Country Living Has Varying Perils For Writer-Neighbors

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Newsfeatures' Writer

There are more perils to country living than you dream of. We have a hazard called authors of humorous books, to wit: It had been raining hard for three days. We had finished sweeping up the fallen plaster and were consulting on the water in the cellar. A neighbor dropped in, a neighbor named H. Allen Smith. Mr. Smith had just written a book, dealing with the joys of country living, called "Larks in the Popcorn." He is, of course an authority. As is the country habit, Mr. Smith was invited to diagnose the water in the cellar. He descended, looked around and pointed sternly to a pile of magazines in a corner. "Condensation," said Mr. Smith, and returned upstairs. Magazine Hazard. He lit a cigarette and explained. "You people collect back numbers of the Reader's Digest," he said. "No," we said, "we were just saving them for the next Boy Scout Paper Collection Day."

"No matter," Mr. Smith continued inexorably. "Reader's Digest contains more condensations than anything except Omnibook. There's been a phenomenon or something in your cellar which has resulted in all the condensations in the magazines running out all over the floor." Mr. Smith said he didn't have that trouble because he didn't store magazines in the cellar, and besides he lived at the top of the hill and HIS problem was keeping rainwater from washing all his ground away. Yeast For Bacteria. Then Mr. Smith told us about wonderful things he'd found in a little hardware store that keeps faucets from dripping—not the store, the things in it. They are little round things called washers, and they come in a box and you can put them in yourself," he said. We said no, we hadn't heard about washers yet, but we were a little worried about a thing called a septic tank. Mr. Smith looked crestfallen. "It is perfectly obvious to me," he said, that you haven't read "Larks in the Popcorn." (Doubleday) very carefully. Are you feeding your tank bacteria yeast? "You have undernourished bacteria," he said. "When your bacteria are victims of malnutrition, all kinds of things happen. I feed mine yeast regularly, and there's a neighbor of mine who supplements that with vitamin pills."

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And The Stubborn Mule

By WESLEY DAVIS

Soon after Daddy Ringtail left his monkey house and when he was walking through the Great Forest, he met a man with a stubborn mule. Help me, please, Daddy Ringtail," the man said. "Just look at my stubborn mule. He won't pull my wagon. He just stands and looks at me." Daddy Ringtail saw that the mule was standing there, not going anywhere. The mule was hitched to a very big and heavy wagon. The wagon was loaded with wood. "Do you think that the wagon is too heavy for the mule to pull?" Daddy Ringtail asked. "Oh no!" the man said, because he had seen mules pull wagons much bigger and heavier than the wagon full of wood. Daddy Ringtail asked what the man had done to try to get the mule to go. He listened while the man explained. "Why," said the man, "I even gathered some sticks and made a fire underneath this stubborn mule." Yes, and the mule had walked a few steps until the fire was beneath the wagon. The wagon would have caught fire, the man said, if he hadn't thrown dirt on the fire to put it out. He hadn't tried the business of fire any more after that, and still the mule wouldn't go. The only stood there hitched to the wagon. Daddy Ringtail shook his head as he was told about it. Said he: "What have you said to the mule?" "I told him 'Giddyap,'" said the man, because that was what he always said, when he wanted the mule to go. Daddy Ringtail looked at the mule again, and he thought he knew maybe what was the matter. "Did you tell the mule that you were going home—that he should pull the wagon home?" the monkey daddy asked. "No I didn't," the man said, "but that is where I want him to go." And when the mule heard that, he started off to the man's home.

Haney Has Permanent Anti-Freeze

One of the worst things, yet one of the easiest things that could happen to the owner of an automobile this time of year is to have his radiator or block burst because of the sub-freezing weather.

Melvin Haney's Humble Service Station at "A" and Wall Streets has complete protection against such a thing. Haney has plenty of Humble permanent type anti-freeze and Atlas Perma-Guard anti-freeze on hand and available so that the motorist can be sure his radiator will not freeze during the duration of the winter months.

Complete Protection
Atlas Perma-Guard is just as complete protection against freezing as is draining the radiator every night and it is a lot less trouble. For many years Atlas Perma-Guard was one of the three brands of permanent anti-freeze. Haney says it will do the job just as well as the other two widely known brands.

Now the Humble Oil and Refining Company has developed a permanent type anti-freeze that Haney says is practically the same and is also complete protection against a frozen radiator.

In addition to these two top-notch brands of anti-freeze Haney sells the highest quality products in gasoline, oil, tires, tubes and batteries. Humble gasoline and oil products have proved themselves over many years and Atlas tires, tubes and batteries are as good as money can buy.

Miller Brothers Trim Shop has everything for the inside of an automobile. They have headliners, side panels and seat covers, although seat covering is the work in which Miller Brothers specialize. The shop is located just behind Ed Eubanks Auto Parts store at 114 East Wall Street. Miller Brothers chose this alley location so their shop would be right in the heart of the business district and easily accessible. Dock and Leonard Miller have the best materials available and recently received a new shipment of nylon. Their telephone number is 774. A trip to Miller Brothers and your car will look like new on the inside. They use factory approved methods.

City Cab Has New Autos For Passenger Comfort

City Cab of Midland does not spare trouble or expense to insure the comfort and safety of its passengers. The company now has three brand new 1949 automobiles and two more are on the way. The new cabs are of a nationally known make that are advertised for their safety.

And City Cab goes to much trouble to see that passengers are picked up and delivered. During the recent ice storm the company's cabs did yeoman service in keeping Midland's transportation going. Then when the ice had melted and the streets were slick and muddy, City Cabs were dispatched to every section to pick up passengers. Many Midlanders left their own cars in the garages to be protected from the cold and rain and rode to work in City Cabs.

Two-Way Radios
Each car belonging to City Cab Company is equipped with two-way radio communications service for fast passenger pick up. Many times when you call a cab one may be right in your neighborhood and will be at your house almost by the time you hang up the phone.

The City Cab has two telephone numbers, so one need not be discouraged when one phone is busy. The numbers are 80 and 600. Either one will bring a City Cab in double-quick time.

May Motor Company Lives Up To Name Of "Krazy Trader"

Gene May of the May Motor Company began business in November of 1946 with only one used car lot and that was located at 311 East Wall Street in Midland.

Now he has the same location in Midland, a lot in Odessa and one right in the middle of Monahans. The growth of the business of Gene May, The Krazy Trader, is due largely to his liberal trade-in allowances, good service and thousands of satisfied customers, many of whom come back when they want another car.

Financing a car should be the least of one's worries when dealing with the Krazy Trader. He does his own financing and will make the terms right.

And the down payment should be even less worry. May will take in anything of value on a car. He has taken in an airplane, washing machine, trailer, houses, lots and on one occasion even took in a cow, a calf and seven sheep.

He lives up to his name of "The Krazy Trader." He will buy or sell anything.

The Midland used car lot at 311 East Wall Street is open seven days a week from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. The busy working man will have plenty of time after working hours to go by the lot and look over the nice line of cars there.

Also in Midland the May Motor Company maintains a wrecking yard that features 24 hour wrecker service.

BROWNWOOD—(P)—Hardin-Simmons had only three men on the floor at the end of Tuesday night's basketball game with Howard Payne, which Howard Payne won 64-63 in an overtime period.

Hardin-Simmons was reduced to three men in the final minutes of the overtime period because so many of its players were disqualified by fouls.

Odessa Licks Purple 32-17

DOWN SPORTS LAINE ★

—With Tanner Laine

The Midland Bulldogs took a country licking Tuesday night in their own gym at the hands of the Odessa Bronchos 32-17. In the "B" curtain-raiser, the two clubs deadlocked at 30-30 and no overtime was played. Midland recently beat Odessa 34-23 at Odessa.

It was a varsity game Midland would like to forget in a hurry. The Bulldogs played the game of which they are capable during but one quarter. That was in the second stanza when they pulled up from a 12-2 deficit to knot the count at 12-12 just as the half ended. The score at the end of the first quarter was Odessa 8, Midland 2. That indicated how it was going. Odessa was out front 23-14 going into the final quarter. Midland got but three points in the final go-round.

Ed Sharpe of Odessa was high-pointer for the fracas with 10 tallies on four fielders and two gratis shots. Larry Messersmith scored seven points for Midland's high. Lloyd Henderson meshed six.

Hogan Nips Demaret In Los Angeles Open

LONG BEACH, CALIF.—(P)—Golfer Jimmy Demaret has his own idea about Ben Hogan's "new" putting stroke.

Beaten by Hogan two strokes in the playoff Tuesday for $2,000 top money in the Long Beach Open tournament, Demaret confided: "The only thing different about Hogan's putting is that he's getting humped back picking up those 10-foot putts out of the can."

It was a 20-foot putt on the thirteenth, coupled with an earlier two-footer that Jimmy missed, which had a lot to do with Hogan's four-under-par 34-33-67 victory in the playoff.
