Grain Sorghum Promotion Started

Grain sorghum leaders throughout Castro County map plans this week to assure the continued economic future for the County's largest acreage crop - grain sorghum.

C. W. Anthony, president of the Castro County Grain Sorghum Producers Association and other local leaders earlier participated in a directors, officers, and leaders planning session at the organization headquarters in Amarillo.

Anthony said that the week of August 20 through the 25th has been set for concentrated information and education efforts in Castro County, along with an increased membership drive.

Directors and community leaders in the West half of Castro County will meet for breakfast and a planning session at the Steak House Restaurant in Dimmitt, at 7 a.m. Tuesday, August 21. Bobcat Band Practice For Half-Time Football Shows Now In Full Swing Dimmitt High School Bobcat Band under the direction of Ralph G. Smith, began rehearsing Monday in preparation for the 1962 football season precision drill marching shows.

Public Notices

The Christian Mother's Society will hold a rummage sale on Wednesday Aug 22nd in the church basement. The hours will be from 9 a.m. until 12 noon and from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Beginning rehearsals this year are so designed to familiarize band students with the new marching music which will be used in this year's precision marching during the half-time performances.

Following about a week of music rehearsal, the band will begin actual marching practice, and after the marching is making satisfactory progress the students will begin playing their instruments while marching, according to director Smith.

Band practice daily at 9 a. m. will continue until school starts late this month. Band will not be conducted on Saturdays and Sundays, Smith said.

"When school starts," Smith pointed out, "we will probably have at least two extra rehearsals a week for several weeks in order to improve precision drill performance."

Smith urges that these pre-school meetings are important and that band members should make every effort to be present.

New Bobcat Band leaders for 1962 are Nancy Carol Hays, drum major; Linda Schreck, assistant drum major; and twirlers, Sharon Thomas, Carlanne Calvert, Suzanne Dickey, Shari Willis, and Deborah Buckmaster.

Long Hours Were Common for Early-day Doctor

BY Joe H. Cowen

He was the pharmacist. He was the laboratory technician. He was the only medical doctor in Castro, Lamb, Parmer, and Bailey Counties. He is Mayes Miller, M.D.

When Doctor Miller arrived here in 1919 from the drought stricken area of Lamesa, he took the responsibility of being the only man of medicine for Castro County's 1,700 persons.

During the flu epidemic of 1920 Dr. Miller's day began at 6 a.m. and ended at 3 the next morning. At six in the morning the doctor would leave Dimmitt for Bethel, Big Square, Springlake, and all the surrounding farms near those communities. At 3 o'clock in the morning he would be back in Dimmitt. After three hours of sleep the country doctor would leave in another direction covering another area of the epidemic-stricken country to return for just a few winks of sleep before his duties would again call him to work.

"These flu epidemics would recur every few years," Dr. Miller recalled, "and I remember when every member of every family in some of the communities were in bed with severe cases of flu."

"The nearest hospital was in Plainview," Dr. Miller added, "and I took many patients there in my car when they needed hospital attention."

Dr. Miller explained that in the earlier days of medicine the physician's office was most often in his car or buggy. "In those days," he explained, "the doctor went to see the patients."

Dr. Miller's "office" was one of only about ten autos here in 1919.

"I had to fill my own prescriptions in my own drug store which was located north of the present courthouse square," the doctor pointed out.

"In most cases of illness, the farm people could contact me in Dimmitt by telephone," Dr. Miller said, "and if they did not have a phone, a neighbor usually did."

The doctor pointed out that the telephone service was pretty good considering that many phone lines were only barbed wire fences.

"In 1919 when I came to Dimmitt it was a good crop year and people were financially in fairly good shape; However," the doctor added, "in 1921 the cattle market went bad and things became increasingly worse thereafter until late in the 30's." "In this area," he continued, "we actually did not feel the crash of 29' until about 1931."

"Since my arrival in 1919," the physician emphasized, "the greatest advancement in our area has been in agriculture."

"Not only have farming methods greatly improved, but the technology associated with farming has improved and caused rapid advances in agriculture."

Dimmitt's pioneer doctor, who many years ago was inspired to become a physician by his father R.A. Miller, M.D. of Temple, retired from active practice here in 1948. Through tired eyes, many years of almost sleepless nights and dedicated medical practice in Dimmitt, Mayes Miller, M.D. has seen Dimmitt and Castro County progress from a poor, sparsely populated area to one blessed with wealth, prosperity, and population.

DOCTOR MAYES MILLER is shown in his office as it appeared during the later years of his practice in Dimmitt. At one time doctor's offices were located in the second story of the building where the ASC office is now located. (see story)

The Rev. Gilbert Davis Jr., pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony before the bride, and Miss Sue Duvall of Hollis, Okla. All the attendants wore identical dresses of light blue brocaded satin fashioned with full skirts, and complemented with cummerbunds of a darker blue taffeta. The gowns were made by the bride. White shoes, short white gloves, and white halo hats, covered with blue net, completed their costumes. Each attendant carried a single long-stemmed white rose.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length formal wedding gown of peau de soie, fashioned with a scalloped boat neckline, long fitted sleeves, tapering to petal points over her hands. The gown, handmade by the bride, was styled in long princess lines, sweeping into a chapel train. Her veil of white silk illusion fell from a halo tiarra of peau de soie, matching her crown. Her only jewelry was an heirloom watch, belonging to her maternal grandmother. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white french carnations centered with orchids, and carried atop a white Bible. The wedding traditions of something old, new, borrowed and blue, were carried out.

Miss Charlotte Williams of Hereford, niece of the bride, registered the guests at the reception held immediately following the ceremony in the Junior Department of the church school. The bride's table, laid with a white net cloth over white, was centered with an arrangement of white gladiolus and the tiered wedding cake, trimmed in blue and white. Blue ribbon streamers decorated the corners of the table cloth to carry out the bride's chosen colors of blue and white. Blue twisted tapers in crystal candle holders flanked the centerpiece. Presiding and alternating at the refreshment table were sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Delmo Williams of Hereford and Mrs. Duane Williams of Amarillo, and the groom's sisters, Mrs. Jean altar that was decorated with baskets of white gladiolus, flanked by white wedding candelabras.

Mrs. Joe Hacker, organist, accompanied Ben Gollehon as he sang "We'll Walk With God", "God of Our Lives" and "The Lord's Prayer". She played other traditional wedding selections.

About Your HEALTH

A widely public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. WOLLE, D.D., Commissioner of Health.

How much does research cost? The better question would be: What is research worth?

Research is indeed the proverbial "stitch in time."

Medical research has brought about many outstanding drugs and spectacular operations which save individual lives and relieve suffering, but more outstanding and spectacular are the advances in preventive medicine that have been made which stop suffering before it starts.

Economically speaking, preventive medicine has saved the people of the United States countless dollars. A case in point is retrolental fibroplasia, an eye condition marked by the formation of fibrous tissue behind the crystalline lens. Prematurely born babies are often stricken causing partial or total blindness.

At first premature births were blamed. However, research financed by federal and private means discovered the cause to be the excessive administration of oxygen—employed regularly in incubators for premature infants.

This study cost approximately $50,000. In the U.S. 5,000 children are blind because of retrolental fibroplasia. Each child will cost an estimate $100,000 for education, training and support from birth to death—or a grand total of $500 million.

Caring for these 5,000 children in times more than the cost of the research which prevents the disorder.

Other items developed solely through research include the Salk vaccine and steroid compounds—which prevent blindness, relieve arthritis, and aid skin diseases and allergic conditions.

Who can put a price on the suffering and crippling averted because of them. The life expectancy of Americans now born is now past 70 years of age. In just 17 years—1937 to 1954—it increased 9.6 years.

This means, because of the decline in the death rate, over $770 million additional federal income taxes was received in 1955 alone, plus the accompanying rise in earning power and productivity from an increase span of life.

The wise man who said, "Who would not give a trifle to prevent what he would give a thousand words to cure?" was right.

VISITS DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brock at Dallas last weekend. They were accompanied by their grandson who had been visiting them.

Sandra Thompson and Norman Nelson Marry Sunday in Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Sandra Lou Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thompson of Dimmitt, became the bride of Norman Wayne Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Nelson, also of Dimmitt in a double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church on Sunday August 12. Rev. M.A. Smith, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church, Dimmitt, conducted the marriage ceremony.

Vows were exchanged before an altar framed with an arch of emerald greenery and white satin bells and bows, flanked with seven branched candelabra which held white tapers and arrangements of greenery and white gladioli.

Mrs. Decimae Cluck, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Dr. Charles Vandiver who sang "Because," "Walk Hand in Hand," and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and she wore a formal wedding gown of bridal white silk organza, designed in a modified princess style with a wide scoop neck trimmed with a rose motif in lace. The roses were repeated in occasional applique on the floor length skirt, ending in a formal train. Her veil of silk illusion was held with a crown centered with an organza rose and outlined with seed pearls. For a bouquet she carried a crescent arrangement of stephanotis and frenched, white carnations, centered with a white orchid atop a white Bible, which was a gift of the bridegroom.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Lyndell Sinclair, matron of honor, of Washington, D.C. sister of the bride Mrs. Larry Ridgeway, Bridesmatron, of Abilene; Miss Sandra Leeth, bridesmaid, of Dimmitt; an Miss Janice Nelson, bridesmaid of Dimmitt. Their dresses were of coral chiffon over taffeta with matching accessories. They carried cascade arrangements of coral and white gladioli accented with English ivy and satin streamers.

Pete Jacquess of Roswell, New Mexico attended the bridegroom as best man. Candelighters were Sammie and Cydese Bailey of Friona, cousins of the bride.

Groomsmen were Joe Nelson, Dimmitt, and Stanley Nelson, Dimmitt, brothers of the groom; and Lynn Thompson, Spearman, brother of the bride. Ushers were Mack and Jack Thompson, Dimmitt, brothers of the bride.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The houseparty included Miss Diane Smith, Dimmitt; Mrs. Lynn Thompson, Spearman; Miss Glenda Morgan Morgan, Floydada; Miss Sue Minor, Hereford; and Mrs. S.M. Bailey, Jr.

and New Mexico, the bride chose an ivory two-piece suit with black patent accessories. For a corsage she wore an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nelson are graduates of Dimmitt high school, and will make their home in Portales, N.M. where she will teach physical education in Fortales Junior High School and he will complete his senior year at Eastern New Mexico University and play football on the varsity team. Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of Hardin Simmons University.

Something you should think about if you're about to buy a truck:

If all trucks were built the same way, cost the same to keep up, were worth the same at trade-in . . . then probably the price tag would be your only concern. It can't be, of course, because some trucks have more quality than others. And marks of quality are the real keys to low cost.

Chevrolet trucks, for example, have double-wall construction, which gives bodies and cabs more strength. Cabs are insulated against heat, cold and noise. A big part of road shock, which shortens truck life, is damped out by Chevrolet's suspension system; it also makes riding in the truck a pleasure. Pickup bodies and cabs are separated to eliminate stress between them.

Value such as this has induced more people to invest in Chevrolet trucks every year since 1937.

This can be a good time to buy a modern new Chevrolet truck

Late summer traditionally is the season for all-around savings on a new Chevrolet truck . . . selection is still good . . . deliveries are prompt . . . and Chevrolet dealers are doubly anxious to put you into a new vehicle in order to make way for next year's models. Coupled with the efficient performance a new Chevrolet truck will give you, it seems evident that you couldn't buy at a better time.

Come in and take full advantage of it!

Wayland Invests In Modern New Language Aids

Plainview, Special—Audio-lingual teaching, the method used in the department of languages at Wayland Baptist College, becomes more effective with the completion of the new $12,000 electronic language laboratory, according to Dr. Vivian Mercer Gruber, head of the department of languages.

Located in a former English classroom on the second floor of Gates Hall, the 35' 9" x 19' 7" room has gone through extensive renovation in recent weeks so that summer Spanish classes could have the benefit of the new equipment.

Installation of the latest in electronic equipment brought out some interesting facets in the building of historic Gates Hall, providing quite a contrast in construction. Workmen in preparation for sound-proofing this large room discovered that partition walls are solid brick under the plaster, a decided advantage in making the area sound-proof.

The room will accommodate 30 students in individual booths, 20 of which contain tape recorders on which the student can record his voice and listen to the playback to compare it with polished pronunciations. The other booths will be listen-respond positions without recorders. Student positions will use the new "cartridge" type tape, which is completely enclosed adding to its durability, according to Dr. Gruber.

Each student booth is equipped with a chair, a desk, a microphone earphones and a call switch, which enables the language student to work individually while listening to the lesson coming from a console controlled by the teacher. This control center is located on a 7' x 12' raised platform at the front of the room. Through this electronic device up to 11 lessons can be transmitted to student booths from tape recorders, record players, or other sources as desired.

The advantage of the individual student booths is that the teacher-student contact can be made with one student or with the whole class. The console unit aids the language teacher in that he can listen and help each student as he needs help. Repeating language lessons and listening to his own voice will both help the student speak and understand the language to a higher degree, according to Dr. Gruber.

"This type laboratory, which was little used before World War II, was given great impetus at World War II army language training centers set up to speed the learning of foreign languages by military personnel, says Dr. Gruber. "This also makes possible the use of three dimensions of teaching: sight, sound and speech. In the past we have relied on tape or disk recorders with simple earphones, combined with the teacher voice."

This laboratory for all students of modern languages will also be a regular classroom and a library repository from which students may check out tapes for listening and recording.

It is anticipated that a movie projector and screen will be added to the equipment and the room air conditioned, according to Tom Parrish, vice-president of development, who with Dean Robert G. Collmer, has worked with Dr. Gruber in planning this new facility.

"We hope also to work plans for students of music, speech, drama and English to make use of the room when not in use by language students," says Dean Collmer.

Installation of the electronic equipment cost $10,500 but another $1500 was added in the remodeling of the room. Acoustical control was gained by lowering the 15 foot ceiling and installing acoustical tile and devices on the thick brick walls.

The nylon carpet is installed over a thick foam rubber pad.

"A 30 unit laboratory such as this at Wayland seems to be the universal size," says Mr. Parrish. "This laboratory should prove invaluable to our classes in Spanish, French and German in particular. Perhaps even the Latin and Greek students will find it helpful from time to time. This another accomplishment in our continuing efforts to enlarge and strengthen the facilities of our liberal arts program."

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER IN THE UNITED STATES POST OFFICE IN DIMMITT, CASTRO COUNTY, TEXAS, UNDER THE ACT OF MARCH 8, 1879

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

Dear Fellow Texan:
Before many years, the world will have instantaneous communications by TV, radio, phone and wireless telegraph, by use of signals from the earth relayed by satellites in space. Billions of your tax dollars were paid out for research which makes this possible. You paid for it and you, the people, deserve to own it.
Now, the Congress has to decide if the taxpayers will retain the ownership you now have, or if your investment in space will be handed over to a private, monopoly-dominated corporate step. That's why I've worked with a group of senators to develop the facts on this space communications program by days of debate on the Senate floor. Those of us who took part in this effort to get at the truth, working against heavy odds, have been accused of delay.

The main complaint seems to be that if we would just quit objecting to this biggest giveaway plan in American history, if we would step aside, the Senate could quickly pass its giveaway monopoly bill and wind up its other work. And we could all hurry home. Fellow Texan, I don't believe we were sent here to give up quickly, to get home quickly.

When America has a new system for instant world communication—a power for good almost beyond belief—I don't think that's the time for blind, reckless haste. On the contrary, it's a good time for careful deliberation.

I'm co-sponsor of a bill that would allow the government to own and to lease to private companies the space on the satellite on a fair competitive basis. The government would not be in the communications business, the government would not be in the telephone business, but would preserve the competition that a monopoly bill would freeze out.

The bill to turn it over to a corporate monopoly is a bad one, because a satellite communications system is world-wide and involves foreign policy decisions that can't be given away to a private corporation. Our foreign policy must be run for the benefit for all the American people—not for the profit of the corporation alone. The monopoly bill is bad because your dollars would be officially given to a few for their profit. It's bad because the government has no agency equipped to regulate a corporate monopoly program in space. The giveaway bill is also bad because it comes too soon, before any system has been perfected.

The space communications program is still only an experiment. It will take several years before any kind of complete world-wide space communications system will be developed. It is a golden promise for world peace and good will at time of maturity, and it is too great to toss away. Without the acorn, there can be no oak tree.

Fellow Texan, will we turn back to the practice of the Europe of 1600, and charter a new monopoly to exploit space, as Queen Elizabeth I chartered the London Company to exploit Virginia in 1607? Or will we profit by this past 3 1/2 centuries of learning and progress and keep the space ways clear of the cobwebs of monopoly—keep them open to all in the true spirit of competitive free enterprise?

Will Congress charter one company to collect for all time for the people for space TV, radio, phone and telegraph use, for weather reports, and air and sea navigation? Or will calmer judgment prevail over the clamor of the hour?

Fellow Texan, we must not surrender the New Frontier to a corporate monopoly. We must protect our frontier in space with a flag of freedom. We must put the American flag on the satellite—not a private monopoly flag.

Walter Rogers' WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

THE NATION'S CAPITAL

The City of Washington in the District of Columbia is the subject of daily conversation throughout the world, some pro and some con, but I doubt that there is anyone in a civilized or semi-civilized country who has not heard of the Capital City of the United States of America. In this city and in the surrounding territory there are many places of interest, both historical and otherwise. The Capitol Building itself, is, of course, the Number One attraction. It occurred to me that there are many, many people throughout the country, and especially in our District, who have never had the opportunity to visit in Washington. Each thousands of tourists, including many children of school age and those graduating from high school, come to see the Capitol Building and the other points of interest. However, even a visit to these points does not always provide the sightseer with all of the information that is of interest. Hence, it occurred to me that it might be in order to include in a newsletter some of the data about our Capital City.

The site was originally a ten-mile-square, consisting of a part of Maryland and Virginia and was fixed on April 15, 1791. However, in 1846 the Congress transferred to Virginia the portion of the District that had been furnished by that State. Hence, the present District of Columbia consists of that portion originally donated by Maryland. It was chosen in an effort to get away from large population centers of the time. An offer of a price of $500 or a medal of the same value was to be awarded to the party coming forward with the most approved plan for a Capitol Building. Some 14 to 16 plans were submitted but none was satisfactory. It was the plan of Dr. William Thornton of Tortola, West Indies, that was accepted on April 5, 1793. On September 18, 1793, the cornerstone was laid with Masonic ceremonies. The plan provided for a central section nearly square in area, surmounted by a low dome.

The central section was flanked on the north and south by rectangular buildings. The north wing was finished in 1800 and the south wing in 1811. A wooden passageway connected the two buildings. This condition existed when the interior of both buildings was burned by the British on August 24, 1814. Restoration proceeded but was not actually completed until 1829.

The original Capitol as completed was 352 feet 4 inches in length and 229 feet in depth. The cost of the building, including the grading of the grounds, repairs, etc., up to the year 1827, was $2,433,844.

13. The building of the House and Senate wings was commenced in 1851. The Capitol has a floor area of 16 1/2 acres, and 540 rooms are devoted to offices, committees, and storage purposes.

The Dome as presently constituted is of cast iron and was completed in 1865. The exterior diameter of the Dome is 135 feet 5 inches. The influence of the sun upon this vast iron structure is great. Old Sol sways this tremendous weight of approximately 4,455 tons, or 8,909,200 pounds, causing it to oscillate a distance of three and four inches. The motion is south, southwest, then west, and as the retiring sun declines and finally disappears, north, northeast, and east, returning to its original position.

The Capitol Building is situated on a plateau 88 feet above the level of the Potomac River and covers an area of 153,112 square feet, or approximately 3 1/4 acres. Atop the building is a statue which has caused guesswork on the part of many as to identification. The true fact is that this is the Statue of Freedom. It is entirely of bronze and weighs 14,985 pounds, is 15 feet, 6 inches high, and cost $23,796.82. It is a figure of a woman clad in flowing draperies with her right hand resting upon the hilt of a sheathed sword and her left holding a wreath and grasping a shield. At the waist, a brooch bearing the letters "U.S." holds the drapery in place. The head is covered by a helmet encircled with stars and surmounted by a crest composed of an eagle's head and a bold arrangement of feathers, suggested by the costume of our Indian tribes. As a protection from lightning, 10 bronze points, tipped with platinum, are placed as follows: one on the head; six on the feathers in the headdress; one on each shoulder; and one on the shield.

Among the other items of interest in the Capitol Buildings are the Senate snuff boxes, Washington's tomb and the catafalque, the rotunda frieze, and statuary hall. There are several publications concerning these matters that might be of interest to many of you who plan a trip to Washington. If you will write me well in advance, I will be happy to send them to you, and you may be better versed when you get here than the guides who will take you on a tour.

FHA Loans Assist A Large Number Of Area Farmers

MULESHOE, TEXAS: Arch T. Fowler, Area Supervisor of Area 20 of the Farmers Home Administration in Texas, announced today that during the past fiscal year, July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, the FHA had collected $4,390,149 in the seven counties that make up Area 20. The seven counties are Bailey, Castro, Cochran, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, and Farmer.

Fowler also explained that during the past fiscal year, 1961-1962 the Farmers Home Administration has assisted a large number of farmers to produce their 1962 crops. Loans totaling $3,761,435 have been made in this seven county area during this same period of time. These borrowers were unable to get financed through the regular conventional lending sources. These loans were of many types — Operating Loans to help a man with his farming operations; Farm Ownership Loans to help some farmer buy a family-type farm or help a farmer acquire some additional land to enlarge his present farm to a family-type farm; Rural Housing Loans to assist someone in repairing or building a home in rural areas, small communities, or towns of less than 2,500 population; Soil and Water Loans to assist a farm owner in reorganizing his farming operation by introducing approved farming practices, drilling irrigation wells, installing water distribution systems, building terraces, fencing, and other things necessary to increase the productivity of his land resources; and a few Emergency Loans to just help a man through this crop year.

Fowler said that in 1961 many borrowers paid the FHA in full and if present prospects for the crops this year were reached that many more would pay out in full in 1962.

One of the requirements for borrowing from the FHA is to be unable to secure the needed assistance through regular conventional credit sources. Many of the farmers that FHA assisted during the drought years have paid FHA in full and have returned to the credit sources they used before coming to the FHA. The assistance that FHA gives to farmers and ranchers is a contributing factor in the overall economy of a county or community. This is especially im-

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bradford of Route 3 Quannah. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Granville V. Martin Ave D, Hart.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law Mr. Willie Garrett of Plainview. She wore a dress of white chantilly lace over bridal satin designed with fitted bodice and short sleeves. The bodice came to deep points in the front and back and was fastened with covered buttons of self-material accented by a scalloped scoop neckline. The skirt was full gathered and street length. Her fingertip length veil of tulle fell from a Juliet cap of lace with satin bows.

For "something old and borrowed" the bride wore a single strand of pearls belonging to the groom's mother. "Something new" was her white Bible, and she wore a satin bridal garter for "something blue." She completed the tradition by wearing a lucky penny in her shoe, a gift of Mrs. Thomas Dalton of Plainview. She carried a cascade arrangement of lilies of the valley and pink sweetheart rosebuds centered by a white orchid atop a white Bible, with white and pink satin streamers tied in lovers knots.

Miss Thelma Joyce Martin, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of pink nylon taffeta with white accessories and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds with pink streamers. Best man was
