2,700 Persons Die In Earthquake

1,300 Dead Reported In Single Town

Late reports from inside and outside Ecuador Saturday night said that probably as many as 2,700 persons were killed in Friday's devastating earthquake. The injured ran into many thousands.

Direct communication with the stricken area was almost impossible, and latest reports of Friday's tragedy were being unfolded to the world by radio accounts heard outside Ecuador itself.

One of these reports came from the president of Ecuador himself in a broadcast heard in Lima. As yet, however, there was no official Ecuadorian government tabulation direct from the stricken area.

Highlighting the late reports were two small towns which previously had not figured in communications direct from Quito.

These were Pelileo and Patate, both about 22 or 23 miles from Ambato, the third industrial city of Ecuador and one of those hit hard by the quake.

Ecuador stations heard at Medellin, Colombia, said the bodies of 1,300 victims had been counted at Pelileo. At Patate more than 1,000 persons were reported to have lost their lives.

Ecuadorian President Galo Plaza Lasso said in broadcast heard in Lima, Peru, that more than 1,000 were killed at Patate. He spoke from Ambato, where more than 400 were dead and 1,000 injured.

The Ecuadorian Embassy in Washington raised the Ambato radio late Saturday night not one habitable building is left in Guano, a town of 10,000 population in the quake-stricken area.

President Galo Plaza said by radio late Saturday night not one habitable building is left in Guano, a town of 10,000 population in the quake-stricken area.

New shocks were felt at Ambato at 7:10 a.m. and 9:35 a.m. Saturday, the State Petroleum Company radio said in a report heard at Guayaquil.

Police Play Tag With Gunman

Shooting it out with a 21-year-old gunman at Northwestern Station in Chicago brought injuries to three policemen and death to the gunman, Ed Schumak. Officer Jack Mueller, above, has just shouted to his fellow officers, "I've been shot." This started the game of tag with death for the officers and the gunman.

THAT MAN AGAIN—Pappy Has Capital Politicos Guessing

AUSTIN—(P)—W. Lee O'Daniel is up to his old foxy tricks—he has the politicians guessing again.

O'Daniel let it be known over in East Texas that he was looking for fiddlers. Most of the guesses in capital political huddles were that it was a 1950 gubernatorial feeler.

That race already is highly complicated because of the death of Governor Jester and the apparent break it gave Allan Shivers, who moved up into the job.

When O'Daniel stepped out as U. S. Senator he left the door wide open for future political activity. He decided not to run for the Senate again after an appropriate period of indecision in which he kept all the politicians guessing.

Then, when the Republicans were looking for a candidate to run against Lyndon Johnson, Pappy by pass-the-biscuits and hillbilly band fame again kept everybody guessing until finally he said no. It's one of his favorite strategems.

Another factor gives weight to the possibility of O'Daniel running for governor again. The old age pensioners over the state are very unhappy over the Legislature's failure to abolish the welfare ceiling.

It is known they are looking for a candidate to O'Daniel's demands (Continued on page 12)

Vandenberg Demands New China Policy

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator Vandenberg said Saturday night the United States must take a fresh look at its China policies and determine its course "unhampered by past prejudices or emotions."

Speaking out on the government's China policy "white paper," the Michigan Republican said this country must make "relentlessly clear" its support for the Chinese people and for freedom in the Far East.

Patrick J. Hurley, who headed a wartime mission to China, assailed the smooth-sailed pro-Communist in the State Department. In several ways Vandenberg's statement coincided with views expressed by Secretary of State Acheson.

Vandenberg, top Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, declared the United States must not accept the results of aggression in China.

Vandenberg called for "a fresh look, unhampered by past prejudices or emotions." Acheson has announced he was bringing in outside advisers to work with State Department officials on devising new moves with respect to China and the Far East.

Vandenberg further demanded that the United States "deal with the realities" of the situation. Acheson likewise had demanded that the country adopt a "realistic" attitude toward its problems in China.

In commenting on the white paper's disclosures, Senator Vandenberg said it was obvious that both Nationalist China and the United States had made "tragic mistakes."

"Our chief mistakes," his statement said, "were (1) the price we paid at Tehran and Yalta, at Chicomulco, and (2) our well-intended but impractical insistence upon a Nationalist-Communist coalition."

The tone of Vandenberg's statement was in sharp contrast to the heated comments of Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley (Ret.), who was appointed by President Roosevelt as a special envoy to China with ambassadorial rank.

Hurley's assignment was to try to achieve unity between the Chinese Nationalists and Communists. His statement Saturday declared that "pro-Communism" in the State Department engineered the overthrow of the Nationalist government and aided in the Communist conquest of China.

Another objection to the proposed plan is a regimented economy, Molin said. "It is a dangerous thing for the citizens to expect the farmer to produce items for less than the cost of production and expect the government to make up the difference," he said in referring to what he termed objectionable provisions of the Brannan program.

11 Or More Die In Wild Forest Fire

HELENA, MONT.—(P)—At least 11 men were dead and two were missing Saturday in a forest fire that formed a raging death trap for Forest Service parachutists.

The blaze is centered in a primitive mountain area 25 miles northeast of here. Nineteen choppers have been found in the embers and eight of the nine are believed the bodies of "smoke jumpers" who parachuted into the gates of the mountain sector Friday to fight the flames.

Only three of 15 choppers dropped from planes over the area are known to be safe. Two of them died in a Helena hospital Saturday.

The lightning-caused blaze has ravaged more than 3,000 acres since it burst out of control Friday and Saturday night in a roaring ahead of reinforcements and communication with terrifying noise and speed.

"We had most successful talks. There was great unanimity of opinion on almost all questions," Adm. Louis E. Dentfeld, U. S. chief of Naval operations, told a news conference at the American Embassy here.

Dentfeld stressed, however, that "no decisions were made" on key points of the future organization of North Atlantic Treaty countries against aggression.

The Naval chief spoke for himself, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief. The three since last weekend have seen the military leaders of all nine Western European members of the 12-nation Atlantic Pact, concluding Saturday with the Netherlands, Belgium and Portugal.

No Solid Answers Sunday they fly to Vienna, but that trip is for inspection of American occupation forces. Austria is not a member of the pact. The Americans gave no solid answers to a dozen or more questions fired at them by correspondents. Points on which they parried included where the Atlantic Pact organization will have headquarters and whether and where it will put up a defense line facing Soviet-dominated Eastern Europe.

How and when it will absorb the existing Brussels Alliance of Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg also went unanswered. Dentfeld even cast some doubt on whether the Atlantic Pact organization would be completed by the end of this year, as he had indicated earlier this week in London.

New Commander

Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, wartime paratroop leader and former superintendent at West Point, Saturday was named to command the American Military Government and Army forces in Berlin. Taylor succeeds both Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley, Military Government commandant, and Col. James T. Duke, who has commanded the Berlin Military Post.

Two Lucky Newsboys Going To Optimist Camp At Fort Worth

Two youthful salesmen of The Midland Reporter-Telegram circulation department boarded a Texas and Pacific Streamliner at 9 p.m. Saturday for Fort Worth where they will romp for a week at Eagle Mountain Lake.

The two lucky boys are Jim Streun, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Streun, 409 South Minniea Street, and Billy Harmon, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harmon, 306 East New York Street.

The camp is being conducted by Optimist Clubs of this district and the Midland youths' transportation is being paid by The Reporter-Telegram. James N. Allison, publisher, accompanied the boys to Fort Worth.

In another week, two Reporter-Telegram carriers will leave for seven days of fun at the camp, made possible by the Midland Optimist Club and the newspaper.

Activities at the camp include camping trips, hikes, swimming and other sports. Both the boys who left Saturday night are from large families and they will be the first to ride a streamline train or attend a supervised summer camp.

Ochoa Located On Ranch In Mexico, Says Laredo Chief

LAREDO—(P)—Chief of Police David O. Gallagher said Saturday that George Ochoa, wanted for questioning in two slayings, "is on a ranch in Northern Mexico and I have sent men in to talk to him."

The chief indicated that Ochoa already had been contacted, and stated: "If George doesn't come in after a few days, we're going in after him."

Ochoa is charged with murdering Henry D. Whittenburg, 31, South Texas gunner, at a downtown Laredo hotel early last Sunday. Ochoa also is wanted for questioning in the slaying of Air Force Corporal James Lindsay, 30, of Onida, Tenn., who was slain in another part of the hotel the same night. Both men were shot to death.

30 Leaders Called For B-36 Probe

WASHINGTON—(P)—More than 30 of the nation's highest military and civilian defense leaders, and leading airplane manufacturers, will testify in Congress' investigation of the B-36 bomber opening Tuesday.

Chairman Vison (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee, and Joseph B. Keenan, special counsel for the probe, announced the witnesses Saturday.

They include such wartime leaders as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, General Carl A. Spaatz, Admiral W. F. Halsey and former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson. The investigation, touched off by demands in Congress, will cover the history of the B-36, six-engine heavy bomber, during the Air Force and policies of the strategic use of air power.

Robert A. Lovett, wartime undersecretary of war for air, will be the first witness. Following him will be Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, and Gen. Curtis LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air Command.

The committee will hear from Floyd Odlum, head of Atlas Corporation, which controls the Consolidated Vultee Corporation, maker of the B-36, and Victor Ammann, chairman of the Aviation Corporation, which preceded Atlas in control of Consolidated.

In a speech last May, Rep. Van Zandt, (R-Pa.) told the House he had heard "disturbing reports" concerning the relations of Johnson, Symington and Odlum. These involved the B-36 purchasing program, Van Zandt said.

Some coastal cities reported rainfall of more than an inch. Marfa reported 1.07 inches. Other rain reports included: Abilene 22, Dallas 22, Del Rio 07, Fort Worth 04, Laredo 01, Ozona 75, and San Angelo 12.

Children reported the highest temperature, 93 degrees. Guadalupe Pass had 63 degrees and Marfa 66. It was downright chilly in much of Texas early Saturday. Guadalupe Pass reported a low reading of 53, Salt Flat 56, El Paso 59, Amarillo 58, Presidio 59, Marfa 59 and Dalhart and Van Horn 58.

At the present time their use is mostly by oil companies and other business concerns with agents working out in the field, but a fertile imagination can easily picture "the lady next door" riding down the highway in a mobile telephone, holding a "chit chat" with one of her friends concerning an afternoon engagement.

The "chit chat" still is in the future as a practical use for the mobile radio-telephone but definitely is a possibility. The first unit registered in the area served by transmitters in Big Spring and Odessa (these transmitters also furnish service for Midland) was April 1, 1948, just a little more than 16 months ago. While in two months use of the car telephone was spreading rapidly in this area and it is expected to increase still, a regular wire line telephone transmitters are installed. Use of these units sounds complicated but really isn't. The act of "calling" or "receiving" a mobile radio-telephone call is no more complex than the same operation with a regular wire line telephone. Transmission standards are equal to wire line service and no tricky operating procedure or "tuning" is necessary. A combination of regular wire (Continued on page 12)

Top Military Chiefs Silent, Optimistic After Talks On Pact

PARIS—(P)—America's three top military men completed their preliminary survey of Western European defense needs Saturday, apparently optimistic but strictly non-committal on their findings.

"We had most successful talks. There was great unanimity of opinion on almost all questions," Adm. Louis E. Dentfeld, U. S. chief of Naval operations, told a news conference at the American Embassy here.

Dentfeld stressed, however, that "no decisions were made" on key points of the future organization of North Atlantic Treaty countries against aggression.

"That was just a date I picked up out of the air," he told the newsmen, "but I don't see any reason why it should not be done."

Brannan Plan Not Good For Industry, Cattleman Declares

F. E. Molin, Denver, executive secretary of the American National Livestock Association, told a meeting of cattlemen here Saturday night that the Brannan farm plan would not be a good thing for the cattle industry or other farm enterprises.

The meeting was held in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Schaefer and was attended by approximately 75 persons. Besides cattlemen of this area, there were several officials of the association present.

The Brannan plan now is being considered by Congress. "It is a dangerous thing for the citizens to expect the farmer to produce items for less than the cost of production and expect the government to make up the difference," he said in referring to what he termed objectionable provisions of the Brannan program.

Another objection to the proposed plan is a regimented economy, Molin said. Nothing Against Anyone, Declares Condemned Slayer

HUNTSVILLE—(P)—W. Fred Jones said a few hours before his execution Saturday night "I have nothing in my heart against anyone."

The Floyd's grocery owner, facing death for the murder of one of his employees three years ago, said calmly in his death cell Saturday, reading the Bible.

"He can quote a lot of scriptures," said the Rev. B. C. Anderson, chaplain at the big red brick prison. "It is immaterial—Man does not live by bread alone," Jones replied.

Jones has not made any last request, Anderson said. "But he does say this—he has nothing in his heart against anyone, and if anyone has anything against him, he wants to be forgiven."

Jones was sentenced to death for the shotgun slaying of H. C. Love, Jr., outside Jones' grocery store in Floydada in 1946.

25 INJURED WHEN GRANDSTAND COLLAPSES RHINEBECK, N. Y.—(P)—About 25 auto raceway spectators were injured Saturday night as part of the grandstand collapsed at the Dutchess County Fair Grounds here.

QUITO, ECUADOR—(AP)—An airlift was started late Saturday between Quito and Ambato to transport earthquake victims here and send relief supplies to the stricken area. Ambato is 55 miles south of Quito.

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM—(AP)—The Socialist Party, second largest in the country, refused Saturday night to enter a three-party coalition government, thus continuing a 42-day-old cabinet deadlock over the question of the return of King Leopold III to the throne.

HONOLULU—(AP)—Gov. Ingram M. Stainback Saturday night proclaimed a state of emergency in Hawaii's 98-day-old dock strike and called upon the stevedoring industry and the strikers to resume operations.

LONDON—(AP)—Communist-led Poland decreed penalties up to death Sunday for anyone violating a citizen's "freedom of conscience." The action obviously was aimed at the Roman Catholic Church.

CHINHAIE, KOREA—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and President Syngman Rhee of the South Korean Republic held their first conference Saturday on a Pacific pact against the Communists.

Ex-Bootblack Bobs Up Again In Probe Of Five Percenters

WASHINGTON—(P)—Evidence that John Maragon, former Kansas City bootblack, turned to the White House concerning more than one government contract for businessmen, was obtained in the "five percenters" inquiry, Senator Hoyt (D-NC) said Saturday.

Hoyt discussed secret testimony on that point with reporters after Senator Mundt (R-SD) reported officials of low-bidding Detroit auto company said they got fast clearance on a $280,000 Army contract after reaching an Army officer. This meeting was arranged, it was related, through a call to someone at the White House by Maragon, who once held a White House pass.

Meanwhile, James V. Hunt, a key figure in the five percenters probe, announced he has instructed his lawyers to file a libel suit against the New York Herald Tribune story which led to the investigation by a subcommittee headed by Hoyt. The senators seek to learn whether influence figured in the award of any government contracts.

Hoyt's special Senate Investigating subcommittee is scheduled to open public hearings on the five percenters inquiry Monday with Secretary of Defense Johnson as first witness.

Six States Bake In Oven-Like Heat CHICAGO—(P)—Summer turned on the heat here again Saturday. Parts of at least six states baked in temperatures of 100 degrees or more as the mercury climbed above normal levels in most of the country. Highest midday readings included: Philip, S. D., 103; Miles City, Mont., 104; Silver Lake, Calif., 106; Needles, Calif., 109; Phoenix, Ariz., 100; and Las Vegas, N. M., 102.

Slowly rising temperatures were in prospect for the Midwest. Readings in the nineties were forecast for most of the area.

School Board To Convene Tuesday A meeting of the school board of the Midland Independent School District is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the superintendent's office.

The meeting will be a public hearing on the school budget.

POSSIBILITIES UNLIMITED—Midlanders Have Automobile Telephone Sets, 140 In Use By BERRY APPLING This modern age! Jet planes traveling faster than the speed of sound. Such things as television predicted for Midland before many months. But what a minute—already we have something pretty ultra-modern in its own right—telephones in automobiles. And this radio-telephone for cars is almost a common thing. At least 140 sets are installed in Midland area automobiles. At the present time their use is mostly by oil companies and other business concerns with agents working out in the field, but a fertile imagination can easily picture "the lady next door" riding down the highway in a mobile telephone, holding a "chit chat" with one of her friends concerning an afternoon engagement. No, not all nudists are curvaceous beauties who scorn the two-piece scanties French madoiselles wear in lieu of bathing suits. V-J Day Celebration—

Monahans Event Slated As Biggest, Best Yet

MONAHANS—Several thousand dollars in expenses, top-flight professional entertainment, plenty of hard work by civic leaders, and a Ward County tradition in the making are expected to make this year's V-J Day celebration in Monahans the biggest and best yet.

Organized on the first anniversary of V-J Day, Aug. 14, 1946, as a tribute to World War II veterans, the celebration has continued and 1949's V-J Day observance will be Ward County's fourth. Since its inception four years ago, this West Texas festival has attracted unusual newspaper publicity throughout the nation. Within the next month three Texas edited monthly periodicals will feature V-J Day articles. They are Texas Parade, West Texas Today, and T&P Topics.

Unique in its flavor, Ward County's biggest day of the year has traditionally been marked by a military fair. And its memorial services paying respect to the living and the dead of Ward County's armed services members have always been a high point of the Day's observance.

To be observed this year on Monday, August 15, the 1949 celebration, now only a few days away, will begin officially with the annual parade featuring the 60-piece Lackland Air Force Base military band from San Antonio. A Marine Corps color guard from Dallas will head the parade. Other military representation will come from Ward County's own Pyote U. S. Air Force Base under the command of Colonel Y. B. Eukendal.

Memorial Services Memorial services will be held at 12 o'clock noon in the city park. The services will be under the direction of Ward County's national organization, Company F, 124th Mechanized Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadron, commanded by Captain Alton C. Linne who is also president of the Monahans chamber of commerce.

Afternoon events include an old fiddlers' contest, a band concert, military exhibits, hot rod automobile racing, western music, and a National Guard barbecue. High point of the day, however, will be the annual V-J Day night show at the new Monahans High School athletic field. The evening program consists of the annual V-J Day bathing beauty contest from which "Miss V-J Day, 1949" will be selected, an address by John Ben Shepperd, past national president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, introduction of prominent guests, and the Melody Ranch Hands of W.B.A.P.-TV, Fort Worth, in a program of distinctive Western music and entertainment. The Ranch Hands will be accompanied by Whitey Carson, radio veteran of the "Grand Ole Opry" show.

A free street dance back of the Ward County courthouse will mark the conclusion of the V-J Day observance. The Monahans celebration is believed to be the only one of its type in the United States. Monahans is the only city in the United States known to observe the day by suspending all business activity and observing the annual V-J Day holiday proclamation issued this year and last by Mayor Walter Harwell.

Legislature Cites In a formal resolution, the recent 81st Texas Legislature honored this Permian Basin city as "the only place in the United States that has faithfully, sincerely, loyally, and respectfully observed this date in appropriate manner." Introduced by Representative J. T. Rutherford who represents Texas' largest district, the 88th, the resolution also extended its "sincere appreciation to this community, Gold Star Mothers, veterans, and all persons who have worked faithfully for this annual event." The celebration is officially sponsored by the Monahans Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the city's civic groups.

R-J Day chairman for 1949 is R. L. Dunagan, local bottling company executive and civic leader. The celebration was originally conceived by J. N. McKean, now of Odessa, but former Monahans Chamber of Commerce manager, and Jack Scott, Ward County veterans' service officer.

U. S. White Paper Increases Gloom In Loyalist China CANTON, CHINA.—(AP)—Chinese opinion was divided Saturday night on whether there ever again would be American aid for Nationalist China.

A government spokesman said official reaction to the United States' white paper on China—which was issued Friday in Washington—could not be expected for several days. Premier Yen Hsi-Shan and other top Nationalists refused comment. Some others expressed opinions, but mostly on an anonymous basis.

"The white paper means we will get no more aid," said one member of the Legislative Yuan. "The effect at that front will be very bad; our officers and men will be gravely discouraged."

Red Troops Mass He added that the white paper's disclosure of Acting President Li Tsung-Jen's secret May 5 message to President Truman might impair unity by being construed as an attack on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Another source took the position that the white paper merely was a "whitewash" of past American action or inaction in China and would have no particular bearing on the possibility of future aid.

Official Nationalist dispatches reaching Canton said more than 150,000 Red troops were massing in an unspecified area south of newly fallen Changsha. A big battle was forecast in that region soon. The Reds took Changsha Thursday night when the Nationalist commander changed sides.

Your voice is broadcast and picked up by the nearest mobile telephone operator within a 30-mile radius and from there it is the same as a regular wire call. Local or long distance calls are made with the same ease as would be possible were you sitting at your desk in the office.

Service is two-way on the unit, not only can you make a call but you also may receive one. Each car unit is assigned a number as is the regular house telephone and it can be reached as long as the one who calls knows the general locality in which you are.

In making the call through the Midland exchange it would be necessary to contact the mobile operator in Odessa or Big Spring by long distance, give the number desired and then leave the rest to her.

Complete equipment on the vehicle consists of a radio receiver and transmitter, an 18-inch stand antenna, a selective signaling device and a telephone instrument. All controls and the cradle telephone are located conveniently under the instrument panel in a single unit. A small lamp lights to indicate incoming calls in addition to a regulation bell system. Reason for the light is to indicate a call should you be absent from the car when it first comes through. The bell or buzzer automatically shuts off after a period of time but the light continues to burn until the call is acknowledged.

The receiver at all times is in an operating condition ready to receive a call, while the transmitter is in a standby condition. The transmitter is ready to operate when the handset is removed from the cradle and operates when the "push-to-talk" button in the center of the handset is depressed. A retractable cord is used to prevent any fouling or tangling that might occur with a regular cord.

Two bands are allocated for the mobile radiophone service. One operates in the 152-162 megacycle band and its counterpart operates in the 30-44 megacycle band. The latter band frequency, referred to as highway service, is used by the Midland area. The other frequency is known as urban service.

Although the radio-telephone works equally well while the car is moving or standing still, it is used in most cases while the car is parked to prevent the possibility of an accident through inattention to driving.

The unit isn't a luxury service at present but it is predicted that the day is not far in the future when many cars will be equipped with the unit for private use. You won't be able to excuse yourself when late for dinner and the "little woman" isn't notified. No matter if you are away from the office or out of town, if you are in the car she still can say, "But you should have called." Well, what excuse will you use then? Better start dreaming up a few now just to be safe.

The amounts and wave lengths of energy coming from hot objects can be computed with a new kind of slide rule. Its use makes easy a process that has been long and tedious in the past.

Confessions Of Engel, The Romantic Swindler

By SIGMUND SAMUEL ENGEL As Told To Edgar Brown (Copyright, Chicago Herald-American)

Wild thoughts crowded my youthful mind, mad plans were gradually taking form, as I crossed the English Channel and caught the Paris Express that day as gallant escort to a blue-blooded London heiress.

I think my confusion was justified. I was wearing a suit of wondrous tweed, constructed by the king's tailors in London especially for me as a casual gift from my companion, Cecelia King. (That suit never has worn out.)

Moreover, my pockets were bulging with British currency, each bill of such large denomination as to require a signature on its back for cashing. These formed part of an amazing $78,000 "loan" from my latest love conquest.

Most breathtaking of all was the fact that Cecelia didn't give a hang whether I ever paid that loan—and said so in that many words. When I tried to give her my note, she merely smiled and invited me to a cultured laugh of disdain.

"How long has this sort of thing been going on?" I asked myself, and perhaps few will blame me, but not unphilosophical, I had been around, but the monetary value of my "way with women" had never before been so forcefully demonstrated.

Looking back over a half century, it occurs to me now that there may have been the turning point in my life. I was not "strapped." I had funds in New York. Yet I knew in my heart what I was doing, and I rationalized it this way:

"I have given this British baby the great thrill of her life. She is crazy with love for me; she admits it, brags about it. Perhaps, if only we'll be married, but the subject hasn't even been mentioned. She'll really be satisfied with our brief fling. Don't I deserve to be paid for time spent making her happy—especially when I can afford it?"

Unorthodox Profession Moralists will shoot this reasoning full of holes because it does not conform to their standards. But I have never sought public approbation, and I am admittedly unorthodox profession.

I'm the fellow with a gift of laughter and a sense that the world is mad—remember? We were happy and carefree. We traveled together but we paid separate fares; and when we took quarters at the Claridge the arrangement was definitely not that of man and wife.

Paraphrasing I don't mind such details, and Parisians wouldn't even understand our Mann Act. But I intended to return to my native America in due time—and I certainly didn't wish to fall into any habits that might prove embarrassing.

We did Paris as she is seldom done. We did all the things that couples deeply in love are wont to do. We shopped daily, each spending lavishly. Of course, I was using Cecelia's "loan," but nobody could say I was hoarding it.

I helped her choose many outfits. She bought me a little bit of jewelry at tremendous cost. We did the Polles Bergere with a dozen gay guests. Though I didn't drink—I don't to this day—I supplied the bubbly for one and all.

It was a grand and glorious holiday, and Cecelia revelled in her freedom from the rigid chains of British social dignity. But I think she realized, as time went on and I avoided a proposal, that like all holidays, ours was unmarred by sadness. She was returning home and I was "staying on for business reasons."

There was eager discussion of our impending reunion in London, but there was no mention of (a) marriage, and (b) the $78,000 loan.

Once Miss King had been tenderly placed aboard a train, I checked out and hastened to Berlin. As I had said, queer thoughts raced through my head. I was curious, nay eager, to test a second time this marvelous discovery: Women loved me so much they'd pay, willingly, to hear me say I loved them!

Pint-Sized Beau Brummel Berlin society gave me prompt entrance. Sardonically, I was a pint-sized Beau Brummel, as I continued to be through my career. Show business had taught me the value of "front," and never would I neglect the importance of first impressions.

I do not think I was handsome, but women raved about my profile and my thick, wavy hair. Expanding confidence in my own prowess, I was a swashbuckling air that was arresting and opened most doors without question.

At the Austro-Hungarian Embassy, where I presented my excellent credentials, I was greeted by General Kieleg, then in diplomatic service. He not only supplied me with diplomatic immunity papers; he also presented me in society. One of the general's chums was Count Von Condony, then general manager of the A. Wertheim Corporation, largest department store enterprise in Germany. Because most members of the Royal Family had investments in this corporation, the count had been close to Kaiser Wilhelm and his Wilhelmiana, the crown prince and all that kit and kaboodle.

Meets Clara Bauer It is interesting, now, to recall that in the "reconstruction period" after the first world war, Count Von Condony was revealed to have shipped immense sums of corporation funds to America as his very own—and to have collected it.

But that is beside the point. The point, as far as my life story is concerned, was that among the many women of beauty, wealth and social position to whom I was presented by Von Condony was one Clara Bauer.

"Here is a gal as phony as myself," I commented silently when I met Clara. She was a lush femme, all right, but I thought I detected some of that well-known "false front" in her gaudy loveliness and her tremendous display of gems.

How I blushed when I learned that Clara was the divorced wife of Hjalmar Pucha, president of the Dresden Bank; and that she was immensely wealthy in her own right, as attested by a sprawling estate in Tiergarten Allee.

"Well, then," I told myself when I learned all this, "Clara is an ideal subject for the second test. Can I make her love me—and pay for the privilege?"

Turns On Charm It was cold-blooded, certainly. It was also easy. Almost with the objectivity of one engaged in academic research, I turned on every bit of chivalry, attractiveness and gallant charm that I'd picked up down through the years.

Whether it was all unnecessary I'll never know. Clara was already enamored of me, she told me later, but not much later that it had been love at first sight.

I think infatuation is a better word, but who was I to argue with Clara, my hostess and doting sponsor in my gay roving of parties and parties? Especially when my first worried hint of "delayed funds from New York" won a quick response.

"Get sordid things off your mind, my precious one," Clara beamed at me, but not much later that I was a long series of gifts totaling I surmise, some $30,000.

Gloried In Experience "I want you at your best today," she prattled on, running a hand through my hair. "You are meeting Wilhelmina Schacht, niece of Hjalmar Schacht, the famous financial advisor to the Reichsbank."

This was heavy stuff for a boy from San Francisco, but I gloried in it. I met Wilhelmina on schedule and she turned out to be a lank, hungry-looking spinster of some 30 years. Her love for me was to bring certain complications.

Clara and the Schacht woman were pale, so we made a threesome. Their first step was to supply the recommendations necessary to get me into the Hotel Esplanade, the celebrated hangout for continental aristocrats and genial bums.

I was really in clover. Right next to my apartment lived Hugo Stinnes, the fabulous steel magnate whose son now runs the German steel mills on authority of our Gen. Lucius Clay.

Money, luxury, position were mine—but trouble multiplied, nonetheless, when I met Stinnes and she became the third woman in love simultaneously with little Sig Engel.

Well, I warned you that a lot of this was going to be hard to believe. (How the adroit Engel combs three rich European sweethearts out of his hair and proceeds to Vienna for the conquest of a buxom baroness will be related in the next chapter.)

DeMille's Invented 'Discovery' Leaves Bob Preston Confused

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Now it can be told—and this will go down as a Hollywood classic in the believe-your-own-publicity department: "Robert Preston's first big movie was 'Union Pacific' for Cecil B. DeMille. To ballyhoo the picture, DeMille took the stars on tour, introducing them from theater stages in 53 cities.

Before their first appearance, DeMille called Preston to his dressing room on his private train and said: "Bob, I have to decide how to introduce you. Tell me—what have you ever done before?"

"Well," said Bob, "I've been in three pictures."

"No," said DeMille, "I meant before that."

"Well," said Bob, "I was on the stage at the Pasadena Community Playhouse."

"No," said DeMille, "I mean even before that. Some job you may have held."

Bob thought for a moment and then said he worked for a couple of weeks on the clean-up gang and helped park cars at Santa Anita race tracks.

"That's it," said DeMille. "I'll introduce you, by saying I discovered an actress by the name of 'Bob.' That's what DeMille did—in 53 cities throughout the country and there was a big hand every time for the young actor DeMille said he discovered in the Santa Anita parking lot."

A year later DeMille cast Bob in another picture. When DeMille asked Bob how he liked the script, Bob said: "The script is fine, but I think the role is too similar to the one I played in 'Union Pacific.' Maybe we can change it a little."

DeMille bristled, got up from his desk and snapped: "Now listen, young man. If it wasn't for me you'd still be parking cars at Santa Anita."

Tallulah Bankhead and Donald Cook, touring in "Private Lives," were started out of a couple of lives by this typographical error in a Boston ad: "Tallulah Bankhead in 'Private Lives' with Donald Duck."

Phil Harris will go to town on a new tune, "I Don't Want Any Love in My Job." It's featured in the musical "Sugar Hill" at the Las Palmas theater. Despite Howard Hughes' protest, Faith Domergue goes back to Buenos Aires for another picture with her husband, Hugo Fregonese. She's the star of Hughes' long-shelved "Vendetta," due for release this fall.

Tracy For "Harvey" It looks like Spencer Tracy for the film version of "Harvey," beating Jimmy Stewart to the dotted line. The King Brothers are talking about a film based on the Los Angeles vice scandal and have been in conference with Audrey Davis.

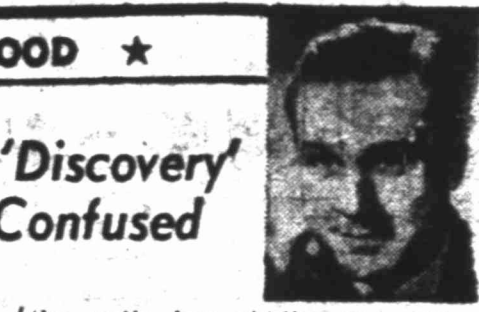

RKO is reuniting the Astaire-Rogers musical, "Follow the Fleet." Follow the film and you'll see Tony Martin, Betty Grable and Lucille Ball in bit roles. Jane Wyman arrives back from England Aug. 21 to confer with Jerry Wald on her role in "The Glass Menagerie."

Interesting, Attractive House Plan

This interesting and attractive plan features a rear living room with two nice bedrooms and kitchen to the front of the house. Wardrobes in the bedrooms are utilized. A porch off of the living room is provided, giving access to the garden. Close may be substituted for the wardrobes. The kitchen alternates for combination kitchen laundry, which provides breakfast room at the corner, with large corner windows.

FHA Ruling Opens Way To New Design

The Federal Housing Administration recently has opened the way for accelerated construction of flat-roofed modern houses.

This brings to an end a 15-year-old FHA policy against insuring loans on homes of modern design on the grounds that such homes were unsuitable in established communities of homes of more conventional design.

Banks have been reluctant to lend money for modern-style homes on the ground that such homes had doubtful resale value in case of foreclosure. Now that the FHA will insure these loans, it is expected that lenders will enter the field.

Test Shows How Much House You Can Get For Your Cash

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Reporter

Federal Rent Director Tighe Woods has built a "guinea pig" house to test people what they can get for their money, and everybody is happy about it.

Woods is happy because, he says, "I want to show builders that a house can be built at a profit in the field I think we have to reach—the $6,800 house."

Home builders are happy because they think the Woods house "is not a house"—that they are doing better, dollar for dollar, all over the country.

Home buyers are happy because now they have a "guinea pig" house in almost any locality.

The joker is that a Woods house cannot be built in many communities because of zoning and building codes. The house covers only 570 square feet and in many places houses with area of 700 or more square feet are outlawed as too small.

In Many Respects

But the Woods house is interesting in many ways. "It's a nice cabin for a young couple at the shore or some other vacation spot," said Frank Cortright, executive vice president of the National Association of Home Builders.

It stands on a concrete slab extending below the frost line, which is now an acceptable foundation for economy houses. Exterior walls are covered with tongue and groove redwood siding. Interior walls are paneled with plywood. Both rock-wool and metal foil insulation are used in the walls. Roof trusses are left exposed and painted and the roof is covered with asbestos composition board on which asphalt shingles are laid.

Radiant Heating

An outside brick chimney, lined with terracotta, serves a brick fireplace in the living room. Glass radiant heating is used. This consists of four glass grids in the walls, heated by electricity to warm the air by infra-red rays. It costs about $200 installed.

Concrete floors are covered with asphalt tile.

Kitchen equipment—in one end of the living room—includes a four-plate electric range, stainless steel sink, an electric washing machine, electric hot water heater and steel storage cabinets. The kitchen area can be closed off with a heavy curtain. The bathroom is complete with a shower above the tub. A small attic storage space, reached by stepladder, is provided above the bathroom and kitchen area.

Provided in Plan

Two coat closets, a linen closet, a broom closet and a 12-foot long wardrobe in the bedroom are provided in the plan.

When the Army asked Congress for funds to build homes for service families at $16,500 per house in this country and up to $46,000 in Alaska and other parts of the world, Woods announced his "guinea pig" house.

He built it for $5,900 and with a half-acre lot could price it at $6,750 complete with the equipment described. It stands in Virginia, near the Army's Fort Belvoir, 17 miles from Washington. Richard Barr was the architect. Julian R. Sedwick, ex-seabee and contractor, used local labor to build it.

But the building cost did not impress speculative home builders. Carl G. Lans, technical director of the National Association of Home Builders, compared Woods' cost of $11 per square foot with that of a Washington builder now erecting three-bedroom houses at $40 per square foot.

Men are prohibited by law from going into ladies' hairdressing salons to get waves or hair tints in Massachusetts.

Hardwood Floors Feature Styling Suited To Home

Floor attractiveness is a "must" for a well planned home, experts in interior decoration point out. This principle is being recognized by more homemakers nowadays than ever before.

Placing greater emphasis on floor styling, discriminating homemakers are selecting floors which harmonize with the architectural style and the furnishings of their homes and which readily are adaptable to changes in decorative plans.

Observers of this trend have noted an increased use of hardwood, which consistently has been the favored flooring material for American homes.

Hardwood flooring is available in several species and types. These have a wide price range depending upon such factors as the grade of wood, whether it is plain-sawn or quarter-sawn and whether it is unfinished or pre-finished.

Some kinds of hardwood flooring are unusually versatile in that they are adaptable to almost any type of home. Others are more appropriate for specialized applications.

The variety of choices is so wide that a specific kind can be obtained to harmonize with any style of home and any decorative plan. It matters not whether the dwelling is a low-cost house or a pretentious mansion whether it is furnished in the modern mood or in one of the numerous period motifs.

Oak Is Popular

The species generally preferred is oak. Unusually durable and easy to maintain, oak flooring is famed for its inimitable natural beauty of grain and coloring. Hard maple, beech, birch and pecan also are commonly used.

Of the three general types of hardwood flooring—strip, plank and parquet—strip is by far the most extensively employed. Its popularity is due largely to its versatility and economy. Always in good taste, it is appropriate for practically any style of home bracket. Costs vary with the species and grade, but as a general rule, it is available at lower cost than the other types.

As the name implies, strip flooring consists of flooring pieces cut in narrow strips. A size commonly used is 2 5/8" x 1/2" thick by 2 1/4" inches wide. The pieces come in random lengths.

Plank flooring, most of which is produced in the oak species, is manufactured in widths ranging from three to nine inches. Customarily laid in random widths, it is especially appropriate for ranch-type dwellings and other homes where the emphasis is on informality.

Parquet, the most elaborate and expensive type, is particularly suitable for formal surroundings. Known also as pattern or design flooring, it consists of short pieces laid individually. An almost infinite variety of beautiful patterns can be effected.

Questions, Answers For Home Planners

Q. What is insulating board lath and how does it differ from ordinary lath?

A. Insulating board lath is one of several materials used as a plaster base. It is light in weight and has a fibrous construction which gives it a high insulating value. It has unusually good bonding strength. Because of its light weight, it can be applied quickly and easily. One big advantage is that it is an insulation as well as a structural material.

Q. Is there some way of soundproofing a two-family house with an existing party wall made of hollow tile?

A. An efficient way to soundproof an existing wall is to cover it with large sheets of insulating board. Then construct a new wall in front of it. The insulating board should be left loose; that is, not fastened to either the existing wall or the new wall.

Q. Is there some rule we can follow in determining the proper size louvers to install for attic ventilation?

A. The rule used to figure the proper louver size is: In regions where winter temperature does not go below zero, allow two square feet of louver area for each one thousand square feet of ceiling insulation. If the temperature does go below zero, allow three square feet for each one thousand square feet of ceiling insulation.

Q. What is the "industry engineered home"?

A. The building materials industry has been working on the problem of lower housing construction costs for a long time. Among the results of their studies is the "industry engineered house." Primarily, it utilizes basic dimensions (the four-inch multiple) which will result in labor and materials economies.

Start With Tub In Modernizing Bath

When modernizing an old bathroom, start with the bath-tub. Cover the sides and legs of the old-fashioned tub with bright-colored panels or wood painted any desired color. Elevate the tub by setting the legs on four-inch blocks. Build two six-inch-deep drawers in the space beneath the tub. These will provide more storage space, and under-tub dust-catching and make cleaning easy.

Since the bathroom needs sunlight, make the entire outside wall of the bath opaque glass, either in block or sheet form. This affords privacy, admits light. Make the room gay with buttercup yellow walls, and accent this color with leaf-green marbled asphalt tile flooring and touches of the same colors in the draperies.

Save space in the bathroom by fitting one of the new types of clothes hampers between the wall studs. These hampers are recessed into the wall like a medicine cabinet, will hold as much as the conventional hamper, yet project only three or four inches into the room.

Minimize the bathroom's strictly utilitarian air, add interest with small pictures and green growing plants.

Propane and similar fuel gases that liquefy readily under pressure and are commonly used as liquids can be stored underground in concrete chambers lined with thin sheet steel, thereby eliminating the costly metal pressure tanks needed for surface storage.

Architect Warns Against Cheapening Low-Cost Homes

Economy construction does not mean cheap construction; the two must not be avoided in the Economy Housing Program now underway throughout the nation. It was declared by Harold Sleeper, architectural instructor at Columbia University.

"It is not necessary to sacrifice quality to effect cost savings," he said. "At best, such savings are only minor, but they are costly to the builder in lost prestige and to the home-buyer in maintenance and operation of his home."

Quality materials and equipment in quantity and sizes adequate to perform their proper functions, are, in the opinion of the Columbia University architect who recently finished a 10-week course for home-owners in addition to his regular classes for architectural students. This applies particularly to heating, plumbing and electrical installations, nailing, insulation, framing, roof and floor construction.

'SHIP'S HUSBAND'

A 'ship's husband' attends to the repairs of a ship while it is in port and does all other necessary work preparatory to a voyage.

Steel is a form of purified pig iron, with definite amounts of carbon.

Plaster Defects Are Minimized By Use Of Insulating Lath

If you want to avoid unsightly lath marks and plaster cracks in walls and ceilings, benefit by the experience of builders who have used insulating board lath. This modern product, made of wood, cane or other vegetable fibers, provides a continuous surface for the plaster. Lath marks therefore are impossible.

Plaster cracks often are the result of twisting and warping of framework during the drying process after it has absorbed moisture from wet plaster. When insulating board lath is used, it acts as a moisture-resistant barrier between the plaster and framing. This forces the moisture into the room where it has a chance of being carried away harmlessly by ventilation.

Insulating board lath has the added advantage, builders point out, of serving as an insulation as well as a plaster base. Application of plaster on this modern type lath does not affect its insulating property. It remains highly resistant to passage of heat. Thus, it keeps the house warmer in winter and cooler in summer.

Home Silo Feeds Fuel To Cellar

AP Newsfeatures

A fuel silo for the home, an idea of Rudard A. Jones, research associate professor of architecture at the University of Illinois was backed by the solid fuel industry. It is designed to make it easier to sort and handle coal or coke.

Removable slats enable loading the bin from the driveway. Gravity feeds the outlet, where a small door or sliding panel offers access by shovel or screw loader of a stocker. The bin is two stories high, eight feet wide, four feet deep.

Keep An Eye On Germany

In all our attention to Russia's aggressive strategy, we're inclined to overlook the still very real menace of a possibly resurgent Germany.

Another memory jog came from the U. S. zone of Germany, where a new poll of German citizens showed a majority believing yet—or again—that Hitler's nazism is a good idea, which failed only because it was carried out badly.

The genuine democracies of the world are not very far along the path of making Germany over into a country that can take a part, politically as well as economically, in an ordered family of peace-loving nations.

Until we of the West can break the crust of custom that holds German thinking in narrow, undemocratic bounds, we can welcome the Atlantic Pact as a protection against this country that twice tried to rule the world, has no regrets at the ruinous consequences, and might try again.

Italy's lawmakers were slightly out of bounds in registering formally their enthusiasm for the Atlantic Pact. Only 469 members of the Chamber of Deputies voted but 546 ballots were cast in the first vote.

Somebody over there apparently has been getting advice from kinfolk over here who are familiar with our big city election methods.

Or maybe the Italians heard about that caucus of Texas Democrats at the 1944 national convention in Chicago. After one important poll, the delegation leader announced:

"We'll have to vote again. And this time I must ask that only delegates and alternates participate in the balloting."

Stanotex Makes Locations For North Snyder Outpost And Three Inside Tests

Standard Oil Company of Texas has staked a one-location north extension try to the North Snyder field, in North-Central Scurry County.

The same concern has made locations for three more explorations inside the proven limits of that field. Each of the four new developments are to start operations at once.

Standard No. 11-5 Brown is the north stepout. It will be 680 feet from north and 1,880 feet from east lines of the south half of section 450, block 97, H&TT survey. It is 19 miles north of Snyder and it is slated to dig to 7,000 feet, unless it makes a producer from the Canyon-Pennsylvanian lime before reaching that level.

In Proven Section
The new locations in the proven sector of the North Snyder field are:

Standard No. 9-5 Brown, 1,980 feet from east and 1,960 feet from south lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey.

Standard No. 2-7 Brown, 467 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey.

Standard of Texas No. 6-3 Brown, 1,980 feet from west and 680 feet from north lines of section 439, block 97, H&TC survey.

Each of those ventures are to go to between 6,900 feet and 7,000 feet to explore the Canyon lime.

Wildcats Are Staked In Upton And Sutton

Drilling is due to be started in the near future on wildcats which are to explore into the Ellenburger in Southwest Upton County and in Southeast Sutton County.

Superior Oil Company is to drill its No. 2 J. W. Robbins as an 8,500-foot prospect in Southwest Upton County. It will be 1,980 feet from east and 660 feet from north lines of section 4, block W, GC&SF survey.

That makes it 10 miles southeast of McCamey and three-quarters of a mile west of shallow production in the Upton County side of the World field.

Southeast of Sonora
Shell Oil Company, Inc., is reported to have staked location for its No. 1 S. B. Roberts, scheduled to dig to 5,300 feet in Southeast

Three Ventures In Eddy Exploring For Shallow Production

HOBBS, N. M. — Locations for three shallow wildcats in Eddy County were reported Saturday.

Carper Drilling Company No. 1 Gates is to be a 2,000-foot cable tool venture in extreme Southwest Eddy County, about eight miles southeast of Carlsbad Caverns.

It will be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 34-25-25-26. Drilling is to be started soon.

Franklin, Aston & Fair No. 2 Nelson is scheduled as a 3,000-foot venture in Northeast Eddy County in the unexplored region between the Premier and the Leo fields. It is about two miles from any producers in either pool. Operations will start in the near future.

The driller is 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 4-18-30-30.

To Drill No. 1 Kaiser
Farker & Parker No. 1 Kaiser is contracted to drill to 1,300 feet, using cable tools in Northwest Eddy County.

It is 1,650 feet from south and 990 feet from west lines of section 20-18-27-27. That puts it just north of the north end of Lake McMullan, and between production in the Dayton field to the west and the East Dayton field to the North-west. Drilling is to start immediately.

In Southeast Lea County, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company is preparing to test the Devonian section between 9,410 feet, and the plugged back depth of 9,530 feet, at its No. 1 Leonard-Federal.

This exploration, located 660 feet from south and east lines of section 11-26-37-37, drilled to a bottom of 12,065 feet in the Ellenburger.

No O&G Shows
That formation was entered at 11,948 feet. Elevation is 3,013 feet. It made only sulphur water, and had no shows of oil or gas.

The hole was plugged back to 9,530 feet and a string of 7-inch casing was cemented at 9,410 feet. The plug has been drilled and the open hole section will be thoroughly tested, starting early in the week.

That zone developed some signs of gas and slight shows of oil on drillstem tests run while hole was being made.

Informed sources say the chances of making an oil well and a new discovery from the Devonian at this project are rather dim.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has completed a third discovery in Northwest Lea County at its No. 1 Caudle-Federal, 28 miles south-east of Lovington and at the center of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 11-15-37-37, had reached 10,557 feet in Mississippian lime and chert, and was making more hole. It is slated to continue until it finds and tests the Devonian. It entered the Mississippian at 10,410 feet. Elevation is 3,799 feet.

Could Encounter Devonian
The Devonian could be encountered at any time, according to interested geologists. This exploration has already shown for a possible discovery from the Wolfcamp, lower Permian, in the zone between 9,278 feet and 9,536 feet.

Conoco Offices Now In Permian Building

Continental Oil Company's division production office and its district geological, geophysical and land offices for the Permian Basin are now located on the fifth floor of the Permian Building in Midland.

The move of the Conoco offices to the new quarters makes the fifth shift for the company in Midland during the last three years.

Executives of the concern say they do not expect to make another move for several years. The company has taken a long lease on the new offices.

Three years ago the Continental office in Midland was in the Petroleum Building. The first move was to the Dunagan Building on West Missouri Ave.

Other Moves
The next move was to the Crawford Hotel, where temporary offices were maintained for several months. When the Midland Tower was completed Conoco went to the fifth floor of that structure on a short-term lease.

Now the fifth change has been made and it is due to be the last for several years.

The geophysical department is a new unit in Midland for Continental. It had formerly been located at San Angelo. It has been moved to Midland, now that the company is able to secure sufficient office space for it, along with the other departments operating here.

E. L. Mount is district geophysicist. Harry Miller is division production superintendent; Charles D. Vertrees is district geologist, and Raymond Leggett is district landman.

OU Grad Named To Texas Tech Staff

LUBBOCK — Paul S. Johnston, who has worked at everything from roustabouting, pumping, roughnecking, tool-pushing and drilling in the oil business to captain in the army, has been named assistant professor of petroleum reservoir engineering at Texas Technological College.

Johnston, age 29, graduated from Oklahoma Military Academy High school and Junior college, at which time he received a reserve officer's commission in the army. Inter-spersed with his schooling were several summers of work in the oil field.

Following this, Johnston entered military service, and upon his discharge was employed in Hobbs, N. M., as a tool-pusher.

In January 1948, he received his BA degree in petroleum engineering at the University of Oklahoma and started work immediately toward his Master's in that field. During this time he served as graduate assistant and special instructor in petroleum engineering.

Johnston was the first president of Pi Epsilon Tau, national petroleum engineering fraternity, at the University of Oklahoma, and holds membership in AIME Tau Omega, national honorary aeronautical fraternity, and Sigma Xi, national honorary research society.

He is married and has one child, age 6. They will move to Lubbock August 15, and he will assume his new duties at Texas Tech September 1.

Conservation Project For Propane Will Be Tried In Winkler Pool

An experiment for the conservation of propane for later utilization will be made in the Keystone pool of Winkler County, where the Sid Richardson Gasoline Company plant is located.

Permit has been filed to drill a 1,750-foot low pressure gas injection well in the pool as No. 68 J. B. Walton, 1,320 feet from south and 2,640 feet from east lines of section 5, block B-2, pal survey.

It is planned to drill the well to the Rustler water stand at approximately 1,900 feet for storing the propane underground. There is little demand for propane, one of the liquid hydrocarbons stripped from casinghead gas at the plant, in the Summer and only a portion of the liquid is utilized.

By storing it underground, the Richardson interests hope to conserve the liquid hydrocarbon for use during the Winter, when there is a demand.

The propane will be pumped into the top of the formation under pressure of 400 to 500 pounds. Being lighter, it will stay on top of the water. When needed the water pressure will make its recovery possible.

Dates Set, Plans Made For Midland's Annual County Fair

Dates of September 23 and 24 were set for the annual Midland County Fair at a meeting Friday of the agriculture and livestock departments of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, meeting with retail merchants of the city.

The fair will be held in the City-Country Auditorium on a smaller scale than last year. Commercial and livestock exhibits will be omitted.

However, it is pointed out that by the time of the fair in 1950, it is hoped that a new agricultural and livestock exhibit building will be constructed.

Miller Presides
R. L. (Bob) Miller, chairman of the agriculture and livestock department of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the Friday meeting in the Private Dining Room of the Scharbauer Hotel. Miller named the following committee leaders for the 1949 fair: M. A. Roberts, finance; Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, exhibits; T. Paul Barron, entertainment; and L. T. Sledge, building.

These leaders will select their committee members later.

Attending the Friday planning meeting were Miller, Roberts, Barron, Mrs. Messick, Sledge, H. B. Schauer, R. C. Vest, W. E. King, Charlie Green, J. R. Cuffman, R. D. Scruggs, Henry Murphy, Delbert Downing and DeWayne Davis.

Air Force Reserve Meeting Scheduled

The first meeting of a volunteer Air Force Reserve squadron of Midland and area members has been called at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Midland Air Terminal.

All staff members are urged to attend. Persons interested in the Air Force Reserve program should attend and get information.

WASHINGTON OIL

No Recommendations Are Expected From Fact Finding Group

WASHINGTON—The National Petroleum Council's study of oil imports recalls the man who wants to go swimming, but doesn't want to get wet.

In creating a 24-man committee on oil imports, the NPC agreed to look at the water, but not to plunge in. The committee will find the facts, but make no recommendations, the NPC decreed.

The recommendations for industry action on imports, if any, are to come from the full council. The first chance for this is October, three months off, date of the next council meeting.

By then the congressional battle on imports will be ended—at least as far as action on the proposed Thomas amendment is concerned. The Thomas measure would limit imports to five per cent of domestic demand. Distress in the oil field probably will be eased by higher demand, taking away some pressure for import curbs.

While the facts collected and the way they are marshalled can influence opinion, the basic factors already are known, and all too sadly to U. S. oil men.

Any Texas producer can tell that production and drilling are on the skids in home oil fields, just as importers will tell you that they have heavy foreign investments and must produce oil or else lose money and their holdings.

Committee Is Silenced
The big problem is: What's to be done about it all? In this area, the committee, presumably the best informed, most representative oil man committee, is bound to silence.

So, we have the NPC warning itself, "Look at the water, but don't go in."

Sanguine about results, nevertheless, is Russell B. Brown, counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America. The committee's findings, he believes, will be valuable ammunition as he thumps against imports before Congress, the Tariff Commission and the State Department.

Here are the duties of the committee as outlined by the NPC's agenda committee and endorsed by the full council.

"The agenda committee recommends the appointment of a temporary committee to make a factual study of the matter of petroleum imports, including the effect thereof on the domestic industry, the domestic economy and national security, and upon completion of its studies to report its findings to the council for such action as the council deems appropriate. In view of the competitive aspects of the problem, the committee should not suggest plans or programs, but should confine its report to findings of fact."

Importers Represented
The membership of the committee includes such opposites on imports as Brown and Eugene Holman of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The chairman is George A. Hill, Jr., of the Houston Oil Com-

Friends And Associates Honor "Skipper" Thomas At Cloverdale Party As He Retires As Superintendent For West Texas Division Of Humble Pipe Line

July 30 was a big day for J. W. (Skipper) Thomas, West Texas division superintendent of Humble Pipe Line Company. On that day he began a month's vacation before retiring from active service and was honored by 430 friends and associates with a barbecue at Midland's Cloverdale Park. Thomas, now vacationing in Colorado, will retire on August 30 after 44 years of pipe lining and more than 33 years with Humble. Humble employees and friends came from all over West Texas and from distant points in the state to attend his party and to hear a program of tributes to his career. Many executives from the company's home office in Houston also attended. In the pictures above, from left to right, R. F. Peters, of Midland, regional employe relations manager, presents Thomas with a leather-bound book containing 132 letters of congratulations from friends. Others on the speakers' platform are F. D. McMahon, assistant to the general superintendent, and O. Q. Lomax, vice president and general superintendent, both of Houston. In the second picture, McMahon, Lomax, and Thomas reminisce about the good old days. McMahon and Thomas worked together for many years at Cisco and "practically raised our families together." McMahon presented Thomas with an embossed annuitant's billfold from the company, and Lomax presented a Humble annuitant's lapel pin and a certificate which serves as a pass to all company properties. In the center picture, Thomas expresses appreciation to the crowd for the party and for gifts he received. The gifts included a gold watch, a set of luggage, and a radio. He also received a considerable amount of friendly kidding, and (fourth picture) C. H. McCall, of Midland, assistant regional employe relations manager, presented him with a huge package of chewing tobacco and a stainless steel cuspidor. In the last picture, Thomas and friends admire his book of letters. From left to right, are W. A. Hugg, superintendent of the company's Odessa district; A. E. Payne, superintendent of the Southern division; McMahon; C. C. Moore, assistant secretary of the company; Lomax; Thomas; and George Lee, superintendent of the East Texas division.

Clingan Receives Gift From Shell Associates As He Retires

Joe Klingan of Abilene, retired August 1 as scout for Shell Oil Company, Inc. in the West-Central Texas area. He had completed 28 years of service with the company. Klingan worked under the exploration department of the company's area headquarters in Midland. H. M. Fritts is exploration manager and R. R. (Dick) O'Neil is chief scout for the area. Klingan was honored by his associates in the Midland area scouting section Friday at a luncheon at the Ranch House in Midland. Prior to the luncheon he was presented with a leather golf bag by the members of the department. In the picture Klingan is shown at the left in the front row, receiving the golf bag from O'Neil. In the back row, from left to right, are Arnold N. Brown, Charles R. Kelley, A. O. Lang, Jr., Dewey Stokes, Mrs. Martha Greene, Robert H. Miller, Mal Kidwell, Mrs. Helen Barkkari, Walter Bishop and Mrs. Cathryn Harrington.

Clingan, Shell Scout Is Retired After 28 Years With Company

Joe Klingan, scout for Shell Oil Company, Inc. in Abilene, retired August 1 after 28 years of service with the company. Klingan, a native of Independence, Kan., began work for Shell as an assistant warehouseman in the Crystal Falls district on July 1, 1921. He was transferred to the land department as a scout in February 1927. His first job as a scout was under the supervision of B. L. Ryan, now area manager of the Midland area, who was at that time superintendent in the land department in the Dallas office. During his service with Shell, Klingan worked out of the Crystal Falls, South Bend, Coleman, San Angelo, and Midland headquarters. He has made his home in Abilene for the past 12 years. Klingan is one of the oldest scouts, in years of service, and has been a member of every scout check in West Texas. Gifts Presented

Members of the West-Central Texas Oil Scouts Association presented him with a western style belt buckle and a tie clasp set at a party in Abilene on July 29.

R. R. (Dick) O'Neil, Shell's chief scout in the Midland area, presented Klingan with a leather golf bag on behalf of the employees of the scouting section, prior to the group entertaining Klingan at a luncheon in Midland Friday.

Members of the Abilene Country Club Klingan has gained distinction by being a member of the "Hole-in-One" club. He is credited with three "holes-in-one" on the Abilene course.

Klingan has received the company's 25 year service award, consisting of a diamond set service emblem and a watch.

At the present Klingan has no immediate plans for the future but will continue to live in Abilene and enjoy his favorite sport of golf. Mal Kidwell, scout in the Midland office, is replacing Klingan in Abilene. Kidwell has been working for Shell for the past two years.

Stock Price Level Approaches 1940 Peak

NEW YORK—(AP)—If the stock market is a barometer, business this fall will be good. The market rounded out last week with its rally going mad full speed. Investors had aggressively had to pay higher prices to get what they wanted.

The general price level reached a four-month high Friday. Measured by The Associated Press average of 60 stocks, the market is within hailing distance of the 1940 peak.

Clark Sticks To Job
Attorney General Tom C. Clark tried to pull out of the Tideland talks upon his appointment to the U. S. Supreme Court, but met a stout "No" from House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas).

"You've been in on this since the start, and you've got to stick with us till the job is done," said the short, strong-minded speaker. Rayburn has done a super-human job that may yet see out agreement on ownership of the oil-bearing Tidelands.

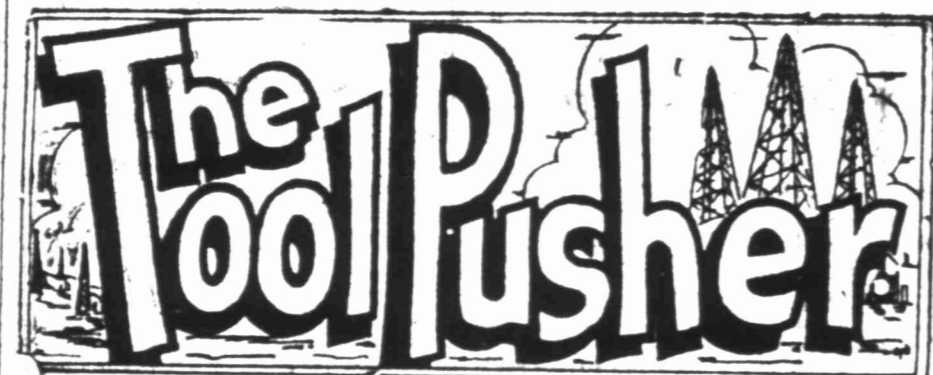

Clark felt that if he is to join the high tribunal, and take the oath of office in two weeks or so, he should shun controversial matters, especially those that may come before the court later on.

But oil men and states' officials want Clark to see the matter through. They are convinced Clark is more friendly to their cause than Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-RI) who is to become attorney general.

As a result, Clark took part in meetings this week on Tidelands. The two bills which face Congress indicates something short of agreement has been reached in backstage conferences these months, that the problem can't be solved in conference, and is being dumped into the lap of Congress. It dims hopes of a settlement.

Landmen's Association For Permian Basin To Be Talked At Tuesday Night Meeting

Plans for organizing a Permian Basin Landmen's Association will be discussed at a dinner meeting at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer in Midland.

All oil company landmen, and lease buyers for those concerns, have been invited to attend and take part in planning for a permanent organization.

The matter has been under consideration several months. A number of preliminary meetings have been held to map out plans for the association.

Organizing Committee Announced
The organizing committee is composed of Lloyd Nash, Tide Water Associated Oil Company, chairman; Charles A. Hitt, The Ohio Oil Company; R. W. Pattenon, Gulf Oil Corporation; Allen J. Watts, Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation; J. C. (Peck) Cunningham, Humble Oil & Refining Company; W. C. (Chappell) Davis, Shell Oil Company, Inc.; and Harry H. Lawson, Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware.

Announcements of the Tuesday night meeting have been sent to all oil company landmen in Midland and in the area from Abilene to Roswell, N. M., and from San Angelo to Lubbock.

Those who expect to attend have been requested to make their reservations in advance with Lawson, who is acting as temporary secretary of the organization.

Can Be Of Much Benefit
During the last few years similar associations have been started in several other oil areas. Members of the organizing committee say the proposed body can be of much benefit to its members and to the companies those men represent.

Humble To Spend $18,000,000 For A New Pipe Line For Permian Basin

HOUSTON—An $18,000,000 pipe line from West Texas to the Gulf Coast will be started by Humble Pipe Line Company toward the end of 1949 and completed around the middle of 1950. The new line will be of 18-inch pipe, extending 375 miles in a direct route from Kemper in Reagan County to Satsuma, 20 miles north of Houston, where it will connect with Humble's existing lines to Baytown.

It is being built to provide a more economical transportation system for Humble from West Texas. Upon completion of the new line, Humble plans to take up a part of its old system from West Texas to Baytown by way of West-Central Texas which has a capacity of 50,000 barrels per day. No changes are contemplated in Humble's other line from West Texas with a capacity of 70,000 barrels per day to Corpus Christi.

The new line will have an initial capacity of 95,000 barrels per day with one intermediate station between Kemper and Satsuma. The capacity can be increased to 120,000 barrels per day by the addition of a second intermediate station.

The direct route to be followed by the new line from Kemper to Satsuma will pass through sixteen counties: Reagan, Crockett, Schleicher, Menard, Kimble, Gillespie, Mason, Blanco, Hayes, Travis, Bastrop, Lee, Fayette, Austin, Waller, and Harris. Kemper is a central point on Humble's extensive pipe line system serving West Texas and New Mexico.

MARRIAGE LICENSES
A marriage license has been issued by the county clerk to Charles V. Mahaffey and Alma B. Henson.

Stanotex Makes North Snyder Outpost Locations Three Ventures

It is understood that operator plans to run a string of casing to test shows of petroleum which have been logged.

Upton Test Makes Oil, Gas And Water

Humble No. 1 Mrs. Z. Oswald of Abilene, Northeast Upton County wildcat to 12,000 feet to explore in to the Ellenburger had reached 7,655 feet in lower Permian lime and was making more hole.

It had a small show of oil and gas in a drillstem test at 8,221-98 feet.

The tool was open 120 minutes. Recovery was 75 feet of oil and gas cut drilling fluid and 830 feet of salt water cut drilling fluid.

flowing pressure was 170 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 2,450 pounds.

It is about four miles north of the Benedum field, and 2,640 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 12, block D, CCSD & RONG survey.

Flanagan Outpost Is Testing To Complete

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 Flanagan, northeast stepout to the Flanagan field in South-Central Gaines County, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 9, block A-23, psi survey, is testing prior to completion as an oil well from the Clear Fork-Permian.

It flowed 12 hours from open hole at 7,170-7,222 feet, and produced 69 barrels of new oil through a three-quarter inch tubing choke.

The well was then shutin for three hours when it was opened and flowed 77 barrels of new oil in tubing through a one-half inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 698-1. Flowing was continuing.

Drilling Started On Crockett Deep Test

Michaux and Kidd of Houston, were rigging up a rotary to drill cement plug and deepen their No. 1 C. S. Davidson, wildcat 670 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of the south half of section 50, block GH, GC&SP survey, eight miles east of Owens in East-Central Crockett County.

Projected to 9,000 feet to explore the Ellenburger, this venture was spudded to 558 feet in redbeds and shale and was waiting on cement to cure after 13 3/8 inch casing was set on bottom with 300 sacks of cement.

Dual Completion Set For Magnolia Strike

Magnolia continues to flow, to clean out and complete at its No. 18-B Cowden, discovery from both the Fusselman sections of the Silurian and from the Devonian, in South-west Andrews County, two miles east and a little south of the Dollarhide multi-pay field.

During 24 hours of flowing from Devonian perforations at 10,186-201 feet, the well produced 243 barrels of oil through a 20/64th inch tubing choke.

Gas-oil ratio was 717-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 250 pounds. The oil had a shakeout of six-tenths of one per cent sediment, there was no water.

The Fusselman section was recently officially completed from perforated intervals at 11,000-028 feet and at 11,056-082 feet. That formation reported a 24-hour potential of 242 barrels of 40.5 gravity oil. The flow was through a three-eighths tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 617-1. Tubing pressure was from 150 pounds to 110 pounds.

The well is to be dually-completed, with the Silurian flowing through the tubing and the Devonian producing through the space between the casing and the tubing.

Current flowing of the Devonian through the tubing is being done to equalize pressures so that some will produce steadily through the annular space, with the Silurian also flowing at the same time through the tubing.

Sinclair Bores Deeper At Five Ellenburgers

Five Sinclair explorations in the Shafter Lake-Ellenburger field of North-Central Andrews County are each below 10,700 feet and are boring deeper.

The company's No. 3-153 University, 555 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 13, block 13, University survey, was penetrating shale and sand below 11,285 feet. It is making more hole.

Sinclair had reached 11,165 feet in shale with its No. 5-155 University, and was going deeper.

It is 555 feet from east and 765 feet from north lines of the southwest quarter of section 24, block 13, University survey.

Others Continue Digging Another Ellenburger project, Sinclair No. 9-154 University, was in lime under 11,052 feet and continuing to drill deeper.

This venture is 555 feet from west and 765 feet from south lines of the northeast quarter of section 24, block 13, University survey.

The company had progressed to below 10,957 feet in lime with its No. 8-154 University. It is to continue on to explore the Ellenburger.

Location is 555 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 24, block 13, University survey.

The other exploration, Sinclair No. 4-153, was making hole under 10,768 feet-drilling in lime.

This venture is 555 feet from south and 765 feet from north lines of the southwest quarter of section 13, block 13, University survey.

Venture Near Rotan Gets Slight Oil Show

Roeser & Pendleton, Inc., of Fort Worth No. 1 Jameson, Central-North Fisher County prospector, about 12 miles northeast of Rotan, was bottomed at 6,195 feet in Ellenburger lime, and was circulating, while waiting on orders.

This development ran a 30-minute drillstem test at 6,165-95 feet, covering the section of the Ellenburger so far penetrated.

Recovery was four-tenths of one barrel of slightly salty drilling mud. Some sources reported that the mud had slight traces of oil. That was not verified from official sources.

Norsworthy Deepens Howard Exploration

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., No. 1 Christian, Howard County wildcat, 10 miles north of Big Spring, was deepening from 7,454 feet in brown lime and shale. This venture is to go to 8,500 feet to test the Pennsylvanian.

It is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 48, block 23, T-2-N, TP survey.

Small Rannels Pumper Finished By Manning

Fred M. Manning, Inc., of Fort Worth, No. 1 S. L. McNay, Northwest Rannels County wildcat, three and one-half miles northwest of Wingate, has reported completion gauge of 55.4 barrels of oil per day, pumping from perforated section at 5,282-90 feet, in a Pennsylvanian lime.

The project is 3,925 feet from north and 2,382 feet from south-west lines of section 293, J. Jeffries survey.

That makes it four miles northeast of the Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Odum, recently completed flowing oil discovery from the Strawn-Pennsylvanian lime.

This venture drilled into the Ellenburger from 5,470 feet to the total depth at 5,625 feet. That zone did not develop any indications of commercial production, and was plugged back and completed from the higher horizon.

Sinclair Deepening NW Borden Outposts

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company was continuing toward the Ellenburger with four outposts scheduled to go 10,000 feet in Northwest Borden County, flanking the company's No. 1 Williams, deep discovery 11 miles northwest of Gall.

Sinclair's No. 1 Pratt, one mile west and slightly south of the discovery well, was below 5,591 feet in lime and drilling ahead.

It is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 44, block 32, T-6-N, TP survey.

The company's No. 1 Reynolds, one and one-half miles to the north and slightly west of the strike, was boring deeper at 5,193 feet in lime.

Drill site is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 33, block 32, T-6-N, TP survey.

Drilling at Sinclair's No. 1 Turner in the same area, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 46, block 32, T-6-N, EL&RR survey, was under 4,975 feet in lime. Operator is making more hole.

Another outpost, Sinclair No. 1 Bryan, was continuing to deepen at 3,951 feet in lime.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 40, block 32, T-6-N, TP survey.

Pegasus Projects Are Making Further Hole

In the Pegasus area of North-Central Upton County and South-Central Midland County, three outposts to the discovery well of that field were drilling ahead, and the fourth development for the region was building rotary derrick.

Magnolia No. 2-30 Glass, northeast flanker to the initial producer had reached 11,460 feet in Devonian lime.

It is in Midland County, and 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 30, block 40, T-4-S, TP survey.

Magnolia No. 1-36 Glass, southwest outpost to the Pegasus discovery, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 36, block 41, TP survey, T-4-S, had penetrated below 10,965 feet in shale and lime, in the Pennsylvanian and was continuing to make hole.

All Deep Projects Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-BB TXL, northwest stepout to the field opener, and 664 feet from south and 660.5 feet from east lines of section 25, block 41, TP survey, T-4-S, had progressed below 7,200 feet in shale and lime and was boring deeper.

Magnolia No. 1-B TXL, one-half mile south of the Pegasus discovery, and 660 feet from north and west lines of the south-west quarter of section 31, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S, was building derrick, preparatory to starting actual hole digging.

Each of the above explorations are to drill to approximately 13,000 feet—and possibly a little deeper to test into the Ellenburger. The last three listed are in Upton County.

Humble Digs Deeper At Upton Ventures

Humble No. 1 Pembroke, Northeast Upton County wildcat to 12,500 feet to explore the Ellenburger, six miles north of the Benedum field, and 660 feet from north and 2,247 feet from east lines of block X, C. C. DeWitt survey, had reached 11,530 feet in lime and shale, and was boring deeper.

Humble No. 1 Parrott, old well in East-Central Upton County, which is being drilled deeper from its original bottom of 10,744 feet, to around 11,750 feet, had progressed to 10,767 feet, after drilling for several hundred feet in a side-tracked hole, and was digging on down.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block Y, EL&RR survey, and one-half mile north of Pennsylvanian production in the Benedum field.

Pawless Pups Use Skates For Scooter

DAYTON, OHIO—(P)—The plight of two six-week-old puppies born without front feet was being solved by roller skates Saturday.

The puppies were born to a six-year-old black and tan Cocker Spaniel owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Turner of nearby New Lebanon. The father is believed to be a Spitz.

Dorothy, the Turners' 12-year-old daughter, said before the skates were introduced the pups had either wriggled or wormed their way around.

A newsman first suggested the skates—and the pups appeared to take up the idea at once. Dorothy said they got on their skates to scoot to their food pans.

The only iron available to ancient man was that which he would find in meteorites.

Indians Take Rubber Tilt

The Midland Indians moved from Sweetwater to Roswell Sunday to open a series with the Rockets.

Lefty Leon Hayes or Ernie Nelson is due to oppose the New Mexico team in the opener, a Sunday night affair.

SWEETWATER—The Midland Indians took the rubber game of a three-game series with the Sweetwater Swatters by an 8 to 3 score here Saturday night as Claude Horton notched his third win against one defeat. The game was played under protest from the fourth inning. Manager Kermit Lewis of the Swatters disagreed with a decision at third base.

Every man in the Midland lineup collected a single except the pitcher and the catcher. Julian Pressley, Gus Pena and Buck Austin led the attack with two hits each.

Sweetwater was in the lead briefly in the third when they counted one run and again in the fourth when they plated another. Horton tightened up and allowed them only one more, in the sixth.

Mere Runs
The Indians counted a single tally in the fourth. In the sixth, a single by Bob Rose, a walk to Stan Hughes, a single by Warren Slier, a single by Gus Pena, a single by Buck Austin and a Swatter error gave Midland four more.

They finished off in the eighth with three. Pena opened with a double, Pressley and Austin singled and two more Sweetwater errors helped them score.

Horton struck out seven and walked only one.

Dallas Pro Pushes Up In Chicago Meet

CHICAGO—(AP)—Harry Todd of Dallas, knocking brilliant approach for a seven-under-par 65, Saturday barged within a stroke of Friday's pacesetter, Lloyd Mangrum, as the first round of the $20,000 All-American professional tourney ended.

Todd, whose most recent bid to fame was the Ozark Open he won last fall at Springfield, Mo., banged home eight birdies to finish two taps ahead of leading money-winner Sammy Sneed and Bill Nary of Los Angeles, who had 87's.

The actual third spot holders, ahead of Sneed and Nary, were Chick Harbert and Jim Turnesa, who fashioned 66's Friday.

Topping the 18 women who played Saturday was professional Betty Johnson of San Antonio with 77. It was good for second in the two-day first round activity, but was five strokes behind the four-under-par 73 stroked Friday by Louise Suggs, professional from Carrollton, Ga. Defending Champion Babe Zaharias of Denver wound up in a six-way tie for twelfth with a wobbly 82.

Three Shooters Even In All-Gauge

DALLAS—(AP)—Defending Champion Sgt. Glen Van Buren of Carroll All Force Base, Fort Worth, and three others were tied for the lead with perfect scores after 200 targets in the National All-Gauge Shoot Saturday.

Ecuador Earthquake Is South America's Worst Since 1939

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Ecuador earthquake Friday, in which the death toll may run to 2,700, is South America's worst tragedy of this kind since 1939.

In that year, 30,000 were killed in earthquakes in Chile. The greatest toll of lives taken by earthquakes this century was in 1920, at Kansa, China, when 180,000 were killed.

In the big San Francisco earthquake of 1906, there were 432 fatalities. But property damage ran to $350,000,000—the heaviest toll in earthquake property damage on record.

Copper Daugherty, left, manager of the Lions Club baseball team, and Ed Roberts, Optimist Club manager, "choose up" for the coming game between the two service clubs. The tilt will be played at Indian Park Tuesday night. The managers will give a forecast of what's to be expected when they are interviewed over KCBS at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Rampaging New York Giants Trim Cards

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—With former Mexican League Adrian Zabala turning in a six-hit pitching job, the New York Giants defeated the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals 3-1 Saturday night before a crowd of 28,193.

This left the Redbirds still a half-game ahead of the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers, who lost to Cincinnati Saturday afternoon.

Zabala had a three-hitter until the Cardinals scored their lone run in the eighth on singles by Tommy Giaviano and Red Schoendienst and a double by Stan Musial. Schoendienst tried to score an Musial's double, but was out at the plate on a tremendous throw by Right Fielder Monte Irvin.

Giant pitchers now have allowed only seven runs in their last eight games.

The score:

New York 100 101 000-3 11 0
St. Louis 000 010-1 6 1

Lions-Optimists Slated In Grudge Game Tuesday Night

The big baseball game of the season for Midland and vicinity will be unreeled at Indian Park at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday. It'll be the Lions Club against the Optimist Club in what both teams term a "blood battle."

The rosters of both squads are dotted with former minor league and semi-pro players of note and it stacks up to be a fine diamond attraction in every respect.

The Lions are being managed by Copper Daugherty while Red Roberts is handling the Optimists.

The tilt will be staged free of charge to the public and a large crowd is expected.

Manager Roberts, a former Big State League hurler, has assigned himself the role of starting hurler for the Optimist Club nine. Lee Holman, formerly a catcher for the Alpine Cowboys, will complete the battery.

Joe Roberson, a baseball figure in Midland for a score of years, is scheduled to hurl for the Lions. He will be backed up by Daugherty.

Bill Stallings will do the catching. Both service clubs have gone all out to field the best possible team for the "grudge" tilt. Workouts have been conducted for almost a month to round the two teams into shape.

The Lions have lined up such notables as Maurice Cox, Roy Terry, Delbert Downing, "Doc" Rae, "Doc" Ellis, "Doc" Scott, "Doc" Brady, Red Watkins, Ralph McClesky, Al Chase, Cecil Hodges, Jim Nobles, Tommy Withrow, Jack Mashburn and others to be inserted in the lineup.

Included on the Optimist Club roster are Dick McKnight, Lou Guthrie, Ted Whitte, Bob Waynes-cody, John Grimland, Bob Phillips, Dick McManan, Warren Stafford, Rudy Rubin, M. Velvin, Ray Jenkins, Pete VanHorn, Gene Purvis, and several others.

A capable array of umpires has been lined up to keep peace on the field and see that the game progresses according to the rules.

Lloyd Campbell will work behind the plate. Chester Shepherd will be at first and Claude Watkins at the plate.

Steaks For Shirley May

(Exclusive NEA-Acme Radiophoto via NEA-Acme Telephoto) Shirley May France removes the wrappings from a package of big, juicy steaks sent her by NEA Service. The meat represents one of the regular shipments supplementing rationed meat in Dover, England, and will help the 16-year-old swimmer get in shape for her cross-channel attempt.

Girl Against The Channel: Big Swim May Start Friday If Good Weather Holds Out

By SHIRLEY MAY FRANCE (Copyright by NEA Service, Inc.) DOVER, ENGLAND.—(NEA)—I've been feeling so good the last few days that I've been pestering my coach, Harry Boudikian, for permission to try the channel before my seventeenth birthday, August 11.

Earlier this week we'd run into a spell of horrible weather and I was willing to settle for August 15. But the last couple of days have been nice and sunny and I've surprised myself with my form in the water. I honestly don't think I'll need much conditioning but of course Harry and my father will make the final decision.

As Harry was greasing me down for a practice swim, I asked him, "When do you think I'll go, coach?"

He laughed and said, "Don't be impatient and don't worry about possible starting dates. Let's just try to have you in shape by August 11 or 12. Then if the weather permits you can leave at a moment's notice."

Anything the coach says is all right with me. You don't get everything you want in life and I suppose—and I'm thankful to even get a chance to make the dream of every long distance swimmer come true.

North Stars Hold Mighty South Squad To 6-6 Tie

BEAUMONT—(AP)—The Split T, brought into the Texas Coaching School all-star football game for the first time, wasted its strength with fumbles, pass interceptions and penalties Friday night as the South and North school-boy squads struggled to a 6-6 tie.

The South team, tutored by Don Faurot of Missouri, creator of the Split T, slashed and roared up and down the field and decisively outplayed the North team, coached by Carl Snavely of North Carolina, exponent of the single wing back formation.

In the last three minutes the South had an excellent opportunity to score, smashing to the one-yard line. But Claud Kincannon of Waco, brilliant T master quarterback, fumbled the ball.

The split T formation gobbled up 195 yards on the ground while the North got a puny 23. But Ted Jones of Childress was too much for the south to overcome. Jones intercepted a pass to set up the North score which he made by pitching 11 yards to Maurice Teague of Texas. He also intercepted a couple of other passes while he hurled 30 and completed eight.

Jones' performance earned him the award of the Texas sports writers as an outstanding back of the game.

The expected just about happened in the first, balloting for the Rose of the Year in the Longhorn League. Every town but one named a man from its own team.

President Hal Sayles has mailed out the final ballots and has instituted a new system of determining the winner. The new method will guard against the same seven rookies being named in the final ballot.

—SS— Sayles stole notes from the books of the Army and Navy upon which to base his new method—the point system.

Sportswriters and sportscasters in the league cities will make first, second and third place selections this time.

First place votes will count seven points. Second place votes will count six and third place will count five.

The deadline for voting is August 15 and the results will be released August 16.

—SS— We already have returned our ballot for the final round. Kenny Jones, the greatest, tall Longhorn pitcher, remains at the top of our list.

We voted for Wayne Batson, Odessa's rookie first baseman, as second choice and Carlos Pascual of Big Spring for third.

Batson ties for the other candidates on his fielding and hitting but still doesn't measure up to the standard set by Jones.

Pascual—they call him a rookie in this league—is loud in our opinion because he has been outstanding for the Big Spring Broncs all year. His status as a rookie undoubtedly is bona fide here but you can't tell how many years he played in Cuba before shipping to the U. S.

—SS— Maybe Papa Joe Cambria could tell us. Or even Tommy Hart.

When the Sweetwater Swatters shucked Dick Gyselman as a manager and hired Kermit Lewis they just dug a little deeper into the old Pacific Coast League players to hire a boss.

—SS— Lewis has traveled long and far in the minor leagues, reaching his peak and hired Kermit Lewis they just dug a little deeper into the old Pacific Coast League players to hire a boss.

Lewis has traveled long and far in the minor leagues, reaching his peak and hired Kermit Lewis they just dug a little deeper into the old Pacific Coast League players to hire a boss.

—SS— Gyselman has been one of the finest performers in the league all season. He was second to none as a place hitter and his average is tree-top high even now.

He'll just as well or better against West Texas-New Mexico League pitching.

So, Cy Fawcett and his Albuquerque Dukes will be the ones getting the help.

—SS— Manager Harold Webb, still playing hide-and-seek while taking his rest after a serious illness, reports he will be home for the next series.

That'll throw him here August 10 when the Indians engage the Sweetwater Swatters.

Webb says he may have "a little help" when he gets back.

—SS— Comes a card from some "joker" up in Lubbock to our desk with the following inscription: "From looking at your football schedule one would wonder why you don't book Stanton or Rankin for your miserable team." He signed it J. G. Conklyn or I. G. Conklyn (we couldn't exactly read his writing).

—SS— Don't worry about our football team Mr. Lubbock. There's come a day not in the distant future when we'll take the pants off such upstarts as your town puts out.

We notice you didn't have exactly an undefeated season last year.

—SS— HALF SLANTS... Claude Horton, the Saturday-night hurler for the Midland Indians, batted 333 while playing with Nashville in the Southern Association in 1947... Stu Williams of Ballinger has struck out only seven times this season. At least two of them were in Indian Park... They say down at Fort Aransas the fish "bite every day." At least two Midlanders have gone there to find out in the last few days. John Dorn and J. C. Blackwood tried their luck... Thomas Flournoy was the first Midlander to call in and say, "Let's go on that Joan Edwards Recovery Plan here. I'm all for it." Tom plays softball with Joe's Gulf.

—SS— The Odessa Oilers have obtained Leo Rhetings from Lamson on option. A. D. Ensey doesn't want to buy his former outfielder because Leo will be a team man next year... The Alpine Cowboys proved to their little brothers, the Alpine Legionnaires, they still are the best in the Southwestern Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament at El Paso this week. The Cowboys won 12 to 4. Bill Gage, former Ballinger and Roswell hurler, was tagged with the loss... The Lubbock Country Club Golf tournament is scheduled August 18-21. Vann Ligon and several others from here are due to enter... "Stan the Man" Mustal has hit Brooklyn pitching at a .588 clip in games at Ebbeitz Field this season.

—SS— Bob Feller holds the major league record for most strikeouts in a game—he whiffed 11.

—SS— The Chicago Cubs continued on a batting rampage to wallop the Boston Braves 10 to 4 Saturday. Walt Dubiel had a one-hitter until the ninth when the Braves rapped six straight singles after two were out. Hank Sauer hit his No. 24 homer. Andy Pafo belted his fourteenth.

—SS— The stylish southpaw turned back the Tigers with five hits. For the second time in as many games the Sox have beaten them nine times. Only two Tigers got to second against him.

Parnell, who struck out three and walked one batter, thus maintained his record of never having been defeated by the Tigers. He now has beaten them nine times. Only two Tigers got to second against him.

Swatters Whip Indians 9 To 2

SWEETWATER—The Sweetwater Swatters were out for blood here Friday night and they got it at the expense of Ralph Blair and the Midland Indians. The Swatters connected for 15 safe blows, seven of them for extra bases, as they rooted their way to a 9 to 2 victory.

Dick Mordido, Sweetwater in-and-out, found himself for the first time this season and scattered four bingles over seven and two-thirds innings, keeping the Indian bats quiet. He retired in favor of Lou Lockhart in the eighth when Manager Kermit Lewis decided it was time to make a change.

Sweetwater took the lead in the first inning with one run. They scored one in the fourth and two in the fifth.

In a big seventh, Gene Jaroch homered over the rightfield wall with two on and the Swatters counted another before they were through. They finished up with one in the eighth.

—SS— Midland got its runs by taking advantage of the wildness of Mordido in the eighth and Lockhart in the ninth. They scored one in each of the heats.

Other Friday night scores were: San Angelo 7, Vernon 5; Odessa 7, Big Spring 6; Roswell 14-8, Ballinger 12-16.

Merry Christmas And A Happy August 7 To You All; Midland Boy Writes Santa Claus

The last few days of cool weather caused many Midlanders' thoughts to turn toward football and other Fall sports. But not the kiddies—as evidenced by a letter turned over by the Post Office to The Reporter-Telegram. Young David Harold Sherrod's thoughts turned toward the North Pole and Santa Claus.

Maybe he didn't look at a calendar or maybe he didn't remember that Old Saint Nick doesn't make his journey until late in December—or maybe the last few days of cool weather just decided him to take no chances in case he had his dates mixed. Whatever your motives, sonny, it wasn't a bad idea because it's the early bird that gets the worm—or rather the early boy that gets the pick of Santa's presents.

What with the manufacturing strikes that tie up production for months at a time it undoubtedly is a good thing to have your wishes known early so Claus can get to work on the order.

We feel sure that The Reporter-Telegram is delivered to the Claus at the North Pole every afternoon so we will just print your letter here, David. Just in case he doesn't see the article however, we will try to get the original letter to him by special messenger. The letter, printed in its original form, follows.

"Dear Santa Claus, Please bring me cowboy boots, another cowboy shirt, chaps and spurs, vest, a train and a scooter. A golf stick and two pistols and a belt with bullets all around.

Thank you. David Harold Sherrod."

Now David, we don't doubt but what Santa will act promptly in getting these on his list but sometimes he is rather rushed. It might be a good idea if you pointed this article out to father and mother so they might drop him another reminder before Christmas.

Merry Christmas and a happy August 7 to you all.

Polio Mounts In Nation; Texas Picture Brightens

Infantile paralysis mounted sharply in the nation last week, but there are signs the peak has passed in some hardest hit areas.

A state by state survey by The Associated Press showed some 1,400 new cases developed in the last four days. This boosted the 1949 total to date to approximately 9,400—more than half again as high as for the comparable period in 1948, second worst polio year on record.

A note of cheer, however, was heard from health officials in Texas, Arkansas and in Detroit. And the U. S. Public Health Service in Washington also reported some evidence of a slackening in the upward pace in the country as a whole.

A health service spokesman said there was a chance the polio season might end earlier this year. In Texas, which is experiencing its worst polio year with 1,218 cases through June 30, Dr. George Cox, state health officer, expressed the cautious view that the disease has leveled out somewhat.

Joe W. Savage of New York, executive director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, made a tour of the hardest hit spots in Texas. He called the fight against spread of the disease there "outstanding, splendidly coordinated."

Slowdown in Arkansas The Arkansas Health Department said there is a definite slowdown of the disease in that state.

Polio increased rapidly in Tennessee with 48 new cases reported the last week in July.

In only three states, the survey showed—Indiana, Kansas and North Carolina—is the disease proving comparatively highly fatal.

Approximately one out of each 10 cases of the disease in those states has ended in death.

In 1948, 5,793 polio cases were reported through June 30. The total for the year soared to 27,880, topped only by the approximately 30,000 in 1918.

The survey showed Texas has the greatest number of polio cases reported this year, 1,218. Other hardest hit states are California, 794; New York 721; Oklahoma 550; Arkansas 537 and Illinois 522.

Four hours earlier, the approximately 2,000 strikers of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union voted unanimously not to work for the government.

Harry Bridges, union president who flew to Honolulu Friday said on arrival that no law of the Hawaiian Legislature could force handling of Hawaiian cargoes on the Pacific Coast. He declared coast longshoremen would take no part in "government scabbery."

Penalties Provided The legislature act directs the governor to take over the seven struck stevedoring companies and hire strikers "so far as possible," paying the pre-strike wage of $1.40 an hour. The strike began May 1 to enforce a union demand for a raise to $1.72 an hour.

The law, good for 180 days, comes into effect immediately upon the governor's proclamation of an emergency. It includes a loyalty oath for citizens and a non-Communist oath for aliens employed in the operation.

Strikes or other interference with the government operation are forbidden, with injunction action authorized to prevent them.

Violations of any of the terms or of regulations to be prescribed by the governor are made punishable by a maximum $500 fine and three months in jail.

Hawaiian Governor Voted Authority To Seize Struck Docks

HONOLULU (AP)—The Hawaiian Legislature Saturday voted authority for Gov. Ingram M. Stainback to seize and operate docks in an effort to end the stevedore strike which has crippled this territory's economy for 98 days.

West Texas Masons, 2,000 Strong, Attend Annual Hilltop Meet

CRANE—Hugh M. Craig of Port Worth, worships grand master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, was the featured speaker at a gathering of more than 2,000 Masons from West Texas at Hilltop, an outdoor auditorium, six miles south of here Saturday.

Craig told the audience the "World needs to return to religion," in his discussion of "Evil Forces That Are Abroad in Our Land Today."

He listed the evil forces as selfishness, arrogance and intolerance of the acts of others.

Sixteen lodges in this area were hosts for the meeting which drew one of the largest crowds of any similar event this year. More than 400 wives and lady guests also were here.

Harry Chandler of Odessa, a past district deputy grand master, presided.

An outdoor barbecue was served Saturday evening.

Prominent guests attending with Craig were Dr. C. S. Woodward, grand high priest, and Dr. Ballin R. Woodward, grand orator, both of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Texas. They are from Arlington.

The Midland lodge was well represented at the meeting.

Douglas Returns From Iran Junket

NEW YORK (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and his son came back to the United States Saturday after a mountain-climbing jaunt that set off an official uproar inside Russia.

The Russian radio protested that Douglas was accompanied by "a gang of spies" as he and his 47-year-old son, William, Jr., hiked through the mountains of Iran on Russia's southern borders.

"They dubbed me as 'the big devil from the United States,'" Douglas said, "and my son as 'the little devil.'"

The justice and his son arrived by plane after a seven weeks vacation in the Middle East and Europe.

Legionnaires To Name New Officers In Sunday Ballot

PORT WORTH (AP)—Officers will be elected, a host city for 1950 named and the buddies who "went over the top" in 1949 will be honored at a memorial service at concluding sessions of the 31st annual American Legion convention at Hotel Texas Sunday.

Harry Colmery of Topeka, Kan., a former national Legion commander, who often has been described as the "best orator in the American Legion," will make the memorial address at 9 a. m.

As politicking reached its peak Saturday night, there were rumors that William S. Traill of Houston and George Broome of Amarillo, two leading candidates for department commander, would withdraw in favor of Port Worth's Joe Spurlin after taken first ballot votes.

Beaumont indicated it would make an effort to secure next year's convention.

Greek Army Attacks Guerrilla Stronghold

SATURDAY unleashed a full-scale offensive, supported by planes and tanks, against the estimated 5,000 Communist guerrillas in the Grammos Mountains.

The battle started with troops attacking along two sides of a 260-square-mile triangle based on the Albanian border and with its apex at Eptaborion. The triangle is anchored on the border northwest of Nestorion and northeast of Konitas.

Preliminary successes were scored on the northeastern front, where heavily fortified heights were captured in combined operations by the Air Force and Infantry, the staff said.

The United Nations special commission on the Balkans reported that one of its planes photographing fortifications along the border was fired on from gun positions within Albanian territory.

UNSCOB said the guerrillas were using 105 mm. guns, apparently coming from foreign sources.

The report also said the photographs "clearly show" the guerrillas have prepared a line of trenches extending across the Greek-Albanian frontier.

WHO ARE THESE 700,000 MEN THEY CALL "KNIGHTS"?

Whether you are a Catholic or not, you should know the truth about the Knights of Columbus. It is, as sometimes rumored, a secret society with designs against our government? Do its members really take an oath to destroy non-Catholic institutions and to promote Catholic political power? If such rumors were true, the Knights of Columbus would not deserve the friendship and trust of non-Catholic citizens, which it invites and merits. Actually there is no more thoroughly American organization than this fraternal order of Catholic men. It is composed of plumbers and lawyers, farmers and doctors, business men and scientists—of Catholic men at every level of the social and economic scale. Some are rabidly partisan Democrats, others equally staunch Republicans. On political and public questions, they "choose up sides" with all the freedom and enthusiasm of any other citizens. The Knights of Columbus was formed in 1882, by a small group of the men of St. Mary's Church, New Haven, Connecticut. They had met, at the invitation of Father Michael J. McGivney, not to form a national fraternal society, but to "render mutual aid to the members of the parish and their families." In the years that since have ensued, the Knights of Columbus has grown into a fraternal order of 700,000 members, spread over the United States, Canada and other countries of the Western World. But its purpose of "mutual aid"... and its principles of charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism... have remained unchanged through those 67 years. Millions of dollars contributed by the American people have been spent by the Order for the relief of victims of fire, flood and famine... for the support of Christian youth work... for aid to Christian education. In World War I, and immediately thereafter, after $44,000,000 was expended by the Knights in support of our troops and in the rehabilitation of veterans. Even after all these years, veterans of the first great conflict still remember the Knights of Columbus huts in France with their friendly invitation: "Everybody Welcome—Everything Free." Nearly one out of every six Knights served his country in World War II, and many laid down their lives. Despite these and many other signal demonstrations of its principles of charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism, some people have the most absurd beliefs and suspicions about the Knights of Columbus, just as they do about the Catholic Church. Even today, misinformed people give publicity at times to a false alleged Knights of Columbus oath which has been proved to be fraudulent, and which scores of others have been forced publicly to admit is untrue. This message... and others explaining Catholic beliefs and practices... are published by the Knights of Columbus so that our non-Catholic neighbors may judge us as we really are—not as we are often misrepresented to be. We believe that truth, as Lincoln said, "is generally the best vindication against slander." If you would like to know more about the Knights of Columbus... about the ideals, history, achievements and aims of this international society of Catholic men... we shall gladly send you free an interesting pamphlet on the subject. Write today for Pamphlet No. 9-KC. SUPREME COUNCIL KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS Religious Information Bureau 4422 LINDELL BLVD. ST. LOUIS 8, MO.

Dime-Sized Frogs Blitz Mobile, Ala.

MOBILE, ALA. (AP)—Thousands of dime-sized brown frogs, all hopped up over something, blitzed two streets here Saturday.

The frogs jumped off on the invasion before dawn and by daybreak had just about covered the yards.

J. H. Ramsey said he noticed all the frogs seemed westward bound from a nearby water-hole and figured "They're just migrating."

Where the frogs came from or why was a mystery.

The residents mostly said they didn't care anyway; they just wanted the frogs to croak.

Blind Man's Binge Gets Judge's Blessing

CLEVELAND (AP)—Can you blame a blind man for getting intoxicated after being promised help in an operation that might restore his sight?

Municipal Judge Perry B. Jackson Saturday ruled, in effect, that you can't.

John Terry, 44, tapped his white cane to a stop before the bench and pleaded guilty to being intoxicated and a traffic hazard in the center of town.

He explained he had celebrated after a friend in Washington said he would help arrange an eye operation.

Judge Jackson washed him success and dismissed the case.

Where Good Gas Service BEGINS Two New Gas Wells Being Drilled Before natural gas can be started on its journey to your home or business, wells must be drilled into the gas-bearing strata far beneath the surface of the earth. Two additional gas wells to serve our customers are now being drilled. Midland and "right around here" got some moisture since the last edition of DQS. We might say more moisture because there has been 15.16 inches of rainfall here already this year.

When you think about the fact that the average rainfall per year for Midland County is 16.29 inches, we can be glad and thank God for larger favors. And the Fall rains are yet to come.

By the range of the CAA boys at Midland Air Terminal here are the rainfall figures by months so far this year:

April	2.85
May	1.89

A World's Championship Rodeo will again be shown in Dubs, Texas this year. The dates for this big show will be August 31, September 1-2-3, and all performances will be shown at night.

The nationally famous Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band will again be here to play for all four performances. There will be many other specialty acts, which will be equally famous.

The 100th anniversary of the arrival of the first Brahman cattle in America will be celebrated at a giant jubilee in Charleston, S. C., September 27 through October 1.

The Centennial will be the greatest livestock exposition ever held in the Southeast," said Milton R. Thomas of Sarasota, Fla., chairman of the Centennial committee. Thomas is organizer and past president of the Southeastern Brahman Breeders' association, sponsors of the event.

"The Centennial is planned for the profit, betterment and promotion of livestock in the South, not necessarily for Brahman breeders alone," Thomas said. The event is believed to be the first of its kind ever held in the United States.

The first Brahman cattle were imported at Charleston in 1849. In the ensuing century, descendants of three original animals have become established as economic lifelines in the South, noted for their size, gentleness, and ability to thrive in poor pastures and hot sun.

The Centennial will attract cattlemen, packers and breeders from many parts of the United States as well as from South America and Australia. Approximately 3,000 visitors are expected.

Garlyn O. Hoffman, assistant agricultural agent of Tom Green County, has been named Sterling County agent, effective August 15. He succeeds Byron W. Frierson who resigned to become assistant general manager in agriculture of the Texas Prison System at Sugar Land.

Paul H. Newton, assistant agent in Coleman County, will succeed Hoffman in Tom Green County.

Fred Ball and Ray W. Willoughby have been named to the Executive Committee for San Angelo's 1950 Fat Stock Show and Rodeo by Pat H. Jackson, general chairman.

Willoughby is immediate past president and general chairman of the rodeo association and Ball is the past superintendent of the Boy's Lamb Show. Dates for the 1950 show and rodeo are set for March 2-5.

A lot of American boys when they returned from overseas got off the transport boats and kissed the soil of the good old USA.

That soil had been good to many of those boys. And now after the war is over, a lot of veterans are turning to the soil to live on and make a living.

We find a lot of interest among vets in the new Texas Veterans Farm Program. Recently on this page, a full question-answer about it was printed.

Saturday at the American Legion convention at Fort Worth, a panel meeting was devoted to covering all phases of the Veterans Farm Program. Principal speaker was Dillard B. Lassetter, administrator of the Veterans Farmers. The Veterans Farmers Meeting was the first of its kind ever to be held in conjunction with the state legion pay-up.

Following graduation exercises (Summer) at Texas A&M College August 27, some 503 young men will step out to face the world. The School of Agriculture lists 122 of these new faces. Of the 122, 12 applied for BS degrees in agricultural administration, 25 in agricultural education, 83 in agriculture, eight in agricultural engineering, two in landscape art, seven in range and forestry and five in wildlife management.

According to The Associated Press the job of rewriting Texas complicated and conflicting surface water laws has been handed on to another Legislature.

This past Legislature squabbled most of the session over the issue and then assigned the task of making an interim study of surface water problems to a 21-man committee.

That committee will decide on what it thinks will satisfy most Texas water users and make recommendations to the 52nd Legislature.

The study group consists of six senators, six representatives, and nine laymen. Three of the laymen will be named by the governor and three by the lieutenant governor and three by the speaker of the house.

Early in May the senate approved a 22-man committee consisting of five senators, five representatives and 12 laymen, including six named by the governor. The house asked for a committee of eight senators and ten representatives, with none named by the governor.

The difference between the two houses were not ironed out until a few days before the session ended.

But the controversy over the make-up of the committee was by no means the first time a Legislature heard of surface water laws.

Surface water laws are not new to the Texas Legislature.

The state's first Water Appropriation Act was adopted in 1889 and applied only to the drier portions of the state. The 1889 act was amended in 1895 to apply to all of the state. These acts required anyone desiring to use surface water to file a sworn certificate of appropriation with the county clerk of the county in which the water would be diverted.

Many of these old permits are still in effect.

The 1895 act remained law until 1913 when the Legislature adopted a surface water code patterned after the statutes in Wyoming and Nebraska. The State Board of Water Engineers was set up as an administrative agency.

The 1913 act required water users to secure permits from the state board before diverting water from streams or lakes.

In 1917 the Legislature repealed the 1913 act and enacted a more comprehensive surface water code.

The 1917 act, with the numerous amendments attached by almost every Legislature during the past 32 years, is the present surface water code.

It is up to the next Legislature to decide if the amended 1917 act is adequate for the conservation and development of Texas surface water sources—now and in the future.

Railroad Embargo On Grains Is Lifted

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Railroads have been notified to lift the embargo on grain shipments for storage in Texas and six other Western states, the Association of American Railroads said Saturday.

Four exceptions were made. The embargo still is effective on bulk grain for storage at Kansas City, Mo., Kansas City, Kan., East St. Louis, Ill., and St. Louis, Mo.

The AAR ordered its embargo effective June 1 when heavy movements of grain in the Southwest were underway. It affected Texas, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Missouri, Oklahoma and Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Antarctic Is No Place For Boredom, Says Veteran Polar Explorer George J. Dufek

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—America's No. 2 explorer—second only to Adm. Richard E. Byrd—swears that he isn't interested in exploring as a career. You've got to know Navy Captain George J. Dufek and his career to understand that statement. To say that tall, husky Dufek has been fleeing from boredom might be close to an explanation. So far, the only place where it hasn't caught up with him is at the North and South Poles.

After graduating from Annapolis in 1925, Dufek got bored, in turn, by the life of a watch officer on a big ship, by submarining, and, after a six-year turn, by naval aviation.

One morning in 1939, he was about to lead his squadron in a routine flight when he saw a notice in the operations office. It asked for volunteers for an expedition to the South Pole to be headed by Byrd. At that instant, he decided he'd had enough of flying and scribbled his name under the notice.

Dufek: "I want to help get us a cold-water Navy, too."

Dufek's fellow officers got a big laugh out of his new assignment.

Case Of Mistaken Windmill Identity

A Midland County rancher got his windmill dismantled free of charge and an appliance store operator here by his good deed was providing his friends with chuckles over the incident.

It seems the appliance man sold a new windmill to a rancher and in the deal was to dismantle the old one before installing the new equipment.

Driving out to the section where the customer lives, the appliance dealer had a windmill dismantled and on the ground before the owner showed up and informed "him he was on the wrong premises."

Everyone was happy in the end, however, as the rancher said he had been wanting the windmill taken down for quite a spell.

They knew him as a spirited flyer and leader who never thought twice about risking his neck in any kind of a situation and as a pleasant off-duty companion who loved fun and the bright lights. They couldn't see him enjoying the long, lonely, cold days of the Antarctic where rigid routine was more in demand than daring. That's where they didn't know Illinois-born Dufek. As navigator of one of the wooden sailing ships a brilliant record as air officer on the Navy's staff for the invasions of Sicily, Italy and Southern France, and as leader of one of the most effective anti-sub groups in the Atlantic. When the conflict ended, he was in the Pacific commanding a carrier.

But he was soon back in cold-weather gear. Impressed with the job he had done with Byrd, the Navy sent him to the other polar region as second-in-command of an expedition to set up Arctic weather bases. Then Byrd asked for him for the High Jump expedition back to the South Pole. With his previous experience and enthusiasm for the job, Dufek became firmly established as a senior-grade explorer.

Cold Water Ducking

The movie "Secret Land," which was made of that jaunt, showed Dufek being accidentally plunged into icy waters several times. Someone suggested that the picture be renamed "The Ducking of Dufek." He was in the frigid water seven minutes in one ducking. More than three minutes is usually fatal.

"The cold water made my hands feel as though they were on fire," is the only complaint he offers of those narrow escapes.

Married and the father of four, Dufek is soft-spoken and dignified, with abundant steel gray wavy hair and intelligent eyes. He looks like a typical scientist. He might grudgingly accept the title of explorer, but emphatically denies that he's a scientist.

"The trips I've made to the polar regions have been for military purposes only, as far as I'm concerned. Up until now I think we have had a warm-water Navy. I want to help get us a cold-water Navy, too."

As would be expected, Byrd and Dufek are close personal friends with immense respect for each other's ability. Between the two, they have more hours of polar investigation under their belts than almost any two other explorers in history.

A new special ink for permanent marking of anything laboratory men may wish to identify, is said to be non-fading, to dry instantly, and to be available in any color.

California Desert Was Lake Long Ago

LA JOLLA, CALIF.—(AP)—California's Mojave desert is one of the sandiest, driest in the United States. But Dr. Robert R. Miller of the United States National Museum and Dr. Carl L. Hubbe of the University of California biologist say it was once a land of lakes.

The area was well watered until after the glacial era—about 20,000 years ago, they estimate.

Roping Horse Is Sold For $2,000

PECOS—Toots Manfield of Big Spring and Sonny Edwards of Coahoma, both rodeo performers, bought Tinker T, a four-year-old roping horse, from Jack Turney of Sonora at a reported $2,000. Edwards believes this might be the highest ever paid for a four-year-old roping horse.

Both Edwards and Manfield rode Tinker T in the Pecos rodeo, but the deal wasn't completed until Edwards chalked up sensational time on the horse in a matched roping at Coleman. Trying desperately to make up a 35-second lead gained by his opponent, Edwards caught three calves in 13.61, 12.29 and 11.66 seconds.

Quiggle's Wiggle Traps Little Man Who Wasn't There

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The little man who wasn't there—that's Robert E. Quiggle, 37. Police answering a burglary call to a market Saturday saw a small figure through the window. But when they entered, he had vanished. Suddenly they heard a crash of falling bottles and cans. Quiggle gave a wiggle and down he tumbled, said Officer E. L. Sauter, from his hiding place high on a grocery shelf. Sauter says the man told him: "This is a mistake. I'm not here." He was booked on suspicion of burglary.

New Three-Day One-Pill Malaria Remedy Reported

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Chicago Herald-American reported Saturday night that a "three-day permanent cure" with one pill has been discovered for malaria. The newspaper, in a copyrighted story, said the discovery resulted from a $7,000,000 federal project involving experiments with 300 convicts at Joliet State Prison as malaria "guinea pigs." The tests have been going 18 months, the Herald-American said. Credited by the newspaper for the discovery are Dr. Alf Sven Alving, University of Chicago medical expert, and Dr. John Arnold, an Army scientist. They directed the experiments at Stateville. Asked about The Herald-American report, Dr. Arnold refused to confirm or deny that a quick cure had been found. He added: "If you want verification, be at the American College of Physicians convention at Indianapolis in November." In its article The Herald-American said a report on the drug will be made at this convention.

Brannan Plan—

(Continued From Page One) The present program, which will be known after the final round of vaccines in January of 1950, are satisfactory then the battle might be declared won. Mitchell also said he didn't think there ever was a time when greater need existed for groups to protect the livestock industry against insect pests and are attempting to dictate to and control the industry. Dred Evans, Magdalena, N. M., president of the New Mexico Cattle Raisers Association, declared it is vitally important that ranchers get together and make themselves heard. He praised the national association as a very worthwhile organization. Committee Formed Radford Hall, Denver, assistant executive secretary, told the group that consumer relations are important to the cattle industry and that a public relations committee was set up 18 months ago. He reported the committee's work already has been felt throughout the nation. He announced that the national meeting of the livestock group will be at Miami January 4-7. Huling Means of Silver City, N. M., chairman of the finance committee, urged all present to join the national organization and stressed its importance to the cattle industry. An open discussion followed the talks.

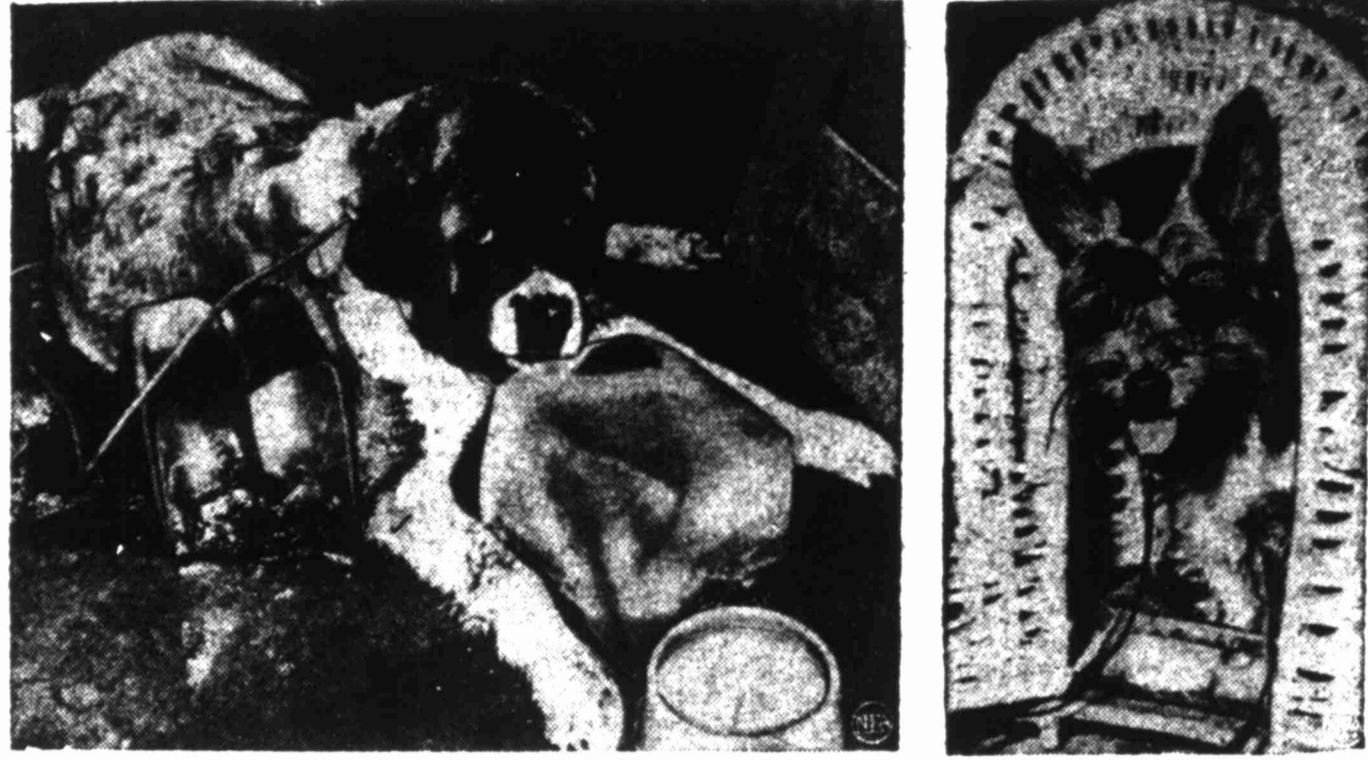

Reported Injuries To Franco Denied

SAN SEBASTIAN, SPAIN—(AP)—Personal aides of Generalissimo Francisco Franco Saturday denied all reports that the Spanish leader had met with some sort of an accident.

They said he is in fine shape and had ordered his private yacht Azor to stand ready again Sunday to take him on his daily fishing trip. Franco has gone fishing every day since he began his vacation here July 29, they said.

There had been rumors that Franco had been the victim of an assassination attempt; met with an accident at sea; fallen overboard; got seasick. All these were branded as pure rumors by the foreign ministry spokesman.

Hot And Not-So-Bothered

Tequila, left, a seven-month-old St. Bernard puppy, is going on his vacation but doesn't look too happy about it. He was flying from Ottawa, Canada, to Mexico with his master, the Mexican ambassador to Canada. But when Tequila landed in Dallas and found the thermometer at the 100-degree mark, he just plopped down by two cakes of ice and refused to move. On the other hand, Gusie, a tiny terrier, found it hot when his plane landed in New York City from Calcutta, India. But Gusie was too interested in the wonderfully strange sights of the big city to mind the heat.

Ex-Soldier, Circus Fire-Eater, Is Wed To Want-Ad Bride

ST. JOSEPH, MO.—(AP)—Charles Donelson, who advertised five days ago for a bride, marched to a ballroom bandstand Saturday night and married blue-eyed, 18-year-old Irene Krebs. A thousand persons stopped dancing to watch the 21-year-old ex-soldier and former circus fire-eater calmly repeat the vows with his smiling, 90-pound bride. Brilliant spotlights flashed on the scene. News-reel cameras ground away. Flashbulbs flickered. A 12-piece dance band gave out with fitting wedding music. "This is the happiest persons in the crowd was the major domo of the whole business, Jimmy Hakes, proprietor of the Frog Hop Ballroom, who had said everybody wanted to make it a "serious, solemn ceremony." It was a double wedding. Donelson's rooming business partner, Orville Mortimore, 20, married Doreen Haskey, 19, in the same ceremony. 300 Applications Donelson picked his bride from among about 300 women and girls who answered his want ad. He met Irene in a drug store a few hours after the advertisement appeared. The bridegroom has found himself in an almost continuous news conference since he and Irene decided "this is love." "St. Joe was busy Saturday seeing that the couple got a red wedding, with a new suit for Donelson and a gown for the bride. A small diamond engagement ring and a white gold wedding band with diamonds were thrown in. When asked whether he was jittery, Donelson said: "I've been excited around the world once. I was a fire-eater in a circus two years. It's pretty hard to get me excited." The more prosaic job of finding an apartment is something the couple will face Monday. Donelson said he thought maybe he'd run a want ad.

It Had Been So Long—Forgotten So Now Forgiven
GALVESTON—(AP)—Forty years ago Lonnie Curtis, now living in Oklahoma City, escaped from the City Jail at Galveston, walking out after two other prisoners sawed through the iron bars. Last Wednesday, the consciousness-stricken Curtis wired Galveston police confessing his break and avowing he wanted to "straighten out" his record. He neglected to explain for what he had been jailed. While officials poked through dusty records, oldtimers recalled the spectacular break for freedom of Sailor Dell, after he was sentenced to 99 years for rape 40 years ago. Was Curtis Sailor Dell? Gosh No, Says Curtis They asked Oklahoma City police for "Gosh no," Curtis informed Oklahoma City officers when they found him living in a trailer. "I wasn't in for rape, nor for murder either. I got 90 days for a $16 theft." Galveston police decided, when the message reached here, that Curtis is not wanted. "Let him stay in Oklahoma," they wired.

Czech Press Hurls Slavery Charges At Pope Pius XII
PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA—(AP)—In a renewed propaganda blast aimed at discrediting the Vatican, the controlled Czech press today day night accused Pope Pius XII of profiteering from Australian slave labor. The chief assault on the Vatican was made by Svoboda Slovo, a Socialist paper. It declared the Holy See has vast investments in all manner of enterprises, including armaments plants. This newspaper said the Roman Catholic pontiff had interests in a "missionary company, Jesus Christ Ltd., in Australia, which buys and sells Australian natives for slave labor." The alleged enterprise was not further defined.

Science Finds Cause, But Not Cure, For Pesky Prickly Heat
PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Medical scientists at the University of Pennsylvania announced Saturday night they had found the cause of the common skin irritation known as prickly heat. The skin condition is caused by perspiration being trapped within the sweat ducts, said Dr. Doland M. Pillsbury, chairman of the school's Department of Dermatology and Syphilology. It is an acute inflammation of the sweat glands, characterized by red, raised, and sometimes by blisters. The itchy, burning discomfort has plagued mankind from infancy. Dr. Pillsbury admitted no cure for prickly heat was found during their experiments.

Communist Bulgaria Has Cabinet Changes
SOFIA, BULGARIA—(AP)—Bulgaria got a new foreign minister and minister of the Interior Saturday night. Several cabinet changes also were announced. Vasil Kolarov, who was named premier on July 20 to succeed the late Georgi Dimitroff, resigned his old post as foreign minister. The new foreign minister is Vladimir Poptomov, official-in-charge of the country's Communist newspaper, Rabotnichesko Delo, and a member of the Politburo.

Gold Star Mother Crochets in Jail In Insurance Scrap

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—Gold Star Mother Mrs. Nettie W. Capps crocheted in jail Saturday, while a current of public opinion set in motion by her incarceration began stirring public officials to action. Gov. J. Bracken Lee's office asked the Utah attorney general for an opinion as to the governor's authority to intervene in the five-year-old case, which came to a head this week when Mrs. Capps went to jail rather than comply with a court order she considered unjust. Mrs. Capps is serving a 30 day jail sentence for contempt of court because she refused to transfer to a trust fund allotments from an insurance policy of her son, Jacob L. Capps. He was killed in the battle of the bulge. Mrs. Maurice Ingram Capps, now a Mrs. Stam, was named beneficiary when Capps' $10,000 insurance policy was issued. But after the couple separated, Capps changed the policy, naming his mother beneficiary. Ask Investigation Utah District Judge Ray Van Coten Jr. ordered Capps to accept the $33 monthly checks from the Veterans Administration and endorse them to the First Security Trust Company, which is designated beneficiary of the three children of Jacob Capps and his former wife. This Mrs. Capps refused to do, saying she feared the money would not all go to the benefit of her grandchildren. The Veterans Administration, ruling that she is sole beneficiary of her son's insurance, has complied with her request and held up payments of the benefits. "All I want is to be heard. I want the entire court action investigated from beginning to end. I will not give in until the Veterans Administration or the federal officials decide on justice." In California, 32-year-old Mrs. Stam, who has married twice since Capps' death, said she agreed at the time any benefits from Capps' insurance policy should go into a trust fund for their three children. Later, however, she figured it was the children's money and she needed it for their support.

Earthquake— (Continued from page 1) aquil. Shocks felt the walls of buildings already wrecked by the previous quakes and created considerable panic. Latest report from Quito, Ecuador, said at least 20 persons died in the town of Pillaro, which was leveled by the quake. At Latacunga, there were 11 known dead and 30 injured. Two churches, the government house and about 50 dwellings were destroyed. Various sources reported the destruction of Salcedo. The governor of Chimborazo Province reported many dead and injured in his capital city, Riobamba. Six Violent Tremors The earthquake struck at noon and continued until 12:45 p.m. in a series of six violent shocks. During the second shock—which lasted 40 seconds—most of the biggest buildings crumbled. It was Ecuador's worst disaster since colonial times. The entire Ecuadorian cabinet, except Interior Minister Salazar Gomez and Ambassador to Washington President Gato Plaza Lasso, was on 24-hour relief duty. Railway officials said the Quito-Guayaquil line was blocked by so many landslides it will take a week to reopen it. Twenty-seven slides were reported on one three-mile stretch. Floods added to the distress in the quake area. Landslides blocked the streams which then changed their courses and inundated farmlands. The first troops helped calm panicky Ambato residents when they arrived there Saturday. The earthquake struck a wide mountainous area of the Andes range surrounding Ambato, which lies 55 miles due south of Quito. The cities of Latacunga, Guaranda and Riobamba also were hit. The governor of Chimborazo, Province reported there were numerous dead and many injured in Riobamba, the provincial capital. This city, with 60,000 inhabitants, is 100 miles south of Quito. Churches, Barracks Crumble An Ambato, which was destroyed by an earthquake in 1797, again was desolated. When the first shocks raked the city, many residents dashed into streets and parks for safety. Hundreds took refuge in churches and prayed. Great cracks opened in the streets. Water mains broke and electrical lines were ripped apart. Bridges crumbled into bits. Nearly the whole population was left homeless. The cathedral was destroyed while 80 children were inside taking a catechism lesson. The military barracks crashed to the ground, killing 150 soldiers and injuring 60 others. The palace of the provincial government was a heap of ruins. Four other churches also were demolished—San Domingo, San Francisco, La Merced and the Church of the Josephine Fathers. Authorities ordered everyone out of all buildings to avoid injury from falling walls. Army demolition squads were called upon to raze hazardous structures.

Record Shipment of Radioactive Matter Arrives in Texas
DALLAS—(AP)—The biggest single shipment of radioactive material ever unloaded in the Southwest has arrived at the Texas Research Foundation for use in cancer research. It is sixty milligrams of radioactive Carbon-14 from Oak Ridge, Tenn. Scientists at the foundation, near Renner in Collin County, expect to process it into radioactive acetone. Acetone is a unique material found in all living cells, explained the foundation's team of radiochemists, Dr. Robert J. Speer and Dr. Henry R. Mahler. They hope it will help explain the cause of cancer, which is known to be a wild growth of cells.

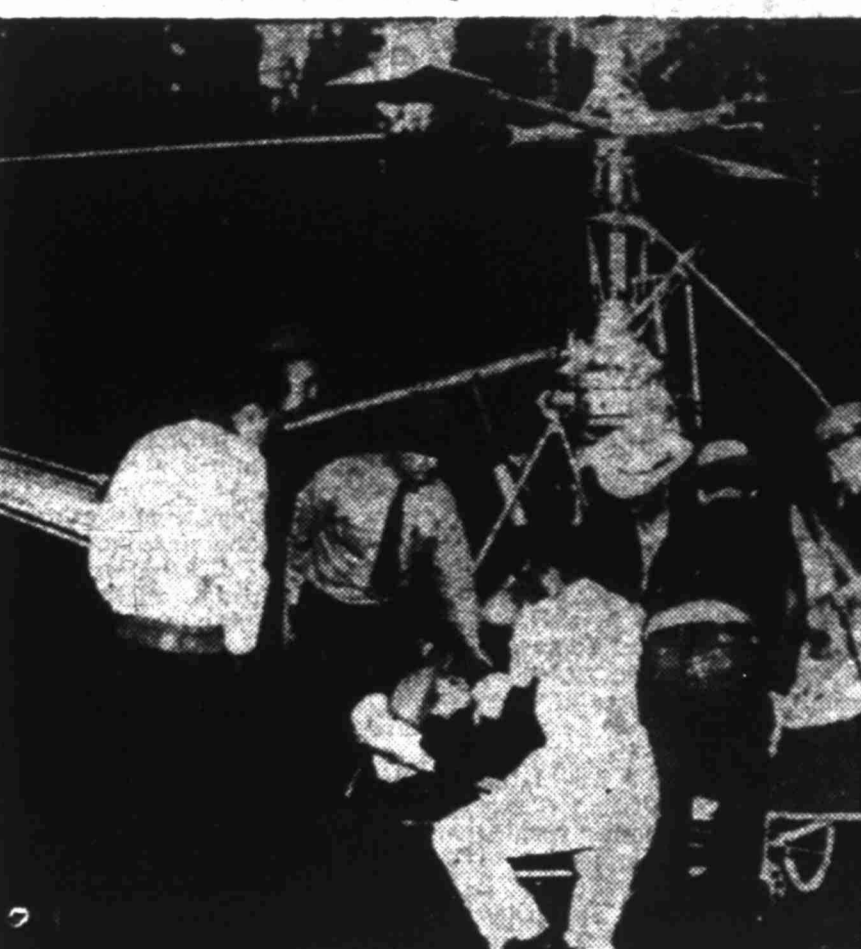

Newsboys— (Continued from page 1) grade at school and has six brothers and three sisters. He said swimming is the activity he hopes to engage in most at the camp and that his mealtime favorite is fried chicken, of which there will be plenty served, according to the sponsors. Likes Swimming Best Billy Harmon has two brothers and two sisters and also declared swimming his favorite sport. He is looking forward to lots of ice cream. Billy has been selling The Reporter-Telegram about a year while the other youth has been at it two and one-half years. Billy is in the fourth grade at school. This is the first time the Optimist Club has engaged in such a project since it was organized here only last March, but it hopes to continue the work in the years to come.

Ford Loses Battle To Halt Strike Vote
DETROIT—(AP)—The Ford Motor Company failed Saturday to obtain a court order to halt the holding of a strike vote among its employees at polling places close to headquarters of the CIO United Auto Workers. In Lansing, Supreme Court Justice Leland W. Carr denied the company's plea for an order to force the State Labor Mediation Board to change the election setup. The decision meant that the strike vote among Ford's 80,000 employees in Michigan will start Monday as scheduled.

Lower Meat Prices In Prospect For Fall
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Agriculture Department advised households Saturday cheaper pork chops are in prospect this Fall. It also forecast generally lower prices for other meats resulting from increased supplies. The department said meat and livestock prices are expected to remain generally steady until Fall marketings begin. The large Spring pig crop will then become available. Slaughter of cattle marketed off grass is increasing seasonally, but probably will total less than a year ago, the department said.

Kiwanis Clubs Plan National Kids' Day
CHICAGO—(AP)—A nationwide program to aid underprivileged children in more than 3,000 communities in the United States and Canada was launched Saturday by Kiwanis International. J. Hugh Jackson, Stanford, Calif., Kiwanis president, said some 3,000 clubs in the organization would take part in the program. He added that the main point of the campaign will be the observance of the annual "National Kids' Day," first to be held November 19, when each community will be asked to enlist the support of its citizens in meeting the problems of youth.

The North Cowden employees rang up an outstanding safety record of five years without loss of time due to injuries. N. P. Anderson, foreman, was recognized and received the safety award as representative of the employes. L. F. Shiplet of Fort Worth, assistant division manager, made the award and address of congratulation. Other speakers, representing the Texas Company, included: B. O. Smith of Fort Worth, Superintendent of Industrial Relations; E. C. McIntyre, safety engineer; T. P. Drew, district superintendent; and O. P. Sevesta, assistant district superintendent. More than 50 North Cowden employees were honored.

Nudist Secretary Deplores Lack Of Right Type Girls
HORLEY, ENG.—(AP)—So now it's the nudists who have a five-year plan. In five years of campaigning, the British Sun Bathing Association (BSBA) disclosed Saturday night, nudists hope to win the right to bathe in their birthday suits on approved public beaches. And frolic in the raw in approved public parks. Mrs. Sylvia Bassam, attractive 34-year-old secretary of the BSBA, said the society will win its point by bold publicity. The nudists don't want mixed bathing andavoring—with nudists and non-nudists taking the sun together. They want certain public beaches set aside for the 60,000 Britons who go in for nudism. The BSBA doesn't like even G-string swim suits. "Girls find them flattering and love to wear them on the beaches," said Mrs. Bassam, whose own swimsuit, she says, stretches unspooled from top to toe. "We get many many membership applications from single men, but not enough from the right type girls."

Two Killed In Fall From Flat-Bed Truck
ROCHESTER, TEXAS—(AP)—Two Rochester youths were killed Saturday when they were thrown from the rear of a flat-bed truck as it turned a corner. Dead were Royce D. Newberry, 20, son of Mrs. Eunice Newberry, and Gwindolin Webb, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Webb. The accident occurred in Rochester as a group of young people returned from Knox City and Benjamin, two towns just north of here. Funeral services for the girl were held Saturday. Arrangements for final rites for Newberry were incomplete. The per capita output of steel in the United States in 1947 was a roughly eight times the average for the entire world.

Floating Wheels
The Sikorsky H-5H, the Air Force's first amphibious helicopter, hovers over the water off Bridgeport, Conn., during a flight test. The new wheel-float combination greatly increases the topster's utility as a rescue, search and liaison craft, allowing it to land practically anywhere. The blisters fore and aft of engine widen the fuselage so three litter patients can be carried.

Comb Dunking Guards Hair

Half of the job of keeping a thatch of clean hair clean must be taken over by a clean brush and comb.

Run a soiled brush and comb through a fresh mop and your hair, particularly during hot weather, is almost ready for another dunking in the basin.

If you simply abhor poking at dirt that lodges between the teeth of combs and which remains as firmly stashed between the bristles of a brush, try an easier way of cleaning. Dunk these guardians of your clean hair into a soda bath. A couple of teaspoonfuls of cooking soda dissolved in enough water to cover comb and brush will help to loosen dirt and cut grease with the minimum of manual prodding.

Soak Comb, Brush

If you'll soak comb and brush in the soda bath while you continue to dress and after that will take them out to dry—bristles of brush down—you can make this clean-up one step easier for yourself.

After comb and brush are cleaned up, put away to keep safe from dust. Having doubles of both comb and brush is one of the best ways to make sure that there's always a clean set ready to preserve the freshness of your hair.

A soda bath for brush and comb facilitates quick clean-up and helps to prolong hair freshness.

Miss Pigtales Uses Her Head

Miss Pigtales of 1849 puts her prize winners to practical purpose as seven-year-old Peter Mangelli uses them as reins. The winner, Antonette Campanelli, was selected at a contest sponsored by the Children's Aid Society in New York. Just so Pete doesn't decide to "Whoa," everything is all right with Antonette.

COTTONSEED FIBER

A new synthetic fiber from the protein of cottonseed has been spun experimentally, announces the Department of Agriculture. The new fiber is different from the familiar cotton fiber, has a natural tint of yellow or light orange, can be colored as desired, they say. Chemists suggest that it can be blended with cotton, wool, rayon, or nylon to give mixed fabrics more softness.

Summer picnic lunches need to be planned with an eye to nutrition as well as to good eating. Include sandwiches or salads of meat, eggs, poultry, fish, or cheese. Add raw vegetable sticks or use the vegetables in some of the sandwiches. Pack in some fruit with cotton, wool, rayon, or nylon to give mixed fabrics more softness.

Teen-Agers Risk Bad Grooming In Summer

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

In the "good old summertime" perspiration is as much of a threat to the teen-ager's social security as it is to any grown-up.

Oddly enough some teen-agers consider themselves immune from the social hazards of steaming through a Summer's day. Some do, though adults, both men and women, have long since adopted grooming routines which include almost daily applications of a deodorant.

It's social risk to skip this routine that safeguards fastidiousness. Summer time is the right time to start this grooming habit.

Two Choices

There are two choices of deodorant open to you: One cancels out most odor from the evasive underarm sweat glands but doesn't curb perspiration. The other is an anti-perspirant that both deodorizes and checks to a greater or lesser extent depending on the product used and its reaction to your skin.

Some girls have found that they like the fine spray deodorant which because it squeezes out of a bottle saves the container from being the stuff. Others like deodorants that can double as toilet-water—they're perfumed. Some have found the soap deodorant satisfactory. And there are pads, sticks and powders that can be clothed or unclothed. Liquid deodorants are apt to be the strongest.

Jasmine and rose are found in almost every good perfume.

Nylon Serves Summer Sports

NEW YORK (NEA)—The fabric that's fast winning all-American fashion honors emerges now as champ in the field of summer sportswear.

That's nylon. It makes "taffeta" shorts, slip-ons and cardigans of "jersey" styled like those shown above, which dry quickly and can by-pass the ironing board on trips from and to the tennis court, golf links or beach.

Nylon taffeta shorts in black and other dark colors are smartly styled with cuffed legs.

Sleeveless nylon jersey slip-ons in white and black and pastels have deep armholes designed for coolness and freedom of movement.

Upswept Locks Need Styling

By ALICIA HART
NE Staff Writer
The hot weather neck-clearing habit of scrapping hair up on the head, scrub-lady style, can do wicked things to the older woman's looks.

Any woman can have both her hot weather comfort and a becoming topknot. Proof is the woman who cares too much about her looks to be seen at the corner drug store, butcher shop or grocery store on a summer morning wearing a practical but grim hair-do. She's the lady who clears her neck of hair but takes the time and trouble to dress it.

If her hair is hoisted for coolness, she wears it in a topknot of short curls. The time that she has taken out to make pin-ups to the curls up with a rubber band or ribbon; to brush up temple sprouts and other willful wisps with a touch of lacquer is more than justified by the way she looks: better-groomed, prettier and younger than her friends who twist hair into a securely knotted bun and let it go at that.

Not Only Tricks
Curls, of course, aren't the only trick of making a neck-clearing hair-do look more attractive. Long hair can be hoisted to make two or three soft puffs at the top of a head, and if enough tuck combs are used at sides and back, there need be no droopy wisps to spoil a tidy look. Hair that's long enough to plait can be braided and pinned across the head coronet-fashion to clear a neck of smothering locks. The chic effects that can be braided into hair with colored yarn, ribbon or strips of cotton fabric are almost endless.

It's the look of care, of some effort to style hair which makes the impression of good grooming. The extra time taken often spoils the difference between the attractive head and a forbidding one. No woman over 40 who cares a fig for her looks can afford to have her head look forbidding, not even to the neighborhood kids.

ACIDITY
Fear, anger, excitement, care-less eating—these cause acidity. Drink delicious pure Ozarka Water, free from chlorine, alum, copper sulphate. Physicians recommend it. Shipped everywhere.

Petals of freshly cut flowers are placed in vessels together with special liquid (solvent) which extracts the oils. Later the solvent is removed by distillation and the pure floral essential oil remains, say experts.

Friday and Saturday nights were the high numbers of attendance for the Summer Mummies' production of the melodrama, "The Drunkard" in the American Legion Hall. For both nights the house was packed. Tentative plans are being made to show the nineteenth century production for two more nights this week. However, definite plans are not complete. Bill Pennebaker, general production manager, stated Saturday.

Art Cole, Patricia Pryor and Norris Creath have starred in this play Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the last two weeks. Others in the cast include Mrs. Francis B. Kingston, W. Llewellyn Hoey, Mrs. Charles E. Marsh, II, Elizabeth Kimbrough, John Ed Cooper, Paxton Howard, Scotty Engel, John DeFord, Walter Beardsley, Kenneth Alpiger, William Adam and Stanley Sheaffer.

An olio has been given each night with song and dance, can-can and quartet numbers and group singing. Proceeds of this production will go into a building fund for the Community Theater, although this is not a Community Theater project. The Summer Mummies are pleased with the proceeds of the show.

William Pomeroy, Jr., is the director of the play.

There's Nothing So Rare As An Even Tan

This girl tempers the sun's rays to her tanning needs to achieve an all-over golden tan. Her legs are given prolonged exposure to coax a deeper tan. Her easy-to-toast nose is protected by sunburn lotion plus a triangular pad; her eyes screened from glare by thick cotton pads moistened by eye lotion.

Dull Chatter Wins Ribbing

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Barbed by the comic strip artist and poked fun at by the cartoonist is the woman who "rattles on constantly." Comedians jibe her and drawing room wits make her the butt of jokes.

Any woman who cares a fig about her dignity and charm should be awfully careful that it isn't she who invites this ribbing, no matter how good-natured it is.

Why women are supposed to be more glibly of "rattling on constantly" than men is anybody's guess and mine is that they talk more. Why older women are more apt to be "talkers" than the younger ones is not clearly known, but a good guess is that the older the woman the more she has to talk about—particularly in the field of reminiscences.

Should Weed Out
Any woman who faintly suspects that she talks too much can usually scotch that suspicion by weeding reminiscences out of her speech. Reminiscences should be weeded out for another reason: reviewing the past is a telltale symptom of age.

A woman who is afraid that she talks too much can quiet her fears by watching audience reaction to what she says. When the reaction is favorable, the people who listen really listen. They don't sit with a glazed or faraway look in their eyes. They don't edge away. They don't try to change the conversation or try to leap into the one that's going when the talker trails for breath.

Any woman who wants to have what she says carry weight and hold her listeners rapt needs to be almost as sensitive to audience reaction as a professional lady speaker and almost as wise in her choice of subjects and the drama of delivery as this platformer who gets paid for her lecture.

"Let nature take its course" when you're sun bathing and you'll wind up with a tan of as many different shades as there are browns and beiges in the color spectrum. Getting done to an all-over tawny tint takes time and effort to shield the easier-to-burn areas; to expose skin that stubbornly resists a tan.

The legs, hardy from constant exposure to weather, Winter and Summer, are slow to give in to a tan. This means that you will spend lots of time on the beach—all covered-up except for your slowly bronzing legs.

In your eagerness to toast these nethers, don't leave off sun-tan oil. Oils and lotions screen the sun's savage rays but admit those that will turn skin tawny. Without this preventive cover you'll burn all right—but rosy red.

Talking of red—that will be the color of your nose after just a short take on the beach unless you use double screening measures. The elevation of the nose brings it closer to the sun than other facial features. Many women plot the shortest sun-tanning time for noses and then put them under the shade of a cotton pad.

A triangle of absorbent cotton soaked in lotion or oil will provide adequate shade. There are also special shields devised for the same nose-covering job.

Sunglasses do a fine sun-filtering job but if you're concentrating on a uniform tan they're apt to leave their white "goggy" imprints on your face. Absorbent cotton, this time trimmed to the size of the eye-socket area and soaked in special eye lotion, will protect your eyes from glare and leave a small area to mask with sun-tan make-up.

Niece Of Raymond Kribbs Marries In California Church

Winifred Ann Mangold of Los Angeles, niece of Raymond Kribbs of Midland, became the bride of Donald Hawley Spengler of Los Angeles in an afternoon ceremony in the Beverly Vista Community Church, Los Angeles, Saturday.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alvis Weeks Mangold of Los Angeles, and Spengler, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Spengler of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hayes Line was matron of honor. Mrs. Murray King Ross, Jr., Jody Anne Conroy, Winifred Louise Horrell and Virginia Lee Horrell were bridesmaids. Barbara Burke and Susan Line served as flower girls.

Given In Marriage By Uncle
Thomas Bergin attended the bridegroom as best man. Murray King Ross, Jr., Walter Holleran, John Simpson, William Middleton and Robert Millisp were ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by Kribbs, wore a gown of marquisette and Chantilly lace with full puffed sleeves and a fitted lace bodice. The bouffant skirt was designed with bands of lace to the floor. A coronet of lace and pearls held the finger-tip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of cymbidium orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

All of her attendants were dressed alike in white organdy over aqua taffeta and carried cascades of white and aqua tuberous begonias.

Live In Los Angeles
The bride attended the University of California in Los Angeles and was pledged to Alpha Chi Omega. Spengler attended the University of Southern California and was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Northern California after a reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Horrell in Beverly Hills. They will reside in Los Angeles.

Emilie Long 1/2 Wed-of Memphis, Tenn. Serving as ushers were Wilson Owen and Bill Hoffmann of Eastland, Jack Germany of Wichita Falls and E. J. Pryor of Coleman.

Emily Jean Gristom of Eastland was the pre-nuptial soloist, singing "I Love Thee," Grieg, and "Yours Is My Heart Alone" with accompaniment by Martha June Morehart, organist who also played the wedding marches.

White tapers in the altar candelabra were lighted before the ceremony by Ruan Owen of Eastland and Dana Lynn Dreinhofner of Corpus Christi, niece of the bridegroom. The ring bearer was Dick-le Sullivan of Rule, cousin of the bride.

Family Pewns Marked
Greenery garlanded with white daisies made a background at the altar, where baskets of white gladiolus alternated with the candelabra. Family pewns were marked with ropes of plumous fern and daisies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore for the wedding a traditional gown of heavy bridal satin with an illusion yoke outlined in satin folds. Long sleeves, pointed over the hands, were fastened with tiny buttons matching those down the back of the bodice. Her tiered veil of illusion was caught to a coronet of pearlized orange blossoms. Her cascade bouquet of gardenias was showered with stephanotis.

All the attendants were dressed in aqua taffeta, made alike with portrait neckline and tightly fitted bodice with sash in matching material. Their colonial poke bonnets were made of the taffeta, and they carried miniature baskets of pink roses cascading over the sides.

Dotted Swiss Frocks
The candlelighters wore dotted swiss frocks, one pink and one blue, and wrist bouquets of rosebuds.

Mrs. Long chose a mauve crepe frock for her daughter's wedding, and wore a crownless hat of blue and mauve illusion. The bridegroom's mother wore blue crepe with a hat of pink and gray illusion. Both had corsages of gardenias.

A garden reception with the bride's parents as hosts followed the ceremony. Three tables were arranged for the refreshments, the center one holding the three-tiered cake topped with love birds in a nest of flowers.

Baylor Graduate
For traveling, the bride wore a suit in signory color with a Winter pink hat and other accessories of black. She is a graduate of Abilene High School and of Baylor University. Last year she taught in the West Elementary School here, and was a member of the Midland chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

Owen was graduated from Eastland High School and attended Texas A&M College and Texas Technological College. He is now employed with the Texas Electric Service Company in Odessa.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP newscaster

A perfect way to round out a vacation at a lakeside resort is to have a parade of water floats. Before you start counting your piggy bank pennies, be assured that it is not an expensive project to plan a float—all you need is some good ideas. Teen-agers at Gipsy Trail Camp at Carmel, N. Y., conduct just such a "theme float" project every year, have barrels of fun without straining their budgets.

Canoes and rowboats are used as floats and an advance report to a scout who peeks is that already in the works are some unusually decorative ones such as "The Old Lady in the Shoe," "South Pacific," and "The Flying Dutchman" and other themes dreamed up by the young enthusiasts.

Groups get together and plan their float theme, then the boats are kept hidden in covers until time for the parade. Naturally there is much anticipation and high excitement, but no fair-peeking is the rule.

Margaret Truman Judge
An orchestra plays a few bars of music giving some hint of what the float will be, then slowly from its spot the float appears.

This year, Margaret Truman is scheduled to be in the judges' stand and the kids are all agog. There is talk, also, that perhaps Miss Truman will lead the parade of floats and one rumor is that a group is preparing a super special rig for her.

You can get up good floats by using comic strip characters, movie personalities or picture titles. Broadway shows, historical personalities or a hundred odd other themes. If you get stuck for an idea you can always do the tried-and-true "trading beads with the Indians," perfect for a canoe.

Steady Problem

This is the time of the year apparently when girls worry about dates during the school year. . . it would seem so . . . but in any case some girls seem willing to settle on a "share-the-boy" basis. This would be fine if they didn't take it seriously, but Sally of Brook writes, for instance, that she has dates with a boy named Bill "who is going steady with another girl." Sally is wondering about the other girl finding out because people say she will be very "lily." Sally adds that she knows Bill likes her even if he does like the other girl. She is afraid to say anything that might result in "losing him."

She adds: "Do you think I should take the chance and insist he break off with her or let it go at that?"

The thing that puzzles me is how the other girl can be Bill's "steady" if he also courts Sally. It seems to me that Bill is the smart one in this deal—he's not getting tied up with either of them, really. Meanwhile, the girls are breaking their hearts over Bill who any day might encourage a third girl and a fourth and a fifth.

Girls Pay Bill
A gal who signs herself P. O. asks why boys who do not have money make a date with a girl and then expect her to pay. These "deadbeats" says P. O. should not make dates. She thinks it is perfectly all right if the boy tells the girl he is broke and perhaps makes a date for a walk or free amusement. But the one that drools that he would like to take her to a movie (and himself) if she could pay the bill, "has some nerve," she says.

P. O. says she went out with a boy not long ago who called her a gold digger because she wanted to see a movie. "Let those KIDS stay home until they grow up," she says. She'd like to know how other teenagers feel about this. "Perhaps it is a good idea if the gals clamped down on these wolves in cheap jeans. Often such jerks will take up a girl's time all evening and not spend a copper on her. Then they will treat themselves to a high old expensive time with the boys at the first opportunity. If things go on this way, pretty soon the girls will do nothing but pay and pay and pay. Right, girls?"

Tweezing Disciplines 'Strays'

Actress Eleanor Parker tweezes out strays for eyebrow grooming.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Hairline eyebrows are definitely out of beauty favor but that doesn't mean that you have lee-way to let yours grow bushy or look fierce.

Pick up that tweezer, ma'am, and with your naturally shaped eyebrows as guide, set to work. Pluck stray hairs first. That done and with a clearly defined arc to follow, set to work reshaping—nothing drastic, however.

The perfectly shaped brow arches from a point directly above the inner corner of the eye. So clean out the tiny hairs at the thickest part of the brow and continue to a tapering curve to the temple. If your eyes are set extremely far apart, brows shouldn't be tweezed to widen the span over the bridge of the nose.

An eyebrow arch raised slightly by tweezing under it at the highest point of the curve will make small eyes look larger if the rest of the eyebrow is allowed to keep its natural thickness. If you tamper with the shape, however, pluck both eyebrows evenly.

Grooming Routine
Eyebrow-plucking is a grooming routine that shouldn't be rushed into right before date-time. A hasty clean-up with the tweezers can leave tiny red irritations and skin that looks as puffy over the eyes as though you'd just had a good back-toothbrush scrub.

For the protection of open skin pores, left gaping by uprooted hairs, put an antiseptic lotion over the plucked brows even before you put your tweezers away and give irritations a chance to subside before putting on pigmented make-up.

Newest Books, Films Reveal Feel Of War

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The cold war is a bore. A third world war is something few even wish to think about.

But World War II still is of tremendous public interest. Politically, that war still is continuing, but its combat phase has been over four years. And it is the period of actual fighting that people want to know more about. What was it really like? What really happened at places like Iwo Jima, Salerno, Anzio, Bastogne?

Year by year, as the memoirs and the novels pile up, the real story of mankind's greatest test—arms is filtering through. For war is a kind of huge jigsaw puzzle. You can't put it together and understand it all at once because the pieces come to you slowly.

The general pattern of the war can best be found in the memoirs of people who usually write memoirs—generals and statesmen. To get the real feel of battle and the hurts it gave, you have to turn to books written by the men who fought the war and best knew its boredom and danger—the junior officers and enlisted men.

Two of the latest are "A Tent on Corcoran," by Martin Quigley, an ex-sergeant in the 12th Air Force, and "Day Without End," by Van Van Praag, a former infantry platoon leader.

Both explore new territory. Van Praag tells a one-day tale of the life and death of a doughboy platoon in the heart-breaking hedgerows of Normandy. It is rough and bitter and true. Quigley's book deals with the adventures, sometimes hilarious, sometimes fatal, of a group of B-24 bomber gunners who knew they had one chance in four of getting home. It is the best story yet on the boys who rode the medium bombers.

In the pictorial field, the most ambitious presentation on the second World War is the series of 26 television films prepared by March of Time and based on General Eisenhower's book, "Crusade in Europe."

This series shows the impact of war—its brutality and devastation—more graphically than any novel, merely because it is so terribly factual.

I went to a preview of one of the films with two soldiers who had fought over the area shown. "That's the way it was," said Corp. Seals W. Knight, 29, a Bronze-Star winner. "I don't want any more of things like that. It was rough there."

"The public ought to know more about what war is like," said the other soldier, Corp. Oliver G. Snow, 42. "But you can't put it all in pictures. You can't put in the smell. If you could do that, there wouldn't be any more wars."

Panels Float Into Fashion

Floating overskirts and swinging drapery animate evening gowns. Yards of blue taffeta make a sweeping overskirt that floats out from the snug bodice of the gown (above). Rose satin moulds the silhouette of the gown (right) which splashed with beaded embroidery is wrapped tightly at the hips to release a cascade of side drapery.

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—If it has a panel that floats, flies or flutters or looks even mildly restless, it's the Fall dress with a 1950 style stamp on its silhouette.

If panels don't flutter from daytime woolsens, after-five crepes and fancy formals, panels, panniers, spiral folds, aprons and other restless drapery animate their slim silhouettes.

One of the most spectacular examples is seen in the overskirt of a blue silk taffeta ballroom gown, which designer Hattie Carnegie also offers to the Autumn bride in traditional white. Eleven yards of taffeta and as many of silk satin of lighter blue to line it go into the overskirt that floats from the back of a slim-skirted, snug-bodiced dress with an off-shoulder neckline.

An animated device to give a formal gown its new look of movement is used by Eisenberg. A swag of side drapery which is caught into a huge pouf at the hip is freed at that point to swing and sway. This drapery animates the slim silhouette of a dress of rose-colored slipper satin which sparkles with "snowflake" embroidery of crystal bugle beads splashed over a strapless cuffed bodice.

Ahah!! And "San Antone"—The Story Of Bob Wills Of Texas Playboys Is An American Story Of Climb To Success

An American success story that began in the heart of Texas is that of Bob Wills, genial leader of the nation's No. 1 Western music aggregation.

Known as "Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys," this dance band is coming to the Midland VFW Hall to play a dance engagement August 19.

Bob was born and raised deep in the Lone Star State, in a small town in Hall County, West Texas. His childhood was that of a typical Texas youngster, riding his dad's horses and learning the songs of the West.

When he was about 10, he heard his cousin preening on the violin.

BOB WILLS

"He went over and over the same piece," Bob recalls, "I got tired of hearing it. I said, 'I'll bet I can play that even if I don't take violin lessons.'"

To His Surprise
Much to his own surprise, Bob found he could perform the unusual feat of playing a violin by ear. From then on, he determined to make music his career.

He practiced hard on his cousin's violin, finally acquired one of his own, and soon was playing on three Fort Worth radio stations.

Then he collected a guitarist and a singer and organized the "Light-crust Doughboys," a trio which sold flour by the ton with their radio shows. That was in 1922.

By 1933, the "Doughboys" fan mail had soared to more than 2,000 letters a day, about 1,700 of them coming from Oklahoma.

With a warm reception assured, Bob Wills moved to Tulsa. There his outfit increased to 25 men. They broadcast over KVOO for 10 years, playing every night except two when floods prevented their appearance at the station.

Bob Wills and his boys became the pride and sensation of Tulsa. Their greatest annual triumphs were the rodeos called "Bob Wills' Stampede," put on for six consecutive years and featuring 500 riders and the best bucking horses available in the country.

Meanwhile Bob Wills' fame had caught Hollywood's attention, and in 1938 he co-starred with Russell Hayden in a series of eight Columbia pictures. A parade of 1,100 men, women and children on horseback marched through Tulsa streets when one of Bob's films, "Take Me Back to Oklahoma," had its world premiere there.

Writes Songs
Between film and radio and theater engagements, Bob Wills was busy writing songs. His "San Antonio Rose," recorded by Columbia, has gone above the three and a half million mark.

One folio of his Western melodies was published by the Irving Berlin Company and another soon followed on the stands. It included his "My Confession," "I Wonder If You Feel the Way I Do," "Spanish Two Step" and "Steel Guitar Rag." The last-named is a terrific request number wherever Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys appear.

Wills joined the Army in 1942 and served almost two years. Thirteen members of his original band went into the armed forces, and are now back in harness.

Film studios are again seeking him, and "the regular" "pop" musicians are agape at the official reports that Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys cracked all top band gross records on their recent tour of the Southwest.

Friendly, easy to know, Bob Wills has one success formula: "Nothing fancy or forced."

Sting Near Fatal To Pecos Engineer
PECOS—E. A. "Gene" Kelly, resident engineer with the Texas Highway Department, received a near-fatal wasp sting while working near Pecos recently.

When the wasp stung him on the elbow, he told his wife, who was the only one with him, that he felt sick. He managed to get into his car but in a short time was unconscious. She rushed him to a hospital where doctors put him immediately into an oxygen tent and worked nearly three hours to revive him.

Kelly said doctors told him that the sting went directly into a vein, and that if he had been alone at the time, it would likely have been fatal.

He said that he had been bitten before by insects but it hadn't seemed to hurt him much.

Fiction books are "Rest and Be Thankful" (MacInnes), "I Hate Actors" (Hecht), "A Wreath for Rivers" (Marx), "Let Love Come Last" (Caldwell), "The Mudlark" (Bonnet), "A Little Sleep, A Little Slumber" (Katkov), "Dog Eat Dog" (Collins), "The Divided Heart" (Lewton), "The Charming Young Man" (Shepard), "Friendly Enemy" (O'More), "Suddenly It's Love" (Gaddis), "Gunsmoke Bonanza" (Galy) and "North of Santa Fe" (Stanley).

Activities planned for the camp include swimming, games and singing during recreation periods, a hike on Friday morning, and several periods for handicrafts during which the girls will make the cover for a friendship quilt. All girls have been asked to bring scraps to be used for a quilt.

All girls who are going to the camp are asked to turn their camp applications and fees to the office of the County Home Demonstration Agent by noon Wednesday so that reservations can be made. Transportation to and from the camp will be furnished but girls are asked to bring all types of clothes that they will need during the two days at the camp.

Daytime Welder Becomes Chiseling Iceman By Night

John Krich is just cool; the model is freezing.

CLEVELAND — (NEA) — John Krich's talent with a chisel is carving out a nice, cool job for himself. During the hot spells, he's the envy of all his friends, because he spends a lot of time in the ice house.

Even when the temperature sizes up to the high 90s, Krich has to go to work wearing long underwear, two shirts, wool pants, overboots, a fleecy-lined jacket and two pairs of gloves.

Working for a large ice company, Krich carves figures out of blocks of ice. They're used to decorate fancy tables for weddings, parties, conventions and the like.

It's only a sideline with him. His full time (and hotter) job is welding. But after dinner, he cools off by reporting to the ice house with his special multi-pronged chisel.

With the temperature at a frigid 24, he chips away at 300-pound blocks of ice, fashioning birds and beasts and even an occasional bathing beauty.

He learned his art while working as a pastry cook a dozen years ago, then switched to carving ice instead of dough.

A. E. Cass Is New Sanitarian Here

A. E. Cass took over duties August 1 as sanitarian of the Midland, Ector and Howard Counties Health Unit. Cass came to Midland from Jasper where he served in the same capacity at the Jasper-Newton Counties Health Unit.

Six years of previous experience in this field will aid the 38-year-old sanitarian head in his duties here. Before serving in Jasper, Cass worked four years in the Dallas Health Unit.

Inability to secure adequate housing facilities has prevented Cass from bringing his wife and two children to Midland but he plans to do so when this situation is remedied.

Works Under Sadler
As head of the sanitation department working under Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the unit, Cass will attend to the supervision of the quality of milk and other food stuffs. Also in his department will be the licensing of eating establishments. Present standards in this field will be raised according to Cass and Sadler.

"Lack of a chief sanitarian during the last few months has resulted in a certain laxity in some respect," Sadler said, "but this situation is in the process of being remedied."

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Tom Clark's Appointment Should Please The Texan

By TEX KASLEY
WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman's selection of Tom Clark for a place on the Supreme Court should be doubly satisfying to the tall and genial Texan.

A seat on the high court is considered the highest honor that can come to a lawyer. Aside from the satisfaction that alone would bring, Clark could take personal pride in being the first man from the Lone Star State to be chosen for the nation's supreme tribunal.

Since coming to Washington in 1937 to take an obscure $5,000-a-year 49-year-old Dallas lawyer has climbed steadily.

He began as a special attorney in the bureau of War Risk Litigation. Later he handled anti-trust cases was named assistant attorney general and finally he joined the President's Cabinet as head of the Justice Department.

One of the reasons behind Clark's success undoubtedly is his ability to make and hold friends.

Two of these friends are House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham and former Rep. Hatton W. Summers of Dallas.

Out of Obscurity
They were moving forces behind the scenes in the early days when Clark was moving out of obscurity and toward his place in the Cabinet.

As Texans, they had known Clark on a close personal basis for years. Rayburn's word of recommendation for a man is potent. Summers was far from being a staunch Administration man, but his position for years as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee meant he was in a strategic spot to help advance a man in the legal field.

Clark's own decisions as to the course to follow may have kept him in the Cabinet. He stayed on while others didn't.

The real test, and the one that probably paid off in the end was his loyalty to President Truman during the 1948 campaign. Clark was one of the few Cabinet members, and the only one of those who had been in the Cabinet very long, to campaign actively for Truman in the face of forecasts of a Republican landslide.

On some issues Clark was completely at odds with most of the Texans in Washington, primarily the state's congressional delegation. These included questions of ownership of Tidelands and civil rights. He had taken any other position than pro-civil rights and pro-federal ownership of the submerged lands he undoubtedly would not have remained long in the Cabinet.

Despite these differences, Clark and the Texas members of Congress remain on close personal terms. He frequently attends delegation luncheons and other functions with Texans.

Publisher Will Rutherford of the Moore County News at Dumas and Mrs. Rutherford spent their seventeenth wedding anniversary here, enroute home from a trip to New York. They had dinner in the home of Panhandle Congressman Gene Worley of Shamrock.

Other recent visitors included Fred Erisman, Longview lawyer, and his wife and son, Fred, Jr. They made a tour of all the principal Civil War battlefields in this part of the country, so Fred Jr.'s history course next Fall will mean more to him.
Also here from Longview last week and luncheon guests at the Capitol of Rep. Lindsey Beckworth of Gladewater were Publisher Carl Estes and two young men, Hamp Smead, Jr., and Dick Hurst.

Earl McClesney of College Station, secretary to Representative Teague (D-Texas), is passing out the cigars for the third time. The new member of the family is Robert S. McClesney, seven pounds, four ounces.

Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio is hobnobbing about with a very special case.

Former Congressman Fritz Lanham of Fort Worth who lives here now, read in the local papers that Kilday had fractured two bones in one foot. He offered the use of a cane that had come in handy for four other congressmen in previous years.
Lanham said he had bought it 20 years ago after he had suffered a broken leg and had sewn a leather jacket over the handle to keep it from slipping.

POLIO AND YOU—

Expert Care Only Remedy When The Crippler Strikes

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK —(AP)— When your child gets polio—infantile paralysis—his fate passes out of your hands.
All you can do is to turn him over to specialists, doctors and nurses, and there are not many of these specialists in the entire United States.

That's where the dimes you and the children gave last Winter come to your aid. They produced more than $20,000,000 now ready to do the incredible medical job of making this scarce aid ready everywhere.

Your community has a chapter of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, one of 2,800 in the United States.
Call the community or nearest National Foundation office. They have plans ready. For those unable to pay the full expenses, the foundation expects to pay the balance. And this is a lot of money, about $1,000 being an average expense for a single case. Some run far higher.

Teams Of Experts
Local chapters of the foundation keep half of the March of Dimes funds collected, and most of this goes to pay patients' bills. The policy of the foundation is to pay all or part of the expense, depending upon each family's need for help. When local funds are exhausted, the national headquarters advances money to help meet the costs. Last year the foundation and its chapters spent $17,000,000 for patient care, including $6,700,000 from the national headquarters.

Where cases are numerous, the foundation maintains teams of expert doctors and nurses to go to that area and train nurses and advise local doctors. These teams are top men in polio, in the leading medical institutions of the United States.
Some things which the experts will do can later be done at home by you. That will be in the cases where it takes years of training stricken muscles.
Where children are unable to move a muscle, nurses or parents or apparatus built for the purpose does this exercise. Some day the weakened muscles get able to do some of their own work. Results sometimes look like miracles. The reasons are intricate, but there is little guess-work.

Remedies Under Test
Bulbar polio, the kind that comes from damage to the "bulb" at the top of the spinal cord, has lost some of its death-dealing power. Bulbar kills in several ways. It may paralyze swallowing muscles, or breathing muscles or interfere with heart action. In the swallowing trouble, the child chokes to death. Opening the windpipe saves most of these, and that was discovered only two years ago. Iron lungs keep them alive in the breathing paralysis and pure oxygen helps tide over the heart crises.

The doctors say give the sufferer myanasin or priscol to relieve pain, but not because they think there is any curative effect. They use curare to loosen muscles that insist on tying themselves into knots. They have tried new remedies like dantrol and gureomycin. There are swimming pools, rocking beds and other devices for mild exercises.

There are more than a score of medicines being used on animals, with hopeful effects, and two vaccines, again for animals. Whether any of these will work for human beings is unknown.
The best and only remedies go under the board name of physiotherapy, which means long, patient, understanding and affectionate care and painstaking direction in teaching stricken muscles to make a comeback.

When you serve a cold seafood salad, add a small cup of lettuce to the plate and fill the cup with a little tartar sauce. To make the sauce, just add sweet pickle relish, chopped parsley, lemon juice, and a few capers to mayonnaise or creamy salad dressing.

REDS PLAN STORES
MOSCOW —(AP)— Moscow is about to open a new group of restaurants and stores. They will represent various Soviet nationalities. "Ogonok," the Soviet picture magazine, recently carried drawings of the store and the restaurant of one of these nationalities—the Armenians. It appears from these drawings that great care is being taken to see that they are designed so as to typify the art and architecture of Armenia.

In dishwashing, observe that old rule: glass first, silver second, china third. It will save nicks, chips and scratches which result from a jumble in the dishpan.

Black Eye Received By Police Woman
SINGAPORE —(AP)— A 28-year-old woman vegetable seller earned the questionable distinction of being the first person to give a member of this island's new women police force a black eye. Lan Choon was sent to prison for six weeks for assault and was fined $10 for hawking without a license.
Policewoman Miss Susi Gan was the chief witness against Lan. Wearing a definitely discolored left eye, Miss Gan had to call a police constable to bring a semblance of order.

'Vest-Pocket' Size Kitchen Unit Designed From Hall Landing

Editor's Note: Here's another of step-by-step articles that show you how to change today's cramped living into a glorious home—and still stay within your income. They're written for NEA Service by America's top professional designer in the "budget" field.

By HUGH EVANS
Written For NEA Service

The "vest pocket" kitchen, miniature but complete, stationary but removable, which can be built into a shallow closet, window alcove or even a stairwell is the householder's ace in the hole today for turning rooms with no cooking facilities into a real home.

This problem of what to do about a kitchen can be solved by families whose search for homes wind up with rented cellars, one-room accommodations, or the upper stories of houses unequipped for cooking.

Proof that a vest-pocket kitchen can be put in almost anywhere that provides enough space for cooking, dishwashing and refrigeration—even over a partially closed stairwell—is the H. V. Kaltenborn project which my brother Bill and I installed for this New York radio news commentator.

Snack Kitchen
In this case, the need was for an easy-access upstairs "snack" kitchen which in our client's home was installed over the stairwell to supplement a full-sized downstairs kitchen.

What was done here to convert a narrow hall, made narrower by a stairwell, into a "vest-pocket" kitchen can be duplicated in kind by any householder whose crying need is for small-scaled, efficient cooking facilities.

Bill Evans, co-designer of interior (right), and actress Leora Dana enjoy an after-theatre snack in the miniature but complete vest-pocket kitchen converted from the back stairwell landing and hall (left).

In the Kaltenborn home, we made room for one small steel cabinet, a two-burner stove, a sink, a medium-sized refrigerator and a storage cabinet by taking the needed space from a narrow back hallway. This hallway forms the landing for the back stairs, and serves as passageway between library and living room.

For the additional space needed for installing kitchen units an old storage cupboard was removed and flooring was built over part of the stairwell of the descending back stairs. This partition of stairwell was covered to provide a floor stout enough for the support of kitchen unit's weight. The flooring, however, did not interfere with stairway traffic or reduce the head room of stair-climbers.

The stove-refrigerator unit was anchored in place over the new flooring, and a cabinet was hung above. A hardwood natural finish board placed at the exposed end of the stove and attached securely over the stair bannister served as an adequate work table.

Plumbing and electric wiring were connected to basement outlets, and a three-plug electric outlet on the hardwood table top was added to accommodate electric toaster, grill or broiler.

This newcomer in the Kaltenborn home, which despite its small size and upstairs location is a formidable rival of a full-sized downstairs kitchen as the most popular room in the house, owes some of its popularity to its good looks. It's painted white and colorfully framed by inexpensive but brilliant Mexican paper masks hung on the wall.

Air Line Reports $3,536,000 Profit

DALLAS—American Airlines, Inc., reported a profit of $3,536,000 for the six months ended June 30, 1948, after provision of $60,000 for federal income taxes. The normal provision for federal income tax was substantially reduced by the carry-forward of losses sustained in 1948. For the first six months of 1948 the loss was $4,098,000, and the result was, consequently, an improvement of $7,634,000.

Revenues of $40,782,000 for the first six months of 1948 exceeded those for the first six months of 1947 by 20 per cent. Total operating expenses, including depreciation, were up eight per cent.

All types of traffic contribute to the increase in revenue. Revenue passenger miles for the half totaled 760,114,000 or an increase of 28 per cent. Mail ton miles increased 3 per cent and freight increased 8 1/2 per cent.

During one period of 13 months the Tower Bridge of London was opened 3147 times, to permit passage of shipping.
