Drilling To Begin On Wildcat Near Snyder

Sunray Oil Corporation is to start drilling immediately at its No. 1, L. S. Sontell, a 7,000-foot wildcat in North Central Scurry County, seven miles north and a little east of Snyder.

It will be two miles east of the east side of the Snyder field, and 467 feet from north and west lines of tract 2, Dallas Trust & Savings Bank sub-division of the Grimes ranch in section 22, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

The scheduled destination of the prospector should take it into the Canyon line of the Pennsylvanian. Sunray assumed an obligation to drill this wildcat about six months ago when it acquired the oil and gas lease on the Sontell property.

Guy Maboe Drilling Company of Midland has the rotary drilling contract for the venture and material is now being moved to the location.

Eddy Test Develops Gas, Distillate Signs

Some signs of gas and distillate were developed in a drillstem test at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Federal-Wiggs, deep petroleum prospector in Central-South Eddy County, Texas, 15 miles south of Carlsbad.

This venture ran a two hour and 37 minute drillstem test in a black shale horizon in the Wolfcamp, lower Permian, at 9,891-10,006 feet. Gas showed at the surface in five minutes. Maximum volume was 311,000 cubic feet per day. The gas declined to a volume of 148,000 cubic feet per day at the end of the test.

Recovery was 400 feet of gas cut drilling mud with a light trace of distillate.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure ranged between 220 pounds and 270 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 43 minutes was 2,915 feet.

The venture deepened to 10,016 feet in shale and at last report was starting to core from that point. Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 31-11s-35e.

The wildcat is projected to 13,000 feet to try to find and test the Ellenburger.

Wildcat In Lynn Due To Test In Permian

Barnes Oil Company No. 1 Williams, Central Lynn County wildcat, of four and one-half miles southwest of Tahoka drilled to 10,556 feet in the Silurian-Devonian lime and failed to find any possibilities of production in the lower horizons.

Operator bottomed the venture at that point and probably will plug back and test a section of Permian between 4,890 feet and 5,300 feet, which logged several streaks of lime with fair oil saturation. Exact age of that horizon has not been reported by operator.

Some observers think there is a fair chance that some amount of commercial production may be developed from the 4,890-5,300 foot interval.

The exploration is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 2, block 8, ELA-RR survey.

SW Kelly Extension Completed By Fields

Bert Fields of Dallas, has completed his No. 1 A. B. Elicke, as a three-eighths of a mile southwest extension to the Kelly-Canyon field in West-Central Scurry County, by about three and one-half miles west of Snyder. It is located 660 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 205, block 97, H&TC survey.

This well made a 24-hour flowing potential, natural, of 975 barrels of 40 gravity oil, flowing through a one-half inch tubing choke. It did not show any formation water. Gas-oil ratio was 890-1. Flowing casing pressure was 735 pounds and flowing tubing pressure was 500 pounds.

Top of the pay was at 6,761 feet. A string of 7-inch casing is cemented at that point. Total depth is 6,791 feet.

Fields Second Well

This makes the second producer Fields has completed in the Kelly area. P. T. Harmon, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 205, block 97, H&TC survey, and one mile north and a quarter of a mile west of the nearest completed oil well in the Kelly-Canyon field, was finished for a daily potential of 1,008 barrels of 40 gravity oil, flowing natural through a one-half inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 821-1. It showed no formation water.

Top of the pay was at 6,725 feet. A string of 7-inch casing was cemented at 6,794 feet. Total depth is 6,781 feet.

The footage on the top of the pay and the total depth, along with all other formation given above on No. 1 Harmon are from operator's official report to the Texas Railroad Commission.

The figures on the top of the pay and the total depth were reported slightly different on a previous report on that completion. That information came from unofficial sources.

The two Fields wells are the best producers so far completed in the Kelly area from the Canyon lime pay.

Their showings will likely stimulate considerable interest and activity in the region.

U. S. Envoy Urges Stalin To Halt Red Air Jamming Tactics

WASHINGTON—(AP)—U. S. Ambassador Alan Kirk asked Premier Stalin to speed action on American protests against jamming of the Voice of America radio broadcasts, Secretary of State Acheson disclosed Wednesday.

Kirk called on the Soviet leader Monday night. Acheson told a news conference it actually was a courtesy visit and was limited almost entirely to an exchange of courtesies between the new American ambassador and the Russian premier.

However, he added, Kirk did mention to Stalin two points currently at issue in Soviet-American relations. These, Acheson said, are the Russian jamming of American radio broadcasts and the long, drawn-out negotiations on a final settlement for wartime lend-lease.

On both points, Acheson said, Kirk simply expressed hope to Stalin that the foreign office would consider the two matters so that the two governments can get on with the business of solving the problems involved.

Long Range Plan

Asked what Stalin's reaction was, Acheson said that the matters were referred to the Soviet Foreign Office.

This interference with broadcasts from the West to the Russian people, Acheson declared, "must be looked upon as a long range plan of the USSR for isolating the Russian people even more completely from news to truth and fact about the outside world."

The House Appropriations Committee Tuesday recommended increasing the Voice of America funds by $11,500,000. This would be used for the construction and improvement of broadcasting stations to fight the jamming, Acheson said.

"This jamming is a direct violation of international telecommunications conventions to which the USSR is a party, including the so-called Madrid and Cairo conventions," Acheson pointed out.

Heavy Rain, Winds Lash Rankin Area

RANKIN—A two-inch rain accompanied by a terrific wind struck Rankin late Tuesday afternoon, causing minor damage in parts of the city.

Most serious damage was to shade trees, which were damaged in all sections. Electrical power was off several hours.

The wind blew over a trailer house and demolished the refrigerator, stove, furniture and other fixtures. Two other trailer houses were blown from their foundations. The trailer houses were situated at a camp one mile north of Rankin.

Two to four inches of rain fell in the Rankin, McCamey, Crane triangle. The Benedict Field, northeast of Rankin, was a quagmire, with all roads in that area impassable Tuesday night.

A group of 4-H girls holding an encampment in the County Park Building in Rankin escaped possible injuries in a freak accident. The girls were presenting a play on the stage when the wind and rain struck. They had just been ordered to the clubroom by the sponsor, Miss Myrna Holman, when the double fire doors at the rear of the stage blew open.

Two-by-four which was snapped against the doors was whipped, hurling it the full length of the 64-foot auditorium. The stage was a sheet of water before the doors could be closed.

The Crane-Rankin highway was covered by water for a distance of one mile, immediately west of here. In other places water covered the road for distances of 50 to 200 feet.

The south part of Rankin was threatened for a time with complete inundation.

The Santa Fe Railway tracks, south of the Rankin depot, were under water several hours.

E. M. Ferrell Dies At Midland Home; Funeral Thursday

Edwin M. Ferrell, 70, Midland resident since 1923, died Wednesday morning at his home, 208 South A Street. He had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Thursday in the Ellis Chapel, with the Rev. H. H. Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Interment will be in the Fairview Cemetery.

Ferrell came to Midland in 1923 and had lived here continuously since that time.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. E. M. Ferrell of Midland; a son, Edwin B. Ferrell of Midland; a daughter, Mrs. Harry Roberts of San Antonio; two sisters, Mrs. George Finley of Abilene and Miss Minnie Ferrell of Aspermont; a brother, Charles Ferrell of Roswell, N. M.; and six grandchildren.

Agent Formulating 4-H Club Program

Plans for an active year for Midland County 4-H Club boys are being formulated by Acting County Agent Charles Green.

Green said at least 15 4-H boys already are feeding calves for the Spring shows and that others are planning to pen lambs and pigs during the latter part of August.

He said the boys will have an educational exhibit at the Midland County Fair September 23 and 24. The youths will be ready to go into their program, as outlined by Green, when school opens. He said clubs may be formed in other communities of the county if sufficient interest is shown.

He also said an additional club may be formed in Midland.

No Summer meetings have been called, since many of the youths are vacationing with their families.

Break Looms In Money Deadlock

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A break in the deadlock holding up funds for major government agencies appeared near Wednesday as the House began consideration of an emergency financing resolution.

The resolution would allow the affected agencies to operate on a stop-gap basis until September 15 to give Congress more time to take final action on 1950 appropriation bills.

The 1950 fiscal year started July 1 but money bills for some big agencies, including the Military Establishment and the Veterans Administration, still are bottled up on Capitol Hill.

Increased Building Seen As Grounds For Hike In Employment

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A forecast of further moderate increases in construction work in the near future came from the Federal Reserve Board Wednesday.

Because construction is one of the main bulwarks of business activity and employment, this furnished some backing for a prediction by Secretary of Labor Tobin that employment will go up by 1,000,000 the rest of this year. Tobin made the prediction at the White House Tuesday.

The Reserve Board, in a publication, noted contract construction was providing jobs for more than 2,000,000 workers at mid-year.

Even while activity declined substantially at the nation's factories and mines in the Spring and early Summer, the board report showed, construction was scoring a more than seasonal rise for its low winter levels.

That was one factor credited by the Commerce Department with cushioning the decline in the total output of goods and services—the "gross national product"—during the second quarter of 1949.

This output was at an annual rate of $256,100,000,000 in the second quarter, down 2.4 per cent from the preceding quarter and down 5.3 per cent from the peak reached in 1948's final quarter.

The Commerce Department blamed a cutback in business inventories for the decline since the cutback narrowed the market for goods and services.

Police, Ambulance Give On-The-Spot Service At Wreck

Midland Police and an ambulance driver from Ellis Funeral Home Tuesday night went looking for one wreck and ended up finding another.

They received a report of a motorcycle accident on West Wall Street at 9 p. m. and started searching for it.

The search failed to lead them to the first wreck but they didn't come back empty handed.

Raymond Fowler of Odessa drove his motorcycle into an automobile right along side the ambulance and police car. He was taken to an Odessa hospital, where his injuries were termed slight.

Senate Turns Guns On Truman 'Plan 2'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate turned Wednesday to a brisk scrap over President Truman's Reorganization Plan No. 2, after handing the Chief Executive a stinging defeat on his plans for a Welfare Department in the cabinet.

Both sides said the fight on No. 2—to transfer the Bureau of Employment Security from the Federal Security Administration (FSA) to the Labor Department—probably would wind up in an administration victory.

Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill) told reporters flatly the plan would go through.

He got a grudging second from one of the leading opponents who said privately that the necessary 49 votes—the required majority of the full Senate—could not be mustered to support the resolution of disapproval.

The President's plan for a new Welfare Department combining the functions of health, education and welfare under a single secretary of cabinet rank was sidetracked Tuesday by a 60 to 32 vote—11 more than required.

The fight centered largely around (1) Oscar Ewing present FSA administrator and Truman's reported choice for the welfare cabinet post; (2) charges that Ewing would work in the job for socialized medicine, and (3) whether or not the plan allowed out or violated recommendations of the Hoover Commission on Government Reorganization.

Fund To Aid Girl, Unconscious Seven Months, Grows Fast

Joan Edwards, pretty, 24-year-old blonde employe of The Reporter-Telegram, was injured in an automobile accident near Odessa Jan. 17, 1949.

Wednesday, seven months later, Joan Edwards still is unconscious as a result of her injuries. She never has regained consciousness since that cold January night when the car in which she was riding skidded on the ice-coated highway and overturned.

She was rushed to an Odessa hospital where she remained until June 24, when she was taken to a Dallas hospital for special treatment. Two weeks later Joan Edwards was taken to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Edwards, in Rankin. Last week she was taken to a San Angelo clinic for additional treatment. Her condition Wednesday was said to be "slightly improved."

But Joan Edwards still is unconscious—seven months after the highway mishap, which took the life of a Midland man, Bill Davidson.

Everything possible is being done to aid in her recovery.

And kind, thoughtful and generous West Texans are aiding in the financing of hospitalization and medical treatment for the Midland girl. The Joan Edwards Recovery Fund, which took the life of a Midland man, Bill Davidson.

Germans Warned Against Abuses Of New Freedom

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson warned the Western Germans Wednesday against abusing the freedoms permitted them by the Western occupation powers.

Acheson sounded the warning in a news conference discussion of Sunday's elections in Western Germany. He hailed the results as a "victory for moderation and common sense."

He noted there had been sharp criticism of the occupation forces during the election campaign. He indicated he wasn't worried about that but:

"Abuse of such freedoms may alienate Western sympathies while failing to serve the best interests of the German people."

The Germans "may well be reminded," he added, "that they are exercising these freedoms only because they are privileged to live under the jurisdiction of freedom loving nations xxx."

Socialist Leader Urges Arms Delay

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Socialist Norman Thomas urged Congress Wednesday to take the lead in one more attempt at world disarmament before voting to send military supplies to Europe.

Thomas testified before the combined Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees as the House prepared to open debate on the Administration's $1,450,000,000 foreign arms bill.

House leaders said they are confident the measure will be approved, possibly by Friday, without substantial change in its terms.

Wednesday's entire session in the House was set aside for debate, with voting to start Thursday.

Criticism Of Truman Aide Draws Rebuff

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Mundt (R-SD) Wednesday denounced Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan as a "finagling bargainer" who applied "pressure, intimidation, bluff and bluster" in an attempt to get a government worker to violate the law.

Mundt's bitter criticism of Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, drew a sharp reprimand from Senator Hoey (D-NC), chairman of the Senate's special investigations subcommittee.

Driver Held For Murder

ATLANTA—(AP)—Murder charges have been placed against the taxi driver who fatally injured Margaret Mitchell, world-famous author of "Gone With the Wind."

Miss Mitchell, whose novel of Civil War and reconstruction days outsold everything in print except the Bible, died Tuesday in Grady Memorial Hospital, five days after she was struck down by a speeding automobile. She died in an operating room as physicians prepared for emergency surgery to try to save her life.

Private funeral services will be held Thursday.

Hugh D. Gravit, the 26-year-old driver of the car which hit Miss Mitchell, is being held without bond on a charge of murder. Atlanta Police Chief Herbert Jenkins said the case will go to a grand jury Friday if that body is ready to receive it.

Gravit, listed on police records for 22 previous traffic violations, was off duty and driving his own car when he struck Miss Mitchell. Until the author's death, he had been free in $5,450 bond on a charge of suspicion of manslaughter.

He said Vaughan told him at one point during the conversation that "We Democrats have to stick together." Hathorn said Vaughan later "was a little rough" when Hathorn told him he could "not conscientiously" grant the permit Vaughan wanted for the Allied firm.

Harold M. Ross, president of the company, told the Senate Investigations subcommittee earlier that Maragon had been given money to help the Allies grant the permit.

Ross' uncle, Milton R. Pollard, Milwaukee insurance man, swore that he had Maragon $10,000 for (Continued On Page 11)

Weather Delays Channel Attempt

DOVER, ENGLAND—(AP)—Shirley May France will not attempt to swim the English Channel Wednesday night, her manager announced Wednesday.

She had planned to plunge into the channel at Cap Gris Nez, France, sometime around midnight, but unfavorable weather conditions caused reconsideration.

Ted Wornor, who manages the 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., high school junior, said "I have just had a consultation with all my advisers and things look bad. The weather forecast is for winds of 10 to 15 miles an hour tonight."

Student Registration Is At Old High School

The registration of high school students is being conducted at the old high school building on West Texas Street and not at the new building on Illinois Street, Principal Charles Mathews said Wednesday.

Students are asked not to visit the new building which still is under construction. Mathews said every effort is being made to have the new building ready for occupancy by September 1 and that visitors tend to slow down the work.

Sonoma To Answer Harsh Words With Sweet Music

ENNIS, TEXAS—(AP)—The town of Ennis and its brand new neighbor, Sonoma, are feudin' and fightin'.

Tiny Sonoma decided Wednesday to meet with sweet music the latest wrathful words of its gargantuan neighbor.

Sonoma and its 200 proud citizens voted Saturday to set up Texas' newest town on the eastern edge of Ennis.

The Ellis County city of 10,000 asserted through its City Commission Tuesday night that "if secession comes," all Ennis services including water, hospital, city fire protection, library service and the like would be shut off from Sonoma at once.

Sonoma met the challenge with dignified official silence. That, of course, was implicit because Sonoma has no officials. Nor does it have taxes, schools, business, houses, sewers, water lines, cops or firemen.

Some of the incorporators made known Wednesday, however, that a musical comedy about the whole grave issue has been written by Thomas Mosley, a Baylor student and son of an Ennis druggist. It is to be produced. It has a dozen songs, the theme of which is "Valley of the Moon." Sonoma means valley of the moon.

Sonoma's originally had planned to give proceeds to the Ennis Library. In view of the commission's utterance that Sonoma would be turned away from the library like erring children, a movement was afoot to use proceeds for a "Sonoma Defense Fund."

Bob Hope Spends Summertime In Wool Coat And Whiskers

By BOB HOPE (For Erskine Johnson, who is on vacation) HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Comes Summer and the average guy who isn't a professional, looks forward to two weeks vacation in which he can spend all the loot he's been putting by for the past 50 weeks, or what he can borrow from the finance company. If he's a professional in movies or radio, he might vacation for eight to 13 weeks instead of the average person's two weeks. In my case it's easy. I took my vacation last January and part of February and then later, another one for two weeks in April. It was a good vacation. I did a lot of traveling. I visited 25 towns, old Paleface Hope... we gotta move. The fact that I also gave about 60 performances in those towns is beside the point. If I didn't call it a vacation, Paramount did. So they say. Come spend the summer months with us and we'll grind the cameras while you act in costume. Not too heavy a costume—just an all-wool frock coat, some striped pants and some all-wool mutton-chop whiskers. I'm a butler in this one and it's now called "Where Men Are Men"—and that title ought to stick because Lucille Ball is my leading lady. You know they've been changing movie titles so much because the Johnson office is a pretty strict about what impression a title should create as far as the public is concerned. For instance they now have a rule that titles which play up crime are out. They're releasing a bunch of old pictures and in that connection they're changing "Billington" to "This Man Played Hooker" and "Brute Force" will come out again as "Stop, You're Hurting My Arm," and you'll never know "Murder, My Sweet," because they're retagging this one as "I Didn't Take You Up on the Roof to Show You the View, Dearest!" A Little Suspicious My director is George Marshall. You wouldn't call George an old man, but on the other hand, it has been sometime since he had his first shave. Anyway, I don't think it's a bad idea that the older directors be kept on the job. I'm thinking of Lucille Ball again and I'm remembering that for every year George Marshall adds to his life span, it's that much easier for him to keep his mind on his business. I know one old director that I thought was going too far, when I heard him say to his leading man, "You, young man, have to learn to put meaning into your lines—you should go out and live the life scene—the only hands that picture was Errol Flynn. Old directors have different techniques than young ones... an old director's idea of a love scene is a couple on a back porch holding hands. In the young director's life scene the only hands they have to hold are the leading man's. Of course this doesn't apply to the directors at Paramount. They're really not old... it's just that trying to make Crosby vintage is what makes them look that way. My own opinion is that the old directors are doing all right. They're in great shape. You'd know what I mean if you saw them fight it out at the Academy Award Dinner. However, I am going to get some kind of vacation after my present picture is finished. Everybody says that an actor or a producer or a director should leave town every year to get a fresh slant on life. I agree with him and I make it a policy to leave town after every picture—of course, I have to. Travels Incognito Once I ran into a handsome leading man in a small western town. He was traveling incognito (incognito, that "I don't want anybody to know me because I'm trying to find out what they don't want to tell me so I can use it for my own purposes later on.") Nobody would have known this star if it weren't for his dark glasses.

purple sport shirt, and the neon on his convertible that lit up and said, "I have so much more than Clark, why should you fight it?" Seriously I think getting away from the Ciro definitely has its advantages, Erskine. Look how many black eyes you can save yourself! Of course there are other people who get their vacation thrills in a peculiar way. Take the guy who listens to the radio. For 13 Benny-less, Cantorless, Duffless, Hopeless weeks the listener won't have to wonder whether some comic is hatching an egg while the audience cackles. He won't have to wonder when he hears a studio full of people laughing at a joke that was passed on from his great-grandfather, who got it from General Grant, who heard it from Lee at Appomattox, whereas the whiskers are washing up and down the aisles with atomizers, spraying laughing gas.

Nonchalance

(NEA Telephoto) High above a crowded New York street, Joe Callagione holds two-year-old Pat Lebrecht on the ledge of a sixth-floor apartment where the child lives. Callagione, attracted by horrified onlookers, saw the youngster nonchalantly sitting alone on the window ledge. He dashed down from his fifth-floor place of business, across the street, and up six flights to rescue the child.

$30,000 Will Get You A Land Cruiser For That Vacation Trip With All The Comforts

By BERRY APPLING Have you been worried about underrating the discomforts of travel on that vacation trip this year? Well, your worries are over if you have $30,000. This tiny little sun will purchase a fully equipped Land Cruiser, a luxury bus designed and built by The Flexible Company of Louisville, Ohio. Carlton McKinney, Jr., of Fort Worth, sales representative, was in Midland Monday displaying one of the Land Cruisers. His statement that it contained all the comforts of home proved to be a vast understatement. It does that and then some if you are speaking of the average home. From the exterior view, the vehicle appears to be merely a bus such as you see operating on the highways every day. A remarkably clean and well-kept one you probably would add. When you step inside, however, you find it hard to realize that you are on four wheels and not in some elaborately modern home. Compactness is the key to such elaborate comfort. Everything is for a purpose and in most cases serves not one but two or more purposes. For instance, the day-time seats constructed of foam rubber are night-time beds. Not the crowded type usually found in trailers or other such types of travel, but comfortable and spacious. Besides the accommodations for bedding eight people, the Land Cruiser has a kitchen with a butane stove, electric refrigerator, storage space for cooking utensils, sink and other devices to be found in the modern kitchen. You won't get dirty on this trip with the bathroom facilities available. Wash basin and toilet fold back into the wall leaving the remainder of the space to serve as a shower room. Radios and accommodations for a television set lend still further to the effect of being in a well appointed living room. SPEAKING OF Furniture By GEORGE STEWART

BLEND THOSE STYLES! As furniture dealers we are often asked how to mix styles and periods. They can be mixed, of course, but it takes an understanding of different designs to blend them and obtain a harmonious room. Hepplewhite and Sheraton, for example, go well with certain Chippendale pieces as well as with Louis XVI and with some Duncan Phyfe, English Regency blends with Sheraton, Hepplewhite, Chinese, Chippendale and Duncan Phyfe. Mixing styles and periods gives you greater freedom and variety, also a greater chance to express our personality and create the kind of home you desire. Just remember that styles which are similar in scale, line and texture go well together. The woods need not be identical to mix well. Light woods and dark often achieve very pleasing contrasts. Illustrated above is a dining room furnished with a Duncan Phyfe table, Chippendale chairs and a Sheraton buffet... note how well they blend into a beautiful combination. We would enjoy discussing your furniture problem with you. Drop in to... Special You Can Buy It In Midland See our mahogany 18th Century Bedroom Group by Tomlinson. Nita Card And D. A. Smith Are Married In Pecos Ceremony

PECOS—Nita Card and David Alan Smith were married Saturday night in a candlelight ceremony in the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. W. M. Turner performed the double ring ceremony before an arch of greenery with a white wedding bell suspended from it and baskets of white gladiolus on either side.

Tall white tapers in seven-pronged cathedral candelabra were lighted by Buddy Card, brother of the bride, and Billy Smith, brother of the bridegroom.

Plays "Indian Love Call"
Lavoy O'Neil was maid of honor and George Buffington of El Paso served as best man. Ushers were Buddy Card, Billy Smith, Jerry Thomson of El Paso and Charlie Meeks.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Heard Reynolds played "Indian Love Call," and Grover Cleveland, accompanied by Roberta Wood, sang "Because," "Hardlot," "Mrs. Reynolds played the traditional wedding marches and during the ceremony, "I Love You Truly," "Jacobs-Bond."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, wore an embossed orchid-cloth dress in white, fastened with a light bodice, sheered yoke with a round neckline and tiny puffed sleeves and a tiered street length skirt edged with embroidered lace. Her finger-tip veil illusion was caught at the head by a band of seed pearls. Her bouquet was white gardenia outlined with sweetheart rosebuds, topped a white Bible.

Wears Pink
The bride's attendant wore a pink orchid-cloth dress styled similar to the bride's with pink accessories and a nosegay of pink carnations.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Earl Card, wore a black and white print dress, and Mrs. Hollis Smith, mother of the bridegroom, a blue crepe dress. Both wore gardenia corsages.

A reception was held in the church annex after the ceremony. Minnie Lois Curb presided at the guest book. The bride's table was covered with a white cut-work embroidered cloth and was centered with a crystal bowl of sweetheart roses. Nancy Sue McCree and Lena Austin served.

Warren's Comeback

Gov. Earl Warren of California began 1949 under heavy handicap. He had been second man on the losing Republican team in the 1948 election.

When the California Legislature convened last January, his opposition looked stronger. On the national scene, his name was little mentioned.

Warren nevertheless waded in with a state program he believed the voters wanted. That included a record budget.

He had to buck his emboldened political opponents plus a host of hostile lobbyists, who are no puny adversaries in California.

Accounts from the Pacific Coast now declare that Warren has won his fight after the longest legislative session in his state's history.

A two-term governor, he is now in a strong spot to run again in 1950 if he wishes. For Californians are talking once more of Warren, the liberal GOP executive.

But the governor's comeback is bigger than this. He was the standout among Republicans at the governors' conference last month in Colorado Spring.

Does this mean he will be regarded as a serious contender for the GOP presidential nomination in 1952?

On performance Warren would seem to merit such attention. But there is no assurance he will get it.

Perhaps that's part of the trouble. His liberalism is there for all to see, but it's a viewpoint not in the ascendancy in his party.

There's more to it, of course. In 1948 Warren made only a belated, half-hearted try for the nomination.

No one knows whether Warren does want the 1952 nomination. Past attitudes toward him in his party suggest that even hard work might not get it for him.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Robert S. Allen says: Consistency no jewel in Administration; Truman defends Vaughan but Sawyer cracks down on subordinate for accepting Christmas gifts from businessmen; McCarran has built up lush patronage empire.

WASHINGTON—Consistency is no jewel in the Truman administration.

At his most recent press conference, President Truman staunchly defended his old friend and military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, under headline fire in the Senate's "five percent" probe.

The cabinet member is Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer. The subordinate is Charles Lund, chief of a member of his cabinet who is cracking down on a subordinate accused of accepting insignificant Christmas gifts from businessmen.

Lund is accused of accepting a $2 bottle of a Cuban cognac and a $150 necktie from two business friends last Christmas.

Although Lund has a 14-year record of able and conscientious government service, he was ordered before a board on the ground of "wrongfully accepting gratuities."

But while Lund faces possible severe disciplinary action, General Vaughan is warmly patting on the back by the President of the United States.

Leading reason for the House's vehement refusal to accept the so-called joint Marshall Plan "watchdog" committee is a lush patronage empire built up by Senator Pat McCarran, (D-Nev.), committee chairman.

McCarran has 21 staff employees, most of them holdovers from the 80th Congress. A number draw five-figure salaries; in one case as much as members of Congress.

The House twice flatly refused to continue the "watchdog" committee. McCarran got Senate approval, and the issue is now being battled out in conference, with the House members refusing to budge.

Following is the list of top hands on McCarran's patronage payroll: Agent General Charles Dewey, $15,000. Former Republican congressman from Illinois, Dewey is the highest-paid committee employe in history.

Agents Roy J. Bullock, Calvin M. Cory, Robert M. Golding, and Hal Lackey, $12,000. Lackey, whose title is "executive assistant," was upped by McCarran from $8,353 to $12,000.

Gabriel Voglietta, $10,330 as compared to $8,000 last year; Charles H. Russell, $10,330; Robert F. Miller, $10,330; Francis Johnson, $10,330; Robert Fallow, $8,432; Maurice H. Joyce, $8,342; William F. Littlejohn, $8,342; David Sullivan, $8,342; and Joseph Mannix, $8,097.08.

The above list is only part of McCarran's RAP empire. He also has a big patronage retinue as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and Senate Immigration Subcommittee. The last committee is the one in which he has stymied the House bill to liberalize the "anti-Communist and anti-Catholic" displaced persons law.

McCarran has 21 staff members on this subcommittee, most of them Republican holdovers. Marked Man

At Washington's swank Burning Tree Golf Club, presidential assistant John Steelman and some friends were talking about the "five percent" probe. One of the group asked Steelman if he recalled Guy Standifer, fined $7,500 in 1946 for contempt in the Tanforan Race Track scandal.

"No, I can't say that I do," said Steelman.

New, Non-Crippling Virus Mistaken For Polio, Say Scientists

NEW HAVEN, CONN. — (AP) — Yale scientists expressed belief Tuesday that a large number of cases diagnosed as polio may actually be attributable to a new and apparently non-crippling virus.

Existence of the virus, first reported by the New York State Department of Health, was confirmed by the Yale researchers after a year's study.

Isolated during last summer's polio outbreak in Southern New England, North Carolina and Texas, the origin of the virus still is unknown and its means of transmission are obscure.

The report of the Yale scientists reported that all infected persons who have come to their attention have recovered with no harmful after-effects.

A report of the Yale researchers was published Tuesday in the proceedings of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine. Commenting on the report, Joseph L. Melnick, associate professor microbiology declared:

"It is believed that this new virus is the cause of widespread illness last year during the polioepidemic season. Last year there were about 28,000 cases in the United States which were reported as poliomyelitis, the largest number since 1914.

"On the basis of this research at Yale, it is believed a sizeable percentage of these cases may have been falsely diagnosed as poliomyelitis and were actually attributable to his new virus."

Ethel says she designs two kinds of fineries—first, the kind that many for women, who in turn exchange them for the second type, the kind that are more practical.

At the age of 14, Ethel decided she was going to be a designer. She went to one of the shows where they were using a lot of fine gowns, and instead of being hired as a designer, they gave her a part in the show.

Her cutest story is about the time she was hired by one of the large designers to be the girl to be fired when a customer came in tonight. They would call Ethel out, blame her for the mistake, and fire her. Ethel would shed a tear or two, the customer would feel sorry for her and all would be forgiven if Ethel were allowed to keep her job.

Sid claims that Ethel plays bridge after a fashion of her own. He told me about the play she made in today's hand. She did not even bother to take the heart finesse. When asked about this play, Ethel's reply was, "Why waste time with something that will accomplish nothing? And as it happens after she had gone over to a spade after winning the opening club lead, and taken the heart finesse, she would have lost her contract."

She cashed the ace of hearts and led the queen of hearts. Now the dummy has the high heart on which she could discard the losing four of diamonds. Playing the hand this way, she created in the dummy all the necessary entries needed to make the contract.

Midlanders Attend Houston Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Gifford and Mrs. Don W. Moore left Wednesday for Houston to attend the annual meeting of the Great Southern Life Insurance Company. Gifford and Moore, Midland representatives of the company, are among 134 persons who earned this year's trip on the basis of outstanding production of new life insurance.

L. S. Adams, president, announced this is the largest number of agents ever to qualify.

During the three-day meeting, opening Thursday, club members and wives will be the guests of the company in the new Shamrock Hotel.

Economic Forecasting Leaves Capital Observers In Daze

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The crystal ball used by the business prophets today could not possibly be more clouded. You can hear or read any kind of economic forecast you want, from glow to gloom.

This leaves the average Washington observer wondering if any of them know what they're talking about.

Comparison of some of the recent utterances by people who should know with what experts in similar positions said during 1929 only confirms this hunch.

President Truman in his recent economic report to Congress dealt with the unemployment situation as an acute problem in certain localities only. He said he was going to try to do something about it in those areas. But compare this view with the ideas of President Herbert Hoover in 1929, to the effect that unemployment was a local problem.

Bernard Baruch, returning from Europe, told ship news reporters, "I don't agree with those who say there will be a slump in this country." Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer, returning from his survey of New England unemployment, said business would pick up in the months ahead "if people don't get scared."

Treasury Secretary John Snyder, in his Collier's article, wrote: "I am plainly puzzled as to why the American businessman should be lacking in confidence today."

Like 1929? Compare those statements with some famous quotes of 1929: "The worst effects of the crash upon unemployment will have passed in 60 days," said President Hoover in March, 1930. Unemployment was then 3,000,000. It rose to 12,000,000. "I see nothing in the situation which warrants pessimism," said Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon on Jan. 1, 1930. "We can look for reasonable prosperity within the next year." It rose to 12,000,000.

Wondering, you read these statements. Then you call at some facts as gathered by principal government statisticians: Every government source tries to minimize unemployment.

Bureau of Census reports mid-July unemployment of more than 4,000,000 for the first time since the 1930-31 period. But the census sample survey indicated employment at 59,720,000—the highest this year. Good though this may be, it apparently isn't good enough. Employment ranged from 60,000,000 to 61,000,000 from May to October. Last year, with only 1,600,000 to 2,200,000 unemployed.

The Federal Reserve Board index of industrial production for July probably will be five points or more below the June figure of 163. Last January it was 181. The drop is 15 per cent. Iron and steel production is 28 per cent below the peak of last November.

Bureau of Labor Statistics wholesale price index of all commodities has dropped five per cent since January 1. But the BLS consumers price index—the so-called cost of living figure—is down only three per cent from the peak of last November. For July it probably will be around 170 per cent of the 1933-39 average. The figure has been within one per cent of this level for the last six months.

The cost of food index rose one per cent from May to June, though Summer food prices should be down. Rents and public utility rates are advancing in many areas.

People Going In Debt Installation buying has risen to a national total of more than 1,000,000—a new all-time high. What this means is that people are going deeper into debt. Personal savings are still high, but largely confined to people in the middle and upper income brackets.

In spite of notable exceptions like steel, total corporate profits for the second quarter of 1949 are expected to be lower than the first quarter annual rate of $28,000,000,000. The high was $36,000,000,000 in the third quarter of last year.

These are some of the bearish factors. On the brighter side, contributing to what some Washington observers find is a significant change in business sentiment during the last two-to-four weeks, may be listed these developments:

There will be no increase in federal income taxes. Consumer expenditures have remained high despite a falling-off in personal income. Automobile sales and production have been at record levels. Home and industrial construction have picked up in the last three months after a slow start earlier in the year.

The government will have to go to deficit spending, which is inflationary. This will be heightened by distribution of the veterans' insurance bonus of $2,500,000,000 early in 1950.

Wage increases in selected industries that have good profit reports so far this year, seem inevitable, which is likewise inflationary.

So they say

Some cocktail lounge liberals, as well as some of our conservative friends, have a "touch-me-not" attitude toward politics that simply does not make sense. They want the world remade overnight with others handling the details while they sit aloof and unsullied.

Steps to the Moon

By Adelaide Humphries

"Melvin, dear, if you'll fetch my bag and scarf, and Barry, perhaps you'll lead the way to show the others; act as our host for tonight. Come, everybody! Come, Clipper; come, Prince... Oh, de look out!" to Fritz, as the Scottie bared his teeth and snarled.

"Darling Clipper, he doesn't like strangers. He's really very friendly, though, when you know him, Mr. Fairfield."

"Freyman," Fritz corrected gently, side-stepping nimbly out of Clipper's reach at the same time. "I improve upon acquaintance, too, dear Mrs. Teare."

"Don't let Mother impose upon you," Gaynel said to Barry on the way down. "You needn't play host if you've something better to do."

"Nothing I could do for your mother—or you—would be an imposition," Barry assured her, with a smile.

"Well, I've done my Boy Scout deed," Fritz said. "Gaynel and I are going dancing, in the open air. Westwood, or one of those places. Trip the light fantastic underneath the stars, and sip some beer. Not that I have anything against fruit juice or ginger ale, you understand."

"I understand," Barry said. "But since you joined us one night, when Gaynel's date was with me, I might change my mind and come along. That is, of course, unless you'd mind?" to Gaynel.

"She said, 'We'd love to have you.'"

Fritz grinned and said, "Sure," but he muttered something about there being a crowd at certain times.

"No place could seem crowded after that third floor," Gaynel said. "I think it will be perfectly grand to have two such handsome escorts. I shall feel all perked up, as though I were a leading lady. If you boys will get things started for Mother, I'll slip away and get perked up in my coolest finery. Will you wait for me?"

"We will!" they said in unison, Fritz, so big and blond and outrageous; Barry, so lean and dark and courteous.

Water Whimsy

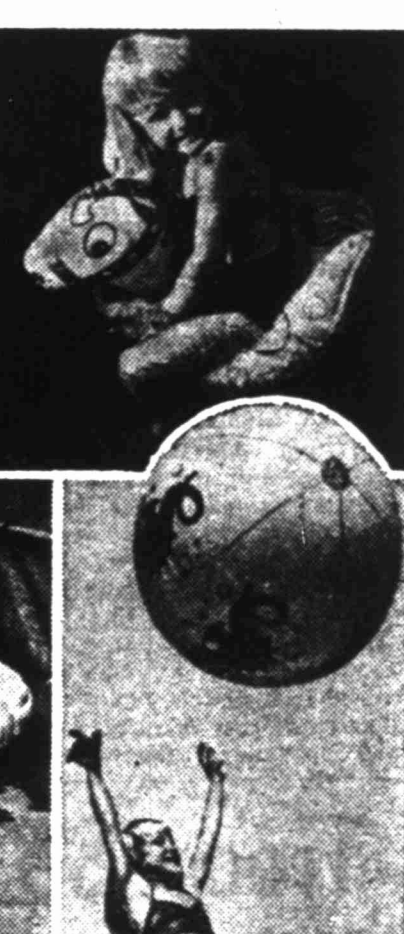

THE "I wanna toy" refrain can be answered this summer with sturdy water-goy toys which provide all-year round playthings but take in best stride the toss of a child or an ocean wave.

These gay flexible floaters entice the most water-shy child to splash at the water's edge until fear vanishes. For the baby in the family, chewy rubber duckling triplets, "Happy, Sleepy and Perky" float duck-like in tub or wading pool. A bottom opening permits drainage and drying of the toys for switch from pool to crib. Matching inflatable "Mama and Papa" ducks are strictly water birds. They blow up to decoy-duck size for the older child.

An inflatable plastic pony ring inspires water confidence, in-sures buoyancy. A brightly printed giant-sized plastic beach ball skittering across the sands and waves will probably end up providing water-fun for adults as well as children.

Another reason is just pure laziness on the married hostesses' part.

It's so simple to invite a few mar-ried couples to dinner or for an evening of cards. But it takes a little ingenuity to include Agatha who hasn't a husband and get hold of an eligible man to pair her off with.

Single Girl's Flight
Selfishness sometimes enters the picture, too. The woman who has a home and a husband and is sitting pretty, often doesn't care whether that nice Miss so-and-so or that sweet little widow she met at church is sitting home alone or not.

Married Women Needn't Balk At Playing Cupid Occasionally

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Every now and then, among the many letters I receive from single girls, young widows, and divorcees wanting to know how a girl can meet some eligible men there's the plaintive cry, "If there were just some sort of club where young men and women could get acquainted."

There wouldn't be such a crying need for organized matchmaking if the married women of the country would take it on themselves to do a little boy-meets-girl ar-ranging.

That's the natural and logical place for girls without husbands and men without wives to meet—in the homes of their married friends.

But married women today just don't seem to go in for matchmak-ing the way they used to.

One reason probably is that they're afraid. They've been fed so much "how to hold your man" advice during the last few years that unless they're serenely con-fident of their husbands, they're afraid to have a husband-hunting woman around.

Another reason is just pure laziness on the married hostesses' part. It's so simple to invite a few mar-ried couples to dinner or for an evening of cards. But it takes a little ingenuity to include Agatha who hasn't a husband and get hold of an eligible man to pair her off with.

Heintzelman Licks Dodgers As Cards Drop One To Cubs

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Curve-balling Kenny Heintzelman has whipped the Cardinals three times this season. Yet he probably would be elected mayor of St. Louis if he chose to run.

Heintzelman has one recommendation that already has endeared him to the hearts of all St. Louisians. He is the only pitcher who holds five straight decisions over the Cards' most hated rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers. Ken practically is a St. Louis citizen. Having been born in Perdue, Mo.

Oilers Sweep Two From Tribe

Harold Webb moves his Indians to San Angelo for a three-game series opening Wednesday night. Ralph Blair is the probable starting hurler in the opener. The Tribe returns home Saturday night to meet the Odessa Oilers in a two-game series.

ODESSA—The Midland Indians played "cousins" to the Odessa Oilers here Tuesday night and handed them the decision in both ends of a double-header. The Oilers took the first game 3 to 1 and the second 4 to 3.

A momentary let down by Ernie Nelson and two Midland errors gave the Oilers the first game. In the third inning they put together two singles, a sacrifice and an error for two runs. In the fifth, a single and an error gave them another.

Midland got its only run on a walk by Nelson and consecutive singles by Stanley Hughes and Warren Sliter.

Dawson hits Lou Dawson hit three for three, including a double and a triple, but it only went to fatten his batting average.

The second game was won by the Oilers in the fifth inning when they garnered four runs. Lefty Leon Hayes lost his stuff and walked four men. The Oilers came up with two singles to spark the rally. Hayes settled down and blanketed them the remainder of the game just like he had done in the first four frames.

Midland got one run in the second on a double by Kenny Peacock and a single by Ed Cox. They rallied for two in the seventh. Pena walked, Kenny Jones singled, both runners advanced on a wild pitch and Bob Rose singled them home. But the rally died one run short.

When Kenny Jones won the Rookie of the Year award Tuesday it ran to more than a half dozen the number of high honors the Midland Indians have annexed.

In 1947, Big Jim Prince, then first baseman for Midland, carried off the national minor league batting crown with an average of .429 for the season.

In 1948 the Indians won the Longhorn League pennant in a hard-fought campaign. Manager Harold Webb has been voted manager of the West All-Star team two years in a row and was co-manager the other year.

Troop 85 Wins Swim Tourney

Boy Scout Troop 85, led by Paxton Howard, Waldo Leggett, Bill Mims and Tim Cornwall, swept to the championship of the El Centro District Swimming Meet at Pecos Pool Tuesday afternoon. The 85ers piled up 78 points to finish far out front.

Troop 151, a Senior unit, finished second with 59 points. Troop 54 was third with 30. Troop 152 was fourth with 25. Third place winners in district meets will be alternates in each event.

Football Workouts Continue; Coaches Add More To Drills
The Midland Bulldogs continued to work on fundamentals and added some other phases of training to their drills at Memorial Stadium Tuesday. Two workouts daily are being held.

Coach Tugboat Jones sent the backs through signal drills and started schooling them in pass defense in the morning and afternoon sessions. Red Rutledge and Audrey Gill are assisting Jones in drilling the backs, centers and ends on offensive and defensive tactics.

Coaches Garvin Beauchamp and Joe Akins put the linemen to work on the blocking dummy Tuesday afternoon. Several boys already are shaping up nicely.

No injuries have cropped up from the first two days on the field and coaches are bringing the boys along rather easily to guard against any such occurrence.

Monahans Football Schedule Released

Here is the schedule:
September 10 — Colorado City, here.
September 23 — McCamey, there.
October 1 — Fort Stockton, here.
October 7 — Wink, here.
October 14 — Denver City, there.

Western Plastic Takes Two Games

Western Plastic moved to within one game of a cinch on first place in the Midland Softball League Tuesday night by whipping two opponents in a double-header at Wadley Field. Western nudged the Rendezvous Club 3 to 2 in the first game and stopped Shell 9 to 0 in the nightcap.

Jack Dunlap out-pitched Salmon in the opener, allowing only three hits. Burns McKinney also fashioned a three-hitter against Shell as he blanketed them all the way.

Standard of Texas and the Rebels are scheduled in a makeup tilt at Wadley at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Western Plastic returns to the field Thursday night to try and nail down the top spot in the standings. It will play Standard in the first game and may take on Joe's Gulf immediately afterward.

Warren Sliter, Indian first baseman, has been fined $10 by President Hal Saylor for misconduct in Friday night's game with the Big Spring Broncs.

Saylor notified the Midland Baseball Club of the fine Tuesday afternoon. Evidently he received a report of the incident from Umpires Rakestraw and Willensky.

Harold Webb has pulled another good-looking rookie hurler out of the hands of clubs of higher classification.

He has signed Ted Harell, noted semi-pro hurler from Rankin. Kenny Jones says the boys think Harell is plenty fast and he has good control.

Webb says he can throw as hard as Claude Gray. Harell joins Ken Swan to give the Indians a pair of rookie tossers.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Pressley still are searching for their lost dog. The black cocker spaniel—"Skipper" by name—strayed or was stolen last week.

If anyone sees him please notify the Pressleys.

The grid "experts" in the Permian Basin already have started pointing to the Pecos Eagles as the team to beat in their district.

Well it is known that the Eagles powerhouse elevens every so often and they say this seems to be the year.

Andrews, Wink and possibly Monahans are figured to give the Eagles the toughest fight for the title. Could it be—maybe—that Pecos will "transfer" the state Class A title there from Monahans?

Graham Mackey reported for workouts with the Midland Bulldogs Monday but was advised by doctors to wait a few days until a bacoid clears up before taking active part in the drills.

Graham had pneumonia a few years ago. Too much work too quickly could prove serious.

However, he plans to be out there giving it all he's got just as soon as possible.

We've been sabotaged—Gus Pena and the Midland fans have. Here comes Pena this week to announce he will marry his favorite girl friend on home plate at Indian Park September 3 in what we thought would be the first such wedding in the Longhorn League this season.

But up jumps Dean Franks, the ace hurler of the Roswell staff, and announces he and his bride-to-be plan to tie the knot in a home-plate ceremony at Roswell August 18.

Anyway, maybe we will get to see the first home-plate wedding in a Texas park of the Longhorn League this year.

Just as a closing thought, here's something that might help Midland to another pennant. Remember how the Indians caught fire and swept to the title. They're starting Pennant Funds in most other league cities now. Maybe we here in Midland had better get ready.

Sports Slants will be glad to hear from anyone who is interested in helping with the fund. We're ready to go all out.

WT-NM League—Amarillo Gold Sox Crowd Nearer To Top-Division Berth

By The Associated Press
The Amarillo Gold Sox are only half a game out of the first division Wednesday after walloping second-place Abilene 17-7 Tuesday night in a West Texas-New Mexico League game.
Amarillo's Crawford Howard got five hits in six trips to the plate, including his fifteenth and sixteenth homers of the year in leading the Hose attack.
Fourth-place Pampa and first-place Albuquerque split a twin bill. Roy Porter hurled the Oilers to victory in the opener 12-2, allowing only two hits. Don Ferrarrese tossed two-hit ball in the nightcap to give the Dukes the win 6-1.
Lubbock swept a twin bill from Clovis, winning the opener 8-5 and the second game 13-3. Lubbock's catcher, Mike Dooley, smashed out a home run in each game.
Lamesa grabbed both ends of a double-header from Borger, 5-2 and 7-5. Lamesa copped the first game with five runs in the first two frames. In the nightcap, a five-run sixth inning led the contest.

Campbell Fails To Smash Speed Mark

CONISTON, ENGLAND —(AP)— Donald Campbell, son of the late Sir Malcolm Campbell, failed Wednesday in an attempt to break the water speed record held by his father.
Campbell wrecked the engine of his speedboat, Bluebird II, after achieving an average of 132.35, only 6.4 miles slower than Sir Malcolm's mark, set here with the same boat in 1939.

Texas League—Houston Buffs Clip Eagles' Wings To Vacate Loop Cellar

By The Associated Press
Ben Guintini rates first rate no-tice Wednesday, though the same can't be said for his Dallas club.
The chunky Eagle left fielder hit his twenty seventh and twenty eighth home runs Tuesday night as Dallas bowed to Houston 4-5 in ten innings. The victory enabled Houston to climb out of the Texas League cellar for the first time since July 4.
In the only other games Tuesday night, Oklahoma City walloped Beaumont 15-4, and Fort Worth dumped San Antonio 5-2. Tulsa and Shreveport were rained out.
Larry Miggins' home run whipped Dallas, but Guintini rolled right along in a remarkable road performance. The two homers brought his total to eight in the last ten games on the road, boosted this batting average for this same span to .359. He also has driven in 16 runs, 14 on home runs, and scored eleven himself.

Navy Cancels Byrd Antarctic Expedition

WASHINGTON —(AP)—There will be no Navy expedition to the Antarctic this fall.
The Navy announced Tuesday that, due to "compelling reasons of economy," it had cancelled plans to send Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd back to the South Polar region to continue the explorations he started in 1946.
Plans for the polar expedition, called "Operation High Jump II," reportedly had involved some 3,500 men and eight vessels.

Jap Entries Smash World Swim Record

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Two 21-year-old students of Nippon University, Tokyo, probably will go down as Japanese national heroes.
They're Hironoshin Furushashi and Shiro Hashizume, who took turns breaking the 1,500-meter world record Tuesday.
It was the greatest face-lifting job perhaps known to sports annals.
The first day crowd at the National AAU men's swimming and diving championships gasped as lanky Hashizume won the first heat of the 1,500-meter preliminaries in 18:35.7. That was well under the 1938 world record of 18:58.8 by Japan's Tomikatsu Amano.
Then along came stocky Furushashi. Floating smoothly like a non-stop churn, the "Flying Fish of Fujiyama" reeled off the 30 laps in 18:19, roughly equivalent to the dreamed-of four-minute mile in track.

Two Odessa Golfers Qualify For National Amateur Tournament

NEW YORK —(AP)— Officials checking the qualifying results Wednesday in the National Amateur Golf Tournament will find just about the names they had expected.
The bulky field of more than 1,000 was cut to less than a fifth its former size Tuesday without a name golfer falling into the discard.
The 32 sectional qualifying sessions produced some brilliant golf under rather trying conditions.
Billy Shields, a 21-year-old Albany, N. Y., lad, set a competitive record of 65 for his home course, the par 70 Wolferts Roost layout. He had a first round 70 and a total of 135, low in the nation for the 186 qualifiers.
Texas qualifiers included: Billy Maxwell, Odessa, 71-72-143; Dick Jennings, Lubbock, 73-70-143; Bill Roden, Odessa, 76-70-146.

Longhorn League—Oilers, Cats Grab Twin Bills; Broncs Divide With Colts

By The Associated Press
The Ballinger Cats moved into sixth place in the Longhorn League race Tuesday night by sweeping a double-header from the second-place Vernon Dusters 6-5 and 8-3.
Johnny Jones drove in all the Cats runs in the opener. Jones homered for three runs in the sixth. In the nightcap, Stu Williams was the big gun of the Cat attack with three hits, including a homer.
Burt Garcia hurled two-hit ball to give the league-leading Big Spring Broncs a 7-1 victory over San Angelo in the first game of a twin bill. Ted Squillante hit a home run in the fifth frame of the nightcap to give San Angelo the win 2-1.
Odessa swept a double-header from Midland 3-1 and 4-3. Odessa copped the opener with a two-run rally in the third. In the second contest, the Oilers tallied four runs in the fourth for the victory.
Sweetwater downed Roswell 9-8.

Its meats are inspected carefully before being placed before the customer.

Along with quality products, Westland features courteous, quick service.

If you have visited the Westland Grocery and Market be sure to do so soon and look over the neatly-arranged shelves for bargains in all lines.

Vets Given Advice On How To Collect Insurance Dividend

AUSTIN—(P)—Wait until August 29 before you do anything about getting a dividend on your National Service Life Insurance, the State Veterans Affairs Commission advised Tuesday.

When August 29 arrives, follow this procedure to assure the most prompt action on your application to the Veterans Administration: Get an application form from your county service officer, a United States Post Office, VA office, Veterans Affairs Commission office or veterans organization service officer.

Find out whether you can understand the instructions on how to fill out the application. If you don't understand, get a service officer to help you.

Spell your name and list your address neatly. Give an address that will be good for six months after you make the application.

Don't worry about how soon the payment will be made. Your request is just one of some 17,000,000 the VA will have to handle.

Farm Wife Freed In Poison Murder Case

QUITMAN, TEXAS—(P)—Mrs. Jewel Rogers, a tiny farm wife, was free Wednesday of charges of murder.

A district court jury Tuesday found the 98-pound woman innocent in the death of her neighbor, Mrs. Viola Gilbreath. Mrs. Rogers had been charged with forcing Mrs. Gilbreath to swallow strychnine at gunpoint January 8.

The jury, out only 49 minutes, reached its verdict on one ballot.

"I didn't believe it could be anything else," Mrs. Rogers told District Judge T. C. Chadick.

The state had built its case around the testimony of three witnesses. Virgil Gilbreath, husband of the dead woman; Mrs. Viola Lawrence, a Minneola nurse, and Dr. W. T. Black, a Quitman physician.

Each testified that Mrs. Gilbreath named Mrs. Rogers as the person who forced her to swallow strychnine.

The defense case was centered chiefly around the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Byron, farm couple of the Rock Hill Community.

The Byrons testified Mrs. Rogers was at their home on the afternoon of January 8, about the time of day Mrs. Gilbreath had accused Mrs. Rogers of coming to her home and forcing her to swallow a capsule.

Java monkeys, newly arrived from the Far East, swarm over the bearded head of a crew member of the Dutch freighter Schiedyk in New York City. The monkeys, part of an animal cargo from Singapore, are headed for Texas, where they will be used to lure customers into a drive-in theater.

What every party-line telephone user knows...

EVERY PERSON WITH A PARTY-LINE telephone at home knows at least three things about the service.

He knows the line must be shared fairly to be useful to everyone—just as a street is shared by those on it.

He knows he appreciates courtesy from others on the line—such as not interrupting, and recognizing his emergency needs for the line now and then.

He knows whether party-line service meets his needs. About half our customers have always preferred party-line service, even before the war, when they could have had individual lines.

Today, out of each four families with telephones, about three have party-line telephones and one of them has asked for a different type of service.

We'd like to be able to give it to them. We are working toward that, and are making some progress despite the continuing heavy demand for telephones from those still without any service.

We have on file thousands of requests for some other type of service. Wherever local conditions permit, we are meeting these requests, and are keeping a careful record of all requests, to act on at the first opportunity.

Confessions Of Engel, The Romantic Swindler

By SIGMUND SAMUEL ENGEL As Told To Elgar Brown (Copyright, 1949, Chicago Herald-American)

Several names spelling "trouble" flash through my mind as I dawdle in jail, awaiting vindication that's sure to come, and review my life career as sutor of 1,001 lonely women. One such name is Rose Burken.

Not that Rosie was a bad sort, as rich and giddy grandmothers go. There wasn't a really mean streak in this New York society dame at all. She wished me no harm, I'm sure. But women blow their tops for a variety of reasons.

Greedy souls who demand "security" and offer nothing in return get angry when the tables are turned on them. Many crusty babes pestering me today, seeking unearned "gravy" are in this category. Rose Burken wasn't.

Women sometimes contemplate "revenge" prosecutions when they discover too late that they bought a fleeting romance rather than a husband and face public ridicule. Mrs. Burken never let anything like that bother her.

Prime Top-Blowing Incentive
But jealousy is the prime top-blowing incentive to a woman in love, and Rose Burken got jealous. The fact that her own daughter, Laura, was the object of her jealousy made no difference. The old gal saw green—and then red.

I prefer to blame only little Sig Engel, who made a whopping mistake for once in his adventurous life, for the unhappy sequel to this one. But I had a lot of fun playing Ring-Around-the-Rose with that redhead in the big town.

It was in one of the early '20's, an era of plush prosperity for an operator of my talents. The Sisters Freedom had come in from Cincinnati, bought some of my delicious commodity and departed poorer but happier.

As a result of this painless extraction I was ensconced in a tremendous suite at the Waldorf-Astoria, getting top service and paying top prices for it, moving in elite social circles, awaiting a call from one who could afford me.

Corner On Crown Jewels
Mrs. Rose Burken, a widow of 80 years and $500,000, turned out to be the one. I was dining regally in the Waldorf-Astoria cafe one night when she entered with her 30-year-old daughter, Laura, a divorcee.

Between them, it seemed to me, they had a corner on the crown jewels. I'd been trained to notice little things like that first.

Next thing I observed was Rose's titian tresses and the younger woman's honey-colored hair. I approved each coiffure impartially. And then it came to me, a distinguished figure in full dress, that these two were giving me the eye. They smiled. I smiled. They bowed. I bowed. I strode over and went into the courtly heckling routine, an Old World gag that never failed.

"This party needs a man," grinned Rose.
"Draw up a chair," Laura supplemented.

I was in. So far, nothing hard about it at all. Such get-togethers are being arranged every day, but in most instances casual friendships wither and die. I was different; I watered mine with admiration and bold flattery.

Picks Up Check
Dinner over, I picked up the check with a gesture so "subtle" that nobody in the dining room missed it. We saw a floor show at a club, the copy three of us, and on Rose's order her limousine picked us up at midnight.

"Now to our home for a snack of supper," she decreed; and when the Burkens' rubber-tired freight car rolled to a halt in front of a luxury apartment building at lower Central Park West, I was not unaware that I had struck out again.

Anxiety ament this mother-daughter duo's marital status had long since been resolved. I knew that each was in the clear. Departing after the "snack," I kissed each fair lady's hand. Each uttered: I repressed my shudders.

They were the salt of the earth, those Burkens. Not common, not snobbish, and definitely not prudish. On invitation the next evening I was "The Man Who Came to Dinner." I didn't break a leg but I became a permanent house guest.

Readers who have followed Engel's peregrinations thus far will feel no shock at my next shy disclosure: Mama Rose and Daughter Laura fell for me so hard that, according to reliable reports, windows were shattered in Brooklyn.

Rose Held Purse Strings
My reaction leads me to suspect I may have one of those split personalities. I favored Rose, naturally enough, since Rose held the purse strings. But I also smiled benignly on Laura, since Laura represented beauty and fresh allure.

I asked for trouble and I was accommodated. Rose and I got along famously as long as I devoted myself to her, made passionate love, spoke hopefully of an early marriage and a glorious honeymoon in California.

Sparring with many women had taught me to beware those seeking only to tie me up in a marriage to benefit from my supposed "huge fortune."

I was convinced Rose wasn't this type. I'd employed the usual big talk about my financial strength, but she hadn't even been interested. And when I finally mentioned being "temporarily embarrassed" she reacted casually.

Offered Jewels
"Well," she said thoughtfully, "we'll soon be married and share everything alike anyway. I have $150,000 cash on hand and some jewels worth about $20,000. Will you take them off my hands now and put them in a good, safe place?"

I put them in the safest place I knew—my own deposit box. And everything would have been dandy, perhaps, except that Rose found out about me and Laura.

We'd been meeting secretly, Laura and I, and on a certain illustrated night Rose walked in on us. Rose was so crazy with jealousy that she struck at me with the first weapon that came to mind. "Give me back my valuables," she screamed. "Everything is off."

I returned the gems—well, most of them—but I stalled on forking over the tall pile of lettuce. Instead I gave her my note, explaining I had "invested" the money to her advantage.

Patch Up Differences
Mrs. Burken loved me too much to let me go. We patched up our triangular differences and the three of us went to Los Angeles, where, in the Ambassador Hotel, Laura made a pass at me and the row started all over again.

Now it was time to blow, and I blew. I quietly checked out and returned to New York. I became acquainted with a society biggie, Mrs. Marion Hutton, of Park Ave., whom I met one afternoon in Sherry's tea room.

This progressed rapidly to a stage where I was a house guest, under arrangements of strict propriety, in Mrs. Hutton's country residence near New City, the district which Adolph Zuckor built.

Here one 2 a.m. I was routed from bed, wearing gaudy silk pajamas, and placed under arrest. Rose Burken had filed a charge! And to this day I attribute her action to insane, uncontrollable jealousy.

No Harm Intended
This theory that Rose meant me no harm was amply supported next day, when my first visitor in a cell at Tombs prison was—Rose Burken. She crept contritely into my arms and whispered:

"I've been a bad, foolish girl. I know, now, that your affair with Laura meant nothing. And honey, I've arranged to put up your $50,000 bail!"

I was big about it. I forgave her with a wave of my hand. After all, she hadn't mentioned anything further about her valuables—and never did. We walked out arm in arm, and to this day Rose Burken and I are congenial friends.

There was a catch in the Bur-ken episode, nevertheless. She had filed a criminal charge—and they wouldn't let her quash it. Some time later this trivial matter was to embarrass me considerably.

But why talk about that? Joe DiMaggio doesn't dwell on his strike-outs, does he? After all, I hit a lot of home runs, too.

(Sigmund Engel tells the Philadelphia Story, with some original twists, in the next installment of this absorbing series.)

Daddy Ringtail And The Forest Radio

Daddy Ringtail was sitting on the porch of his monkey house, in a way in the Great Forest. He was listening to the radio, and Mugwump Monkey was with him. The radio said: "Happy day to you folks. This is the voice of your forest radio. Now you may be a lion, or a monkey, or a giraffe, or a giraffero—or maybe even a hippopotamus, a rhinoceros, or a hipponoceros, but today is visitor's day at your radio station. Anybody and everybody is welcome to come, as long as they have a coconut for buying a ticket." Daddy Ringtail turned off the radio. Down he slid to the ground and Mugwump with him. They hurried away to the coconut tree for coconuts, and soon after they knocked at last on the door of the hollow tree that had the radio station in the top. The door came open, and there was a man in an elevator with a ticket seller cap on his head. Or was it a man? Daddy Ringtail wasn't sure, and neither was Mugwump. Maybe the radio man was really a monkey, but he said: "Do you folks have your coconuts?" Daddy Ringtail gave him a coconut, and Mugwump gave him a coconut, and they all got on the elevator. Up they went to the top. "Is this where you wanted to go?" asked the radio man or monkey. But now he didn't have a ticket-seller cap on his head any more. It was changed to a cap for an elevator man.

Daddy Ringtail said: "We want to see a radio program. We gave you the coconuts for tickets to get in, but you didn't give us the tickets."

"Oh," said the radio man or monkey, "the man at the ticket window will give you the tickets," and he pointed with his finger at the ticket window. Daddy Ringtail and Mugwump walked over to it, and there ahead of them was the radio man or monkey, who had changed his cap again. Now he was wearing a ticket-window cap, and he gave the tickets to Daddy Ringtail. And if you think this is all silly business, you are absolutely right, and tomorrow I'll tell you more about the radio man or monkey with all of his hundred caps. Happy day! And happy waiting until tomorrow to hear it. (Copyright 1949, General Features Corp.)

White Skin For Negroes Forecast By Chemical Means

NEW YORK—(AP)—Walter White, prominent white-skinned negro leader, said Tuesday the color line may be ended by a chemical which sometimes turns skin from black to white. White, secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, made the prediction in an article in Look Magazine. The chemical now is dangerous to use, but White wrote, "It's almost a certainty that a safe form x x x will be on sale within two to 10 years." Negroes then could have white or light skin if they wished, he said, and "the racial, social, economic and political consequences would be tremendous." A New York skin specialist told The Associated Press that "nobody can turn white from using the drug at present," and attempts to change the color of negro skin have not succeeded. White said the chemical was discovered when some negro and Mexican workers in a tannery shortly before the war found that their hands and arms were turning white.

Rain, Hail Continue To Batter Crops In West Texas Sectors

By The Associated Press Mid-August has storms battered South Plains cotton crops again Tuesday, this time near Hale Center in Hale County. The fall was measured in amounts up to 1.10 inches.

An estimated 4,000 to 7,000 acres of cotton was damaged Monday night in the Dawson County area east of Lamesa. Damage in Dawson County will add up to at least $125,000, County Agent Lee Roy Colgan estimated.

Tuesday's Texas weather was mostly hot, with few exceptions. And sandstorms were reported in the El Paso area, cutting visibility as low as four miles. Rain showers also were reported in this area.

Light rain fell Tuesday afternoon at Texarkana, Bryan, Marfa, Austin, Junction, Lubbock, San Angelo, Amarillo and El Paso.

A fairly heavy cloud cover over the state Wednesday held temperatures down a bit. At mid-morning, most readings were in the 80's. Skies were cloudy except in the El Paso area.

High temperatures Tuesday included Athens 106, Laredo 104, Presidio 102, Mineral Wells, Corsicana, Waco and Austin 101, Fort Worth 99, Dallas 98, El Paso 97, Houston 94 and Amarillo 93.

The speaker was introduced by Ray Howard, program chairman. Vice President C. Ed Prichard presided.

Finns collected by Tallwater Duke Jimerson were donated to the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund. They totaled $93.35.

Dr. Wiggins, speaking as a schoolman and a businessman, said social institutions have developed by leaps and bounds, making necessary a program of human relationship which involves understanding and confidence. It is a real program and one which is particularly vital to present day civilization.

The speaker traced the evolution of the competitive, monetary and banking systems, stating that the ingenuity of man in his thinking has been responsible for such developments.

"The element of free enterprise and competitive business has made America great," Dr. Wiggins said.

A good public relations program can work to the advantage of a business, school, community, state and nation, he said.

That was the story he told in magistrate's court Tuesday after he was arrested by a detective. The detective had seen him drive up and park a car before starting his daily beggar's rounds.

Magistrate Charles E. Ramsgate said people are not sympathetic to "fakers like you" and sentenced him to six months in the workhouse.

Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture, led the delegation. He said they presented what he described as an "unworkable contract" negotiated August 1 by the State Department with the Mexican government.

In the delegation were Rep. Ken Reagan (D-Texas), George Hall and Louis Ivey of Pecos, Texas, and Frank Owen of Terrell, Texas.

Waitt, fidgeting nervously, acknowledged at Tuesday's session that he wrote highly critical reports on eight fellow officers in line for promotion. He said he prepared the documents at Vaughan's request.

He also told the committee he dictated a full-of-praise report on himself, intended to have Vaughan submit it to Truman as Vaughan's own evaluation of Waitt, but withheld it when "my brass broke down."

Waitt recounted, too, how he tried to get a $20,000 contract for a Connecticut company represented by his good friend, James V. Hunt, Washington management counsel, who collects a commission from manufacturers he helps get contracts.

FBI Enters Search For George Ochoa, Fugitive In Mexico

LAREDO—(AP)—The word was out in Mexico Wednesday: Find George (Gawo) Ochoa.

A fugitive warrant was issued for the scar-faced customs broker who fled into Mexico after a double slaying in a hotel here July 31, and Texas' governor was asked to seek Ochoa's extradition from Mexico.

Assistant U. S. Attorney William R. Eckhardt said in Houston Tuesday the Federal Bureau of Investigation had stepped into the case after a federal charge of "fleeing in foreign commerce to escape prosecution" was filed.

Ochoa is charged with the murder of Henry D. Whittenburg, 31, South Texas gunner. He also is wanted for questioning in the slaying of Air Force Corporal James Lindsay, 30, of Omaha, Tenn. Lindsay was shot in the same hotel on a different floor.

Both men were killed by the same .32 caliber pistol, ballistics experts reported. The slain men were acquainted and both knew Mrs. Rosa Maria Ochoa, Ochoa's wife, District Attorney E. James Kazen said.

Laredo Police Chief David O. Gallagher said the motive for the slaying, in his opinion, was "jealousy."

Gallagher said he had alerted police throughout Mexico and declared: "This will make things hot for George Ochoa. The FBI works hand in glove with the Mexican Secret Police and they will locate him. When they locate him we will ask the president of Mexico to expel him as an undesirable. xxx"

Eckhardt said the federal charge was filed by the FBI with U. S. Commissioner Frank V. Hill at Laredo.

On a daily potential test of the Ellenburger, the No. 19-C-7, Ida Donat, flowed 562 barrels of 45.7 gravity oil, through a 12 1/4 inch tubing choke with gas-oil ratio of 694-1. Flowing casing pressure was from 950 pounds to 980 pounds.

The Ellenburger production is through perforations in the 7-inch casing, and the gas-oil ratio is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 27, block B-16, psl survey.

By the Connell sand it flowed through a 16 1/4 inch choke for a 24-hour potential of 159 barrels of 41.6 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 1,091-1. There was no formation water.

The Connell production was from perforated section at 8,545-75 feet. Flowing tubing pressure was from 850 pounds to 290 pounds.

Rains Force County Farmers to Step Up Fight On Bollworm

Recent rains have caused farmers to step up their fight against the bollworm in the last few days, according to Acting County Agent Charles Green, who made a tour of the county's cotton fields Tuesday.

Green said planes and tractor-drawn dusters are being used in the fight on the bollworm.

He added that the flea hopper problem has just about passed, but that additional rains might call for an even more intensive fight against the bollworm.

Urging all farmers to continue their dusting, Green said entomologists reported the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and printing as may be necessary, to pay the expenses of such publication and printing as may be necessary, to pay the expenses of such publication and printing as may be necessary.

Negotiations Begin Again In Hawaiian Waterfront Strike

HONOLULU—(AP)—Longshoremen and waterfront employers met across a peace table Wednesday in a new effort to end Hawaii's 108-day CIO dock strike.

The agreement to resume direct negotiations developed with dramatic suddenness during a conference at the home of a labor leader in his office Tuesday.

Almost immediately officials of Hawaii's seven struck stevedoring firms and leaders of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union began meeting.

Resumption of negotiations, based on the suggestion of Longshore President Harry Bridges, was on the basis of starting "from scratch."

The stevedores struck May 1 for a 32 cents hike in their $1.40 hourly pay.

ST LOUIS—(AP)—Four Western railroads Tuesday lost judgments to three Eastern lines who charged the former failed to pay them correct freight rates for war shipments.

Federal Judge Rube M. Hulen entered the judgments in favor of the Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroads. The claims were against the Missouri Pacific, Cotton Belt, Frisco and the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company of Texas.

Missouri Pacific was hardest hit—for $298,717.

Judge Hulen's ruling was the result of a suit filed here by the three Eastern carriers in May, 1948. The suit asked the court to compel the four Western lines to base their division of the freight rate bills on actual land-gar mileage, rather than on a 1940 agreement whereby the Eastern railroads would share the burden of a cut rate for government freight.

If that zone fails to produce commercial petroleum the project will back up again and perforate and test in the Strawn zone of the Pennsylvania.

Several streaks of lime in that formation carried some possibilities of oil and gas production.

The lower section of the Ellenburger made water. The oil and gas shows in the top of that horizon were understood to have been rather light.

Truck Crash Kills Six, Injuries 20 Of Revival Party

FULTON, MISS.—(P)—A heavy lumber carrier plowed into the center of an open-bed truck loaded with a gay crowd of revivalists near here Tuesday night, spreading six dead and 20 injured along a 100-foot section of roadway.

Two of the injured, in a Tupelo, Miss. hospital, were reported in a "very critical" condition Wednesday.

Highway Patrol Inspector G. L. Hobbs said the lumber truck, driven by R. Y. Booth of Newburgh, Ind., rammed the other vehicle as it turned into a side road leading to the church.

The scene of the accident was about a mile and a half inside the Mississippi state line. All of the dead and injured were of near Hamilton, Ala.

The revivalists were members of the Church of God. They were being driven by the Rev. W. H. Cox to a church meeting at Tremont, ten miles east of here.

Announced for High, Junior High Bands

The 1949-50 season for the high school and junior high school bands already is underway and Directors Jerry Hoffman and George Gates are available for consultation and instruction from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. daily, school officials announced Wednesday.

Group rehearsals for the new junior high band are scheduled from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Group rehearsals for the high school band are carded at 6:30 p. m. on Fridays and 7:30 p. m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Wesley Martin, junior high principal, stressed the fact the junior high band still is in the formative stage and that all students are invited to try out for the organization. Some school instruments still are available, he said. Students interested in the band should contact Director Gates at the school or at his residence, 800 West Louisiana Street, telephone number 2534-W.

Boyle Loses Another Round With Frances

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK.—(P)—Life has been a breezy round of gayety since "Little Blowhard" came to our house to stay.

The neighbors drop in unexpectedly. Lost friends from bygone years look us up and stay for an enchanted evening.

Yes, sir, the world has been making a beaten path to our doorway. And it's all because of "Little Blowhard." He's boomed our social standing so high I don't see how the blue book can leave us out another year.

"Little Blowhard" is an air-conditioning unit. He specializes in making the good old summertime feel as good as the good old Wintertime. He throws heat out of the window as fast as he finds it. Just loves to re-weather the weather.

Electricity From Heaven

For years Frances has been threatening to get one of these gadgets. And I've fought against it—on religious as well as financial grounds.

"If the Lord meant Manhattan to be cool in the summer," I objected. "He would float an iceberg up the East River and blow a wind across it to make everyone comfortable."

"Don't talk nonsense on your days off from work," said Frances. "Electricity comes from heaven, and they've figured out a way to use electricity to make a room cool. And, furthermore, the Lord helps those who help themselves."

Well, I forgot all about the matter until the other day I came home and opened the bedroom door. I glanced at the window—and it looked like the radiator of a speeding car was crashing into the room.

Instinctively I hit the floor. Just then Frances came in and said: "What are you doing, Rover Boy, looking for termites?"

"Duck—or it'll hit you," I said, pointing at the window.

"Don't be a goose—that's our new air-conditioning unit," announced Frances. "Isn't it a nice surprise?"

Early Morning Icicles

I tried to tell her that it was foolish to buy a wind machine so late, since the worst of the summer was over. But it is no use arguing with wives or the weather. For the next five days a heat wave gripped the town.

"Little Blowhard" huffed and puffed like a polar bear choking on an ice cube. Three mornings in a row I woke up with icicles between my toes. Then Frances found that by turning a few knobs the little monster could be calmed down.

Our guests love him. They come at dusk and most of them leave before daybreak.

I've had a little trouble with a guest who wants to pour ice water and soap powder in "Little Blowhard's" side. Wants to see if he can manufacture snowflakes. But darned if I'm going to turn my bedroom into a ski slope for anybody.

Under Gilmer-Aikin Setup

AUSTIN.—(P)—A teacher with a master's degree will receive $4,782 in the Town of Boling, Wharton County, this coming school year.

Teachers with bachelor's degrees will be paid as high as $4,200 in the public schools of Deer Park and Katy, two Harris County towns.

The lowest salary drawn by a teacher with a bachelor's degree in the Ector County Independent School District, which includes the City of Odessa, will be $3,000.

These were figures released Tuesday by Charles H. Tennyson, public relations director for the Texas State Teachers Association.

Tennyson said replies of 633 superintendents to a questionnaire he had sent out on salary schedules indicated that many teachers will be drawing pay comparable to or better than that of college faculty members.

Many Above Minimum

Some 40 per cent of the public school teachers are in districts that will pay above the state minimum fixed in the Gilmer-Aikin law passed by the 51st Legislature, he reported.

The minimums vary from $2,403 for a teacher with a bachelor's degree to $3,051 after 12 years experience and from $2,528 for a new teacher with a master's degree to $4,032 at the end of 26 years.

School districts with fewer than 5,000 scholastics will pay the salaries set in the minimum foundation program act in most instances, Tennyson said.

"Many schools indicated that it might prove possible to supplement salaries before the end of the year," he added.

Sixty-nine schools reported above the minimum. Additionally, 46 districts offer more than the minimum for special teachers. This includes coaches, band directors, department heads, and directors of special activities.

Fort Worth and Dallas offer some of the most attractive salaries.

Tennyson said Ector County's schedule was "one of the best." It stretches from $3,000 to $3,900 for those with bachelor's degrees and from $3,050 to $4,300 for those with master's.

Many of the districts have raised the minimums for teachers with bachelor's degrees almost to the level of those with master's, apparently feeling that possession of higher degree does not merit the difference in salaries established in the state's minimum scale.
