Hauls Down Red Flag

During an anti-Communist demonstration by some 300,000 Germans in Paris, one German scales the flagpole on the Brandenburg Gate to rip down the Russian flag which marked the Soviet sector boundary. He threw the flag down to the crowd which cheered him. Soviet troops turned their fire from the crowd on him but he jumped and apparently escaped uninjured into the milling thousands.

Truman Expected To Seek Record Peacetime Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The biggest government spending program in peacetime history will be laid before the next Congress by President Truman, authoritative sources predicted Saturday.

Next January's budget, they forecast, will call for expenditure of at least $45,000,000,000—the estimated minimum cost of carrying the U. S. through another year of an increasingly grim "cold war."

That is $4,000,000,000 above income as estimated by the Administration. If its estimates are correct, the newly-elected Congress would have to cut spending or boost taxes to prevent a record peacetime deficit.

Officials, willing to discuss the subject provided they were not quoted by name, said this outlook holds true regardless of the outcome of the November election. They said the election has nothing to do with it.

Could Go Higher
The budget they spoke of concerns the fiscal 1950, which begins next July 1, eight months after the presidential and congressional elections.

Final decisions will not be made on the 1950 budget until December. Nevertheless, reliable officials say preliminary work on the budget clinches $45,000,000,000 as the minimum 1950 spending total—many figure it will have to be a billion or two higher despite "hold-down" efforts.

Spy Prober Says Army Experts Certain Reds Got Atom Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional spy investigators said Saturday an Army expert on atomic energy is "certain" Russian agents stole some wartime atom bomb secrets.

Furthermore, Rep. Vail (R-Ill.) said in a statement, this high official was so concerned over "the intense activity of Russian espionage agents in their efforts to penetrate atomic research safeguards" that he personally reported on these activities to the late President Roosevelt and then to President Truman.

Vail did not name the officer but said he had testified under oath at closed-door hearings of the House Un-American Activities Committee during the last week. Obviously he meant Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who directed the $2,000,000,000 A-bomb project during the war.

Groves appeared before the committee Friday but merely hinted to reporters afterward there might have been some leaks of atomic secrets.

Top-Level Parleys Predict New Turn For Berlin Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top American and British leaders met Saturday in an unusual series of conferences which may lead to a decisive new turn in the crisis with Soviet Russia over Berlin.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) was among a group consulted by Secretary Marshall at the State Department on the next move by the Western Powers in the deadlock over the Soviet Blockade. Vandenberg is a leading Republican figure in all major matters of foreign policy.

Amid indications that the long effort to reach a firm agreement with Moscow on lifting the Berlin siege faces a breakdown, Marshall and his advisors met also with Sir Oliver Franks, the British ambassador.

Meanwhile in Moscow the American, British and French envoys were standing by, dispatches said, apparently for final instructions before making the fateful next move—possibly a demand for a showdown session with Prime Minister Stalin.

London sources said the three diplomats had been instructed to seek an immediate meeting with Stalin.

May Turn To UN
If direct negotiations with the Kremlin collapse, the West is prepared to turn over the whole dispute of the issue to the United Nations. Marshall is making ready to leave eight days hence for the opening September 21 of the UN General Assembly in Paris.

The United States also is believed ready at the appropriate time to issue an appeal to world public opinion, in the form of an official white paper (government report) detailing the efforts in progress since July 30 to settle the quarrel over the German capital.

Already Pledged
Already pledged to Thurmond for president were 11 electors from Alabama, nine from Mississippi, eight from South Carolina, four out of eight from Florida and three out of 12 from Tennessee.

A court action in North Carolina finally was won by the States' Rights' Party. The State Supreme Court awarded them equal billing with the regular Democrats.

Thurmond and his running mate, the governor of Mississippi, will appear also on the ballots of Virginia, Kentucky and Texas. Arkansas States' Rights has until October 13 to name electors.

In Texas Thurmond Democrats organized a States' Rights Party and prepared to name a presidential ticket. Thurmond himself attended the meeting.

Communist Tactics Charged Dixiecrats

FORT WORTH (AP)—States' Rights sympathizers were accused here Saturday of holding secret precinct meetings and of using "Communist tactics" in their attempts to gain control of the Democratic Party in Texas.

These charges were made as the credentials subcommittee of the State Democratic Executive Committee began hearings to determine which of a dozen rival delegations would be seated at Tuesday's state convention.

It was the opening round in the battle between the pro-Truman or loyalist faction of the party and the States' Rights group that has elected to stay within the party as long as possible to urge Gov. J. Strom Thurmond as the Democratic presidential nominee in Texas.

While the credentials committee considered contests from Harris, Harrison, Tarrant and Dallas counties Saturday, a steering committee of the loyalist faction, headed by Byron Skelton of Temple, met in executive session to plan strategy. This is the group following Gov. Beauford H. Jester and Executive Committee Chairman Robert W. Calvert.

Court Actions Flare In Jim Wells County

AUSTIN (AP)—Lyndon Johnson and Coke Stevenson, opponents in one of the most bitter and closely contested statewide-elections in Texas history, Saturday headed for a possible showdown Monday on whether there was fraud in the August 28 run-off for the U. S. Senate.

Saturday's rapid-fire developments in the contest were these:

1. Johnson secured a temporary restraining order in 126th District Court to prevent a new set of election returns being certified from Jim Wells County to the State Democratic Executive Committee.

2. Judge Roy C. Archer, who issued the order, scheduled hearing at 10 a. m. Monday on Johnson's request for a temporary injunction in the district court at Alice in Jim Wells County.

3. Stevenson termed Johnson's action an "unusual proceeding" designed to keep the truth from coming out in Jim Wells County.

He welcomed the chance to tangle with Johnson in court, saying: "We will be prepared to prove and will offer the necessary testimony in open court that fraudulent practices were committed in Voting Precinct 13 (Alice) in the run-off primary."

4. Johnson accused Stevenson of attempting to "impesch the returns certified by executive committee." Further, he charged illegal ballots were used in Harris, Brazoria and Harrison counties.

5. Stevenson issued a later statement saying he and his friends have been diligently trying to determine where "additional votes" for Johnson came from in "those counties" several days after the election. Stevenson said "These facts will be presented to the executive committee when it meets in Fort Worth Monday."

Headquarters of both candidates said the two men personally plan to be in Fort Worth—not Alice—Monday.

6. Attorney General Price Daniel said he and his assistants after a 10-day study of Texas election laws and court decisions, concluded the laws "need re-study and overhauling from stem to stern." They give the attorney general no authority to investigate or prosecute alleged election irregularities, Daniels said.

The mountain states have the highest death rate, averaging 102 per 100,000, with Wyoming leading with 122.9 average. Nevada's score of 137.6 is based on 1946 statistics. Connecticut comes out best, with only 50 deaths per 100,000. Motor vehicle accidents were the principal cause of deaths.

Oil Reserves At Record High Mark

DALLAS —The known volume of crude oil underground in the United States has reached nine hundred billion gallons, the highest in history, despite unprecedented demands for oil products, R. S. McFarland, vice-president and general manager, Mid-Continent division, Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware, stated Saturday.

Quoting from a study just completed by the Oil Industry Information Committee, McFarland cited modern exploration and improved recovery methods as the means to lifting the nation's reserves despite heavy demands. Beside crude oil, he said, the known reserves of condensates, natural gasoline and other liquefied petroleum gases, which form part of the supply, total more than 130 billion gallons.

McFarland said, "While only a few decades ago we were able to recover only about 20 per cent of the oil from a well, today's average recovery rate is near 80 per cent. Careful control of the flow, development of well-head equipment that prevents wasteful gushers, and the repressuring of wells by gas and water have contributed to the increasing yield of oil."

Equipment such as the airborne magneto-meter, the waterborne seismograph and the gravimeter have taken a lot of the guesswork out of the search for oil, the report pointed out, thus contributing to the increased reserves. Research making possible the utilization of natural gas, coal, oil shale and tar sands as supplementary sources of liquid fuel further assure the United States adequate supplies for many years in the future, the report said.

More Possibilities
The study emphasized that only oil known to exist through test drilling was included in the summary of proved reserves, and does not include partially developed fields, nor a further possible increase in recoverable from wells formerly considered exhausted, nor synthetic products or liquids obtained through processing natural gas. Geologists estimate that there are over two trillion more gallons of oil yet to be discovered and proved in the United States.

Oceans Of Synthetic Oil From Shale Ready To Tap If U. S. Has Need For It

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—Synthetic oil is here—and a full-fledged industry, drawing its raw product from billions of tons of shale underlying the mountains of the west, is ready to be born.

The only thing that keeps the U. S. from tapping a 200 billion barrel reserve of synthetic crude is the need for it. That may emerge any day in a rearming world.

For 20 years or more, oil scientists have sought a commercially feasible method of exploiting the vast shale beds of Colorado, Utah, and Wyoming. But like the manufacture of atomic energy, shale processing involves a tremendous cooling problem.

Atomic scientists solved their problem by situating the "Manhattan" project at Pasco, where the waters of the Columbia River could be used to reduce temperatures. Western shale beds, however, occur in veins, similar to coal deposits, at altitudes of 7,000 feet or higher. They are far from major sources of water.

A radically new principle had to be devised to produce synthetic oil from oil shale. Only an engineer would understand the details, but essentially the new principle is this:

A huge vat "cooks" the shale at high temperature. The resulting hot vapors are used in heating new batches of shale as they enter the vat. Through this double-use of heat energy, temperatures are kept at a minimum. The shale oil emerges cool enough to be fed directly into a pipeline.

Tests By Union Oil

The process has been tested over a long period at nearby Wilmington, Calif., by the Union Oil Company of California. A small pilot plant there is fed by hand at a capacity of three tons a day, turning out two barrels of oil daily. A larger plant, capable of turning out synthetic oil in commercial quantities, will be erected soon by the company in Colorado, where shale is available in great amounts.

The oil in shale is not petroleum. It is a waxy substance deposited by microscopic bugs in prehistoric marshes.

Although it is not petroleum, several of the products derived from petroleum, including gasoline, can be derived from shale oil. Shale oil can be produced at about twice the cost of natural oil. Rising petroleum costs are expected to close this gap partially. In the event of an emergency, government subsidy might absorb the rest of the difference, if improved techniques have not already done so.

Large Reserves

Reese H. Taylor, Union Oil's president, calls shale oil "one of our most interesting prospects for the future." Citing a U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate that there is enough recoverable shale oil in western shale beds to provide 200 billion barrels of crude, Taylor says: "When you realize that the total known U. S. reserves of crude petroleum today amount to only 26 billion barrels, you can get an idea of what this may mean."

With the exception of the World War II years when he went overseas with the British forces, Regan has been a member of the famed Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band since 1920. He is a trick rider and whip artist. His special numbers include tricks with the Australian stock whip, and the popular "Texas Wagon Wheel" with the lariat. A friend of the late Will Rogers, Regan is known as one of the nation's most popular entertainers. He is expected to attract large crowds to the fair here.

Central Andrews Prospector Bails Oil From San Andres

Esperado Mining Company No. 1 J. E. Parker, Central Andrews County wildcat, one and one half miles northwest of the Parker field, and 1,900 feet from south and 860 feet from east lines of section 2, block 4-43, oil survey, bailed clean oil at the rate of one barrel per hour, over and extended period from the lime section at 4,882-88 feet, in the San Andres-Permian.

No water was developed. The production was natural. Operator is making new hole below 4,743 feet in lime. The venture will be continued to its contract depth of 5,000 feet, and if it finds no better indications of production it is due to plus back and test the zone at 4,882-88 feet.

That section likely will be treated with acid in an effort to make it yield petroleum in commercial quantities.

Meyer Spots Shallow Wildcat In Edwards

Drilling is slated to be started at once on a 1,500-foot cable tool wildcat in Central Edwards County, 20 miles east of Rocksprings.

The prospector is to be drilled by V. J. Meyers, as his No. 1 L. G. Wardlaw.

The location is reported as 990 feet from north and west lines of a 100-acre lease in section 6, block F, GC&SF survey.

Benedum Flanker Readies For Acid And Testing

Slick-Urschel Oil Company and Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 Standefer, southwest flanker to the initial Ellenburger producer in the Benedum field in East-Central Upson County, and 860 feet from north and 1,987 feet from east lines of lot 3, section 50 1/2 P. B. Scott survey, had re-perforated the casing at 11,450-490 feet, and had also perforated the sections at 11,340-370 feet and 11,400-400 feet. All those intervals are in the Ellenburger, which was topped at 11,064 feet.

Operators are preparing to treat the perforated sections with acid, in an effort to make them produce oil and gas.

Interested observers hope that the water intrusion which had come in the well on a previous test, has been shut off by a recent cement squeeze job.

No. 1 Taylor & Sadler Continues To Flow Oil

Plymouth and Slick-Urschel No. 1 Taylor & Sadler, southeast outcrop to the discovery well of the Benedum field, and 860 feet from north and west lines of lot 4, section 50 1/2 P. B. Scott survey, now total a total of 240 barrels of oil through a one-quarter inch tubing choke, from open hole in the top of the Ellenburger at 11,475-502 feet.

That section had been washed with 300 gallons of acid. The oil being produced is clean of drilling mud. There is a possibility that the project may be given another acid treatment soon.

Central Midland Venture Makes Hole After DST

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E Wilson Bryant, 14 miles south of Midland, in Central Midland County, and 860 feet from north and 1,880 feet from west lines of section 26, block 29, TP survey, T-3-S, ran a one hour and 30 minute drillstem test in a Simpson lime and sand section at 12,897-954 feet.

Recovery was 40 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. The venture is making new hole, and has reached 12,988 feet in the same material.

NW Sterling Wildcat Has More Signs Of Oil & Gas

Ray A. Albaugh and Progress Petroleum Company No. 1 Mrs. Nellie Cannon Farramore, Northwest Sterling County deep wildcat, to try to find and test the Ellenburger, ran a 50-minute drillstem test in a Pennsylvanian zone at 7,019-67 feet which had an oil saturated section at 7,039-66 feet.

Recovery was 10 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. No shows of water were reported from the investigation.

The prospector is drilling ahead and will continue to the Ellenburger. It is 17 miles northwest of Sterling City and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 203, block 28, W&NW survey.

Sun No. 2 Ellwood Tests Ellenburger; No Shows

Sun Oil Company No. 2 Ellwood, South-Central Mitchell County prospector, which topped the Ellenburger at 7,614 feet on an elevation of 2,132 feet, according to unofficial calls, ran a one hour drillstem test at 7,614-29 feet.

There was a slight blow of air for a part of the period. Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

A core at 7,629-34 feet recovered one and one-half feet of dolomite, with no shows. The project is coring ahead. It is 660 feet from southwest and "southeast" lines of section 26, block 18, SPRR survey.

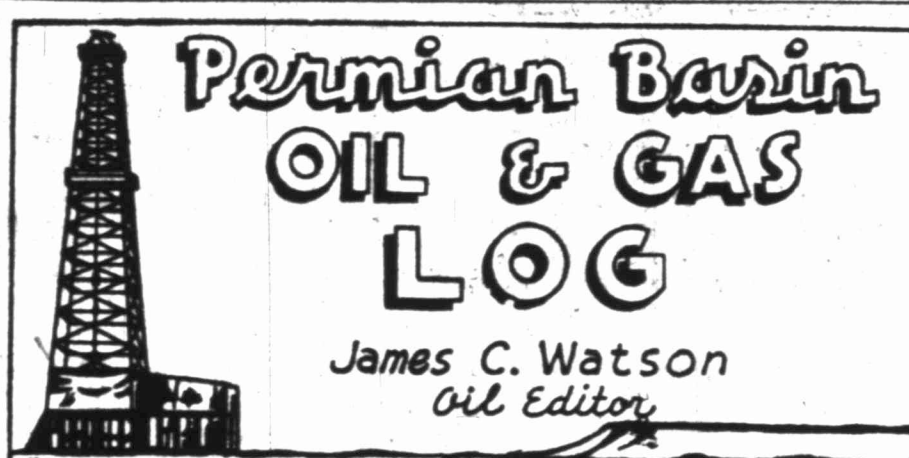

Gulf Abandons SE Ward Wildcat In Ellenburger

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E Bray, one mile north of Grandfalls, in Southeast Ward County, and 1,840 feet from southeast, and from south lines of section 14, block 5 H&TC survey, has been plugged and abandoned on a total depth of 10,895 feet in barren Ellenburger dolomite.

This exploration had only slight signs of oil and gas in the Ellenburger, and it developed considerable salty, sulphur water in the bottom section of that horizon.

Humble No. 1 Mitchell Gets No Shows On DST

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 J. C. Mitchell, Northwest Terrell County prospector, 30 miles northwest of Sanderson, and 1,700 feet from north and 2,080 feet from east lines of section 24, block 128, T&ST survey, took a 50-minute drillstem test in a sand formation, probably in the Pennsylvanian.

There was a weak blow of air for a part of the test period. Recovery was 370 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. The venture is making more hole below 8,762 feet in hard sand.

Tucker Field Extension Prepares For Potential

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 2 Nellie M. Tucker, extension well to the Tucker field in Southwest Crane County, and 2,870 feet from southeast and 660 feet from southwest lines of section 21, block 3, H&TC survey, flowed 648 barrels of 39.1 gravity oil in 24 hours from pay in the Simpson, above the total depth at 5,818 feet.

Gas-oil ratio was 600-1. The oil was cut with two-tenths of one per cent basic sediment. There was no water. The development is to take potential test and complete.

Garza Prospect To Set Pipe And Drill Ahead

Honolulu Oil Corporation is preparing to run 5 1/2-inch casing and drill ahead in the San Andres-Permian lime at its No. 1 Shelby County School Land fee, Northwest Garza County wildcat. Point at which the pipe was to be set had not been reported.

This prospector, located 3,360 feet from north and 440 feet from east lines of the Shelby County School Land survey, ran two drillstem tests above the current total depth of 3,672 feet.

The first was at 3,640-72 feet. The tool was open three hours and 15 minutes. Recovery was 13 feet of oil and 120 feet of oil cut drilling mud.

The second test was at 3,522-3,672 feet. The tool was open four hours. Recovery was five feet of clean oil and 300 feet of drilling mud.

No water has been developed from the formation showing the possibility of production. The prospector is three miles southeast of Southland and about six miles north of the PHD field.

After the casing is run and cement a cable tool unit will be moved in to drill the plug and drill deeper.

Swabbing Continues At Sterling Offset

Humble No. 1 Rufus T. Foster, one location south of the initial producer from the Wichita-Albany section of the lower Permian, to open the Marvin field in Southeast Sterling County, had re-treated the section above the total depth at 4,392 feet, in lime, with 2,000 gallons of acid.

The project was swabbed dry, and no new oil was recovered. Operator was continuing to swab.

It is 330 feet from west and 660 feet from north lines of section 19, block 15, H&TC survey.

Wishire To Perforate And Test In Strawn

Wishire Oil Company was picking up tubing at its No. 1 McElroy, deep wildcat in West-Central Upson County. Preparations were being made to perforate and test in the Strawn section of the Pennsylvanian.

This venture investigated the Ellenburger to 13,977 feet, found it barren, and ran 5 1/2 inch casing to 10,810 feet. Tests are to be above that depth, where a section showed some oil signs.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP—Texans Fear Depletion Of Vital Natural Gas Reserves

By HARVEY SCANDRETT Associated Press Staff

Easterners who give thanks for the natural gas that cooks their meals and fuels their factories may be surprised to hear that many Texans will not say "You're welcome."

Those Texans are afraid the day is not too far off when the state will run out of gas for their home use.

Nearly half — 45 per cent — of the natural gas used in the United States now comes from Texas wells. A spider web of huge pipelines carries it to the Eastern Seaboard and the Great Lakes region. Another big line is reaching for the Pacific Coast.

The "Big Inch" and "Little Big Inch" pipelines, built under war pressure to assure the East an oil supply when German submarines were preying on tankers, now are carrying gas. Within the last few days the Gulf Coast Northern Gas Company of Tulsa asked a federal permit to build a 1,184-mile, 26-inch line to carry gas from Texas to the Chicago area.

Talk Gas in Trillions
Where oil men talk in millions and governments talk in billions, gas men talk in terms of trillions. They are talking not of dollars, but of cubic feet of gas. Texas produced nearly 3,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas last year. It piped out of the state 525,000,000,000 cubic feet.

One of the most outspoken opponents of increasing export of gas to other states is Olin Culberson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission. That body rules on the amounts of oil and gas that may be produced daily in the state's fields.

Culberson said in New York last week that the life expectancy of the state's gas reserves, set at 43 years by "most optimistic" estimates, has been materially reduced through the building of new pipelines and the continued granting of permits of others by the Federal Power Commission.

Culberson did not contend Texas has any legal right to refuse to share its gas supply with other states. But he stated he firmly believed "that to deplete this great natural resource with its resulting impact on our local economy would work a great injustice on Texas posterity."

Fuel And Raw Material
The Texas official's contention was that gas is being exported into an area "that already has approximately 1,000 years of fuel supply." He referred to the Eastern coal fields. Texas has only lignite coal, a low-grade fuel which can not now be mined economically.

Gas is one of the bases of the booming new chemical industry on the Gulf Coast, particularly in Texas. It is a fuel and a raw material. Gasoline, carbon products and chemicals are refined directly from gas.

Referring to this new industry, Culberson said that "whatever products are made in these plants are useful and necessary in the everyday life of the citizens of every state."

Meanwhile, the well owners, the producers and the distributors are being paid for the gas and presumably are satisfied with the situation. The citizens of the state benefit through taxes levied on the gas. Taxes totaling 24 cents per 1,000 cubic feet are levied on the gas produced and sold. At three trillion cubic feet, that's 72 million dollars.

PETROLEUM RESERVE ESTIMATE INCREASED

The day when the nation's oil and gasoline tanks will go dry is set back nearly a year in a study just completed by the Oil Advisory Information Committee.

The committee estimated that the known volume of crude oil underground at 21,487,885,000 barrels, with additional total reserves of condensates, natural gasoline and other liquefied petroleum gases to bring the overall total to 24,253,975,000 barrels.

Senator George W. Malone of Nevada told the Interstate Oil Compact Commission meeting in New York last week that total reserves were estimated at 23,000,000,000 barrels. The present rate of use is about 2,000,000,000 barrels a year.

duction were also evident in higher formations at 7,800-8,000 feet, 9,415-9,600 feet, and at 9,800-9,900 feet. Operators expect to examine each of these zones through perforations.
The two higher sections showed some free oil. Interested observers think this prospect might be completed for petroleum output from one or both these horizons.
Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 148, block E, CCSD&RNG survey. The shallow McElroy field lies about five miles west.

Texas Gulf Plugs Barren Prospector in NW Gaines

Texas Gulf Producing Company No. 1 Oil Development Company, Northwest Gaines County prospector, 10 miles northwest of Seminole, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 315, block G, CCSD&RNG survey, drilled to 8,043 feet in dry lime and shale, and has been plugged and abandoned.
This project did not log any possibilities of making an oil well from any zone which it penetrated.

West Midland Wildcat Digs Ahead in Lime

The Texas Company No. 1 Scharbauer, one mile south of Warfield, in West Midland County, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 20, block TP survey, T-2-S, was making hole below 10,800 feet in sandy lime.
The development circulated for two hours at a depth slightly above the current level of operations to bring samples to the top. Those specimens did not carry any signs of oil or gas.

Upton Explorations Are Making New Hole

Richardson & Bass No. 1 Neal, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 9, block Y, GC&SF survey, 5 miles east of Upland, was below 11,523 feet, drilling lime and chert.
Republic Natural Gas Company was taking its No. 1-E-A Barnett, East-Central Upton County wildcat, down through the Ellenburger lime beyond 11,991 feet. It is two and three quarter miles northwest of the first producing well in the field, and 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 40, block Y, TCRR survey.

Projects in Benedum Area Drilling Ahead

Slick-Urschel Oil Company No. 1 Dixon was making hole below 4,240 feet in lime. This East Upton project is an extension effort for the Benedum field. It is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of the west half of the west half of section 3, block 4 1/2, C. Bendie survey.
Plymouth Oil Company No. 1-47 Gordon, in the east half of section 47, TCRR survey, was going ahead from 2,591 feet in shale and anhydrite.

Plymouth Deepens Pair Of Flankers in Reagan

In West-Central Reagan County, one and one-quarter northeast outcrop to the Benedum pool, Plymouth No. 1-46 Elliott had passed 10,410 feet and was continuing through shale and lime.
It is situated 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 46, block Y, MK&T survey.
Plymouth No. 1-2 Dixon, 660 feet from north and 2,526 feet from west lines of section 2, Peter Beach survey, had made 4,089 feet of hole. It was penetrating lime.

Three Shallow Wildcats To Be Drilled In Eddy County

HOBBBS, N. M.—Drillsters for three shallow wildcats have been established in Eddy County. In the northeast portion of the same county, another venture had completed its original contract without encountering any possibilities of commercial production and was to drill ahead to test into the lower formations of the Permian line.
One of the Eddy County prospectors, Resler Oil Company No. 1 McKee, is to explore to 2,500 feet in the west-central sector of the county. It is 2,310 feet from north and west lines of section 33-26-25e. Roach & Shepard Drilling Company is to dig a Delaware test to around 2,100 feet at its No. 1 Gates. This South-Central Eddy prospector is 14 miles southwest of the Black River field, and 330 feet from the south and east lines of section 10-25-26e.

Prospector To Deepen
The third wildcat is to be operated by Wright & Eitz in North-Central Eddy County. It is designated as the No. 1 Yates, and is 330 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 6-20s-27e, about seven miles south of the Dayton Pool. It is to be a 1,500-foot venture.

The application to deepen was filed for the Schuster & Schuster No. 2 Stagner, situated in an undeveloped area of Northeast Eddy County. This exploration, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 31-17s-31e, drilled to 2,415 feet. As that horizon was barren, operators plan to go ahead to 3,700 feet.

Discovery Re-Perforates
All perforations had been squeezed off at Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 39-A-2 State, first Pennsylvania discovery in Southeast New Mexico. This East-Central Lea County prospect was then re-perforated at 10,896-936 feet. Operator loaded the hole with oil and is awaiting in an effort to make the section kick off and flow in commercial quantities.

Location is 990 feet from north and 1,650 feet from west lines of section 9-22s-36e, eight miles southwest of the Hobbs field. It is on the east side of the shallow South Eunice field.

The four outposts to the discovery for flowing production from the Devonian in the Crossroads field in extreme Northeast Lea County were making more hole.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-C Santa Fe-Pacific, 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 26-9s-36e, was below 8,110 feet, drilling shale.

In Crossroads Region
Skelly Oil Company No. 1 Sawyer, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 33-9s-36e, was deepening from 9,492 feet through lime and shale.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Company's two Crossroads flankers, the No. 1-B Sawyer, 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from north lines of section 34-9s-36e, and the No. 1 Desbie Sawyer, 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of section 27-9s-36e, were both boring ahead.

The No. 1-B Sawyer had passed 9,708 feet in lime, and the No. 1 Desbie was continuing beyond 8,778 feet, also in lime.

In the panhandle of East-Central Chaves County, Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1-A State was drilling under 10,085 feet in a lime, thought to be still Pennsylvanian.
Due To Test Devonian
This scheduled Devonian exploration is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 23-9s-32e. It is expected to reach its objections around 12,000 feet.

Approximately 16 miles southeast of Roswell, in Central Chaves County, Richfield Oil Corporation had squeezed off all perforations on the No. 2 Comanche unit. Until recently, pumping tests on this project had shown some water and small amounts of oil. However, those tests shows have diminished almost completely, and a retainer has been set at 6,178 feet.

Operator plans to perforate and test this Devonian section at about 6,080-160 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 24-11s-26e.

Drillstem Slated
Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-U State, East-Central Lea County wildcat, six and one-half miles south of Hobbs, was bottomed at 5,780 feet, preparing to run a drillstem test.

Nearest production lies north about four and a half miles in the south end of the Hobbs field. The venture is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 2-20s-38e.

It encountered some oil and gas signs in a higher formation at 4,540-650 feet.

'Where's Princess' Is 64-Wampus Question

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Chief Wh-Ne-Ota and his Scalp Hunters are searching for the trail of their princess.

The chief is a real Indian and the Scalp Hunters are his band—night club variety.

The princess is his 22-year-old wife, the former Anna McGuire. The chief said he last saw her a week ago. She was dressed in full Indian regalia.

"How," he asked, "can a costume like that stay missing with a girl in it?"

That is the 64-wampus question. The chief recalls that six months ago Anna disappeared for three days while suffering from amnesia. He fears she may have a touch of the malady again and be headed for her mother's home at Chambersburg.

FIREMEN MAKE THREE RUNS FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Midland firemen made three runs Friday afternoon, but none of the fires caused extensive damage.

Burning grease in a barbecue pit at King's Drive in prompted a run at 2:30 p. m. At 4 p. m., another run was made to a trash fire at 306 North Fort Worth Street. Forty minutes later, accumulated grease in a flue leading from the Crawford Hotel Coffee Shop caught fire and resulted in the third run firemen during the afternoon.

Care And Courtesy

"Save a life on city streets and on the open highway by being careful at all times" is a phrase which should be uppermost in the minds of motorists at all times.

Too often citizens who usually are meticulous in other ways, lose all sight of care and reason when they get behind the steering wheel of an automobile for a spin through the city or for a trip on our modern highways.

The two Cs, Care and Courtesy, must be preached and preached until motorists wake up to the fact that an automobile, operated without Care and Courtesy, is one of the world's most dangerous and most deadly weapons.

Collisions occur daily on the streets of Midland, and in most instances the crashes could have been avoided had Care and Courtesy been practiced.

The same thing is true on Midland County highways, where more than 12 fatal accidents have been recorded this year. A frightful toll, indeed, and one which should make motorists stop, look and listen to reason.

Police officers continually are urging full observance of traffic regulations, pleading with motorists to practice extra caution in school zones and in residential sections where small children often play in the streets.

The warning not only is directed to motorists but to pedestrians, both children and adults, and to cyclists. They too must stop, look and listen before crossing streets, playing in streets, and being careless in other ways.

Stressing Courtesy as the best means of reducing traffic accidents, the National Safety Council offers the following rules for life saving on streets and highways:

- Consider carefully the rights of others. Offer hand signals before stopping or turning. Understand both local and state traffic laws. Rely—not on HIS brakes, but on your own. Take time to reach your destination safely. Exercise reasonable judgment and common sense. Stay within your own lane, except for passing. Your courtesies will reflect in the attitude of others.

People who never brag shouldn't brag about it.

WASHINGTON—The Bureau of Printing and Engraving is preparing to issue a new $20 bill. If you'll look at the back side of one of the present twenties, you'll see why. It shows a picture of the front of the White House.

Most people think this is the back of the White House. The 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, entrance side of the White House grounds, is usually considered the front, but it isn't.

Bureau of Engraving Director Alvin H. Hall says new official photographs showing the balcony have already been taken, and engraving plates have been made. Printing hasn't begun. But the new "balcony bills" should begin to show up in circulation in about six months.

Andrew Jackson's picture appears on the front of the bill. It will stay there. There isn't any chance that Harry Truman's likeness will be substituted, to go along with his balcony. It's against the rules to put any President's face on a coin or stamp while he's still living.

The present $20 bill design, first to use the White House, was originally issued in 1929. That was when the present small-sized bills were substituted for the big bills of previous issues. There hasn't been a new design since.

The Bureau of the Mint wishes that people would stop asking why Joe Stalin's initials appear in very small type below the profile of Franklin D. Roosevelt on the 1947 Roosevelt dime. The J. S. doesn't stand for Joe Stalin at all, but for John Sinnock, famous engraver of the mint, who died a year ago last April. Somehow this Stalin rumor

Former Kermit City Officials Are Indicted

KERMIT—Bonds of $1,500 have been made for the men formerly connected with the City of Kermit following indictments returned against them by the Winkler County grand jury. The grand jury had been investigating the case several months.

W. H. Wilson, former mayor of Kermit, was named in a true bill charging misappropriation of public funds and swindle. John W. Ray, former contractor for city water and sewer improvements, and Hugh C. Dickson, former city engineer, and Wilson were named on a true bill charging conspiracy to swindle.

The true bill against Wilson alleges that in January of 1948, he drew to himself a check for $150 on the general fund of the City of Kermit for services as corporation court judge, "knowing that he was not entitled to receive the same."

The bill against Ray, Dickson and Wilson alleges that in December of 1947 they "did unlawfully conspire, combine, federate and enter into a positive agreement with each other to swindle by means of false pretenses and devices and fraudulent representation to deliver to Ray the sum of $412 and to Dickson the sum of $153.36."

The grand jury also made recommendations in its report to Judge G. C. Olson that the City of Kermit, which now operates on the commission plan, adopt some other plan of government. The recommendation read in part: "During our investigation in connection with the indictments now presented it is the considered opinion of the grand jury that the City of Kermit now operating under the commission form of government does not provide for adequate representation of the citizens of the community."

Proclamation

WHEREAS, The President of the United States has proclaimed September 18, 1948, as Air Force Day to honor the air arm of the National Military Establishment; and WHEREAS, the United States Air Force on September 18, 1947, in the Fortieth year of its history as the world's oldest military air organization, became an autonomous Air Force, and is this year observing its first anniversary as an independent organization in the defense structure of our nation; and

WHEREAS, a grateful citizenry, recalling the years of experience, of development, and of service that have produced its present capabilities and efficiency, recognizes the United States Air Force as one of the nation's most far-reaching weapons of defense;

NOW, therefore, I, mayor of the city of Midland, Texas, in order that we may honor the men and women of our Air Force for their contributions to the development of American aviation and to the growth of American air power, often at the sacrifice of their lives, and likewise recognize the service of those who in the armed forces or in the civilian centers of science, research, and production have aided in the building of our air might, do hereby proclaim Saturday, September 18, 1948, as Air Force Day in Midland, Texas.

In witness thereof, I hereunto set my hand and cause the seal of the city of Midland, Texas to be affixed.

On this 11th day of September in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America to one hundred and seventy-third.

R. H. Gifford, Mayor of the City of Midland, Texas.

Reservists To Get Training Course Over Weekend

The first of the two September weekend training sessions for Army reservists of the Midland area will be held from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Sunday at Midland Airport. The instruction, under the direction of Col. L. E. Patterson, general staff personnel officer of the First Logistical Division, Midland Army Reserve unit, will cover activities of a division staff as they affect leadership of a division commander.

A special feature of Sunday's instruction will be a discussion of "Signal Intelligence Operations in the Pacific Theater" by former Signal Corps Captain K. E. Nichols of Midland. Nichols spent a considerable part of his overseas service behind Japanese intelligence reports of enemy activities.

Instructors for Sunday's training include Lt. Col. F. B. Whitaker, Lt. Col. Boyd Laughlin and Colonel Patterson, all of Midland. Colonel Patterson also will discuss "Events Which Led to the Fall of Java in March, 1942," much of which he witnessed personally.

All enlisted and officer reservists of Midland and vicinity are urged to attend as much of Sunday's instruction as possible.

Ball And Arnaz Are Reassured About That South African Trip

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — Donald O'Connor was such a success in South Africa, on a personal appearance tour, that John Schlesinger, who owns all the theaters down there, is contracting for 12 more American personalities to make the trip next year. Two of the first to go will be Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz. Lucille and Desi were worried as to how their act would go over with the cannibals, but O'Connor put them at ease. "Don't worry," Donald assured them, "They'll eat it up."

The stories about Harry James breaking up his band aren't true. He's set, among other things, to play an engagement at the Hollywood Palladium in November.

Walter Wanger is being swamped with letters and telegrams from all over the world congratulating him on signing Greta Garbo to make another picture in Europe and there's a chance that some of the scenes will be filmed in Garbo's native Sweden.

Promised and hoped for Danny Kaye singing a comic song to Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody in "Happy Times." The stunt has been tried before, but until Danny came along, nobody was able to talk fast enough.

When you see RKO's "Blood on the Moon," you'll see Walter Brennan playing an embittered homesteader. Take a good look at a squaw sitting in front of a wigwam in the same film. The squaw is Brennan, too, playing the part for laughs. It offered him the only opportunity of playing in a scene with his daughter Ruth, who plays an Indian girl in the picture.

Trene Dunne has the shortest haircut in town and on her it looks wonderful. It's even shingled up the back.

Marie MacDonald's personal appearance tour, after getting her release from M-G-M, is to prove that the Body also has a voice. She sang with top bands before landing on the screen.

Hoagy Carmichael is causing the biggest sensation in England of any American entertainer since Danny Kaye and Jack Benny. The BBC held a special two-hour broadcast in honor of Hoagy, featuring 20 of his songs on the show.

Glenn McCarthy, the Texas oil millionaire turned movie producer, is talking the F. K. Wrigley about the purchase of Catalina Island. The price is up to $22,000,000.

Brian Donlevy wants full custody of his daughter (he gets her eight months of the year now) and will go to court this Winter to start the legal wheels turning. THAT'S MORE LIKE IT! Edna Abner no longer is the simple Nature Boy. He's traded his jeep for a yellow convertible with Nature Boy painted across the back.

Dorothy Sandlin, who started in "Vagabond King" at the Creek Theater here, is the latest candidate for the feminine lead in Cole Porter's new Broadway show, "Miss Me Kate."

Jimmy Stewart doesn't know it yet, but there's a beauty in Hollywood who has a violent crush on him. She's 23-year-old Elois Jensen, the fashion designer. She's telling friends she won't ever get married until she has a chance to be dated by Jimmy. Well, that's a Leap Year switch.

Low Ayres' vacation was a switch, too. He toured the backwoods of Northern California in an Army surplus jeep, sleeping in the open, doing his own cooking and stopping to knock out oil.

Polio Outbreak Now At Peak; Is Following Regular Pattern

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1948 outbreak of polio in the United States is now at its peak, and if it goes on from here as nearly all others have, it will end with about 22,000 victims, the third largest number in the nation's history.

If it goes that high in victims, it will cost between $25,000,000 and $35,000,000 for medical care, mostly coming from March of Dimes.

Ordinarily the peak for infantile paralysis is the last week in August and the first in September. This year is following the pattern of other years, despite the fact that this year the polio epidemics started about two months earlier than usual, with the current outbreak in Texas.

Usually, after the August-September peak there are as many additional cases as there were before. This year so far shows no sign to justify hope it will be different.

The total cases on September 2 were 11,155. Multiply that by two to get the normal prospect. The top was 1918, with 27,363; second with 25,989; third 1944 with 19,029.

Emergency Funds The figures are from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which collects and administers the March of Dimes. The foundation up to a week ago had sent, as emergency funds, $2,800,000 to hard-hit states and communities. The foundation calculates that this emergency money will reach $5,500,000 by the end of the 1948 epidemic.

Emergency money from the national office is what states and communities get after they have exhausted that part of the dime money kept by the local chapters. The largest emergency contributions have been made to the three states—California, Texas and North Carolina—where this year's epidemic was worst. Totals to the three are $633,400.

Only one state has zero cases, Rhode Island. Nevada has two, New Hampshire, seven. All other states, and the District of Columbia, have more than 10 cases each.

This year follows the average, 65 per cent of more of the polio victims will recover with no permanent danger. Around 15 per cent will suffer more or less serious shrinkage of limbs. Five to 10 per cent will die.

Absent Average Thus far there is no reason to expect much difference in the polio toll. Sometimes there are differences in the virulence of the viruses that cause this disease, making some outbreaks milder than others. This year's virus appears to be about average.

One new hope for a drug for polio appeared in Columbia University research with darvulic, a sulfa-like medicine. This drug cured polio mice. The hopes were not based on the animal results so much as on the fact that this is the first drug ever to show any effect on polio of any kind in animals or in human beings. This first break leads medical scientists to believe that if it can be done once on an animal, it can be done ultimately on man, even though a different drug may be needed.

(The Houston Post said recently that darvulic has been tested on at least 51 human polio patients at Jefferson Davis Hospital there and found effective in early stages of the disease.)

Two Objectives Other important research this year had two objectives. One was to find out how many different types of polio virus attack human beings. Two are definitely known. Several others are suspected to exist. In the attempt to make a polio vaccine, it is already apparent the vaccine good for one of the two known human polio viruses is not so good for the other one.

The second objective is to discover a prompt method of diagnosing polio and of finding polio carriers. To date this detection has taken weeks to months for a single individual and has cost hundreds of dollars per person. A new French method taking only 10 days to two weeks of test tube work was reported last month. Two weeks is too slow to be of much help to polio sufferers. But it would be useful to spot the carriers.

If one female fly started a line of "hatch-proof" eggs they would produce 131,000,000,000,000,000,000 descendants within six months.

Food Situation Is Tito's Major Problem

In cities, towns and villages the non-farming population grumbled openly over shortages and soaring prices. There were open curses from thousands of peasants from whom the government forcibly sought pigs at prices about one-tenth of open market prices.

American Horse Captures Classic St. Leger Stakes

DONCASTER, ENGLAND—(P)—American-bred Black Tarquin staged a storming stretch drive Saturday to capture Britain's richest racing prize, the classic St. Leger Stakes, for owner William Woodward of New York.

Jockey Edgar Britt booted the Yankee flyer, 15-to-2 third choice, home first by a length and a half over the international field of 14 to pick up a purse of 15,368 pounds ($61,472).

Lord Derby's Alcyon was second at the end of the grind of a mile, six furlongs and 132 yards, with Solar Slipper third. The French-bred favorite and English Derby winner, My Love, was a well-beaten sixth in the last of the season's three-year-old classics.

Black Tarquin's triumph made it a black day for English racing in every department. Britt is an Australian and the brown colt's trainer is Capt. Cecil Boyd-Rochfort, an Irishman, who trains at Newmarket.

The king and queen and an estimated quarter-million other race fans lining the Town Moor Track saw Black Tarquin finish in 3 minutes 8.6 seconds after coming from far back in the early running.

The pace was so slow there never was a chance the winner would threaten the Doncaster record of 3 minutes 1.6 seconds set by Coronach in 1926 and equalled by Windsor Lad in 1934.

SWC Elevens Favored To Win Openers

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

A Southwest Conference football campaign heavy with intersectional games and expected to be the best-balanced in history in the championship race, begins to move this week.

Four conference teams have their first games Saturday, three of them facing intersectional foes. The other—Arkansas—clashes with Abilene Christian College of the Texas Conference.

Texas A&M, making its start under Harry Stiteler, the ex-Aggie brought home to put the Cadets back on the glory road, journeys to Philadelphia to battle veteran and awesome Villanova.

Texas opens its rebuilt stadium, now seating 68,000, in a tussle with Louisiana State.

Texas Christian, one of the top-rated teams of the Southwest, engages Kansas at Lawrence, Kans.

Three Outfits Idle

The other three members of the conference—Southern Methodist, Baylor and Rice—do not swing into action until next week. Defending Champion Southern Methodist plays Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh.

Baylor gets Tulsa at Waco and Rice encounters Sam Houston State at Houston September 25.

Texas A&M is hoping for a good beginning and has an excellent chance of beating Villanova despite its big bulge of veteran material.

Texas, rated in most quarters as the favorite to win the conference championship, will meet an LSU team that doesn't fall in the usual class of Tiger elevens. Louisiana State this year isn't expected to be very strong, and Texas will be highly favored.

Texas Christian should give Kansas an interesting afternoon—in fact the burly Frogs will be picked to take the Jayhawkers.

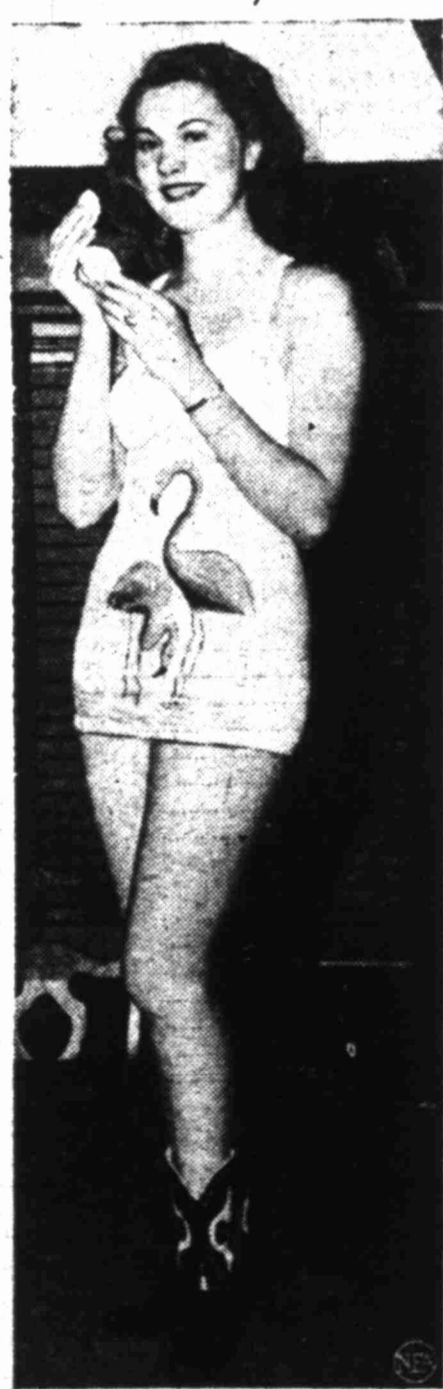

Arkansas may find Abilene Christian College interesting but should win without a great deal of trouble.

Kiner's Homer Gives Bucs 13-12 Decision

CHICAGO—(P)—Ralph Kiner's 39th home run of the year, delivered as a pinch batter with the bases full and two out in the eighth inning, gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 13 to 12 decision over the Chicago Cubs Saturday. The victory enabled the second-place Bucs to keep pace with the league-leading Boston Braves, whom they trail by three games.

The score: R H E Pittsburgh 13 002 312 050—13 15 0 Chicago 12 001 015 020—12 14 3 Chesnes, Higbe, Queen, Singleton, E. Riddle and Klutz, J. Riddle, Fitzgerald, Chambers, Borowy, McCall, Lade, Rush, Chipman, Dornier and A. Walker, Scheffing.

Kermit And Denver City Fight To Tie

KERMIT—The Kermit Yellow Jackets and the Denver City Mustangs battled to a 6-6 tie here Friday night. It was the first conference game for the two clubs.

The statistics department shows penetrations for the Jackets were two to one over Denver City, while the Mustangs marked up nine first downs to the Jackets six.

Denver City failed in three pass tries and connected on a short one for their six points. Five attempted passes by the Jackets resulted in two completed for a total of 16 yards.

The Mustangs' counter came in the third quarter on a pass by Baker from the two to Dunagan behind the goal. The kick was wide.

Late in the fourth, the Jackets failed to cross the pay stripe with the ball going over on downs to the Mustangs on their seven-yard stripe.

The Mustangs punted on the third play. Richard Almond, 142-pound jacket guard, caught the punt and galloped 40 yards for a touchdown. The kick was blocked.

Crane Blanks Ovs Of Big Lake 12-0

CRANE—Coach Bill Haralson's Golden Cranes blanked the Big Lake Ovs 12-0 here Friday night in a non-conference opener for both outfits.

Smith passed to Holcomb in the late minutes of the first quarter for 15 yards and a Crane touchdown.

Baylor gets Tulsa at Waco and Rice encounters Sam Houston State at Houston September 25.

Texas A&M is hoping for a good beginning and has an excellent chance of beating Villanova despite its big bulge of veteran material.

Texas, rated in most quarters as the favorite to win the conference championship, will meet an LSU team that doesn't fall in the usual class of Tiger elevens. Louisiana State this year isn't expected to be very strong, and Texas will be highly favored.

Texas Christian should give Kansas an interesting afternoon—in fact the burly Frogs will be picked to take the Jayhawkers.

Arkansas may find Abilene Christian College interesting but should win without a great deal of trouble.

Red Sox Stretch Lead In Double Victory Over A's

BOSTON—(P)—Boston's Red Sox moved three games ahead of the rest of the field in the American League flag chase Saturday night by shading the Philadelphia Athletics 2-1 behind the slick pitching of Lefty Mel Parnell.

The Sox had defeated the A's 9-1 in the daylight half of an afternoon-night program.

Parnell, who won his 13th game of the season, his ninth at night and sixth in succession, got in a bad hole in the last of the ninth when the bases became loaded on two walks (one intentional), a hit and a sacrifice.

But he brought a great shout from 34,002 fans when he grabbed Ferris Fain's high bouncer and pegged him to start a game-ending double play.

Dom DiMaggio's long triple to deep centerfield scored Matt Batts, who had walked, and Parnell, who had bunted safely, for Boston's two runs in the fifth inning.

First game: R H E Philadelphia 2 000 000 100—1 10 2 Boston 1 04 110 02x—9 13 1 McCahan, Holborow, Kellner and Rosar; Galehouse and Tebbetts.

Second game: R H E Philadelphia 2 000 000 100—1 5 0 Boston 1 000 020 00x—2 6 1 Coleman and Rosar; Parnell and Batts.

ABILENE—(P)—Herchel Martin, manager of the Albuquerque Dukes, clubbed 425 to lead the West Texas-New Mexico League in batting with the highest mark ever compiled in the circuit.

Bill Chick, league statistician, Saturday announced final averages which showed Martin to have bettered by three points the record set in 1940 by Edwin Schweda of Lubbock.

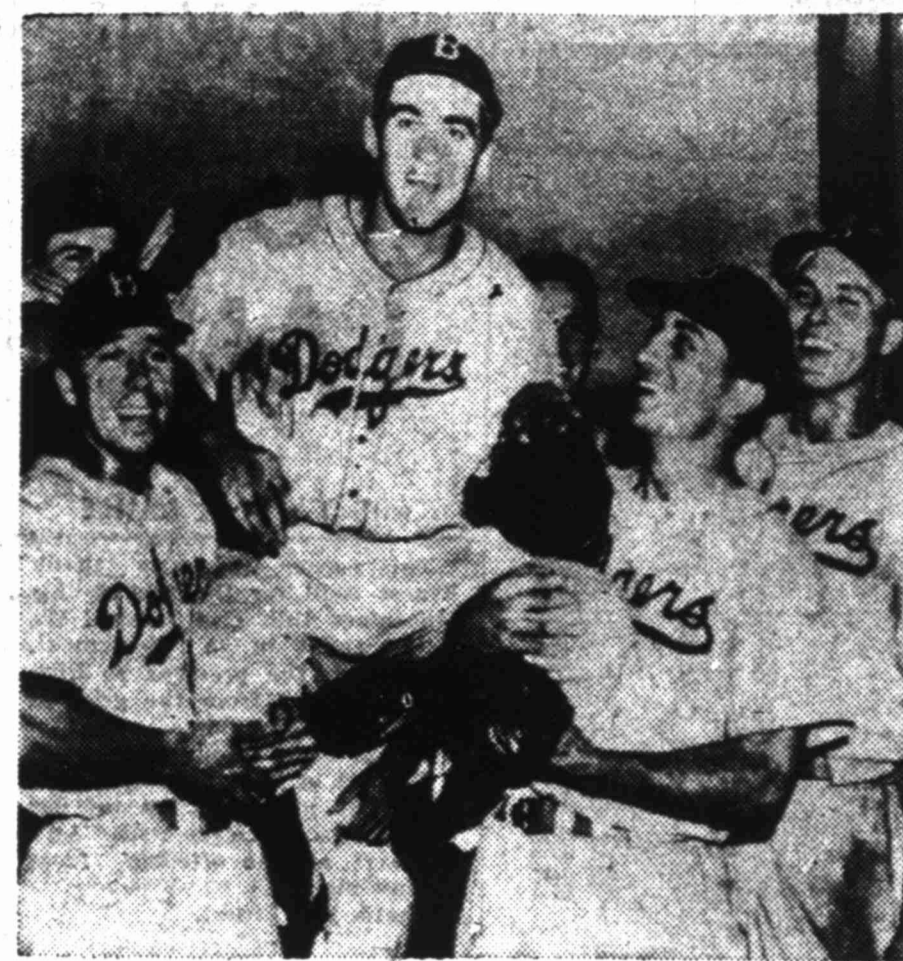

Martin had a 14-point bulge over second-place Tony Fiarito of Lamesa. Ed Carnett of Borger finished third with 409.

Giants All But Ruin Brooklyn In Twin Killing

NEW YORK—(P)—The New York Giants all but ruined the Brooklyn Dodgers' pennant chances Saturday when they trounced their interborough rivals twice 2-1 and 6-4.

A paid crowd of 48,583 saw Larry Jensen best Joe Hatten in the first game 13-inning duel to win his 17th decision of the season. Substitute shortstop Bobbie Rhawn's three-run homer with two out in the sixth and final inning furnished the winning runs in the nightcap.

The second game was halted because of darkness after the winning runs scored.

Trailing 4-2 when they came to bat in the bottom of the sixth, the Giants quickly disposed of starter Ralph Branca when Sid Gordon walked and Johnny Mize singled him to third. With southpaw Paul Minner on the mound, Willard Marshall singled to right scoring Gordon. Right-hander Hank Behrman came in to strike out pinch hitter Less Layton, but Rhawn, recalled from Minneapolis, last Wednesday, smacked his first pitch into the lower rightfield stands to give the Giants a sweep of the twin bill.

First game: R H E Brooklyn 000 001 000 000—1 7 3 New York 001 000 000 000—1 2 6 1 Hatten and Edwards, Campanella; Jensen and Westrum, Cooper.

Second game: R H E Brooklyn 201 001—4 10 0 New York 000 024—6 6 1 Branca, Minner, Behrman and Edwards; Hansen, Koslo, Trinkle and Westrum, Cooper.

In a normal year, New York state produces more than $1,500,000,000 worth of clothing, almost half the national output.

3AA Cage Card Set For 1948-49

The District 3-AA basketball schedule for 1948-49 was drawn at a meeting held Saturday in Big Spring.

Coach Jack Mashburn and Charles Mathews attended the session to represent Midland.

It was agreed that a double round-robin on a home-and-home basis will be played to determine the top four teams. Then the top four will draw out of the hat for playoff opponents. They will match for sites of a one-game "sudden death" playoff. The two emerging winners will match for site of a one-game championship contest.

Here is Midland's cage card: Dec. 14—Lamesa here. Dec. 17—At Odessa.

Jan. 4—Big Spring here. Jan. 7—At San Angelo. Jan. 11—At Abilene.

Jan. 14—Sweetwater here. Jan. 18—Open. Jan. 21—At Lamesa. Jan. 25—Odessa here. Jan. 28—At Big Spring.

Feb. 1—San Angelo here. Feb. 4—Abilene here. Feb. 8—At Sweetwater.

Abilene Subdues Breckenridge 7-0

ABILENE—Abilene's Eagles completely outclassed the Breckenridge Buckaroos and blasted an 11-year jinx in winning the opening game of the season here Friday night 7 to 0.

The score hardly shows the terrific power which the Eagles exhibited in collecting 18 first downs and gaining 230 yards on the ground. On three occasions the visitors threatened to tally.

The payoff was an 83 yard march in the second quarter climaxed when Bill Galusha took a wide lateral and raced around left end for 11 yards and the score.

Seeded Net Stars Survive Openers

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. — (AP) — Play followed the book in the first round of the National Tennis Championships Saturday. None of the seeded stars received even a momentary fright. Billy Talbert of New York City, the second seeded star, dropped one set before he knocked out Barney Welsh of Rockville, Md., 6-2, 6-1, 4-6, 6-1, but the few who watched the match on an outside court figured Billy was being charitable. Jaroslav Drobny of Czechoslovakia, regarded as the main foreign threat to the crown given up by Jack Kramer, looked the part in smashing Tony Vincent of New York City, a student at the University of Miami, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0. Bulldogs Win

Take Thriller From Ysleta By 21 To 20

By TANNER LAINE
The young, hustling and embattled Midland 3-AA Bulldogs twice came from behind two-touchdown leads of the Ysleta Indians Friday night to win a thrill-packed season opener 21-20 in the new stadium here.

After a scoreless first quarter, the visiting Indians from District 4-AA unleashed a potent passing attack which netted 13 points in the second quarter. Midland tabbed its first touch in the third quarter. Ysleta scored again early in the fourth quarter to make it 20-7 with about 10 minutes to play. The Bulldogs bristled and put over two tallies with the all-important extra points tacked onto them.

The first time Midland got the ball, it slashed down to the Ysleta five-yard line but the drive failed to cash. Larry Messersmith ran 34 yards on a gamble fourth down play in this drive.

Ysleta opened the scoring in the second quarter. The Indians took over a punt on Midland's 41-yard stripe and the march was on. Gene Gillis, quarterback and a lot of passer all night, heaved a 12-yard strike to Henry Bartell, wingback, over the goal-line. Dave Zubiate, fullback, place-kicked extra point.

The Indians struck quickly again in the second quarter. Bill Ellis, tackle, gobbled up a Midland fumble on the Bulldog's 15-yard line. In four plays the Indians were over with a five-yard pass, Gillis to H. Bartell. Zubiate failed to kick goal. The score was Ysleta 13, Midland 0, at the half.

Coach Barnes Milam's Bulldogs drove back 88 yards with the second half kickoff to score in the third quarter. The payoff was a 31-yard touchdown pass from substitute quarterback Frank Roberson to Lloyd Henderson, end. Larry Buckingham hobbled in and place-kicked the extra point.

Then came the tinging, nerve-wracking fourth quarter. Ysleta drove 62 yards for a third touchdown. Gillis heaved 24 yards to Billy Bob Plumley for the TD. Zubiate kicked goal. It was Ysleta 20, Midland 7.

Action and thrills from here to the seemingly elusive game-ending gun, were many. Ysleta kicked off to Midland. Stephens took the kick on the 10-yard line and ran it back to the 47-yard marker. Roberson unorked a pass to Henderson, which carried to the Ysleta 21-yard line. Stephens took out around right end to the 13-yard line and rammed to the six-yard line. Stephens boot-legged along the sidelines for the touchdown. Buckingham converted.

These scrapping Bulldogs wouldn't let the fans sit down. They kicked off over the goal-line to Ysleta. Working from their own 20-yard line, the Indians ran to the 25, fumbled, and Kent Miller, Bulldog center, pounced on the ball. Midland was long gone. Stephens ran to the 16. Stephens slipped around right end and along the sidelines to the five-yard line. He skirted to the one-yard line. Then Bill Little bolted through the center of the line with an explosive thrust which scored the touchdown tying the game at 20-20.

Buckingham Kicks
Larry Buckingham, who has a badly sprained ankle, calmly place-kicked the winning point.
Ysleta turned on desperate passing attack in the waning seconds but the fighting Bulldogs smelled victory and broke up the attack.
The game ended and all heck broke loose. Midland had won its opening game of the football season, by an oh so close, but sweet, score 21-20.

Lamesa Takes 7-0 Lovelland Contest

LAMESA—Lamesa's Golden Tornado whipped up a 7-0 victory over the Lovelland Lobos, 1947 Class A kingspin, here Friday night, scoring the game's lone touchdown in the first quarter, then dwindling to a breeze.

Dick Echols scampered 16 yards to set the touchdown up on the Lobo four, then John Tankersley crunched over for the winning marker. Larry Lattimore kicked the extra point.

Denison Baffles San Angelo 25-6

SAN ANGELO — A smooth-functioning Denison T attack rolled up 335 yards from scrimmage and buried the San Angelo Bobcats under a 25-6 landslide in the 1948 gridiron opener here Friday night. Relying on a ground attack almost entirely, the Yellowjackets completely baffled the Bobcats, who had been tabbed by pre-season dopsters to be one of District 3-AA's strongest aggregations.

The 1947 District 3-AA co-champions racked up 19 first downs to 13 for the Bobcats.

Sweetwater Rolls Over Vernon 20-0

VERNON — Pat Gerald brought his Sweetwater Mustangs to Vernon, scene of his former high school coaching triumph, Friday night and the Mustangs rode over the Lions, his former charges, 20-0.

The clubs battled to a draw in the first quarter, although the Mustangs had one touchdown call-back and the Pontes were penalized 15 yards for clipping. Sweetwater started the attack rolling in the second quarter.

Watch Out For Children's Police Slogan

Police Chief Jack Ellington Saturday warned Midland motorists to "Watch Out For Children," as schools again are getting in full swing with record enrollments.

"With the heaviest traffic in Midland's history, every motorist, including car, bus and truck drivers, must use utmost care in avoiding pedestrians, particularly children who often do unpredictable things," Ellington declared.

Particular care always should be exercised in school zones and in residential areas where small children often play in the street, the chief emphasized. He also cautioned motorists to exercise care when operating in view of school or city buses.

Strict Enforcement

Traffic officers working the school zones said speeding in such areas is a definite hazard, and regulations are strictly enforced. They also pointed out that pedestrians always have the right-of-way, and that full stops are required at all stop signs.

It is an excellent idea for motorists to have their cars checked regularly for defects, and to have repairs made immediately when needed, they said.

Mines Ex-Students To Meet Tuesday Night

Ex-students of the Texas College of Mines at El Paso, will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the VFW Hall at Midland Air Terminal. Bertie R. Haigh, Midland, and Joe Cosby of Odessa are in charge of arrangements.

All former students of the school in this area are invited and urged to attend.

Haigh said the purpose of the meeting will be two-fold—to arrange for a get-together preceding the Mines-McMurry football game in Odessa next Saturday night, and the organization of a Permian Basin Chapter of Mines ex-students.

Thad Steele of El Paso, formerly of Midland, who is president of the school's ex-student association, has been invited to attend the Tuesday night session.

Maine Squares Off For Primaries Monday

PORTLAND, ME.—(P)—Maine's election campaign came to a virtual close Saturday night with both parties hoping Monday's balloting will produce trends pointing to success in November's national election.

Republicans, confident of electing U. S. Rep. Margaret C. Smith the state's first woman senator, appealed for a better-than-usual majority. Democrats, who have not won a major political office in Maine since 1934, voiced optimism.

The old axiom, "As Maine goes so goes the nation," lost its punch with the Franklin D. Roosevelt era when Maine Republicans captured state elections while Roosevelt gained national victories.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —
By STANLEY FRANK

"Very active" was the description for the cattle market at Midland Livestock Auction Thursday. Prices were 50 cents to $1.50 per hundred-weight higher than the previous weeks on all classes except bulls, which were not present in sufficient number to establish a market.

Fat calves and yearlings bulked at $22.50 to $28.50, with medium ones at $21.50 to $24.50. Fat cows brought $18 to $21, medium ones $15 to $18. Canners and cutters brought $12 to $15, stocker steer calves and yearlings $26 to $28, and stocker heifers $24 to $26.

Irrigated system this year with a single crop of cotton. This is the way his neighbors and other observers figure this farmer's deal, without trying to pry into his personal finances: he is going to make a bale or a bale and a half per acre on 100 acres which he has irrigated. If he hadn't irrigated, he wouldn't have made any cotton at all. If he nets anywhere close to $100 per bale, his well and irrigation system is paid for.

The West Texas Fair at Abilene claims the world's first all-performance Quarter Horse show will be staged there during the three days, September 30-October 2. Only registered American Quarter Horses will be allowed to enter the three-day race meet and other performance contests including reining, cutting, calf roping and other athletic events, according to advance publicity.

Even though your cowlot correspondent burns with the usual eagerness for national recognition, he was hardly convinced he'd achieved fame's topmost rung when, when awhile back, he got a postcard inviting him to visit Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, along with about a trainload of other farm scribes, at the Dewey farm.

It seems the Man with the Moustache wants all rural reporters to come to see him.

But Friday, friends, came not a postcard or a mimeographed form letter. It was a personal telegram yet! Here 'tis:

"You are cordially invited to be my guest at the grange hall, Pawling, New York, at 11:30 Eastern Daylight Time, Saturday 18, to attend a dinner for daily newspaper farm editors and radio farm directors. Senator Aiken and Congressman Hope will be with us and we would like to get your views on the country's current and long-time agricultural problems as well as to have the benefit of any written memoranda you care to leave with us.

We should particularly like to have you come prepared to give us any suggestions you may have as to how the country may use this year's record feed crops to rebuild our low livestock population, and thus maintain its entire agriculture on a firm foundation. At milking time we plan to visit my farm.

"I do hope to hear by wire that you are coming. I will then wire you details of transportation which we will provide from New York City to Pawling and return. Thomas E. Dewey."

Thanks, Anyway Governor
If Governor Dewey were here where we could talk to him personally, here's about what we'd say in reply to this gracious invitation: "Well, now, Governor, that's mighty nice. We've never been to New York, and we're looking forward to it. But we can't come now. You say something about transportation from the City to Pawling. But the boss wants to know what about from Midland to N. Y.?"

Anyway, there's no use lying about it, it would all be a waste of money. Our views on the "current and long-time agricultural situation" are about as valuable as a bunch of dairy hands on a steer ranch.

Governor, they're a drug on the market.

And before you pay too much attention to those other barnyard beat pounders who come out to that farm of yours, Governor, listen to this little story:

Yours truly was valedictorian in his high school graduating class. There were three of us, altogether, in the class that year. The salutatorian made a career of being a corporal in the Army. Lowest man in the class was a big dumbbell who couldn't get his mind on his lessons for leering at the teacher. Do you know that poor, unenlightened lad is doing now? Well, sir, he's running a ranch of his own down in Pecos County. Probably couldn't raise over $100,000 this minute. He wasn't any good in algebra, but don't ever try to outfigure him on the shrinkage of a trainload of feeder lambs.

The point is, Governor, I don't know anything about agriculture or I'd make some money raising food and fiber instead of merely spending it raising cane. The same applies, believe me, to the really big-time farm writers who'll be on hand at your farm party. A farm writer who claims to know how to solve the farmer's problems isn't exactly to be trusted. Take Henry Wallace—he made an unbeatable record and lots of money writing about agriculture in magazines and books. He's either crazy or a Communist.

Of course, if he's a friend of yours, we'll take it all back.

And one more thing, Governor: We ain't gonna be around there at milking time as you suggest in your telegram. You might get those other cowpen Kiplings to help juice those Jerseys of yours, but not this boy. No, thanks.

We'd tell you why, but that's an udder story.

Harry Cowden, here Saturday from his Crane County ranch, said his range is greening up right along after a rain of more than 3 inches soaked it last week.

Washington Eyes State Convention

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON — (P)—Political leaders here have a close eye on the Texas State Democratic Convention opening Tuesday in Fort Worth to see who is recognized as the party's nominee for the U. S. Senate.

While the convention's canvass of the ballots is supposed to settle arguments in this unprecedented race, developments here could have an important bearing on the final outcome.

The Justice Department has received complaints broadly inferring fraud or at least irregularities in several counties. Both sides have asked an investigation of the voting.

Attorney General Tom Clark has made no comment except to say he will follow the recommendation of Assistant Attorney General Alexander Campbell. The latter says he is reviewing the case and does not expect to decide until after the Fort Worth convention whether to recommend an investigation.

Similar complaints also were sent to the Senate Rules and Administration Committee.

GOP Leaders Chertie
Senator Jenner (R-Ind.), chairman of the group's subcommittee on elections, has indicated it will look into the Texas situation if the complainants submit formal documents and statements to support their charges.

They figure that if the contest should fall of settlement in the state convention and get an airing before a Senate committee, it might aid the Republican senatorial candidates in the November election.

There is still speculation here as to whether retiring Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, who turned aside suggestions of several Republican leaders that he run for reelection on their ticket, might change his mind in view of the sharp split among Democrats over a nominee.

This is the Most Important Sign on Any Street

This is the time of the year when the sign, "School - 15 M.P.H. Zone" becomes the most important traffic sign on the street.

For the next nine months - five days a week and as often as four-times a day - school children will place their fates in the hands of motor vehicle drivers on our streets and highways.

Teachers do everything in their power to instill safety habits in our boys and girls, but sometimes, in the excitement of play, little folks forget the dangers of heavy traffic.

These teachers need the cooperation of every driver. Let's all help bring our children safely to and from school. Let's all remember that every street crossing is a place where some child may forget to stop, look and listen.

Senate Vote—

cause Adams to alter the returns from the county as originally canvassed.

He charged Stevenson, Dibrill and Hamer have gone into Jim Wells County "and by threats and intimidation attempted to have the votes of one or more of the voting boxes of said county eliminated from the official canvass of the official returns."

They sought, said Johnson, to have new returns forwarded to the State Executive Committee, taking votes from him "in sufficient numbers to change the results of the election."

The temporary order restrains the Democratic committee of Jim Wells County from re-canvassing election returns or eliminating any votes on the ground of illegality, irregularity or fraud.

Stevenson promised to show at both Fort Worth and Alton "beyond a reasonable doubt" that the complete returns published in the newspapers in Jim Wells County as the total vote cast in Precinct 13 in both the U. S. senatorial race and in the only other race on the ticket was 202 votes fewer than the vote announced a week later.

"We have evidence to show that these 202 illegal votes were added after the polls had closed," Stevenson said in a prepared statement.

"When this evidence was presented to me I made a visit to the City of Alice Friday for the purpose of examining the voters list, tally sheets and election returns. Coke Inspects Supplies
"The person having custody of the poll list, tally sheets, and election returns showed them to me in the presence of several witnesses but refused to allow me to copy the names of any of the additional 202 voters and refused to permit me to have a photostatic copy of all the names on the poll list and the tally sheets and the returns."

Stevenson noted that his opponent has mentioned several times that "certain of these bloc voting counties (have) cast their votes for me (Stevenson) in former elections."

Continued Stevenson: "My opponent denies that he bought any votes. A statement appearing in the press attributes the change to the facts that I, as governor, refused to appoint a district attorney in Laredo who had been endorsed by the political machines in Duval and Webb counties."

"Whatever the reason, it is apparent to every citizen of Texas that I could not be controlled by the machine and it was further in evidence that whenever the machine votes have been cast for a candidate for governor they usually vote against him the next election."

"This is the first time, however, that the returns have been amended several days after the polls had closed, to the point of trying to control the election of a state official."

Earlier, Stevenson said his representatives would be prepared to prove and will offer the necessary testimony in open court that fraudulent practices were committed in Voting Precinct 13 in the run-off primary. We will show the way and manner in which 200 names were added to the voting list in that voting box long after the polls were closed.

"If the plaintiffs lawyers will be there and meet in the issue forthrightly in open court without attempting to delay or dodge the issue, we will settle once and for all and quickly the question of fraud being committed in the election returns from Jim Wells County and to what extent," he added. Johnson Cites Law
With reference to his charge of illegal ballots in three counties, Johnson said: "The statute plainly provides what shall be on the ballot, and in absolute defiance of the statute and the direction of the State Democratic Executive Committee, the local election committees of these counties framed a ballot designed to invite non-Democrats into the primary. A vast majority of these non-Democrats opposed Lyndon Johnson."

He apparently referred to the placing of a referendum on the ballot to let voters express their choice between Democratic Nominee Truman and Berkeley and States' Rights Democratic Nominee Thurmond and Wright.

"Knowing, however, that questions of this sort can be raised only in an election contest in a court of competent jurisdiction, I have observed the law, and have asked my friends to see it only that the law is observed," Johnson added.

"This unfair attempt illegally to count me out is being fostered by certain special interests and their lobbyists who are directing this effort to deprive me of the office to which the voters have nominated me, and if they persist in their propaganda campaign, I will expose the companies and the men by name."

"If the losing candidate has any evidence to support his charges against the officially canvassed returns, he is entitled to his day in court. At that time, I will present my evidence."

Navy Again Turns To Blimps In Search For Submarine Defense

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Navy is turning once again to blimps in its search for ways to kill off any enemy high speed submarines.
A $1,500,000 engineering study has been started for the largest non-rigid lighter-than-air craft ever planned.
Award of a contract to Good-year Aircraft Corporation for the study was announced Saturday.
The new type "K" blimp, which the Navy is considering is just now a gleam in the Bureau of Aeronautics' eye. But when built it will be nearly twice the size of the "K" type used on anti-sub patrol during World War II.
Coincident with the blimp engineering study, the Navy Bureau of Personnel put out a call for young heavier-than-air pilots to train in "gas-bag" flying. Requests from ensigns and lieutenants (j.g.) must be in by mid-October; flight training starts January 17.

tics came at the hearing on the Harris County dispute.
W. A. Combs, Houston attorney, said the States' Righters were using such tactics to infiltrate and destroy the Democratic Party from within.
O. A. McCracken, Jr., representing the anti-Truman delegation headed by R. W. Milner, Jr., called this accusation "window dressing" and referred to the delegation led by Sam D. W. Low as "Boltingcrats."
Combs contended that most of the Milner delegation had demonstrated publicly by their open advocacy of Governor Thurmond that they are not loyal to the Democratic Party.
The sub-committee will make no decision on which of the contesting delegations it will seat until Sunday, said J. D. Dickson of Seymour, chairman. It will have hearings Sunday on contests involving Stephens and Montague County delegations and any others that might crop up.

Whether he was consulted in advance on the next move or was informed of a decision already made by President Truman and Marshall was left unanswered.
Vandenberg came publicly unannounced to the capital from New York where Friday night he put potential aggressor nations on notice that America is united against them regardless of the political partisanship of the presidential campaign.
He talked for more than two hours Saturday with Marshall, Undersecretary Robert A. Lovett and Charles E. Bohlen, State Department counsel. Vandenberg himself declined all comment to reporters, but responsible officials said Berlin crisis was the main topic.

Midland Firemen Open Drive This Week For Mechanical Life-Saver

A $1,200 iron lung is the goal for which Midland firemen will start an all-out drive Monday.
The firemen will send sheets of gummed envelope seals, along with invitations to make contributions. Also, they will make personal calls on downtown businesses and offices.
The lung, a Mulliken Respirator, is of the compact, portable type which may be used anywhere. It may be operated by electricity or by hand, and it may be used on a patient being transported by land or air.
All firemen will be taught to use the machine.
Emergencies in which the lung might be needed include those in which a person is overcome by gas, smoke, or other causes. The lung would be available for emergency polio treatment, too.

had repeated his call for a national election.
In forming his centerpiece regime Quetille ignored both the Communists and the De Gaulleists. The next hurdle comes when he submits the names of his ministers to the National Assembly, probably Tuesday.
Assembly approval would end France's governmental crisis which began August 28 when Andre Marie's regime resigned over the issue of wages.
Quetille has offered France a stern program of budget reductions and increased taxes in an attempt to get the nation back on a sound financial basis. He has outlined a policy much the same as that which caused the downfall of the Marie Cabinet and before that of the cabinet headed by Schuman.

Prudent Consideration Advised In Building Of Garden Apartments

and planning features which affect tenant convenience and maintenance problems should be carefully studied by the developer of garden apartments when planning a permanent investment, advises Gus Ring, president, Ring Engineering Company, Washington, D. C. Ring says that developments have been built without proper consideration of these matters, Ring says.

Ring, writing in the current issue of Urban Land, published by the Urban Land Institute, has pioneered in the building of garden-type apartments in the East Coast area for many years. His Colonial Village, built in Virginia across the Potomac River from Washington, was the first of its kind to be insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

In his article entitled, "Pointers on Garden Apartment Operation," Ring suggests careful study of vehicular traffic control, lighting, air circulation, and closet space. Unless proper attention is given to tenant convenience, Ring said apartment rental material when the rental market changes.

"A good portion of the site should be devoted to landscaped open spaces and recreation areas," the builder said. He goes on to suggest that due consideration be given such points as the types of services to be offered, location of nearest shopping centers, location of nearest schools and churches, parking facilities, available transportation, location of park and play areas, trash collection, and what, if any, utilities are to be furnished. "These items should be considered very carefully and plans drawn accordingly. A tenant is like any other buyer, he wants the best he can get for his money and he will go where he can get it," Ring emphasized.

Re-Siding Job Adds To Appearance Of Worn-Looking House

Of the various remodeling jobs that can dress up a drab, worn-looking house probably none has more dramatic effect than application of attractive new siding. Such materials as asbestos cement siding, for example, not only revitalize a dreary home but afford improved weather protection and eliminate maintenance expense for years to come. Additionally, of course, they increase considerably the re-sale value of a house.

Asbestos siding has been particularly popular among home owners because it is fireproof and resistant to rain, snow, cold and heat. No initial painting or subsequent preservative treatment is required. Two general types of asbestos siding are available. In one the exposed surface is textured in wood grain or tapered line designs. The other is smooth-surfaced. Both types may be obtained either with straight or wavy butt lines, and the textured type is available in a style which reproduces the effect of thatched shingles. Made in white and colors, asbestos siding can be applied over old wood shingles, clapboards or stucco.

Famed Wire Star To Perform Here

Hubert Castle, tight wire artist with Cole Brothers Circus, is one of the 350 stellar performers the big show will present in Midland September 17. Billed as the greatest of all wire aerialists, he does scores of difficult feats, including a somersault through a hoop as shown here. The huge circus will stage afternoon and evening performances during its one-day stay. Tents will be erected at Garrett's Show Grounds on West Highway 80.

Auto Parts Dealer Turns Tobacco Grower

LANCASTER, PA.—(AP)—An auto parts dealer who gave up his business to become a farmer claims he has shortened by 20 to 30 days the growing period hereabouts for tobacco. The average time of growth for tobacco here is 75 to 85 days.

But 55 days after Daniel Clemens planted four acres of tobacco on his nearby farm he began to harvest the crop. Clemens credits his method of fertilizing the ground for the shortened growing period. Instead of plowing under both manure and fertilizer, he said, he plowed under only the manure. Then he drilled the fertilizer into the ground with a wheat drill. O. E. Street, agronomist in charge of the tobacco experimental laboratory here, calls the growing period a record in the Lancaster area.

Moist eggs do not lie dormant during the cold months and hatch in the Spring.

The firm formerly was located at 118 South Main Street. In addition to repairing shoes of all kinds, the shop is known throughout West Texas for hand-made boots of exceptional quality.

FHA Schedules Conferences On Housing Laws

WASHINGTON—In continuance of the government's effort to stimulate residential construction in the lower price range, Commissioner Franklin D. Richards of the Federal Housing Administration announced that plans are under way for a series of nationwide industry meetings under the auspices of the Federal Housing Administration and the National Association of Home Builders. Tentative dates for these meetings, which will constitute another step in the cooperative effort of the government and private industry to increase the production of both sales and rental units, available to veterans and other families in the lower income groups, have been set for September 14-16.

The purpose of the industry meetings will be to review with home building and financing groups significant changes made in FHA mortgage insurance, plans as a result of housing legislation passed in the recent special session of Congress.

Increased Production
All segments of industry affected by the provisions of the act are being invited to attend. National and local trade associations are advising their memberships and it is expected that the benefits will be reflected in increased home production.

Among the topics planned for discussion are revisions in FHA regulations for mortgage insurance on small homes under Section 203 of the National Housing Act, new provisions affecting rental housing under both Section 608 and Section 207, and the incentives to site fabrication on large-scale projects of single family homes under Section 611. In addition, the provisions of Sections 609 (insurance of working capital loans to finance the cost of manufacturing homes) and 610 (insurance of loans for the purchase of properties acquired or constructed by the government), as well as Titles I (small homes and property improvement loans) and VII (Yield insurance) of the act will be explained.

QUALITY LUMBER IS BACK ...

Now you can go ahead with your building plans, confident that the kiln-dried, big mill lumber available from Chambers, Inc., will cut true, build true, and hold true for generations to come. Any building constructed of stained, twisted, inferior green lumber will sag, crack, and literally fall apart in a short time. Don't gamble with your savings — build to last with "quality" lumber.

GRADES FOR EVERY PURPOSE ...

Beautiful, flawless lumber for trim—sturdy, dependable joists — serviceable lesser grades for sheathing, forms, and less exacting uses ... you'll find them all at Chambers'.

PRICES ARE "RIGHT" ...

Whatever grade you choose, you'll find lower prices at Chambers', where you "Pay Cash and Save!" Don't be afraid to use the best lumber to get the best performance ... it saves you money in the long run, for straight, seasoned lumber speeds completion of your job and cuts labor costs as well. Upkeep and repair are negligible items to the man who builds wisely.

WE PLEDGE ...

That our lumber is properly seasoned, accurately graded, and of uniform quality. You can buy from Chambers, Inc., with full confidence that you will get the kind and quality of lumber you choose. If you're planning to build or remodel, call on us; there's no charge for consultation and our experience in all phases of construction will aid you to get the most for every dollar you spend. We're ready to help you!

Chambers, Inc.

For your convenience we furnish the following guide to grades and qualities. Call on us when you need fine lumber.

GRADE B & BETTER:

The very best grade ... choice, clear lumber suitable for the finest trim, cabinets, shelving, and all other work requiring an exceptionally smooth finish.

GRADE C:

Clear one side; not quite so good as B & Better, but frequently used in its stead.

GRADE NO. 1:

A very good grade of lumber, but slightly less clear than Grade C.

GRADE NO. 2 & BETTER:

Grade most generally used for shelving, cabinet doors, cabinet drawers, etc.

GRADE NO. 2:

In 2-inch lumber, excellent for use as joists, stringers, studs, etc. In 1-inch lumber, fine for shiplap, siding, and centermatch.

GRADE NO. 3:

A less expensive grade for use as sheathing, decking under composition roofing, and sub-flooring, where another material is to be used on top of it.

UTILITY GRADE:

The most economical grade; not suitable for finish or trim, but adequate where serviceability is the main requisite.

City-County Federation Will Open Year With Tea Thursday

The open membership plan of the City-County Federation of Women's Clubs in Midland was emphasized by Mrs. W. G. Epley, chairman, in announcing plans for its first Fall meeting at 3 p. m. Thursday.

It will be in the home of Mrs. Clint Dunagan, 1508 West Missouri Street, with the Twentieth Century Club as hostess. The club social committee, headed by Mrs. T. S. Edgington, is in charge. Dr. Lucinda de Letwith Tempin, principal of the Radford School for Girls in El Paso, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Epley said any woman interested in federated club work may be a member of the Federation without membership in one of the affiliated clubs, simply by enrollment and payment of the dollar-a-year dues. No personal invitation is necessary, she added. Members of the affiliated clubs are all Federation members.

The program for the opening meeting has been arranged by Mrs. J. Howard Hodge. The speaker is a well known educator and writer of the Southwest. "Who's Who in America" lists Doctor Tempin as a member of numerous clubs and learned societies which reflect her interest in education, welfare and civic activities, and the arts.

She is a director and vice president of the National Society of Arts and Letters, a member of the American Association of University Professors and the American Association of University Women, and in El Paso, of the Woman's Chamber of Commerce, the Pan-American Round Table, the College Club, and the Altrusa Club.

Holdings degrees of A. B. in political science, B. S. in education, M. A. in history, and Ph. D. in sociology, all from the University of Missouri, she has done graduate work at Harvard and at Columbia University. Before she went to El Paso she was academic dean at Lindenwood College of St. Charles, Mo.

Clubs affiliated with the City-County Federation this year are the Women's Wednesday Club, Twentieth Century Club, Fine Arts Club, Modern Study Club, Progressive Study Club, Junior Women's Wednesday Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, Midland Garden Club, Yucca Garden Club, Beta Sigma Phi and five of the six Home Demonstration Clubs of the county.

Mothers Map Plans For Brownie Troop

Mothers of Troop 17 Brownies met Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Bill Collins, 1900 West Texas Street, to map plans for troop operation and activities during the coming season. Mrs. Collins is troop leader and Mrs. R. H. McKay is co-leader. Mrs. George J. Johnson is troop committee chairman.

Girl Scout Council Head Asks Volunteers For Leadership

Because she feels she has learned more than she has taught, and received more than she has given in over a decade of work with Girl Scouts, Mrs. C. E. Bissell, president of the Midland County Girl Scout Council, asks for volunteers for leadership.

All women who are interested in helping with girls are invited to enroll for the training school. It will meet from 9:30 to 11:30 o'clock each morning, Monday through Friday.

80 Leaders Needed Mrs. Stanley Erskine, organization chairman, has announced 80 leaders are needed to work with 40 troops, including six new Brownie troops, a troop for Latin American girls, and Girl Scout and Brownie troops at Midland Air Terminal.

Mrs. Bissell points out that a variety of special talent is needed in adult workers, and that troop leaders need the help of women who can lead activities or teach skills of many kinds. Her own start in Girl Scout work came when her daughter, Peggy, was a girl of seven, wished to form a Brownie troop with some of her friends, but there was no leader.

Started With Boys That was when the Bissells lived in Rhode Island. A son, Bob, was already a Cub Scout and Mrs. Bissell was serving as a Den Mother for his pack, so she was willing to give time for a girl's group also. One woman took a leadership study course and assumed responsibility for the troop, and several of the mothers helped.

Mrs. Bissell was still helping when Peggy had reached the age of 15 and the family moved to Midland. Here she found need for services, and began work with the council. She served as organization chairman before her election as president, and now has been made chairman of a steering committee designed to correlate more closely the work of all councils in this area.

Since she has been president, the (Continued On Page Six) marked contrast to the blue and white uniform designed in 1912. Left, the new uniform, which was recently adopted, was designed by Mainbocher.

By EPIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—Succumbing to "The Look," the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. who step out this Fall in snappy new uniforms which bow to fashion's edicts.

Stylish by Mainbocher, top-ranking American designer who created the WAVES's much-envied war dress, the new uniform for senior Girl Scouts and troop leaders goes down to a 12-inch-from-the-floor length. The hemline of new uniforms is a front-buttoned classic with a buttoned-on classic which conform to the accepted lengths worn by 10-to-14-year-old girls.

The war's end, the return of scarce fabrics and the inability of any girl to say "No" to fashion's caprices have brought about a change in uniform for an organization which is faithful to its traditions. So faithful have the Girl Scouts been that up to now their official wardrobes have admitted only three fashion switches in uniforms since the founding of the organization: the blue duck middie blouse and skirt of 1912; the khaki uniform of 1913 (a World War I version of the 1912 style); the gray-green uniform of 1928.

The 1948 "Girl Scout Green" uniform of cotton covert, which standardizes the dress color for all troops, is a front-buttoned classic with an action-tailored back, button-down lapel tabs, deeper armholes and wider skirt panels. Dresses for the older girls and troop leaders are belted with dark green cowhide with dark green webbing for the younger girls.

The troop leader's hat, which also accommodates a classic woolen suit of Mainbocher's design, is a snappy classic with a stitched adjustable brim and a tall crown. The Intermediate Scouts will continue to wear their favorite dark green felt berets and the Seniors their overseas caps, redesigned for better head fit and more face flattery.

Intermediate Scout wears her new uniform which boasts notched collar with button-down lapels. A change was made in the favorite dark green felt beret.

Paris Hats For Autumn Revive Bygone Styles Of Other Days

By FLORENCE MILLS

PARIS (P)—Paris milliners are delving back both to the days of Napoleon's Josephine and to the 1920's for inspiration in designing Fall hats.

Every type of cloche, beret, turban and bonnet, and handsome cross breeds of all four, are being shown by leading houses.

Feathers, such as osprey, coque, pheasant, paradise and even vulture, are the main trimmings. Fur hasn't been shown by any house so far. Brilliant also are being widely used.

The front of the hat is the only place where there's any brim, and that, except for real poke bonnets, it's usually very brief, furled or like a narrow peak.

Gilbert Orecly's Fall collection, shown recently, highlighted glamorous turbans, bonnet types that looked very like short coat skuttles and cloche numbers that fitted close to the head like skullcaps. He also showed numerous high-crowned berets squashed in to fit the head.

An ear hugging black velvet cloche fitting very tight to the head was shown in Kelly green and splashed with a bunch of blood red tiger lilies at one side.

Toppers with six-inch crowns and curly brims inject a novel note into the Orecly picture. He shows them in pastel colored beaver felts, worn slightly to the side-back of the head. He rounds off the series with one in glistening white satin surmounted with a string of diamonds.

Maud Roser's Fall collection ranges through variations of the bonnet theme. She uses velvet, felt and even black patent leather.

Her latest idea in trimming is shown in masks superimposed on veiling which falls exactly to cover the eyes. A black velvet Dutch bonnet with the under-the-chin veiling had an eye length veil finishing in a mask dotted with black paillettes and outlined with black baby lace. This was repeated on a bonnet of crimson velvet. One in olive green felt was studded with tiny nut brown chenille dots which also served to outline a mask on brown tulle.

A corner in the United States common to four states is when New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Utah meet.

New Meters Enable Motorists To Use Pennies, Nickles For Parking

Several Midlanders called the City Hall last week to inquire why certain parking meters bearing instructions to use two nickles, a nickel and five pennies, or 10 pennies for two hours' parking time, refused to "pay off" for more than an hour.

This confusion occurred during a changeover from the old meters to the new, two-hour meters being installed throughout the city. It happened that some meters with the original, one-hour mechanism had been fitted with instruction plates designed for the new, two-hour mechanism. However, city employes have it all straightened out now, they reported Saturday.

Greater Area
Meanwhile, city workers are continuing to equip meters with the new mechanism permitting two-hour parking. Also, meters are being installed over a greater area of the city, as numerous drivers discover daily. When the extra 200 meters recently purchased are finally installed, a total of 715 meters will be in operation.

The new meters permit use of two nickles, a nickel and five pennies, or 10 pennies for two hours' parking time. Or, the driver may use a nickel or five pennies for an hour's parking time and additional pennies for additional fractions of an hour. Each penny is good for 12 minutes' parking time.

Losses on farms from fire are estimated at $99 millions annually.

Clever Team Makes Shining Home From Dingy, Old Storage Room

Spacious living room of the Paul Munroes' apartment was transformed from a run-down commercial storage room. Peggy Munroe is serving supper in the dining alcove which features shell-lined counter placed outside kitchen. Framed photo-montage above couch tells story of young couple's wartime romance. Paul made simple white wood frame for fireplace. Wall-to-wall carpet hides unsightly floor; dark green paint covers former mustard-colored walls.

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK —(NEA) — How one enterprising young couple licked the housing shortage by converting a run-down storage room into a shining modern apartment offers encouraging guidance to others faced with the problem of transforming make-shift quarters into a home.

The clever team of Paul and Peggy Munroe has spent 18 months on the project, mostly working after office hours. So the conversion is nearly completed.

"Sure, it's hard work. But if you're desperate for a home, you'll tackle anything," says Paul, radio program director for Newark (N. J.) station WNJR. Peggy, a top-flight radio and television actress and model, agrees 100 per cent.

First picture to be hung in their new home was a framed photo-montage of the story of their romance, which started on Guam. Peggy Warner, a Dover (Ohio) girl, met Paul, of Boston (Mass.) when she was tramping with the USO and he was a Navy lieutenant on Admiral Nimitz's staff. Married in New Jersey, the two came to New York after the war to pursue separate radio careers.

Following a succession of sublets, the couple took a six-year lease at $50 monthly rental on a huge (65' x 23') storage room in downtown Manhattan which had no gas, plumbing or electricity.

More discouraging aspects of their new home cited by the couple were cracked, dingy mustard-colored plaster walls; soft wood flooring with split seams; 12 tons of debris which had to be removed.

Plans for the new apartment, made while the couple slept on army cots and lived out of suitcases, were chalked on the floors until the present arrangements was evolved. Plans covering a spacious living room with kitchen and dining area at one end; a closet-lined hallway; bedroom and bathroom. Professional workmen were hired to install utilities, bathroom and kitchen equipment and to build dividing walls.

Paul's clever trick of caulking floors with white lead saturated with DDT and painting with rubber paint has proved an effective barrier against insects, mice and dampness. An inexpensive wall-to-wall beige carpet hides the treated floor.

Two closed-up chimneys were re-opened to make fireplaces. Paul framed one in the living room with simple, white painted wood strips. On the bedroom fireplace mantel, he added scrolled molding to a flat wood frame and painted it antique ivory.

With the help of friends, cracks in plaster were plugged up, walls washed several times, sized and painted. The couple elected to use dark green paint because it could be counted on to hide imperfections in wall surfaces.

To answer Peggy's demand for full-sized kitchen equipment, a sink, refrigerator and stove were enclosed in an eight by nine foot area. A curving shell-lined counter placed outside the kitchen doubles as dining table and added storage space for dishes. To set off the nook, light-painted wicket, a grooved plywood, was used on walls and curving eaves over the counter.

Peggy also exercised her feminine ingenuity to provide herself with a dressing room by sectioning off a bedroom corner with dark green curtains to match window draperies.

Another clever trick swung by the Munroes turned two arched alcoves, four feet deep, in which windows were recessed, into useful storage space. One alcove houses Paul's tools and radio hobby equipment. In the other, they are building a window seat from a dollar's worth of packing cases. Business papers will be filed in boxes under the seat. Top will be uphol-

Glamor Stick

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Women who want to chalk up their glamor-rating can implement that plot successfully with a new make-up stick. This solid stick of make-up cream swivels out of its plastic container, lipstick-fashion, from a revolving base.

Designed to sheathe the skin with a more beguiling veil, this stick first won its acceptance from movie stars, on whom it was pre-tested, before it made its national debut. Now, the stick from which a creamy make-up, color-matched to any skin, is stroked on at focal points of the face and fingertip-blended to create a uniform covering, has become standard beauty equipment of Hollywood's glamor gals.

What they applaud, say experts who make up their faces with the new foundation and a new technique, are the veil-like sheerness, convincing cosmetic color, suppleness and a look of dewy-freshness which the easily-blended cream imparts to their skin. Even the drying effects of powder pressed into the foundation do not make it tighten up or cake on the skin.

Touch-ups needed during the day, even serious ones such as are needed when mascara or lipstick color goes astray, can be made with the pan-stick at no risk of wrecking a make-up. All that's needed to mask mascara smudges, even after a good back-door-steps cry, is a stroke of the face-saving stick over any unsightly smears. A little finger-work after stroking and make-up is as good as new.

The same cover-up trick works as successfully over a lipstick-smudged mouth. The make-up stick may be used to blot out all of the old lipstick color before a fresh, cleanly-drawn coat is applied.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug-gist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcostratin. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose belly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 47 Pounds
"When I commenced to take Barcostratin, I weighed 215 pounds. I now weigh 148. I lost 25 pounds on the first two bottles. I feel so much better after losing that weight. I think it is a wonderful medicine and thanks to Barcostratin."—Mrs. George Grez, Chalmers Courts 4, Apt. 1, Austin, Texas.

(Continued from page 1) of Midland council has broadened its scope by reorganizing on a plan approved by the National Girl Scout Headquarters, as an Association Council. Mrs. Bissell was sent to Nashville, Tenn., for a training course on the new set-up.

That was not her first training course in Girl Scout work, for although she has never been a troop leader she has taken leadership courses and attended workshops to widen her understanding of a troop leader's problems and needs.

She is pleased that her daughter, now Mrs. Paul Anderson of Midland, has enrolled for the leadership course this week and will be a troop leader this year. She feels that she has learned with her daughter, and that what she learned of Girl Scout work has helped her in work with other organizations and broadened her life.

"Helping young people to learn as they work with a group is of the greatest benefit to them, and to their leader," Mrs. Bissell concludes.

Frocks Twinkle With Ornament

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—So rich and dazzling is the new "dress, but don't dress" fashion that this cover-up frock threatens to steal the show this fall.

Hindu-inspired and typical of the Indian richness of the Indian dancer's costume is one series of semi-formal fashions launched by Tina Leser. This designer uses long-sleeved, strictly tailored jackets of dark satin to point up the richness below of floating sari-skirts which out-twinkle the stars. The saris used for these spell-binding dresses are copies of the real thing, produced by an American embroidery firm.

To give the semi-formal dress its sumptuous look, other designers use glistening satin and shimmering pure silk taffetas and pave extravagant areas of fabric with gold, silver, bronze or jet sparklers. Pauline Trigere's applause-winning "dress, but don't dress" frock of black-striped carbon blue silk taffeta is a case in point. Posed at the top of a swirling, ankle-length skirt is a glistening bolero twinkling with jet bugle beads which follow the paths of the fabric's stripes.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, toilsome, fretful, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't waste your money on a load of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

DDT Fights Malaria On Oversize Scale

NEW YORK (AP)—A careful field test of DDT to control malaria worked so well that it has become a full-time project in the jungles of Venezuela. During a year's use of DDT in one area, the number of workers hospitalized with malaria dropped too weak to work for weeks at a time. The disease is spread by female Anopheles mosquitoes. The test and results are described in "El Feroi," publication of the Creole Petroleum Corp., a subsidiary of Standard Oil Company, Malaria in that working district ranked first among diseases that put residents in bed or made them too weak to work for weeks at a time. The disease is spread by female Anopheles mosquitoes. Chosen for the DDT war was the Caripito District of Venezuela, a lush jungle area on the San Juan River a short distance inland from the coast. The camp and outlying oil fields are surrounded by rivers, swamps, heavily wooded mountains and plains. Entomologists surveyed the area and studied the habits and kinds of malaria-bearing mosquitoes. There the cooperative program by the government and oil company was launched in April, 1947. Special squads of men sprayed DDT through the work areas, covering every home inside and out. Covering the whole area took three months. Then the process was repeated again. The number of mosquitoes declined appreciably along with such other pests as flies, cockroaches, scorpions, spiders and fleas. Records at the year's end showed an 80 per cent reduction in the number of malaria cases severe enough to be hospitalized. The saving in health among national employes was estimated at $160,000.

U. S. Proposal For Control Of Antarctic Gets Cold Shoulder

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has proposed international control of the Antarctic continent, twice as large as the United States. The proposal was made to the seven nations now claiming pie-wedge slices of the ice-covered continent, coldest on earth. The State Department says the United States never has made any formal claims to a portion of the Antarctica but reserves rights. These are based on discovery and exploration. An American, Capt. Charles Wilkes of the U. S. Navy, was first to identify the great mass of ice and snow at the South Pole as a continent. That was 110 years ago. The other seven nations—Great Britain, Chile, Argentina, France, Norway, New Zealand and Australia—have made claims based on exploration and administration. They left one wedge of the continent unclaimed.

What international control may mean the State Department has not explained. Does it mean the setting up of some sort of control commission representing all the nations of the world? Or would only the seven claimants and the United States be included in the commission? Would Antarctica's treasures be divided among the nations? Precious Metals Deposits The State Department said only that an agreement is necessary to promote scientific investigation and research. Officials say the proposal is exploratory and that if a plan is approved in principle the details will be worked out at conferences. There have been rumors that precious metals such as uranium and gold have been found in Antarctica, and the continent is believed to have vast coal deposits. American officials have denied uranium has been discovered. They add that even if there are coal and mineral deposits Antarctica is so far from civilization shipping costs might be prohibitive. But world distances have shortened. Antarctica, beyond the tip of the South American continent, might become a strategic war base. If the Panama Canal were closed, the only sea route from the east to west coast of the United States would be by way of the Horn. A foreign power with bases in Antarctica might disrupt such a supply line. Great Britain has announced she approves in principle the U. S. proposal for internationalization, but Argentina and Chile are reported to have raised objections. Claims of Chile and Argentina overlap that of Great Britain. The Latin American countries have said they will not recognize European colonies in the Inter-American defense zone, which runs from the North to the South Pole. These are some of the issues that will be debated if the U. S. proposal reaches the conference stage. There are more than 17,500 barn fires annually.

New Bridge Rules Effective October 1

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
NEA Bridge Editor

NEW YORK — A new code of bridge laws becomes effective throughout the world on October 1. There will be no scoring changes under this new code. Many had thought that the new trump count would be changed to the effect that the third trick at no trump would count 40 points and all others 30, but the new laws provide the same no trump scoring as heretofore, which is 40 for the first trick and 30 for all subsequent. The major suits will still count 30 points a trick and the minor suits 20.

No provision has been made in the new laws for party bridge. Therefore it can be assumed that the public will continue to play party bridge under the following rules of scoring: Game in hand, 300 points when declarer's side is not vulnerable; 500 points when declarer's side is vulnerable.

The vulnerability in party bridge is predetermined — first deal, neither side vulnerable; second and third deals, dealer's side vulnerable; fourth deal, both sides vulnerable. Very few bridge players have taken time to study the laws. In most cases the law books have to be an expert to reason them out. Some of the confusion has been eliminated in the new code.

Players everywhere will be pleased to learn that the penalties are not as severe. A careful study of the new code brings out the fact that many of the provisions that were in the 1935 code and dropped in 1943 have been revived. Following are some of the important changes that players will want to know about. The penalty for exposing a jack or higher during the auction, or exposing two or more cards, has been mitigated. Partner is barred now for only one round of bidding and declarer no longer can call the opening lead.

The change in the law governing insufficient bids will mean a great deal to tournament players. The general public already had more or less adopted the principle now incorporated in the new law, namely, if you make an insufficient bid, there is no penalty if the insufficient bid is corrected in the same round. Under the new law, all the declarer can do is to treat the erroneous lead as a penalty card; or in the case of an opening lead, declarer may prohibit the lead of the suit led out of turn in error.

Some of the changes have their humorous side. For example, in Plastic Nose Fails To Fulfill Purpose. BRUSSELS—(AP)—Having lost his nose following an operation, Monsieur X went to a plastic surgeon and ordered a new one. The new one had a splendid appearance but, he claimed, failed to fulfill its main function of enabling him to breathe normally. A court action against the surgeon failed, but the defendant promised to reimburse Monsieur X a part of the fees on condition that he returned the nose.

Under the new law, all the declarer can do is to treat the erroneous lead as a penalty card; or in the case of an opening lead, declarer may prohibit the lead of the suit led out of turn in error. Some of the changes have their humorous side. For example, in Plastic Nose Fails To Fulfill Purpose. BRUSSELS—(AP)—Having lost his nose following an operation, Monsieur X went to a plastic surgeon and ordered a new one. The new one had a splendid appearance but, he claimed, failed to fulfill its main function of enabling him to breathe normally. A court action against the surgeon failed, but the defendant promised to reimburse Monsieur X a part of the fees on condition that he returned the nose.

Another principle of general practice that has been adopted in the new laws is the fact that dummy now may warn his partner that he is about to lead or play from the wrong hand. A tournament player knows well that heretofore, if he were dummy and told his partner that he was about to lead from the wrong hand, the tournament director would be called and the opponents could tell the declarer which hand to lead from. Now even a tournament player may warn his partner that he is about to lead from the wrong hand without penalty.

Perhaps the greatest change took place in the law governing the lead out of turn. A lead out of turn occurs most often on the opening lead. For example, South is the declarer and it is West's turn to make the opening lead, but now East makes the opening lead by mistake. Under the old rules it took a well qualified judge and jury to try you, prosecute and sentence you. Under the new law, all the declarer can do is to treat the erroneous lead as a penalty card; or in the case of an opening lead, declarer may prohibit the lead of the suit led out of turn in error.

Plastic Nose Fails To Fulfill Purpose

BRUSSELS—(AP)—Having lost his nose following an operation, Monsieur X went to a plastic surgeon and ordered a new one. The new one had a splendid appearance but, he claimed, failed to fulfill its main function of enabling him to breathe normally. A court action against the surgeon failed, but the defendant promised to reimburse Monsieur X a part of the fees on condition that he returned the nose.

Law 89, which deals with the claiming of tricks, the new law requires the declarer to make a statement, when he claims the balance of the tricks, as to how he intends to play the rest of the cards. If he does not make such a statement, the law states that he may not lead a trump while either defender has a trump. So one of these days you may find yourself with nothing left in your hand but the ace, king, queen and jack of trumps. If you claim the balance of the tricks, and one of the opponents happens to have a trump, only the Supreme Court can decide how you can finish the hand out. As a matter of fact, the entire law on the claiming of tricks is so confused that probably the best thing to do is never to claim tricks again. You can find yourself sentenced to move over to the Gin/Rummy game.

HOWLING DOG AIDS ARCHEOLOGISTS

The dispatch said the bones apparently dated from prehistoric times.

THE STORY: Dying in the Indian desert, British secret agent Hilary Shenstone feels a desperate need to get back to England and to Nana Farthing, his family home. He doesn't know the home has been let and that dreamy, 17-year-old Sabrina, whom he has never met, has adopted his room and eagerly awaits his return. Hilary does return to England and to Nana Farthing—after death. He is in his old attic room when Sabrina comes up. She is unaware of his presence but Hilary manages to get through to her a little and she seems happy. Hilary realizes she is the girl he would have loved, if something hadn't gone wrong out there on the frontier.

Just at tea-time, too, and with your father away for the afternoon. We shall have to offer him tea, suppose. "This is a nice one to bring another cup, Sabrina, while I go and see who it is."

Aunt Effie hurriedly crossed the grass towards the car. Sabrina had got out of her chair and stood watching, a thumping in her chest—the door on the right side of the car was opening. "Bring another cup, please, Jennie—" "Yes, miss"—and now he was coming towards her with Aunt Effie beside him.

SABRINA, as she faced them, realizing with her knees were shaking and her hands were icy paws. He had taken off his hat now and carried it in his hand, uncovering nondescript blondish hair well flattened down on a roundish head above a big neck. The collar of his blue shirt was a bit too tight. Expensive tailoring could not disguise the unyouthful bulkiness of his body in gray flannels. This was never Hilary. . . .

"Well, yes, I could do with a spot of tea." His voice could be without interest on the white-faced girl who had risen to greet him, before they went on to the tea-table. "Good afternoon, Mrs. Pilton, still turning out those marvelous tea-cakes, I see! I suppose I shall make a pig of myself, as usual."

"This is Master Hilary's favorite cake, sir—the one without currants. If you'd warned me you were coming, I could have made the other kind."

Relief surged through Sabrina. This was George! But of course it was George, she had known all the time it could never, never be Hilary. . . .

"Yes—as a matter of fact," said George, and his florid face clouded over. "—as a matter of fact, I've got rather bad news about my brother."

"I'm sorry to hear that, sir."

"E-bad news?" stammered Aunt Effie, with a glance at Sabrina who was staring at him, dumbly and holding to the back of a chair. "He was killed out in India, a few days ago."

"I'm very sorry, sir—"

"It came as a bit of a shock, though we hadn't heard from him for some time, and my mother had begun to be anxious. We thought—that is, we thought I had better come down here and see about his things. . . ."

"Yes, of course—I mean—but you really must sit down comfortably and have some tea first, now that it's here," groaned Aunt Effie.

Mrs. Pilton turned then and went away across the grass, her footsteps making no sound, her face as inscrutable as ever. It was no shock to her to hear that Hilary, proxy-child of her barren heart, was dead. For several days she had been schooling herself to the knowledge, so mysteriously come by in the Mendip dusk. Her anxiety now was all for the eager, restless spirit of him that had come home, and for the girl-child Sabrina who was somehow involved in his unfinished destiny. "Do sit down, Mr. Shenstone," Aunt Effie urged him helplessly, herself collapsing into the chair nearest the tea-pot. "Sabrina, darling, you'll feel better when you've had a cup of tea—"

"Please, Auntie, will you excuse me—" gasped Sabrina. "I—really don't want any tea—"

She walked away blindly towards the house, breaking into a stumbling run when she had got as far as the drive.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Although I am not a problem fan myself, I know that many people enjoy problems, or double dummy plays. For those who do enjoy them, I am giving you one today that I ran across in a little magazine called "Chatter," published by the Engineers Society of Western Pennsylvania. The problem is to make seven hearts against any possible defense. Let me suggest that you lay all of the cards out on a table, if you want to go to work on it.

The first tip I will give you is that West's opening lead is the queen of spades. Now, if you have spent two hours on the problem and have not found the solution, I will tell you that it consists of a coup and a double-squeeze play. The following is the solution, as given in "Chatter."

The queen of spades is trumped by South with the deuce of hearts. He then cashes dummy's ace and king of hearts and the ace and king of spades, discarding the three and four of clubs from the South hand. East lets go a diamond on the third spade lead.

At this point we have the first important play. Declarer must cash dummy's ace of diamonds, deliberately setting up the suit for the opponents. Now he ruffs the five of spades, East discarding the eight of diamonds. Next declarer cashes the jack, nine and eight of hearts, getting himself down to the seven of hearts, the four of diamonds and five of clubs.

West gets down to the jack of spades and the king-jack of clubs. Dummy has the eight of spades and ace-six of clubs. East is left

Blind Switchboard Operator Uses Touch

BALTIMORE (AP)—You'd think a telephone operator would need fairly sharp eyes to keep up with the little flashing lights on the switchboard. But Miss Audrey Berch, who has been blind since infancy, has been a telephone operator at the Church Home and Hospital in Baltimore for the last 25 years.

A "braille gadget" is the secret. This device—about a foot square—is attached to the side of the switchboard. It has rows of small metal discs, each one about the size of a dime. Each metal disc corresponds to a socket on the switchboard, and above each disc is a braille sign, with its duplicate over the socket that goes with it.

When a call comes in, a buzzer sounds and a small peg shoots up from the center of one of the discs. Miss Berch slides her finger over the discs, finds the one with the protruding peg, feels the braille sign above it, and puts a switch in the socket which has the same braille sign. It takes her three seconds or less. To Miss Berch's knowledge, there are very few of these Braille aids in the country. The only two others in Baltimore are at the Maryland School for the Blind and the Maryland Workshop for the Blind.

NEWLYWED COUPLES WARNED ON HONKS

KANSAS CITY—(P)—The Kansas City Police Department is issuing notes of congratulations to altar-bound couples. But there's a catch. After reading the felicitations, the couples note that the police department does not feel that a procession of honking automobiles is a legitimate part of the wedding ceremony. The note warns that continual honking is a violation of the city's anti-noise ordinances.

In the United States, a preventable fire breaks out every 20 seconds.

WE the WOMEN

By
MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Some women are better wives when the going is rough than when it's easy.

Such women will stick by their husbands through hard times, reverses and disappointments. They're understanding and courageous when their men are struggling to get a start.

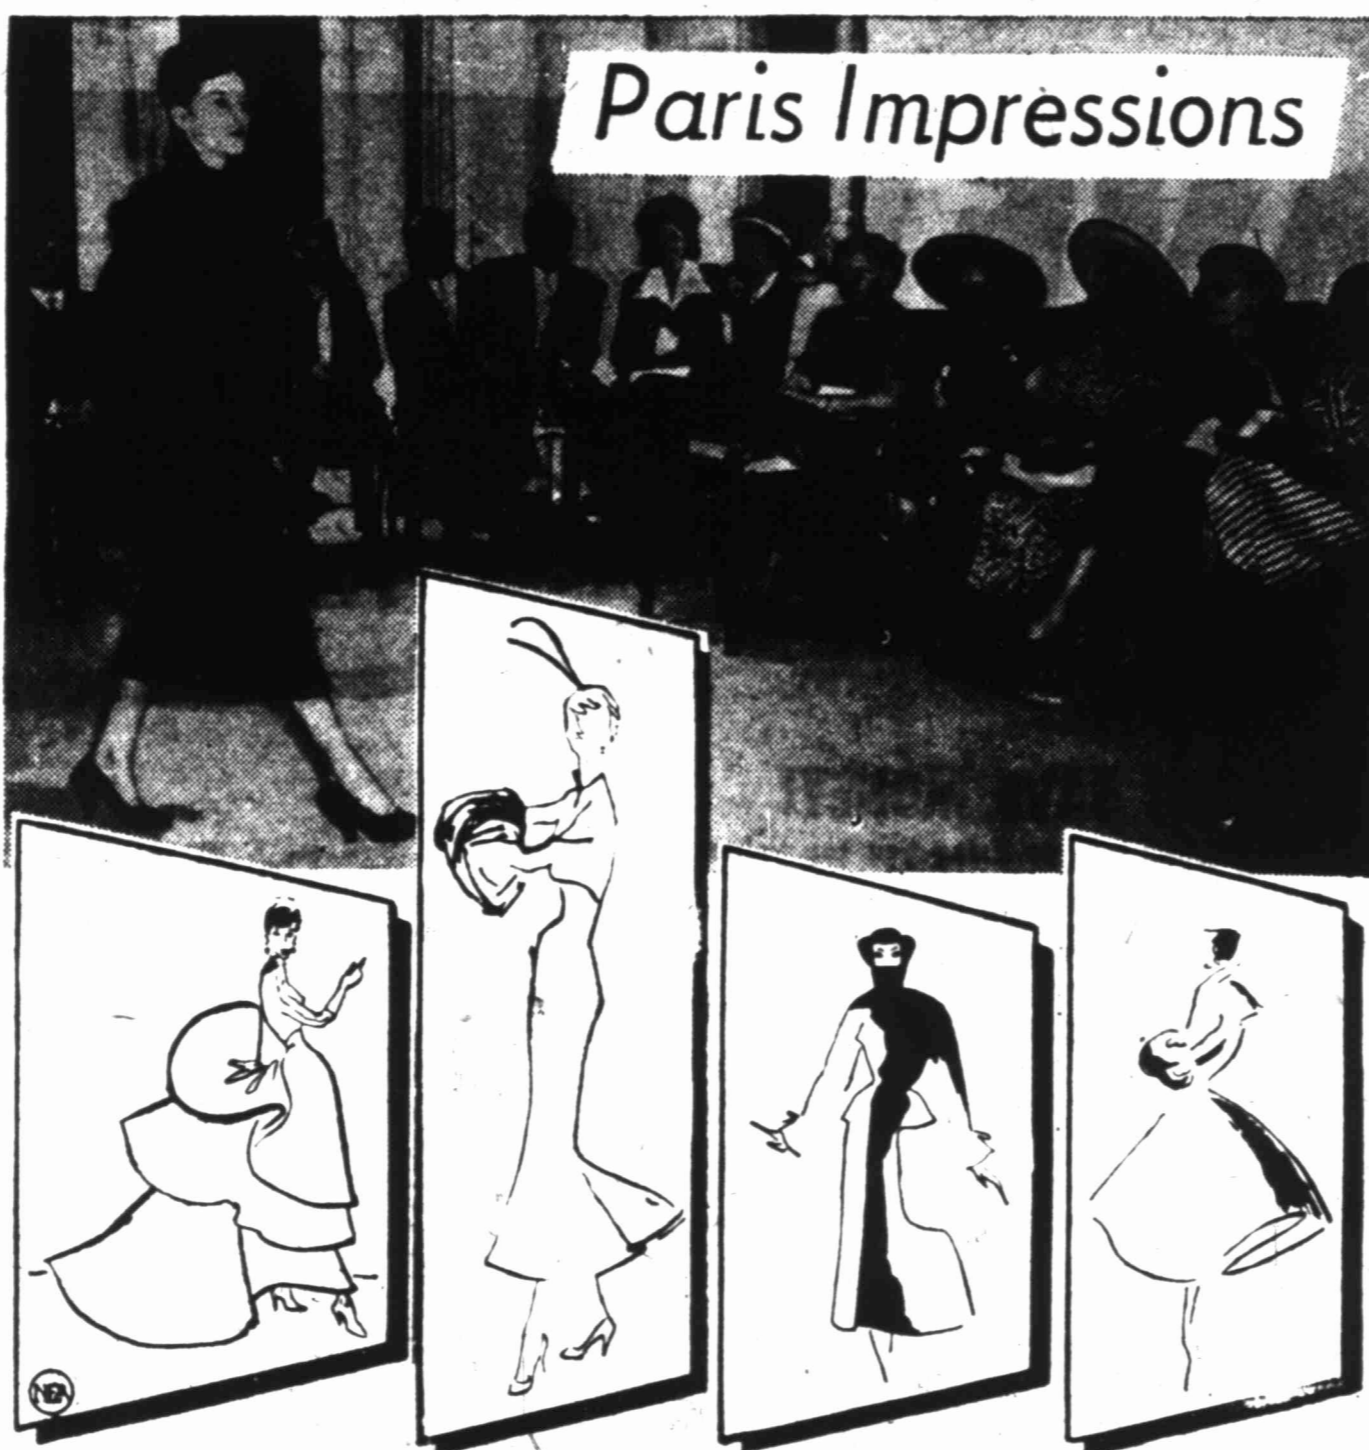

But they find their husbands success hard to take. They're jealous and resentful and they take out that resentment in little ways. They complain that the husband is "never at home," that he has no time for his family.

They find fault with the husband's business cronies and their wives—particularly with their wives.

Demands Go Up
And because they need to feel important, themselves, they often start trying to outdo the Joneses. They keep wanting so many things that the family is not much more financially secure than it was when money was so scarce. Mama had to be a real helpmate. The man always gets the blame when he leaves a wife who stuck by him through the hard years for another woman.

But perhaps that story wouldn't happen quite so often if more women understood that it is just as important to be a real helpmate to a successful man as to one who is struggling to make a success.

And that it is just as important for a woman to stand at her husband's side when he is at the top as when he is at the bottom.

Paris Impressions

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—A drastic switch from the Look with which Paris designers revolutionized fashions a few seasons ago is the slim or clinging silhouette launched here for fall.

The "serpentine" silhouette, called "caressingly slim" and devoid of such artifices as corsets and padding, shows woman's figure in all of its natural beauty—or lack of it. In the collection of Jacques Heim, exponent of this theme, skirts offer a wide choice, ranging from the slender-slit to sheaths with set-in fluted flounces, tunics and over-skirts.

The majority of Robert Piguette's evening dress favor slinky stretch sheaths sit below the knees, with pointed trains and strapless bodices dipping to a low point in the back. Also featured are halter décolletés with heavy embroidery accenting the bosom line. Piguette's daytime clothes offer a wide choice of restrained, essentially Parisian creations, which rely mostly upon perfection of cut, distinctive colors, interesting details and novel accessories. Slim-line dressy tailleurs, for example, owe their interest to fur-trimmed shawls which serve as supplementary jackets.

The spindle, high bosomed princess line has Carven's endorsement. Showing Egyptian inspiration is his spindle theme dramatized by encrusted boleros with contrasting yokes. Often featured are contrasting yokes of "mummy wrappings" and circular embroideries.

Pierre Balmain's collection reveals a slim line with basic Far East inspiration and features freedom of movement. Many functional daytimers hew to the hobble line, but flare out below the knees.

Contrary to expectation, Dior, the designer credited with the New Look, remains faithful to the original corolla and stem silhouettes. These, however, have evolved into a stylized look.

This fall, Dior launches a "winged line" achieved by subtle sleeve cut. All of his 136 models mold the torso as before. Undeterred by increased costs of production and fabric, Dior not only continues to use the later recklessly but adds the most lavish embroideries and furs ever seen here. The winged line appears often as brief coatees jutting straight out in the back and teamed with wide or narrow skirts which vary in length from 12 inches from the ground to barely covering the calf.

Two-thirds of Dior's collection is devoted to formal/afternoon and evening gowns which defy description. Immense skirts with "sculptured" or cascading draperies which jut out at the side, back or front, contrast with the simplicity of bodices.

Taking its cue from the jungle, Schiaparelli's collection is alive and colorful with tigers, monkeys and birds of paradise weaving in and out of jungle greens, grays, mauves, pinks and blues. Many of her evening gowns feature fabulous back fullness.

Featured in every collection are dresses with long princess tunic tops ending in pleated, flaring flounces; also lampshade and spiral tunics, draped overskirts and built-on sheaths. Bodices and blouses mold the bosom and a high waist is achieved by ingenious cut in skirts. Important, too, is the mobility of the hemline which generally is two-thirds of an inch shorter but which varies with the wearer.

OUR FATHERS

The men and women who built America had a profound faith in a Divine Providence. They believed the Government they founded here in a new land would be protected by Providence.

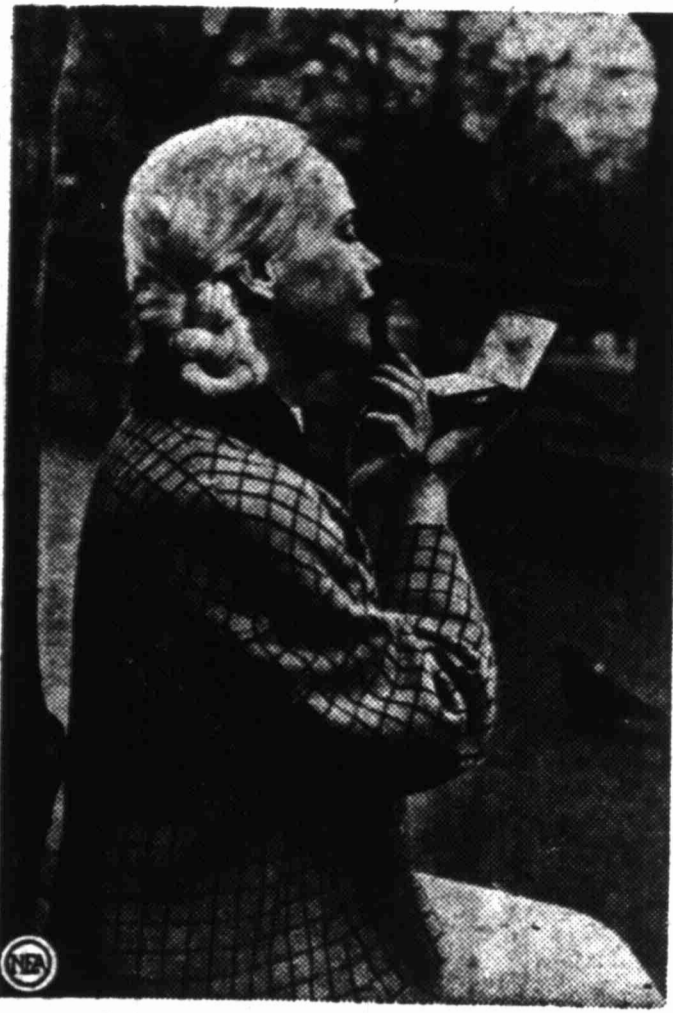

They believed prosperity to be the product of hard work and right thinking. Upon these broad principles they built the greatest Government and the greatest prosperity man has ever known.

Is it not possible there was some foundation for the faith of our Fathers? In this time when there is so much misunderstanding and fear, would it not be a good idea to turn again to this faith of our Fathers?

Faith in God and in man, hard work, devotion to religion and church... these things are the foundation of a great America. They are the strongest protection against poverty and communism.

Outdoor Girl Totes Make-Up Kit

BOON for the outdoor girl who dislikes toting an ill-assorted flock of make-up aids when she's off for a hike are three-in-one cosmetic cases. One space-saver corals powder, lipstick and lip-brush under one mirrored lid. To prevent a color clash between make-up applied at the dressing-table and touch-ups in transit, the plastic-lined compartment is designed to hold a girl's choice of a lipstick refill. A leakproof compartment houses loose powder dipped from dressing-table box. Sable-tipped lip-brush telescopes into a third compartment. — ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer.

Every Child Needs Room To Roam And Explore At Will

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Every child has a real and vital need for space," says Cornelia Goldsmith, author and educator. Writing in the National Parent-Teacher, she points out that from infancy a child needs sufficient free space in which to learn to coordinate arm and leg movements, to be able to move forward, backward, or sideways at will. Miss Goldsmith, who is now director of the day care unit in the Bureau of Child Hygiene, New York City Department of Health, says:

"Increasingly as a child leaves infancy behind him to become an upright human being, his muscles and his curiosities demand further satisfaction. Gradually he uses a wider and wider area of space for his operations... He is both muscle-hungry to move about all he can, touch everything within reach, and mind-hungry to find out all he can. Just any kind of space won't do, she says. He needs free open space, with various interesting, worthwhile objects such as kitchenware, spoons, stools, balls, bells, and boxes. There should be objects in which he can discover things that fit into one another, things that come apart, things that screw and unscrew, things that make various sounds and noises, things that roll and bounce, move or are stationary, sink or float or splash. Fenced-in or penned-in space may serve his purpose for a time, if he isn't merely parked there for someone else's convenience, or forced to remain there too long.

The need for room to roam, however, is not met by the mere allotment of ample space to the individual concerned. That space must be his very own. He must be given the feeling that it belongs to him, of having a spot from which he can go forward with a sense of challenge, achievement, and security.

She adds: "Only by overcoming minor hurdles will a child gain the courage and the strength to meet greater difficulties as he grows older."

Should the space allotted to him be bleak, barren and empty, he will become apathetic. If, on the other hand, the space for his living is too much shared and therefore too difficult for him to cope with, if his life is filled with situations too complicated or dangerous or difficult for him to deal with, "if standards he is expected to attain are always beyond his reach, he will in time become defeated and discouraged," Miss Goldsmith warns.

Children who are kept too closely confined, too much under the feet of adults, restricted to living in a space devoid of meaning to them or inappropriate to their stage of growth, she says, might as well be relegated to animal cages in zoos.

Getting sufficient room for your child to roam in is especially tough in localities where the scarcity of living space requires an increase of widely varying uses and shared use of the space we have. Combinations of bedroom and living room, living room and dining room, bedroom and study, kitchen and foyer are increasingly common. Space is shared by children of widely varying ages, by parents and children who may or may not have common interests.

What can be done? For one thing, we can rearrange the furniture so as to provide at least a corner or section of a room that one child might call his own. Having his own block shelves and toy box in this section might give him an approximation of privacy and the freedom to be himself.

A double-decker bed for the two next older children might free sufficient floor space to allow play room for both.

Out of doors the same need appears. In the garden or yard or on the farm the child can have his sandbox with shovel and pail. His playbench with tools may be set up in an attic room or in the cellar. Often storerooms can be emptied and used as game rooms or rumpus rooms.

How to provide interesting indoor entertainment for your child when the weather is bad, or he is convalescing after an illness, presents a challenge to any parent. The idea, of course, is to keep him busy. And to help you out, Frances and John Casman have just edited "Play-A-Bed Book for Boys and Girls," published by The Seahorse Press.

The main causes of farm fires include lightning, defective chimneys, sparks on roofs, stoves and furnaces, hot ashes, spontaneous ignition of hay, misuse of electricity, matches and smoking.
