to a banquet or meeting, she asks to be told everything that happengetting home from the office, the first thing she says to him is Whatever happened to you?"

And when she can't think of anything else to ask him she wants to know if he still loves her, Naturally, all such a woman gets in answer to her innumerable questions is an absent-minded brush.

"Nothing much" happened at the office. "A man named Brown telephoned. Just a business matter." He can't remember what he had to eat at the banquet. "It was just another"-yawn-"one of those evenings." He was late getting home from work because he got "tied up." The letter he's just read didn't say much. He ate lunch at the same

And "of course" he still loves her, So all that digging to bring up some interesting facts, to make a husband share his interests gets a wife nowhere. After a few years of marriage she knows his evasive or disinterested answers so well she might as well answer her own ques-

But the wife who doesn't ask a lot of questions, who lets a man tell her just as much or as little as he wants to, eventually gets a complete account of what is going on. Don't ask me why.

McCamey Sets The Pace

Hat's off to the qualified voters of McCamey who last Tuesday turned out almost enmasse to cast their ballots as real American citizens in a city election.

More than 94 per cent of the qualified voters of that up-and-coming Upton County city went to the polls to express their preferences for fellow citizens who will serve as public officials.

We believe the McCamey voters established some sort of a record. Never before have we heard of such a percentage of balloting in any election. It is something of which the citizens of McCamey may well be proud. It is the American way.

And the heavy vote was not just a one occasion record brought about by a particularly hot campaign. The same thing was accomplished the Saturday previously when a record number of votes was polled in a McCamey school election.

McCamey this year has 558 qualified voters and 527 of them cast ballots in the city election. In the school election a total of 423 votes were reported.

Citizens of McCamey are interested in the operation of their school system and their municipal governmentinterested enough to take time out from their many and varied duties to vote for the candidates of their choice. By their actions, the voters in the two elections fulfilled their obligations as loyal American citizens.

Citizens of other cities and communities of West Texas, Texas and the United States as a whole might well take a lesson from McCamey and its freedom-loving

Leaders of Communist-controlled nations perhaps would not believe that 94 per cent of the qualified voters of any government subdivision went to the polls voluntarily to vote as they pleased in a free election.

Think what a setback it would be to Communist dicted that a considerable part of preachings in our nation if 94 per cent of the qualified the program will be passed at this voters went to the polls regularly.

McCamey voters have set the pace in voting. Congratulations and commendations certainly are in order.

Questions and Answers about the Telephone Company's Improvement Program for Midland

Q. What are the telephone company's plans for improving telephone service in Midland?

A. The telephone company is proposing to install a new $1,500,000 dial system in Midland and spend $700,000 more for expansion and improvement of telephone service here. To justify this large expenditure the company has asked city officials to approve a new schedule of rates to help offset losses which are resulting each month from rates established in 1928.

The program to bring dial service to Midland will involve the manufacture and installation of a complete dial switching system, construction of a new building in time to house the equipment when it arrives, installing dial telephones for all customers here, and extension and rearrangement of cables and lines in every section of the city.

Including the dial conversion program, the company's expansion costs in Midland from 1948 through 1951 will total $2,200,000.

Q. What are some of the advantages of the proposed

A. The new dial system will provide uniform, fast, dependable service at all hours of the day and night.

With the dial system, local calls will be completed as rapidly as you dial a number.

The dial system will be ready for a peak load of calls at any hour of the day or night.

The dial system may be expanded rapidly to keep pace with the city's future growth and development.

Modern dial service embraces all of the refinements and developments of modern telephone researchand is the finest telephone service available anywhere in the world.

Why is the telephone company asking for higher

A. Because present rates, established more than 20 years ago, are not bringing in enough revenue to pay the cost of furnishing service here. The telephone company cannot justify spending additional large sums of money to improve and expand telephone service until operations in Midland are placed on a more satisfactory financial basis.

Q. How does the number of telephones in service in Midland compare with the number here in 1928?

A. Present telephone rates were established in 1928 when Midland had only 1,100 telephones, as compared with 7,500 in service here today. Midland telephone users now have access to almost seven times as many telephones as in 1928, when it cost much less, per telephone, to furnish service than it does today.

Q. With so many telephones, isn't the telephone company taking in more money than ever?

A. Telephone revenues are up, to be sure, but costs of furnishing the service have increased even faster. During the first half of 1948, we collected $116,102 for telephone service, but it cost $131,641 to furnish this service. As a result, we operated the Midland telephone system at a loss of $15,539 in the six-month period.

Q. How have telephone costs increased?

A. Telephone payrolls, the biggest single item in the cost of furnishing telephone service, are almost six times as high here today as they were in 1941. Other telephone costs are up, too. Poles, cables, buildings, trucks, office supplies, and everything else required to furnish telephone service continue to cost high post-

Q. How much more will telephone service cost when the new rates are in effect?

A. Briefly, business telephones will cost about eight cents a day more. Residence telephones will cost less than two cents a day more.

Q. When will work begin on the new dial system?

A. Immediately after the new schedule of rates is approved. The intricate dial switching equipment, especially designed for Midland, will be ordered and plans will be started for construction of a new dial telephone building which will be completed in time to house the new equipment when it arrives.

Many months will be required, of course, to manufacture the equipment, erect the building, install the dial switches and connect the thousands of tiny wires which the new dial system will require. That is why we want to start work on the new system as promptly as possible. The sooner we start, the sooner dial service will become a reality for Midland telephone users.

last season, probably will perform

James Anderson will see duty there in the latter innings. Fireball Kenny Jones will start behind the plate. He is an improved catcher this year and still has the hustle of a college boy. Carriel Nipp, a strong prospect for the coming season, gets the nod for rightfield. Ray Coss, long ball hitter and potential home run star, will go at centerfield. Emil Ogden, a home town boy, gets the starting assignment in leftfield. Webb caid he probably will use Clyde May, Lonnie Martin and several others on the roster. Lamesa Has Haney Jay Haney, freshman pilot of the Lobos and former Texas League star, brings to town a ball club studded with former Longhorn League players. Paul Cook, port-sider formerly with Ballinger, may take the hill as the starter. He had little success with Lamesa last year but reportedly is better now. Ray Coates likely will be on first Hank Melillo at second, Walter Buckle at short and Eddie Melillo at third. Bill Finley will catch.

In the outfield, Haney will perform in right. Don Pinto in center and Leo Rheingans in left. The two Melillo boys have played for Midland in former years. Rheingans was with Odessa last season, batting high in the league. Webb said Friday the park is in good condition for the exhibition tilt and he expects a large-crowd.

Fined For Failure To Report Accident Ernest A. Bell of Odessa was fined $100 and costs Thursday by

Justice of the Peace Joseph Seymour on a charge of failure to file an accident report. Bell's auto was involved in the three-way crash east of Midland on U. S. Highway 80 Sunday night, it was reported. Injured in the accident was Sally Brady, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brady of Midland. The child was treated at the Western Clinic-Hospital for a scalp lacera-

Department Store

DALLAS (P) Department store sales in major Texas cities are on the downgrade, reversing a longtime upward trend. The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas' weekly report said Friday: Sales for the week ended April dropped two per cent below the similar 1948 period. For the month ended April 2, sales dropped eight per cent. And for the five-week period ended on the same date, the drop was seven per cent.

In the city-by-city breakdown, the only plus sign showing was in the case of Dallas sales for the week ended April 2 compared with the similar 1948 week-a two per cent gain. Fort Worth and Houston had an eight per cent drop and San Antonio a three per cent fall. For the month ended April 2, compared with the similar 1948 month. the losses were Dallas five per cent. Fort Worth 11, Houston seven, and San Antonio 12.

Lions Band Plays At Hereford Meet

Members of the Midland Lions Club International Convention Band returned to Midland at 3:30 a. m. Friday after playing a Thursday night engagement at a zone meeting of Panhandle Lions at Hereford, Texas. The trip was made Mineola Streets with some damage in a chartered bus which left here resulting to the car. at 1:30 p. m. Thursday.

It was the longest trip made by the popular musical organization with the exception of the jaunt to the Lions International convention in New York City last Summer. More than 250 Lions from the Texas Panhandle attended the Hereford dinner-meeting.

The Rev. Clyde Lindsley, president of the Midland Lions Club was the master of ceremonies for the band's participation on the program. A brief talk on Lionism was made by James L. Daughtery of Midland who is a candidate for governor of District 2-T-2, Lions International.

The band, directed by Carl Hyde, presented a variety program which lasted more than an hour. The vocals were handled by Duke Jimerson, Fred Gordon Middleton and John Biggs.

At the conclusion of the program,

THE CHURCH FOR ALL.

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship.

It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why

every person should citend services regularly and support the Church, They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his meral

and material support. Plan to go to church requ-

Daddy Ringtail By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Getting Even

Red and shiny was the firetruck. It came roaring up the Elephant Path with the siren going. It stopped with a noisy screech of tires and a whirl of dust beneath the very tall tree where Daddy Ringtail's monkey house is in the top.

"Hello there!" said a stupid voice
The voice was from the firetruck. The voice was the Monkey Catcher from the zoo. He had come in his fire truck to talk with Daddy Ringtail, and to get even, too.

"Now, now, Mr. Monkey Catcher!" Daddy Ringtail said and laughed. "Why should you want to get even with me? Why should you want to make me unhappy?" The Monkey Catcher told him. Oh, that Monkey Catcher was al-ways and always trying to catch himself a monkey and take it away to live at the zoo. But every time he caught Daddy Ringtail- Daddy Ringtail always got away. That's what the Monkey Catcher didn't like. He wanted to get even-which means he wanted to make Daddy Ringtail unhappy. The Monkey Catcher reached belittle box. He gave it to Daddy Ringtail. "Daddy Ringtail," said he, "it's a present that's going to help me do my getting even with you." And away the Monkey Catcher drove, back to his zoo, with the fire truck shining and making its shining noise.

Daddy Ringtail watched him go, and then he opened the box that had the present from the Monkey Catcher — the very same present that was supposed to help the Monkey Catcher do his getting even. The present was a telephone to be carried around, but it was a real telephone all the same.

Daddy Ringtail climbed up to the monkey house in a hurry. He told Mother Ringtail about it. "But," Daddy Ringtail asked, "how can the Monkey Catcher think that a phone will make me unhappy? What does it have to do with any getting Mother Ringtail looked at the telephone. It didn't have any wires. Mother Ringtail said: "Maybe it's a phone that won't really talk for But Daddy Ringtail was sure that the telephone was really a telephone with a bell that would ring for people really to talk. He was wondering what getting even had to do with the telephone, and just then the bell began to ring. Daddy Ringtail put the phone VIC FLINT to his ear to listen, but I can't tell you now what it was he heard. Sunday I will tell you that, and Funk & Wagnalls New Standard Fill show you too why no one should try to get even with anybody. Happy day! (Don't worry.) (Copyright 1949, General Features

W. H. Parr, 66, of Burkburnett, one of 11 jurors chosen, became ill overnight, and his physician notified the court he would be unable to continue on the jury. He was in a Wichita Falls hospital. With this development, District Attorney Clyde Fillmore told District Judge Floyd Jones the state would ask a mistrial unless the defense waived the illness of Parr and permitted the selection of another juror.

In this event Fillmore said the state would seek a change of venue. Judge Jones was expected to give his ruling as soon as opposing attorneys had stated their opinions. Only one juror remained to be selected when court adjourned Thursday. The original panel of veniremen was exhausted, and 100 additional veniremen were ordered in an effort to complete the jury Friday.

The trial got underway Monday. Langford, 39, is accused of shooting his former wife, Lafon, to death last January 3.

George K. Harris of Houston. Pioneer Air Lines official, Friday morning surveyed facilities at Midland Air Terminal as a possible headquarters location for the airline should its main offices be moved from Houston. Stanley Erskine, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Aeronautics Committee; Delbert Downing, C. of C. manager, and City Manager H. A. Thomason, accompanied Harris on the tour of inspection. Harris is the kin unit. chairman of a Pioneer committee appointed by company officials to urvey facilities at cities served by the feeder-type airline. He arrived in Midland Thursday. Pioneer Air Lines recently was ordered to vacate its Houston headquarters facilities and the company mmediately started a search for a new center of operations should it be forced to leave Houston.

The Midland Chamber of Commerce promptly issued an invitation for the airline to locate in Midland, and the survey by Harris came as a result of the invitation. Houston civic leaders are attemptng to work out a satisfactory arangement whereby Pioneer will retain its headquarters in that city.

School Bills Left Dangling As Solons Take Weekend 'Rest'

quit work for the week Thursday with the Gilmer-Aikin school bills still hanging fire in the House. In the most decisive action of the day, the House apparently cinched abolition of the elective office of state superintendent. It turned down Rep. Jimmy Horarly's proposal to keep the elective office 76

Jim Taylor's bill, first of the G-A places the superintendent with an appointive state commissioner

The Senate accomplished less than the House so far as disposition of legislation was concerned. It debated the bill to set up a Texas citrus commission for an hour before adjourning until Monday. Ultimate Victory Conceded Ultimate victory for the Gilmer-Aikin reorganization bills has been conceded by many of the opponents, but it looks like a long battle. The initial measure got nowhere fast in the House Thursday.

One amendment was hung on the bill in the face of strong opposition by its backers.

By Rep. Deno Tufares of Wichita Falls, it provides for election of state school board members in the general elections. Seven of the 21 members would be elected every two years, thus giving them six-year terms. The Taylor bill calls for their selection at the local school

Tufares said all state officials should be chosen on the general election ballot. The House agreed
