N-C Upton Prospect To Test In Fusselman

Petroleum possibilities of the Fusselman section of the Silurian at Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 Powell, Central-North Upton County deep prospector should be determined shortly.

This venture entered that formation at 12,200 feet, on an elevation of 2,888 feet.

A drillstem test was tried at 12,295-400 feet. The packer failed after 17 minutes and the test was considered unsatisfactory. Operator was pulling the tool at last report.

Samplings through the zone covered by the attempted test had shown some interesting signs of petroleum. It was planned to condition the hole and try another test early Thursday.

This wildcat, two miles south of the opener of the Pegasus field had shown possibilities of producing gas and distillate from the Devonian.

It is 860 feet from north and west lines of section 44, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S.

Midland Exploration Makes Show Of Gas

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2-30 Glass, Central-South Midland County deep exploration, and a northeast flanker to the opener of the Pegasus field just across the line in Central-North Upton County, showed a small amount of gas in a drillstem test in the Devonian at 11,898-758 feet.

The tester was open two hours. Gas showed at the surface in one hour and 30 minutes. It was estimated to have been at the rate of 3,000 cubic feet per day.

Recovery was 90 feet of heavily gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of oil or of formation water. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 125 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes, was 1,400 pounds.

Making More Holes

The prospector is making more holes below 11,778 feet in limestone and chert in the Devonian. It is due to run another drillstem test soon. Top of the Devonian is at 11,220 feet, 8,377 feet below sea level.

The location is 1,980 feet from west and 860 feet from north lines of section 30, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S.

In the Upton County side of the Pegasus area, and a southwest out-post to the discovery of that pool, Magnolia No. 1-36 Glass, 1,980 feet from north and 860 feet from east lines of section 36, block 41, TP survey, T-4-S, had reached 11,673 feet in the Devonian and was boring deeper.

This exploration topped the Devonian at 11,559 feet, 8,374 feet below sea level.

Contract On City Paving Is Deferred

Awarding of a contract on Midland's Group B paving project was deferred until Wednesday afternoon following the opening of bids by the City Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Only two firms, Brown and Root, Inc., of Houston, and Collins Construction Company of Austin, submitted bids, the lowest being considerably higher than the cost of paving in the Group A project which now is underway here.

The Brown and Root bid on the 154-block job was $498,712.33. The Collins Company bid was $505,123.71.

Brown and Root has the Group A paving contract. The overall bid on the Group B job is approximately $32,000 more than for comparable work on the Group A project.

The council decided to study the bids further and to take action Wednesday afternoon.

The two firms also submitted bids for special paving for B. G. Grafs in the Graffland Addition. Brown and Root bid $30,078.46, and Collins Construction Company, $30,490.38. Grafs did not announce his decision on the bids.

Wildcat Near Kelly Is Scheduled By Fields

Bert Fields of Dallas, is to start operations at once at a wildcat in Central Scurry County, one mile south and one-half mile east of the nearest completed producers from the Canyon line of the southeast side of the Kelly field.

The exploration will be Fields No. 1 Harrie and Wade Winston. It will be 860 feet from north and east lines of section 77, section 10, block 1, P. Smith survey.

Drilling to 7,000 feet to explore into the Canyon reef will be with rotary tools. The exploration is five miles southwest of Snyder and one mile south and one-half mile east of Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Winston, the Kelly field discovery.

Completion Is Filed On N-C Scurry Extender

Official completion has been reported from the W. A. Moncrief, Sr., Bop Hope, Bing Crosby, and Paul Teas No. 1 C. W. Hunkabe, North-Central Scurry County wildcat, which extended the North Snyder field one and one-half miles to the southeast.

On an official Railroad Commission potential test the well made a 24-hour initial production of 1,073 barrels of 43.5 gravity oil, and no water, flowing natural through a 32/64th inch tubing choke. The 24-hour potential was based on an actual 12-hour flow.

Case-oil ratio is 145-1. Flowing casing pressure was 200 pounds and flowing tubing pressure was 675 pounds.

The production was from open hole in the Canyon reef lime between the bottom of the 7-inch casing, cemented at 6,894 feet, and the total depth at 6,804 feet. Top of the pay was reported to have been at 6,475 feet.

This well is five miles northeast of Snyder and 860 feet from north and east lines of section 150, block 3, H&GN survey.

Gaines Wildcat Logs Oil, Gas And Water

Samedan Oil Corporation and Anderson Brothers and associates No. 1-E-A Andrews scheduled 12,500-foot wildcat to test the Ellenburger in the Robertson area of Central-South Gaines County, found some oil and gas and sulphur water in a lower Clear Fork zone in the Permian.

Those shows came during a two hour and 15 minute drillstem test at 7,095-185 feet. Gas showed at the surface in 21 minutes and condensed with a good blow throughout the remainder of the period.

Total recovery in the drill pipe during the investigation was 3,420 feet of fluid. After 12 stands of (Continued On Page Ten)

Armed Forces Will Chop Off Civilian Jobs

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson announced Wednesday the armed services will chop off 135,000 civilian jobs in his drive to slash military spending.

Anguished cries came quickly from congressmen whose home districts were hit by the proposed cutbacks. There were suggestions that the armed forces instead weed out "soft snaps, flunky positions and baby sitters."

Johnson told a gathering of the lawmakers at the Pentagon that the economy program is aimed at getting "a dollar's worth of defense for every dollar Congress gives."

"It goes back to my conviction not to tolerate a defense WPA," Johnson declared.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) agreed there shouldn't be a defense WPA but he said he doesn't "want to see a WPA elsewhere." He told Johnson that not only are 135,000 breadwinners losing their jobs "but the grocery store on the corner, the landlords and merchants will be affected too."

Some Solons Applaud

Cutbacks at individual installations drew sharp protests from Republican Senator Knowland and Democratic Representative Doyle of California, Representative Sikes (D-Fla.) and others.

But Johnson also got support. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said he agrees fully with the move.

"It is time," Ferguson added, "to call a halt in military spending."

Senator Hunt (R-Wyo.) and Representative Boykin (D-Ala.) also expressed approval.

Navy installations were the hardest hit in the civilian cut. They were ordered to reduce by 76,000, the Army by 41,000 and Air Force 18,000.

This program, going into effect immediately, will result in an estimated (Continued On Page Eleven)

States Renew Plea For Ownership Of Coastal Tidelands

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The states renewed their plea to Congress Wednesday for legislation to give them management of coastal submerged lands.

Hall Hammond, Maryland attorney general and chairman of the Submerged Lands Committee of the National Association of Attorneys General, presented the states' position on the Tidelands controversy to a House Judiciary subcommittee.

Hammond said the states have not abandoned their objective of securing outright surrender of any federal claim to ownership of the oil-rich coastal lands. But they will make major concessions if necessary, he said, to avoid another presidential veto. He referred to President Truman's veto of legislation to give title to the Tidelands to the states.

Bascom Giles, Texas land commissioner, testified that if the Interior Department bill is adopted, Texas would be deprived of $3,000,000 collected late in 1947 from the sale of oil leases in the Gulf of Mexico. The leases were sold in good faith, he said, on assurances from U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark that the California decision did not apply to Texas.

Attorney General Price Daniel of Texas was to be heard Wednesday afternoon.

Hurricane Roars Off Carolina Coast

MIAMI, FLA.—(AP)—A small but vicious tropical hurricane raged off the coast of North Carolina Wednesday as a new storm gathered strength north of Puerto Rico, a thousand miles away.

Hurricane warning flags flapped along a 45-mile stretch of the desolate upper Carolina Capes from Manito to Cape Lookout.

The Diamond Shoals Lightship, 20 miles off Cape Hatteras, radioed that it was in the thick of the hurricane.

"Wind estimated at 115 knots (about 130 miles per hour). Seas mountainous. Hope anchor will hold," the lightship messaged.

Meanwhile, the second hurricane of the season was growing larger and more vicious hourly.

"This storm could give us real trouble," Miami Chief Forecaster Grady Norton observed.

Atlantic Treaty Goes Into Effect

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The 12-nation Atlantic Pact binding North America and Western Europe in a common defense alliance went into force Wednesday.

The historic moment came at 10:42 a.m. (CST), when President Truman signed a proclamation declaring the treaty to be in effect.

Top-ranking officials of this country and most of the 11 other pact nations witnessed the signing at a White House ceremony.

Although the alliance frankly was formed under the threat of Russian aggression, Truman said in a statement "No nation need fear the results of the cooperation of the Western powers."

"This is a momentous occasion not only for all the signatories of the treaty," Truman said, "but for all people who share our profound desire for stability and peaceful development."

"By this treaty we are not only seeking to establish freedom from aggression and from the use of force in the North Atlantic Community but we are also actively striving to promote and preserve peace throughout the world."

Standing immediately behind Truman at the big desk in his oval office was Henri Bonnet, the French ambassador.

Bonnet had just deposited his country's "Instrument of Ratification" by which the French government formally notified the American government that it adhered to the pact.

The treaty, signed last April 4, pledges the 12 allies to strike back in case of an attack against any one of them.

City Joins County In Financing Cost Of Hospital Paving

The City of Midland will participate with Midland County in paving streets immediately adjacent to the Midland Memorial Hospital of the South and East. It was agreed by members of the City Council at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

The council voted to participate up to 50 per cent in the overall cost of the project. The motion was by Stanley M. Erskine, with Robert I. Dickey seconding. The vote was unanimous.

The Commissioners Court Monday afternoon voted to participate in the program.

Dr. John B. Thomas, Frank Stubbeman and George T. Abell, officials of Midland Memorial Foundation, appeared before the council to ask financial assistance in the street paving job. The hospital is located at the intersection of Illinois Street and the Andrews Highway and the adjacent streets are in Group A of the city's paving program.

Community Job

Dr. Thomas, spokesman for the trio, said the hospital is a community job, which he considers deserves financial support from the city and county. Neither has been asked for such support previously, he stated. He stressed the fact that all funds available will be needed to complete and equip the hospital and that the foundation is without money for street paving.

The overall cost of the paving will be approximately $5,000. About 1,000 feet of paving is to be done at the hospital site.

Negro Veteran To Enter University Medical College

AUSTIN—(AP)—A negro pilot in World War II, Herman Barnett, of Austin, will be a temporary student at the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston, University President T. S. Painter said Wednesday.

President Painter said details of Barnett's instruction had not yet been worked out. The university maintains a large negro hospital in Galveston.

"Barnett will register in the Texas State University for Negroes at Houston but will be given instruction at Galveston until facilities are set up in Houston for the work," he said.

Barnett was an honor graduate at Samuel Houston College in Austin this year. During the war he was a single engine pilot in the Air Corps, serving in the American Theater.

Posse Closes In On Man Sought In Double Slaying

BRIDGEPORT, TEXAS—(AP)—Hunters of the slayer of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mash reportedly were closing in on the accused man six miles southwest of here late Wednesday morning.

W. L. (Ike) Arwina, about 55, against whom murder charges were filed Wednesday, appeared at a farm house at about 9 a.m., frightening away two occupants.

They ran two miles to the nearest telephone to notify officers.

The alarm drew 50 armed men to the farm home of a widow, Mrs. E. E. Thomas.

The posse was pressing its search in the area of the woman's home. J. E. Mash, about 55, was found in a field outside his home Tuesday, a bullet wound through the chest.

Movement To Oust Morrow Beaten Down

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Democratic National Committee Wednesday ousted States' Rights members from Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

As expected, William M. Boyle, Jr., was elected national chairman, succeeding Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-R.I.).

The committee, involved in a hot, long-standing family row over the desertion last year of States' Righters, shouted its approval of recommendations for punishment handed down by a credentials committee.

The party purge was executed by voice vote.

Then the committee started debating whether to retain Wright Morrow as Texas national committeeman, as proposed by the credentials committee.

When the argument was over, the committee kept Morrow by a voice vote. It tabled a motion to unseat him offered by Byron C. Allen of Minnesota.

A large delegation of Texans had asked that the committee replace Morrow with Byron Skelton of Temple. They pointed out that the State Democratic Committee in September, 1948, had named Skelton as committeeman, thereby reversing its action in the Spring of 1948, when Morrow was named to the South Carolina Scrap.

The national committee went along with only half of a South Carolina compromise. It made sure in the process that the name of Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, the States' Rights presidential candidate, came off its membership rolls.

Senator Burnet Maybank was approved in his place. The compromise worked out in South Carolina had called for retention of Mrs. Anna A. Agnew as national committeewoman.

Mrs. Agnew says she voted the Democratic ticket in 1948 although she was elected by the South Carolina State Executive Committee on condition that Mrs. Agnew be kept on as committeewoman.

The retiring national chairman, Senator J. Howard McGrath, commented that the South Carolina committee could not direct the national committee and could merely suggest a line of action to it.

Maybank jumped to his feet to remind the national committee that he was elected by the South Carolina State Executive Committee on condition that Mrs. Agnew be kept on as committeewoman.

The retiring national chairman, Senator J. Howard McGrath, commented that the South Carolina committee could not direct the national committee and could merely suggest a line of action to it.

Maybank said he was in "a rather embarrassing position."

Later he told reporters: "I haven't taken my seat and I am not going to take my seat. We were (Continued On Page Eleven)

Midland Invites Pioneer

Midland Wednesday entered its bid for the headquarters of Pioneer Air Lines should the firm be forced to leave Houston as a result of losing its building and hangar facilities at a Houston airport.

City Manager H. A. Thomason said Pioneer officials have been advised Midland still is interested in having the Pioneer headquarters located at Midland Air Terminal. He said Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing, who is in Austin for a Highway Commission hearing, also contacted Pioneer officials in Houston and Dallas.

The Pioneer officials said Houston is making every effort to provide adequate space for the airline and there is considerable doubt the headquarters will be moved from that city.

The Midlanders were told, however, that should Pioneer leave Houston, Midland will receive every consideration as a possible headquarters location. A survey of facilities available here was made by the airline early this year.

Screen, Radio Star Leaves Wednesday After Midland Visit

Don Ameche, Hollywood star of screen and radio, and J. J. Nolan and son, Robert, and George Kohn, all of Chicago, Ill., will leave Midland by Pioneer Air Lines plane at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday for Fort Worth after checking on oil interests in this section of West Texas.

The visitors, who arrived here Sunday night, were flown to Snyder Tuesday afternoon by the Western Company. They inspected Nolan's lease on the southeast side of the North Snyder Field where Nolan now is drilling at 2,540 feet on his No. 1 Musgrove. The project is one-quarter mile north of the Moncrief, Hope, Crosby et al. No. 1 Hunkabe, which was completed for a 24-hour initial production of 1,080 barrels natural flowing to extend the North Snyder Field a mile and a quarter to the southeast.

They were accompanied on the Scurry County trip by Phil Yeckel and Edwin F. Alstrin, Midland oil men.

Ameche and Nolan are said to be long-time friends. Ameche, it was reported, is not interested financially in the Musgrove lease or in other oil properties in West Texas at this time. A source close to the movie actor said Ameche is getting acquainted with the oil business and might invest some money in Permian Basin oil properties at a later date.

General Mark Clark To Be New Chief Of Army's Field Forces

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark, one of the top generals in the last war, is the new chief of Army field forces.

Army Secretary Gray announced Wednesday that Clark, now Sixth Army commander at San Francisco, will succeed Gen. Jacob Devers, who is retiring in September after 44 years on active duty.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, now deputy chief of staff for plans and operations, is going to California to take over the Sixth Army.

Six-foot-two, white haired, ruddy faced Wedemeyer was the author of the long suppressed Wedemeyer report on China. This report was included in the white paper released by the State Department recently.

Clark, at the end of the last war, was in command of the 15th Army Group in Europe. This group was composed of the U. S. Fifth Army and the British Eighth Army. Until his return home to go to the West Coast he was postwar U. S. military governor in Austria.

A Hollow Note

The European recovery program now can go forward for another year without the fetters its opponents tried to clamp on it.

Foremost among those plans was that of Senator McClellan of Arkansas. He wanted to earmark about $2,000,000,000 of the $3,628,000,000 in the Senate's ECA appropriation bill to be used exclusively for the purchase and dumping abroad of American farm surpluses.

The Senate also struck down a scheme to hand Franco Spain a loan of $50,000,000, even though Spain is not one of the Marshall Plan countries.

The last big scrap came on an amendment by Senator Kem, Missouri Republican. He wanted to bar further aid to countries which are continuing to nationalize or socialize their basic industries.

Fortunately for the ECA program, it is free of all these handicaps. We hardly dare hope, however, that opponents of the plan will not try again at the earliest chance to weight it down in similar style.

In one important respect they succeeded this time. The Senate chopped 10 per cent off the amount of money voted by the House for ECA. Only strong Administration effort averted bigger House cuts, so the lower chamber is not likely to resist the Senate's reduction when differences between the two versions are reconciled.

The reduction does not seem wise. Allowances already had been made by the Administration itself for lower costs stemming from the lower American price level. Further slashes almost certainly will hurt the program, although ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman did not fight them.

"Economy" is a poor excuse for the ECA reduction. Coming from a Congress that can't bring itself to economize anywhere else, it doesn't ring true.

Until the lawmakers show enough spunk to apply the economy knife on some program closer to home, no sensible American voter is likely to give them credit for thinking about the taxpayer's pocketbook.

Jackie Goes To Bat

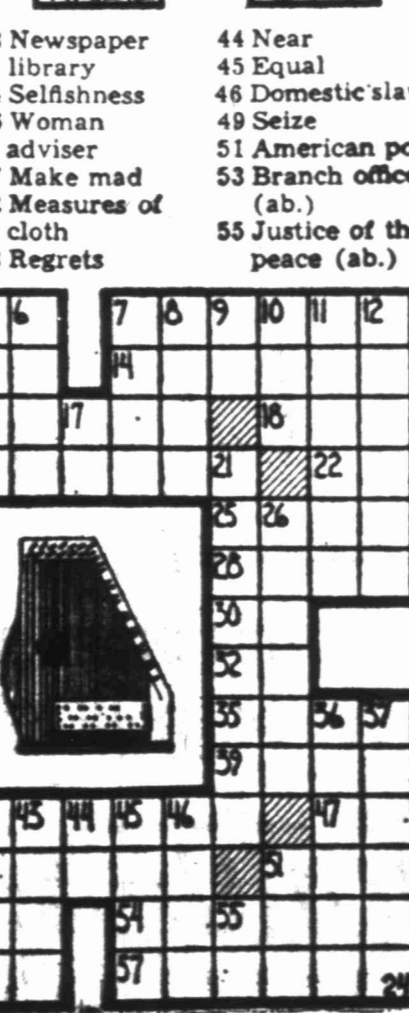

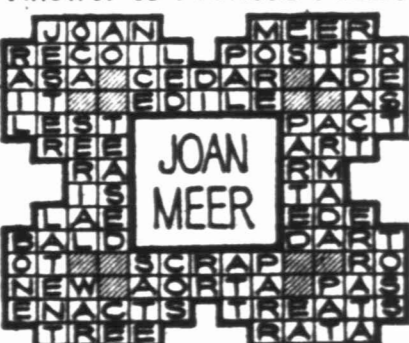

Jackie Robinson, the Brooklyn Dodgers' negro second baseman, was an able witness before the House Un-American Activities Committee on the issue of communism among negroes.

He declared his belief most negroes are patriotic, democratically-minded Americans who would stand with their country in war. This was in contrast to the statement of Paul Robeson, Communist negro singer, that people of his race would not fight against Russia.

WASHINGTON — Congress has not heard the last of government reorganization plan No. 1 to set up a Department of Welfare.
The Senate's turnaround has not cooled President Truman's determination to put the proposal through. He will make another try to get approval.

Flashback
The House Ways and Means Committee clamped a tight secrecy ban on the names of the three members who voted against the social security liberalization bill. They are Reps. Carl Curtis (R-Nebr.), Noah Mason (R-Ind.), and John Byrnes (R-Wis.).

Then, pointing at Rep. John Davis Dodge, (R-Conn.), Sabath added: "There sits the grandson of the man who led the fight against the League—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge."
For a moment, Lodge sat in stunned silence. Then, white with anger, he jumped to his feet and shouted, "The record will prove who is right."

I am sure that Mr. Truman is against the Stalinist state or brass-knuckie state; that Mr. Truman is against statism; that he doesn't know and doesn't believe that he carries the malignant germs of the police state around in his ideology.

My experience proves that the atom can save life as well as destroy. Today we stand on the threshold of a whole new era of scientific progress.

We are the only one of the 12 nations (in the Atlantic Pact) who has the atomic bomb. We are the only one capable of carrying out strategic bombing.

It is time that we realize that a government, like a family, will go broke if it continues to spend more money than it receives.

There is nothing healthy in an economic adjustment which brings unemployment to millions of workers, bankruptcy to large numbers of small business, and widespread curtailment of standards of living.

If the military requirements as stated by us in 1939 could have been met at that time by the necessary action, we could have whittled away six months of the war, saved about $50,000,000,000 and prevented hundreds of thousands of casualties.

Those who seek to "economize" an orderly decline into a depression are blind to the fact that their program would turn the United States into the horrible example of capitalistic failure which the men in the Kremlin desire above all else.

There are some rubber bridge players who go along picking up a trick here and there, never making an unbound bid, never taking a chance, but you will never find their game very exciting. It is a known fact to good rubber bridge players that penalties do pay off big.

H. S. Dinkelspiel, Jr., who used to be one of the outstanding players of New York, but gave up bridge for a good many years, gave me today's calamity hand. He told me he was going to do a little brushing up and come back into tournament competition.

When Dinkelspiel gave me his hand he said, "Mac, look the West hand over. South bid a heart and West bid one no trump, and he took only one trick. Doesn't that seem unbelievable? I said no, remembering the hand I wrote up several weeks ago where I held four aces and took only one trick.

Here is how the play went on today's hand. Dinkelspiel won North's opening lead of the ten of diamonds with the ace. He returned the ten of hearts. West played the jack, North won with the king, and returned the five of hearts. Dinkelspiel played the nine-spot which was allowed to hold the trick. He continued with the queen of hearts. West winning with the ace.

West elected to make a peculiar play. He led the ten of clubs, hoping to induce the opponents to take the trick. This establishing four good tricks. Dinkelspiel won the trick with the king. He cashed his two good hearts. The jack of diamonds was led and held the trick when West wisely played low. He shifted to the deuce of spades. North won the ace, then cashed all his good diamond tricks. A small spade was played and Junior won this with the king.

North and South won 12 tricks, setting the contract six tricks doubled, for a score of 1700 points.

Mexico Outlines Plan For Issuing Tourist Health Certificates

MEXICO CITY —(AP)—Tourists soon will be able to meet Mexico's requirements on polio exposure at the same time they get their tourist cards.

Foreign office orders to this effect were airtailed Tuesday to the Mexican consul in San Antonio. He in turn must relay the orders to all Mexican consulates in the U. S.

It may take a little time to set up the new system. Once going, it is planned to work as follows: A tourist will go as usual to a Mexican consulate and request a tourist card. He will be asked to declare that there have been no cases of infantile paralysis in his family, and that none of his family has been in contact with any cases during the last three weeks.

The consulate then will issue the tourist card together with a certificate of his declaration. These will get him into Mexico.

Change Of Location Doesn't Always Help Asthma Victims

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service
The term "asthma" was used by the father of medicine, Hippocrates, almost 400 years before the birth of Christ. It means, literally, hard breathing. It was not until almost the end of the seventeenth century that the word, however, was used in any other sense than to describe a person who was gasping for breath. Shortness of breath and wheezes in the chest are common symptoms of asthma. The physician is helped in the diagnosis by listening to the chest through a stethoscope, by examining X-ray films and by skin tests.

The seat of the trouble is principally in the bronchi, which are the small tubes leading from the main breathing tube, or trachea, into the lung tissue itself. The walls of these bronchi become thickened, narrowed and filled with mucus. Coughing is a signal.

Sometimes the bronchial tubes also undergo contractions or spasms which still further narrow the space through which the air can pass. This narrowing explains the shortness of breath—it is simply that not enough air gets through to the lungs. The coughing associated with asthma is nature's way of trying to enlarge the openings.

Asthma usually is due to allergy, that is, to sensitiveness of the patient to proteins outside his body.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. QUESTION: What could cause an infection after childbirth? Is this a common occurrence? ANSWER: Such infections are caused by germs. They are far less common than formerly due to the careful precautions taken by physicians at the time of childbirth.

These may be inhaled proteins like horse dander or something eaten. The best results from treatment are obtained when the protein responsible can be found and eliminated. Change of location or climate brings varying results—some are helped, others are not. A person with asthma who is forced to consider such a change, however, ought to give the new location a good long trial period before deciding on a new permanent residence.

Steps to the Moon

THE STORY: Narrated by her family to happy wealthy Barry Balbridge. Gaynel Teare has not yet made a decision because she is also quite fond of Fritz Fryman, a young newspaperman. Gaynel is the breadwinner of her family consisting of Emily, her widowed mother, brother Deany and younger sister Pat. Emily, whose vast possessions change so frequently that Gaynel calls them "interluma," has just sponsored a Little Theatre play and new at Barry's invitation. She, the cast, Gaynel and Pat are venturing on Barry's yacht of Mackinac Island. Then Pat suddenly takes over and Gaynel realizes it is appendicitis.

THE doctor said that was the situation. The appendix might burst. "We'll not take any such chance." It was easy to decide that much. "If only Doctor Carlie could operate. He understands Pat's condition. He's such a wonderful surgeon."

"The best will be none too good." The doctor's tone was gravely significant. "You mean you can't do it?" Gaynel's eyes widened with fear. "There's no one on the Island, no hospital, we could reach . . . Oh, Barry, what shall we do?" She turned to him, grasped his sleeve as though for support; she felt, in fact, as though she were faint. This was much more than she had counted on, been prepared to meet.

"Then that's what we'll have," Barry made this decision. "The best. I'll radio for a Coast Guard amphibian, or if we can't get that, a private one. Another radio to Doctor Carlie will take care of the dinner. Get Francis to send you plenty of ice and towels. We'll do everything for Pat there. It's to be done, if it's as bad as you fear, Gaynel."

It was every bit that bad. The doctor Barry brought back in what seemed like an eternity to Gaynel as she fixed and changed ice packs, said there was no guess-her, of course. Leave everything else to me, my dear." Pat was sleeping; the doctor had given her something to deaden the pain. Her hair was all awry; the scarlet lips drawn and pinched; the sweet young face so still and white. She looked as the night look in death. Gaynel dropped by her side, buried her head for a moment, shaking with sobs she tried in vain to suppress. Her little sister . . . if anything happened to her . . . On the ceiling, she could not bear it, could not bear even the possibility of such a thought.

BARRY sent word the amphibian could make it in less than an hour. A radio had been received it was on its way; they had been fortunate in reaching the Coast Guard. The hospital had been reached, too; Doctor Carlie would have everything in readiness.

Gaynel shed her shorts, got into some clothes, packed a bag. She would sit by Pat now; she was beginning to stir and strike out blindly and murmur short incoherent phrases.

Miss Cupples had another patient; Emily had collapsed when Barry had broken the news to her. Gaynel would have to see this through alone.

Not slack either, it seemed, after the big drama, had been set down by the side of the yacht and Pat had been lowered in the dory by the davits and Gaynel prepared to climb in. 'oo. She turned first to give her hand to Barry, to try once more to express the deep gratitude she felt. She said, "Good-by—and thanks," trying to smile for him the best she could, to show him the things in her heart that could not be put into words just then.

"But it's all goodby. Did you think I'd let you go alone? You should know better than that, Gaynel."

She wondered in that moment how she could doubt that she loved him. She ought to know that, too. "What a fool she was! As soon as Pat got through that . . . was well again, she would give Barry the answer he wanted.

Confessions Of Engel, The Romantic Swindler

By SIGMUND SAMUEL ENGEL As Told To Elgar Brown (Copyright, 1948, Chicago Herald-American)

Invading the Argentine for the purpose of rescuing women from the twin burdens of loneliness and wealth, I chose to portray the role of a big-scale North American cattle dealer. Okay, snipers, so I was a phony; I was putting on an act. Ninety per cent of the people in this world are putting on an act about 90 per cent of the time.

I don't argue that it's right, but let's be realistic. Why do humans behave as they do? To impress other humans. Why impress other humans? Either to build up the old ego or to acquire money under false pretenses.

Women, too, are human (let's not have any unseemly debates on this point), and among their sex that 90 per cent estimate may be too low. At least I have missed the pleasure of meeting the 10 per cent who behave naturally.

Consider Camille Desmoul, who married into one of Buenos Aires' mightiest coffee and meat producing families. Study her motives as well as mine.

Lacked Security If she had felt the financial and social security that her position seemed to betoken, and if I'd been presented to her as a run-of-the-mill character, she wouldn't have bothered to give me a tumble.

But she wasn't secure at all; she was on the verge of being divorced and booted out of the Clan Desmoul. And I wasn't of the common or garden variety; I was a fabulously wealthy American—remember? So she "fell in love" with me.

I made this procedure as easy for her as possible. In Buenos Aires, as elsewhere, I was able to dig up a key friend who introduced me to the "right people." (The higher the social level, the more reserved, the richer the mixture of fakery.)

Mme. Desmoul and I met, then, under extremely favorable circumstances. I was already beyond middle age, but I was seemed in dignity and my sophistication and courtliness made whispered tales of my rich background seem very credible.

Had Single Flaw Camille was a South American jewel with a single flaw. Her lush beauty was undeniable—but a little too lush. I would have preferred a bit more streamlining here and there; but in a short time this became a trivial detail.

We seemed to share a strong romantic attachment. There is a romantic aura about Buenos Aires the like of which I've seldom encountered. Any land where "time out for love" is the rule becomes a fertile field in my profession.

I proceeded cautiously with Camille, a married woman; as I have said before, it was a lifelong precept to pass up women encumbered by marriage.

On one of our early horseback rides across her husband's miles and miles of cattle range, however, Camille gave me the lowdown in a plaintive outburst.

She was a wretched, bewildered woman, abused and ignored and insulted by a mate with a dozen consorts. I gathered that only a half million or so in her own bank account stood between her and total despair.

"Ramon wishes to rid himself of me," she sighed, speaking of her husband, "and even now is deep in an affair with Senorita de Capu. Only his family position and the fear of scandal protects me."

Advice Is Late "Seems simple," I suggested. "Beat him to the punch. Divorce him."

She smiled wanly and shrugged her pretty shoulders. "But this I have thought of," she replied. "This I have tried. I have had Ramon trapped in a hotel with one of his women. I have sought to file action."

"Alas, he is all-powerful. He is president of corporations, director of banks, corrupter of politicians and judges. They won't even let me proceed."

In due time I learned that this was true. Camille was virtually a slave in the House of Desmoul. This she wouldn't have minded, I'm sure, but for the knowledge that in Ramon's own sweet time she would be discarded.

And I sized up her interest in me in clear perspective. She was a shrewd little gold-digger, for all her luxurious facade. To her I represented a golden chance to break out of prison and to insure a lifetime of wealth and ease.

Ergo, she loved me. Which is to say that she became a phony, and her motive was identical with mine. The difference was that she had a half million in the bank and I was just then scraping the bottom of my reserve barrel.

In the beach hacienda I'd taken for my Argentine sojourn I pondered the problem from all angles. I knew it would be necessary to retain the support of my "rich background." This I felt confident I could do, though not easily.

"I have your solution," I told Camille next day. "Desmoul is impregnate in Argentina, but his influence doesn't extend elsewhere. Very well; run away.

Suggests Reno "There's a wonderful place in the United States called Reno. There you can win a divorce without question which will stand up anywhere. And, my darling, when you are free to fly to Reno, Camille, and I shall follow."

Her love was very phony and her business sense was very sharp. She wouldn't have gone for this plan, I'm convinced, but for the gooding knowledge that Ramon would soon kick her out—and a belief that my millions would serve her well.

She went for it all right, and with such eagerness that I was emboldened, just before she left, to speak laughingly of "certain business involvements" which were tying up my available cash.

"But my sweet," she beamed, "this gives me my chance to be of use to you. And if her offhand gift of $50,000 seems lacking in sagacity, one must remember she was playing for what she deemed were very big stakes indeed.

That gift was in currency, with no strings at all. I had won the first round and I was tempted to let the game at this point. I resisted this urge, knowing there was more where that $50 grand came from. I, too, flew to Reno.

Camille, using her own name, was elegantly ensconced at the Riverside Hotel. I took quarters nearby, and seeing no reason for subterfuge I, too, registered as Sigmund Z. Engel, Esq. (My flowing signature probably is still on file.)

Gay Six Weeks The next six weeks were gay and carefree ones for all hands, including as variegated a parade of party guests as I ever saw. Camille wanted only to have merriment, comfort, company and my constant and devoted courtship.

Since my current inamorata had developed a charming habit of picking up all the checks, I entered willingly into the spirit of the period. Always I've loved to see money being spent; possibly because so little of it is ever my own.

Reno is costly at best. Camille greeted all countrymen with special fervor and parties setting her back $1,000 to $5,000 per copy. I had retained for her a $2,000 lawyer. There was a $1,500 weekly rate on her sumptuous hotel suite.

None of this bothered me as much as the $1,000 a week I had to pay out of "my" $50,000 for hotel quarters. In the fourth week, with canny timing, I applied pressure in a way that I knew would be productive.

Broke Again "My biggest business deal is coming to a head," I explained to Camille over a secluded breakfast table. "I must fly east. I am—ha ha—broke again."

The gal was aghast. "I cannot spare you," she said, pointing like a spoiled brat. "Precious, you are indispensable. Here—use my money and delay the trip."

I had rapped out another $50,000 home-run. She'd been maneuvered into the position of forcing the money upon me. My protests were in vain. Why? Because I'd never given her the shadow of a doubt about my "solid financial position."

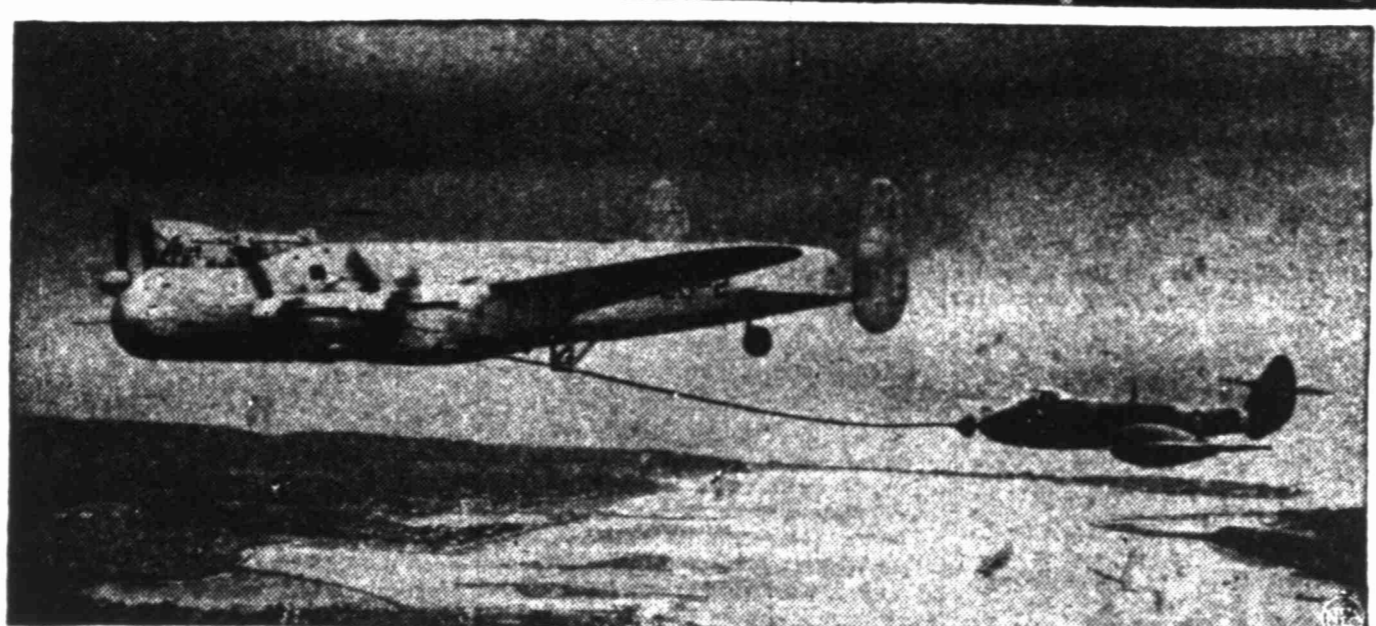

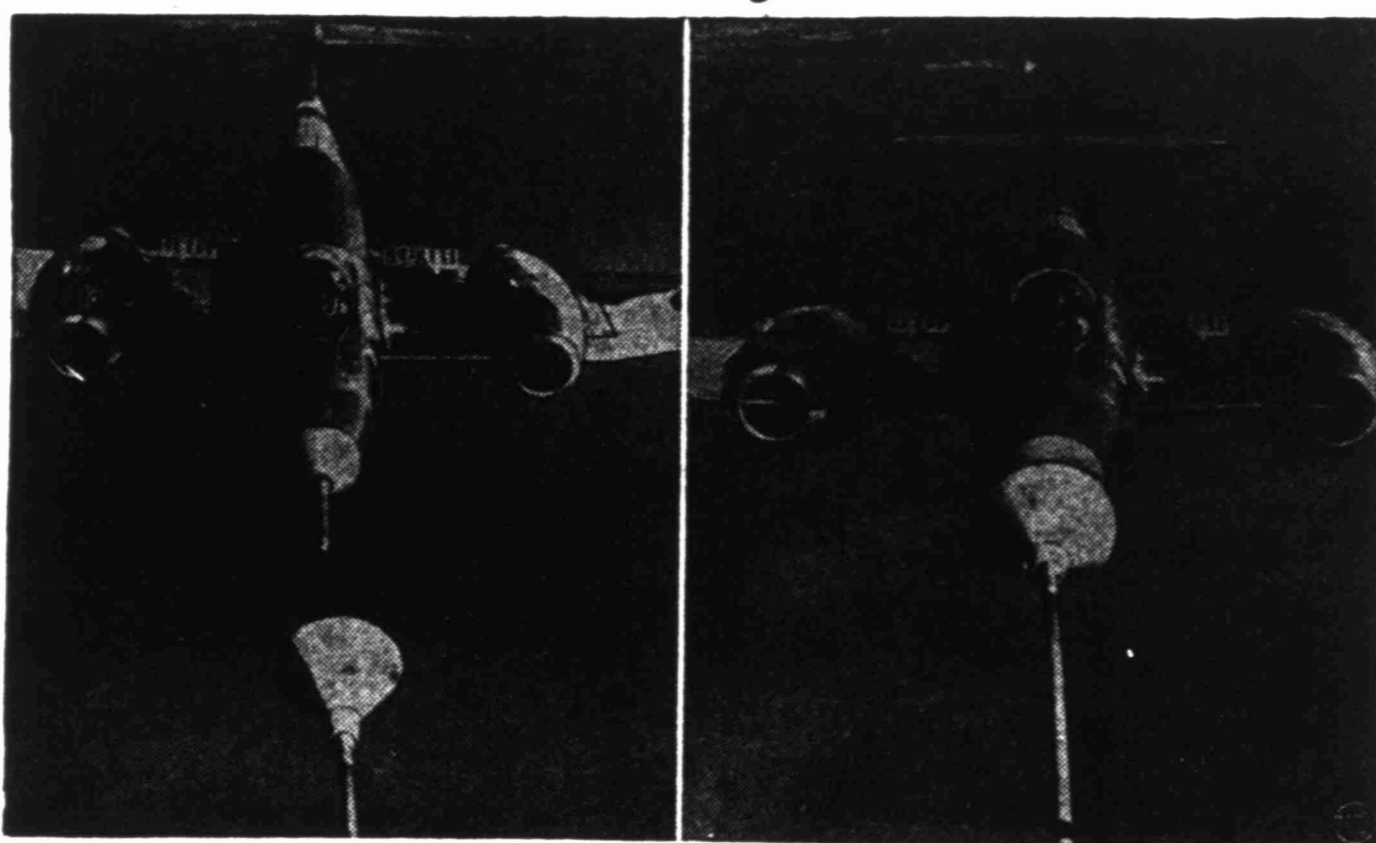

So another conniving female was taken. Her divorce issued on time, and for a brief, dizzy spell I actually considered marrying Camille. After all, she still had around $40,000, a consoling amount in any language.

Reason returned through a strange channel. I got to thinking about how fat Camille had become. So I made a smooth exit, gallantly proclaiming my love and agreeing to join her within the month down in Buenos Aires.

Me return to the Argentine? There never was a chance. Ramon Desmoul might still be lked at the way I helped his unwanted wife outsmart him. I understand those Latin fellows are funny that way. No sense of humor.

(In the next installment Engel invites you to peek over his shoulder at the fan mail he's receiving in his Chicago cell.)

'My Head Says Slay, But My Feet Won't Cooperate,' Negro Tells Cops After Chase

Officers from the Midland Sheriff's Department, Midland Police Department, Martin County Sheriff's Department, a Texas Ranger and several special officers went on the wildest chase of the year about noon Tuesday. But now they are wondering just what was accomplished.

A negro who gave his name as James Moore walked into a cafe in the negro section and told the operator he had been shot. Officers were called and Moore took off. He jumped in an automobile and made tracks toward Stanton.

Police Chief Jack Ellington gave chase and radioed for help from Stanton and other Midland officers. The negro ran his car into a post when he turned on a dirt road just this side of Paul. He left the car and headed for the bushes afoot. Ellington and other officers gave chase. After an hour of footing it in the hot sun, the subject was apprehended.

Now officers are wondering what

Ward Ex-Convict Held In Bludgeoning Slaying Of Father

HAMBURG, ARK. (AP)—A Texas ex-convict was charged with murdering his father, a peace officer who helped obtain his son's freedom.

Prosecutor John F. Gibson, Dermott, Ark., said Tuesday that Hugh White, 40, Little Rock, Ark., admitted fatally beating his father, City Marshal Mead W. White, 64, of Portland, Ark., Saturday night.

"He gave no motive," Gibson said. "In fact, he said he had none."

Marshal White died Sunday in a Lake Village, Ark., hospital. The son, who had been living with his father, first reported his father was attacked by a stranger at his home.

Gibson said he will file a motion to have White committed to the state hospital for nervous diseases for mental observation.

White was sentenced to 40 years from Ward County, Texas, June 2, 1939, for the murder of G. H. Weaver on March 29, 1939.

His father appeared before the Texas Parole Board seeking clemency for his son. Then Gov. Coke Stevenson granted a conditional pardon on Jan. 20, 1944.

Gibson said White told him the Texas slaying was under similar circumstance, "on an impulse."

Tugboat Jones Reports On 1949 Bulldogs At Meeting

"It looks like a rough year but we'll win some ball games," Coach Thurmon (Tugboat) Jones told the Bulldog Booster Club at its meeting Tuesday night in the high school. About 25 persons attended. Jones was introduced by Paul Hicks, formerly of Wichita Falls. Hicks brought the assembly up to date on Jones' career in the coaching field and assured them that the man who brought Wichita Falls some of the best teams in its history would do the same for Midland in a few short years. "The team not only is short on reserves, it also is short on starters," Jones asserted. "We of the coaching staff are very well pleased in the spirit evidenced by the boys. Green though most of them are, we are bound to improve and win some games that we aren't supposed to because boys who want to win had enough just can't be beat game after game." "Several Seniors are on the squad but they have had little experience. It is those 15-year-old boys with three years to go that will bring Midland to the top of the football heap before they graduate," he stated. "Don't count us out on our first game with Ysleta. We don't know what they have and don't know what we can do in competition but the way those boys want to win, nothing is impossible." The meeting was presided over by its new president, M. A. (Red) Roberts. Plans were discussed for selling the remaining season tickets. The club will meet weekly during the football season to view pictures of the preceding Friday's game and to discuss mistakes and improvements. A special meeting was called for next Tuesday night so organization plans may be completed. When pitchers Al Brazle of the Cards and Herman Wehmeier of the Reds met recently but were after their sixth successive pitching victory, Brazle blanked the Reds, 8-0, perience. It is those 15-year-old boys with three years to go that will bring Midland to the top of the football heap before they graduate," he stated.

Dusters Nip Indians 4-3

The Midland Indians complete their series with the Vernon Dusters in Vernon Wednesday night. Ernie Nelson is scheduled to hurl against Al Richardson. The Tribe moves to Big Spring for a two-game series Thursday and Friday.

VERNON—Harry Scherting slashed a triple into deep centerfield in the last half of the ninth here Tuesday night to drive in the winning run in a 4 to 3 tilt against the Midland Indians. The Indians led most of the way until the Dusters knotted the score in the eighth.

Claude Horton, Midland hurler, saw his possible victory swept away by a costly error that let the winning run on base.

The Indians opened with one run in the first on a single by Warren Sliter and a single by Lou Dawson. Scherting Homers.

Scherting poled a home run over the centerfield scoreboard to tie the count for Vernon.

Both teams went scoreless until Midland pushed across two in the sixth. Sliter again led off with single and Dawson doubled him home. Julian Pressley followed with a single to plate Dawson.

Vernon started inching up. They got one in the seventh on three singles, added another in the eighth on two walks and a single to tie the score and won it on Scherting's triple in the ninth with Johnston on base.

ROSEN HITTING ON COAST

SAN DIEGO—(AP)—Al Rosen appears to be hitting his way back to the Cleveland Indians. Optioned to San Diego early in July after hitting only 158, Rosen's first six hits with the Padres were for extra bases—two doubles, a triple and three homers.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Cards, Bums Split As All Three AL Leaders Go Down

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like the tree, pennant talk is growing in Brooklyn once again.

Preacher Roe, slim 31-year-old lefthander of the Dodgers, is responsible for the fanning of the Dodger pennant flames.

The Dodger outlook was gloomy until Roe, working with only two days' rest, beat the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 at Ebbets Field Tuesday night in the second half of a day-night double-header. Stan Musial and associates took the afternoon game, 5-3, to move three games ahead of the Brooks. The Brooklyn night win left the Dodgers only two games behind the Cards.

WT-NM League—

Ablene, Amarillo Crowd Lamesa For Second-Place Spot

By The Associated Press

Three West Texas-New Mexico League clubs—Lamesa, Abilene and Amarillo—are locked in a bitter battle for second place in the standings. First-place Albuquerque lost Tuesday night to Clovis 15-14, but still holds a comfortable six and a half game lead over second-place Lamesa.

Clovis' Bill Rosin allowed twenty hits, but was credited with the victory.

Third-place Abilene's Will Roca hurled three-hit ball as the Blue Sox shut out Lamesa 6-0. Abilene now trails Lamesa by only half a game. George Sturdivant and Stubby Greer homered for Abilene.

Crawford Howard hit two two-run homers to lead fourth-place Amarillo to a 9-5 victory over Borger. Amarillo trails Abilene by one game.

Lubbock's three-run rally in the ninth fell one run short of evening up matters and Pampa won the game 6-5.

Meanwhile, all three pennant contenders in the American League race were defeated. The league-leading New York Yankees were thrashed 8-4 by the Tigers at Detroit. The runnerup Boston Red Sox were upset by the seventh-place Browns 5-4 at St. Louis. The third-place Cleveland Indians bowed 4-2 to the Washington Senators in Cleveland. Braves hold third slot.

The Philadelphia Athletics retained fourth place, one percentage point ahead of Detroit, as Joe Coleman pitched and helped bat the A's to a 4-2 victory over the White Sox in a night game at Chicago.

The Boston Braves protected their one-game third-place margin over the Philadelphia Phillies in the National loop, defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2 while the Phillies edged the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 in 13 innings.

In New York, the Chicago Cubs barely outlasted the Giants 7-5 after Doyle Lade had pitched a two-hit shutout for eight innings.

Max Bishop, U. S. Naval Academy baseball coach since 1928, played in three World Series—1929, 30 and 31—with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Miss Play

There appears to be too much talking in huddle as College All-Stars get together in Chicago for care of Alexis Helen, two-months-old daughter of Northwestern center, Alex Sarkistan, holding diaper. Notre Dame guard Bill Fischer handles bottle while Mississippi's Barney Poole, right, gives instructions. Interested onlookers behind sofa, left to right, are Oregon's Norm Van Brocklin, Center Chuck Bednarik of Penn., and Washington State halfback Jerry Williams.

SPORTSLANTS

BY SHORTY SHELburnE

Naturally the Big Spring Broncos are the only team in the Longhorn League which has clinched a place in the first division and a playoff berth. The Broncos have done better than that, almost. They are far enough ahead of the second place team almost to have a clinch on first place, mathematically speaking.

The Vernon Dusters also look like a good bet to finish in the first division.

The Midland Indians have just 22 more games to play, including the last one at Vernon Wednesday night and two makeup tilts. The Tribe has a little bit of a geographic edge in the remaining games.

Eleven of them will be played on the home field. And that's something, considering that more than half the wins the Indians have registered this year have been in their home park.

However, some of the toughest clubs in the league will be visiting here in the stretch drive.

The Indians return home Monday night with the Roswell Rockets. Previously this season, the Indians have whipped the Rockets six out of seven times here. The only win for the visitors was on opening day to spoil Harold Webb's debut in the 1949 season.

It will be three games against the Rockets.

But, the Indians have to visit that New Mexico city once more this year, also for three games. Two are on the regular schedule and the other is a makeup of the "stalling-speedup" tilt which was rained out, according to the official ruling of President Hal Sayles.

On the heels of the Rockets come the Vernon Dusters for a three-game series on the reservation.

Harold Webb and his nine have managed to salvage only one game out of seven against the Dusters in Indian Park.

The battle for second place and to stay in the first division will be at its peak when Bob Huntley and Company move in. It should be one of the best diamond shows of the season.

Wednesday's game is the last for the Indians in Vernon in the regular season of play.

The Big Spring Broncos are here for a pair September 8 and 9. Surprisingly enough, the Indians have won two from the Broncos here this year—one more than they have won from Vernon.

The only win by Midland at Big Spring was Glenn Patton's one-hitter early in the season.

The Broncos hold a six to two edge in Indian Park.

The Indians are in Big Spring Thursday and Friday for their final series there.

The Ballinger Cats, a coming club with plenty of power, are scheduled here September 10 and 11 to wind up the regular season. A double-header will be played on one of the days to make up a tilt rained out in June.

The Indians hold a four to three edge in wins here.

Ballinger also gets another shot at the Indians there September 4 and in a double-header September 5.

The Indians visit Oiler Park in Odessa Saturday and Sunday to finish up with the men of A. D. Ensey. Midland has won three and lost five to the Oilers in Oiler Park to date.

For the season, Midland holds an 11 to seven edge, assuring more than an even split with their arch-rivals in 1949.

That's the way things look for the remainder of the season. By winning at least half of the remaining games the Indians can walk into the playoffs easily enough.

In fact, they probably could get in with a lesser amount of wins.

Ballinger, now in fifth place, is the team to watch out for. We meet the Cats six more times and there's an outside chance they could fatten their place in the standings by taking a majority of them.

The Cats and San Angelo will tangle in five games which could mean much to both teams. They are scheduled in San Angelo next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and in Ballinger September 6 and 7. Those five could tilt the tale for fourth place.

Apples, apricots, cherries, peaches, raspberries, and strawberries all are members of the rose family.

English Schoolboy Conquers Channel; Cuban Tries Again

DOVER, ENGLAND—(AP)—Philip Mickman, 18, conquered the tricky waters of the English Channel Tuesday after two previous unsuccessful tries. The plucky Yorkshire schoolboy, who swam the gruelling distance in 23 hours and 48 minutes, was the first to make it this year.

Mickman swam the last few miles in darkness and drizzling rain. He waded ashore at Kingsdown, seven miles northeast of Dover, at 5:33 a.m. British Summer Time (10:33 p.m. CST, Tuesday), his associates said.

Meanwhile, Cuban Swimmer Cortinas plunged into the water at Cap Gris Nez, France, at 5:25 a.m. Wednesday for his second channel attempt this month.

Congratulations from Shirley After reaching shore at Kingsdown, Mickman boarded the boat that accompanied him on the swim and returned to Dover.

Smiling broadly, the chunky schoolboy walked up the beach at Dover wrapped in a huge blanket.

Mickman was hustled into a hot bath to get rid of the heavy coating of grease which had protected him from the chilly channel water. Reporters were asked to leave the boy alone for the time being.

Shirley May France, Somerset, Mass., high school girl, who hopes to make the channel swim this season, was among the first to congratulate Mickman.

Texas Asks Non-Split Duck Hunting Season

AUSTIN, P.—A continuous instead of split six-week duck season for Texas hunters has been requested by the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

The commission's executive secretary, Howard Dodgen, said he had written the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service asking the season be set from November 4 to December 18. At present the dates have been fixed from November 4 to November 21 and from December 21 to January 7.

A reply is expected next week, Dodgen said.

American League umpire Bill Summers, a former boxer, began umpiring in 1921 in the Eastern League.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail At Huffen House

The Huffen Puffen had shot an arrow into the air. He should have been careful. Down had come the arrow on a lion, "Kersnack!" and there came the lion now with the arrow in his hand.

Snick, snick, snick, and there the door was locked and bolted. No lion was going to get hold of the Huffen Puffen. No sir, and no sirree.

The Huffen stood there by the door a minute. He listened. Everything was strangely quiet outside, and so the Huffen began to be frightened again. His knees went clicket click, clicket click together.

"Ooooh!" said the Huffen. He ran for his hollow tree house. He ran in the door and slammed it.

"Ooooh!" said the Huffen. "Oh, Huffen Puffen," the voice behind him said again. It was a quiet voice, because it belonged to Daddy Ringtail. Daddy Ringtail wasn't a lion. Daddy Ringtail was a monkey, and a very dear friend. The Huffen began to chuckle.

The Huffen began to laugh. He told Daddy Ringtail how he had thought the voice behind him was his frightened voice. "Ooooh! Ooooh! Ooooh!"

"Oh, Huffen Puffen," the voice behind him said again. It was a quiet voice, because it belonged to Daddy Ringtail. Daddy Ringtail wasn't a lion. Daddy Ringtail was a monkey, and a very dear friend. The Huffen began to chuckle.

Sex-Crazed Man Kills Young Niece, Then Shoots Self

DETROIT —(AP)—Nine-year-old Barbara Jean Aberl was found strangled to death in a marsh near here Tuesday night. A blue jumper was knotted about her throat.

Her ne'er-do-well uncle, Arthur Mayer, 30, scrawled a suicide note relating he killed the girl to keep her from telling of his sex advances.

Searchers stumbled on to the little body in a suburban township northwest of here near a mill pond. It was curled in a crude grave just where the sex-crazed uncle said he placed it.

Six hours earlier, the body of Mayer was found in a woods four miles away by Boy Scouts who aided State Police in a two-day search.

A rough map sketched by Mayer before he shot himself through the head led searchers to the girl's body.

Mayer's suicide note told of his sexual abnormalities, family troubles and personal debts. Then he told of Barbara.

"I don't know what came over me to take indecent liberties with her. When she said she would tell what I did to her, I knew I had to take her life. xxx"

For Photographs—Do Your Christmas Shopping Now, Is Midland Studio Plea

No snow or ice predicted for tomorrow, let's see about Christmas. Next month you'll say "I've just got to get down to the Midland Studio and have them make my picture, but I just can't do it because all these leaves in the front yard have to be raked up and burned."

Next week: "Hello, operator, give me 1003." (That's the Midland Studio phone number) "What, is that line still busy? Oh well, I'll call them next week."

Try Again
Week after next: "Too busy, just didn't have a chance to do anything. The neighbors didn't rake their leaves; the wind blew them in our yard. . . . damn!"

At last you make connection: "Hello, operator, give me 1003" (hello girls don't discuss their problems with the customers; but she is thinking about all those plugs she has worked out on Midland Studio's number). That's the 10-001st person calling the Midland Studio this morning. Wonder what goes on over there at 317 North Colorado Street? Are they giving away 10-dollar bills?

No 10-dollar bills. . . but a lot of people are having their photographs made for Christmas. They have found the perfect gift. Yes, a truly fine photograph is the finest of gifts, whether yours is for a friend, relative or business associate.

Oil And Gas Log—

dry pipe had been pulled 2,640 feet of oil was unloaded.

Then when the tester was pulled recovery was 90 feet of free oil, and 690 feet of sulphur water. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 800 pounds to 1,250 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 2,700 pounds.

The exploration is drilling ahead below 3,365 feet in liner line in the Robertson field produces from three zones in the middle and lower Permian. However the section which showed the oil, gas and water in No. 1-E-A Andrews is below either of the three horizons making oil in the Robertson area.

The prospector is 660 feet from north and west lines of the north-west quarter of section 19, block A-24, pal survey, and 15 miles southwest of Seminole.

North Snyder Flanker Staked By Dancier

Dancier Oil & Refining Company has staked location for its No. 1 L. N. Perriman on the west side of the North Snyder field and outside of the proven area for production from the Canyon line in North-Central Scurry County.

Location is 467 feet from north and east lines of southwest quarter of section 394, block 97, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 7,000 feet. Operations will begin at once.

This project is about nine miles north of Snyder.

Pecos Deep Venture May Be Abandoned

Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Trees, North Pecos County deep well, seven miles southwest of Grandfalls, and 660 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of the northwest quarter of section 90, block 8, H&GN survey, is reported to be preparing to plug and abandon on a total depth of 11,601 feet in Ellenburger lime.

Top of that formation was at 11-126 feet, on a datum of minus 8-630 feet. That formation has shown only salty and sulphur water. None of the higher horizons developed any possibilities of production.

This failure is one and one half miles west of the discovery well of the Santa Rosa field and distillate field. That production is from the Ellenburger. The No. 1 Trees is extra low, geologically to the opener of the Santa Rosa field.

Pecos Wildcat Makes Water In Ellenburger

Humble Oil & Refining Company San Pedro Lander & Cattle Company, North Pecos County wildcat, five miles southeast of the Heiner field, took a drillstem test at 5,238-5,528 feet in the Ellenburger.

Recovery was 2,730 feet of muddy sulphur water, with no shows of oil or gas. The venture is coring ahead below 5,586 feet.

There is a possibility that after more of the Ellenburger is penetrated operator will plug back and test the top of Ellenburger between about 5,240 feet and the top of the water in the horizon.

This exploration is 18 miles north of Fort Stockton, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 2, J. C. Duvall survey.

Upton Venture Gets Gas Shows On DST

Slight shows of gas were developed on the Devonian in a drillstem test at Humble No. 1 Pembroke, Northeast Upton County wildcat six miles north of the Benedum field, and 660 feet from north and 2,247 feet from east lines of block X, C. C. DeWitt survey.

The test was at 11,692-764 feet. The tester was in the hole two hours, but the packer failed after 80 minutes.

Recovery was 150 feet of drilling mud, 1,770 feet of water blanket, very slightly cut with gas in the bottom 450 feet, 270 feet of gas cut mud, and 990 feet of drilling mud. There were no shows of oil or gas of formation water.

The wildcat is making new hole below 11,780 feet in lime and chert. It is slated to dig to at least 12,000 feet to explore into the Ellenburger.

Project In Stonewall Sets Casing To Test

Barnsdall Oil Company and The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Sloane - Callaway, Central - North Stonewall County wildcat, 15 miles north of Asperment, has set 5 1/2-inch casing on bottom at 6,351 feet in the Ellenburger, with 450 sacks of cement.

Operators will perforate the casing and make tests in the top of the Ellenburger. That formation developed 270 feet of gas and salt water cut drilling mud during a four hour drillstem test at 6,304-6,350 feet.

Interested observers are hopeful that the top of the formation will make oil and gas without showing water.

If the Ellenburger fails to produce petroleum the project will be plugged back to approximately 5,400 feet and a lime zone in the Pennsylvanian—possibly the Palo Pinto, will be tested through pipe perforations.

Some signs of oil and gas were encountered in that horizon. No. 1 Sloane-Callaway is at the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 62, block F, H&TC survey.

Humble Plugs Mitchell Project As Dry Hole

Humble No. 1 Crabtree, Northwest Mitchell County prospector, 660 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 8, block 26, H&TC survey, is being plugged and abandoned on a total depth of 8,108 feet in Ellenburger lime.

The formation made salt water, with a slight show of oil and gas. Several sections above the deep horizon were tested—but none of them developed any indications of production. Top of the Ellenburger has not been officially reported by operator.

Runaway Girl, 14, Is Shot, Has Throat Slashed, Survives

COVINGTON, KY. —(AP)— A 14-year-old runaway girl was shot twice, her throat slashed and then left for dead in Devou Park here Tuesday.

But, after getting help, she was reported in fair condition at Booth Hospital Wednesday.

The girl, identified by police as Ruth Turner, daughter of divorced parents, staggered to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Chisenhall, nearby. She was wounded in the right shoulder and head.

Cries of the girl, clad only in a slip and covered with blood, wet leaves and weeds, awakened the family. They took her in and called officers. She told police she had been raped.

Suspect Admits Shooting

Detective John Dedden said Ernest Fouch, 28, arrested on charges of cutting and shooting to kill, admitted the shooting but denied that he had raped the girl.

The detective said the girl related she had run away several days ago and had met Fouch in a park. After playing ping pong, she said, she accepted Fouch's suggestions that she go to his brother's home, where she could get a room.

On the way, the girl told police, she was dragged into bushes in the park and her dress ripped off. Then she said she was raped and her throat cut. As she lay still the man covered her with leaves and weeds. But when she moved, thinking he had left, she was shot twice. After the man fled, she dug her way out and went to the Chisenhall home.

Five-Year-Old Sleeps When Firemen Visit

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith may have a little trouble getting their five-year-old to take his afternoon nap from now on.

When firemen tramped through the Smith home Tuesday, seeking the source of fumes that had filled the first floor, young Clinton Smith remained sound asleep upstairs.

By the time Clinton awoke, firemen had dragged a defective refrigerator to the street and departed.

"Boy," said his father, "was no mad at me because I hadn't called him."

WHERE 600 BLOCK ON WEST MISSOURI AVE. (Dunagan Sales Company Warehouse)
WHEN AUGUST 30, 31

When you see the world's largest draft horses stepping proudly along your streets—well, you'll know just how proud the makers of Budweiser feel about completion of their $64,000,000 brewery expansion program. It has nearly doubled the pre-war production of the world's most famous beer.

Not only have the brewing facilities for Budweiser been greatly expanded, but the largest ageing cellar on earth, surrounded by other immense ageing cellars, is now completed and in operation. These cellars, with hundreds of thousands of barrels of capacity, are necessary because Budweiser is aged much, much longer than the 30 days or less allotted to ordinary beers. There's more Budweiser now . . . so call for it every time. Every sip tells you that there's nothing like it—absolutely nothing.

A few facts about the famous Clydesdale Champions: The largest draft horses on earth . . . weigh on the average 2000 pounds each and wear shoes twice the size and nearly four times the weight of those of ordinary horses . . . have won a great collection of medals, cups and ribbons. Budweiser's famous horses are the most traveled horses in the United States. They're a sight that all your family will much enjoy and long remember. Don't miss them.

Salt Mine Worker Dies In Plant Fire

GRAND SALINE —(P)— Oscar Dixon, 47, was injured fatally in a fire at the Morton Salt Company's Klear Mine Tuesday.

The fire was in the paper bag room of the mine, about a half mile south of Grand Saline. J. Y. Bell, manager of the firm, said Dixon was overcome by smoke. He was pronounced dead shortly after he was brought to the Grand Saline Hospital about 5:30 p. m.

Bell said the fire apparently started from sparks as a pipe was being welded. It broke out at 3 p. m. and was under control about two hours later. No estimate of damage was made.

Taft's Posing With Ezzard Charles Not Campaigning; He Was Asked

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— When Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio stepped out of character to present the world's heavyweight title belt to Ezzard Charles, the story got around Washington that "Old Mr. Republican" had a new press agent, who was trying to "humanize him" for the 1950 campaign.

Nothing to it. Check-up showed that the new champ, who hails from Cincinnati, had requested that the presentation be made by Senator Taft in Washington. But arrangements for the ceremony were made by Bud Lytton, former aviation and Department of Commerce public relations man, who has just been assigned on as a clerk in Taft's basement annex in the Senate Office Building.

Lytton's presence, helping the photographers arrange things, is what started the "humanizing" story. Actually, Taft hasn't had a full-time press agent since Bill McAdams left, after the GOP convention in Philly.

Bud Lytton's job is to get up campaign pamphlets, mail out reprints of speeches and help with the senator's "column," which he mails free to Ohio editors.

Sawyer On Move
Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer will make a swing through the West after Labor Day to study business conditions and get reports from industrialists and public officials on how unemployment might be reduced. His itinerary is being arranged to hit the big centers like Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle. Secretary Sawyer has already visited Boston, Buffalo, Detroit, Cincinnati, Memphis, Birmingham and Savannah. At the conclusion of his trans-continental survey tour, he'll make a report to the President.

Flying Candidate
Mrs. Curry Ethel Coffey, Democratic candidate for Congress from Pennsylvania's 28th District, in a special election September 13, is doing considerable campaigning in a small plane piloted by her young son. Mrs. Coffey is a candidate for the office held by her eldest son, Robert L. Coffey, Jr., who was killed in an air crash last March. Some time previously, Mrs. Coffey had lost a second son in another air crash.

Monkey-Business At Muroc
Armed services research groups working on new supersonic planes at Muroc Lake, Calif., have had to stop air-to-ground radio communication during experimental flights. The order was issued following discovery that these radio conversations were being monitored by outsiders in an effort to obtain advance data on research.

Previously, plane performance characteristics under various conditions were reported immediately by the pilots to technical observers on the ground. Now such data are recorded in the air, then transcribed after the plane lands. Under this new procedure, much valuable data may be lost if the research plane crashes. But the need to keep air silence was considered more important.

Tense Moment
When Senate Banking and Currency Committee was investigating gold prices, Engineer Fred Searles came down to Washington from New York to testify. He brought with him a test tube containing, he said, 100 ounces of gold concentrate. It was worth $41 an ounce, or $4,100. If the stuff had been pure gold, it would be worth only $35 an ounce. The premium price for the less-pure gold, Searles told the committee, was due to government controls on the price and movement of pure gold and the resulting foreign black market demand for concentrates for hoarding purposes.

Searles had to rush through his testimony and leave in a hurry to catch a plane back to New York. After he had gone, the senators noticed that he had left his tube of gold dust behind him. Everybody in the committee room was afraid to touch it, and the tube lay on the witness table in full view for half an hour.

Then Searles came dashing back into the room in a great sweat, looking for his gold. Just as he was about to board the plane, he said, he remembered what he had forgotten. The gold was right where he had left it. He was delayed in getting back to New York, but he said it was worth it.

Familiar Routine
Communist-inspired "peace conferences" have been breaking out all over Latin America, as fore-runners to the American Continental Congress for Peace to be held in Mexico City September 5-10. The pattern in each country is the same. Speeches follow the line of the New York Cultural and Scientific Conference last March and the Paris Peace Conference—against the Atlantic Pact—in April.

Government police in the Argentine and Brazil, where Communist parties are outlawed, have in recent weeks disbanded a number of "world peace demonstrations" in Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro and the provincial cities. All have been run by a Central Organizing Committee, operating from Paris headquarters.

Main objective of all rallies, masking as pacifism, is to oppose building up of defenses against communism. There is never any demand that Russia demobilize its world's largest standing army.

Old Practice
Reconstruction Finance Corporation officials have been on the pan from House Banking and Currency Committee members because E. Merle Young, a Republican, has asked the government to take a job with Lustron pre-fabricated housing organization, in Columbus, Ohio. Lustron now has a $35,500,000 RFC loan and is dickering for $14,500,000 more.

The congressman didn't think RFC employees should go to work for its customers. Actually, RFC has been planting its officials in companies to which it gave credit, ever since it was founded. First instance was in 1932 when an RFC official was put on the board of directors of Tennessee National Bank, Knoxville, during the depression. This policy was carried on all through the Jesse Jones era of RFC.

New Polio Cases In Texas Drop Slightly

AUSTIN —(P)—The number of new polio cases in Texas dipped downward slightly last week, indicating a possible leveling off of the disease.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, reported 104 new cases of polio last week, a decline from the 109 cases of the previous week.

Health Department officials expressed the hope that this indicates a leveling off of polio for the year and the beginning of a gradual decline in incidence.

Dr. Cox warned, however, that "This is no time to feel complacent about the situation, and efforts should be continued to make every home, community and camp as sanitary as possible."

"Sanitation should be practiced all the time and not only when an epidemic threatens," he added.

"In other words, elimination of fly and mosquito breeding places, sanitation and safe milk, water and food supplies will aid in preventing a number of communicable diseases," Dr. Cox pointed out.

This week's report brings the total number of polio cases reported this week to 1,352 from 175 counties. For the same period last year 130 counties had reported 1,186 cases.
