

Wildcat In SE Crane Flows From Devonian

Humble Oil & Refining Company has discovered commercial oil and gas production from the Devonian in Southeast Crane County at its No. 1-B Jax Cowden.

This prospector, 12 miles southwest of the town of Crane was flowing at the average rate of 17.78 barrels of 40-gravity oil per hour, through a three-quarter inch choke, and was showing a shake-out of only one-tenth of one per cent drilling fluid.

The flow started after the project had enabled 1 1/2 hours on perforated section in the Devonian at 5,470-5,510 feet, in the 7 5/8 inch casing which was cemented on bottom at 5,522 feet.

Is Flowing To Test During the 19 1/2 hours of swabbing recovery was 173 barrels of fluid, mostly new oil. At the end of that period the well kicked off and started flowing and it was still flowing steadily at the end of four and one half hours.

Operator was continuing to flow to test and complete as a discovery and a new field opener.

Location is 680 feet from southeast and 4,719.4 feet from northeast lines of section 16, block 2, E&TC survey. It is eight and three quarter miles southwest of the nearest Devonian production in the Block 31 multi-pay field.

Midland Ellenburger Well Now Completing

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2-30 Glass, the first Ellenburger producer in the Central-South Midland County side of the multi-pay Pegasus field, 3 1/2 miles southwest of Midland, and the same distance northwest of Rankin is in process of completion as a by far the best oil and gas well ever finished in Midland County.

This development, located 1,890 feet from west and 620 feet from south lines of section 30, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S, flowed 63.3 barrels of 53-gravity oil during the first 16 hours of a 24-hour operational test.

The flow was through a one-half inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 1-458-1. The flowing was to be continued for a full 24 hours and the well was then to be put on production.

It is a northeast flanker to the opener of the field, the same company's No. 1-A TXL which is just across the line in Central-North Upton County.

Diamond-M Extension Is Completed By Lion

Lion Oil Company No. 1 Frank Strom has extended the Canyon reef lime producing area of the Diamond M field of Southwest Seymour County one mile to the west.

That development, which is an old dry hole at 2,903 feet, which was originally drilled in 1946, and abandoned at that depth, had been deepened to 6,705 feet in the Canyon reef, and in a system test at 6,800-6,705 feet, flowed oil at the estimated rate of 25 barrels per hour, through a five-eighth inch bottom hole choke.

Operator is to drill ten feet deeper, then run casing and complete the well and put on production. Has No Water.

On the drillstem test at 6,800-6,705 feet the tool was open for one hour and 40 minutes. Gas showed at the surface in 10 minutes, and oil flowed out at the top in 30 minutes.

The oil was flowed to pits for 20 minutes at the estimated rate of 20 barrels per hour. There was no water. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 1,400 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure was 3,400 pounds, after 20 minutes.

No. 1 Strom topped the Canyon reef at 6,888 feet. Elevation is 2-346 feet. It is about 100 feet west to the closest producers from that formation about one mile to the east in the Diamond M field.

Location is 682 feet from south and 1,836 feet from west lines of section 188, block 97, E&TC survey.

Pure Oil Executives Are Midland Visitors

A group of executives of The Pure Oil Company, Midland, Texas, visited the Permian Basin in Southwest Texas.

L. S. Weston, president of the company, and J. C. Plummer, vice president, and W. B. Kelly, manager of the Texas producing division, and L. Morris, assistant manager in charge of all geological and exploration work in the Texas division, and M. A. Finney, general superintendent of production, all of Fort Worth.

This was Weston's first visit to this territory and also with the large petroleum reserves which have been found in the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico region.

The group came to Midland in a company airplane. While here they conferred with G. J. (Doc) Sever, district manager, Leslie T. Brown, district geologist, and W. F. Shafer, district production superintendent.

Officers Search For Killer Suspect

12 Men Die In Crash Of B-50 Bomber

ISLEHAM, ENGLAND—(P)—A. U. S. Air Force B-50 bomber with a load of live bombs dived into a wheat field Thursday and exploded with a roar heard 12 miles away. All 12 crew members were killed.

The plane, designed as the atom-bomb carrying version of the B-29, was on a 180-mile practice mission to the North Sea Island of Helgoland with 12 500-pound bombs.

Villagers said the plane appeared to burst into flames just before it dropped through a light ground fog and struck the field.

Within two hours after the crash, a Royal Air Force rescue squadron had recovered all 12 bodies. Names of victims were withheld pending notification of kin.

The plane, one of the newest types in the U. S. Air Force, is designed to carry conventional bombs as well as the atom bombs. The RAF threw a guard around the wreckage to protect secret equipment.

Flaming high octane gasoline from the shattered plane set fire to big stacks of wheat straw stacked in the field. The fire spread to adjoining farm buildings. Firefighting equipment from nearby towns fought the flames.

From Tucson, Ariz. The B-50 belonged to the 43rd Bombardment Group which flew here from its base at Tucson, Ariz., in August. The group now is stationed at Sculthorpe in nearby Norfolk County for 90 days of operational training.

The tremendous explosion which accompanied the crash was heard in Newmarket 10 miles away, and in Mildenhall, two miles further distant in Suffolk County. Newmarket is 80 miles northeast of London.

There was no immediate indication of the cause of the crash. Air Force Headquarters said weather in the area was foggy, with visibility of about an eighth of a mile.

Contributions For Little Girl With Cancer Near $1,000

Little Wanda Ruth Nasworth, who lives with her grandparents on Route 1, Midland, will be three years old in November. A dramatic fight is in progress to prolong her life. She has cancer. The grandparents have gone heavily in debt to finance her treatments.

The story of Wanda was told in a Reporter-Telegram news article.

Little Wanda Ruth

Immediately Midlanders and West Texans started a shower of money to her assistance. Contributions now total approximately $925. They may reach the $1,000 mark.

Thursday a check for $15 was received from the Midland Police Department from its Police Department Fund.

December Proration Meet Set At Austin

The December crude oil allowable will be set at the hearing. For FREDERICK Automatic Calculators call Baker Oil Equipment Co., Phone 2034, 811 West Texas.—(Adv.)

Win Distinguished Service Awards

Al Buchanan, veteran oil well drilling contractor of San Antonio, and Russell Scott McFarland, vice president, Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware, Dallas, Thursday received the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association's Distinguished Service Awards. The annual awards for industry service were conferred during Thursday afternoon's session of the association's thirtieth annual meeting in Houston.

Plunging Neckline Is Men's 'New Look'

PARIS—(P)—Plunging purple neckline and all—the new look for men has been unveiled in Paris. It's all because Tailor Gaston Waltener believes man today is in a state of "vestimentary inferiority."

Waltener Wednesday showed an audience of 500 what he would do about it. Four young men from the Conservatory of Dramatic Arts—there were no male fashion models to be had—turned and walked about to show 16 such confidence-booster ensembles as:

A black ski outfit, with red paisley scarf and green-laced boots; Purple-length coat; Alligator skin shoes with inch-high crepe soles;

A purple prune-color dinner jacket with "plunging neckline"; A green tweed jacket, non-matching slacks, grey pullover and red and blue necktie hanging outside;

An equally prune-hued tunic, with opera cape of lighter purple sporting an elaborate antique silver chain clasp.

A sample comment came from a British reporter (who wore a plain green tweed jacket, non-matching slacks, grey pullover and red and blue necktie hanging outside): "If I'd known what was coming up, I'd have worn my dungarees."

Senate Substitutes Anderson Plan For House Farm Program

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senate approval of a flexible system for supporting farm prices ended one long argument Thursday but started another—on whether the House will go along.

After weeks of debate, a coalition of Senate Democrats and Republicans Wednesday pushed through on a voice vote the farm support bill sponsored by Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture.

They substituted it for one-year continuation of wartime-level price supports voted by the House in mid-July. Leaders of the coalition said they are confident the House will accept the Senate version eventually.

Farm-minded House members talked equally optimistically about forcing Senators to take their one-year extension of existing price props at least for 1950—a year when all 435 House members and more than one-third of the Senators must face the farmers and other voters. To Conference Committee.

Both the Senate and House bills peg their proposed price supports to percentages of parity. However, the Senate bill would revise the parity formula to take into account the cost of hired hands.

Under the Senate bill, the government would support major crops in 1950 at 90 per cent of parity, but only if they were under production or marketing controls. After 1950, support levels could range down to 75 per cent.

Under the House bill, support would continue through 1950 at the 80 per cent of parity levels that were in effect during the war. House leaders planned to send the dispute to a conference committee—sometimes called the third chamber of Congress—to try to adjust differences.

Missing Seminole 12-Year-Old Sought Near Water Valley

LUBBOCK—(P)—Search for missing 12-year-old Mary Donna Nelson of Seminole centered Thursday in the vicinity of Water Valley, 10 miles north of San Angelo.

A girl fitting the description of the missing child was reported seen near the Tom Green County town. Meanwhile, an aerial search was called off. Eight B-29's from Lubbock Air Force Base circled around the rugged brush country around Seminole Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Nelson, the child's parents, said they last saw their daughter when she went to bed Monday night. They said they knew of no reason for her disappearance.

It was at first believed she may have left for California to see her grandmother.

Lewis Hints At Demands

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA.—(P)—John L. Lewis disclosed Thursday that his contract demands on soft coal operators would cost 30 to 35 cents a ton more than now. He said the industry could absorb it out of profits.

Lewis, at a 75-minute news conference, went into an exhaustive outline of his theory that powerful financial and steel interests were determined to hold up a coal settlement until they "battled it out" in steel.

The UMW president said that if the government must intervene and take over the coal pits, it should order a "bona fide seizure" by running the mines for the benefit of the people instead of the mine owners.

Lewis said that past seizures of the coal mines had been "make believe" paper-mache affairs.

Willing To Fight He told reporters he was not suggesting seizure and declared: "We are willing to fight this out. The Mine Workers have whipped these operators and are willing to do it."

"We ask no aid. We prefer to be left alone, but if we are not left alone to defeat them on their own ground, then we ask fair treatment."

Lewis said that he could not at this time disclose a breakdown of the 30 to 35-cent demand. He added that the White Sulphur Springs negotiations with Northern and Western operators and those with the Southern Coal Producers Association at Charleston, W. Va., were deadlocked.

He said the union negotiators had not yet had opportunity to present their specific demands to the operators because of the steel-influenced interests. He said these interests dominated both negotiations and had set up "road blocks."

Senate Refuses To Return Leland Olds

WASHINGTON—(P)—A smarting 53 to 15 defeat of the reappointment of Federal Power Commissioner Leland Olds Thursday handed President Truman his third—and sharpest—Senate rebuff this year on an important nomination.

Despite the pressure of party discipline which Truman marshaled behind the nominee, the Senate refused overwhelmingly to return Olds to the commission for a third term. The vote came shortly after midnight. It followed weeks of debate which mounted steadily in heat and bitterness.

Opponents shouted that Olds is a foe of capitalism, that 30 years ago he wrote articles that helped promote communism.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) called him "a warped, tyrannical, mischievous, egotistical charlatan whose predominant color is pink."

Sensors supporting the nomination countered with charges that private gas and oil interests were backing the fight against Olds.

They pictured him as a devoted public servant trying to protect consumers by effective utility regulation.

Missing Man Found Slain Beside Road

AMARILLO—(P)—Texas and New Mexico officers searched Thursday for a man they believe lured a friend on a World Series trip and killed him, leaving the body alongside an Illinois road.

The body of Alfred E. Clark, 23, of Boise City, Okla., was found Wednesday beside a country road three and a half miles south of Jerseyville, Ill.

He had been shot through the head and robbed. It was learned in Clayton, N. M., where Clark worked in a restaurant, that the suspect told him he had World Series tickets and Clark agreed, and they left October 5.

Officers began looking for Clark last Saturday after a Dalhart girl reported the suspect had kidnaped her and was planning to rob her. The girl said papers in the car driven by the man identified it as Clark's.

The girl said she had known the suspect in Clayton and in Montana. George French, a farmer, discovered Clark's body Wednesday, nearly running into it with a plow. Coroner Rodney Jackson estimated Clark had been dead about two weeks. Clark was wearing a World Series ticket stub.

Clark had mailed postcards to his parents as late as a week ago. Juanita Groves, 19, of Dalhart reported Saturday that she was with Clark about two miles west of Dumas, Texas, Friday night when the suspect drove alongside their car and fired into it. She told Sheriff J. A. McMurtry of Dumas the man ordered them out. She said she saw the man's face and heard him say "Get out of the car." She said she saw the suspect forced her into the car with him.

She said she drove to Vega, about 40 miles west of Dumas, Texas, and turned the car over to Sheriff McMurtry. She went to Vega officers, who accompanied her to the scene. As she arrived, the suspect drove away, heading west. The officers did not pursue.

The girl said they told her that if she wanted to change him with a kidnaped man, she would have to go back to Dumas.

She arrived in Dumas about 9 a. m. Saturday and made her report to Sheriff McMurtry.

No charges against the man had been filed Wednesday night. Statewide pickup orders were broadcast in Texas and in New Mexico.

Postal Officials Launch 'Correct Address' Campaign

In an effort to speed up delivery and service for more efficient operation, Midland Post Office officials Thursday requested patrons to obtain and use complete and correct mailing addresses.

They said that in order to provide better service it is necessary that mail received for delivery include the house number and street address, or the Post Office box number if mail is delivered through a box in the office.

More than 50 per cent of the local mailings carry only the name of the addressee and Midland, Texas. Frank Smith, superintendent of mails, stated:

"To reduce the cost of handling mail and to insure that your mail will be delivered at the earliest possible moment, we ask that each individual, firm or organization ascertain from their customers or friends their correct mailing addresses," the postal officials said.

"You cannot always rely on sending mail to the address shown in the directory, for many persons do not get their mail delivered to their home or business address. Many of them have post office boxes, get their mail at their employer's address or through a friend's box."

Delayed Delivery It was pointed out that letters received without address or with incorrect or incomplete addresses ordinarily must be laid to one side to await directory service. Sometimes this search for the correct address cannot be made on the same day the mail is received since the correctly addressed mail must be handled first.

Postmaster Noel Oates assured Post Office users their cooperation will be appreciated and improved postal service will be effected.

Conferees Split Again On Issue Of Air Force Strength

WASHINGTON—(P)—A Senate-House conference Thursday broke up again in disagreement over the huge military money bill. House members of the conference committee walked out after refusing to back down on demands for a $4-billion Air Force.

The Senate is backing President Truman's recommendations for a 45-group force.

Gaynor Trying For Comeback; Tested For 'Glass Menagerie'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NKA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood's next big comeback try will be staged by Janet Gaynor. Janet quietly made a test on the other day for the film version of "The Glass Menagerie" and is anxious to get back to work.

That old Barrymore magic: John, Jr., just made his film debut in "The Sunshiners," still unreleased. But exhibitor and fan mag gals already have tagged him the year's most important new star.

It was a bathing suit Carmen had whipped up herself. She designs all of her own clothes, shoes and turbans and finally got around to a bathing suit.

What there was of it was very snappy. But there was so little of it. Carmen explained that she called it Bra-lulu because it had a Brazilian accent in the right places.

She winked and said: "After people see me in this they will say, 'Why doesn't Carmen come on the stage in a bathing suit?'"

There's a radio deal cooking for Ronald Colman and Benita Hume to do a "Mr. and Mrs. Show." Aren't there enough already? ... After making pictures for five years, Yvonne de Carlo tore madly over to Austria to get away from it all and arrived just in time for the premiere of the first movie she ever made ... Cleo Brown, the biggest gal on records 10 years ago, is back after a career.

Sign of the times: A 15-month course in television is being offered to inmates of the Illinois state prison.

Joan Leslie is giggling about what she thinks is the most romantic fan letter she's ever received. It was a proposal of marriage from a young man who lives in the Casbah. He didn't use "come with me to the Casbah" but enclosed a picture of himself in a bathing suit.

Elizabeth Taylor and Jerome Courtland are dating ... Russell Birdwell, who once exploited Jane Russell's charms for Howard Hughes, now is exploiting his own as Long Beach, Calif., radio commentator. An eye ailment is keeping Ross Hunter away from the screen. He's joined drama coach Ben Bard's staff. Chaplin's Life Story

Chuck Reisner, the director, has authored Charley Chaplin's life story under the title "Dear Charlie." He'll follow it up with "Dear Marie" (Dressler) and "Dear Benny" (Rubin).

Peter Lind Hayes is bolting. Astor Pictures are reviving an old turkey, "Zis Boom Bah," in which he co-stars with his wife, Mary Healy ... Bob Ryan's fan club is touting his latest, "Bed of Roses," with the catch phrase, "From Sluggish to Lover." ... Competition for Ladd, Cagney and Bogart.

George Montgomery clips Marie Windsor on the jaw in "Dakota Lil."

Gloria Kamernan and Jean Campbell, two working gals who beat typewriters all day in Hollywood, are the co-authors of that new cookbook, just published by Viking, "Simple Cooking for the Epicure."

Gloria is a publicity gal with Stanley Kramer's film company and Jean an executive secretary. Gloria is especially swatertogenic. As one observer said:

"Why does she have to cook?"

Wonder if there's any connection dept: Eight hours after posing for a fan magazine layout with Jim Davis, Shelley Winters went to the hospital with a nervous breakdown.

Sig Engel, Woer Of Wealthy Widows, Released From Jail

CHICAGO—It was freedom, with reservations. Thursday Sig Engel, the diminutive, over-aged wooper of wealthy widows, was released from jail on a total of $7,600 bonds. The last bond had been reduced from $10,000 to $100 on a federal charge. Earlier, bonds totaling $37,500 had been posted on six state charges of confidence game.

But jail appeared a better place than out for Engel shortly after he was released. And if Jones follows through with his plans he hopes to have the graying Lothario back in the clink. He didn't succeed in his first attempts but he said he's going to keep on trying.

Engel wasn't too sure about his freedom. "I'm in trouble," he said. "I'm free today, but I don't know about tomorrow. If I had a gun I think I would shoot myself."

Objects To Bodyguard
Jones, with John Lax, attorney for Jones' father, who posted most of the bonds, made three attempts to surrender Engel but failed. The attorneys and Engel were tossed out of a federal courtroom when they asked to have Engel's $100 bond revoked.

The U. S. marshal shooed them away when the attorneys tried to surrender Engel to him. Police at Central Station wanted no part of Engel, refusing to accept any surrender not made in open court.

"Jones and Lax made that move to put Engel back in jail over his protest of having three bodyguards—working around the clock. 'I'm not going to be bothered with bodyguards,' Engel shouted. 'I'm out on bonds and I want to be free.'"

Jones threatened to revoke the $100 bond. He wanted the bodyguards to assure Engel's appearance in court October 24 on the first of the state charges.

McKENNEY Answers You CANASTA Questions

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

The biggest prize offered in the game of Canasta is the canasta bonus.

Do not play for natural canastas. If you can get a natural canasta that does not cost you anything, all right; but it is a mistake to risk 300 points in an attempt to get 200 points more. Your opponents may go down, and you will have lost your 300-point canasta. Form as many canastas as you can—mix or natural—and form them as quickly as possible.

If you see you have your opponents locked so that they cannot go out, and you have plenty of plays on the board, you can try for a natural canasta if you want to, provided you have melded at least one canasta already. But even then, if you get caught with a wild card in your hand with which you could have made a completed canasta, your partner is justified in criticizing you severely for not completing a canasta with it.

Question: Can two canastas of the same rank be formed by a partnership? Suppose that we put down four eight-spots and then add three wild cards to it, forming a mixed canasta. Could we later put down four more eight-spots and add three wild cards, forming another eight-spot canasta?
Answer: Yes, you can have two canastas of the same rank. However, if you meld a mixed canasta as described above, then gradually add four more eights to it, you cannot add three more wild cards and make a second canasta out of the second group of four eights. Having placed a card with a meld, you can never separate it from that meld.

California Twins Charged In Robberies
AMARILLO—Armed robbery charges were filed last Wednesday against 25-year-old California twins.

Edwin Lee and Leo Earl Rader are accused of robbing two Amarillo super markets last Summer. They are wanted in California for questioning in market robberies at San Diego, National City and Bellflower, their hometown. They were arrested Monday at Lubbock.

Skilled Technicians—

If you need your watch fixed or the crystal replaced you think of the most efficient repair man, who knows his technique—is skilled at his work. When you need a new windshield in your car—you should consider these same points in choosing a man to replace it. SERVICE GLASS COMPANY, 500 North Weatherford, is noted for skilled technicians who do an expert job of replacing auto glass. Their work gives you utmost satisfaction. Don't endanger your life and the lives of others by driving with a broken windshield. See Service Glass Company at once. Telephone 2432.

For Playing Or Loafing—

Keep your mind off your feet! Wear "Western" sandals from CARL'S. They're hand-tanned from genuine leather. Light and lightweight, they're perfect complements for your square dance costumes and look well with slacks. The shoe for playing or loafing—in natural leather, they team with any colors. They're cooled in Western motif with open toe and heel, and make your feet appear sizes smaller. These all-leather sandals sell for $9.95, and come in all sizes.

Crisp And Clean—

Comparison proves good dry cleaning is a science that cannot be duplicated with inferior methods. Compare your clothes after HARBET CLEANERS has done an expert job of cleaning and pressing. Notice the texture of the material—crisp and fresh like new. Their solvents leave colors bright, and the process leaves "body" in fabrics which makes a suit or dress look new longer and retain its shape.

Sharp Buys For Sharper Appetites—

Every good housewife is searching for menus to provide her growing youngsters with wholesome, energy giving food. When you shop at KENNETH HINES GROCERY, located at Ohio and Port Worth, you can select from garden fresh produce, quality meats and popular brands of groceries. If you're budget minded, also, you'll appreciate the convenient way all items are price marked on the shelves, so you know just what you are paying for each purchase.

Quality Workmanship—

HOOVER BODY SHOP, on West Highway, is an up-to-date body and paint shop with scientific painting methods. The best in workmanship—first in quality. Drive by for an estimate on a body repair and repaint job. They'll fill those hollows, take out the dents and refinish the body to look like new. This will enhance the trade-in value of your car, too. Besides, a good looking car is a credit to you. You'll thrill with pride each time you drive it. You'll be amazed at the transformation for they're artists with a spray gun.

Hilton Buys Control Of Waldorf-Astoria Hotel In New York

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Hilton Hotel Chain has acquired controlling interest in the company that runs the luxurious Waldorf-Astoria Hotel for $3,000,000.

Conrad N. Hilton of Los Angeles, president of the Hilton Hotels Corporation, announced the transaction Wednesday. It involved, he said, purchase of 250,000 shares, or about 68 per cent of the 366,000 outstanding common shares of the Waldorf-Astoria Corporation, which operates the hotel.

Hilton said the purchasers got the right to keep the hotel's name, and would not change its "character and individuality."

The sale does not involve the Waldorf-Astoria Building, which occupies a whole block on Park and Lexington Avenues between 46th and 50th Streets. The building, 47 stories high, has 2,200 rooms. It was opened in 1931, and cost about $40,000,000.

This property is owned by the New York Realty and Terminal Company, a subsidiary of the New York Central and the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, and is leased to the Waldorf-Astoria Corporation.

The Hilton Chain also controls the Plaza and Roosevelt Hotels here, the Mayflower in Washington, the Stevens Hotel and Palmer House in Chicago, the Dayton Biltmore in Dayton, Town House in Los Angeles, the Hilton Hotels in El Paso and Lubbock, and in Albuquerque, N. M., and others.

Truman Inks Bill Giving Pay Hikes To Military Brass

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's signature on a $66,000,000-a-year military pay bill Thursday assured the nation's top brass of their first general pay increase since 1946.

Truman signed the bill into law late Wednesday. Effective October 1, it provides salary raises for just about every member of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard and other uniformed services.

Pay for the very lowest ranks, which has risen since 1939 from $21 a month to $75, remains unchanged, but back pay with five months' service get a $3 raise.

The generals and admirals fare best under the new scales, with raises running as high as $300 a month for top officers with 30 years' service.

The new law provides higher compensation in many cases where men were retired for disability, and calls for doing away gradually with family allowances for enlisted men.

Houston Cab Drivers Spurn Airport Haul

HOUSTON—(AP)—Air lines are using personal cars, station wagons and anything else customers will ride in to get them to the Municipal Airport.

AFL taxicab drivers voted Wednesday not to haul passengers to or from the airport area. They decided to give full support to a stop port limousine service drivers, who've been striking since October 1. Until Wednesday's vote, the cabs had been taking fares up to the picket line, about 300 yards from the airport's Municipal Building.

WE, THE WOMEN

Full-Time Wife Has Edge On Working Wife In Many Ways

By NUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Are working wives making it tough on the girls who figure that one reason for getting married is to get out of an office and settle down to a full-time job of home-making?

One of my readers claims they are. When she married two years ago she gave up her job as secretary. She was good and tired of it.

Now, she says, her husband frequently points out how many of the men in his office have working wives and how much they are able to do on two salaries instead of one.

"I thought when I got married," says this wife, "that I was through with office work for good. One reason I wanted to marry was so that I could quit work."

Well, it's this way. Marrying a man for a meal ticket isn't quite as respectable as it used to be. When a grandma married in order to have someone to support her for life that was fine and dandy. That was what a woman was supposed to do.

But young men today don't look with favor on being married "for security" or "for a home." They figure they ought to be married for themselves. And that any woman who is lucky enough to get them ought to be glad to help finance the marriage if it's necessary for the couple to have two incomes so that two can live as well as one.

So your husband is only reacting in a fairly normal manner for 1949. Don't hold it against him. Just try to lead him around gently to the conviction that a full-time wife has it all over a working wife in many ways.

Be thrifty in ways working wives haven't the time to be. Do a bang-up job of housekeeping. Take time with meal planning and cooking. Show your interest in your husband's career and do anything you can to help him. A wife with secretarial training can often find ways to be a real help to her husband.

And don't be above saying now and then, "Poor Joe; it must be hard on him having to come home from the office and pitch in and do housework. But, of course, as long as his wife is working the same hours he is, she has to have help with the house."

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barconate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barconate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your drugist and ask for four grapefruit seeds and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablets a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds
Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 56, Whitehouse, Texas, wrote us: "I want to tell you what Barconate has done for me. I weighed 283 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 212. I have taken 100 pills and I feel better in my life and everybody tells me how much I look than I did."

I am still taking Barconate as I want to get my weight down to 165 or 170 pounds.

Leadership Banquet Of First Baptist Church Has Program With 'Time' Theme

Timepieces varying in size and kind from a large grandfather clock to the small picture of a watch were used to carry out the "Now Is the Hour" theme of the yearly First Baptist All-Leadership Banquet held Wednesday night in the Recreation Hall of the church.

Largest clock was the grandfather clock which was the center of the decorations. Built of plywood, it was painted black and had a white face with "Now Is the Hour" around the dial in place of numbers. The letters and hands of the clock were covered with silver-brown spangles. Before each part of the program, the doors in the front of the clock opened to show the Mistresses of Harmony, who sang a verse of the song, "Now Is the Hour." Members of the quartet were Mrs. Robert Goff, Mrs. Don McGregor, Mrs. Tracy Medders and Mrs. Joe Angel, and each time they sang words written by the Rev. Raymond Hall to fit the part of the program they were introducing.

Representatives

Across the room from the large clock and behind the speaker's table was another clock face and around it were four small clock faces to represent the four most important units of the church, the Training Union, The Woman's Missionary Society, the Sunday School and the Brotherhood, with the hand on each pointing to the meeting time of the unit.

Each department in the church decorated its table for the banquet. All used Fall colors except the Nursery Department table, which was done in white, pink and blue, with tiny doll furniture down the center.

Adult Department Three, a new department, used no table cloth and tin plates. In the center of the table was an empty vase and running the length of the table was a strip of white paper on which was written "Now is the Hour for Us to Start."

Highway Theme

The speaker's table and that of the new North Side Mission were the only ones used for the banquet other than those representing units of the church.

Theme of the Young People's table was "Time Marches On—Follow Opportunity's Highway Now." In the center of the table was a grandfather clock and all around the table was a green crepe paper highway with replicas of all kinds of vehicles on it. The Beginner's table used flags and

District Conference Scheduled Friday For Presbyterian Women

Women of the First Presbyterian Church will relax and welcome visitors from Big Spring, Odessa, Coahoma and Colorado City Friday for a one-day conference of Women of the Church in District Two.

Theme of the program is "Strengthening the Grass Roots."

Mrs. E. M. Owen of Colorado City, district chairman, will preside for the conference opening at 10 a.m. Registration, with Mrs. W. P. Knight in charge, will start at 9:30 in the church building.

Mrs. J. Clifford Hall, president of the Midland women's organization, will welcome the guests and will take part, with other local presidents, in one of the program discussions. Mrs. Frank Miller, music director of the Midland Church, will present music at the opening session.

Speakers include Mrs. J. E. Bischoff of El Paso, Presbyterian president; Mrs. E. J. Brooks of Big Spring, who will speak on "Home Missions"; the Rev. Matthew Lynn of the Midland Church, who will discuss "Special Emphases"; Mrs. Paul Lavery of Midland, who will give a report on the Mo-Ranch, a church camp, and Miss Lou Anna Roach of Midland, whose talk, "What Can I Do?" will close the meeting.

A luncheon will be served in the church dining room at noon, and visitors who wish to see the new church building will be shown through by a hospitality committee. Mrs. John B. Mills and Mrs. Y. D. McMurry are in charge of luncheon preparations and Mrs. A. P. Shirley of flower arrangements.

Progressive Club Hears Book Review

In her review of "Thomas Jefferson," by Hendrik VanLoon, for the Progressive Study Club meeting Wednesday, Mrs. E. A. McCullough said that the three things of which Jefferson was proudest at the end of his life were that he had been instrumental in the separation of church and state in Virginia, that he was the author of the Declaration of Independence and that he had founded the University of Virginia.

Mrs. W. E. Cox was hostess to the group in her home and Mrs. R. A. Cox was a guest. During the business meeting, it was decided to contribute to the Clara Driscoll memorial plans for the Texas Federation of Woman's Club building in Austin.

Other members present were Mrs. L. Otis Baggett, Mrs. James C. Clary, Mrs. John H. DeFord, Mrs. John L. Hart, Mrs. J. Wilmont Hunt, Mrs. A. A. Jones, Mrs. John K. Lydecker, Mrs. Burns McKinney, Mrs. W. C. Mitchell, Mrs. Kenneth Newton, Mrs. John V. Norman, Jr., Mrs. Haden Upchurch, Mrs. Thomas M. West and Mrs. W. B. Yarborough.

Girl Scout Troops Have Programs And Business Meetings

Betty Sue Adams was elected president of Brownie Troop 18 at a meeting Wednesday in the South Elementary School. Other officers are Bobby Ruth Towery, reporter, and Cecil Pauline Kelly, secretary-treasurer.

A study of the Girl Scout laws was held. Games were played and the members sang several songs.

Those present were Bennie Brown, Virginia Leaton, LaVella Booth, Jacqueline Moore, Shirley Sue Jones, Jackie Brookshire, Fay Wilson, Shari Gill, Janice Merritt, Pauline Gwyn, Mrs. L. D. Towery, leader, and Mrs. B. B. Leaton, co-leader.

Troop 24 Elects

Susan Hills was elected president of Troop 24 which met in the Scout Hut. Beverly Bradberry was chosen vice president; Joy Lynn Davis, secretary; Gloria Webb, treasurer, and Wendy Bradley, reporter. Mrs. H. T. Brady, leader of the troop, was assisted by Mrs. Bill Davis and Mrs. Joe Dixon.

The group celebrated Wendy's ninth birthday and other members present were Jerry Fay Parr, Norma Grimm, Janice Carpenter and Nancy Dixon.

Troop 13 Hears Guest

Mrs. J. E. Pharis spoke to members of Girl Scout Troop 13 in the First Presbyterian Church at their regular weekly meeting Wednesday. "Child Care" was her subject.

Members present were Ann Beauchamp, Darlene Aldridge, Margaret Arledge, Theresa Jones, Linda Davis, Carol Ann Pitting, Kay Little, Mimi Steed, Beth Warren, Lois Nell West, Carol Ann Wilkinson, Sherrill Yancy, Ann Williams, and Mrs. Clifford C. Cool, leader.

Troop 15 Plans Outing

A cookout was planned for next week's meeting by Girl Scouts of Troop 15 at their meeting in the Trinity Episcopal Church Wednesday. It will be at Ann Hamilton's home. The girls also discussed badge work.

Present were Susan Altrin, Nancy Breedlove, Nanette Hays, Suzanne Hood, Ann Hamilton, Jerry Gale Mathews, Shirley Polston, Toni Redden, Melinda Chaddock, Cheryl Grimm, Gloria Hicks and Virginia Marshall.

Creative Writers Of AAUW Organize And Set Meeting Dates

Mrs. Brandon Rea was chosen chairman of the American Association of University Women's Creative Writing Group at its organizational meeting Wednesday night in her home.

Mrs. Joe A. Walker was chosen program chairman, Mrs. Jack C. Kimbrough, treasurer and Mrs. John S. Powell, reporter. Regular meetings of the group will be held at 7:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month in the homes of members.

Anyone interested in the work of the group is invited to join and membership in the AAUW is not a requisite for membership. The next meeting is scheduled October 26 in Mrs. Powell's home in Garden Addition.

It was decided that each meeting will include a paper on some phase of writing, with a discussion afterward. Also, the work of some member of the group will be read and criticized. Short story, feature article and play and poetry writing will be included in the group's study and membership fee of $1 will be used for the purchase of reference material.

Others who enrolled in the group were Mrs. Dan Carter, E. J. Elliott, Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. Ralph Lee, Mrs. Terry Tidwell, Mrs. W. A. Stal, Mrs. Leonard Swords and Mrs. Irma Williamson.

Little Janet Latsha Assured Trip To Albuquerque, N. M.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. —(AP)—Janet is coming to Albuquerque, just as her mother wished.

Janet is the six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Wilma Latsha of Neogoches, Texas. The little girl is critically ill in an Oklahoma City hospital with asthma. The doctors say she is dying.

Mrs. Latsha said she wanted to bring Janet to Albuquerque in the hope the climate might help her. But she needed money. She asked for public aid for funds to provide care for her daughter until she could get a job.

Both pleas have been answered. Sister Francis Marie, director of the Catholic St. Joseph's Hospital here, said Wednesday night she wants Janet to come to the hospital to be cared for. A job, she said, will be provided Mrs. Latsha in the hospital so she may be close to her daughter.

In Oklahoma City, Mrs. Latsha cried when told the news. Earlier, she had been given $270 from 15 persons or groups.

Typewriter ribbons are, on the average, 25 feet long.

Designers Win Fashion Stakes

First award winner Pauline Trigre designed the ensemble of mist-gray tweed (above) which includes a double-breasted silver-buttoned jacket, slim skirt and swashbuckling nautica-lined cape. By EPHIE KINARD, NEA Fashion Editor. NEW YORK—Winner of this year's "Winnie," the fashion world's "Oscar," is Pauline Trigre. For her "high hand original talent in design," this young creator of ready-to-wear fashions claims the coveted American Critics Award, presented annually to a designer of outstanding excellence. David Evans' shell shoe was singled out for citation by the jury of 45 fashion editors of magazines, syndicates and newspapers. He wins his special award for his "originality and good taste; for having contributed to America's leadership in shoe fashions throughout the world." Awards were received by the designers at New York's Metropolitan Club, where winners' fashions—some of each is shown above, were presented.

Guest Appears On Program Of Fine Arts Club

Fine Arts Club members, meeting in the home of Mrs. Nelson Puetz Wednesday afternoon, heard a guest, Mrs. W. F. Pennebaker, read a play, "Two Blind Mice," by Samuel S. Prowack.

Mrs. L. G. Beyerler introduced the program guest after the brief business session with Mrs. Wilson Bryant, vice president, presiding.

The play which Mrs. Pennebaker read was a comedy, a satire on the red tape and delays of bureaucracy. The story is of two elderly women maintaining an obscure office in the department of agriculture, although it had been legally abolished years before, and their experiences with a lively newspaper reporter who staffed the office with a mixture of Army, Navy and civilian personnel who all believed themselves to be working on a top secret program.

Other members present at the meeting were Mrs. Dewitt Haskin, Mrs. J. M. White, Mrs. E. H. Barron, Mrs. B. R. Schabarum, Mrs. O. J. Hubbard, Miss Lydia Watson and Mrs. Tom C. Bobo.

Committee To Name Officers Appointed

A nominating committee to select officers for next year was appointed at a Wednesday meeting of the Garden Addition Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. A. P. Jordan. Committee members are Mrs. H. O. Allen, Mrs. O. J. Kniffen and Mrs. Jordan.

Mrs. C. H. Stanley was welcomed as a new member of the club. Mrs. Nettie B. Messick gave a demonstration on kitchen arrangements and secret pals were revealed and new names drawn.

Mrs. Walter Krieger was a guest of the group. Other members present were Mrs. T. W. Whitaker, Mrs. E. O. Messersmith, Mrs. H. L. Pevatt and Mrs. Mae Sammon.

New Member Added, McCamey Scout Troop

McCAMEY—Clara Roberts was hostess to Girl Scout Troop 2 at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert, who transferred from a Kermitt troop, was a new member. The girls decided to sell Christmas cards to raise funds for the troop.

Present were Ann Carter, Grace Clark, Tommie, Jo Hudson, Erylene Henderson, Rita Johnson, Fredna Marrs, Janis Roberts and Paty Quay. The next meeting will be held with Brylene Henderson.

Club Begins Plans For Christmas Party

McCAMEY—Plans for the Christmas Party, which will be held December 20, were drawn at a recent meeting of the Home Arts Club. Mrs. C. K. West was hostess to the group in the Community Building.

Members attending were Bessie Reimers, Jennie Mae Brown, Loretta Burch, Gertrude Gibbs, Dot McNamara, Mary Adams and Oreon Ward.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT SHOWER IN STANTON

STANTON—A shower honoring Lois Vernell Stedeker, bride-elect of Robert E. Lee, was given Wednesday in the home of Mrs. W. D. Howell in the Lenora community. Hostesses other than Mrs. Howell were Mrs. Morgan Hall, Mrs. Elmer Nichols, Thelma Morrison, Mrs. Jimmy Jordan, Mrs. W. C. Coates, Mrs. Bill Estes and Mrs. B. Callaway.

Flower Show School Has Visitors From Neighboring Cities

Fifty-four women were enrolled Wednesday for the first classes in a Flower Show Judging School sponsored by the Midland Garden Club, which continued with morning and afternoon sessions Thursday. Mrs. John R. Salois and Mrs. Steve J. Barrett came here from Dallas to conduct the school.

Intensive study of the points used in judging flower shows made up the program for the two days, in the City-County Auditorium. Women who met attendance requirements and who pass a final test will be given credit with Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., toward certificates as accredited show judges. There were visitors from Big Spring, Odessa, Stanton and McCamey.

Not all those who attended the meetings here were interested in receiving credit on the course; some wished to learn more of the principles of flower arrangement and flower culture which the two instructors, experts in their fields, offered in their talks.

Mrs. Salois was in charge of the Wednesday sessions, which emphasized judging horticultural specimens. She defined terms used in show judging—blossom, flowered, bead, spray, spike—and as she listed the points considered by judges, she also gave suggestions for culture of the plants to develop those points.

Mrs. Barrett discussed judging of flower arrangements in the Thursday classes, illustrating the principles of balance, symmetry, color, harmony and placement. Both instructors used flowers from Midland gardens to illustrate their talks, and both answered numerous questions from the audience.

Mrs. L. W. Leggett was general chairman of the school. Mrs. A. D. Shirey was in charge of tickets, Mrs. M. C. Uimer and Mrs. Frank Stubbeman were hostess chairman for the instructors.

Girl Scout Leaders At McCamey To Have Two-Day Training

McCAMEY—A training course for Girl Scout leaders and adult workers will be conducted in the Little House October 20 and 21. It will be an eight-hour course, in workshop form, directed by Mrs. I. A. Searies of Midland, area field director.

All adults interested in assisting with the Girl Scout program are invited. The first meeting will be at 9 a.m. next Thursday.

David Harris Gives Concert At Iraan

McCAMEY—David Harris, nine year old musician of McCamey, gave a twenty-five minute musical program to an assembly of Iraan High school and elementary grades Tuesday morning.

He was introduced by his piano teacher, Mrs. H. W. Driskill, of McCamey.

He played a group of classical and modern piano selections which won wide approval from the Iraan school children.

His selections were as follows: "The Firefly" by Blotki; "Hungary"; "Prelude in C Sharp Minor"; "Clair-de-Lune"; "De Bussy; Choo Choo Boogie"; Encore: "Rhapsody in Blue" by Gershwin.

Shower At McCamey Honors Mrs. Jones

McCAMEY—Mrs. M. J. Jones was honored with a pink-and-blue shower by the Ladies Bible Class of the Church of Christ recently in the McCamey Park Building. Mrs. D. Anderson was at the guest register. Mrs. Paul Baker and Mrs. F. C. Reimers directed games and Mrs. Sammy Selby gave a reading.

Other hostesses were Mrs. Jim Shaw, Mrs. C. B. Lee, Mrs. C. E. West, Mrs. Willis Johnson, Mrs. K. Kamstra and Mrs. P. S. Luttrell. The guest list included Mrs. Pearl Keece, Mrs. A. M. Yocke, Mrs. J. Midlanders Confer On Library Friends

Mrs. Lucile Carroll, Midland County librarian, and Mrs. B. M. Crotty, a patron of the library, accompanied by Velma Barrett, Ecot County librarian and her assistant, Mrs. Hazel Holland, visited the Tom Green County Library in San Angelo Wednesday.

They went to confer with Mrs. Margaret Hoyal, librarian there, and with officers of the newly organized Friends of the San Angelo Library to discuss library problems and the plan of the organization in the Friends of the Library.

They talked with Mrs. Dean Chenoweth, chairman of the Friends of the Library, Dwight Hunter, Jr., an executive board member, and Mrs. Hunter, who is a member of the library's board of directors.

David Harris Gives Concert At Iraan

McCAMEY—A training course for Girl Scout leaders and adult workers will be conducted in the Little House October 20 and 21. It will be an eight-hour course, in workshop form, directed by Mrs. I. A. Searies of Midland, area field director.

All adults interested in assisting with the Girl Scout program are invited. The first meeting will be at 9 a.m. next Thursday.

David Harris Gives Concert At Iraan

McCAMEY—David Harris, nine year old musician of McCamey, gave a twenty-five minute musical program to an assembly of Iraan High school and elementary grades Tuesday morning.

He was introduced by his piano teacher, Mrs. H. W. Driskill, of McCamey.

He played a group of classical and modern piano selections which won wide approval from the Iraan school children.

His selections were as follows: "The Firefly" by Blotki; "Hungary"; "Prelude in C Sharp Minor"; "Clair-de-Lune"; "De Bussy; Choo Choo Boogie"; Encore: "Rhapsody in Blue" by Gershwin.

Shower At McCamey Honors Mrs. Jones

McCAMEY—Mrs. M. J. Jones was honored with a pink-and-blue shower by the Ladies Bible Class of the Church of Christ recently in the McCamey Park Building. Mrs. D. Anderson was at the guest register. Mrs. Paul Baker and Mrs. F. C. Reimers directed games and Mrs. Sammy Selby gave a reading.

Other hostesses were Mrs. Jim Shaw, Mrs. C. B. Lee, Mrs. C. E. West, Mrs. Willis Johnson, Mrs. K. Kamstra and Mrs. P. S. Luttrell. The guest list included Mrs. Pearl Keece, Mrs. A. M. Yocke, Mrs. J. Heat's Still On In Brooklyn

The World Series is over every place but in Brooklyn. Caught in the aftermath, Dodger President Branch Rickey sports an open collar, undone tie and disheveled hair as he weathers the criticism of second-guessers. Rickey said the Dodgers, and not Manager Burt Shotton, lost the series, but some experts in baseball circles don't think Shotton will be back next year.

Rice Reveals Plan To Upset Mustangs

Coach Jess Neely of Rice says he has disclosed his plans for beating Southern Methodist. Don't get your ears cocked for secrets, though.

The Neely strategy is the same tried by many another coach during the Mustang's long winning spell—score.

Texas and Texas A&M dolefully reported some injuries. Baylor, Arkansas and Texas Christian wound up their heavy work for the week in good shape.

Neely, holding the final tough scrimmage for Rice, said he has just about decided to use Tobin Rota, his No. 1 quarterback, quite a bit on defense. If so, Vernon Glass, Rota's understudy, would see more offensive action than usual.

Although Bell had the Mustangs concentrating on offense, he put Doak Walker, Kyle Rote, and Bill Sullivan to work on their punting and place-kicking. SMU has a habit of winning games by the margin of a single point, usually kicked by Walker.

Razorbacks Ready Texas Coach Blair Cherry said Fullback Ray Bormeman might miss Saturday's game with Arkansas. After all, Bormeman has been troubled by a knee he hurt in the Orange Bowl last year.

If none of Arkansas' Razorbacks get banged up the rest of the week, they'll be in their best shape of the season Saturday. Capt. Alvin Duke, who has been used only on defense because of a hurt ankle, ran Wednesday at offensive right half for the first time this season.

The rest of the Hogs were ready. Texas A&M's Mickey Spencer, starting left tackle, is a doubtful starter for Saturday's tiff with TCU. He bruised a leg Tuesday, and it kept him sidelined Wednesday. Of TCU's Frog, only Linebacker Orestis Brownling will miss action. He suffered a broken cheekbone in the Arkansas game October 1.

Eleven varsity lettermen are members of the Navy football team this year.

SHORTY SHELburnE

What the scouts saw on their assignments for the Friday night game between Sweetwater and Midland apparently wasn't one sided.

Coach Jack Mashburn scouted the Mustangs for our side and had plenty to report when he returned home.

And Coach Jim Cox handled the scouting of Midland for Sweetwater. He also had something to tell when he returned home, according to a report issued in the Sweetwater paper.

Cox spoke to the Sweetwater Athletic Association Monday night and had this to say:

"Midland has a greatly improved ball club since two weeks ago. I didn't hardly recognize them last week when they downed Plainview 14 to 0."

He also warned the Sweetwater folks to be on the alert for a great Midland Bulldog team within three years—possibly as early as 1950.

Speaking to the Booster Club here Tuesday night, Jack Mashburn said:

"I have seen better defensive ball clubs this season than Sweetwater but offensively they are tops. They are solid all the way through, in every position. Billy Hooper is the finest ball handler I have had an opportunity to watch. They are deep in reserves."

Mashburn left the impression the best way to hold the Mustangs is to keep the ball away from them if possible.

"We always have heard of fighting fire with fire. In a sense we will be fighting Sweetwater products when the two teams meet."

Coach Audrey Gill was a Sweetwater Mustang in 1937, 1938 and 1939. He made all-state while performing for the Ponies.

And Coach Joe Akins played for Sweetwater in 1936, 1937 and 1938. So, we have a little bit of Sweetwater right here all the time.

Maybe they can set a defense for the grid charges from their old school.

George Kellam, the sports writer on the Port Worth Star-Telegram who gets a rise out of plenty of people with his weekly ratings, says he sure rode the wrong horse in taking Plainview over Midland.

"Tell Tubboat he slipped up on me at Plainview. I picked the wrong team," he writes.

Tubboat Jones is hoping to slip up on a few more this season, too, George.

We have had numerous requests lately from fans to tell them where they could get tickets to this game or that game. To date we haven't been able to help much.

However, here's something that may interest some of you. Tickets to the Sun Bowl game in El Paso, to be played January 1, now can be obtained from Allan Fryer, Southwest Sun Carnival Secretary, El Paso.

The tickets will be sold to persons living outside El Paso until October 31. After that they will be put on the market in El Paso.

You can get yours now, if you wish to attend the game.

Not a single City Conference team unless it is Sunset is given much chance of winning. This means Orange, Grand Prairie, Amarillo, Highland Park and Baytown are the favorites.

In other headline games of the state, undefeated, untied, unscored-on Galveston entertains Austin, and Henderson, which also is unbeaten and untied, goes to Longview.

Galveston is the underdog against Austin and Henderson appears in for plenty of trouble with Longview in a District 9 conference game.

Eleven of the 20 City Conference and Class A districts have conference games in the schedule of an even 50 titles over the state.

The state tournament will not be held at Hillsboro this year for the first time, McKamie said. Hillsboro had planned to build a large sports arena so it might continue to host the tournament but the plans did not materialize. McKamie said the league hoped to have its own building in the next year or so.

"Where the state tournament will be held this year is a question at this time," McKamie said. "Several towns have invited us."

Wally Butts has spent his entire ten years as a head football coach as the grid mentor at Georgia.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, OCT. 13, 1949

Yankees Buy Two Coast Loop Stars

NEW YORK—(AP)—The New York Yankees, announcing they won't "stand pat" on their present world championship team for 1950, bought two of the brightest stars in the Pacific Coast League Thursday.

Manager Casey Stengel announced the purchase of Jackie Jensen, outfielder who is a former California football star, and Alford (Billy) Martin, an infielder.

They were bought from the Oakland club, which Stengel managed last year.

No price was divulged, but it's rumored the Yankees shelled out in the neighborhood of $100,000 and five players for the two athletes, who were widely sought after by major league clubs.

"You never sit tight," Casey told newsmen in the Yankees' final news conference of the season Wednesday. "You can't afford to stand pat in this league. We're going to try to strengthen our pitching staff, although it looked pretty good in the last week. Sure, we could use a couple of pitchers."

Strongest Arm In Baseball "I'd like to improve my outfield a little, too. We're willing to listen to anybody who has something reasonable to offer."

"My scouts tell me that Jensen is the greatest outfield prospect in the minor leagues," said Casey. "He is fast, has tremendous power, and owns the strongest arm in baseball since Bob Meusel."

In 125 games with the Oaks, Jensen batted .261 this season. Included in his 122 hits were 21 doubles, seven triples and nine home runs. He drove in 78 runs.

Stengel said eight clubs had been after Martin, a second baseman who also can play short or third.

Martin, 21, hit .284 this year—including 29 doubles, three triples and 13 homers. He drove in 91 runs.

George Kellam, the sports writer on the Port Worth Star-Telegram who gets a rise out of plenty of people with his weekly ratings, says he sure rode the wrong horse in taking Plainview over Midland.

"Tell Tubboat he slipped up on me at Plainview. I picked the wrong team," he writes.

Tubboat Jones is hoping to slip up on a few more this season, too, George.

We have had numerous requests lately from fans to tell them where they could get tickets to this game or that game. To date we haven't been able to help much.

However, here's something that may interest some of you. Tickets to the Sun Bowl game in El Paso, to be played January 1, now can be obtained from Allan Fryer, Southwest Sun Carnival Secretary, El Paso.

The tickets will be sold to persons living outside El Paso until October 31. After that they will be put on the market in El Paso.

You can get yours now, if you wish to attend the game.

Not a single City Conference team unless it is Sunset is given much chance of winning. This means Orange, Grand Prairie, Amarillo, Highland Park and Baytown are the favorites.

In other headline games of the state, undefeated, untied, unscored-on Galveston entertains Austin, and Henderson, which also is unbeaten and untied, goes to Longview.

Galveston is the underdog against Austin and Henderson appears in for plenty of trouble with Longview in a District 9 conference game.

Eleven of the 20 City Conference and Class A districts have conference games in the schedule of an even 50 titles over the state.

The state tournament will not be held at Hillsboro this year for the first time, McKamie said. Hillsboro had planned to build a large sports arena so it might continue to host the tournament but the plans did not materialize. McKamie said the league hoped to have its own building in the next year or so.

"Where the state tournament will be held this year is a question at this time," McKamie said. "Several towns have invited us."

Mustangs Pack Punch; Have Good Record For Season

SWEETWATER—Coach Pat Gerald will send his offensive-working Sweetwater Mustang football team to Midland Friday for its sixth non-conference game of the season.

The Mustangs have rolled up 151 points to the opponents' 62 in winning five of the six tilts. The lone Pony loss was to Odessa, 20 to 6.

The 1949 football machine is engineered by Quarterback Billy Hooper, a masterful passer, punter and runner. Hooper has thrown four touchdown passes and has scored seven touchdowns himself. The elusive back is touted as an all-state candidate.

Sweetwater has eight 1948 lettermen back this year. Only two were regulars last year. The first stringers of '48 back are Captain Hooper and End Riley Cross.

The other returning lettermen are D. C. Andrews, tackle; Charles Curry, back; Ronald Fraley, back; Bill Somerville, center; Red Rushing, back; and Charles Thompson, tackle.

One of the top ground-gainers in the Pony backfield is Rushing. The co-captain has carried the ball 38 times, gaining 406 yards from scrimmage for better than 10 yards per try.

The Mustangs opened their 1949 season with Vernon and had an easy time winning 14-0. They then went to Odessa, to lose 20-6 although out-playing the Bronchos in every phase of statistics. Sweetwater then blasted Electra, 51-0 and clouted Amos Carter Riverside of Port Worth, 34 to 21. Last Friday night, the Ponies beat El Paso High, 46 to 21.

The probable Sweetwater starting lineup: ENDS—Bob Gamel, 170; Riley Cross, 180.

TACKLES—Charles Thompson, 240; Bob McMillan, 160.

GUARDS—D. C. Andrews, 170; Billy Reynolds, 160.

CENTER—Bill Somerville, 202.

BACKS—Billy Hooper, 160; Red Rushing, 160; Ronald Fraley, 145, and John Woodard, 170.

The Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys are scheduled to arrive in Midland at 4 p.m. Friday by train. They will be quartered at Hotel Scharbauer during their stay here.

The Cowboys will meet the University of New Mexico eleven in a Border Conference grid game at Broncho Stadium in Odessa Saturday night.

Coach Tubboat Jones Thursday announced the Cowboys have requested use of the Midland High School practice field for a workout Friday afternoon.

Danny Goode of Midland and several other West Texas boys are on the Hardin-Simmons team.

Green To Organize New Class C League

MONROE, LA.—(AP)—A new Class C professional baseball league for Louisiana and Southeastern Texas is being planned with Howard Green as organizer.

Green, former president of the Longhorn League in West Texas, has been here two weeks conferring with baseball leaders regarding the new circuit.

A meeting will be held Sunday at Lake Charles, La., with Galveston, Port Arthur and Orange, Texas, and Opelousas, Crowley, Lake Charles, Jennings and Monroe, La., to be represented, Green said.

Green was the organizer of the Longhorn League but resigned as president last year and since has been connected with a professional baseball club in Colorado.

Carver Hornets Bop Hobbs Tigers 32-6

Coach Lewis Ritzschner's Carver High School Hornets trounced the Hobbs Tigers 32 to 6 in a hard-fought football game at Memorial Stadium Wednesday night.

The Hornets, running from the T and single wing formations, showed a powerful ground game which never was stopped by the Tigers.

The Midland team scored once on a 60-yard run and another time on a pass interception which was returned 55 yards. The other touchdowns came after long drives.

The Tigers scored in the fourth quarter after intercepting a pass.

Girls Cage League Membership List May Grow To 500

GATESVILLE—(AP)—The High School Girls Basketball League of Texas is due to have 500 teams this year—the largest in the history of the organization.

L. C. McKamie, state director, said Thursday that between 300 and 300 teams already had registered and that he expected almost as many more by November 1, the deadline for receiving entries.

The state tournament will not be held at Hillsboro this year for the first time, McKamie said. Hillsboro had planned to build a large sports arena so it might continue to host the tournament but the plans did not materialize. McKamie said the league hoped to have its own building in the next year or so.

"Where the state tournament will be held this year is a question at this time," McKamie said. "Several towns have invited us."

Whistling Frogs Of Bermuda Might Help U. S. Drug Store Cowhands Considerably

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Frog's whistle? Who says so?

It says so right here in a handout from the Bermuda News Bureau. Nonsense, eh? Well, it even gives the name of the whistling frog, Eleutherodactylus johnstonei.

Miss Elizabeth Maher is authority for this. She seems to think it will start a rash of tourists toward Bermuda by sea and air.

Ridiculous, you say? Well, maybe, but first there are all the frog fanatics, then all the connoisseurs of were precipitated in a pelting rain-storm, making a heck of a pitter-patter on the roofs and awnings.

Sure would be fun if a bunch of these Bermuda frogs got sucked up and came down softly whistling "Singing in the Rain." (Somebody suggested "The Whistler and His Frog" here but we're trying to keep this a perfectly sane, sensible scientific story.)

Miss Maher's handout ends on an inconclusive note. The frogs in their trees, whistling. Bermudans just sitting on their porches and making like they didn't hear them. What would you do if your trees were full of frogs, whistling?

Come tonight and the visiting tourist is about to lap up the first frozen daiquiri. Suddenly there is a whistling sound. It is picked up all over the yard. Hundreds of whistles. Your visitor looks up, surprised.

You try to be nonchalant. "It's the frogs, you say." "Eleutherodactylus johnstonei."

Your guest looks hard at his glass. He's puzzled because he hasn't touched a drop as yet and he thought you said it was frogs out there whistling.

You try to shrug it off with a quip, perhaps. "Hmmm, they're not in good voice... er... whistle, tonight. You should hear their rendition of the Prelude to the Third Act of Lohengrin."

No suggestions.

Embarrassing. Well, to say the least.

Where this handout from the Bermuda News Bureau falls down is in details like that. No answers to the big questions. And no practical suggestions, either. Somebody here in the NEA office thought there might be a market for these frogs. Bring them over under an extremely low import duty and sell them to people who can't purse their lips to summon their dogs with.

At the right price that might help England build up its dollar balance. Somebody else thought novelty shops might sell them to drug store cowboys. The idea was the drug store cowboy would stand on his wolfing beat with one of these eleutherodactylus johnstonei in his pocket. Comes along a pretty dame and he gently lifts the frog out of his pocket. "Frog whistles. Dame glares. D. S. cowboy politely lifts hat and says:

"Pardon my frog."

Well, there must be lots of uses.

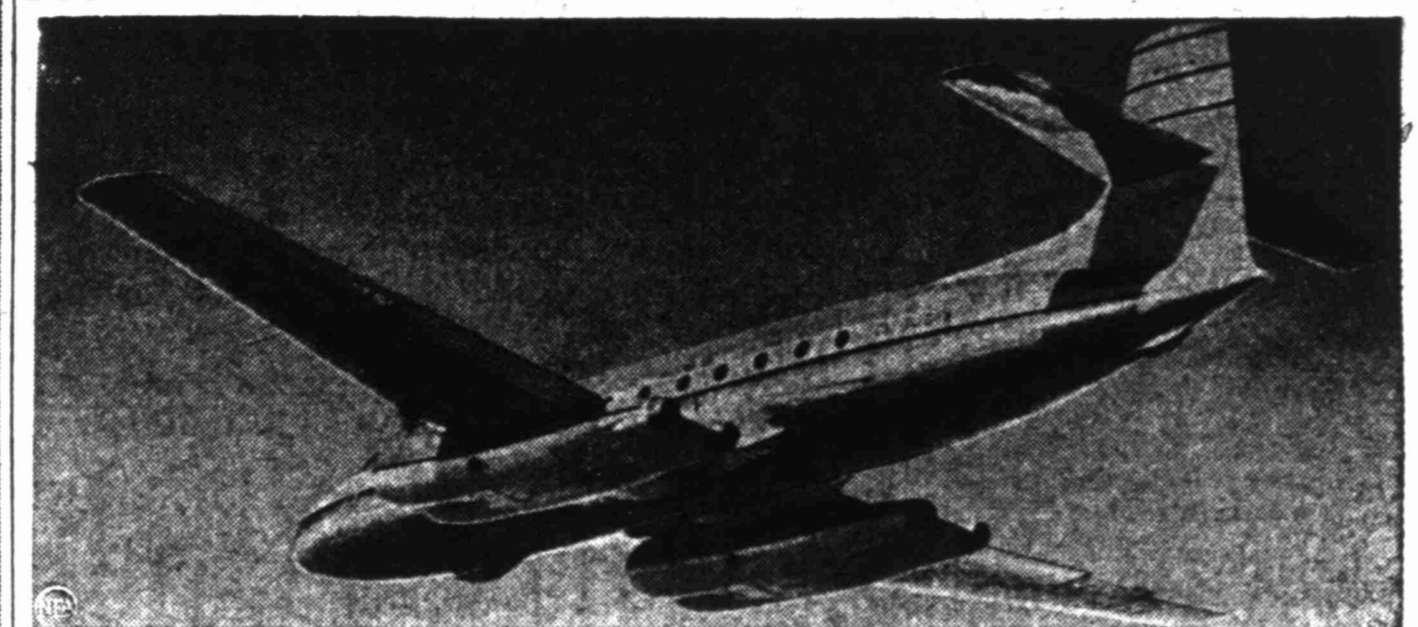

MIDLANDER IN RACE FOR CAMPUS HONORS

ABILENE—Audie Merrell, senior student from Midland, is a candidate in two important elections to be held Friday at McMurry College here.

The Midlander is a nominee for Campus Queen honors and also is one of 17 candidates named by the faculty for listing in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

McMurry students will select nine of the 17 Who's Who nominees.

Canada Challenges U.S. Plane Makers With First Jet Liners

Canada's "Jetliner." As in Toronto — (NEA) — United States aircraft manufacturers, whose planes now carry the bulk of the world's commercial air passengers, have plenty of plans for commercial jet transports—on paper.

So far, however, they have no such planes under construction. But they have two strong challenges for the world market. When the first inter-city jet airliners begin operating on scheduled routes in North America, they most likely will be Canadian designed.

Canada's bid was made at the first official flight of the Avro Jetliner, a four-jet, 427-miles-per-hour transport built to carry up to 50 passengers on short-haul express service. It would put New York and Toronto, for instance, less than an hour apart. With a range of 800 to 1000 miles, it is not designed for trans-ocean service.

Top Brass Present
Debut of the Jetliner, built by the Toronto branch of British plane-maker A. V. Roe, had an audience of top aviation brass which included many U. S. airline officials. Eddie Rickenbacker, whose Eastern Airlines shames most others by consistently making money, reportedly is interested. His airline is one of the few which stuck to the DC-3 when the new and faster Convair began taking over short-haul work.

Rickenbacker, it was indicated, was waiting for jets. And A. V. Roe expects to have its Jetliner in commercial use by early 1951.

A flight in the Jetliner differs from conventional planes mainly in the absence of noise, both inside and outside. On the take-off in England, the government helped get it off the drawing board. There is a high-pitched whine, and heat waves surge back of the plane. It is airborne at 100 miles per hour, in about the same distance as a conventional four-engine commercial transport.

Flying overhead, the plane is almost silent, with a whine following after it has passed over. Inside, pilots report they do not need earphones to talk to each other or to hear the control tower radio. Once aloft there is no sound in the plane, and they report it as calm as floating in space.

About Same Size
Outwardly, the jet air transport is about the same size and construction as a conventional plane, but has a higher tail assembly.

Airline operators hope jets will permit cheaper fares, since upkeep is expected to be less. The fuel is kerosene, cheaper than high octane aviation gasoline. Engines can be removed in less than 20 minutes, and are located within ground reach of engine crews. The high speed will allow more frequent runs with less equipment.

Canada's challenge to U. S. plane-makers was the second in a month. England already had unveiled the world's first jet transport, the Comet, a 36-passenger, 500-miles-per-hour De Havilland plane. Its maker claims it is capable of making the New York-London flight in six hours.

De Havilland, which had a government contract to build the Comet, already has orders for 16 of the planes from the British.

It promises 1952-53 delivery for U. S. prospects. Likewise, A. V. Roe had help from the Canadian government. American plane-makers have announced readiness to build jets when they get an order, but there was no government help in the offering.

ECA Program Sells Oil Industry Short, Says NPC Chairman

BAKERSFIELD, CALIF. — "We must become immediately aware of the danger of the American oil industry being sold down the river by certain Socialistic planners in Washington who seize opportunities growing out of world economic dislocation to further their plans for world Socialization," Walter S. Hallanan, chairman of the National Petroleum Council declared here Wednesday night.

Attacking the ECA program which he said is financing an enormous increase in foreign oil production and refining facilities over the next four years, Hallanan asserted that the "behind-the-door" discussions that have been going on in Washington in relation to financing of greater activities in petroleum production and refining for those nations desperately fighting for dollars, have brought the most ominous threats we have ever known in keeping the American oil industry on a basis where it can survive the onslaught of foreign competition."

"The incredible thing about all of this," he continued, "is that, according to reliable reports, some of our American representatives in these international deals and conversations who hold positions of public trust and who should be expected to protect the welfare of the most vital segment of our economy, are out-Britishing the British. They are willing to finance British oil production to an even greater extent than the British themselves have suggested. I know that it is regarded as heresy in some quarters, but I believe the time has come when we ought to give some consideration to America and Americans."

Destructive Competition
"It is not forget that the Labor-Socialist government of Great Britain, to which we have made and are making the most generous gifts and loans totaling almost ten billion dollars, is directly in the oil business. It owns the controlling interest in large producing companies in the Middle East. It is in direct, unfair and destructive competition with you. And yet, our government is financing the competition while we are called upon to go into competitive capital markets to obtain the billions that we need to do the job of providing our country with an adequate supply of oil and with maintaining and increasing our reserves. The oil industry is proud of the fact that it has done this job without any handouts or subsidies from Washington. So long as we continue to finance our competition, we will be doing nothing better than feeding the mouth that is biting us."

"We believe in being generous to those in need," the chairman of the Petroleum Council declared, "and America has a record of generosity which is unparalleled in world history. I do not believe in impoverishing ourselves, and we will never agree that the American oil producer shall be crucified on a cross of international Socialism."

Four Specific Assaults
Addressing a banquet session of the San Joaquin Valley Oil Producers Association, Hallanan said the problems facing the oil industry today were the most serious in all its ninety-year history. He said that the oil industry faced four specific and serious assaults which he enumerated as follows:

1.—The use of the public Treasury to the extent of millions of dollars to build up the oil production capacity of foreign nations.

2.—Encouragement of a flood of imports which, if continued on the scale now proposed, will destroy the stability of our American domestic industry.

3.—The seizure of the submerged Tidelands from the states and the control of their vast reserves under a federal bureaucracy.

4.—The complete control of the oil industry by the federal government through the enlargement of powers of Federal Power Commission to regulate natural gas at the well head and subject it to the whims and decrees of those whose sole aim is to nationalize the petroleum industry."

National Suicide
The Petroleum Council Chairman declared that the specter of the ECA program to rob the productive capacity of foreign oil sources in the next four years posed the greatest threat to the domestic industry. He said that it was proposed to create vast surpluses of crude oil and products in foreign lands and then add: "These surpluses will have little or no value unless they can be exchanged for dollars, and America offers the only major dollar market in the world today. It is proposed, in short, that this country be made the dumping ground for cheap surplus production of the Middle East and the Near East."

"That is nothing more nor less than national suicide," he continued. "We are creating a Frankenstein that will ultimately and inevitably bring ruin to our own oil industry, upon which the nation depends for maintenance of its peace-time economy and for defense in time of war."

Fred Wemple Says—Texas Highways Crumble Under Traffic Pounding

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN — (AP) — Highways built in Texas 20 years ago are beginning to crumble under the constant pounding of traffic.

It would be desirable to re-design most of the primary arteries and realign most of them for safety. It would cost several hundred million dollars to put Texas' main roads in first-class shape, but where's the money coming from? Those three assertions contain the meat of a recent statement issued here by Fred Wemple of Midland, chairman of the State Highway Commission.

He said highway planners are becoming increasingly concerned over the cost of maintaining state roads. That cost runs around $22,000,000 a year.

Most of the main routes through the state were built almost 20 years ago. The rate of their run-down increases every year. Wemple said, and the time is nearing when patching them up here and there will not help much.

Leads Nation
Texas continues to lead the nation in the total mileage of roads built. The latest estimates call for 4,250 miles to be completed in 1949.

Elsewhere in the nation, there are only seven states which will build more than 100 miles of road this year. North Carolina with 3,000 new miles should wind up next to Texas.

Each mile of new roads adds to the maintenance problem. "Although a large number of new roads are being built, we can not be content with the highway situation in Texas," Wemple says.

"The size of the state demands more road mileage than any other state. As we build more and more new roads, they are added to the list for maintenance.

"Unless some solution is found for the highway maintenance problem, we shall soon find that our worst roads are the heaviest traveled roads."

No Solution
Wemple offered no immediate solution. He did say the financial condition of the state and nation is such that a general overhauling of the primary road system was impractical now.

The state highway program chiefly is dependent on the gasoline tax for basic revenue. The last legislature supplemented that to market road money with a direct allocation of the clearance fund. State funds also are supplemented by local and federal money on specific types of projects, but the gasoline tax still is the main feeder.

Wemple's statement aroused considerable speculation in the capital as to whether the next legislature would be asked to find more money for roads.

Missionary To Speak At Presbyterian Meet

Dr. Edward Ellison, who returned recently from missionary duty in China, will address Presbyterian Men of Midland at their October dinner meeting at 6:30 p. m. Thursday in the Fellowship Room of the First Presbyterian Church.

The work of the church and general conditions in China will be discussed by the speaker. A record attendance of church members and guests is expected.

Nylon Smuggling Is Big Business For Black Market

LONDON — Nylon smuggling has become big business for Britain's black market.

British mills turn out 2,000,000 pairs a month, but 70 per cent of the output goes for export and nylon counters in Britain generally are bare. Yet they are being sold, openly and in quantity, by sidewalk trader in London's Piccadilly and the Strand and in provincial cities for up to the 35s ($4.50) a pair.

Authorities, stepping up a war on illegal traffic in nylons, say smuggling of the sheer stockings is more common than smuggling of jewelry and gold. Nylons pour into the country by air and sea from Canada, the United States, Eire and the Continent.

Export consignments mysteriously "disappear" between the factory and the docks. Export sales once packed with nylons have been found on delivery overseas to contain old rags.

Three thousand pairs of nylons recently were discovered in a red-tinged aboard the liner Queen Mary. More than 800 pairs were found hidden in sugar boxes aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth.

Eastern States Heat Wave Appears Broken

CHICAGO — (AP) — The hot spell over most of the Eastern states appeared broken Thursday.

After several days of mid-summer temperatures, a mass of cool air from the Midwest moved into sections east of the Mississippi River to the North Atlantic Coast. Rain fell along the Appalachian Mountains and along the New England Coast. Showers also were reported in New York City.

The cool air did not reach the South Atlantic states and generally farm weather was reported over the southeastern part of the country.

EL PASO HEADS FOR NEW BUILDING RECORD
EL PASO — (AP) — City building permits in El Paso passed the $10,000,000 mark for 1949 Tuesday.

Building Department officials predicted a $14,000,000 total by December 31 to shatter last year's all-time record total here of more than $13,000,000.

Strickland Assessed Five-Year Term In Snyder Jail Slaying

SWEETWATER — (AP) — Henry W. Strickland, 30, of Jackson, Miss., was found guilty Wednesday night of murder in a jail killing and given a five-year sentence.

Strickland was accused of beating Robert C. Sperry, 48, to death while they were in the Scurry County jail at Snyder last June 27.

Strickland did not testify. Before resting, the defense introduced Dr. C. R. Cockrell and Dr. H. E. Rosser of Snyder to testify an autopsy showed Sperry was suffering from a serious heart disease and that a brain hemorrhage alone was not enough to cause death. On cross examination, they admitted a blow on the head could have hastened death.

Earlier Dr. L. R. Hershberger of San Angelo testified an autopsy showed Sperry's death was due to heart trouble and blows on the head. He testified that without the heart disease Sperry would have died of wounds within three days.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

But Curly "Knows What The Score Is!"

Was seen at Doc Sherman's drug store listening to the World Series on the radio. Curly Lawson wanders in and says: "How about a chocolate malted, Doc?"

"Sorry, Curly," says Doc, "can't make you a malted for a while yet." "What's the idea?" Curly asks. "Well," says Doc, "most of the folks want to hear the game and the mixer makes too much noise." Curly thinks a moment and says, "Okay with me, Doc—I'll take a chocolate soda!"

This shows how tolerant folks can be. Doc showed his respect for how the majority felt; Curly was big enough not to insist on his malted even though he doesn't happen to be fond of baseball.

From where I sit, willingness to respect the other people's feelings is important in a Democracy. If we're tolerant of a person's like for baseball or a glass of temperance beer, we've come a long way on the right road... the road to a better America, that is!

Success Of Nehru In India Interests U. S. Officialdom

WASHINGTON—(AP)—For many reasons India's handsome prime minister, Jawahara Nehru, is being received in Washington with more than the usual interest and curiosity accorded foreign leaders. Rich, educated, chosen by Gandhi to lead his nation, he has been conspicuously successful in keeping the general Far Eastern chaos from his own soil. How does he do it?

The story of the rioting in the Punjab in the late Summer of 1947 is probably the sharpest case in point. This is on the information of G. Milton Kelly, who was the Associated Press chief in India at the time.

The Punjab is a northern province that lies athwart the lines now drawn between India and Pakistan, the two nations set up when the British got out. India is predominantly Hindu; and Pakistan, Moslem. The religious differences among the unlettered of both nations is bitter.

Right after independence day, Aug. 15, 1947, when the two nations were separated, rioting broke out in the Punjab. Reports were too brief for Kelly, who was in Delhi, so he set out for the fighting area. He brought out pictures to prove what he found. He saw death and destruction. He remembers babies, cut in two, lying by the road; whole families cut down in their homes; buildings so wrecked that streets were heaps of rubble.

Nine Million Leave

Kelly estimated that some half million lost their lives in that rioting, although he says there will never be any way to know the death toll. To add to confusion, Hindus in the Moslem areas trekked home to their own kind. Moslems did the same. Kelly says perhaps nine million people migrated that Autumn; just picked up what they could carry and walked. No one will know that figure, for sure, either.

The result for Nehru was huge refugee camps in India. Kelly saw camps with 40,000 to 50,000 people "hungry and living in incredible filth." It seems the Hindus were prevented by their religious practices from cleaning up their own filth. So they lived in it. Miraculously, no epidemics occurred, although untold numbers died of disease.

But there was danger beyond disease. The Communists moved in. They disdained to talk to crowds, but they did appear to go after leaders. Kelly sat in on one such talk in a small military shelter. The group included a Hindu Communist, a Moslem Army officer, a Japanese radio commentator, and two Hindu newspapermen. The Communist told them that "in Communism there is no room for communal fighting."

That sounds like gibberish here. But he was saying that different religious groups would never be forced to live together. At the time Gandhi was trying to prevent Hindu and Moslem from separating.

Reds Infiltrate

Also at that time the Communists had infiltrated into Indian communications: telephone, telegraph, trucking and railroads. They could have paralyzed the country. Nehru faced that when he had to move into the Punjab to bring about order. He moved anyway. He sent in some military. He sent housing materials to throw up little "bushas" for the refugees—wooden huts, many with thatched roofs. He sent in food.

Luck was on his side. Once the migration had separated most of the Moslems and Hindus, the bitterness died down. Gandhi's death finally stopped the rioting.

Nehru again had comparative peace in his newly free land, and the Communists had won not a single province. Now most of the Communist leaders are in jail.

Among Nehru's Far Eastern neighbors, China is almost lost to Communist armies. There is still no settlement in the Indies. Vietnam and Burma have sporadic uprisings. Korea is split between Communist and Democrat.

Nehru's 400,000,000 people may be hungry, as many have always been. But there is no civil war. There is no real Communist threat at the moment. And the rupee is one of the world's comparatively sound moneys.

Gregarious animals are those that live in flocks or herds.

Sailboats Carry A Dairy Cargo

FULL CARGO—Attractive sailboats carry a valuable supply of milkshakes to a children's party.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

When an after-school party teaches youngsters good eating habits and increases their happiness at the same time, that's a party to make mothers grateful.

Let's call it a sailboat party. Allow your children to ask in a few minutes after school. Then plan this simple and novel little get-together.

Give them warm squares of spicy gingerbread topped with whipped cream. Use either the following recipe or else prepared gingerbread mix.

Gingerbread
One-half cup butter, 1 cup light brown sugar, 2 eggs, 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup molasses.

Work butter to a soft cream and beat in the sugar. Add the eggs and beat to a smooth cream. Sift flour with salt, soda, baking powder and spices. Mix boiling water and molasses, stir into the butter mixture, then add the flour and stir just enough to mix to a smooth batter. Pour into a buttered 8x12-inch baking pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 40 minutes or until the gingerbread is firm to the touch and shrunk from the sides of the pan.

Vanilla Milkshake
(4 servings)
Three cups milk, 1 pint vanilla ice cream. Put milk and ice cream in a shaker and shake until well blended. Pour into tall glasses and serve at once.

Better Bee Is Probable, But Honeycomb To Remain Same

Phyllis Sigel blows smoke at bees to pacify them at Pennsylvania State College, where they seek a better bee.

STATE COLLEGE, PA.—(NEA)—Man is coming close to making a better bee, but he can't build a better honeycomb than a bee can.

That's the conclusion reached by Edwin J. Anderson after 35 years of working with bees, breeding them, peering into honeycombs and, now and then, getting stung. Anderson is associate professor of apiculture, the scientific term for beekeeping, at Pennsylvania State College. And for most of his years in the bee business, he's been trying to build a honeycomb that's as good as the ones the bees build.

In all man-made attempts, however, the comb is crude and when the bees move in they have to use as much wax to line it as they would if they'd started from scratch. The idea of making the comb for them, of course, is so more beeswax would be available for honey.

Despite his long association with bees, Anderson has never been able to imitate a trait so natural that a newly-hatched bee can figure out how to build his own comb even when he's isolated from all the older bees.

And what he builds is a masterpiece of construction, complete with air conditioning that beats man's mechanical methods. The cell walls of the comb are so well insulated and protected that the temperature inside the cell remains constant at 95 to 96 degrees and the humidity stays at 70 per cent.

The bee is vulnerable to cold weather, however, when he steps outside of his warm, air-conditioned comb. Extreme cold often wipes out whole colonies.

That's where Anderson thinks he's beating the bee. By artificial insemination and other breeding methods, he's pretty close to producing the better bee—one that can fly from the comb in winter without catching cold.

Youngsters love a desert made of banana slices sandwiches with peanut butter. Serve with a custard sauce if you want to add to their daily milk quotient.

Met Opera Star Will Open Symphony Year

LUBBOCK — Leonard Warren, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Association of New York, is to be the guest artist with the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra, October 24 and October 25, to open the 1949-50 Symphony season.

Until he was 27, Leonard Warren had never studied an opera role. A graduate of Columbia University, he had intended to pursue a business career, but when he was fired from his first job—as an accountant—for singing at his work, he decided to make music more than a hobby.

Warren's rise in grand opera has been phenomenal. Not only is he a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, but of four other opera companies in this nation and South America.

"Myriad" literally means ten thousand.

Free Matches No Damper On Gadget Racket

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK.—(AP)—In a world of free matches Americans are forking out $50,000,000 annually for gadgets to light their cigars.

World War I popularized the wrist watch. And what that war did for the wrist watch World War II has done for the gadget lighter.

"Now the flint business alone is bigger than the entire lighter industry 15 years ago," said Alfred R. Nathan, vice president of the Ronson Art Metal Works, Inc.

The Ronson Company—the equivalent of General Motors in its field—soon will market its 35,000,000th lighter.

It was founded 56 years ago by the late Louis V. Aronson, a metallurgical engineer who put the voice in the mama doll. Aronson, who died in 1940, was a pink-cheeked man with a passion for maroon

—he even wore maroon shirts. Even in bathroom.

"Oddly, as a young man he once won a $5,000 prize from the Belgian government for developing a safety match," Nathan recalled.

Repeating of this, Aronson turned to the mechanical lighter. His biggest contribution was a push button invention that brought the light to life with the pressure of a finger. It made him so much money he could pal around with kings. He even bought a 70-foot yacht so he could sail to see them.

"He had lighters from one end of the yacht to the other," said Nathan. "Even had one in his bathroom."

One of Nathan's present vice presidential duties is the assembling of a museum of mechanical lighters.

lighters in everything from sword canes to baby shoes cast in bronze," he said.

This rooco period is dying out. The Ronson Company, for example, has cut down its number of models from 1,000 to about 100.

"The industry hasn't yet caught up with postwar demand."

"We have barely scratched the surface," said Nathan. The industry goal is to get a pencil lighter—it lights at one end, writes at the other—in every man's vest, a combination cigar case and lighter in every woman's purse, and a table lighter in every room.

How about a lifetime lighter that will never need refueling? Nathan looked cautious.

"Maybe one will come along that will last a year without refueling," he said, "but not a lifetime—in our lifetime."

Welfare Guards

Russell W. Davenport, writing in Fortune, believes America can provide its citizens with the welfare safeguards they demand, without falling into socialism. In his view the whole burden of saving the situation rests upon the business community.

The way to avoid socialism, Davenport adds, is not to deny people their economic rights—as some apparently would. It is to transfer to private hands the primary responsibility for those rights.

As a starter, he sees three avenues along which businessmen might move in seizing the initiative.

One is economic security, defined by him as the right to be able to live in a society, participate in it, in a permanent and confident way.

Secondly, he says industry and business must humanize their operations. Collective bargaining isn't enough; a worker needs a "sense of belonging."

Third, employees need to have genuine participation in the destiny of a business. If they get it, says Davenport, their individual productive energies will be released in a way beneficial both to them and the enterprise in which they are engaged.

He concedes that many enterprises have taken steps to protect and expand economic rights, but insists that too few have tried, that efforts generally have been scattered and grudging.

"To make obstacles an excuse for doing nothing is merely to increase them," he says. Davenport is convinced that a totally different atmosphere would develop in America if 100 leading firms would announce that henceforth they intended to be primarily responsible for economic rights and were undertaking a program of action to that end.

It seems to us Davenport has adopted an aggressive approach to the biggest domestic problem of our time. If socialism is ever to come to this country, it should not arrive by default. Those who believe capitalism is the best guarantor of human well-being must prove it by making it work. That they can never do if they abdicate their responsibility.

Doing Their Bit

Two young Welshmen sailed for home recently after an 8,600-mile tour of America which cost them only $14.50. They hitchhiked, accepted gifts of food, slept in jails on occasion, and appeared on radio quiz programs at strategic moments.

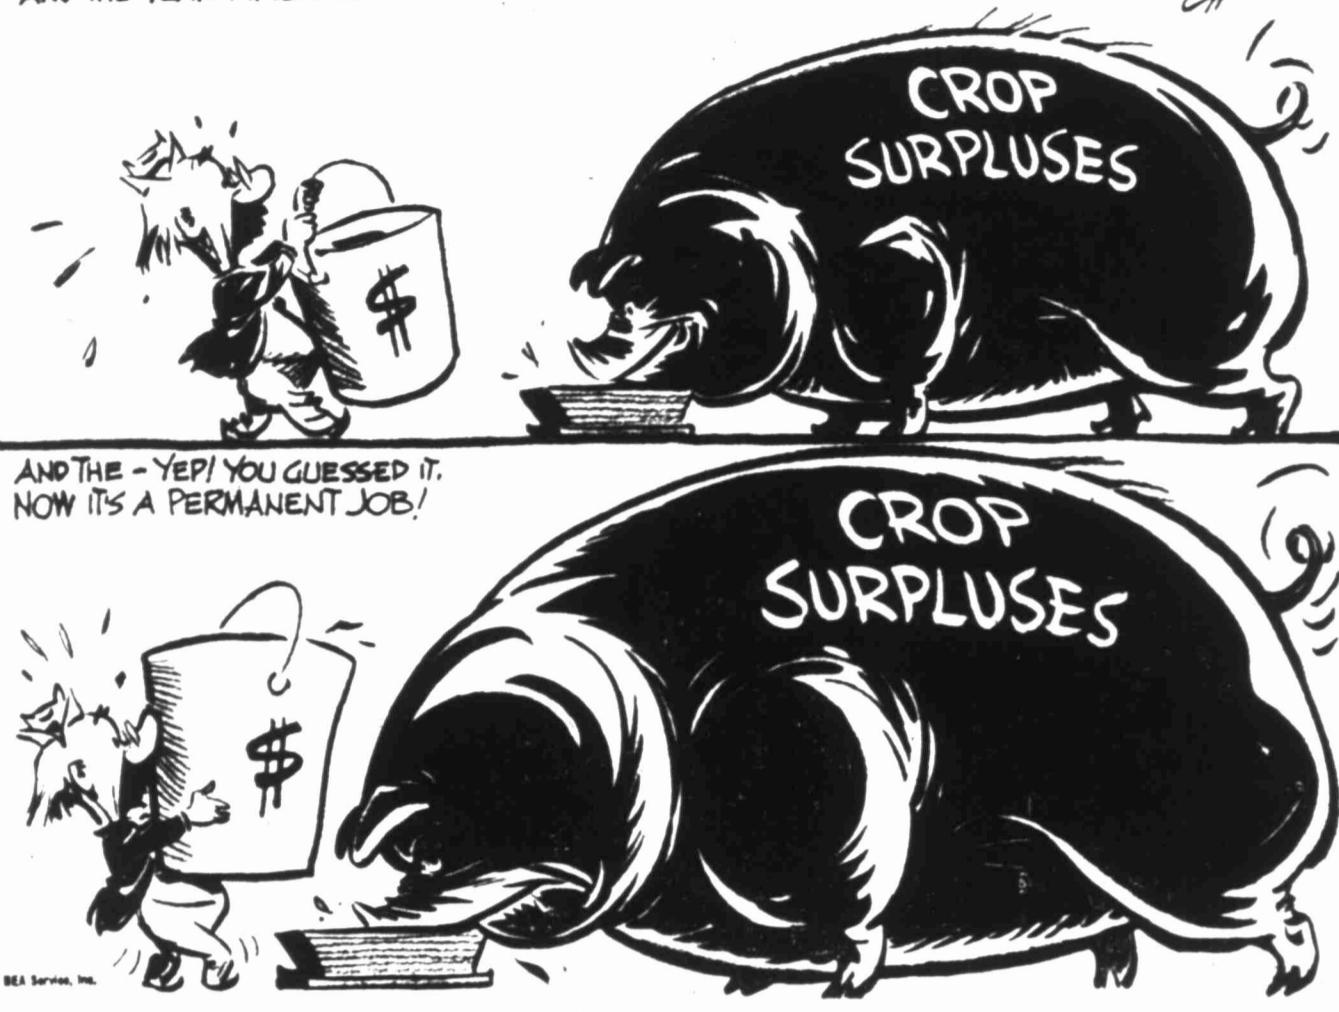

"We lived like kings after we won quiz contests in Los Angeles and Chicago," said one. Certainly Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's financial chief, will have to give these two an appreciative pat for their personal efforts at easing the drain on the British dollar supply.

With so many labor-saving devices to keep going, woman's work is never done. If fishermen must tell tall tales they at least should keep 'em short.

People who have a good mind to do things wrong haven't a good mind. Even in sweltering weather you can't make friends by giving folks the cold shoulder.

DREW PEARSON ON 'The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND'

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Senate Leader Lucas blasts Vice President Barkley; Admiral Denfeld is unhap-

PICTURE: WASHINGTON — It has been kept out of the papers, but sparks have been flying between two of President Truman's most potent congressional leaders—Vice President Barkley and Majority Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois.

Things came to a head when the vice president, called upon to settle a tie, voted for rigid 90 per cent support of parity farm prices which the administration opposed. Senator Lucas, faced with defeat, lashed out at Barkley privately in language unprintable in a family newspaper.

"What does Barkley know about farming his vote?" scolded the Senate leader. "He has a few tobacco farms down in Kentucky, but he knows nothing about the agricultural problems of the great west."

Lucas, whose nerves are frazzled after the long and thankless job of riding herd on rebellious senators, further accused Barkley of torpedoing the farm program and embarrassing him personally.

"Who ever heard of anyone explaining his vote?" scolded Lucas referring to the fact that the vice president, in breaking the tie, had explained that he had campaigned for parity price support. "It's unheard of in the history of the Senate."

Barkley was not present during this tirade, which was meant for private ears. But word of it got back to him and it won't help relations between the two men who are supposed to guide the Truman program through the Senate.

Unhappy Admiral Unhappiest admiral in the Navy today is probably Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, one of the square shooters ever to command a battle wagon.

Denfeld is right in the middle of the Navy-Air Force battle, a battle which he did not start. Now that it's started he is publicly siding with his brother admirals. But before it started, he expressed the private view that the Navy could better use more money for submarines and smaller airplane-carriers, rather than putting all its eggs in the giant experimental airplane carrier which has now become the war cry of the admirals.

Since then, some admirals have tried to cold-shoulder Denfeld, accused him of transferring Admiral Arthur Radford out to the Pacific because he had been a contender for Denfeld's job—an accusation completely untrue.

Rows like the present flare-up are not unusual in the Navy, and the situation between Admirals Radford and Denfeld is not unlike a similar Navy fracas which harvested just as many headlines back in the Hoover administration. It illustrates the unfortunate fact that the admirals frequently put their judgment ahead of their commander-in-chief.

At that time, the admirals, who always worship bigness, were bent on building a lot of 10,000-ton, 8-inch-gun cruisers, and refused to go along with Secretary of State Stimson on a treaty of limitations. Spearhead of the Navy attack against Stimson was salty Admiral Hilary Jones—the Admiral Radford of his day.

But siding with Stimson, and holding the same chief of naval operations job which Admiral Denfeld occupies today, was Admiral William V. Pratt. Pratt believed only smaller cruisers with 6-inch guns could fire faster, and were more effective at close range or at night.

But because he held these views Pratt was almost ostracized from the Navy. For a time his fellow admirals would not speak to him. And when he retired as chief of naval operations, almost no one was on hand to see him depart.

The Admirals' Leak As today, the admirals arranged a

But of it was not until the battle of the small cruiser, proved right. And the fact that Pratt and Secretary Stimson forced the Navy into building some fast 6-inch-gun cruisers turned out to be the Navy's salvation when it came to patrolling the vast South Pacific during the recent war.

Jack O'Brien, director of information for the Office of Housing Expediter, got a phone call some time ago from a man with a thick accent who said:

"This is Drew Pearson calling, and I want to know why Colonel James Hunt spends so much time around your office? If you're not careful, I'm going to write a story about it. You'd better get rid of that fellow Hunt."

The alleged "Drew Pearson" referred to "five-percent" James Hunt, the friend of General Harry Vaughan, and supposedly also the friend of the mysterious John Maragon.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

To become a real expert in the play of the hand, you must learn how to count the distribution in your opponents' hands.

Today's lesson hand on the play appeared in a recent issue of The Bridge World. No matter how you bid the hand, I think you will admit that as soon as South opens the bidding, North and South are destined to arrive at a slam contract.

The opening lead of the seven of clubs is won in dummy with the jack. To establish the fourth spade will do much good.

Lesson Hand on the Play Neither. South West North East 1 N.T. Pass 1 N.T. Pass 2 Pass 2 N.T. Pass 3 Opening—4 7 13

Table with columns for South, West, North, East and rows for 1 N.T., 2 Pass, 3 2 N.T., 4 7, 5 Pass, 6 13.

the jack of diamonds, and take a quick look at West. If he hesitates or fumbles, maybe he has the queen. If he quickly and casually plays the four-spot, go up with dummy's king and finesse the diamond coming back.

But suppose that West out-maneuvers you in the guessing contest—it would be safer to eliminate the guess. You must lose a spade some time; there is no place to put it. So lose it right away.

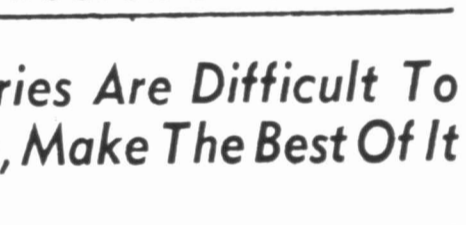

Play a small spade and let the opponents win it. They will lead another club. You win this in dummy with the ace, cash the ace and king of spades, and when they break, lead the other spade.

In all probability East will discard a diamond, so you throw a diamond. Then cash three rounds of hearts and the king of clubs.

Now see what you have found out. When you cash the king of clubs, East has to let go his jack of hearts. So lose it small. Discard a spade, four hearts and two clubs. Therefore he originally had four diamonds, which means that West has a singleton diamond.

Therefore you lead the ten of diamonds with it in dummy with the king and make a small diamond, and you can take the finesse safely because you know that West does not have another diamond, as surely as if you had looked in East's hand and seen his queen.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★ Stiff Arteries Are Difficult To Deal With, Make The Best Of It

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

The arteries which carry blood from the heart to all parts of the body gradually become less elastic with increasing years.

The increased hardness of the arteries, or arteriosclerosis, which lessens the flow of blood likely is to be so gradual that there is no way of detecting it until it has become quite advanced.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. QUESTION: Will beer cause people to become fat?

ANSWER: Beer contains a good many calories which are turned into fat by the human body. Therefore, the drinking of beer added to the ordinary diet will produce fatness.

rate of speed in one part of the deposit of calcium. When the amount of blood flowing through a hardened artery is greatly decreased, there will not be enough blood to supply the needs of some parts of the body.

The symptoms from arteriosclerosis depend on what arteries are affected and to what degree they are affected by the thickening and the deposit of calcium.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Big Drive On To Get Women To Exercise Their Suffrage

By DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON—Today's professional fighters for the rights of women have a far more modest goal than the vision of political equality with men, which inspired the early suffragette leaders to their noble efforts.

The great political purge, the great revitalizing of the whole American governmental process which giving the vote to women was supposed to produce, never materialized. It has turned out that women really don't give much of a hoot about voting.

They finally discovered that there wasn't enough difference between the principles of the national Democratic and Republican organizations to fill even a small pamphlet. Then they discovered that there were too many differences among the state organizations of the same party for even a large pamphlet to try to explain. So they put all of the unanswered questions which they had been collecting over a period of six years and made a pamphlet out of them instead.

By flooding the country with the league's new quiz publication and with the 11 regional conferences, Miss Strauss hopes that by the 1950 election "all women will be active workers in the party of their choice."

The exceptions such as Margaret Chase Smith and Helen Gahagan Douglas have been too rare over the years to prove anything except their rarity.

Proof of all of this can be found in the big new program of the League of Women Voters which has just been launched here. A spokesman for the league calls it, "the most ambitious drive this organization has ever undertaken."

Miss Anna Lord Strauss, national president of the league, sounds the following keynote: "The connecting link between you and your government officials is the political party. High government officials will make the final decisions on problems of peace and prosperity, but it is the political party that determines who these officials shall be. You can take an active part in the political party if you wish. 'Politics is everybody's business.'"

Compared to the fighting talk of such old-time leaders as Susan B. Anthony, Miss Strauss' keynote is pretty mild. It certainly would be a shock to Susan B. Anthony to discover that 100 years later, her valiant and successful fight to get women the vote had degenerated into a fight to get them to use it.

The big excuse that the league gives today for women failing to take a significant place in U. S. politics is that it's just too tough for them to get started in the game. This drive, apparently, is to cure that by showing them how to get started.

A pamphlet called "What's the U. S. to You?—a Quiz," is to be the Bible and guide for the league's drive. The publication is unique in that none of the questions which are asked in it are answered. The questions are supposed to be so challenging to the female mind that they send the reader off in hot quest for the answers. Then when she finds the answers she'll be all fired up to get into politics.

A league spokesman explains the interesting reason for a pamphlet in this unusual form. For six years the league staff tried to get one out which was to be called "Know Your

Ceylon Interested In West's Methods

INGINIAGALLA, CEYLON — In common with all the underdeveloped countries of Asia, Ceylon is avid for the application of Western "know how" to her potentialities.

The imagination and the ambition of all Ceylon have been fired by a spectacular demonstration of American methods in the building of the new Dominion's first major public works project, a large multi-purpose dam near this jungle village northeast of Colombo.

Morrison-Knudsen International of San Francisco, a subsidiary of the Morrison-Knudsen Company of Boise and New York, received the contract for the $18,000,000 project. Sixty Americans with a labor force of about 1,400 Ceylonese, began moving dirt in April and expect to be finished in January.

Completion of the project will reopen an area that was populous in the heyday of the Ceylonese kingdoms, but was abandoned to the creeping jungle more than 1,000 years ago.

She was in an awful mood tonight, quite unlike herself. She whirled around, her face red and said, "I suppose you're ashamed of me!"

"No, Jenny, it isn't that at all." He turned away and went into the bedroom to get ready to go visit Ma at the nursing home. He went twice a week. Tonight he knew it was a good thing he was going out.

After Tod had gone, Jenny took up the evening paper and tried to read, but she was too tired. She got ready for bed and tried to relax then, but she was too exhausted to go to sleep immediately.

Not having enough money was a dreadful thing. It spoiled one's outlook. And besides that she was awfully tired from staying up late nights with the babies. Yes, she was awfully tired.

She lay there awake a long time thinking trying to remember exactly how she had felt that March day so long ago—not so long ago either, only two years—when she had gone down to the Union Station to meet Tod.

It was snowing, she remembered, and the store windows were full of spring things. She had been so excited about seeing Tod again. He had liked her hat. That little brown velvet bonnet. She still had it, only she never had an occasion to wear it any more. But Tod had said she looked cute in it.

She crawled out of bed suddenly, throwing back the covers, and went to the closet and found the box where her old hats were. She fished out the velvet bonnet and brushed it off. The tulle ribbons were frayed. She went to the mirror and mapped on the dressing table light and put the hat on her head. She stared at herself for a long moment, her heart sinking. She looked terrible, her eyes puffy, no make-up, hair stringing down on either side of her face. And then too, a velvet bonnet doesn't look too becoming atop a pair of faded cotton pajamas. She flung it on the dressing table, tears rolling down her cheeks now. Tears of self pity.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE DOCTOR: Jenny's marriage to Tod Duncan goes down with many difficulties, but she has for a change, when it has to do with a basement apartment in the city and she has to live with some one else. Tod, however, is unable to live. Tod, however, is unable to live. Tod, however, is unable to live.

Without another word Nina picked up her coat and hat. At the doorway she turned back and said, "If you'd rather hide your head like an ostrich, hon, I guess it's not my place to spoil things for you. Let me know if you need me. Maybe you're right. Maybe I'd better stay away because I can't keep my mouth shut about Tod."

TOD came home half hour later to find Jenny crying as she went about getting their supper. Jenny faced him wildly, her face flushed and moist, her eyes puffy from crying. "Nina criticized me for not getting new clothes and—well lots of other things. She wanted to tell me things about you too. But I wouldn't let her."

"I wouldn't let Nina upset me," Tod said. He went into the other room, where one of the twins was whimpering.

He felt guilty at Jenny's words because only this afternoon Liz had wanted him to come to cocktail party Conover Advertising, Inc., was giving for a big industrialist—a client.

Liz had said, "If you think Jenny would disapprove of your going, we'll take her along."

He knew he didn't dare go with Liz. If he went to the party with her, he might start going other places with her. He'd meet her places clandestinely—well it was just no good.

While Jenny got the twins ready for bed he said, "I wish I could find the money, Jenny, for you to get some clothes, but you know how it is."

Air Force Turning Back For New Plane Designs

Helicopter, Ladies Day Newest Tactics In Strike Conflict

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y.—(NEA)—Striking is getting to be a highly advanced science. And working in the face of a strike is becoming a well-developed art.

Among the contributions of Local 501, United Automobile Workers, CIO, and its non-striking adversaries to labor-conflict lore are these:

The heaving of ammonia-filled bottles; the wearing of football helmets by rock-shy non-strikers; the wearing of steel helmets by club-shy pickets; the smearing of tar on non-strikers' car windshields; Ladies' Day on the picket line; the use of helicopters by deputy sheriffs.

The strike is the first in the 12-year history of the Bell Aircraft Corp. Local 501, which claims to represent 1700 of the 3000 Bell employees, called the strike when the company refused further negotiation on the union's proposals—a pension and a 10-cent hourly wage boost.

Peaceful Month After a relatively peaceful month, several hundred workers decided to return to work. Almost immediately sporadic outbreaks of violence began to occur.

Both the C-123 and the XC-125 have good possibilities for commercial use.

on vehicles' windshields so the drivers couldn't see where they were going.

Some members of the "flotilla" sported football helmets; some "squad" members wore steel helmets. When the rocks found their mark and smashed bus and car windows, the strikers would rush up, wielding bats and clubs, and poke them through the holes.

In addition to the 125 deputy sheriffs assigned to the Bell battles, a deputy soared above the scene in a helicopter. Planes were also used by some of the air-conscious aircraft employes who wanted to go to work but though better of encountering the rock brigade.

One of the wildest picket-line battles started on a Local 501 innovation, Ladies Day. The girls were carrying such sentiments as "We wives shall not be moved" and "Shame on you scabs — you steal our daily bread."

The ensuing fracas brought another new striking wrinkle. Deposits broke it up with tear gas—dropped from a helicopter. Six of the ladies wound up in the pokies with 10 of their male colleagues.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Creation of a world federation to control means of mass destruction such as the atom bomb and bacterial warfare has been proposed by Reps. Brooks Hays (Dem.) of Arkansas, and Walter H. Judd (Rep.) of Minnesota.

"We feel," they said in a joint statement, "that the President's announcement that an atomic explosion has occurred in the Soviet Union infinitely increases the urgency of putting the United States on the diplomatic offensive."

"What we seek," Hays said, "is a world organization capable of controlling weapons of mass destruction — from heavy bombardment aircraft to the atomic bomb and including bacteriological weapons. We do not propose any super-world state."

The joint Judd-Hays statement also said: "The United Nations, as now constituted, cannot achieve this control of destructive weapons. A world federation, with its authority carefully defined and limited, can achieve it. The United States can not depend upon bilateral treaties and regional pacts, or an arms race, to preserve the peace."

Texans Showing More Interest In State History

AUSTIN — Texans are more interested than ever in their state, all-time high circulation figures of the Texas collection at the University of Texas reveal.

The 15,528 volumes circulated this Summer from the Texas collections hit a record seasonal peak. Not even when interest in Texas history was aroused by the State Centennial in 1936 were more books used in the University's Texas collection, said Mrs. Marcelle Hamer, librarian.

During the last three years of increased enrollment at the university, the Texas collection has had a total circulation of 156,334 volumes.

Leander Perez From Persimmon County Spices States' Righters Battle Lines

BATON ROUGE, LA.—Leander H. Perez, the States Righters' new permanent, Washington representative, has peppered Louisiana's political gumbo for many years.

In a state which likes its politics as tangy as its crawfish bisque, few have found his brand wanting in piquancy. Few doubt that he will keep the states rights issue from going flat on the Capitol's palate.

Perez' bailiwick is Plaquemines Parish (Persimmon County). His career has been punctuated with brilliant arguments, bitter campaigns, a boat explosion and a clash with the state militia.

Special Assistant In addition to his other duties, he now is a special assistant to the Louisiana attorney general to help represent the state in the idealands ownership controversy.

though Long kept aloof from the states' rights movement.

The boat explosion occurred in a group of friends. When one turned the ignition key, the boat blew up. Nobody was hurt badly. Some called it an attempt to assassinate Perez.

Opposed Jones He opposed bitterly the administration of Gov. Sam H. Jones, who defeated the Long faction in 1940. During Jones' term was fought the "Battle of Plaquemines" with the state militia, 500 strong, on one side and Perez and his cohorts on the other.

The guardsmen escorted Slater out of the courthouse. Blaise was sworn in as sheriff. Plaquemines Parish had martial law for some time and court calendars swelled with lawsuits from both sides.

Smart Woman Takes Pills In Private

There's something unglamorous about taking pills in public. That goes for vitamin pills as well as for all of the other kinds which women, in full view of their admirers, pop into their mouths these days.

Good looks and charm are largely based upon an illusion of health or physical vigor. A smart woman won't run the risk of shattering that illusion by taking her pill at a restaurant table after a meal or at the water cooler in the office where she works.

Rivers of grass...

"Rivers of grass" flow across this country. Millions of cattle and lambs have spent the spring and summer turning grass into meat. Now they are ready for round-up and shipment. So in October they move to the markets—in a great flood of livestock. Many go direct from the range to meat-packing plants. Others go to the feed lots to be grain-finished. But, either way, these meat animals are mostly grass—which folks cannot eat—converted into appetizing, nourishing meat for people. They are adding greatly to the health and wealth of the nation. Without this "livestock economy," in which you and we are engaged, 779,000,000 acres of our United States would produce little food for human use.

Whether you ship your cattle and lambs early or late—whether it's to Chicago, Ft. Worth, Denver or any of scores of other markets—you'll find buyers there to bid for them. With many others, Swift & Company helps provide the year-round daily market which is as essential to your business as it is to ours.

Your Markets for Meat

In the early days of our country, livestock was produced close to the point where it was eaten. But as the population grew, those conditions changed. Today two thirds of the people live east of the Mississippi, while two thirds of the livestock is produced west of that river. To bridge that gap of more than 1,000 miles is no small job. Millions of head of livestock must be processed and the meat distributed to where it is wanted.

Swift & Company, and other nationwide meat packers, sell meat to retailers wherever there are people who want to buy it. . . no matter how far that may be from your farm or ranch. We bring you the benefit of national, rather than local, demand. This means that, in selling your livestock, you choose between the price created by local demand, or the price created by the national demand of millions of meat eaters.

Quotes of the Month

"We, as ranchers, are not sufficient unto ourselves. In fact, we are only the beginning of the beef line. Of equal importance are the feeder, the processor, the distributor and the consumer. Disregard the rights or welfare of any of these, and sooner or later we suffer." Sam R. McKelvie Pres. Sandhills Cattle Ass'n

Supplement that Poor Forage

Dried-up pastures and winter weather create the same feeding problem for the cattlemen. They simply mean that you have lower quality feed and less of it. And you have little choice as to what you can do about it. You can let the cattle eat what they can find. In this case you're likely to take a weight loss on your cows. You'll also take a chance on a weak calf crop. Or you can feed a supplement. If you feed enough of the right kind, your cows and unborn calves will come through in good, healthy condition. California experiments on deficient range showed the cow herd that got a protein supplement produced a 91% calf crop. Cows on similar range, without a supplement, produced a 61% calf crop. Arizona found that feeding supplement increased the weight of the calves at birth by 10 pounds. The amount of supplement needed varies. Cows carrying calves, and young stock require more protein than open cows or mature animals. A safe rule to follow is to watch the condition of the stock. Keep them healthy and thrifty. Research by the New Mexico agricultural experiment station shows that during the winter months range forage is most critically short of phosphorus as well as protein. While some of the cake supplements are high in phosphorus as well as protein, most ranchers over the state are using mineral supplement for year-round use. A mineral supplement containing at least 8% phosphorus should be made available at all times to range cattle. Experiments have shown that year-round use is better and more profitable than seasonal use. Here's a goal for cattlemen. Use whatever kind and amount of supplement is necessary to keep your cattle healthy and thrifty. (Editor's Note: The principles of animal nutrition discussed above apply in all parts of the country.) 50-Year-Old Clover Huller Still Is Used

DES MOINES —(AP)— A clover huller, 51 years old, was in operation this summer on the Jake See farm three miles north of Amana, Iowa.

The machine is owned by Frank Delana, of Norway, Iowa, and was bought by his father in 1898. It has been used practically every year since.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Nobody Wins A Fight

Mugwump Monkey was down on the Elephant Path. Huffu Tuffy was with him, and Huffu Tuffy is the huffiest, and the tuffiest, somebody in the whole forest. Huffu Tuffy was wanting to fight.

"Oh no," said Mugwump. "Daddy Ringtail says that nobody ever wins a fight."

"I do," said Huffu Tuffy. "I always win my fights."

Huffu pushed over a tree with his hands, all to show how strong he was. He tore up the tree with his fingers.

"Humph!" said Mugwump. "Anybody can do that—anybody as strong as you are, I mean. Why, Huffu, do you know what would happen if we had a fight?"

"I'd whop you, and I'd bop you," said Huffu Tuffy. "I'd win."

"Maybe you would," said Mugwump. "But I would bop you on the head. Like this!"

Mugwump bopped on Huffu's head as loud as he could. "Bong!" was the noise it made, ringing like a bell from Mugwump's fist.

"Aho!" cried Huffu Tuffy. "Are you trying to fight?"

"Nope," said Mugwump. "I'm showing you what would happen, and besides—I'd kick your legs. Like this!"

Mugwump kicked at Huffu's legs like the noise of beating stuck together. "Clunkety clunk clunk clunk. Clunkety clunk clunk clunk."

"clunk." all very fast.

"Aho!" cried Huffu Tuffy. "Now are you trying to fight?"

"Nope," said Mugwump. "I'm only showing you what would happen, and besides—I'd boom-de-boom at your stomach. Like this!"

Mugwump began to boom-de-boom at Huffu's stomach, as though it were a drum he was beating. "Boom-de-de-boom!"

"Aho!" cried Huffu Tuffy. "Stop! Stop!"

Mugwump stopped.

"No sir," said Huffu Tuffy. "I guess I don't want to fight, because even if I won, my head might get bopped, or my legs might get clunkety clunked, or my stomach might get boom-de-boomed with your fist."

And it's like I was telling you, you know. Nobody ever wins a fight—everybody usually gets hurt. Happy day without it!

Paint right over your old paper with LUMINALL

* Want beautiful flat paint where you now have wallpaper? No need to remove paper if it has fast ink and is light to wall. Simply paint over it with LUMINALL—the casein paint in paste form.

LUMINALL is the water-thinned paint recommended so highly by decorators. Use on best rooms for better decorative effect, including truer colors and better lighting. Use in halls, stairs, basements because of low cost. One coat covers in most cases over plaster, old paint, wallboard or masonry, hence, big saving in material and labor.

LUMINALL dries in 40 minutes. No strong paint odor. Does not yellow with age. Recommended by master painters.

New Biography Of Stalin Offers Clues To His Plans

Joseph Stalin: A misty, impersonal "gray eminence."

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEW YORK (NEA)—What the world expects from Joseph Stalin now that Russia holds the atom bomb? Is he likely to use it?

To find the answers to these questions, we need to know the kind of man he is. But no leader of current times is more completely masked in mystery than Stalin.

Nevertheless, a new effort to pierce the mask has just been made. Isaac Deutscher, a Polish-born specialist in Russian affairs who writes for the British press, has written a comprehensive biography that is being hailed as the most penetrating yet most objective study of Stalin attempted thus far.

What emerges is not a clearly etched portrait. Fundamentals of his makeup remain hidden. But there are some clues to his character that may help the world judge what Stalin may do.

As Deutscher pictures the Russian dictator: He is above all a political boss, a master strategist, shrewd, practical, ruthless, unbending in spirit.

He is no intellectual firebrand, no great theorist of the Communist Revolution, as was Lenin.

Stalin is a man of icy self-possession. In him is none of the impulsive, intuitive behavior of a Hitler.

But like many a gifted politician, Stalin is an opportunist. He changes the course of his policy to fit the circumstances of the time. He does not function from a set master plan in which all major details are determined in advance.

In other words, what the rest of the world does strongly affects what Stalin does. To millions who fear he may already have decided upon war, there may be hope in this analysis — if it is sound.

Like all opportunists, Stalin has made big mistakes and made them often. At the start of World War II he vastly overrated the strength and quality of the French Army. On the other hand, he underrated the striking power of Hitler's Nazi legions.

He is of course not alone in these particular errors. It is plain, too, that he genuinely hoped to keep Russia out of the war. He looked for a long conflict that might exhaust both sides and leave his country free of invasion.

Deutscher concludes it is impossible to tell from the records whether Stalin preferred his 1939 pact with Hitler to one he might have made with the western European powers.

However that may be, Stalin strove hard to preserve his fragile friendship with Germany. He refused to believe the signs of the coming Nazi invasion. Though he was preparing for it, he did not expect it when it occurred.

Once into the war, Stalin mustered all his indomitable will and strength to save Russia—and himself. Says Deutscher: "He was in effect his own commander-in-chief, his own minister of defense, his own quartermaster, his own minister of supply, his own foreign minister."

He was no meddler in military strategy like Hitler. He operated as a calm, careful referee among his generals, leaving them room for experiment and independent judgment. But he made all the big decisions.

These organizing and administrative talents were the traits that lifted Stalin to prominence in the Communist Party in revolutionary days. Under Lenin, he won ever higher posts until at last he had controlling power. Then he successfully outmaneuvered his opponents and gradually built himself to a pinnacle where others could not reach him.

The fruits of unbridled power came to a man who had begun life as a cobbler's son in the southern part of Russia called Georgia. He was studying theology when first touched with revolutionary fever.

From that time forward, he was a hard-driving underground agitator for a socialist rebellion in reactionary Czarist Russia. Before the overturn came he spent nearly 10 years in prisons or in exile.

Stalin, though long schooled as a party spokesman, has never risen above the dull and colorless as a public speaker and writer. No spell-binder, he has seemed to shrink from public contact. His soldiers in the field never saw him.

Always since gaining despotic power he has preferred to remain a sort of misty, impersonal "gray eminence" standing in the Kremlin surrounded by the familiar symbols of his high station. His travels outside Russia have been limited to a few brief trips to nearby countries.

Stalin's private life? Plain and austere. Deutscher says he knows of only one personal letter ever written to him. Though he twice was married, his passionate devotion to politics ruled out anything like a normal home existence.

Not much to go on, all this, but it is from such frail evidence that the world's statesmen must try to gauge Stalin and keep him from using the great atomic secret he has learned.

USE PARSLEY FOR A SAUCE

If you have parsley in your refrigerator use some of it for a sauce to serve with fish fillets. Make it by browning about four tablespoons of butter or margarine in a frying pan; brown slowly so as not to burn the fat. Then add a tablespoon of lemon juice, and two tablespoons of chopped parsley. Heat again and serve immediately.

In a 20-mile race, a man would win over a horse because of his endurance.

USE FOUR-CUP MEASURING SET
If you do a lot of baking it is wise to have a four-cup set containing 1/4, 1/3, 1/2, and 1-cup measures. Use these measures for fat and flour. In measuring fat, pack it firmly into the measure and level off the top with a spatula. If you use whole eggs in making baked custards it is best to strain the mixture into the custard cups before baking.

More people use Morton's Salt. When it rains it pours. Plain or iodized.

Plan A Cheese Festival Party

FOR YOUR CHEESE FESTIVAL PARTY—Serve at least six different American cheeses on a tray with assorted crackers and world-fall fruits.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

October opens the party season. It's also the cheese festival month. So be original and give a cheese festival party at home.

The United States is rich in dairy foods and these are one of the most versatile. Most super-markets and groceries are now featuring a surprising variety of American cheeses and related items such as crackers, special breads and pastes.

For your festival party, plan a cheese quiz. Keep it lively. Have lots of prizes.

Here are a few sample quiz questions and answers. Any good book-let on cheese—maybe your grocer has some free—will suggest other questions:

1. How many quarts of milk does it take to make one pound of cheese?
Answer: Five quarts.

2. What is the annual cheese consumption per capita in the United States?
Answer: Seven pounds.

3. What essential foods does cheese contain?
Answer: Yes — from two years on.

4. What is the difference between cheddar, "American" and "store" cheese?
Answer: None.

5. Is fresh or canned pineapple used in making of pineapple cheese?
Answer: Neither. Pineapple cheese gets its name from its shape.

6. Can cheese be used to replace some milk in the average daily diet?
Answer: Yes. One ounce of cheddar, four ounces cream cheese, 12 ounces cottage cheese provide the same amount of calcium as one cup (1/2 pint) fluid whole milk.

7. What type of cheese has "eyes"?
Answer: Swiss cheese. The round, even holes are known as "eyes."

8. Of the 20 basically different kinds of cheese in the world, how many are now produced in the United States?
Answer: Practically all of them.

9. Should cheese dishes be cooked slowly or fast?
Answer: Slowly. Cheese is a protein food and all protein foods should be cooked slowly.

10. Should young children have cheese?
Answer: Yes — from two years on.

After the quiz, the prizes. Then the eats. Why not devour the quiz questions themselves. Add some grapes and Fall pears and an assortment of crackers to the cheese tray. Pour the steaming coffee and bring your October Cheese Festival to a vigorous and satisfying close.

Make Him Put Ladder Away

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Women whose husbands are "handy around the house," are usually the object of envy by women whose husbands "won't lift a hand." They shouldn't be. Ladies with husbands who just loiter around in comfortable chairs are really the lucky ones.

The businessman who becomes a weekend painter, landscaper or carpenter is an expensive menace. Practically any chore he tackles, more energy-consuming than digging up gladiolus bulbs, could be accomplished cheaper and better by acquiring an expensive professional.

During the past two weekends the following events have befallen neighbors within a stone's throw of my own small house and grounds:

Had Three Broken Ribs
One neighbor decided it was time to repaint his rain-gutters. The quiet of Sunday was shattered by a hoarse male scream as the gentleman was precipitated with considerable force on the flagstone terrace below. When he was revived, it was discovered that three ribs were broken and a muscle torn. He said the ladder slipped out from under him. Be that as it may, there are doctor, hospital and X-ray bills to be paid, not to mention the crutches, and office-time lost. And some one still has to repaint the gutters. Also, it was a borrowed ladder, and it's broken now, so he'll have to replace that.

Last Saturday another shouted alarm rent the air. It came from another neighbor who decided he was going to repaint his house, thereby saving himself a pretty penny. Well, he had to take off some of the old paint with an acetylene torch. So he set his house on fire. The damage wasn't extensive—the water from the garden hose didn't reach the living room furniture much—but there will be some carpenter work required.

Next day, still a third neighbor had an emergency visit from the doctor. This weekend Paul Bunyan was engaged in moving an evergreen tree—alone. He was trying to lift it into a wheelbarrow, when something slipped out of place in his back. He's strapped up now, so some one has to be hired anyway to finish the job.

Let Him Work
Apparently there is something about living in a small house with small grounds which leads the average person to believe that he can do just any job, from electrical work to steeple-jacking. I'd like to look at insurance figures about the number of accidents that befall these weekend jacks of all trades.

Intelligent wives would discourage this weekend laboring tendency on the part of eager husbands. If he feels he must play painter, set him to work at something he can do on the ground, like storm windows, screens and other removable parts. If he must garden, don't let him tackle anything more violent than a lawn mower. Let him replace washers, but keep him away from anything that seems like an important leak, water or gas. And never, no never, let him fool around with electrical wires.

This is a simple measure of economy, designed to save both money and health, not to mention tempers.

For a school-day lunch, when eggs are not on the menu at breakfast time, serve a nest of mashed potatoes with an egg baked on it. Garnish the potato-egg nest with a sprig of parsley.

Beauty And 'Beast'

Among the almost 4,000 purebred animals in the greatest livestock show in the State Fair of Texas history are many champion Herefords like this one. The pretty girl is Wanda Shotte of Dallas.

The fireman who steers the rear end of a hook and ladder truck is called a Tiller man.
