Superior Spots Wildcat In S-C Andrews County

Superior Oil Company has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to drill its No. 2-9-D University, as a wildcat to a possible bottom of 8,000 feet in South-Central Andrews County.

Operations with rotary tools will start immediately. The venture is eight miles south and four miles west of the town of Andrews.

That makes it approximately two and one half miles south of the nearest production from the San Andres-Permian on the south side of the Fuhrman-Mascho field.

This prospect is being started primarily to test the San Andres. It is indicated that in the event it is dry in that formation that it might be carried further into the Permian horizons.

Davis To Drill Shallow Venture In North Pecos

Paul L. Davis, of Midland, No. 1 Humble-Yeager is to be a 2,000-foot, cable-tool wildcat in North Pecos County, 10 miles southwest of Imperial. It will be located 300 feet from southeast line and 1,319 feet from northeast line of section 16, block 10, H&GN survey.

Drilling will start at once. The project is being drilled to test into the Yates section of the upper Permian.

Magnolia Shows More Oil In Scurry Prospector

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Winston, South-Central Scurry County wildcat, about four miles south of the town of Snyder, and 330 feet from north and west lines of tract 72, Kirkland & Fields survey No. 37, was located at 7,905 feet in Ellenburger dolomite and was running electric log surveys.

This venture ran a drillstem test at 7,841-52 feet. The tool was open two hours. No gas showed at the surface while the bottomed at 7,905 feet. Some free oil was encountered in the drill pipe.

Recovery was 62 feet of drilling mud, 186 feet of heavy oil and gas cut drilling mud, and 186 feet of mud cut oil. There were no signs of water.

Operator then re-tested the same section—7,841-52 feet, for another two hours. Gas showed at the surface in 45 minutes. Recovery was 170 feet of heavy oil and gas cut mud.

Another drillstem test was run at 7,832-64 feet. The test was open two hours. Gas showed at the surface in 14 minutes. Recovery was 140 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud.

The project drilled on down to 7,875 feet and a one and one half hour drillstem test was run at 7,863-75 feet. The test was open two hours. Gas showed at the surface in 14 minutes. Recovery was 140 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud.

The venture then continued to a total depth of 7,905 feet, in dolomite without reporting any further testing.

No Top Reported

Operator has not released the official call on the top of the Ellenburger in this exploration. However, it is understood that the above described drillstem tests about covered the full interval of that formation which has been penetrated.

Despite the fact that no official information is now available regarding the future of this project, it is generally assumed that a string of casing will be run to bottom, as the oil shows in the Ellenburger, and in three sections in the Pennsylvania, can be tested.

Some of the Pennsylvania shows indicated strong possibilities of some sort of commercial production, and some observers think there is a chance that the section of the Ellenburger which developed the free oil, might be completed as a small oil producer.

Seaboard Tests Soft Zone In SW Mitchell Wildcat

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 Charles C. Thompson, Central-West Mitchell County deep wildcat, eight miles southwest of Colorado City, tested soft zone, with some slight oil stains in Permian lime section at 3,302-17 feet.

The project is now running a drillstem test. It is at the center of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 76, block 27, TP survey.

Gulf Still Trying To DST At Midland Exploration

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E Wilson-Bryant, Central Midland County wildcat, 14 miles south of the city of Midland, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 36, block 39, TP survey, T-3-S, was still bottomed at 12,897 feet in Simpson lime and sand, and was making another attempt to run a drillstem test.

Previous efforts for such an investigation had failed on account of mechanical difficulties. When a test is obtained the project will drill ahead to try to find and test the Ellenburger.

SE Sterling Venture Is Abandoned And Plugged

Cole & Darden Oil Company and Westlund-Johnson, Inc., No. 1 Foster, Southeast Sterling County wildcat which drilled to a total depth of 5,010 feet in the lower Permian, and had some small shows of oil, but not enough for a commercial oil well, has been plugged and abandoned.

It was located 860 feet from

FBI Official Says No Probe Ordered Into Texas Voting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department says both sides in Texas' hot Senate race have asked the department to investigate the voting.

But, "There has been no investigation ordered," Dean Schedler, department information officer, said Tuesday night.

U. S. Rep. Lyndon Johnson and former Gov. Coke Stevenson were opponents in the election. When the Texas Election Bureau ceased its unofficial tabulations Saturday Johnson was ahead 162 votes. The votes will be canvassed officially September 13.

Schedler said the department had no intention to move in on an election matter of only state concern. But, he added, "of course" the department would go to work on any election where there is an actual showing of a federal law violation.

Officials declined to say what charges were made by the opposing factions in Texas.

Clark Orders Check, Says Dallas News

The Dallas Morning News in a story from Walter Hornaday of its Washington Bureau says Attorney General Tom Clark Tuesday "ordered the Justice Department Criminal Division to check reported irregularities in the runoff election."

The news says Clark acted after receiving complaints from "Houston and other points in the state."

It quotes Asst. Atty. Gen. Alexander Campbell, head of the Criminal Division, as saying an immediate study of complaints will be made by the election fraud section, headed by Abbott Rosen.

"Messages received by Clark mentioned Duval, Cass, Wharton, and Rockland as counties where checks should be made. Campbell said there were other counties listed," The News said.

"Among signers of telegraphic complaints were the Houston Chronicle, Lamar Fleming, Jr., Leonard Davidson and Andrew Jackson Gray, all of Houston, Clark said."

"After receiving a report from his election fraud section, Campbell said he will instruct the United States attorneys of the districts in which the counties involved are located to make a thorough but speedy investigation."

"After the United States attorney report, it was decided whether to present the matter to a federal grand jury," Campbell said.

"Clark and Campbell both promised speed in determining whether sufficient evidence exists to warrant a grand jury probe. They pointed out that the federal government cannot bring criminal action except in cases of conspiracy to violate the election laws," The News added.

Plans Completed For Thurmond's Visit To Midland

Arrangements were complete Wednesday for the visit here Thursday afternoon of Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, a candidate for president of the United States on the Dixiecrat-State's Rights ticket.

The noted Southern and his party, including Mrs. Thurmond, State Sen. Joe Hill of Austin and other States' Rights Party leaders, will land at Midland Air Terminal about 2:15 p. m. Thursday, coming here from Big Spring, where he is to address a noon meeting. A welcoming committee will be at the airport to meet the group of distinguished visitors.

Governor Thurmond is the first major presidential candidate ever to visit Midland.

He will be the guest of honor at an informal reception to be held on Wednesday on narcotics charges as a result of grand jury indictments issued against them.

The four, including dancer Vickie Evans and Robin Ford, a real estate agent, were indicted by the county grand jury Tuesday on two counts—possessing marijuana and conspiring to possess the drug.

They were arrested last Wednesday when police and federal narcotics officers raided a secluded Hollywood cottage rented by Miss Leeds. Booked on suspicion of violating narcotics laws, they were released on $1,000 bond each, pending a hearing Wednesday on petitions for writs of habeas corpus.

Mitchum, 31-year-old leading man, and the other principals were invited to appear before the grand jury Tuesday, but declined to do so. The jurors acted after hearing Capt. Lynn White, head of the police narcotics squad; his assistant, Sgt. Alva Barr, who led the raid, and Jay Allen, police chemist.

Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose received the indictments, set bail at $1,000 each, and ordered the four to be present for arraignment September 15.

Barr described to the grand jury the seizure of 19 whole and six partly-smoked cigarettes. Allen described their contents as marijuana.

Russians Seize 19 German Policemen

BERLIN (AP)—Russian tommy gunners and Soviet sector police kidnaped 19 Western sector police Wednesday, after the Soviet commandant had guaranteed them safe passage from Berlin's besieged City Hall.

They were taken from a French convoy at the Lustgarten, only a few blocks from the City Hall—which is in the Soviet sector of this divided, blockaded city.

As the 19 policemen and a German photographer were tumbled into a Russian truck to be hauled away, a French officer protested that the Russians were "pulling some funny business."

"You mean this is a plain double cross, don't you?" asked an American reporter.

"Yes," snapped the Frenchman.

"The Germans' release from the encircled City Hall had been negotiated by the French."

To escape arrest by their Soviet-controlled rivals, the 19 Western police took refuge in the Western Allied Liaison Offices.

The French commandant, Brig. Gen. Jean Geneval, negotiated safe conduct for them with his Russian counterpart, Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov.

Convoy Flagged Down

Soon afterward, the French convoy, including two canvas-covered trucks, started to pull away from City Hall. In the party, beside the police, were 11 American, British

D. B. Snider And Two Big Spring Men Are Victims

D. B. Snider, 68, long-time Midland resident, and two Big Spring men were injured fatally in a head-on collision five miles east of here about 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Snider, diesel engine expert for Texas Electric Service Company, was driving a pickup toward Midland when it and a Liggett and Myers tobacco truck driven by M. D. Lepard, 23, of Big Spring crashed. Lepard was accompanied by a man tentatively identified by officers as Homer Tucker, about 40, of Big Spring.

Tucker was thought to have died instantly in the wreck. Lepard died in the hospital here about 6 a. m. Wednesday, and Snider died about 9:30 a. m. Wednesday.

Lepard was identified as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Lepard of Big Spring. The only identification found on Tucker was a receipt for registered mail sent from Big Spring to Mrs. G. L. Tucker of Manchester, Texas, in Rec River County. This receipt led officers to believe Tucker's first name was "Harner," but investigation Wednesday morning disclosed Mrs. G. L. Tucker at Manchester had a son named Homer who left there for Big Spring last week. Efforts to obtain positive identification were being made Wednesday by officers here. Lepard's body was forwarded to Big Spring for burial.

Cotton Estimate Raised

WASHINGTON (AP)—A cotton crop of 15,219,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight was forecast Wednesday by the Agriculture Department.

This estimate is 50,000 bales more than the 15,169,000 bales forecast a month ago for seventh largest of record.

It compares also with 11,851,000 bales produced last year and 12,014,000 for the 10-year (1937-46) average.

The department estimated the acreage for harvest at 23,323,000 acres, compared with 21,146,000 harvested last year and 23,845,000 for the 10-year average.

The percentage of the acreage in cultivation on July 1 which is expected to be abandoned was put at 14 per cent. This compares with 11 per cent abandonment last year and 19 for the 10-year average.

Condition of the cotton crop on September 1 was put at 82 per cent of normal compared with 73 a year ago and 71 for the 10-year average.

The yield of lint cotton per acre was indicated at 312.3 pounds compared with 267.3 last year and 264.2 for the 10-year average.

In an accompanying report, the Census Bureau said 1,473,245 bales of this year's cotton crop had been ginned up to September 1 compared with 682,109 bales ginned to the same date last year.

The Bureau of Census simultaneously gave this report on cotton ginnings in the United States prior to September 1:

State	1948	1947
Alabama	110,883	24,805
Arizona	4,471	7,984
Florida	4,995	2,390
Georgia	112,344	47,450

Mississippi	124,949	12,096
Texas	822,775	494,449

States' Righters Organize Texas Party Wednesday

DALLAS (AP)—States' Rights Democrats acted Wednesday to see that their presidential ticket would be on the Texas general election ballot.

Their statewide convention at 1:30 p. m. had these purposes:

1. Organization of a States' Rights Democratic Party in Texas.
2. Naming Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina as the party's candidate for president and Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi as its candidate for vice president.
3. Selection of 23 presidential electors with a States' Rights label.

Thurmond was here to accept his nomination in a speech at a night rally.

He arrived by plane Tuesday with Mrs. Thurmond, predicting: "We expect to carry enough states in November to send the election to the House of Representatives, where we will have as strong a voice as the Northern States."

The strategy of Texas States' Rights Democrats includes a battle for control of the state's regular Democratic Party organization.

They will try to take over that organization at the state Democratic convention Fort Worth Sept. 14. If they do they will have to endorse Thurmond and Wright instead of Truman and Barkley.

Insure Place On Ballot

But Wednesday's meeting by organizing a party which will certify its candidates for the general election ballot, will make sure that Thurmond and Wright are on the ballot in Texas—regardless of the outcome of the Fort Worth fight.

The convention schedule had Palmer Bradley of Houston convening it at 1:30 p. m.; then a prompt motion to limit purpose of the meeting to organization and nomination of candidates for president and vice president.

Bradley was chosen to nominate Thurmond. C. E. Thompson of Edinburg, a former Mississippian, was named to nominate Wright.

Thurmond made a brief radio speech after his arrival from South Carolina.

Thurmond To West Texas

"Even if Truman gets less support than Landon did in 1936, and the election does not go to Congress, the plating of Texas and other Southern states in the States' Rights column will make us a strong minority party—a group which can not be ignored by the gang trying to focus on us some of Joe Stalin's favorite laws," Thurmond said in the broadcast.

Thurmond flies Thursday to Big Spring for a luncheon; to Midland for an afternoon reception, and to Lubbock for a night, West Texas rally. He will breakfast with States' Rights leaders in Abilene and attend a luncheon in San Angelo Friday before returning to South Carolina.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As you advance the "old stomach and the ever-changing blood" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle fiber.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloats and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on 888 Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh all over hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. 888 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Only relatives of the couple were present for the wedding. Shirley Lee Winter, maid of honor, and Victor N. Moore of Wink, brother of the bridegroom who was his best man, were the only attendants. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

BPW Club Opens Year, Chairmen Are Appointed

Committee posts were filled and projects for the year were launched at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club in the main studio of station KCRS Tuesday night.

A protest was voiced concerning a recent American Magazine article on Midland and the Permian Basin, and the club voted to draft a letter to the editor of the magazine expressing the club's viewpoint.

Florence Shade was appointed chairman of radio, to replace Ruth Shepherd, who has moved from Midland. Margaret Frances Barber was named to represent the club on the County Tuberculosis Association, and Ruth Finch and Fannie Bess Taylor as representatives to the Youth Council. Colysta Christian, president, announced the appointments.

Chairmen Appointed
Fannie Bess Taylor, chairman of the public affairs committee, announced that Ernestine Hough will serve as contact chairman between the club and men's service clubs of the city, and Ruth Finch as contact chairman with other women's clubs.

A report on a recent state board meeting was made by Iva Noyes, director of District 8, who said each club in the state is asked to contribute toward furnishings for new state headquarters office in Fort Worth. She outlined state plans for the year for various committees and appointed Dick Looby to serve as radio chairman for District 8.

New Members Received
New members voted into the club are Jet Lee Baird, transferring from the Big Spring club; Vera Storey, from the Sweetwater club, and Bernice Harrison.

Holly Frisling, chairman of international relations, announced that members of that committee will meet at her home at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, and Lillie Meisener, chairman of the song and entertainment committee, announced a meeting of her committee, open to all interested members, at the home of Hazel Lyles, 719 West Louisiana Street, September 16.

State Head Writes
A letter from Charley Ward of Houston, state president, outlining her goals for the year, was read by Ruth Durrell, secretary.

Laura Jesse was in charge of the program. As chairman of the legislative committee, she introduced Laura Self Smith, who discussed the proposed ad valorem tax amendments now before Texas voters, and Sue Noyes, who read a letter written to the state legislative chairman of Business and Professional Women's clubs by the Midland League of Women Voters, asking cooperation in the league's campaign for use of the secret ballot in Texas elections.

Evelyn Melear at the piano led the group in songs. New 1948-49 yearbooks were presented to members by Joy McCoy, program coordinator.

Mrs. Emery, who was heard in a book review here last year, will appear by courtesy of Sister Brothers of Dallas and will present a humorous book, "My Uncle Jan" (Auslander and Wurdemann).

Yes, Sir, These Movies Set Some Hard-To-Break Records

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — About every three days, it seems, some motion picture breaks a boxoffice record. I understand, of course, that records are made to be broken, but when this happens with such amazing regularity I am sure people are confused.

I was too, until I did a little investigating. I discovered it was true that a certain picture had set a new record for attendance at the Roxy Theater in New York. More people had bought tickets to see this film than on any other windy Friday in the history of the Roxy.

I investigated further. Another picture broke a record at another theater. In this instance, more bald-headed men wearing red ties entered the theater between 2 p. m. and 3 p. m. on a windy Friday than at any other time in the theater's history.

So the next time you read that some new movie has broken an attendance record, it probably means that the theater took in more money on a Saturday afternoon than on any other Saturday afternoon in the same week.

AND WHY, PLEASE?
After much dickering, Charles Laughton finally is set to play one of the key roles in "The Man in the Eiffel Tower" with Franchot Tone and Jean Wallace. Producer Irving Allen decided to film this picture in Paris when he learned that it would be impossible to bring the Eiffel Tower to Hollywood.

Middle-Road Trend Grows In Politics

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
A. Foreign Affairs Analyst

The old world of ours is the melting-pot for a weird mixture of humanity.

Everywhere forces of the "left" and of the "right" are at each others' throats, while unhappy "centrists" battle to keep the pendulum from swinging too far in either direction. It needs only a quick appraisal to make it clear that virtually the whole globe is involved in a tremendous social upheaval.

What set your correspondent off on this speculative line of thought was the ascension of The Netherlands throne by Queen Juliana in place of her mother, Queen Wilhelmina, who abdicated because of the weight of years after half a century's reign. It was a moving ceremony.

Well now, how does a constitutional monarchy fit into the picture of our changing world? We can't forget, of course, that unrest is seething in Holland's rich East Indies, some of which want complete severance from the mother country. If the Dutch themselves want (as they do) a constitutional monarchy with a parliamentary system, there is no clash with Democracy in that. Parliament rules. However, the time is rapidly passing when a nation can impose its rule on people of another race. Empires are on their way out—and fast. Thus Queen Juliana comes to her throne at a moment when her empire is breaking up.

Britain Recognizes It
Britain has recognized the changing times and has granted both India and Burma their independence. She retains colonies, to be sure, but they will become independent in due course. Meantime, however, Britain herself likes her royal house. Of course royalty and the extreme political left don't mix. We saw what happened to young King Mihai of Romania.

However, both The Netherlands and Britain at the moment are politically close to the middle of the road, and they find no inconsistency in maintaining royal houses.

This trend among the constitutional monarchies naturally can't be taken as conclusive of what the future will produce. The one thing we do know is that the world is in the midst of a social upheaval which is going places. However, we might not be far out in concluding that the global political trend is towards a middle of the road set-up in which all hands will get a fair break.

Miss Texas Not Awed At Hoopla In Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. —(AP)—Blonde Bonnie Jean Bland of Orange, Texas, will make a double-barreled debut Wednesday night, in the 1948 Miss America Pageant.

The slim, green-eyed miss, who graduates from the University of Texas in February, will display some of her oil paintings and then sing two songs in the talent division of the contest.

Not the least bit awed by all the hoopla that goes with the beauty contest, Miss Bland said "I feel right at home here."

The 20-year-old "Miss Texas" said the climate at this resort is just about what it is in Orange.

Her biggest thrill so far came Tuesday in the pageant's two-hour Mardi Gras parade. On the Boardwalk, Miss Bland said several persons in the 100,000 who lined the way called out they were from Texas.

No Six Shooters
Many children and some grown-ups called her amusement, she said by yelling:

"Miss Texas, where are your six shooters?"

"Hey, where'd you leave your horse?"

"Don't you wear those Texas boots?"

Miss Bland will wear gowns she designed herself. In the parade, she wore a white evening gown set off by lace at the shoulder. She would not say just what the gowns she'll wear through the rest of the contest will look like. She hopes they'll get nods of approval from the judges.

If she comes through to the finals in which 15 girls are chosen from the 55 in the pageant, she'll qualify for a part of the $25,000 worth of scholarships offered as prizes. She hopes, of course, to carry off the $5,000 scholarship that goes with the Miss America title.

"I plan to go to the Academy of Fine Arts at Chicago if I win a scholarship," she said.

About romance? Well, she's got a fellow, but she's keeping his name secret. About the University of Texas? "Just watch our football team this fall."

Baylor University To Receive $1,000,000

From Baptist Budget
DALLAS —(AP)—Baylor University is scheduled to receive $1,000,000 of the $10,000,000 denominational budget to be shared by fourteen Texas Baptist institutions in 1948.

The executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas Tuesday approved recommendations on how the institutions would share in the budget.

The board's suggestions must be approved by the Baptist General Convention at Houston in November. In the past the board's recommendations have been followed.

The amount awarded to Baylor includes the main university at Waco, the schools of nursing and dentistry in Dallas and the school of medicine in Houston.

The budget adopted by the board Tuesday represent a six-million dollar increase over the 1948 budget.

Other allotments include: Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, $500,000; Howard Payne College, Brownwood, $400,000; Mary Hardin-Baylor College, Belton, $333,333; and Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, $333,333.

West Texas Beckons

The National Security Resources Board, in a recently published pamphlet, urges American industry to decentralize manufacturing plants as a safeguard against destruction in the event of a possible atomic war.
 And West Texas stands ready to welcome industrial concerns which may seek decentralized locations. In fact West Texas, with its wide open spaces, aggressive and cooperative cities and vast resources, beckons industry to investigate and consider its possibilities before deciding upon definite locations.

The pamphlet points out that the dispersion of industry will go a long way toward combatting a potential enemy's effort to cripple our industrial capacity. It stresses the fact the high cost of atomic bombs would require a potential enemy to select only those targets which would be of greatest strategic importance to our defenses. It is conceded, therefore, that as a general rule no nation in the foreseeable future will ever have enough atomic bombs to afford using one on each city of as few as 50,000 inhabitants, or on a congested industrial area of less than five square miles.

West Texas definitely fits into the decentralization picture, offering possibilities many of which perhaps cannot be duplicated in other areas or sections.

Several manufacturing concerns already have established plants in West Texas and others are sure to follow. They will be welcome here and they will not regret their decisions to locate in this great productive area. West Texas as a whole will benefit and prosper as a result of this industrial expansion.

The ever-alert cities of West Texas are inviting industry to this section and are offering full cooperation and assistance in the decentralization program.

West Texas beckons and it is hoped many industrial concerns will heed the call.

Aerial honeymoons have become quite popular. Is there a better place for newlyweds to start out than up in the clouds?

It would help if as many people wanted to get up in the morning as want to get up in the world.

Few women fail to sigh a sale when they go down to see.

The politicians who straddle the issue usually get taken for a ride.

Most wives will listen to reason but they hate to hear the same one too often.

★ WASHINGTON COLUMN ★ New Housing Bill Is Complex But May Aid Few Home-seekers

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent
 WASHINGTON—Regulations covering the many important amendments to U. S. housing laws, passed by the last Congress, now are being issued by Federal Housing and Home Finance Administrator Raymond W. Foley. So it is now possible to make a little more sense out of what looks like a law so complicated that even lawyers have a hard time understanding it.

In summary, the new bill does practically nothing, net, for low-cost housing. It provides easier financing terms on some types of low-cost housing. But experts fear little housing may be built under these provisions. Labor and materials costs are simply too high to enable builders to meet the terms.

For medium-income families who want to buy or build new homes costing from $6,000 to $11,000 there are some benefits. There are a few aids for getting more rental housing built. They will be helpful.
 Ceilings have been raised on insured loans available for construction or purchase of certain types of medium-priced houses. This was intended to encourage construction of more housing. But the end result may be that the new top limits on various types of loans may become minimum sale prices. If that happens, more people will be forced to buy higher-priced housing than they can afford.

Best way to understand the new housing law is by case histories. First take the case of a GI.
 Veterans are supposed to be able to borrow 100 per cent of the amount needed to buy a new house. Few of these 100 per cent loans have been made in recent months. Banks, building and loan associations don't like to make them, even with government-insured guarantees. One reason was that GI loans paid only four per cent interest. The new law authorizes the Veterans' Administrator to raise the rate to 4 1/2 per cent. On a $4,000 loan, this would increase the cost to the veteran by $36 over a 25-year mortgage. So that's one possible effect of the new housing bill—it will make a GI house cost more.

Terms of financing have been eased, however, so as to make it appear that it will be easier for the GI to buy a house. Under the VA and FHA combination the GI can borrow 100 per cent of the price of a house costing $20,000 or less.
 The GI can borrow up to 80 per cent of the appraised value of the house through an FHA-guaranteed loan. This would give him $16,000 (80 per cent of $20,000). Through a VA-guaranteed loan the GI can borrow not to exceed 20 per cent of the appraisers' valuation on the house. This would give him $4,000 (20 per cent of $20,000).

For a specific example, suppose the vet wants to buy a house which FHA appraises at $10,000, long-term value—not present cost. The GI can apply through a bank or building and loan association for an FHA-guaranteed loan of 80 per cent of $10,000, or $8,000. This will be a 25-year loan at roughly five per cent interest. (Four and one-half per cent carrying charge plus one-half of one per cent loan insurance premium.) Through Veterans' Administration guarantees the GI can apply for the balance of the loan, $2,000.

 Combined payments—principal, interest and insurance on the FHA and VA-guaranteed loans would be $57.06 a month. This would make total cost for the house at the end of the 25 years $17,117.90. Most bankers and lending institutions don't like to make loans on this basis because they say it puts the average GI too much in debt for too long.
 One minor amendment in the new housing act makes it possible for a veteran or his survivors to occupy a low-rent public-housing project apartment when his income is above the maximum which tenants of such quarters are supposed to have. Suppose a vet rents an apartment in a public-housing project in New York, where maximum income of tenants is limited to $2,500 a year. If this vet's present wages are $2,500 a year and he gets in addition a pension of $60 a month, this pension would not be counted in calculating his income.
 For tenants who are not veterans or their survivors, the new law says flatly that they may be evicted from a low-rent public-housing project whenever their income is over the maximum amount set for each project.

Peace Fatigue Worse Than War Worries

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK—(AP)—Peace fatigue was any man ever sent to the hospital for that?
 Yet that has worn out more men than all the worries of wartime.
 What breaks a man down? What causes him to be less than he needs to be to keep his version of civilization going?
 This is really the key question of the modern world—why do people crack up?
 It boils down to one word: Strain.
 Look at it again: S-T-R-A-I-N. That is one of the most important words in the American vocabulary today. And there is a word for it in every language in the world.
 Yet you hardly ever see it in the medical realm. The closest the modern doctor comes to it is this new-fangled thing called a "psychosomatic" ailment.
 This is really only a mumbo-jumbo word for something the old-time family doctor recognized long ago—that someone with a mental problem too big for him to solve ends up by coming down with a physical ailment, even though he previously had been healthy as a horse is supposed to be.
 Actually horses aren't healthy. They are very nervous.
 But those who bet on horses—humans—are even more fretful.
 I fret, for instance, over the insistence by some members of the Army's Medical Corps that there is no such thing as "shell shock."
 Having seen men collapse from fear of injury during a bombardment of artillery shells, I know that "shell shock" existed. What you see you know.
 Doctor Says 'Tension'
 But back to the men who fall apart in peacetime. Why? Maybe it is an "I-can't-stand-my-wife-complex," "I-hate-my-job phobia," "I-is-there-is-to-life-complex," or "Nothing-matters - anyway delusion."
 The main thing is strain, the test of spiritual wear at any time. S-T-R-A-I-N. Polite doctors now call it "tension." But if all who succumb to fear or boredom in wartime are called "combat fatigue" cases, then those who can't stand the post-war gaff are surely entitled to be known as "peace fatigue" victims.
 I have in mind married housewives trying to meet the high cost of living and weary bus drivers crossing a crowded intersection while trying to tear off a transfer for a bewildered old lady still fumbling at her pocketbook to pay the fare.
 They have "peace fatigue." Who doesn't?
 More than 172,000 forest fires occur annually.

The DOCTOR Says Children Should Be Immunized As Protection Against Disease

 THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
 By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
 QUESTION: Can anything be done for an oily scalp and falling hair?
 ANSWER: This is probably a condition of the scalp called oily seborrhea. The oiliness is treated by skin specialists with lotions or ointments. If carefully followed, this treatment will probably delay the falling of the hair.
 consists of a "toxoid" which protects the child against diphtheria for several years. Whether this protection is still good can be checked by a Schick test of the skin at or about the time of entering school.
 Can Be Combined
 The injections against whooping cough can be given about the same time and sometimes can even be combined with the diphtheria injections. Injections against tetanus, or lockjaw, can also be combined with the diphtheria "toxoid."
 Between the ages of one and two, the possibility of inoculating streptococcus toxin, in order to build up immunity against scarlet fever, should be studied. This is the only one of the inoculations which may produce painful reactions. Some hesitate because of that.
 Sometimes other inoculations are considered. Among these is typhoid fever, which is a disease usually contracted from contaminated water, milk, fruits, or vegetables. If the child is going to some part of the world where the sanitation is poor, these inoculations, too, should be taken.

West Texas Beckons

The National Security Resources Board, in a recently published pamphlet, urges American industry to decentralize manufacturing plants as a safeguard against destruction in the event of a possible atomic war.

And West Texas stands ready to welcome industrial concerns which may seek decentralized locations. In fact West Texas, with its wide open spaces, aggressive and cooperative cities and vast resources, beckons industry to investigate and consider its possibilities before deciding upon definite locations.

The pamphlet points out that the dispersion of industry will go a long way toward combatting a potential enemy's effort to cripple our industrial capacity. It stresses the fact the high cost of atomic bombs would require a potential enemy to select only those targets which would be of greatest strategic importance to our defenses. It is conceded, therefore, that as a general rule no nation in the foreseeable future will ever have enough atomic bombs to afford using one on each city of as few as 50,000 inhabitants, or on a congested industrial area of less than five square miles.

West Texas definitely fits into the decentralization picture, offering possibilities many of which perhaps cannot be duplicated in other areas or sections.

Several manufacturing concerns already have established plants in West Texas and others are sure to follow. They will be welcome here and they will not regret their decisions to locate in this great productive area. West Texas as a whole will benefit and prosper as a result of this industrial expansion.

The ever-alert cities of West Texas are inviting industry to this section and are offering full cooperation and assistance in the decentralization program.

West Texas beckons and it is hoped many industrial concerns will heed the call.

New Housing Bill Is Complex But May Aid Few Homeseekers

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent
 WASHINGTON—Regulations covering the many important amendments to U. S. housing laws, passed by the last Congress, now are being issued by Federal Housing and Home Finance Administrator Raymond W. Foley. So it is now possible to make a little more sense out of what looks like a law so complicated that even lawyers have a hard time understanding it.

In summary, the new bill does practically nothing, net, for low-cost housing. It provides easier financing terms on some types of low-cost housing. But experts fear little housing may be built under these provisions. Labor and materials costs are simply too high to enable builders to meet the terms.

For medium-income families who want to buy or build new homes costing from $8,000 to $11,000, there are some benefits. There are a few aids for getting more rental housing built. They will be helpful. Ceilings have been raised on insured loans available for construction or purchase of certain types of medium-priced houses. This was intended to encourage construction of more housing. But the end result may be that the new top limits on various types of loans may become minimum sale prices. If that happens, more people will be forced to buy higher-priced housing than they can afford.

How GI's Finance House
 Best way to understand the new housing law is by case histories. First take the case of a GI. Veterans are supposed to be able to borrow 100 per cent of the amount needed to buy a new house. Few of these 100 per cent loans have been made in recent months. Banks, building and loan associations don't like to make them, even with government-insured guarantees. One reason was that GI loans paid only four per cent interest. The new law authorizes the Veteran's Administrator to raise the rate to 4 1/2 per cent. On a $4,000 loan, this would increase the cost to the veteran by $336 over a 25-year mortgage. So that's one possible effect of the new housing bill—it will make a GI house cost more.

Terms of financing have been eased, however, so as to make it appear that it will be easier for the GI to buy a house. Under the VA and FHA combination the GI can borrow 100 per cent of the price of a house costing $20,000 or less. The GI can borrow up to 80 per cent of the appraised value of the house through an FHA-guaranteed loan. This would give him $16,000 (80 per cent of $20,000). Through a VA-guaranteed loan the GI can borrow not to exceed 20 per cent of the appraiser's valuation on the house. This would give him $4,000 (20 per cent of $20,000).

House Costs
 For a specific example, suppose the vet wants to buy a house which FHA appraises at $10,000, long-term value—not present cost. The GI can apply through a bank or building and loan association for an FHA-guaranteed loan of 80 per cent of $10,000, or $8,000. This will be a 25-year loan at roughly five per cent interest. (Four and one-half per cent carrying charge plus one-half of one per cent loan insurance premium.) Through Veterans' Administration guarantees the GI can then apply for the balance of the loan, $2,000.

Combined payments—principal, interest and insurance on the FHA and VA-guaranteed loans would be $57.06 a month. This would make total cost for the house at the end of the 25 years $17,117.90. Most bankers and lending institutions don't like to make loans on this basis because they say it puts the average GI too much in debt for too long.

One minor amendment in the new housing act makes it possible for a veteran or his survivors to occupy a low-rent public-housing project apartment when his income is above the maximum which tenants of such quarters are supposed to have. Suppose a vet rents an apartment in a public-housing project in New York, where maximum income of tenants is limited to $2,500 a year. If this vet's present wages are $2,500 a year and he gets in addition a pension of $60 a month, this pension would not be counted in calculating his income. For tenants who are not veterans or their survivors, the new law says flatly that they may be evicted from a low-rent public-housing project whenever their income is over the maximum amount set for each project.

Peace Fatigue Worse Than War Worries

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK. — (AP)—Peace fatigue was any man ever sent to the hospital for that?

Yes, that has worn out more men than all the worries of wartime. What breaks a man down? What causes him to be less than he needs to be to keep his version of civilization going?

This is really the key question of the modern world—why do people crack up?

It boils down to one word: Strain.

Look at it again: S-T-R-A-I-N. That is one of the most important words in the American vocabulary today. And there is a word for it in every language in the world.

Yet you hardly ever see it in the medical realm. The closest the modern doctor comes to it is this new-fangled thing called a "psychosomatic" ailment.

This is really only a mumbo-jumbo word for something the old-time family doctor recognized long ago—that someone with a mental problem too big for him to solve ended up by coming down with a physical ailment, even though he previously had been healthy as a horse is supposed to be.

Actually, horses aren't healthy. They are very nervous.

But those who bet on horses—humans—are even more fretful. I bet, for instance, over the insistence by some members of the Army's Medical Corps that there is no such thing as "shell shock."

Having seen men collapse from fear of injury during a bombardment of artillery shells, I know that "shell shock" existed. What you see you know.

Doctor Says 'Tension'
 But back to the men who fall apart in peacetime. Why? Maybe it is an "I-can't-stand-my-wife-complex," "I-hate-my-job phobia," "I-is-this-all-there-is-to-life complex," or "Nothing-matters - anyway delusion."

The main thing is strain, the test of spiritual valor at any time. S-T-R-A-I-N. Polite doctors now call it "tension." But if all who succumb to fear or boredom in wartime are called "combat" fatigue cases, then those who can't stand the post-war gaff are surely entitled to be known as "peace fatigue" victims.

I have in mind harried housewives trying to meet the high cost of living and weary bus drivers crossing a crowded intersection while trying to tear off a transfer for a bewildered old lady still fumbling at her pocketbook to pay the fare.

They have "peace fatigue." Who doesn't?

The DOCTOR Says Children Should Be Immunized As Protection Against Disease

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service
 The advice of the physician who takes care of the child from birth should be followed when it comes to giving children protective vaccinations or inoculations against infectious diseases.

Vaccination against smallpox is essential, and is usually given within three months after birth. After this vaccination (which should be and almost always is a "take" at that age), immunization against diphtheria and whooping cough is usually desirable. These are most often given between six and nine months old.

The inoculation against diphtheria

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
 By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.

QUESTION: Can anything be done for an oily scalp and falling hair?

ANSWER: This is probably a condition of the scalp called oily seborrhea. The illness is treated by skin specialists with lotions or ointments. If carefully followed, this treatment will probably delay the falling of the hair.

consists of a "toxoid" which protects the child against diphtheria for several years. Whether this protection is still good can be checked by a Schick test of the skin at or about the time of entering school.

Can Be Combined
 The injections against whooping cough can be given about the same time and sometimes can even be combined with the diphtheria injections. Injections against tetanus, or lockjaw, can also be combined with the diphtheria "toxoid."

Between the ages of one and two, the possibility of inoculating streptococcus toxin, in order to build up immunity against scarlet fever, should be studied. This is the only one of the inoculations which may produce painful reactions. Some hesitate because of that.

Sometimes other inoculations are considered. Among these is typhoid fever, which is a disease usually contracted from contaminated water, milk, fruits, or vegetables. If the child is going to some part of the world where the sanitation is poor, these inoculations, too, should be taken.

Dick Stovall, center for the Detroit Lions of the National pro football League, has four brothers who played football in Texas schools.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Pennant Fever Soars In Pittsburgh As Bucs Take Second Place By Whisker

By RALPH BODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pennant fever is spreading in Pittsburgh Wednesday for the first time since 1938.

Not since the Pirates blew the pennant to the Chicago Cubs 10 years ago in the last week of the season has a Pirate entry been a strong contender for the flag at this stage of the race.

The flag-hungry Pirates are in second place now, four games behind the league-leading Boston Braves.

Manager Billy Meyer's hustling crew wrestled the runner-up slot from the Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday night, beating the floundering St. Louis Cardinals 6-2. The Dodgers, who were idle, trail the Pirates by .007 of a percentage point.

The venerable Fritz Ostermuller stopped the Cardinals on seven hits as the Pirates made it three in a row over the Cardinals.

Ostermuller held the Cards scoreless until the ninth, when Don Lang followed a single by Stan Musial with his fourth home run of the season.

Triple Killing
Musial, in the midst of his worst batting slump of the season, lined into a triple play in the first inning. Al Schoendienst walked and Marty Marion singled to start the game. Musial, who failed to hit in eight trips against the Pirates on Labor Day, then lined to shortstop Stan Rojek. Rojek stepped on second to double Schoendienst and fired to Johnny Hopp at first in time to triple Marion. The three-play killing was the second of the season for the Pirates.

The loss cut the Cards' fourth-place margin over the New York Giants to a half game. The Giants took both ends of a doubleheader from the Phils in Philadelphia 6-1 and 8-6, the latter in 11 innings.

Sid Gordon sparked the Giants to both triumphs. The slugging third sacker cracked two doubles and drove in three runs in the first game and broke up the second with his thirtieth homer, scoring a mate ahead in the seventh inning. Gordon also sent the game into overtime, singling home Clint Hartung with the tying run in the ninth inning.

The setbacks dumped the Phils from sixth to last place. The idle Chicago Cubs took over sixth and the Cincinnati Reds moved from eighth to seventh, two points ahead of the Phils.

No games were played in the American League.

DOWN SPORTS LANE

with TANNER LAINE

Delbert Downing says he can shoot better than we can. Being a chamber of commerce man, he probably thinks shooting skeet will be as easy as shooting the breeze. He's gonna learn better. We are going to teach him.

Now this corner is no experienced skeet shooter. Boys of experience out at the Midland Gun Club tell us it's all a matter of leading the target. We will tell Delbert that secret and still beat him.

They say they have a high house and a low house in skeet shooting. Guess maybe Delbert will take the high house and us the low house. And we will get to Scotland afore him.

Anyhow, the big match comes off Thursday at 4 p. m. at the Midland Gun Club. It is all going to prove that learning to shoot skeet is fun. The Midland Gun Club is inviting rookies to have a look and have a try and get in on the fun.

There are side bets up to $3.19 on Delbert's and Sportslane's match. He challenged us. That's why he is going to be sorry.

The duel in the sun is slated as "duel in the sun."

While we are on the subject of shooting the Permian Basin Rifle and Pistol Club is to be congratulated for its second annual small bore tourney held recently.

Winners of matches and medals with their trophies include:
Midland Hardware Trophy: won by Whittington, 399; Selton, second, 394; Kyzer, third, 391.

Vance Phillips Trophy: won by Whittington, 397; Selton, second, 394.
Carleton and Brumbelev Trophy: won by Whittington, 394; Selton, second, 392; Kyzer, third, 380.

Conners Kennel Trophy, four-man team match: won by team composed of Selton, E. L. Phillips, and B. B. Davis of Odessa and B. R. Brady of Lubbock.
Ector Hardware Trophy: won by Ed Kell, Atoka, Okla., 398; Selton, second, 397; Kyzer, third, 391.

West Texas Office Supply Trophy: won by E. G. Pope of Lubbock, 400; Selton, second, 399; Kyzer, third, 394.
Don Maxwell Company Trophy: won by Kell, 400; Selton, second, 398; Kyzer, third, 390.

Odessa Spring and Axle Trophy: won by Whittington, 397; Byers of Odessa, second, 392; Selton, third, 391.
Porter-Earnest Garage Trophy, four-man team match: won by Kell, Elizabeth Whitaker of Tulsa, H. D. McKinn and Kyzer of Odessa.

Camco Trophy: won by Whittington, 1,588; Selton, second, 1,579; Kyzer, third, 1,539.
Odessa Police Trophy: won by Whittington, 1,593; Selton, second, 1,583; Kyzer, third, 1,555.

The Rex Sporting Goods Trophy, grand aggregate: won by Whittington, 3,181; Selton, second, 3,162; Kyzer, third, 3,094.
J. B. Richards of Midland, marksman, won several medals.

ROUNDUP UP THE STRAYS
Ed Metzger, ex-Midlander who was quite an athlete, is visiting in the city. He's now a Kansas citizen. Ed worked for Skelly here, married a Midland gal, used to play a lot of softball. A couple of Big Spring fans over here for the Monday night twin-bill put in their vote for Mendez and Echevarria.

We are not playing that way, sorry. The Midland Bulldogs can watch out for the double-wing formation by Lamesa this season. Thirteen Odessans are members of the Texas College of Mines varsity squad. Eddie Jacome of Vernon had won 15 straight games in the Longhorn League before Midland kayped him here recently. Rome Puett, 14-year-old Midland golfer, weighs but 105 pounds but consistently shoots in the low 80s. The longest losing streak the Big Spring Bronchos had during the season was four straight. Vernon tapped them three times and Midland once, all in a row. Umpire assignments for the Longhorn Shaughnessy, first round, are: Big Spring-Vernon games—Frank, Odom, Curd, Richards; Odessa-Midland games—Sadowski, Eilers, Snow, Richards.

The old Oil Belt used to be one of the hotbeds of Texas schoolboy football. It was made up of Ranger on the East, Eastland 10 miles West, Cisco 10 miles from Eastland, Breckenridge 30 miles North, and Abilene 50 miles West. This is considering Ranger the hub. The Oil Belt functioned in the twenties when schools lured 200-pound lads and 10-foot century steppers. Cecil Stephens made the "first touchdown" in the new stadium when he ripped off about 60 yards on the first scrimmage play when the A team got the ball Tuesday night. 30 for strays, land poor and saddle sore.

League Playoff Card Announced

The Longhorn League Shaughnessy playoff begins Wednesday night. Bracketed are Big Spring-Vernon, Odessa-Midland. The first two games of the four-out-of-seven series will be played at Vernon and Odessa. The next three will be at Big Spring and Midland. If more are needed they will be played at the original sites.

Game time at Odessa Wednesday will be 8:15 p. m. The second battle will be played Thursday night. Friday night will be skipped because of a high school football game in Midland. Saturday night in Indian Park the two clubs collide and Sunday afternoon brings the second game in Midland. The third will be played Monday night if it is necessary.

The Midland-Odessa games in the Shaughnessy will be broadcast. It previously had announced the league banned radio broadcasts of playoff games. But J. M. McDonald of KCRS said permission had been received to broadcast after the league had received protests from a Big Spring station.

Willie Pep-De Marco Bout Scheduled Friday

NEW YORK —(AP)— Willie Pep returns to the scene of his only ring loss in 133 fights Friday night to take on a rough and tumble young lightweight from Brooklyn—Paddy De Marco. Winner of 21 straight and 32 of 34 since he started boxing in 1945, 20-year-old Paddy scored his most important victories over tough Terry Young in this same ring. Because Paddy's a lightweight who couldn't make 126 pounds if he had to, this DeMarco-Pep scrap will be a non-title go. Pep now has 41 straight victories since he was held to a draw by Jimmy McAllister at Baltimore December 13, 1945.

Danny Lynch Signs With Cubs

CHICAGO —(AP)— The Chicago Cubs announced Tuesday night the signing of Danny Lynch, Jr., 21-year-old Texas shortstop, who was made a free agent by Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler last week.

Chandler freed Lynch from his Pittsburgh contract when investigations revealed the Pirates paid his father, M. Dan Lynch, Sr., $600 as half a year's advance salary on a one year's contract as a scout.

Chandler ruled this violated the bonus clause and fined the Pirates $2,000 and Raymond Kennedy, head of the Pittsburgh scouting system, $500.

The Cubs, who outbid seven other major league teams for the strapping shortstop, said he would report in Chicago within a week or so.

Wilbur Sticks His Neck Out

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(AP)—Trellis Mae Peeble, like any other housewife, often complained that "Woman's work is never done."
And—like any other husband—Wilbur Peeble could never understand why.

After all, didn't he get his work done at the office? Sure. And why? Efficiency, organization.
Sometimes he got a little weary of hearing his wife complain she had more to do than he. For five weeks the commander had run his home and office both.

It was Wilbur's contention that any woman could out in half the time she spent doing housework if she only organized her tasks.
Reading his Sunday newspaper the other day Wilbur came across a story by a man who had proved this to be true. He was a young Navy commander whose wife had broken her ankle. For five weeks the commander had run his home and office both.

Read It And Weep
Wilbur read a few paragraphs recounting this man's victory over women's age-old problem of housecleaning, and how easy he had found it by discovering time-saving shortcuts. With a yelp of joy Wilbur tossed the paper over to his wife.

"Looky here. Read this. What'd I always tell you? Here's a fellow cut down the time it takes to keep house for six hours and 37 minutes a day to only three hours. Boy, does he make women look pitiful!"
Grimly Trellis Mae took the paper. Silently she read the article.

"I see," said Trellis Mae, when she had finished, "that he bought an electric dishwasher and an electric ironer."

"I didn't read that far," said Wilbur uneasily, his smile fading. "And one of the ways he saved time was to cook dinner in the morning, put it in the icebox and then heat it up again in the evening. That might be a good idea at that."

"You know I don't like warmed-over food," grumbled Wilbur. "When the wife's ankle got well," continued Trellis Mae, "they divided up the housework. The man says they run their house like a ship now—every member of the family has certain duties. He says it's lots of fun."

"Uh huh—um-m-m," said Wilbur, burying himself behind the sports section of the paper.

"We could do that—let's try it," said Trellis Mae brightly. "You could scrub the bathroom twice a week, do the beds, and wash the windows. We could save enough time to do all the things we don't find time for now."

Wilbur made a strangled sound. "Did you say 'Aye, aye?'" purred Trellis Mae.

"I did not," said her husband. "Can't you take a joke?"

"Well, I'm tired of that one," snapped Trellis Mae. "If you don't like the way I keep this house, admiral, then you're going to start playing houseboat, just like the Navy man you seem to admire."

Wilbur shut up. Next month when Trellis Mae handed him the household bills, he saw two strange items: "Electric dishwasher and electric ironer."

Trellis Mae saluted him and said: "Aye, aye, skipper—everything ship-shape?"

Cole Brothers Circus Slates Midland Visit

Cole Brothers Circus, billed as America's favorite and presenting none but stars, will be in Midland Friday, September 17, for afternoon and night performances.

The circus, which travels by train, will be located on the Garrett Show Grounds on West Highway 80.

Cole Brothers this year lists approximately 1,000 persons under its banners, including 356 men and women arena stars and performers, and 40 of the world's funniest clowns.

The show carries one of the greatest arrays of wild animals ever seen in any circus. Three great herds of elephants are with the show this season.

More than 200 acts, displays and numbers are presented on the lengthy program of the 1948 show, termed by the management as the best ever produced by Cole Brothers.

Georgia's Battle Of Governors Rages Wednesday

By The Associated Press
Georgia Democrats turned out in heavy numbers Wednesday to hand down their verdict in the 20-month-old battle of the governors.

There were flaming crosses in some parts of the state as Herman Talmadge and Gov. M. E. Thompson squared off in a primary election to resume the fight for the governor's job which for three months of 1947 gave Georgia two chief executives.

That situation followed the death of Governor-elect Eugene Talmadge—Herman's father—before he could take office. Thompson claimed the post because he had been elected lieutenant governor. Young Talmadge claimed it after the State Legislature gave him a majority vote.

The State Supreme Court finally decided in favor of Thompson, but Talmadge was out Wednesday to make good the "I'll be back" pledge he made then.

Backed by the Ku Klux Klan, Talmadge campaigned on a white supremacy platform and vigorously attacked Thompson's record in office. Thompson in turn, declared that Talmadge had fought him in 1947 with the support of "hoodlums, thugs, goons and drunks."

Utah and Arizona held their primaries Tuesday.

Utah's Democratic Gov. Herbert B. Maw took a commanding lead for renomination over former Assistant District Attorney John S. Boyden.

Arizona's acting governor, Dan E. Garvey, led six opponents for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, with Rep. Richard F. Harless running second.

Cotton
NEW YORK.—(AP)—Cotton futures showed little change during the forenoon session Wednesday, following the announcement of the government's cotton crop forecast 50,000 bales larger than the official August 1 estimate. Noon prices were 15 cents a bale lower to five cents higher than the previous close, October 30.86, December 30.66 and March 30.52.

GOVERNORS START ONE-SHOT ANTELOPE HUNT

Firemen Solve Pole Sitter's Dilemma

SAN FRANCISCO.—(AP)—The Fire Department agreed to act beyond the call of duty Wednesday to rescue a flag pole sitter from his draft board problem.

Milton Van Noland, 22, who was perched atop a pole for 41 days, vows not to come down until he has been there 50. But Wednesday or Thursday he must register for the draft.

Firemen volunteered to take the registration papers to him, and the draft coordinator said that would be o.k.

A ticket to the fireman's ball goes up with the draft papers, the firemen said.

Finest Foods Are Served At All Hours At Steak House

Among cafes which have made the Southwest particularly popular among modern epicures, the Steak House in Midland rates a special nod of recognition.

What is it about the Steak House which repeatedly beckons habitués and lives in the memory of travelers who dine there and forever afterward associate the City of Midland with one of the most delicious meals they ever had?

Probably the fame of the Steak House cannot be credited to any single attribute. The restaurant's popularity more likely results from an admirable combination of several factors. Surely the cuisine is a major pillar supporting the Steak House's reputation. Prepared by a chef whose background sparkles with a bright array of culinary triumphs in leading restaurants of the country, a meal at the Steak House is a gustatory experience not soon forgotten. Then, the service, the general air of cordial welcome, and the spick-and-span cleanliness all contribute to the general enjoyment of food there.

The Steak House is at 611 West Wall Street. It is convenient, offers ample parking space, and serves fine foods every hour of the day or night.

Rayburn To Address Loyal Democrats In Fort Worth Monday

TEMPLE, TEXAS (AP)—Sam Rayburn will speak at a statewide rally of the loyal Texas Democrats Monday night in Fort Worth.

Byron Skelton, state chairman of the loyal Democratic organization, Tuesday night announced that Rayburn had "accepted with pleasure" the invitation.

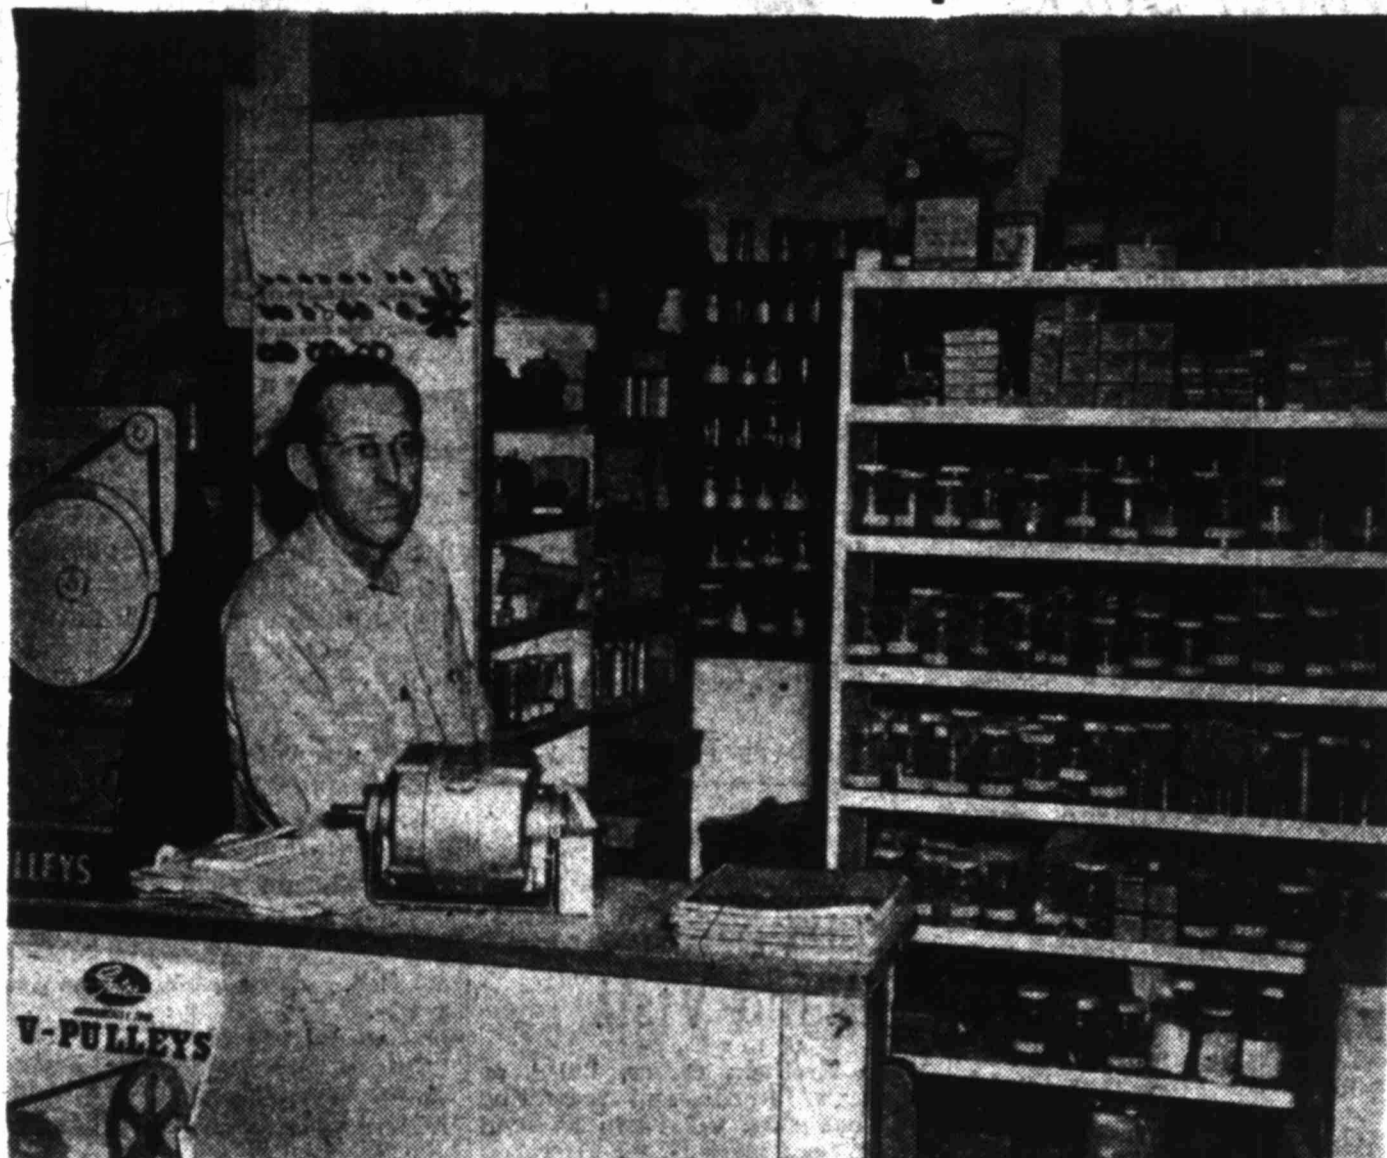

Skelton said Rep. Rayburn, House minority leader, told him he had some things to say that had not been said in Texas before and needed to be said.

The rally on the eve of the state Democratic convention will be held in a downtown church. The time has not yet been set but Rayburn's speech will be carried on a statewide broadcast, Skelton said.

The rally will be open to all loyal Democrats, whether convention delegates or not, he said. The Skelton planned to open state headquarters for the loyal Democrats at the Blackstone Hotel in Fort Worth Wednesday.

Commenting on the States' Rights Democrats meeting in Dallas Wednesday, Skelton said: "I think that all who subscribe to those beliefs should go to that meeting. They should have their own party—they are not Democrats."

Westland Grocery Is Favorite

Out on the Andrews Highway, just off Wall Street, stands a Midland commercial enterprise known as Westland Grocery and Market.

It's also known as one of the best stores of its kind in the city. Quality of its wares as well as the friendly, courteous service with which they are sold, make this a favorite shopping place for housewives of Midland.

Westland Grocery and Market derives a great deal of its popularity from its convenient location. Situated as it is, it is especially handy for residents of the West and Northwest residential sections of the city. However, this alone could not account for the big and rapidly growing list of customers who patronize the store—the quality of the merchandise is equally important to the popularity of Westland Grocery and Market.

Fine Market
The store maintains a complete stock of nationally-known brands of canned foods. A fine market offers choice meats of all kinds. Fresh

TRYST

By Elsyth Thane

THE STORY: Hilary Shemstone, British secret agent, recalls lying wounded in the Indian desert beside a crashed plane, after completing a dangerous mission. He remembers feeling a desperate need to return to England and Nana Parthing, his family's country house. (He doesn't know that the house has been let and that dreamy, 17-year-old Sabrina, whom he has never met, has adopted his old room and eagerly awaits his return.) Next thing Hilary is aware of, he is back in London dropping in at his club. But no one seems conscious of his presence. Hilary learns that his brother, George, has been cutting in with Alice, Hilary's fiancée. He thinks it's all a dream until he overhears a report of his own death. Shocked at first, Hilary later decides to enjoy the situation. Next day he visits his mother's town house, learns about Nana Parthing, and develops on a love scene between George and Alice. He goes to Nana Parthing, Mrs. Pilton, the housekeeper, lets him in. "So you've come back at last," she says quietly.

was dragging at him, urging him on, on, and the thing he was here for was very close now, he knew, almost under his hand. He opened the door into the pantry and passed through it into the darkened dining room on his way to the stairs. Glancing back, he saw her rise to close the pantry door softly behind him. As he reached the dimly lighted hall where the stairs were, a middle-aged woman with fluffy gray hair and innocent blue eyes was coming down the steps. A small fat dog ran on ahead of her and planted itself in the middle of the carpet facing him, in a tornado of hysterical barking. "Bella, for goodness' sake, what is it!" cried Aunt Effie.

"SHUT UP, you little beast," said Hilary, for this was not a nice dog, not even an intelligent dog, and yet it was possessed of a dog's fundamental instincts and so undertook to bark at him in his own house because his presence there outraged its common-sense. "Let it go, can't you? Shut up, I say!" "What did you think you saw?" chided Aunt Effie, gathering Bella into her arms. "There's nothing there, you foolish girl! See, Auntie's not afraid!"

From the shelter of Auntie's protective clasp, Bella gave several more sharp, high-pitched barks, and the study door opposite the stairs opened abruptly. "Effie, what on earth ails that dratted dog?" demanded Father from his threshold. "I can't think," said Aunt Effie apologetically, making ineffectual attempts to soothe Bella. "I was just coming down from Sabrina's room, and Bella got some sort of fright. Our little invalid has gone off to sleep nicely, Alan, I'm sure she'll be all right tomorrow." "That's good. But a man can't hear himself think." The study door closed again.

What dreadful people, thought Hilary, mounting the stairs. I can't have this. They must go. I'll see to that. He realized that the dog Bella would make it ridiculously easy. A few judicious appearances at night—a few unaccountable occurrences—a slight poltergeist atmosphere—they would go fast enough, and the house would be left in peace among his own belongings, to work out whatever time—endless time—would bring to him.

HAVING come to the top of the first flight, he found himself pausing before the closed door of the blue room—the best guest room—the room Alice always had when she came to visit. Obsessed to some irresistible necessity, careless of consequences, he turned the knob noiselessly and went in. A night-light burned on the table by the bed, where a girl-child lay asleep, her lashes dark against pale cheeks, her fine golden brows a little drawn, her wide sweet mouth tightly closed, as though even in slumber she was beset by some unchildlike worry. He saw by the length of her, from the square, determined chin to the small mound made by her feet, that she must be well into her teens, for all the delicacy of the bare arm flung above her head, and the natural stink of her fair hair.

Fascinated, soothed, and possessed by deep contentment he had never known before, he hung over the bed watching her breath come and go as she slept. Infinitely helpless she looked to him—defenseless, troubled, and pitifully young—Sabrina, the invalid, who had gone off to sleep so nicely.

In her sleep she stirred and smiled, and groped with one thin hand for his, where it rested on the pillow as he bent above her. Incredulously he felt the warmth of her clinging fingers. But how could that be, when he could feel neither hunger nor fatigue. . . . Journey's end. . . . He knelt beside the bed, her warm fingers cradled in his. (To Be Continued)

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Do you get into arguments at the bridge table? If you do not, you do not really enjoy the game. That is part of the fun of bridge, and, as I have often said before, an argument at the bridge table just blows off excess steam. It is better to argue about the five of spades or the deuce of clubs than about some of the "more important" things in life.

Double ♠	Pass	Pass	4 ♠

Opening—2 ♠

Whenever I hear a bridge argument, I slide over and kibitz, because there is often a good point involved. The real cause of the argument between North and South on today's hand was probably the fact that they had not arrived at a four spade contract.

Against the four heart contract, which South doubled, South opened the deuce of spades, a normal opening from an honor when partner has bid the suit. Dummy put on the queen and North won. He did not bother to return a spade, but led back the three of diamonds. South won with the ace, cashed the king of spades and led a small diamond which declarer ruffed. East then picked up the trump and conceded the ace of clubs—down one, and the argument was on!

South claimed that North should have returned a spade, then South would have cashed the ace of clubs, found out that his partner was void of clubs and given him a club to ruff. A diamond could have been led back and South would give North another club to ruff.

But North argued that when he did not return a spade, and did not lead the club suit which South had bid, leading a diamond instead, South should have known that he had no clubs to lead. If South had led the ace of clubs before cashing the king of spades, then given his partner a club ruff, and if North had put him back in with the king of spades and he had given North another club ruff, the contract would have been set three tricks, 800 points. That would have been more profitable than making four spades on the hand.

Both sides had a fair argument, but just so that you can enter into it, I am going to side in with North.

Labor Outlook Appears Darker

By The Associated Press
The nation's labor outlook appeared Wednesday with continuation of three major strikes and the threatened tieup of the country's telephone service.

Some 64,000 workers remained idle in work stoppages in the oil, trucking and shipping industries while a CIO union set September 17 as a strike date for 25,000 telephone workers.

The CIO Association of Communications equipment workers, installers of telephone equipment, said the walkout would affect 2,300 Bell Telephone Company locations in 43 states. The strike was called against the Western Electric Manufacturing Company over wages and working conditions.

The eight-day old trucking strike in New York City and Northern New Jersey by some 15,000 AFL Teamsters showed little signs of early settlement.

Oil Stocks Dwindle

There was no break indicated in the week-old strike of 28,000 CIO Longshoremen on the West Coast. Strike leaders planned a meeting with Army officers Wednesday in San Francisco to discuss the handling of army cargo.

Petroleum stocks continued to dwindle in California and four other West states as the strike of refinery workers entered its fourth day. Five of the six major oil companies involved in the dispute have agreed to negotiate with the CIO Oil Workers Union.

There was only a four to five day supply of gasoline for normal use in the Los Angeles area, Arizona and parts of Nevada served by Southern California refineries.

Demos May Attempt To Bar Dixiecrats From State Meeting

WASHINGTON — (AP) — W. J. Primm, Jr., an official of the Democratic National Committee, said he has been told Texas Democrats will try to keep out of their September 14 convention any delegates who attend Wednesday's States' Rights meeting in Dallas.

Robert W. Calvert, chairman of the Texas State Democratic Committee, commented from his Hillsboro, Texas, home:

"I am confident there are going to be some at the convention who will want to do that. I just don't have any idea what the convention will do about it."

The plan drew quick endorsement from Maury Maverick, one of the Texas Democratic elders and its former mayor of San Antonio. He said he thought the States' Rights "are lending aid to the Republican Party."

Primm asserted that the States' Rights convention in Dallas would be the "Dixiecrats have given up hope of taking over the regular party convention in Fort Worth September 14."

Convention Film Shown To Lions

Films taken enroute to and at the recent Lions International convention in New York were shown at the luncheon meeting of the Midland Lions Club Wednesday in the Scharbauer Hotel.

The films were shown by Carl Hyde, who took them. He is a member of the Lions Club Orchestra of Midland, which played at the convention.

Winston Hull was program chairman of the Wednesday luncheon. The Rev. Clyde Lindsey, president, was in charge.

Major Earthquake Shocks Recorded

HONOLULU — (AP) — The Coast and Geodetic Survey reported Wednesday it had recorded a big earthquake which probably struck in the area of the Fiji Islands.

The first shock was recorded at 5:17:30 a. m. Honolulu Time (8:17:30 Pacific Daylight Time) and two hours later the shocks were continuing.

"It is the biggest earthquake I've seen since I've been here," said Laurie Burgess, operator of the survey seismograph. He estimated the distance at 3,000 miles from Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — "An earthquake of "considerable proportions" was recorded Wednesday on seismographs in the bay area. It was about 5,200 miles distant in an undetermined direction.

The seismograph at University of California at Berkeley started recording the shock at 8:21:02 a. m. Pacific Daylight Time.

At the Ricard Memorial Observatory, Santa Clara University, the record started at 8:21:06 a. m. Berkeley scientists suggested the shock centered in Japan or Chile.

Czechs Gather For Benes Rites

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA — (AP) — State funeral services were scheduled under close police surveillance Wednesday for former President Eduard Benes.

Possibly 1,000,000 persons crowded into Prague from the countryside for the funeral. During the night police began turning back trainloads. Mourners who had made the trip were angry and police appeared to fear repercussions in the countryside.

Benes' body was removed Wednesday morning from the Hall of Resistance, where his mourning countrymen had marched past steadily for two days, to the Hall of Fame in Prague Museum.

Several thousand persons kept vigil outside the hall to see the body taken away.

Scores of police guarded the center areas of the city. They kept large groups from assembling in the lower part of the square, but let spectators mass around the museum.

Armed police were seen patrolling public buildings, including the post office, which houses international communications.

The capital has been filled for two days with police brought in from all parts of the country and bedded down in schools and other places.

Cool Wave Moves In On Texas Hot Spell

By The Associated Press
A cool wave, spotted with thunder-showers, moved into the Panhandle Wednesday morning and was spreading southeastward over the state.

The Dallas Weather Bureau said there was a "good chance for a decided break" in the hot spell that has gripped the state for weeks.

Light rains were reported Wednesday morning in the Panhandle and on the Gulf Coast.

The mercury dropped to 53 degrees at Amarillo at 8:30 a. m., as a cold air mass—which produced a sub-freezing 27 degrees in Yellowstone Park—reached the Panhandle. It was carried by a chilly north wind of 25 to 30 miles per hour. At 6:30 a. m., Amarillo had received .03 inch of rain. Cleardon, also in the Panhandle, had .30 inch.

At mid-morning the cool wave had reached as far east as Wichita Falls and southward to Lubbock.

Small Circus Ship Is Reported Missing

BABOA, C. Z. — (AP) — A small motorship carrying a circus—complete with lions, tigers and other beasts—is missing Wednesday in the Caribbean.

U. S. Navy planes from the Canal Zone, Jamaica and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, have joined in the search for the vessel, the Euzkera, which left Mariel, Cuba, August 28 for Cartagena, Colombia. She was due at Cartagena six days ago.

The Euzkera, now under Hondurian registry, was described here as a former yacht used by U. S. President McKinley.

The Havana agents for the 140-foot craft said she was carrying the Ratzkors Circus. Accounts as to the number aboard varied.

Oil & Gas Log-

south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 26, block 13, SPRR survey.

On last test reported before the cement was pumped in to plug the venture it swabbed about 45 barrels of oil in 48 hours, after the section above 4,400 feet, which carried the petroleum, had been treated with acid.

Prospector In SE Ward Swabs Oil After Shot

Gulf No. 8-E Wristen, Ellenburger prospector in Southeast Ward County, near Grandfalls, and 680 feet from northwest and from southwest lines of section 2, block 5, H&TC survey, swabbed 157 barrels of oil and six barrels of water in 24 hours, from the section at 8,985-9,055 feet.

That interval had been treated with acid, and had recently been shot with 280 quarts of nitro glycerin. Testing was continuing.

It is indicated that the project likely will be completed shortly as a new discovery from the Ellenburger.

Ellenburger Exploration Is Shutdown For Orders

Gulf No. 1-E Bray, one mile northwest of Grandfalls, and 1,980 feet from south and southeast lines of section 14, block 5, H&TC survey, was bottomed at 10,595 feet in Ellenburger dolomite, and was shutdown for orders.

That formation has logged some slight signs of oil and gas and some salty water.

Russians—

and French liaison officers and correspondents.

A few hundred yards from the building, they were flagged down by two jeeps of Russian tommy gunners. About 20 Soviet-sector police then sprang from behind a building.

Four more jeeps of Russian troops roared up from behind together with a truck carrying 66 more Soviet sector police.

The convoy was surrounded. The seizure had all the aspects of a carefully planned trap.

"Those who have identification papers may go on," a Russian officer ordered brusquely. "Those who don't will have to come with us."

An hour-long argument and protests by the French that they had a safe conduct agreement with the Russians were fruitless. The men were hauled away.

U. S. To Reopen Immigration To German People

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States is getting ready to reopen the immigration gates to Germans living in the Reich. The war-raised bars have been up for more than seven years.

The first of 25,000 Germans to be eligible for admission each year will be chosen soon after a mass registration of applicants in the Western occupation zones of Germany and Austria.

State Department officials said Wednesday the registration may start this month. The actual date will be set as soon as American consular officials give the word they are ready to handle the inevitable rush. Two million registration forms have been printed in Switzerland.

The biggest group of applicants is expected to come from the 800,000 or so displaced persons—those left homeless by the war. Congress has voted to admit 205,000 of these during the next two years.

The new legislation also opened the way for restoring the pre-war German quota.

Next to the British, it is the largest of all the national allotments set by the basic 1924 Immigration Act.

The German quota has largely gone begging since the United States broke consular relations with Hitler's Reich in 1941. Some refugees and other German citizens living abroad were admitted as immigrants during the war years. But the unused portion could not accumulate.

In voting to admit the 205,000 DPs, Congress wrote in a section specifying that one-half of the restored German quota must be used to admit only persons of German "ethnic origin" who now live in Germany but who were born in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Hungary or Romania.

Half of the remainder may be used for displaced persons. Of the total proportion set aside for native Germans, priority was given to skilled farmers and to those with relatives already in the United States.

Opening Michigan Skirmish Forecasts Red Hot Campaign

By JACK BELL

DETROIT—(AP)—The opening Michigan skirmish between Republicans and Democrats forecast Wednesday a hot-worded presidential campaign.

President Truman and Harold E. Stassen, a substitute GOP opponent, handed out some tough political talk in their kickoff speeches in this industrial heart of America.

Battling for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee, Stassen Tuesday night said the President had made "a record of failures—failures at home and failures abroad."

He called Truman "a complaining candidate" who used "an extreme demagogic appeal" and who was trying "to benefit politically by deceiving labor."

He said the President had followed Henry A. Wallace's economic theories, adding:

"Wallace followed those who had no faith in America and the American people suffered an inflation. Little Judgment, Less Faith

"With a record of little judgment and less faith," Stassen thundered, "the (the President) once again sets himself up as a prophet of doom and attempts to arouse in America an unreasoning, nameless fear of future depression, unemployment and chaos if he is not returned to office."

Stassen was answering some pretentious language used about the Republicans by Truman in Labor Day appearances in Michigan and Ohio.

The President in his talks didn't call Dewey by name but slammed hard at what he tabbed as GOP "spokesmen of reaction."

He said a reactionary "is a man with a calculating machine where his heart ought to be."

Stassen gave the Republican reply to some of the issues the President had raised and in turn raised some issues against the Democrats.

He said Truman had set off inflation by removing controls. The President has been talking about "Republican high prices."

Truman told labor it had better watch out for more restrictions if the Democrats are elected. Stassen said labor has done better under the Taft-Hartley Act than under Truman's policies.

Potsdam Failure Cited

Stassen charged that Truman's agreements with the Russians at Potsdam had proved "a colossal failure for the United States." He complained that Truman failed to take Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.) along to that meeting.

Vandenberg—praised by Truman at Grand Rapids as "my good friend"—got into the fray via a telegram read at the Stassen meeting by Senator Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.).

Vandenberg said:

"I deeply believe a Republican victory is necessary next November for the sake of American stability at this critical moment in the life of the nation. If we take the truth to the people I have no fear of the result."

In a telephone call to Stassen after the latter's speech, Dewey commented on the enthusiasm of the crowd of 3,000 which only partly filled a 4,500 seat hall. Walter Tibbals, radio man, had "warned up" the crowd before Stassen went on the air.

Too Many Red Herrings

The audience howled when Stassen said the Republicans are "driving the red herring out of the official waters of the Potomac."

"Too many red herrings have been in Washington for too long a time," Stassen declared. "The President should help man the red herring nets instead of complaining against the fishermen."

Stassen said that by "his scolding, complaining speeches" the President showed he lacks leadership "in affairs at home and abroad so vitally needed in the next crucial years."

He summed up his indictment of Truman as a presidential failure in these words:

"The President failed when he had a Democratic Congress to work with."

"He failed when he had a Republican Congress to work with."

"It is high time to elect a president who can work successfully with others."

So they say

We (Americans) have too long concentrated on how to make good, how to get ahead... We have neglected to tell our young people that Democracy is a two-way street—that with its benefits comes the necessity for also giving service.

—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army Chief of Staff.

Nowhere are the tremendous economic gains made by the Democratic Party in rebuilding America from the wreckage of the Hoover depression more dramatically evident than in the South.

—Sen. J. Howard McGrath, Democratic National Chairman, appealing for support of Southern Democrats.

Republicans will not be deterred from their determination to cut the cost of government, lower the cost of living and further reduce taxes up as a prophet of doom and attempts to arouse in America an unreasoning, nameless fear of future depression, unemployment and chaos if he is not returned to office.

—Rep. Harold Knutson (R) of Minnesota.

When you put your own money in a (moving) picture, you discover that you eventually run out of money.

—Dick Powell, Hollywood actor turned producer.

Teach your boys and girls to grow up into decent men and women, and as long as you do that you need not worry (about the state of the world).

—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery.
