Voters Favor Road Bonds By 451 To 25

Midland County voters, in a special election held Saturday, approved by an 18 to 1 majority the proposed issuance of $150,000 in bonds for road improvements.

The vote, according to a complete but unofficial count, was 451 for and 25 against.

A total of 483 ballots were cast in the county's five voting precincts. The three rural precincts voted solidly for the proposal.

The bond money will be used for three major projects (1) financing of right-of-way posts, damages and fencing for the proposed widening of U. S. Highway 80 from Midland to the Motor County line; (2) improvement of arterial roads in the county's farm-to-market road system; and (3) purchase of road machinery and county participation on the proposed underpass on Big Spring Street.

May Ask Bids Monday

The bond proposal had the endorsement of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

County Judge Clifford C. Keith said Saturday night the Commissioners Court Monday will set a date for receiving bids on the bonds.

Hospital Receives Big Memorial Gift

A $10,000 gift by J. W. Estes and Mrs. Rebecca Gray of Ward County to memorialize a room in the new Midland Memorial Hospital was announced Saturday by John P. Butler, hospital treasurer.

Estes and his sister, Mrs. Gray, who operate ranching interests in Ward County, made the cash gift in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tant Estes, pioneer West Texas ranch couple who many years ago established the Estes Ranch near Monahans. Mr. and Mrs. Tant Estes were well-known among old timers here, having done their banking and trading in Midland for many years.

A bronze plaque memorializing Mr. and Mrs. Estes will be placed in one of the hospital rooms.

Butler said the gift by J. W. Estes and Mrs. Gray is the first memorializing a room in the new 75-bed hospital which now is under construction here. The cost of constructing and furnishing a room is approximately $10,000.

Hospital officials invited other citizens to consider memorializing rooms, departments, wards, beds, etc. They said now is the time to arrange for such memorials while the big general hospital is under construction.

Conference Snags On What To Do About Rent Hikes

WASHINGTON — (P) — Senate House conferees on rent legislation deadlocked Saturday night over what to do about rent increases.

The conference committee trying to iron out differences between the House and Senate bills broke up after more than seven hours of trying to reach an agreement.

The present rent law expires next Thursday, March 31.

Senator Spessard (D-Ala.) told a news conference the House conferees rejected a compromise proposal advanced by the group. He said the two sides were only one word apart, but could not get over that obstacle.

Spessard said the joint committee will meet again Monday morning.

The conferees had agreed earlier Saturday that rent controls should be extended 15 months. The standard for granting increases to landlords stood out at the main stumbling block.

'Huntsville Bus' Stops Over Night

The "paddy wagon" from the State Penitentiary at Huntsville stopped overnight in Midland Saturday. Sheriff Ed Darnell said it had 25 passengers upon arrival and would have 25 when it departed.

Jeanette Hope, sentenced to two years for forgery, and Neal Harter, given a five-year term for car theft, were due to board the bus here, Darnell said.

Milwaukee Rites For F. L. Rogosch

The body of Frederick Louis Rogosch, 62-year-old stone mason who was killed here Wednesday in a fall from the top of the Permain building, was sent to Milwaukee Saturday for services and interment.

Good Girl

Fan dancer Sally Rand chews thoughtfully on a pencil in New York as she tells newsmen her new book, "How to Be a Good Girl in a Big City," is near completion. Asked to show the manuscript, she said, "As you can see I don't have it on me."

Youth Admits Slaying

MILWAUKEE — (P) — A 19-year-old bridegroom admitted Saturday he murdered 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham while planning to elope with her older sister.

Milton Babich dictated his statement to District Attorney William McCauley.

The former student's admission came as a climax to a chain of events started by a fantastic coincidence. Pretty Pat's trussed and weighted body was dragged from the Milwaukee River last Sunday by firemen hunting for a suicide. She had disappeared February 10. Babich told the district attorney he killed Pat because the younger girl knew Kathleen, her 17-year-old sister and Babich's fiancée, was pregnant and threatened to tell her parents.

The break came after Babich faced 48 hours of frequent quizzing by police. He had been held in custody on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Kathleen in urging her to elope with him two days before Pat's body was found.

Hardin-Simmons Band Will Play At Midland Rodeo

The world-famous Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band of Abilene will be the official band of the 15th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo, June 1-5, rodeo officials said Saturday.

At about the same time, O. John Rogge said the appearance of the Abilene band here were completed at a conference between H-SU representatives and George W. Glass and Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., president and vice president, respectively, of Midland Fair, Inc.

The Cowboy Band, one of the most widely-traveled university bands in the nation, will play at all rodeo performances with the exception of Sunday, June 5. The Midland High School Band, which will appear in the opening day parade and at various other times during the five-day show, is expected to provide music at the final rodeo performance.

Trained especially for furnishing music for rodeos, the H-SU Band has played at some of the largest shows in the United States. The band performed at Midland Rodeo several years ago.

Midlander's Hat Tossed Into Ring

Tornado Hits Dallas

A freak tornado which lasted only a few minutes struck the south part of Dallas, leaving scattered debris in its wake. The roof of the A. R. Skipwith Variety Store was tossed into the street, covering at least four cars. Skipwith, who was in the store when the roof ripped off, was not injured. A light aircraft was jack-knifed around a utility pole and many small buildings were blown over.

School Election Is Slated Here Saturday

An election to name three trustees to the Board of Education of the Midland Independent School District will be held Saturday in the basement of the Midland County Courthouse.

Absentee balloting in the election closes Tuesday night, V. C. Maley, board president, said Saturday. Absentee votes may be cast in the county clerk's office in the courthouse.

Voting in Saturday's election will be between the hours of 8 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Five candidates are seeking election to the three vacancies: L. G. Meckley and D. W. McDonald, are asking reelection to second three-year terms. The other candidates are Mrs. Ernest Sidwell, J. Holt Jowell and Cooper Hyde.

F. F. Bridgewater, veteran school trustee, did not announce for reelection.

The school election will be conducted by Mrs. B. W. Golladay, Cordelia Taylor and Mrs. Allen Tolbert.

Grand Jury To Hear Hester Story Monday

FORT WORTH — (P) — A grand jury of six Johnson County farmers, four businessmen and two laborers will hear the details of the March 8 bludgeoning slaying of Dr. John Lord, TCU dean, when it meets Monday in Cleburne.

The star performer in what District Attorney John James, Jr., has termed a "dress rehearsal" will be 18-year-old Arthur Clayton Hester. Hester is the confessed slayer of his guardian in the latter's reportedly situated farm home seven miles southeast of Burleson.

Brady Pair Charged In Ozona Kidnaping

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — (P) — Road blocks were set up in Central New Mexico Saturday to catch two Texans charged with kidnaping a 21-year-old Ozona, Texas, woman and her son.

The men sought are Horace and G. K. Beeman, brothers of Brady, Texas. They were charged at Ozona with kidnaping G. K. Beeman's estranged wife, Barbara, and their two-year-old son.

Their trail led from Carlsbad, N. M., where Mrs. Beeman telephoned hysterically to her home in Ozona. She reported the men were armed.

Sheriff D. A. Earnest of Ozona issued the warrant for their arrest.

Police at Carlsbad were alerted, but learned only that they were headed for Albuquerque in a black 1941 Ford with Texas license plates.

Since the Beemans' estrangement, Mrs. Beeman has been living with her parents. Earnest said the kidnaping happened Friday night. Here is the story as related by Sheriff Earnest:

"Mrs. G. K. Beeman is getting a divorce. It becomes final next week and according to the divorce, she gets custody of the two-year-old child.

Trouble In Family

"There has been some trouble in the family and a while back I placed G. K. Beeman under peace bond. When he came to town Friday and wanted to see his son, Mrs. Beeman, Barbara Beeman is her name, wouldn't let him see the child unless I came along to see things were all right.

"About 8 o'clock Friday night I went over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Joslin. Mrs. Beeman's parents, Barbara Beeman and her son live there. G. K. promised me he wouldn't make any trouble.

"Two hours later I got a call from the Joslins. They said G. K. had grabbed the baby and had run out to his car with it. Barbara wasn't forced to go but she couldn't remain behind where her baby was taken away. Anyway, G. K. and Horace and Barbara and her boy all left town in the same automobile. I have charged Horace and G. K. with kidnaping them both."

Allies Pare Border Slices Off Germany, Slate Meeting Here

WASHINGTON — (P) — The State Department, it was learned Saturday, is quietly arranging a three-power foreign ministers' meeting on Western Germany to be held here in about 10 days.

The meeting will try to settle among the United States, Britain and France critical issues delaying final unification and further economic development of Western Germany.

Saturday the Western Powers announced minor transfers of territory from Germany to its Western neighbors.

The announcement said 52 square miles of German land, with a population of 13,500, will be switched to The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Saar and France to improve communications and administration. The frontier will be pushed back inside Germany at 31 points.

The major problems arise from efforts to unify and establish a government for all three zones of Western Germany and promote its economic development to aid European recovery.

Five Issues Stand Out

Issues which may be taken up by Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman here include the following:

Drafting an occupation statute, division of powers between the proposed Central German government and state governments, the Berlin crisis, reparations, prohibited and restricted industries.

American officials say the Washington conference is not expected to resolve these issues in detail. They hope for agreements in principle on the issues in subsequent meetings can work out complete agreements.

The first shifting of the German western boundaries — aside from establishment of Saar authority — was agreed on by the United States, France, Britain and the three Benelux countries in a conference at Paris.

Reports from Europe said the Germans reacted bitterly. Some German leaders denounced any tampering with the western borders as contrary to international law and a violation of the Atlantic charter.

Red Cross Drive Approaches Goal

The Midland County Red Cross financial campaign Saturday was only $58.50 short of its $12,000 goal.

Robert Payne, general chairman, said the returns at the weekend totaled $12,041.50. He predicted the campaign will exceed its goal early this week.

He urged persons who have not contributed to send their checks to the Red Cross Chapter or to leave them at the Chamber of Commerce in Hotel Scharbauer.

Payne and other Red Cross leaders expressed appreciation to all individuals and organizations who have had a part in the successful drive.

Odessa Youths Held Under $10,000 Bond

BALLINGER — (P) — Two Odessa youths were charged with armed robbery in connection with a grocery store holdup here March 19. The youths were named as John Bradley, 18, and Lester Bradley, 20. They are being held in the Runnels County jail here in lieu of $10,000 bond.

JACKSON, MISS. — (AP) — Another twister hit Mississippi Saturday night, injuring an undetermined number of persons at Belden, in the northeastern part of the state.

TEHRAN, IRAN — (AP) — A high military source said Saturday a detachment of 50 Soviet troops has killed one Iranian soldier and wounded and captured two others in a disputed frontier region.

NANKING — (AP) — The Chinese Communists Saturday night told the government to send its peace delegation to Piping, ready to talk business, next Friday, April 1.

DENTON — (AP) — A light plane crashed Saturday night on the Dallas-Denton highway near Lake Dallas, seriously injuring one of two occupants, both of whom were Californians.

Twisters Cut Wide Path In Three States

Tornadoes battered Texas again Saturday and struck in Oklahoma and Arkansas to add to the death toll of Spring storms which have harassed five states.

At least 26 persons were known dead from storms since Thursday night in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi. The number of injured reached more than 100.

The casualty toll mounted swiftly in Arkansas, where 10 or more places were hit. Seventeen were known dead in that state.

Arkansas Reports 17 Dead

LITTLE ROCK, ARK. — (P) — A series of windstorms that has been buffeting the South and Southwest since Thursday night, wound up with a machine-gun like assault on Arkansas Saturday afternoon.

Casualties and property losses were mounting as the picture unfolded.

Seventeen persons were known to have died, and unconfirmed reports placed the Arkansas dead at a higher figure. There were 50 or more known injured.

It was not clear how many communities were hit, but it was around a dozen, all small places.

Saturday's storms didn't concentrate on a populated area as was the case early in January, when Warren, Ark., was battered with a loss of 87 lives.

Hospitals Jammed

There were 15 known dead in the England-Scott area, 20 miles southeast of here; one known dead at Whelen Springs, little lumber mill community 80 miles southwest of Little Rock; and one reported dead near McCorty. There were unconfirmed reports of 12.

Storm Interrupts Power Service Here

A windstorm which swept through West Texas Saturday night interrupted the Texas Electric Service Company's Leon Plant, interrupted Midland's power and light service for 22 minutes at midnight Friday. Lights blinked out at 11:17 p. m. Saturday.

R. L. Miller, district manager of TESCO, said the wind toppled five large frames on the company's 123,000-volt line, wrecked the switching structure, blew a water tank through a steam room, unroofed the district office and damaged the homes of employees at Leon, near Eastland.

TESCO's recent action in erecting a large power plant near Monahans prevented a more serious delay as this plant provides abundant power for this area.

Armo Spears Trial Continued To June

ODESSA — The trial of Armo Spears of Midland, charged with murder, which was scheduled Monday in district court here, has been continued until the next term of court in June.

The trial was transferred from Midland to Odessa February 28 on a change of venue.

Spears is charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Robert L. Wallace, a cook, Oct. 12, 1947 in Midland.

Spears was convicted June 3 last year in 70th District Court at Midland and was sentenced to 15 years on the charge. But the court of appeals granted him a new trial.

He is free under $10,000 bond.

Judge Moss continued Spears' trial until June on a motion from the defendant, which stated that a witness was ill. That defense witness was C. Girdley, Midland justice of the peace, who is in a hospital at Midland.

Area Homemakers Conclude Meeting

Lady Clyde Hodges of Sweetwater was elected president of Area III, Future Homemakers of America, to succeed Joline Baker of Winters, at the annual Spring meeting which attracted 563 girls from 43 high schools to Midland Saturday.

Odessa was chosen as the 1950 convention city, although no date was set for the meeting. The officers and next meeting place were selected at a morning session of the House of Delegates, comprising area officers and one voting delegate from each chapter.

Other officers named are Paula Hale of Yale, first vice president; Nada Ross Williams of Wylie, Colorado of Abilene, second vice president; Marilyn McEntire of Colorado City, recording secretary; Diane Johnson of Brady, corresponding secretary; Betty Jo Pruitt of Coleman, treasurer.

Miss Fairy Breeding of Sweetwater was chosen as faculty sponsor for the area. The adviser is Miss Florence McAllister of Big Spring, area homemaking supervisor.

Vivian Dalby of El Paso was elected reporter; Gerald Cleckler of Roscoe, historian; Patricia Day of Santa Anna, sergeant-at-arms; Patsy Sanders of San Angelo, parliamentarian; Jean Minter of Merkel, song leader.

Honor Degrees

The retiring president and Miss McAllister were chosen by the executive council to receive the area honor degrees this year.

Boatwright, 66, were injured fatally by a tornado cut a swath five blocks wide through the town, causing an estimated $200,000 damage.

Several other Oklahoma towns suffered wind damage—among them the eastern Oklahoma villages of Muldrow and Westville, both near the Arkansas line.

Then afternoon tornadoes cut a path of destruction through Arkansas. There was one known dead and 10 injured at Whelen Springs and at least 15 dead in the England vicinity. Other casualties were reported at Hazen and Beedville. Sparkman, Balch, Scott, England, Hazen, Beedville, Cotton Plant, McCorty, Harrisburg and Clear Lake, all were reported hit. Newport was not hit, as had been first reported.

BIG BUSINESS LITTLE BUSINESS

IN A LAND WHERE ALL THE PEOPLE ARE

CAPITALISTS

AMERICANS WATCH STOCK MARKET

The American automobile and petroleum industries stand as living proof of the benefits of free capitalism. They are undoubtedly "Big Business". They have added many multimillionaires to our democracy of wealth, yet these two enormous industries have enabled millions of people to enjoy a standard of living greater than could have been possible without their existence. In America "Big Business" depends on "Little Business" for existence and by the same token—"Little Business" depends on "Big Business" for guidance and success. It is this closely woven endeavor in enterprise that has made all Americans "capitalists". In America the worker is an investor. He owns stocks, bonds, insurance and is co-owner of the industry he serves.

Farmers, foremen, ordinary workers, the tens of millions who own insurance policies, a few shares of stock in some business, whose savings on deposit in the banks are invested in business ventures, are capitalists. They each have a stake in capitalism.

Even with those who rant against bigness in business it has been customary to exempt the automobile and petroleum industries. Mass production processes and scientific research have resulted in the immensity of their production and the low level of prices and the high level of wages. These things have combined to make these two outstanding industries symbols of American free enterprise

The automobile and petroleum industries have demonstrated the value of competitive capitalism — unfettered by greed and unimpeded by special privilege. They have provided a pattern of healthy economy which other industries must follow in this era of expansion. The free enterprise system exemplified in these two industries and reflected in big and little business alike has made every American a capitalist.

This is the third of a series of educational messages brought to you as a reminder that THE AMERICAN SYSTEM OF FREE ENTERPRISE has made us the healthiest, wealthiest and happiest nation in the world. It is sponsored by the following firms and individuals who know our system must be maintained for the benefit of humanity.

You Can Buy It In Midland

At long last, retailers again have been able to obtain satisfactory stocks of merchandise, and Midland's merchants have been quick to organize a program to develop our city further as the trading and shopping center of the vast Permian Basin Area.

As the first step in their program, the retail merchants of Midland have adopted the slogan, "You Can Buy It In Midland!"

And they plan to follow through on that promise, serving all the needs of the citizens of this area. We are in a dynamic era with more persons wanting more things and with better merchandise available at lower prices.

Midland's merchants have taken a forward step and if they stick with their program our city will become one of the outstanding trading centers of the nation.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Idaho's ex-Senator Dworshak forgets he is an ex; negro diplomat Bunche may get Moscow ambassadorship; coalition's phony peace feeler delayed ending of Senate filibuster.

WASHINGTON — Back in Idaho the voters thought they were finished with Henry Dworshak, Republican, when they voted him out of office at the last election.

Though officially out of the Senate, Dworshak has had the effrontery to continue to use Senate stationery and has been sending out franked letters in a lobbying campaign against the proposed Columbia Valley Authority.

The 80th Congress, of which Dworshak was a member, officially expired Dec. 31, 1948. But apparently he is still in the office at the last election.

"During the 80th Congress dominated by Republicans," said Dworshak, "there was little legislative response to such a Truman program (the Columbia Valley)."

"Early developments" in the 81st Congress reflect a tendency toward legislative acquiescence — probably stimulated by patronage appeal. If the President really wants the repeal of a Columbia Valley Authority, continued Dworshak, "he can now command the necessary support to achieve his goal."

"Under such circumstances, opponents of CVA will be forced to act vigorously if they hope to defeat the current plan of the President for prompt legislative action."

Just how long former Senator Dworshak plans to use the prerogatives of a senator, which he was supposed to abandon when the voters kicked him out of office last year, is not known. But Democratic senators are investigating.

Negro ambassador?—An undercover move is on in the State Department to appoint Ralph Bunche, the negro diplomat, as U. S. ambassador to Moscow. Two motives are behind the move: (1) Russian propaganda claims that American negroes are lynched from every other lamp post. (2) Bunche proved himself a good diplomat under trying conditions in mediating the Palestine dispute.

To send Bunche to Moscow, therefore, would disprove Soviet propaganda regarding the treatment of negroes in the U. S. A. and would reward him for his Palestine achievements.

The plan may be blocked in higher quarters, but in any event Bunche will get some kind of a promotion. Backstage diplomacy — Austria has protested to the United States against the American policy of getting chummy with Yugoslavia in order to secure an Austrian peace treaty.

Foreign Minister Karl Gruber has rejected emphatically a so-called compromise which would have set up an autonomous republic in the Austrian province of Carinthia. This scheme was hatched by London by Sam Reber, the American delegate to the Austrian treaty conference, and Alex Bebler, the Yugoslav foreign minister.

In turning down the plan, Austria reminded the United States that it pledged to guarantee Austria's present frontiers.

Delimiting diplomats — Washington will be host within two weeks to the most imposing array of foreign ministers in recent years. British Foreign Minister Bevin, French Foreign Minister Schuman, Italian Foreign Minister Starace, and Belgian Foreign Minister Spaak will all arrive for the session.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

N. M. Nielsen of Norway was in this country recently, and I had the pleasure of meeting him. He is manager of the joint shipping office of the Norwegian paper industry, which exports paper to this country. I was more interested in the fact that Mr. Nielsen is president of the Norwegian Bridge League.

Most players over there use some version of the point-count system. Mr. Nielsen gave me the day's hand, which he played in one of the tournaments in Norway. When he gave me the hand, he said that, in his opinion, the most interesting hands are not necessarily those which are played perfectly, but rather those in which the opponents are caught off-guard.

Bridge hand diagram showing cards in each suit (Spades, Hearts, Diamonds, Clubs) and the dealer's position.

Mr. Nielsen sat South. While they use a point-count system, and this hand counts to 18, he felt that it was not the type of hand for a no-trump opening. North realized that if their contract of three no trump doubled was defeated, they would not get any points on the board anyway. That was why he redoubled.

On the opening lead of the five of diamonds East played the ten-spot. Mr. Nielsen saw an opportunity to place a card in the East hand, so he won the trick with the queen of diamonds, concealing the jack.

The jack of spades was led and held the trick. West won the second spade trick, cashed the ace of diamonds and led the deuce of diamonds, which South won with the king. Then he led the two of hearts. West won this trick, and, feeling sure that his partner held the jack of diamonds, he led the diamond nine. But Mr. Nielsen won the trick with the jack, and now he was able to cash the balance of the tricks.

Thus he made two overtricks doubled and redoubled on a hand that could have been defeated if West had elected to open a club.

Pamela Kay Truelove Is Feted On Birthday

Pamela Kay Truelove was honored by her mother, Mrs. F. D. Truelove, with a party on her second birthday Saturday afternoon at the family residence, 1308 South Main Street.

The guest list included Mrs. Edie Krups and Carolyn Sue, Mrs. Iva Walden and Kay, Mrs. R. J. Eason and Val and Ann, Mrs. Rudy Eason, and Mrs. Dick Stranberry and Ricky.

dropping the filibuster—which the South in the end would have been obligated to support. Instead, he agreed to another recess. But when Lucas met with Republican and Southern leader next day, Byrd claimed he had been misunderstood. This gave the Republicans and Southern Democrats time to continue the filibuster and work out the compromise solution.

So they say

Any hope that East-West relations will improve is merely wishful thinking. The men in the Politburo believe that war is absolutely inevitable. —Victor Kravchenko, author of "I Chose Freedom."

Mankind has always been confronted by a choice between peace and war, but the A-bomb has made that choice "Peace or else." —Dr. David Bradley, authority on radiation effects of the atom bomb.

I honestly believe that men are basically noble than women. —Dress designer Edith Head.

Today all men, regardless of party or creed, advertise themselves as liberals, while conservatism carries overtones of reaction so discrediting that, in political circles, it has become a smear word.

The conditions of modern life are drawing the American Republic in an increasingly close community of neighbors? It is a basic and enduring purpose of the foreign policy of the United States to play the part of the good neighbor in that community. —President Truman.

High Scout Leaders Conduct Meet Here

Two high officials of the Boy Scouts of America were present in Midland Saturday to conduct a leaders training meeting. They were Fred Mills of New York, director of Scouting services, and his assistant, Bob Perin of Kansas City, Mo.

The leaders meeting here was held at the IOOF Scout Cabin and consisted of planning and demonstrations in patrol organization, troop program, personal first aid, hike craft and knot tying.

City Will End Year With Cash Balance

The City of Midland will end its fiscal year March 31 with a cash balance of approximately $78,000, City Manager H. A. Thomason said Saturday. The city's bank account at this time last year was overdrawn, he stated.

City officials had anticipated a $600 cash balance at the end of the year, but the actual figure will exceed that amount by some $18,000.

The city manager also pointed out that it was not necessary for the city to borrow money for operations this year, whereas several loans were negotiated the year previous.

Expenditures for 1948-49 will be approximately $660,000, and will be within the year's budget, Thomason said.

COAL MINERS PLATD TO RETURN TO PITS

PITTSBURGH —(AP)—The coal miners are scheduled to march back to mine pits east of the Mississippi Monday, ending a two-week "memorial" and protest stoppage.

The walkout cost the diggers an estimated $55,560,000 in wages.

Bridges' Speech On Printing Showed Lack Of Investigation

WASHINGTON — Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire recently made a long speech in which he ridiculed the titles of some of the hundreds of publications the government gives away free. Like "How to Make a Cat Trap," and "Recipes for Cooking Muskrat Meat," and "Fleas of North America." He got a lot of laughs and into Department of Agriculture.

There are of course a lot of silly things done by the bureaucrats. If the Bridges speech makes them stop some of their nonsense, it's all to the good. But if Senator Bridges had been worth his coffee and curfaro as a cub reporter, he first would have called up the various departments that issue these publications and asked them why they put them out. If he had done that, he might have made quite a different speech.

This is what he would have found out, for instance, if he had investigated the Department of Agriculture's pamphlet "Fleas of North America—Classification, Identification and Geographic Distribution."

Early in the war the Army discovered about 1,000 cases of endemic typhus in camps of 12 western states. Army medical authorities were alerted. They scattered doctors over to Bureau of Entomology (Insects) in Department of Agriculture, to see what the scientists there knew about hosts and transporters of typhus germs.

Findings Proved Valuable They found a lot of miscellaneous information. They found that there were six species of fleas that carried typhus. They found that 15 species of fleas carried bubonic plague. They found two species that carried germs of the human tapeworm. They found that fleas carrying these germs had been caught on squirrels and other wild animals in the 12 states where the Army was having its trouble with typhus.

At the Army's request, Doctors Ewing and Fox of the Bureau of Entomology were assigned to "pull together all this scattered information on fleas and put it in printed form. The result was the little publication Senator Bridges was laughing at, "Fleas of North America."

Thirty-five hundred copies were printed. They were sent to Army hospitals and Public Health Service centers in the affected areas. When ever fleas were discovered in an Army camp, Army doctors would catch a few and classify them—using the Department of Agriculture pamphlet—to discover if they were disease carriers. If they were, preventive measures were immediately taken and the camps were thoroughly DDTed. By these means the epidemic was checked and not telling how many lives saved. All because of a little pamphlet the sarcastic senator thought was a waste of taxpayers' money.

"Muskrat Recipes" Had Purpose "Recipes for cooking muskrat meat" sounds rather repulsive, of course, till you know the story. This pamphlet was issued by Fish and Wildlife Service during the war. There was a meat shortage and people wanted an kind of meat that was ration point free. In the lowland states were plenty of muskrats, but only a few trappers knew how to cook them and considered them a delicacy.

Other people in the muskrat states started writing letters to the government, asking how to cook muskrat. Requests became so numerous that, to save correspondence costs, Fish and Wildlife Service put all its information in pamphlet form.

That's the way all these things are handled. The pamphlet and letters are issued only after an apparent demand has built up for printed information.

On an average day, 3,000 requests for specific information will come

Questions and Answers

Q—What is the Domesday Book? A—This book is a digest of a survey of England ordered by William the Conqueror in 1085 by which the land property of the kingdom was minutely ascertained, described and valued, the tenure defined, the holders named, and their dependents numbered and classed. This historical document is the chief source of the knowledge we possess of the state of England in the Conqueror's reign.

Q—Which state touches only one other state? A—Maine is the only state in the Union that adjoins only one other state.

Q—Who was the first person to climb the Matterhorn? A—The conquest of the Alps was completed in 1865 by the ascent of the Matterhorn by E. Whymper. During the descent four of the party lost their lives.

Q—Is there a golden-eyed fly? A—Yes. It is one of the most beautiful insects we find. The wings are green, delicate, lace-like and the eyes are golden. From its appearance it gets the name of Lace-winged or Golden-eyed fly. But beware of touching it, for it emits a disagreeable odor.

Q—How should the American flag be flown on Armistice Day? A—it should be flown at full staff from sunrise until sunset.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Robert

THE STORY: With the housing shortage early in the war, Mr. Morris, a sergeant at a paying guest, a sergeant that called Roger the Lodger. Roger took over, as a landlord, one of the family, drives the family car everywhere, including into a ditch. He is a general and a major, to dinner.

"Robbie hates chicken. Got too much of it in France." "That's all right," said the man who'd sworn to protect me, "chicken'll have to do if it's all you can get."

ROB, I was learning, though he had been opposed to taking in a roomer, was a publicist and had to have a boy around the house again. It seemed to fill some of the hollow left by Bill's absence. Though Roger often tried us to the limit, he managed not to try us both at the same time: what drove me to distraction, Robbie waved aside as unimportant when Robbie was burned up, I felt reasonable. We could have liquidated Roger in a hurry if we'd ever thrown in together, but we didn't.

We had Colonel Morris to dinner, also his secretary; without her, it seemed, he could not eat. The urgency of including Miss McGilley was so impressed upon me that I half expected her to arrive carrying a typewriter suddenly be taken with a letter. Also we had Colonel Morris' adjutant and his girl, and her sister.

We never again heard from Colonel Morris, or from his secretary, or from the adjutant and his girl, or from her sister, but three weeks later Roger was recommended for Officer Candidate School.

Roger was perpetually alerted to opportunity, whether for personal pleasure or personal advancement. We didn't fully recognize this quality until he had exercised it a good many times at our expense. Hence, when he bore down on us with the news that the National Parks were closing at the end of the current season to remain closed for the duration and that he'd heard of Old

Faithful all his life and that Major Drummond— "MAJOR DRUMMOND!" Rob echoed. "How'd he get in the picture?" "Headquarters Company," Roger acknowledged the interruption. "He's going to help me get the appointment to O. C. S." He went on to tell us that ever since Major Drummond had been a kid in school and had seen a picture of Old Faithful in his geography, he'd wanted to see the geyser, and here they both were within 300 miles of it and unless they went immediately, they'd miss it altogether. Putting aside base suspicions of Caesar and ambition, I thought that it would be nice if he could arrange to go to Yellowstone Park since he was so eager. "No trouble about that. I have a three-day pass. I was thinking that it would be a good idea for all of us to go." "Who's all?" Rob asked in a flat voice. "Major Drummond and his wife and you and Lee and me." "How?" This was one of those days when I was reasonable and Rob was difficult. "In your car, of course," Roger said brightly, as though he were arranging something for our benefit. "Drummonds haven't one." "Not me!" Rob objected. "I've seen Yellowstone." "You don't want a book—you've got a book," Roger quipped. "I thought Yellowstone National Park was wonderful enough to see many times." "It is," I entered the argument. "I'd like to go." "I thought what a relief it would be to cut the ropes of Red Cross and home duties for a few days. It boiled down to Rob deciding to stay home while I went with the Drummonds and Roger. As we were ready to leave, Rob gave his set of keys to the sedan to Roger. "Too much jingle-jangle," Roger said, removing the key. "Aren't you afraid you'll lose it?" I asked. "Not me," quoth Roger, tapping his watch pocket. "This little nest is the safest place in the world for small objects." (To Be Continued)

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Farmers and ranchers in the Midland area again are looking up at the skies while hoping for some of the moisture which has been falling in other sections of the state. The showers last weekend were appreciated, but the high winds of the last several days have kicked up sand and dried out the surface soil. But farm and ranch lands still are in much better shape than at this time last year.

"Glady's," a 1,000-pound half Jersey, half Durham cow owned by G. C. Merritt, of Hereford, formerly of Midland, made news recently by giving birth to her third set of twins, making a grand total of nine calves she has borne in her brief six years.

The cow and her latest twins are the subjects of an illustrated feature story which appeared recently in a Hereford newspaper. The former Midlander sent a clipping of the story to his father, W. W. Merritt, of Midland.

Besides raising her own offspring, the story relates, "Glady's" has reared four more calves on the side, just to keep in practice. The former Midlander sent a clipping of the story to his father, W. W. Merritt, of Midland.

"Glady's" is doing her part in preventing a meat shortage in the Hereford area.

John Dale Kelly completed his activities as a Martin County 4-H Club member in a blaze of glory. John, who will move to Hereford to join his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kelly, at the close of school in May, showed the grand champion dry lot calf at the Midland Livestock Show, and had the reserve dry lot champion at the Sand Hills Hereford Show in October. He has been an outstanding club boy since 1944.

The Stanton clubber, during his six years of 4-H work, has fed nine beef calves, a barrow, five registered gilts and a registered Duroc boar. He has won more than 40 ribbons and several hundred dollars in prize money. He has represented Martin County at the Texas 4-H Club Roundup and has held various offices in the Stanton 4-H Club.

Marjorie Smart, secretary of the Reeves and Loving County ACA, has issued a request for farmers who have not turned in gin tickets or planted acreage reports for 1948 to do so promptly. Farmers who are placing new land in cultivation also are urged to list that information.

Quotas for 1949 will be established next month, she said.

Loving County farmers and ranchers have received $2,610 in 1948 AAA payments.

Buck Jackson, former Reeves County sheriff and well-known rancher and rodeo announcer, is drilling two wells for livestock water on his Loving County ranch.

Directors of the Sand Hills Hereford Association will meet at 10 p. m., March 31, in the Ector County Courthouse at Odessa, President O. M. (Cal) Smith announced. New officers will be elected and plans for the 1950 show will be advanced.

The Garden City FFA Chapter served a delicious barbecue dinner at the guest night meeting of the Garden City Lions Club there Thursday night. The meat was prepared in the new barbecue ovens on the school grounds. Several Midlanders who attended the meeting said the barbecue was the best they had ever tasted.

A record crowd, excellent food, fine fellowship and an interesting program featured the annual Upton County 4-H Club barbecue at Rankin Friday night. W. M. Day, Jr., is the Upton County agent.

The San Angelo Board of City Development has voted to cancel plans for its annual Fall Fair and Race Meet. Lack of interest was given as the reason for dropping the event. The attraction last year lost $7,500, it was reported.

Mrs. Rupert Harkrider of Abilene is secretary-treasurer.

Roy Parks, Sr., Midland rancher, played a prominent role at the annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in Houston last week. Among other things, the Midland rancher served on a special committee which submitted favorable recommendations on four amendments to the organization's by-laws.

The convention next year will be held in San Antonio.

Buster Cole and Roy Parks, Jr., young Midland ranchers, have gained additional prominence for themselves and for Midland by showing their fine Quarter horses to championships at various shows this Spring. The El Paso show last weekend provided their most recent trophies.

A total of 822 black heifers and 11 bulls have been entered in the Texas Aberdeen-Angus Association's fifth annual distribution sale to be held June 1 in San Angelo. Sponsors expect about 200 more entries before sale time.

"Texo," the famed No. 1 Hereford champion of America, who was shown to the reserve championship of the International Livestock Show at Chicago by members of the Pecos County 4-H Club, is pictured on the cover of the April issue of Progressive Farmer. An article on Texo and his former owners appears in the magazine.

The animal, according to the story, was raised by Sim Reeves, Jr., 14-year-old 4-H Club boy of Fort Stockton. Young Reeves showed his calf to the grand championship of last year's Texas State Fair. Texo later became the property of the Pecos County clubs when the purchaser of the animal gave it back to the 51 club members with the understanding the animal would be shown at the Chicago show. The rest of the story is history—history made by Pecos County Agent Will T. Posey and his club boys.

The Fort Stockton boys, incidentally, are planning a trip to Yellowstone National Park this Summer.

Two feature attractions have been carded for the afternoon, Louis Powers of Ozona and Billy Lowe of Crane, both well known ropers, will meet in a matched roping event. They will tie four calves each.

An exhibition feature will be a goat roping contest between three 12-year-old boys, Scottie Howard and Buckshot Deakins, both of McCamey, and Charlie Boy Black of Ozona are entered.

Invitations have been extended to Toots Mansfield, Dan Taylor, Tom Powers, Troy Fort, Sonny Edwards, Walton Poage, Roy Sewall, John D. Hollyman, James Kinney, N. A. Pittcock and many other nationally known ropers to enter the show.

The program includes bronc riding, ribbon roping and team tying in addition to the other features. Harry Howard is chairman of the show. J. Lane will do the announcing.

Government Gets Set For Referendum On Wheat Controls

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government is getting set for a probable nationwide farmer referendum within the next 120 days on the question of putting wheat under production controls.

Such controls, if approved, would apply to the 1950 crop. They probably would require a cut of as much as 25 per cent in wheat acreage.

It now appears this year's prospective big crop will create a surplus requiring Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to put to growers the question of whether they favor rigid marketing quotas to bring supplies back into line with market demands.

Approval by at least two-thirds of those voting would be necessary. Marketing quotas have been used for wheat only in one year—1942—since crop control laws first were passed in the early thirties. They have been applied frequently, however, to cotton and tobacco.

Decision in June Brannan is expected to wait until late in June before deciding whether to call the referendum. But aides are going ahead with plans so as to be ready should he decide this way.

His decision will be determined largely by weather. An adverse turn in present favorable conditions at home could reduce this year's crop prospects and make controls unnecessary.

On a spread of early Spring drought-like conditions in a few areas of Southern Europe could reduce wheat prospects there and boost the U. S. export outlook to a point where controls would be inadvisable.

Pecos Farmers And Ranchers Active In Conservation Work

PECOS—A total of $46,178 has been issued in approvals for conservation practice being carried out in Reeves County, Miss Marjorie Smart, secretary of the Reeves and Loving County Agricultural Conservation Association, said.

The farmers and ranchers receiving prior approvals for the following work:

Forty producers are subsiding 8,622.2 acres of land to permit better penetration of water; 27 producers are leveling 6,585.8 acres of irrigation farm land; five producers are building permanent irrigation ditches; 30 producers are building concrete headgates, installing metal pipes and reorganizing irrigation systems; four ranchers are drilling wells for better distribution of livestock water on their ranches.

Four ranchers are building tanks and spreader dams for livestock water and erosion control; 13 ranchers have made application to defer 64,524 acres of range land for five months in order to reseed native grasses during the growing season, and 14 producers are applying 120 tons of superphosphate to approximately 900 acres of alfalfa.

Walter Holcombe, banker, has prior approval to cut 750 acres of blackbrush and creosote on his ranch. Other ranchers interested in this work are urged to make applications as early as possible so that contractors can get their equipment in readiness for such work.

Caution Commands Texas Business As Prices, Sales Sag

AUSTIN — (AP) — Caution commanded Texas business last week. Prices continued to ease downward locally as well as nationally.

There were signs some consumers—and the state government itself—might "sit it out" in anticipation of a further business decline, spending less in an effort to save more for that "rainy day."

The Legislature was advised by the Senate's finance chairman, James Taylor of Kerens, and Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers to go slow on its spending.

Shivers foresaw a serious business dip for the end of the year. He thought the state should "wait and see" before trying to budget for next year. Salaries of state employees hung in the uncertainty.

Southwestern cattlemen in convention at Houston were told lowered prices are not bringing more meat sales. Meat consumers are becoming more cautious about spending money. American Meat Institute Vice President, Homer H. Davidson of Chicago advised.

Building Dips Heavily Texas building for the week dipped noticeably. The Texas Contractor, trade publication, reported. Last week's total contract awards amounted to $11,416,451. A week earlier they were $20,479,845. Residential building was down from $7,127,280 to $3,783,451.

Retailing Specialist Dr. A. H. Chute, University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, described business as being at "the crossroads."

Lowered prices had just unlocked customer resistance only to have the door close again through feelings of job insecurity, fear of economic adjustments, and expectations of yet lower prices, he said.

But some prices, he added, are beginning to firm up again, supported by high labor costs and inventory adjustments.

Meanwhile, 13 Texas businesses had failed during February night.

The project was directed by the club's health and safety committee, of which Margaret Frances Barber is chairman, and the education committee, with Glenyth Herring as chairman. Most of the members assisted with clerical work, and technicians were employed for the actual blood typing. Colysta Christian is president of the sponsoring club.

Cattle Breeding By Ova Transplantation To Inferior Cows Nears Practical Stages

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — An experiment in which scrub cows would produce high quality calves was reported here to be approaching the practical stage.

The process consists of transplanting the unborn calf of a high grade cow to the womb of a scrub. The purpose is to produce more meat and more milk per animal on the same amount of feed at a saving of time.

The method is termed ova (egg) transplantation by its originator, Ray Umbaugh, a bustling 25-year-old scientist, is developing the process at the Foundation of Applied Research here. The project has been in the research stage seven years.

In the process, Umbaugh explained, an egg from a fine quality

821 Midlanders Have Blood Typed In B&PW Program

Blood type records for 821 Midland residents were placed in a file to be kept for the present in the Western Clinic-Hospital and later in the new Midland Memorial Hospital, in a two-week project of the Business and Professional Women's Club which closed Friday night.

Records were made for 139 persons on the last night of the project, in which the club has had the cooperation of Midland doctors. The file will be used for reference when any of the persons listed needs a blood transfusion, and also to indicate which persons will be willing to donate blood.

Of those typed, only 54 showed the rarest blood type, AB; while 137 had B type, 292 A type and 338 O type blood.

The project was directed by the club's health and safety committee, of which Margaret Frances Barber is chairman, and the education committee, with Glenyth Herring as chairman. Most of the members assisted with clerical work, and technicians were employed for the actual blood typing. Colysta Christian is president of the sponsoring club.

cow is fertilized by artificial insemination. After fertilization the egg is taken from the fine animal and placed in the uterus of the common cow.

Two Methods Under Trial Umbaugh said an expected advantage of his process would be the freeing of the quality mother from the dullness of a nine-month pregnancy, making her available to produce more eggs. The host cow would serve as an incubator and the calf would have the qualities of its fine parents, Umbaugh stated.

Umbaugh transplants the fertilized egg by either of two methods. One is surgical and the other largely is mechanical.

The surgical method so far has been the most satisfactory. He cuts through to the fallopian tubes of the donor cow. He removes the fertilized egg and places it in the tubes of the scrub cow by a similar operation.

The fine cow then is free to produce more eggs.

Umbaugh said the average cow can produce 23 eggs a month.

Improvement Slow Process He has been successful in transplanting the egg and starting its growth in the host cow. As yet he has been unable to get the host mother to carry the transplanted calf long enough for a normal birth.

Cattle improvement always has been a slow process of mating individual cows with better bulls. In this way the resulting offspring carried good traits from the father, but also possessed poor traits of the mother. Another generation was required to make another improvement.

Umbaugh's method of ova transplantation means the scrub cow can be used to produce an offspring from a proved mother and from a proved father. No longer would the scrub transmit her characteristics.

Many range authorities believe the United States has reached the limit of its pastureage for meat production, that there is not enough feed for more cattle.

The alternate solution is a rapid improvement of the breed.

Umbaugh believes that within two years his experiments will be a practical process on farms and ranches.

Independents Gird For Battle Royal With ECA

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER

WASHINGTON—A battle royal is shaping up over the domestic oil industry and the Economic Cooperation Administration. As the big money bills and authorization measures for the ECA reach the House and Senate floors, independents will be pleading for relief.

The present ECA law is sound. It permits exports from the United States regardless of what persons say. The present law calls for maximum purchases from abroad, but the ECA is now saying there could be a tight supply situation next year, so we need the section. Need For Action

Ranch House Tips Thompsons 30-29 For Cage Crown

The Ranch House eagles poured on the coal in the third quarter of a championship tilt Friday night at the MHS gym and scored a 30 to 29 victory over the Ted Thompson quint to take the City Cage League crown. The Thompsonmen were unable to hold the slight advantage they had during the first half. They scored only 13 points to 15 for the Ranchers in the last half.

The win for the Ranch House marked the end of the cage season and of a hard fought championship playoff series.

The Ranchers took the series opener from Ted's Terrorists by a 32 to 31 margin. Ted's boys roared back in the second game to win a 40 to 38 battle. Friday's contest was the payoff.

Thompson's Haskins looked great even in defeat as he poured in 18 points to take high scoring honors

Pancho Gonzales Scores Grand Slam

NEW YORK—(AP)—Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles won the national indoor tennis championship Saturday and became the first player in history to rule this country's amateur game on grass, clay and wood—all at the same time.

The Californian vanquished defending champion Billy Talbert of New York 10-8, 6-0, 4-6, 9-7.

The women's singles title went to top-seeded Gertrude Moran of Santa Monica, Calif., who flattened Nancy Chaffee of Ventura, Calif., 6-2, 6-3.

Talbert and Don McNeill of New York captured the men's doubles title by outlasting Gonzales and Frank Shields of New York, 6-4, 3-6, 6-0, 9-7.

PONIES SLATE KANSAS DALLAS—(AP)—Southern Methodist University Saturday announced a four-game football series with the University of Kansas, starting in 1952.

by a wide margin. Brahaney led the Ranchers with 9 points.

John Henderson, newly elected VFW commander, awarded the championship trophy and the second place trophy to Ranch House and Ted Thompson teams respectively, on behalf of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post here, which sponsored the league. Gold basketballs were given to each member of the winning team.

In awarding the trophies Henderson said the VFW already is looking forward to having a bigger and better cage league here next season.

Play in the consolation bracket was completed Wednesday night with the JayCees winning over the VFW five.

Roy Price, who played for the JayCees, won the trophy for high scorer during the regular season of play. He scored 140 points in nine games.

Hurlers Get Tip From Webb

Harold Webb, owner-manager of the Midland Indians, gives his pitchers a tip on the finer points of the art at the Spring training camp in Marshall. Forrest Martin of Fort Worth, left, is counted on for big things. He will be playing his first season here. Sam Van Hooser, center, returns from last year's championship team. He is looking good, according to Webb. Both pitchers are right handers.

"Lady" Grappler

Ellen Olsen will give a demonstration of how "lady" goes about the business of wrestling in the three-bout card at the VFW Hall Monday night. She will meet Nell Stewart in a one-fall, 30-minute time limit event.

Bulldogs Tripped 10-3 By Steers

By SHORTHY SHELburnE

The Midland High Bulldogs literally blew up in the fifth inning of the District 3-AA season opener in Big Spring's Bronco Park Friday afternoon and dropped a 10 to 3 decision. The Steers fielded a sharp nine, which also was good with the bat, but the one-sidedness of the score came from unearned runs when the MHS infield and outfield committed five errors in the fifth frame.

Bowling Champs Crowned

Champions were named in all divisions of the annual City Championship Bowling Tournament with the completion of doubles and singles at Piamor Palace Friday night. The pattern set by teams and individual bowlers in the first week of the tourney held its shape all the way except for a few lower places.

The Ganek-Grice doubles team moved into fifth place in that event Friday night and Schneider edged into seventh place in the singles for the only changes.

A total of $603 in prize money will be awarded teams and individuals in the various events. The number of places to be paid prize money were determined on the basis of total entries in the event.

Dogs Parade Wednesday In Odessa Show

The West Texas Kennel Club's second annual all-breed dog show is scheduled in Odessa Wednesday with many of the nation's top dogs to be entered. The entries for the show, closed last week, indicate it will be the biggest and best ever held in this part of the state. Carl Wevat of Midland is president of the club.

Prior to the closing of entries, Russell Zimmerman of North Hollywood, Calif., Ben Brown of Van Nuys, Calif., Harry and George Sangster of El Monte, Calif., Harry O. Low of Oklahoma City and many other of the nation's better known dog breeders entered dogs in the show.

Mrs. Raymond Dickens of Oklahoma City will be superintendent of the event. She said the entry list and lineup of personnel who will attend gives the show a bright look for a smashing success.

Entries from this area fell off some compared with last year's show but the out-of-state dogs will give a greater total field of entries.

Several Midlanders will exhibit prize dogs at the meet. Mrs. Jack Bliss will show a chow, George Woodford will enter two young collies and Dorothy Watson will exhibit a wirehair terrier. Mrs. George Shelton, Jr., will show boxers and Mrs. Lee Flood is scheduled to enter Irish setters.

The show will be a one-day event with judging starting Wednesday morning and continuing through-out the day and until 11 p.m.

BASKETBALL FINALS ARE SCHEDULED AT McCAMEY
McCamey—The final round of the City Basketball League playoffs will be played here this week. Eliminations ended last Friday night and the championship will be decided in games Monday and Tuesday nights.

Russian Hero, Nine-Year-Old Gelding, Is Surprise 66-1 Winner in Grand National Aintree, England—(AP)—An unsung nine-year-old gelding named Russian Hero jumped like a stag Saturday to capture the 103rd Grand National Steeplechase in a runaway finish.

His trainer didn't figure the horse had a chance—even debated with his owner about starting. The owner, William Fearnall Williamson, reasoned otherwise. Months ago bookmakers thought so little of Russian Hero Williamson was able to get 300 to 1 on a $40 bet.

Russian Hero, which went off at 66 to 1, matched the lead on the next to last fence and scampered home eight lengths in front of Rollmond, a 22 to 1 shot. His $37,888 purse joined the $12,000 Williamson tapped from his bookie.

Another length back was the 38-1 favorite, Cromwell, a well-beaten fourth.

The hundreds of Americans present in the great crowd, estimated at 300,000 to 500,000 got only a short run for their money out of two York entries.

Replies, owned by Richard K. Mellon of Ligonier, Pa., tumbled at the fifth jump. Then Coddie II, making his second National try for owner Paul Mellon of Washington, succumbed to the murderous seventh barrier.

Only 11 horses out of the field of 43 starters lasted through the suicidal run of four miles, 856 yards—the world's toughest racing test.

One of those which failed, the 11-year-old Bora's Cottage, was killed in a tumble at the 11th of the 36 fences.

Russian Hero, ridden by Jockey Leo McMorrow, crossed the line in 9 minutes, 23 and 4/5 seconds.

The totalisator payoff on Russian Hero, picked only by the Communist paper, the Dally Worker, was $31.10 for a 40 cent bet—nearly 203 to 1.

The bookmaker price of 66 to 1 represented a drop from 100 to 1, quoted at the final callover on the horse Friday night at London's Victoria Club.

Amarillo Takes Odessa Relays; Midland Eighth

ODESSA—A guy named Charles Sieber from Amarillo landed in the West Texas Relays here Saturday and scattered records and points all over Bronco Stadium to lead the Amarillo Golden Sandies to the meet title. The Sandies had a total of 58 points. Sieber beat out Odessa's Jimmie Patterson for individual high point honors, 13 1/2 to 12. Odessa finished second in the meet and Lubbock was third.

Larry Buckingham won fourth place in the 220-yard dash and Larry Messersmith tied for second in the high jump to give Midland three and one-half points for eighth place. Sieber was a one-man show in both track and field events. He set new records in both the shot put and discus throw and ran third in the 100-yard dash in addition to running a leg on the first place Amarillo 440-yard relay team.

His record-setting shot put mark was a healthy heave of 47 feet, five and one-half inches. He tossed the discus 146 feet, six inches to better the record of 142 feet, 10 inches set by Santone Townsend of Odessa last year. Patterson sets marks. Jimmie Patterson also broke into the record-setting column by shattering the high marks in both hurdle events. He bettered the old time of 15.7 seconds for high hurdles by two tenths, running them in 15.5. His new mark on the 200-yard low hurdles is 23.5.

Amarillo dominated the meet, placing men in most of the events. Finishing behind Amarillo were Odessa with 39; Lubbock with 23; Kermit and Pecos in a tie for fourth with five and one-quarter points each; Seminole was sixth with five points; Midland eighth; Crane, Lamesa and Monahans tied for ninth with three points each, and Denver City and Big Spring tied for last with one point.

There were few entries in the Junior High Division. Midland's Ralph Brooks nalled down five points by winning first in the high jump with a leap of five feet, seven inches. He was the only Midland Junior to score.

Charles-Walcott Go Scheduled June 22 At Comiskey Park

CHICAGO —(P)—Promoter Joe Louis, with a fine sentimental touch, Saturday announced the Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott bout for his vacated world heavyweight crown will be fought June 22 at Comiskey Park.

Director Louis of the International Boxing Club, 12 years ago at the same place and on the same date, flattened Jim Braddock for the championship.

With the sentiment, the newly-formed IBC displayed a pretty good business batting eye. The 35-year-old Walcott and 28-year-old Charles each will get 25 per cent of the receipts.

The other 50 per cent goes to the IBC, which should be a good fat take with the television folk all clamoring for rights on the bout.

Winner Committed
Besides, the IBC will have the Charles-Walcott winner committed to a title defense within 90 days against Lee Savold or Britishers Bruce Woodcock or Freddie Mills.

Details of the fight were disclosed at the office of the Illinois Athletic Commission.

It was reported the IBC will shoot for fan-in-the-street patronage with ducats scaled from $2 to a top of $20, including tax.

Charles, the Cincinnati who gained fame as a light heavyweight, will start preliminary training at West Baden, Ind. Walcott, who nearly upset Louis in Dec. 5, 1947, will do his warming up at Hot Springs, Ark.

Progress Made On McCamey Ball Park

MCCAMEY — Plans and specifications for the new Upton County Softball Park were approved at a meeting of officials last week and construction of the stadium is scheduled to get underway in the near future.

Oil companies, business firms and individuals are donating materials and labor for the project. The park will be fully lighted.

H. O. McKinnon is general chairman of the building program.

Skeet Shooters Post Good Marks In Initial Round

West Texas' top skeet shooters fired away here Saturday in the first round of the two-day Midland Gun Club Championship and Invitational Skeet Shoot. A typical West Texas wind made the targets do the "dipsea doodle" but some remarkable scores were posted by the home shooters as well as the guests. The meet is being conducted on the MGC ranges at Midland Airpark.

Small gauge events were run off Saturday. All-bore and shot-offs are scheduled Sunday. Competition for ladies, sub-junior and junior shooters also will be held Sunday.

George Glass, president of the Midland Gun Club, took top honors in the sub-small gauge event Saturday with a 44 out of a possible 50. D. W. Conway of Clint, Texas was runner up with a 43. Shooting was with .410-gauge, two and one-half inch shells.

Colonel Pete Read of San Angelo, national champion of champions, tied with J. C. Adams of Dallas for the small-gauge title. Both shooters blasted 49 out of 50 targets, even with the wind blowing a gale.

D. W. Conway knocked down 99 out of 100 targets to edge by Midland's Jim Mascho for first place in the 20-gauge competition. Mascho had a commendable 98.

In the division for professionals, which is aside from the regular competition, nationally-known D. Lee Braun of Dallas and Charles Mason, also of Dallas, dominated. Braun broke 48 in the sub-small event for first. Mason shot a 45.

It was the other way around in the small-gauge shoot. Mason won first with a 47 and Braun shot a 45.

In the 20-gauge match, both Braun and Mason fired 99's.

Shooters were here Saturday from Dallas, El Paso, San Angelo, Lubbock, Roswell, N. M., Clint, Fabens and Abilene.

Most events drew over 40 entries Saturday and the Sunday shooting is expected to draw more than 65 marksmen.

Mr. and Mrs. George Glass and son, George, Jr., gave a barbecue honoring visiting and Midland shooters Saturday night at their home on West Texas Avenue. More than 100 persons attended.

The Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League opens Saturday, April 9 with Harvard facing Navy at Annapolis, Md.

TU REGENTS APPROVE NEW BUILDING PLANS
AUSTIN—(P)—Preliminary plans for three general classroom buildings estimated to cost $2,948,000 were approved by the University of Texas Board of Regents Saturday. These are expected to be ready for bids within four or five months.

SPORTSLANTS

BY SHORTRY SHELburne

A softball league can be formed at any time here now that at least eight teams have signified their readiness to play. Shell Oil, Magnolia, Humble, American Legion, Rotary Engineering, Western Plastic, JayCees, Reporter-Telegram, Standard of Texas and possibly others definitely will field teams.

Since there is no better authority at hand at the present time, Sports Slants will announce a meeting on the mezzanine floor of Hotel Scharbauer at 3 p.m. Wednesday. Everyone who is interested in sponsoring, managing, or playing in the league is urged to attend the meeting.

If it is agreeable, a league commissioner will be elected and other officers appointed or elected. Drafting of a schedule can be turned over to a committee. There are a million and one things which need taking care of before the league can function.

If we're going to have softball, let's have it under the right setup. So don't forget!

Wednesday at 3 p.m. in the Scharbauer.

Coach Tugboat Jones delivered one of the finest speeches on sports we ever heard at the noon luncheon of the JayCees Friday. Tug covered all phases of football and other athletics here in order to give the Jakes an idea of what to expect in the coming season.

He assured everyone the boys will be scrapping in every game—win or lose. He can give that assurance because he's the man who, along with his assistant coaches, will put the old spirit in the team.

Tugboat also assured everyone the feeder system of training youngsters in the elementary schools will pay off. He added—"It may not pay off before Tugboat has to leave here, but it'll pay off."

Tugboat is a good speaker and should be in demand for more appearances before clubs and civic organizations here. You'll never find a more interesting sports figure.

Lavern Roach of Plainview apparently has quit the fight ring as a boxer to return to it as a referee. He is scheduled to appear in the role in Lamesa in the future after officiating there in JayCee-sponsored bouts last week.

Roach undoubtedly could have had a good active career in the ring if he hadn't jumped up against Marcel Cerdan too soon. He was game in the bout with the Frenchman, but just wasn't ready for such fast competition.

P.S.: Babe Ritchey, the former Lubbock High and Texas Tech boxer, ironically enough had the same experience against Max Baer.

Tom Jordan, former big league catcher, has been signed to do the backstopping for the Roswell Rockets. With Jordan and Bob Cruis in the lineup, Roswell will be the team to beat in coming race.

The Midland post of the VFW is due credit for a big assist in promoting basketball here. The season just completed should be the pat-

Frank Stranahan Holds One-Stroke Greensboro Lead

GREENSBORO, N. C. —(P)—Amateur Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, shot a two-under par 68 Saturday to cling to his one-stroke lead at the 36-hole mark of the $10,000 Greensboro Open golf tournament.

Defending Champion Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago remained in second place with another 69 for a total of 136 which was matched by Dick Metz, Virginia Beach, Va., who posted his second 68.

In all, 18 players checked in under par for 36 holes. Sixty players qualified for the final play with 186 the qualifying limit.

New Pension Bill Given Good Chance For Passage

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Veterans' pensions bounced back from a mauling Saturday and headed for another roaring fight in the House.

This time there's a good chance the bill will pass. A call went out to the House Veterans Committee Saturday to report for work on a new measure Tuesday. It is a less expensive model of the one the House tossed around for three days and then rejected Thursday by a one-vote margin.

It is limited to low income World War I veterans and would give those qualifying $72 a month when they reach 65.

Chairman Rankin (D-Miss) said he expects to ram it out of the committee before the end of the week. Then he could call it up for a vote any time.

One of the members of the Veterans Committee is Rep. Teague (D-Texas), a wounded and decorated veteran who made the motion which sent the original Rankin bill back to committee. He told a reporter he expects to support a new bill, but he said he has a couple of amendments in mind.

One would bring in World War II veterans.

The other would provide a $60 a month pension at age 55 to a veteran who is 50 per cent disabled, and at 60 to one 50 per cent disabled. Teague said this measure would put into law what the V. already is providing through its own regulations.

As introduced by Rankin, the new bill would limit benefits to single former servicemen making less than $2,000 a year and to married veterans earning under $3,000.

Teague said he thinks most of the House members who were against the original pension proposal will go along with the revised plan.

"We feel," he said, "that it is a bill to take care of needy veterans and one whose cost won't be prohibitive."

Ross Sterling, Former Governor, Oil Man, Statesman, Rich Man And Poor Man, Dies

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Ross Sterling, Texas' governor in the uncertain days of 1931-32, died Friday.

The 74-year-old ex-farm boy, statesman, rich man, poor man, died at 11:52 p. m. in a Fort Worth hospital after a long illness. He had entered the hospital last September suffering from a heart ailment.

Sterling was governor when the great depression of the thirties hit the state in full force. Around him whirled controversial state legislation.

Once during this period he placed four East Texas counties under martial law after he decided that the oil area was ignoring state production laws. Production was shut down for a time as troops patrolled the area. The courts finally held that Sterling had exceeded his authority on the matter.

Made, Lash Fortune

Oil was Sterling's business. It made him a fortune, a fortune that he lost in the early days of the depression. He lost the governor's office after one term, and at 58, virtually had to start at the bottom again.

"I'm just working like thunder to find a place to start from," he told a friend then.

The tall, massive Sterling has been called the father of legislation giving the Railroad Commission oil proration authority. He called a special session of the State Legislature on this regulation and pushed it. Current proration laws are an outgrowth of this effort.

Sterling went back to Houston, a city he helped build, after stepping out as governor. Since then, he has appeared very little in public life. Until 1946, he spent much of his time at his big home at La Porte, concentrating on his hobby of raising pigs.

He organized the Sterling Oil and Refining Company in 1933 and served as its president until 1946 when he became chairman of the board. Walter G. Sterling, his son, succeeded him as president.

Sterling started his career in oil in 1910, when he bought two flowing wells in the Humble field. These two wells were the nucleus for the Humble Oil Company. This company later became the Humble Oil and Refining Company, a firm he organized in 1917. He was first president of Humble. Capitalization then was $4,000,000. He resigned as chairman of the board in 1925, when capitalization was $75,000,000 and assets exceeded $100,000,000. Humble now is the nation's largest crude producer.

Became Governor

He was appointed chairman of the State Highway Commission by Gov. Dan Moody in 1927. He then went on to become governor.

Sterling was born Feb. 22, 1875, on a small farm near Anahaur in South Texas. His family was poor and he spent his early years as a farm boy in patched overalls. He prospered modestly as a country storekeeper until his rise in the oil business.

At Sterling's bedside when he died were his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Wheeler of Wichita, Kas., and Mrs. Norma Miller of Houston.

Other survivors include his son, Walter, of Houston; another daughter, Mrs. Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth; a brother, A. A. Sterling of Houston; three sisters, Mrs. Cora Barrow, Mrs. Annie L. Barrow of Houston and Mrs. George Koehler of Hunt.

INFANT RITES HELD

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Carr, 2305 North Main Street, died Friday night in a hospital here and services were held at 11 a. m. Saturday in Resthaven Memorial Cemetery. Rev. Matthew Lynn officiated and burial was under direction of Ellis Funeral Home.

McCAMEY — An open house at the new buildings just completed on the McCamey school campus will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Tuesday, Supt. Howard E. Stoker announced. The public is invited to attend.

The three new buildings, along with the annex to the gymnasium, will bring to the students of the McCamey school system the most modern and complete facilities in West Texas.

The new Home Economics Building, adjacent to the high school building, is a modern and completely equipped unit. Included in the building is a master kitchen with five complete kitchen units, living room, bedroom and bathroom. An outer hall leads into the dress-making division of homemaking where students have eight electric sewing machines and other equipment. A laundry room is another feature. The office of Mrs. H. E. Stoker, director of home economics, is located at the west end of the structure.

Lighting Features

Direct and semi-direct lighting is used throughout the building. The structure has elevated radiators. The floor is finished in asphalt tile.

The new cafeteria building is one of the most attractive and most completely furnished of any to be found in the state. The dining room has dual serving counters and a seating capacity of 250 persons. The kitchen is completely equipped with the latest type fixtures. Mrs. Don Cook is cafeteria manager. She is assisted by Mrs. Lynn Hargrove, Mrs. E. R. Marrs, Mrs. F. D. Belcher and Mrs. L. S. Tennyson.

The new band hall would be an asset to any school system. The band director's office is located at the left of the entrance. A storage room and instrument repair room adjoin the director's office. An auditorium, six practice rooms, dressing rooms, rest rooms and library are included in the band quarters.

Gymnasium Annex

The new annex to the gymnasium houses two modern and complete dressing and shower rooms for boys and girls. They will be used primarily in the school's physical training program.

Open house visitors also are invited to inspect the new teacherages which are located on the Iraan road south of the Boy Scout hut. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

The buildings were constructed by the J. W. Bateson Construction Company, Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth was the architect.

The junior auxiliary has been planning to take a small child on an Easter egg hunt at Cloverdale Park. The girls are making miniature stuffed animals and will make baskets also. Plans for a bake sale were discussed.

New Tax Proposals Point To Senate-House Conflict

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN —(AP)— Three new tax proposals, one of them an expansion of the present omnibus tax law, were filed for House introduction Saturday.

Presentation of the bills as the filing deadline arrived indicated the Senate and House may be heading for a deadlock over spending and taxation.

In addition to Rep. Joe Fleming's omnibus tax measure, bills increasing the levy on production of crude oil and natural gas were offered by Reps. Cloy Young and Jimmy Horany, respectively.

Fleming, chairman of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, said his proposal was "just insurance." It would raise rates on most items now taxed a flat 10 per cent. He estimated it would raise about 20 million dollars more per year. "Nobody can tell now; if we keep appropriations down, we won't need this," he said. "This is a skeleton bill. It will be torn up and rewritten altogether if we need a new tax."

Flat 10 Per Cent Hike

Items on which Fleming proposes tax increases include such things as oil, gas, sulphur, alcoholic beverages, retail sales of automobiles, gasoline, radios, cosmetics and playing cards. The tax on gasoline, for example, would go from 4 to 4 and four-tenths cents per gallon.

A general tax bill previously has been introduced by Rep. H. A. (Salty) Hull of Fort Worth. It also was a "dummy" measure designed for enlargement if a definite need for more revenue were shown.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee has approved a gas-taxing bill, but funds from it would be earmarked for building farm feeder roads. Therefore, it would have little beneficial effect on the General Revenue Fund.

Horany and Young were not available Saturday to estimate how much money their bills would bring in.

A deadlock in the 51st Legislature could develop if the House refuses to go along on a plan limiting appropriations and deferring the new-tax question until a special session next January.

The Senate Finance Committee wants the Legislature to hold up scores of special appropriations until the so-called must big-money bills are out of the way. Those furnish funds for state departments, the judiciary, the elementary institutions, colleges and junior colleges, and public schools.

Powerful House blocs are determined to run through some special appropriations and the House is likely more tax-minded than the Senate. A head-on collision between these House groups and the conservative Senate could lead easily to a deadlock.

Flyers, Marooned On Ice, Reported In Good Condition

EDMONTON. —(AP)— Seven U. S. Air Force flyers marooned on the ice of Barrow Strait in the Far North are unhurt and "in excellent condition," the ROCAF said Saturday.

Two Canadian rescue planes have been assigned to search for the American airmen, whose C-53 packet crash-landed Thursday night 350 miles north of the magnetic pole.

A spokesman for the ROCAF said word was received from Resolute Bay on Cornwallis Island, about 1,200 miles north of Churchill, Man., reporting three radio messages had been received there from the crew members of the crashed plane.

The plane was forced down when it became lost and ran short of gas.

One message from the crewmen said they had plenty of equipment and supplies.

CORRECTED SINCE

Fire destroyed many early fire engines because the short range of the hose stream made it necessary to take the apparatus too close to the flames.

McGrath Puts Okay On Wright Morrow

HOUSTON —(AP)— National Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath Saturday placed his official stamp of approval on Wright Morrow of Houston as national Democratic committeeman from Texas. The Houston Chronicle said.

It was the national chairman's first public commitment on the long-waged controversy over the national committeemanship, says The Chronicle.

Senator McGrath's telegram to Morrow was in reply to one sent him earlier asking for clarification of the situation. The national chairman's reply is considered unusual since heads of the national party seldom takes sides in intrastate controversies, the newspaper said.

VA To Simplify Reports By Trainees

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Veterans Administration said Saturday it will put a simplified reporting system for veteran-students into effect April 1.

Under the new plan, monthly progress reports for veteran-trainees in job-training establishments and in schools other than colleges and universities no longer will be required after this week.

Reports of conduct and progress will be incorporated instead into the report of earnings which each veteran is required to submit every four months.

Insulation Increases Value Of Card Room

The recurrent popularity of card games, including bridge, gin rummy and a host of other favorites, has brought the card room back into favor. A good game, requires quiet and concentration, and for that reason many families like a special room where the players will be out of the way of household activity and free from interruptions and distractions.

An attractive card room can be built with a few large sheets of insulating board. The insulating board helps to reduce sound transmission. For a decorative touch "pipes" can be cut from leftover pieces of the board. Painted and attached to the wall with an adhesive, they give an appropriate decorative touch.

Home Financing Is Made Easy Through FHA Plan For Mortgage Insurance

Financing the purchase or construction of a home is the first step in home ownership, and financing plans available today make home financing easier and less burdensome than ever before, according to the Construction Research Bureau, New York clearing house for building information.

There are three main sources of mortgage money: Savings banks; savings and loan associations; and insurance companies. Commercial banks, private individuals and institutions like colleges and churches write home mortgages to a lesser degree.

The three main types of lenders are competing for home loans and have developed plans to fit the needs of almost every borrower. It is best to shop for mortgage money by visiting the mortgage offices of several lending institutions.

FHA Insurance
The FHA plan for home ownership is more widely used than any other. Last year the FHA insured 1,000,000 additional units. The Federal Housing Administration lends no money but insures the lender against loss, making it possible for the borrower to buy a home with a smaller down payment. For this, the borrower pays the FHA one-half of one per cent of the mortgage factor for this is part of the monthly amortization payment to the lender.

The FHA is permitted to insure up to 90 per cent of the first $7,000 of long-term value and 80 per cent of the remainder with a top limit of $10,000.

For a $10,000 house, this means that a $1,300 down payment would be required—$700 for the first $7,000 and $600 for the remaining $3,000. Thus there would be an $8,700 mortgage against the property. Most FHA mortgages are written for 30 years at an interest rate of four and one-half per cent, one-half of one per cent for FHA insurance. The monthly payments on interest and principal at five per cent on a 20-year $8,700 mortgage are $67.42.

Other Payment Items
In addition to regular monthly interest and principal payments, most lenders require that one-twelfth of the annual tax bill, insurance premium and water bill be added and all covered in a single payment. Ability to meet this total monthly payment is what determines the borrower's income and other debts and the value of the home in determining how much he can borrow.

House Has Convenient Features

Three bedrooms on one floor and a spacious living-room with fireplace are convenient features of this attractive dwelling. Its 43-foot width requires a plot of 80 feet or more wide, and the pleasing rambling effect and livability of the first-floor layout will appeal to all families. To enable two persons to occupy the smallest bedroom, double-deck bunks may be built across one end of the room. This will require a minimum of floor space.

Placing the kitchen at the front of the house makes it convenient to side entrance and basement stairs. There is space in the attic for two additional rooms. The house, planned by the U. S. Department of Agriculture (Plan No. 710-5447), has a good hall arrangement to eliminate traffic jams and to separate the sleeping quarters from the kitchen and living-room. Exterior side walls of white clapboard or asbestos siding are carried on standard frame construction with full-thick blankets and batts of mineral wool insulation between studs and in the roof area to save fuel in winter and insure summer comfort. By painting the shutters bright blue, green, red or yellow, the exterior is given a distinctive appearance. At slight additional cost, the pair of double-hung windows in the front of the living-room can be replaced by one large picture window.

Upward Trend In Rental Building Reported By FHA

WASHINGTON—A marked upward trend in the number of applications by private home builders for mortgage insurance on rental housing projects throughout the United States during the first two months of 1948 was noted by Federal Housing Commissioner Franklin D. Richards.

There was a total of 42,836 new dwelling units covered by such applications during January and February of this year under Section 608 as compared with 35,945 new units for the same two months in 1947.

During the same period there was a similar upward trend in applications for mortgage insurance on newly constructed one to four-family homes under Section 203. In fact, the $2,777 new unit applications reported during January and February, 1948, compares favorably with the monthly volume of 17,900 to 18,000 new unit applications received during the months of September, October and November in 1947.

Rolling Shelves Are Space Savers

Waste space under basement stairs can be put to use by fitting under them four or five shelf units built like open bookshelves. Each shelf unit fits under its step and rolls in and out from under the step on casters.

The end supports of the shelves are boards the same width as the steps, so that when the shelf unit is rolled back beneath its stair-step the space is closed and contents of the shelves hidden. Each shelf compartment rolls on four ordinary flat-base casters bolted beneath the bottom shelf.

Under the average basement staircase, five such shelf units, graduated in height as the steps descend, can be fitted. These will contain a total of 10 shelves, each 30 inches long and eight or nine inches wide; and will store a three-month supply of canned goods. A list of contents can be attached to each compartment end.

New Device Plots Angle Of Sun In Any Part Of World

An ingenious device that can depict the angle at which the sun will shine on a house in any part of the world at any time of any day has been developed to aid architects and home builders in determining the size of roof overhang for correct shading of solar houses.

The instrument, known as a Solarometer, was demonstrated for the first time at the recent National Association Home Builders' exposition in Chicago. It looks like something out of a planetarium, but is so simple anyone can operate it, scientists said.

The Solarometer was developed to meet the ever-growing demand for information on how to build solar houses to take maximum advantage of the sun's rays, said Frank Sohn, Libbey-Owens-Ford architectural consultant. In a solar house, the large areas of glass in the southern elevation, must be shaded in the summer and exposed to the warm rays of the sun in the winter.

Graphical illustration
Heretofore it has been necessary for architects to explain the principle to prospective builders in a series of drawings. The Solarometer is said to set up a more graphic illustration in a few seconds.

A prospective home builder can set the Solarometer for any city in the world to work out his particular problem. Then the device sends a mechanical "sun" in an arc from dawn to dusk in the proper path for that latitude. The "sun" can be halted at any hour of the day. By adjusting the sun on a graduated scale, the operator can observe how its rays strike the glass areas of a model solar house in summer and winter.

By adjusting a scaled and movable roof overhang on the model house, the operator can determine the correct width of overhang to provide maximum shade in summer when the sun rides high in the sky while permitting solar heat to enter the house in the winter when the sun's path is lower.

FIRE DAMAGES RESIDENCE OF LATIN AMERICAN HERE

The residence of a Latin American family at 405 North Marshall Street was damaged considerably by fire Friday.

Firemen from the Midland Department answered the call. They said loss was estimated at 50 per cent.

Polish Resettlement Corps May Be Ended

LONDON.—(AP)—A government committee recommends that the Polish resettlement corps, an outgrowth of Gen. Wladyslaw Anders' Polish Refugee Army, be disbanded by the end of next September, when it will be three years old.

The committee says the corps has cost Britain's three services 110,333,915 pounds ($445,335,660) and handled 114,037 Poles. A late count showed it still had 11,015. Of these, 5,837 were officers—old or disabled and hard to place in jobs.

Most of the Poles have balked at going back where they came from, because the Communists are in power there now. Only 8,912 have been repatriated, with 50 waiting to go.

Of the others, 11,409 have moved on from Britain to other countries. 71,563 have taken jobs in this country. 2,066 have turned students and 2,066 have joined the armed forces. The tag ends are expected either to go abroad or to settle in Britain. Members of the corps have drawn pay by rank, two-thirds to three-quarters of that for the British services. The committee says the old and disabled should be put in public assistance.

Household Fair In France Shows Most Gadgets Back Again

By PRESTON GROVER
AP Newsfeatures

PARIS.—The 1948 household gadgets in Paris show clearly that France's austerity days are about over.

Prices are still higher—either for Frenchmen or foreigners with hard currency. But the things are on the shelves that Frenchmen have been waiting for since the war.

Each year for many years Paris has held an "Arts Menagers" exhibition in the Grand Palace on the Champs Elysee. Just after the war little was shown. Factories that had been put to work making guns and butter for Germany couldn't be converted quickly to making things for Frenchmen. Also, they could not find the materials for household kitchen gadgets. That is roughly what Arts Menagers means—kitchen and household things.

Prices Are High
Frenchmen and foreigners who have seen this year's fair agree that refrigerators cost just about $1,000. That is nearly three months' pay for—except the price. Small electric Mr. Average Frenchman. Vacuum cleaners which looked fairly good cost about $70, which is two-thirds of a month's pay for this same average Frenchman.

But the things which showed up in greatest abundance were the small luxury items for which France has claimed world priority for scores of years. There were cans of pate de foie gras with truffles. For centuries France has been overfeeding her geese in order to make their livers grow. They lock the goose up in a box so he can't exercise, then feed him until he almost pops. There are even machines for forcing the food down the goose's neck when the goose himself is ready to call it quits. When his liver is several times normal size, the goose is cooked, but only after his fine liver is taken out for special treatment. To it is added ground mushroom. A can of it at the show cost about a dollar. It contained the liver for two geese for two persons. It would cost heaps more, of course, in a restaurant.

Orange Juice Popular
The French in north Africa are drinking orange juice, a drink increasingly popular since Americans led the way in drinking it by the gallon.

Tiny little kitchen gadgets to perform tricks which every French cook finds absolutely necessary were in the show in abundance. You could buy them on the spot. There were gadgets for cutting potatoes into strips for "French fries" and small presses that would make a puree of a tomato before you could blink an eye.

Most of the small things were rather tiny, but there were aluminum pots in the many sizes necessary in French kitchens. Also there were heat-proof glass pots and skillets.

Electric stoves and gas stoves were on exhibit and could be had for reasonably quick delivery.

Most family laundry in France is done by hand but the show had new washing machines. They didn't look too sturdy, but a lot of people were looking at them, seemingly wondering whether they could cut off a month's salary to get one.

Tests If Mothballs Give Birds The Bird
AUCKLAND, NEW ZEALAND.—(AP)—Do birds dislike mothballs? Will smelly oil damp their enthusiasm to build their nests in hydro-electric power installations? The New Zealand State Hydro-Electric Department hopes the answers are yes.

America heard about the bird troubles last August. Now some answers are reaching New Zealand.

Two writers suggest mothballs. Mrs. Emma Erickson, of St. Louis, writes that she used to be troubled with birds on her porch. Then she kept cheese cloths filled with mothballs on the porch and has not been troubled since.

trip to the national FFA convention in Kansas City, and an address by I. L. Lassater, superintendent of the Winters Public Schools, on the subject, "Future Homemakers of America as a Part of the School-Community Education Program."

Joann Jarvis of Sweetwater, first vice president of the area, presided for the morning session and Miss Baker in the afternoon. Frank Monroe, Midland school superintendent, and Vilean Puglar, representing the hostess chapter, welcomed the visitors after an invocation by Annette Newton of Merkel. Joyce McBeath of Abilene responded to the welcome.

An emblem ceremony by the Wylie Chapter, Spanish dance by Lucille Burdona of Alpine, reading by Adele Hutchinson and announcements by Mrs. Paye Massey, Midland sponsor, completed the morning program. Registration was in charge of the Stanton Chapter.

The Odessa Chapter conducted installation of new area officers to close the afternoon session, which featured entertainment and reports from the five districts which make up the area.

These reports were by Natalia Melendez of El Paso, Peggy Chaney of Pecos, Julia Crumpton of Odessa, Carolyn Davis of Sweetwater and Diane Johanson of Brady. Musical Program

Music by the Midland Future Farmers of America band, by Mary Lou Painter and Carolyn Myers of Pecos, Helen Walker of Grandfalls-Royalty and Peggy McDonald, Sawyer Pearson, Pattie King and Sammie Lou Jones of San Angelo, alternated with skits by the Grandfalls-Royalty, El Paso and Big Lake Chapters to supply entertainment. Chloia Todd led group singing.

An executive council meeting Friday afternoon, followed by a buffet supper, preceded the general meeting. The Midland FFA Chapter was hostess at the supper in the homemaking rooms of the high school, to 35 council members.

Arrangements to entertain the convention were made in the Midland chapter under the leadership of Mrs. Massey and Miss Clyde Parmley, homemaking instructors, and Darlene Livingston, chapter president.

reported. All are small communications.

Six persons had been killed and 24 injured by tornadoes in Mississippi and Louisiana Thursday night and Friday.

On Friday, tropical winds had hit Desdemona, Alvord, Seymour, Dallas, and Benjamin in Texas. Windstorms, hail, and rain blew into many other Texas towns and cities that same day.

The weather stabilized in Texas. Pairing skies were expected Sunday in West Texas; partly cloudy in East Texas, with cooling temperatures.

The Weather Bureau said the low-pressure system that spawned the twisters moved North Saturday, pulling its center into North-eastern Oklahoma, and its South-eastern quadrant—the most dangerous part—into Northern Arkansas and Southern Missouri. By midnight the center was expected to move into Indiana.

Damage to Springtown, a village of 850, was estimated at $500,000. At least $150,000 damage was done by the storm near Eastland. Springtown is about 20 miles north of Fort Worth and about 75 miles northeast of Eastland.

15 Homes Wrecked
Fifteen homes and two stores were wrecked at Springtown and electric and telephone service was knocked out.

Earl Slate, 27, driver of a Springtown school bus, was believed to be the most seriously injured. Slate, his wife and four-year-old child were blown from their frame house and dropped under his bus, parked in the yard. His wife and child were not hurt, but Slate received a head injury and possible spine injury.

Another of the injured, Mrs. Tom Wallace, lived in her concrete washateria. She received chest injuries and face cuts when the washateria was wrecked.

South of Millsap, also in Parker County, the storm ripped the roof and porch from one house and damaged another. Five miles east of Springtown, it damaged an Assembly of God church and parsonage, a residence, barns and out-houses in the Jaybird Community.

The tornado that hit the Texas Electric Service Plant was the second in Eastland County in two days, following the Desdemona storm.

Twisted Like Pipe Cleaners
The blow at Desdemona accounted for 18 of the two-day total of 26 injured and destroyed 36 homes.

Saturday's twister flattened the service company's 300-foot switching station into a mass of steel spiderwork, transformers and circuit breakers. Company officials said this damage alone amounted to $150,000. W. B. Pickens, assistant manager, said eight-inch steel beams were twisted like pipe cleaners.

The tornado also knocked over one of two water towers supplying a company community of about 200 persons at the plant.

A tore part of the roof off a building in which Wayne Caton, dispatcher, was working. Caton said he was so confused by pouring rain outside and a terrific roaring noise inside the building he didn't realize what was happening until part of the roof broke loose and whirled away.

Power was cut off at Eastland and Ranger by the twister, but it was restored after about four hours. Other West Texas cities suffered power breaks.

Hangars, Planes Destroyed
The windstorm that pounded Fort Worth did possibly its greatest damage at Russell Field, where three hangars were destroyed, seven dam-

Sheriff's Office Gets New FM Sets

Sheriff Ed Darnell Saturday said his office has installed two-way radio sets in the sheriff's department car and at his office in the Midland County Courthouse.

The new equipment is on the same frequency and in connection with the police department's FM station here.

The move gives all Midland law enforcement agencies two-way radio communications except the constable.

College Association Elects ACC Dean

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Walter H. Adams, dean of Abilene Christian College, Texas, was elected president of the Association of Texas Colleges Saturday at the closing session of the annual meeting.

Other officers elected include H. Heaton, Texas A&M College, first vice president; J. R. McLe-more, Paris (Lamar) Junior College, second vice president; W. B. McDaniel, McMurry College at Abilene, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

AUTOMOBILE HEAVILY DAMAGED BY BLAZE

An automobile belonging to an Odessa resident was heavily damaged by fire at 8:30 p.m. Saturday while it was parked at Woods Service Station on East U. S. Highway 80.

The Midland Fire Department dispatched a truck to the scene. Firemen extinguished the blaze while it still was confined to the inside of the car.

COLLISION REPORTED

Midland police reported a minor collision with no injuries at the intersection of Missouri and J Streets Saturday afternoon.

aged, three planes badly damaged—two possibly beyond repair—and eight other slightly damaged. Owner E. P. Russell said all this would "run into several thousands."

The winds unroofed buildings and hurled billboards through the air. A drenching rain added to the discomfort—and the damage. Utility wires were down in many sections, and backwater was reported in some low districts.

In the Dallas area, the Trinity River began spreading over its lowlands as a result of Friday's rain and windstorms. By afternoon the river had reached 37.9 feet and still was rising. Flood stage is 28 feet. The Weather Bureau warned farmers to move their livestock to high ground.

Storm Warnings On Coast
Meanwhile, the U. S. Weather Bureau at New Orleans ordered small craft warnings continued from Brownsville, Texas to Morgan City, La. The warnings were for southerly winds of 25 to 35 miles per hour.

The one person killed by the two days of storms was at El Paso. Albert Allen Avery, 38, was injured fatally when a 65-mile-an-hour wind blew him off a school roof where he was working. The wind whipped up a blinding sand storm.

Besides Slate and Mrs. Wallace, the injured at Springtown were: Mrs. Florence Wallace, 87, chest injuries.

Mrs. Walter Wood, wife of Springtown's former postmaster, taken to a Western hospital with chest injuries.

Mrs. J. D. (Bud) Drennon, face cuts.

Perry Burkholder, cafe proprietor, leg injuries.

Although only two or three motorists a year seem to fall, the number striking the earth annually probably is at least 100.

firm reports of dead in other places.

Thirty-seven injured Arkansas persons were in Little Rock hospitals; nine in Pine Bluff and 12 were treated at Newport.

Other places reported hit included Hazen, Balch, Sparkman, Cotton Plant, Harrisburg and Clear Lake. These communities and the others are roughly on a line running northeast from Texarkana, in the southwest corner of the state.

Whelen Springs was first to be lashed; the other places were hit as the storm moved along with the speed and thunder of a high-balling freight train.

Doctors, Nurses Summoned
Ambulances made round trips between Little Rock and England, removing injured to hospitals. All available physicians and nurses were summoned to hospitals.

Arch Campbell, Little Rock district engineer, reported by mobile telephone from near Hazen that several persons were hurt east of there, but the storm did not strike the center of the community.

All members of the Leon Rogers family near Beedeville were reported hurt when their farm home was bowled over. State Police said no body appeared to have been injured seriously.

They described the storm that hit Hazen, Balch and Beedeville as severe.

At Whelen Springs, population between 300 and 400, residents told Thomas J. Key, Curdon newspaperman, the storm sounded like a fast freight, thundering through town.

It struck about 2:15 p.m. It demolished the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jim VanMeter, killing the woman and injuring her husband. A dozen buildings were flattened in the negro section and eight persons were hurt. The business district escaped the storm's wrath.

Semi-streamlined motorized baby carriages are to be seen in London's West End.

Holstein Dairy AUCTION MONDAY, MARCH 28th, 12 O'CLOCK NOON 5 MILES NORTHWEST OF ARLINGTON, TEXAS

Sale will be held rain or shine at the Dairy Farm of F. L. "Abe" Reeves. To reach the farm go North 5 miles on Center Street in Arlington.

222-HEAD OF YOUNG HOLSTEIN COWS, HEIFERS AND BULLS—292.

140 HOLSTEIN COWS—FRESH, 1st and 2nd calf cows that are top quality Holstein and milking an average of 6 gallons.

40 HOLSTEIN SPRINGER HEIFERS. Will freshen in less than 6 weeks time. Weighing from 1,000 to 1,200 pounds.

7 HOLSTEIN BULLS. These are top bulls.

105 HOLSTEIN HEIFERS AND CALVES. These heifers and calves have been saved from this herd of top cows.

The entire herd of 292 animals will be sold regardless of price.

Come to the Sale! You will see some of the best cows you ever saw—the kind that produce.

I invite you to see these cows milked before Sale Date, because there is more milk in this herd of cows than ever offered for sale at any time or anywhere. You'll see an outstanding herd of real producers.

MR. DAIRYMAN! Here is an excellent opportunity to replace any foundation stock you may need for your herd.

For those of you coming from a distance we have plenty of good trucks available and the cattle will be cared for until delivery.

F. L. "Abe" Reeves, Owner Tel. Handley, Texas, 231-J Arlington, Texas

Col. Earl Murrehead, Auctioneer Ennis, Texas Lunch will be served by the Ladies of the Church.

SECTION TWO

Weds Saturday Afternoon

Mrs. William A. McMorris, Jr.

Louise Showalter And W. A. McMorris Marry

Marriage vows were read Saturday afternoon for Alva Louise Showalter and William A. McMorris, Jr., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne R. Harrell, 300 West Estes Street.

The Rev. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, performed the double ring ceremony before a background of branched candelabra and floor baskets of white gladiolus and stock. A fan bouquet of the gladiolus and stock decorated the picture window ledge. Bowls of pastel sweets were placed on end tables in the Harrell home.

The bride, foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Showalter, was given in marriage by H. B. Dunagan. Wearing an orchid afternoon dress and white accessories, she carried a bouquet of orchids.

Attendants To Couple

Mrs. Randolph Rubin, matron of honor, wore a navy blue ensemble. Her arm bouquet was of white carnations and stephanotis.

William H. Eckes served as best man, Wayne Harrell was the usher.

Madeira cloth, was centered by a triple-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was circled with white carnations and fern.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Eckes, Mrs. Harrell and Mrs. James T. Morris.

For traveling the bride selected a grey suit, accented with white. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Guests For Wedding

Out-of-city guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Showalter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Showalter and Ray L. Showalter, Jr., all of Lubbock; the bridegroom's mother and sister, Mrs. William A. McMorris of Tulsa, and Mrs. Thomas A. Price of Houston.

Mrs. McMorris, a graduate of Eastern State Teachers' College in Ada, Okla., has been a member of the League of Women Voters, Business and Professional Women's Club, and Community Theater. For the past two years she has been employed as office manager for Dunagan Sales Company.

A graduate of Oklahoma University, the bridegroom has been a geologist for Skelly Oil Company here and also has been interested in Midland Community Theater activities. He served in the Army Air Force during World War II.

After their return from a brief wedding trip, the couple will move to Tulsa, where they expect to be at home after April 15.

Mrs. Velma Smith Is Hostess To 42 Club

Mrs. J. H. Butler won high score at the weekly 42 party of the Antiquity Club Friday night in the home of Mrs. Velma Smith, 501 North Pecos Street.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. E. B. Snider, Mrs. Mittle Norman, Mrs. S. W. Estes, Mrs. W. S. Dunagan, Mrs. W. S. Elkin, Mrs. Gertrude Bush, Mrs. Ella Ragsdale, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. J. O. Hyde, Mrs. J. Roy Jones, and Mrs. Ola Bales.

Mrs. Snider, 204 South A Street, will be the hostess to the next meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Officers Elected In AAUW

Mrs. Robert F. Meador was elected president of the Midland Branch, American Association of University Women, for next year at a called business meeting in the home of Mrs. Leonard Thomas Saturday morning.

The retiring president, Mrs. C. D. Davenport, was elected parliamentary.

Other officers named for the coming year are Mrs. Thomas, vice president; Mrs. H. E. Davis, treasurer; Mrs. Clem George, recording secretary; and Mrs. R. L. McCutchen, corresponding secretary.

They were elected on report of the nominating committee, Mrs. Earl Johnson, Mrs. R. V. Hollingsworth and Dorothy Watson. The president-elect is serving the chapter in this year as chairman of international relations, a position which includes leadership of the International Relations Study Group.

In addition to the election, the called session included a discussion of plans for the proposed Midland Woman's Club Building, in which the AAUW is a cooperating organization. Members were asked to express their views as to the needs of the AAUW to be met in the building, and suggestions were given to Mrs. Johnson, who is chairman of the planning committee for the building, for consideration by the committee.

Three elected delegates from the Midland Branch and some other members plans to go to the state AAUW convention in El Paso April 8 and 9. The delegates are Mrs. Davenport, Mrs. Johnson and E. J. Elliott. Mrs. Meador and Mrs. W. C. Fritz also expect to attend the meeting.

Children's League Gets Easter Seals Ready For Mailing

Final work of preparing Easter seals for mailing was done by the Children's Service League in its meeting Friday afternoon, completing a task which has been carried out by Brownie troops of the city.

The league sponsors the seal sale in Midland annually, to raise funds for aid to crippled children.

Mrs. H. L. Beckman, chairman of the sale, announced that the seals will be mailed by April 7.

Work on the seals was done in the league workroom in the Red Cross building, where clothing was sorted, then members went to the home of Mrs. Ralph Fitting, Jr., for a business session.

Mrs. Vaughn Maley, president, reported that arrangements have been made for two league members to be on duty in the workroom from 2 to 5 p. m. on Tuesday to issue the seals. The league's collection to persons who bring notes from social agencies of the city. Mrs. Norris Creath is in charge of keeping the room in order for this work.

Central File Systems

Mrs. W. A. Waldschmidt reported on the central file being prepared on Midland social agencies, of which the league is one. Mrs. L. S. Page was appointed on the telephone committee to serve with Mrs. Fred Cassidy.

Two guests, Mrs. J. A. Casbier of Fort Stockton and Mrs. E. T. Marsh of St. Joseph, Mo., were present. Other members attending were Mrs. C. H. Atchison, Mrs. Robert Dewey, Mrs. C. H. Ervin, Mrs. Robert Fitting, Mrs. Lee Flood, Mrs. John M. Hills, Mrs. Cooper Hyde, Mrs. T. S. Jones, Mrs. Alan Leeper and Mrs. C. P. Yadan.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Mrs. E. L. Phillips, speech teacher, will present a group of her pupils in a program, "Home Town Review," in the North Elementary School auditorium Tuesday night. The public is invited to the program, which will start at 7:45 p.m.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses have been issued by the county clerk to Gerald Rogers and Louise Carter; Thomas W. Heaton and Jennelle Ashworth, and Roy O. Nelson and Clara Belle Butler.

Presbyterian Women To Install Officers And Circle Chairmen

Officers will be installed by Women of the First Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon, circles will be formed for the new church year, and reports will be made by members who attended a Presbyterian meeting a week early in order to leave the first week of April free for preparations for the Eighth District Federated Club convention of April 7-9.

Mrs. Guy Cowden will be hostess to the club at 3 p.m. Wednesday in her home, 1100 West Illinois Street. The Women's Wednesday Club meets regularly on first and third Wednesdays of each month.

VISITING MICKEYS

Mr. and Mrs. C. Z. Cook of Tulsa, Okla., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Mickey, 1900 West Kentucky Street. Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Mickey are sisters.

Leading Players In 'Pygmalion'

Elizabeth Pennebaker, seated, Bill Pomeroy and Bill McMorris, standing left to right, have the leading roles in "Pygmalion." Shaw comedy which the Midland Community Theater will present March 29-April 3.

Staging, Matinee And Type Of Play Are New For 'Pygmalion'

Innovations will be common in the Midland Community Theater's production of the George Bernard Shaw comedy, "Pygmalion," from Tuesday night through Sunday afternoon performance on April 3 in the City-County Auditorium.

Foremost will be the manner of presentation, "in the round." This type of staging, in the center of the auditorium with the audience seated on all sides, has not been previously seen in Midland, but is being used by several acting groups in the nation, notably by Margo Jones' Theater '49 in Dallas. It was the customary manner of presenting plays in Shakespeare's day.

Problems which developed because of staging "in the round" and which were worked out by the cast and production staff, started with the matter of getting the actors accustomed to directing their words and action to an audience on every side rather than just in front of the stage.

Scenes Without Scenery

The stage crew had to plan and prepare settings without the use of the usual backgrounds which indicate walls, and learn to suggest locale by placing of the necessary properties. The ticket committee had a problem, too, when it realized that seating arrangements would be so different that the old ticket board could not be used, and the house manager and his staff had to learn the new seat placement.

Art Cole, director, made a trip to Dallas before rehearsals started to study methods used by Theater 49 and get first-hand knowledge of the staging system.

Another departure from Community Theater custom is the inclusion of a Sunday matinee performance in the schedule. There also will be five night performances instead of the usual four.

The matinee was slated in response to requests from residents in nearby cities who wish to see the play but find it inconvenient to come to Midland for a night performance. The extra night showing was added because seating capacity of the auditorium will not be as large as when conventional staging is used, and also because the Community Theater plays this season have played to capacity every night and some extra performances have been added at the last minute.

The play itself is another departure from custom by the Community Theater. It differs from the currently-popular dramas, recently on Broadway, which have been selected in the past in that it is in the classification of standard plays by an almost-classic playwright.

Cast Of Ten

It is suited to the intimate style of "theater in the round" because it is a drama not of action, but of words—Shaw's brilliantly witty words. Heading the cast are Elizabeth Pennebaker, in the difficult role of Eliza Doolittle, a Cockney flower vendor who is taught to be a "lady," and Bill Pomeroy as Higgins, the speech teacher who wagers that he can transform the Cockney girl simply by teaching her to speak correctly.

Col. Pickering, another speech expert who makes the wager with Higgins and is often amused at the result, is played by Bill McMorris. G. C. Cooper is cast as Eliza's father, who describes himself as "one of the undeserving poor," and Mrs. Eliza as Higgins' wise and worldly mother and Margaret Bissell as his housekeeper who is dubious of his experiment with Eliza.

Mary Margaret Corbett as a "gentle poor" mother, Helen Reed as Higgins' daughter, and Charles Major as her son, and Bonnie Argardus as a parlor maid complete the cast.

Women On District Board Keep Convention Business In Mind

As hostesses for the Eighth District Spring convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Midland club women will be primarily interested in entertaining the visitors who come here April 7-9 from the 21 counties which make up the district.

Some, as members of the district board, also will be interested in details of convention business, the preliminary board meeting of April 7 and reports of activities during the general meetings. Nine Midland women are chairmen of district committees and therefore are board members.

The district board will meet at 4:30 p. m. April 7, immediately after a short session of the executive committee, which comprises district officers and appointed board members. These are the first scheduled convention activities, preceding the annual President's Dinner, which will be the first event open to all delegates.

Midland Members

Listed in the Eighth District club directory of board members are these Midlanders: Mrs. B. R. Scharbarum, chairman of antiquities; Mrs. Robert M. Turpin, chairman of folklore and Texas writers, both in the Fine Arts Department; Mrs. Nelson Puetz, chairman of constitutional amendments in the Legislative Department.

Mrs. Allen Cowden, chairman of club ethics; Mrs. Ray Howard, chairman of the committee on Australia; Mrs. W. H. Rhodes, motion picture chairman; Mrs. Duke J. Byerley, appointed member; and Mrs. W. G. Epley, chairman of rules and procedure.

Mrs. J. O. Hyde is a member of the district nominating committee. Mrs. Byerley also has a place on the state board, as chairman of community service in the Public Welfare Department.

Mrs. J. M. Montgomery of Fort Stockton is district president and will be in charge of business sessions during the convention. New officers to serve a two-year term will be elected this year.

Freemans Return To Wyoming After Visit With Relatives Here

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Freeman left Saturday for their home in Laramie, Wyo., after visiting their sisters, Mrs. J. E. Greene and Mrs. Butler Hurley here.

Betty Jo Greene, daughter of Mrs. Greene, accompanied the Freemans as far as Denver, Colo., on the return trip. She is a student at the University of Colorado at Boulder and spent last week in Midland during the school's Spring vacation period.

Mrs. Greene and Mr. and Mrs. Freeman returned to Midland about 10 days ago after a tour of several Southern and Southeastern states, including Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida. They went deep sea fishing while in Florida, and visited several famous gardens and resorts in Louisiana and Alabama.

Mrs. Hurley and Mrs. W. E. Collins of Midland joined Mrs. Greene and her family in New Orleans for a tour of the famed azalea gardens of the South.

Auxiliary Invites Out-Of-City Guests

Guests from Odessa and Monahans are expected to visit members of the Auxiliary in the Parish House of the Trinity Episcopal Church Monday afternoon for a program in which Mrs. W. B. Stowe of Odessa will be presented to review the Lloyd Douglas novel, "The Big Fisherman."

Mrs. W. T. Hoey, Mrs. Payton Anderson and Mrs. James Mascho will act as hostesses for the meeting. It is to start at 3 p.m., following an auxiliary board meeting scheduled for 2:15 p.m.

Spaghetti Supper Planned For Club

A family night event for members of the Midland Officers Club and their guests will be held from 5:30 to 8:30 p. m. Sunday in the clubhouse at Midland Airport. A spaghetti supper will be served.

A Saturday night party was held at the club.

New Midland Service League Has Luncheon

Work of the State Department of Public Welfare in Midland County, how it is conducted and how it is financed, was discussed for members of the recently-organized Midland Service League Friday at a luncheon in the Private Dining Room of Hotel Scharbauer.

Mrs. Mary J. Johnson, field worker with the department, was the guest speaker.

Tentative projects for the league were presented in a business session, and announcement was made that work will start this week on the first project, a central card index for use of all social agencies in the city.

Members present were Mrs. Ben Black, Mrs. George Lynde, Mrs. Lynn Durham, Mrs. Lamar Eschberger, Mrs. Murray Faskan, Mrs. John M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Thornton Hardie, Mrs. Harvey Herd, Mrs. J. M. Hewley, Mrs. Paxton Howard, Mrs. Ed Pettit, Mrs. Norman Sax, Mrs. Tom Sealy, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. John Starr, Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Leland Thompson, Mrs. Jack Wilkinson and Mrs. W. B. Yarborough.

Yucca Garden Club Has Party

Members of the Yucca Garden Club with their husbands and other guests enjoyed a party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Dickerson Friday night and made a contribution to the Midland Woman's Club Building fund.

In addition to games in which all the guests joined, entertainment included feats of magic by Buck Kirtsey.

Mrs. Dickerson, who had decorated the rooms with tulips, iris, pansies and other March blooms, served refreshments to Mr. and Mrs. Rex Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Zeb Wilkins, Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Sadler, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Halfast, Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Haskin, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Mathews, Mrs. L. Otis Baggett, Mrs. Ernest Neill, Mrs. W. A. Schaeffer, Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. B. R. Scharbarum.

Drama Of Current Season Chosen For Mrs. Emery's Review

Mrs. Herbert Emery, whom the Atrium Club will present in a book review the night of April 4 in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel, is a favorite with Midland audiences after appearing here on several previous programs.

She is as well known in practically every part of Texas, as she has traveled over the state through the past decade, presenting reviews in many cities. A member of the staff of Sanger Brothers store in Dallas, she comes here through courtesy of that firm.

In her last previous appearance in Midland, Mrs. Emery gave a morning program and reviewed a humorous book of family recollections, "My Uncle Jan," Auslander. Next month she will review a play written by her mother and Margaret Bissell as his housekeeper who is dubious of his experiment with Eliza.

Mary Margaret Corbett as a "gentle poor" mother, Helen Reed as Higgins' daughter, and Charles Major as her son, and Bonnie Argardus as a parlor maid complete the cast.

SOCIETY

Janice Jones Bride In Evening Ceremony

In a home ceremony solemnized just at sundown Saturday, Janice Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jones, became the bride of Jonny Rhodes of Plains, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rhodes of Texas.

J. Woodie Holden, North Side

Miss Hale and also Bill Vaughn, who acted as best man, came to the wedding from colleges where they are students, she from Abilene Christian College and he from the University of Texas.

Ceremony Candle-Lighted

Charles Jones, brother of the bride, lighted white tapers in the seven-branched candelabra which stood, one on either side of the living-room fireplace. A floor basket with white gladiolus was placed beside each candelabra, and on the mantel was a fan arrangement of the gladiolus with white stock in front of a blue mirror. White candles filled a silver vase on the piano.

Mrs. J. C. Hejl sang the pre-nuptial spousal, "Because," D'Hardelot, and "I Love Thee," Beethoven, with Mrs. J. B. Koenig as piano accompanist. Both are former teachers of the bride, Mrs. Hejl in voice and Mrs. Koenig in piano.

The bridal march from Wagner's "Lohengrin," was played for a professional, and during the ceremony the piano selection was "Un Sospiro," Liszt.

Dresses Styled Alike

Dresses of the bride and the maid of honor were fashioned alike, of fallie tulle, with ballerina-length circular skirt, fitted bodice and square neckline with fan-shaped insets of embroidered net. The same net made mitts of matching color.

The bride's costume was of pastel blue, and her headpiece was a halo of blue flowers with a shoulder-length veil of the embroidered blue net. She carried a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis, on a fringe of the net. Her shoes were dyed blue to match the dress.

Miss Hale's dress and mitts were in "ice-cream pink," as was her half-hat of tulle and embroidered net.

First Entries Made In Legion Auxiliary Baby Contest-Show

First entries in the baby contest which the American Legion Auxiliary will sponsor from April 8 to May 13 are Patricia Ann-Petocky, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Petocky, 514 Holmsley Street, and Mary Lois Cope, six-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cope, 904 West Indiana Street.

The two young misses were listed as entries opened last week. April 8 is the final date for entries, and Midland parents are invited to enter their children from the ages of six months to five years.

At the close of the contest, the winners in each of three age divisions will be presented loving cups at a program to be staged in the American Legion Hall. Age groups are from 6 to 18 months, from 18 months to three years, and from three through five years.

Mrs. H. Pope Stearn is general chairman of the show, and on the committee to receive entries are Mrs. H. C. Cope, Mrs. Dave Allen, Mrs. Red Steele, Mrs. Sam Kelton, Mrs. Etta Petzel and Mrs. Charlie Bush. Funds raised by the baby show will be used by the Auxiliary in its work, especially for its youth projects.

B. M. Hays Hosts To 42 Club And Guests

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hays were hosts in their home Friday night to the Lucky 13 Club and a guest couple, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Gray. Violets and peach blossoms were featured in the room decorations of early Spring flowers.

After games of 42, refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Sikes of Odessa, Mrs. Jack McClurg and the guests.

California 49-Er Gold Rush Theme Used At McCamey Banquet

MCCAMEY—On Jan. 24, 1948, gold was discovered in California. For 12 years after that people from all walks of life came by "prairie schooner," over dangerous mountain passes, and through dangerous canyons in search of the precious gold nuggets. Long wagon trains of people deserted their home to find wealth and adventure in the "Golden West."

Such were the thoughts of the persons who sat around the candle-lighted tables at the Junior-Senior Banquet here March 19, 1949. Green and white candles lighted the rooms while covered wagons and long winding rope were the centerpiece decorations.

The newly constructed school cafeteria, where the banquet was held, furnished a fine atmosphere.

The invocation was given by Deacon Jones (Rusty Kedziora) followed by a speech, "Giddy-Up," by

Cool Hollow Charlie (Ben Porter) in which he "shot-a-little-bull." The next speech, "Onward to Fortunes," was made by Digger Dan (Robert Lea). A little western tune called "My Darling Clementine" was sung by the Trail-Riders, Quartet, composed of Grasshopper Garland, Slugger Sam, Gallinipper Gilbert, and Rustler Roy (Rusty Kedziora, Joe Kestler, J. V. Davis, and Ben Porter). Rattlesnake Harry (Principal Sharpe) talked to the group about "Undeveloped Gold Mines." One of the most amusing speeches, made by Bloody Dick (Richard Furr) entitled "Rough Riding." Gold Crazy Molly (Claudine Brown) told about the "Scandals in Our Caravan."

The Old West Melody Makers sang "Tumbling Tumbleweeds" and "Cool Water." This quartet was composed of Red Gulch Hannah, Prairie Sally, Sweet Bets from Pike, and O. Susanna (Wanda Duncan).

Mary Strong, Gwendolyn Vaughan, and Edith Sides. Gun Toting Ike (Superintendent Stoker) made a delightful speech entitled "Hitch Your Wagon to a Star." The program ended with all of the "49ers singing "Home on the Range."

After the banquet, a dance for all high school students and exes was sponsored in the cafeteria by the Juniors.

ULMER WILL SPEAK AT LAMESA MEETING

M. C. Ulmer, president of the First National Bank and chairman of the National Affairs Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker at a district National Affairs Conference of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce April 11 in Lamesa.

Ulmer also will be in charge of a similar meeting here on April 12.

Advertise or be forgotten.

McCamey Society Has Delegates At Meeting

MCCAMEY — Mrs. I. L. Edwards and Mrs. B. C. Burgh were delegates from the Woman's Society of the Methodist Church here to a church conference at San Angelo three days last week. They were elected at a meeting Monday. Several other members of the society were in San Angelo Wednesday for the conference.

A chapter on "Alaska" from the book, "Our Own Tomorrow," was the program subject Monday. Mrs. C. J. Mann reviewed the chapter; Mrs. T. L. Fuller's topic was "Here is Alaska"; Mrs. Tom Warren gave a summary of the book "Land of Tomorrow" and Mrs. C. W. Cullwell told of Methodist hospitals, missions and churches in Alaska. Mrs. W. K. Ramsey presided for business. Nineteen members were present.

Occupation Handbook Reference Available

Public school and civilian agency guidance counselors are now receiving a new occupational information guidebook, "THE UNITED STATES NAVY OCCUPATIONAL HANDBOOK," from the Bureau of Naval Personnel containing descriptions of 62 vocations for which the Navy provides training.

The handbook presents in a factual style a complete job analysis of the United States Navy, which is one of the world's largest technical organizations. It contains vocational information briefs on 62 Navy vocations plus four additional sections of advancement from "Recruit to Petty Officer," "Women in the Navy," "Commissioned Officers" and the "Naval Reserve."

The Reporter-Telegram has a copy of the handbook and it is available to any Midlander by reference.

Short Story of Suits

NEW YORK — Any backtalk from the "little woman" who says that she's too short to wear a suit is answered this spring by fashions designed to lengthen the line of the petite figure.

As a result the Miss or Missus step out in the suit parade feeling taller and looking it in properly proportioned fashions. Scaled to her size are high-riding waists, fuller hiplines and hemlines designed to elongate a figure. The uncluttered line of a suit beginning from hem to upstanding collar is aimed at making a silhouette look as long and slim as a sheathed umbrella.

Even the cape suit spreads out its charms for the "little woman." When the flare of a cape is balanced by a high-riding, slim-Jim skirt, the cape can be flattering to the petite figure as the suit with a snug-fitting jacket.

Proof is offered in the snappy cape suit (right) of sleek gray worsted woolen, teamed with a long-sleeved tailored white blouse of pure silk. The slim skirt with a high-riding waistline is figure-lengthening. To give the "little woman" the illusion of more length, the cape with a high-climbing collar carries on where the skirt leaves off.

The black and white pin-checked suit (left) of worsted woolen owes its tall-making lines to a long, slim skirt and to a snugly-fitted and belted jacket. Helping the checked suit to spell out spring for the "petite miss" is a dickey of crisp white cotton broadcloth with a small upstanding collar.

Rankin B&PW Club Has Guest Speaker

RANKIN — The customs and mode of life in Persia were brought in vivid detail to members and guests of the Rankin Business and Professional Women's Club by Mrs. Esmat N. Edwards Thursday night. Mrs. Edwards, who was speaker at a banquet given by the club, is the wife of an American soldier stationed at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, and the daughter of the Minister of Finance in Persia. She received her education in an American private school in Persia.

The speaker made her talk at the close of the banquet held in the private dining room of the City Cafe. Decorations in yellow and white, carrying out the club's colors, were carried out in detail, including large arrangements of flowers in crystal bowls floating around lighted tapers. The decorating committees included Mrs. Gloris Baxter, Edna Mae Patton, Dorothy Hurst, Luella Dean, Gertrude Rhorick and Evelyn Kosimor.

Musical Selections

Mrs. Mae Price, program chairman, presented a number of members and guests in musical selections throughout the dinner hour. Vocal selections were by Beverly Blount, Jan Daugherty and Mary Anderson; Mrs. Irene Nettleship and Mrs. Virginia Ivy played piano duets, and Miss Joy Ward gave a reading. Mrs. Nettleship furnished piano music for the dinner. Mrs. Edwards was presented a gift by the club at the close of her speech. President Lella Workman made the presentation.

Others than the foregoing attending the banquet were Mrs. Paul Crandell, Miss Maggie Taylor, Mrs. Elizabeth Rains, Mrs. Jane Still, Mrs. Opal Dickson, Mrs. Elsie Runyan, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, Mrs. Luella Blount, Mrs. Rosalie Shiller, Mrs. Flora Shaw, Mrs. Stella Holcomb, Mrs. Opal Nix, Mrs. Polly Stephenson, Mrs. NaDean Bell, Mrs. Nan Daugherty, Mrs. Louise Anderson, Mrs. Gladys Carter, Mrs. Ruth Holcomb, Mrs. Ann Clark, Mrs. Ellen Moore, Mrs. Leola Eurn, Mrs. Lillye Cox, Mrs. Louise Murchison, Mrs. Leah Johnson and Misses Mary Ann Workman, Myrna Holman, Lella King and Helen Ross.

WE, THE WOMEN

Baby Sitters Are Unnecessary With This Entertainment Plan

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Some of my readers report that they find they can't stretch their household allowances to cover entertaining at home, and being entertained in their friends' homes.

The reason the latter is also expensive is, of course, because of the necessity of hiring a baby sitter for the evening.

For those readers I'd like to recommend a plan worked out by one housewife and given publicity in the March issue of the magazine "Today's Woman."

In order to cut down on the cost of supper parties, three young couples, all with children, decided to have a buffet supper once a month, with the hostess providing the appetizers, main dish and coffee. One of the other couples brought the salad and a vegetable; the other the dessert.

There's nothing new about co-operative dinners, of course. They're as old as the church supper.

Buy this supper club does two things that make it different. They bring their children with them, fed and in pajamas ready for bed—cutting the necessity for hiring baby sitters. And the hostess always invites an extra couple for the evening.

So often when couples organize a small club in order to have some social life, it soon becomes dull, because it is always the same little group over and over again. In no time at all they know all about each other, what one thinks about this and the other about that, and the evenings together are pretty much of a pattern.

But bringing in a new couple each time helps to enlarge the group's circle of friends. And it adds some new ideas, new points of view, new facts to the sociability of the evenings.

The pattern of today's social life has become so dependent on the baby sitter and often so expensive for young host and hostess that it is more duty than pleasure. "We've got to find a sitter so that we can go to the Joneses Saturday night."

"We simply have to have the Smiths and Browns to dinner, as soon as the budget will stand some entertaining."

These are common cries today. So any scheme to make entertaining easier for young couples with children who have to get by on a limited budget is worth a try.

Spring Shopping Is Most Satisfactory After Much Planning

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Right now the perennial urge to refresh a wardrobe with new items of clothing is difficult for most women to resist.

Yet wise shoppers will scotch the impulse to buy until a plan for the new Spring season has been completely charted. Such women have learned from experience that items bought on the spur of the moment are not nearly so apt to be springtime standbys as clothing which has been thoughtfully selected to fit into a season's wardrobe needs.

Carefully charted purchases will mean that the first alluring cotton blouse, gilet, scarf, or gloves bought now will fill a present need and will also fit later into the new season's wardrobe.

Because Spring is here and Winter clothing has become so boring to so many, it may be difficult to suppress the urge to dash out and thoughtlessly buy something new. It is all right to give in to the urge to refurbish a wardrobe when you feel like it, but walk, don't run. And don't walk into a store to buy without a plan for using what you buy with both the leftovers from last Spring that you will be wearing as well as with the newcomers that you intend to add to your wardrobe.

A human can distinguish more than 17,000 colors with the naked eye in daylight.

Austin College Choir To Present Midland Program

The Austin College A Cappella Choir of 43-mixed voices will appear in concert in the auditorium of the West Elementary School here April 6, the Rev. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, said Saturday. The public is invited to attend the program which will be free of charge.

Austin College, 99-year old Presbyterian senior college at Sherman, long has been noted for its musical department, and in the last three years its A Cappella Choir tours have delighted thousands of music lovers in more than 100 concert appearances in Texas and Oklahoma.

Robert W. Bedford

Robert W. Bedford, head of the Fine Arts Department of the college, is director of the choir. He studied under W. C. Bain, formerly dean of the School of Music at North Texas State College and now dean of music at the University of Indiana. Bedford received his earlier musical training under the supervision of the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y. He served in the Army Air Force as flying instructor, during the war.

Under his direction the Austin College music department has been greatly expanded. The department now offers a degree with a major in music and courses are organized with the view of meeting the demands of major in music as well as those interested in furthering their knowledge for cultural reasons.

The program here will include an arrangement of the dramatic "Arlinda" by Randall Thompson.

Members of the choir come from all ranks in the student body and are selected after auditions and competitive tryouts.

The itinerary of the A Cappella Choir for this fifth tour is: Lawton and Duncan, Okla.; Wichita Falls, Clarendon, Lubbock, Fort Worth, El Paso, Odessa and Portland.

Advertise or be forgotten.

Postponement of the annual Ladies Golf Tournament which had been scheduled for May at the Midland Country Club was announced by Mrs. Frank Ashby, golf chairman, at a luncheon of the Ladies Golf Association in the Country Club dining room Friday.

The tournament will be postponed indefinitely because of repairs being made to the golf course.

Progressive bridge games followed the luncheon Friday, for which Mrs. Ralph Lowe and Mrs. W. H. Black were hostesses. Mrs. Warren Keltner of Crane made high score, Mrs. Russell Hayes second high, and Mrs. Ashby received the bingo award.

Awards To Winners

Announcement was made at the luncheon that golf winners in Ladies Day play on the Country Club course Wednesday were Mrs. Clifford Cool, Mrs. Charles Akroy and Mrs. Frank Flournoy.

Flowers now blooming in Midland yards made an attractive Spring centerpiece for the luncheon table. The arrangement included Chinese elm and pear branches, japonica and forsythia.

Out-of-city guests in addition to Mrs. Keltner were Mrs. D. R. Young of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mrs. S. E. Parker, Mrs. Ross Lee, Mrs. George Rhodes and Mrs. M. L. Patterson of Odessa, and Mrs. O. E. Bryan of Carpent, Kan.

Other guests

Midland guests were Mrs. Frank W. Reeves, Billie Ferguson, Mrs. C. V. Lisman, Mrs. F. H. McGuigan, Mrs. C. L. Griffin, Mrs. C. H. Rudd, Mrs. Russell Conkling and Mrs. J. A. Mascho.

Other association members present were Mrs. John L. Smith, Mrs. M. M. Conn, Mrs. J. C. Velvin, Mrs. Harold Shanks, Mrs. J. D. Dillard, Mrs. L. M. Frawls, Mrs. J. P. Wilkinson, Mrs. Dave Henderson, Mrs. N. B. Garner, Mrs. E. H. Powers, Mrs. Fred Kotzys, Mrs. Mike Brumbelow, Mrs. Frank Downey, Mrs. Alton Brown, Mrs. Henry Oliver, Mrs. B. R. Schabarum, Mrs. E. E. California City Is 'Going To Dogs'

GUADALUPE, CALIF. (AP)—Guadalupe has gone to the dogs. City Clerk Lorraine Spicer makes this census report to the City Council:

Population: humans, 3,000; dogs, 9,000.

Someone cut the fence at the pound a while back. When city officials announced that stray dogs would be shot if not redeemed, Santa Barbara's Humane Society sent a representative here to say it is illegal to shoot dogs.

So the dogs have been increasing, although only 10 have been licensed this year.

Mayor Paul Carlin says everybody knows about the city's plight. Motorists drive up here, leave their dogs. The motorists don't stay, so the population is getting badly out of balance.

More than one-fifth of the total population of England and Wales lives in Greater London.

Will Present Concert In Midland

The Texas College of Mines Choral, one of the Southwest's most outstanding choral groups, will present a concert in the Midland High School Auditorium at 10 a. m. April 6. The 40 student singers of the choral (shown above) have received much praise for their singing and musical presentations. Director is Merl Cornelius. The concert here will vary from the classics to modern compositions. The mines chorale appeared here last in 1948. During a tour, the chorale will present concerts in Midland, Pecos, Wink, Kermit, Monahans, Seminole, Andrews, Fort Stockton, Alpine, Marfa, Crane, McCamey, Big Lake, Iraan and Ogona.

Gave Up-Lift In Spirit To Others From A Wheel Chair

Winnie Jane (Granny) Beyers

The late Granny Beyers was "the most colorful character I have ever known," according to Mrs. John McKinley of Midland. She was a pioneer in fact and in spirit. In the early days she branded cattle as ably as any man. She answered emergency calls of doctors to be a nurse to the sick and disabled. Her life not only was colorful, but it was useful, says Mrs. McKinley. Her courage knew no age. She was confined to a wheel chair in her later years but never was guilty of a cruel word or an unkind act of any kind, say her friends and relatives. From her wheel chair, she greeted many visitors with a smile and sent them away with up-lifted spirit. Birthdays were particularly gala occasions. The house would be filled with friends, neighbors and others present to help "Granny" celebrate. She loved it. Her daughter, Fernie and her granddaughter, Lucile, pay her high tribute, as an unselfish character. Mrs. Winnie Jane (Granny) Beyers died March 21. She had resided in Midland 43 years as a member of a pioneer ranching family. She was 83 years of age.

Tell Them A Story For Happy Bedtime,

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Newsfeatures

Fortunate are the children to whom bedtime means story time, says the National Kindergarten Association. And, they add, fortunate are the mothers who have established the custom of reading or relating a story to their youngsters before tucking them in for the night.

The sharing of a story is one of the keener pleasures that one can find in the rearing of a family. You don't have to be a good reader, advises the Association. Little children are not too critical. Begin passing on stories to them when they are quite young, and, as the mutual interest grows, Mother will find she improves with practice.

Rhymes For Baby
Jingly nursery rhymes are most appealing to little children, says the Association. Even today's babies, brought up by the most modern methods, like to clap their chubby little hands to: "Pat-a-cake, pat-a-cake, baker's man, Bake me a cake as fast as you can. And unlucky is any boy who has not had his fingers and toes tweaked to: "This little pig went to market, This little pig stayed at home." One can scarcely call these baby-talk rhymes stories; yet they do form the groundwork for story-telling. The child's interest is caught —he gives quiet attention—and so he absorbs something outside of his nursery sphere. After such rhymes as the two quoted come many well-known standbys, "Jack and Jill" and those other two Jacks—"Jack Horner" and "Jack Spratt"—can be accompanied with just enough action of the hands to make them fun for little listeners.

Music Helps
Music can be correlated most pleasantly with the stories. Mothers can teach their children to sing nursery rhymes almost as soon as they can talk.

Of course, story time should not be restricted to nursery rhymes alone. Short, simple-voiced tales from the Bible, from fairy lore, and from those in the children's sections of good magazines may all help to form a nucleus of the children's own library. The practice, too, of making a scrapbook, containing any worthwhile stories which you cull from periodicals, is increasingly beneficial.

Suited To Age
A question frequently asked of the Association is: "If I have children of various ages, how can I choose stories to suit all their tastes?" Present-day child educators tell us, answers the Association, that we must not "talk down" to a child. It is better to use a few words that he does not understand than to speak in the babyish terms he thinks are beneath him. Taking this advice—Mother or Daddy should read or tell a story suited to the oldest of the group.

Such is the procedure followed by one young mother of three. Her children are five, three and twenty months. If one should peep in on them at story time, it would be noticed that the eldest in the pajama-clad group was "eating up" each word, the three-year-old was deeply engrossed, and the baby was just being happy to be with his older brothers before stopping off to dreamland, so that the sound of his mother's voice was like a soothing lullaby in his ears. Childhood habits are formed easily, says the Association, and the habit of getting ready for bed and then gathering for cozy storytime together is a most comforting habit for children and parents alike. Try it and see!

CORDS AND CORDS

Schioparelli Sees No Rise In Hemline

By ERSIE KINARD
Fashion Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Women fretting for fear that hemlines will crawl kneeward again because Paris fashion arbiters can be whimsical that way will be soothed by Schiaparelli's comments.

Interviewed here, this member of the haute couture who can match whimsy with any of her colleagues—and does in her tent-like sun-hat shown with armbare slits—says that although she isn't predicting a drastic rise in hemlines is unlikely. The current silhouette doesn't lend itself to short, short skirts.

She explained her "hurricane" silhouette as "one which blows; is flat on one side, blown up on the other."

Skirt length depends, according to Schiaparelli, "upon the shape of a garment." A slim little suit, for example, can take a shorter hemline than a full-skirted suit or dress.

BRUSH-OFF
A word-out shaving brush makes an excellent brush for removing excess powder, or as a complexion brush for giving the face soap massage. Cut the bristles to the length of one inch before using.

PLASTIC SLIPCOVERS
New slipcovers of plastic film protect upholstered furniture from the sun, dust and hard wear, can be used on chairs, sofas and couches. The covers are held in place with generous allowances for "tuck-in" to prevent strain on the seams.

Jones Vows—

Her flowers were white carnations, on pink net. She and the bride both wore pearl necklaces.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Jones was gowned in aqua crepe, and the bridegroom's mother was dressed in navy crepe, both with corsages of pink camellias. Mrs. Addie Rochelle, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore light blue with pink carnations in a corsage.

Reception Is Held
Additional friends of the couple called during the reception hour following the ceremony. Miss Kitty Hanks of Abilene served the wedding cake, and Miss Virginia Ireland, former Midlander who came from Colorado Woman's College at Denver for the wedding, served punch.

Miss Carolyn Schaeffer assisted at the table and Mrs. T. A. Goliday was in the den where the wedding gifts were shown.

The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a cluster of pale blue bells tied with white ribbon, was placed at one end of the dining room table and wreathed with white sweetpeas and fern. The crystal punch service was at the other end, and between them the bride's bouquet flanked by white candles in silver holders. A spreading arrangement of white gladiolus and stock decorated the buffet. Members of the house party wore corsages of white and pink carnations.

Cut-of-city guests at the wedding and reception included the bridegroom's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Fanks of Abilene, as well as several friends who came home from school: Patsy and Turla Bates from Texas Technological College at Lubbock, John McDonald from Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, and LaJuan Dunlap from Abilene Christian College. To Home in Plains.

The couple left after the reception on a short trip to Texas cities, and will go to Plains, where Rhodes teaches in the public schools, to make their home for the remainder of the school term. For traveling Mrs. Rhodes wore a suit of avocado green with navy accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet pinned to the shoulder.

She is a graduate of Midland High School and has attended Abilene Christian College, Rhodes was graduated from Abilene Christian College. Both were music majors, and both plan to study this summer in the Vandercook College of Music in Chicago.

Blueprint for Beauty:
Silk Enriches New Make-up
Model strokes on face powder which contains silk filaments.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
The lustrous look of rich fabrics is not all that the silkworm contributes to spring fashions. He also spins silk filaments for cosmetics. Face powder airy spun from pure silk filaments makes its debut for Spring.

The addition of silk filaments to cosmetic ingredients, say manufacturers, makes powder more adherent and gives skin a more subtle and more silken dress. For touch-ups this silk-blended powder is compressed into a compact which may be carried in a handbag for make-up needs in transit.

Designed to provide a base for this powder is a make-up foundation, previously introduced, which also contains minute particles of silk confined in creamy emulsion.

West Texas C. Of C. Men Meet At Angelo

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, will preside at the Saturday morning session of the annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce Managers Association of West Texas, opening Thursday in San Angelo. The session will end Saturday noon.

Raymond Lee Johns of Plainview is association president, and A. C. Bishop of Sweetwater is program chairman for the convention.

A record attendance of West Texas C. of C. managers is expected to attend the session. A well-rounded program concerning chamber of commerce activities has been arranged.

Mazza Leaves After Giving Impetus To City's Art Program

After teaching a series of classes in art which resulted in organization of other classes under other teachers, Rene Mazza left Midland Friday afternoon for his home in Dallas. He taught and painted here during the winter under sponsorship of the Palette Club.

His stay in Midland was the realization of the club's goal of bringing a recognized painter and teacher to the city, to offer lessons to residents interested in art. Club members were especially pleased that Mazza's classes aroused enough interest to call for the formation of more art classes, some taught by his pupils. Mazza completed his teaching program several weeks ago, but remained in Midland to finish some portrait commissions and to hold a show of portraits in the Midland Country Club. He plans a trip to his native Italy this summer, the first since he came to America 11 years ago.

At his departure Mazza expressed the hope that he may visit Midland again before many months have passed. He left this message, addressed to the society editor of The Reporter-Telegram:

"This is to express my feelings of gratitude to my several art pupils for their earnest cooperation, to the women of the Palette Club for their pioneering example, to Mrs. N. A. Lancaster for her enthusiasm, to the Midland Country Club for their hospitality, and in general to my old and new friends for their understanding of the importance of art in the life of Midland.

"Leaving Midland to go back to my assignments in Dallas, I can't help admiring the headway made here in art learning and practice, and I will be anxious to hear of the progress of some of my art pupils in a happier and fuller life as they give wings to their imagination and self-expression and create interesting paintings for the enjoyment of themselves and their friends.

"The time will not be far, I feel, when Midland will be heard of in the rest of the country for the creative ability of the people as much as it now is known as a center of the oil industry."

Accounting Course For Oil Producers May Be Taught Here

The extension division of Texas Technological College will establish a night class in practical accounting here for oil producers if enough interest is indicated and enough students enrolled.

A minimum of 12 students is required. Enrollment fee will be $21 plus charge for the textbook. Charles E. Thomas, certified public accountant with a firm here, will teach the class if it is organized. Persons interested should contact him at Room 108 McClintic Building or telephone number 2941. College credit for the course can be obtained provided prerequisites are met.

Texas Representative Is Friend Of Puerto Ricans

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON—(P)—Texas Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont has become one of Puerto Rico's staunchest friends in the Congress . . . and hopes to promote better relations between the United States and its island territory.

He has in mind, among other things, the drafting of a bill to provide for the exchange of teachers on an annual basis. The government would put up the difference needed between their salaries and actual expenses.

"In some respects we have been treating the Puerto Ricans, and I am afraid thinking of them, as a foreign people," he says.

"And yet, Puerto Rico is one of our most strategic possessions in the defense of the Caribbean, the Gulf and the Panama Canal."

The Texan's interest in the island stems from the appearance of the Puerto Rican commissioner, Dr. A. Ferrero Lleras, before the House Ways and Means Committee. Combs is on the committee. Dr. Ferrero was seeking expansion of the social security program in his homeland.

"Personally, I think we must do something to give Puerto Rico a fair break economically," Combs said. "We must act not only in regard to social security, we must go further and remove those discriminations which tend to keep Puerto Rico in relative poverty."

"Although Puerto Rico has been a part of the United States for 50 years and the Puerto Rican people are American citizens, we have not extended to them the treatment accorded other Americans and to other territorial possessions such as Hawaii and Alaska."

He pointed out that the United States Treasury has paid the cost of operation of the Hawaiian and Alaskan territorial governments, but not that of Puerto Rico; American tariff and shipping regulations, Combs believes, prevents Puerto Rico from operating in foreign trade on a par with Latin American nations.

"It must be recognized," he adds, "that certain peculiar problems exist by reason of the fact that Puerto Rico was shifted from an economy dominated from overseas by Spain to a new relationship as a territorial possession of the United States only 50 years ago."

Congressman Homer Thornberry recently was named by Speaker Sam Rayburn to the Board of Directors of the Columbia Institution for the Deaf.

The institution's main component, Gallaudet College, is located in the District of Columbia. It's the only college for the deaf in the world.

It confers degrees; it also maintains a school where instructors with hearing are trained to teach the deaf. Thornberry asked for the job, one which most congressmen take as a chore.

"The reason for the Texan's interest in the deaf is natural. His parents were deaf. They both taught in the Texas State School for the Deaf in Austin. As a youngster, long before his neighbors in South Austin had taught him to talk, Thornberry had mastered the manual alphabet of the deaf."

The congressman's widowed mother now lives with him and his wife and two children in Arlington, Va.

Greenwood Trustee Election April 2

An election to fill two trustee vacancies will be held April 2 at the Greenwood school.

The terms of C. W. Branham and B. W. Brown are expiring. Other members of the board are Alvie Bryant, J. G. Brooks, G. Z. Branch, Luther Eggleston and W. W. Parker.

Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco, leader of the congressional move to wipe out the federal oleomargarine taxes, wants everyone to know that Dean Charles W. Shepardson of Texas A&M College spoke only as an individual when he testified against their repeal.

Dr. Shepardson spoke before the House Ways and Means Committee, which was studying Poage's tax repeal bill.

In a statement printed in the Congressional Record, Poage said: "The dean fairly stated that the views he expressed were his own, but he was carefully instructed as Dean of the School of Agriculture in the Agricultural and Mechanical College of the home state of the author of H. R. No. 3."

"Mr. Speaker, I repeat that Charles W. Shepardson has a perfect right to his own views on the restriction of competition in the table-spread market or any other subject, but I seriously doubt that he should come to Washington as the special representative of either side—certainly not unless he could know in advance that he actually speaks the official views of the college."

Poage then inserted in the record a communication from A&M Chancellor Gilchrist saying that the dean's views were a personal matter and that the college had taken no official position on oleomargarine.

Farewell Party Is Given For W. L. Mohlers

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mohler were honored Friday night by the Avis McCullough Woman's Missionary Society of the Terminal Baptist Church at a farewell banquet in the church. The honorees are moving to Dallas to make their home.

After a dinner, a short program was held including a mock radio program patterned after "Queen for a Day" with Mrs. L. M. Porter acting as master of ceremonies. The "queen," Mrs. Mohler, was showered with gifts.

Guests present were Mrs. G. D. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Provence, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Segrest, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Love, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Champion, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Gen. Robert Smith, president of Pioneer Air Lines, Saturday assured the Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing Midland definitely will be considered if and when Pioneer moves its headquarters from Houston.

News releases last week said the airline had been notified to vacate the city's operations quarters in Houston by May 1. The release quoted Pioneer officials as saying several cities served by the line would be surveyed as a possible location for new headquarters offices. Midland was not listed as one of the survey cities.

Downing wrote Smith concerning the proposed move and invited the airline to survey facilities at Midland Air Terminal before selecting a new operations site. He offered the full cooperation of the Chamber and the city in the program. Committee Named.

The Pioneer president Saturday advised Downing by telephone that a committee has been named to make an inventory of all cities served by the airline, and that Midland definitely will be surveyed.

He said also that Houston is attempting to work out an arrangement whereby Pioneer offices may remain in their present quarters. Smith is to meet with Houston citizens Sunday.

Unwary Wolf Likely To Direct Whistle At Own Grandmother

By CYNTHIA LOWEY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Take a good look before you whistle at that damsel, you wolf. It may be your grandmother. Or somebody's grandmother.

Once upon a time, grandparents were comfortable, gray-haired people who could be depended to spoil the kids rotten, pony up in emergencies, and be called in upon occasion to take care of the darlings while Mother and Father went out on the town.

But not any more, not since Miss Marlene Dietrich and Joan Bennett took grandmotherhood in their stride, and since Carl Brisson, the romantic singing star, boasted that someone called him grandpa—and still packed in crowds to a New York cabaret.

It's too soon to tell whether this is a real trend, but it very well may be. Always in the past, most women have considered certain occasions as milestones in the aging process. These had nothing to do with the way a woman felt. But when a certain few birthdays were passed, she put herself into various categories. And certainly most women have some sort of a personal reaction—besides the joy of the circumstance—the day their first grandchild is born.

"Well, I'm an old woman now," they'll say jocularly to congratulating friends—and frequently they won't think it's so funny.

However, Miss Dietrich in her more recent picture was cast as a sultry cafe entertainer for whom strong men sacrificed honor and all. So if Miss Dietrich managed to get into the grandmother class without shedding a lot of glamor it ill-behaves any grandmother to give up the ghost, go off her diet and throw away her cosmetics.

No Excuse Now

It may seem like a pleasant thing for a tired business man to accent grandfatherhood as an excuse to cut down on his rumba sessions, but top-hatted, slim-waisted Mr. Brisson, surrounded by adoring lady admirers of all ages, is a disquieting sight for him to see. Mr. Brisson is living testimony that there's no excuse for a paunch and the quiet life.

Of course Miss Bennett's age is listed as 39, which is not ancient by any of the standards we use. But still she's a grandmother, and she still can play ingenues.

Obviously, today grandparenthood does not mark the beginning of life's twilight, the relaxed period of knitting, stuffing turkeys, making preserves and becoming chairman of the women's club poetry section.

Hollywood Changed

We all realize how important Hollywood is in molding our patterns and our thinking. Time was when movie stars went to all sorts of lengths to conceal the fact that they were parents. The theory was that maternity or paternity would interfere with popularity, spelled b-o-o-f-f-i-c-e. When the secret was found out, the stars always pretended the concealment was caused by fear of kidnapers.

Then, round about war time, all this was changed. Some, brave stars went right ahead and admitted they had, or were going to have, children. Pretty soon it seemed as though all Hollywood was producing families. It seems to me that maybe Hollywood soon will be doing the same thing about grandchildren.

No matter what it means, it's nice to think that there's something besides a rocking chair for people who don't like to rock.

Light-headed Easter Forecast

Airy Hats Lead Parade

By ERSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—The Easter bonnet which weighs an ounce is an extreme example of the light-headed look and feel of this spring's hats. This ounce-light hat—a Hattie Carnegie design (upper left) with silk flowers tucked into the folds of its skyscraping brim—is made of new cobwebby sheer brown "lace-lon." But hats made of traditional straws and silks look airy and feel light too. Most hats are freed from burdensome trimming. One designer—Sally Victor—goes on record as dividing the burden between the head and the neck. She comes up with a ribbon-trimmed pink ballbunnet straw "profile hat" (center) for which she makes a new whimsy in neckwear; a ladies' Byronic cravat of matching taffeta already tied and looped for easy wearing.

A Victor hat of cocoa brown lace straw (lower right) is feather-light because trimming is limited to loops and streamers of brown velvet ribbon.

Red and white polka dotted silk makes a John-Frederics hat (lower left) which puts no more weight on the head than a scarf. Drapery, released from this heart-shaped turban and caught up in the back by a pearl barrette, gives this hat the look of a scarf worn with superlative chic.

A simple beige milan, trimmed only with brim-edged fringe of contrasting red straw, is another John-Frederics hat (upper right). It's one more example of the hat which carries a lot of style weight but adds very little to the burden on your head.

Just for the fun of it I sat down and figured out some of the things I didn't know. It was an amazing list—amazing that a man could live so long and learn so little. The man of the future will probably grow to know more and more about less and less.

Here were some of the things I couldn't—and still can't do: Drive a motor car. (You'd be surprised how many people can't.) Screw in a light bulb in less than 10 minutes.

Turn on a television set or operate a record-changer phonograph. Play any card game except "Old Maid." I also can't play chess, dominoes or assemble a cut-out picture puzzle.

Identify any bone in the human body with certainty except the femur. (The only reason I know this is that a friend of mine broke his, and told me where it was.)

Bubble Gum Failure Build anything, including a doghouse, although I have spent some of the best years of my life in these structures.

Play a musical instrument or speak a foreign language. Blow bubble gum—although I've tried—or mix any drink except a highball or an aspirin parafat.

Bend over and touch the floor without buckling my knees. All of these inabilities leave me feeling rather useless and helpless and yet I think the average man everywhere can compile a similar list of his own. Most men no longer could live in the forest like Daniel Boone. And they are trapped in a wilderness world of gadgets that nobody can understand but a technician.

And the changes come faster and faster. The citizen doesn't understand the atom. But he sure does feel like one—an atom circling in an unknown orbit.

It is against the law to smoke or strike a match in any downtown store in Springfield, O.

Mrs. J. B. Valley Honored At Party In McNulty Home

Springtime colors of pastel yellow and green decorated the home of Mrs. J. S. McNulty Friday night when she and Mrs. Robert C. McFadden entertained with a stork shower honoring Mrs. J. B. Valley. Mrs. H. H. Johnson, Los Angeles, house guest of Mrs. Valley, poured coffee at the dining table, which was centered with a cake in the shape of a bassinet, the hood made of net and ribbon in pale green and yellow. Yellow candles in silver holders lighted the table. Yellow tulips and green candles were arranged on the piano. The gifts were presented to Mrs. Valley in a toy bassinet, and she was also given the book in which guests registered.

Those present were Mrs. Harry Gossett, Mrs. Charles L. Sherwood, Mrs. W. W. Walker, Mrs. W. D. Hamm, Mrs. S. C. Giesey, Mrs. Bryan L. Denson, Mrs. H. L. Swords, Mrs. R. L. Trimble, Mrs. R. L. Clarke, Mrs. J. B. Jordan, Mrs. J. A. Jorgensen and Mrs. Woodrow W. Beatty.

Texan Claims Key To Foreign Tongues

PLANO —(P)— Mrs. Vera B. Edens, a Plano housewife, says she can read any language—she has a "key."

Mrs. Edens, who has a high school education and has never taken a formal language course, said she found the key in ancient phoenician literature. She declined to explain exactly how to turn the key.

But she said words in all languages are kin. For example, she said, "Yankoo" is an Troqueles Indian word meaning "twice a sink," and very similar to the East Indian word "yang gee," meaning "a foreigner."

Mrs. Edens says she has caught Dr. Albert Einstein in a lot of errors: "He states his propositions in the wrong consonants and vowels. Mr. Einstein would kill me if he heard me saying this."

The East Texas housewife is confident she can decipher anything archaeologists can dig up.

"They'll have to send it to Plano, though," she said. "I'm not going off on any expeditions."

Amazing How Man Lives Long, Learns Little, Say Boyle

Any Old Frogs May Be Donated To Biology Class

By PEGGY LOU WHITSON
"But, Mr. Boyd, where do we go to find frogs around here?" These words are coming from the biology room where the biology classes are soon to start dissecting frogs. That is, if any frogs are found.

The biology course has had some hard times this year starting after its first teacher, Mrs. McAdams, had to leave. But with the help of Miss Baskerville, Mrs. Deibert Downing, Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Standfer, who have been substitute teachers, the students got through the first two six weeks.

Since Mr. Boyd's coming, the classes have had a regular schedule and have studied and learned many things.

A few of the high points of this semester's work in biology are health, including bones (fractures, dislocations, etc.); cuts, muscles, etc.; the digestive systems of man and animals; different diseases; respiratory and circulatory (blood circulation) systems of man and animal; and at present the students are studying living (plants and animals) and their environments.

Characters Of Fairy Tales Brighten Room

Miss Harris has been entertaining her speech classes with fairy tales. The bulletin board and walls of her speech room have been decorated with pictures of fairy book characters.

No, she hasn't. The speech classes have taken up story telling and were using pictures for illustrations. They are many clever characters some of which are Peter Rabbit, Three Pigs, Jack and the beanstalk, etc. Many of these were free hand drawings and some were pictures from books.

The speech classes have been telling the fairy tales to each other and later will tell their stories to the entire speech class. Next Tuesday the classes plan to visit North, West, and South Elementary Schools and tell their stories to the first, second, third and fourth grade classes.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1948, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Chief Justice Vinson soothed Truman's temper at Key West; Harry Vaughan credited with appointing a federal judge who once got heavy OPA fine; Senator Ferguson faces campaign-contribution trouble in Michigan.

WASHINGTON — Insiders credit wise old Chief Justice Fred Vinson for the meek and mild way his friend Harry Truman came back to Washington.

It was the sagacious chief justice, they say, who sat on the beach at Key West during the days when the President was receiving his worst defeats and gently gave him counsel about how to get along with Congress.

Probably no one outside of Boss Truman has more influence with the President than the chief justice. He has stuck with him at all times, especially when the going was tough. He never gets ruffled, never goes off on tangents, always puts the country's interests first.

Furthermore, no one else around Truman is in a better position to guide him on the problem of getting along with Congress. Vinson spent long years in the House of Representatives, worked his way up to a place of powerful leadership, then became a court of appeals judge, and stepped down from the bench to help the Roosevelt administration during the war emergency.

As a result, Vinson knows just about all the gamuts of government. And while he realizes Harry Truman's failings he never talks about them; is completely loyal.

Vinson is one who believes you can't win a fight with Congress by losing your temper. So, while loafing on the beach at Key West he diplomatically got across his ideas on congressional-presidential teamwork. The President listened, and came back a soothed man.

General Vaughan Scores
Gen. Harry Vaughan, the President's jovial military aide, was out of luck when it came to a U. S. loan to his admirer, Dictator Peron of Argentina. However, it looks as if Harry had quietly scored an interesting victory close at home.

Milton Kronheim, Jr., a prominent Washington liquor dealer and close friend of Vaughan's, has just been appointed a municipal court judge for the District of Columbia.

One interesting angle about this appointment is that during OPA days, the biggest blackmarketing fine ever paid was by Kronheim and Son, the very same liquor dealers. They paid the large total of $200,000, although Senators Wherry of Nebraska and Ferguson of Michigan said it wasn't enough and raised cash because they did not go to jail.

Now, the son, Milton Kronheim, Jr., who was in the liquor firm at that time, has been appointed to an important Washington judgeship.

Vaughan and the Kronheims make no secret of their close friendship. Only recently at the Jackson Jefferson Day Dinner, the President's military aide sat with them at the same table. And on the presidential special train to the Army-Navy game in Philadelphia a year ago Vaughan, Kronheim, Sr., and John Maragon, another pal of Vaughan's, rode in the same compartment. Compartments on the President's special are obtained only by a very few.

Maragon, an ex-bootlegger, is another intimate of Vaughan's, who always seems to have ample supply of liquor on hand. Affable Milton Kronheim, Jr., when once asked whether he kept Vaughan in supply, modestly admitted: "The general touches me for a bottle now and then."

Government officials long have wondered why Vaughan took such an interest in the liquor business. During food-saving days when the distillers were on a tight grain ration, Vaughan had the nerve to call up the office of Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson and demand in stentorian tones that the whiskey dealers' grain quota not be cut.

However, the Kronheim family and associates contributed $15,000 to the Democratic Party in the last campaign, with only $100 to Dewey. And when Kronheim, Jr., a likable young man, came before the Senate Judiciary committee, Senator Ferguson, his old critic, did not object.

Note—Kronheims also furnish liquor for Democratic shindigs.

Some significant campaign contributions have cropped up in Michigan as a result of the Senate Election Committee's probe of Senator Homer Ferguson. The interesting question is whether $17,400 paid by Preston Tucker allegedly to hush up the Ferguson probe of the Tucker automobile scandal ever got back to finance Ferguson's campaign.

On Oct. 12 this column revealed some sensational facts regarding the sudden manner in which the Tucker automobile probe was dropped like a hot potato by Ferguson who at that time headed the Senate's most important investigating committee. A little over $17,000 was paid by Tucker to Mrs. Dudley Hay, then Republican national committeewoman from Michigan and secretary of the GOP National Committee.

At that very moment Ferguson had investigators in the Tucker plant in Chicago making a thorough investigation and was reported ready to hold public hearings.

But on May 9, 1947, Mrs. Hay came to Washington, called Ferguson's secret phone number which she had about this time, again in Washington May 15-18, again called the capitol several times; returned to Washington again June 1 and called Ferguson's private number twice. Again, on June 11, Mrs. Hay returned to Washington and twice called Ferguson's private number. Simultaneously Tucker was in Washington.

Shortly thereafter Ferguson's probe of Tucker was dropped.

Several Tucker employees state that about this time they told him he had employed a "political figure" in Michigan to call off the Ferguson committee and that it was the "best money he ever spent."

At any rate, Ferguson's probe of Tucker not only stopped, but was never resumed.

Some Tucker Money Returned
Meanwhile, Senate investigators have interviewed Mrs. Hay in Romeo, Michigan, who has refused to say whether any of the money paid her by Tucker helped finance the 1948 campaign of Senator Ferguson and other Republicans. Mrs. Hay admits she and her husband received the money, but explains, it was paid by Tucker for an appraisal which her husband made of the Tucker auto plant. He is not an engineer, nor has he had any established experience as an industrial appraiser.

Mrs. Hay also revealed to investigators that Tucker later gave her six additional checks totaling $2,000, made out to the Republican Finance Committee of Wayne County, Michigan. The checks, each for $500, were signed by six different men, whom Tucker described as his Chicago business associates.

By this time, Senator Ferguson appeared to be getting worried. For Mrs. Hay informed Senate investigators that he demanded that these six checks be returned to Tucker. This she did.

Significantly, Mrs. Hay took the trouble to deposit the $17,400 Tucker originally gave her, not in Michigan, but in a bank in Clarksburg, W. Va.

The Senate investigation of the Ferguson election is continuing.

Monahans Bank Has New Vice President

MONAHANS — Appointment of Sam H. Alexander, formerly of Houston, as executive vice president was announced here this week by officials of the First National Bank of Monahans.

A native of Houston, Alexander began his banking career in 1920 as a messenger boy with the Union National Bank of that city and was associated with that bank until early 1947.

After leaving the Union National Bank, Alexander organized and became executive head of the Union State Bank of Carrizo Springs, Texas, and later served a short while as vice president of the First National Bank of Edinburg.

The Monahans official has served as secretary-treasurer of Lions clubs in both Houston and Carrizo Springs and was once zone chairman of a Lions district. He was at one time a director of the Carrizo Springs Chamber of Commerce and a steward of the Methodist Church of that city.

"Family Outfitters Since 1934"

Designed for Good Service

New 300-horsepower portable compressor installed March, 1948, on West Texas Gas Company's transmission line.

West Texas Gas Company Completes Another Job

Any growing and progressive company must make additions to serve new customers; but its first duty is to take care of present customers. This means a continual improvement and replacement program to meet increased demands.

The 300-horsepower portable compressor unit, shown above, is one of many West Texas Gas Company's 1949 improvement projects designed to give present and new customers good natural gas service.

$2,225,000.00 Program

West Texas Gas Company is spending over $2,225,000.00 this year to meet your needs for natural gas service.

To meet your extra gas service requirements, large sums of money are being spent by West Texas Gas Company to replace various sizes of lines with larger pipe; new compressors are being installed and various other projects will be under way shortly.

... all of which are designed to give you good gas service.

Daddy Ringtail By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Goofus Fishermen

I haven't yet told you about how the goofus fish ever came to be. If you are wondering whether the story is true, remember that I don't know. I only heard it from Daddy Ringtail.

It seems that a man and another man were once in a boat on the sea. Maybe their ship had been wrecked or something, but there they were in a very small boat with paddles to paddle with.

The first man said, "I think the land is that way." He pointed with his finger ahead to the place they had started to go; and of course some land was back that way, right where they had left it.

But the second man said, "No, I think the land is that way." He pointed with his finger ahead to the place they had started to go; and of course some land was back that way, right where they had left it.

But the two men fussed and argued about which way the land was, and so they didn't go any-where in their boat with the paddles. They only sat there in the sun and fussed and argued.

At last the first man, in a fit of anger, picked up one of the paddles and started to paddle back where they had come from.

The second man, not to be out-Daddy Ringtail.

When the boat touched the bottom, the men were each of them changed into a very foolish fish whose name was goofus. The Goofus fish is the one who swims backwards to keep the water from out of his eyes, silly fellow. And it all happened because he quarreled with his friend, Happy day!

Fewer Italians Wed, Fewer Italians Die

ROME—(AP)—Fewer Italians were married and fewer buried in 1948 compared with 1947, the Central Institute of Statistics says.

Last year, the institute reported, 376,529 marriages were celebrated, 50,518 less than the previous year. The number of marriages per 1,000 persons last year was 8.2.

Deaths last year totalled 482,064, down 34,480 from 1947. The institute says Italy's mortality rate in 1948 was 10.5 per 1,000 inhabitants compared to 11.4 in 1947.

A large number of Italian deaths, however, are not regularly recorded. The United States' mortality rate in 1946, for example, was 10 per 1,000 inhabitants.

You Can Help— They Also Fight Who Have Polio; Need Morale Boost

By DICK VENATOR
Remember the black days of World War II when the newspapers and radios were urging the home folks night and day to write to the boys overseas? Who knows but those letters were one of the big items that made for victory. Morale!

Today there is a group of little soldiers from Midland fighting a minute-by-minute battle with another scourge, polio, and maybe they, too, will be able to pull through in better shape and quicker with a big boost in morale.

What a bolstered morale would accomplish for grownup soldiers and sailors should do as much again for these tots in the hospital at Abilene and Dallas.

Midland County polio chapter officials seem to think so, and suggest a card or letter to one or more of them. It makes no difference whether or not you are a neighbor of the child or ever heard its parent's name.

You also will be aiding these patients, who are facing a tough fight in their efforts to keep their stricken children cheery until the day they can return home.

Of course, your dime given in the polio drive still are working. But they provide only medical care. Even this money can't take care of all the patients everywhere. The Midland chapter, incidentally, has applied for more funds from the National chapter for April, according to R. F. Duffield, county chairman.

A review of the report received on these little patients the last week by Ray Gwyn, vice chairman of the Midland County chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, will give you an idea of the light these kiddies have before them. The reports are in the main encouraging but they don't promise that the child will walk again without the aid of braces. Maybe your letter, greeting card or small gift will give the child an added will to recover which might spell the difference.

The reports on the first four children listed below are from the Hendrick Memorial Hospital at Abilene, and the other report, on Jennifer Jill Brown, is from the Scottish Rite Memorial Hospital, Dallas.

Reports Given
Donald DeVore (Reporter-Telegram carrier up to the time he was stricken) — progress satisfactory. Right arm normal and left arm nearly so. Right leg almost safe for weight bearing and left leg has one muscle which isn't entirely functional. Probably two and one-half more months in hospital.

Charles Bird—excellent progress in entire body. Patient can stand, sit and walk a few steps unaided. Probably two or four more months in hospital.
Jo Ann Clark—excellent progress. Still extreme weakness in muscles of left foot. Moderate weakness in left leg. Beginning to walk with Lonney Steen—slow, steady progress. Still severe weakness in trunk, both lower extremities and left upper extremity. Probably six more months in hospital.

Jennifer Jill Brown—prognosis for this patient's being able to walk in braces is good. Time required will vary with her progress and the observation periods which do not include hospitalization will be from now until she is 16 years of age.

Once A Script Girl

(NEA Telephoto)

Until two years ago, Ellen Corby was a studio script girl in Hollywood. She not only attended the Motion Picture Academy Awards for the first time, but was also a top contender for a major award, that of "best supporting actress" for her role in RKO's "I Remember Mama." Too excited to wait, Miss Corby started getting ready early, and here tries on a rented mink stole, which is being draped over her shoulder by her mother, Mrs. Dagmar Hansen.

Power-Christian Headlines May Make Box-Office Lines

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—All those headlines on the Tyrone Power-Linda Christian marriage may be put to work at the box office. There's talk at Fox of co-starring the newlyweds in a movie. Linda's last film, "Tarzan and the Mermaids," is cleaning up. Vincent Price wants to do the life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle on the screen and UI is interested. Columbia is talking about buying the film rights to Lucille Ball's airshow, "My Favorite Husband."

Friends are wide-eyed at the change in Mickey Rooney since he's been dating Martha Vickers. They're never seen in night clubs, preferring dates at her home where they play records and run movies. (Doesn't sound like the Rooney we know.)

Marie Wilson has made a girl named "Irina" practically a household word via the airwaves and now she'll do the movie version. I asked her how she felt about it. Only Marie could come up with such an answer. She said: "Guess I'm pretty dumb, huh?"
Sees Saved
Economy note: Fred Astaire does a dance routine with two dozen pairs of empty shoes in "The Barkleys of Broadway." Well, at least they saved on costume expense. The two dozen dancers in the shoes were blown out by trick photography. . . . M-G-M will elevate Ava Gardner to star billing via "The Great Sinner." . . . Connie Haines probably will be the radio singer in Clark Gable's next, "Keys to the City." . . . Eve Arden will play one of the starring roles in the Warner musical, "West Point."

A producer told Don DeFore: "My last film might have been a flop, but at least it's the best flop I've ever made."

Western Star Tex Williams' NBC television contract was quite a bargain—for NBC. The pact calls for him to furnish songs, himself, costumes, one horse, a stagecoach, a 13-piece band, six pistols and a wild buffalo.

Raised eyebrow department: Yvonne Wood, who is dressing up Yvonne de Carlo for "The Western Story," has originated a nightgown made of glass fiber. "Just say it's sheer," said the designer.

Mimic Arthur Blake spoofing stars who attend art classes: "Burgess Meredith's paintings are very expensive. That's because he has an expensive palette."

Dennis Day will make a Summer tour of England, Ireland and Scotland. . . . Ed Gardner, in describing a blind date: "They built up a 'Portrait of Jennie' but she turned out to be 'The Snake Pit.' . . . Gloria de Haven and John Payne, who have never appeared together on the screen, are talking about co-starring in a stage play for the Century Theater Group here."

If you live in Hollywood you laugh at: Starlets who sign "seven-year" contracts. It's never mentioned that the contracts have six-month options. . . . The real estate agents who always say that Gary Grant once lived in the apartment they're trying to rent. (He must have lived in every apartment in town.) . . . The western actors who walk around in 10-gallon hats and high-heeled boots and sell used cars and television sets on the side. . . . The socialite who is "not interested" in a movie career. (Just let Republic make her an offer.)
