OIL CARRIERS GETS SALT WATER IN ELLENBURGER

Oil Carriers, Inc., No. 1 Max Pray-State of Texas, East-Central Upton County wildcat, three miles west and a little north of the initial producer from the Ellenburger in the Benedum field, was making hole below 11,714 feet in the Ellenburger, after taking a two and one half hour drillstem test in that formation at 11,600-714 feet.

After the tester was opened there was a strong blow of air at the surface for 30 minutes. The tool was then closed and re-opened. There was a good blow of air for the entire two hours that the tester was open during the second section of the investigation.

A 2,120 foot water blanket was used. Recovery was 320 feet-of straight water blanket; 1,800 feet of gas cut water blanket, 720 feet of gas cut drilling mud, and 420 feet of salt water cut mud, with a slight show of gas. There were no indications of oil.

The initial producer from the rger in the Benedum field, Slick-Urschel Oil Company and Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 Alford, showed a little water in the Ellenburger, at approximately the same sub-sea horizon, as the Oil Carriers' exploration found

BANKLINE TO TRY AGAIN IN SE TERRY REGION

Bankline Oil Company No. 1 W. E. Ray, is scheduled as a 5,100-foot wildcat in Southeast Terry County, four miles north and west of the Welch field, which is in Northwest Dawson County.

The exploration is to be 330 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block C-39, psl survey. That puts it 4,274 feet east and 330 feet north of the same company's No. 1 Butler, a small discovery from the San Andres-Permian, between 4,910-67 feet, which is now testing for completion.

That project has made some oil and some water. An accurate test of its oil yielding ability has been delayed on account of having to pull and repair the pump. Drilling on the No. 1 Ray is to start at once.

AMERADO TO DIG LUBBOCK PROJECT TO 10,500 FEET

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has filed an application with the Railread Commission of Texas, requestion a permit to start drilling immediately on a 10,500 foot wildcat in Northeast Lubbock County, three miles nartheast of the town of Idalou.

The prospector will be 660 feet from south and east inies of section 9, block D-7, EL&RR survey. The proposed destination of 10,500 feet is expected to take the venture into the Ellenburger, or gran-

Attempt To Bring In Arms Tees Off Inter-Jew Battles

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL -(A)- Israeli and Irgun Zvai Leumi troops battled Tuesday on the central beach of Tel Aviv. Perhaps 40 persons were killed or injured as civil war threatened Israel.

The fighting developed over the attempt by Irgun Zvai Leumi, an extremist underground group, to land an LST loaded with 600 tons of arms on the shores of the new Jewish state.

Taft-Hartley Law Helps

This is only a guess. But we wouldn't be surprised if both President Harry Truman of the U.S. A. and President Joseph Curran of the National Maritime Union feel less bitter about the Taft-Hartley Law than they seem to.

Truman may not like the law. But at least it allowed him to halt damaging strikes on the railroads and in the coal mines, and now a third strike, only slightly less damaging. As for Curran, the injunction may also have saved him from a strike which might have gotten out of hand.

Curran finally has broken with the NMU lefties, after years of hand-holding, but he has not broken their power. An indication of this was the rather conflicting statement that came from Ferdinand Smith, NMU secretary and a leader of the union's pro-Communist group, on the same day that Curran said he would not defy the law.

The Smith statement, issued on behalf of the NMU national council, said nothing about respecting the law in the event of an injunction. And its tone was decidedly more belligerent than that which Curran used.

Naturally, the NMU leftists would love to pull off a strike. With it they could tie up the European aid program almost completely. More than that, they would probably influence a portion of public opinion in the ERP countries with a twisted propaganda version of the issues behind the strike. Together, these actions would seriously prejudice the American position abroad.

The Taft-Hartley Law may not stop this strike. But it can offer some valuable time to get the maritime situation straightened out. It can give Curran and his anti-Communist majority a chance to rally their forces.

The ship operators contend the Taft-Hartley Law bans the practice which requires operators to hire union crews through union hiring halls. The NMU holds that if tion this year would be a this comes under the law's ban on the closed shop, then free and open affair, with leading candidate's prospects have the law works unfairly in the employers' favor. It also the delegates doing all the political fever charts Dewey was a charges that the operators have not bargained in good deciding and the bosses having low man until the primaries began.

These are legitimate points. And if the Taft-Hartley Law can make the parties sit down for further bargaining on wages and working conditions, while a court is deciding this is that the best man is going point after his Wisconsin and Nethe closed-shop controversy, then the union charges of discrimination by the law and its administrators seem exag-

If, on top of the House cut in ECA appropriations, a Communist-inspired strike should stop the flow of American goods abroad, the bipartisan supporters of that foreign policy would have a hard time justifying it with the actions of the American right and left wings.

We should not like to think that every industry-wide strike might be subject to injunction. But in this case there are good reasons why the maritime workers should be kept from becoming the political tools of a pro-Communist minority, which is what would happen.

Forgotten Comrades

A Russian writer named Kozelsky informs readers of the Young Communist magazine that he recently visited Cincinnati, where "everything except the air is the property of the Tafts.'

Must be nobody told Comrade Kozelsky about the Cincinnati Reds. They may not be subversive but, judging from their standing in the National League, they show symptoms of going underground.

Let's all be real quiet and maybe 1948 will slip by without a non-stop dancing or roller skating contest.

About all tooting your own horn does is make people keep dodging out of your way.

Job Outlook Bright For Young Persons

By The Associated Press What is the job outlook today, for the more than 200,000 college graduates and 1,000,000 graduates of secondary schools who find themselves "available" this Summer?

The Department of Labor says i and overtook the other driver. Eu- into a favorable labor market with employment at an all-time high. In some fields such as engineering there will be competition. In million additional teachers will be if educational goals are to be met. Many Clerks Needed Among high school graduates, the Labor Department reports that girls probably will seek occupation in clerical and sales occupations. One out of every eight persons in the U. S. is a clerical worker, with secretaries, stenographers, and typists employed as the largest group of clerical workers. One out of every 17 has a sales job, which is another broad field for women aspiring to get into the merchandising and selling field. Weigh your attributes first and decide what job you can best handle. Jobs in music and social work, as ·librarian or physicians', dentists' or laboratory assistant shouldn't be passed up for lack of training. You always can learn.

Fewer than 5,000 women are employed as airplane stewardesses, actresses, astronomers, radio commentators, photographers, geologists, lawyers, psychologists. But if you feel especially qualified or are keen to learn, set your sails in that direction, anyway.

Many Summer Jobs Young people who want Summer jobs can pick from a wide variety. In the West there are jobs at dude ranches, in the U.S. Forestry Service, and in airplane plants. The Northeast has plenty of hay to be pitched. There are berries to be picked everywhere. Baby sitting has become a big business and these jobs can be less of a chore at a Summer resort. He can pass on everything Europe wants to buy here. Europe which he denies to Russia and her satellites.

He can decide whether Europe French women may want but which or Latin America gets stuff that is the nation doesn't need). He can decide whether Europe scarc :- like power generating equip-ment. He can decide between Europe and the Far East.

He could cut off help to Western Europe if it should sell anything to Russia which the Soviets could use for war. He has left one gate open. Canada can buy anything she wants. For good or evil, the U.S. must make the decisions: whether world markets can stand one more textile mill in France, whether Brazil needs power lines worse than Aus-

This unsought power stems from the fact that only American factories to date can pour out the flood of goods the world wants. The need to make intelligent choices on where to send these goods has had government trade experts down to shirt sleeves and black coffee for months. They have just about jelled a system. Here's how the system works:

1. There is a list of 400 commodities which are so scarce (mostly

Peter Piper, who used hand power to pick his peck of pickled peppers, should have lived in 1948. He would have had the benefit of this new electronic pickle sorter, which is being demonstrated in Chicago. Electric eyes sort the pickles according to size, but the big fellow Alice Gannon is holding stumps the machine.
