for the demonstration, then two of the plots that had burs on should be fertilized at different rates in order to learn something about what kind of fertilizer, if any, is needed to go along with the cotton burs.

It is my thinking that when five tons of burs are added to the land in the fall, it should have also a fall application of a nitrogen fertilizer to feed the bacteria that go to work to decompose the burs.

During the first growing season after the burs are applied, there will probably be a need for two more applications of fertilizer. Three applications of sack fertilizer and one application of burs, plus irrigation water and insecticides, will run up the cost of making a cotton crop so high that the farmer will have to make more than a bale to the acre to get back his expenses. That is a lot of expense but, as I see it, that is the first step toward getting the land in shape to make two and a half or three bales to the acre. No soil that is low in organic matter is going to be capable of producing high yields regardless of the amount of water and fertilizer that is used.

TIMELY TIPS

By LA RUE GILMORE
County Home Demonstration Agent

Breakfast is a must for children and for you. It provides for the three V's of daily modern living, vim, vigor, and vitality. It provides for optimum alertness and awareness in class and throughout the day. Breakfast is a combination of two words break and fast which means to break the fast which has been going on in one's body for twelve to fourteen hours.

If this meal is skipped it throws the balance and proportion of the other meals out of proportion and means that one does not eat adequately for that day. A good breakfast will ward off mid-morning fatigue, promote increased muscle efficiency, build one's morale and promotes the most efficient use of the daily food intake.

There are so many different foods and food combinations available for breakfast that it should be fun for the homemaker to prepare. Three are cereals, cereal products, citrus fruits, and fruits. Protein may be obtained from eggs, meat, and other dishes.

The beverages range from milk and milk combinations to tea or coffee. It, however, is imperative that growing boys and girls drink at least three glasses of milk each day. Adjuncts such as jellies, preserves, and other sweets may be used although these do little except add calories to one's diet.

There are four main types of breakfast food combination patterns. One contains a fruit, breadstuff, and a beverage. The second consists of a fruit, cereal, breadstuff and beverage. A heavier combination is fruit, cereal, protein dish (such as eggs), breadstuff, and a beverage. The heaviest combination consists of a fruit, cereal, protein dish, vegetable, breadstuff and a beverage. A moderate breakfast would probably be better for school while a person who does heavy work should consume a heavy breakfast.

The breakfast is considered adequate if it provides one-fourth to one-third of a person's daily food requirement. The morning meal, as well as other meals of the day, should be planned around the Texas Standard of Good Eating and basic meal planning principles. The meal planning principles are to have a variety in the meal of color, texture (don't have two mushy dishes, but perhaps a mushy dish with a dry toast or some other food with substance and body), size (perhaps long bacon strips with round poached eggs), and shape. Serve the foods hot or cold depending on the season.

Many mixes are available that are suitable for breakfast. Mixes have several advantages and several disadvantages. They are simple, and require less of the homemaker's time but they are more expensive than self-prepared foods. When using a mix be certain to follow the directions on the box to guarantee a standard product.

Perhaps you are one of the homemakers whose child will not drink milk. As you know, milk is the most nearly perfect food and provides essential calcium and phosphorus for the growth and development of bones and teeth. Powdered milk is now available on the market and can be used to supplement the child's diet. It does not necessarily have to be in the liquid state but may be added to foods such as baked products, mashed potatoes, batters, gravies, bread and nearly any other recipe that calls for dry ingredients. Use three (3) tablespoons per cup of liquid. After this is done, do not worry about throwing the proportions of the recipe because all you have done is add extra nutritive value.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The relatively high winds of the past few days remind us of what is to come this winter and next spring. There's no way of stopping the wind but the sand can be kept from blowing.

Experience indicates that the best way to keep the soil from blowing is to keep the ground covered either with a growing crop or with plenty of stubble from a dead crop such as grain sorghum. Listing the land or pulling a stalk cutter is sometimes effective as a temporary measure only.

This practice often leads to more trouble because the clods dry out, break down, and begin to blow. When this happens the farmland really starts to move; and when the land is in this condition, nothing can be done to stop the blowing.

On the other hand, if a person can get a cover crop on his cotton land and leave the stubble on his feed ground, he has his land in good shape to stand the blow season. While his neighbors are running in circles plowing and dragging a stalk cutter, trying to stop their land from blowing, this farmer can go fishing with the money he saves by not having to plow.

If the land begins to get weedy, the stubble need not be plowed up. The weeds can be killed by running side sweeps just under the surface of the ground where it will help to break the force of the winds along the surface of the ground and will also aid in catching and holding moisture, especially snow.

The Yoakum Soil Conservation District has a Dempster plow which was built for this purpose which may be used by anyone at no charge. Why not make plans to hold that valuable soil this year?

Increasing number of cotton fields. The infestations were generally spotted, with only parts of plantings requiring control. Heaviest infestations were reported in Crosby, Hale, Lynn, and Lubbock counties.

Information contained in the Cotton Situation release has been compiled from reports received from county agents, voc, agri, teachers, personnel of Texas A&M College System, branches of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture commercial cotton inspectors.

Report Bollworms Infestation Heavy; Control Warranted

Continued hot and dry weather retarded growth of cotton except in the more heavily irrigated fields. Heavy shredding occurred in many fields. The prevailing weather conditions were favorable for the activity of most cotton insects.

Bollworms were reported in sufficient infestations to warrant control in widely scattered fields. These infestations were generally found in late planted cotton or in those fields which had suffered earlier hail damage. In most cases worm populations were not heavy.

Lycus bugs were observed in medium to occasional heavy infestations in a few fields in Bailey, Hale, Floyd and Lubbock counties. Low populations were present in many other plantings of cotton.

Cabbage loopers were present in all fields. While leaf ragging was light in a majority of fields, other plantings suffered damage from heavy feeding by the loopers. A good number of fields were treated for control of the insect.

Leafworms were generally reported in light infestations throughout the area. No infestations have been reported as sufficient to require control.

Spider mites were found in an

IN THE NAME OF THE LAW

CONTRIBUTED IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST BY TEXAS POLICE ASSOCIATION

DELINQUENTS: PARENTS OR CHILDREN?

by
 Homer Garrison, Jr.,
 Texas Department of Public Safety

There is no such thing as a delinquent juvenile, but instead there are only delinquent parents.

The thing we call juvenile delinquency is a product resulting from a multitude of causes or contributing factors, such as broken homes, bad companions, lack of religious training and education, and a scarcity of recreational facilities. Probably the number one contributing factor is the lack of home supervision.

Even though trite, the term adult delinquency has considerable truth. Parents have the basic responsibility of teaching their children to be good citizens. Parents know the child best—his interests, desires and weaknesses. And it is the parent's responsibility to see that the child learns to obey the laws and to respect the rights of others.

It is unfortunate, but nevertheless it is true that too many parents have abdicated this responsibility. This is one of the greatest tragedies of modern society. Too often the home has become merely a place to sleep, eat and change clothes. The home is no longer a center of living and learning.

Instead of sympathetic bonds of companionship between parents and their children, there is merely little more than a nodding acquaintance in the morning and evening. This, as reflected in police records all over the country, is the pathway to juvenile delinquency.

As a result of our modern rapid pace way of life, we have failed to maintain family restraint and family discipline and, in doing so, we have not taught the youngsters to develop self-discipline. Beyond this, our sordid juvenile situation has resulted from insufficient spiritual and moral training. Until our youngsters learn to know, respect and obey the teaching of Almighty God, we can never expect them to obey civil laws or the rules of society.

Building good citizenship in our youth of our State must have additional boosts it is not the sole responsibility of parents. The school, the church, the civic groups and the law enforcement agency all have their roles to play.

These agencies can and are doing much good, but it must be remembered that nothing can fill the void left by the refusal of parents to be interested in their children.

There are no new answers to the question of how to educate parents to accept their responsibility of combatting juvenile delinquency. However, legislation, making parents financially responsible for the vandalism of their children would bring about a decided change in the attitude of many parents.

The State of Michigan has such a law commonly called "The Parental Responsibility Act." In effect the law holds the parents responsible for certain damages wrongfully created by their children. As a result, vandalism reportedly has dropped as much as 50 per cent in many sections of that state.

In passing the law, Michigan has recognized that neither the police, school, nor the social agency can take on the job of raising children. This job and privilege belongs to the parents.

Here in Texas we are not as well equipped—legislatively speaking—to handle juvenile offenders. Under our Texas laws, there are only a few instances in which adequate punishment is provided for juvenile offenders. The main offenses are perjury, drunk driving, reckless driving, speeding and possession of intoxicating beverages. The right kind of law, making parents responsible for the acts of their youngsters, would be a step in the proper direction.

Public opinion has done much in helping curb juvenile delinquency. The fact that some news media has begun to publicize the names of delinquents and their parents in the more serious crimes has had a very healthy effect.

Law enforcement officers know from experience that the best defense against juvenile delinquency is prevention. But above all, and certainly the most important, there must be a moral re-awakening throughout America. We must once again hold the belief that God's Law reigns supreme. For once the moral laws is disregarded, the individual feels free to do as he wishes.

With God's Law supreme, obeying our Civil laws would be a simple matter of routine.

Humble Plans Big Football Broadcast And TV Schedule

This season Texans will be able to see and hear more Southwest Conference football than ever before. That fact was brought out at a school held last week for The Humble Company's football announcers.

Nearly 30 play-by-play announcers and broadcast and telecast supervisors attended the school held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Southwest Football Officials' Association in Houston. As a part of the school the announcers attended sessions of the officials meeting to hear first hand about the rule changes for 1956.

Heading the staff at the announcers' school were Jess Neely, Rice Athletic director and head coach, and Kern Tips, popular Southwest Conference football announcer. Attending were announcers from all over Texas including such veterans as Dave Russell of Beaumont, Eddie Barker, Ves Box and Jerry Doggett of Dallas and Bob Walker of Wichita Falls.

Coach Neely explained the various plays and formations that will probably show up in conference play this season. While explaining the plays he made careful diagrams to show the announcers how to accurately recognize formations.

Tips, known as "Mr. Football" to hundreds of thousands of Texas followers of the game, told announcers that preparations for broadcasts is most important. "Know the teams, their records, the signals and, above all, respect the officials," he said.

"And always remember that team play is what counts. Good runs are seldom made without good play by other members of a team."

Included in the comprehensive football coverage this year will be telecasts of six Conference games over a network of 24 TV stations and broadcasts of 61 games including the entire Texas Western schedule. On some weeks more than 100 radio stations will be used.

The six regional telecasts will be described by Kern Tips, a veteran of more than 20 years in Conference broadcast circles. The games to be telecast were selected by Southwest Conference under a policy of the NCAA. Under Conference rules, telecasts are blacked out in areas where they might hurt attendance at the telecast game. Thus, the opening regional telecast, Baylor vs. Texas Tech in Waco September 29, will be blacked out in Temple and Waco unless the game is a sell-out.

Other Southwest Conference games to be telecast include Texas-Oklahoma, October 13; Rice-SMU, October 20; Texas A&M-Arkansas, November 3; TCU-Texas, November 17; and Texas-Texas A&M, November 29.

Radio and TV crews will travel more than 150,000 miles and use many thousands of miles of leased wire to bring the games to all parts of Texas. Broadcasts will be brought from such places as Berkeley, California; Lincoln, Nebraska; Gainesville, Florida; and College Park, Maryland.

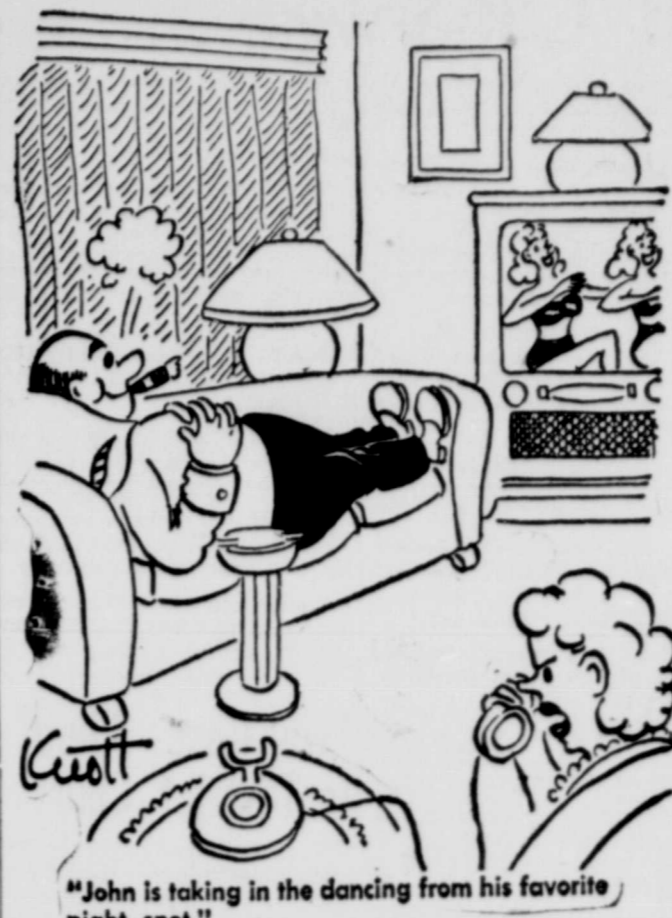

Supplementing the live coverage of games will be Humble's popular TV program, Texas in Review, shown each week over a network of 22 Texas TV stations. A large part of the program will be devoted to highlights and interesting plays of Southwest Conference games played the previous Saturday.

These highlights are filmed flown to Dallas, sometimes by chartered plane, for quick processing, and edited for presentation on the program the following Monday. Kern Tips will narrate the highlights.

This will be the 23rd consecutive year Humble has brought Southwest Conference football into the living rooms of Texans.

Two Cases Filed In District Court

Filed in district court the past week have been one divorce case, and one habeus corpus action.

In the divorce suit of O. W. Phillips vs. Betty Jean Phillips, the plaintiff sets forth that they were married December 24, 1955, and lived together until their separation in March of this year. He asserts that immediately after their marriage, the defendant began a course of action that led to their separation, that she drank intoxicating liquor continuously and began keeping questionable company with other men. He charges that she went out with other men at night, attended drinking parties and failed to treat the plaintiff as a husband. When asked about such conduct, the plaintiff sets forth, she would become enraged, cursed and abused the plaintiff, calling him vile and ugly names. The plaintiff is asking that the court grant him a judgement dissolving the marriage.

In the other action, brought by Janelle Ann Ellison against William A. Ellison, the plaintiff declares that their three children, ages 4, 1 and 5 months, are being illegally confined and restrained of their liberty in Plains by the defendant.

The plaintiff sets forth that she is the children's mother, and that while residing in Crane had left them in the care of her parents in Denver City. That the plaintiff returned to Denver City and forcibly took the children from her parents and fled with them to Plains to the home of his mother. She further asserts that the action of the defendant in refusing to give back possession of the children to her is in defiance and a violation of the rights and best interests of the children. The plaintiff asks the court for a writ of habeus corpus and that upon a hearing, the status, care and custody of the minor children be restored to her.

'Esplanade of Light' Planned for Fair

Visitors to the 1956 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21, will be dazzled as they enter the fairgrounds by the brilliant "Esplanade of Light" which will transform the concourse just inside the main gates into a spectacular vista of dramatic illumination and scenic water effects. The lighting will be the most striking since the Texas Centennial Exposition in 1936. This artist's impression of how the Esplanade will look at night shows how it will utilize enough electricity to light a small city and a total of 1,772 fountains of water shooting high into the air. The manmade scenic wonder is co-sponsored by the State Fair and Dallas Power and Light Company.

Texas Co. Has Possible Devonian Discovery

The Texas Company has a prospective Devonian discovery at its No. 1 Ailean C. Black, West Terry County wildcat, 24 miles northeast of Denver City.

It ran a two hour drillstem test at 12,670-801 feet. Recovery was the 2,000-foot water blanket, which was oil cut. Reversed out of the drillpipe was 63 barrels of pipe line oil. There was no sign of water.

Flowing pressure was from 1215 to 4345 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure in 15 minutes was 4,345 pounds. The operation now is running logs. It probably will set casing and make production tests.

The well is located 330 feet from south and 900 feet from west lines of section 123, block D-11, C&MRR survey. It is one and one-half miles south and the same distance west of the concern's No. 1 Spreading, pumping discovery from the Devonian completed in August of 1955.

This discovery potential for a daily gauge of 47 barrels of oil and 329 barrels of water from pay at 12,755-760 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum Company completed No. 1 E. W. Clawwater, in a recently opened area of Central Yoakum County, for a daily pumping potential of 28 barrels of new oil and 10 barrels of sulphur water.

The production is from perforations at 5,206-14 feet in the San Andres, which has been treated with acid. The well is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 448, block D, J. H. Gibson survey, and five miles west of Plains.

Cities Service Oil Company No. 9 Proctor, West Gaines County wildcat, which has logged shows of possible discovery production in the Leonard, Mississippian and Devonian, now has encountered a slight show in the Montoya.

That zone was drilled and tested at 12,420-465 feet for 57 minutes. Recovery was the 1,020-foot water blanket, with the bottom 90 feet being slightly mud-cut and having a slight show of oil.

Flowing pressure was 500 pounds and the 60-minute shutin bottom hole pressure was 3,400 pounds. The wildcat is to drill deeper.

This exploration is 10 miles northwest of Seminole, and 2,040 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 335, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, in the shallow West Seminole (San Andres)

G. CCSD&RGNG survey. Shell Oil Company No. 1 D. S1 Gooigins, 12,600-foot wildcat in Northwest Yoakum County, continues to drill below 9,653 feet in lime.

The project is 670 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 217, block D, J. H. Gibson survey, and five miles north of the Henard (San Andres) field and 25 miles northwest of Denver City.

The Texas Company No. 1 Iva Hudson, northwest Gaines County wildcat, 12 miles southwest of Denver City, is cutting hole below 6,990 feet in lime and shale.

Recovery was 10 feet of free oil, 1,980 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut water blanket, 100 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, and 120 feet of heavily oil & gas-cut mud. Flowing pressure was from 920 to 963 pounds, and shutin pressure in 30 minutes, 3,405 pounds.

Earlier, a drillstem test in the Devonian from 12,903-930 feet recovered 3,060 feet of oil and gas-cut water blanket and 30 feet of oil and gas-cut mud.

Operator was drilling ahead on last report.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 25, block A-7, psi survey, 14 miles southwest of Denver City.

Jake L. Hamon and U. S. Smelting Refining, and Mining Company No. 1 Randolph, East Gaines County wildcat, 22 miles east of Seminole, swabbed 72 barrels of oil in eight hours, cut two-five per cent acid water, and is continuing to swab to test.

The oil is coming from perforated sections at 11,580-598 feet, and at 11,614-24 feet in the Mississippian. The upper set of holes had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid, and treated with the same amount of regular acid. Both sets had been treated with 7,500 gallons of regular acid.

Site is 660 feet from south and west lines of labor 12, league 285, Schleicher CSL survey, seven miles southwest of the Chilton field.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1 Strong, Southeast Yoakum County wildcat, which is contracted to 12,200 feet to try for production in the Siluro-Devonian pay of the Seagraves area is cutting hole below 10,179 feet in lime.

Site is 330 feet from south and 990 feet from east lines of section 882, block D, J. R. Gibson survey, 14 miles east of Denver City.

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-C Corrigan, Northwest Gaines County wildcat, is making bottom at 9,040 feet, preparing to drillstem test.

Drillsite is 20 miles southeast of Denver City, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 390 block

Worth Asking For....

Would you like to help bring several new businesses into Plains? Would you like to ask the Commissioners Court for something they could hardly refuse, and something that would benefit the growth of this town?

Then, individually and collectively press for the federal assisted airport improvements.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration has earmarked $11,651 for use in improving the airport in Plains. This includes paving and extension of runways and making the installation safe.

The county must match these funds, and no one is going to do anything about this program unless it is asked.

Improving the airport would undoubtedly cause more hangar space to be built. It stands to reason we could interest crop dusters in using the field. With the expansion of oil activity in this area the oil companies would use the field more and when these events come to pass there will be need for maintenance personnel on the field.

The field is not a safe one now and is deteriorating to the point it will no longer be useful in several years.

This would be a legitimate request and one that would not fall on deaf ears.

A Better Product....

People everyday discuss with us the fact that we publish The Review in the Denver City Press Plant. Most everyone has the attitude that we should publish here in Plains and many are actually surprised when told that we do no mechanical production here—and we haven't since the first issue in June.

This is not a situation that should cause any alarm at losing the paper. There are many newspapers over the United States published in plants outside their home city and the reason is almost entirely economical.

Without exception everyone who has made a comment has passed compliments on us concerning the appearance of the paper. That alone, should answer many questions as to why we publish outside of Plains.

Here is the way we see it. A wider selection of type faces with which to "dress up" the paper. This is something you probably haven't noticed but if you can compare issues of the paper you have around the house you will see what we mean.

We have full access to a darkroom and engraving machine in the Denver City Plant. This means more and more and better pictures. It would be impossible for The Review to use a many pictures if they were made commercially.

A full-sized eight column newspaper, which means very little to the reader, except that we are able to put more in the paper because there is an additional 20 inches to each page. And last, there are 10 persons employed on full-time jobs preparing each issue of the paper for you.

So, when you feel it would be better if we did all the production in The Review's shop think over these points and you will see that we have not taken away from Plains but we are giving a better product instead.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — Instead of simmering down at summer's end, Texas' political pot is boiling more furiously than ever.

New significance has been added to the already-controversial State Democratic Convention next week. Monday the executive committee must certify a winner in one of the most breathtakingly close gubernatorial races in Texas history.

Unofficial counts showed Price Daniel leading Ralph Yarborough by some 3,000 votes. But each side regarded returns in certain areas as questionable.

It promises to be an even closer finish than in 1932 when Mrs. Miriam Ferguson edged out Ross Sterling by 3,798 votes.

Decision of the executive committee apparently is all-important. In the Ferguson-Sterling contest courts refused to interfere with the committee ruling. They said it would delay the general election.

SENATE CANDIDATES JUMP IN—Would-be successors to Price Daniel didn't wait for the vacancy to develop to start scrambling for his U. S. Senate post.

Political observers predict a "real horse race" if Price Daniel does resign in time for a special election.

First formal announcement came from State Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston. Bracewell promised to vote with Democrats in organizing the Senate, but made it clear he voted for Ike in '52, and would do so again.

He is a major threat to the Texas GOP's official endorsee, Thad Hutcheson, a young Houston attorney. Hutcheson promised "no token fight."

James P. Hart former Supreme Court justice and University of Texas chancellor, also has announced.

Congressman-at-Large Martin Dies indicated early in the summer that he would run.

"Names in speculation" include just about every other Texan in or formerly in public life—Ralph Yarborough, J. Evetts Haley, Lloyd Bentsen Jr., John Ben Sheppard, John C. White, Wright Morrow, etc.

Not all will run, of course, but such a rare political opportunity is sure to draw a crowded field. Filing fee is only $50. High man wins without a runoff.

In the last such election, held in 1941, a total of 29 candidates ran. W. Lee O'Daniel emerged as victor with a blade-thin lead over Lyndon B. Johnson.

DEMO NOMINEES INVITED TO TEXAS—Democrats will make a real fight to regain Texas in the November election, says U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

He has invited both nominees to speak in Texas this fall. Vice-presidential Candidate Kefauver was specially urged to attend the Heart of Texas Fair in Waco to be held Sept. 29-Oct. 5.

SCHOOL BELLS RING OUT—For millions of Texans the political clamor is almost drowned out this week by the ringing of school bells.

As usual, a "biggest ever" public school enrollment is expected. Texas Education Agency estimates enrollment at 1,754,833, compared to 1,740,784 last year.

No official reports or estimates were available on how many additional schools will be integrated this year. TEA officials, always carefully aloof on the subject, said they had "heard of only a few."

Only known trouble spot was Mansfield (Tarrant County) where white citizens patrolled the school to prevent registration of Negroes.

A more common problem is shortage of teachers. Some 6,000 additional teachers are needed, says the Texas State Teachers Association.

BUSINESS RECORD STILL EXPECTED—Despite a summer slump and farm troubles, forecasters expect Texas' total business volume to set another record in 1956.

According to the University of Texas' Bureau of Business Research, business activity declined two per cent in July. But the index was still two per cent above July, 1955.

"Plight of the drought-stricken Texas farmer continues to be the most serious aspect of the state's business situation," aid the report. "Farmer not only face falling prices, but have very little to sell."

Texas farm prices have fallen 36 per cent since 1951, livestock prices 48 per cent in the same period.

VISITING WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

ACCORDING TO reports to the Review, the first load of 1956 grain sorghum delivered to Abernathy was on August 15, when Jack Patton brought 9,580 pounds of Martin milo to Plain Grain Co. E. B. Lindsey, owner of the firm, paid Patton a premium price of $2 per 100 pounds for the first grain. Patton, who farms east of Abernathy, planted the milo April 15. On irrigated land, it is producing 3,500 pounds to the acre, he reported.

A MORTON hot rodder is among the leading contenders at the 1956 National Championship Drag Races at Kansas City, Mo., August 31-Sept. 3, it was announced this week in a letter from the sponsors of the races. The local contender is James Butler, who has entered a 1949 Oldsmobile with a V8 engine. Butler is one of more than 350 hot rodders from all parts of the nation who will compete in the 30 class events at the national meet. James wife, Mrs. Inez Butler is also along as the crew chief for the Butler entry in which he hopes to capture some of the $6,500 in new v8 engines, one or more of the 65 trophies, given by Mobilgas, and the National Hot Rod Assoc.

THE 1956 version of the Anton Bulldog football team is now in the making. Coach Eugene Carter and his No. 1 assistant, as far as football goes, Dave Smith have been sending the boys through drills twice daily this week, limbering them up and learning a few basic principles. The team will be running from the split-T formation rather than the regular T as has been the style in past years.

SMITH, the line coach, played last year at Howard Payne College in Brownwood, Head Coach Carter is also a Howard Payne man. Anton will be playing in the "big time" this year, having to compete with Hale Center, Falls, Crosbyton, and other 4A teams for the title.

IT'S THE LAW

in Texas
A public services bureau of the State Bar of Texas

DOUBLE JEOPARDY

Most likely you can't picture yourself being brought into court on anything worse than a speeding violation. Neatly everyone feels that way. Even so, it is good to know that in this country you can't be made to stand trial twice for the same offense.

We have a provision in the U. S. constitution against "double jeopardy". That's one of the important safeguards in our system of law which makes it certain that once a court has reached a verdict of "innocent", the acquitted person may not be put on trial again for the same offense.

To add to the protection, if a person has been acquitted, the prosecution cannot appeal the case to a higher court. The constitution states specifically: "Nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life and limb."

This right holds good, however, only if a full trial is held and a verdict is reached. It is possible to face another trial on the same charge if the first trial ends with a "hung jury" or a "mistrial", or if a new trial is requested.

A classic example comes from the "Wild West" in the late 1880's. A man named Ball was charged with murder, along with two others. Ball was acquitted, but the others were found guilty. The guilty pair appealed to a higher court, and their original indictment was found to be faulty.

Once again the government accused all three men. Ball claimed his right against double jeopardy has been invaded, and the U. S. Supreme Court agreed. He didn't have to stand trial again. The other two did, and paid the penalty for their guilt.

The reason for the "double jeopardy" provision is to protect the individual from being hounded all his life. In old England where the fear of tyrannical first prompted safeguards for personal freedom, one court said: "Were it not for this rule, anyone obnoxious to the government might be run down by repeated attempts to carry on a prosecution against him."

(This column, based on Texas law is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

St. Williams Altar Society In Meeting Daring Aerial Act To Thrill Crowds At Lubbock Fair

The St. Williams Altar Society met in regular session September 2nd in the rectory, with Mrs. Jack Lowe as hostess. The meeting was opened with a prayer led by Father O'Reilly. Twelve ladies answered roll call.

Mrs. Lewis McBee gave a very good report on the Polish dance held August 25. The Society wishes to thank those attending who made the party a success.

Plans were completed for catechism classes to begin Saturday, September 8, at 10:00 o'clock a.m. at the church and also classes will be immediately after Sunday mass. Mrs. P. J. Slater will teach the beginners; Mrs. D. F. Ferguson will teach the Primary group in preparing for their first communion; Mrs. Pat McFarland will teach the Juniors, those having made their first communion; Mrs. Bill Smith will teach the Seniors and Father O'Reilly will instruct the boys in serving as altar boys. All children of the parish are urged to attend Saturday and Sunday classes. Confession will be heard on Saturday morning immediately after classes and before Sunday mass.

Plans are being made for a Bingo party. Date and place will be announced in the near future. Progress is really showing up in the landscaping of the church yard. The new fence is certainly an added attraction to the church and rectory.

Ladies of the parish are urged to attend these meetings of the Altar Society. Meeting time is every first Sunday after 9:45 mass.

The French duo of daredevils performs one of the most colorful and compelling of aerial acts. When the whirling mechanism swings the trapezes, which are suspended respectively from the Sabre jet plane and the opposite end of the connecting shaft, the Kimris literally cling for their lives, and the acrobatic stunts are fascinating beyond belief.

"This attraction is, without question, the most outstanding act in show business today," said a seasoned fair man.

The Kimris were featured in Ringling Bro. Barnum & Bailey Circus during its Madison Square Garden engagement in New York three years ago. Last year, the couple was selected from many aerial acts to play eight weeks engagement in the big Christmas Circus in London, England.
