

WHEN YOU GET right down to it, the weather of this area, which is much maligned by many people from outside the area, compares favorably with that of just about any other area in the U.S. of A.

In fact, it's much better than most, and is second to only one or two places that we can think of.

Sure, we have some wind and blowing dust in the spring. And once every 50 years or so we have a batch of snow like we had last winter (we have that behind us for another 50 years).

But we don't have those old harsh winters as a standard item, like they do from the Midwest on northward. People in Minnesota, for example, don't see the ground from October until April, and they don't think anything about it.

The Eastern seaboard swelters in the heat and humidity in the summer, and has equally as uncomfortable winters—and millions of people live in that part of the country and seemingly don't know any difference.

People living along the large rivers, such as the Mississippi, have floods to contend with most springs. Many people lose their homes, or at least have extensive property damage, due to the floods.

Then there is "Tornado Alley," to the north and east of here, where if a day goes by during the spring and summer months without at least one tornado (and sometimes as many as 100) being spotted, then it's a freakish day.

What about the earthquakes of Southern California, and the forest fires and mudslides? We can do without all three.

They talk about our wind in this area, but we have personally seen the wind blowing in Chicago (population 3 1/2 million) much stronger than it blows here on the average. And we have seen pitchers literally blown off the mound at San Francisco's Candlestick Park.

You don't have to leave the state to get into the humid areas which swelter during the summertime anytime the mercury gets above 80—and it does every day, and even approaches the 100-degree mark. That's the type of weather you find in our state's four largest cities, which contain almost one-third of the state's population.

So, we may be in the minority in terms of population, but the minority still has a little going for it.

As we said, there are a few places whose average climate is nicer and milder than ours—Northern California and other portions of the Northwest. Some of those areas are becoming overpopulated, however, so you really can't enjoy the climate for people-pollution.

So we have a little wind, and an occasional tornado threat. We'll still take this area over those we've mentioned above.

The foregoing was an unsolicited testimonial. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is welcome to use all or any part of the article—free of charge.

MANY PEOPLE have argued for years about the greatest invention in the history of mankind. Some say it was the wheel. Others say the electric light, which turned the giant cities into daytime at night. Still others might argue that it is television, that brings entertainment at a touch into millions of living rooms (and dens, bedrooms, etc.).

But personally, I think the greatest invention of all time has been the electric ice cream freezer. Particularly at this time of year. Any arguments?

PRICE DANIEL, Jr., current Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, has indicated that he will not seek re-election as a representative from his area.

Political experts are theorizing that the son of the former Texas governor will take a shot at the lieutenant governor's office in the next election.

At any rate, by not seeking re-election, this will add impetus to the campaign by our own Bill Clayton for the House Speaker's spot. As far as we

Hart Sisters Win Trip For Washington Tour

Two Friona sisters are among 60 young Texans who will be traveling to Washington, D.C. next month for the National American Heritage and Citizenship Short Course sponsored by the 4-H. Karene and Holly Hart, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hart, are the only persons chosen from this area.

They are among six youths chosen from District 14-H, and the only delegates from Farmer County.

Active in 4-H work for a number of years, Karene, 17, and Holly, 16, submitted their record books for judging. The books were carefully kept records of their projects during the past year. It listed projects including cattle, horses, sheep, pigs, clothing, cooking and especially leadership projects.

The duo was unanimous in relating that the main basis for judging was their leadership ability.

They will leave Friona on July 18, travel to Dallas where they will meet with another group of Washington-bound youths and travel by bus to Washington. The four-day tour enroute will take them to many historical sights and they will have an opportunity to visit historical points all along the route.

In Washington, they will attend meetings on citizenship, although the trip should be more of a pleasure tour during the 14 days they will be gone.

No strangers to travel, both girls have done extensive 4-H related traveling, which includes showing livestock at fairs in Kansas, Colorado and Arizona.

They plan to leave Friona on July 18 and return August 2.

Wheat Growers To Meet Here

Dr. Bill Black from Texas A&M University, will be special speaker at the annual meeting of the Friona Wheat Growers on Thursday, June 14.

President of Friona Wheat Growers board of directors, A.W. Anthony Jr., said a special invitation is being issued to everyone to attend the meeting at 9 p.m. at the high school cafeteria and hear Dr. Black who will speak on "Marketing."

Dr. Black is an Economist with Marketing and Policy at A&M, and Anthony said the well-known speaker is in much demand for his perception in marketing practices.

There will be refreshments and door prizes and Anthony emphasized the meeting is not exclusively for members of Friona Wheat Growers and issued a special invitation to anyone to attend.

EXCHANGE STUDENT

Local Girl Chosen For Summer In Sweden

Excited 17-year old Kay Cochran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Cochran, has officially received word she will be enroute to Sweden as a summer exchange student as of June 25.

Kay, who will be a senior in Friona High School this fall, was one of four applicants from FHS who wanted to be an exchange student for the summer.

Working through Hollis Horton, local resident of the American Field Service for Americans Abroad, Kay, who originally had hoped for a four year exchange, was notified by Horton Wednesday, May 30, she was one of the applicants who was successful in their bid for the trip.

In qualifications, one of the main items was the ability to adapt to a different land, life style, and other people's way of

EVANGELISTIC MISSION

Friona Church Group Leaves For Germany

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Broadhurst of the First Baptist Church are leading a group of fifteen Friona residents on a crusade mission to Germany. The group left Wednesday morning on the flight to the European country.

Others making the Germany trip include Mr. and Mrs. Pete Buske, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Weatherly, Mr. and Mrs. Doyce Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Maynard, Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Cleveland, Byron Hardgrove, Teresa Bingham and Carolyn Murphree.

Germany, which drew the wrath of the mightiest armada in history on "D" Day, 1944, will receive a vastly different invasion force from the United States on "D" Day, 1973.

"A Christian armada of nearly 400 Southern Baptists will storm the Rhineland for two weeks June 6-20, but instead of tanks and guns, their weapons are Bibles and their ammunition is the love of Jesus," said Rev. Broadhurst.

Spearheaded by two plane loads of Christian lay people from 21 churches in Texas, Tennessee, Kansas and Kentucky, the Baptists will preach throughout Germany and tell what Christ has done for them, said W.H. Jackson, Jr., director of World Evangelism Foundation (WEF), Dallas.

The "New Life Crusade"

sponsored by WEF and churches of the German Baptist Union, said Jackson, follows a similar pattern to an evangelistic crusade held in Spain in November, 1971.

"Protestantism had been forced underground in Catholic Spain, but many people were shocked by Time Magazine's report that the Spanish government and Catholic Church 'outdid each other' in greeting the 238 visitors from America," added the Friona minister.

World Evangelism leaders said 386 emissaries for Christ will fly to Germany June 6. There they will divide into evangelistic teams to speak in 21 churches and witness for Christ in public places.

Among the group leaving on two planes from Love Field, Dallas, June 6, will be the Hardin-Simmons University Choir, the New Californians singing group of San Diego and several celebrities including former Olympic wrestler Shelby Wilson of Boulder, Colo., the Ohman Brothers trumpeters of Royal Oaks, Mich., and Negro spiritual singer Willa Dorsey of Portland, Ore. Miss Dorsey gave a pre-crusade concert before a capacity crowd in Dusseldorf in 1971.

In other pre-crusade appearances, 70 members of the

FORMER CHURCH

Heritage Chapel Deed Presented Girl Scouts

A new fund was opened at Friona State Bank Monday afternoon. Members of the Friona Girl Scouts are now accepting contributions for rebuilding and remodeling the Girl Scout Heritage Chapel. The chapel fund was opened with a $110 contribution which was made by Pat Fallwell in memory of Mrs. Rose Lange, a Farmer County pioneer.

Mrs. Nora O'Brian, who is in charge of the building fund said remodeling will be done as funds become available and emphasized Heritage Chapel will be for all faiths to use when it is completed.

Site of the chapel is the old

Congregational Church, which was the first church in Friona.

The first church in the Friona area, a 65-year-old adobe structure, today will be placed in the hands of young feminists—the Girl Scouts.

Board members of the old Union Congregational Church will present the title and deed to Girl Scouts leaders here at 3 p.m. at the church.

A Girl Scout leader, Mrs. Nora O'Brian, said the Girl Scouts plan to remodel the basement of the church and make it a picture museum of early days in Friona.

The Girl Scouts also plan to make available the church's small sanctuary for small weddings and other church activities.

The chapel has not been used since a new Union Congregational Church was built in north Friona a few years ago.

Located on 6th Street in the second block west of Main Street, the old church was the first place of worship in Friona.

The 14-inch thick adobe walls of the church, stuccoed and painted white on the outside, have provided a place of worship for 14 different denominations.

When George W. Wright bought and sold land at the turn of the century, he donated the land where the old church now stands to anyone who would build such a structure there.

Old-timers here agree that construction on the first church began about 1908. It was first a non-denominational meeting house and was known as the Union Church.

Labor and funds were donated by some 100 residents of an area probably extending to near Lazbuddie and to the Rhea Community. Their funds, however, were insufficient.

Various members of the group then reportedly turned to their own "church" mission boards in an attempt to secure money. Because the Congregational Church agreed to underwrite the venture, the edifice was then titled Congregational Community Church.

A ministerial couple, Mr. and Mrs. Hurlbert, served the local pastorate.

Most longtime Friona residents believe the church was destroyed by fire in the early 1920s. Lightning struck the steeple on a stormy night, and fire devoured the structure even though rain was falling.

Again, church members approached the Congregational Church board, which responded with funds. The church was rebuilt, with the congregation contributing labor to dig the basement. Bob Hicks reportedly laid the adobe brick that he had made himself.

The charter group included the families of Bill Goodwine, John Geischler, Fred Glennia, Harry Hughes, Wilbur Forbes, George Living and George Maurer.

Six years after construction began on the old Union Congregational Church, Friona's population topped at 150. Wagon roads led out in all directions from the business part of town. There were no paved roads.

DEED PRESENTED...D.H. Stephenson, president of the church board for the Union Congregational Church, is shown presenting the deed for the old Congregational Church building to Nora O'Brian, representing the Friona Girl Scouts. The presentation came within two weeks of the 50th anniversary of the dedication of the building, which occurred in June of 1923.

Kay was chosen to go to Sweden as a summer exchange student. The FHS senior made the formal she is wearing and the formal she and her mother are checking.

Government Can't Do Job Cheaper

The debate will probably never end between those who believe that the "government" — any government — can do things more efficiently than private business, and those who believe that individuals — whether individual business firms or individual persons — can always be depended upon to do things and at less cost than a government monopoly, however well managed it may be.

And it must be said that the socialists can usually marshal some rather impressive arguments for their case. Trouble is, actual experience seldom resembles the theory.

In Omaha, Nebraska, folks can remember when the local youngsters would shovel the snow off one's sidewalk for one, fat, 50-cent piece. With inflation and all, enterprising youth have now been asking four to five bucks for the same job. Even the pro-capitalists grumbled a bit about the high cost of doing business these days.

Recently, however, the Omaha municipal authorities ruled that all snow must be removed from sidewalks within 24 hours after a storm. And if said snow is not removed, the Public Works Department will do the job, with expenses charged to the property owner.

And the tab for so doing? According to the Assessor, the cost to the non-profit city government is $25.00 per sidewalk — about five or six times more than that charged by independent, profit-seeking youth.

Chalk another one up for the merits of free enterprise!

WOULDN'T YOU KNOW, I tried to slip off a couple of days last week and 'Ye Ole Ed' had to announce it to the world-or at least the part that reads the STAR.

I think this was a real humanitarian cause, however, since I tried to uphold the capability of we middle-aged boys. (See, I'm still caught up on that idea.)

My son and I made a bicycle trip to Buffalo Lake over by Umberger, leaving here last Monday morning after the Memorial Service at the park.

We battled cold weather, a headwind and indecision all the way to Hereford.

We stayed the night there in the Scout Park, cooking our meals and pitching out tent and all those usuals...

We went on to Buffalo Lake the next day and visiting with Terry Brown I found out that we must have been just behind them from Hereford to Umberger—probably would have caught up with them except for our frequent stops to let our bicycles cool off—

We spent Tuesday night at the lake and then headed back toward Friona—yep, you remember don't you? The wind had changed directions, and was out of the Southwest on Wednesday—another headwind.

We were picked up in Hereford and brought home by a loving and understanding mother and wife.

Well, I thought as a bonifide Foreign correspondent for this paper, you should at least have my report.

Of course, representing this paper it does look like my expenses should be paid—how much are four tubes of Ben Gay?

(Editor's Note—Thanks for the report, Albert. Your Ben Gay will be wrapped in your copy of the STAR this week.)

Rhea-Garden Spot Of Parmer County

By Clea Williams
Star News Editor

Although the well-known mayor of Rhea feels the community is discriminated against, and that no one who has been in the county for two months should have by-passed such an outstanding community, we are well aware of the fact the community is there.

Not having visited the community, and for that I immediately apologize, I was not aware of the fact that it is, in fact, the garden spot of the county, and it must be, because the mayor says it is. He also is of the considered opinion Parmer County is the garden spot of the state. [Sounds like the local Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture might contact the mayor for a little additional PR.]

The mayor also said the finest people in the world lived in the Rhea Community, which he referred to as a predominantly German community, with a few 'Georgia Peaches' mixed in.

[Still haven't figured out who the two 'old women' are, however,] and am a little concerned about a threatened bombing [but surely such an outstanding public relations man will be conscious of his standing in such a fine community and not do anything to his own disadvantage.]

Anyway, Rhea must be a very outstanding community to produce such good people and this news editor looks forward to having the opportunity to visit there [as soon as I can find a good bodyguard or two.]

PLENTY OF SOIL MOISTURE and adequate amounts of fertilizer make a good combination for the production of high-quality forage.

Fertilizer not only improves the quality of forage that animals can graze but also increases forage yields from the same acreage. Furthermore, livestock prefer fertilized pastures to those that are not.

Research has shown that pasture crops receiving proper fertilization can produce three to four times as much forage as pastures which have not been adequately fertilized. This means that three to four times as many cattle could be grazing the same acreage in most of Texas, thereby boosting the potential for increased profits.

Grasses that are hungry for fertilizer have a weak root system and are unable to make maximum growth. Most Texas pastures are on soils low in nitrogen, phosphorus and sometimes potash and other nutrients. Thus, an adequate amount of fertilizer is necessary to produce good tonnages of good-quality hay in grazing crops.

Start with a soil test to determine the amount of fertilizer needed for season-long production of high-quality forages. Timely fertilizer applications along with good soil moisture can provide nutritious grazing.

SCREWORM CASES in Texas are on the upswing, bearing out the fears of officials of the Screwworm Eradication Project that continued warm, wet weather would boost the activity of the flesh-eating livestock pest.

As of May 1, 89 cases have been confirmed in the state this year. Twenty-one cases popped up during the past two weeks as the screwworm flies began moving northward from overwintering areas in northern Mexico and southern Texas.

Of special notice in a case confirmed in San Saba County on April 27. This case, plus a previous San Saba case and one in adjacent Llano County—all in Central Texas—could be a sign of things to come. They are the northernmost cases to be confirmed this year.

The weather is going to be a key factor this year in determining the screwworm situation. With all the moisture over much of the state at the present time, the situation could change rapidly.

All livestock producers in the county should keep a close check on their herds in the future and to inspect closely any cuts or wounds on animals. A sample of any worms found should be sent to the Screwworm Lab at Box 969, Mission, Texas 78572, for identification. If the worm is identified as a screwworm, sterile flies will be dropped over the area where the case originated.

Prompt reporting by producers is critical to the effectiveness of the eradication program. It's the key ingredient for avoiding a screwworm epidemic such as the one which swept the state last year.

Tornadoes seem to follow some people around, like Mr. and Mrs. Forest Creamer and their children of Jonesboro, Ark. Creamer is the brother of Friona Star News Editor Clea Williams.

Two years ago, the Creamers lived in Hereford at the time of the Hereford tornado. Their son, Curtis, who was three and a half years old at the time, still vividly remembers his father shoving the family into the closet in the Creamer home and throwing a mattress over them. He said, "I cried and I cried." The family was uninjured in the Hereford tornado.

The Creamers moved to Jonesboro last fall, where Creamer is a route driver for a bottling company.

This past weekend, the Jonesboro tornado set down near their neighborhood at 12:45 a.m. on Sunday morning while most of the city was asleep.

According to the Creamers, part of their house was blown away and the house was unroofed, but they were uninjured. "Houses all around us were flattened," related Creamer in a telephone conversation. "We have no telephone, water, gas or electricity." They had gone to a nearby town to reassure relatives in Muleshoe, Friona and Hereford that they were safe following the tornado which virtually destroyed the city of 27,000 persons.

The tornado which devastated Jonesboro was only one of 160 confirmed tornadoes which set down on the ground during a 72 hour period of time during the Memorial Day holidays. Damage estimates were in the millions of dollars, with a large number of persons killed and hundreds injured.

Highway Department Gives Plan

Everyone knows it takes engineers to design and build highways. Not many know that it also takes professional sociologists, economists; biologists; archaeologists, air, water and noise pollution experts and many other skilled professionals. How these scientific disciplines can be best employed in the public interest is the subject of an action plan now being prepared at the direction of the Texas Highway Commission. The draft of the plan was mailed out recently to federal, local and state government agencies; wildlife, conservation and environmental groups and others. They have been asked to review and comment on the plan. The Texas Highway Commission long has made it a policy that all highway projects in the State be planned and developed to make positive contributions to the social, economic and environmental well-being of the public. Simply stated, the final action plan will outline specifically how human, community and environmental factors will be considered in planning all new highway projects. The draft plan, presented for review this week, also provides for adding more professionals in the fields dealing with social, economic and environmental factors to the permanent staff of the Department. Consultants and staff members of other public agencies including cities, counties and councils of government would be involved in the planning process as appropriate. Another key feature of the proposed plan provides for more public involvement during highway and transportation systems planning processes. The process includes informal public meetings for an exchange of views and information between highway planners and members of communities which might be affected by a highway project. Such meetings would be in addition to the more formal public hearing which precedes decisions on projects. The draft action plan was prepared following guidelines set out by the Federal Highway Administration, U.S. Department of Transportation, and based on provisions of the Federal Highway Act of 1970. Initially, some 375 governmental units and agencies, environmental and conservation groups such as the Sierra Club, the National Audubon Society, the Citizens Environmental Coalition and others were asked to submit information to be considered in drafting the Action Plan. The plan was prepared by an interdisciplinary team consisting of 25 members representing fields such as mass transportation, sociology, economics, environmental sciences, aesthetics, architecture, public participation, urban transportation systems planning, land service roads, history, water resources, archaeology, right of way and law. In addition to specialists employed by the Highway Department, the team includes staff members of Texas A&M University, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, the Governor's office, Texas Water Rights Commission, Texas Water Development Board, Texas Mass Transportation Commission, Texas Municipal League, and the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. In addition to governmental agencies, cities, counties and private organizations receiving the draft action plan for review this week, other organizations and individuals interested have been invited to review the draft plan. All comments will be given careful, serious study and consideration. Interested groups or individuals desiring information may view the draft plan at Highway Department district offices throughout the State or may contact the Interdisciplinary Team for Action Plan, Texas Highway Department, Austin, Texas 78701.

ASK COST ADJUSTMENTS

Pioneer Gas Outlines Future Development

K. Bert 'Tex' Watson, president and chief executive officer of Pioneer Natural Gas Company of Amarillo, speaking before a luncheon meeting in the Hereford Bull Barn in the Hereford district said, "Pioneer continues to enjoy an enviable position with reference to its gas reserves."

Watson, who assumed the position as president of the company on June 1, made the opening statement before the assembled group of area city officials, civic leaders and news media personnel Tuesday following the luncheon.

WARNING SIGNS

Watson continued that early warning signs of an energy crisis were apparent as far back as 1969 and cited several instances including the downward trend of exploration; lack of incentive and for the first year production of natural gas exceeded the discovery of reserves.

"President Nixon's energy message was not soon enough, or urgent enough," continued the gas company executive. "The present gasoline shortage will tend to worsen and the international situation is no better, as the import of gas or fuel is not feasible because it just isn't available."

This meeting was the first of a series of such meetings to be held throughout Pioneer's West Texas System during the month of June. The purpose of scheduling these programs, said officials of Pioneer, is to give the communities served by Pioneer an up-to-date report on the energy problems facing the nation and Pioneer's position in this situation.

He added, "We will attempt to keep supplies to electric generating plants in the area," but continued that some other form of energy for the plants will be in use probably by 1985, naming hydrogen, coal or nuclear energy as possibilities.

ASK INCREASE

"We also expect to begin asking cities for quarterly gas cost adjustments instead of yearly due to the field cost of gas, which is escalating in an unprecedented manner." He said that projections for gas costs for 1973, made two years ago, were surpassed a year ago, and predicted that this trend will continue in the foreseeable future.

Quoting from the company's 1972 annual report, Watson pointed out that, based on 1972 gas consumption, Pioneer's reserves are sufficient for approximately 14 years. He went on to say, "After deducting all current contractual commitments to all large industrial customers, the volume of reserves is sufficient to supply all other customers at the 1972 consumption level for a net reserve life index that exceeds 20 years."

He emphasized that Pioneer is able to offer gas service to new industrial customers throughout its system. "We are prepared to enter into gas supply contracts with these large industrial firms. The contracts will be tied directly to the field cost of gas and, for the larger customers, subject to monthly cost of gas adjustments," Watson said. "We expect to be able to continue to offer this industrial service, which should prove to be a real competitive advantage for the communities we serve," Watson continued.

NEW SUPPLIES

He pointed out that Pioneer's

acquisitions of new gas supplies since the beginning of the year have been most promising and that the cost of gas adjustment currently in effect has provided the company with the ability to negotiate for these new gas supplies in the highly competitive market. Watson conjectured that in the near future it may be necessary to change the cost of gas adjustment to a quarterly basis in order for Pioneer to maintain its position of advantage in the area of gas supply.

During his talk and a slide presentation of gas basins, he touched on some of the 'near term' and 'long term' problems facing all types of energy suppliers in the country. He discussed both potential immediate term and long term solutions.

Watson concluded his talk by saying, "In this rapidly changing business we have stayed in a comparatively good gas supply position, and we can foresee a continuation of this position, although there are numerous pitfalls as the nation proceeds through extreme energy problems in the near term."

In addition to guests from the various communities, most of the company's officers, in fact all but three officers and area managers attended the luncheon.

School Car Stolen, Recovered Overnight

Friona School Superintendent Alton Farr received Sunday morning what was, initially, a surprising telephone call. He was informed that a school owned car that he had parked in his driveway on Saturday night had been recovered seven miles north and four miles west of Friona.

The superintendent checked the driveway where he had left the 1957 Chevrolet parked with the keys in the ignition and it wasn't there.

According to City Police Dispatcher Patsy Zachary, she received a telephone call from Ed Clark at 9:03 Sunday morning who thought it unusual that a vehicle with exempt state tags was parked and apparently abandoned on the country road.

Mrs. Zachary called Jerry Atchley who was the city officer on duty and Farr. Farr indicated the car was stolen and Atchley checked before Sheriff

Charlie Lovelace was called from Farwell.

The vehicle had apparently been driven some 20-25 miles and was found with the left front tire flat and the keys missing. It was not damaged or vandalized.

First indications seemed that the vehicle had been taken as a joke, although it is a point of law that at any time a vehicle is started and taken from a person's property without their knowledge it is classified as a felony, in fact, becomes car theft, punishable by probation or a prison sentence.

Rape Suspect To Be Extradited

A child rape suspect, who was charged following the alleged rape of an 11 year old Friona girl last year was arrested in Newton, Ill. on May 26.

The Farwell Sheriff's Office was notified last week that Leland 'Sonny' Bruner, 34, a former Friona resident was being held in the jail at Newton. He indicated he would not sign papers to be returned to Parmer County to face the charges, so Sheriff Lovelace said extradition papers are being prepared at this time.

Bruner is also charged with violation of probation. He was on probation in Parmer County for malicious destruction of private property.

Teresa Clark, Delia Snyder and Debbie Menefee. In second round play Friona handed Bledsoe a 50-15 defeat. This game was the highest scoring game of the tournament. Again, Renae Monroe was high point with 17 points. Cynthia Bermea scored 12 points and Vickie Smiley scored 8 points. Delia Snyder and Robin Martin along with Kim Frye were outstanding guards. The third game was played Saturday morning against a tall Dimmitt team. However, Friona overcame the challenge and defeated Dimmitt 34-18. At the half, the score stood 13-10 in favor of Friona. A fourth quarter splurge of 16 points put the game away for Friona and put the girls in the finals. Miss Monroe scored 21 points. Miss Smiley scored 6 points; Miss Aragon, 3, and Miss Bermea 2 points. Miss Clark also scored 2 points.

The guards did a fine job of containing Norma Sandoval, Dimmitt's leading scorer. Miss Sandoval scored 10 points.

In the finals Saturday night, Friona again met Dimmitt. Friona took a 12-6 lead at the end of the first quarter. At the half the score was 25-12 Friona. The final score was Friona 38-Dimmitt 19. Miss Monroe scored 20 points; Miss Bermea, 8; Miss Schueler, 4; Misses Welch, Smiley and Aragon, 2 each.

Guards for Friona were Shirley Milloy, Kim Frye, Debbie Menefee, Delia Snyder, Robin Martin and Teresa Clark. The guards fouled only seven times during the game, limiting Dimmitt's forwards scoring ability at the charity line.

The National Little Dribblers Tournament will be held in Levelland, Texas, June 7, 8 and 9. Friona will play the winner of the regional tournament at Meade, Kansas, on Thursday, June 7, at 4:00. Bank Rolls To Pair Of Wins In Major LL

Friona State Bank scored a pair of wins in the Major League in games last week, coasting past Reeve Chevrolet, 11-1, and outslugging Friona Star, 17-10.

The Bank vs Star game was a wild-scoring affair. The Bank had a 3-0 lead, but the Star came back for a 4-3 edge. However, three runs in the fourth and a big 11-run fifth shot the Bank into a 17-9 lead and put the game out of reach.

Baylor University Choir from Waco, Tex., gave a 10-day concert tour in May in Frankfurt, Berlin and other German cities.

Also, the Howard Payne College Choral Band, Brownwood, Tex., gave concerts in major German cities for nearly two weeks in May of 1972.

Most of the Southern Baptists come from churches in Texas including the Forest Meadow and Bethany Baptist Churches of Dallas; Bacon Heights, Lubbock; East Fourth, Big Spring; and the First Baptist Churches of Merkel, Friona, El Paso, Seminole, Kermit and Munday. Also a team will go from Dallas Baptist College.

Jackson said a group of German Baptists will return the visit, preaching in churches in the United States in 1975 or 1976.

Helps Shrink Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues

Doctors have found a medication that in many cases gives prompt, temporary relief from pain and burning itch in hemorrhoidal tissues. Then it actually helps shrink swelling of these tissues caused by inflammation.

Golfer In Tournament

Mrs. Cotton Renner of the Friona Country Club is in a field of 176 woman golfers who vie for the title won last year by Mrs. Ronald Britton of Midland, when the 38th annual Women's West Texas Golf Association Tournament opens at Lubbock Country Club on June 10.

Registration is underway now for the five-day meet and will continue through June 8 or until the field has been filled. The tournament was held in Midland last year and is set for Plainview in 1974. It draws Texas golfers from Fort Worth westward.

Practice rounds are scheduled for June 8-10, with June 11 devoted to qualifying rounds. Match play begins June 12 and continues through the June 15 finals.

Pioneer Cattle Rolls In Senior Loop Play

Pioneer Cattle Order Buyers took two wins in the Senior League last week, winning 15-4 over Cattle Town and 25-5 over Hi-Plains Feed Yard.

The other game saw Bengier Air Park drop a 13-2 decision to Cattle Town.

In the win over Cattle Town, Pioneer took advantage of 10 errors.

In the Hi-Plains game, Pioneer slugged 11 hits, including three each by Jody Menefee and Edward Castillo.

Two of Menefee's hits were doubles. Pioneer scored 14 runs in a big second inning.

Cattle Town rebounded for their win, helped by 13 bases on balls and five errors by Bengier.

The losers actually outhit the winners, 3-2.

SENIOR MINORS

Ethridge Falls From Ranks Of Undefeated

A tight race is shaping up in the senior minor league, following games of last week. Ethridge-Spring fell from the ranks of the undefeated on Friday, June 1, when Hi-Pro scored four runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to come from behind for the win.

The game was halted for about 15 minutes by a light rain shower, with the score tied at 10-all. When play resumed, Ethridge-Spring scored three runs to take the lead, but Hi-Pro came back for four in their half of the inning for the win.

In other league action, Parmer County Implement scored its first two wins of the season, 14-12 over Hi-Pro and 19-13 over the B-J Bees.

In the first game, Tony Rios was the winning pitcher, and he also slammed out six runs batted in. In the second game, Rios also collected eight runs batted in, including a bases loaded home run in the sixth inning.

NELSON LEWIS

Historical Group Hires Writer

Nelson Lewis has been named field secretary for the Parmer County Historical Survey Committee, it was announced this week.

Lewis' duties in the newly-created position will be to obtain information and photographs suitable for inclusion in a proposed published version of the history of Parmer County.

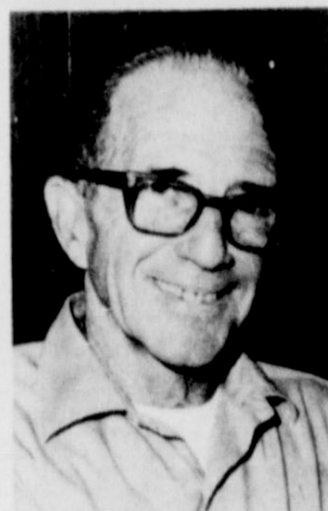

"I am available to visit with any person who has information or data that they feel would be worthy of inclusion in compiling a history of Parmer County, and invite residents to call me at 247-3498," Lewis says.

The society has on file several family histories that have been compiled during the last few years.

Any photographs that are borrowed for publication will be copied and returned to the owners, Lewis pointed out. "The photos will be stored in a fireproof vault while they are in the possession of the historical survey committee."

Lewis said he wanted to make it clear that he will be glad to come visit with those interested in talking with him.

"They don't have to come to me—I'll come to them," he emphasized.

Nelson Lewis

Compiling a history of Parmer County for publication purposes has been a project of the historical survey committee for a number of years.

Lewis is a longtime history buff, and particularly enjoys digging into the history of the Southwest. He has traced the Spanish explorer Coronado's route, spent a night in Charles Goodnight's half-dugout, and enjoys camping out at historical points in the area.

For a number of years, he penned the column, "Pause and Reflect" for the Friona Star, winning the H&R Block Scroll Award for his writing in 1970.

There are any number of people who will do great things if they can do them without exertion.

BICYCLE VS AUTO SALES

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—Bicycle sales in the United States in 1971 exceeded factory sales of cars by more than 24 million. Yet the automobile still accounts for 82 per cent of trips to and from work.

The gospel which was proclaimed in different languages on the day of Pentecost also demanded translation into other languages when written. These written translations of the Greek manuscripts are called versions.

Syriac was the chief language of Syria and Mesopotamia. The Syriac Versions are the earliest translations that were made. These versions are of real value because they were copied from a text which evidently goes back to the second century, within a generation or two from the close of the apostolic age.

The Latin Versions should hold special interest for all English-speaking people because the first translation of the English Bible was made from the Latin. The Latin Vulgate was a version completed about 400 A.D. which became the standard Bible of Western Europe for more than a thousand years.

Numerous other versions—the Egyptian versions, the Armenian, the Gothic, the Ethiopic, and the Arabic—appeared in the early centuries of the Christian era. There are many in our country who have never realized that the Bible first appeared in other languages than English.

Also, there were Christian writers who lived near the end of the first century, or shortly afterward, whose writings are filled with quotations of the New Testament scriptures. Since these men possessed copies of the Scriptures which are naturally older than our manuscripts today, their quotations tell us much concerning the ancient Bible of the primitive church.

SUPPORTING YOUR TOWN

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man"

P. S. How many new residents and out of town shoppers saw your name and business today; this week?

Christ Can Help Us Overcome Our Fears

Read Isaiah 41:5-10; Luke 12:27-34

Fear not, for I am with you. --Isaiah 41:10 (RSV)

Jesus talked a great deal about the subject of fear. Time and again He said, "Fear not, little flock"; "be not afraid"; "do not be anxious." One of the great blessings Jesus gives us is deliverance from fear—if we trust in Him.

As a young woman, I went from a small town where I lived to Chicago for graduate study. I confess that many times the big city filled me with fear. I was soon led to Bethan Girls, an organization for young women away from home. Their motto, or "the pillow text" as they called it, was "Fear not, for I am with you." We were encouraged to repeat those words every night as we retired. I can truly say they became a blessing, causing my fears to vanish.

Faith in God does enable us to say with the psalmist, "I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears."

PRAYER--O God, bring to us the assurance that in Christ we can rest secure from the many things that otherwise fill us with anxiety and fear. In His name we ask. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY--With Christ we find courage to face and overcome our fears.

WITH SO MANY people using credit today, the possibility of billing errors increases greatly.

When an error occurs, a consumer may have difficulty locating the cause of error and the right person to correct it.

Should an error occur, the specialist offered the following steps to correct it.

1. Notify the store immediately, informing them of the error.

2. Obtain the name of the person contacted, making a note of it and date contacted. This information is helpful in case of necessary future contacts.

3. If contact is made in writing, don't send it with the bill—and don't write on the bill itself. Keep a copy of any letters sent for future reference.

4. Send a registered letter to the credit manager or company president if you experience difficulty obtaining adjustments on legitimate complaints.

In the letter, explain complaint in complete detail and give facts in a courteous manner. Also request that the post office furnish the signature of the person receiving the letter.

5. If still unable to settle a complaint, write the local Credit Bureau and Better Business Bureau. Provide details and copies of bills, receipts, cancelled checks or other evidence that prove your point. Also send a carbon copy of this contact to the merchant involved.

Usually with accurate records and a business-like manner, consumers can correct billing errors.

Legitimate businesses are anxious to retain the consumer's good will—and keep him as a customer.

There are several things consumers can do to help prevent billing errors in the first place.

—Use a credit card when charging merchandise.

—Examine sales slips to insure all spaces are correctly filled in and no unnecessary marks included.

—Before signing a bill, make sure the total is correct and in the right place.

—Save duplicate sales slips and check bills against them.

—Know when billing dates are and make or mail payments in time to arrive before deadlines.

—Return the correct portion of a bill with remittance.

—Check bills for errors as soon as they're received.

WITH CANNING SEASON upon us maybe you wondered why some of last year's canned goods didn't keep?

Have you had problems of spoilage of home canned foods?

Take a look at the jars and lids you have been using.

Do the jars have chips or nicks at the top? If they do this it can cause a poor seal—thus spoilage. Do not use these jars for canning.

Do you tighten the two piece lid as tight as you can get it before and after processing? If you do, this can cause the sealing material to be broken—and again spoilage.

What can you do? Run your finger around the tops of jars and inspect them visibly to make sure they are smooth and free from nicks and cracks.

If two-piece, self-seal lids are used, follow the manufacturer's instructions in adjusting the lid and tightening the metal ring.

After processing, when the canned product is thoroughly cool, take off the metal ring, if possible without forcing. If the ring sticks, cover it with a hot, damp cloth for a minute or two to loosen. Then wash them to prevent rust and they may be used again. However, the lid may be used only once.

And protect yourself! Use tempered glass jars, those made especially for canning.

You can tell as they have a glass company name imprinted in the side. They are made in such a way as to withstand the heat and pressure of the canning processing.

FARMERS ENTHUSIASTIC

Conservation Practices
Save Water And Money

"My crops look great and I'm using less irrigation water." This is a statement heard more and more around Parmer County. A few "pioneers" who were concerned about wasting irrigation water have shown their neighbors there is a better way to irrigate crops.

W.L. "Preach" Edelman of Friona found that bench leveling steeper slopes not only saved irrigation water and all the rain water which would normally run off his farm, but keeps his topsoil where he wants it—in the field growing crops.

For Max Self, who farms north of Bovina, the answer was simpler and cheaper. He found that row lengths which are coordinated with the slope of the land works on flatter land.

Jan Ward who farms close to Farwell feels his operation needs to be diversified. His answer to eroding soil and irrigation water waste was to install a circle sprinkler system and alfalfa on his land with steeper slopes.

Frank Hinkson of Lazbuddie agrees with Jan about the usefulness of circle sprinkler systems, but improved pasture grasses and small grains fit his operation more and protect the land just as well.

These men have different needs for their farming operations, but they all have a common goal—conservation of natural resources. It has paid off for them and it will pay off for you, too.

For more information on a tailor made system of managing irrigation water to fit your needs contact the Soil Conservation Service in Friona.

A REAL WORK OF ART...This is the way the huge haystack was described by Jim Dixon of the Dixon Six Ranch in the Rhea Community last Friday. The 60-yard long, 10 bale high haystack was stacked by J.R. Varner, right. Dixon, at left, said he thought this was the longest haystack in the county and it contains 2,995 bales weighing 60-70 pounds each. It took four days to complete the stack. Varner has been stacking hay since the early 50's when he first came to Parmer County.

Modern Study Club Outlines Activities

Longfellow's quotation, "And departing leave behind us footprints on the sands of time" set the theme for the last meeting for Modern Study Club recently.

Mrs. S.H. Osborn gave the invocation.

A salad supper was served by the social committee to 24 members. The year's theme "It's A Woman's World-Footprints on the Sands of Time" was used in a clever way in decorations. Place cards were "footprints" of sandpaper. Red lanterns, red checked tablecloths, humorous signs such as "Don't Shoot the Piano Player" were used. The serving table resembling an old fashioned bar was covered with a canopy. Hostesses were costumed and wore straw "Katy" hats. Lois Miller furnished piano music.

During the business session, Stan Bengel and Albert Lindley were chosen for the CowBelles Father-of-the-Year Contest. Annual committee reports indicated a successful year. Members were reminded of the need to contribute books to our Friona Public Library.

FHA Summer Students Bobby Jordan Gets Promotion

Eighteen Friona teenagers are putting the summer to good use and earning one-half credit at high school as they busily work in the homemaking department at the school.

They are working on summer projects, which will be concluded this week at the school before they spend two weeks in a 'home experience' to complete their projects.

Mrs. Valoris Osborn and Mrs. Tonya Gober, who are supervising the special summer project has had the eighteen girls working on creating quickpoint, ten making frames to hold their creations; cake decorating; sewing; gold leafing boards, then inking designs; and making mushroom stools.

Mrs. Gober and Mrs. Osborn asked that credit be given Ed Corn's Industrial Arts class for making the stool bases for use in the homemaking department.

Following the mushroom stools, the girls will be doing 'rub-outs' which was explained as a system using oil paints, then rubbing out the design on boards.

One day quick projects, in which the girls learn to work efficiently marks the special classes, according to the teachers. When they do their two weeks of 'home experience', it can be in sewing, re-decorating, preparing and serving meals, or other projects of their choosing as long as it stays with the home theme. The completed projects will be checked by the instructors in order to insure proper credit for the young homemakers.

Smiley's Motel Sold To Missouri Couple

For the past 25 years, J.V. 'Smiley' Fulks has watched hundreds of people who checked into Smiley's Motel here, and has concluded that 'he likes people, but is ready to just sit awhile.' Last week, on Friday, June 1, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dixon, formerly of Dunnegan, Mo., officially took over as new owners of the motel.

Fulks purchased a small motel at the same location on Highway 60 in 1948 and tore out the small, existing motel and re-built a 20-unit motel presently in use. Later he added a restaurant.

He said no outstanding events were in his mind from his 25 years in the motel business, although people from all the states in the United States, Old Mexico, Canadians and many foreign countries had stayed in the motel at some time during their operation.

During the 25 years, no babies were born in the motel, and no deaths occurred in the motel, "but we came close several times," he added.

When Sandra Kay, the Fulks teenage daughter was 10 days old, fire broke out at the restaurant, then operated by Smiley. Mrs. Fulks said firemen wandered in and out of the motel kitchen during the time they fought the stubborn blaze that destroyed the restaurant, and she served them coffee and sandwiches.

The fire broke out during the height of maize harvest, the weather extra cool at the time didn't help matters much as the firemen worked to keep the blaze from spreading to the nearby motel.

When Fulks re-built the restaurant, he moved it 40 to 50 feet east of the location that burned and added extra parking space.

The restaurant is presently operated by Mrs. Gracie

Allison, a former Muleshoe resident.

A Friona resident since 1930, Fulks was in the restaurant business continuously until he built the motel. He first operated a restaurant on Main Street until he built the restaurant at the motel, then operated that restaurant for several years.

Sandra Kay is the only child at home. Other children are Junior Fulks of Friona; Mary Nell Davis, LaMesa, Calif.; Connie Dodson, Friona; Ronald Dean Dodson, Mineral Wells; and Eldra Gay Fields, Amarillo.

When asked what he planned to do in his retirement, the long time restaurant and motel operator smiled and said, "nothing." He then amended the statement and said, "I might fool around in the tire business a little bit."

Planning to stay in Friona, the Fulks have moved into their home at 604 Lela and said they have mixed emotions after so many years in the same location and the same business.

WELCOMES NEW OWNER...Glen Dixon, left, is welcomed by Smiley Fulks, right, as he assumes ownership of Smiley's Motel last Friday. Looking on in the background is Mrs. Fulks. The Fulks operated the motel in the same location for 25 years.

Paving Ordinance Passed By Council

The Friona City Council passed an ordinance declaring a paving necessity and authorized the mayor and city manager to enter into contract for the paving of ten city blocks at the regular meeting of the council Monday night.

The council set Monday, July 9 as a public hearing date on the proposed paving project.

City Manager Jake Outland reported that of the 57 landowners involved, the majority had expressed their willingness to participate in the cost of the paving.

In other business, the council passed ordinances creating a Defense-Disaster Relief Committee for the city and adopting an Emergency Operations Center plan. The plan would be put in effect in case of tornado or similar disasters that might strike the city.

The council gave tentative approval for the participation in costs of replacing a water main to Crow's Meat Company. It also voted to officially close an alley which belongs to Ross Terry in the eastern part of town.

A request for a street light at the intersection of Jay and Oak Avenues was approved, along with a similar request for Ninth Street and West Highway 60.

A motion was passed authorizing Outland to attend the annual Texas City Manager's Association meeting in Abilene June 16-19.
