

PILOT'S VIEW — Here's how Dimmitt Municipal Airport looks today from the air, with all its new facilities completed. The 4,000-ft. paved runway is numbered "19" on the north end and "01" on the south end to give pilots their proper compass headings when landing (190 degrees N or 10 degrees S). Extending from the midway point of the runway is the paved approach, connected to paved parking area. From there, a paved access road crosses the old dirt runway to US 385 at far left. Not visible in this photo is the lighted wind cone, located on west side of runway.

READY IN TIME for Sunday's airport dedication is this new sign completed Friday by Police Chief W. W. Jones (left) and city workmen. At right is City Manager E. B. Noble. Chief Jones designed the sign at the Highway 385 entrance to the airport, then made the metal letters himself and had them chromed in Amarillo. They're attached to a black-iron background. He said he hopes to attach a bent propeller to the top of the new sign, and Noble said an exit sign for pilots is being considered for the other side, warning of the hazards of driving.

Cpl. Emilio Nino Dies in Vietnam

Marine Cpl. Emilio Nino of Dimmitt died of gunshot wounds in Vietnam last week, just a month before he was to return to the U.S.

THE 21-YEAR-OLD Marine, a former Dimmitt High School athlete, died without getting to see his seven-month-old daughter.

Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., USMC commandant, notified Cpl. Nino's wife, Mary, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Nino, by telegram Sunday morning.

Cpl. Nino's father works at Castro County Grain, and his mother is a nurse's aide at Plains Memorial. His wife and daughter live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Munoz of Frio.

CPL. NINO became the third Dimmitt man to give his life in Vietnam. George Wall, Navy electronics technician, and Gene Easley, Army helicopter pilot, were killed in action last year.

The Dimmitt Marine's body isn't due to arrive home for two or three weeks, and the family will make funeral arrangements at that time. His body is to lie in state at the Greer H. Estes American Legion Post before the funeral in Immaculate Conception Church.

Cpl. Nino died of gunshot wounds from Viet Cong rifles while on a mission near Quang Nam, South Vietnam. He was a member of the Fifth Marines.

EARLIER, he had been awarded the Bronze Star Medal after he and two fellow Marines knocked out a Viet Cong patrol with grenades and rifle fire.

"We were the heroes of the day," he wrote his brother John. "But I didn't feel like a hero. I felt sick to my stomach. I wish I didn't have to kill them — some of them have families. I nearly went crazy. . . . I wish I was home. I can't take this killing."

CPL. NINO took 11 of his 12 years of public schooling in Dimmitt, and played football and basketball for DHS before transferring to San Marcos for his senior year in 1965-66. While in high school he also helped John Hardy Wood coach the Indians of the Pony League. He and his wife were married in October 1966,

TEA Commends Schools For Curriculum Strides

(Fourth in a series on a new Texas Education Agency progress study and evaluation of Dimmitt's public schools.)

Several of the criticisms leveled against Dimmitt's school curriculum by professional evaluators during the past year have seemed harsh to many of us — whether the evaluators intended them to be or not.

CRITICISM there has been, yes. And it needs to be taken into account. Our school board asked for it and got it, and now has a guideline for the further development of our public school curriculum.

But generally, Dimmitt's schools don't seem to be doing badly at all in the upgrading of the curriculum.

At the suggestion of Dr. Morris Wallace's visiting committee of evaluators last year, the schools have initiated quite a few new programs, classes and services. And in April, they drew praise for their efforts from a Texas Education Agency team.

IN THEIR written report to the school board April 17, J. A. Anderson and Dr. Ted E. Edwards of the TEA said:

"Since our visit was predicated upon the earlier findings and reports of the Southern Association accreditation team and the Texas Education Agency school accreditation visit, we wish to commend you upon the progress that has been made in removing some of the deficiencies that were cited.

"Specifically, we would like to commend you upon the implementation of an art program in high school; the addition of drama to your offering; improved counseling procedures; addition of a course in office education cooperative training; expansion of industrial arts education and other vocational programs; and corrective and remedial programs in the elementary grades and in the junior high school.

"ALL OF THIS adds up to significant improvements of your school program. We recognize that other improvements are under way or are being planned."

Also, the TEA men commended Dimmitt's schools for their use of the more controversial and less understood programs that are generally referred to as "the federal programs." These may be initiated by local boards on a pick-and-choose basis as needed, with federal matching grants to help pay for them.

UNDER THE heading of "Recommendations," the TEA evaluation team listed:

"Providing educational opportunities for all pupils through the use of Title I, Migrant Program, Special Education, Reading, etc. "A board of trustees and administration concerned about providing educational opportunities for all the youth."

WHILE distributing these bouquets, the TEA evaluators told the board that "there are still some areas where improvements need to be made" in the curriculum. Their recommendations were:

"Continue to make long-range plans to diagnose learning difficulties and the capacity to prescribe remedial and corrective programs of education." (This is being done through counselors and the in-service training program for teachers.)

"Initiate a comprehensive study of your graduation requirements."

● Hey, Pooch — It's Shot Time

Sorry, Shep — it's shot time again.

IF YOU live in the city, have your owner take you to the city fire station Monday between 1:30 and 6 p.m. to get your annual inoculation and license. Your country cousins can get in on the show, too, although they don't need licenses.

Dr. David Bechtel, veterinarian, will be there with a long needle. Whatever you do, don't bite him.

This should be done in connection with your system-wide counseling program. Also, more effective means of involving parents in the selection of programs of studies for students should be developed.

Set priorities for curriculum improvement (such as elementary science, reading, etc.) and initiate in-service education programs to accomplish these goals." (These priorities are being studied by the school's curriculum directors, and additional in-service programs for teachers are planned, according to Supt. Paul Hilburn.)

Judging from the TEA report, our schools are making progress in their efforts to improve their classroom offerings.

Sky divers, smoke bombs, stunt pilots, cooks, commercial pilots, plane dealers, a glider pilot and the US Air Force will join forces Sunday to lend excitement to dedication day at Dimmitt Municipal Airport.

THE DAY'S activities will also include a fly-in breakfast and a barbecue lunch.

The City of Dimmitt and the Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the dedication services for the airport, on which $200,000 worth of new facilities are now complete.

Dimmitt's Jaycees will sponsor the fly-in breakfast, noon barbecue and air show.

THIRTY or more visiting pilots are expected for the fly-in breakfast, which will begin the day's activities at 7 a.m. Jaycees will serve eggs with ham, bacon and sausage in the hangar portion of Tidwell Spraying Service.

Curtis Christopher, chairman of the air show, said the breakfast will be free, and is open to anyone wanting to attend.

Local businesses are furnishing all the food for the breakfast.

School for Retarded Expands, But Needs Money and Drivers

Dimmitt's day care center for mentally retarded children has expanded its program to serve teenagers as well as elementary age pupils.

HOWEVER, if the school is to continue its work here, it will need financial support from the people of Dimmitt and surrounding communities, according to its director.

The center — commonly called the "satellite school" because it operates as a satellite program of the Amarillo State Center for Human Development — was started five months ago. Classes meet in the First United Methodist Church, and Mrs. Mary Bingham is the teacher, assisted by volunteer teacher aides.

BURTIS HOLLIS, director of education for the Amarillo State Center, said in a report to the people of Dimmitt this week that the state grant funds to start the school have been spent, and that the community will need to assume most of the financial responsibility for the center.

At the same time, he commended Mrs. Bingham and the center's volunteer workers for doing a "remarkable job" in training retarded children who couldn't qualify for any public school program.

HERE IS Hollis' report on the school's progress and its needs:

"During these five months, seven children have been served who would not have been able to attend school if the class had not been started. The children who have attended regularly have made good progress and one child has been referred to Head Start for further training. Two children have moved, and class continues now with three or four children in attendance.

"An afternoon program of arts, crafts and recreation has been started for those who cannot attend school. This is a group of teenagers who have finished school or who have dropped out for lack of a program to meet their needs.

"The afternoon program meets twice a week for two hours. This group will be expanded to a full afternoon each day beginning in the fall.

"BOTH of these classes must have the support of Dimmitt and surrounding communities if they are to continue.

"The volunteers working under the leadership of Mrs. Violet Barton have done an excellent job in the classroom as teacher aides and in furnishing transportation for those who had no other way to get to class.

"There is a problem of continuing with the task of furnishing transportation for the children who live out of town. This may be done with volunteers or a paid driver according to the type of support the local advisory committee receives.

"WITH the beginning of the class in the afternoon, Mrs. Bingham will need support to purchase arts and crafts materials, recreation equipment, a sewing machine and other such equipment to teach these young people to use their hands in a useful activity.

"Mrs. Mary Bingham and the volunteers have worked very hard and have done a remarkable job with these children who have been neglected and forgotten in providing educational training. They must have encouragement and your support if these classes are to continue.

"If you are willing to help in any way or if your club, church or group will help, please contact Mrs. Bingham at 647-2394 or at the First United Methodist Church."

Sharron Flynt 'Miss Dimmitt'

Sharron Flynt, 17-year-old high school senior, won the title of "Miss Dimmitt, 1968" over six other local beauties Saturday night.

SHE WAS crowned by Poppy Byrnes, last year's winner, before an audience of 300 to climax the talent-laden pageant in Dimmitt High School auditorium.

Miss Flynt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flynt of Dimmitt, captured the audience with her patriotic monologue entitled "A Different America," in which she used her dramatic training to portray the feelings of a GI in Vietnam for his homeland.

She scored high also in her personality interview, sportswear and formal competition to capture the coveted title.

NAMED first runner-up was Linda Langford, 17, daughter of Mrs. Marie Langford. Second runner-up was Paula Birdwell, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Birdwell.

The seven girls in the pageant elected Vicki Vaughan as "Miss Congeniality," Miss Vaughan, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vaughan.

Other contestants who helped make the pageant a lively and varied one were Rebecca Futrell of Hart and Sheila Hamilton and Barbara Hansen of Dimmitt.

JANE ANN BUTLER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Butler, was chosen from a field of 17 pre-school girls as "Little Miss Dimmitt." She was crowned by Penny Proffitt, last year's winner.

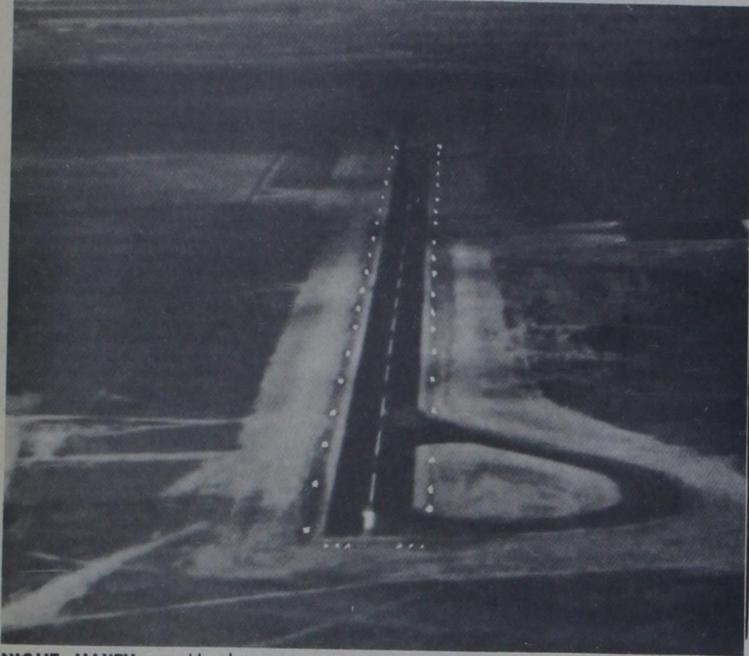

The pageant was produced by Dimmitt's Jaycees and Jayceettes. Bob Bingham was chairman of the show, and Joe Land of Station KCAN, Canyon, was master of ceremonies.

Judges were Lanelle Wise, Amarillo psychologist; Mel Lisman, Lubbock radio-TV executive; and Joe Gerber of Amarillo, who has been associated with the Miss Texas Pageant.

MISS FLYNT will be entered by the Jaycees in beauty and talent contests throughout the state, including the "Texas Junior Miss" pageant in Beaumont.

NIGHT HAVEN — Here's how the new runway at Dimmitt Municipal Airport looks to pilots at night. Runway lights show the pilot the location and length of the paved strip, and "angle lights" at each end of the runway tell him if his flight approach is too high or too low. The new runway lights, installed by Dimmitt Electric, can be seen for 15 or 20 miles from the air, pilots say.

Former Dimmitt Teacher Dies In New Mexico

Funeral services for Mrs. Edith C. Lee of Portales, N.M., who died June 3 at St. James Hospital in Chicago, Ill., were held last Thursday in Trinity Methodist Church of Clovis.

TRINITY Methodist was founded in 1941 by Mrs. Lee's husband, Rev. I. D. S. Lee, who preceded her in death in 1945. Rev. Royce Herndon of Trinity Church officiated. Burial was in Mission Garden of Memories.

Pallbearers were Joseph White of Albuquerque, Patrick White of Portales, Bill White of Jal, Bobby Fitzer of Amarillo, Donald Boydstrun of Clovis, and Stuart Wilson of Clovis.

MRS. LEE was born Jan. 19, 1900, in Clarendon, and moved to Clovis in 1908 with her family. She was the daughter of pioneer Curry County residents W. R. and Annie Boydston. She began teaching in Havenor in 1919, and taught at Ranchvale and Grady, J.M., before marrying Rev. I. D. S. Lee in Grady in 1924.

Her teaching career continued through the 1967-68 term in Olton. SURVIVORS include two daughters, Mrs. Sherman Rucker of Amarillo, and Mrs. Dale Johnson of Chicago, Ill.; a son, Ira David Lee of Roswell; a sister, Mrs. E. I. White of Portales; a brother, V. R. Boydston of Sanata Anna, Calif.; and seven grandchildren. The family requests that in lieu of flowers, donations be made to the Methodist Home in Waco.

State to Survey Malnutrition In 26 Counties

A "National Nutrition Survey" will begin June 18 in Texas to identify malnutrition and related health problems in 26 randomly selected counties, not including Castro.

THE STATE Health Department is working with local resources, mainly in medical schools and research institutes, on the project. The comprehensive nutrition study will identify the prevalence, magnitude, location and cause of malnutrition and related health problems. It will focus on evaluating and strengthening existing programs and developing others. Texas and Louisiana were selected to initiate the national survey requested and authorized by Congress.

They will identify the incidence and location of nutritional problems which will permit local, state, and national agencies as well as educational and health groups to plan and recommend activities and programs to solve the problems in Texas.

THE 50-MEMBER survey team will evaluate social, economic, dietary, clinical, dental and biochemical aspects of the comprehensive survey. Physicians, dentists, nutritionists, dietitians and home economics, public health nurses, social workers and biochemists at the professional and student level will make up the team.

TIME

By Ronnie Parker

In a Wall Street Journal cartoon is an evening scene in which a wife says to her husband: "The plumber was very pleasant to talk to. We chatted for hours." If you have lately paid a plumber's bill, you will find a chuckle in that cartoon.

Time is expensive. Lost time cannot even be bought. Only 60 seconds to the minute, 60 minutes to the hour and twenty-four hours a day — that's what everybody has to live on. Therefore there is urgency to make time count. Jesus knew it. He said, "I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day; the night cometh, when no man can work." (Jn. 9:4). Robert Moffatt said: "We shall have all eternity in which to celebrate our victories, but we have only one short hour before the sunset in which to win them." There is no time for careless, reckless, shameful conduct. There is no time to waste in unrighteous living. Today is the day of salvation. Today is the time for doing the work of God. Now we must obey God! Work time, leisure time, day time, and night time must be used to glorify God by living as he directs. I hope you are using time well!

"If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea: even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me." Psalms 139:9, 10.

What a wonderful promise. No matter where we go or what we do, God is willing to lead us and is there to help us.

Another comforting scripture recalling God's love toward us is this: "How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! How great is the sum of them! If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand." Psalm 139:17, 18.

It is comforting and pleasant to let our thoughts wing upward to verses like these.

We invite you to read your Bible and attend church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Gene Kimbell:

He Gave Flying Its Start Here

Dimmitt Municipal Airport, which will be officially dedicated Sunday, is a modern haven for private pilots.

BUT FOR all the splendor of the new airport and its modern planes, there still stands a richer chapter in Dimmitt's aviation heritage.

That chapter was written across the local sky in the 1930s by Gene Kimbell and his homemade airplane. The little plane — considered a marvel of construction and stability — was Dimmitt's first home-based aircraft. And Kimbell was the city's first resident aviator.

Kimbell is a retired mechanic, now lives in Plainview.

In a letter to J. R. Brown, local pilot who took his first boyhood ride in the homemade aircraft, Kimbell tells how he gave Dimmitt its first lift-off into the air age.

HERE IS his first-hand account:

"It was about the year of 1930 that I first began to entertain the idea of building myself an airplane. I spent the greater part of a year gathering information, studying plans and materials, including a study of aerodynamics. I bought an acetylene welding rig (which I still have) and learned to weld different kinds of metal, with special emphasis on the light steel tubing used so much in the construction of aircraft.

"I BORROWED ideas from several ships that existed at the time, and finally I came to a decision about what the ship would be like.

The wing span was to be 30 feet, chord 60 inches, length approximately 19 feet, two-passenger with tandem seating arrangements, with dual controls. The power plant was to be a Velie 62-hp, five-cylinder, radial air-cooled engine.

It was somewhat prior to this stage of the project that I had met my then-to-be long time friend, (the late) Major Ovid F. Pinekert, who was a very fine flyer. He had had former connections with E. B. Heath, the builder of the natty little Heath Parasol Monoplane.

"OVID PROVED to be the main sparkplug to any incentive I had to keep the project underway — I suppose mainly by not allowing interest to sag.

"I progressed slowly but continuously as time and the availability of materials would permit. Now I was completely in earnest about finally achieving the satisfactory end result of a practical, flyable, safe airplane. What I had elected to do left me with the responsibility of concocting most of the details of its mechanical workings. I took them seriously, and several times I would ponder these the whole night through (when I needed to be sleeping), and on the following days — oh, boy!

ON JULY 1, 1935, the time of completion finally came, and of course you might guess that I was getting increasingly edgy. I fully realized that this project had been the topic of a little off-side discussion here and there. I realized the risks involved — a completely new design, an inexperienced builder — but then I had confidence, too. Had I not, I couldn't have permitted it to be tried in flight.

Ovid was to be the test pilot. That was the unspoken agreement between us.

Admittedly I tried to suppress any knowledge of when the test flight would occur, but no — as it seemed to my bewildered mind, the whole cotton pickin' town turned out to see "Darius Green's Flying Machine," fly or flop. And this was no help to my inner feelings. In fact, my composure was a little bit in jeopardy as the fateful moment came.

"OVID CLIMBED in (there was little conversation at this point), started the engine and presently started positioning for take-off. I followed at the wing tip for a distance, enough so that no one could guess the emotional strain I was in.

"Take-off was now under way, and as that thing started climbing into the air so gracefully, my pent-up emotions gradually began to subside into one of reserved elation. The reservation was that I still didn't know if everything was as shipshape as it appeared. Ovid's safety was first in my mind, and the ship — well, in the final analysis, that was not really important.

Ovid came in to land at precisely the same spot he took off from (To have landed elsewhere would have been an omen of something possibly bad, I later learned.)

WHEN THE ship landed, he pulled up in front of the audience, and in grandstand style, shut off the engine, climbed out and made this statement, loud enough for many to hear:

"Well, Gene, she flies perfectly! I can turn it either direction with the rudder alone, not touching the control stick."

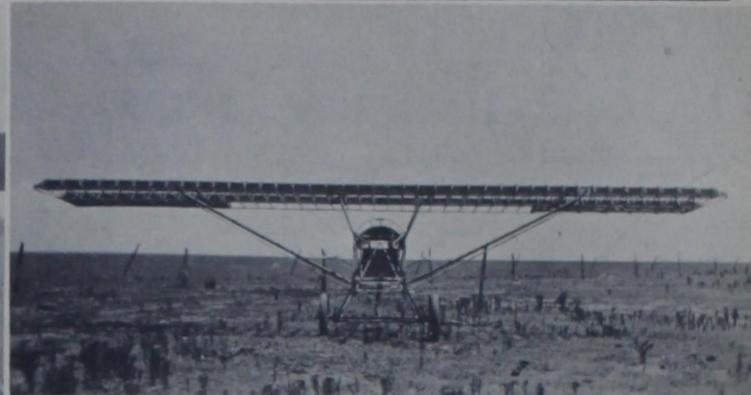

"Needless to say, that was music to my ears. "The pleasure I got from the ship was of no small magnitude. I had the pleasure of making my first solo flight in this aircraft that I had instigated myself, and flew it all over the country.

"EVENTUALLY, much of the new wore off, and the CAA was beginning to frown on any amateur-build aircraft. I disposed of the little ship and got married.

"13790, the identification number of my ship, was finally victim of the government's "Citizen's Pilot and Mechanics Training Program" which was in force at the onset of World War II. May be it served a little good there, in some capacity, and I shall always like to think that maybe it did."

MR. AND MRS. ANTHONY DON MAYS
... Bride is the former Mary Ellen Kirby

Kirby - Mays

Miss Mary Ellen Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vaden Lee Kirby, and Anthony Don Mays, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mays, were united in marriage in First Baptist Church of Dimmitt, May 26 at 4:30 p.m. in a double-ring ceremony.

REV. FRANK POLLARD of Tulsa officiated. The archway was formed of white carnations, greenery and white bells. White bows and green foliage entwined two-branched candelabra, and a basket of white gladioli was centered behind the archway.

Maid of honor was Kita Struve of Frio. Bridesmaid was Anita Cameron of Nazareth.

Best man was Billy Mays, brother of the groom. Andy Mays served his brother of groomsmen, Harrell Mays of Frio, uncle of the groom, and Anthony Kirby of Dimmitt, brother of the bride, were ushers.

CANDLELIGHTERS were Vada Kirby of Dimmitt, sister of the bride, and Hope Mays of Frio, cousin of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a full-length gown of silk organza with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and long petal point sleeves. The skirt had lace in sets, and a chapel length train fell from the neckline. The tiered veil was elbow length and was attached to a pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of white roses surrounded by blue carnations atop a white Bible. The roses were also used to form her going-away corsage.

Her attendants wore A-line bonded crepe dresses of blue with sleeves of blue lace with high rounded necklines. Their bouquets were white rosebuds surrounded by blue carnations.

Organist was Janice Mooney and pianist was Gay Nell Mennick. Soloist was Brenda Bruton, who sang "One Hand, One Heart," "Because," and "Wedding Prayer."

FOLLOWING the wedding, a reception was held in fellowship hall of the church. The table was covered with a white organza cloth with three blue bows on front. Punch was served from a crystal bowl by Sherrice Brooks. Centerpiece for the table was a gold candelabra with white candles, flanked by the attendants' bouquets.

For a wedding trip to Fort Worth, the bride wore a turquoise three-piece suit.

Mrs. Mays is a 1968 graduate of Dimmitt High School. The groom graduated from Dimmitt in 1965 and is now in the US Navy, stationed in Jacksonville, Fla., where they will make their home.

'Back to School' For Mrs. Keating

Rickerd Home Gets New Roof

By MRS. J. T. STEHR
 The Charles Rickerds are having a new roof put on their house. It received the worst damage of any in the area when we had the recent hail. Mrs. Rickerd was at Lake Altus in Oklahoma for a family reunion at the time. Rickerd has now gone to Roosevelt, Okla., hoping the ground there will be dry enough to combine.

★ D. E. EVANS, formerly of Bethel community, now of Rt. 2, Joshua, received a badly mangled left hand at work last week. Four fingers had to be amputated as a result.
 Mrs. James Welch gave a good talk on "Water Safety" at the Bethel 4-H meeting Friday night when the scheduled speaker didn't come. The adult leaders present were the Charles Rickerds, Tom Stanton, the Milton Bagwells and Mrs. Welch.

★ JAMES WELCH and son Mark were on a camping trip at Mayhill, N.M., last week.

MINI-MILO 50 introduces a new cropping system to the Sorghum Belt

For areas with short growing seasons
 Destined to push the sorghum belt Northward — MINI-MILO 50 can be planted when the soils warm up and will produce a summer feed grain crop safely.

In longer season areas
 Its earliness makes it ideal for double cropping. MINI-MILO 50 sprouts on quick after winter wheat or following vegetables. Now those idle acres can produce a cash crop.

After a full season crop has failed
 A sure way to make those wasted acres pay if wind, hail, drought, excessive rain or any misfortune destroys your crop. Start again — Prepare the seed bed, plant thick and MINI-MILO 50 will shoot up to produce a good crop of grain on those barren acres.

Mrs. Emilio Nino received word Friday that her husband had been killed in Vietnam June 4. Mrs. Nino and baby daughter, Rene, live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andres Munoz, on the Walter Hodges place.

Cpl. Nino has been in Vietnam almost a year, and had never seen the baby, born last October. His parents, other relatives live in Dimmitt. The Munoz family has lived in this area for several years. Mrs. Munoz and small child returned home during the weekend from a trip to California to visit relatives, after her family called her about her son-in-law's death.

AMONG visitors at church at Frio, Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson and Mrs. Don Cox and daughters, all of Hereford, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Irwin and four daughters of Oklahoma City. The Irwins were here visiting her parents, the Thomp-sons, and other relatives. All are former members of this church.

Also visiting Frio Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles King of Amarillo and Ilene Sprull of Duncan, Okla. Miss Sprull is a guest of her cousin, Alma Andrews, for several days. The Kings spent Saturday night and Sunday in her sister, Miss Alma Andrews home.

Weekend guests of the Harvey Manions was a sister-in-law, Mrs. Judy Manion, and her teenage children, Leroy and Rita Faye, of Colgate, Okla. They attended Sunday services at Frio Church.

GUESTS of the Harlan Barbers during the weekend were Mrs. Cleo Alexander and Jan of Lubbock; Janice Blackburn of Earth, who was a classmate of Jan Alexanders at Hardin-Simmons University; and Phillip Bentley of San Diego, who is now stationed at Reese Air Force Base. He is a friend of Virgil Barbers. On Saturday night the Barbers and their guests and the David Yandells and James Bullards had a hamburger barbecue in their back yard. Also a guest of the Barbers on Sunday was a college friend of Virgil's, Vic Colker of Earth.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Schmidt and family of Burleson, Colo., were guests of his sister, Mrs. Earnest Harder and family Friday night. Another brother, Leonard Schmidt Mrs. Schmidt and children also were supper guests of the Harders Friday night.

ABOUT 100 persons are enrolled in Vacation Bible School at Frio. It meets from 3 to 6 p.m. each afternoon until Friday and commencement will be at 9 p.m. Friday at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Smith and Marvin, Eugene Warrick, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Adams, Diana and Kenneth were in College Station last week attending the State 4-H Roundup. Marvin, Eugene and Diana were participants in the contests, having won the privilege at the district meet in Canyon recently. The other Smith children stayed with relatives at Hart.

SUE SMITH, daughter of the Fritz Smiths, has an illness diagnosed as scarlet fever. She had a couple of days of being sick with it, but is recovering satisfactorily now.

Mrs. Bill Cotton and children of Spavinaw, Okla., were here last week to be with her mother, Mrs. Robert Simpson, who is ill in the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Lindley visited the Sam Lindleys at Brownwood for the past several days. The Sam Lindleys have sold their interest in concessions at Lake Brownwood and were moving into Brownwood until further plans are made.

Average Consumer Loses $920 a Year

The habitual credit-buying, TV-guided, hasty-shopping American consumer wastes about $920 a year, or 12 percent of the typical family income.

THE LARGEST money waste is in food buying, according to Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist. Potential savings here are estimated at $416 per year for a family of four.

Finance charges, medicines and toiletries, car operation, insurance, home furnishings and clothing all offer possible savings. The waste of family money over a 20-year period is estimated to be enough to pay all college expenses for the family's two children, says the Texas A&M University specialist.

Mrs. Meyer suggests ways to save on day-to-day expenses:

ROUND steak, a popular weekend supermarket special, is a good choice when well trimmed. Meat tenderizers, pounding or pressure cooking can give consumers the best of two worlds — economy and flavor.

Expensive canned fruits like Elberta peaches and Bartlett pears can be bought in cans of chunks and pieces for a fourth less than canned halves; mushroom stems and pieces for a fourth less than canned halves; mushroom stems and pieces are much less than buttons. A store's own brand of fruits and vegetables are usually several cents a can less than a "name" brand of the same product, with no difference in quality.

Buy towel and bedsheet irregulars, since flaws will not affect either use or wear.

WHEN requesting a new hookup of electrical power, gas, lights or water, you usually are charged a deposit. After paying bills for a year, request the deposit back from the utility company which, otherwise, may hold it indefinitely.

Soft drink bottling plants will sell wholesale by the case to individuals if products are bought in quantity.

Coin-operated dry cleaning machines take much of the load off the dry cleaning budget and are especially useful for blankets, draperies and curtains. Other items should be sent to a regular dry cleaner every fourth time for special care.

DO NOT shop for food when hungry. Studies show that a consumer might wind up spending a lot more than necessary.

Freezing Fresh Foods Requires Care, Caution

By IRENE KEATING
The Castro County 4-H'ers returned from State 4-H Round-Up last Thursday. Diana Adams placed in the blue-ribbon group. They report a very wonderful time.
Sunday I'll be leaving for Fort Collins, Colo., to take some extension courses at Colorado State University. I'll be reporting from up there for three weeks.
SINCE it is the time of year when we begin to think of food preservation, I want to talk to you about freezing foods. Freezing is one of the simplest, most popular methods of preserving foods at home. It retains the natural color, flavor, texture and food value of most fruits, vegetables, meats and baked goods.
The quality of the food frozen can vary with freshness of product used, methods of preparation, packaging and conditions of freezing. For successful freezing, select good quality products. Freezing will not improve low grade food. Fruits and vegetables should be ready for table use.
Frozen meat, poultry, fish and eggs equal the fresh products in nutritive value. Retaining this value of fruits and vegetables depends largely on the treatment before freezing, storage temperature and method of cooking and serving.

HANDLING the food promptly also retains quality. Undesirable flavors and appearance can be caused by improper packaging. The selection of containers depends on the type of food and personal preference. But all materials should be moisture-vapor proof to prevent evaporation and retain the highest quality in frozen foods.
Use rigid containers of glass, aluminum or plastic; and sheet wrappings of moisture-vapor resistant plastic films, freezer aluminum, heavily waxed freezer paper and laminated papers. Do not use ordinary waxed papers, household aluminum and cottage cheese or ice cream cartons.
All packages should be air tight. Freezer burn, a surface discoloration on meat and poultry, often results when meat or poultry dry inside the packaging. Give special care to foods which may become rancid, a result of natural fats and oils being exposed to atmosphere oxygen. These foods include fish, shellfish, beef, pork, meat, poultry, cherries, peaches, strawberries and asparagus.
FREEZE fruits and vegetables at 0 degrees F. or below. Meat should be frozen in a commercial plant at -5 to -20 degrees F. for best results.

Since how rapidly heat can emerge from the product is more important than air temperature, space packages of unfrozen food at least one inch apart. Put no more unfrozen food into a freezer than will freeze within 24 hours. As a general rule, the quicker a product is frozen — 0 degrees F. or lower — the better its quality. For quickest freezing, place packages against freezing plates or coils.
Storage temperature matters. For example, many foods noticeably lose quality and vitamin content when stored at about 25 degrees F. in an "open-at-one-end" household refrigerator freezer. Frozen foods undergo slow changes in storage and will not retain quality indefinitely. For best results, store them at 0 degrees F. or below.
FREEZING does not sterilize the product, but the low temperature prevents the growth and development of harmful yeasts, molds and bacteria. Many micro-organisms are killed by freezing storage, but some survive.
WHEN cooking with cheese, use low heat. Cooked too quickly cheese gets tough and stringy.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough

State Should Not Hike Tuition, Senator Says

By SEN RALPH YARBOROUGH (D-Texas)

As the Texas legislature opens its special financial session, once again we hear talk of doubling the $100 annual tuition at our state colleges and universities. While this increase — which amounts to $400 per student over a four-year period — may seem small to the well-to-do, it poses another burden on moderate and lower-income families struggling to give their children an education.

DURING my 11 years in the Senate, I have dedicated myself to the proposition that a well-educated America will be a prosperous America, a productive America, a self-sufficient America. That is why I have worked to shape every piece of major education legislation to be considered by Congress since 1958.

While we here in Washington are working constantly to make a college education available to every qualified American, it would be most unfortunate for our state government to raise tuition costs and thus deprive less fortunate Texans from entering our state schools. Tuition, after all, is only a fraction of the cost a student or his family must pay to go to college. He must pay fees, buy books and supplies, and pay room and board. It is estimated that the full cost of a four-year college education today is over $6,000 — costs which the student or his parents must pay.

OUR college enrollments have doubled from three million to six million during the past 10 years. But in that same period, enrollment costs tripled and the cost of room and board has soared.

Jack Maguire of Austin, director of the University of Texas Ex-Students Association, said recently that 411,000 high school graduates in 1966 failed to enroll in college because they could not raise the money. These were capable students, all in the top one-fourth of their class.

3,866 Fishermen Didn't Get Away, Wardens Report

"Failure to produce a valid fishing license" is the largest single charge made by game management officers, according to Robert G. Mauermann, deputy director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

MAUERMANN says that in the calendar year of 1967, 3,866 citations were issued for failure to to the end of March this year was 469.

"The offenses do not make sense," says Mauermann. "The license only costs $2.15 and allow the fisherman to drop a hook almost any place in the state."
"On the other hand, if the fisherman is caught without a license, the fine is from $10 to $100," he says.

MONEY from the sale of fishing licenses goes into fisheries research and stocking of lakes and rivers.

The only exception to the fishing license law is the person fishing with a pole with no winding device, fishing in the county of his residence. A person fishing with a rod and reel in or out of the county of his residence must have a fishing license to be within the law. Persons over 65 or under 17 years of age are also exempt from the license requirement.

UNDILUTED evaporated whole milk can be whipped.

These bright young Americans were forced to go to work without reaching their full potential. Because the price of education was higher than they could pay, they will go through life earning less money and paying less taxes than if they had successfully completed college.

THE FEDERAL government has done a great deal to help youngsters from underprivileged backgrounds go on to college. We have direct loan programs for the poor, guaranteed loans for students of moderate-income families, and under the college work-study program, more than 15,000 Texas college students received financial support last year, holding down jobs on campus while going to school. This year, 93 Texas colleges are participating.

These are students who cannot afford to go to school without working, but who are willing to work.

To put still a higher price tag on a college degree would drive many of them out of school — and Texas and the nation would be the losers.

Texas 4-H'ers To Show Horses

The sixth annual State 4-H Horse Show will be held Aug. 7-10 in Fort Worth's Will Rogers Coliseum.

B. F. YEATES, Extension animal husbandman, says 480 4-H members from every section of Texas will participate in the show. They will be accompanied by their parents, other family members, leaders and Extension Agents numbering more than 1,000.

For the first time, teams will be competing in a 4-H mounted precision drill event. Yeates added that there are now more than 10,000 4-H horse club members in Texas. Those in the state show will have already won honors in county and district elimination shows.

AGED or sharp natural cheeses usually cost more than mild ones; imported cheeses frequently cost more than domestic ones; and pre-packaged slices, cubed or grated cheeses may cost more than wedges or sticks.

VA Reports Brisk Appraisals On Eve of GI Loan Increases

The impact on the GI home loan program of the new 6.75 percent interest rate and the increase from $7,500 to $12,500 in the VA loan guarantee maximum, both of which went into effect May 7, is not yet known.

HOWEVER, the Veterans Administration reported today that GI home loan activities in April, the last full month before these changes became effective, were higher than in March in most categories, including VA housing starts, appraisal requests on proposed dwellings, and applications for home loan guaranty.

VA housing starts in April totaled 5,370, or 18.1 percent more than the 4,546 in March. Appraisal requests on proposed dwellings in March reached 12,348, up 6.8 percent from the March total of 11,561. Home loan guaranty applications in April totaled 20,962, or 10.3 percent more than the 18,998 received in the previous month.

Not reflecting this trend of increasing activity were the appraisal requests on existing dwellings which numbered 18,569 in April, down one percent from the March figure of 18,774.

COMPARED with the same month a year ago, VA housing starts in April were up 1,226, or nearly 30 percent. Appraisal requests on proposed dwellings were up 1,381, or 12.6 percent, from April 1967. Home loan guaranty applications this April were 1,999, or 10.5 percent, higher than a year ago.

Again, by contrast, appraisal requests in April on existing dwellings were down 17.2 percent from last April's total of 22,428.

Veterans Administration officials invited all veterans, especially post-Korean veterans and those now returning home from Vietnam era service, to visit their nearest VA office or US Veterans Assistant Center for personalized information and assistance on the GI home loan program.

VA officials are prepared to explain changes in this program brought about by Public Law 90-301, signed by President Johnson May 7.

LUCKY WINNER — Mrs. Tom Hall of Andrews Trailer Park receives 50,000 S&H Green Stamps free Saturday morning from Curtis Christopher, manager of Dimmitt Piggly-Wiggly. Mrs. Hall was the first 50,000-stamp winner in the store's "Lucky 13" promotion, which requires no purchase. Mrs. Hall, who said she already has 41 household items which she got with S&H Green Stamps, estimated the 50,000 new stamps will fill 4 1/4 books. Christopher explained that it would take $5,000 worth of purchases to accumulate that many stamps. The promotion continues four more weeks.

Most Vets Have Burial Benefits

Up to $250 for burial expenses for eligible deceased veterans will be paid by the Veterans Administration within two years after the veteran's burial or cremation, according to Jack Coker, manager of the VA regional office in Waco.

BURIAL claims may be filed by the undertaker, if he has not been paid, or by the party who paid the undertaker, the VA spokesman explained.

Coker said the VA would reimburse up to $250 in expenses for the permanent burial or cremation of any veteran who was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, if the veteran served during wartime or after Aug. 4, 1964.

Coker pointed out that similar burial expenses are also paid by VA for veterans of peacetime service who were receiving service-connected disability payments at the time of their death, or who had been released from service for disabilities incurred in line of duty.

(BURIAL expenses for servicemen who died on active duty are borne by the military, not the VA.)

Almost every deceased veteran is eligible for an American flag for his casket, Coker said. Flags are furnished to undertakers, on request, by any VA office or post office.

Following the veteran's burial, the flag may be given to the next of kin, or, if there is no next of kin, to the closest friend of the deceased veteran.

BRIDE'S BOOK

Wedding vows were recited Friday evening in First Baptist Church by Vickie Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Powell of Dimmitt, and Joe Bennett of Arlington, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bennett of Olton.

OFFICIATING at the double-ring ceremony was Rev. M. A. Pennington. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor was Stella Kelly of Littlefield, cousin of the bride, and maid of honor was Anita Cameron of Nazareth. Bridesmaid was Chris James of Dimmitt.

Best man was H. L. May of Lubbock, and groomsmen were Terry Cox and Redale Johnson, Dimmitt.

Lighting the candles were the bride's sister and brother, Cindy and Kenny Powell. Ringbearer was Johnny Rouch of Arlington, nephew of the groom. Flower girl was Debbie Pikes of St. Louis, Mo., niece of the groom; Ushers were Darrell Beavers of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, Harry Rouch of Arlington, brother-in-law of the groom, and Gene Sparks of Amarillo.

The altar was decorated with an arch of gladioli, candelabra bearing 28 tapers, emerald greenery with yellow and white satin bows and wedding bells. Baskets of white gladioli stood behind the archway.

ORGANIST was Janice Mooney, and pianist was Paula Birdwell. Mrs. Jess Willard, soloist, sang "Whither Thou Goest," "One Hand, One Heart," and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride wore a floor-length gown of imported crepe with three-dimensional Venice lace at the bodice and long pointed sleeves. The train was chapel length, detachable at the shoulders with appliques of Venice lace. The triple-tiered veil was fingertip secured by a coil of organza lace and pearls. Her bouquet was yellow roses and stephanotis centered with a yellow tinted orchid atop a white Bible. For something old, she wore a ring belonging to her mother; for something new, a necklace and earrings; for something borrowed, a white Bible; and something blue, a garter.

The attendants wore floor-length yellow satin gowns with yokes, sleeves and hems of applied lace. Headpieces were satin and lace, with shoulder veils topped with a rose. Each carried a long-stemmed yellow rose with yellow and white streamers.

A RECEPTION was held in fellowship hall. The table was covered with a net cloth over satin. Centerpiece was the tiered cake, yellow roses and candles.

For a wedding trip to Arlington, the bride wore a multicolored dress and yellow coat. Her corsage was from her bridal bouquet.

The couple are now at home in Arlington.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Dimmitt High School. The groom graduated from Clarendon High School.

Myriad lighted candles in candle trees entwined with smilax illuminated mass arrangements of white daisies in silver urns to form a background setting for the wedding Saturday of Miss Carol Ann Sugar and John Marcus Martin.

THE BRIDE is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dare L. Locke of White Deer, and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Martin of Hart.

First Baptist Church of White Deer was the scene of the double ring ceremony. Dr. Neil Record of Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, officiated.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown created of silk organza. The Empire bodice of Alencon lace was beaded in pearls and iridescent sequins. The high scalloped neckline and double tiered sleeves were formed by lace. A detachable wattleau train swept from under a lace overlay at her shoulders. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a headpiece of beaded lace. She carried a cascade of white orchids.

The bride's table was centered with a silver candelabra entwined with smilax and gardenias. A hand-made net over satin cloth fashioned by the bride's aunt graced the table. A tiered cake of gardenias and the punch bowl completed the setting.

PUNCH was served by Mrs. Henry T. Dickens and wedding cake was served by Mrs. Finis Keeton and Mrs. Ernest Shuman.

Yellow roses in a silver bowl formed the arrangement where Mrs. Bob McBrayer served from

Shelley's Chatter

By MYRTLE SHEFFY

June is so rare as a day in June? Well, a June day without a beautiful bride, a party or shower, Little League baseball, roses, clouds or a mockingbird would REALLY be a rarity in Dimmitt.

FRIDAY evening, Vickie Powell, daughter of the Mertion Powells, was married to Joe Bennett. Vickie was the honoree at a bridal shower earlier.

Another wedding took place Saturday evening in Frio Baptist Church when Nancy Axe was wed to Thomas Needham of Plainview. Carolyn Simpson Andrews was hostess at a bridal shower for Nancy earlier in the week.

Sherlon Petty, who will be the bride of Edward Dyer of Amarillo June 28, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday in the home of Mrs. Frank Mears Jr.

Georgia (Mrs. Fred) Wall called to remind me of the forthcoming marriage of their son, Dana, to Miss Lee Hockenberry of Sunnyside. The wedding will be in the Sunnyside Baptist Church Friday evening.

And Jamie Kaye Andrews, bride-elect of Landol Frazier, will be the honoree at a shower in the home of Mrs. Cecil Dennis soon.

More weddings and showers are planned — so many that we can't keep up with all of them.

DWIGHT JOINER told me that he and Beth attended their family reunion at Ballinger last week. They came back by Carlsbad Caverns and his brother, John, of Pilot Point, came home with them for a two-day visit. Dwight and Beth both teach in Dimmitt schools.

Mrs. Gerald Stevenson, the former Lanelle Blanton, will teach voice at Texas Women's University at Denton next year. Lanelle was offered the singing lead in the pageant, "Texas," but she was unable to accept.

The Allan Webb house was overflowing with kinfolks Saturday. They all came for dinner, and 'twas Allan's and Peggy's 22nd wedding anniversary, and Peggy's birthday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Poole Webb and children of El Paso, the Lee Webbs of Amarillo, Mrs. Sally Gore of Burkburnett, Mrs. Callie Hickman of Canoga Park, Calif., Kristi and Steve Wesson of Lubbock, and Vera and Ruby Webb. And Sunday, Allan and Peggy will join Jack and Mary Lou Miller of Amarillo at Galveston, where they will board the Millers' yacht for a few days' pleasure. The boat is called the "Ja Lou." Now isn't that a fun trip?

MRS. CLETHA GEORGE was hostess at a bridge party Thursday afternoon. She served a salad and strawberry short cake to Mrs. Ruth Wilson, Reta Cluck, Pearl Sheffy, Jeannie Miller, Sid Sheffy, Grace Loyd, Alta Summers and Opal Bearden who also was high score winner.

I heard that Chock Lay is ill and in an Amarillo hospital. Hope he will soon be well. Also, Mrs. Jay Lee Touchstone, who has the flu.

Mrs. Calvin Crutchfield, son Richard of Amarillo, daughter Tonie Baker and grandson Martie Boska, visited their sister and aunt, Mrs. M. F. McRee and the family Wednesday.

Virginia Sheffy was the honoree at a swim party Friday at the Country Club. It was her 12th birthday. Her mother, Mrs. Ted Sheffy, served the big bunch of kids — cake, sandwiches, Cokes and fixings.

JERRY FRAZIER, the "leader of the band," The Minor Details, left here Wednesday for the service. Alvin, his dad, doesn't know where he will be stationed.

Mrs. Gerrie Bruton received a call from her son, Charles, who is in the Navy at San Diego. His group left California for Vietnam Wednesday. They hoped to stop in Hawaii and the Philippines.

Pam Buchanan Bailey and her mother-in-law, Mrs. David Bailey will go to Fort Bliss in El Paso to visit Mike Bailey. Mike has finished Boot Camp, now ready for wider fields to conquer.

Glen and Jeanette Ross and two children moved to Hereford this week. Glen is with a laundry service. They will live in a house on Avenue B.

"A PRETTY Girl Is Like a Melody" — that is what we were thinking and what Dwight Joiner was playing, Saturday evening at the Miss Dimmitt Pageant. Seven pretty girls sang, gave speeches, danced, and played the piano for their talent. They were all beautiful, well dressed and showed poise and grace.

Sharon Flynn was chosen Miss Dimmitt. Little Miss Dimmitt is daughter of the Jim Jack Butlers. She was the winner over 17 little pre-school girls. Dwight Joiner made music on the organ through out the evening, and Joe Land was the master of ceremonies in that pretty red jacket and white silk turtle-neck sweater. Dozens of folks worked long hours to put on the impressive show.

WE ARE so sorry to learn of the death of Fred Magness. His wife, Dorothy has been the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce for several years. The funeral was at Happy Sunday afternoon.

Russell and Rosalind Nelson returned from a week's vacation in Kansas, visiting relatives and friends. Scott, their son, is spending two weeks in Suffern, N.Y., visiting his brother, Fred and family.

Mary Behrends Botkins of Louisiana is here for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Behrends. She and her brothers, Bill and David, and their families were hosts to the Behrends for dinner at Colonial Inn Sunday to celebrate their 40th anniversary.

MAURINE BICE and guest, Faun Welker, are at the Bice cabin at Ruidoso, N.M. Maurine will stay for all of her vacation and Faun for a few days, then she goes up to Denver to visit her daughter and family.

Mrs. Ed Wilson Sr. and Mrs. Ed Wilson Jr. and her daughter Tanya attended a shower for Cindy Wilson at Petersburg last week. Kathy, daughter of Pete, came home with them for a visit. Ed's daughter Debbie is visiting her aunt, Mitzie Ethridge, in Amarillo.

WE SAW Jim Roberts and Jimmy Bostick downtown. They were headed out to the Bill Graham place to do some cowboy work — dehorning and branding — and also some for Mr. Lambright. Jim said his wife Linda and Sharon and Skeeter had been visiting relatives in Dallas for the past week. They were seeing Six Flags, too. Allan Webb has joined the ranks of workers at the hospital. Other seniors there are Mary Lee Stone and Chris James. Linda Bruton is one of the "Hello" girls at the telephone office.

Joe and Marylou Weatherford and kids went over to Bochito, Okla., to visit his mother, Rene Farris Albright, and her husband Dub. Joe says they went fishing in those pretty Oklahoma creeks. He caught bass, chiggers and wood ticks. Well Sir, we don't have any of those things here — would like the fish, though.

MR. AND MRS. Gene Ivey and two grandchildren are home from a trip south. They attended the graduation services at UT at Austin of their son-in-law, J. E. Blackburn, who received his Doctor of Law degree. J. E. is the husband of the Iveys' daughter, Zetta. The Iveys and Leisa and Brent Graef went on to the HemisFair in San Antonio. I should have told you this last week.

Ocie and Carl Bolton went to Buffalo Lake for a picnic camp-out and fishing last week. Mrs. M. M. James and daughter Katie from Winner, S.D., are here visiting their daughter and sister and family, the Norris Wes-sons, and their granddaughter and niece, Chris James.

MR. AND MRS. Howard Hershey and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Oakley went fishing and camped out at Greenbelt Lake last week. They came back to Buffalo Lake. The Oakleys came home but the Hersheys camped there all week. Mary attended a piano workshop at WTSU at Canyon. This was presented by George Anson of Fort Worth. He is a well-known composer, concert artist and teacher. The Hershey's children joined them Sunday — Lonnie and Leona Ivey and children of Amarillo and Thelma and Dempsey Alexander and children of Spur. The Dempseys both are attending summer session at WTSU.

Len Williams of Wichita Falls has been visiting his cousin, Tommie Youts, and the Charlie Youts family. They came to our house with Johnny Kittrell to fix the air conditioner.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smithson and son, Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Smithson joined the family at their parent's place at Bonham. They probably had a good time visiting, eating, and fishing.

NOLA WOODS of Salda, Colo., is here on farm business and to visit with her twin brother, Noel Gollehon, and with Ann and Truman Touchstone and kids.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bradford, sons Kent and Jim, and daughter Jean flew over to Missouri to visit son Bob, who plans to attend summer session at the University of Missouri. Then they were going on to Tennessee to visit Mildred's sister, Earlene and Melvin Settles and family. (See CHATTER, Page 15)

'LITTLE MISS DIMMITT,' Jane Ann Butler, is crowned and kissed by last year's winner, Penny Proffitt, after being announced as the winner of the pre-schoolers' competition Saturday night during the "Miss Dimmitt" pageant in Dimmitt High School auditorium. Jane Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Butler, and Penny's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Proffitt. In background, many of the other 17 contestants for the junior title crowd in the stage wings to get a glimpse of the crowning. The little girls were dressed in their finest attire for the contest, and all of them — prodded by their mothers and members of the Jayceeettes — made the long trip across the stage sooner or later.

KARATE CLASS is where you can get your head knocked off if you lean too far forward. But Leroy Powers (left) stays calm as his brother, Raymond, misses his face by inches with a Karate maneuver that puts the fist-fighter at a distinct disadvantage. HERE'S ANOTHER Karate gambit that can take the fight out of the surliest opponent. Raymond Powers leaps, executes a head-kick, and lands in his original stance. "Karate can be lethal, but it's taught mainly as a sport now," he says.

Veterans March Back to School Under New GI Bill Provisions

The current GI Bill education and training program has been in operation less than two years. Yet, nearly 750,000 eligible veterans and servicemen have entered school or training under this program, Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco, reported this week.

SINCE June 1, 1966, when the educational provisions of the Veterans Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966 first went into effect, more than 701,000 eligible veterans and 45,000 servicemen have entered training. Enrollment in school or training at the end of March 1968, stood at almost 423,000 veterans and 27,000 servicemen, Coker said.

Popularly known as the "Post-Korea" or "Third Generation GI Bill," the 1966 Act grants veterans with at least 181 days of military service (part of which was after Jan. 31, 1955) up to 36 months of education and training benefits. Vietnam era veterans — i.e., those with at least 181 days of service, part of which was after Aug. 4, 1964 — and active duty military personnel with at least two years of service are included.

NEARLY two-thirds — or approximately 283,000 — of the Third Generation GI Bill beneficiaries on school or training rolls at the end of March were taking college level courses. This compares with about 51 percent who entered college training under the Korean Conflict GI Bill and less than 30 percent who pursued college level courses under the World War II GI Bill.

Veterans and servicemen entered in below-college-level training at the end of March totaled 155,000, with veterans accounting for nearly 85 percent of this number.

Since Oct. 1, 1967, when on-the-job, flight and cooperative farm training were added to the Third Generation GI Bill curriculum of approved training, nearly 6,200 veterans entered on-the-job training.

ANOTHER provision of the Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967 relating to education and training permits veterans to complete high school, while receiving educational assistance allowances from VA, without having any of their entitlement to college level training reduced.

In only six months, between last October and the end of March 1968, more than 9,100 veterans had entered training to complete high school or college qualifying courses.

Veterans interested in attending school this summer or fall should contact their local VA office.

The View from Your Library

By VIRGINIA NEWSOM

This week has been a most rewarding week at the library. During the first five days of the summer reading program we have had over sixty youngsters come in to sign up. The reading program will continue until Aug. 15, so if your youngster has not yet come in, please encourage him to do so.

Last month there were nearly 600 books checked out. During the first four library days in June we checked out some 220 books.

WE RECEIVED a large addition to our aquarium this week. Mickey Nickols gave us about 30 tropical fish. The youngsters have really been getting a lot of pleasure watching them.

We are planning our book sale on the courthouse lawn July 13. Mrs. David Acker of the Friends of the Library will be in charge and is making all the arrangements for the sale. If you have any books that you have been thinking of discarding (pocket books included) if we cannot use them in the library, we would appreciate them for our sale. The money realized from the sale will go into the Library Fund to be used in the purchase of new books.

A PASSING THOUGHT for this week: I am happy in having learned to distinguish between ownership and possession. Books, pictures and all the beauty of the world belong to those who love and understand them — not usually to those who possess them.

Why Some Prayers Are Unanswered

We may sometimes think how wonderful it would be if God should give us everything we pray for. In reality, however, this would be disastrous for us. We should be thankful that God, who is all-wise, does not give to us all that we ask. There are various reasons why some of our prayers are unanswered.

Our ignorance in asking is one good reason. We know so little of what is best for us and for God's kingdom.

We may be selfish in our prayers. We desire something and pray for it so that it may gratify our unworthy desires. As James puts it "Ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts." As the New English Bible states it: "Your requests are not granted because you pray from the wrong motives, to spend what you get on your pleasures."

Sometimes we do not receive what we pray for because we do not persist in praying. We may need to pray many times over the years to receive the answer.

Let us pray that we might recognize God's answers when they come and accept them as best for us.

"Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts." — James 4:3.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sadler, Mrs. Pearl Sadler of Dimmitt and Mr. and Mrs. Gale Sadler, Cindy and Susan attended the 26th commencement exercises of the Dental Branch of the University of Texas in Houston Monday afternoon. Myles Sadler was one of the 95 to receive the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery.

He received his Army commission as a first lieutenant several months ago, and will report to San Antonio for six weeks' basic training July 29, then go to Belgium as a captain.

Myles also received a gold plaque a few weeks ago from his fraternity as outstanding student. The commencement was in the First Methodist Church in Houston. The local delegation also attended Astroworld Monday night. It had just opened on Saturday and all the rides were not working, but it was very nice, they said. It is similar to Six Flags, near Dallas. The Sadlers returned home Tuesday night.

MRS. E. R. SADLER, Cindy and Susan left by train from Clovis Wednesday morning for Belen, N.M., to drive her father, M. H. Fowlkes, home after his visit there. They returned home Thursday.

Entomologist Joins Co-op

Gary Herzog, 21, a recent graduate of Texas Tech, has joined Dimmitt Wheat Growers, Inc., as entomologist.

A NATIVE of Wilson, Herzog received his bachelor's degree in entomology two weeks ago, and started work here June 3. He will concentrate mainly on corn insects in this area, but will also work with DWG members on their insect problems in cotton and grain sorghum.

"Our main reason for bringing Herzog into our organization is to head off some of the corn insect problems that might plague our corn quality and mill operation in the future," according to Barry Love, DWG agricultural representative.

Herzog will conduct research this summer on a new product which has been developed to control the southwestern corn bore.

For the past three years an average of 2345 wild forest fires occurred annually, burning over 40,540 acres of valuable forest lands in the pine-hardwood area of East Texas. If the acreage burned were reduced to a strip 50 feet wide it would extend a distance of 6,689 miles, more than sufficient to cross and recross the Continental United States.

On vegetables, Thiodan does the job of many insecticides. And does it with fewer applications. It protects over 20 kinds of vegetables (and strawberries, too) from 44 different insect pests.

Take lettuce, for instance. Thiodan controls imported cabbage worms, diamond back moth larvae, loopers and even phosphate-resistant aphids. And it's just as versatile for other vegetables.

So help yourself to more of those crisp green profits. With Thiodan.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

In October 1944, the Texas Forest Service, in cooperation with the Texas Forestry Association, the Southern Pine Association, and the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, inaugurated the Tree Farm System in Texas. It is part of a national project sponsored by the American Forest Products Industries to recognize forest landowners who are following good forestry practices.

Each year, for the past 5 years, over 2,000 fires occurred annually in the pine-hardwood area of East Texas, burning 47,000 acres of valuable timberlands. In addition, improvements such as homes, barns, fencing, and improved pastures were destroyed. These fires were man caused, for the most part, and could have been prevented if someone had used care with firebrands out of doors. DIMMITT MOTOR CO. EXPLODES AGAINST FORD AND PLYMOUTH!

EXTERIOR

The Chevrolet blade grille, massive end-caps . . . the LTD's boxy look. Ford and Plymouth's Plymouth's vertical headlights and front ornamentation are much more vulnerable to damage than Chevrolet's. Flowing profile lines displace than Chevrolet's three-piece front and two-piece rear bumpers.

STYLING

Compare the photos at left! Caprice's out ahead—Ford and Plymouth flatter the '67 Chevrolet by imitation. Also, you have:

- Full-door glass styling on Caprice Coupe
- Exclusive standard Hide-A-Way wipers

SIZE

Model for model, Impala is bigger!

FEATURES

More advantages for you:

- Articulated left wiper—exclusive
- Inner fenders at all four wheels
- Vinyl side-molding inserts recover shape and beauty after impact. Ford and Plymouth side moldings dent easily, permanently.

CARGO SPACE

CHEVROLET TRUNK

FORD TRUNK

At left, Impala's unobstructed trunk, with protected fuel tank vent line. At right, Ford's taillight sockets, jack and lug wrench extend into trunk, can damage luggage and sockets.

TRUNK CAPACITY

Both Ford and Plymouth have more trunk cubic capacity (comparing four-door sedans):

	Usable Luggage Space
Chevrolet	17.0 cu. ft.
Ford	19.1 cu. ft.
Plymouth	19.7 cu. ft.

- But:
- Some of that space is made up by the Chevrolet additional structural braces and brackets which contribute to better, quieter ride.
 - Double-panel deck lid for Impala is structurally sounder, protects better.

FEATURES

While you're at the rear of the car, point out these Impala advantages:

- Impala rear lighting is protected and recessed in bumper. Ford and Plymouth—exposed above the bumper.
- Multiple Impala lighting system provides adequate rear warning lights in case one bulb burns out. If one Ford bulb goes, all rear illumination on that side is lost.

WAGON CARGO

Compare facts for wagons—where it counts, in load-carrying space:

	Load Floor Length	Load Floor Width	Width Between Wheel-houses
Chevrolet	96.0"	63.2"	49.7"
Ford	93.1"	61.7"	48.6"
Plymouth	95.7"	61.5"	44.9"

(NOTE: Chevrolet wagons allow a four-foot-wide sheet of plywood to lie flat.)

SELECTION

Notice the gap in Plymouth's and Ford's midrange V8 lineup. That's the most desirable combination of power and economy. You have two 327 V8's—Ford has nothing to compare—Plymouth has one 318 V8.

POWER

Now, here are the total power teams you offer, compared to Ford and Plymouth:

YOUR ADVANTAGES

- Economy! For the third straight year, Impala scored a class winner in the Mobil Economy Run!
- Six-cylinder engines: Plymouth Six has only four main bearings; Chevrolet Six has seven mains for longer life, quieter operation. Plymouth Six has mechanical lifters, which are noisier and more expensive to service than Chevrolet's hydraulic lifters.

CONVENIENCE

Chevrolet driving controls are more accessible, easier to read than competitive designs. Also, the horn tabs contribute to the overall design; Ford and Plymouth horn rings contribute to a "cluttered" appearance.

CHEVROLET EXTRAS!

- Visibility: Chevrolet has 4,033 square inches of glass area; Ford has 3,938.
 - Turning Diameter: Here are curb-to-curb figures—a big factor in parking ease and traffic driving:
- | | Turning Diameter |
|-----------|------------------|
| Chevrolet | 41.0' |
| Ford | 43.6' |
| Plymouth | 42.8' |
- New biscuit-type body mounts for quieter ride.
 - A front-suspension stabilizer bar (on all regular-size Chevrolets except Bel Air and Biscayne Sedan Sixes) provides smoother, more level cornering.

INTERIORS

Chevrolet's instrument panel keeps all gauges and dials visible from normal driving posture. Ford drivers must duck to see lower controls. Plymouth's controls are more accessible than Ford's, still take maneuvering to handle easily.
