Trial Of Cardinal Mindszenty Starts In People's Court

BUDAPEST—(P)—Josef Cardinal Mindszenty told a Hungarian People's Court Thursday: "I plead partly guilty, having committed the majority of those deeds I am charged with."

The cardinal's former secretary, the Rev. Ondras Zakar, also pleaded "partly guilty" but said he only followed orders of his superiors.

Mindszenty and six others are being tried on charges of treason, spying and black-market dealings. Mindszenty is the first Roman Catholic cardinal ever to be tried by a civil court.

As the trial opened, Mindszenty acknowledged that he wrote a letter offering to work for peace between the Communist-dominated government and the Roman Catholic Church, if his trial was put off.

The presiding judge of the five-man People's Court, Vilmos Olthys, put the question of guilt to the prime, and Cardinal Mindszenty answered in a firm voice:

"It is not my intention to mince matters. I must state that I cannot accept all the conclusions contained in the indictment as a consequence of my activities.

No Signs Of Beatings

"I cannot, for instance, accept the charge which alleged that I organized or led a movement to destroy the Democratic system of this state."

The 56-year-old prelate wore the unadorned robes of a simple priest as he was led before the five-judge Hungarian People's Court. There was no visible change in his appearance despite almost 40 days in jail. He showed no signs of having been beaten or drugged, as charged, and he did not appear to have lost weight.

Defeat Of Truman's Labor Bill Predicted By Oregon Senator

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator Morse (R-Ore.) declared in a tumultuous Senate Labor Committee session Thursday that the Administration labor bill "hasn't a ghost of a chance" as it is now written.

Morse said "a lot of compromises must be made," and added:

"Labor is not going to write this ticket. It is going to be written by the counting of noses in the Senate. The votes are not there to pass this bill."

For more than two hours, the senators had engaged in hot argument over the measure.

The dispute centered on whether the government could obtain injunctions to block "national emergency" strikes if the Taft-Hartley Law's direct provision for such orders is repealed.

Attorney General Tom Clark informed the committee that he believes the government could obtain court orders "in appropriate circumstances," regardless of whether there was specific legal authority. Clark's opinion was in a letter to Committee Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah).

Senator Donnell (R-Mo.) and other Republican members challenged Clark's statement.

Oilmen Hear Rumors Of Crude Price Cut

TULSA, OKLA.—(P)—Oil company officials here admitted Thursday that barrels of a 25-cent drop per barrel in crude are circulating.

But it's too early to tell whether the crude oil situation merits a price cut," said an official who asked not to be named.

The officials said there is a "flood of oil" on the market.

Reporter-Telegram Again 'First' With Chocolate-Scent Ad

Another "first," in so far as newspaper advertising in the Permian Basin is concerned, appears in Thursday's issue of The Reporter-Telegram. Small it is.

It is the first perfume (chocolate-scented, that is) ad ever to appear in a newspaper in this section of West Texas.

This ad of Barney Greathouse's Midland Walgreen Agency Drug Store announces the opening of its new and completely-stocked candy department, which features bulk as well as boxed chocolates.

It was necessary to get a Brooklyn chemist to blend the chocolate scent into the chocolate-colored ink used in the ad.

Suspect Confesses Hotel Room Slaying

TEXARKANA—(P)—Police Chief Jack Runnels said Clarence J. Hankins admitted Wednesday night he quarreled in a local hotel room Tuesday with Bonnie Jean Shelton, then stabbed her with a pocket knife and strangled her.

The nude and bloody body of the 24-year-old Texarkana woman was found in the hotel room Wednesday morning. Wednesday night police arrested Hankins, 28, also of Texarkana, and charged him with murder.

Runnels said Hankins made his signed statement in the New Boston, Texas, jail, where he is held. The Texarkana man at first denied the slaying but broke down when confronted with his own blood-spattered clothing which had been found in his apartment, the police chief said.

Hankins' signed statement said he stabbed the Shelton woman three or four times with a pocket knife at about 3:30 p. m. Tuesday and then strangled her. When the body was found a cloth had been knotted tightly around her neck, her throat had been cut and there were knife wounds on the body.

The statement said he killed her because she double-crossed him. "She didn't do what I wanted her to do. I wanted her to make some money and she wouldn't split with me."

Native West Texan

Officer Floyd Watson, formerly with the Brownwood, Texas, police, said Miss Shelton was born and reared in Comanche, near Brownwood. He said he talked to the young woman last week while she was in the city jail here on a drunkenness charge.

Runnels said Hankins, when he saw the clothes, said: "I'll admit it. Hankins in his statement said he had known the woman about a month. He said that Tuesday afternoon they went to two Texarkana drug stores and purchased some 'yellow jackets'—a drug.

Then, the statement said, they went to the hotel, where Hankins had obtained a room. Hankins said he had sexual relations with the woman; he said he started to leave but changed his mind, stabbed her three or four times with a pocket knife, then strangled her.

He said she put up a struggle and it took him five or 10 minutes to kill her.

O. H. Koch Explains Value Of City Plan

The value of zoning and planning a city was outlined by O. H. Koch of Dallas at an all-civic meeting Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer in connection with the Rotary Club's regular session.

John J. Redfern, Jr., chairman of the City's Zoning Commission, introduced Koch, a member of the firm of Koch and Fowler, consulting municipal engineers. The firm was employed by the City of Midland to prepare and submit a Master Plan for Midland.

"Look before you leap," was the caution sounded by Koch in preparing a Master Plan for the guidance of expenditures of normal funds for the development of the future Midland.

He predicted Midland will continue to grow for some time and asserted the plan must be flexible so it can be expanded.

Best Methods Discussed

Koch also discussed the importance of planning of a city so citizens will have "a desirable place to live, work and play." He listed assets and liabilities of cities and discussed best methods of using resources rather than the amount of resources available.

"How to use what you have and get is what counts," he declared. "The uses of land are most important. We need a convenient city for the community rather than for the individual.

"Eighty-five per cent of the traffic is on 15 per cent of the streets. So we must have major and minor streets.

"We want to coordinate a safe, efficient and desirable city and we want all citizens to understand the program. Ninety-nine per cent will cooperate with the Master Plan which the City Council adopts. The state law gives the City Council authority to adopt basic plans and to prohibit adverse uses of land."

Pointing out that a zoning ordinance permits the building of anything anywhere in the city, but restricts the land to industrial and commercial uses, Koch said he considers a zoning ordinance a protection rather than a prohibition.

Mild New Norther Heads Toward Texas

By The Associated Press

Another cold front—warmer one this time—Thursday was headed southward toward the Texas Panhandle.

The Weather Bureau said it would invade Texas late Thursday night. "It won't pack much of a punch," said the Weather Bureau. "Nothing like that last one."

The last, one, early this week brought Central and South Texas record-breaking low temperatures.

Light rain was falling at many Texas points Thursday, including Austin, Fort Worth, Waco, San Antonio, San Angelo, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Houston, Beaumont, Lufkin, Tyler and Texarkana. Earlier light rains were reported from Clarendon, Amarillo, Abilene, Big Spring, Laredo, Tyler, Brown and Alice.

Acheson Says U. S. To Make No Side Deals

WASHINGTON—(P)—The United States served notice on the world Thursday it will allow no Russian "peace maneuver" to disrupt the growing unity of the non-Communist Western Powers.

That was the real significance seen by diplomatic officials here in Secretary of State Acheson's rejection of Premier Stalin's latest declaration of his willingness to hold a meeting with President Truman.

American diplomats abroad in Western as well as Eastern Europe were expected to make the most of this new and detailed statement of Washington's determination not to make any direct side deals with the Soviet Union at the possible expense of other nations.

President Truman had an opportunity to enter the picture during the day. He scheduled his usual weekly news conference at 3 p. m. and it was expected he would endorse fully all Acheson had said.

The secretary of state turned thumbs down on Stalin's latest peace maneuver at a news conference late Wednesday.

He did it in such a way as indirectly to accuse Stalin of "playing international politics with his statement last Sunday. That Stalin's statement expressed a willingness to meet Truman for the purpose of considering a Soviet-American 'pact of peace.'

Russian Obstructionism

And Acheson also renewed the American charge that the present state of the world is due to Russian "obstructionism" in the United Nations and in other international forums where the great problems of the world are supposed to be solved.

Twice in his statement, which detailed official reaction here to the answer which Stalin refused last Sunday to four questions put to him by the International News Service.

The secretary commented on all the questions in a manner which left little doubt in the minds of those clear (1) where the responsibility for failure to get peace lies and (2) why the United States believes no lasting results could be obtained through a Truman-Stalin conference.

The first question directed to Stalin was whether Russia would be prepared to consider issuing a "joint declaration" with the United States asserting that neither country has any intention of resorting to war against the other. Stalin replied that "The Soviet government would be prepared to consider the issuance of such a declaration."

Acheson said he found this answer "puzzling" and a "triumph of caution," since both countries are "pledged by the most solemn treaty commitments not to engage in war against one another."

Question number two dealt with whether Russia would carry out the suggested peace pact through such measures as gradual disarmament and Stalin replied that "naturally" Russia would do so.

Acheson attacked Stalin's reply by declaring the Russian statement "evidence of every effort in the United Nations to achieve disarmament, control the atomic bomb and create a United Nations police force."

No Private Conferences

Acheson then skipped over the third question to take up the fourth in which Stalin had been asked whether he had been prepared to confer with President Truman, to which Stalin replied that there was "no objection to a meeting."

"Now in this connection," Acheson told the news conference, "I am sure it is clear to you, and it is not clear to you I should like to make it clear now, that the government of the United States would not discuss with any nation any matter which was of direct interest to the other nations without the participation of the representative of those other nations."

That was regarded by State Department authorities as the basis of the whole American position.

Woman Clubbed To Death

HOUSTON—(P)—A 32-year-old mother of six children was found beaten to death and her husband and two children severely injured at their Houston home Thursday.

The body of Mrs. Paula Rodriguez was found in a bedroom of the four-room home. Nearby, all unconscious, were her husband, Manuel Rodriguez, 37, and the children, Mary, 17 months old, and Yolanda, four.

Homicide Captain George Seber said he believes an axe, missing from the home, was used in the attack on the family.

Four other children were sleeping in another bedroom and were not injured.

Manuel Rodriguez, 10, told police he was awakened by a noise and that he "saw a tramp" leaving the house.

Hospital attendants said the father and two children had fractured skulls and multiple fractures and bruises.

Rail Board Grants No Drilling Permits On Bronte Townsite

AUSTIN — (P) — The Railroad Commission said Thursday no permits for drilling on townsite lots in the new Bronte production area have been granted.

Several applications are on file for drilling on townsite lots with wells spaced at distances less than those allowed under the general statewide rule, but no dates for hearing them have been set.

Commission Engineer Harry Baile said that so far as he knows, the present statewide spacing rule would hold for the Bronte townsite until after a March 3 hearing. He said if anyone wants a permit for drilling with less distance between wells and lease boundaries than provided by the statewide rule, a special hearing would have to be held.

The commission Wednesday postponed a hearing on Bronte townsite drilling rules at the request of the Humble Oil and Refining Company. The hearing was re-set for March 3.

West Elementary Classes Resumed

Classes were being held on schedule Thursday in Midland's West Elementary School following an explosion in the school's boiler early Wednesday. Slight damage was caused to the boiler and five windows in the boiler room were blown out.

Students were dismissed Wednesday while a thorough check of the heating and gas system was being made. Repairs to the boiler also were made.

Supt. Frank Monroe said Thursday no troubles were uncovered in the survey of the heating and gas systems at West Elementary or other school buildings. Automatic pilot lights are being installed to make the gas system entirely automatic.

B. E. Parmley, custodian of the West Elementary School, who received burns about the hands and face in the explosion, was reported to be in a satisfactory condition. He was treated for flash burns at a Midland hospital and released. He is at his home at 1200 West Kentucky Street.

The explosion occurred when Parmley discovered the pilot light on the boiler for the school's heating system was out. He struck a match to light the pilot and gas, which had escaped into the boiler, blew up.

The prospector will be located No. 1 T. J. Good It is located five and one-quarter miles north of Vealmoor, in North-Central Howard County 20 miles north of Big Spring, and at the center of the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 37, block 33, TP survey, T-4-N.

Rotary tools will be used to dig No. 1 Good.

Reagan Discovery Flowing More Oil

Plymouth Oil Company No. 1-46 Elliott, discovery from the lower Pennsylvanian in West-Central Reagan County one and one-quarter miles northeast of the discovery well of the Bendum-Ellenburger field across the line in West-Central Upton County, flowed oil at the rate of 12 barrels per hour for 15 hours from section at 10,584-616 feet. The flow was natural. There was no water with the oil. The eighth inch bottom hole choke was used.

Operator is continuing to flow to test and complete. The oil is coming through slots in a 5-inch liner cemented at 10,616 feet, which is two feet above the total depth reached by the new discovery. The oil is accompanied by some drilling mud.

This well is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 46, block Y, E&G&T survey.

Initial surveys say the production is from the top of the Bend line, of the lower Pennsylvanian. There is production from the Strawn line of the Pennsylvanian—a higher zone in the formation—about five miles to the northwest on the northwest side of the Bendum area.

The zone making the oil in Plymouth No. 1-46 Elliott is deeper in the Pennsylvanian than that which is producing in the Fred Turner, and J. M. Hewley, Str., No. 1 Barnett, the East-Central Upton County, Strawn discovery.

Northwest Outpost Staked To Riley Pool

A northwest outpost to the Riley field of East-Central Gaines County is to be drilled by Christensen & Matthews of Houston.

It is to be their No. 1 T. S. Riley estate, located 660 feet from south and east lines of section 365, block Q, C&S&R&GNG survey.

That puts about 15 miles southwest of Smith, E&G&T survey. Elevation is 3,425 feet.

Starting immediately with rotary tools, hole is to be made to 7,200 feet.

Gulf Will Set Pipe In Winkler Devonian

Gulf Oil Corporation was conditioning the hole preparatory to running casing on its No. 135-E Keyston, recent Devonian discovery in northeast Winkler County, a mile northeast of the town of K. A.

Total depth is 9,744 feet. A Schlumberger survey has been run. After one pipe is cemented and secured, the venture is to take production tests, and probably complete as a new oil producer from the current horizon. It was not reported as to whether the pipe was to be set on top of the pay and the well completed from open hole or whether it was to be run through the pay and production made through perforations.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,360 feet from west lines of section 2, block B-1, pal survey.

Testing Continues At Andrews Pay Opener

Tests were continuing at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2-11 University, likely pay opener from the Wolfcamp-Permian between the Charter Lake and Fullerton fields of North-Central Andrews County.

On the last 24-hour flow, the prospect yielded and gaged 124 barrels of oil and 13 barrels of basic sediment and acid water from perforations at 5,395-8,430 feet. There was no formation water.

It is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 11, block 13, University survey.

First House Bills Introduced Thursday In 51st Legislature

AUSTIN—(AP)—The 51st Legislature's first House bills were formally introduced Thursday, 24 days after the start of the session.

Speaker Durwood Manford called on all House committee chairmen to call organization meetings immediately to expedite the processing of bills. Some 300 measures have been filed with the chief clerk for introduction in the House, but only three have been formally introduced by first reading.

They are: House Bill 1, by Rep. C. P. McKnight of Quitman and others, to create a state board to manage state hospitals, taking this function away from the Board of Control.

House Bill No. 2, by Reps. W. O. Reed and others, appropriating $3,600,000 for establishment of the Southwestern Medical College at Dallas, under direction of the University of Texas.

House Bill 3, by Rep. Tom Whiteside of Tyler, creating a committee to recommend election law revisions.

Senate Pushes Money Bills The election law and Southwestern medical bills were companion measures to two already introduced in the Senate. Although a movement has been started to put the proposed medical branch under direction of Texas Tech. Reed's bill was introduced in its original form which called for an establishment of a branch of the University of Texas Medical College at Dallas.

The Senate's influential Finance Committee Wednesday approved for Senate action a proposal to cover a $9,000,000 shortage in state aid for rural schools.

The Senate group also cleared the way for Senate floor action on 14 other bills, set eight bills for public hearings and referred twelve more to subcommittees.

Subsoiling Should Be Halted, Says State ACP Letter

A letter concerning the Agricultural Conservation Program practice of deep subsoiling was received Thursday by J. A. Boyd, Midland County ACP administrative officer.

The letter from the state ACP offices states that due to the present moisture condition covering practically the entire state the specifications of the practice cannot be met and ACP funds for assistance in the practice will be paid only for the part or number of acres completed during 1949 before the precipitation began.

The deep subsoiling practice is primarily to break up the hard pan that lies just below the top soil and allow water to penetrate deeper into the earth. ACP specifications state that the practice may be carried out only during dry weather. Any farmer who has not already begun the practice should not do so, said the letter.

There have been a few applications made for the practice in Midland County this year, Boyd said Thursday.

Lubbock Beats Drum For Medical School As Tech Subsidiary

AUSTIN—(AP)—The plan to establish a medical school in Dallas under direction of Texas Tech gets to the bill-writing stage, it would have high priority in House consideration.

Introduced in the House Thursday morning as Bill No. 2 of the current session was a measure by Rep. W. O. Reed of Dallas to establish Southwestern Medical College at Dallas as a branch of the University of Texas.

Rep. Preston Smith of Lubbock is drumming up support for a projected amendment which would put the school under the direction of Texas Tech. Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas, one of the co-authors of the Red d bill has said it would be all right with him.

Smith said Thursday he would like to have the support of the San Antonio delegation for his proposition.

San Antonio also is seeking establishment of a branch of the University of Texas Medical School. Smith said he supported a measure granting this last session, and would not oppose it this time.

A good many legislators believe the state could use two additional medical schools.

Singapore Bill Shortage Is Mystery

SINGAPORE—(AP)—There's a strange shortage here of $5 and $10 bills, but the situation should be improved in a month or two.

Chief Currency Officer C. G. Dickens says a special shipment of papers has arrived from the United Kingdom and the shortage of the past four months should soon be ended.

Rumor had it that people were hoarding the currency notes to avoid the colony's new income tax. A straight dollar is a bit less than 50 U. S. cents.

AFL Leaders Regard Proposed Labor Law As 'Bargain Package'

MIAMI, FLA.—(AP)—From every indication AFL leaders feel they have a bargain package in the Administration's proposed new labor law.

Several said privately Thursday their main concern now is getting it approved in Congress without too many changes.

Members of the AFL Executive Council, in annual mid-Winter meeting here, have avoided public comment until attorneys finished poring over the Taft-Hartley Law "repealer clause by clause."

Significantly the AFL men have had scarcely a word of criticism for the bill, even in hotel lobby conversation.

Lawyers Study Terms Thursday the council called in its lawyers for a detailed explanation of the bill's terms. Their reaction will form the basis for the testimony AFL President William Green gives to the Senate Labor Committee within the next week or so.

The Administration's proposal substantially restores the old Wagner Act, which was the New Deal labor law until the Republican-controlled Congress passed the Taft-Hartley Law in 1947.

The major Taft-Hartley provisions which caused labor to support Truman so heartily in the November election would be discarded—including court injunctions to stop emergency labor disputes at unfair labor practices, the closed shop ban, and non-Communist affidavits.

Budget Economies Necessitate Layup Of 72 Navy Ships

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Navy said Thursday it will have to lay up 72 ships, including 15 top-line fighting vessels, and cut its strength by 30,000 men to meet President Truman's 1950 budget.

Secretary of the Navy Sullivan said three Essex-class carriers, nine light cruisers and three anti-aircraft cruisers have been picked for inactivation.

In a letter to the chairman of the Senate and House Armed Services and Appropriation Committees, Sullivan said the Navy plans to start reduction at once.

In addition to the cuts in ships and men, Sullivan said the Navy must reduce its air strength by a small percentage—some 400 planes out of more than 8,000—and shut down a dozen small air stations.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blood disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days
Mrs. M. C. Britton, 206 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Bannercin. I had dieted for weeks without any results and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Bannercin and my worry was over for 10 lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 135 pounds. I am eating and drinking what I want and hold my same weight."

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing. How quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Bannercin. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reproducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear; almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, back, abdomen, hips, crotch and buttocks, return the empty bottle for your money back.

The Soviet-Satellite Pact

The announcement of Russia's "Marshall Plan" for itself and five satellite nations is a reminder that the real Marshall Plan today is not what it started out to be.

Poland did announce acceptance of the plan. Czechoslovakia asked to send an observer to the first discussion meeting in Paris.

That is the excuse given for forming the Council of Mutual Economic Assistance, made up of Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria.

This is something quite different from the Marshall Plan, though its originators would have the world think otherwise.

America's European aid policy is both economic and political, although the political aspects were forced on it by Russia's boycott of the Marshall Plan.

There was self-interest as well as idealism in America's anxiety to preserve freedom in Europe.

Russia's cooperative agreement with the satellites has little political motive. Moscow can force their adherence to communism through armed action, terrorism and political chicanery.

The six nations already have trade and barter agreements among themselves. Informed observers say that, under these agreements, Russia gets most of the advantage.

Whatever the result, we doubt that it will be successful enough to make the citizens of the satellite countries rejoice that Moscow forced their own puppet governments to turn their back on America's Marshall Plan assistance.

Turkeys have gone back to eating their fill with pleasure. A bass caught in Florida weighed 47 pounds. It just missed weighing 100 by not getting away.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Written for NEA Service. Drew Pearson says: Seven city departments planned New York welcome for French 'Merici Train'...

Approved by the RFC regional office in Charlotte, N. C. But when forwarded to Washington nothing happened.

Howard chief of the RFC's business loan section, is married to the youngest sister of Frank Hancock.

Finally, after getting the run-around in Washington, Strickland was advised by North Carolina friends to get Hancock for the purpose of putting the loan through the RFC.

Howard's wife, Mrs. Howard, is a member of the subcommittee of Congress which helped create the RFC.

After that, everything was paltry, walsy, and objection to the RFC loan vanished. Within three weeks a loan of $25,000 was offered by the RFC.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Smoking Can Irritate Some; Pleasure May Outweigh It

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service. Tobacco smoke irritates the delicate mucous linings of the breathing passages.

Many smokers complain of cold hands and feet. This is probably because the nicotine absorbed causes some of the small blood vessels to contract.

Whether smoking shortens life is highly controversial. One of the most authoritative studies of this subject was made by the American Lung Association.

Different people are affected differently by tobacco smoking. Those who have definitely unfavorable effects or have diseases in which tobacco smoking is pretty well known to be harmful should give up the habit.

WASHINGTON COLUMN Truman's 'Bold New Plan' Has Been Underway For Some Time

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman's surprise package in his inauguration message turns out to be not so new after all. The message called for "a bold new program for making the benefits of our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped countries."

Actually, the President's budget message scooped his inaugural message on this item by 10 days, with a request for $16,000,000. The sum was, comparatively, such chicken feed that nobody paid any attention to it.

Also, this kind technical assistance has been going on in the government since 1938. For the first 10 years it has been confined to Latin America. Last year $4,000,000 was spent on it.

In the so-called Smith-Mundt "Voice of America" bill passed by the 80th Congress, authorization was given to extend this lending of American know-how to the Eastern Hemisphere. The catch was that Congress didn't appropriate any money to carry it out.

The type of activity which will be carried out under this plan can best be indicated by projects actually in progress in Latin America. Since 1938, nearly 250 U. S. specialists have been loaned 20 American republics for from nine days to two and a half years each.

The projects resulting from the loan of these technical experts have run into many millions of dollars paid for by the governments getting the assistance. The cost of the experts to the U. S. government has averaged only a little over $5,000 apiece. In many cases the foreign governments have paid part or all of this.

This is about the cheapest kind of assistance which the United States can give to the underdeveloped countries, and a case can be made that it does "em" a lot more good than giving "em" guns, which cost a lot more.

Management of all these projects is now carried on by the law-breaker named Interdepartmental Committee on Scientific and Cultural Cooperation. Its chairman is Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen and its vice-chairman is Haldore Eberson of the State Department, who is now in South America checking up on his 100 current projects. ICSCC takes in some 36 branches of 25 major departments and agencies of the federal government.

Here are some of the projects which it now has at work: Argentina—An entomologist advising on movement of fruit. Bolivia—Three agricultural experts working at an experiment station on crop improvement and an aviation expert at AFAP in Brazil.

Colombia—One irrigation expert at Bogota. Two more agricultural research men to be sent on labor standards. One anthropologist on Indian problems. Costa Rica—Five experts on rubber development and one investigating coffee plant disease.

Cuba—One expert on development of kenaf, an Asian hibiscus fiber used for making raw sugar bags. Three scientists working in migratory bird surveys. A labor standards expert.

Ecuador—Three agricultural experts working on pyrethrum, an insecticide plant, and two at a cacao experiment station. A nurse training midwives for ministry of health. Another labor standards man.

Questions and Answers

Q—Where did dogs come from? A—The dog's origin is rather obscure. The most important ancestor of the modern dog seems to have been the wolf. Mixed with other wild canines, an independent species developed. Cave drawings made by men of the Old Stone Age show hunters with a dog-like animal. By the time the New Stone Age opened there were true domesticated dogs.

Q—What was the average number of patents granted weekly during 1948? A—An average of 451 patents weekly was granted by the United States Patent Office during 1948, as compared with a weekly average of 385 last year and 430 two years ago.

Q—Did Cervantes have a particular purpose in writing Don Quixote? A—This novel, regarded as one of the greatest satires in literature, has for its theme the ridicule of the extravagant heroism of knights in contemporary literature.

Q—Is hunting responsible for the greatest number of deaths from firearms? A—Statistics show that about twice as many persons are killed by firearms at home as while hunting.

Q—Are there any animals that hibernate in summer? A—The word hibernate carries the idea of winter. There are some creatures, as certain snails, that pass the summer in a torpor. This is known as estivation.

POP Goes the QUEEN

By Bob Wade and Bill Miller. THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover was an expensive-paid valet at a swank California resort after a successful appearance as a radio personality. Their arrival seems to draw unusual interest from Gaynes, the hotel manager, who is a social climber.

That was the first time anybody ever drew a gun on me," he said, almost complacently. Now that he had tasted excitement, John Henry was reluctant to spit it out.

"Well, as a matter of record, the whole thing happened mainly to me," Sin pointed out. "Uh-huh. But it was me he was talking about."

"I don't know why you don't go ahead and report it to the police then."

"Sin—I don't think you have any lust for adventure. A mysterious stranger with a gun, a bloody handprint on our own front porch—"

JOHN HENRY looked sideways quickly and hunched closer to his wife. "That's the strange thing, Sin," he murmured. "I've had a kind of a feeling that we're being watched." Her green eyes didn't change expression but he straightened and flushed, anyway. "All right, all right—I know it sounds funny."

The waiter, plump even in the loose burnoose, was at his elbow. Conover flinched and Sin asked sweetly, "You having dessert, dear?"

"No, I guess not." Dourly, John Henry ordered two coffees. "Black. And the check too, please."

After the waiter had hustled off, Sin regarded her husband with gentle amusement. "I suppose you think our Arab's been spying on us, too."

"I wouldn't be surprised. He's been at my elbow all through the meal." "You're just not used to good service, honey. People who eat here expect attention."

"Well, I still think something's going on here. You've got your back to me. Johnny nodded and locked his fingers under his chin. "Something that involves a transfer of something from someone to someone. Didn't the man say he had 'it' for me?"

"It could be anything."

"I'd like to meet that fellow again. Next time, you can bet your life I'll find out just what's going on."

THE rounded Arab-gowned waiter returned with coffee in the rough pottery jug that the Ship of the Desert affected. He poured quickly and skillfully, deposited a woven salver containing the bill on the table and journeyed back toward the mecca of the kitchen.

"I won't be surprised next time." John Henry stared balefully at his coffee. "Just let anybody make a suspicious move."

Sin slipped in some of the steaming black liquid. "Good coffee," she murmured. "But I still think your imagination's running away with you." She jumped and screamed, "Johnny!"

John Henry had knocked over his coffee cup. All around chairs scraped and customers craned toward the commotion. Curious eyes saw a young man with a white face staring at the bill as it lay on the woven salver.

Sin reddened, semi-angry at being part of the floor show. She looked at the spreading brown stain. "Honey, you've certainly ruined their tablecloth."

But her husband's white face was curiously triumphant. "There!" he whispered.

"What? I can't hear you."

"There, Sin—that ought to prove what I said. Look at that!" His forehead stabbed toward the salver. Sin indignantly looked at it, at the bill lying across it. Then she stared, awestruck.

It wasn't a bill at all! It was just an ordinary playing card. The Queen of Diamonds. And across the queen's face someone had written in bold hand: "Your deal."

"You're just not used to good service, honey. People who eat here expect attention."

Ford Sees No Curtailment, May Boost '49 Output

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Ford Motor Company "intends to continue its expansion" in 1949 and expects to increase car and truck output May 1, according to Henry Ford II.

Ford's statement was in answer to a survey of top business leaders conducted by Peter Edson, NEA Washington correspondent, to determine whether industry was curtailing expansion in 1949 for political or other reasons. Previous replies by 16 leaders of blue-chip industries had reversed reports of such curtailment.

Ford said his company "intends to continue its expansion and modernization program in 1949 and each year thereafter."

"We have in no way curtailed our plans, nor given up any of our long-range programs. Our dollar investment in 1949 will not be as great as in the last year, but only because of the time required to develop product and expansion plans."

"We expect to increase car and truck output May 1 if raw materials are available. Our dollar investment schedule would produce several thousand more cars and trucks than we did last year."

WTCC-TWCA Parley May Be Called Soon In Water Code Fight

ABILENE — (AP) — The next step in the Texas water code controversy may be a meeting next week between representatives of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Texas Water Conservation Association.

An authoritative WTCC source said such a meeting is likely. He spoke at the WTCC outlined its 17 objections to the water code drawn up by TWCA for submission to the Legislature.

Copies of the objections were sent to John D. Mitchell, Odessa, WTCC president.

The objections are predicated on grounds the code would grant vested rights to all of the runoff of a watershed to any corporation or authority which may already have constructed a dam on the lower reaches of the watershed, although the water in the existing reservoir is for a use inferior to municipal rights or irrigation, such as generation of electric power.

Four of the objections are against proposals which the committee contends "might be construed to make untouchable all previous appropriations of water."

SENTENCED FOR SLAVERY

Groundhog Beater Resents Brushoff By State Politicos

TEMPLE, TEXAS — (AP) — Sam Flocca doesn't think he got fair treatment down at Austin Wednesday. He's so mad he may "demand an investigation."

Sam spends his free time in trying to do something about the weather — especially when the weather's like it's been lately.

So, as president of the Bell County Groundhog Beaters Association, he had a resolution brought up before the State Legislature in Austin. The resolution would have asked all of Texas to join forces with BCGHBA.

The association was formed to beat down the groundhogs on Groundhog Day. The idea was to whack them on the head so fast they wouldn't have a chance to see their shadows. Presto — an early Spring.

Well, the lawmakers are sort of sensitive these days because some people have been saying they aren't accomplishing much. So they ditched the resolution, muttering something about "monkey business."

"What on the monkey business was monkey business?" Flocca screamed. "This is groundhogs."

Asked if any association members hit a groundhog, Flocca said: "Let's not get technical, bud. We got troubles enough without statistics."

Big Ha-Ha Men Of Yesterday Missing In America Today

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — There's a fellow missing from the contemporary scene.

But there's some doubt if very many people miss him much. The fellow I'm talking about is the big ha-ha man of yesterday — the practical joker.

He was some prankster. At the office he'd leave a faked summons from the boss in your typewriter. He'd have his girl friend write a mush letter to your home signed "with all my love, Moby." He was the fellow who anonymously advised 30 different life insurance salesmen you wanted to buy a policy. And he saw that they all called on you at the same hour.

In the old days he carried a loaded cigar in his pocket. He also had some kitchen matches to give you the hotfoot. If a bum asked him for a coin to buy a cup of coffee, the practical joker always managed to have a Canadian dime ready to drop into his hand. When he threw a party, he slipped you a glass with a hole near the top — so the drink dripped all over your new suit.

Quit Being Funny

Well, somewhere along the way that kind of nonsense went out. There was no widespread rebellion among the victims of the practical jokers. But somehow his jokes, by and large, just quit being funny.

The trouble with the practical joker was that he usually put somebody on the pan. And a generation that has weathered a major depression and two world wars probably just tired of seeing anybody on the pan. It ceased to be funny.

Life became so practical for impractical practical jokes.

The world has grown up too much to enjoy the cruel and hurtful practical jokes of the past. When the last practical joker is buried, it would be pleasant to put him under a nice tombstone bearing this epitaph:

"Having a wonderful time. Wish you were here."

Nobody would begrudge him this last laugh — as long as we were sure it was his last one.

★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★ Milady's Hemline Creeping Up Is Movie Designer's Forecast

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD—Let's go set visiting, something we haven't done lately because there were no sets being previewed around the 20th Century-Fox lot I discovered that Paris fashions will elevate milady's hemline to just below the knee by Fall, Hurray! June Haver is terrific on the violin, but only after the bow has been soaped. Nasty Richard Widmark is finding the role of a film lover just as easy to play as that of a villain. Now about milady's hemline: The Fox fashion boss, Rene Hubert, predicted the rising sea level while fusing with June Haver's buttons and bows for her 1910 costume on the set of "Oh, You Beautiful Doll." All A Mistake "Long skirts," he said, "were a mistake and the Paris designers finally have realized it. Skirts are going up." Hubert has always fought for "movie fashions," a type of designing that ignores current fads and gives clothes a timeless effect. "But the front offices," he said, "always vote it down." Little June—she's 5 feet, 11/2—"but I always say I'm 5 feet 7"—sings, dances, plays the piano and the violin in this film about the life and times of song writer Fred Fisher. Everything but the violin playing is on the level. June learned to finger the instrument like a Heifetz, but the numbers are dubbed for her. June fiddles like mad but nothing comes out because they soap the bow. "I thought I was getting good," she said, "and I tried it without soaping the bow. It was awful. Benny's 'Love in Bloom' sounded like Heifetz in comparison." That nasty fellow of "Kiss of Death" fame, Richard Widmark, is playing a romantic fellow who can't make up his mind between Linda Darnell and Veronica Lake in "Slattery's Hurricane." "Must be difficult," I said, "switching from a heel to a lover." "Not at all," said Widmark. "It's very simple. I just use the same approach in a more genteel fashion and I get the same results." Ineligible All wrestlers are actors so it was almost inevitable that one of them would get a Screen Actors Guild card and make a good living in Hollywood. The fellow is Mike Mazurki, who clicked with Dick Powell in "Murder, My Sweet," and has been working before the cameras ever since. Now he's in "Come to the Stable," with Loretta Young. But Mike still looks with dis-

You Gotta Know How To Back Up

CHICAGO—(AP)—Are you troubled with anacharsophobia? If you do a lot of driving you probably are. Dr. W. A. Eggert, chief psychologist for Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company, says this tongue twister—meaning reluctance to back up—contributes to thousands of automobile accidents each year. In analyzing claims paid by the company on commercial vehicles in nine major industries, Dr. Eggert found that improper backing caused 28 per cent of the accidents—more than any other two driving errors combined. Next in line were inattention, 13 per cent; and speeding, 10 per cent.

"Most of us today are in such a hurry that we resent the idea of backing up," said Dr. Eggert, "and unless we are trained drivers, we tend to think about where we are going next—even while backing—instead of concentrating on the job at hand."

Baked stuffed potatoes are particularly delicious when a little finely grated onion is added to the stuffing along with butter or margarine, salt, freshly ground pepper, paprika and hot milk.

Harsh Weather Daunted As Midland Oil Activity Booms

With the prophecy that areas around Midland can't stay frozen up forever, oil operators rebelled against the harsh weather over the past week and staked locations for 73 new drillsites.

Seven wildcat locations were listed. These were distributed three to Mitchell County, two to Pecos County, and one each to Garza and Midland Counties. An amended application to deepen a wildcat was listed in Howard County.

In addition to its outside projects Mitchell listed 12 field locations. Pecos also was credited with two new field explorations and one amended application was filed in Garza County.

Ector County reported 14 applications for new drillsites. Ten explorations were filed for Hockley County, one of which was amended.

Andrews County was the site for six new projects. Locations were established for four tests each in Cochran, Gaines, and Winkler Counties. Each of the counties also had an amended application for three new developments in each of Reeves and Scurry Counties.

The remaining locations were staked one each in Hale, Lamb, Lubbock, and Ward Counties.

Atomic Energy Has Effect On College Education

By CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON—(AP)—It isn't enough to learn how to make atomic bombs. You also have to learn how to live with them.

That, in general, is the conclusion of a lot of educators in colleges and universities who are trying to remodel educational standards to fit the atomic age.

How they are doing it is described in the forthcoming issue of "Higher Education," a publication of the Federal Security Agency. The Agency's Office of Education queried colleges and universities and received 600 replies.

Results of the survey are described in an article by Dr. Claude E. Hawley, associate chief for social sciences, division of higher education.

It was found that about 100 of the institutions are taking drastic steps to adapt their courses to the new force. As Dr. Hawley expresses it, they "are impressed with the weighty obligations of educators to help unravel some of the horrible and fascinating problems newly created."

(The pedagogues' awareness of the problem, however, was by no means unanimous. Of the 500 colleges replying to the questionnaire, 400 indicated that the coming of the atomic age had affected their activities only incidentally.)

Striking Developments

One of the most striking developments is the effect on training in engineering and other technical professions. Some of the faculties are requiring their students to acquire a much more general education so that they can understand their new problems and responsibilities.

The State University of Iowa requires its engineering students to take twice as many courses in the social sciences and humanities as it formerly did. Many others have made similar changes or are considering them.

On the other hand, many schools are requiring their liberal arts students, the ones who are specializing in general education, to take more physical and natural science courses. Some have developed non-technical courses on atomic energy for the benefit of students with little scientific background.

The teaching of all the social sciences in many of the schools is being revised. Students are being told about the probable social impacts of atomic energy and of the social effects of new atomic inventions that are likely to come.

Economic aspects of the new power are studied. And in political science there is increasing emphasis on the problem of control of atomic weapons.

Thorny Frontiers

In some teachers' colleges future professors are being prepared to guide the next generation through thorny new atomic frontiers.

Some theological schools have added new courses on religion and science. Courses in philosophy stress the moral aspects of the development of atomic energy. One professor of religion wrote:

"A renewed emphasis on the need for human brotherhood and the break-down of segregations of minority groups has come into our teaching with the arrival of the atomic bomb."

Collectivization Pushed In Poland

WARSAW, POLAND—(AP)—A series of agricultural schools are being set up in Poland to teach would-be farm experts the meaning of Socialism and the application of farm collectivization.

A national convention of leaders in agricultural education held here recently declared "agricultural schools must become centers of socialism and every student must become a fighter and a builder of the new social structure."

Informed sources say a primary aim of the schools is to drive home to students that all farm production in Poland must be socialized in conformity with dictates of the Cominform. But Hilary Minc, minister of industry and commerce, has declared that he did not expect the collectivization scheme to affect more than one per cent of the nation's farms in 1949.

Gold Rush Contest Is Underway Here

Every retail grocery store in this area is a potential "gold mine" since Mrs. Tucker started "The Gold Rush of '48" contests that give ten gold watches every week and grand prizes of round trips to the Gold Rush State of California.

"There's nothing to buy," says Mrs. Tucker of shortening and margarine fame. "No box tops to send. Just write me a simple letter on the following subject, 'I use and like Meadolake Margarine because... and you may win a 14 karat gold watch with 17-jewel movement'."

The Meadolake "Gold Mine" offers contestant-prospectors ten gold watches each week for seven weeks; five for the best five letters describing the qualities of golden yellow Meadolake Margarine, and five for the retail grocers of these winners. Then, at the end of the contests March 28, the "big pay-off lode" of this Gold Rush campaign is a grand prize of two all-expenses-

Polish Employment Does Steady Rise

WARSAW, POLAND—(AP)—Employment in Poland is steadily rising as the government pushes its gigantic program of national reconstruction.

Dr. Tadeusz Dietrich, chairman of the Central Planning Board, told parliament employment of wage earners jumped from 2,000,000 in 1946 to 4,110,000 by the end of 1948 and was continuing to rise.

Dietrich added that "in the years 1946 to 1948, employment in state industry increased by 40 per cent; by five times in state building enterprises, by six times in state retail trade and by two times in co-operatives."

Easy To Die In Snowslide, Says Winter Sports Expert

By ELLIOTT CHAZE
DENVER, COLO. — (AP) — If you could happen to get caught in a snowslide, just remember that the best thing to do is to die.

This comes from Wilfred Davis, winter sports administrator for the Rocky Mountain Region, where the white avalanches sometimes travel 100 miles an hour and pack a 100-ton punch.

Davis, hired by the U. S. Forest Service, says the most important thing to do when you find yourself in nature's quick-frozen locker, is to decide the not-so-simple business of up and down. If you begin digging downward you're probably a goner.

There's a certain amount of light digging through powdered snow if you aren't buried more than three feet deep, he says. "That of course, helps. But if you're buried deep to see the light and you've got an elbow room, try dropping something."

"If you drop a mitten and it hits you in the back, you know you're poking toward the surface."

And when—and if—the rescuers arrive, and you hear them stomping around and talking upstairs, don't try to call for help. They won't hear you and you'll burn up that little oxygen you have handy.

Here's The Reason Davis puts it this way: "I've talked to scores of folks who were entombed by snowslides. A lot of them said they could hear every word of the rescuers up above, but that they believed their heads if and the rescuers never received a peep of it. This has never been satisfactorily explained."

Another big DON'T in the business of surviving an avalanche is: don't panic because of the pressure against your body. Providing you aren't choked up badly by the initial impact, and have any sort of breathing space to keep you going, the pressure will seem unbearable at first, but in a few minutes it will lessen. The heat from your body will take care of that, melting some of the snow.

If you see the thing coming, and Davis says it comes in "an incredible hurry," get your hands cupped against your face. This gives you an air-pocket if you are able to hold on to your face during a rough burial. And you're more or less in a fighting position.

If you aren't down more than 12 or 14 feet, you have a fair chance of living. Below 14 feet the odds are increasingly tricky.

Rescue units, composed of Forest Service men and members of the Southern Rocky Mountain Ski association, have made a pretty fine art of recovering entombed parties. They carry probing poles, hollow metal tubes about 14 feet in length. They form two solid lines across the width of the avalanche, one rank moving along behind the other, both ranks probing as they go. In a short time they can cover every square foot of a slide.

When they locate the buried person they honeycomb the snow with their metal tubes, punching air channels to him. This must be done delicately to avoid honeycombing the citizen below. Davis says that at this point, however, the buried person is so interested in his new air supply, he doesn't resent a poke or so in the eye.

In cases where a person is buried too deeply to find by vertical probing, the rescuers start at the foot of the slide and dig parallel trenches about a dozen feet apart. Then the probes are pushed through the walls of the trenches laterally. If necessary the trenches are dug the length of the slide and a diagram of the search pattern has a step-ladder effect.

In these instances, Davis says, "the rescuers are simply trying to satisfy the coroner and recover the body."

Where a slide halts in a gully or a baby canyon the depth of the compressed snow can reach 50 or 60 feet. Ordinarily, where a slide flows out onto flat country, its depth doesn't exceed 10 or 12 feet. The slides are classed as (1) powder snow (2) wet snow and (3) snow slabs.

The snow slab is the biggest killer, because of its light-pecked nature and the fact that it moves pretty much as a unit. It's caused by wind packing snow on the leeward side of a ridge, building a slab on a softer surface beneath.

Up at Homestake Lake a few years past, a snow slab came roaring down a mountain and hit the lake. It drove downward through three solid feet of ice, scoured the bottom of the lake all the way across — some 200 yards — then pushed up through the ice on the other side.

As Davis says, there are a number of things you can do if you get caught in a slide. But the easiest thing, really, is to die.

King Henry VIII Castle Crumbles

POLKESTONE, ENGLAND — (AP) — A hole big enough to hold a five-ton bus has been washed out under Sandgate Castle, anti-invasion bastion which King Henry VIII built in 1539.

New cracks show in the walls. New notices warn the public away. Workmen are shoring up the old place.

The castle, long a territorial (National Guard) armory, now belongs to a man who lives nearby.

Men's Chorus Will Present Concerts Monday, Tuesday

The Splendor concerts of well-known classical, semi-classical and lighter music will be presented Monday and Tuesday nights in the high school auditorium by the Midland Men's Chorus.

To be presented with Splendor on the concerts are the King's Guards, a male quartet of radio network stars, pianist Greta Whitell and organist Eunice Steele.

The programs will begin at 8 p. m. each night and tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce, Wempe's and by all members of the chorus.

The concerts will feature programs of well-known and well-loved compositions from opera, semi-classics and Broadway. Following the scheduled program, the group will continue with request performances for as long as the audience cares to remain.

The King's Guards quartet includes Carl Schlaegel, Johnny Downing, George Saunders and Dave Stevens, each a radio artist. Schlaegel was presented in concert in Carnegie Hall last March.

The group is on a tour of the nation, enroute to the East Coast for appearances in New York City. The Midland Men's Chorus has a five-year contract for appearances of the troupe in Midland.

Russia Has Large Variety Of Drinks

MOSCOW — (AP) — Americans who may think that Russians drink only vodka are as far from the truth as any foreigners who may think that Americans drink only whiskey. The fact is that Russia, like the United States, has a large and varied liquor industry.

The menu of the Metropole Restaurant in the center of Moscow, for instance, lists four brands of Soviet red wine, six types of Soviet white wine, seven types of strong wine, 11 types of dessert wine, two brands of Soviet champagne, three different Soviet liqueurs, 4 types of vodka, 10 types of fruit liqueurs, and four types of Soviet beer.

These are only a small sample of the alcoholic beverages turned out in the Soviet Union. There are scores of types of Georgian wine alone of which only a few are listed in the Metropole's menu.

Cabbage relish is inexpensive and delicious served with meat or fish. Chop the cabbage fine and season with salt, freshly ground pepper, sugar, cider and tarragon vinegar and celery salt.

Great Day For Irish In Houston

HOUSTON — (AP) — An Irishman's $20,000,000 dream will come true here on St. Patrick's Day when oilman Glenn H. McCarthy opens the nation's biggest postwar hotel named the Shamrock, of course. McCarthy, whose oil and gas fortune is estimated at upwards of $80,000,000, pulled no punches in planning the hotel. Each of the 1,100 rooms and apartments will have television plus FM and AM radio and wired recordings.

Cemetery Proves Good Bedroom

BRISBANE — (AP) — If you're a hitch-hiker, take a tip from an Aussie and sleep in a cemetery. Francis Keane, 18, university student, gives the advice. He has hitch-hiked a few thousand miles down under.

Says Francis: "You can generally count on cemeteries not being well kept. There is always long, soft grass in which to make a comfortable bed. Besides, you are fairly safe from cows walking over you."

L. P. Boone Got District Court Reporter Job By Accident; Has Held It 21 Years

By CLEDDIE SHELBURNE
 Along toward the end of 1927, L. P. Boone moved his family to West Texas on the advice of doctors that the climate would be better for him. He had no special destination in mind. By accident, he stopped in a city west of here and in the course of his stay there, learned District Judge Charles L. Klapproth of Midland needed a court reporter. Boone investigated, met Klapproth, they made a deal and Boone was appointed to fill the position. It all came about purely by accident but Boone has been on the job as court reporter in this district since then. Boone served as reporter under Klapproth for 11 years until he vacated the bench to enter private law practice. Cecil C. Collings of Big Spring was elected to the post of district judge following Klapproth's retirement, and he appointed Boone to serve as reporter under him. Collings held the office 10 years with Boone serving continuously along with him. When Collings left the district court seat to accept another judicial position the first of this year, Paul Moss of Odessa was named to serve out the unexpired term. Moss was seated as judge and appointed Boone to serve as court reporter. Through the succeeding appointments under three district judges, Boone has become the oldest employe in time of service, in most of the counties which are included in the 70th Judicial District. Served in Old District. When Boone first was appointed court reporter, the 70th district included Crane, Ward, Reeves, Loving, Winkler, Ector, Andrews, Midland, Martin and Glasscock counties. The district has been changed on two occasions since 1928 and now takes in Midland, Ector, Martin, Howard and Glasscock Counties. Boone thinks the change which moved out Andrews County and added Howard County to the district probably was the most important. It didn't matter much to him, but it meant quite a lot to the judge who had to run for the office. Andrews County had only about 1,000 votes at the time the change was made while Howard County had almost 15,000. 25,000,000 Words Taken Boone has served as reporter in all

District Court proceedings of a major nature since his appointment except a few times when he was out due to illness. He estimates he has taken over 30,000,000 words of court testimony during his 21 years of service. An additional 5,000,000 words of testimony for depositions and in grand jury proceedings have been taken by him. In the course of an estimated 400,000 miles Boone has traveled to and from cities in the district in connection with the duties of his position, he has worn out eight automobiles and is well on the way to wearing out his ninth, he says. Boone remembers the murder trials during the era of prohibition as the most interesting and colorful of his career as court reporter. "Things happened plenty fast and it looked like some people would kill you for practically nothing around the oilfield boom towns during the prohibition days," he relates. Boone is well known throughout West Texas through his appearances in various cities to take court proceedings. Citizens have just about decided he's a permanent fixture, past and future, in court rooms where the 70th District Court convenes.

Italy Honors Famous Composer
 ROME —(AP)— A marble plaque now marks the place where opera composer Pietro Mascagni died in Rome. The plaque was put up recently on the facade of the Plaza Hotel on the Corso thoroughfare, where the author of "Cavalleria Rusticana" spent his last days. Selections from the "Cavalleria" were played by the military band, while tenor Beniamino Gigli sang three arias from Mascagni's opera to a large crowd gathered in San Carlo's piazza. Mascagni, born in Livorno in 1863, died in Rome August 8, 1945.

Ladies Of Past Made Excuses For Using Cosmetics Which Moderns Take For Granted

By BETTY CLARKE
 AP Features Beauty Editor

It wasn't long ago that women had to invent headaches to have their foreheads anointed with cologne. If ladies would take up the pastime of fainting again, the whole fashion and cosmetics picture could change. Sophistication might be put on the shelf as girls reverted to wearing tight corsets that nipped the waistline to a 20-inch span (the better to faint from, m'dear), little-girl upsweps and daisies in their straw sailor chapeaux. Back on toilettes shelves would go smelling salts, headache cologne and floral hearts, used for perfuming the breath—reviving a whole new market. Mom might acquire that "natural blush" again by dipping a rose in water and rubbing it on her cheeks. Or perhaps a strawberry would do the trick.

Beauty By Subterfuge
 Such was the subterfuge used by young ladies in the Nineties and even before, who wanted to enhance their beauty without inviting the wrath of the gentlemen of that period. Cosmetic manufacturers often gave cooperation to the ladies of that era. Memorabilia from Richard Hudnut's archives reveal that, as one of the leading cosmeticians of that period, he encouraged their whimsies to the point of highly perfumed headache cologne, lavender smelling salts, wood violet tooth wash and scented tooth powder. A violet sec cologne and Yanky clover toilet water were used only by the most daring. Miss and Mrs. America are taking ing their cosmetics straighter all the time, however, and the modern girl takes her choice of cologne and perfumes and colors her ear lobes if she likes. No one asks questions.

Though the girls are not on the wild spending spree that existed during the war when war jobs gave them more spending money to divert to cosmetics counters and the toiletries industry skyrocketed to a $700 million business annually, the industry still is holding volume close to the peak of 1945.

It looks as if toilettes are here to stay. The legend of the Wandering Jew was first given in a pamphlet printed in Leyden in 1602.

Daddy Ringtail And The Lion Monkey

down to the ground where a very fierce and dangerous lion was walking by. "Hm!" Daddy Ringtail said again. "So that great and savage lion is yours. Does he know that he belongs to you?"

Ringtail, how am I ever going to get off this lion's back without him biting me?" Daddy Ringtail shook his head and said, "You should have thought about that before now when it's much too late. Whoever rides a lion can never get down."

Ancient Bill Comes Back Home

CHARLESTON, S. C. —(AP)—A Charleston man lost an antique $10 bill on the sidewalks of New York—and got it back. It was an old-style large bill issued by the First National Bank of Charleston in 1885. Ashmead F. Fringle, Jr., carried it in a transparent case along with his membership card in the Harvard Business School Alumni Association. The case was found by A. Abbott Rosen of Chicago, director of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. He sent it to the Harvard Association's office, which returned it to Fringle.

Lincoln Went For Molasses Pie

Special baked beans and Lincoln's favorite molasses nut pie make a tasty Lincoln's Birthday dinner.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Historians tell us that President Abraham Lincoln liked molasses pie and frequently ordered one from Taussig's Bakery in Washington, D. C. Therefore, a molasses nut pie belongs on your Lincoln's Day (February 12) special menu.

Molasses Nut Pie

(Serves 6-8)
Three eggs, slightly beaten, 3/4 cup unrefined molasses, 1 cup white corn syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/8 teaspoon salt (omit salt if salted nuts are used), 2 to 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, melted, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon enriched flour, 1/2 cup peanuts, pecans, or Walnuts, one 8-inch, unbaked pie shell.
Combine first 6 ingredients and mix well. Mix cinnamon with flour and with nuts, and add to egg-molasses mixture. Pour into an 8-inch unbaked pie crust. Bake 50 minutes in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.). Note: This pie is rather sweet and is best served warm with cold unsweetened whipped cream piled on top.

Spiced Beans With Frankfurters
(20 Servings)

Four and one-half cups dried marrowfat or navy beans (about 2 pounds), 4 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 large onion, cut in half, 1/2 cup unrefined molasses, 2/3 cup catsup, 3/4 teaspoon ginger, 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 1/2 teaspoons dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon black pepper, 1/4 pound lean, salt pork, 6 to 8 frankfurters.
Wash beans; cover generously with cold water and soak overnight. When ready to cook, add salt and onion, and, if necessary, add additional water to cover beans. Bring beans to boiling point and simmer until tender. Remove onion. Drain and save liquid. Combine molasses, spices and 3 cups bean liquid and, if necessary, add additional water to make 3 cups. Place half of the salt pork and half of onion in bottom of 3-quart bean pot. Add beans. Place remaining pork and onion on top of beans. Add liquid mixture. Cover. Bake 2 hours in moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.). Remove cover and bake 30 minutes. Or bake 4 to 5 hours in very slow oven (275 degrees F.). Remove cover. Split frankfurters in half and arrange over beans. Bake 30 minutes.

Overworked Stork Gets Swiss Help

BERN, SWITZERLAND —(AP)—There must be something wrong with what they say about storks.

Between 80,000 and 90,000 babies are born in Switzerland every year, yet Swiss nature lovers are complaining that storks have almost entirely disappeared from the country.

Nearly 150 nests were occupied by storks in Switzerland in 1900. By 1920, the number had declined to 60 and by 1940 to eight. In the summer of 1948, only six pairs of storks settled down in Switzerland, and artificial "resettlement" projects are being undertaken to prevent their complete disappearance.

Under the direction of the Swiss ornithologist, Max Bloesch, young storks are being bred in captivity. Their young are to be set free, in the hope that they will migrate, then return to the vicinity of their Swiss breeding places in the summer. The experiments are expected to cost the Swiss government about $3,500 per year.

Flavoring should be added to custards, boiled frosting, candies, and so forth, when they are cold, otherwise part of the essence may evaporate.

Smokes In Bed Are Burning Issue

NEW YORK—(AP)—A New Jersey Hotel posts the following instructions for guests who plan to smoke in bed.

1. Call the office and notify the management where you wish your remains sent, as it is a matter of record that a very high percentage of hotel fires are caused by this careless practice.
2. Notify guests in adjoining rooms of your intention of endangering their lives, so that they may take necessary precautions to protect themselves.
3. Go to the corridor and locate the nearest fire escape, so that if you are fortunate enough to escape your room, you may reach safety.
4. Now sit down and think how foolish it is for you to take this risk—you may enjoy your smoke while thinking it over.

"Business may be good, but we do not have guests to burn, so please—HELP US to Protect YOU."

Skirts started sliding back toward the knees in 1948—though they were still long.

Peacetime WACs Wax Plump On Regular Army Rations

Recruit Susie Titus, Coolidge, Ariz., one of the first WACs taken into the Regular Army, relaxes in Camp Lee barracks.

CAMP LEE, VA.—(NEA)—Let's moosey around the Women's Army Training Center here and see what's cooking with our first class of peacetime Regular Army WACs.

Each girl gained between 10 and 15 pounds during the eight-week course and Col. Mary A. Hallaren, WAC director who tips the scales at 105 herself, is concerned about the problem. It doesn't come within military purview to order dieting. But there are ways to get weight down.

WAC cooks are taught by the regular male Army cooks and the girls get the same menu handed to them each day that the men get. The girls will probably have to start planning their own meals.

Now for a look inside the barracks. Under a typical bed the neat row of footwear includes three pairs of service shoes, a pair of fluffy bedroom slippers, two pairs of high-heeled pumps, dirty saddle oxfords and a pair of gilded evening slippers.

On every rack above every bed, in the same place, is a flat iron. Hung in a very military manner next to her three uniforms the average gal has a frilly negligee, a fur coat, a stole, an evening dress, a couple of street dresses and a pink sweater. They can wear civilian clothes off duty.

One girl had a pin-up—a picture of Keenan Wynn.

The regulations read "make-up that is appropriate and inconspicuous." All of the officers have interpreted this as meaning that lipstick must be worn. As a WAC lieutenant explains this stand:

"If the girls don't wear it, especially on parade, they look like an army of ghosts marching by."

First names are taboo among WACs. It's "Major, your slip is showing" or "Hampstead, your seam is crooked." Enlisted girls address officers with "ma'am."

The women do "first and second echelon repair" on the motor equipment which they use. That includes cleaning sparkplugs and changing oil. The motor pool on the post does the complicated work.

Lights go out at 9:30 and there is a bed check at 11. The morning bugle blows at six, and the girls get 20 minutes to dress. Many of them who take longer to dress have to use alarm clocks so that they can get up earlier.

When WACs are disciplined they are confined to quarters. There is no guard-house for the girls.

Famed Description Of Texas Author Is Made Known

HOUSTON—(AP)—At long last, the authorship of a century-old vivid and famed description of Texas and its destiny has been established.

The discovery of the identity of the author of many colorful and witty—yet apt—impressions of Texas was made by two enterprising Houston radio men, Harold Young, news director of radio station KTRH, and Ted Nabors, program director of the station, while they were doing research in preparation of a radio drama depicting the 100-year history of the Episcopal diocese of Texas.

The author of the colorful, widely-quoted descriptive terms of Texas a century ago and the Lone Star State's future had long since been forgotten.

The author was the Rev. H. N. Pierce, an Episcopal clergyman. He penned his description of Texas and its future in a letter to a New Orleans newspaper editor in 1848.

The Rev. Pierce, writing from Waco, penned the following:

"Neither man, woman nor child is considered naturalized until they can ride a pitching horse, run down a mule rabbit, rope a wild cow, drink bad water and call it good. Texas is a curious country, a paradox. . . .

"It is the richest and the poorest, has the best land and the meanest water; is the hardest country to live in, and has the most to live on; the days are the hottest and the nights are the coolest; here are the most rivers and the least water; the best roads and the slowest travel."

Memorial Planned To Dei Medici

FLORENCE—(AP)—The town council decided recently to commemorate the fifth centenary of Lorenzo Dei Medici's birth, with an exhibition of fine arts pieces and books of his times.

Lorenzo Dei Medici, known as "Il Magnifico," was born here Jan. 1, 1449. During her period flourished some of Italy's greatest artists—Leonardo Da Vinci, painter Sandro Botticelli, writer Luigi Pulci and other famed artists like Verrocchio, Pollaiuolo, and Giuliano Da Maiano. Young Michelangelo was educated at Lorenzo's court.

Il Magnifico died the year of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus.

For an economy meal serve a fish chowder, a salad and a hearty dessert such as gingerbread and apple sauce or cottage pudding with fruit sauce.

Television Brings Boom In France

Paris—(AP)—France is taking to television. By the end of the year four different transmitters will be operating in the country.

It hasn't reached the point where television receivers are being installed to attract crowds in sidewalk cafes or as an added attraction to a "Can Can" show. But 10,000 sets are registered in Paris. Officials believe that there are many more unregistered sets.

Radio sets in France are registered and each set owner has to pay a tax of about two dollars a year. Although it has been customary with radio to let taxes pay for programs and keep the airways free of commercials, Radiodiffusion Television is considering selling time to sponsors.

This revolutionary move on the European Airways is being held-up by Communists. A spokesman said recently that if the airways are opened to advertising, the wealthy Communist Party of France will be one of the first customers. The matter of discrimination," he said, has been delaying decision.

At present there is only one television transmitter. That is on the Eiffel Tower. By the end of this year there will be a second transmitter operating in Paris, one in Lyon and one in Lille.

The television studios on the Left Bank were started while the Germans were here. The Nazi chiefs in France were taken with the idea and consequently did everything they could to help their captives along.

Add finely diced red apple (unpeeled) to cabbage and celery salad for flavor and color. Toss with French dressing and a little crumbled blue or Roquefort cheese. Season with salt, freshly-ground pepper and paprika.

New Homes For India's Homeless

NEW DELHI—(AP)—The government of India has found homes for 1,450,000 refugees from Western Pakistan.

A spokesman for the relief and rehabilitation ministry here said 900 refugees has been taken on hand.

He added the housing schemes that had so far received the approval of the government of India would involve financial assistance to the extent of 166,000,000 rupees (nearly U. S. $50,000,000).

Add mixed cooked vegetables to a ring of tomato aspic and serve with deviled eggs for a luncheon dish; fill the center of the ring with short sprays of watercress.
