School Bells To Ring Out Monday

We made a trip to Brownwood last weekend, and just missed the floods which ravaged the Snyder area. The floodwater crested Sunday afternoon, and we were fortunate in deciding to come home a day earlier than some of our cohorts attending the West Texas Press Association meeting.

However, we didn't miss out on the rain. Going down last Friday morning, it rained on us hard from south of Post into Abilene. Returning Saturday afternoon, it was still raining in the Snyder area, so it was not surprising to us that the area was flooded when the heavy rains hit on Sunday.

The area had had almost a week of wet weather prior to the big rains of Sunday.

A farmer at Hermleigh, just outside of Snyder told us during a stop for gas that up until Saturday afternoon, the area had received some slow, soaking rainfall. Apparently, the bottom dropped out on Sunday. It appeared that it could have done so any minute the afternoon we drove back.

Crops on many parts of the High Plains are approaching record proportions at this stage of the season. Last week we had driven to Olton. Crops in that area were really pretty. Olton has some of the nicest cotton we have seen. The maize and other crops look good, too.

Wendell Tooley, Floydada publisher, says crops in Floyd County are the best that the area has had in seven years. Best part of it, Tooley says, is that his area has received good beneficial rainfall at just the right intervals, and many farmers have not cranked up their irrigation wells since planting.

Walter Buckel of Lamesa said that his area was appeared headed for a bumper cotton crop. The cotton is looking better in the Lamesa area than it has for the past several years, he says, adding that the dryland farmers should make a good crop this year.

Although the cotton on this side of Lubbock is late, that to the south and southeast looks good, and it could be a good cotton year for many farmers on the High Plains, although the cotton around Friona is probably accurately described as "average or below."

It will be back to school time for approximately 1500 students in the Friona area next Monday, as the 1972-73 school term will begin.

Last year, a total of 1448 students enrolled on the first day of school, and Superintendent of Schools Alton Farr says he expects about the same number of students to enroll this year as last.

"In visiting with the school principals, they each tell me that they have not seen very many prospective new students around this summer," Farr stated.

However, the system is adding a second public school kindergarten section, as about 55 students are expected for this program, which is in its third year.

By the 1977-78 school year, all five-year-olds will be enrolled in the public school kindergarten program, making a full 13 years of school a requirement.

The peak enrollment in the Friona system hit 1550 last October. Superintendent Farr said that the Friona school system gained a classroom instructor for the second consecutive year on the basis of its average daily attendance (ADA) for last year.

The Friona system currently qualifies for 55 CTUs (classroom teacher units).

The average daily attendance in the Friona system last term was 1391.31. Broken down, the average attendance came to 543.88 in the elementary school, 488.58 in junior high, and 337.63 in high school.

Also, the special education program had an additional 21.20 average daily attendance.

On the subject of special education, Superintendent Farr pointed out that the local school system was working toward the implementation of an expanded program along this line, which will be assisted by the state. The program, known as "Plan A" is to be implemented by the 1973-74 school year, and

Claborn Announces Funeral Home Sale

J. C. Claborn announced this week that he had sold Claborn Funeral Home to Percy Parsons of Olton and Frank Ellis of Muleshoe. The Claborns plan to retain the floral shop and operate Parmer County Memorial Park.

Parsons, who has owned and operated Parsons Funeral Home of Olton for the past 14 years, will move to Friona and be actively engaged in operating the funeral home.

Ellis is a partner in Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home at Muleshoe, which he has managed for the past 13 years. He and Parsons are involved in ownership of funeral homes at Earth and Stephenville.

The Parsons family has three children. Mike is a sophomore at Southern Methodist University, attending on a track scholarship. Dale is a junior in high school, and Rhonda is a seventh grader. Parsons has been a funeral director for 26 years. He was at Post prior to moving to Olton. He is a native of the Post area, having been born and raised there.

At Olton, Parsons was active in Lions Club, Chamber of Commerce, City Council, and was named "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" in Olton for 1967. Both Parsons and Ellis have been active in the Panhandle Funeral Directors Association, and the Texas Funeral Directors Association, in which they are members of the association's group insurance committee.

The Parsons are members of the Methodist Church. The Claborns came to Friona in June of 1955, opening the first funeral home in Friona at that time. Claborn is originally from McLean.

CONTRACT SIGNED

Jaycee Land Tabbed For Showbarn

The Friona Community Center and showbarn committee met Tuesday night and contracted to purchase the Jaycee arena on West Highway 60 for the purpose of building the new multi-purpose structure.

Earlier, the committee had been offered part of a block at Seventh and Columbia on which to build the building, but the group felt it needed more land.

The Jaycee land, which is just west of the Friona Country Club, contains six acres. "This will give us adequate land on which to expand, and for parking. It also will be more accessible, being on the highway," said Carrol Gatlin, committee chairman.

The Jaycee land was sold to the committee for $5,000, which was the price the organization had paid for the land originally. Gatlin said it was hoped that some work could be begun on the project in the near future. Bill Denney is leasing land at the site, and he will have until January 1 on his lease. The committee was given permission to start their work, as long as it did not interfere with the pens which are on the property.

Gatlin said that the main item at present would be the fund drive. "As soon as we get $50,000, we plan to begin construction."

The committee still has as its objective the completion of the building in time for the Parmer County Jr. Livestock show next February.

"If we don't have it completed by then, we will have missed our goal," Gatlin said.

Friona Star Wins Plaque In Press Contests

The Friona Star was one of four weekly newspapers claiming a first-place plaque in the annual "Better Newspapers Contest" for 1972, sponsored by the West Texas Press Association.

The plaque was presented as a highlight of the WTPA's annual convention last week in Brownwood. The Star won its plaque in the "Advertising Composition" division, a contest designed to see which newspapers did the best job, in the opinion of the judges, in preparing local advertisements.

The local newspaper also won a third-place citation and certificate in the "General Excellence" competition for newspapers published in cities of 3,000 population and above. Judges for the contest were from the New Mexico Press Association.

The Friona Star also entered the "best pictures" competition, an award won by the neighboring Hereford Brand. All papers competed together for this award, regardless of the size of the town.

During the convention's business session, Bill Ellis, publisher of the Star, was elected to a term on the organization's board of directors.

The West Texas Press Association, whose membership covers over one-half of the state's area, is the world's largest regional press association.

Bob Miller of Hamilton was installed as the new president of the organization, replacing Frank Baker of Fort Stockton. The WTPA's 42nd annual convention was held at the Riverside Motor Hotel in Brownwood.

The two awards presented to the Star last weekend brought to 53 the number that the Friona newspaper has won in regional and state contests during the past 10 years, 21 of which have been first-place plaques.

The Star is unique in having won the coveted "Community Service" award, presented by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, twice during the past three years. In 1970 the local paper won the award as a member of the WTPA, and this spring it won the award from among members of the Panhandle Press Assn. The two press associations overlap considerably by boundary and membership.

SATURDAY

John Deere Sets New Tractor Show

Herring Implement Company of Friona has scheduled an open house on Saturday, at which time John Deere's "Generation II" tractors will be shown. D.C. Herring, owner and manager of Herring Implement Co. says the change is the biggest one in the John Deere line in about 12 years. "It is a real impressive tractor. It's a bigger change than I was expecting," says Herring, who recently attended a two-day showing of the new tractors at Waterloo, Iowa.

While at the showing, Herring and other dealers had an opportunity to operate the new tractors and put them through their paces.

"The Generation II tractors have safety, convenience and comfort features that other tractors on the market can't compete with," Herring said, adding that the advancements had been made without an accompanying large price increase.

He said that the new models are cheaper, per horsepower, than the older ones.

While Herring was reluctant to discuss the specific details of the new tractors prior to the Saturday showing, he said he believed it would be to every farmer's advantage to attend the open house and learn all of the facts about the new John Deere tractors.

Open house will be held from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Saturday. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. James V. (Nancy) Edelman, another first grade teacher, also has made her home in Friona for a number of years. She has a B.S. degree from Texas Christian University. Mrs. Edelman is the mother of four children.

Mrs. Charles (Karen) Carter comes to the Friona system after four years of teaching at Dimmitt. She will teach one of the kindergarten sections. Mrs. Carter is married, has one child and holds a B.S. degree from West Texas State University. She is a graduate of Friona High School.

Mrs. Forrest (Linda Jo) Harding will teach physical education in elementary school. Mrs. Harding, a former star forward for the Friona Squaws and a member of Friona's state championship team, holds a B.S. degree from Panhandle State College, Oklahoma. This will be her first teaching experience. The Hardings have three children.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL Mrs. Linda Fithen, a native of Amarillo, will teach reading in junior high. She has a B.S. degree from West Texas State University. This will be her first teaching experience. Mrs. Fithen (Continued On Page 5)

ANOTHER AWARD. . . Nelson Lewis displays an award which his column, "Pause and Reflect" was given by the state American Legion Auxiliary, for the best local feature series in the interest of youth. "Since I have so many young friends in Friona, I am particularly happy about the award," Lewis said. The award is an annual one by the state organization.

DISPLAYS AWARD. . . Mrs. Bill Ellis, who does the advertising layouts for the Friona Star, proudly displays the first-place plaque which the Star was awarded last weekend by the West Texas Press Association, in the "Advertising Composition" category. It was the second time in five years for the Star to win the award.

Wow! It sure doesn't take long for activity to get started....

This week the band started--the football practice got under way--the teachers all reported for a new year and then next week, school begins...Activity sure is picking up.

We'll be in the midst of school activities--footballs flying thru the air--horns tootin' and school teachers merrily about their job of imparting knowledge.

I never cease to be grateful for the variety of life that we are able to be a part of in our country.

We can change jobs, move to other locations, purchase a later model auto, seek new goals with greater challenges--simply no end to the many different things that can be a part of our life.

Of course, it needs to be mentioned here that this mostly depends upon our own initiative and willingness to improve. We can change our social activities, pick up new and more gratifying interests, seek more wisdom and become interested in totally new ideals...isn't that great?

I am fearful, however, that we sometimes allow ourselves to become complacent with a mediocre existence or something somewhat less than our real potential...O, I know this isn't you...is it?

Of course, there are some rules that certain groups set up for the purpose of perpetuating their own cause and I believe that a few of these need be overlooked and soundly forgotten.

For instance, in an earlier year of 1837 (Ye Ed probably remembers) there were some rules set up for Mount Holyoke College and were: "No young lady shall become a member of Mount Holyoke Seminary who cannot kindle a fire, wash potatoes, repeat the multiplication table and at least two-thirds of the shorter catechism. Every member of the school shall walk a mile a day unless a freshet, earthquake, or some other calamity prevent. No young lady shall devote more than an hour a day to miscellaneous reading. No young lady is expected to have gentlemen acquaintances unless they are returned missionaries or agents of benevolent societies."

Now, girls, how long would you last in that set up...? I really believe that what we need to contend with today are ideas, ideals, thoughts and actions that would be for the best preservation of our relationship with God, our country and our community/family life.

Of course we can get into all kinds of haggles over what we think is good and how we feel others should abide by our decision...wasn't it a wife who told her husband, "and when I get ready for you to change your opinion, I'll let you know"? (If my wife reads this I may have to change my opinion about that statement.)

Maybe a good awakening is our real need...and in my line of work I would hope it would be more than this: "Dad," said a small boy, "what is meant by a religious awakening?" "A religious awakening, my son, is what happens at our church after the preacher has ended his sermon."

Ouch!

A teacher is someone who may very well be doing the most important job in the world. And today, a difficult job, because the world is more complex. How much simpler it must have been one hundred years ago. 364 days a year, we take our teachers for granted. Today, however, is a good day for us to remember, and by this word, to honor our teachers. . . today's, tomorrow's and yesterday's teachers. Friona State Bank would like to say thank you to all of the teachers in Friona and the Friona trade territory. We hope that we will merit your business.

Pause and Reflect

By Nelson Lewis

"When the horse has been stolen, the fool shuts the stable."
(John Heywood 1497-1580)

To many the big push by the ecologists to save our world is a new thing born in recent years.

The truth of the matter is that there have been conservationists at work for generations.

A good example is Yellowstone National Park whose one hundredth birthday is being celebrated this year.

We did not get to Yellowstone this summer but we did visit two other places where effort and money have been spent to preserve a little bit of "yesterday".

Despite the fact that in both cases the underlying idea was conservation the costs and results are vastly different.

Overlooking the James River in the exclusive residential Windsor Farms section of Richmond, Virginia, a magnificent old house lies in a beautiful setting with tree shaded lawns and sunny meadows, not too unlike those that once surrounded it in England.

The land upon which Agecroft Hall once stood was inherited about 1374 by Roger de Langley, a member of a family that had come to England with William the Conqueror in 1066.

A century later his great-grandson, John Langley, built the Hall on the banks of the Irwell River, some seven miles northwest of Manchester.

By 1925 the once beautiful country surrounding Agecroft Hall had become a hideous mass of coal mines and railroad tracks.

To make a long story short a Mr. T. C. Williams, who owned a farm named Windsor west of Richmond, bought the property.

An argument developed that found solution in the House of Commons and Mr. Williams was permitted to move Agecroft Hall to America.

Brick by brick, beam by beam, the lovely old house was transported across the Atlantic and rebuilt near the capitol of the Confederacy.

Time and space do not permit a complete description; suffice it to say that Agecroft Hall is very much appreciated by all those privileged to visit therein.

Four hundred and fifty miles south of Agecroft Hall a rambling brick building stands beside Rocky Creek in North-western South Carolina.

The present building was erected in 1880 after the original two story wooden structure was destroyed by fire.

Today it serves as a top notch seafood restaurant and our host, Mr. James Rogers, was good enough to fill us in on the history of the place.

The yarn produced by the mill was distributed throughout the Carolinas by a wagon team driven by one William Thackston. He traded yarn for hides, hams, furs and farm produce which in turn were sold in a store near the mill.

During the Civil War the mill produced cloth for Confederate uniforms allowing only one day per week for company profit.

The average tourist traveling on route 14 south of Greer, South Carolina, might not realize that the Old Mill Stream Inn is a prime example of conservation. However, the popularity of both cases cited are proof that Americans have for years appreciated the efforts of the conservationists who believe in locking the door before the horse is stolen.

Census Shows 1 In 5 Texans Spanish Heritage

Nearly one in five (18 percent) residents of Texas is of Spanish heritage, according to a report from the 1970 census by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce. It shows that of the State's 11,195,416 total population, 2,059,671 were of Spanish language or had a Spanish surname. The population of Spanish language is composed of (1) persons who reported Spanish as their mother tongue, that is, the language spoken in the home during childhood, and (2) all members of a household related to the head or wife reporting Spanish as mother tongue.

The census report, released by the Department's Social and Economic Statistics Administration, shows that 1,723,531 (84 percent) of Texas' population of Spanish heritage lived in urban areas. Among the 23 urbanized areas, the El Paso area had the greatest number, 190,582 or 56 percent of the total population. However, Brownsville urbanized area with 45,115 persons of Spanish heritage and Laredo with 60,084 had the highest proportion, 86 percent in each.

Of the 336,140 rural population of Spanish heritage in Texas, 18 percent lived on farms.

Eighty-nine percent (1,840,214) of the State's Spanish heritage population was born in the United States; 563,877 were of foreign or mixed parentage (514,058 of these persons had one or both parents born in Mexico. Of the 219,457 foreign born persons of Spanish heritage, 193,143 were born in Mexico.

The median age of the Spanish heritage population was 19.3 years, compared with 26.5 years for the population of Texas as a whole.

Persons of Spanish heritage 25 and older averaged 7.2 years of completed schooling, compared with 11.6 years for the total population 25 and older. Among the 600,425 persons of Spanish heritage 16 and older who were employed in 1970, 8 percent held professional, technical, or similar jobs; 14 percent were clerical or kindred workers; 15 percent were in crafts; 16 percent were operatives (mostly machinery); and 14 percent were service workers other than private household.

Median income in 1969 of the 423,780 families of Spanish heritage amounted to $5,897, as compared with $8,490 for all families in the State.

Tabulations in the report show that 6 percent of the Spanish heritage families had incomes of $15,000 or more, while 17 percent of all Texas families were in this income bracket. At the opposite end of the scale, 21 percent of the Spanish heritage families and 13 percent of all families had incomes below $3,000.

Similar detailed statistics for persons of Spanish language and surname are available in the 1970 census reports for Arizona, California, Colorado, and New Mexico. Copies of the report, "General Social and Economic Characteristics: Texas," PC-(1)-C45, are available for $6.00 each from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402, or any Department of Commerce field office.

PUBLIC NOTICE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER 11 ON THE BALLOT (HJR 95) General Election November 7, 1972

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Article VIII, Section 1-b, of the Texas Constitution, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 1-b. (a) Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads as now defined by law shall be exempt from all taxation for all State purposes.

"(b) From and after January 1, 1973, the governing body of any county, city, town, school district, or other political subdivision of the State may exempt by its own action not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) of the assessed value of residence homesteads of persons sixty-five (65) years of age or older from all ad valorem taxes thereafter levied by the political subdivision. As an alternative, upon receipt of a petition signed by twenty percent (20%) of the voters who voted in the last preceding election held by the political subdivision, the governing body of the subdivision shall call an election to determine by majority vote whether an amount not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) as provided in the petition, of the assessed value of residence homesteads of persons sixty-five (65) years of age or over shall be exempt from ad valorem taxes thereafter levied by the political subdivision. Where any ad valorem tax has theretofore been pledged for the payment of any debt, the taxing officers of the political subdivision shall have authority to continue to levy and collect the tax against the homestead property at the same rate as the tax so pledged until the debt is discharged, if the cessation of the levy would impair the obligation of the contract by which the debt was created."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to provide a salary of $22,500 for the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives."

Friona Flashbacks

...from the files of the Friona Star

40 YEARS AGO--AUGUST 19, 1932

With the beginning of the week, the management of the Friona Hotel changed from the hands of Mr. and Mrs. O.M. Donaldson to Miss Nellie Cross.

It is reported from reliable sources that Parmer County now has the opportunity of securing a hard-surfaced road across its entire length, to be built at state expense, yet we do not seem to be getting it. Evidently someone has thrown a monkey wrench into the wheels of our highway machinery and blocked the progress. Who is blocking the way?

30 YEARS AGO--AUGUST 14, 1942

Reports from farmers are still coming in regarding the hatching of the second crop of grasshoppers. Elmer Euler reports that "jillions" of the young hoppers have hatched out east of Friona. G.B. Buske reports a lot of hoppers around Friona, and H.C. Burge reports a good hatch east of Bovina. Everyone is ready at the poison bait mixing station to give prompt and immediate service, provided farmers want the material to poison the young grasshoppers.

20 YEARS AGO--AUGUST 14, 1952

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rector have returned home from a trip to Kansas, Colorado Springs, Denver, Pike's Peak, Rocky Mountain National Park and Red River. While gone they also visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rector, Lloyd's cousin, in Shattuck, Okla.

Doris McFarland, Patsy Anthony, Jerry Bell Norwood and Wayne Jones attended camp at the Methodist Ceta Canyon last week.

10 YEARS AGO--AUGUST 16, 1962

The teachers' roster has been completed, according to Superintendent Alton Farr. Added to the roster were Mr. and Mrs. Benny Pryor. He is to be the new vocational agriculture instructor, and she will teach sixth grade. Gaylon Woodard is the new freshman and assistant football coach. Miss Joy Morton will teach sophomore English. Mr. and Mrs. Ladson Worley will teach in the sixth and first grades.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER 10 ON THE BALLOT FOR 1972 General Election November 7, 1972

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Article XVII, Section 1, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows: "Section 1. The Legislature, at any regular session, or at any special session when the matter is included within the purposes for which the session is convened, may propose amendments revising the Constitution, to be voted upon by the qualified electors for statewide offices and propositions, as defined in the Constitution and statutes of this State. The date of the elections shall be specified by the Legislature. The proposal for submission must be approved by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, entered by yeas and nays on the journals. "A brief explanatory statement of the nature of a proposed amendment, together with the date of the election and the wording of the proposition as it is to appear on the ballot, shall be published twice in each newspaper in the State which meets requirements set by the Legislature for the publication of official notices of officers and departments of the state government. The explanatory statement shall be prepared by the Secretary of State and shall be approved by the Attorney General. The Secretary of State shall send a full and complete copy of the proposed amendment or amendments to each county clerk who shall post the same in a public place in the courthouse at least 30 days prior to the election on said amendment. The first notice shall be published not more than 60 days nor less than 50 days before the date of the election, and the second notice shall be published on the same day in the succeeding week. The Legislature shall fix the standards for the rate of charge for the publication, which may not be higher than the newspaper's published national rate for advertising per column inch. "The election shall be held in accordance with procedures prescribed by the Legislature, and the returning officer in each county shall make returns to the Secretary of State of the number of legal votes cast at the election for and against each amendment. If it appears from the returns that a majority of the votes cast have been cast in favor of an amendment, it shall become a part of this Constitution, and proclamation thereof shall be made by the Governor." Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment revising provisions on the time and method of proposing amendments to the state constitution and the time and method of publishing notice of proposed amendments."

School Starts.... (Continued From Page 1) will be a cooperative effort by the four schools in Parmer County. The four county schools are required to cooperate on the special education program, in order to meet minimum enrollment requirements for state assistance. Another division of the school which has grown is in the field of vocational education. There now are seven vocational instructors in the system, compared to only two just a few years ago. "We could use even more, if we had the space," Farr says, adding that the vocational program is growing in popularity among the students, who seek it in order to learn a trade.

CONTACT WORK SET

Chieftains Report; Spirit Running High

Some 62 players have been going through conditioning exercises this week at Friona High School, as football workouts began.

Coach Bob Owen said that about 47 varsity players, and 15 freshmen prospects have been reporting for the two-day workouts which started on Monday.

The number is about as many as were expected. Freshmen were not required to report until school started, and Owen said he was pleased that this many came out on their own.

The Chieftain coach said that the attitude of the players is "tremendous."

"If they can carry this attitude through the season, I guarantee you they'll win some ball games," Owen said.

Under a new rule enforced this year, contact work could not begin until Friday of this week.

Early workouts have stressed running, some ball handling, passing, kicking and work on secondary coverage.

The linemen haven't been able to do much work until the contact begins.

Coach Owen says he isn't sure how the non-contact rule will affect the players. "If it helps get them into condition, it's all right," Owen said, but expressed the opinion that the players might have another bout of soreness after the contact work.

The team lost senior tackle Gary Land, who underwent a kidney operation, and will have to forego athletics this year.

"We sure hate to lose Gary. He could have done us a fine job," Owen said.

Halfback Louis Lee, one of the returning starters, had not reported to workouts as of the Tuesday session, and Owen had not heard from Lee as to whether he intended to play this fall. Lee has been working this summer at Missouri Beef

Packers, Owen said.

However, at least one additional player reported that was not expected, 200-pound C. B. Looper, a candidate for a line position. Looper had not signed to play last spring, and Owen said he was pleased to see him report for workouts.

The prospective Chieftains have been working out twice each day, at 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. The workouts will be trimmed to one a day with the beginning of school.

BASEBALL SHOTS ARE AVAILABLE

All baseball photos of Friona Little League teams are in and may be picked up at the Friona Star office.

CAPTAINS NAMED. . . The Friona Chieftains elected their captains for 1972-73 during the early part of this week. Elected were three seniors. Kneeling over the ball is senior Willie Bailey. Tackle Kevin Wiseman is at right, and quarterback Johnny Bandy is standing. Other squad members can be seen going through workouts in the background. Forty-seven candidates have reported for the varsity team.

FOR 1972-73

Schedule Consists Of Long-Time Opponents

The Friona Chieftain football team for 1972 will be out to reverse a 3-6-1 record which the 1971 team compiled.

A look at the 1972 schedule shows only three teams on the list over which Friona has an all-time winning record. However, Friona has a ten-year winning mark over four of the teams, with two of the other series tied up on the ten-year record.

Of the ten teams which make up the 1972 schedule, Friona holds all-time leads over only Bovina (8-3-1), Lockney (8-5) and Morton (9-6). However, Friona is all tied up with a fourth team, Littlefield, at one win each in the short series.

Dimmitt, which holds a commanding 26-9-1 lead in the overall series, has been beaten five times by Friona against five losses during the last ten years.

Neighboring Farwell's series edge was whittled by one game by the 1971 Friona Chieftains, and the Steers, who once had a larger lead, now own only a two-game edge over Friona at 18-16-1, considering games played since 1931.

Of the two teams which are new to Friona's schedule this season, Dalhart and Springlake, both hold leads over Friona. Springlake has an 11-7-1 series advantage, and Dalhart holds a 7-4 lead.

Friona lost one team, Abrenathy, from the list of teams played in 1971, over which it enjoyed a winning record. The Chiefs had won five against trree losses to the Antelops, who were played as district opponents from 1954 through 1971.

The team also, however, lost Floydada from the schedule, and trailed the Whirlwinds, 6-2 in the winning category.

Considering only games played during the last ten years, Friona holds a 33-29-1 winning mark over teams on the current schedule, and a 53-46-2 record overall for the period. The ten-year record includes an 0-10 mark by the 1962 team, which came at the tail-end of Friona's 27-game losing streak, longest in the school's history.

The teams on the 1972 schedule have been met a total of 176 times in past years by Friona teams, indicating that nearly all of the opponents are long-time rivals. Three of the teams have been met a total of 91 times altogether.

Oldest rivals on the schedule are Dimmitt and Farwell. The Bobcats have been played 36 times, and the Steers 34 times since 1930. Muleshoe has been met on the gridiron 21 times, and Springlake, back on the schedule after a long absence, has been an opponent 19 times, and Morton has been met 15 times.

All of the current opponents have been played at least eleven times previously, with the exception of Littlefield, which has only been met twice, beginning with the 1970 game when the Wildcats were moved into District 3-AA.

Think most of us agree that as a general rule grandparents tend to spoil the grandchildren. Probably this isn't much different from the general pattern years and years ago. However, I'm of the opinion that grandparents are generally a good influence on the lives of the grandchildren.

About twenty years ago, I ran across a little item entitled, "We Need More Grandpas!" I like it very much and have decided to share it with our readers. The author is unknown and the date of original publication is also unknown, but it was at least a quarter of a century ago. It goes like this:

WE NEED MORE GRANDPASI

Junior bit the meter man. . . Junior hit the cook.
 Junior's anti-social now. . . (According to the book.)

Junior smashed the clock and lamp. . . Junior hacked the tree: (Destructive trends are treated in Chapters Two and Three.)

Junior threw his milk at Mom. . . Junior screamed for more: (Notes on self-assertiveness. . . are found in Chapter Four.)

Junior tossed his shoes and socks. . . Out into the rain: (Negation, that is normal. . . disregard the stain.)

Junior set Dad's shirt on fire. . . Whittled Grandpa's pine. (That's to gain attention. . . see page 89.)

Grandpa seized a slipper. . . And yanked Junior cross his knee. (He's read nothing but the Bible since 1893.)

It's curious how the ignorant refuse to study and the intelligent never stop studying.

McBroom-Renner Wedding

Roscoe Ivies Have Visitors

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Ivie, 1620 West Eleventh Street, last week were two of their grandsons, Blaine and Rance Ivie of Irving.

Weekend guests were Mr. and Mrs. Delvin Bratt, Archer City, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Graham, Oklahoma City; Mrs. George Murchison and son, Mark Lafayette, Louisiana, and Calvin Ivie, Irving.

WHAT ARE THEY WATCHING?
 Faces of these English school children suggest something dramatic is going on. Actually they're watching TV, and it's science, not a saga, that has their attention. For a day they were "research assistants" helping IBM engineers check the readability of different style alphabets for use on experimental teaching screens connected to a school's computer.

Jameson-Maxwell Vows Exchanged In Garden

Jan Jameson, daughter of Mrs. Daisy Jameson and Earl Jameson, became the bride of Edwin Lee Maxwell of Amarillo, at 9:00 a.m. Sunday, August 6 in a garden wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Houlette, 804 West 6th Street.

The double ring vows were read by Elder L.W. Bolinger of Hereford, before an archway of greenery entwined with pink roses, centered with three white lace wedding bells and tied with satin ribbons of hot pink. A thirteen branch candelabra tree holding pink tapers bedecked with greenery and pink satin bows completed the setting.

The garden area was marked by swags of white satin roping which were caught by pink satin bows and white sculptured wedding bells. The area was accented by a large bird bath entwined with white tulle and baby's breath. It held two love birds in a nest of tulle and baby's breath, surrounded by rice. Family pews were marked by pink satin bows.

As the bride was escorted and presented in marriage by her father, she wore a formal wedding gown of white satin peau de soie, which was an original creation of her mother. It featured a wide midriff of peau de soie and a chantilly lace bodice with a scooped yoke. Sheer lace bishop sleeves were gathered onto wide cuffs, double edged with sculptured lace motifs.

Lace motifs also edged the rounded yoke and waist band. Chantilly lace motifs were re-embroidered on the chapel length veil of imported silk illusion which was held by a crown of lace and seed pearls.

For something borrowed, the bride carried a white lace covered bible belonging to an aunt, which was topped with a cascade of Amaryllis lilies and beaded pink roses accented with pink satin bows, white pearls and streamers of pink ribbon and strung pearls.

Carrying out tradition, she wore a blue garter and an heirloom gold wedding ring worn by her great-grandmother. For something new she wore an amethyst drop necklace.

Mrs. Bryan Jameson of Ft. Worth, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a formal gown of pink crepe. It was designed with an empire waist, scooped neckline and short puffed sleeves edged in ribbon and lace. She carried a single pink rose.

Robin Houlette, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a gown identical to the matron of honor, and carried a white basket filled with tiny pink tea roses.

The ring bearer, Trey Collier, cousin of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin pillow trimmed in lace and ribbon with white satin streamers tied with baby's breath.

Tom Maxwell, brother of the groom, served as best man. The registration table, which was covered with a white satin cloth with a cut lace overskirt was presided over by Sherrie Woodruff. Guests were registered in a white sculptured leather bride's book inscribed in silver, with a pink plume pen in a hot pink velvet stand.

The reception was held in the Houlette home. The bride's table was covered with a white formal satin cloth. An over-cloth of white cut lace was caught in swags by cascades of pink satin roses and long streamers. The traditional wedding cake of baby pink featured pink confectionary orchids and white drop lace work. The tiers were decorated by champagne glasses containing tiny pink orchids. Pink punch, rose mints and nuts were served from crystal and silver appointments.

The groom's table was covered in a cloth similar to that of the bride's and featured a square shaped devil's food cake iced in white and topped with three large pink orchids.

Members of the houseparty were Deloris Phipps, cousin of the bride; Mary Hearne, San Francisco, California; Margo Kraethl, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Conrad Williams, Goodland, Texas and Mrs. William Bandy, Panhandle, Texas.

Following the reception the bridal couple greeted the guests in the garden setting.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a pale blue crepe dress with white accessories and the corsage from her bouquet.

Mrs. Maxwell is a 1970 graduate of Friona High School and is currently attending West Texas State University where she is majoring in art.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell will be at home in Canyon, Texas where he is a senior student majoring in agronomy. He is currently performing in the production "Texas" at the amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon.

God's Love Brings Hope In Nigeria

Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. (Matthew 28:19)

The tiny Nigerian village was so remote we had to abandon our jeep, then our bicycles. Finally, after wading a swollen stream and trudging up a last hill, we were there.

The adults in the village could neither read nor write and spoke only the tribal tongue, Yoruba. To our surprise the children spoke and could read both Yoruba and English.

The reason for this remarkable "generation gap" was a young Nigerian who had been educated and led to Christ by English-speaking Christian missionaries. He had been assigned to teach in a one-room mission schoolhouse serving this and two other nearby villages.

I watched and heard those youngsters singing hymns to the accompaniment of a hand-cranked record player. I saw in their smiling and alert faces love for God and one another. In them I saw promise of a bright future for a struggling new nation.

PRAYER: We thank Thee, God, that Thy church has in every generation taken steps to insure that children are better informed than their parents. Bless we pray Thee, Christian education--that vital ministry to mankind. Amen.

SCD Works For Conservation And Education

The Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District is very much interested in conservation education.

Leon Crissom, Chairman of the Board of Directors, states that a scholarship was offered to grade school teachers in Friona this past Summer. The scholarship was to attend the Environmental Workshop at West Texas State University. This workshop covered all phases of environmental concerns from wildlife management to soil erosion (pollution) and water pollution.

Another phase of conservation education the district is interested in is developing an outdoor classroom with the help of the Friona school system. Several sites are being considered for development into an outdoor classroom.

Soil being a part of the districts name, the district has developed a soils display to be given to each FFA Chapter in the County on September 5th at the Final Acre Ceremony which is being held at Parmer-ton.

Crissom stated that the district is always interested in other ways to improve the conservation education in the county.

Banning the use of the growth hormone, diethylstilbestrol (DES), would be a tremendous blow to the beef cattle industry. DES brings animals to a market weight of 1,000 pounds 35 days sooner and on 500 pounds less feed than otherwise. DES also increases the protein to fat ratio, thus resulting in more nutritious meat.

A ban of DES, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, would cost the feed industry millions of dollars annually and the U.S. consumer would have to pay more per pound for beef. In essence, no one would benefit.

What is ridiculous is the fact that a human would have to eat more than 5,500 pounds of contaminated beef livers per day to consume enough of the feed additive to approach the danger level.

Proper management of irrigation water now will certainly mean extra cotton profits this fall. Cotton has made good progress during recent hot weather. We must make every effort not to hamper this progress by improper timing of irrigations. The lateness and varying stages of growth due to earlier adverse weather and subsequent disease attack requires that special attention be given to irrigation.

Irrigation should be timed to the fruiting stage. A good rule of thumb is to wait until the first white blooms appear before applying that first irrigation. Water requirements by the plant are relatively low until the bloom stage is reached and then continues to be high during the critical boll development period. Additional moisture will especially be needed on light soils that store limited water or in areas which did not receive ample rainfall.

Some early planted cotton was delayed as much as two to three weeks by adverse weather and wet-weather blight. This cotton will have only a short time to produce a crop and can be further delayed by irrigation if stimulated to grow vegetatively. This cotton has used little moisture until recent growth; therefore, soil moisture conditions should be good. Only in situations where cotton is fruiting rapidly and not growing vegetatively is an irrigation profitable.

June planted cotton will require almost ideal growing conditions to reach maturity by frost and in most cases will not require irrigation--this is especially true of cotton planted the middle of June or later. Yield potential for this cotton is less and, therefore, water requirements will not be as great as early cotton. Since late cotton is more easily shifted into vegetative growth, irrigation is more likely to delay fiber maturity rather than increase yields.

Verticillium Wilt has appeared early on the South Plains this year. Excessive amounts or poor timing of irrigation water can increase the wilt disease problem and reduce yields. The presence of wilt does not necessarily mean no watering as irrigation will likely be required to maintain normal fruiting and growth and produce an acceptable yield. A producer may need to apply lighter irrigations or use alternate row irrigation to avoid excessive cooling of soil to reduce wilt and maintain this fruiting-vegetative balance.

When discussing cotton irrigation, proper cut-off time is most critical to profitable cotton production. In all cases irrigation should cut-off by August 15 to 20.

In the lazy, hazy days of summer it's wonderful to have many washable, no-iron, wrinkle-resistant clothes available to pack for vacation. It makes traveling a breeze. Washability with no side effects means you have more time for sightseeing or shopping, beach basking or woodland hikes. And you can travel with luggage on the light side because fewer clothes are needed. Minimizing space and weight are important to air travel. Even by car, space can be a problem especially when the whole family is on the move.

A basic color scheme with a few garments, interchangeable jackets or sweaters, scarves and accessories can see you through many activities. In hotel or cottage, or any place in the world, soiled clothing can be swished through a washbasin of suds, hung to dry and in no time ready to go.

It helps to envision yourself enroute and already "there." In your mind's eye, do you see a lot of walking to visit points of interest? Is this a trip to a cosmopolitan city or a tour of historic sites in smaller towns? As long as young children are clean, neat and comfortable, what they wear is not usually so important. But location as well as the activity may be a factor in whether you choose a dress or more casual wear for yourself. New shoes should be broken-in before going on a walking marathon or feet may protest before you've seen all that you want.

With this "I-am-there" thinking, make a checklist. Include the incidentals such as toiletries, camera and film, small first aid kit, and anticipate possible problems -- the toddler's take-to-bed stuffed toy, game ideas for long rides. For cruises and out-of-country trips, find out if electric grooming aids are compatible with the electrical current available before packing them; if not, purchase an adaptor.

When traveling by car, it is a good idea for each family member to have a small piece of luggage or duffel bag with a fresh change of clothing, nightwear and toiletries if plans call for overnight stops. This way, the major portion of your carry-alongs can stay locked in the car trunk. Even if traveling by air, the small bag of necessities carried on board can be a lifesaver in the event luggage should go astray.

Bush type balsam is sometimes called summer gardenia. This type is dwarf, growing 1 foot tall. Each mounded plant is covered with clusters of flowers.
