Truman Lists Reorganization Plans

Creation Of New Cabinet Post Sought

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Monday asked Congress to create a tenth cabinet-rank department—a Department of Welfare—and to put the Commerce Department in charge of public roads.

Reorganization plans—seven all told—were sent to Capitol Hill within a half hour after Truman signed the long-debated reorganization bill giving him broad powers to merge and streamline government agencies, subject to congressional veto.

The Public Roads Administration now is in the Federal Works Agency. Welfare and social security matters are handled by the Federal Security Agency.

All the plans, if permitted to take effect, will carry out reform and economy proposals of the Commission on Government Reorganization headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

The other five would: (a) give the Bureau of Employment Security (jobless pay and job placement) to the Labor Department, (b) reorganize the Post Office Department, (c) enlarge the scope of the executive office of the President, (d) streamline the Civil Service Commission, and (e) strengthen the authority of the chairman of the Maritime Commission.

Under the new law, the plans will take effect in 60 days unless either house of Congress vetoes them within that time by a majority vote of the full membership—49 no votes in the Senate or 218 in the House. Each plan is to be considered separately.

Congressional leaders, after talking with the President Monday, indicated Congress still will be in session when the bills are up on August 19. They also predicted two more reorganization plans will be sent up by the President shortly.

The proposal to create a Welfare Department provides that it take over the duties now administered by the Federal Security Agency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Federal Reserve Board, the Federal Reserve Bank, the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, and the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond.

Other members attending were John P. Butler, vice chairman; H. Winston Hull, secretary, and Barney Greathouse, J. D. Moore, and Frank Smith. The other commission member, Charles Vertrees, is out of the city.

Hogan, in explaining the purpose of the session, said the commission has become more or less a clearing house for subdivision plan recommendations.

He later stated that it seems all controversial matters are referred to the Planning Commission.

Andrews Test Gets Oil, Gas In Permian

Oil and gas shows on a drillstem test indicated prospects of a lower Permian discovery for George P. Livermore, Inc., and Deep Rock Oil Corporation No. 1 A. L. Mayhew, et al, deep wildcat in West-Central Andrews County.

The examination was for one hour and 40 minutes at 8,199-8,255 feet, with a steady blow of air throughout the period. Recovery was 543 feet of heavily oil cut drilling mud and 2,520 feet of free gas in drilpipe. No water developed.

On last report, operators were going in to make more hole. The venture is to drill ahead into the Ellenburger.

It is 1,980 feet from south and 600 feet from east lines of section 20, block A-51, survey, and about 30 miles west of Andrews.

Gaines Wildcat May Drill To 14,000 Feet

Drilling is to be started in a few days on a wildcat in Southeast Gaines County which may be carried to 14,000 feet to explore into the Ellenburger.

The prospector is to be Forest Oil Corporation and Anderson-Pritchard Oil Corporation No. 1-A Farmer County School Land. This exploration was reported several weeks ago. At that time operators had filed an application with the Railroad Commission to dig to at least 8,000 feet to test into the lower Permian.

However, no actual work was started on the venture and it is now understood that since the original filing, arrangements have been made to carry it to the Ellenburger, if it should fail to develop production by the time it reaches 8,000 feet.

That information has not yet been officially verified and it likely will not be formally determined what the actual destination of the project will be until it gets to 8,000 feet.

A contract to drill the wildcat has been let to Zephyr Drilling Company of Tulsa. That concern is now moving in material and is expected to start making hole within a week.

Location is 800 feet from west and 600 feet from south lines of labor 12, league 317, Farmer County School Land survey. That puts it approximately 15 miles southeast of Seminole.

Dollarhide Extension Pay Opener, Offset

An east offset has been staked by Cities Service Oil Company to its No. 1-E Cowden, extension to Devonian production in the Dollarhide area of Southwest Andrews County and discovery for flowing production from the Clear Fork-Permian.

The new exploration will be the company's No. 1-F Cowden. It will be 600 feet from south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 14, block A-52, psi survey.

Princess To Marry Texan

(NEA Telephoto) Princess Cecilie, granddaughter of the late German Kaiser Wilhelm, poses with her fiancé, Clyde Harris of Amarillo, Texas, in the library of her ancestral home in Langen, Germany, after the pair completed wedding plans. Harris, an interior decorator, met the princess as a U. S. Military Government captain just after the war when he was searching for missing German art treasures. They plan to live in the U. East, West Agree

PARIS—(AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers adjourned their conference Monday after reaching agreement in principle on an Austrian independence treaty and on a way of working together in Germany.

After four weeks of negotiations here the ministers virtually agreed not to disagree again until they meet in New York next September. Adjournment came at 8:30 p. m. Paris Time.

A communique for publication at 8 p. m. was released to newsmen. The eight-page document, explaining the details of what was done, outlined draft articles for an independence treaty for Austria and contained a working agreement between the East and West in Berlin.

The four ministers—Britain's Ernest Bevin, America's Dean Acheson, Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky and France's Robert Schuman—went into the bar of the Pink Marble Palace for a sandwich and a glass of champagne as their discussions came to an end. Reporters and photographers were allowed into the palace, scene of the conference, on the last day.

The agreement on Berlin and on resumption of East-West trade in Germany is expected to ease international tension. It is understood that in return for the West's reopening of trade with the East, Russia will issue a statement guaranteeing the West free access to Berlin, preventing another blockade of the city.

Ballet Scenes For Frontier Pageant Are In Rehearsal

Ballet scenes in "Frontiers of Progress," the historical pageant to be presented in connection with the Trail Days celebration, July 1, 2 and 4, at the Midland Fair Grounds, are progressing satisfactorily in rehearsals being held daily.

Mrs. Jack Huff, assistant to the director, said Monday, fifty-three Midland girls will participate in the ballet.

Mrs. Huff said 12 more girls are needed. She urged interested persons to report at the high school gymnasium at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

A graduate of Tulsa University, Mrs. Huff majored in speech and radio and is a past president of Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic fraternity. She has a long record of successful roles in various productions both in connection with her college work and with the Tulsa Little Theater. At Tulsa University she also served as secretary of Pi Kappa Delta, national debate fraternity. Prior to coming to Midland some six months ago, Mrs. Huff lived in Tulsa.

There were 13 cases under treatment at Fort Worth, where there were 27 cases for the year to date. Two have died.

The Valley Polio Treatment Center at Harlingen reported the admission of two polio patients from that area. Two were dismissed from the center Saturday and two more were due to go home Monday.

Eight of San Angelo's polio victims were to be flown in Air Force planes to San Antonio Monday. They will be taken from San Antonio to Gonzales for convalescent care and therapeutic treatment.

Tyler has had three mild cases of polio this year. Rusk County's third case is a seven-year-old girl near Henderson.

Three additional therapists recruited for the San Angelo chapter of the foundation were to start work this week at Shannon Hospital.

Child Lacerated In Attack By Dog

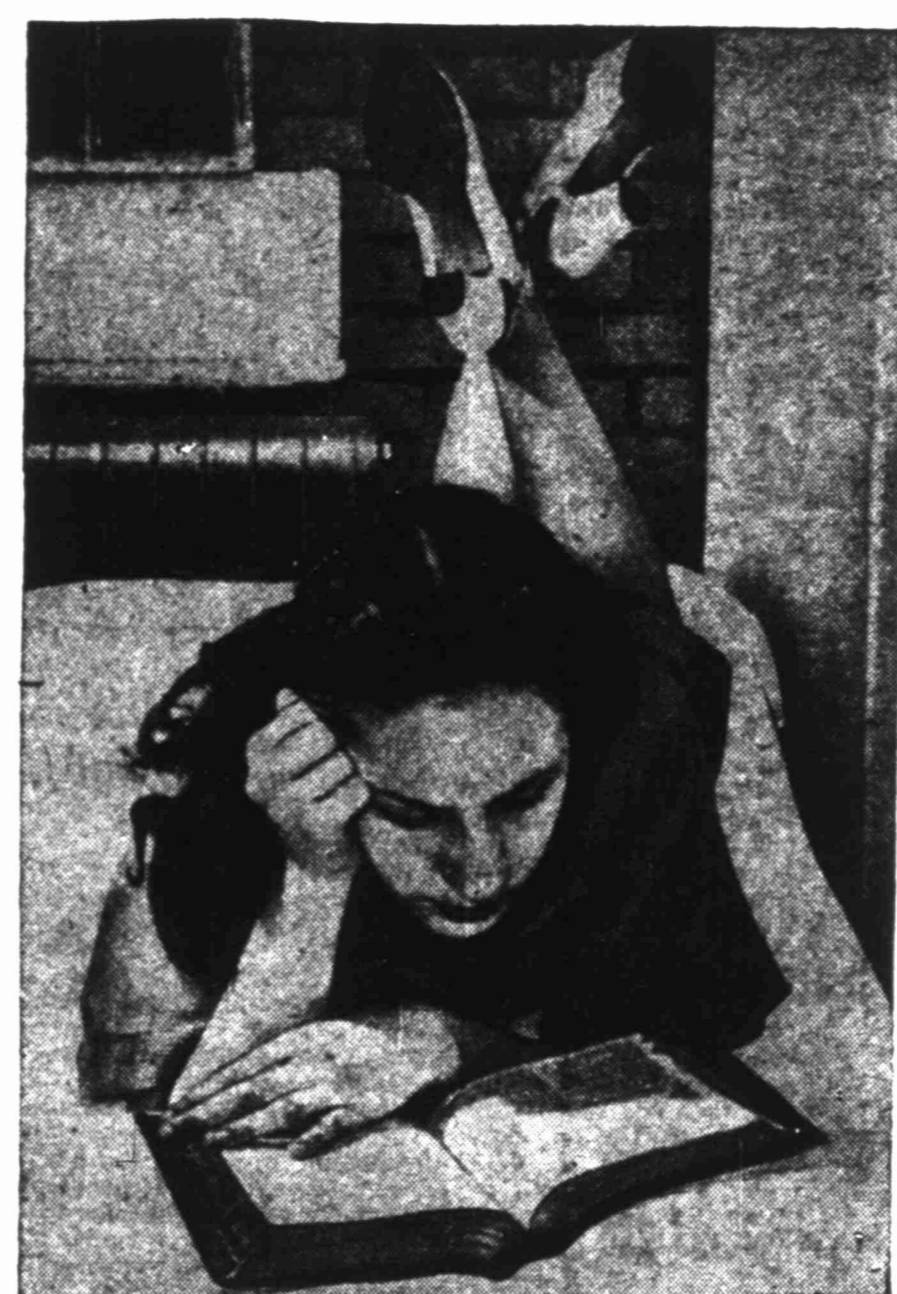

Roger Dale Sehnke, 220 West Kentucky Street, was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital Sunday for face lacerations.

The child was attacked by a dog, according to the hospital report. Several stitches were required to close the wounds.

Mrs. Burton, together with most of the other victims of the night riders, blames the Ku Klux Klan. She said members of the band "were robes with crosses in small circles" and hoods. Their description fits Klan regalia.

Mrs. Burton said the men accused her of running an "indecent place." She denied the charge.

Czech Police Clap Iron Curtain Over Scrapping Prelate

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA—(AP)—The Communist government's Security Police apparently tightened their guard on Archbishop Josef Beran's palace Monday while Catholics weighed the meaning of organized Communist heckling of the prelate at Sunday's cathedral services.

The heckling drove him from his cathedral and prevented him from completing his sermon.

Attempts to talk to the archbishop Monday were foiled by Security Police in charge of the palace reception desk and telephone switchboard.

Shrill Communist interruptions of the archbishop's Corpus Christi Day sermon in St. Vitus Cathedral Sunday brought the long battle between church and state to its highest tension. The archbishop, defiantly resisting Communist efforts to control the church and break the spiritual rule of the Vatican over Czechoslovakia's 9,000,000 Catholics, had to leave the pulpit and return to his palace, already under the watchful eyes of the Security Police.

Whistling, Jeering

The whistling and jeering broke out from demonstrators bunched near the altar as the archbishop began a denunciation of the government's moves against the church. The rest of the congregation, many in tears, burst into a hymn in an attempt to quell the disorder.

The archbishop, pointing from his throne to the hundreds of white-robed, flower-decked children gathered for the celebrations of Corpus Christi Sunday, said: "There are children present. Under the present circumstances it is impossible to conduct mass."

He made no further attempt to speak but left the cathedral, followed by thousands of the faithful. Scores of Security Police in the square which separates the cathedral from the archbishop's residence made numerous arrests during the service.

480,000 Miners Go Back To Pits

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—John L. Lewis' nearly half-million United Mine Workers trooped back to the pits Monday as the UMW's contract negotiations neared the showdown stage.

Just as UMW district leaders predicted, the week-long "stabilization" walkout ordered by Lewis ended on schedule.

It Lewis and the operators can't come to terms it's a foregone conclusion there will be a strike. The bushy-browed leader long has adhered to a "no contract, no work" policy. The contract expires June 30.

CANTON—(AP)—The Chinese Nationalist Foreign Office late Monday officially notified envoys that a blockade was being declared against all ports under Communist control, effective June 26.

Veterans To Cut Insurance 'Melon'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., Monday authorized payment next year of a special $2,800,000,000 dividend on national service life insurance policies.

Gray said he hopes veterans will begin receiving checks "some time in January, 1950," with payment substantially completed in the first half of that year.

The dividend payment has been anticipated hopefully by some economists as a stimulant to purchasing power which might help offset declining business activity.

A premature announcement of the action was put out by VA Sunday, but was recalled because Gray had not yet signed the order. He signed it Monday morning.

About 16,000,000 veterans of World War II will receive the dividends. This would average about $175, but individual calculations have not been completed.

In general, every veteran who took out national service insurance and kept it in force at least three months will be eligible. Where policy-holders have died, the beneficiaries will receive the funds.

Applications Being Prepared

Application blanks for the dividends are being prepared and may be available in August in post offices, veterans' service organizations, and VA offices.

The special dividend will not be paid on policies issued after Jan. 1, 1948. But such policies may participate in some later dividend, Gray said.

The cut-off date—that is, the limit of time on which dividend accumulations will be allowed—is the anniversary date of the policy in 1948.

Nearly 20,000,000 policies were issued, of which 1,215,000 are still in force with a face value of $41,552,000,000. The policies need not now be in force to make the holder eligible for a dividend payment.

Former Buck Private Takes Over Monday As Army Secretary

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gordon Gray, an infantry private seven years ago, took over Monday as the Army's top man.

The North Carolina Tarheel was sworn in as secretary of the Army. One especially interested spectator was Gen. Omar Bradley in whose 12th Army Group Gray, then a lieutenant, served overseas.

Bradley, at present Army chief of staff, and Gray now have adjoining offices and are close friends.

New Klan Floggings Revealed By Victims

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—(AP)—Three new floggings were added Monday to the growing list of acts by hooded terrorists in this area.

They were revealed to newsmen by one of the victims, a widowed mother of five. She is Mrs. Irene Burton, 38, of Dora, Ala.

Two of the daughters, Billie Faye, 18, and Sally, 16, were forced to go with her by the masked band. Both daughters stood beside her on a wooded hillside road as she was struck three times with a rope the night of June 3.

Two men, both seized by the band at the Burton home, also were flogged.

Mrs. Burton, together with most of the other victims of the night riders, blames the Ku Klux Klan. She said members of the band "were robes with crosses in small circles" and hoods. Their description fits Klan regalia.

Mrs. Burton said the men accused her of running an "indecent place." She denied the charge.

Kerr Quits Planning Body In Protest At Oil-Taxing Program

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER

WASHINGTON—Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okl.) plunked down his resignation Monday as a member of the National Planning Association for the South in a fight over oil and gas taxes.

He wrote a letter of farewell following release of the association's major research effort, a plan for the economic well-being of the South, which calls for "heavy" taxes on oil and gas. The report was made public Monday.

"As soon as I read the report, I resigned," said the Oklahoma senator, himself an oil and gas operator. "I have no quarrel with them. I just wrote a letter and resigned after I read the report." He made it clear he disagreed with the petroleum tax idea.

Observers consider this strong action. Senator Kerr has been a member of the committee three years, although it is questionable that he has been an active member.

Major Recommendation

A major recommendation in the 154-page report is for "a heavy severance tax" on oil and gas.

The document explains: "For an adequate program, joint action by several states would be required to levy a tax equal to, perhaps, a large fraction of the value of the oil and gas at the well. Or the federal government could levy the tax and remit it to the states in which production takes place. The revenues should then be earmarked and placed into a special trust fund to be used for economic development.

Latest Wrinkle In Fan Clubs— Now They Write To Secretaries

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood fanmania is getting completely out of hand.

A star's secretary just acquired a fan club!

She's Louise Heising, tall and beautiful, who has appeared in a number of magazine photos with Gene Autry as his secretary for the last five years. Other day Louise received a letter from one Harwell "Tex" Chatwell of Lubbock, Texas, saying he had organized a fan club for her.

Current membership: 60.

Despite her engagement announcement, Elizabeth Taylor's marriage is quite a way off. She won't become Mrs. William Pawley, Jr., until after her 18th birthday next February 27.

Horrifying thought: A 50-cent candy bar designed to last through roadshow-length movies will be displayed soon in theater lobbies.

Time marches on: Darryl Hickman, who played the little brat with Shirley Temple in "Kiss and Tell," will play her boy friend in the sequel, "Kiss for Corliss." Betty Hutton signed to a three-picture deal at M-G-M? She was in for wardrobe fittings for "Annie Get Your Gun," dispelling all rumors that Judy Garland may regain the part. It's a seven-pound son for the Joe Glasons (he's Abbott and Costello's long-time press agent). M-G-M, Warner Brothers and Fox will fight it out with folding money for the screen rights to "Oklahoma!" just put on the market. The final deal is expected to involve a price of around $1,000,000, plus percentages, on a 10-year lease basis.

Margaret O'Brien's awkward problems are a good excuse to revive that story about a movie mother who showed up at a studio casting office with a gangling daughter in tow. The casting director, who expected a tiny tot, expressed surprise and said: "Isn't she a little big for her age?" "Well," wailed the mother, "she IS rather tall. We just couldn't stop her from growing. But we have kept her MIND back!"

Hedy Lamarr is trying to sell practically anyone on doing a film biography of Lola Montez. Mae West has a play based on the same theme. Del Monte sight: Ann Sothern playing golf in ankle-length skirt, floppy hat, long-sleeved blouse and gloves. Reason for the get-up was to avoid sunburn for her next technicolor film. Even ice cream bars wear fausts in Hollywood. Good Humor bars sold by Jack Carson for scenes in "The Good Humor Man" are made up with a plastic cover to keep them from melting under hot studio lights.

Talking about a certain lah-de-dah chorine who married a big bankroll, Arthur Prince said: "I understand she has a library filled with Morocco-bound comic books."

Gregg Sherwood, who left the Broadway musical, "As the Girls Go," because she didn't have a speaking part, was telling some friends that the only time she ever got a chance to ad lib was in the movie, "The Naked City."

"But you played the corpse in that picture," someone scoffed. "I know," admitted La Sherwood, "but in one scene I wigged."

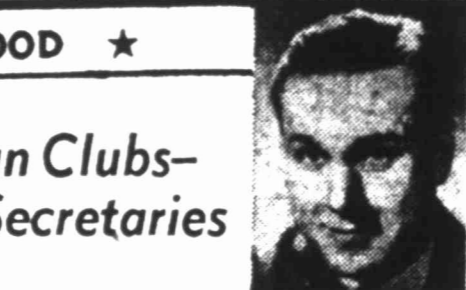

Human, Too
Whenever writers get together over a short beer, the talk turns to the Big Bad Hollywood studios—taking all, giving nothing. Sometimes they are right, some times not. Listen to Story Agent H. N. Swanson:

"One day writer Wilson Collison walked into our office and said: 'M-G-M just made a book of mine called 'Maise.' I hear it turned out well and they plan to make more pictures about the character. They own all rights, but it would be kind of nice,' he added wistfully. If I could get something wherever they use the character."

"We went to see Floyd Hendrickson who for 25 years has been father confessor to the Metro lot in addition to being head of the legal department.

"We explained that this was no hardship case (actually Collison was loaded) but we were putting it entirely on a basis of fairness. He listened gravely. You realize, of course, the author sold out look, stock and barrel. We don't owe him anything—but I'll see what can be done." The studio finally agreed to pay Collison half of the original purchase price for each picture made.

"Collison died soon after, but to date his widow has collected on a dozen sequels. You may call this a pretty little Hollywood Fable, but we feel it is just another time when we heard a corporation's heartbeat."

SIDE GLANCES

"This new couple seem to be nice people, George—the told me they're just as far behind with their light and phone bills as we are!"

★ 'THE DOCTOR SAYS' ★

Adhesions, Internal Fibrous Tissue, May Require Operation

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.

People frequently worry a great deal about "adhesions" without knowing exactly what they are. Perhaps the easiest way to describe adhesions is to say that they are made up of tissue just like that of an ordinary scar on the skin. Technically this is called fibrous tissue. The body tends to respond to any infection or injury by forming fibrous, or scar, tissue. If inside portions of the body are harmed by infection or by injury, similar scar tissue may form and produce adhesions.

For example, if a patient has acute appendicitis and the appendix has been ruptured, spilling the infections into the surrounding tissue, adhesions often will form, which may or may not produce complications later on.

May Need Surgery
Adhesions have a tendency to contract; if they have formed around a loop of the intestines, therefore, they may draw tighter and tighter, thus preventing the free flow of intestinal contents. This, in turn, can produce symptoms and may require an operation to cut these bands of fibrous tissue and free the partly strangled gut.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.

QUESTION: Could abscessed teeth injure the brain and help cause hardening of the arteries?
ANSWER: It is unlikely that an abscessed tooth would infect the brain. I do not know of any reason to believe that abscessed teeth have anything to do with hardening of the arteries.

Much depends on where the adhesions are located, what normal structures of the body they are bound around, and what the effect of this contraction has on the organs involved. For all these reasons adhesions frequently are blamed for vague symptoms which may or may not be responsible.

Obviously diagnosis is often difficult. Sometimes it can be made only after the surgeon has opened the suspected area and can see for himself. When the finger can be pointed at adhesions as the cause of some difficulty, an operation is generally indicated. Because of the origin and nature of adhesions, however, the surgeon cannot guarantee that new fibrous bands will not form at a later date. This is not the rule but it can happen.

Monahans' V-J Day Celebration Gets More Publicity

MONAHANS — "They Haven't Forgotten" is the way T&P Topics employ publication of the Texas and Pacific Railway headlined mention recently of Monahans' annual V-J Day celebration.

The June issue of Topics carries the following comments on Monahans' annual celebration honoring veterans of World War II:

"Monahans, Texas, probably is the only city in the world where August 14 (V-J Day) still is celebrated as a big holiday.

"Since Aug. 14, 1945, when the war with Japan ended, V-J Day has had a special significance in Monahans. This year, as they have since 1945, citizens will close their business establishments and get together for a celebration and a memorial service for West Texas boys who died in the conflict.

"Recently, the Texas Legislature, in a formal resolution, commended this Texas and Pacific community as being 'the only place in the United States that has faithfully, sincerely, loyally, and respectfully observed this date in appropriate manner.'"

Europe Shows Definite Signs Of Recovery

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(AP)—The look of fear has left the fact of Europe. Its peoples are better fed, better clad and more hopeful.

These are a few impressions gained by a group of former war correspondents during a two-week tour of five European countries.

A fortnight on the continent hardly qualifies a poor man's philosopher the pose as an authority on Europe's complex political and economic problems. But a country reflects the collective plight of its individual citizens. And even the most casual traveler cannot help but see the immense betterment of living conditions for Europeans now as compared to the mid-1940's.

The ordinary visitor notes little signs of recovery like these:

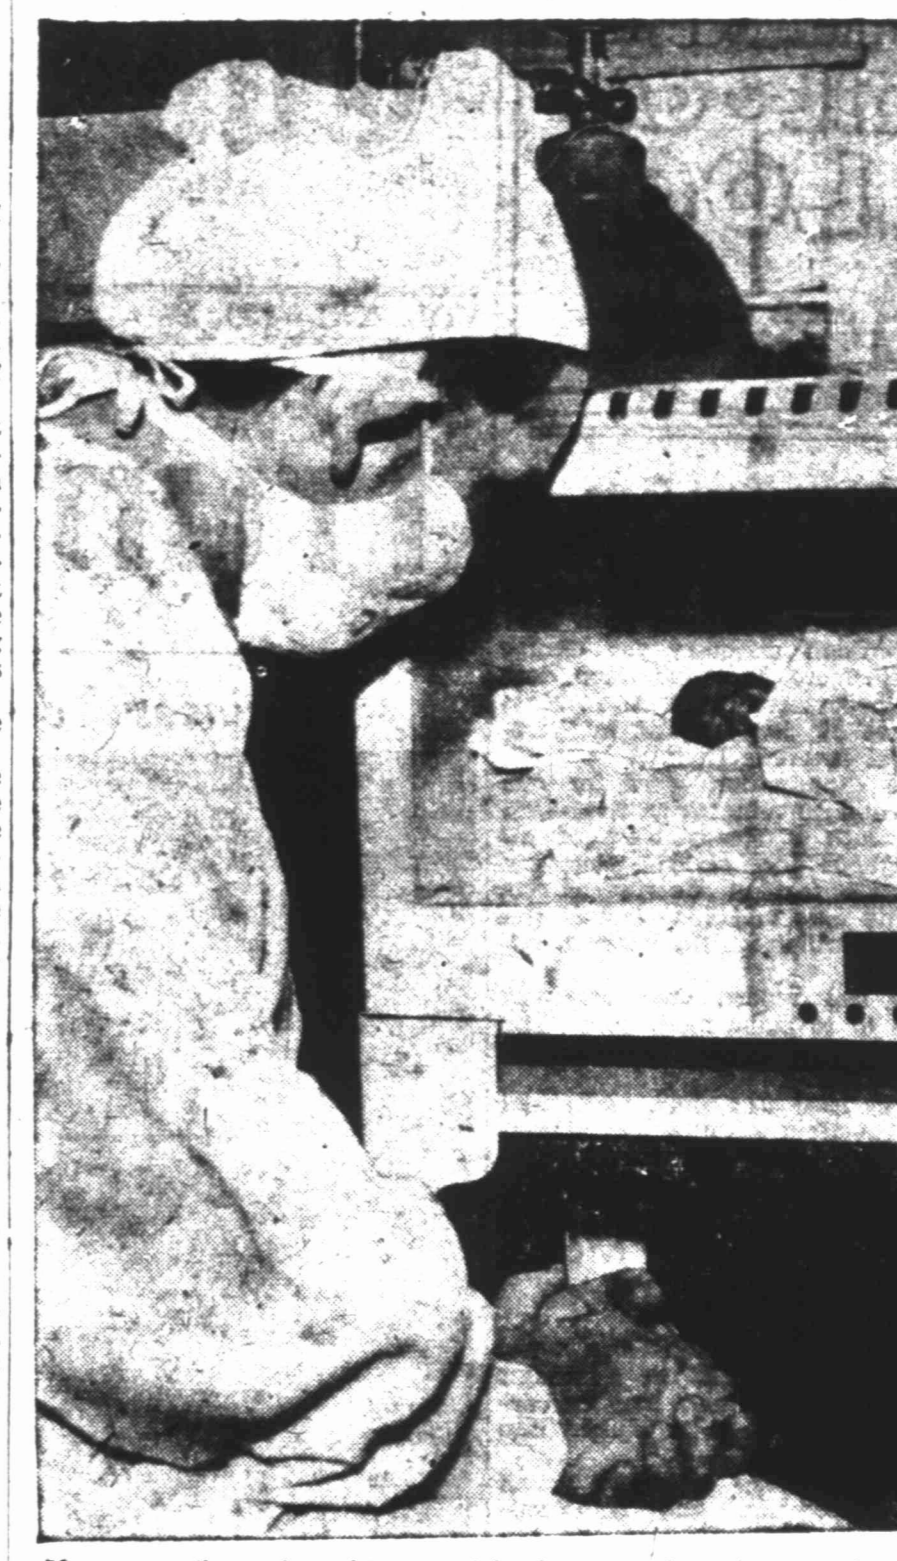

In England: Strawberries on the hotel menu! And a melty substance similar to what is known in the United States as ice cream. It is possible now to get a taxi in London without leaping four feet into the air, cracking your heels together and yelling "Kebl!" at the peak of your lungs.

France: Snaps Back
At a small restaurant in Nizny, France, near the invasion beach landings, the waiter brings a bottle of good wine for 400 francs less than $1.30. Is this possible? Hasn't there been a mistake? No, it is true. History records no example of a French waiter ever making an error in the bill that favored the customer. Cognac is inexpensive also.

In gay Paris it again is possible for a tourist to emerge from his hotel without having both legs broken by rival black marketeers tacking him for the privilege of changing his money. The French franc is so sound the black marketeers have had to go back to work.

The glory of France, its cuisine, is limitless again.

Eight-Ounce Baby A Battler

If your mailman brought you eight letters today, their combined weight would be about what Grace Louise Cotton weighed two days after she was born in Cleveland, Ohio. Tiniest premature baby ever to live a week in Glenville Hospital's 41-year history, Baby Grace arrived three months early. Two days later her birth weight of a pound and six ounces slipped to eight ounces. Fighting for survival she was back to a pound and two ounces a week after her birth and doctors say she has a fair chance. Here her mother, Mrs. Paul T. Cotton, keeps vigil at the incubator in which Grace is fed, changed and given a constant supply of oxygen.

National AAUW Head To Make World Tour

The Midland Branch of the American Association of University Women has notified that the national AAUW president, Dr. Althea Hotel, dean of women of the University of Pennsylvania, will participate in a "Round the World Tour Meeting" and a series of broadcasts which will start July 7 and continue through September.

Starting June 26 from New York, 20 leaders of American organizations, including Dr. Hotel, will accompany the Town Hall staff on an all tour of 12 world capitals, recording discussions with citizens of the various nations on different subjects. These will be broadcast in the weekly series.

Since most of the countries to be visited have organizations of university women similar to the AAUW, Dr. Hotel will visit the leaders to learn of aid which the AAUW may give to university women in displaced persons camps and war-devastated areas.

Graduate Members Of QVV Club Named Honorees At Dance

Honoring the just-graduated members of the organization, the QVV Club entertained the high school set with a dance in the City-County Auditorium Saturday night. The club is a social organization of high school girls.

Members who were graduated from Midland High with the Class of '49 include Guy Guyton, Billie Prothro, Nell Cole, Pat Benedict, LaVerne Estes and Emil Little.

A blue and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations, including the lights, which were blue. The sponsors, the Basin Supply Company, furnished the phonograph for the music.

About fifty couples danced during the hours of 8:30 to 11:30 p. m.

Rehearsal Dinner Precedes Chancellor-Nelson Wedding

Rehearsal Sunday night for the wedding of Phyllis Chancellor and Dick Nelson, which will be solemnized Monday evening in the First Methodist Church, was followed by a dinner in the Blue Room of the Scharbauer Hotel.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Chancellor, Sr., were hosts to members of the wedding party and some out-of-city guests who are here for the ceremony.

White satin wedding slippers filled with pink sweetheart roses were set on a silver-footed mirror platform in the center of the U-shaped table where the dinner was served. Ribbon in a lace design and a long string of pearls were arranged with the slippers.

Side arrangements of the roses in silver bowls alternated with candelabra holding the tapers which lighted the table.

Wedding Participants
The Rev. Howard H. Hollowell is to read the marriage ceremony.

The bride's attendants will be Mary Margaret Reeder of Ardmore, Okla., Grace Baker, Catherine McDonnell and Ann Cleveland, and the flower girl, Nina Miller of Kilgore.

The bridegroom's attendants will be Frank Darden of San Antonio, Tom Nelson of Kilgore, Harold Chancellor and Camden Chancellor. Emily Jean Grissom of Eastland will be the vocal soloist and Homer B. Meeks, Jr., the organist.

Nelson of Kilgore and Stewart Chancellor will light the candles. Ushers will be Jim Irwin and Tom Coit of Dallas, Bill Chancellor, Vic Chancellor and Ken Williams.

Dinner guests from other cities in addition to those in the wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Nelson of Kilgore, Mrs. R. E. Burt of Minden, La., Mrs. C. B. Chancellor and Jane Rees of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Mrs. Allen Miller of Kilgore.

Paisan' Is Story Of Wartime But Not Of Fighting Armies

Although its setting is Italy during the Allied invasion and occupation, "Paisan," the Italian motion picture which will be presented Wednesday and Thursday in the Tower Theater under sponsorship of the American Association of University Women, is not a war film in the conventional sense.

The war is in the background of the film, and serves as the central theme to connect the six episodes which make up the movie, but there is no presentation of war on a vast scale, no concept of armies moving forward in coordinated attack.

Each episode is a story in itself, about men of the American, English, Italian and German armies and the Italian civilians they meet. Each person is shown speaking in his own tongue, so most of the dialogue is in English.

Some of the leading roles are played by GI's with no previous acting experience, and only six in the entire cast were actually professional actors.

A member of the Midland Branch of the AAUW who has seen "Paisan" in another city says that it is far from a grim drama, although it does portray the ultimate irony of war.

Many of the scenes are humorous, and all have familiar aspects to Army veterans who participated in the Italian campaign.

Of the method of filming, the semi-documentary style which has won fame for its director, Roberto Rossellini, the New York "Times" film critic, Bosley Crowther, said, "It is as though the camera were a reporter observing passing episodes, each one an invitation to an elaborated drama if one wished, yet each so completely blending with the character of the general scene that the camera looks upon it dispassionately—and then moves on to the next."

Housing Bill Has Chance

The President's housing program would be buried for the year were it not for a 1949 change in the law-making rules of the House.

In former times, a bill had to clear two barriers to get to the floor for debate. It had to win approval of the committee that studied it, and then be endorsed by the Rules Committee.

This powerful group, set up originally to serve as traffic policemen for all measures, had long since gone into the embalming business. Acting as a sort of super-committee, it interred bills right and left. Seldom did anyone try to combat its decisions.

It was this committee that last year killed major housing legislation, after the Senate had passed it and the House banking committee had recommended.

This season the 1948 story on housing has been repeated in every detail save one. The rules are different.

Responding to taunts that the Rules Committee exercises autocratic power over legislation and can defeat the will of the House majority, Democratic leaders pushed through a new procedure that allows the House undertakers to be by-passed.

Now, when the Rules Committee says "no," the chairman of the interested lawmaking committee may file a discharge resolution with the House. When the resolution has been on the calendar 21 days, it may be brought up. If it is approved, the disputed bill comes to the floor.

That's the new element in the housing story. The Rules Committee turned the 1949 bill down, but Chairman Spence of the Banking Committee had expected this and already had his discharge resolution on file. So the bill gets a new lease on life, and may come up late in June.

Speaker Rayburn, a veteran legislator not given to overstatement, predicts a housing bill will pass at this session. If he is right, it will mark the first major success of the new rule aimed at assuring the majority its proper voice.

Majorities are not always right. They make mistakes. But majority rule is a foundation stone in our way of governing.

We provide devices for correcting the errors of a majority. A bad law may be amended or repealed or superseded by a better one.

Results may not always be perfect. But they outweigh any imperfections that could be dictated by the Rules Committee, a small group of men whose former power felt no tight checkrein from the people.

Whatever the merits of this particular housing bill, it might be a healthy lesson were it to pass the House and go to the President's desk. It would prove to the Rules Committee morticians that their embalming days are over and they better get back to directing traffic.

Hoping It Leaks

The California Institute of Technology has opened a new laboratory in Pasadena that amounts to a "weather factory." To study plant life better, scientists will be able to produce any kind of weather under the sun, including Arctic blasts.

When Washington hears of this, it is likely to order the whole thing transferred down there. In the hope, of course, that some of the wintry by-products can escape from the place and make some sort of impact on the capital's steamy summers.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: American tourists should be good-will ambassadors; late Ambassador Max Gardner planned booklet on U. S. decorum abroad; oil companies are carpeting on Marshall Plan.

(Ed. Note—Part of Drew Pearson's column takes the form of a letter to James Webb, Acting Secretary of State.)

Mr. James Webb, Acting Secretary of State, Washington, D. C. Dear Jimmie:

When your old chief, O. Max Gardner, was preparing to become Ambassador to England, he was working on an idea which you, who were not with him at that particular time, may not have known about. And since Max is now where he can't put his own ideas across, it occurred to me that maybe you would consider helping to put them across for him.

This is the season when thousands of American tourists are sailing for Europe and when Max especially would have wanted his idea to be circulated.

Though Max was departing for our most important of all embassies, he felt that no ambassador was any more important than the rest of the American people. In brief, he thought that every traveling American, whether he likes it or not, is an unofficial ambassador, and as he conducts himself abroad so he builds up good will or ill will for his country.

So Max figured it might be a swell idea to take a leaf out of the Army's book and let everyone getting a passport also receive a little pamphlet on the importance of spreading good will while traveling abroad.

The State Department hands out a lot of other dull visa information with each passport which nobody ever reads. It might as well hand out some human, readable information instead.

GI's were Ambassadors Before the American Army landed in England, every GI was given a small booklet telling him about the English people, reminding him that he was a representative of his country, that whatever he did would reflect on his country.

The Army did an A-1 job of selling the American soldiers on getting along with their Allies and most GI's took the hint. On the whole they were excellent ambassadors for the U. S. A.

I think what Max Gardner had in mind was that an invading army of tourists can be pretty much like an invading army in wartime. Even though we're fighting on the same side or even though we're spending tourist dollars, we sometimes get in each other's hair.

The raucous American tourist who knows all, sees all and wants to tell all, can cause his country more harm than an ambassador can patch up in a week. He thinks that a surfeit of dollars can atone for a deficit of courtesy. On the other hand, the kindly American who is much more typical of this country can create more good will than a paid ambassador, because there are so many of them.

As we all know, getting around in Europe isn't so easy these days. You butt your head against a certain number of slow-moving customs officials, sliik-moving waiters and dollar-greedy hotel managers. And that's why it's all the more important for Americans traveling abroad to be reminded that even though they pay taxes to keep ambassadors plenipotentiary and envoys extraordinary on the job, they themselves can do an equally important job of representing their country abroad.

I realize that some know-it-alls Americans would resent being given this word of advice when their passports are handed out by the State Department. But I don't think they'd resent it if they knew it came from a great human being like Max Gardner who always was thinking about his country first

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

I sat across the table the other night from Martin Block, discussing the Sims-Culbertson match, which was held 14 years ago. We talked about the late P. Hal Sims, probably the most unforgettable character that bridge has ever known.

While economy-at-any-cost senators are chopping off dollars going to Europe under the Marshall Plan, they have overlooked completely the unfair profits rolling back. Of these, the big oil companies alone are gobbling up more than a fantastic profit. What this really amounts to is carpetbagging—at the expense of European recovery and the American taxpayer.

Here are some of the eye-opening ECA figures: It costs the oil companies only 42 cents for a barrel of Saudi Arabian oil. Yet these companies have been charging Marshall Plan dollars $2.20 per barrel for fuel oil. After a great deal of ECA pressure, this finally was reduced to $1.75 per barrel. Yet for the same oil the Navy pays only $1.40 per barrel.

How the Navy is able to buy oil 35 cents cheaper is difficult to understand—particularly because of the short haul from Saudi Arabia to Europe.

However, the probable explanation simply is that ECA isn't permitted to deal directly with the oil companies, merely puts up the cash and leaves it to individual countries to arrange the price.

ECA constantly is hammering at the oil companies, however, to bring their prices within reason. Instead of the usual profit, ECA merely is slapping the oil boys over the wrist in private. As a result ECA has gotten nowhere.

The Senate also might find it more economical to demand more value from the dollars spent rather than to cut appropriations. In that way, Marshall Plan dollars could be stretched much farther.

Note—The Federal Trade Commission also is investigating oil profits under the Marshall Plan—to find out whether the anti-trust laws have been violated.

While he is "in the chips" today, he says it was quite different some 15 years ago, when he was in California. Things were not going so well, so he piled the family into the little Ford and started East. Before he was in New York a week, he was working as a disk jockey. That was where he started his "Make-Believe Ballroom."

Today the original disk jockey is heard all over the world through "The Voice of America," which broadcasts his show every Sunday to let the people of the world know and understand the kind of music America loves.

We both remembered today's hand from the Sims-Culbertson match, so it was the hand which put the Culbertsons in the lead they maintained practically throughout the hundred rubbers, to win the match by 16,130 points.

Culbertson won the opening club lead in dummy with the king and led a heart, which Mrs. Sims won with the ace. The jack of clubs was returned. Culbertson discarded a heart, won the trick in a dummy, and ruffed a club. Now he elected to cross-ruff the hand out and not bother with the spade finesse.

I have underlined the last three cards. The lead was in Culbertson's hand, and he led the jack of hearts, ruffing it in dummy with the ace of diamonds. Mrs. Sims was forced to under-ruff, and now Culbertson had the king and jack of diamonds over Mrs. Sims' queen-three with the lead in dummy. The only trick he lost was a heart.

Housewives Spirits Decline As Meat Prices Continue To Soar

WASHINGTON (NEA Service)—Higher meat prices are getting everybody down again—excepting, of course, the people in the meat business.

Meat prices are just about where they were two years ago and below the peak of a year ago, but the trend for the next few months seems to be upward instead of continuing on down to more reasonable levels.

Department of Labor's consumers' price index for industrial city markets reports a two per cent increase from March to April. National averages showed leg of lamb up from 68 to 79 cents a pound, pork chops up from 74 to 76 cents a pound, round steak up 79 to 81 cents a pound.

Every time a Washington news dispatch is written about a prospective surplus of pork, it brings up complaints from customers all over the country. They say there are days at a time when they can't find any fresh pork in the stores. And as for mutton and lamb, they have now reached the vanishing point in many city markets.

A number of reasons are given by Department of Agriculture experts for what's happening. Principal reason is simply that people are eating more meat. Average U. S. per capita consumption was only 126 pounds a year in 1938. During the war it reached 155 pounds.

Beef consumption rose from 50 to a high of almost 70 pounds per person in 1947. Pork consumption rose from 48 pounds to a high of 80 pounds in 1944. Lamb and mutton consumption alone have held steady at around seven pounds per person.

Consumption for 1949 is expected to be somewhat below these highs, but will total about 146 pounds per person, the same as last year.

Prosperity and the lack of it are the main reasons for fluctuations. The more money people have, the more meat they eat. Recession, unemployment and lowered payrolls reduce meat consumption figures, and prices drop correspondingly.

A second principal reason for high prices is lowered supply. Livestock numbers are down. Anticipating lowered demand after the war, stockmen reduced the number of head on their farms and ranches.

Cattle numbers for dairy cows numbered almost 58,000,000 head in 1944 and 1945, but were down to an estimated 54,000,000 as of last January 1. This is only a slight increase over a year before.

Hogs numbered 43,000,000 head in 1944. As of Jan. 1, 1948, they numbered 55,000,000, with 57,000,000 on Jan. 1, 1949.

Sheep have dropped from 59,000,000 in 1942 to 30,000,000 as of Jan. 1, 1948, and 32,000,000 on Jan. 1, 1949. Land Stocked To Capacity

Gradually the numbers may increase in the next few years. But there are several factors holding back the increase in supply. The western range now is being stocked as heavily as it should be under sound grazing conservation practices. Grasslands were overstocked in the war years and livestock numbers had to be cut down.

In the Midwest, which should be a larger source of meat animals, the demand for grains has been so great that pasture lands have been plowed up and planted. As grain reserve stocks are built up, some of this land should be restored to grass.

The drop in sheep and lamb numbers is due almost entirely to the rise in labor costs. Most western range lands are suitable for either cattle or sheep. But whereas cattle can be turned loose, the sheep require herders for every few hundred head. And the annual shearing requires still more labor which tacks costs money.

Meat exports and imports account for so little as to be a negligible factor in U. S. supply and price situations.

What U. S. livestock numbers should be to meet current and future demands for meat at a fair price, no one is willing to make estimates. It all depends on what the levels of industrial production and consumer purchasing power will be. That is what keeps livestock raisers and meat packers guessing.

Questions and Answers

Q—What breed is the Happa dog? A—The Happa is identical in every respect with the Pekinese except that his coat is short and smooth. It is a very old breed, originating, as did the Peking, in China.

Q—Does a dying person fall forward or backward? A—A person who suddenly dies while standing, whether from a bullet or other cause, almost invariably falls forward. The same is true of a person who faints while standing.

Q—Where was the first permanent settlement in Texas? A—The first permanent settlement was at Yalata in 1682 by the Spanish.

Q—What would cause the appearance in the sky, an hour or so after sunset, of bright red streaks that make it look as if the whole sky were on fire? A—Very high, thin streaks of cirrus clouds, perhaps six to eight miles above the ground. At such an altitude they would remain illuminated with the reddish light of the setting sun long after lower clouds were in darkness.

Q—What is meant by the German Reich? A—Reich is a German word signifying kingdom, empire, state or commonwealth. The empire was the First Reich; the federated republic under Presidents Ebert and Hindenburg was the Second Reich, and the Fascist totalitarian state under Hitler was the Third Reich.

CLIPPED ANGEL By Clive Grierson Cornish

I WAS sitting at the bar in the Golden Room, thinking the thoughts that come to a man after his third rye highball, when somebody thumped me on the back. In the mirror I could see it was Doug Weyman; I restrained that first murderous impulse. "For Pete's sake," Doug shouted, "why didn't you tell me you were back? Here I ring up your office to find out how many more months you'll be away, and they tell me you got in yesterday. I've been chasing you all over. How are you, Mike?"

"Pretty good, Doug. It's been a long time..."

"Darned right it has—three years. Why didn't you look us up when you got out of the Army? What a Bolivia got that we haven't got?"

"Well, it seems there was a tin mine..."

"By gosh, Carol will be tickled to see you..."

glorious creature when you see her?"

He kept glancing over his shoulder as he talked.

The argument seemed pointless so I cut it short. "At my age you get so you can read character at a glance."

"Okey, Sultan, I'll just call you on that. Lamp the gal that's just coming in—the one that looks like Rosalind Russell."

I TURNED around, and I couldn't help staring. "You mean the one that Rosalind Russell faintly resembles?" I said.

The girl was a stunner. Black hair piled over an ivory brow and good clothes worn the way a model would like to wear them. But the arrogant sweep of her walk and the way she held her head was a dead giveaway.

She said hello in a voice that made you want to hear it again. "Didn't I tell you I'd find this fellow in one of our better bars," boomed Doug.

had made me judge the wench too harshly.

"Maybe I'm wrong," I said. "Maybe she's kind to dogs and husbands."

"How'd you like to find out?" Doug asked, with a peculiar smile on his face.

"I don't pick up strange women—much." "Come on," Doug said, "and bring your glass with you. It's all right. I've met her. In fact, she's—uh—a client of mine."

I WAS half way across the room before I realized I'd been neatly framed, and then it was too late to back out. This was the "client" with the special job. Doug had spotted me at the bar, phoned her to come over, and held me till she got here.

There was only one thing, though, that spoiled Doug's little scheme: not for any money or any person would I give up the bottle I had promised myself.

Doug introduced me. "Cory, this is Mike McTag. Mike, Miss Cory Farrell."

She said hello in a voice that made you want to hear it again. "Didn't I tell you I'd find this fellow in one of our better bars," boomed Doug. "Just a hard-rock miner at heart. Comes down from the hills, throws his money around, and then goes back to save up for the next time."

"If you'd been where I've been..."

"Look, children, I've got to run along. He stood up and grinned at Cory. "Do you know what?" he said. "This guy says you are spoiled brat. Show him he's wrong, will you Cory? See you later, folks." And he dashed off to spread sunshine somewhere else.

AWOL Soldier Goes On Trial For Murder

YELLVILLE, ARK. —(AP)—Kenneth D. Speegle, 24, AWOL soldier, went on trial for his life Monday in the slaying of an Arkansas state trooper.

Prosecutor Eugene W. Moore said he would ask the death penalty. Speegle is charged with first-degree murder.

State Patrolman S. V. Pavatt was wounded fatally last September 25 by a rifle bullet fired from a lonely cabin. He was investigating farm burglaries.

While hunting the killer, authorities found the body of Zue E. Crook, retired railroad worker who owned the cabin, buried in a shallow grave nearby.

Papers linking Speegle to the crime were found in a nearby cave. An extensive hunt over the South-west was started for Speegle, AWOL from his Army post at Port Lewis, Wash.

He was arrested about two weeks later near Oklahoma City after a former sheriff recognized him from the days he lived in Berger, Texas. Speegle was charged with the deaths of Pavatt and Crook.

Defendants Resume Efforts, Denials In Famous Spy Trials

By The Associated Press

Defendants took up their tasks of denial and refutation Monday in two of the government's three spy and Communist conspiracy trials.

In Washington, petite, dark-haired Judith Coplon, a former Justice Department political analyst, returned to the witness stand. She is charged with having engaged in espionage against the United States.

Alger Hiss, once a brilliant young State Department career man, opened his defense in a New York court room against perjury charges arising out of a grand jury investigation of prewar Communist spy activities in Washington. Hiss himself was not expected to testify until later in the week.

Also in New York, the conspiracy trial of 11 Communist Party officials resumed after a weekend recess. The 11 men are charged with conspiring to overthrow the U. S. government by force and violence.

Miss Coplon began testifying last Thursday. She insisted she was not disloyal to the United States, never has been a Communist, and never intended to give government secrets to anybody—not even Valentine A. Gubitchev, a Russian engineer with whom she was arrested in New York March 4.

Coplon Denies Everything

She is accused of copying and taking from the Justice Department secret documents relating to department investigations, and with intending to use them in the interests for a foreign power, Russia.

Miss Coplon has claimed documents found in her purse when she was arrested were intended for use in an investigation of Amtorg, the Soviet trading agency, for a book she was writing, and for a civil service examination in which she would have to show samples of the work she did.

She and Gubitchev still face trial on espionage conspiracy charges in New York.

The Hiss trial is 14 days old. The government closed its case against him Friday, a case resting mainly on the testimony of Whittaker Chambers, a former Time magazine editor and confessed onetime Communist courier.

The 44-year-old attorney is accused of two counts of lying: For swearing he did not pass secret government papers to Chambers in 1937 and 1938 to be relayed to a Soviet spy ring, and that he had not seen Chambers after Jan. 1, 1937.

Dates Are Set For Rodeo At Monahans

MONAHANS — Dates for Monahans' first Permian Basin Rodeo and approval of the Permian Basin Rodeo Association as a recognized affiliate of the Rodeo Cowboys Association have been announced by Secretary Hoyt Wilder. The organization's first rodeo will be held July 27-30.

The RCA approval carries with it assurance that points earned in the Monahans Rodeo will count toward winning championship awards at the end of the year and give credence to the billing of the show as a "world's championship" rodeo event.

At the same time the cowboy association also approved awards to be given locally for rodeo events, including $500 for each saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, and bull riding. The total purse is $2,500.

MIDLANDER NAMED TO ORGANIZATION BOARD

LOS ANGELES—The Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Midland, Texas, has been appointed to serve on the representative roster of Spiritual Mobilization, according to an announcement by Dr. James W. Piffard, Jr., founder and director of the organization.

Spiritual Mobilization Dr. Piffard said, is a Christian crusade for freedom, and a protest against the pagan collectivism of communism, socialism, facism, and statism, creeping so rapidly into the American way of life. These anti-Christian and anti-American trends it seeks to suppress through an aroused clergy.

Feller Hurls Indians To 4-2 Verdict Over Yanks

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Feller is up to his old tricks again—engaging in his favorite pastime of making the baseball experts eat their words.

It was only a couple of days ago the tub-thumpers predicted, for the umpty-umfth time, that the erstwhile great Cleveland pitcher was through—finished as a winning hurler.

He stilled them Sunday with a brilliant 11-inning pitching performance as the Indians defeated the New York Yankees 4-2. Feller allowed six hits, only one in the last seven innings.

Aided by homers by Ted Williams and Dom DiMaggio, each with two mates aboard, the Boston Red Sox walloped the Chicago White Sox 9-2.

The second-place Detroit Tigers, behind the superb pitching of Virgil Trucks and Fred Hutchinson, shut out the Washington Senators in both ends of a doubleheader 9-0 and 7-0.

Philadelphia and St. Louis divided a doubleheader, the Athletics winning the first game 8-2 and the Browns taking the second 7-3. Chuck Diering's ninth-inning single scored Lou Klein with the run that gave the second place St. Louis Cardinals a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia.

Johnny Schmitz pitched the Chicago Cubs to an 8-2 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Boston Braves regained third place from the Phillies by taking both ends of a doubleheader from the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 and 3-2.

The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the New York Giants 9-4.

Waitkus' Condition Continues Improved

CHICAGO — (AP) — Philadelphia Baseball Player Eddie Waitkus continued to improve Monday.

Waitkus was shot and wounded seriously last Wednesday by a 19-year-old brunette typist. The shooting occurred in the hotel room of Ruth Ann Steinhausen, who said she had a "crush" on the first baseman.

Illinois Masonic Hospital attendants said the 28-year-old ball player's condition Monday is "good," adding that he spent "a pretty good night" Sunday night.

Cary, Lloyd Split Top Money In Motor City Open Tourney

DETROIT—(AP)—Cary Middlecott and Lloyd Mangrum headed home-ward with $2,250 each Monday after playing all even in a unique sudden death tournament extra.

The two were tied at 273 at the end of the regulation 72 holes of the four-day Motor City Open golf competition Sunday.

Then they set out on the sudden death playoff that went 11 thrilling holes before it was called by mutual agreement with the two splitting the championship and the $2,900 and $1,900 first and second prize money.

Local golfing authorities said it was the first such overtime match in a PGA tournament here since the first time there had been co-champions in any PGA bigtime event.

Lou Dawson Bats In Four Big Runs

The Midland Indians, with Ralph Blair on the mound, open a two-game series with the Vernon Dusters at Indian Park Monday night. Starting time will be 8 p.m.

The Indians will be at home for six games this week. Rowell follows Vernon here and Odessa's Oilers will be back Friday and Saturday.

Ernie Nelson threw nothing but goose eggs at the Odessa Oilers Sunday afternoon and took his second shutout of the season by a 6 to 0 score. The little left-hander was stingy with the base hits, too, allowing only five to the "McCoy's" from the West.

Nelson scattered the base hits mighty thin, allowing only two in any one inning. Heads-up ball by Lou Dawson helped Nelson out of the hole then.

"Showboat" Jim Carson started on the mound for Odessa and couldn't get a man out. The Indians jumped on him for three runs in the first inning.

Rose and Sitter were issued free tickets to first by Carson and Lou Dawson doubled them home with the first two runs. Carriel Nipp singled to drive Dawson to third. Exit Carson and in came Howard Hesse. Julian Pressley drove in Dawson with the third run.

Wild Sireak
Hesse hit a wild streak in the third inning and walked Sitter and Dawson to open the frame. Nipp sacrificed Sitter to third and Pressley batted him in with a long fly to the outfield.

The Indians added their insurance in the seventh. Marty Filigamo got on by an error and Kenny Jones bunted safely on a sacrifice. Nelson walked to load the bases and Lou Dawson knocked in the two runs.

Texas League—

Fort Worth Cats Gain First-Place Tie With Eagles

By The Associated Press

Two of the hottest sports rivals in the nation, Dallas and Fort Worth, are deadlocked Monday for top honors in the Texas League race.

Dallas dropped an 8-7, ten-inning decision Sunday night to Beaumont. Fort Worth downed third-place Shreveport 5-3 to climb into a first-place tie. It is the first time since the first week in the season Dallas has had company in first place.

Fifth-place Tulsa edged fourth-place San Antonio 5-4 in the first game of a double-header and capped the nightcap 9-5.

Houston and Oklahoma City split a twin bill. Houston won the opener 12-6. Oklahoma City took the second game 7-2.

Beaumont downed Dallas on Gene Herbert's home run with none on in the top of the tenth frame.

Fort Worth tallied five runs in the first frame and never was headed by Shreveport.

Tulsa ran its win streak to nine Sunday night.

Houston piled up eight tallies in the first three innings to win an easy victory in the opener with Oklahoma City.

In the nightcap, Al Olsen's hurling and the hitting of Rip Russell gave Oklahoma City the contest.

Russell hit a two-run homer in the second frame.

John L. Sullivan James J. Jeffries Bob Fitzsimmons Jack Johnson James J. Corbett Gene Tunney Jack Dempsey Joe Louis

All of these fighters have held the heavyweight championship of the world in the past. Some of them were great and some of them were sensational. However, all of them had in their grasp boxing's number one prize when they held the belt. Joe

Jumpers Slow On Return To Former Duties In Majors

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK — (AP) — Two weeks after Commissioner A. B. Chandler's edict forgiving all Mexican League jumpers, only two of the score of reinstated players have reclaimed their old baseball jobs in the majors.

They are Lou Klein, St. Louis Cardinal infielder who is filling in for the aching-back Marty Marion at shortstop, and George Hausmann, who has taken over second base for the New York Giants.

A half-dozen other athletes granted amnesty expect to return to organized baseball in the next few days.

The rest appear temporarily stymied—either they don't want to come back or there's no "welcome" mat out for them.

Mickey Owen, the onetime Brooklyn catcher who spearheaded the movement to have the five-year bans lifted, said he planned to join the Dodgers Tuesday in Cincinnati.

The 33-year-old receiver added that he's just been waiting for a replacement on the Winner, S. D., club where he has been playing semi-pro ball.

Also headed for the Dodgers is Luis Olmo, who has been playing outfield for the Pastora club in Venezuela. The Venezuelan Baseball Commission has authorized Olmo's release and he expects to join Brooklyn by next Saturday.

Pitchers Coming Back

In Canada, two former "outlaw" pitchers—Fred Martin and Harry Feldman—announced they would return to U. S. baseball jobs shortly.

Martin, former St. Louis Cardinal righthander, said he planned to report to the Cards' Manager Eddie Dyer. Feldman, the onetime New York Giant who has been given his outright release by the New Yorkers, said he would go to either Seattle or San Diego in the Pacific Coast League.

Martin's old mound mate, Max Lanier, still is balking. He says

Texas' First NCAA Tennis Tournament Gets Going Monday

AUSTIN — (AP) — An army of youngsters fired away Monday in opening rounds of the storied National Collegiate Athletic Association tennis tournament.

A dozen courts were being utilized for the 76 contestants from 33 colleges. Only two of the top-seeded players were in the first 12 matches that comprised the opening round as the field was cut to 64.

The second round of 32 matches finds Victor Seixas, Jr., of North Carolina, twice NCAA runner-up, and seeded No. 1 this year, swinging into action.

Herb Flam, UCLA's ace who is seeded No. 2, and James Brink of Washington, No. 10, were in the opening round.

The first national collegiate tournament ever held in Texas drew entries from these Texas schools: Baylor, Trinity University, Texas Christian, University of Houston, Prairie View, A&M, Rice, Southern Methodist, Texas.

Its Life-Span

Has Never Been Measured!

White sidewall tires available at additional cost.

Now and then, a person who is about to take delivery of a new Cadillac inquires as to the period of time he may logically anticipate using it.

Our answer is that we do not know—for the life-span of a Cadillac car has never been accurately measured.

There is evidence in abundance that, with proper care and reasonable usage, the life of a Cadillac is far beyond all normal requirements.

Recently, for instance, four Cadillacs of the 1942 series were retired from the testing fleet of one of the great tire manufacturers. These four automobiles had then traveled a total of 2,599,413 miles—an average distance of almost 650,000 miles per car.

None of them was retired for disability. Each went into general service after leaving the testing fleet.

Yes—you can look forward, when you buy a Cadillac, to almost any period of ownership you may eventually desire.

But, of course, the endurance of a Cadillac is only half the story. The manner in which the car performs is equally vital to the owner's satisfaction.

Not only can you keep a Cadillac for a long, long time—but your enjoyment of it will likewise endure throughout the years.

Daddy Ringtail

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Water Pucker

Pattycake was the little monkey girl whom Daddy Ringtail tried to take care of as though she were his very own. One day Pattycake had the sniffles.

"Oh me! Oh me!" He said. "Oh me!" every time Pattycake sniffled. Finally he pulled a big leaf from a tree and held it up to Pattycake's nose.

When Pattycake's sniffles had stopped, Daddy Ringtail said, "Pattycake please don't catch a cold. It looks as though you might be going to catch one. Now you mustn't play in the water today. Don't go anywhere near the river. Promise?"

Well, Pattycake said she would stay away from the water, because she would promise anything Daddy Ringtail wanted her to promise. But when Daddy Ringtail walked away, and she was by herself, she forgot about her promise. She went down to the river and made pattycakes out of the mud—nice gooey pattycake mud cakes.

Pattycake was gone a long time, playing in the water and mud. Once she remembered her promise not to get wet, and so she was careful not to get mud on her dress or to fall in the river. But when she got back to the monkey house, Daddy Ringtail said: "Pattycake, let me see your hands."

Pattycake held up her hands. She was sure that her hands were not muddy because she had washed all the mud off very carefully. But "Ooh!" she said when she saw them. Her hands were all wrinkled and puckered.

The puckers were water puckers—the kind you get on your hands when you've had them in the water too long. And so Daddy Ringtail knew that Pattycake hadn't stayed out of the water as she had promised. Patty knew that Daddy Ringtail knew it. She was so ashamed that her face turned red. And that's one trouble with not keeping promises. Someone always finds out, and then how ashamed we are! Oh, but happy day! And happy keeping promises, too. Yes, and tomorrow look for a happy adventure with Daddy Ringtail and Drums Along the Elephant Path.

by Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing. Ewing, if he then holds the job, would become a cabinet member as secretary of welfare.

In greater detail, the other five reorganization plans would:
1. Transfer the Bureau of Employment Security, now in FSA, to the Department of Labor. The bureau deals with unemployment insurance and job placement.
2. Post Office Reform
This plan also transfers to Labor the functions of the Veterans Placement Service Board and abolishes that board.

Empower the postmaster general to reorganize the post office. He would take over authority now lodged in subordinate officers and agencies of the department.

The plan provides for four assistant postmaster generals but drops the designations "first," "second" and so on. It abolishes the offices of postal controller, purchasing agent and the Bureau of Accounts.

Transfer the National Security Council and the National Security Resources Board to the President. These agencies now report to the President but are more like independent agencies.

Make the chairman of the U. S. Civil Service Commission the boss of all its executive and administrative affairs, while leaving policy questions to the bi-partisan three-member commission.

Make the chairman the chief executive and administrative officer of the U. S. Maritime Commission. He would take responsibility for appointment of its personnel and the direction of their activities.

Legislature Hurries Toward Adjournment

AUSTIN —(P)—Speaker of the House Durwood Mansford said he would call for a report late Monday on the status of the big money bills being worked on by conference committees.

Mansford's announcement came after Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio asked: "Will you call for a report on the status of the money bills so the House can act intelligently on a sine die (final adjournment) resolution?"

It was understood a resolution already passed by the Senate setting June 28 as the date for the session to end probably would be acted on by the House Rules Committee Monday. The question was expected to reach a House vote Tuesday.

The House refused permission for introduction of a 25 million dollar building program plan. The House also approved on second reading a proposed constitutional amendment requiring that the state levy the full 30 cents ad valorem tax in 1949 and 1950 and give all the funds back to the counties.

The vote was 87-26, short of the 100 votes required for final passage. The measure will get another chance next week.

The Senate dragged through another corner of argument on the bill to provide a multiple textbook list selection system for elementary schools.

ed the sewerage and disposal plant problems, agreeing that something must be done promptly to provide improved disposal plant facilities.

The present plan was designed to serve a city of approximately 5,000 population. Hogan said the "primary treatment" plant, Hogan said, the present plant cannot properly handle the load and that a critical situation exists at the sewer farm southeast of the city.

A lengthy discussion also was held on the drainage problem. The City Council, at its last meeting, asked the commission to study the problem and to employ an engineer to prepare a master drainage plan.

The commission agreed it should have full authority to handle the matter before tackling the problem which again came into prominence following the recent flash flood which inundated low areas of the city.

Much thought must be given the matter before action is taken, the members said. They agreed that an underground system of draining is not practical and that the water must be diverted in some manner.

The city's drainage pattern now is being established by the paving program, the members indicated. The matter largely is an engineering problem, Hogan said.

The members agreed no definite steps should be taken by the commission until after the joint meeting with the council.

Officer's Wife Tells Story Of Kidnaping

McALLEN, TEXAS —(P)—The Red Cross is caring for a retired Army officer's wife who turned up here after having been reported missing from her home at Durango, Mexico, since March 18.

She is Mrs. Cynthia Kernan, who came across the international bridge from Reynosa, Frida: night.

Friends of the family said she had been ill since her son, Benjamin, was killed in an aviation accident at Wright Field last November.

She told officers—and repeated her story Sunday night to reporters—that two men kidnaped her the night of March 17.

She gave officers her name as Mrs. Kernan, her age as 40, and her husband's name as Col. Harold Kernan, retired U. S. Army officer.

Servants at Durango, some 400 miles from here, said she walked away from her home March 18. Friends there said her departure was "entirely voluntary."

She told reporters two men grabbed her as she walked down the street to mail a letter the night of March 17. They threw a blanket over her, said she, put her in a car and took her to a rough ranch house.

After several days, Mrs. Kernan said, she was taken by plane to another ranch house. She said she got away about a week ago in a jeep from the ranch house and drove it north until it ran out of gas. Then, she said, she walked and caught rides into Reynosa.

ing and after the interrupted services. No reason for the arrests could be learned.

The archbishop was interrupted in his sermon just as he told the congregation the new government-sponsored Catholic Action Organization was not "real Catholic action" and the government-sponsored Catholic newspaper was not "a Catholic newspaper."

Apparently the hecklers, who went into action at this point, feared the prelate was starting a bristling attack such as the pastoral letter smuggled out of his guarded palace Saturday and read Sunday in scores of churches throughout the country at morning masses.

This letter told the faithful the time for decision had come and denounced Communist opponents of the church as "wolves in sheep's clothing who are attempting to crush religious freedom."

It said the archbishop would not tolerate "setting up come and do in church institutions and establishments of action committees in Catholic congregations."

Set Own Houses In Order, Speaker Tells Governors' Meeting

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—(P)—A freshman Democratic governor—Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois—said Monday that all government costs too much and the states had better set their own houses in order before quarreling about federal aid.

Stevenson told a reporter he does not agree with some of his Governors' Conference colleagues in demanding greater control over the spending of U. S. money.

"Government is too expensive at levels," he said. "We need economy from the township up to Washington. But until we can do a better job in government at local and state levels we ought not to be demanding federal interference at the same time we are asking for more federal funds."

The 41st annual Governors' Conference, beginning its official sessions Monday, has before it a proposal for a 20 per cent cut in federal aid grants to states—to be made up by increased state tax collections from theater admissions, gasoline sales, electric and telephone service. If the federal government would withdraw from those fields, Gov. James H. Duff, Pennsylvania Republican, has complained about too much Washington interference in administering relief and other programs.

Gov. Earl Warren, California Republican, said he doesn't think federal aid can be cut until some definite agreement is reached to give the states a bigger bite of tax collections.

"When you get down to cases and try to decide who is going to give up what in the way of taxes, that's when the difficulties begin," he told a news conference Sunday.

Trail Days Program Heard By Kiwanians

The importance of Midland's Trail Days Celebration as an area-wide Fourth of July weekend attraction was explained by Reagan Legg, executive chairman of the July 1, 2 and 4 event, in an address before the Kiwanis Club Monday noon in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Schaeffer. He was introduced by L. A. Bartha, program chairman, Vice President Albert Kelley presided.

"If Trail Days is to become what we want it to be, it will take the full cooperation of every individual citizen," Legg said in urging the support and cooperation of the Kiwanis Club and its individual members.

He termed the celebration and the "Frontiers of Progress" pageant, which will feature the speaker, the biggest and most colorful ever staged in West Texas.

The romance of West Texas and the glorious history of Midland will be depicted by the 500 persons appearing in the pageant, he stated. He reviewed briefly the history and growth of Midland.

He explained that although the spectacular attraction is sponsored and underwritten by the Lions Club, it is a community-wide event.

Legg said the special events planned in connection with Trail Days.

Ben Kruger was installed as a new member of Kiwanis by H. F. Ezell.

The attendance award was won by Clifford C. Cool.

Sunray To Complete North Snyder Test

Sunray Oil Corporation was preparing to complete its No. 3 Brown well, the second producer on the extreme south end of the North Snyder field, about two and one-half miles south of the original pool.

The prospector was bottomed on 6,806 feet with pipe set at 6,500 feet. Tubing will be run to complete from the open hole.

Top of the Canyon reef of the Pennsylvanian was called at 6,400 feet, on an elevation of 2,464 feet, which makes it about 100 feet high to the same company's No. 1 Brown, opener of the south part of the field, and one quarter of a mile to the west.

Location is 467 feet from north and 860 feet from east lines of tract 8, section 20, J. P. Smith survey.

APCO Running High At Andrews Wildcat

Running high to nearby dry hole Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation is drilling ahead with its No. 1-D University, extreme East-Central Andrews County wildcat, six and one-half miles north of the Mabee field.

Last report had it below 4,838 feet in Grayburg-Pembury lime. The Grayburg is 4,500 feet. Elevation is 2,948 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from southwest and 660 feet from southwest lines of section 38, block 7, University survey.

Negro Singer Hurls Taunts At America, Praise At Russians

NEW YORK —(P)—Paul Robeson, addressing a welcome-home rally shortly after seeing his son wed a white girl, declared Sunday night he loves the "Soviet people more than any other nation."

The negro singer told a Harlem audience of 3,500 he loves the Russians "because of their suffering and sacrifices for us, the negro people, the progressive people, the people of the future of the world."

Robeson, just returned from a tour of the Soviet Union and Europe, said he would "defy and part of an insolent, dominating America to challenge my Americanism."

The Harlem rally was sponsored by the Council of African Affairs, a group listed by Attorney General Tom Clark as subversive. Robeson told the crowd that in Paris he had said "it was unthinkable the negro people of America or anywhere else in the world could be drawn into war with the Soviet Union."

"I repeat it with hundredfold emphasis. They will not," he declared.

Robeson addressed the rally after attending the wedding of his son, Paul Robeson, Jr., 21-year-old electrical engineer, to Marilyn Paula Greenberg, 21.

They were married by a Protestant clergyman in an apartment house. A crowd of several hundred persons gathered outside, and some in the crowd booed as the wedding party left the building.

Tentative top of the Ellenburger was called on 7,810 feet. Samples of that formation are said to have shown slightly fluorescence.

Senate Nears Vote On Key Issue Of Strike Handling

WASHINGTON —(P)—The Senate labor law debate edged Monday toward a series of key test votes on how to deal with strikes imperiling the national welfare.

Senate leaders hoped for a showdown by nightfall on that issue. It is regarded generally as a key issue because the outcome is expected to point up pretty definitely for the first time the voting strength of:

(1) Those in the Senate who want to get rid of all or most of the Taft-Hartley Law, and (2) those who want to preserve most of it.

As the third week of labor legislation debate began, nearly all senators in that second group were backing a proposal by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) which would keep the Taft-Hartley provision for injunction against critical strikes.

Senators in the other group—those opposed to the Taft-Hartley Law—are far from being agreed on an alternative to the Taft-Hartley injunction, a provision the labor unions hate.

But the plan which appears to have the most support in that camp is one by Senators Douglas (D-Ill.) and Aiken (R-Vt.). It would let the government select plants for up to 90 days.

Johnson Reported Agreeable To Slash In Defense Spending

WASHINGTON —(P)—Secretary of Defense Johnson was reported Monday to have told senators defense spending can be trimmed by $750,000,000 in the 12 months starting July 1.

Members of the Senate Appropriations Committee said Johnson told them behind closed doors this could be done mainly by cutting back the future size of the Air Force from the 70 groups proposed in Congress to the 48 urged by President Truman.

The senators had called Johnson for testimony on the $15,900,000,000 armed forces money bill passed by the House.

Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) of the subcommittee considering the bill has said he hopes at least $1,000,000,000 can be trimmed from it. He called defense officials back Monday for more closed-door testimony.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said in a radio interview Sunday, "Unless some new situation evolves we may get by for $14,500,000,000 or $14,600,000,000 at the outside" in defense spending for the coming fiscal year.

With the new fiscal year starting in less than two weeks, Congress has passed only one of the appropriations needed to keep government agencies operating.

At least 10 bulky bills must be handled at an average rate of three to four billion dollars a day between now and July 1 if Congress is to meet the fiscal year deadline. When it fails to do that it sometimes rushes through stopgap authority allowing government agencies to keep going until the regular money bills are approved.

Congress Will Study Conflicting Reports On Nation's Jobless

WASHINGTON—Two national surveys agree the nation soon may have 5,000,000 or more jobless, but they disagree on what happens next.

In reports published over the weekend, the Public Affairs Institute warned, "Nothing in sight indicates a halt in unemployment trends." The American Federation of Labor declared, "A serious business recession is almost impossible."

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), also in a weekend statement, said the situation is confused and Congress will study it.

The Public Affairs Institute predicted 8,000,000 workers will be out of jobs a year from now unless the federal government steps in to give business a boost.

The institute recommended tax cuts for the low and middle income brackets, emergency public works, hard-hat program, revival of the civilian conservation corps, and other federal actions to reassure and stimulate business.

AFL Finds Prospect Good

The AFL looked over the economic outlook in its magazine, "Labor's Monthly Survey," and found the prospect good. It acknowledged there are some dangers, however, and said policies of unions, management and the government right now are "all important."

It said wages should keep moving upward to increase consumer buying, but suggested increases be based on increases in productivity. It urged unions to cooperate with management in cutting out waste and bringing down expenses.

The AFL warned this is no time for government, management, or unions to start any tinkering that might bring on inflation again.

Senator O'Mahoney announced that the Senate-House Economic Committee, of which he is chairman, will study employment and investments.

"While unemployment has increased slightly during the first part of the year," he said, "at the same time the latest figures show that total civilian employment in May of this year was 58,694,000—a larger number than in any previous month in 1949 and larger than the employment figures a year ago in May, 1948."

The senator said May unemployment figures can be explained in part by the fact that the nation's total labor force has increased almost 2,000,000 since the first of the year.

Posters such as these are seen throughout Britain in factories and office buildings, posted by the British government to stress U. S. aid through the ERP. Emphasizing the need for self-help to bring England out of its economic doldrums by 1952, when ECA aid ends, the labor government has used press, radio, movies and pamphlets to assist in the drive.

13 Or More Persons Die Violent Deaths In Texas' Weekend

By The Associated Press

Thirteen persons died violent deaths within Texas' borders during the weekend. Two Texans died outside the state, and two Mexicans were feared drowned in the Rio Grande.

A head-on collision near Marfa took the biggest toll—five. Two other persons died in traffic accidents. Two persons were known drowned, and two brothers suffered fatal burns. Two negroes were shot to death.

Killed in the crash near Marfa were Mrs. G. H. Robinson of El Paso and David Contreras, Matiaz Salgado, Mariano Jiner and Ernest Miller, all young residents of the Big Bend town.

Turner Snyder of Roscoe was injured fatally when the car he was riding in overturned late Friday near Roscoe.

Cpl. Doyle H. Hickey, 32, of Russell, Ark., was killed in an auto collision near Houston Saturday.

Drowns In Brazos

Lennie Ray Miller, 26, of Dallas stepped off a sand bar and disappeared in the Brazos River Sunday before he could be saved. He had been swimming near Waco.

Pvt. Charles Constantino of Providence, R. I., drowned Saturday in Salado Creek near Fort Sam Houston, where he was stationed.

James R. Trout, nine, was burned fatally Friday night when he ran into his blazing home at Grand Prairie in a futile attempt to save "my baby brother." The six-month-old brother was found dead in his crib.

S. V. Brooks, 54-year-old negro, was found shot to death in a parked car in Dallas. Police arrested a young woman.

At Grand Prairie, in the midst of an Emancipation Day celebration, Albert Holloway was shot to death by a cafe operator who gave himself up and said Holloway had threatened him with a shotgun.

Dies In Oklahoma

Mrs. Della Darter, 25, of Fort Worth drowned in a creek near Ardmore, Okla., Sunday while trying to rescue her seven-year-old son. The boy was saved moments later by a fisherman.

Bob Kelley of Mineola, Texas, was decapitated by a train at Texarkana, Ark., Saturday night. He was an extra employe working as a brakeman for the Texas and Pacific Railroad.

Two young Mexicans disappeared late Friday night in the Rio Grande near Laredo. A third man, Jorge Velasquez, 24, said the three were crossing the river when his companions stepped into a hole. They yelled for help and vanished, he said.

Don't See Eye To Eye

Brown-eyed Priscilla Tomlinson, of Seattle, Wash., and blue-eyed Hugh Gardner, of Missoula, Mont., fellow students at the University of Washington, have a long-standing argument: "Will a blue-eyed mother and a brown-eyed father have children with blue or brown eyes?" Priscilla says blue-eyed children will predominate. Hugh says brown-eyed children will predominate. There was only one way to settle the argument and they took it. They agreed to get married.

Heads Campaign

Walter G. Lacy, Jr., Waco banker, has been appointed general state chairman of the Baylor Stadium Campaign. Dr. W. R. White, president of the university, announced the appointment.

Stray Dog Pickup Drive Intensified

An intensified program for the pickup of stray dogs with or without tags, began Monday morning according to City Manager Henry A. Thomason. "A city ordinance provides for dogs to be on a leash or in an enclosure and this will be enforced," he added.

All dogs in the city were required to be inoculated against rabies and the deadline for this was Monday. Dogs without these requirements are subject to impoundment.

Two men have been assigned to the dog catcher's wagon and will work the city thoroughly.

Numerous complaints have been received since the installment of the new type garbage containers, of these cans being overturned by stray dogs, Thomason stated. "Such happenings must and will be stopped," he said.

ARE YOU A DIABETIC?

Would You Like To Be Able To Stop Taking
Those Insulin Shots? It's Possible!

Specific Chiropractic can make it possible for the cells in your pancreas to produce their own Insulin.

You see, you have to inject synthetic Insulin into your body because the islet cells in your pancreas have nerves that are being pressed upon, therefore they don't get enough Life Force which is needed to produce Insulin. Have that pressure removed with a scientific adjustment, allow enough time for body to adapt toward health, gradually decreasing the amount of synthetic Insulin. As the cells in your pancreas begin to get this Life Force normal function will return, that is, the Insulin will be produced naturally—the result, HEALTH.
