White House Hints Action In One Week

WASHINGTON—(P)—The government was reported Saturday night to have set a deadline roughly one week from now for decisive action to end the soft coal strike.

In the steel strike there were some setbacks, but developments of high promise affecting five large and small steel companies buoyed hopes of an early, negotiated peace with CIO's United Steelworkers.

New York Election Seen As Major Test For Truman Program

NEW YORK—(P)—Herbert H. Lehman's battle to unseat Republican Senator John Foster Dulles goes to New York State's 6,300,000 voters next Tuesday in a major test of President Truman's domestic policies.

The former governor, democratic-liberal candidate, and the veteran GOP foreign affairs expert, running for a Senate term that will last only a year, have staged a bitter, bruising fight.

The off-year election is the only one in the nation involving a Senate seat this year. It has commanded attention throughout the country for clues it may provide to the public's verdict on the Truman Fair Deal and to next year's congressional elections.

Truman took to the air Saturday night for Lehman with a broadcast from Washington. Speaking from the White House, Truman said the former Democratic governor would bring to Washington a "constructive and progressive approach to domestic affairs."

He said Lehman also has had "wide personal experience and mature wisdom in the handling of our foreign relations" and knows at first hand "the nature of our international problems."

This was a reference to Lehman's one-time directorship of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. It was regarded as a reply to Republican arguments, particularly those of Governor Dewey, that John Foster Dulles should be elected because of his Republic Steel Company, the country's third biggest, had a settlement offer pending. Jones & Laughlin scheduled peace talks for Monday, Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company for Tuesday. Two smaller firms signed up—Lukens Steel Company, 5,000 workers, and McLouth Steel Corporation, Detroit, 1,800 workers.

Even if more steel firms sign contracts, most of them can run only a few weeks without fresh coal supplies. And it was learned reliably that neither Mine Chief John L. Lewis, in Friday's secret mediation talk, nor the coal mine owners now heading for Washington, have yielded ground.

A high administration official gave this report privately: "If mediation cannot bring some results this week, it's the last try. We will have to try some other treatment."

T-H Injunction Urged This coincided with hints from White House sources that President Truman is being urged by some advisers to call for a Taft-Hartley Act injunction to send Lewis' $80,000 United Mine Workers back to the coal pits.

Nine days ago Truman said no national emergency exists which warrants Taft-Hartley action. His associates still are not agreed that he should use the act which labor leaders charge is unconstitutional and promised to repeal.

But the decision may be hastened by the present onset of cold weather in many areas, widespread reports of hardship, and rising unemployment.

Sherman Picks Aide, Denies Rumors Of Top Brass Shake-up

WASHINGTON—(P)—Adm. Forrest P. Sherman Saturday made the first major personnel move since he became chief of naval operations last Wednesday.

He chose Rear Adm. Lynde D. Puy McCormick, commander of the Twelfth Naval District at San Francisco, to be his vice chief of naval operations, effective next Spring.

At different times during the war, Sherman and McCormick were chiefs of staff to Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet.

McCormick is a submarine man; Sherman an aviator.

Sherman said continuing rumors that Adm. Raymond A. Spruance would be replaced as the present Pacific Fleet commander are "all speculation" with no basis in fact that he knows about.

Sherman said, too, he knows nothing of reports that Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, fleet commander, has no intention of retiring.

But one top admiral who it is understood may retire because he has just about reached retirement age, is Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid, commander of the Eastern Sea Frontier.

In the row over present defense planning, it was Radford who was the first of a string of admirals to go before the House Armed Services Committee to claim the Navy was being "sighted." Among the admirals lining up with him were Denfeld, Kinkaid and Conolly.

The ousting of Denfeld and his replacement by Sherman came as a climax to the uproar over Pentagon policies.

El Paso Police Nab Houston Holdup Pair

HOUSTON—(P)—Charles Montes, 20, and Floyd D. Beatty, 19, Houstonians who are held by El Paso police, were charged here Saturday with the robbery of Holman T. Simmons, parking garage attendant.

Simmons, a night attendant, was held up October 31 by three men who took $100, stole a car from the garage and abducted Simmons.

The trio released Simmons some hours later about 10 miles west of San Antonio. They took $5,323 from Simmons personally.

El Paso radio patrolmen picked up the pair about noon. The officers said the two had crossed the border from Mexico Saturday morning. They said Montes and Beatty made statements admitting they and a third man robbed the attendant.

Voters To Ballot Tuesday On State, County Proposals

Midland County citizens will cast their ballots on state and county propositions in a special election to be held Tuesday. Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

Campaigns to assure a representative vote are being waged by the League of Women Voters and the Chamber of Commerce.

One of the two county propositions concerns the issuance of $200,000 in bonds for the construction of a Midland County Park Building. The other is on the levying of an additional road tax not to exceed 15 cents on the $100 valuation, for further maintenance of public roads within the county.

On the state ballot are 10 proposed constitutional amendments.

Also to be voted on are two candidates for State Board of Education member from the 19th Congressional District. They are Herman Roach of El Paso and A. H. Dennison of Odessa.

The park bonds proposal calls for retirement of the bonds in a period not to exceed 35 years at 3 1/2 per cent interest. The bonds would be paid from the 25 cent tax rate on each $100 valuation which is permitted by the constitution for permanent improvements. The amount to retire the bonds, if the measure carries, is not to exceed 10 cents on each $100 valuation. Fifteen of the present 25 cents now are being used to retire courthouse and jail bonds, officials said.

The park building would be used for county fairs, stock shows, conventions, festivals, athletic events and other worthwhile community gatherings.

Abolition Asked The proposed amendment which would hold interest is that which would abolish the state poll tax as a voting requirement.

Other proposed amendments on the ballot are:

1. To authorize counties of more than 75,000 population to adopt civil service systems for county employees by popular election.

2. To provide annual legislative sessions.

3. To provide annual legislative sessions.

4. To provide annual legislative sessions.

Hot Senate Race

Hottest contest in the 1949 elections—and most widely watched throughout the country—is the New York senatorial race between Senator John Foster Dulles, right, and former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman. Republican Dulles was appointed by Governor Dewey to serve the unexpired term of retired Democratic Senator Robert Wagner, which ends in one year. Lehman is an ardent supporter of Truman's "Fair Deal."

Police Press Hunt For Kidnaped Baby

UTICA, N. Y.—(P)—An infant was missing mysteriously Saturday and his 29-year-old mother said she saw her sleeping son kidnaped by a strange man in dark clothes.

Six-weeks-old Stephen Komorek was snatched from his bassinette in the family kitchen late Friday night, Mrs. Henry Komorek told state police.

Ransom and sexual perversion motives were ruled out by the investigators as they pressed an intensive hunt for the babe.

Inspector E. J. Dougherty who said police were working on meager clues, declared: "We are working in hopes of finding the child alive."

There has been no trace of the infant since his mother said she saw a man carrying him from their home in nearby Clayville.

She said the man, whom she chased in her bare feet, jumped into an automobile and sped off with the infant.

The search was being concentrated in the neighborhood of the Komorek home.

Dougherty said the FBI had not been asked to come into the case.

The missing child's father, Henry Komorek, said "We have heard nothing." Komorek is a 34-year-old Marine Corps veteran.

Meeting Of City Council Postponed

Postponement of the regular meeting of the City Council, scheduled Tuesday night, was announced Saturday by City Manager W. H. Oswald.

The fact that several councilmen will be out of the city Tuesday was given as the reason for the postponement.

Not How—But Where—To Vote

The above sketch shows the four election precincts in the City of Midland and provides an easy method of determining in which precinct voters reside. Hereofore Midlanders have voted at two boxes, in Precinct One and Five. They were re-defined to create Precincts Six and Seven. Persons residing east of Big Spring Street and North of Wall Street are in Precinct One and will vote at the courthouse. Residents east of Big Spring Street and the Rankin Highway and south of Wall Street are in Precinct Five and will vote in the City-Council Auditorium. Persons residing west of Big Spring Street and the Rankin Highway and south of Wall Street are in Precinct Six and will vote in West Elementary School. Precinct Seven includes territory north of Wall Street and west of Big Spring Street and these residents will vote in the Junior High School. Precincts Two, Three and Four are in the rural areas and were unchanged except that persons in Precinct Three who have been voting at Stephenson School will vote at the Greenwood Chapel. The voting place for Precinct Two is Greenwood School and for Precinct Four the VFW Hall, Terminal.

Community Chest Drive Total Rises To $17,507

Returns in Midland County's 1949 Community Chest finance campaign Saturday stood at $17,507.91, Bert Ryan, general chairman, announced.

The goal of the annual six-in-one drive is $32,000, which leaders hope to reach by Tuesday night.

Contributions totaling $15,739.50 were reported at a Friday noon meeting of leaders and workers in Hotel Scharbauer. The campaign opened following a breakfast rally Tuesday. It will continue until the quota is reached, Ryan stated.

A breakdown of the campaign returns by divisions is as follows: Big Gifts—$4,945; Ranch and Farm—$1,490; Office Buildings—$4,084.06; Commercial—$3,516; Residential—$1,172.52; Unclassified—$1,744.89; Schools—$555.68.

Many workers are engaged in the county-wide program of solicitation. An effort is being made to contact as many residents of the county as possible. Those missed in the drive are requested to mail contributions to the Community Chest or leave them at the Chamber of Commerce.

The six youth welfare and charitable agencies participating in Chest funds, with their 1949 operating budgets, are:

Boy Scouts, $12,500; Youth Center, $9,143.50; Girl Scouts, $4,338; Salvation Army, $2,000; UBO, $1,312.50; and Goodfellows, $600.

The combined budgets, plus a campaign expense item of $1,000, make up the overall Community Chest budget.

Three additional 100 per cent firms were announced Saturday. They are Lion Oil Company, Cities Service Oil Company and Forest Oil Corporation.

Prompt Reporting Urged Ryan pointed out that some leaders and workers still have not reported and the Monday total should register a substantial increase. He urged the campaigners (Continued on Page Three)

Amarillo Attorney Found Shot To Death

AMARILLO—(P)—The body of Floyd Elmer Ryan, 40-year-old Amarillo attorney, was found in a tourist car near here Saturday.

Justice of the Peace J. W. Carter returned an inquest verdict that Ryan "died from a gunshot wound, self-inflicted."

He said a 38 caliber bullet struck Ryan's heart.

Assistant District Attorney Dean Duniap of Amarillo said Ryan at one time ran for the U. S. Senate against Senator Tom Connally.

Records show that Floyd E. Ryan ran in the 1947 race.

Ryan had lived here about three years. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ryan, live in Washington, D. C.

Fires Sweep Through California

(NEA Telephone)

All residents of an exclusive, densely wooded area, Flintridge, Calif., near the famed Rose Bowl, have been ordered to evacuate their palatial homes as fires spread with terrifying swiftness through the hills. Clouds of smoke were visible for 20 miles, and firefighters were handicapped by lack of water in the area.

Park Building Proposal Is Of Top Interest To Voters

The prime interest of Midland County voters in the special state and county election scheduled Tuesday centers around the proposed issuance of $200,000 in bonds for the erection of a County Park Building here.

The building project was sponsored and has been approved by the Midland Chamber of Commerce. A petition asking that the Commissioners Court call an election on the proposal was circulated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber of Commerce leaders declare the structure will be adequate for the staging of fairs, livestock shows, automobile, machinery and appliance exhibits, sports events, musical affairs, road shows, and meetings, conventions and entertainments of various types.

The Midland Chamber last week addressed letters to each of its more than 700 members endorsing the proposal and urging assistance in getting out a representative vote to decide the issue.

The letters were signed by E. L. Miller, chairman of the organization's County Building Committee. A definite location for the building has not been determined. Midland Park, Inc. has offered to deed to Midland County five acres of land on U. S. Highway 80, adjacent to the rodeo grounds, if the county desires to place the building at that site.

If the bonds are voted, plans call for construction of a brick and tile structure 308 feet deep and 160 feet wide at the front. This width will extend to the back of the proposed auditorium or 140 feet, where the width will be narrowed to 140 feet.

The auditorium will be 98 feet wide and 140 feet deep, with a seating capacity of 2,560 persons.

The auditorium will have removable seats and the stage will be of regulation size and fully equipped.

An arched roof has been designed for the building and especially designed trusses will eliminate the need for inside columns. Auditorium and stage floors will be of maple.

The large auditorium will contain ample dressing rooms, rest rooms, office space and conference rooms. These conference rooms will be suitable for meetings of clubs and organizations of various types.

Ample heating and lighting facilities will be installed.

The width of the building provides for the installation of removable stalls for the proper exhibition of livestock in the areas adjacent to the auditorium. Floors in the outer area will be tampered earth.

Judging and sales rings will be located back of the auditorium stage. Seats will be provided for spectators.

Bill Allen, extension engineer of Texas A&M College, designed the floor plan for the proposed structure.

CIO Sets Hearings For Unions Charged With Red Leanings

CLEVELAND —(AP)— The CIO slowed down its purge of left-wing unions Saturday to allow hearings on pro-Communist charges against ten unions and nine leaders.

The Executive Board, meeting to carry out the anti-leftist instructions of the convention which ended Friday night, set up committees to air the charges.

Between the convention and the board the CIO now has gone this far in ridding itself of a "small but noisy clique" which President Philip Murray said was harassing the CIO by adhering to the Communist Party programs:

1. Expelled the United Electrical Workers and Farm Equipment Workers, with about 470,000 members. It moved to grab off those members by creating a new right-wing union in the electric and radio field, under guidance of Rightist James B. Carey, and turned over farm equipment plant jurisdiction to Walter Reuther's Auto Workers. To Sign T-H Affidavits

2. Ruled that Ben Gold, head of the Fur and Leather Workers, could not serve on the Executive Board because he is being a member of the Communist Party.

3. Gave the nine other left-wing union heads nominated to the Executive Board a chance to be heard by three committees on charges of pro-Communism.

4. Paved the way for ouster of ten unions, accused of following Communist Party policies rather than those of the CIO.

5. Voted that the CIO's top 11 officers now will sign the anti-Communist affidavits required by the Taft-Hartley Act—26 months after it went into effect—so that the CIO's industrial union councils can have access to the National Labor Relations Board.

Chinese Reds Not Soviet Puppets, Says Returned Newsmen

PORT WORTH —(AP)— An Associated Press foreign correspondent, formerly in China, said Saturday we must be prepared to accept, as an accomplished fact, factual Communist control of China.

The correspondent, Seymour Topping, said that "within nine months, we probably shall see elimination from the mainland of the last major Nationalist centers of resistance."

But he told The Associated Press Managing Editors Association that all dependable evidence indicates Moscow does not have direct control over the Chinese Communists.

"Feiping obediently follows Moscow's lead," he said, "but almost certainly not on direct orders but rather because of ideological faith."

"How important this distinction is has been amply demonstrated by Tito's Yugoslavians."

"Like the situation in Yugoslavia before the split with Russia came, China has no significant Russian forces within her boundaries and the strategic agencies of internal control are not, as far as we know, in the hands of Russian agents."

"There are strong tendencies within Communist China toward a form of Titoism."

Topping, former AP correspondent at Nanking, spoke at the closing session of the association's annual meeting.

Bad Weather, Labor Shortage Hurts West Texas Cotton Farmers

AUSTIN —(AP)— Bad weather and an acute shortage of cotton pickers and pullers are giving West Texas cotton farmers a bad time, the Texas Employment Commission said Saturday.

Cold weather in West Texas and the fact that cotton still is in fields in the Coastal Bend, Central, North and East Texas has retarded movement of pickers into West Texas, the TEC reported.

Chinese Loyalists Admit Red Advances

CHUNGKING, CHINA. —(AP)— The Chinese Nationalists acknowledged Saturday that the Communists were inside Kweichow Province and hammering at the gates of Szechwan Province, but vowed to fight to the end, with or without foreign aid.

The Defense Ministry said Communist armies in unstated strength had reached the Tienchu District, 17 miles inside Kweichow Province and 190 miles northeast of the provincial capital, Kweiyang.

Fall of Kweiyang, 210 miles southwest of Chungking, virtually would split the Nationalist mainland holdings in half.

The Goose Hangs High

Forty Westmarks per goose—about $9—is much too high for the average wage earner in Berlin. So this enterprising shop owner is selling his geese on the installment—or American—plan. His bargain-sale sign brought a rush of shoppers eager to make a down-payment on their holiday geese, German equivalent of America's turkey.

Two He-Men, Tired Of Wide Open Spaces, Want Musicals

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Hollywood's he-man of the wide open spaces, John Wayne, says he'd like to do a film musical. Kirk Douglas has the same idea. I can't picture Wayne riding herd on a line of chorus girls but Kirk could fill the bill. Before coming to Hollywood, he auditioned and landed the lead in the Broadway musical, "On the Town." A bad case of laryngitis cost him the role.

The movies are after the life story of Joe DiMaggio. Guess Joe will have to play himself. You can't dub in his as easily as Johnson's voice.

Lauren Bacall's suspension at Warner Brothers, she hopes, will pave the way to break her contract. That's the reason for all those long statements by Baby, who otherwise has little to say. . . Bonnie Best, the Hollywood fashion designer, is turning out skirts made of felt. I asked her what kind of felt. "Just ordinary pool table felt," she said.

How glamorous can a pool table get? Montgomery Clift went to "The Heiress" premiere in an $850 rented tuxedo and a rented car. He missed dinner so he munched on a hamburger en route to pick up his date, Elizabeth Taylor. On the way to her home he confided to his driver that he had never before attended a Hollywood premiere and asked for advice on what would happen.

The driver said it was simple: "They'll take care of you. Just tell them you're Cliff Montgomery." Help A Poor Seal

Midland Has Its Share Of Reservists

It gives a feeling of comfort and security that many of our service folk of two wars have not entirely detached themselves from training and readiness. They would be our bulwark—if?

Midlanders can feel an extra cloak of security. Reservists are numerous here. There are several units representing different branches of service.

One of the first reserve units established here was the Naval Petroleum Unit 8-1. Its mission is to train, professionally and in their military duties, members of the naval reserve in the Permian Basin area, who are engaged in the petroleum industry, or who were assigned on active duty in the Navy to duties connected with petroleum.

In this area, these persons consist mostly of naval reserve officers engaged in exploration and production. But in other sections, they comprise persons engaged in refining, tanker operations and gasoline tank-truck operations.

Naval Petroleum Unit
Commanding officer is former commander James D. Martin, a former submarine officer, who has been a naval reservist for 15 years. He recently was one of 184 lieutenant-commanders promoted to commander out of 2,100 eligible naval reserve officers. Executive officer is Lt. Cmdr. William D. Hays, Jr.

Members of the Volunteer Petroleum Unit 8-1, United States Naval Reserve, include: Lt. Jerald H. Bartley, Lt. Cmdr. William V. Byrd, Lt. Cmdr. Jack G. Coates, Ens. Tom M. Coito, Lt. Ernest K. Dodson, Lt. Robert D. Fisting, Lt. Luther M. Freis, Lt. Cmdr. Walton P. Goodman, Ens. Harold L. Grigsby, Ens. Jack R. Hamilton (Crane), Lt. (jg) James K. Hartman, Hays, Pay Clerk Charles A. Hitt, Jr., Lt. Roy M. Huffington, Lt. Cmdr. Frank M. Jackson, Lt. Cmdr. Carroll R. Jones, Lt. Charles M. Linsaint, Lt. (jg) Robert D. Madland, Ens. John C. Mann, Jr., Martin, Ens. Victor B. Ogden, Lt. (jg) Willie C. Osborne, Lt. (jg) Carol W. Payne, Lt. Clyde M. Pederson, Ens. Porter Rankin, Ens. John M. Reardon, Lt. (jg) Robert R. Rice, Ens. Albert Rutter, Lt. Norman A. Sax, Ens. J. R. Shackelford, Jr. (Odessa), Lt. Stanley B. Shaefler, Lt. James B. Shirreff, Lt. (jg) James R. Story, Ens. Luther T. Tidwell, Lt. George G. Toad, Lt. (jg) Vernon Wilkinson.

4697th Logistical Division
Many Army officers and men are members of 4697th Logistical Division (Training) unit here. This is a recognized Organized Reserve Corps installation. Its mission is to furnish combat and service type units with organization, preparation and training in time of peace for rapid mobilization and expansion in the event of an emergency. Also it furnishes such additional trained personnel as may be required to fill out and expand the Army of the United States.

Here is a brief history of the logistical division. The 464th Composite Group was formed in 1946 with headquarters at San Angelo and with Detachment B at Midland. As several Midlanders were officers in the 464th and also had experience in various base sections activities, it was decided to form a base section within the 464th. The 464th Composite Group (Permian Base Section) was established. This became the present reserve unit known as 4697th Logistical Division (Training).

Personnel of the logistical division includes: Col. Michael Brunner, Col. James Parker, Lt. Col. James C. Clary, Lt. Col. Boyd Laughlin, Lt. Col. Walter Wain, Maj. Gilbert Blankenship, Maj. Gill Perry, Maj. Archie Holland (Kermit), Maj. Dayton V. Kitley, Maj. Richard M. Parker, Maj. Herschel C. Rowland, Maj. Harvey A. Smith (Big Lake), Capt. Richard M. St. John, Capt. Joseph H. Creech, Capt. Jack B. Felton, Capt. Harley F. Holliday (Kermit), Capt. Alva V. Johnson, Capt. Morris N. McKay (Odessa), Capt. Hermand D. Murray, Capt. John W. Ritter (Odessa), Capt. Joseph H. Western Europeans Alarmed At Efforts To Rebuild Germany

PARIS —(AP)— America's efforts to get West Germany on her feet are scaring many Western Europeans.

They are beginning to fear Germany soon may be hammering at them again as an industrial competitor. Nor can they forget Germany as a military power.

The growing concern will show up in next week's meeting in Paris of the Big Three foreign ministers, Robert Schuman of France, Ernest Bevin of Britain and Dean Acheson of the United States.

Schuman is trying to convince his people the best way to avoid trouble with the Germans is for the two countries to become good neighbors. He is having trouble with the project in his own cabinet and the country at large.

French More Hopeful
But French officials say chances now are better than ever before in history for ending the long-standing enmity between France and Germany. The recent statement by German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, that Germany should take France's viewpoint into consideration, was cited as only one sign of this tendency.

The three ministers, intend, it was added, to examine this possibility in all its aspects.

The discussions probably also will cover the dismantling and reparations programs in Germany, and control of Rhur industries.

English industrialists also fear German competition. English preoccupation about Germany's recovery was shown recently in a protest about some of the speeches of John J. McCloy, U. S. high commissioner. British spokesmen said the speeches interfered with the program of dismantling German war factories.

America has two good reasons for wanting Germany to get going faster. One of them is that a strong and friendly Germany can act as a brake on Russia. Another is that it is costing America money to feed and supply Germany.

He was found shot in the head in a private Houston home. The bullet, lodged in the brain, has not been removed.

Repair Program Set On 12 U. S. Projects
WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of Interior Krug said Saturday the Reclamation Bureau will begin at once a repair program on 12 projects—including one for $450,000 for the Rio Grande, New Mexico-Texas.

The 12 projects affect 1,850,000 acres of irrigable land in nine Western states. The Rio Grande project is installation of water measuring devices, construction of facilities to provide a by-pass regulating canal, replacement of bridges, and other work.

Sherman Picks Aide, Denies Rumors Of Top Brass Shakeup

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, new chief of naval operations, said Saturday "every effort will be made" to avoid applying economy cuts to naval aviation.

The Navy now is getting a hearing at the Pentagon on proposed reductions that brought cries of protest last month from some members of the House Armed Services Committee.

Efforts to steer cuts in some other direction do not mean the Navy's air arm won't be hurt in Defense Secretary Johnson's billion-dollar economy program for the armed forces. But the aviation slashes may be smaller than had been indicated.

Outcomes Uncertain
"It's too early to predict how well we will make out," Sherman told a reporter. "It is a complicated financial matter which I haven't had time to grasp fully yet."

Sherman said he wants a big combat fleet and the largest possible Navy afloat. That leaves the implication that reductions will be applied as much as possible to Navy shore stations.

Navy Secretary Matthews had protested the extent of Navy cuts to Johnson and was promised a hearing. The Navy has been getting a hearing for the last two days before Johnson's economy committee headed by Gen. Joseph T. McNarney.

MHS Has TWIRP Season

By TANNER LAINE

Midland High girls are having the time of their lives but it's costing them.

It's Twirp Season! The MHS girls are asking their dads for the family car, getting themselves dates and are on the offense—but good.

Climax of this reversible season here came Saturday night. The journalism class of the high school sponsored a "Twirp Dance." The girls dotted the bills. However, it was fun for them. They did the tagging and the asking for dances.

It's the second annual observance of Twirp Season at Midland High. The Bulldog, high school newspaper, has pushed it this year. And it's catching on!

Twirp Season was proclaimed at MHS from October 30 to November 13. The males signed it. Here was a chance to let the girls pay for the movies for a spell. The Twirps have been pretty busy.

Examining Tibet

The United States may recognize the remote Himalayan land of Tibet as an independent nation. The land, ruled by the 15-year-old Dalai Lama, is said to be "under examination in the light of current developments in Asia, and its strategic position." Chinese Communists make no secret of the fact that they plan to bring Tibet into Red China. This would bring Soviet expansion to the borders of India and create a threat to the non-Communist South Asian sphere. Map shows Tibet's strategic position in relation to China, Russia and India. Diagonal shading indicates Communist-held area.

Eisenhower Keeps His Head

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was at his most statesmanlike the other day in testifying to Congress on the bitter inter-service squabble. He declined to get into the melee. Instead, in a calm, precise way he devoted himself to clearing the air so everybody could understand the dispute more easily.

Partisans of either the Navy or Air Force may have been disappointed that the general did not take their side. But they really should be grateful that he did not. For in the end this controversy must be settled through reconciling opposing views—not through crushing victory for one or the other.

Eisenhower told the House Armed Services Committee the root of the trouble is the division of the service dollar. As he put it graphically: "Each service wants into that pile with its shovel."

Stripped of its emotional fervor, the Navy's case is disclosed as largely a fear that it will be whittled down not through overt legal acts but through a choking off of funds it believes vital to most effective operations.

On the other hand, to the Air Force it is basically a question of putting the most chips on those defense tasks that the Joint Chiefs of Staff have given highest priority, such as strategic bombing.

Eisenhower helped the cause of unity on this money issue by reminding both the generals and the admirals that they had worked well together during the war. He advised them "not to be too ready to call names or impugn motives" in this dispute, but rather to search for the same sort of cooperation they found in battle.

To Eisenhower much of the current difficulty is an inescapable part of the struggle for a permanently unified command. "Stumbling and fumbling" is natural at this stage, he said. But the effort to unify must go on; it must not give way to discouragement because the obstacles seem great.

The inquiry into the armed services rift now is put off until January. In the intervening two months the nation will gain some idea whether unification has been advanced or retarded by this painful public airing of differences.

If military and naval officials accept Eisenhower's advice, they now may begin to move closer to real service unity on a sounder footing than heretofore. Doubts and fears are out in the open, motives are known, and actions by each branch can be better understood.

But if the top brass of Navy and Air Force proceed instead to entrench themselves in their widely separated present positions, January will find Congress with a knottier problem than it had when the hearing closed.

Eisenhower spoke with the good of the country in mind. It would be unfortunate for the nation were the generals and admirals not to heed his words and begin to patch up their differences in a new spirit of cooperation.

There were 15,106,000 children under five in the United States last July. No wonder we see so many frantic mothers.

"What's Cookin'?"

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND. (Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Truman reneged on promise re 58 air groups; Life insurance companies to plug tax loophole; Diplomats rub elbows.

WASHINGTON — President Truman went back on his word to senators when he froze the $615,000,000 voted by Congress to expand the Air Force to 58 groups.

In the privacy of the White House, he had promised members of the Senate Appropriations Committee not to use the Air Force funds if Congress voted for the full 58 groups. The conversation took place before Congress had voted any money at all, and when Senate and House conferees were deadlocked over the size of the Air Force.

Chairman Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, speaking for his fellow members of the Senate Appropriations Committee, opened the question by stating: "Well, Mr. President, we seem to be at an impasse. . . . Yes, Senator, I know all about it." Truman cut him off. "My position is this: I am for a 48-group Air Force, and I have changed my mind."

At this point, Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma asked: "If the money were appropriated for more than 48 groups, would you impound it?" "No," pledged the President firmly. After the Senate had adjourned, however, Truman impounded the money anyhow.

It was a cooperative group of life insurance executives who came up to Capitol Hill the other day to announce they were ready to pay up corporate income taxes for the last three years, which they have escaped via a loophole in the tax laws.

A week before, in fighting mood, they protested to a House Ways and Means Subcommittee against paying any retroactive taxes. Last week, however, A. J. McCandless, president of Lincoln National Life Insurance Company and chief spokesman of the group, reported the insurance firms were ready to pay between $90,000,000 and $92,000,000 for the three years under a so-called "average valuation" payment plan.

The plan calls for an across-the-board lowering of tax deductions on investment income which has been in the insurance firms 100 per cent exempt from federal income assessment. In effect, it will make between 5 1/2 and 6 1/2 per cent of investment income in 1947-48-49 subject to taxation.

"We are grateful to you and this subcommittee for giving us concrete proposals to offer our people," McCandless told Congressman Lynch. "And the fact that you set a time limit on our acceptance or rejection also was a big help in bringing some of our balky brethren into line. You have accomplished in less than a week something the Treasury Department spent over two years trying to settle."

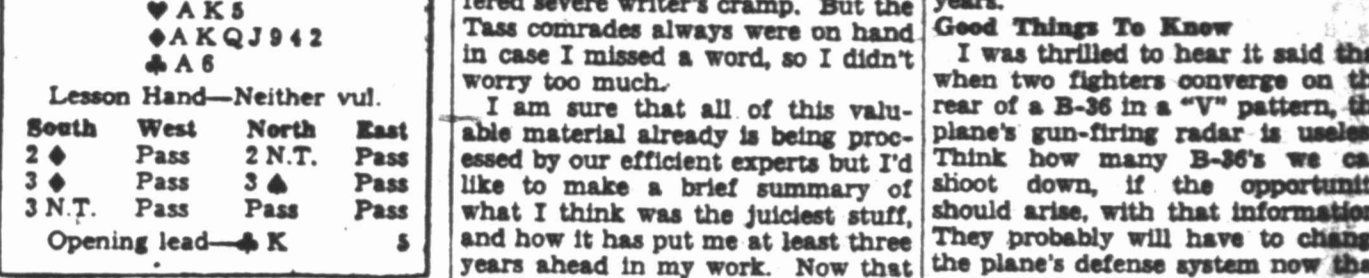

Diplomats Play Of Diplomacy When U. N. diplomats have heard all the speckmaking they can take, they retreat to a soft-carpeted sanctuary at Lake Success called the delegates lounge. Just inside with guards at the door, dahlias in tall vases and walls without ears. It also features comfortable divans and an international bar. The barman of this club will serve a martini, a daiquiri, or a vodka—as the delegates desire.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

This is the last of a series of six articles that I have taken from Fred L. Karpin's new book, Point-Count System of Bidding in Contract Bridge.

These articles have dealt with the new convention for showing aces and kings in response to an opening bid of two in a suit. Karpin gives seven different responses to the opening two-bid in a suit.

1. With one ace bid the ace. 2. With two kings bid three no trump. (a) With three kings bid three no trump and then four no trump.

3. With two aces bid four no trump. 4. With an ace and two kings bid the ace first and then jump to four no trump. (a) With an ace-king of one suit and another king, jump in the ace-king suit first. Then bid four no trump.

5. With an ace in one suit and a king in another bid the ace first and then the king suit. If the king is in a suit bid by opener, jump when bidding the king. 6. If you have only one ace and it is in a rebiddable suit, bid the ace first and then rebid that suit.

7. Holding none of the above bid two no trump. (a) With one king, first bid two no trump. Then you can bid the king suit if below game level. Note how interestingly this hand works out. North has responded with two no trump and then has shown his king of spades by bidding three spades. South does not blindly rush into five diamonds. He can see that he has a losing spade, a club and a possible loser in hearts.

Unification Hearings Help Out Q. Tippo, Red Undercover Spy

By DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON— Headquarters, U. S. S. R. Spy Dept. Spies in America Bureau Spies in Washington Div., Moscow

Re: Quarterly report, Agent Q. Tippo Dear Boss:

Pardon the use of a capitalistic expression, but I never had it so good as I did the last quarter. Only minor incongruities were occasional need to get up half an hour early. Those congressional hearings were crowded and you had to get there in plenty of time to be sure to get a seat.

Good Things To Know I was thrilled to hear it said that when two fighters converge on the rear of a B-36 in a "V" pattern, the plane's gun-firing radar is useless. Think how many B-36's we can shoot down, if the opportunity should arise, with that information. They probably will have to change the plane's defense system now that we know that, but I hope to be able to keep you posted.

Note especially the statement that "there should be maintained a carrier task force whose planes now possess the capability of penetrating 700 miles inland." This will change our coastal defense planning considerably. Note also the decision that there will be no more "island-hopping in future wars." That should make it obvious what they are planning.

My next report should include an analysis of the committee's report. This will give us valuable insight into future plans of the U. S. armed forces, such as whether or not Secretary Johnson's proposed budget cuts will be carried out. Incidentally, we got those figures a year before they normally would have been uncovered by us.

I plan to take a needed rest for the next couple of weeks, reviewing the congressional hearings on the Atomic Energy Commission. That makes interesting reading.

The CAMEO

By Virginia Teale Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC. THE STORY: A valuable cameo in the possession of Nell O'Neill has for an undisclosed reason been given to Martin Pfeiffer, a rather unscrupulous artist, and now Nell must get it back. She has a chance to sell it to Andrey Yakov, a Russian collector. Calling at Pfeiffer's place, they find the best later they see him in company with Tom O'Neill, Nell's husband. Nell asks Pfeiffer, meanwhile, to take the Three Wishes gift shop to see the cameo collection of Hagar Blair.

That is the place just ahead, is it not? The Three Wishes Shop of Hagar Blair? Nell leaned forward. "Yes." As Yakov negotiated the turn into the driveway, Nell glanced through the big windows of the store.

"There's Hagar Blair," she said, "and Miss Smith, the girl who works for her. And there's Arnold Pfeiffer—that little worm Tom tried to speak to when we started out." Yakov consulted his watch: "We are just in time. It is not quite 30 minutes past 5 o'clock."

NELL O'NEILL preceded Andrey Yakov into the shop of Hagar Blair. The trio clustering around the cameo collection cabinet looked up with varying attitudes, none of them cordial. "Hello Hagar," Nell nodded to the other two: "Miss Smith, Arnold." Reaching back, she nudged Yakov forward by his sleeve.

"This is Andrey Yakov, the distinguished Russian artist. He asked to meet you, Hagar. He's heard about your cameo collection and he wants to see it. He's a collector himself." Arnold Pfeiffer hastily transferred a glittering object from the glass top of the case to the dark velvet interior of a silver box. Yakov was at his side instantly. "Ah! Another cameo!" With a frantic gesture, Arnold snatched up the box. He fumbled and it fell to the floor, the cameo dropped out and sithered into a pool of light against the iron leg of an Italian torchiere.

This is the hard way to trim toenails, but it's the only way to manage "Kitty," the Bengal tiger in Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo. Dr. Lester Fisher, zoo veterinarian, operated the wire snippers on the cat's claws after zoo attendants got her solidly "anchored."

Government-

Cyrus S. Ching, Federal Mediation Service director, has promised to pursue a settlement "as long as there is any use." This seemed to mean that if he fails to win a bargained settlement, the next step is Truman's.

No Hint Of Change Southern coal operators will meet here Monday afternoon with Ching. The mediator may issue a call to Northern operators on Tuesday, and later arrange a joint North-South conference.

So far, Ching has no plans to bring Lewis and the operators face to face. He conferred secretly with Lewis Friday for two hours. Though there was no hint of a change in Lewis' position, Ching told reporters the talk with the United Mine Workers president was "pleasant and constructive."

Saturday night Lewis was believed to have left Washington for Chicago, where he meets with UMW's 200-man Policy Committee on Monday.

A union source said Lewis still has hopes that Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois can persuade coal operators of that state to start intensive negotiations for a separate, statewide contract. So far the owners have refused to break ranks with operators elsewhere in the country.

Hardships Cited There was a widespread speculation in Washington that Lewis might get in touch with some Illinois operators Sunday.

In Pittsburgh hardship was not far away. Some hospitals said their coal would be gone in a day or two. Dealers reported stocks down to a half-week supply and some homes out of fuel.

Rome, Ga., opened its City Auditorium to families without coal. Atlanta dealers began to ration their customers. Cincinnati Coal merchants wired Truman for help; a spokesman said the supply for homes is exhausted.

Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh called Lewis direct for help. The answer was "No."

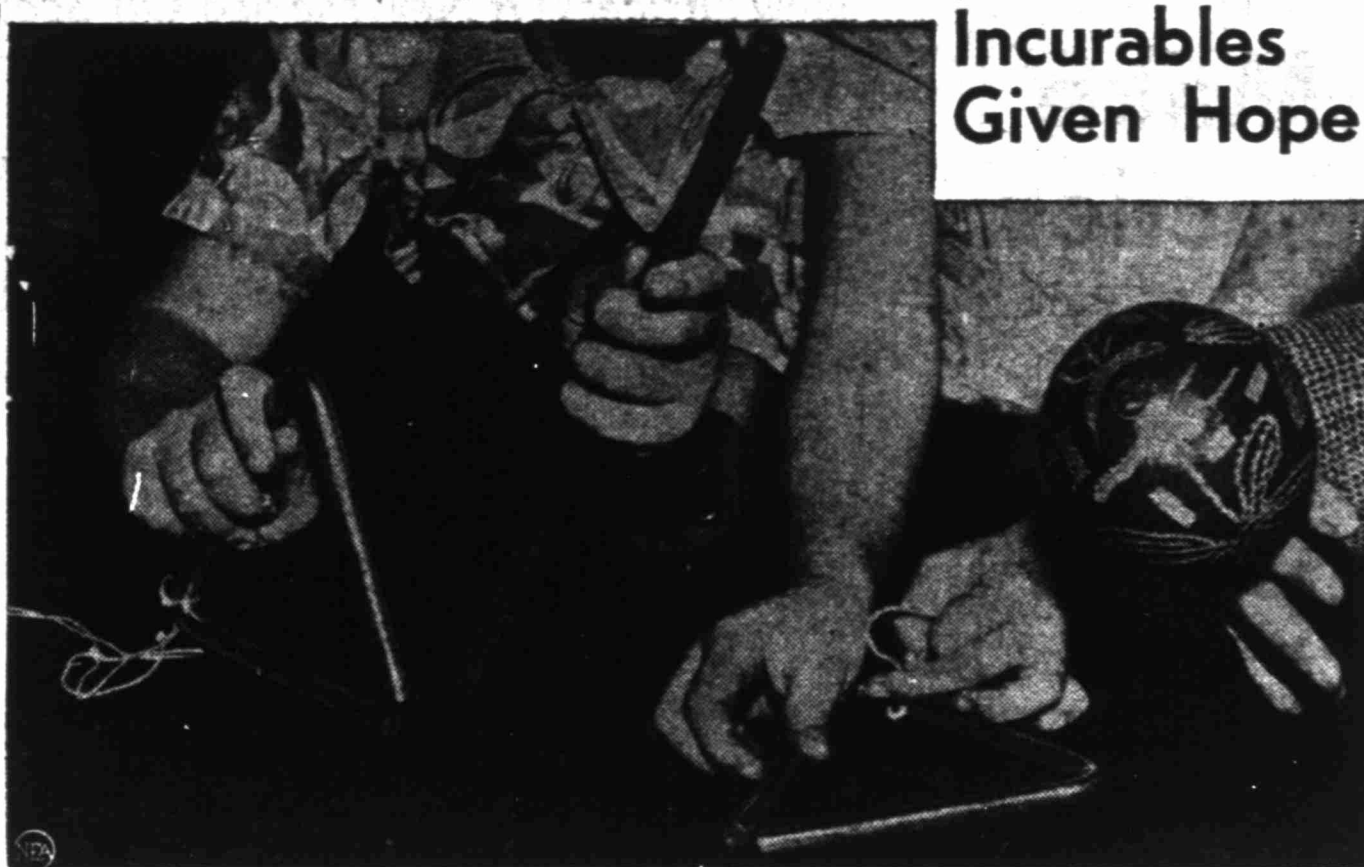

Woman Injured In Highway Mishap

Mrs. Hazel Ruth Spieler of San Angelo suffered severe back injuries Friday night in an accident on the Garden City Highway 18 miles from Midland.

She was brought to Western Clinic-Hospital here for treatment. The attending physician said Mrs. Spieler suffered a possible fracture of a vertebra.

GROCERS, FAMILIES TO ATTEND SUPPER HERE Midland retail grocers and their families Monday night will attend a buffet supper in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

The supper, given by the Stokely-Van Camp Packing Company, will feature their products. Details of the event were arranged by Bates Hoffer, local representative of the Martin-Glover Wholesale Grocery Company of San Angelo.

Musical instruments which require the use of both hands help spastic children develop coordination. Just to pick up these simple instruments often requires months of practice.

SEATTLE, WASH.—(NEA)—After years of patient experiment and effort, a few Seattle women have fitted one doctor's prescription for spastic children—a large dose of "hope."

To instill that hope in the minds of spastic or cerebral palsied children has become the special task of the Spastic Committee of Seattle Junior Programs, a volunteer group.

Through a series of painting, dancing and musical programs, the committee has given the children new strength for their battle against an affliction that claims almost as many victims as infantile paralysis.

Result Of Injury Cerebral palsy is the result of a brain injury at birth. Depending on the extent of the damage to the brain, the victims suffer a loss of muscular control. A number have speech difficulties. Many must be restrained in wheel chairs, and the most severe cases are unable to perform the simplest tasks without help.

All victims have one point in common—there is no cure. New and more efficient physical therapy methods have helped the children regain a partial control of their muscles, but to gain even the slightest control often requires years of constant effort.

Rites Scheduled For Hart Infant Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in Calvary Baptist Church for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hart of Wink.

The Rev. A. L. Teaff, pastor, will conduct services for the infant, who died Saturday. Interment will be in Rest Haven Memorial Park.

In radio's earlier days, the more controls a receiving set had the more efficient it was thought to be.

Incurables Given Hope

Sometimes the effort is too great. The children become despondent and will not try.

Several problems had to be solved before the committee could present its first show. Many parents were reluctant to have the children taken from their homes, and special transportation had to be provided for children confined to wheel chairs.

Warning Sounded In addition, medical authorities cautioned the committee against an over-stimulating program which might lead to hysteria. With the aid of the Junior Red Cross, other Junior Program members and various spastic aid societies, the committee presented its first show, a ballet, three years ago.

As the audience gathered for the ballet, confusion almost closed the show before the curtain had gone up. Many of the boys and girls had never been in a theater. Many were frightened and burst into tears. There was the danger that the children might confuse the performance with reality. In an atmosphere of tears and fight, the show began. It was a smash hit.

Then the committee decided to go further. Entertainment provided the children with an introduction to a new world. "But," reasoned the committee, "why shouldn't they participate in that world?"

Reaction Tested Mrs. Frederick E. Woods, a creative arts teacher and member of Junior Programs, offered to conduct an experimental class in dancing and music to a special group. Testing the children's reaction to puppet shows, rhythm bands and scientific instruction, she was unable to arouse much enthusiasm.

Almost ready to give up, she decided to play a recording from the ballet the boys and girls had seen months before. As she talked about the show, now almost forgotten, she began to play the music.

A six-year-old boy who had never tried to walk, tried to dance. A little girl who never spoke voluntarily tried to request a special selection from the show. Mrs. Woods had found an answer. The children would try desperately to imitate the dancers and actors they had seen in the different shows.

Since its initial "confusion" ballet, the committee has added puppet shows, concerts, and movies to its programs. After three years, the "participation" idea is working.

Absentee balloting ended Friday with a total of 33 votes cast.

Orders listing non-partisan information on the various issues to be decided in the election have been dispatched to all voters by the Midland League of Women Voters.

To Use Secret Ballot The new secret ballot will be used by Midland County voters Tuesday for the first time. The secret ballot law was enacted by the 51st Legislature.

The voting procedure is as follows: The ballots are placed face down in a stack by the election judge after he has mixed them thoroughly. The voter selects one without the number being known by the election judge.

The judge places a notation on the list of voters showing the voter has cast a ballot, but he does not make a record of the ballot number.

The election judge stamps the poll tax receipt or the exemption certificate as heretofore. Then the voter marks his ballot, after which a perforated stub is torn off. The voter writes his name on the back of the stub and deposits it in the stub box before depositing the ballot, and without disclosing to anyone the number of the stub.

The ballot shall be folded to conceal the printing thereon and the signature of the presiding judge on the back of the ballot. The ballot then is placed in the proper box.

Unless the ballot is deposited in the ballot box and the stub in the stub box by the voter, it shall not be counted as a vote in the election.

Republic Recesses Talks With Steel Union Negotiators

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Republic Steel Corporation and the steelworkers held "some exploratory discussions" Saturday night and recessed their talks, said CIO President Philip Murray.

Murray, who also heads the steelworkers, emerged from a hotel-room conference which lasted three hours and fifteen minutes, with this statement:

"We have made some exploratory discussions and decided to recess. We will meet again. I can't say just when."

Thomas F. Patton, vice president and general counsel of the company, added to reporters:

"That's the situation we find ourselves in at the moment. We can't possibly say when we'll meet again. They know our problems, we know their problems. And we are each going to consider them."

"We haven't got anything. I don't know why this could have been done."

Komorek said he earned about $70 a week as a machine operator in a Clayville paper mill until two weeks ago.

Komorek and his wife, 29, said they had no known enemies.

Mrs. Komorek told a reporter "The only possibility would be a money angle." She was quoted as saying they "had a new 1949 Pontiac and it had been rumored that we had money."

The baby, suffering with colic, was to have been baptized Sunday in the Roman Catholic Church.

Mrs. Komorek said she had fed the baby shortly before 11 p.m. and had put him in his crib.

She then lay down to await her husband's return from night work. She left the kitchen door unlocked and a few minutes later heard a rustling in the kitchen.

When no one responded to her question, "Who's there," she investigated and said she saw a man running out with the child.

The Komorek's only other child, a seven-year-old son, was killed by an automobile four years ago.

Bradford, Bertrand Make $1,750,000 Oil Transaction

Principal properties covered by a cash transaction involving more than $1,750,000, was a one-half interest in 43 producing oil wells in the Sand-Hills-Tubb field of Central-Cochran County.

The transaction, which has just been reported, was in a deal between Andrew A. (Jack) Bradford of Midland and Sweetwater and J. C. Bertrand of Pecos, N. C.

In that trade Bradford and his wife acquired all the stock of Bertrand and his wife in the corporation, Bertrand & Bradford, Inc. The Bradfords had owned half of the stock of that concern.

That concern owned the 43 Sand Hills wells and scattered undeveloped oil and gas leases and mineral rights in West Texas, West-Central Texas and in New Mexico. The transaction is to be effective as of October 25, 1949. However, the details of the matter have just been closed out and the legal instruments covering it are now being put on record.

Bertrand has resigned as vice president of the corporation and is not connected with it in any way. Bradford is president of the organization and Mrs. Bradford is secretary.

Bradford owns other oil properties, including producing leases in the Slaughter field of Cochran County, which are officially carried as assets of Andrew A. Bradford, Inc., another corporation in which Bradford is the principal stockholder.

Bradford Moving To Midland
Bradford & Bradford, Inc., have maintained a production office in Midland for several years under the direction of G. T. Trimble, production superintendent.

Headquarters for the corporation which have been maintained at Sweetwater, are to be moved to Midland shortly, and Bradford will move his family to this city as soon as a new home is constructed on property he has recently acquired in North Park Hill. Work on that residence is to be started shortly.

Deepening Slated At Central Terry Wildcat

A Central Terry County wildcat which was barren in the San Andres-Permian in drilling to 5,500 feet, is to be drilled on down to 9,600 feet to explore into the Pennsylvanian.

The venture is to be at Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Sawyer, five miles south of Brownfield, and 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 123, block 2, D&WRR survey.

It was originally drilled as Lynn D. Durham and associates, and associates No. 1 Sawyer. Those operators carried it to 5,500 feet and found no signs of production or of formation water.

It has been shut down for about a week. Stanolind has made a deal to take the exploration over and deepen it to 9,600 feet and 660 feet used to dig to 5,505 feet is being moved out and a large rotary is to be moved in.

It is understood that Durham and associates retain a one-eighth over ride on the well and on the 180 acre lease on which it is located.

Tucker Pool In Crane Gets 6,000-Foot Test

George T. Abell has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill a 6,000-foot rotary exploration in the Tucker field of southwest Crane County, six miles northeast of Imperial.

Projected depth should carry the venture into the Waddell Sand of the Simpson.

The drillsite of No. 2 T. A. S. will be 330 feet from north and west lines of the south three-quarter of section 25, block 1, H&TC survey.

Pecos Prospector Is Planned By Edwards

L. E. Edwards of Midland, and associates, No. 1 G. R. White and others, is to be a 2,200-foot cable tool wildcat in East Pecos County to test the Permian lime.

The prospect will be 330 feet from south and east lines of section 18, block 2, TCRW survey. That puts it ten miles west of Iraan.

C-S Midland Project Tests Pennsylvanian

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-B TXL, one half mile south of the discovery well of the Pegasus field in Central-North Upton County and in Central-South Midland County, was taking a drill-stem test in the Pennsylvanian lime at 10,115-183 feet.

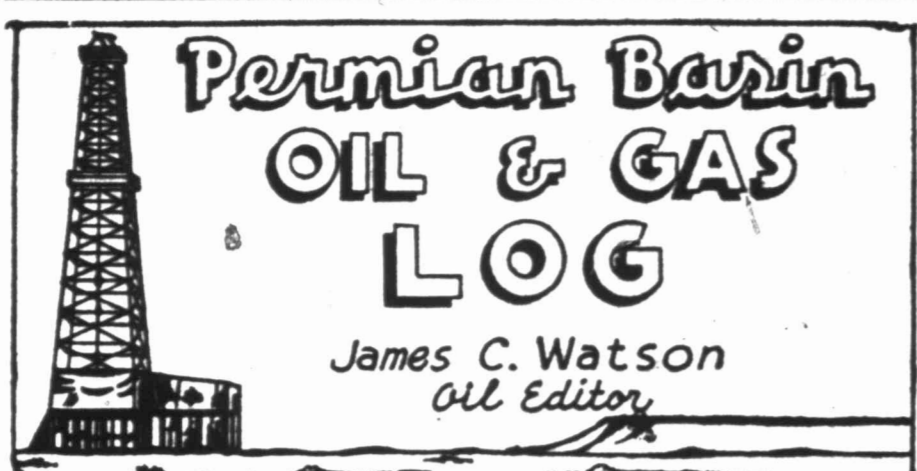

Samples from that interval had shown good indications of possible production.

The exploration is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 31, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S. It is to continue.

to around 13,000 feet to explore into the Ellenburger. Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 American Republics Corporation test wildcat to 13,000 feet, three miles south of the Pegasus field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 6, block 40, TP survey, T-5-S, had reached 10,684 feet in Pennsylvanian lime and was boring deeper.

Midland Prospector Sets Pipe, To Deepen

General American Oil Company No. 1 Peck, Southwest Midland County prospect, west of the Clear Fork of the Ellenburger had cemented a string of 7 5/8 inch intermediate casing at 9,294 feet, over total depth of 9,300 feet in the Wolfcamp lime of the lower Permian.

Operator will drill the plug and start making new hole early in the week. The Wolfcamp was entered at approximately 9,200 feet, to make the project 88 feet low on that marker to the discovery well in the Pegasus-Elfenburger field, five miles to the southeast.

The No. 1 Peck developed considerable gas and some shows of oil from the zone of the Wolfcamp so far drilled. It kicked out gas and oily drilling mud at the top while operator was conditioning the hole prior to the running of the casing.

Location is at the center of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 21, block 41, TP survey, T-4-S. That makes it 30 miles southwest of the city of Midland.

Y&H Makes Further Hole At Two Tests

York & Harper, Inc., No. 1-A TXL, contracted 13,800-foot wildcat to test the Ellenburger in Central Midland County, 12 1/2 miles south of the city of Midland, was drilling deeper in an unidentified formation at 12,241 feet.

The prospect is 890 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 25, block 39, T-3-S, TP survey.

Deepening was also in progress at York & Harper No. 1 Sugar, extreme Northeast Reagan County wildcat 25 miles northeast of Big Lake. It was drilling in lime and shale below 8,035 feet.

The project is scheduled to drill to 10,500 feet to explore the Ellenburger. The drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 104, block 2, TP survey.

Offset To Levelland Extender Is Planned

Lion Oil Company No. 2 P. O. Masten is to be a south offset to the operator's No. 1 P. O. Masten, recently completed, three-quarter mile southwest extension to the Levelland field in Central Cochran County.

No. 2 P. O. Masten is to be drilled to 5,200 feet to test the San Andres, using rotary and cable tools. Location is 440 feet from north and east lines of labor 12, league 132, Carson County School Lands survey. That makes it 14 miles southwest of Whiteface.

NE Coke Operation Now Flowing To Test

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 3 Odom, Northeast Coke County wildcat, flowed 128 barrels of water plus 49 barrels of water in 24 hours through a one-quarter inch tubing choke.

The production came from perforated section at 5,250-25 feet opposite a zone in the Strawn lime, which had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.

Operator is continuing to flow the well to test and complete. It is three-quarter of a mile northeast of Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Davenport, a small pumper from the Strawn, and it is 1,250 feet from north and 1,380 feet from east lines of the Seofriana De La Garza survey No. 304.

Upton Development Is Making Further Hole

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Oswalt, Central-East Upton County deep wildcat, four and one-half miles northwest of the Benedum field, and 2,640 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 12, block B, CCSD&RNG survey, had reached 11,595 feet in an unidentified lime and chert formation, and was making more hole.

Operator is not releasing any geological information on this exploration at this time. It is slated to drill until it reaches and tests the Ellenburger.

Gaines Prospect Has No Oil In Last DST

Samedan Oil Corporation and Anderson Brothers of Midland No. 1-E-A Andrews, Central-South Gaines County wildcat, which has indicated the possible discovery of oil and gas in the top of the Ellenburger, failed to develop any signs of production in a drill-stem test at 12,005-045 feet.

The tool was open one hour. There was a very slight blow of air during the period. Recovery was the 3,500-foot water blanket

Chaves, Lea To Get Deep Prospectors By Honolulu, Conoco

HOBBS, N. M.—Locations for deep prospecting in Southeast Chaves County and in Central-East Lea County were reported Saturday.

Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 State is to be the Chaves County venture. It will be 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 13-11-27e. That makes it 18 miles southeast of Roswell.

The lease on which it is to be drilled is a farmout from The Texas Company. Projected depth for the prospect is 7,000 feet, or granite at a lesser depth.

Continental Oil Company No. 2-B-28 Warren unit is slated as a 10,000-foot exploration in East-Central Lea County, one mile east of the two-well Warren field.

The new project is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 28-20s-38e. It is due to drill until it tests the McKee sand of the Simpson, or until it is encountered first.

McAister Fuel Company No. 1 W. C. Stoneman is to be a one-location south stepout from the same company's No. 1-A Denton, recently completed flowing discovery from the Devonian to open the Denton field in Central-East Lea County.

The new project will be 660 feet from north and east lines of section 14-15s-37e. It is contracted to 11,500 feet to explore into the Devonian.

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-A Dickinson, a diagonal southeast flanker to the Denton field opener, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 13-15-37e, had progressed below 10,025 feet in lime and shale in the lower Wolfcamp of the Permian, and was making more hole.

East Flanker Slated To Scurry Discovery

Standard-Fryer Drilling Company is to begin drilling soon at its No. 2 Wilkinson, contracted 7,000-foot venture in North Central Scurry County, three miles northwest of Snyder.

No. 2 Wilkinson will be an east offset to Standard-Fryer No. 1 Wilkinson, Canyon lime discovery between the North Snyder and Kelley fields.

The drillsite is 467 feet from south and 1,854 feet from west lines of the south half of the southwest quarter of section 17, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Kelley Is Given Two More Explorations

Pan American Petroleum Company has staked locations for two projects on the northwest side of the Kelley field of Central Scurry County, both of which are to be drilled to 7,000 feet to test the Canyon reef, using rotary tools.

The company's No. 1 E. E. Woolver is to be 660 feet from south and east lines of section 249, block 97, H&TC survey.

The other development is to be the concern's No. 2 Effie Ramsey and will be 660 feet from north and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 205, block 97, H&TC survey.

Diamond-M Outpost Sets Casing To Test

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-H Johnson, which has indicated for a one-half mile north extension to the Diamond-M field of Southwest Scurry County, is preparing to run casing to make production tests.

After topping the Canyon reef at 6,881 feet on an elevation of 2,428 feet, it drilled to a total depth of 4,808 feet.

On the top of the Canyon reef it was five feet low to the nearest completed wells in the Diamond-M field. The section in the Canyon lime so far penetrated has shown that it will make a well.

The development is 1,980 feet from north and 614 feet from east lines of section 200, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it 11 miles southwest of Snyder.

Lion Schedules Three D-M Operations

Lion Oil Company has made locations to test the Canyon reef lime on the northwest side of the Diamond-M field of Southwest Scurry County. All of the ventures are to drill to 6,800 feet.

Washington Oil—

Acheson Says U. S. Must Become 'Import-Minded' To Cure World's Ills

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
WASHINGTON—Secretary of State Dean Acheson says domestic oil producers may win their fight to limit oil imports.

He says the chances will increase if there is any business decline.

He believes it would be disastrous to limit oil imports, and said it won't happen if Americans understand imports are needed to balance world trade.

The tall, dapper, capable secretary gave his views to the National Trade Council last week. Acheson failed to mention oil specifically; but it was apparent he was thinking of petroleum.

This major statement from the secretary came shortly after the Thomas amendment to limit imports to five per cent of domestic demand, or 300,000 barrels daily, so narrowly failed of passage.

To cure the world's economic ills, he suggested: "It is fundamental to a solution of this problem that we have a basic change in our traditional attitude of mind. We must become really import-minded. We must want to devote our time and energy to discovering and bringing in imports."

Domestic oil men have put up a good fight for congressional legislation to curb imports, and they say they will ask Congress again next year. Acheson, apparently, believes they will succeed. He says:

"These pressures (for import curbs) are strong. They will continue and probably increase. If there is any slackening in United States business activity, they will greatly increase."

Fundamental to the American public understands that the effect of yielding to these pressures will be to wreck our chances of curing this fundamental ill from which we are suffering, the pressures cannot be withstood and our balance-of-payments problem, so costly for the taxpayer, will remain unsolved."

Let the foreign oil come in to this most attractive market, the secretary believes.

If that hurts the domestic producer, that's too bad. If that means imports as high as 780,000 barrels daily by next February, as the State Department forecasts, that's all right, too.

At $2.50 a barrel, imports of that level would cost domestic producers $1,950,000 daily in shut-in production. This assumes imports displace domestic production, which, on the whole, is the truth of the matter.

Further, Acheson pointed out, the debate on extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements, which called for low tariffs and no quotas on imports, spoke of "peril points." That is the point where imports have reached such a level, they harm an industry.

Well, said Acheson, that's a lot of nonsense. The only peril points worth talking about involve "possible economic distress" of European countries when the U. S. does not import enough of their goods.

J. E. (Ed) Warren, are you listening? Stewart Takes Oath

There were 40 persons in the large, handsome office with the fireplace crackling (probably on gas) and an imposing idealized portrait in oils of the secretary of the Interior above the mantle.

A door opened. In walked Secretary J. A. Krug wearing a blue-grey suit over his huge bulk. Behind him was a tall, spare, serious man with white hair.

"This is another pleasant occasion," said the secretary.

"Hugh A. Stewart of Denver has had a long and glorious history in the petroleum industry. He takes the place of Max Ball (also of Denver) who did a great job before him, and of Ralph Davis, who was before him."

A Bible was brought forth. "I do you solemnly swear to defend the United States against all enemies... foreign and domestic... without any mental reservation...?"

Hugh Stewart said: "I do." Then he was officially the director of Interior's Oil and Gas Division. This is the government's biggest job on oil and gas. It's been vacant 11 months, so choosy was the government about the proper person.

Nene Too Cocky
To this correspondent later, Stewart was none too cocky.

"I feel like a kid in kindergarten," he said. "I am astounded at the position of the Oil and Gas Division. I intend to keep it there. I have much to learn."

St. Clair To Head Midland Office For Doheny Operations

Patrick A. Doheny is a new independent oil operator in the Permian Basin. He has established an office at 219 South Big Spring Street in Midland, in charge of D. W. St. Clair.

Other members of the staff of the Doheny office in this city are J. K. Hartman and Miss Sammie J. Huskey.

It is understood that Doheny plans to carry on a general oil exploration, development and producing program in this region as well as in California, the Rocky Mountain states, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and other sections of Texas and New Mexico.

Formerly with Los Nietos, Doheny lives in Los Angeles and will maintain his general offices in that city. G. W. Reed is in charge of the Los Angeles office and L. C. Roberts, Jr., is head of the office Doheny will maintain in Dallas.

Doheny was formerly vice president of Los Nietos Company. That concern was recently purchased by Union Oil Company of California. Union has taken over control and operation of all properties formerly owned by Los Nietos.

St. Clair was head of the Los Nietos office in Midland, which was closed when the sale to Union was consummated. Hartman and Miss Huskey were also employed by Los Nietos.

Bartley Is To Speak For WTGS Meeting At 8 P.M. Monday

Jerald H. Bartley, geologist with the University of Texas Lands office in Midland will be presented by the West Texas Geological Society in a meeting Monday night at 8 p.m. in the district courtroom of each county.

Bartley will give a paper titled, "Simpson Group of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico." This paper has been prepared for formal presentation at the annual meeting of the Geological Society of America in El Paso on Thursday of this week.

Bartley will illustrate the paper with colored slides and charts and will show a map of all oil fields in this territory which produce from the Simpson horizon. He will also show a cross section of the horizon in the Permian Basin.

Bartley will accept criticisms and suggestions for strengthening and improving the paper at the Monday night session.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP—

Scurry's Main Boosters Once Skeptical; Field May Be World's Largest

By MAX B. SKELTON

SNYDER—(AP)—There are many red faces among veteran Texas oilmen these days—red from embarrassment.

Within the past year Scurry County has become the nation's most talked about oil boom area since the East Texas field blew in 19 years ago.

It is a real boom and really embarrassing to many old men who as late as a year ago were warning all comers:

"Stay out of Scurry County."

It was not that they wanted the place to themselves. They did not think the county had enough oil to get excited about. Their warning, they thought, was just good advice.

They had been convinced by years of hunches, explorations, geological surveys and wildcatting. These same skeptics now are saying, with pained expressions, Scurry County may become one of the world's greatest oil fields.

Oil is nothing new to Scurry. It has been an oil producing county since 1923. But four big strikes since last November, plus a surprisingly small number of dry holes, have brought the boom. About 100 wells now are being drilled.

The old wells are shallow producers—from 1,800 to 2,800 feet deep. The new production is from formations left behind by the Pennsylvanian geologic age of from 220,000,000 to 268,000,000 years ago.

Pennsylvanian high quality crude is flowing from depths of 6,400 to 7,400 feet.

300 Producers Seen

Oil men and geologists in Midland, capital of the Permian Basin, West Texas-Southwestern New Mexico oil empire, say these new fields by January 1 will have at least 300 producing wells. Last January 1 there were only two.

A Midland geologist figures those 300 wells will have at least 480,000,000 barrels of recoverable reserves. He was figuring on only from 30 to 40 per cent recovery of all oil in place.

A Houston oil executive commented:

"That is far too conservative. You can safely say that one Scurry County operator alone this year has found reserves that run between 500,000,000 and 1,000,000,000 barrels.

Snyder, the county seat, is a modern boom town. In 1940 it had 3815 residents and had not grown noticeably by late 1948. City officials now are reluctant to make an estimate, people are arriving so rapidly.

The Scurry County Times on October 11 said Snyder already has grown to 14,000, and added there is no reason to doubt there will be 30,000 by June 1.

Stories of quick monetary return from the new wells are numerous. C. W. Addison, 28, bought a half section of land last December for $4,800. The land already has turned out one oil producer. Two other tests are under way. He has received something like $64,000 in cash.

Based On Possibilities

But predictions of great things to come for Scurry are based on tremendous possibilities for widespread extensions to the new fields. Geologists say the new strikes are producing from formations which were nothing more than reefs of the Pennsylvanian sea. Thickness of the pay zones or producing formations range from 200 to 900 feet.

There had been many unsuccessful wildcat wells drilled in Scurry County between the time initial production was discovered in 1923 and the new fields were brought in the past 12 months. Most of the operators were seeking oil in formations beneath the Pennsylvanian. They had little or no luck.

Many operators pulled out. A few, particularly independents, stayed. A majority of the new strikes are at depths that permit independents to participate. Drilling costs are small compared to deeper tests.

Sun Oil Company found Pennsylvanian reef production in December 1946 and brought in the Jameson field in Coke County, about 60 miles to the southeast of Snyder.

Other companies since then have found similar strikes in several localities as far as 120 miles from Snyder.

Geologists are wondering now if future explorations might eventually outline the Pennsylvanian reef as being 200 miles or greater in length.

Father Of Missing Girl Makes Speedy Return From Tokyo

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Special authorization from the Secretary of the Army got Thomas F. Garey home from Tokyo in 31 hours to help in the hunt for a missing 13-year-old daughter.

An engineer consultant at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters made the trip by military plane. After hurried inquiries he told a reporter Saturday there are no real clues in the disappearance here October 30 of attractive Lucille Garey.

All he and his wife have to go on, he said, is that "she is adventurous, she always wanted to see the West and had talked with school friends about going there, and she was crazy about horses."

He said there were no serious boy friends, no troubles at home where she was an only child, and no difficulties at school.

Lucille, so far as the father knew, had only 8 1/2 when she left home, ostensibly to get a soda at a nearby drugstore.

Hamilton Returns To Midland Job After Denver Assignment

J. B. Hamilton, district production superintendent for Sun Oil Company in the Permian Basin, has returned to his headquarters in this city, following a three-months assignment with the concern's Rocky Mountain division, which works out of Denver, Colo.

While at Denver, Hamilton supervised the setting up of a drilling and production department for the Rocky Mountain division.

Sun started operating in that territory about a year ago and is now drilling two wildcat wells in that division.

J. T. Hightower, of Colorado City, assistant district production superintendent for Sun in the Permian Basin has gone to Denver to supervise the drilling of the two prospectors the company has in progress in the Rocky Mountains.

Midland had a distinguished visitor Friday night. Dr. Herman B. Baruch, American Ambassador to the Netherlands, accompanied by his wife, arrived by automobile in Midland from Dallas and registered in the Governor's Suite at Hotel Scharbauer.

Dr. Baruch, who has been ambassador to Portugal and Brazil, is two years younger than his equally well-known brother, Bernard Baruch. Dr. Baruch gave as his home address 1067 Park Avenue, New York City.

Geophysicists Plan Organization Meet In Midland Tuesday

A meeting is to be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday night in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Scharbauer to organize a regional chapter of the Society of Exploration Geophysicists for the Permian Basin.

The business meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and will be preceded by a fellowship, starting at 7 p.m., at which Strawn Merchandise Company will be the host.

Plans for such a body were inaugurated several weeks ago at a meeting held in Midland which was attended by approximately 35 geophysicists.

It is the plan of the sponsors of this movement to go into the formal organization of the chapter at the Tuesday night meeting.

Active Rotaries In Permian Basin Are At Peak For 1949

On November 1, 1948 there were 463 active rotary rigs in operation in the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico. That is the largest number of active rigs so far for this region during the current year.

That figure is from the regular semi-monthly survey of Reed Roller Bit Company, Inc., of Dallas. That is the largest number of active rigs so far for this region during the current year.

For the first time 1949 the total number of active rotaries in the Permian Basin was higher than on the same date in 1948.

On November 1, 1948 there were 429 active rotaries in the region.

The November 1, 1948 figure was an increase of 52 active rigs over the 411 that were in operation in the region on October 15, 1948.

Scurry Ellenburger Venture Now Testing

Olsen Drilling Company No. 1 Green, Central Scurry County wildcat between the town of Snyder and the North Snyder field, was bottomed at 5,127 feet in the Ellenburger, which had been entered at 7,920 feet, and was taking a drillstem test.

The venture tested for one hour at 7,965-8,978 feet. There was a slight blow of air during the test. Recovery was 150 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water.

In drilling ahead to 8,127 feet a soft section was logged at 8,066-8,120 feet.

The prospector drilled through the Pennsylvanian section without finding any possibilities of production. Location is 680 feet from north and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 187, block 3, H&TC survey.

New Scurry Producer Finished By Danciger

Danciger Oil Company has completed its No. 1 Permian in the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry County, for a calculated 24-hour potential of 148.50 barrels of oil from the Canyon lime reef.

The flow was natural through a 22 1/2 inch tubing choke from an open hole between the top of the pay at 6,925 feet and the total depth at 6,980 feet.

Gravity of the oil was 42-degrees and the gas-oil ratio was 800-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 1,280 pounds and the flowing casing pressure was 1,280 pounds.

No formation water was reported. The new well is 467 feet from north and east lines of section 394, block 97, H&TC survey.

Cabot Carbon Quits East Yoakum Wildcat

Cabot Carbon Company of Midland has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 Bessie Clay, East Yoakum County wildcat four miles northeast of Tokio as a failure in the San Andres of the Permian.

The project was drilled to a total depth of 5,338 feet and failed to develop any signs of commercial production.

The dry hole is 680 feet from south and west lines of section 12, block D. H. Gibson survey.

Bench Cleared By Coach As All Hands See Action

By SHORRY SHELBURNE
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor
BROWNFIELD—The Midland Bulldogs powered their way to a District 3-AA victory here Friday night, steam-rolling the hapless Brownfield Cubs 26 to 7. Coach Tugboat Jones cleared the bench for the first time this season as he gave every man on the squad a chance to get in a few licks.

The Bulldogs looked like a million dollars in the first quarter. They took the opening kickoff on their own 29 and marched straight up the field with a show of power to a touchdown. Jack Burris bore the brunt of the attack during the drive, picking up 34 of the 71 yards on three carries. L. O. Thomas and Charles Crowley accounted for the remainder of the yardage.

Thomas went over for the score after Burris had moved the ball to the Brownfield one on a 17-yard run. Crowley's kick for point was good.

The Bulldogs dominated play again in the second quarter, lost their steam in third period when Brownfield scored its only TD and came back strong in the fourth quarter.

Following the first touchdown, the Bulldog defense was a stone wall to the Brownfield T formation.

Falling to move on the ground, the Cubs took to the air. Dale Cary pitched a 35-yard aerial to Billy Patterson on the Midland 10 and he was run out of bounds on the five by Jimmy O'Neal and Reed Gilmore.

The Bulldogs stiffened and pushed the Cubs back. Stan Coker broke through to nail Clyde Chambliss for a 15-yard loss. Three Cub passes fell incomplete and Midland took over on its own 20.

Jack Burris cut up field on the first play from scrimmage, getting nice blocking from Dalton Byerley, Gilmore, Crowley and Thomas, and moved 25 yards to the Midland 45.

Burris, Crowley and Thomas moved the ball to the Cub 46 on short line gains. Thomas took 23 yards on a quickie through the middle to the 21.

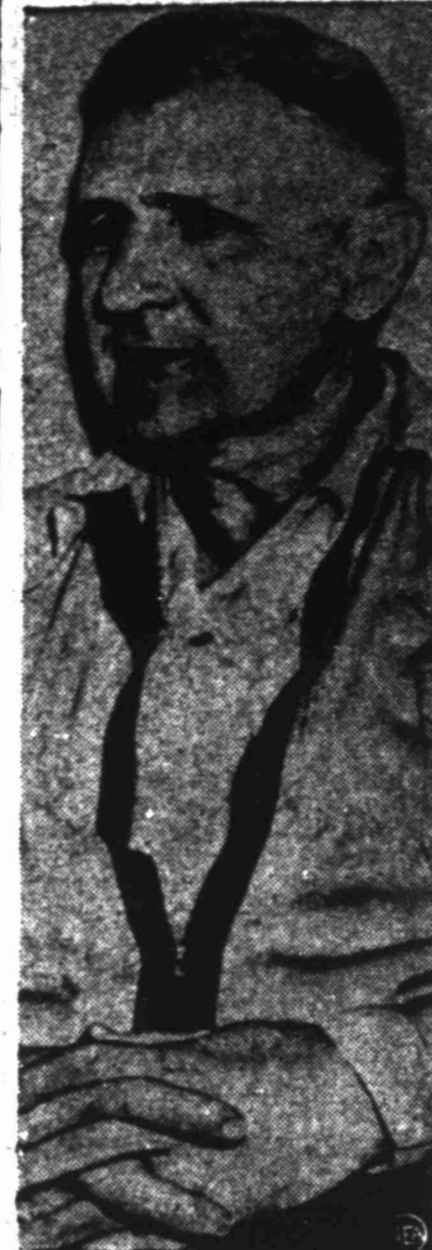

The O'Neal trio got a first on the Brownfield 10 as the quarter ended.

Drive Bogs Down
A 15-yard penalty against the Bulldogs moved the ball back and the drive bogged down. Brownfield took over on downs on its own 12.

Three line plays moved the ball only one yard for the Cubs and John Thompson punted. The boot pass was intercepted by Burris, returned to the Brownfield 39 by Gilmore.

The Bulldogs went on the march again from there. Crowley and Thomas split ground-gaining honors in a drive carried only once, picking up six.

No Rest

After Texas, the big ones were Baylor, and season's final against Naves Dame, December 3, for Coach Matty Bell. The Southern Methodist mentor has little time for relaxation, but gives full credit to the Mustangs' coaching staff, as in up-coming previously unbeaten Kentucky while the incomparable Doak Walker was sitting it out with influenza.

Longhorns Topple Baylor Bears Out Of Unbeaten Class

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Texas Longhorns toppled Baylor's Bears from the unbeaten list with a solid 20-0 victory as 60,000 looked on here Saturday.

Snapping back from three heartbreaking losses in the past four weeks, Texas dealt a smashing blow to Baylor's hopes for its first Southwest Conference title since 1924.

It also probably knocked Baylor out of the top ten teams of the country. The Bears were rated sixth as they went into the game.

Pierce rushing by the Texas line and sharp pass-defensive patterns put a damper on the heretofore brilliant aerial attack directed by Baylor's Adrian Burk.

Bud McFadin, 235-pound Texas guard, was particularly tough against the Baylor offense, his terrific tackling wrecking the Bear running game time after time. He was equally impressive on offense. Texas hit its victory stride late in the second quarter. Big Ray Bormeman, a bruising fullback who has been hampered by a knee injury all season, showed his form of last year as he piled over from the one-foot line. His plunge capped a methodical 18-play drive of 80 yards in which Bormeman and Kendall Clay were almost the whole show.

A freak play which Bormeman juggled the ball to Lineman McFadin contributed 18 yards to the march. Clay missed the extra point.

Fumbles halted a Baylor drive on the Texas 30 and a Texas threat on the Baylor three in the third period, but Texas came right back in the fourth.

Campbell, mixing in frequent passes with the Texas potent ground game, uncoored a 23-yard touchdown pass to Eng Ben Proctor. The lanky wingman grabbed the ball on the sight and went over standing up. Clay kicked the first of two successful conversions.

A fumble by Burk set up Texas' final tally. Tackle Bill Wilson recovered on the Baylor 13. A penalty put the ball on the one-yard line, and Campbell scored the first touchdown of his collegiate career on a quarterback sneak.

Oklahoma's Sooners Crush Kansas State

MANHATTAN, KAN.—(AP)—Oklahoma's mighty and versatile Sooners toyed with undermanned Kansas State Saturday in rolling up a 38 to 0 Big Seven Conference football victory.

It was their fourth in the league and the seventeenth since last they took a licking.

Actually, the Kansas State Homecoming Day crowd estimated at 18,800—a home record—saw the Oklahoma Sooners warm up for their big game with Missouri at Columbia next Saturday. A victory in that one would give the Sooners their second successive conference title.

Playing in clear, crisp weather, the Sooners let their great half-back, George Thomas, run his scoring total for the season to 87 points with two touchdowns in the first and after building up a 33-0 lead, turned it over to second and third string units.

Kansas State resisted gamely in the first quarter and fought back hard at times thereafter but could not cope with Oklahoma's great defense—tops in the nation a week ago.

The Sooners gave up only 50 yards net rushing Saturday.

Campbell, mixing in frequent passes with the Texas potent ground game, uncoored a 23-yard touchdown pass to Eng Ben Proctor. The lanky wingman grabbed the ball on the sight and went over standing up. Clay kicked the first of two successful conversions.

A fumble by Burk set up Texas' final tally. Tackle Bill Wilson recovered on the Baylor 13. A penalty put the ball on the one-yard line, and Campbell scored the first touchdown of his collegiate career on a quarterback sneak.

Texas Aggies Jolt Ponies With 27-27 Surprise Deadlock

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—Texas A&M rose from the depths of ridicule and defeat Saturday to tie mighty Southern Methodist University 27-27.

It was the pounding fullback, Bob Smith, and a spirit that burned as bright as the sun overhead that smashed the Mustangs' title hopes and national ranking.

Smith scored three touchdowns to bring the Aggies from behind then left the final glory to little Billy Tidwell and Bob Schaefer. Tidwell scored the final Aggie touchdown late in the final quarter and Schaefer kicked the extra point that gave A&M a moral victory in the biggest upset of the Southwest Conference season.

All-America Doak Walker and his touchdown twin, Kyle Rote, set a blistering early pace for Southern Methodist, one that seemed to make the three-touchdown edge they had been given seem small.

Walker scored two touchdowns and passed to Rote for another to give the Mustangs a 20-6 lead at the half. The Mustangs made it look easy, with the Aggies' matching first quarter touchdown just one of those "things" 31,000 fans could expect.

Those "things" happened in rapid fire succession in the second half. Smith crushed over for two touchdowns that tied the score. They kept on happening after Rote had returned a kickoff 100 yards for a touchdown that put the Mustangs ahead as the third quarter ended.

Walker kicked three extra points for SMU and Schaefer three for A&M.

Mustangs Score First
Southern Methodist scored the first time it got the ball in the first quarter. Walker had to cross the goal line twice to make that first counter. His first try at the end of a 78-yard march was called back by a penalty. But, after Rote gained 71 yards, he made it from the three.

Walker matched this score, but not the extra point, as soon as it got the ball. Five plays covered 43 yards, Smith going over from the nine.

Seminole In 27-7 Upset Of Champs

SEMINOLE—Coach Gordon Wood's Seminole Indians pulled one of their famous upsets out of the bag here Friday night when they all but pushed the Monahans Lobos of the field in a 27 to 7 rout. Monahans was a heavy favorite to cop the tilt.

Seminole, strengthened by the return of two or three key players from the injured list, piled up 20 to 0 halftime lead and defended the Lobos until well into the fourth period.

Quarterback Hood counted the first Seminole TD in the first period on a sneak through the line. The extra point was good.

In the second period, Halfback Lindley tabbed another one on a brilliant 50-yard sprint.

Light Heavy Champ Mills To Meet Joey Maxim January 24

LONDON—(AP)—World's light heavyweight champion Freddie Mills will defend his title against Joey Maxim of Cleveland, Ohio, here next January 24. Promoter Jack Solomons announced Saturday.

The fight will be scheduled for 15 rounds in London's Earls Court Stadium, which has a seating capacity of 18,000 to 20,000.

Solomons said Maxim and Mills are the No. 1 light heavyweight in the United States following his defeat of Gus Lesnevich last May 23. Lesnevich lost his world title to Mills here a year ago last July.

Solomons said Maxim and his manager, Jack Kearns, would arrive in England around January 1 by boat.

Two Men Arrested In Race-Fixing Try

SALEM, N. H.—(AP)—An ex-groom was being held here under $12,000 bail and a racing sheet operator was under arrest in Los Angeles Saturday in connection with an attempted "fixer" horse race at Rockingham Park on October 24.

William K. Weaver, 32, an unemployed groom from Nogales, Ariz., pleaded innocent to seven charges of interfering maliciously with Rockingham race horses, each of which calls for a three-year prison sentence under New Hampshire statutes.

Los Angeles police arrested Forest C. (Chub) Wilson of that city on as many counts.

According to Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau investigators, Weaver broke into Rockingham Park barns on the night of October 23 and inserted sponges in the nostrils of six of the nine horses that were entered in the next day's seventh race. Such tampering would hamper the horses' breathing during the race, won by Crisix.

Thereupon Weaver, according to the TRPB authorities, telephoned Wilson that the "fix" was in for Crisix. Wilson, investigators charge, promised to bet $100 on Crisix for Weaver, almost penniless when arrested, stood to win $680 if his alleged illegal agreement with Wilson had been fulfilled.

Pecos Eagles Blitz Denver City 58 To 7

PECOS—The Pecos Eagles buried the last-place Denver City Mustangs under a 58 to 7 score in a District 5-A football game here Friday night. Jerry Fairley and George Christian, Pecos' candidates for all-district, ran wild in scoring seven touchdowns.

Fairley counted four TD's and Christian got three. Ends Tommy Langham and Billy Bryan contributed a touchdown each.

Orlando Gutierrez, substituting for the injured Buddy Oard at quarterback, pitched the oval with accuracy all night.

Gutierrez tossed to Langham for the first touchdown. He hit Fairley with passes covering 25 and 70 yards for touchdowns and pitched one to Bryan for a 55-yard trip to paydirt.

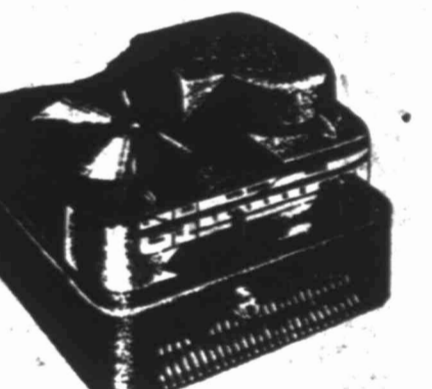

Fairley scored his other two TD's on runs of 52 and 70 yards.

Christian's Scampers
Christian's scoring was brilliant all the way. He ran 52, 54 and 68 yards on his three trips.

Frankie Howard scored all of Denver City's points. He blunted for the touchdown and kicked the extra point in the third quarter. Langham booted four extra points for Pecos.

Club Chooses Film To Bring Finest Music

The musical menu of "Carnegie Hall" the Civic Music Club-sponsored movie to be shown Wednesday and Thursday in the Yucca Theater, is the reason the club varied from its policy of bringing musicians in person to give concerts in Midland, and decided to offer the film as one program of this season.

In the musical selections, Tchaikovsky, Wagner, Rachmaninoff, Chopin, Saint Saens, Mozart and Beethoven represent the "long-haired" composers. New songs such as "Brown Danube," by Hal Borne; "Sometime We Will Meet Again," by Gregory Stone; "The Pleasure" (Continued On Page 12)

Steaming Gives Freshness To Velvet

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Velvet and velveteen hang with new importance in a girl's wardrobe this season, but add new problems to her wardrobe care and cleaning chores.

Because of its pile finish, velvet freshens up and sheds wrinkles most readily after steaming. This can be done at the end of a kettle spout, from a spray rising from a hot iron and damp cloth, or from a steam iron. But a girl who is away at school might find a bathroom steam-bath an easier way to freshen up her velvet frocks and accessories.

For steaming, close windows, doors and shower curtains and stains. A "lining" of mustin basted across the shoulder and inside the neckline will ward off that "flattened" look that's a good grooming threat.

When not in use velvet garments should be turned inside out and hung from the waistline, else hangers will leave their imprints on velvet shoulders.

Dry Skin Needs Creamup Time

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Do you look ruefully in your mirror regretting what you allowed the Summer sun to do to your skin?

Better than wasting time regretting your folly is to grab a couple of jars of cream and to start repairing the damage. Make one a jar of cleansing cream of the type that's intended to help relieve skin dryness. The other cream should be a rich night-time lubricant, needed for its softening, suppling benefits.

See that this night cream has a lanolin base. Lanolin, an absorbable oil, is an animal fat that most nearly resembles the human skin.

Your skin will to some extent continue to absorb this penetrating oil up to four to six hours after you cream your face. So, the longer you can arrange to leave on your face cream stuff, the better the benefits will be.

That doesn't mean, however, that in order to derive these benefits that your skin must be greased like a channel swimmer's. The lighter the film of oil, the more readily pores will take it up. Cream spread over your face before you take a bath is an extra measure that will help further allay skin dryness.

Kitchen Improvement Is Discussed For Valley View Club

Samples of floor covering, plans for storage cabinets and several types of light fixtures were shown by Mrs. Nettie Messick, county home demonstration agent, as she discussed "More Attractive Kitchens" at a meeting of Valley View Home Demonstration Club in the Valley View Community Center Thursday.

Mrs. J. D. Bartlett and Mrs. D. M. Bizzell will represent the club at a school on corsage making at 2 p.m. Monday in the Assembly Room of the courthouse. They will be in charge of the club program on November 18, showing other members how to make corsages.

Each member is to have a part on the Thanksgiving program. Mrs. Glenn Drake and Mrs. Bizzell will be hostesses in the Community Center.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. B. L. Mason and Mrs. Bartlett to a new member, Mrs. Earl Fain, and Mrs. J. C. Stevens, Jr. Mrs. Will Long, Mrs. I. J. Howard, Mrs. Bizzell, Mrs. Messick and Mrs. Jeanette Roberts, assistant county agent.

hang velvets or velveteens to be treated on the curtain bar outside of curtains. When the vapor in the room closes in on the velvets, brush wrinkles and spots very lightly against the nap with a soft brush. Then remove garments from steam-filled room (before vapor condenses into water droplets and stains fabric) and hang where they won't touch anything until completely dry.

If velvet is to look luxurious it requires other special attentions: Rain spots may be rubbed off lightly with a small extra scrap of dampened velvet, then brushed with a soft brush. Dust and lint, always a problem with velvet, should be gently stroked off with a soft-bristled brush. (Stiff bristles may injure velvet pile permanently.) Always wear shields with velvet blouses and velvet-topped dresses to avoid perspiration

Double-Duty Gifts • Cheer Yule

Yule gifts for the home that get the best reception are space savers such as television ottoman (upper right) and stack-away palette tables (upper left); better home gadgets such as the personal book light (lower left) and new twin waffle-baker (lower right); or useful aids such as the regimental striped turkish towels, twig and leaf coaster set, gold-plated Florentine giftware and electrified china clock all in picture (upper right).

By MARJORIE SCILKEN
NEA Staff Writer

With housewives still bemoaning the tight quarters they have to "make-do," Christmas gifts that will get the best reception this season are those that save space or do double duty.

In the space-saving category is an oversized round television ottoman, covered with a durable, bright-red fabric. A substitute for a chair when united, the ottoman divides to add four triangular, upholstered television stools. These go under the ottoman's seat and can be pulled out to accommodate more guests.

Any hostess can eliminate embarrassing plate-juggling at her buffet suppers with a gift of stack-away palette tables. Shaped like an artist's palette and in bright artist's colors, the tabletops stack flat in a closet when not in use. To give every guest a personal table, the legs screw on at party time.

Electrical gadgets for the home are always inspired gifts. This season, for the confirmed reader-in-bed, there is a small plastic personal reading light that clips to any best seller and clicks off automatically when the reader nods off to sleep. A ball-bearing switch does the trick of dousing light when book tilts down.

Electrical attachments are also in the news with a dainty china clock that looks like a precious antique. Hand decorated with dainty French colors, this clock could take a center spot over someone's mantle.

Electrical kitchen appliances are readily available for gift-giving and a twin-waffle iron, for example, is a gift candidate for the home.

There are smaller household gifts that will be received with glee Christmas morning and still leave the donor with a few coppers in her purse. Elaborately gilded Florentine giftware, salad servers, cake servers, butter tongs, tiny spoons, tea forks, etc., all in 24-carat plated gold, add up to a service-fit-for-king on a pennywise budget.

Turkish towels, new in dark regimental stripes for that ultra-sophisticated housewife, are suggested gifts, as are the cleverest of coaster sets for the family that has "everything." The green-veined leaves in rubber keep a drink firm and allow nary a drop to seep through to the table-top.

WEST TEXAS SYMPHONY FORMED AT SAN ANGELO
SAN ANGELO—A symphony orchestra has been formed in the ranch country of West Texas.

Under the direction of Dr. Eric Sorantin, internationally known symphony and opera conductor, the San Angelo Symphony Orchestra will give its first concert of its initial season Monday, November 14. Sixty-five musicians will make up the orchestra for three scheduled performances this year.

Texas P-T Congress Will Meet In Waco

For the first time in 29 years, Waco will be host to the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers this Fall. Dates for the annual state convention are November 18-21. Headquarters hotel is the Bal-sigh, and general sessions will be held in Waco Hall, Baylor University.

I., first vice president of the National Congress; Maurice T. Moore, New York City attorney and chairman of the board of Time, Inc.; Dr. W. R. White, Baylor University president; and the Rev. Walter Kerr, chairman of the State Youth Development Council.

Four regional vice presidents are to be elected. One is for Region VIII, which includes the Sixteenth District of which Midland units are members. Mrs. E. M. Pittman of Anson has been nominated for the office.

Delegates will be entertained at a tea by the Waco City P-T Council, and will have a dinner program.

Fashions Designed At Home—In Florida

Resort styles offer something special in winter playlogs—fashions by a Florida designer: Leopard printed swim suit (above) is diaper-styled; sharkskin pedal-pushers (center) are one-piece.

This midriff outfit breaks up to make "separates" (above). The brief top is a "butterfly"-styled sweater of knitted navy and white striped cotton. The navy rayon sharkskin skirt is designed to take a change of tops.

By EPIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor
NEW YORK—(P)—When a designer of resort togs lives in a popular American winter playground, she is apt to know exactly what kind of clothes suit the scene, the climate and the activities of the place. Such a designer is Margaret print sharkskin has diaper-like shorts and a shirred bra top that ties halter-style.

Newman of Miami. At the peak of her custom-designer's career in New York, Miss Newman went to Florida for a winter vacation. But she got sand in her shoes and stayed. That was 12 years ago. Today, she designs in her bay shore home clothes for which American women clamor because they make smart fashions and good sense. A few steps from Miss Newman's resort home is her bayside factory, built around a patio, where employees who make Margaret Newman originals take a swim before they start to work.

Bare-top pedal pushers, made of a piece of sharkskin, also offer an invitation to the sun. For one style, Miss Newman chooses Florida's cyclamen pink and adds to pedal pushers of this color a print silk surah tunic which can be worn when needed to cover up bare shoulders and to conceal the identity of trousers.

Miss Newman's midriff fashions provide two pieces that unite to make a smart outfit, go their separate ways to serve various wardrobe needs. The brief top is a "butterfly"-styled midriff sweater of knitted navy and white striped cotton. The skirt of navy rayon sharkskin is equipped with slot pockets and fullness strategically centered around that area instead of around the hips.

Music Training Is To Be Given For Girl Scout Leaders

Songs, folk dances and stringing games which may be taught to youth groups will be learned by Girl Scout leaders and others who attend a training session Thursday conducted by Janet E. Tobitt, music consultant to the Girl Scouts of the USA.

Miss Tobitt is coming to Midland as an instructor for Girl Scout troop leaders and assistants, but adult workers with Boy Scouts, 4-H Clubs and church groups are invited also to the session which will start at 2 p.m. Thursday in the City-County Auditorium.

The instructor has made nationwide tours for several years, teaching Girl Scout leaders and recreation leaders in schools and camps.

Janet E. Tobitt She asks all the trainees to participate in the dances, games and songs, so that at the end of a session they find that they have learned to do the activities and can teach them to others. Miss Tobitt's profession grew out of a hobby for collecting folk songs and dances. She was a teacher in her native England, after studying at London University and St. Andrew University in Scotland, when a trip to the continent interested her in folk music. She used the music and dances in her work with Girl Guides in England, and since coming to the United States in 1930 she has used it similarly in Girl Scout programs.

Fall Lipsticks Are Dark Reds

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Fall lips will be darker. New shades range from the light blues to the copper reds to go with Fall fabrics which are red, red, red, depending on the shade you prefer.

It's no wonder then, that manufacturers are concentrating on making lipstick that important makeup accessory. They have concentrated on producing not only unusual shades of red in lipstick, but have improved the packaging so that there are gimmicks.

One lipstick is a combination ballpoint pen and lipstick, another offers a lipstick couplet—two lipstick shades to be worn at the same time. The more intense shade is for depth and is to be used to shape the outer edges of the lips—the deep spark, they say. The second lipstick is a lighter, brighter shade, used to fill in the rest of the mouth—the divine spark for comelier attraction, they believe.

Two-Shade Lipstick The two-shade lipstick idea does give an intriguing accent to the lips. And, now it seems that the natural look so popular in make-up, requires that the skin be pale, heightened by its own color, and the splash of makeup at the mouth. So it is, that now you concentrate on your lips.

Lip shades are more natural. No longer do we see great big saucer-type lip smears. One follows the natural lip line, adding or subtracting just a wee bit for depth and interest to enhance as it balances facial features. Few women go in for the dead-matted or high-glossed skin makeups which contributed only artificiality to the face. Faces, thank heavens, can be seen and appreciated for their own natural expression and interest.

You're lovely to look at...

... in a machine wave skillfully styled to flatter your face as well as your personality.

Let our experienced hair stylist create the hair style that will best suit you. 12 years experience assures your satisfaction.

small TALK

By SUE COLEMAN

That poet who wrote of the value of old friends, old books and old wine should have added old houses to his list. Of course, people who come from places where a house isn't considered old at all unless it has seen at least a century pass, will smile at the idea of old houses in Midland, where there were no houses a mere 70 years ago, but West Texans have other standards of age.

One of the homes here I've most enjoyed being in, is Mrs. T. O. Midkiff's on South Marientfield Street. Its charm is like that of a complacent dowager who knows she is a trifle out of style but doesn't care a bit and refuses to go in for the latest fash because she is conscious of the merit in her own style.

Confidentially, when Veda Hodge went to those Herald Tribune Forum programs in New York on her jaunt there last month, she was prepared to be a little bored at times because the sessions are long, the speakers many and profound. She knew it would be well worth while, though, so she stayed to the end, and at 11 p.m. was surprised to find that she would have liked to hear another speaker.

Here is a sample program, to show you that it was indeed a "star-studded political extravaganza," as she called it, and also a lengthy one: "One of a series on the general subject, 'What Kind of Government Ahead?' it opened with a discussion of Hoover Commission Recommendations by Arthur S. Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University, and a talk, 'The Hoover Report Is Up to You,' by Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple University.

Then there was a section on "The Republican Party." (Don't worry, the previous program had been given to the Democratic Party.) Speakers in that section were Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., senator from Massachusetts; Charles G. Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican Party; Philip H. Willkie, member of the Illinois state legislature; Alexander M. Lankier, director of youth activities in the New York State Republican Committee; Val Peterson, governor of Nebraska; and Estes Kefauver, senator from Tennessee.

After that was a panel discussion of "How Much Should Government Do—On Health, Education and Housing?" Speakers were Harold Russell, Amvet commander; James P. O'Leary, secretary of the National Broadcasting Company and the Herald Tribune.

Finally, John Foster Dulles, senator from New York, spoke on the subject, "The Free Man." And that was only one of four sessions. Each was broken with music by outstanding artists. Patrice Munsel of the Metropolitan Opera was the soloist for this program.

Is it any surprise that Mrs. Hodge gleaned enough material for half a dozen talks? Which she is going to need when she is called upon for speeches after her election as Texas Federation of Women's Clubs president this month.

People keep remarking to Janis Jenson, "That was a wonderful trip Duke had to New York last month! Don't you wish you could have gone, too?" Well, she did go with him, and it was a wonderful trip, she says.

The business of getting her first report card was most interesting to Jerri Lea Mackey, blonde first-grade daughter of the Gerald Mackeys, and she had heard talk that indicated the high worth of a "straight-A card." So she told her teacher a few days before report card time, "When I get my card, I'll make all my A's just as straight as I can." It took a little explaining to separate her idea of grades from that of practicing her penmanship.

P. C. Cane the report card, her A's were straight.

Some mighty flattering things were said to garden club members about their Fall Flower Show last Wednesday by Mrs. B. E. Thompson of Fort Worth, who headed the battery of certified judges that awarded the ribbons. A nationally accredited judge, she was working in her seventeenth flower show of this season, so she might have been a little tired in her appreciation of number one, but she said instead that she was surprised at such a show in this part of the state—she considered it the best of the 17.

When the show opened Wednesday afternoon Bertie Sherwood, still standing around in the rumpled slacks and jacket in which she had been working, took on a markedly relaxed look because her duty as staging chairman was finished. But Mrs. Winston Hull, the general chairman, had to wait until the show closed before she could start relaxing.

An Armistice Day dance will be held from 9 to 12 p.m. Thursday in the American Legion Hall, under the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary and members of Boy Scout Squadron No. 19, which is sponsored by the Woods W. Lynch Post of the American Legion.

The music will be furnished by E. D. Fitzgerald and his Lone Star Ramblers.

Mrs. T. E. Steels, auxiliary president, said the dance will be a benefit affair.

The public is invited and urged to attend.

Eighteen temporary employees of the Midland Post Office Saturday took Civil Service examinations given by representatives of the Civil Service Commission. The examination hours were from 8:30 a.m. until 1 p.m.

A slight delay in mail service was caused by the examinations, Frank Smith, superintendent of mails, said. The mail was back on schedule before the end of the day, however.

Cologne Swab Removes Hair-Line Powder

By ALECIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Keeping foundation and face powder out of the hairline is next to impossible, if make-up is to do a good cover-up job.

But there's no reason why the graying dust of powder or the gummy streaks of a foundation should stay in the hairline to wreck good grooming.

There are many ways of freeing a hairline from such messy smears. One is to wrap one end of an orange stick with a bit of cotton, dip it into a freshening lotion or cologne, and work the swab all the way around the hairline until it looks spotlessly clean.

This will do the trick and with no damage to a coiffure that has been done up before make-up has been applied.

The way to clean up a hairline when make-up goes on before hair goes up is to use a small brush. A purse-sized grooming brush is good for this purpose, if its bristles are slightly dampened and are whisked briskly through the hairline right after the last dab of powder goes on.

Because a dusty hairline is a threat to good grooming, this girl wraps an orange stick with cologne-soaked cotton and works it around the edge of hair to remove all traces of powder.

'Kerchiefs And Buttons From Over World Are In Collection

By SUE COLEMAN
Start talking with Mrs. S. H. Gwyn about her collection of buttons—she has thousands of them!—and first thing you know she mentions that she began gathering buttons after she had just about completed her handkerchief collection. Then she says casually she hasn't much time to work on the collection now because she is making a room-sized hooked rug to add to the collection of those she has on her floors, and the subject of handwork brings up the crochet, which she does for "pick-up work" and you begin to wonder how she spares time to eat.

Trim, friendly Mrs. Gwyn says she likes to keep busy and admits that she'd rather be mounting a new addition to a card neatly filled with gay buttons, or working out a design for a rug, or trying out a new idea for a lampshade cover, than to keep a meticulous house.

Kept in Place
Despite her avowal of shortcoming as a housekeeper, her home north of the Andrews Highway, set in an attractive lawn, is a comfortable place with an orderly air disturbed only by her current work. Her collections she keeps in their own places except when they are out for additions or inspection. She didn't care for the idea of another button collector she visited, who had cards of mounted buttons covering two sides of a room.

"I'd get tired looking at them all time," she declares, although she likes to look at them occasionally, recall the stories she knows about some and wonder about the tales some others might tell.
She estimates she has about 10,000 buttons in all, some mounted on uniform-sized black or orange cards and some sorted in boxes awaiting mounting. A few of her choicest buttons are in the Midland County Museum.
She mounts the buttons in related groups, sorted by color, material, pattern, country of origin, age or association. One card holds a group of buttons which are rare or have especial value to Mrs. Gwyn. One is of amber, one of silver jet, some of cut glass, one an antique model with three thread-holes instead of the common two or four, one topped with a realistic looking fly, another with a bug embedded in its transparent material and one large button with two transparent pieces fitted together to enclose a tiny bouquet.
Childhood Gifts
Some that she treasures most date back into the 1800's and were given her by a woman whom she remembers from her childhood.
Mrs. Gwyn wishes she knew the history of one cup-shaped brass button with a raised Chinese design and a broken flank. She would like also to know the stories of the buttons from many foreign countries, most of which she received in exchange from other collectors.

A great many of the 10,000 buttons were acquired by exchange and numerous others were gifts from interested persons. Two buttons were given her by a small negro boy who visited the museum while she was working there one day and inquired about those on display then returned to add to the collection.
Some unusual ones she found in unsuspected places. Like two dozen gaily-colored ones of Czechoslovakian manufacture, which she found in a small-town store where she stopped during the days of World War II shortages to see if its stock might include some sheets or hose. She has buttons from uniforms of almost all branches of military service, but still needs one from a Marine Corps uniform to finish the collection.
Not all the buttons are of rare or unusual type. Some, she says, are "just buttons, but 50 years from now they'll be antiques, too, and my grandchildren will have them then."
Classifying modern buttons by material sometimes offers difficulty, since plastics imitate other materials. Sometimes Mrs. Gwyn tests with a knife on the back of the button; the blade will mark plastic, but not glass or pearl.
It has not taken her long to accumulate her collection; she started it during World War II after visiting a son who was in service and stationed in Oklahoma. He had a friend who knew a collector of buttons in New England who would send Mrs. Gwyn handkerchiefs for her collection in exchange for buttons. She made the exchange, got two more handkerchiefs and decided while she was looking through her buttons that she had the nucleus of another collection there—a and started it.

From Far Places
And the handkerchiefs? She has one from every state in the United States and from many nations of Europe, Asia and Australia. They are mounted in a scrapbook, each with the name of the donor, the state or country it came from and the date it was received.
One is from a bomber squadron stationed in England during the war, autographed by some of the members. One was made for her from a scrap of a parachute, and sent to her by a friend's son who was in service overseas. Some are daintily flower-printed or embroidered, one has antique handmade lace from England, one is of fine silk from China and others of ordinary cotton, but Mrs. Gwyn knows the story of each.
Her third hobby of handwork has resulted in what might be termed a collection, although her habit of giving away much of her work keeps it from being complete. She uses half a dozen hooked rugs in her home, made over the last two decades. Most are in her own designs, although she has copied some and traced some patterns.

Pullman Nights Can Be Restful

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The traveler who wants to arrive at journey's end as fresh as a daisy can use some expert tips on ways to induce sleep on a Pullman car.

If you'll allow yourself a comfortable margin of time in which to get to your train, according to James Bender, author of a new book called "How to Sleep," you won't go to bed in a nervous state of mind.

If you'll tell the porter when you want to get up, you won't be fretting during the night for fear that you'll oversleep, cautions the expert.

He reminds travelers that the little extra comforts which often insure better sleep can be had by simply ringing for the porter. Ring for the extra blanket or a glass of water. A porter will remake your bed, if you want to reverse the position in which you sleep.

Another helpful suggestion is that of relaxing before going to bed by walking back and forth from your berth to the club car. The hungry traveler will sleep better if she has a snack from the club car or dining car before she turns in for the night. A help in falling asleep, Mr. Bender also reminds you, is to listen to the singing rails.

Pan-American Trip—Long-Planned Tour Of Mexico Is Gay Vacation For Quartet

By FRANCES HAGAMAN

"I was not disappointed; the country lived up to my expectations and all the things I had been told about it," Mrs. A. R. Ayles says of her recent two-week trip through Mexico—a trip she and her husband had been planning for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayles, Carolyn Oates and Maelele Roberts left Midland October 7 and before returning to Midland October 22, had traveled as far into Mexico as Taxco and covered 3,439 miles.

They drove to Del Rio and then to Eagle Pass, went through customs and crossed to Piedras Negras and then went on to Saltillo. This road is desert all the way except for the mountains near Saltillo but the short trip from there to Monterrey is very pretty, Mrs. Ayles said. They drove along the Pan-American highway to Ciudad Victoria.

Flower-Growing 'Ranches'
Mrs. Ayles commented that "there are mountains, but green, gentle ones, all cultivated, and the trip is through citrus, avocado and flower-growing 'ranches.' Each place has a name and the homes all appeared prosperous."

Continuing on the highway to Ciudad Mante, they saw "the first fields of sugar cane and large stands of bananas growing. The fields are irrigated and there are large sugar refineries. This is the beginning of some real tropics."

At Antigua Morelos, they turned west to go to San Luis Potosi and began getting into the mountains. The heights were 9,000 to 10,000 feet but "the growth" was tropical all the way to the top and there were regular palm forests and many other things we could not identify. Between the chains of mountains were beautiful, large fertile valleys, more highly cultivated than anything we saw."

In San Luis Potosi, their hotel was "in old colonial style with tiled floors, old dark Spanish furniture, wrought iron doors and window grates." The town is "an old, old mining town and one of the few with no church dominating the square."

The next day they drove to Guadalupe, through a concentration of little towns with twin-towered churches, their tile domes dominating each one.

Arriving there in time for lunch, they checked in at the Hotel Fenix with an "elevator which was one of those old wire cages and the elevator boys practiced their English as well as their quick steps on us."

Mrs. Ayles commented that Guadalupe, the capital of the state of Jalisco, was the fastest growing place they went. Downtown streets are being widened and large department stores built. It also is a city of schools, with two universities, one having been in continuous existence since 1529.

Offered Octopus
Their first day there they "stumbled on a wonderful place to eat." It is "La Copa de Leche," or Cup of Milk, and specializes in milk products. However, it is a very complete restaurant and it was here that we first were offered octopus to eat, and it was urged on us everywhere we went."

The next day they obtained a guide and visited a glass factory, a pottery factory, a handweaving shop and "The Orphanage" where 600 children who are orphans or from poor homes are housed and schooled.

"It was established by an archbishop of Guadalupe in the early 1800's. He left two haciendas in Mexico as a perpetual endowment for it. The most remarkable thing we saw there were the murals in the main hall done by Jose Clemente Orozco. He was blinded in one eye and lost his left hand and part of that arm playing with fireworks as a child, and our guide said that Orozco's obsession and ability with reds were attributed to his memories of the flash that maimed him."

From Guadalupe, they went to Mexico City on a highway that "runs along the south shore of Lake Chapala. The lake is the largest fresh water lake in Mexico and is hemmed in by mountains. Our road also took us by the north side of Lake Patcuaro and then through more mountains which were wild and untempered looking, misty cones that were neither rocky nor jagged, but still volcanic looking."

They went through Morelia, the Mexican Philadelphia, where the Mexican declaration of independence was drafted. "Leaving the town, the road runs on both sides of an old Spanish aqueduct, with 253 arches still intact."

3,000 Curves
After spending the night in Toluca, they left for Mexico City and, after eating breakfast there at Oro's and checking in at the Ritz, left "for Taxco, 100 miles south, with more than 3,000 hairpin curves in the road. We went through lovely mountains with waterfalls, blooming things and much lovely scenery. You do not see the town itself until you suddenly round a mountain, and there it is."

"There is a silver mine right in town, on top of one hill, the residential district sprawls over a couple of other hills and a garrison of soldiers occupies yet another peak. A small river runs through the town, winding around among the hills in a deep ravine and all the streets lead down into the square, where the church of Santa Prisca is the official center of activities."

While there, they stayed at the Hotel Victoria, built into the side of a hill on four levels, and visited the 250 silver shops in the town.

Going back to Mexico City on Saturday, they went to El Pato, Mexico's largest night club which was "pretty much like any U. S. night club." Sunday they visited the National Palace of Fine Arts.

"The Bellas Artes is a big marble structure which is slowly sinking into Mexico City's gelatin-like base, having sunk about six feet since it was completed in 1934. They saw an exhibition of 50 years of Diego Rivera's paintings and the glass curtain, made by Tiffany's, of the two volcanoes, Popocatepeti and Ixtaccihuatl."

Floating Gardens
Monday, they went to Xochimilco, the floating gardens, and spent part of that day and Tuesday visiting other places of interest in the city. Wednesday they left for home and, after going through Pachuca, Tamamochale and Valle, stopped at the Hotel Terminal for the night.

"This is a paradise, with a huge main building and a big circular blue tiled swimming pool fed by warm sulphur springs. It is beautifully situated and landscaped with all kinds of things growing wild that we buy at a flower shop. The hotel is American plan and offers billiards, table tennis, tennis, horse-back riding, swimming, fishing in a nearby river and picnics."

After leaving the hotel the next morning, they did their only backtracking the 100 miles from Valle to Victoria, where they turned off for Matamoros and Brownsville. After crossing two rivers by ferry, they got to Brownsville that evening and spent the night there.

The next morning they started for home "had our first hamburgers and milk of the trip in San Antonio, which was a real event, and got home early Saturday morning, tired, dirty and thoroughly happy."

Mrs. Ayles commented that they found the roads good and the people very nice. They have been planning this trip for 10 years, and drove so that they could pick out the places they want to go back to. She added that they do plan to go back next year. They found the food good, she said, and had all sorts of fancy French cooking. Also, there were flowers everywhere, and they were amazed at the fields of carnations, m-rigidols and gladiolus growing just like corn and peas.

Crane News

CRANE—Officers and representatives of the Student Council of Crane High School recently were installed in an assembly ceremony. L. L. Martin, superintendent, administered the oath of office to council president Bruce Patterson, who in turn administered the oath to the other officers and class representatives. The Rev. R. O. On the stage of the auditorium with the representatives and officers were Mrs. Inez Kiehl Elmore and Mrs. Joel Williams, sponsors. The entire group closed the meeting by singing the school song, El Ave, with Mary Lou Wilson accompanying on the piano.

Following a Halloween carnival, a masquerade dance was held in the school gymnasium. Guests entered by the east door and were escorted through a room of "terrors" before reaching the gym floor. Sammy Lewis won the girl's prize of a scarf with her harem girl costume, and Charles Lively, as a negro woman won a tie as the boy's prize. Refreshments were served during the dance. A large number of parents were special guests.

Mrs. Addie Bell, county and district clerk, was a guest in the Paul Crandall home in Rankin last weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Crandall brought Mrs. Bell to Crane Sunday evening.

Mrs. Roscoe Sullivan took her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ward, visitors here, to Carlsbad Caverns recently. Mrs. Sullivan's daughter Parvle and two of her friends, Joyce Parker and Kay Keltner, accompanied them.

Miss Evelyn Cherry and S. K. Camp, both of Midland, were recent guests of Mrs. Myrtle Cherry, mother of Evelyn. Camp recently returned after spending seven months in Edmonton and Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

C. T. Pitman, now stationed at Seymour with the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, has been transferred to Alpine for the duration of the deer season. He will spend several days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Pitman, before going to Alpine.

Basic Wools Hit Fashion Note

Basic wool dresses spice the autumn scene and provide color accents for fur coats this winter. Two-toned wool crepe dress ensemble (left) is sparked by bronze buttons stripped-in at shoulder line and on sleeves of beige bodice with plunge, club neckline. The skirt which is peg-topped and has a hip pocket and belt is brown wool. Three soft tiers asymmetrically lined-up in skirt of green wool dress (right) are grace notes in this basic, long-sleeved frock.

By ERSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—The wool dress that's designed to play second fiddle to a fur coat this winter hits a few fashion notes of its own.

One note is color: as rich and woody as Autumn leaves. The other is detail, usually provided by sparkling buttons or by tricky cut.

One example of tricky cut are the tiers that spiral around a skirt from waistline to hem. What makes this Martin-designed dress with a simple long-sleeved bodice an outstanding style are its cut and its rich pine-green color.

Bronze buttons make decorative slashes of color for a basic dress of Eisenberg's design. The bodice of this two-toned dress is beige lined with bronze color at shoulders and sleeves are button-trimmed slashes. The belted skirt of Autumn-leaf brown has inverted hip pockets which give a slim skirt a modified peg top.

For a crisp coating for fish try dipping the fillets into lightly salted milk, then into finely crushed cracker crumbs. The fish may then be fried or broiled with fat and baked in a hot oven.
 Both children and adults need adequate quantities of milk daily if they are to get calcium for the building and maintenance of teeth and bones. Cheddar cheese is also a good source of calcium.

BUT CAN IT BE FOUND IN THE BIBLE?

People often indignantly demand that Catholics prove their teaching from the Bible.
 The Bible is their "rule of faith"... and they argue that every man has the right and ability to discover for himself, by his interpretation of the Bible, what he must believe and do in order to be saved.
 We do not question the sincerity of these people and we applaud all who strive earnestly to understand and observe the Scriptures. But— are they right in calling the Bible, privately interpreted, the sole source of Christian teaching?
 "Hold the teachings that you have learned," wrote St. Paul, "whether by word or by letter of ours" (2 Thess. II:15). He refers to Christian teachings, some oral, some written... and demands that all be received.
 Christianity did not begin with the Bible. It began with the coming of Christ. The Lord instructed His Apostles to "go forth... teach all nations"—and to insure that His truths would always be maintained, Christ established His Church, "... the pillar and mainstay of the truth" (1 Timothy III:15).
 The last part of the Bible... written by St. John... was not completed until 60 years after the Crucifixion of Christ. There was no Bible in anything resembling its present form until nearly 400 years after Jesus had died on the Cross. And the widespread distribution of the Bible as we know it today was impossible until the invention of printing, some 1400 years after the Savior's death.
 By what "rule of faith" did the Billions of Christian lives during those 1500 years? The answer is, of course, that the teaching of the Church was the rule of faith for the Christian world. And St. Paul reminds us that Christianity consists of "one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism" (Eph. IV:5). "God is a God of peace, not of disorder," St. Paul said further (1 Cor. XIV:33).

 Yet today we have nearly 300 different religious denominations in the United States, all calling themselves Christian... all professing the Bible as their rule of faith... and all differing to some extent or another in their understanding of what the Bible means. Could Christ have left a "rule of faith" that would permit such confusion? Would He have left the interpretation of His Word to the fallible and changing judgments of men— when our very souls depend on a correct understanding and observance of the things Christ has taught us?
 Because this question is all important... because it certainly does matter what a man believes... we invite you to examine the rule of faith of the first Christians—a rule that is still maintained by the Catholic Church. Because the Bible is God's Word, and because He gave it to us for a purpose, we invite you to see what this purpose is. We have an interesting pamphlet on the correct use of the Bible, and we offer it for the inspection of all who are sincerely interested in following the teaching of Christianity as Christ revealed it. Ask for Pamphlet No. 13—KC.

Mass Texas City Disaster Damage Suit Trial Enters Closing Phases This Week

HOUSTON (AP)—One of the most unusual federal court civil suits trials in history enters its final phase here this week.

Closing arguments will be held in the $200,000,000 mass trial of Texas City disaster damage suits. Background for the trial was laid by the Texas City waterfront disaster which killed more than 500 persons April 16-17, 1947.

Between 2,000 and 3,000 plaintiffs are demanding that the federal government pay them amounts ranging from $2 to $50,000,000 for personal and property damages suffered in the disaster.

The approximately 300 separate suits have been pooled into one mass trial to determine one point—whether or not the government is liable for damages.

"Well, try it anyway," said the owner.

Parker finally got a utilities company to act as sponsor. With his flair for drama, Parker made the program a popular feature. It lasted four and one-half years and was sponsored by a laundry and a cemetery, as well as by the utilities company.

"I found out the influence a church has on a community, and the things a minister can do that no one else can do," Parker said. "So I decided to make the whole plunge—to go into the ministry myself."

He was graduated from the Chicago Theological Seminary magna cum laude. Awarded a fellowship in religious radio, he spent a year with the NBC network. He was offered a permanent post with NBC but decided his real wish was to devote himself to the ministry.

In the three years since then he has become a leading authority in religious radio, and has held workshops at several universities to teach the subject to other ministers.

Noted University Professor To Be Rotary Speaker

Midland Rotary Club members, at their meeting Thursday noon in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer, will hear Dr. George W. Stumberg, distinguished professor of law at the University of Texas, Richard Brooks, program chairman, announced Saturday.

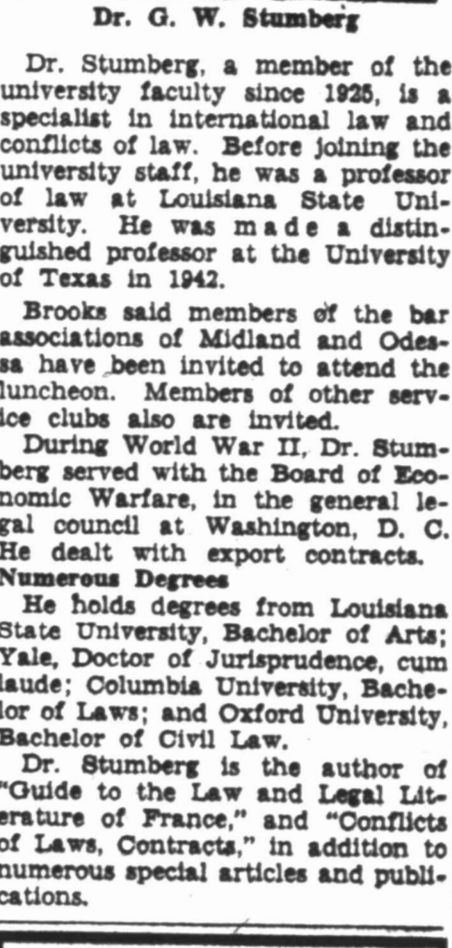

Dr. Stumberg, a member of the university faculty since 1926, is a specialist in international law and conflicts of law. Before joining the university staff, he was a professor of law at Louisiana State University. He was made a distinguished professor at the University of Texas in 1942.

Brooks said members of the bar associations of Midland and Odessa have been invited to attend the luncheon. Members of other service clubs also are invited.

During World War II, Dr. Stumberg served with the Board of Economic Warfare, in the general legal council at Washington, D. C. He dealt with export contracts. Numerous Degrees

He holds degrees from Louisiana State University, Bachelor of Arts; Yale, Doctor of Jurisprudence, cum laude; Columbia University, Bachelor of Laws; and Oxford University, Bachelor of Civil Law.

Dr. Stumberg is the author of "Guide to the Law and Legal Literature of France," and "Conflicts of Laws, Contracts," in addition to numerous special articles and publications.

All Obstacles Removed

Norma Hutchins, 19, of Castine, Me., an amnesia victim, was released from the Chicago State Hospital by a writ of habeas corpus obtained by her fiancé, Carl Becker of Chicago. Miss Hutchins came to Chicago last Summer to marry Becker, 32-year-old truck driver, but collapsed a few days before the wedding.

tered around a chemical compound that has been blamed for the disaster—fertilizer grade ammonium nitrate.

Explosive Material
The cargo of the French freighter Grandcamp, original vessel to explode in the disaster, included a shipment of the compound.

Briefly, the plaintiffs contend:

1. The Grandcamp's ammonium nitrate shipment was manufactured at government ordnance plants.
2. Government officials and bureaus failed to take action to assure proper handling of the explosive material.
3. Government agencies were aware of the explosive characteristics of the compound as early as 1942.

Government attorneys, in reply, contended:

1. The disaster was an "unavoidable accident."
2. Responsibility for the disaster belongs to some or all of the agents that handled the inflammable cargo—steamship companies, longshoremen unions, stevedoring firms, and Texas City agencies and firms.
3. The government can not be held responsible in that the charges of the plaintiffs involve discretionary acts of governmental representatives.

Test Of New Statute
Attorneys involved consider the trial as one of the severest tests ever made of the comparatively new federal torts claims act. This law permits private individuals to sue the government without its consent.

Deadline for filing the damage suits against the government was April 17, 1948—one year after the disaster.

Most individuals—those injured and survivors of those killed—filed their suits early. Many of the corporations which suffered heavy damages waited until early 1948.

Last April 12, Kennerly had all the plaintiffs in the mass trial file a $400,000,000 suit against the French government and the French line which owned the Grandcamp.

Kennerly acted here in order to keep the plaintiffs from being barred from doing so later by Texas two-year statute of limitations act. Arguments Scheduled

The mass trial originally was set by Kennerly to begin November 1 last year, but slow progress in obtaining depositions from hundreds of witnesses brought a postponement until December 6.

The plaintiffs rested their case July 21, and defense testimony began September 6.

A tentative schedule calls for final oral arguments for the trial the first four days this week. Each side will be permitted six hours.

Kennerly also has asked that concluding briefs be filed by each side. The plaintiffs' attorneys said they will need until December 1 to prepare its brief, the government said it would have its completed by December 15.

Versatile Plan Popular

A versatile floor plan which has gained exceptionally wide approval during the last few years adds appeal to this house. Although all rooms are on one floor, the house is compact and the rooms are arranged conveniently. Depending upon the needs of the family, there could be either two or three bedrooms. The bedroom adjoining the kitchen could be adapted as a separate dining room. The front door, situated in a corner of the house, opens into a small vestibule which includes a closet for outdoor garments. The living room, with a fireplace at one end, is proportioned for easy furniture arrangement. There are nine closets, giving ample storage space.

Inspect And Repair House Before Cold Winter Blasts

Inspection and repair of a home's exterior before cold weather comes is recommended to insure comfortable living during the winter. Among the most important parts of a house which should be checked are windows, doors and the roof. If windows and doors do not fit tightly, cold air, rain and snow will enter through the cracks. If a roof leaks even slightly, chances are the entire roof surface is in poor condition and that the number and size of leaks will increase greatly as the roof covering is battered by wind and forced to carry heavy snow loads. Water which has leaked through the joints between a window frame and the wall often shows as wet spots on interior walls and ceilings. An open joint between strips of wood in the frame itself can cause a leak, even when the crack is so fine that it hardly is noticeable.

Window Frames
If window frames are painted frequently with quality paint, small cracks will be sealed. Larger cracks can be filled with putty or white lead paste.

Doors which do not fit tightly usually need to be taken off, repaired and re-hung. Narrow cracks between the door and the door frame often can be made tight with weatherstripping.

In making a roof inspection, examine the underside of the roof deck for small leaks. If there are indications that a little water has penetrated already, worse damage probably will occur during winter storms. Most old roofs can be covered with fire-resistant asphalt shingles, leaving the worn roofing in place for economy and for any extra protection it might give.

Nut bread, made with pecans and walnuts, take to cottage or cream cheese filling when it is used for sandwiches. Add chopped prunes or raisins to the cheese and flavor with a little grated orange or lemon rind.

Tiny Beetle Robs Nation Of 400,000 Residences

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ten years ago a tiny creature took advantage of a great opportunity—and it cost the American people upwards of $200,000,000.

It destroyed most of the trees on one of the nation's most beautiful national forests and many trees on five other forests—one of the greatest forest disasters of all times.

This creature was a hard-shelled beetle, one-quarter inch long, called the Engelmann spruce beetle.

It found its perfect opportunity in Colorado, among the stately spruce trees of White River National Forest, where the rugged backbone of the Rocky Mountains juts two miles above sea level.

In June 1939 winds strong enough to blow down hundreds of White River's spruces swept the forest.

There were a few beetles in the forest, good food for the woodpeckers that kept them in check. But this downed timber of Engelmann spruce was just what the beetles needed. They thrive and breed in recently downed trees. Then they attack and kill living trees.

Estimate Is Made
Forest service officials estimate the worst of the damaged spruce forests covered 5,000 square miles. Lesser damage extends all the way into Utah, several hundred miles away.

The beetles multiplied, then suddenly exploded into vast hordes. They consumed all the material they like, in the downed timber, by 1942. Then they invaded the standing spruce.

The infestation wasn't discovered until 1943. Forest experts say that by then the number of damaged trees was so great it was impossible to attempt to destroy the beetles by burning the dead trees or using insecticides.

The beetle spread to parts of the Grand Mesa, Routt, Arapaho, Uncompahgre, San Juan and Dixie National Forests.

Virtually all spruce trees in the White River forest north of the Colorado River have been killed. The beetles have exhausted their supply of materials in this area.

Outbreaks Decline
Some outbreaks in other areas started to decline in 1946, but the beetle still is hunting new timber stands. The forest service is logging the infested trees and burning infested areas.

But the experts estimate: The tiny beetle has killed trees containing at least 4,000,000,000 board feet of lumber—enough to build 400,000 five-room frame houses.

An additional 17,000,000,000 board feet are damaged, or the trees are doomed, in Colorado and on the eastern slopes of Wyoming.

The standing trees that already have been killed were worth $8,000,000.

The dead timber would have produced $200,000,000 worth of products.

About 46 out of every 100 useful trees in Colorado and the eastern mountain region of Wyoming are spruce. Three-fourths of the spruce are dead or dying or doomed.

More Than Fires
The beetle in six years caused 16 times more damage than did forest fires in the whole Rocky Mountain region in 30 years.

About 100,000,000 board feet of the killed timber has been salvaged. The forest service considers only about one-half of the 4,000,000,000 board feet of dead timber to be recoverable. It has interested businessmen in attempting to use the down timber for paper pulp.

Thousands of people use this area for hunting, fishing and sightseeing. It will be at least a generation before the scars heal and this primeval region regains its splendor. But it may never fully regain this beauty.

"Such losses can't be estimated in dollars," one official said.

Handy Ideas Save Effort In Odd Jobs

Practical shortcuts and ingenious methods of doing odd jobs about the house often save time, effort and money for the home handyman. These suggestions are taken from "Practical Job Pointers," a book published by American Builder magazine, 30 Church St., New York City.

If pitch or asphalt is spilled on a concrete floor, it can be difficult to remove without leaving a stain. A method which often works well is to freeze the pitch or asphalt by covering it with ice. When either substance is frozen hard, it can be lifted off easily.

An inexpensive long-lasting glue applicator can be made from a metal tube about six inches long and a piece of sash cord about twice as long as the tube. Insert the sash cord in the tube so that it protrudes 3/8 inch from one end. Use this end of the cord to apply the glue. After the job is finished cut off and discard the glue-impregnated portion of the cord. Then push a new portion into place.

Here's a way to facilitate driving nails into hard wood. American Builder suggests boring a hole in the end of the hammer handle and filling the hole with paraffin. Then each nail can be lubricated quickly by pushing it into the paraffin.

A steel carpenter's square which has become rusty from use in wet weather can be cleaned by rubbing it with dry cement.

Built-Ins Gain Favor With Women

Built-in storage facilities in homes find great favor among women. American Builder, building industry magazine, learned that when 3,000 women realtors were asked for suggestions about building a house. The inquiries resulted in about 1,000 useful ideas. The most valuable ones were incorporated into a house constructed in Tulsa, Okla., by Mrs. R. B. Butler, a professional home builder.

Among the unique built-in features is a modern version of the old-fashioned pantry. This has double doors, with shelves and racks on their inner sides for cooking utensils, condiments, cook books and other kitchen items. The pantry also has built-in bins for vegetables and fruit as well as more conventional shelves and cabinets.

Wide Counter
A wide counter, extending the full length of one wall, is an extra convenience in the bathroom. Cupboards and open shelves furnish ample space for medicines, towels and toilet articles.

Bedroom closets were built to ceiling height to provide storage compartments for seasonal clothing, extra blankets and other infrequently used belongings.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Black Horses

"Mother Ringtail," Daddy Ringtail said one day. He said it while they were sitting on the porch of the monkey house—the one that is up in the top of the very tall tree, right in the middle of the Great Forest. "Mother Ringtail," Daddy Ringtail said, "did you know that black horses eat more than white horses?"

"Mother Ringtail didn't know it. She said she didn't. Then she went on rocking in her chair, and sewing with her sewing, waiting for Daddy Ringtail to tell her more. "Yes, sir," Daddy Ringtail said, "black horses eat more than white horses."

"More what?" Mother Ringtail asked because she thought maybe Daddy Ringtail was making a joke. "More anything," Daddy Ringtail said. And he meant that black horses eat more of whatever a horse may eat than white horses eat of whatever a horse may eat

—hay, and oats and everything. "Do tell!" said Mother Ringtail, because she didn't know what else to say. She rocked in her chair and sewed with her sewing, waiting for Daddy Ringtail to tell her some more. Daddy Ringtail sat very still in his chair, waiting for Mother Ringtail to ask more questions. Mother Ringtail didn't say anything.

"It's sort of a joke," Daddy Ringtail said at last. "Black horses eat more than white horses, and Mother Ringtail, you are supposed to ask me 'why?'"

"Why what?" Mother Ringtail wanted to know.

Said Daddy Ringtail: "Why black horses eat more than white horses." So Mother Ringtail asked him why.

"Because more horses are black than white," Daddy Ringtail said, and laughed. He thought it was funny, and Mother Ringtail thought it was funny, and so she laughed, and you may laugh if you think it's funny.

And if you don't think it's funny, maybe you will want to laugh anyway. It's always polite to laugh, whether you think that a joke is funny or not. Happy day!

A large share of the $300,000,000 worth of Christmas toys sold in the United States this year will be realistic imitations of the things grown-ups use. Typical of these toys that transport the kiddies into the land of make-believe are those above, being enjoyed by New York youngsters. Left: Six-year-old Glenn Ehasz rides roughshod after transforming an ordinary tricycle into a snortin' cow-pony with a special horse-head and tail set. The inexpensively priced set can be attached to such things as brooms or scooters merely by loosening a few bolts. Center: Barbara Ravold, six, a modern young "mother," uses her new "formula" set as she sterilizes dolly's bottles. The baby-care set even includes a small-size diaper dispenser. Right: "Big" toy news lies in these giant redwood blocks being enjoyed by Joanne Murphy. The blocks are decorated by easily recognizable animals, nursery characters and town and country scenes.

TEXAS TODAY—

Way Is Being Prepared For Additional Taxes; Income Levy Discussed

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN—(AP)—Whether they realize it or not, Texans are being softened up for the bite of new taxes. Everywhere Gov. Allan Shivers goes these days—and he is on the go a lot and over wide territory—he reiterates his views that the "board base" tax is his idea of raising new revenue. The governor first expressed that opinion midway of the last session of the legislature, while he was still lieutenant governor and when it appeared it might be necessary then to levy for new revenues. Shivers was one of the key figures in Senate passage of the omnibus tax bill that is on the books now. It was written in 1941 and Legislatures since then have resisted new tax campaigns. Texans now are paying—directly or indirectly—about 45 different kinds of taxes in support of their state government. It is inevitable that some new unexplored areas of revenue will be sought as sources to tap. There already is widespread talk about a state income tax, and the spectre of a sales tax also is just over the horizon. Either proposal could touch off a violent legislative storm. It also is reasonable to assume that efforts will be made to increase taxes on some sources already taxed: the use of oil, gas and sulphur tax proposals will be made and also battled to a finish. Not only the governor, but members of the legislature are talking the tax question in their home districts and some of them over wider areas. Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio recently wrote an editorial for the South Texan, official publication of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, reviewing the state spending and taxation issue. It was widely circulated as a reprint pamphlet with this paragraph emphasized after Bell had said that between $100 and $125 million in new revenue will be needed: "How will taxes be levied to meet this deficit? In my opinion a state income tax will be proposed, also, a general sales tax, and an increase in the tax on natural resources. I had always thought that the federal government had preempted the income tax field. But more than 31 states now have state income taxes and the number increases every year. The opportunities for further development of Texas will be impaired if excessive taxation is imposed." Both Shivers and Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville, acting lieutenant governor, went into the spending and tax question before the Texas Manufacturers' Association in convention at Mineral Wells. Shivers bore down on the point that the cost of state government will keep on going up as long as the state government is responsive to the requests of the people for more and better services. Morris said it would take $40,000,000 to bring the eleemosynary institution up to a level worthy of Texas' honor. Bell's editorial carried this warning: "We are going to have just as good and efficient a government as the voters demand, or just as wasteful and inefficient a government as our citizens tolerate. When the Legislature convenes again, it will face the tough decision of where legitimate demand for state services ends, and where wasteful and unnecessary spending begins."
