

SW Scurry Extender Attempting Final Test

Thomas W. Dowsett, Henry Ford II, and J. R. Hunter. In addition, three-quarters of a mile west outpost to the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field in Southwest Scurry County, about 15 miles southwest of Snyder, is still trying to prevent a gas and oil blow out so the extender can be tested and completed.

After operator drilled the plug on 7-inch casing which had been cemented at 6,648 feet, over total depth of 6,676 feet, the hole was washed to bottom.

While that activity was in progress the well attempted to blow out. Heavy mud was pumped in—but that failed to hold the pressures from the open hole sufficiently to allow running tubing.

Operators were installing a blow-out preventer at last report. It was thought that when that device is in place the well can be controlled and testing started.

This development is 660 feet from north and east lines of the north half of the southeast quarter of section 122, block 25, H&T survey.

Lower Devonian Tests Water For Stanolind

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Holt, Central-South Cochran County exploration which has indicated a possible one-quarter of a mile north extent to the Devonian producing limits of the Landon-Deep field found some water in the lower section of that formation.

The venture is circulating while waiting on orders. There is a possibility that it will be drilled deeper.

The water came in a drillstem test at 11,777-830 feet. A 2,000-foot water blanket was used. The tester was open six hours and 15 minutes.

Had More Oil. Recovery was the water blanket. 3,240 feet of free oil, 1,440 feet of heavy oil and gas cut drilling mud and 540 feet of sulphur water.

This exploration had a recovery of 5,000 feet of oil and 480 feet of mud cut oil, and no water, during a three hour drillstem test in the top of the Devonian at 11,755-800 feet.

The venture topped the Devonian at 11,729 feet to give it a datum of minus 7,818 feet, and make it 978 feet low on the top of that formation to the Devonian discovery in the Landon-Deep field—Stanolind No. 2 Edwards, which is one-quarter of a mile to the south.

The No. 2 Holt is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block L, pal survey.

Devonian Prospect In Ector Drilling Ahead

Stanolind No. 1 L. & K. Realty Company, possible Devonian discovery on the northwest side of the Yarborough & Allen-Ellemburger field in southwest Ector County, was making new hole below 8,661 feet in lime and chert.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 14, block B-14, pal survey.

The show for opening of a new pay for the Southwest Ector County area came in a drillstem test at 8,415-68 feet.

The tool was open one hour. Gas showed at the surface in 10 minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated. Recovery was 376 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud and 5,040 feet of clean oil.

Better Than Others. There was no formation water. Good pressures were developed. Other wells in the Yarborough & Allen field which have completed from the Ellemburger have encountered some signs of possible production in the Devonian—but none of those shows were of the quality of the one developed in the No. 1 L. & K. Realty Company.

The venture probably will continue to the Ellemburger before it attempts to test the Devonian zone already penetrated further.

Upton Prospector Is Making Further Hole

Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 Powell, North-Central Upton County wildcat, which has indicated the discovery of gas and distillate production from the Devonian, had reached 12,354 feet in Fusselman-Silurian lime, and was making more hole.

Top of the Fusselman was picked by some geologists to be at 12,298 feet. Elevation is 2,868 feet. Samples from the section of the Fusselman so far cut show some flour-escence.

This exploration is two miles southeast of the opener of the Pegasus field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 44, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S.

New Canyon Producer Is Finaled In Scurry

Castelman & O'Neil of Midland, and J. R. Hunter of San Antonio have completed their No. 3 Wren, on the southwest side of the North-Snyder field of North-Central Scurry County for a 24-hour flowing potential of 1,230 barrels of 43 gravity oil, natural, with no water, from the Canyon lime pay at 6,648-6,852 feet.

The daily initial potential figure was calculated from an actual flow of 440 barrels of oil in eight hours through a one-half inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was estimated at 850-1.

Top of the pay was at 6,830 feet. The 7-inch casing was cemented at 6,845 feet.

The new oil well is 467 feet from south and east lines of the west half of tract 12, section 20, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Suspended General Admits Giving Army Buying Plans To Alleged Five Percenter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, suspended Army quartermaster general, acknowledged Tuesday that he gave James V. Hunt information on Army buying plans in 1947 but did not know of Hunt's position as a so-called five percenter.

In the March chart of a Senate Investigating Subcommittee, the suspended Army quartermaster general swore: "At no time have I abused my position, misused the influence of my office."

Feldman had a long prepared statement, the gist of which was that he had done nothing wrong and was motivated at all times by what he believed to be good for the service and for the country.

Immediately after he finished reading it, the hearing was recessed until Wednesday when he will take the stand for questioning.

The committee had set the stage for his appearance by developing from documents that he sent the buying information to Hunt and also told the Army purchasing officer to get in touch with Hunt. He held the officer that "Hunt has really entered to the White House."

Hunt is the management counselor whose activities led the Senate subcommittee to order a general inquiry into "five percenters," persons who get government contracts for others for a fee, usually five per cent.

When the committee resumed hearings Tuesday it also was disclosed that Hunt and David Bennett, whose name also has figured prominently in the hearings, have given the committee certificates from physicians saying their health would be endangered if they should testify.

Bennett is the president of the Albert Verley Perfume Company. He paid for seven mechanical freezers which it has been developed, were sent to Gen. Henry H. Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, and friends of Vaughan.

Maragon Bobs Up Again. There were these other developments: 1. Senator Mundt (R-S.D.) said he has turned over to the committee a letter from a former serviceman saying he was aboard an Air Transport Command plane which carried about $8,000 worth of perfume oils back to this country from Europe in 1945.

Mundt said the letter ties into the committee's investigation of a perfume oil incident in which John Maragon figured. The committee has received testimony that Maragon, then an employe of the Verley Company, tried to bring the oils through customs disguised as four bottles of champagne four years ago.

John W. House, division superintendent for Humble Oil and Refining Company here, was in Houston when the death message was received. He was contacted immediately and left early Tuesday by plane for North Baltimore.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

New Drive To Cut Excise Taxes Starts In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new drive for a slash by Christmas in wartime excise tax rates was launched in Congress Tuesday. It developed in the face of a forceful statement by Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the tax-framing House Ways and Means Committee that he sees no prospect for such a tax cut this year.

Doughton said the threat of a federal deficit of $5,000,000,000 or more in the present fiscal year virtually forecloses hope for such a slash now.

But House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts, author of an excise-cutting bill, said: "Maybe if we bring enough pressure we'll still get something done."

Two Democrats—Reps. Multer of New York and Davenport of Pennsylvania—took the House floor to demand a reduction in the wartime rates. These amount to 20 per cent of the retail price of many items such as furs, cosmetics, jewelry and luggage.

"I believe it is important," said Doughton, the No. 1 congressional tax spokesman, "to make this clear so that consumers will not postpone the purchase of goods subject to tax in the hope of an immediate reduction."

However, Doughton did hold out some hope for excise tax relief in 1950.

He said the best bet right now is that Doughton is right—that there will be no slash before perhaps sometime in 1950.

Trouble For Tito?

Moscow's recent notes denouncing Yugoslavia as an "enemy and foe" of the Soviet Union and threatening "effective measures" give color to reports that Russia may try to overthrow Marshal Tito's regime within a few weeks. Map above illustrates the significant military situation, reportedly detailed by U. S. Military Intelligence agents and quoted by a London newspaper. The dispatch said the overthrow attempt may be made by infiltrating Yugoslavia with Soviet agents and disguised troops.

Skelton Lays Claim Before Party Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Byron Skelton's claims to the post of national Democratic committeeman from Texas were to be presented to the credentials committee Tuesday afternoon.

Backers of the Temple man said they would ask he be recognized in place of Wright Morrow of Houston.

Gilbert Adams of Beaumont said he, Mrs. Marion Storm of Austin and Charles Gibson of Amarillo, all members of the Texas Democratic Executive Committee, would demand that Skelton be recognized.

Mrs. J. Edwin Smith of Houston and E. E. Murphy of San Angelo, representing the county chairmen of the state, also were here to back Skelton.

"If Wright Morrow continues to serve as national committeeman, he will not be national committeeman for the Democrats but will be representing those whose interests and political affections and philosophies embrace the Dixiecrat creed," Adams said in a statement.

Truman's Aid Sought. Mrs. Storm and Gibson sent a telegram to President Truman late Monday asking his aid for Skelton while a similar telegram was sent to the President by Murphy.

The Texas Democratic State Convention in the Spring of 1948 named Morrow to the national committeeman post and his selection was approved by the Democratic National Committee. In September of 1948, however, the state convention met and voted to oust Morrow and named Skelton in his place.

It is this latter action which the group is asking the national committee to recognize.

Adams said Reps. Patman, Poage and Combs of Texas would support Skelton before the credentials group.

Morrow said the main effect to be felt here from the program is the increased state support.

He commended the club on its youth work and urged members to join the Booster Club, which is an organization supporting high school athletics.

Donald Hamilton, newspaper boy employed by The Reporter-Telegram, told of his week's outing at Eagle Mountain Lake near Fort Worth, made possible by the club and the newspaper. He was introduced by R. T. Venator of the newspaper staff.

L. M. Baker won the weekly attendance prize, provided by Ario Forrest.

Hands Off Of Slav Affairs, Says Marshal

BELGRADE (AP)—Yugoslavia expressed willingness late Tuesday to reach a settlement with Russia on "all disputed questions" between the two feuding countries.

In a new note to the Soviet government, Yugoslavia told Moscow Premier Marshal Tito was willing to end the bitter fight with the Kremlin.

At the same time, Yugoslavia served a stern warning to Russia's rulers to keep their hands off the internal affairs of this Balkan Communist country.

Hurricane's Path Veers Northward

MIAMI, FLA. (AP)—Northeast storm warnings were hoisted at Cape Hatteras at 10 a. m. Tuesday as the season's first Atlantic hurricane swirled northward.

The Weather Bureau's advisory placed the storm about 340 miles east of St. Augustine, Fla., moving northward at about 20 miles per hour and accelerating in forward movement.

Grady Norton, the Weather Bureau's chief storm forecaster here, said indications were the hurricane, called "Harry," would pass near Cape Hatteras early Wednesday morning.

Winds were estimated at 100 to 115 miles per hour near the center of the storm with gale force winds extending outward 225 miles.

Meanwhile the Weather Bureau was investigating a new "area of suspicion" reported east of Puerto Rico.

Planes were sent to investigate the area in the general vicinity of the Virgin and Leeward Islands, about 1,000 miles southeast of Miami.

Meanwhile "Harry's" Hurricane, as the storm was called because its advent coincided with President Truman's Miami visit, was veering away from the Florida Coast.

Another Hollywood movie star landed at Midland Air Terminal Tuesday.

This time it was Randolph Scott, who definitely is in the oil business in West Texas.

Scott came in from the East on a Pioneer Air Lines plane at 10:10 a. m., and departed for the West Coast on an American Airlines ship soon after noon.

The actor told a Reporter-Telegram reporter he is enroute to California after attending to business interests in Texas and Oklahoma the last several days. He said he has oil interests in Fisher County.

Don Ameche, screen and radio star, arrived here Sunday on a business trip. He declined to say whether he is entering the oil business in West Texas. He is still in Midland and said he may be here several days yet.

Bob Hope, who has West Texas oil interests in partnership with Bing Crosby, landed at Midland Air Terminal August 13 enroute to Scurry County to visit his new oil well.

LONDON (AP)—Charges of plotting a Balkan war were hurled at Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia Monday night as the Russian-led campaign against him took a new turn.

While diplomatic and other sources still sought to fathom the implications of Russia's threat to take "effective measures" against the Tito regime, a Romanian Communist leader made the new accusation.

The Romanian was Vice Premier George Gheorghiu-Dej, who said Tito was "plotting to set ablaze the Balkan powder keg." He spoke at a rally attended by some 8,000 "select" Romanian Reds.

Traitor And Enemy. Marshal Klement Voroshilov, a member of Russia's Politburo, spoke at the same rally and assailed Tito as a "traitor who has become the most bitter enemy of the Soviet Union and the people's Democracies."

Following the lead of recent Soviet notes assailing the Yugoslav government, Voroshilov sought to link Tito with fascism. Similarly, he accused him of negotiating with the West "behind the backs of the Soviet Union and the people's Democracies."

Both speakers fell into the familiar pattern of attacks on "American-British imperialism."

Child Hurt In Fall From Moving Auto

Buddy Gene Mosley, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mosley of Odessa, suffered minor but possibly serious cuts and abrasions and possible internal injuries when he fell from a moving automobile six miles west of Midland on U. S. Highway 80 at 10:15 a. m. Tuesday. The lad is under treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital here.

Terminal Fire Chief Melvin Little and L. A. Rodenier were driving just behind the Mosley automobile when the accident occurred. Little said the boy apparently opened a back door and was pulled from the car by the force of the wind. Young Mosley was rushed to the hospital in the police car driven by Little.

Mrs. Mosley said the boy was the only occupant of the automobile.

Doctors said X-rays were to be taken about noon Tuesday to determine the extent of the child's injuries.

Court Creates Two New Voting Boxes

Two additional voting boxes, one each in precincts No. 1 and No. 5 in Midland, were created by action of the County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon.

In Precinct No. 1, the dividing line will be Big Spring Street from Wall Street north to the county line.

In Precinct No. 5, the dividing line will be Big Spring Street, from the Rankin Highway to Wall Street.

The commissioners court also agreed to county financial participation in the paving of the streets immediately adjacent to the Midland Memorial Hospital on the south and east. The action is contingent on city participation in the paving program.

Paving Bids To Be Opened By Council

The City Council Tuesday night will open bids for the paving of more than 150 blocks of city streets included in Group B of Midland's proposed 500-block paving program. A contract for the job may be awarded at the regular session.

The paving of Group A streets is well underway by Brown and Root, Inc., of Houston.

The awarding of a contract for engineering work on a proposed sewage disposal plant and sewer system improvement program also may be considered Tuesday night.

Members of the council, meeting in special session Monday afternoon, interviewed representatives of eight engineering firms interested in the sewer system project.

The engineering firms represented were Joe E. Ward, Wichita Falls; A. G. Gladden and Associates, Ft. Worth; Julian Montgomery, Austin; Smith, Parkhill and Cooper, Lubbock; Hammer Hunter, Dallas; Cool and Gillley, Midland; and W. C. Hedrick, Fort Worth; and Avy-Stanford Company, Midland.

These Are Pelicans Plus

The pelicans (enlarged in inset at right) were marked "Made in Japan." When Mrs. Komoll's daughter broke one of the birds, a vial containing a reddish liquid was found inside. The other two pelicans were found to contain similar vials. The birds and their contents were sent to the FBI laboratory in Washington on the theory that they might contain germs sent here by the Japs during the war to spread disease.

Services Are Held For Pecos Resident

PECOS — Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Reeder, 57, long-time Pecos resident, were held Monday afternoon in the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. I. L. Morgan, assisted by the Rev. W. M. Turner, officiating.

Mrs. Reeder died Saturday in an Odessa hospital after a lengthy illness.

Her husband, W. E. Reeder, was county clerk of Reeves County for eight years before retiring last Fall.

Mrs. Reeder was born June 5, 1872, in Burnett, Texas. She and Mr. Reeder were married in 1918 and moved to Pecos the following year. She was a member of the Methodist Church, Pecos Garden Club and OES Chapter.

Survivors include the husband and three daughters, Mrs. J. L. Tarver of Arlington, Mrs. James H. Mee of Odessa and Betty Sue Reeder of Pecos.

Recovery Fund For Joan Edwards Now Above $2,300

Interest in the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund is spreading over West Texas.

Tuesday a check for $50 was received from the Pyote Air Force Base Sunday School Fund as a contribution to the Joan Edwards Fund. William C. Ferrill, Jr., is secretary of the Pyote Sunday School Fund.

Other contributions received Tuesday included one from M. C. Ulmer for $10, and two anonymous gifts, one for $5 and another for $2.

The Joan Edwards Recovery Fund now totals $2,308.53.

A benefit baseball between the Midland Police Department and the Midland Fire Department is scheduled Tuesday night in Indian Park.

Proceeds will go to the Joan Edwards Fund.

Ed 'Archie' Gardner Becomes Top Independent Producer?

By ED "ARCHIE" GARDNER (For Erskine Johnson, who is on vacation)
HOLLYWOOD—NEA— Being a man who is loath to give credit where credit is due (by credit I am not inferring to the kind which concerns bill collectors), I will admit that there are other top independent producers in Hollywood besides myself. There is Wanger and John Ford and Goldwyn, among others.
 But I have advantages over all of them. That is why my first big indie, "Pigsfoot in Paris" is progressing so rapidly toward a beginning. Before I list why I will succeed where others have failed, let me explain that "Pigsfoot in Paris" is not a story of Ed "Archie" Gardner on a walking tour of that famous confidential capital. The word "Pigsfoot" has nothing to do with the producer, which is myself. As a leading independent producer, I have discovered Puerto Rico, and Puerto Rico has discovered me. We are both happy. I intend to broadcast "Duffy's Tavern" from there as well as produce pictures there. Which is a "first!"
 "Duffy's Tavern" gives me a running start. I will be able to feed actors like they have never been fed before, because they will have to eat there. Thus as a producer I have the food problem licked. I have my own fern. What other leading motion picture producer can claim "Archie"? I am also a sweeping success in my Tavern. I'll even sweep out my own studio. I don't think any other producer can make that statement.

 There are other problems in producing a picture, but they're too infinitesimal to bring up. Like money. I can handle money and visa versa. Most indie producers have a money problem. I don't. I can handle this thing through sheer personality.
Archie The Lady Killer
 There comes the question of romance. My advisers told me I needed romance in the picture. So I immediately tried to sign Vivian Romance, the French star. But that deal fell through. I am not worried, however. With Archie playing the male lead, there will be an aura of romance abounding in the picture.
 If I can kill the ladies in me Duffy's Tavern wardrobe, can you imagine what I'll do to the streeted up in fancy tails, strolling the boulevards of Puerto Rico and Paris? I might venture to say that some of our famous screen romances will be firmly entrenched after I have become quite in demand since the announcement of my production plans. I have calls galore. Some have to do with past credit and this time I mean the bill-collecting kind. Business at Duffy's Tavern has picked up tremendously. Agents come there to eat and to try and get me to sign a client. What some people will do for their jobs.
 And all the glamor girls. Well, to tell the truth, they haven't been flocking to the fern, but I understand from good resources that they're playing hard to get. But I got one. I finally convinced the dame to join me in a date. "I'll meet you in front of Duffy's," she says, "and we'll go someplace and eat."
 Of course Duffy is madder than a hornet who's been stung by a bee. He don't want me to take off to Puerto Rico, and he don't want to open up a Duffy's Tavern there. He says we have a reputation here so why make it international? Now he realizes just how badly he needs me. When Archie was just the manager of Duffy's Tavern, he used to get kicked around. Now that I have joined the ranks of the rejected producers, he realizes my importance. He says that nobody else in this world could keep Duffy's Tavern in the state it's in.
Transpacific Jump
 There is another thing about pictures that me studies of the art have shown. Be careful of too much talk and make sure there's movement in the picture. And movement is what I have most of. After all the picture will be shot both in Puerto Rico and in France. And that's quite a move. That's a transpacific jump.
 I have had to study two languages in preparing for "Pigsfoot in Paris." Since we shoot in Paris I have studied LaFrancoise, nest pass? And since Puerto Rico is an American possession, I have had to study the American language too.
 There have been a great deal of preparation going into this venture. I have read carefully many of our great literary works. There is nothing Frank Merriwell did that I have not boned up on.
 My advisers have told me to be sure and have "the common touch" in the picture so it will appeal to the masses of common people. I can assure my public that there is nothing more common than my talents.

Women's Auxiliary Meets For Prayer

The Women's Auxiliary of the First Free Will Baptist Church met in the church Monday afternoon for a special prayer service for the revival which now is in progress in the church.
 Mrs. Jessie Friday conducted the devotional and the mission study chapter was discussed by Mrs. H. E. Rittenour.
 The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Rittenour, Sky Haven, Monday afternoon.

Handling Joint Income Poses Pitfall For Many Newlyweds

By KATH MILLETT NEA Staff Writer

"What is the best way for a married couple to handle their money when both have jobs?" asks a girl who is planning to be married in October.
 The answer is simple for the couple who ask before marriage and before they had a chance to get off on the wrong foot.
 The very first week of your marriage open a joint checking account and a joint savings account. Make your weekly or monthly deposit in the savings account first. Then put the money that is to pay your bills in your checking account.
 That way you'll start your marriage off as a business partnership. Everything you both earn and everything you save will belong to the two of you together. And everything you contract to buy becomes a joint responsibility.
 Start Off On Right Foot
 Furthermore, you won't develop the bad habit of thinking in terms of "my money" and neither will your husband. Right from the start you'll think in terms of "our money."
 And that habit, begun when you both have jobs, will carry over even after you quit your job, as you probably will in time.

 Money is one of the major causes of arguments between husbands and wives. Yet that is one reason for quarreling any smart couple can eliminate.
 The easiest time to eliminate it is at the beginning of a marriage. So look on whatever you and your husband earn as "our money" and encourage him to do so, too—and you'll get off on the right track.
 And you can stay on it, too. For most married couples who fight over money never started out with a sound, fair, workable handling of their money. They got off on the wrong track—and stayed on it. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Circles Meet After General WSCS Session

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church voted to send "The Upper Room," a quarterly prayer magazine, to each of the 43 college students from the church, during the coming term. The plan was approved at a general meeting Monday afternoon in the Schabauer Educational Building.

Members of all the society's circles were included in the afternoon business meeting, but two circles also had night meetings.

Mrs. George Stewart was elected secretary at the afternoon session. Mrs. Sam Preston was leader for the meeting and gave the scripture reading. Mrs. B. F. Haag reviewed "Spreading the Light in Burma" and Mrs. J. R. Smith sang solo, accompanied by Mrs. George Glass. Mrs. George Brabbery gave the prayer and Mrs. Fred Fromhold the dismissal.

Mrs. Jane Patterson was hostess in her home Monday night to the Kate Oates Circle with one new member, Mrs. N. N. Wakefield, and three guests, Mrs. Charles Reeder, Mrs. Bob Baker and Ruth Struan.

An offering for missions in Japan was made in connection with a new study course on that nation which is starting in the circle. Mrs. Ruby Seawright presented the lesson on the subject, "Faith," and Mrs. Geo. Goodwin directed a devotional period on the same theme. Mrs. Dell Taylor presided for business, including a report on a recent bake sale.

Other members present were Mrs. E. B. Dillard, Mrs. R. L. Noah, Mrs. Paul Bowman, Mrs. Harold Wilson, Mrs. Paul Wecker, Mrs. Clarence Cardwell, Mrs. C. E. Dorsey, Mrs. Paul Hautman, Mrs. Russell Lynn, Mrs. O. B. Jackson and Mrs. Angie Auguston.

The Irene Nix Circle met in the church with Mrs. R. O. Smith giving the lesson from the current study book "Newness of Life." Mrs. J. C. Mays, Jr. gave the devotional and during the business meeting Mrs. M. O. Lutton, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, told of the plans of the WSCS for the coming year and of the part that each circle would have in them.

Present were Mrs. Ralph McCleskey, Mrs. William Sandeen, Mrs. Dale McReynolds, Mrs. Brandon Rea, Mrs. John W. Tice, Mrs. Glenn Richerson, Mrs. Ronald Franz, Mrs. A. V. Johnson. Guests were Mrs. Tom E. Daly, Mrs. Dan W. Finlayson, Mrs. Billy C. Johnson and Mrs. Richard Story.

Mrs. Thomas New President Of AAUW

Mrs. Leonard Thomas, elected vice president of the Midland Branch, American Association of University Women, was elevated to the presidency by recent action of the executive board to fill the office vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Bob Meador.

Mrs. Meador, who was installed as president in the Spring, moved this Summer to Phoenix, Ariz. Mrs. Thomas is to serve as president and chairman of the board, and E. J. Elliott will take up the duties of vice president and chairman of branch meetings.

SOCIETY

Woman's Council Of Christian Church Has Circle Meetings

Three circles of the Woman's Council of the First Christian Church met Monday afternoon in two meetings.

The Young Matrons Circle met in the home of Mrs. W. P. German, 1403 West Kansas Street. Mrs. Clarence Symes reviewed an article, "The Most Beautiful Will in the World."

Those present included Mrs. Wayne Moore, Mrs. Wayne Hammond, Mrs. L. S. Meltzer, Mrs. D. J. McHam, Mrs. E. D. Riddle and Mrs. Malcolm Brenneman. Sarah Symes, a house guest of Mrs. Symes, was a guest for the meeting.

Two Circles Meet Together
Foreign missions was the study topic of the joint meeting of the Rinjhart and Henderson circles in the home of Mrs. J. O. Hyde, 311 North Marientield Street.

Mrs. John Casselman gave the devotional, Mrs. Charles Sherwood discussed the Belgian Congo and Mrs. Frank Curtis, Jr. spoke on missions in Japan.

Others present were Mrs. W. G. Ataway, Mrs. Van Camp, Mrs. Grace Rankin, Mrs. Claude Chambers, Mrs. F. C. Cummings, Mrs. D. J. Pierce, Mrs. F. W. Estes, Mrs. D. H. Butler, Mrs. Clyde Lindsay, Mrs. C. R. Webb, Mrs. J. Roy Jones, Mrs. F. O. Hyde, Mrs. Paul McHargue and Mrs. W. E. Shipp, Jr. Mrs. Henry Tiry of Dallas was a guest of the group.

Beta Sigma Phi Council Meets

Foremost subject for discussion when the City Council of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday night in the home of Mrs. A. R. Ayles, was the third annual Fall Style Show which the organization will present about October 1.

Representatives from the Xi Theta, Beta Delta and Iota Beta Chapters were present to talk over plans for the benefit fashion revue in which all three groups will cooperate.

The council voted also to send a check to the Texas Tuberculosis Association. Contributions to this welfare organization have been made in past years, and the sorority has adopted it as a major project.

Present for the council meeting were Mrs. Jack Stackpole, Mrs. W. E. Nance, Mrs. Alton Brown, Lafara Harbison, Myra McReynolds and Dell Steel.

Reports From Ranch School Given For Presbyterian Women

A talk, "Peaceful Change Is Possible," by Mrs. D. M. Secor was the program for the monthly inspirational meeting of the Women of the Church of the First Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. D. N. Johnson and Mrs. Sol Bunnell were hostesses, and Mrs. Paul Laverty and Mrs. C. E. Bissell sang a duet.

Reports of the women who attended the Synodical Training School at Mo-Ranch near Hunt, Texas, were given during the business meeting. Mrs. Laverty was a member of the staff for the school and Mrs. L. A. Roby and Mrs. J. Clifford Hall attended.

The ranch where the school was held recently was bought by the Presbyterian Church for the purpose of such encampments. The Synodical School was for Women of the Church from Presbyterian Churches throughout the state.

The school consisted of classes during the day and evening sessions. Subjects of the classes were "Program Building," taught by Mrs. C. R. Caldwell of Shreveport, La.; "Bible," taught by Edleen Beag of Austin; "Christian Citizenship," taught by Dr. C. S. Harrington, a member of the World Council of Church Executive Board; and "Missions in the Local Church" by Marguerite Mizell, a former missionary in China who is now associated with the First Presbyterian Church in Dallas.

New Library Books Show How To Draw

Rev. Vernon Yearby Is On Program For Stewardship Rallies

The Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be the principal speaker in "Grow With Your Church" rallies in and around Abilene this week.

Eighty-one of these rallies will be held throughout Texas in the next two weeks. The primary purpose of the rallies is to emphasize stewardship among Texas Baptists.

Yearby is scheduled to speak in Rochester, Lueders, Abilene, Clyde and Cisco during the week.

The stated purpose of the rallies is to explain the denominational education, hospitalization and evangelization program and the need for a ten-million-dollar budget among Texas Baptists next year.

The budget for the coming year, beginning in November recently was adopted by the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The rally for this region will be held at Smith Chapel Baptist Church, Thursday beginning at 2 p.m. and continuing through an evening program. Dr. J. Howard Williams, executive secretary of Texas Baptists, will be the principal speaker. Duke Jimerson of Midland will have part on the program.

U. S. Self-Sufficiency

The British dollar dilemma woke us up to the fact that deep-seated shifts in the world trade pattern lay behind the economic problems plaguing the world. One of the most significant changes taking place is a growing self-sufficiency for the United States in certain fields where it formerly was dependent on foreign supply sources.

This country is attaining that greater economic independence through expanded use of synthetic and other substitute products. In several cases, war's interruption of normal overseas trade lines spurred development of domestic alternatives.

Some examples: Chemical detergents are cutting steadily into the market for regular soaps, with resulting damage to the demand for such South Pacific products as copra and palm oil, prime ingredients in ordinary soap.

The huge growth of American nylon production has all but wiped out the market for Japanese silk. This has been a grave handicap to Japan's postwar recovery.

Synthetic rubber production, developed during the war when East Indian sources of natural rubber were seized by the Japs, has stayed in the picture after the war. It is an increasing threat to the future American demand for the natural product.

While the United States still is importing oil heavily from the Near East, Venezuela and other points, the nation has under way some costly experiments in the conversion of coal and gas into liquid petroleum. Should these experiments pan out and permit commercial-scale output of synthetic fuels, the time would come inevitably when the United States would pretty well forget about foreign oil sources—except perhaps the promising new fields in neighboring Canada.

America already makes more of what it needs than most countries. And now its ingenuity, driven faster by the war, is spreading self-sufficiency to still more fields.

On the other hand, foreign nations, their resources badly depleted by the war, need more desperately than ever to sell their products in our markets. Unless they do, they can't get the dollars they require to buy the goods they want from us. In other words, it is this problem of the American advance that the Marshall Plan seeks to solve. It is clear this program will provide no permanent solution unless it somehow attacks the basic maladjustments growing out of such trade shifts as we have here outlined.

Dark Outlook

The White House architect says it may take two years to make the President's home safe to live in again. If that gloomy forecast proves accurate, President Truman may go down in history as the Chief Executive who spent less time in the White House than any other two-termer on record.

Than any since John Adams, that is, for he was the first President to live there. Possibly Governor Dewey wouldn't have been so eager for Truman's job if he'd known it meant living in modest Blair House instead of the fabled white mansion across the street.

Everybody who was anybody attended the evening scene, Madame Pandit, Indian ambassador, was lovely in a strikingly beautiful native gown.

The plentiful supply of alcoholic beverages used at such affairs was totally missing.

Served instead were coffee, vanilla ice cream and cakes. There was no limit on these. Guests ate all they wanted. Many had several big helpings.

But everybody was cold sober—and apparently enjoyed the unique experience very much.

Note—A Korean party the same day was an imber's delight.

Atomic Probe
Democratic members of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee will try to force a report this week on the long-drawn-out investigation investigated by Senator Bourke Hickenlooper. (R-Iowa). The probe has been out of the limelight for weeks while the committee studied secret personnel records of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Some of these records have made spicy reading.

They are reports on the sex life of workers in atomic plants. The workers were checked by FBI loyalty agents.

Rep. Henry M. Jackson, (D-Wash.), asked Hickenlooper what the connection was between these reports and his case against the Atomic Commission. "These people might disclose valuable secrets under the influence of love or liquor," he replied.

One reason for the committee's delay has been Hickenlooper's absence. He was in Iowa mending political fences. He faces a tough reelection battle next year.

Democratic committee members want to issue a formal report by September 15. Their report is certain to be a vigorous refutation of Hickenlooper's charge of "incredible mismanagement" by AEC. He and other Republican committee members undoubtedly will put out a report of their own.

I am appalled at the existence of gambling and opium smuggling in Canton under the very nose of the government. (But) we must hold Canton, our last port . . . the last place from which we can use both our navy and air force. . . I am ready to perish with the city.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Robert S. Allen says: Backstage wrangle over cost delays installation of needed runway-lighting equipment on many of nation's airports; serious flying hazard exists in bad weather and at night; FBI loyalty check reports on sex life of atomic-plant workers.

WASHINGTON — Installation of essential runway-lighting equipment on scores of airports has been stalled for months because of a backstage wrangle over costs.

Lack of these safety facilities is a serious flying hazard as many of the airfields are useless in bad weather and at night. Numerous other airports throughout the country, which have inadequate lighting equipment, also are affected by the dispute.

Principals in the protracted controversy are the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the Welsbach Corporation, Philadelphia.

Last April, Welsbach took over the sale of the patented runway-lighting equipment from the Line Material Company, Stroudsburg, Pa. The patents, owned by the inventor Jack Bartow, Blue Bell, Pa., are so basic that CAA attorneys doubt whether any effective runway lighting can be installed without infringement.

Immediately after coming into the picture, Welsbach announced a new price schedule. It calls for a royalty of 80 cents per runway foot, plus a cost of the equipment. For the average airport this means a $4,800 charge of royalty and $28,000 for equipment.

The CAA balked at the price. The government pays half the cost for control towers and other safety installations. CAA contends Welsbach's figures mean an added burden on taxpayers.

The company denies that. It claims its schedule will cost $900 on a 6,000-foot runway. CAA denies the denial. It says Welsbach will boost expenditures $4,000 for an average airport.

Cold Sober
The big party staged by the Indian Embassy to commemorate its independence was a unique experience for Washington officialdom.

The party was cold sober.

Everybody who was anybody attended the evening scene, Madame Pandit, Indian ambassador, was lovely in a strikingly beautiful native gown.

The plentiful supply of alcoholic beverages used at such affairs was totally missing.

Served instead were coffee, vanilla ice cream and cakes. There was no limit on these. Guests ate all they wanted. Many had several big helpings.

But everybody was cold sober—and apparently enjoyed the unique experience very much.

Note—A Korean party the same day was an imber's delight.

Atomic Probe
Democratic members of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee will try to force a report this week on the long-drawn-out investigation investigated by Senator Bourke Hickenlooper. (R-Iowa). The probe has been out of the limelight for weeks while the committee studied secret personnel records of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Some of these records have made spicy reading.

They are reports on the sex life of workers in atomic plants. The workers were checked by FBI loyalty agents.

landslide. Not a trace can be found of it or its people.

In bustling Ambato — Ecuador's fifth largest city—approximately one-fourth of all edifices were demolished. Those which did not fall, perhaps 60 per cent, are beyond repair. The huge cupola of the cathedral caved in, burying a priest and 80 young children, as well as a dozen worshippers, under tons of rock and marble. Not a soul escaped alive.

A truly heroic mobilization of men and resources immediately followed the disaster. President Galo Plaza was on the scene four hours after the quake. For two nights and days he stayed, directing relief and rescue operations, walking the streets with baskets of bread for the hungry, giving first aid to the less severely injured, offering encouragement and sympathy to all.

Once only he snatched a few hours of sleep, in the back of his car parked in Ambato's Central Plaza. All the milk from his family's large dairy farm nearby has been diverted to relief of the stricken. By the president's order, Dona Rosario, Ecuador's first lady and mother of six children, labored tirelessly.

Public and private organizations joined wholeheartedly in the humanitarian work. Thanks to their efficient, timely aid, plus that promptly provided by other American governments, the immediate emergency was met—the injured taken care of, the critical food shortage alleviated momentarily, some sort of temporary shelter made available to most of the homeless.

In the front rank of this rescue army stood the personnel of the Institute of Inter-American Affairs' Public Health Service. Doctors, nurses, sanitary engineers, hospital administrators and drivers worked around the clock, rendering invaluable services to which President Plaza paid personal tribute.

Questions and Answers

Q—Who composed the music for "Home Sweet Home"?

A—The words of this song were written by John Payne for a play, "Clari, the Maid of Milan." The play was converted into an opera by Sir Henry Rowley Bishop and first produced at Covent Garden Theatre, London, in 1823.

Q—What are the abecedarian Psalms?

A—They are the Psalms in which the verses of successive portions are arranged in alphabetical order such as the 119th.

Q—Have scientists established the fact that the temperature can be estimated from the chirps of a cricket?

A—There is a definite relationship between a cricket's chirp and the prevailing temperature. The rate of chirp depends upon the temperature. The rapidity of its chirps is so affected by heat and cold that a formula has been devised for getting the temperature.

Q—Is it true that a person comes up three times before drowning?

A—This popular notion is a fallacy. A person may come up many times, or not at all, depending upon various conditions.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

The other day I was talking with Albert H. Morehead, secretary War Orphans Scholarships, about the many years of work we have put in helping to achieve the goal of providing scholarships and educational opportunities for the children of servicemen killed in the last war. The generosity of colleges, trade schools and the general public is going to make it possible for us to help out a lot more children in school this coming year.

We have been confronted with many problems in handling this activity for American war orphans, and experience has been our best teacher.

I said to Morehead, "I'd like to see our training at the bridge table, where we have had many problems to solve, has helped us a lot." Then we had a discussion about today's hand.

Morehead pointed out that all problems must be given careful consideration. South, the declarer, has a problem as to whether to depend upon the diamond finesse, and should he take a discard on the king of hearts immediately?

His proper play is to trump the opening lead of the ace of hearts, then lead the king of spades. East will win and return a diamond. Declarer should not take the finesse but should win the trick with the ace, play his queen of spades, and at this point play the ace and king of clubs. If the queen does not fall, he can go over to dummy, discard the deuce of clubs on the king of hearts, and now take the diamond finesse.

But when declarer gets the lucky break of the queen of clubs dropping, he should lead the deuce of clubs and finesse the nine spot in dummy. On the jack of clubs he should lead the king of diamonds, and on the king of hearts discard the jack of diamonds.

Thus, careful planning solves the declarer's problem.

Drive To Push Up Price Of Gold Gains Little Headway

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Foreign pressure to get the United States to increase the price of gold is making no headway. The whole idea generally is regarded here as the wackiest thing since British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin popped off at a trades union meeting a couple of years ago, suggesting that the United States redistribute the gold in Fort Knox, free.

The theory behind the gold price drive is briefly this: The United States now buys all newly-mined gold offered at $35 a fine ounce. In the 12-year period, 1937 through 1948, the U. S. bought $12,500,000,000 worth of gold. Total world production in this period, outside of Russia, was $12,800,000,000. The U. S. now holds two-thirds of all the world's gold—$24,500,000,000 out of $37,000,000,000 worth.

Three-fourths of all the world gold now is produced in British dominions—principally South Africa. They sell their gold to the U. S. for dollars. This gives them the money to buy manufactured goods in the United States. So in the long run, U. S. purchase of gold helps other American export business, although the U. S. government ends up buying the gold at Fort Knox, Ky.

Most of the pressure for increasing U. S. gold prices comes from South Africa. For the last 15 years, South Africa has been selling the U. S. gold from $400,000,000 to $500,000,000 worth of gold a year. But even South Africa has been running short of dollars. So her finance minister, Dr. Nicholas C. Havenga, has been visiting the capitals of Europe, trying to win converts to his scheme to have the U. S. increase the price of gold.

One of the principal arguments used is that there has been no increase in the price of gold since 1934. Since then the price of almost everything else has advanced. Therefore it is said that the price of gold is out of line with other prices.

In theory if the United States raised the price of gold from $35 to $55 or $70 a fine ounce, it would give South Africa and Great Britain more dollars with which to buy more goods in America. Also, it would increase the value of British dwindling gold reserve. This presumably would enable the British to stave off disaster a little bit longer, strengthening power for improved conditions, some day, somehow.

These are what might be called the short-term advantages of having the United States increase the price of gold. It might be a financial trick to help the British out of another bad hole. But any one who takes a long-range view of the situation can see in it only a business that might do the rest of the world great harm.

Once the United States raises the price of gold, it would be practically impossible to get it down again. The United States would be stuck with this high price forever and ever.

Just A Plain Subsidy
Net effect of a rise in gold prices would be another gift by the United States to the British. The U. S. now buys about $700,000,000 worth of gold from British dominions every year. Doubling the price would double the amount. It would be a plain subsidy. There is no reason why the U. S. should buy more gold, or pay more for it.

Any increase in the price of gold would mean that more gold would be produced. Many of the gold mines are now shut down, all over the world, because labor and production costs are too high, at the present price. Raising the price would reactivate these mines and force the United States to buy still more gold.

It has been argued that raising the price of gold would enable the United States to reap a handsome profit. Many of the $25,000,000,000 worth of gold now buried at Fort Knox. Doubling the price would make the value $50,000,000,000.

But what good would that be? If the gold price rises, it will force a high value and used to back up a new issue of currency for paying off the public debt, the effect would be highly inflationary. It would create tremendous credit control problems just at a time when every effort has been made to reduce the amount of money in circulation. It would endanger the value of $250,000,000,000 worth of U. S. bonds now held by private citizens and all other investments.

What the whole gold price drive seems to add up to is a stall or a counter-movement against the demand that the British revalue the pound Sterling. They would no doubt like to find some way to shove the bill for that on the American taxpayer, too.

LIONS GOVERNOR WILL ADDRESS TERMINAL CLUB

ness knows I warned her, but she doesn't always listen to me."

GAYNEL got up. "I think I'll go down"—it might be useful to take a look at Pat; sometimes she did get ill from the water—"if you'll excuse me. No thanks, Barry, no more, or my head will get light." She went down to the stateroom she shared with Pat.

It was dark. Pat was sprawled on the lower bunk. Barry was in the dim light, Gaynel could see something was wrong with her.

"What is it?" she asked, her voice sharp with fear. She knelt down beside her, felt her head. It was hot and feverish; her skin peculiarly damp. "Are you ill, Pat?"

"A little," Pat admitted. She made a face as though she had had a bad pain. "I guess I did stay in too long, Gay. Though I came out once or twice, or maybe it was the chocolate bars. I ate two, in between."

"You shouldn't. Food and water don't mix. You know that, Pat." Probably a good old-fashioned tummy-ache, Gaynel thought, with a let-down of relief. Lucky she hadn't had cramps when she was swimming.

"Maybe it wasn't that," Pat said. "Melvin, the worm, made a grab for me when we were swimming. Tried to kiss me. He's enough to make anyone sick. I slapped his face and he went."

Pat's face twisted with pain again. "Oooh," she gasped. "It's pretty bad, Sis. It's right here. Not in my tummy. Lower." She showed Gaynel where. Her right side, very low down.

Gaynel's face went white. She saw Barry went white. Fear gripped her again. "You're sure it's right there?" she asked. The doctor had told them last year when Pat had a similar attack that her appendix was none too good. Surely it could not be that now. Yet all here, out in his cabin, as doctors of hospitals do.

"I'm . . . sure," Pat managed, her body writhed with the pain now; her face did look green. "It's . . . worse . . . like a knife . . . and I'm going to be sick, Gay . . . terribly sick . . ."

FAMILY swooped down on Gaynel, giving her a cheek an affectionate peck. "You haven't been too ill, have you?"

Cattle Stricken With Undulant Fever Often Infect Humans

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Brucellosis, which includes the more serious forms known as undulant fever, is common for man and animals alike. Cattle, swine, and goats are the animals particularly affected. It has been estimated that one animal out of 20 of the cattle in the United States are afflicted with the germ causing brucellosis and the economic loss to the livestock industry comes to more than $1,000,000,000 yearly.

The important problem in cattle is to pick out the five per cent who have the disease so that they can be prevented from spreading it to the healthy animals. This can be done by giving a blood test to all animals introduced into herds.

Perhaps the most important step of all, however, is to remove infected animals from the herds so that they will not spread the disease.

Difficult To Diagnose
When human beings are infected it is usually because they have come in contact with infected meat or have drunk unpasteurized milk from infected cows or goats. The disease in human beings is particularly difficult because of the problem of diagnosis.

THE STORY: Gaynel Peat's family, including Emily, her mother, Pat, her younger sister, Barry, her brother, and Gaynel to marry Barry's sister, a young millionaire, Melbourne. Barry is a doctor, a millionaire, and a woman who fell on one knee and broke her neck. Give Miss Pierce a hand, Melvin. And I do think they're bad luck, loaders. I mean, though goodness knows I'm not superstitious, unless it's black cats. . . .

"The island is too divine, isn't it, Melvin?" she asked, simply lovely, now that the sun's gone round. And you aren't wearing your dark glasses? Haven't I told you, darling, you'll ruin your eyes. "Come on up, Miss Pierce. You won't fall, though I do feel the same way. . . . Why is it, Barry? A car, both the ladies for steps? I knew a woman who fell on one knee and broke her neck. Give Miss Pierce a hand, Melvin. And I do think they're bad luck, loaders. I mean, though goodness knows I'm not superstitious, unless it's black cats. . . ."

West Texas Oil & Gas Log—

 time required to drill a well to the Canyon pay in the North Snyder area has been set by Lomax Brothers of Odessa, the rotary contractor on the Castleman & O'Neil and Hunter No. 2 Wren.
 From the time the rig was skidded to the location until it was skidded off after completion of the producer, 30 days elapsed. From the time the rig was skidded in, until total depth of 6,852 feet was reached, only 25 days passed.
 So far as can be learned this is the fastest time made up to now in drilling a well in the Scurry County field.

West Flanker Slated To Scurry Discovery

Castleman & O'Neil of Midland, J. R. Hunter of San Antonio and Walter Duncan of Oklahoma City are to start drilling at once on a one-quarter of a mile east flanker to the recent discovery from the Canyon lime at Moncrief, Hope, Crosby et al. No. 1 Huckabee, in North-Central Scurry County.
 The new venture will be the joint operators' No. 1 H. C. Huckabee. It is located 467 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 190, block 3, H&O-N survey.

North Snyder Outpost Staked By Barnsdall

Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Reinhart is to be a stepout from production on the south side of the North Snyder field in North-Central Scurry County.
 The venture is located 1,815 feet from west and 467 feet from north lines of the east 85 1/2 acres in tract 7, section 26, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.
 Drilling to 7,000 feet to explore the Canyon lime reef is to start at once. This exploration is a short distance west of Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Reinhart, located 467 feet from north and 820 feet from west lines of tract 7, section 26, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.
 It was bottomed at 6,843 feet, and has a string of 7-inch casing cemented at 6,533 feet, with 600 sacks.
 Top of the Canyon reef was at 6,340 feet, 3,909 feet below sea level. The Stanotex No. 1 Reinhart will start completion activity in a few days.

Stonewall Test Gets Oil, Gas, Salt Water

Barnsdall Oil Company and Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Sloane - Callaway, Central - North Stonewall County wildcat, took a drillstem test in an unidentified lime from 6,304-50 feet.
 The tool was open four hours and the recovery was 62 feet of oil and gas cut mud and no free oil. There was also 270 feet of gas and salt cut mud. There was a slight blow for the first 15 minutes which increased to a good blow throughout the test.
 Operators are now taking electric survey.
 This venture is at the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 62, block F, H&T-C survey, and 14 1/2 miles due north of Aspermont.
 Plans of the operators for the future of this exploration have not been reported.

Wildcat In Coke Logs Oil, Water In Strawn

Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Davenport, Northeast Coke County wildcat, one and one-half miles north of Port Chadbourne, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of the east half of the Seth Clark survey No. 475, swabbed 13 hours on perforated zone in the Strawn lime at 5,512-30 feet.
 Recovery was 113 barrels of salt water and 15 barrels of oil. Those perforations were squeezed off with cement and the zone at 5,495-5,510 feet was perforated.
 Operator had run a drillstem test at 5,489-5,510 feet, covering the perforated interval.
 The tool was closed after 20 minutes. There was a very weak blow of air for 15 minutes and it then died. The tester was being pulled at the time this report was prepared.

Midland Venture Digs Lower Permian Shale

York & Harper Inc. No. 1-A TXL, Midland County wildcat to test the Ellenburger above 13,800 feet, was drilling in lower Permian shale below 7,396 feet and was continuing to deepen.
 It is 690 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of the south-west quarter of section 25, block 39, T-3-S, TP survey, and 12 1/2 miles south of Midland.

North Snyder Wildcat Develops Slight Show

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 2-5 Brown, deep wildcat, on the northwest side of the North Snyder-Canyon field in North-Central Scurry County, and 467 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&T-C survey, developed a slight show of oil and gas in a drillstem test at 7,930-59 feet, and is drilling deeper. It had reached 7,962 feet in lime, and was boring further at last report.
 The section at 7,930-59 feet was investigated on a drillstem test for two hours. There was a good blow

Stanotex Digs Deeper

Standard of Texas No. 1 Dunn, Northwest Mitchell County wildcat, five miles east of Vincent and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 64, block 20, Lavaca Navigation survey, had reached 7,900 feet in shale and lime. It found sulphur water in the Canyon reef, and has not reported having encountered any possibilities of production in any of the horizon it has penetrated up to now.

Slight Oil, Gas Signs

Humble No. 1 Crabtree, Northwest Mitchell County wildcat drilled to a bottom of 8,108 feet in an unidentified lime. The project developed a little sign of oil and gas and had some salt water in a drillstem test at 7,972-95 feet.
 The venture was plugged back with cement to 3,600 feet, and operator has now drilled out the plug to 3,725 feet. No information is available as to what will happen next at this project.
 It is 12 miles northwest of Colorado City and 660 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 2, block 26, H&T-C survey. So far as has been reported it has not logged any possibilities of oil or gas production in commercial amounts.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulky person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.
 An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.
 Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcontrate has been sold in Texas in the past four years.
 You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcontrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.
 If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

LIGHT
 YOUR YARD FOR HAPPY, PLEASANT EVENINGS OUTDOORS

Why not really enjoy your yard on summer evenings? A yard light under the eaves of the house or fastened to the garage will give you plenty of light for games, evening meals outdoors and for reading and relaxation. You can also mow the lawn, trim the hedge or weed your garden in the cool of the evening instead of under a hot sun.

Visit your favorite store which sells electric appliances and see the different types of YARD LIGHTS now available.

Confessions Of Engel, The Romantic Swindler

By SIGMUND SAMUEL ENGEL
As Told To Edgar Brown
(Copyright, 1949, Chicago Herald-American)

Right in the teeth of critics who deride my claim of being a "boon to womankind" I should like to hurt a handsome hunk of evidence. May I present Mme. Stephanie Kovacs and her trained cub bear?

Sure, I've taken millions from women—and spent 'em mainly on women. Purely in self-defense I've outsmarted women before they outsmarted me.

But in the unusual case of Mme. Kovacs my motive was altruistic. I even had myself worried. Was I cracking up, becoming faithless to good old Sig?

My worry was groundless. I made money on this deal in spite of myself.

The action in this one started at Oklahoma City, Okla., whither I had shifted from Tulsa during the oil boom to escape an embarrassing situation involving June Southworth, Montana heiress, and May, a vaudeville actress.

June's error was in falling in love with me after portly May had stalked out what she felt to be a prior claim. The mistake cost the Montana girl $100,000 in oil stock, delivered to me, and a handful of hair, yanked out by impetuous May.

One of the first women I met in Oklahoma City, and by all odds the most interesting, was a sleek Slovakian who called herself Baroness Irma von Braz. Everybody down there thought she must be kidding.

Baroness Has Money
One of these tenants was Malva Hunayva, one of the few women I ever met who slapped me when I made a subtle pass. The other was Stephanie Kovacs, a doll with a glorious build, well-trained soprano voice and a surprising hobby.

Her penury kept her worried, but the hobby kept her occupied. Somehow she had come into possession of a cute cub bear, which she housed in an outbuilding while training the animal in an extensive repertoire of tricks.

Baroness Irma—everybody in her homeland gave her the title so I guess she rated it—was so generous with me at times that I was practically on her payroll. But her view of the widows' inability to pay their rent was cold-blooded.

Wins His Sympathy
"If they do not pay, they do not stay," she intoned, and brooked no interference with her eviction plan. I tried direct intervention and was rebuffed. Then I resorted to subterfuge, for the prospective evictees had won my sympathy.

However, that may have been the baroness was buying oil land like mad and she wasn't paying for it with marbles. This interested me strangely.

I didn't believe she was of royal blood, Slovakian or otherwise, but when I saw her speculative tendency I recognized a gal after my own heart. We teamed up, she and I, and within a week I was calling her Irma.

"Of the money I have the plenty," she told me one night, and this I believed. "Let us now cease gambling in oil and go to my home near Bratislava. Then will I prove to you that I am not what you call the faker."

The world is mad and its people are madder. I didn't even know for sure what Bratislava was; but I was going there. Passport problems were never very tough for me—I know my Washington—and presently we were on our way.

Bratislava turned out to be the colorful capital of the state of Slovakia created by Germany from a hunk of Hungary. It used to be known as Pressburg, and of course the city is now a part of Czechoslovakia.

large amount of von Braz cash and said: "I will be leaving soon for my home. I have heard your voice and it is remarkable. In America you could become a great star; I could make you one. In a little while, join me in New York and I will arrange your career."

Baroness Irma had taken the Continental view of our affair and there was no claptrap about broken hearts at my departure. She knew I had other plans; she herself was already planning a return to Oklahoma, where she married a rich man.

I was well settled in my customary suite at the Plaza in New York and had resumed my pleasant life in cafe society when I next heard of Mme. Stephanie Kovacs. At a party I attended there was strange, excited gossip.

"Have you heard of the untamed gal at the Astor?" asked a friend. "She is a wild woman from the backwoods of Hungary, they say. She orders 25 pounds of meat delivered in her room each day and she devours it all."

I blinked and inquired the name of this femme with an appetite. "It says in the papers that her name is Kovacs," my friend replied. "I believe it is Stephanie Kovacs from a place called Bratislava."

"I laughed so immoderately that other guests assumed I'd taken too much wine. So little Stephanie had arrived. And I suspected the answer to her 'appetite.'"

Reaching my Plaza suite that night, a note awaited me. It was a frightened, plaintive SOS from the woman I had invited to New York.

Wild Woman Still Wild
I was up and about at an unseasonably early hour. The reunion in the Kovacs quarter at the Astor was touching. The wild woman was still wild about little Sig; and the cause of the "wild" stories was just as I'd suspected.

Stephanie had brought her trained cub, neatly encased in a ventilated case, and on entering her hotel none had been the wiser. Fearing eviction, she had kept her secret well—but the beastie's love of raw meat had led to tall stories.

"I keep Joey in my bedroom," explained the harassed Stephanie. "I order the food he needs and they deliver it here in the drawing room. They don't say a word, but they give me the strangest looks—and they seem afraid of me!"

That the papers already had picked up the story struck me not only as amusing but also opportune. Noting my business as usual, I smiled as warmly as possible. "Wait," I cried, "keep everything as it is." By long distance I called one of the finest promoters I knew, Eddie Hayman, of Chicago, who built the Elks Theater in that town. Then I called Jake Stennard, booker of Orpheum talent. Frame Building

They arrived breathlessly, as I knew they would. Together we framed a marvelous buildup. They scarcely paused to hear Stephanie's voice or to see Joey go through his stunts.

Hayman fashioned Stephanie's heavy black tresses in a fantastic state of disarray. Stennard dreamed up a weird name for the "Hungarian wild woman with the natural operatic voice."

At the first formal interview with the press, I was delegated to speak for New York's astonishing visitor, who could "speak no English." I bore down hard.

Stephanie and Joey opened their vaudeville tour at Chicago's Majestic. They scored a hit all over the circuit. I had thoughtfully retained "pieces" of the novelty act, and it yielded me a handsome return on my original investment.

Believe it or not, this revenue was incidental. I had rescued two widows from distressing penury, and it made me happy. I looked about for new adventure.

SPORTS SLANTS

by SHORTY SHELburnE

Levi Clay, the former Midland Indian hurler, is hanging on at Ardmore, Okla., this season. He was released by Harold Webb just after the season opened.

Clay filled in at first base recently and singled two official trips, scoring the winning run. The Ardmore club is managed by Jim Skidgel, former Lamesa catcher.

From all indications so far, the Midland Bulldogs are being picked right behind Lubbock and Odessa in the coming District 3-AAA football race.

Joe Coleman, quoted in Dick Snider's column, says Lubbock, Midland, Lamesa and Brownfield will rate in that order, the way he sees it.

Concerning his own club, Coleman reveals, "We'll be lighter, faster and an all-around better ball club this year. However, we face the toughest schedule ever."

The Bronchos lead off with such non-conference foes as Amarillo, Port Arthur and Arlington Heights (Port Fort).

George Kellam, Fort Worth Star-Telegram sports writer picks Midland just about the same way Coleman does.

Of 3-AAA, Kellam says, "This one boasts two of the potentially strong teams in the state, Odessa and Lubbock. Lamesa, Midland and Brownfield will be interested mostly in staying out of the cellar, though Midland might upset one of the two leaders with Tugboat Jones at the helm of its gridiron fortunes. Midland will be pointing at Lubbock."

Where he gets his dope, we don't know. The Bulldogs will be pointing at Odessa and the other nine opponents. Especially Odessa, just like they have been doing for 20 years.

Manager Harold Webb barely got Pat Lorenzo outfielder-catcher, under the fire in time to make him eligible for the playoffs. He picked up the hunky rookie from Ballinger.

Webb Tuesday announced the outright release of Ken Swan, rookie pitcher.

Just like all the other rookie hurlers the Indians have tried this year, Swan needs more time in semi-pro baseball.

HALP SLANTS
Garry Nipp was the hero of the Ballinger Cats' 3-2 win over Vernon Sunday. He doubled with a man on to drive in the winning run.

Tommy Hart of Big Spring says Tugboat Jones is the highest paid schoolboy football coach in West Texas. He must be forgetting Joe Coleman. Pete Showell at Abilene recently had his yearly take raised to a reported $60,000.

The Plainview Bulldogs, one of Midland's opponents this season, have only three returning lettermen.

RETURNS FROM TEXTLINE
Ray Williams has returned to Midland after an extended visit near Textline. James Bleiker of Textline returned with him and will spend a few days in Midland.

Wink Eleven May Be Team To Beat In 5-A Grid Race

WINK—The Wink Wildcats, once the greatest power in Texas High School football, may be returning to that position if material is any indication. Thirty-five candidates, including 15 returning lettermen from last season's not-so-bad team, have reported to Coaches Glenn Frazier and Bill Oglesby. They are going through twice-a-day workouts.

The Wildcats set West Texas football circles on fire during a reign of terror in the 1930's. The grid sport dropped to an all-time low during recent years but apparently is on the way up again. This year's team is reported to be rounding into shape fast.

The Wildcats open the season with one of the first games in the state September 2. The first game opponent will be Cathedral High of El Paso.

Candidates now in training are: Centers—Bobby Scogin and Bob Carman, lettermen; and Doyle Parnell and Grady Orlison, up from last year's Junior team.

Guards—Don McBe, letterman, who was out of most of last year's play due to an injury, Carl Sanders, letterman; Jesus Minjarez, reserve letterman; Frank Mullican, no experience; Duane Nobles and Lee White, Junior team experience.

Tackles—Frankie Sanders and James Blackburn, lettermen; Dale Dodd, Buddy Barnes, Bill Short and Paul Campbell, up from the Junior team.

Ends—Denton Woods, Gerald Ball and Al Smith, lettermen; Gerald Bowen, reserve letterman; Bob Short and Paul Jette, up from the Junior team; Harry Hanks, Kenneth Tidwell, and Vernon Williams a transfer from Milby (Houston) where he played on the "B" team in 1947.

Backs—Bud Rollins, Don Hoskins, Don Dow, Pat Drumm and Jerry Armistead, lettermen; Calvin Appiewhite and Ross White, reserve lettermen; Dan Villereal and Billy Dodson, up from Junior team, and Billy Hammond a transfer from Longview.

Junior high boys who have been working out with the high school squad are: Billy Bishop, Bobby D. Crawford, Lynwood Heasley, Thomas Rainey, Ronnie Slaughter, Kenneth Vinson and Jimmy White.

Beats Lottery Ticket Charge By A Whisker

BOSTON—(AP)—Council for Aaron Zideman, 65, charged with peddling lottery tickets, won his case by what a district court judge described as "a whisker."

Police claimed they found lottery tickets under Zideman's flowing whiskers. Zideman's lawyer proved the slips were found under Zideman's bed.

Acquitting Zideman Monday, Judge Frank W. Tomascillo smilingly told counsel, "This is one case you have won by a whisker."

Midlanders To Austin For Highway Meeting

R. D. (Bob) Struggs, president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce; Irvy Dyer, Jaycee president and Delbert Downing, C. of C. manager, left Monday afternoon for Austin to attend a meeting and hearing of the Texas Highway Commission.

The proposed overpass on Big Spring Street and development of Front Street as a truck route through the city are the principal matters to be discussed by the Midlanders with the highway commissioners.

The Chamber representatives will return to Midland Wednesday.

Two Trainers Hurt Seriously In Crash Of Santa Fe Trains

LOEB, HARDIN COUNTY, TEX.—(AP)—A Santa Fe passenger train trying to make up time rammed the rear of a freight Monday near this Southeast Texas village. Two trainers were injured seriously and 17 passengers shan en up.

The passenger train's gasoline-electric locomotive caught fire as it splintered the freight caboose. Flames swept the engine, the caboose and another car on each train.

C. S. Polk, a baggageman, and Bryant Butler, a brakeman, were taken to a nearby Beaumont hospital in separate ambulances. As Polk's ambulance entered that city it was hit by a lumber truck. Polk received further injuries.

The mountains of the world spring up from low furrows in its surface.

MAJOR LEAGUES—Cards Meet Bums In Crucial Series

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A World Series atmosphere descended on Ebbets Field Tuesday with the St. Louis Cardinals in Flatbush to take on the Brooklyn Dodgers in a series that Branch Rickey claims will decide the National League pennant.

Stan Musial and company, leading the Dodgers and the league by two games, will stick around for two days during which they clash with the Brooks three times.

Brooklyn will take the field for Tuesday's two games attempting to snap a three-game losing streak. The Dodgers dropped their third straight in Boston Monday, 7-6 in the only game in either league.

A couple of former Dodgers, Pete Reiser and Ed Stanky, ruined their former mates. Reiser drove home three runs on a triple and single while Stanky socked his first homer of the season for the Braves.

The United States produces more than one-half of the world's steel.

Hayes Blanks Vernon Dusters 2-0

Hughes, Dawson, Sliter Supply Hits

The Midland Indians will be trying for their fifth win in a row when they meet the Vernon Dusters in Vernon again Tuesday night. Claude Horton is due to hurl for Midland. Al Richardson, ace of the Vernon staff, will go for the Dusters. The series will be completed Wednesday night.

VERNON—The Midland Indians sent Lefty Leon Hayes to the mound here Monday night and he accomplished everything he possibly could have been asked to. The husky portsider whiffed 11 Vernon batters and scattered eight hits well in tossing the Indians to a 2-0 shutout to extend their winning streak to four in a row.

On the other side of the ledger, Darwin Chrisko turned in just as fine a job for the Dusters but couldn't scatter his hits. He struck out 15 Indians and allowed only five hits. But three of the five hits were for extra

Giants Sell Johnny Mize To Yankees

NEW YORK —(AP)—The New York Yankees hauled in another piece of heavy artillery Tuesday for their American League pennant push—the Giants' home run specialist, big John Mize.

In a sudden and surprising move, the Yankees bought the 36-year-old first baseman from their National League neighbors for an undisclosed sum and told him to get in uniform right away.

The deal exploded with such unexpectedness that Mize had to rush to catch a midnight train for Detroit, where the Yankees open a two-game series Tuesday.

The announcement was made shortly after dinner time Monday night.

"We've sold Johnny Mize to the Yankees for an undisclosed sum," said Eddie Brannick, secretary of the Giants. "He was waived out of the National League. He joins the club immediately."

Mize, who has hit more homers than any active player in the majors, probably will move right in behind Joe DiMaggio in the Yankees' batting order—the No. 5 spot. That will permit Tommy Henrich, who has been holding down first, to return to his favorite position in right field.

Mize is a long-ball hitter who, as a left-handed pull swinger, should find the short rightfield barrier at Yankee Stadium to his liking.

e has pined out 315 home runs during his major league career. The Yank: DiMaggio is second with 314. This year he has hit only 18 home runs and currently is batting .263 with 62 runs batted in.

The regular schedule of play has been completed. First, second and third places in the standings are decided. But the battle for fourth place continues to rage in the Midland Softball League. It will be decided once and for all Tuesday night when Rotary Engineers meet Shell in a one-game, sudden death playoff. Starting time will be 8 p. m.

Shell completed its schedule Monday night by knocking off the Rebels 16 to 12 in a game which was anybody's until the final inning. The lead changed hands frequently.

Shell was one-half game behind Rotary until they stopped the Rebels. Now the two are in a tie.

Richard Clark received credit for Monday's win. Griffin, Pyle and Hall hit homers for Shell.

Flea Bizzell was the losing pitcher.

The winner of the Rotary-Shell game will take fourth place in the league standings and a spot in the championship playoffs.

Western Plastic has cinched first. Standard and Joe's Gulf are tied for second.

It is expected the playoffs probably will get underway Wednesday or Thursday. League Commissioner Claude Watkins will announce the playoff schedule following Tuesday night's game.

Cops-Firemen Play Ball Tuesday To Benefit Joan

The Midland Fire Department and Midland Police Department baseball teams are scheduled to tangle in a benefit game at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday in Indian Park.

The tilt is being played to aid the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund. No admission will be charged but a collection will be taken between innings.

Fire Chief Jim Walker and Police Chief Jack Ellington will be the starting hurlers.

All baseball fans and others who like a bit of fun have been urged to attend. All money received will be turned over to the fund which is growing daily through contributions to help Joan Edwards back to health. She has been unconscious more than seven months, suffering from injuries received in an automobile crash.

Texas League—Cats Stretch Lead Over Oilers; Buffs Return To Bottom

By The Associated Press—Houston's Buffs may make it their first time in Texas League history.

For a few days it appeared the Buffs would escape that ignominy but Monday night they dropped in to last place once more as the result of a 6-5 defeat handed them by the league-leading Fort Worth Cats. That, combined with a victory by the erstwhile cellarites, the Beaumont Exporters, did the trick.

Monday night Fort Worth gained a game on second-place Tulsa — increasing its lead to three and a half games—through its victory over Houston and Tulsa's 1-0 loss to Beaumont.

Ray Shore hurled five-hit ball to give San Antonio a 2-1 victory over Dallas. An error by Leo Wells allowed the Missions to score the winning run in the seventh.

Les Burge sparked the Shreveport Sports to a 10-3 victory over third-place Oklahoma City. Burge hit a grand slam homer in the sixth. He also doubled.

Texasans Win Again In Semi-Pro Event

WICHITA, KAN.—(AP)—The 1949 National Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament is less than a week old, but unheralded Texas team already has established itself as a top contender for the title.

The Weimar, Texas, truckers upset the Mount Vernon, Wash., Mikmaids 4 to 1 Monday night to win their second start in the tournament. The Mikmaids placed third in last year's meet.

The Texas team includes 10 former University of Texas players. The University squad won the National Intercollegiate baseball title last June.

The double elimination tournament is expected to last about three weeks. It started August 19.

Midland Colts Win

The Latin American Colts of Midland Sunday blasted the Sweetwater Latin American Swatters 13 to 1 in a baseball game at the home of the Colts here. It was the first meeting of the two teams.

Coaches To Report On 1949 Bulldogs At Booster Meeting

Coach Tubboat Jones and Assistant Coaches Garvin Beauchamp, Red Rutledge, Joe Akins and Audrey Gill will give special reports on the prospects for the Midland football team at a meeting of the Bulldog Booster Club in the high school at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Club President M. A. (Red) Roberts urged all members and others interested in the Bulldogs to attend the meeting.

1949 membership cards will be distributed. New members will be accepted.

WT-NM League—Dukes Garner Pair; Lamesa, Lubbock And Amarillo Win

By The Associated Press—The Albuquerque Dukes have stretched their lead to six and a half games in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Albuquerque gained a half-game on second-place Lamesa Monday night by sweeping a twin bill from Clovis 8-2 and 14-9. Tom Brustinger allowed only six hits in hurling the Dukes to victory in the opener.

Frank Shone won his sixteenth mound victory of the year in the nightcap.

Lamesa Manager Jay Haney hit a three-run homer in the seventh to give Lamesa a 6-5 win over Abilene.

John Myers hurled six-hit ball to bring the Lubbock Hubbers a 9-3 win over Pampa. The win put the Hubbers in undisputed possession of fifth place.

Amarillo trampled Borger 23-4. Borger's Ken Sears, Pat Proulx and Earl Butler homered. Amarillo batters garnered 28 hits.

Baseball's First Woman Scout Is Honored At Dallas

DALLAS —(AP)—Mrs. Roy Largent, who as baseball's first woman scout sent some of the greatest players in the game to the big leagues, was honored and handed a flat full of greenbacks here Monday night.

Mrs. Largent was the central figure in ceremonies at home plate during the Dallas-San Antonio Texas League game.

An arthritis victim, Mrs. Largent, 66, was brought from her home in McKinney in an ambulance.

Monty Stratton, the former White Sox pitcher who returned to professional baseball although he lost a leg in a hunting accident and whose life story was made into a motion picture, was one of her prize discoveries on hand to greet the little lady of baseball.

She received $425 from the sale of prized autographed baseballs and other trophies.

Mrs. Largent and her late husband scouted for the Chicago White Sox 18 years.

TEXAS LEAGUE—Cats Stretch Lead Over Oilers; Buffs Return To Bottom

By The Associated Press—Houston's Buffs may make it their first time in Texas League history.

For a few days it appeared the Buffs would escape that ignominy but Monday night they dropped in to last place once more as the result of a 6-5 defeat handed them by the league-leading Fort Worth Cats. That, combined with a victory by the erstwhile cellarites, the Beaumont Exporters, did the trick.

Monday night Fort Worth gained a game on second-place Tulsa — increasing its lead to three and a half games—through its victory over Houston and Tulsa's 1-0 loss to Beaumont.

Ray Shore hurled five-hit ball to give San Antonio a 2-1 victory over Dallas. An error by Leo Wells allowed the Missions to score the winning run in the seventh.

Les Burge sparked the Shreveport Sports to a 10-3 victory over third-place Oklahoma City. Burge hit a grand slam homer in the sixth. He also doubled.

Texasans Win Again In Semi-Pro Event

WICHITA, KAN.—(AP)—The 1949 National Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament is less than a week old, but unheralded Texas team already has established itself as a top contender for the title.

The Weimar, Texas, truckers upset the Mount Vernon, Wash., Mikmaids 4 to 1 Monday night to win their second start in the tournament. The Mikmaids placed third in last year's meet.

The Texas team includes 10 former University of Texas players. The University squad won the National Intercollegiate baseball title last June.

The double elimination tournament is expected to last about three weeks. It started August 19.

Midland Colts Win

The Latin American Colts of Midland Sunday blasted the Sweetwater Latin American Swatters 13 to 1 in a baseball game at the home of the Colts here. It was the first meeting of the two teams.

Longhorn League—Pitchers Hold Edge In Four Loop Games

By The Associated Press—The pitchers held the edge over the hitters in the Longhorn League Monday night.

Y. B. Johnson hurled six-hit ball to give Ballinger an 8-3 victory over the league-leading Big Spring Broncos.

Leon Hayes tossed eight-hit ball as Midland shut out the Vernon Dusters 2-0.

Sam Hunter allowed only four hits as San Angelo downed Sweetwater 7-2.

And Odessa defeated Roswell 11-2 behind the nine-hit hurling of Ray Knoblauch.

Bulldogs Showing More Improvement

The Midland Bulldogs looked sharper than ever in squad scrimmage Monday as they opened their second week of training under Coach Tubboat Jones.

Much improvement in the timing is being shown and the backfield is running the plays faster.

The boys worked hard at blocking and tackling in the afternoon session.

Luther Mooney and Charles Crowley are showing improvement in the backfield.

The coaches continued to work the team on passing, both defensively and offensively.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail and I Shot An Arrow

The Huffen Puffen, that friendly wolf, had a bow and arrow. He went with the bow and arrow out on the Elephant Path. He put the arrow in the bow and shot it—high, high in the air. It shot up and up and up toward the sun. The Huffen couldn't see where the arrow came down. He waited and waited to hear it fall, but all he heard was the roar of a lion, far out in the Great Forest.

Executives and field men from the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, are in Albuquerque, N. M. This week attending a meeting of Boy Scout officials from Region Nine.

The conference began with registration Sunday and will continue through Friday. A banquet Friday night will bring the affair to a close.

Those attending from the Buffalo Trail Council are: P. V. Thomson, executive from Midland; H. D. Norris, assistant executive, Sweetwater; and field men S. G. Painter, Odessa, Rex Palmer, Peecos; E. E. Mullins, Snyder, and Jimmie Hale, Big Spring.

The group will return Saturday.

Iran Rancher Heads Rambouillet Breeders

SALT LAKE CITY.—Leo Richardson of Iran, Texas, was elected president of the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association Monday night.

He was named to succeed W. C. Olsen of Mt. Pleasant, Utah, at the organization's 61st annual meeting, held in conjunction with the national ram sale here.

R. O. Sheffield of San Angelo, Texas, was chosen a director.

MIDLANDERS ATTEND MEETING IN MEXICO

Four Midland representatives of State Reserve Life Insurance Company left Tuesday to attend their company's annual agency convention in Monterrey, Mexico.

By outstanding performance in their business, these men have won an all-expense paid trip to the six day convention.

The Midland group attending the conference includes Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chestnut, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Massey and Robert Ebeling.

PRESIDENT AROSEMENA OF PANAMA DIES TUESDAY

PANAMA, PANAMA.—(AP)—President Domingo Díaz Arosemena, 74, of Panama died Tuesday.

In failing health for several months, Diaz obtained a six months leave of absence from his post on July 28. The first vice president, Dr. Daniel Channins, Jr., was sworn in at that time as acting chief executive.

TEXAS WATER PROJECTS GET HOUSE APPROVAL
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Fifteen Texas flood control and water navigation projects are included in a House bill authorizing $1,114,000,000 federal expenditures. The measure passed Monday, 202 to 1. Senate action this session is doubtful.

Low Quota, High Standards Limit Navy Enlistments

"It takes a good man to get in the Navy now days," says Chief Gunners Mate Franklin Stewart, Stewart, from the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station in San Angelo, was in Midland Monday accepting applications for Naval enlistments. A quota of only three enlistments for the month of August was assigned the Seventh Recruiting Area (San Angelo station) of the Eighth Naval District with headquarters in New Orleans, according to Stewart. Of these three, two already have been filled and applications still are being accepted for the remaining one. Requirements for the Navy are high as a result of the established standards. An excellent scholastic record and above average physical qualifications will not necessarily assure entry. The applicant also must be of high moral character and furnish proof of this trait. "A rumor has been circulated throughout the nation that a high school diploma is necessary for entry in the Navy," Stewart said. "This is false because any applicant must be able to pass a rigid mental examination. If a grade of 60 or above is made, by either high school graduate or non-graduate, he is qualified mentally for entry." The San Angelo office has a recruiter in Midland every second and fourth Monday for interviews. He is stationed in the basement of the Post Office.

Oil Man Found Dead In Room At Hotel

PORT WORTH — (AP) — The body of J. Elmer Thomas, 57-year-old oil man and geologist, was found in his room at a hotel here Monday. Justice of the Peace Whit Boyd returned an inquest verdict of death from natural causes. His physician said Thomas had been in ill health five years. Thomas came back last month from Italy, where he investigated the oil reserve of the Po Valley for the Italian government. He was associated with the oil industry as a consulting geologist and economist for 10 years and from 1924 to 1940 was an oil operator in the Southwest and Mid-Continent areas. He had been connected with the federal government more than 10 years.

Texas Employment Hits Peak For Year

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas employment other than "down on the farm" was up in July and still going. Non-agricultural employment last month reached a peak of 2,314,600 for the year, the Texas Employment Commission reports. Predictions for September were for a further increase of 200 based on information from optimistic employers to the commission. Forecasts by the TEC for September see big gains in retail trade, medical and other professional services, construction and transportation. Governmental establishments are expected to furnish the only employment loss.

'Law West Of The Pecos' Now Boasts Force Of 27 Men

PECOS — (AP) — Things have changed since the days of Judge Roy Bean, the "law west of the Pecos" in frontier days. He ruled with one old law book and a six shooter. Now Pecos has 27 law officers. More cops per capita, Pecos believes, than any place in the country, including New York. Some range all over the far Pecos River country, clear down to Langtry on the Rio Grande. Langtry is where Judge Bean dispensed rough justice and raw whiskey from the Jersey Lily saloon, which he owned—tin cups, whisky barrel and all. Pecos has about doubled in size since its 1940 official population of 4,885, and now is headquarters for a wide assortment of law officers. First, there's the sheriff, Charlie Fitzgerald, and two deputies. Pecos has five city cops. And Jess Grammer is constable. The Texas Highway Patrol keeps six men at Pecos. Two extras are on duty now. The Texas Liquor Control Board has a man there. The State Game Commission has another. A sub-station of the U. S. Immigration Service is staffed by seven men. Also, there is a deputy U. S. Marshal. Where are the Rangers? For the first time in years, no Texas Ranger is assigned at Pecos.

Crude Output Rises Third Week In Row

TULSA, OKLA. — (AP) — The nation's crude oil production increased again during the week ended August 20, averaging 4,721,350 barrels daily, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday. This was an 8,500-barrel gain over the previous week and the third straight increase in domestic output. The Journal reported these states had the greatest advances: Illinois, up 1,400 barrels to 180,300 barrels; Michigan, up 1,050 barrels to 43,850; Oklahoma, 2,950 to 379,400; Mississippi, 5,000 to 98,550; California, 900 to 899,800. Indiana increased 500 barrels to 27,200; Kentucky gained 200 to 22,100; Florida was up 150 to 1,575, and Utah advanced 150 to 1,200. The largest decrease in production was in Kansas, which dropped 2,250 barrels to 265,350. Other losses included the Eastern areas down 400 barrels to 58,800; Alabama, off 150 to 1,100; Louisiana, 50 to 483,000; Nebraska, 100 to 500; New Mexico, 50 to 125,075; Colorado, 300 to 65,500; Montana, 200 to 26,500; and Wyoming, 300 to 128,700. Production was unchanged in Arkansas, 73,250 barrels and Texas, 1,838,200.

Col. S. J. McKee To Address Air Force Reserve Unit Here

Col. S. J. McKee, commanding officer of the Air Force Reserve Training Program at Brooks Field in San Antonio, will speak at a meeting of the 9818th Voluntary Air Force Reserve Unit here at 8 p.m. Thursday. The unit meets at Midland Air Terminal. Colonel McKee will cover the reserve training program in his address. All Air Force reservists and others interested in the program are urged to attend.

REV. HUBERT HOPPERS RETURN TO McALLEN

The Rev. and Mrs. Hubert Hopper and daughters left Tuesday for their home in McAllen after spending the last month visiting in Midland and other West Texas points. Mr. Hopper, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of McAllen, formerly was pastor of the Presbyterian Church here. Mr. Hopper participated in the acceptance service of the new building of Midland's Presbyterian Church August 21. Since that time the Hoppers have visited friends and relatives in Midland, Lubbock, Odessa, Marfa and Fort Davis. They spent the last week here.
