Humble Has Flow In Scurry Ellenburger

Flowing oil at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-B Moore, Northwest Scurry County wildcat, has strengthened the prospect of an Ellenburger discovery in the area.

Through perforations at 8,200-40 feet, opposite the Ellenburger zone which made free oil on drillstem tests, operator acidized with 2,000 gallons. After swabbing out lead material, the well kicked off and flowed five hours at the average rate of 6.3 barrels of oil per hour.

The well was then shut in overnight. Testing is scheduled to be resumed prior to attempting completion as a commercial producer and opener of a new oil field.

The oil zone was washed previously with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Location is 10 miles northwest of the town of Snyder and 1,850 feet from north, 1,980 feet from east lines of section 492, block 97, H&TC survey.

Humble To Deepen Oil Well In Upton

Humble is preparing to re-enter, clean out and deepen its No. 1 Parrott, an old dry hole in East Upton County on the north side of the Benedum area.

This exploration is located 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block Y, EL&RR survey, and one half mile north of the Fred Turner, Jr. and J. M. Hewley, Sr., No. 1 Parrott, discovery for flowing production from a Pennsylvania lime, on the northwest side of the Benedum district.

Humble's No. 1 Parrott has been standing as an abandoned project since 1947. It is on a total depth of 10,744 feet in the top of the Devonian lime and chert.

It produced oil at the rate of about three barrels per day, pumping, along with some water for several months from pay above the plugged back depth of 9,378 feet, in the Wolfcamp black shale of the lower Permian.

Operator finally abandoned operations at the well when the petroleum yield dropped to where it was not practical to produce it further.

This well showed a heavy flow of oil and gas at the time it found the production in the Wolfcamp, but the flow did not continue for very long, and the production dropped off. The No. 1 Parrott was carried as the discovery for the Upland field before it was abandoned.

Operator plans to deepen it about 1,000 feet to approximately 11,750 feet to test into the Silurian. Operations are to start at once.

Outpost Staked To Add-Strawn Field

An outpost to the Add-Strawn production in Southeast Ector County has been staked by Stanolind Oil & Gas Company as its No. 1-B 22 F.

The dritsite is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 32, block 45, T-2-S, TP survey, about five miles southwest of Odessa.

Starting March 28 with rotary tools, the venture is to explore to 500 feet. An investigation of the Strawn line of the Pennsylvania.

Barnes Recovers No Oil Signs In Andrews

No shows resulted from a drillstem test at J. C. Barnes No. 1-Lawlis, wildcat projected to the Ellenburger in Central-West Andrews County, 14 miles west of the town of Andrews.

The examination was for one hour at 7,265 feet, on a broken line some which showed some porosity and oil stain.

A blow of air held at the surface throughout the test. Recovery was 1,300 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud, with no shows of oil or gas. More hole is to be made toward 12,000 feet, where the deep zone is expected to be tested.

Silurian Well Flows Oil In Benedum Pool

Humble No. 1-B Barnett, northwest extension to Fusselman-Silurian production on the west side of the Benedum multi-pay region of East Upton County, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 39, block Y, TORR survey, is still flowing to test and complete.

The well is producing from perforated section at 11,375-430 feet. It is using different sized chokes in the flowing to determine the size of opening best suited to handle the gas flow which is varying between 6,000-1 and 8,000-1.

On the latest 24-hour test the well produced 120 barrels of oil during the last eight hours of that period the well made 80 barrels of oil, through a 22/64th inch tubing choke.

Magnolia Abandons Gains Deep Failure

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Hicks, Southeast Gaines County wildcat, about 25 miles southeast of Seminole, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 39, block Y, TORR survey, is still flowing to test and complete.

On the latest 24-hour test the well produced 120 barrels of oil during the last eight hours of that period the well made 80 barrels of oil, through a 22/64th inch tubing choke.

Balloting On Road Bonds Set Saturday

The fate of a proposed $150,000 bond issue for road improvements will be determined by Midland County voters in a special election Saturday.

The hours of voting will be from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. at the county's five voting places, County Judge Clifford C. Keith said.

The election was called by the Commissioners Court about two months ago after petitions requesting the balloting had been received.

The bond proposal is divided into three major parts: (1) financing right-of-way costs, damages and fencing for the proposed widening of U. S. Highway 80 from Midland west to the Ector County line; (2) improvement of later roads in the county's farm-to-market road system; and (3) purchase of needed road machinery and county participation in the proposed underpass on Big Spring Street here.

The estimated cost to the county of the Midland-Odessa highway project is $150,000.

"Your Vote Saturday in the Bond Election Can Help Prevent Wrecks on Highway 80" is the wording on a banner attached to a smashed automobile parked at the corner of the intersection of Wall and Loraine Streets. The car recently was wrecked in a mishap on the congested Midland-Odessa highway.

The attention-getter is a part of the "ret-out-the-vote" campaign sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

It produced oil at the rate of about three barrels per day, pumping, along with some water for several months from pay above the plugged back depth of 9,378 feet, in the Wolfcamp black shale of the lower Permian.

SILENCE, SHAKESPEARE—Wyman, Olivier Get Top Screen Oscars

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Silence and Shakespeare won academy awards for Jane Wyman and Sir Laurence Olivier Thursday night.

Miss Wyman, 34-year-old graduate of B pictures, was named best actress for playing the raped deaf-mute in "Johnny Belinda."

Olivier was given Hollywood's highest honor for his performance as "Hamlet." His British production was also named the best picture of the year, marking the first time the award has been handed across the sea.

It also was a great night for the Hustons. Sir John Huston, who wrote the script for "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre," was named best director for his work on the picture.

Claire Trevor was selected the best supporting actress as the drunken gun-moll in "Key Largo," also directed by John Huston.

Miss Wyman, former Sarah Jane Fols of St. Joseph, Mo., appeared in "Johnny Belinda" by keeping her own secret, but she was named five times as best actress.

The three best picture winners in London were "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre," "Hamlet" and "The Best of the Best." The latter was a comedy directed by John Huston.

Money For Europe, Waterways At Home Keep Congress Busy

WASHINGTON—(P)—Money for Europe and money for waterways at home occupied Congress Friday.

A final—and approving—vote on the $5,500,000,000 European Recovery Program was predicted in the Senate before midnight.

Democratic leaders tightened their ranks to block any move to cut the total. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) heads a powerful group which wants to slice from one to three billion from the amount sought by the administration.

But Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill) was confident neither cuts nor amendments would alter the second-year Marshall Plan Program as worked out in committee.

Unlike last year, the issue before the Senate is not whether the plan should be carried on, but how much money will be spent.

The House, which Thursday finally shunted aside the veterans pension bill, turned to a home front money bill that, oddly enough, totals exactly one-tenth the amount of the European program.

Rep. Passman (D-La) said a compromise was under consideration which might boost the total another $1,000,000.

Besides waterways and flood control, the measure includes money for operation of the Panama Canal, the National Cemetery, and Army Signal Corps communications systems in Alaska.

Work was pushed on rent controls, due to die in six days unless they are extended. Senate and House conferees tried to iron out differences between the two measures approved by the House and Senate.

Hail, Floods, Lightning Hit Towns, Cities

Twisting winds wrought damage at Dallas and Seymour as hail and rainstorms struck many Texas areas Friday.

Greenville also reported a windstorm. A whirlwind, swirling in a funnel-shaped cloud, damaged six buildings in a row in the Cedar Crest area of Dallas. Flat roofs of the buildings were lifted up and hurled across the street.

At the former Skyline Airport, one aluminum hangar was demolished and another was partially wrecked. Adjacent to the former airport, a crop-dusting plane was lifted into the air and blown into telephone wires.

A trailer owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKee in the same area was blown apart. Mrs. McKee said she saw "a funnel-shaped cloud" bearing down moments before the twister struck. Last year, the couple lost a home by fire.

Jimmy Jones of Radio Station KGKL, Greenville, said the windstorm there blew out plate glass windows and blew a small pickup truck half a block down the street. Steadway blown off.

Some Dallas homes were unroofed and a steel stairway was blown from the unfinished 18-story Rio Grande Building in the downtown district. This stairway tore through a brick wall of a building across the street and clattered to the street, ripping out paving bricks.

At Seymour, southwest of Wichita Falls, a small twister unroofed a construction company lumber shed and a cotton compress warehouse. The buildings were half a mile apart. Total damage was estimated at $45,000.

The shed roof sheered trunk power facilities of the Texas Electric Service Company, cutting off power.

Three miles northwest of Seymour, the twister tore the porch off the rural home of Jack Morgan. A thunderstorm deluged Fort Worth.

Rankin told the House he was introducing the new bill "at the request of one of the great veterans organizations, and also at the suggestion of many members of the (Veterans) Committee."

Rankin introduced a new veterans pension bill limited to ex-service men of World War I. He told the House he hopes to bring it to the floor "in a short time."

The measure calls for a $72 a month pension to veterans of the 1917-18 war when they reach age 65, provided their income does not exceed $2,000 a year if unmarried or $3,000 if married, or with dependents.

Rankin offered the bill less than 24 hours after the House knocked in the head his previous measure to pension veterans of both World Wars I and II.

That measure proposed $90 a month pension. By a one-vote margin, 308 to 297, the House Thursday shelved it by sending it back to committee.

Axis Sally Gets Prison Term, Fine

WASHINGTON—(P)—Mildred E. (Axis Sally) Gillars Friday was sentenced to 10 to 30 years in prison for treason.

Federal Judge Edward M. Curran also fined her $10,000. Loss of citizenship is automatic on conviction of treason.

Miss Gillars, 48-year-old Maine-born woman, was convicted March 10. Sentence was delayed until her attorneys could argue motions for a new trial.

Notice of Appeal filed before passing sentence. Judge Curran denied these motions.

James J. Laughlin, attorney for Miss Gillars, served notice of an appeal. He told reporters the case would be fought up to the Supreme Court.

Miss Gillars broadcast the "Axis Sally" programs for the Nazi radio during the war. Her treason conviction was based on the broadcast of one propaganda program called "Vision of Tomorrow."

Before passing sentence, Judge Curran remarked that the trial evidence showed Miss Gillars did not take part in high level Nazi propaganda policy conferences as was the case of Douglas Chandler and Robert Henry Best.

Chandler and Best were other Americans who gave propaganda aid to the Germans. They were tried for treason at Boston and sentenced to life.

choked up thinking about his 25 years with the company and denied he was retiring. He took a look at television, saying: "The motion picture, like baseball, is America's great entertainment for the masses and always will be. He didn't mention movies on television, however. He said the studio would not make cheaper pictures as a result of postwar economy but "great pictures at reasonable costs."

The studio's new production boss, Dore Schary, predicted big things for M-G-M and defended Hollywood. The studio's promise of 67 big pictures during '48 and early 1949 was a tremendous shot in the arm to its salesmen and the whole industry. M-G-M's enthusiasm, I think, should jar the whole town out of its current slump. But let's get back to Skelton and Duran: Talking about California's unusual winter, Red said: "It was terrible. The snow ruined all my marijuana plants." He told about going to a night club and "everybody was so drunk I could hardly see 'em."

He did a murderous impersonation of the way the studio's top brass got out of their chairs to take bows and told sales head W. P. Rodgers that he enjoyed "every hour" of his speech. He also congratulated the studio chef on the stuffed quon. "The last time we had a luncheon here," he said, "we ate the last of Nelson Eddy's 'Shortnin' Bread.'"

Duran tore a piano apart between such comments as "I haven't made a picture in over a year. I. B. Mayer gets married and forgets me. Maybe I should give back his fraternity pin."

Detecting one somber-faced sales executive in the crowd, he cracked: "Don't look so unhappy. This isn't Universal."

WE, THE WOMEN

Tell Hubby About Hard Work? Don't—He Has Own Problems

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"You seem to think a woman hasn't any right to complain to her husband about how hard she works. But how can she make him understand and appreciate how hard she works if she doesn't keep telling him?"

This question from the letter of a Michigan housewife expresses a point of view shared by a good many wives, if the remarks they make in letters to me are an indication.

I don't say a woman hasn't any right to complain to her husband about how hard she works. I just say such complaining never gets her what she wants—more understanding and appreciation from her husband.

Let's take Marge for an example. Marge is going through the hard years now. She has several small children and no household help because there's no money for it. Marge often gets fed up with the hard work, the monotony, and going without things she would like to have.

She doesn't think Bill realizes what she is going through. And so she keeps telling him. When he comes home at night

Welcome, Future Homemakers

Again this weekend Midland is host to another West Texas convention—Area III Future Homemakers of America—and again Midland, the friendly city, extends a most cordial welcome to its visitors.

Last weekend Midland entertained members of the West Texas Press Association at a most worthwhile convention.

Midland, centrally located in West Texas and having excellent convention facilities, is a natural meeting place for area gatherings and our city always is glad to entertain conventions and meetings of all kinds.

Our city particularly is happy to have as its guests this weekend the Future Homemakers who are learning through doing how to make better and happier homes.

Homemaking students of Midland High School and their sponsors have done a commendable job in arranging for the area convention and there is no doubt the session will be most worthwhile from every standpoint.

Area III, Future Homemakers of America, is the largest of 12 areas in Texas, and several hundred youths representing the 2,229 members in the region will be in Midland for the convocation.

The convention is one of the largest ever held here. Midland will be a better city as a result of the meeting having been held here, and Midlanders hope the sessions will be just as profitable to the convention delegates.

Congratulations

Congratulations certainly are in order to The Dallas Morning News which has moved into its new, multi-million dollar building—the finest and most modern newspaper plant in the United States.

The News' expansion program exemplifies the tremendous growth and development of Texas as a whole and is typical of Texas' progress and leadership.

Yes, Publisher Ted Dealey and his fine organization are more than deserving of the congratulations which are pouring in from over the world.

It Didn't Take Him Long To Get Fed Up

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: West Point and Annapolis may be consolidated to stop Army-Navy rivalry; Truman will revive civil rights program next summer; Senator Taft agrees to 20 Taft-Hartley Act changes.

WASHINGTON—The Army and Navy are going to have some real surprises when Louis Johnson takes over as secretary of National Defense. He really means business when it comes to scaling off the century-old crust of Army-Navy rivalry and making all three services act as if they were serving under the same flag.

No definite decision has been made as yet, but one thing is in the back of Johnson's mind is to ask Congress to abolish West Point and Annapolis as traditional training schools for the Army and Navy.

Johnson already has been talking the matter over with some of his intimate advisers and here are some of the points they have placed before him:

1. Real rivalry between the Army and Navy comes from the Annapolis-West Pointers at the top. It doesn't come from the younger officers below, and particularly isn't carried on by the reserve officers who haven't been exposed to four years of intensive Annapolis-West Point training.

2. Other professional men, such as doctors and lawyers, take four years at any accredited college, then specialize at a professional school.

Therefore, it's proposed to use Annapolis and West Point as normal training schools for all officers, mixing up the future commanders of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Not until they have rubbed shoulders and gotten acquainted for two to three years at West Point or Annapolis would they decide their ultimate branch of the service. After this preliminary, non-specialized training they would specialize at a separate school to become either Air Force or Navy or Army officers.

Johnson advisers point out that the old-school - the tradition is strong among all Annapolis and West Point grads. Classmates stick together and their prejudices stick with them years afterward. But if Army, Navy, and Air Force officers have all trained together in the same class, they will work together much more cooperatively, even though they later join rival branches of the service.

Note—A committee of noted educationists, under some distinguished scholarly figure, such as President James Conant of Harvard, would study the matter first and recommend the best solution to the secretary of National Defense.

Civil Rights Again: Highlights of President Truman's private meeting with congressional leaders immediately following his return from Key West was a decision to make another try for enactment of the civil-rights program.

So they say

There isn't a word in the English language that has been so severely abused during the last 10 years as that word, democracy.—President Truman.

Businessmen should draw legitimate confidence from the clear fact that the government would act as promptly, and perhaps more promptly, to combat any real recession than it has acted to combat inflation.—Leon Keyserling, member of the Council of Economic Advisors.

The western world is looking to the United States for leadership. Wise leadership must struggle to find some middle course other than compromise and other than war.—Ambassador Francis B. Sayre.

Treaties of this character are of little value unless they reflect the understanding and the desires of the peoples concerned.—John Foster Dulles, U. S. delegate to the UN, commenting on the North Atlantic Pact.

There were only three hearts to the king in the defenders' hands. Louis reasoned that if he led a small heart to finesse the queen, he was bound to lose a heart trick if the three hearts were in one hand. Of course, if they were divided 2-1 and the king was in the South hand, he would not have to worry.

But if he led the jack of hearts, there was no way that South could win a heart trick. If he failed to lead, declarer would let it ride, lead another heart and finesse the queen. This Bill Slater saw.

New Methods Developed: In the past, treatment often was difficult because the substances which poison lice did not always work and their application took a great deal of time and work on the part of the patient. Now, partly as a result of war experience, there are several highly satisfactory methods of eliminating lice from the human body.

The newer methods include the use of DDT powder, a substance known as benzyl benzoate, and for body lice a kind of bomb made up of what is called parvichrom, which can be sprayed over the entire body in a few seconds, providing a suitable place for use is available. In order to make any of these treatments successful, however, it is important to follow directions closely, and in the case of head lice to guard against injuries to the hair.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service Bill Slater ought to make a great bridge player. In bridge one has to be expert in a lot of ways—bidding, in playing the hand, and in defending.

I first met Bill years ago when he did the announcing at one of our national tournament broadcasts. We both remember stopping at the late Louis Watson's table.

Usually Louis was fairly calm and conservative. Perhaps bringing the microphone over to his table confused him bit, because he later said he had no business bidding seven hearts on today's hand.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Acheson Nonpulsed By Choice As Government's Best Dresser

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON—Secretary of State Dean Acheson was sure fussed the day after the Custom Tailors' Guild picked him as the nation's best-dressed man—in the government division that is. The tailors said the secretary's clothes reflected "aggressiveness and poise." He said: "I'm glad I don't have to go buy a new suit of clothes this afternoon. I wouldn't know how to go about it."

Dr. Channing Frothingham's Committee for the Nation's Health, which is supporting national health insurance legislation, recently sent out an appeal for help from some of its previous backers. The committee wanted not only money but also volunteers to conduct meetings in opposition to the American Medical Association's drive to defeat the proposed legislation.

AMA is raising $3,500,000 for its campaign by a $25 assessment on all its members. But the ONH has far less money. One letter came back from a woman in Pennsylvania. "I enclose my check for $25 as my contribution this year," she wrote. "I cannot help in any other way. I am the wife of a physician who believes the AMA position is right."

Says Nothing: Louis Johnson, who becomes secretary of National Defense on April 1, started right in to learn his new duties as soon as he was appointed and before he was confirmed. At his first morning staff conference in the Pentagon with retiring Secretary James V. Forrestal, Johnson said, "I'm not going to say anything for publication until I am sworn in. If any of you see me quoted on anything in the press, you can put it down as a lie." Johnson also announced that he wasn't going to fire a lot of people or bring in his own gang. Whereupon, into the office walked Paul H. Griffith, Johnson's sidekick, and—like him—a former American Legion commander.

To give an idea of what kind of a cabinet officer Johnson will make, there is one story told about his experience as President Roosevelt's personal representative in India, early in the war. There was an order out that American Air Force transport planes should not carry civilian personnel, not any other strategic materials needed in the U. S., on their return flights from India. Reason given was that this air transport would be resented by the British. They feared it would set a precedent for the establishment of a U. S. airline to India.

Johnson personally saw to loading the first plane out with both non-military personnel and war materials. That ended the order.

Adq strange coincidences department. On the very day that North Carolina Congressman Harold D. Cooley's House Agriculture Committee voted out a bill to repeal all federal taxes on oleomargarine and to ban the sale of colored margarine, the dairy interests published an advertisement advocating repeal of the tax. This was the first time that the dairymen had ever conceded that the tax on oleo was unjust and should be repealed. Also, by coincidence, the dairy trade association ad advocated ban on the sale of colored margarine—just as in the bill approved by the House Agriculture Committee.

Here's the way Victor Reuther of United Auto Workers recently spelled out the present economic daisy chain: Auto plant shuts down because of lack of steel. More steel can't be produced because industry is already working at capacity. Auto plant decides to turn to aluminum. But aluminum industry is also producing at capacity because of power shortage. Power shortage is traced to several things. First, opposition to expansion of public power projects. Also to lack of capacity for manufacture of steam turbines. Finally to shortage of copper for manufacture of generators and cables. And there isn't enough aluminum to substitute for copper in cables. So the whole thing ends up in a vicious circle.

Fight among the states for the proposed new Air Force Academy is getting bitter. California, Texas and Alabama have thus far made the strongest claims, but other states want it too. Annapolis and West Point are both overcrowded and are so situated that their facilities can't be expanded. Creation of this third academy is therefore considered necessary to train enough officers. Since three academies might contribute to greater rivalry instead of greater unification, one plan proposed is to have cadets candidates spend a year at all three service schools. Then let them pick the arm they wanted to specialize in for the final year of their unified, military education.

Questions and Answers

Q—How much of Alaska lies north of the Arctic Circle? A—Only about one-third of Alaska lies north of the Arctic Circle.

Q—Do plants give off oxygen? A—Yes. In the process of photosynthesis in green plants the absorption of carbon dioxide is accompanied by a release of oxygen.

Q—Where did Roald Amundsen meet his death? A—In 1928, this famous explorer died in Arctic regions while attempting to recite his friend, Nobile, who had crashed in the dirigible Italia.

Q—Did Jefferson ride alone to his first inaugural ceremonies and hitch his horse to a fence? A—No. The myth has grown that Jefferson rode his horse without an escort up Capitol Hill and hitched his steed to the picket fence. The truth is that he walked from his "boarding house" who a 300 yards to the Capitol in the company of a few friends. His son-in-law was told to bring a carriage and four white horses for the occasion, but he did not arrive in time.

Q—How many basic odors are there? A—Chemists usually advance the idea that there are but four fundamental odors—fragrant, burnt, acid, and caprylic.

the hotel desk, a gentleman came over beside us. As soon as we had finished registering, he looked at the cards, called me by name and said, "I've never had the pleasure of buying a general a drink."

With that, he reached into his pocket and pulled out a $16 bill. "You'd oblige me very much if you'd drink this up," General Brown laughed. "We had quite a time returning the money without offending the old fellow. Later, in the bar, another man stepped between Smith and me. Placed an arm around each of us, he was pinning our arms to our sides. Then he browbeat the bartender into giving him our checks."

General Brown looked at Roger. "You saw him, Sergeant. He was buying your drinks, too. Thought you were part of our party. It was scarcely any time after that that the man was gone. No, he repeated, "I'll never forget this place."

I FELT that the Chamber of Commerce should hear about us. And about the man with the $16.

Tuesday morning I was good and tired and good and mad. Roger had driven the visiting army back to their hotel and forgotten to return until very late. The dishes were still on the sink. At 2 o'clock that afternoon I had a sixteen course meeting to attend, and at 7:30 that night a new class in diction to launch. I was in as frame of mind to have a third dinner. Just in case, and to make absolutely sure, I telephoned Roger to tell him to get his dinner before he came home.

"You're going out?" he said. "No. But we're having hash." I had managed to salvage enough meat for hash and home soup. The balance of the week we would be eating non-seasoned chicken, eggs, and fish.

"Just you and The Little Man?" Roger had taken to calling Rob The Little Man, and though Rob squirmed, he did nothing to stop it.

"That's the good company I mean. I'd rather eat hash with you two than sit up late with a feast."

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

THE STORY: The house shortage in Great Falls, Mont. early in the war, gives Mr. and Mrs. Roberts a very good reason for the Lodger, Roger, a sergeant, nominates himself one of the family. Next he becomes the son to the Army base, goes twice a week to the kitchen with the Roberts car. He also helps Mrs. Roberts in the kitchen.

shades, or I should get out a linen cloth and begin to set the table for five, the sedan, shiny as ever, drew to a stop before our house. Out jumped Roger and, like a footman for a prince, he held the door open. A general in the United States Army stepped out of the car, followed by his aide.

Time for debate was over. I whipped off my apron, ran frenzied hands through my hair.

THE front door opened and Roger boomed, "Leel! I want you to meet General Brown and Major Smith. They flew in this noon and are leaving in the morning. I couldn't have them pass through and not be exposed to Western hospitality." General Brown and Major Smith both looked surprised as I did. Roger hung up their caps and coats in the vestibule closet, herded them through the living room, tossing a lighted match into the newly laid wood in the grate as he passed the fireplace, and on into the garden room. Setting them comfortably, he opened the panel to the bar and said, "Gentlemen, what'll it be?"

I was curious myself as to what it would be, since last week's bottle had been emptied Sunday and Robbie was not yet home. But Lady Luck was riding high on Roger's shoulder. No sooner had he asked the question and received the reply, "Whisky and soda," than the horns of the hunter was heard on the hill. Rob slammed the garage door and came in with a quart.

Roger took charge of the bottle and turned to the bar. "Over our coffee and cigars and benedictine, General Brown said, "I shall never forget this town. It will always stand out in my memory as a unique city. In the course of my career I have visited many places in the world and never cities in this country, but never until today did I experience anything like this. When we stood at MONDAY Roger asked for the keys to my car. As my eyebrows went up, he reminded me gently that he couldn't allow the misadventure of the day before to go unremedied. A work job in order, "I'm afraid I must insist, dear lady. The fault is mine. The destination is also mine." I told Roger that in Montana we were used to dirty cars, that almost no one bothered to keep a car shined up. He listened patiently, with his hand outstretched, and his only comment was to wiggle his fingers in a come-on motion. I gave him the keys.

About 5 o'clock that afternoon he telephoned from a downtown cocktail lounge to inquire what we were having for dinner. I was cooking a roast of beef, a lovely thing for which I had given all our hard-earned points. We'd got our hard-earned points with a thought past buying meat with a thought for size or price; it was the number of points required that determined whether we bought or not. "But good!" Roger exclaimed. "I've run into a couple of friends and we'll be right along."

I heard the phone on his end click. As fast as one myopic eye and one unforgotten eye could do it, I looked up the number of the cocktail lounge from which he said he was calling, and rang the phone there. I asked to have Roger Kilgore. In a few minutes word came back that he did not answer. Long before I had got over wringing my hands and arguing with myself over whether I should simply lock all the doors, turn off the lights, and pull down the

Midland JayCees To Attend Parley

Seven Midlanders will attend the state convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Galveston, March 31 through April 2. Riley Parr, Midland JayCee president, will leave for the convention the morning of March 30. Leaving that afternoon will be a group composed of DeWayne Davis, Johnny Rhodens, Pat Patterson, Bob Oviatt, Taylor Cole and Alfred (Red) Perry.

Midland will make entries for four state awards for projects of fire prevention, cleanup, publications and Christmas activities. The Midland club was the fourth in Texas to raise its quota for a War Memorial Fund.

FIELD WORKER HERE
Miss Rita K. Murphy, field consultant of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, was a Midland business visitor Thursday.

Boy Scout Camping Schedule Announced

The Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch will open its summer camping period May 29. It will be in continuous operation for eight consecutive weeks, Dr. P. T. Quast announced. Quast is chairman of camping and activities committee of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The camp schedule is as follows: first period, May 29 to June 5, with Rex Palmer, field executive, as director; second period, June 5-12, with H. D. Norris, assistant scout executive, as director; third period, June 12-19, with Jim Hale, field executive, as director; fourth period, June 19-26, with E. E. Mullins, field executive, as director; fifth period, June 26-July 3; sixth period, July 3-10, with S. G. Painter, field executive, as director; seventh period, July 10-17, with Norris as director; eighth period, July 17-24, with Hale as director.

Field executive Rex Palmer of Pecos will be ranch supervisor for the entire summer and will serve with the several camp directors and central camp staff.

The cost of the camp will be $12.00 per Scout. This amount includes the cost of preparation and serving 20 meals. Each period will open with the evening meal on first day and close with breakfast on the last day. Pete Hardeman, veteran cook who has been serving as camp cook in this council for 25 years, will again be the camp cook.

Detailed bulletins about camp have been mailed to all troop scoutmasters.

Troops may register for any period of their choice and as early as they desire.

TO WIN... OR TO LOSE ?

Much deliberation and thoughtful planning is involved in moving one of these chessmen. People who play this game spend many hours contemplating the next move. Often a player finds his move has proved futile, and frequently he discovers his play has cost him the game.

In chess, we are not always able to foresee the move that lies ahead. If we lose, we merely chalk one up for the other side and forget about it.

But in another more serious game we are not able to treat our failures so lightly. In the game of life, we cannot deliberately ignore and forget our errors.

In life also, we are faced with our inability to foretell the correct move, but here the outcome is more important. This is why we must put our faith in something greater, something more sure than mere human speculation.

We who live in the Christian era are blessed with great gifts of inspiration and guidance—the Bible and the Church. Through them our lives may be made victorious. But the choice is ours... to win, or to lose!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

City Cage Finals

The final basketball game of the season will be unreeled at the Midland High School gym Friday night when the Ranch House five battles Ted Thompson's quint for the City League championship. The tilt is scheduled for 8 p. m.

The Thompsonmen sent the championship playoffs into the final game of a two-out-of-three series by besting the Ranchers 40 to 38 Wednesday night.

33 Wednesday night will see one of the fastest and most hotly contested games of the season. Both teams are sure to be fired up for the sudden-death finale.

Trophies will be awarded to the champion team and the runner-up following the game.

Southwestern Nines Drop Two Of Three Exhibition Contests

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference baseball teams had rough going Thursday. They lost two games by wide margins. But in a third game, Texas Christian University walloped the University of Oklahoma 8-3.

Two other scheduled games were rained out.

The University of Texas took a 11-0 lead at the hands of the Milwaukee Brewers of the Triple-A American Association pro circuit. Meanwhile, Ohio State University trimmed Texas A&M 12-4.

TCU's victory was its third straight of the season. Wallace (Lefty) Franklins led the Oklahoma visitors to five safeties.

Rain forced postponement of the scheduled game between Rice and Sam Houston State at Houston and cancelled a Baylor-Minnesota tilt at Waco.

The number of men required to make one car a week was 55 originally; today it is seven.

SPORTSLANTS

BY SHORTY SHELburne

Mexico wants the 1956 Olympics so badly it can taste it. President Miguel Aleman has appointed an invitation committee and Mexico plans the national stadium and housing project. The set-up will include swimming pools, sports fields and training camps in the nation's principal cities.

If the friendly neighbor to the South can get the plans into action, perhaps the Olympics will be attracted. We hope it isn't another fezzle like the Mexican Baseball League.

U. S. Golfers have received another speed-up order from the U.S. G.A.

Along with the order several rules changes were explained. The changes were announced as effective immediately and include a penalty of slowing down the game in medal play. A loss of one hole in match play was provided in the new interpretation.

On top of that, a player may be disqualified if he persists in slowing down on the links.

The previous penalty provided was enforcement only, and seldom was enforced.

The accent is on softball in many sports circles here now. Sports Slants was contacted Thursday by a representative who said Shell Oil, Magnolia, Humble and the American Legion are planning to enter teams in a league.

That gives us eight teams to date; enough for at least a single league. We will keep an organization meeting announcement until the other sponsors have a chance to notify us of their intentions. A meeting is planned next week, however, to elect league officials and to work out details.

The VFW has a team ready but will not be able to sponsor it this season. Any business firm wishing to sponsor the Yets should contact SS and we will relay the information to proper authorities.

Big League scouts are watching Kyle Rote of SMU in the Southwestern Conference baseball circuit.

ST. PETERSBURG —(AP)—The hitting streak of George Stirnweiss, New York Yankee second baseman, was halted at eight games Thursday.

Stirnweiss failed to get the ball out of the infield in four trips to the plate in the Yanks' 8-0 loss to the Detroit Tigers.

Twenty-five American League home runs came with the bases loaded last season.

Purple Track Men Head For Odessa Relays Saturday

Coach Joe Akins will send a greatly improved track squad to the West Texas Relays in Odessa Saturday to compete with the highest ranking Class AA and Class A high schools in West Texas. The outlook for Midland has brightened somewhat during the last week as novices and veterans of the track and field events showed up better.

Shooters Fire Here Saturday

Shooters are scheduled to start banging away in the Midland Gun Club's Championship and Invitational Shoot on the A&C ranges at Midland Airport Saturday morning. The tournament is being held as an invitational meet for skeet shooters throughout West Texas and the schedule of champions of the Midland organization.

The schedule calls for sub small gauge, small gauge, 20 gauge and some of the all-bore event to be unreeled Saturday. The remainder of the tournament will be held Sunday.

Invitations have been mailed to all gun clubs in West Texas and New Mexico to enter the tournament. Several national and state champions are expected to shoot here.

The Midland Gun Clubs have charge of concessions at the event.

Court Order Lets Fishing Continue At Mexican Lakes

MEXICO CITY —(AP)—Texas still can fish at Don Martin and Salinillas Lakes, the Mexican Department of Fisheries announced Thursday.

The lakes are favorite spots for many Texas anglers. Recently the Sabinas National Fisheries Sports Club's season was cancelled at the lakes.

However, the Department of Fisheries said the club had obtained an injunction against cancellation of the concession. This, in effect, means fishing can continue.

EX-TEXAS LEAGUERS BID FOR REDS' STARTING POSTS

BRADENTON, Fla. —(AP)—A pair of Texas League graduates, Second Baseman Johnny Lane and First Sacker Charley Kress, may hold down the right side of Cincinnati's infield on opening day, Manager Bucky Walters said Friday.

Both fancy fielders, Lane and Kress, late of Tulsa, have been battling the ball at such a clip they figure to beat out Second Basemen Bobby Adams and Ted Zientara and First Baseman Benny Kluszewski for starting jobs.

Scharbauer Hotel Wins Team Bowling In City Tournament

Skelly moved into fourth place in the annual City Championship Bowling Tournament Thursday night but other places in the tournament events remained the same.

Scharbauer Hotel was declared winner of the team division. Hane's Humble Service finished second and Curtis Pontiac was third. Elder Chevrolet dropped to fifth.

Doubles and single will be rolled Friday night to complete the tournament.

Results in Thursday night's bowling follow:

Team	Score
Skelly	2919
Standard	2863
Shell	2787
Mabee Drilling	2779

Women's AAU Final Is All-Nashville Event

ST. JOSEPH, MO. —(AP)—It's a St. Joseph team which will win the Women's National AAU Basketball Tournament championship Friday night.

The finalists are Nashville Business College and the Nashville Goldblumes.

The Tennessee teams won their semi-final games Thursday night, beating the Elkin, N. C., Chatham and the Winston-Salem, N. C., Hanes Hosley quintets.

The Goldblumes, defending champions, trounced Elkin 36-27. Nashville Business College defeated Winston-Salem 29-21.

Bulldogs Travel To Big Spring For Initial District 3-AA Diamond Tilt Against Steers

The Midland High Bulldogs were to make their first bid for a District 3-AA baseball victory Friday afternoon, against the highly regarded Big Spring Steers in Big Spring.

Frank Robinson was nominated for the starting assignment on the mound. Ray Williams, another right hander, was first in line for relief duty.

Coach Garvin Beauchamp announced the line up as follows: Don Deel, catching, Roy Mann at first, Jimmy Conine at second, Moe Price at third, Marion Tredaway at short, Larry Buckingham in leftfield, Dee Bivens in centerfield and L. C. Thomas in rightfield.

Midland will open the conference season at home next Tuesday against the San Angelo club.

Texas Quintet Is Semi-Finalist In National JC Tilt

HUTCHINSON, Kan. —(AP)—Two of the nation's highest scoring junior college basketball teams will write the 1949 chapter of their rivalry Friday night.

Tyler, Texas, Junior College and Compton, California, will be playing for a finalist berth in the National Junior College Athletic Association Basketball Tournament.

Tyler will be shooting to avenge two one-point defeats by Compton, but the records for both schools are outstanding.

Compton defeated Tyler 20-19 in the Texas Rose Bowl football game in 1947 and came back last year to win 66-55 in the first annual Junior College Basketball Tournament at Springfield, Mo. That victory gave Compton third place in the tournament.

Top Pre-Tourney Record

The Tyler basketball team came into the 1949 tournament with a mark of 33 victories in 34 games—30 of the victories coming after an early season loss to the Southern Methodist University freshmen. Tyler scored 2,445 points in the regular season for a 71.9 average and breezed through four games in the Texas A&M College state invitation tournament with an 89.2 average.

Compton came up to the tournament with only three losses in 38 games.

The Tyler-Compton game is scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

Grant Tech of Del Paso Heights California, and Hutchinson, Kan., are the other semifinalists, meeting at 8 p.m.

Storms—

 North. Lightning set one home afire.
 Two oil tanks were set afire at Kilgore.
 Hall fell at Dallas, north of Denton, Plainview, Kilgore, and Lamesa. A report at Lamesa said hall fell over the South Plains from Lamesa to Lubbock.
 Nine miles west of Seymour, heavy hail damaged wheat in the Red Springs Community.
 Heavy damage was reported in the Forest Avenue and Cedar Crest areas of Dallas. The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company said a prefabricated house on the roof of its Haskell Avenue Exchange was crushed by falling materials.
 The Fort Worth thunderstorm measured more than an inch. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gran Faught was struck by lightning and set afire. Damage was slight.
 Water backed up into homes as Fort Worth streets overflowed.
 Water stood 10 inches deep inside a cafe. A lake of water rose to the Trinity State Bank doorway.
Hail Large As Eggs
 Hall from grey-green clouds bombarded Dallas. First reports said some of the stones were as large as hen's eggs.
 Another hailstorm struck four miles north of Denton, James Goin of Sanger, Texas, brought a gallon bucket of hailstones to the Denton Record-Chronicle office.
 Hail also was reported at Plainview, in the Panhandle.
 The wind at Dallas attained a velocity of 25 miles per hour.
 The weather was bright and clear in the Big Bend Country and far West Texas. In other sections of the state conditions were cloudy.
 Showers were continuing at Lubbock, Texarkana, Tyler, Waco, San Antonio, Houston, Austin and Corsicana. Tyler had 1.38 inches, Waco 1.16.
 Continued thundershowers are forecast for East Texas Saturday.
 Small craft warnings were ordered hoisted from Brownsville, Texas, to Morgan City, La. Winds of from 25 to 35 miles per hour were predicted.

Oscars—

 Shakespeare was declared ineligible for writing honors because, said Emcee Robert Montgomery, "he wrote for another medium."
Buttons And Bows
 The Motion Picture Academy's voters selected "Buttons and Bows" from "The Paleface" as the best film song. Jane Russell, in a strapless gown, rocked the room with her singing of the Jay Livingston-Ray Evans tune.
 Special awards went to Ivan Jandl of "The Search" for the best juvenile performance; Walter Wanger for "Joan of Arc"; Jerry Wald for consistently high quality production; the French "Monsieur Vincent" was named the best foreign language film.
 The event was the fastest and smallest in the academy's 21-year history. The awards were handed out in caterfial style at the academy's own theater, before an audience of 850, mostly press and nominees.

Union Of Nations Is Proposed By Speaker At Cotton Convention

GALVESTON —(P)— Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) Friday urged formation of a union of nations similar to the union of the United States.
 He spoke at the 38th annual convention of the Texas Cotton Association.
 The Tennessee senator said the North Atlantic Alliance for mutual defense, now being formed, does not go far enough. It is weak, he declared, because it is based on treaties, and, he said, "in the past we have had some unhappy experiences with treaties."
 He also said the United Nations is weak because of the veto power given some nations, because each nation is free to carry on its own foreign policy and because of changing ideas of member governments.
Existing Committee Cited
 In the place of UN and the North Atlantic Pact, he urged formation of "a union of the free Democracies based on law x x x." He likened such a union to the United States formed by the 13 colonies.
 Senator Kefauver pointed out that some progress toward such a union has been made. It is the Atlantic Union Committee for a federal Convention of Democracies formed by individuals of many nations. He pointed out that Will L. Clayton of Houston, a former assistant secretary of state, is a vice president of the committee.

Area FHA—

 1 to 1:30 p. m., then the afternoon session will start with Joline Baker of Winters, area president, presiding. Chloia Todd of Brady, area song leader, will lead opening songs.
 Reports of district meetings, an hour of entertainment and installation of new area officers share the afternoon program. The officers will be elected in the business meeting.

Reports from the five districts will be given by Natalia Melendez of Bowie High, El Paso; Peggy Chancy, Pecos; Julia Crumpton, Odessa; Carolyn Davis, Sweetwater; and Diane Johnson, Brady.
Business Report
 Juanita Stagg of the Wylie Chapter, area second vice president, will give the report of the business meeting, and the Odessa Chapter will conduct the installation of officers.
 Entertainment preceding the installation will include music by the Future Farmers of America Band, Midland; a skit, "Oscar the Flea," by the Grandfalls-Royalty Chapter; "Darktown Strutters Ball," by Mary Lou Painter and Carolyn Meyer of Pecos; a skit, "The Crooked Mouth Family," by El Paso High Chapter; a flute solo by Helen Walker of Grandfalls-Royalty; a trio number by Sawyer Pearson, Patricia King and Sammie Lou Jones of San Angelo; a skit, "Don't Spill the Salt," by the Big Lake Chapter; and a solo by Peggy McDonald of San Angelo.

Five Negroes Die In Mississippi Tornado

GREENVILLE, MISS.—(P)— Five persons were killed and 20 injured in a tornado which struck South Washington County Thursday night, Deputy Sheriff Murray Ethredge reported Friday.
 Four of the dead were killed in the storm. The fifth, nine-year-old Spencer Davis, died in King's daughter Colored Hospital about 9:30 a.m. All of the dead and injured were negroes, Ethredge said.
 The deputy reported that between eight and ten houses were demolished.
 Hospital authorities reported two of the 20 injured were in critical condition. The other were suffering from shock, broken limbs and cuts and bruises.

Engineers Battle To Block Broken Mississippi Levee

BATON ROUGE, LA.—(P)— Bulldozers, laborers and National Guardsmen battled Friday to block a levee break where the swift, muddy Mississippi is churning through.
 Only the fact the mighty stream is at low level prevented disaster, said residents in the flood zone.
 Nicholas Balovich, superintendent of U. S. District Engineers, said the swift flowing gap should be closed sometime Friday.
 Slowly spreading waters seeped over the thinly populated sugar cane country after the break Thursday morning.
 The section affected is on the west side of the river across from Baton Rouge. A low section of about 10 square miles are under two to three feet of water.
 About 1,500 residents of the little town of Port Allen, directly in the flood path, appeared unworried. A railroad roadbed, bolstered by a hastily mounted dirt dike on a plantation, spared the town for the moment.
 No damage estimates were made but canefields suffered the most.

Blind Negro Man, Confessed Slayer, Is Executed Friday

MONTGOMERY, ALA.—(P)— A 42-year-old negro, blind seven years, was executed at Kilby Prison Friday for hacking a negro woman to death as she lay in bed asleep.
 Warden George Garner said Buster Snead was the first blind man ever to be electrocuted in Alabama.
 Snead was convicted of slaying Ellen Mason with an axe January 4, 1947. He said in the confession introduced at his trial that he killed the woman because she refused to repay $20 she had owed him for a year.
 Kilby Prison officials, saying they dreaded "the job ahead of them," appealed Thursday to Gov. James E. Folsom to spare the blind man's life. The governor, however, declined to interfere.

Road Bond—

 ticipate with the county in the underpass project.
 The machinery the county proposes to purchase will be used in the road building program and will replace worn-out equipment in some instances.
 The entire bond proposal has the endorsement of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and its Highway Committee.
Interest Lags
 Little interest in the election has been shown and only three absentee ballots were cast. Announcements have been made at all service clubs and other "get out the vote" steps are being taken. Judge Keith said a two-thirds majority must be registered in order for the election to carry.
Voting Places
 He said the bonds, if voted, will be issued only as needed to finance the various projects.
 Voting places and election officials were announced by Judge Keith, as follows:
 Precinct 1—Basement of court-house; Mrs. Allen Tolbert.
 Precinct 2—Greenwood School; Mrs. Marshall Heald.
 Precinct 3—Stephenson School; Bob Preston, Jr.
 Precinct 4—VFW Hall at Terminal; Mrs. Lee O. Manning.
 Precinct 5—City - County Auditorium; J. L. Kendrick.
 Wall Street, U. S. Highway 90, is the dividing line between Precincts 1 and 2, with persons living north of Wall voting at the courthouse, and those residing south of the highway voting at the auditorium.

Tax Office Ready With Car Licenses

Many Midlanders Saturday afternoon are expected to purchase 1948 automobile licenses at the tax assessor-collector's office in the courthouse, taking advantage of the opportunity when that office will be kept open.
 J. M. Speed, tax collector, said many workers have Saturday afternoon free who cannot find time on other days to take care of the matter.
 The office normally is closed Saturday afternoon but will remain open this Saturday.
 March 31 is the last day to purchase licenses without a penalty.

Mrs. Penn Will Attend State Senate Hearing

Mrs. William Y. Penn, an official of the Midland and Texas Leagues of Women Voters and a member of the governor's election law committee, will leave Monday for Austin where she will attend a hearing Tuesday night on the League-sponsored Secret Ballot Bill before the Senate's State Affairs Committee.
 She spent several days this week in Austin working in behalf of the bill, which she believes has an excellent chance of being adopted by the Legislature.
 Mrs. Penn said the Secret Ballot Bill, HB 327, passed the Privilege Suffrage and Election Committee of the House Thursday afternoon. She said there was only one negative vote and that was by Representative McGregor, who has a secret ballot proposal of his own before the committee.

PLATFORM

WILLIAM B. NEELY

CANDIDATE FOR

MAYOR

MY PLATFORM IS:—

- 1. INCREASED SERVICES INSTEAD OF INCREASED PAY ROLLS.
 The 1946-1947 fiscal year budget for the city, this being before the present mayor's administration, was $530,000.00. The 1948-1949 fiscal year budget was $797,600. The city pay roll for the 1946 calendar year was $184,506. The 1948 calendar year pay roll was $390,000. Of the $267,000 increase in the annual budget, $205,000 was due to the increased pay roll.
- 2. PROVIDE CURRENT AND PERIODIC ACCOUNTINGS TO THE PUBLIC.
 For example, how many people know the status of the projects covered by the bond issue approved in October, 1947? How many know the amount of revenue obtained from the airports and for what it is spent? How many know why we changed the type of parking meters? How many know the different departments that have been established in the past two years, what the departments do, and who is in charge of them?
- 3. A RAILROAD UNDERPASS.
 $35,000 in bonds were voted for this needed project in October, 1947. We cannot continue to ignore this project. It can and must be revived and promptly completed.
- 4. SEWER AND WATER FACILITIES FOR ALL AREAS.
 I favor adoption of a plan, to be made public and to be performed, under which each section of the city will receive its fair share of all new facilities. We have seen that promises are not enough. $200,000 voted for sewers in October, 1947, has been spent without any such plan and the areas then in need are still in need. These programs must be based on needs—not pressure, influence and promises.
- 5. IMPROVED GARBAGE COLLECTION.
 Attention to details and improved practices should correct existing defects.
- 6. IMMEDIATE COMPLETION OF THE DRAINAGE DITCH TO CARRY SURFACE WATER PAST THE LATIN-AMERICAN AND COLORED SECTIONS.
 $30,000 in bonds were voted for this project in October, 1947, and only temporary measures have resulted, such as converting streets into drainage ditches. At the same time drainage problems in the Northwest part of town must be anticipated and provided for.
- 7. EXPEDITE STREET PAVING AND IMPROVE THE CARE OF UNPAVED STREETS.
 Work on the present program has lagged and must be intensified, with greater financial contribution by the city if the budget will permit. Many of our unpaved streets are never graded, many more have been neglected.
- 8. ACQUISITION OF ADDITIONAL SUPPLIES OF WATER.
 We must have a program for continuing development of water reserves.
- 9. ELIMINATE RED TAPE IN DEALING WITH COMPLAINTS AND INDIVIDUAL PROBLEMS.
 I believe that the city should have sufficient interest in any problem presented to it to try to find the answer on its own initiative and not require the citizen to go from office to office and commission to commission in search of someone who deals with that problem who will hear the problem and who will do something about it.
- 10. I WILL PARTICIPATE ACTIVELY IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE CITY'S AFFAIRS.
 The charter of the city provides that the mayor "shall be the chief executive officer of the City". This provision is wisely made so that the administration of the city's affairs will be responsive to the will of the people. The office of city manager does not relieve the mayor of this responsibility but gives him assistance in discharging the duties of the mayor. I will not deny responsibility for the manner in which the city functions or disclaim authority to correct omissions or inequities in the administration of its affairs. I will work actively toward the prompt and economical completion of each project.

I ask that you join me in accomplishing this program.

Construction has been started on a new brick theater building. Brick work is expected to require six weeks. Preliminary work was done last year but lack of materials delayed the actual construction.

Steps have been taken to organize a Senior Boy Scout unit in Crane. An active program for boys of 15 years and over is scheduled. Assisting the organization are John Deagan of McCamey and J. R. Todd of Crane.

Three students of Crane High School attended a recent meeting of the Lions Club here and asked for a South Center. Students included Dwayne Warren, Peggy McCasland and Betty Henderson.

A major church building campaign is scheduled to begin March 27 by the First Christian Church. The Rev. J. T. Kendrick has been called to the Crane church from Iraan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mayfield of Fort Lupton, Colo., are guests of the Crane. Mr. Mayfield is a sister of Mr. Hubbard. The hosts and visitors recently visited the Davis Mountains and the McDonald Observatory.

Daddy Ringtail and George Feathers

The Featherman lives in the Great Forest, not far from the very tall tree where Daddy Ringtail lives in his monkey house.

George is a duck with white George feathers. He also lives in the Great Forest, somewhere there in the bushes in a George nest. And one day when Daddy Ringtail was sitting down on the ground at the bottom of the very tall tree, he heard George say a "Quack, quack, quack!" George was quacking like a duck, because he was a duck.

And then, while the duck whose name was George was resting from his quacking, Daddy Ringtail heard the Featherman come walking up the Elephant Path. "Oh, feathers, feathers, feathers, feathers," said the Featherman.

"Happy day, Mr. Featherman," Daddy Ringtail said. "Happy feathers, Daddy Ringtail," the Featherman said. Then he showed Daddy Ringtail the feather he had in his hand. It wasn't a pretty feather. It wasn't white like a George feather; but it was a feather. The Featherman had found it on the ground, and he was taking it home to his nest.

HOMES for VETERANS
College Heights Addition

If you need a home, come out and look at these lovely two-bedroom cottages now under construction.

You may select your own colors, as well as your linoleum for bath and kitchen.

These homes have large garages, attached or detached, with concrete floors. In the houses, you will find beautiful hardwood floors over sub-floors, floor furnaces, aluminum venetian blinds throughout, weatherstripping on doors and windows, double compartment sink, lights in each clothes closet, overhead insulation, complete bath with combination tub and shower, generous cabinet space, masonite wainscoting in kitchen and bath. The lots are 50' x 140', with sidewalks and concrete driveways, shrubbery and landscaped yards.

A $200 deposit (for closing costs) is all that is required in cash—balance 100% G.I. Loan.

Total prices range from $7,750.00 to $8,100.00 with monthly payments from $50 to $55 per month, including taxes and insurance.

WE WILL BE OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY!

Drive-out and let us show you these homes, our different floor plans and specifications.

S. Austin Wier Addresses Shriners At Midland Banquet

S. Austin Wier, Dallas attorney and engineer, told Midland Shriners and their ladies, at the annual banquet of the Midland Shrine Club Thursday evening in Hotel Scharbauer's Crystal Ballroom, that only one freedom counts in this world—the freedom of mind.

The nobles entertained their ladies at the annual banquet. J. M. McDonald, president of the club, presided and W. L. Kerr was toastmaster.

"Without freedom of mind, we have nothing," Wier declared. "Freedom of mind is perhaps best exemplified in Shrinedom. It is the place where we pray, and where we play. We live in a free society because we properly observe the laws of nature."

"Nature loves the truth and nature dictates that man shall live free. Shrinedom indeed is peculiarly American. It is a combination of generous living and joyous living. Shrinedom is the spark of civilization which exemplifies America. Shriners do generous deeds in an atmosphere of happiness. Sometimes we fall to measure the beauty and the worth of our organization."

Recorder John W. Gibb of El Malda Temple, El Paso, was among the guests of honor at the banquet. He called attention to El Malda's ceremonial May 6 and 7 and invited all Shriners of this area to attend.

Duke Jimeron and John Biggs entertained with vocal numbers. Mrs. Jack Ellington was at the piano. Shriners from the following cities also were guests at the banquet: Odessa, Lanessa, Oklahoma City, Kermit, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Lubbock, Amarillo and Brownfield.

1,600 Democrats Eat Barbecue, Hear House Speaker Rayburn Urge 'Be Loyal Or Leave'

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas Democrats who chipped in more than $40,000 for the party cause Thursday night were urged by House Speaker Sam Rayburn to be loyal at all times or leave the party.

Sixteen hundred persons polished off a Jefferson-Jackson Day barbecue dinner and then leaned back to enjoy the roasting Rayburn gave Republicans and others who had scoffed at the idea Harry S. Truman might be elected President last November.

A radio audience also heard the veteran legislator as he said: "The fold of the Democratic Party is wide enough and deep enough to hold all who love the party and its traditions."

Rayburn said some persons who called themselves Democrats did not support the party in 1940, 1944, or 1948. "I came to doubt their loyalties," he said, continuing: "I think all loyal Democrats should go into the primaries and the conventions. When I go into a primary, I'm going to vote for my party's candidate in the general election or get out."

The dinner, first of three Jefferson-Jackson Day celebrations in Texas to celebrate President Truman's November victory, was held in the Austin Coliseum. Conservative and liberal groups both were present, but there were few signs of dissension. Rayburn did not mention specifically Truman's civil rights program, but he had this to say of the party platform.

"Some of the planks in the platform of 1948 I do not agree with, but just because I do not is not going to drive me out of the party," says Texas Owns Tidelands.

On the tidelands issue, a matter which has provoked considerable criticism of the federal administration by state officials, Rayburn said: "I have always believed and now believe that the tidelands of Texas 10 and one-half miles out from the shore belong to the state. So let's have an end to people talking about my position on that. It may be that Congress can work something out on this."

Remarking that he has a more personal understanding of Truman than of all the other presidents he has been associated with, the speaker told his audience: "I say to you tonight that in patriotism, love of country and desire to serve his day and generation, none have been greater in my opinion than Harry S. Truman."

He scoffed at talk of a depression or recession this year, declaring "There is nothing in our fundamental economy except fear that could bring a depression or recession in 1949."
