Clear Fork Strike Is Indicated For Gains

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 L. R. Nichols, Central-West Gaines County wildcat has shown for the possible discovery of petroleum production from the Clear Fork line of the Permian.

This prospect, located 23 miles west of Seminole, only a short distance east of the Lea County, New Mexico line, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 7, block A-10, pal survey, had the show in a drillstem test at 6,390-6,446 feet. Is Drilling Ahead

The tool was open three hours. Gas showed at the surface in 35 minutes. No fluid flowed out at the top during the investigation.

Recovery was 870 feet of clean 34.8 gravity oil and 480 feet of heavily gas cut and slightly oil cut drilling mud. There were no signs of water.

The venture is making more hole and has reached 6,620 feet at the last report. Top of the Clear Fork was picked at 6,270 feet. Elevation is 3,584 feet.

That is said to make the venture high to nearby dry holes. The project is slated to drill to at least 4,000 feet to explore into the lower Permian.

Pegasus Offset Has Second Show Of Oil

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-B TXL, one-half mile south of the initial producer in the Pegasus-Ellenburger field of Central-South Upton County and of Central-South Midland County, has shown for flowing oil from a second zone in the Pennsylvania line.

This was in a drillstem test at 10,113-10,183 feet. The tester was open for one hour and 13 minutes. Gas showed at the top in six minutes. Mud came to the surface in six minutes and oil started flowing in seven minutes.

The oil was flowed to pits for six minutes to clean and the flow was then turned to tanks through a five-eighth inch bottom hole choke. To Explore Ellenburger

In 60 minutes the section produced 45.38 barrels of 53 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 4,740-1. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 2,290 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 4,590 pounds. The project is to drill on to around 13,000 feet to explore into the Ellenburger.

The first flow of oil from the Pennsylvania came in a drillstem test at 9,814-9,914 feet. The flow from that interval was 12.25 barrels of 54 gravity oil, in one hour, with a gas-oil ratio of 1,284-1.

Location of this new producer is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 31, block 40, TP survey, T-4-B.

Central Mitchell Due Ellenburger Wildcat

S. F. Hurlbut of Corpus Christi and others, have filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill a 7,800-foot rotary wildcat in Central Mitchell County, seven miles south of Colorado City.

The project, No. 1-A U. D. Wulfjen, is to be located 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 89, block 26, TP survey.

The projected depth should carry it to the Ellenburger. Rotary tools will be used to drill the exploration. Operations are to begin by November 21.

SW Coke Operation Planned By Amerada

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 March Ranch is to be a 3,800-foot rotary wildcat in Southwest Coke County, ten miles northeast of Sanatorium.

To begin at once, No. 1 March Ranch will be 668 feet from north and 662 feet from east lines of section 72, block 16, H&T survey.

The prospect is located on a block of 41,858.51 acres in Coke and Tom Green Counties.

Gaines Prospect To Set Casing To Test

After drilling through 90 feet of Ellenburger which has shown for possible commercial production, Samedan Oil Corporation and Anderson Brothers of Midland No. 1-E-A Andrews, Central-South Gaines County wildcat developed salty, sulphur water.

The prospective discovery is to set pipe and start making production tests of the Ellenburger zone above the water, which was found in a drillstem test at 11,980-12,080 feet.

The tool was open three hours. No water blanket was used. There was a fair blow of air throughout the period. Recovery was 3,362 feet of fluid.

That included 180 feet of slightly gas cut druggin fluid, 900 feet of thin, slightly muddy water and 2,482 feet of black, salty, sulphur water.

An electric log survey is being run and casing will then be cemented on bottom.

Shows Free Oil

The section between the top of the Ellenburger at 11,895 feet and 11,975 feet, through perforations. That zone developed considerable free oil in drillstem test.

Important Issues To Be Decided In Tuesday Balloting

Tuesday will be election day in Midland and throughout Texas.

Important state, district and county propositions face the voters of Midland County, who will cast their ballots in seven voting places between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Officials previously had announced the closing hour to be 6 p.m. but it was determined that the special election hours will conform to those of general elections.

The Midland League of Women Voters, the Chamber of Commerce and other groups are conducting campaigns to get out a representative vote, but the outlook

Steel Talks Spark Labor Peace Hopes

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Hopes for labor peace in both the steel and coal industries hinged Monday on quickened settlement moves in the steel strike.

Government officials said they look for several major steel firms to come to terms this week with the striking CIO steelworkers.

They said this probably would ease on John L. Lewis and soft coal operators toward an agreement.

There were reports that President Truman may intervene in the coal situation if it continues hopeless beyond this week.

U. S. Course Unsettled

Some officials favored Truman's naming a fact-finding board with power to recommend settlement terms. Such a method, which is outside the scope of the Taft-Hartley Act, was adopted in the steel strike.

But other officials talked of possible use of the Taft-Hartley Act powers to obtain strike-ending court injunctions.

The coal strike is now in its 49th day, the steel strike in its 37th.

Of the two stoppages, the worst effects have come from the coal mine walkout, which curtailed train service and created fuel shortages for many households. But lack of steel has hit manufacturers.

Two county proposals will be determined by the voters here. One concerns the issuance of $200,000 in bonds for the construction of a Midland County Park Building. The other is on the levying of an additional road tax not to exceed 15 cents on the $100 valuation for further maintenance of public roads within the county.

Ten proposed constitutional amendments are listed on the state ballot.

Two candidates, A. H. Dennison of Odessa and Herman Rosch of El Paso, are candidates for State Board of Education member from the 16th Congressional District. Both have strong support in their home cities and surrounding areas. Secret Ballot

Voters over the state will use the new secret ballot for the first time. The secret ballot law was enacted by the 51st Legislature.

Midland County voting places are: Precinct No. 1, Courthouse School. Precinct No. 2, Greenwood Chapel. Precinct No. 3, Greasewood Chapel. Precinct No. 4, VFW Hall, Terminal. Precinct No. 5, City-Country Auditorium. Precinct No. 6, West Elementary School. Precinct No. 7, Junior High School.

Attracting considerable interest here is the proposed park building bond issue. The bonds, under the proposal, would be retired in a period not to exceed 35 years at an interest rate not to exceed three and one-half per cent. The bond issue (Continued On Page Nine)

Navy's Active Sea Force Is Half Size Of Mothball Fleet

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Navy's active sea force, growing smaller by the month, now is less than half the size of its mothball fleet.

Figures supplied Monday by the Navy show that to date 395 major combat vessels have been pulled out of the Atlantic Fleet and 332 out of the Pacific Fleet, for a total of 727 ships in reserve.

Last July 1 there were 271 major fighting ships in active service, 174 with the Atlantic Fleet and 97 in the Pacific.

By next July 1, that total will be down to 237—including three new submarines and a light carrier— as 17 ships of the Atlantic Fleet and seven from the Pacific Fleet are put in storage.

That will place the total strength of the mothball fleet at 751 ships.

Cupid Wins Out, 49 Years Later

FORT WORTH — (AP) — George Washington Bacon fell in love with Nancy Ophelia Kelley in Bowie in 1906.

Twenty years ago they quarreled. George "fled in anger" to Seattle. Recently he wrote to Nancy. Amends were made, Monday the couple pled the first 11 patches on the damaged romance.

George, now 64, and Nancy, 76, exchanged vows in a marriage ceremony performed by Tarrant County Judge Gus Brown, they first met in Bowie, where they first met.

Coffee Prices Rise Again In New York

NEW YORK — (AP) — Additional coffee prices increases Monday followed advances in the coffee futures market.

The Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, which did not raise its prices when most other roasters announced upward revisions last week, increased the tag on all its brands five cents per pound.

At the opening of the coffee futures market here all deliveries in the "S" and "D" contracts were up 200 points, the daily limit.

Five Die When Train Hits Automobile

Five men were killed and a sixth injured critically when this car was demolished by a fast New York Central passenger train at a crossing in Sharonville, Ohio. The crossing watchman told police the driver ignored his warning and drove directly into the path of the train. The dead were identified as: Walter Ray Palmer, 20, Detroit; William Roscoe Malone, Jr., 22, Loudon, Tenn.; Robert Former, 23, James Ray Raby, 22, and Otha Glandon, 20, all of Detroit.

Mother Confesses Story Of Kidnaping Fear-Inspired Hoax

UTICA, N. Y. — (AP) — A remorse-stricken mother has confessed that her six-weeks-old son was killed in a fall from her arms and that her story of kidnaping was "made up" out of fear of what her husband would say.

"I dropped my baby," Mrs. Stella Komorek blurted out at a coroner's inquest Sunday night.

The sobbing admission from the plump, 29-year-old mill worker's wife came 11 hours after the body of her son, Stephen, was found in a mill-pond, 500 yards from the modest Komorek home in nearby Clayville.

Coroner Preston R. Clark gave a verdict of accidental death. Authorities said no charges would be placed against Mrs. Komorek.

During hours of steady questioning by state police Sunday, she had clung to her story that the infant was snatched from its bassinet in the kitchen late Friday night by a strange man.

Breaks At Inquest

But under oath at the coroner's inquest, she broke almost at once.

"Now, Stella, tell us what happened," Dr. Clark said to her.

"I dropped my baby," Mrs. Komorek blurted out. "He wiggled right out of my arms. I was feeding him. He fell on his head. His eyes rolled back and he wasn't breathing."

An autopsy established that the child's skull was fractured and that he did not die of drowning.

During the inquest, Mrs. Komorek and her husband, 34, an ex-Marine who works as a machine tender in a paper mill, sobbed uncontrollably.

World Communists Join In Soviet Birthday Fete

By The Associated Press

Communists around the world joined Russia Monday in celebrating the Soviet Union's thirty-second birthday, the anniversary of the 1917 revolution.

In Moscow thousands of troops, tanks and planes paraded for hours Monday across Red Square. From the reviewing stand atop Lenin's Tomb the Soviet minister of armed forces, Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky, told his people to "fight still harder for the further growth of the might of our state."

Top political and military chiefs accused the United States of fomenting a new blood bath of war designed to make the world an American colony.

The main attack was made Sunday night by Communist Politburo Members Georgi M. Malenkov, who asserted that such a war would mean an end to capitalism in the world.

It was echoed Monday by Vasilevsky, who spoke briefly from atop the tomb where the Russian revolution's chief hero, Nikolai Lenin, lies in state in a glass coffin.

Blasts U. S. Policies

Vasilevsky accused "warmongers" of pursuing a "policy of aggression and unleashing of new wars."

Vasilevsky reviewed thousands of Russian foot soldiers, tanks and motorized weapons streaming for hours through Red Square. The aerial parade over the marching soldiers was led by Generalissimo Stalin's son, Gen. Vassily Stalin, flying in a fighter plane.

Malenkov hurled his charges at the United States as the principal speaker in ceremonies at Moscow's Bolshoi Theater, inaugurating the anniversary celebration. He charged the United States was plotting "to enslave the entire world."

Malenkov vigorously asserted that the Soviet "do not want war and we shall do everything possible to avert it."

"In the hands of the imperialists," he declared, "atomic energy is a means for the production of lethal weapons, a means of intimidation, an instrument of blackmail and coercion."

"But in the hands of the Soviet people," he continued, "it can be and must be a mighty instrument for the further rapid development of (Continued On Page Nine)

Parrell Thomas Trial Is Postponed Again

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The trial of Rep. J. Parrell Thomas (R-NJ) Monday was reset tentatively for the stricken freighter Andalusia Monday as popping rivets gave rise to fears the lumber-laden vessel may be nearing a break-up.

The 8,000-ton freighter grounded early Friday near the entrance to the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

William H. Collins, attorney for Thomas, asked the postponement because he is representing another client in a case now being tried. Collins told reporters he doubted he would be free to appear for Thomas for two weeks. On next Monday, he may ask another week's postponement.

Grounded Freighter Reported Breaking Up

SEATTLE — (AP) — A Coast Guard lifeboat kept a "death watch" on the stricken freighter Andalusia Monday as popping rivets gave rise to fears the lumber-laden vessel may be nearing a break-up.

The 8,000-ton freighter grounded early Friday near the entrance to the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Shoppers Crowd Midland Stores On Dollar Day

Midland and area shoppers were out en masse here Monday and it appeared new sales records might be established as Permian Basin residents took advantage of the many money-saving values offered by merchants in Midland's November Dollar Day.

Most stores were busy Monday morning and clerks were doing their best to wait on the customers promptly. Sales figures were not available at press time.

It was the last Dollar Day before the opening of the Christmas season November 23, and shoppers were taking full advantage of the opportunity to do their Christmas shopping early.

Chest Drive Total Grows To $18,583

The annual Community Chest finance campaign, started here last Tuesday, continued in full swing Monday as leaders reported contributions totaling $18,583.

The scores of volunteer workers took it easy over the weekend, but started out Monday determined to wind up the drive promptly.

The goal is $32,000, which represents the combined operating budgets for 1950 of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Youth Center, USO, Goodfellows and Salvation Army.

Bert Ryan, general chairman, urged leaders and workers to complete their assignments as promptly as possible, making daily reports to headquarters.

Thanks To Workers

He expressed appreciation to all workers in the countywide campaign, especially the women who have obtained $55 in their drive in the residential districts. Mrs. L. W. Leggett is the chairman.

A dance held Saturday night by Latin Americans in their Community Hall netted $30, which was contributed to the Community Chest.

Leaders said there will be no slowdown in the campaign until the quota is reached.

Persons missed in the drive may mail contributions to the Community Chest or leave them at the Chamber of Commerce.

Vote Recommended On Age Limit Hike For School Athletes

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Interscholastic League's Advisory Council recommended Monday to submit to all members the question of raising the age limit for athletes.

The action by the council sends the matter to the Executive Committee, which must approve it before it can be submitted as a referendum to the 1,500 member schools.

The Advisory Council also voted to ask the Executive Committee to submit a referendum on changing the present eight-semester rule to a 12-semester rule, beginning in the seventh grade.

Both of the actions by the Advisory Council were taken as a result of the new 12-semester system, a league spokesman said.

On the age limit, the council's motion in effect would increase eligibility for athletes to approximately 19 years. The actual wording of the proposed rule would be to permit participation of any athlete who was under 19 years of age on Sept. 1, 1951. If submitted as a referendum and approved, the new rule would be effective with the 1951-52 school year.

Member schools would be given the choice of retaining the present 18-year rule, or adopting the new one.

Twenty-three representatives of all conference and regions attended the Advisory Council session.

Two Pilots Survive Collision In Mid-Air

MANILA — (AP) — Two U. S. 13th Air Force fighter pilots Monday collided in the air over Luzon and live to tell about it.

The two F-51 fighters suffered major damage when they brushed each other doing a routine training flight. Both pilots stuck with their planes and landed them at Clark Field Base.

The pilots were Lt. Harry E. Dugan of Norwalk, Calif. and Lt. Charles E. Schreffler of Anderson, Ind.

Weather Outlook Is Clear, Mild

By The Associated Press

The weather in Texas Monday was generally mild.

The early morning temperature in the Lufkin section of East Texas dropped to the freezing point and it was slightly foggy around Houston and Corpus Christi. Elsewhere skies were clear and early morning temperatures generally were in the 40's and 50's.

Sunday's maximum temperatures ranged from 31 at Laredo to 62 at Texarkana.

No overnight rain was reported. The outlook for the next 24 hours is for fair skies and little change in temperatures.

Marlon Brando Gives Best Performance In 'Pump Room'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—It could happen only in Hollywood—Marlon Brando, the New York actor, will play the role of a paralytic in Stan Kramer's new film, "The Men."
To accustom himself to the role, Brando has been spending a great deal of time in a wheel chair in the paralytic ward at the Army's Birmingham hospital here.
Other night Brando and three other wheel-chair patients went to a nearby cocktail lounge, the Pump Room.
Almost immediately they were accosted by a tipsy customer who insisted the boys should try to walk.
One of the patients whispered to actor Brando:
"Why don't you give this guy a shock?"
It was too great a temptation for Brando to give the greatest performance of his life.
With a great flourish and agonized face, Brando struggled to his feet, stepped out of the wheel chair, did a fast buck and wing and walked out.
The tipsy customer didn't bat an eyelash. All he said was:
"Shee—I told you so."

Dick Haymes may return to Fox for a remake of "The Fan Alley," now titled, "I'll Get By."
Diana Lynn wants to play the professional crook in UFA's "Shop-lifter." The Irwin Gieglid script describes the girl with "I started out as a juvenile delinquent and worked my way up."

Mickey Rooney has switched agents and will end his long time association with Sam Steifel after their next film together. Sam was Mickey's business agent but lately has been acting as producer of the Mick's independent films.

Bing Crosby, Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor and Dorothy Lamour were having lunch at Paramount. At a nearby table agent Sam Jaffe said to agent Louis Shurr: "How would you like to have 10 per cent of their salaries?" "The way business is," replied Shurr. "I'd be satisfied with 10 per cent of their lunch checks."

Princess Rita Goes To Switzerland To Await Birth Of Baby

LAUSANNE, SWITZERLAND—(AP)—Rita Hayworth, the movie star who became a princess by marrying Aly Khan, has come to Lausanne for the birth of her baby, expected in the next few weeks.
Rita and Aly arrived from Paris Sunday and went into seclusion in a hotel suite. The hotel management referred all queries to a Lausanne information service which announced the couple would stay in the city until the birth of their child.
Neither could be approached directly for information but Prince Aly confirmed last August that the onetime Hollywood queen was an expectant mother.
Rita and Aly were married May 27 on the French Riviera after a courtship that made headlines around the world.
Miss Hayworth has visited Lausanne several times in recent months to consult physicians at the Mont Choisi Clinic.
The information service said the couple would stay in Lausanne until the birth of the baby and then go to Gstaad, a fashionable Swiss resort. The family is expected to move about December 15 to a Gstaad chalet rented by Aly.
Jacques Fath, the Paris designer who made Rita's wedding gown, has prepared the actress maternity wardrobe.
Aly has said the child would be reared as a Moslem. He has two sons by a previous marriage. Miss Hayworth has a daughter from her former marriage to Orson Welles, the screen and radio actor and producer.

Tuesday Luncheon Is Optimist Week Observance Feature

Approximately 90 persons are expected to attend an Optimist Club luncheon Tuesday in Hotel Schaefer which will feature the club's Optimist Week observance.

In addition to club members, approximately 40 guests will hear an address by George A. Thomson, of Memphis, Tenn., vice president of Optimist International.
He will be introduced by Fred Becker of San Angelo, lieutenant governor of Optimist District No. 7. The meeting will be held at noon in the Crystal Ballroom.

Fred Becker

In a proclamation declaring November 6-13 Optimist Week in Midland, Mayor William B. Neely said, "It is gratifying to see that a group of business and professional leaders here has banded together for the purpose of providing a real service to all of us in furtherance of their club slogan as a 'Friend to the Boy'."

Invitations to attend the Tuesday luncheon have been mailed to presidents of civic clubs and other community leaders.
Odessans To Visit
Several members of the Odessa Optimist Club have said they will attend the Midland luncheon.
Thomson was born in Canada and served with the 27th North Regiment in World War I. In 1921 he came to the United States where he worked in a variety of positions, including railroad, professional hockey and refrigeration. He has served as president of the Memphis Optimist Club and held other high positions in the organization, including executive committee chairman of Optimist International.

Insane Mother Slashes Throats Of Four Children

STERLING, ILL.—(AP)—A 35-year-old mother said Tuesday night she slashed the throats of her four small children because a "saint" kept telling her to do it.
The woman, Mrs. James Moughan, made the statement at a hearing in which she was adjudged insane within three hours after husband found her hacking one of the children.
Hospital attendants said all the children are expected to recover. They are Mary Ellen, age two months; Richard, 20 months; Michael, three years old next month, and James, four.

Mrs. Moughan still wore the blouse and slacks splattered with the blood of her babies when she left the sanitarium in a special night session of county court.
Her husband, a steelworker, testified that Mrs. Moughan had not been well since the birth of their last baby.

July Fourth, Moscow Style

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Suppose, in celebration of the American revolution, Washington was full of pictures of President Truman and his cabinet every year on the Fourth of July.

And suppose you knew Truman was going to stay President so long as he lives and you couldn't do anything about it—and that when he died one of the cabinet was going to take over.
You'd say to yourself: "Who's it going to be? But the best you could do would be to guess because—"

The lives of the President and the cabinet were pretty secret. Nothing ever got into the newspapers about them, except what they told the newspapers to print.
Since you didn't know, and could only guess, every year you'd look at the Fourth of July picture to see who was standing closest to Truman, and who was moved around.

That's just about what's happening today in Moscow, where the Russians are celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution in 1917.

Official pictures of Prime Minister Stalin and his Politburo—the 12 men who, with Stalin, run Russia—have been made public.

There, standing at his right hand is his old-time pal, V. M. Molotov, former foreign minister. They've been friends for years.
But—on the left today is Georgi M. Malenkov. This created a stir in Moscow picture, in an official Politburo picture last May. L. P. Beria was at Stalin's left-hand. Beria, who used to be chief of the secret police, now is reported to be head of Russia's atomic development. Malenkov is vice chairman of the Council of Ministers.

Beria still is in the picture, of course, but not where he was last May: at Stalin's left-hand. Because Malenkov has that spot, it's caused speculation that now Malenkov is closer to Stalin than Beria—but not so close as Molotov, who's on the right-hand.

Kid Knit Fashions

Imported knitwear for toddlers that's easy on mom's pocketbook is the winter fashion news for the carriage trade. The cardigan (above) checkerboard patterned, buttons down the front. Ultra feminine in its ruffle-trimmed crew neck and hand-embroidered detail is the little girl's sweater (upper right) lace-knit from shoulder to center front. Junior gets a patterned pullover, which buttons on the shoulder and combines with French-style boxer shorts (right).

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—(AP)—Fine imported knitwear which only babies "born with silver spoons" used to be able to wear is available now to any toddler whose Mom has a few dollars to spend.

Backing the efforts of the American Military Government to develop industry in occupied Germany, U. S. merchants have equipped knitting mills there with modern Swiss machines. These can duplicate the intricate hand-made effects and good fit tailored into yarn which give machine-knits their look of expensive elegance: their cable, lace, waffle or checkerboard patterns; their details of ruffle trim or delicate floral embroidery.

The sheer lightweight Australian wool yard used gives warmth without weight. Babies allergic to wool can be wrapped up in the same snappy knitwear styles translated into viselo. An insulating agent against cold, this viselous yarn is fine and pure enough for a baby to wear next to his skin.

Typical sweater style for the girl toddler is a feminine cardigan in blue or white with crew neck, lace knit panels in contrasting color, centered with embroidered detail, run from shoulder to center front.

Little boys up to three years can be toggled out in single cardigans or pullovers with distinctive checkerboard patterns or in two-piece suits which are stamped by an unmistakable continental chic. Suits combine pullover sweaters with three button shoulder closings and snappy French-cut boxer shorts.

Doris Marningstar was introduced as a new student and, with Sarah Pickett, took the attendance cards at the meeting Saturday of Moment Musical Junior Music Club in the Watson Studio. Mrs. Clarence Symes was a guest of her daughter, Trudy.

Piano solos for the program were "Sleigh Ride," Ann McFarland; "Aragone" from "Le Cid" by Massenet; "Juanda Bradshaw," "A Little Bit Lonely," Trudy Symes and "Hear the Cuckoo," Jean Hawkins. Juanda also played a popular number, "Now Is the Hour," with Ned Watson, a club sponsor, playing the violin obligato. Diane Darden gave a biography of Bach.

Other members attending were Barbara Timmons, Patricia Chambers, Lorraine Carlson, Jimmy Mashburn, Linda Breith, Katrina Shelburne, Sandra McFarland, Joyce and Doris Johnson, Sarah Ann Pickett, Patricia Ann Hickey, Robinette Curry, Cynthia Dupuy, Katherine Barnes, Patricia Wilkerson, Diane Perkins, Wilson Ervin, Nancy Darden and Robert Gray.

Music Club To Give Program, Sponsor Movie

The Civic Music Club has scheduled a busy week—first their annual church music program to be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the First Presbyterian church and then sponsorship of the movie "Carnegie Hall" on Wednesday and Thursday at the Yucca Theater.

Audiences who will view the movie are to hear 14 top-ranking musicians.

Of special interest to those preferring stringed music will be the appearance of Gregor Piatigorsky and his Stradivari cello.

Only four Stradivari cellos of the 50 made remain in perfect condition. The instrument, now 250 years old, was in the possession of Lord Aylesford's family for 150 years and during the production of "Carnegie Hall" it was insured for $200,000.

Piatigorsky has appeared in more than 700 solo recitals and has performed as soloist with various orchestras more than 200 times since his American debut in 1929.

He is active head of the cello department of the famed Curtis Institute of Music. The cellist, who has been an American citizen since 1942, has been playing since he was six years old. When he was 15 years old he was first cellist with the Imperial Opera in Moscow.

Another famous string soloist will appear in the movie. He is Jascha Heifetz who first appeared before an American audience one night in 1917 when he walked on the Carnegie Hall stage as a lad of 16.

Heifetz began playing the violin when he was three years old with his father as his first teacher. Since he showed aptitude, he soon was studying under the best teacher of the time—Prof. Leopold Auer. Russia soon looked upon young Heifetz as a prodigy and when he was 12 he made his debut in Berlin.

In 1917, when food rations were down to a quarter of a pound per person, the Heifetz family fled to New York via Siberia, Japan and Honolulu.

Shortly after Heifetz arrived in this country he became an American citizen. On the classic music side, record sales point to Heifetz as one of the most popular musical figures.

Lily Pons Is Soloist
Another popular musician is the coloratura Lily Pons. She too made her New York concert debut at Carnegie Hall. Since then she has been one of the stars of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

The petite singer has known two world wars. She was only a small girl when the Germans overran France in 1914 and her ambition then was to be a famous pianist. Fate intervened and Miss Pons went out to entertain the French soldiers. After she had finished her program of piano selections, one of the boys asked for a song. That started Lily Pons on her career. Soon she was studying under one of the greatest vocal experts in France.

But always, she felt her future was aligned with America and on a sudden impulse she sailed one day for the United States. This despite the fact that she neither spoke nor understood English.

She is married to the famous musician Alfred Kotelianetz. She became an American citizen in 1940.

Tryouts Start Monday For 'Winslow Boy'

"The Winslow Boy," a play which had a successful run on Broadway last Winter after a lengthy success in England, has been chosen as the Midland Community Theater's last production of 1948. Tryouts for the cast will start at 8 p.m. Monday in the City-County Auditorium.

Further tryout sessions are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday nights by the casting committee, of which Joe Koegler is chairman. Any Midland residents who wish may try for a role in the play; the cast is not limited to members of the Community Theater.

Ten characters are required for this play, which has its setting in an English home and "extends over two years of a period which, though unspecified, may be taken as preceding the war of 1914-18."

The story is based on an actual trial in England which became famous because, though it stemmed from a trivial incident, it developed into a struggle in which fundamental principles of democracy were at issue.

An English boy was discharged from a government school. His father, believing his denial of guilt, started to investigate the procedure by which the boy allegedly was deprived of his rights as an individual and engaged a lawyer who also was concerned with the basic issue. The legal fight continued for years, and the play, by Terence Rattigan, tells of its outcome.

The cast comprises Ronnie Winslow, a boy of 14; Violet, an elderly maid; Arthur Winslow, Ronnie's father, about 60 and somewhat crippled by arthritis; Grace Winslow, the mother, very feminine and with a faded prettiness; Dickie Winslow, an Oxford undergraduate, large, noisy and cheerful; Catherine Winslow, the sister, approaching the age of 30; John Waterstone, Catherine's suitor; Desmond Curry, about 45, with a drooping moustache, a mildly furtive manner, and the figure of an athlete gone to seed; Miss Barnes, a reporter, rather untidily dressed, with a gushing manner; Sir Robert Morton, in his early 40's, tall thin and immensely elegant, rather a fop, supercilious of expression.

Original Russell Western Paintings Are Displayed Here

Four original Western paintings of Charles M. Russell are included in a collection which Dr. Carlton Palmer is displaying in the Scharbauer Hotel this week. Dr. Palmer has previously brought collections of paintings to Midland, and since his last visit he has traveled over the United States and Canada adding to the number.

The Russell pictures are unusual, since most of his work is owned by museums or persons who refuse to sell. Since Russell's death in 1926 his paintings have become more and more popular and he is considered a foremost interpreter from direct experience of the exciting life of the old west.

In the Palmer collection, which the public is invited to see, are two watercolors and two pen drawings. They are "The Bucking Broncho," painted in 1888; "Roping a Steer," of the same year; "On the Trail," painted in 1889; and an undated painting, "On a Spree."

In 1899 Russell presented these paintings to a friend, F. W. Thayer, a Boston wool dealer who spent much time in Montana where the artist worked. After Thayer's death in 1913, his widow gave them to Charles Cobb, his successor in business. Palmer found them in Boston after he had looked for Russell pictures through the Western states last Summer, but had lost hope of finding any for sale.

Russell was at his best in painting animals, Palmer found them in the pictures of the broncho and the steer-roping are two good examples of his finest work, Palmer says.

187 Babies Enroll In Rebekah Lodge's Better Baby Program

When registration ended Saturday, 187 babies were enrolled in the Better Baby Program being sponsored by the Midland Rebekah Lodge. Their pictures now are on display in the Dunlap Department Store.

All entrants will be given health examinations during the next few days and those rating 90 per cent or over will be given health certificates, blue ribbon diplomas or gold seal award certificates, according to the health rating.

They also will be eligible to enter the Baby Beauty Judging November 21 in the City-County Auditorium. Babies in this contest will wear sun suits, bathing suits, tight fitting trunks, brief pinafors or diapers.

Children entered are under five years of age, and a boy and girl winner in each of the six age classes will be chosen in this preliminary contest. From these 12, a Miss and Master Midland will be chosen by audience applause and crowned at the coronation pageant December 1 in the City-County Auditorium.

Parents Will Visit In North Elementary

In observance of National Education Week, parents of North Elementary School children will meet in their children's rooms at 7 p.m. Monday to get acquainted with the teachers and see the surroundings in which the children spend the most of every day.

Parents of the children in the third grade rooms in the High School building will go to these rooms.

At 7:30 p.m., all parents and teachers will meet in the North Elementary auditorium for a regular Parent-Teacher Association meeting which will take the place of the scheduled meeting of November 16.

The program topic will be "Teamwork for Good Citizenship" and will be in the form of a panel discussion, prepared and moderated by Mrs. Ray Howard. Panel members will be juvenile officer, Judge C. C. Keith; a minister, The Rev. R. Matthew Lynn; a parent, Ray Roward; and a teacher, Mrs. George Grant. The panel also will be open to audience participation.

Billie Reid Bride Of Phil H. Hayes

A simple church wedding in the bride's home town, Colorado City, united in marriage a Midland couple, Billie Reid and Phil H. Hayes, early Saturday afternoon. The Rev. R. Y. Bradford, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Hayes is the daughter of Mrs. Ollie C. Reid of Colorado City, and Hayes is the son of Mrs. Dewetta Hayes of Tulsa.

The bride's sister, Doris Reid of Colorado City, was her only attendant and J. Dell Barber of Colorado City was the best man. The bride wore a Kelly green wool suit with black accessories, and the maid of honor a sun copper tweed suit with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes are residing at 509 North Carrizo Street.

She attended schools in Colorado City and then a business school, and has been employed with C. H. Murphy and Company here. A Midland resident for the past two years, she has been active in the Community Theater, appearing in several productions.

Hayes, an employee of the Skelly Oil Company, attended Oklahoma A&M College and served in the Air Force with the rank of captain.

Band To Open 'Back To School' Program

Music by the Junior High Band, a new organization in the school this year, will be the introduction to the annual "back to school" program of the Junior High Parent-Teacher Association Monday night, observing National Educational Week.

Fathers as well as mothers of all Junior High pupils are invited to visit the school and hear the band concert at 7:20 p.m. and then go to their children's rooms to meet the teachers and see a display of work done by the students.

Brenda Scallorn Is Honored On Birthday

Brenda Kay Scallorn was honored on her birthday Friday with a party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Scallorn.

Blue and yellow crepe paper and purple and yellow chrysanthemums were used for decorations.

Guests were Tony Abernathy, Jack Abernathy, Bob Cool, David Allen Wright, Johnnie Fay Davis, Eddie Carol Davis, Judy Eurg, Janice McMinn, Janie Lee Rawlett, Sylvia Eudaly and Renett McMinn.

Annual Reports Show Home Demonstration Work Done In 1949

Scope of the work done in home demonstration clubs of Midland County through 1949 is shown in the annual reports made by committee chairman and club presidents at a meeting of the County Home Demonstration Council Friday afternoon.

The November session is the final business meeting of the year; a Christmas party is planned for December, and 1950 officers will be installed then. Annual reports summarize each year the accomplishments of the clubs through their council committees.

Mrs. Sherman Chapman and Mrs. J. C. Stevens, marketing chairman, reported that club women made cooperative purchases of strawberries and pineapples, vegetable seed, shrubs, rose plants, pressing collars and hanger pads used in their clothing demonstrations, and linens.

Assistance to 4-H Club girls of the county in their activities was reported by Mrs. D. M. Blizzell, chairman of 4-H sponsors. The sponsors aided in all the girls' work, including the special project of "adopting" a child in an orphanage at Lubbock and sending her clothing and other gifts as well as the usual participation in camp, fairs, state meetings, contests and social events, and programs on food preparation and clothing.

Mrs. J. J. Howard, Texas Home Demonstration Association representative for the county, reported attending the district and state THDA conventions and making reports from the THDA to the council through the year.

A series of radio programs was an added educational activity of the clubs this year. Each club presented two programs, in which 75 per cent of the women on rolls in the county took part.

Presidents who gave their annual reports included one of a new club, the Friendly Builders, which was organized in 1949. Others were Garden Addition, Valley View, Westside and Terminal Clubs.

Atomic Bomb Control

President Truman made plain at the dedication of the United Nations headquarters in New York that this country is open-minded on the issue of how to control atomic energy to prevent war.

Under the guidance of Bernard M. Baruch, the United States developed a world control plan founded on UN ownership of all dangerous atomic facilities, outlawing of atomic weapons and rigid inspection to guard against violations by particular countries.

But the U. S. now is not insisting that this plan and only this be put into effect. Truman said we are standing on it, to be sure. But he emphasized that the reason we have not abandoned it is that we see no alternative which offers hope of real effectiveness.

It is evident that this nation would be disposed to accept any program which could meet that test. In our espousal of the Baruch plan there is no blind, stubborn clinging to an idea simply because it happens to be ours.

The basic Russian suggestion is considered by American leaders to be no plan at all. It would retain national ownership of dangerous atomic facilities, would not allow more than a superficial inspection to detect violations of a proposed ban on atomic weapons, and would rely chiefly on a mere outlawing treaty.

Russian Foreign Minister Vishinsky has indicated that such a treaty might follow the pattern of the agreement banning the use of poison gas in war. The fact that the nations which fought World War II did refrain from using gas is cited as proof that this sort of compact can be effective.

Some columnists have insisted that the United States can hope for no more than this if it really desires agreement with the Soviet Union on the atomic issue. They believe the outlawing treaty will work because of the mutual fear of reprisal in case a violation occurs.

But the U. S. spokesmen are not satisfied. They declare that any plan lacking a tough inspection system and world ownership of dangerous atomic facilities would not be a sufficient barrier to continued national development of atomic weapons.

And apparently they feel the temptation to use those weapons would be far greater than was the case with poison gas in World War II. Gas never has been thought of as a potentially decisive factor in war, but the atom bomb has been and still is so viewed.

Some military experts may argue on the latter score, yet it is hard to see how any argument on the decisive effect of the bomb could be settled except in actual war. It would seem extremely unwise to adopt a course assuming atomic energy would not play the critical role in a future conflict.

Helping To Slice Surplus

The Department of Agriculture is getting an assist from an unexpected quarter in meeting the problem of a big corn surplus this year.

The help comes from the corn borer, a busy pest who attacks stalks, cobs and kernels with equal vigor. With singular judgment, the borer has picked Iowa, the leading corn state, for his heaviest ravages.

Large as a result of his work, the 1949 Iowa crop is expected to be 15 per cent below last year's.

The department is unlikely to show any gratitude for this aid. Its current appropriation probably contains funds aimed at stamping out the borer. So that 1950 will be safe for bigger surpluses.

Empty Gesture

Communist-led guerrilla forces in Greece generously have announced that they are calling off the painfully drawn-out civil war.

They point out, however, that they are keeping their rifles in readiness, just in case the regular Greek government fails to show proper gratitude for their gracious gesture.

But they neglect to acknowledge one fact: they're already licked. The Greek government no longer cares what they offer or what they do with the comparatively few rifles they have left.

If it keeps on, some day everybody will be on the public payroll and we all can stop worrying about taxes and such.

In one week 155,350 automobiles were produced. We can't believe there were that many right in front of us on our way home from work.

A former salesman became a portrait painter and should do very well, what with his experience at canvassing.

Lost—One Back Seat Driver

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Air admirals long fought battleship admirals, now they fight unification; Carriers took unmerciful punishment from Jap suicide planes; Lack of unification almost lost battle of Leyte.

WASHINGTON—It's easy to understand why the air admirals are boiling mad at unification. To some extent you have to sympathize with them. What they can't forget is that for years the Navy's airmen had to fight the battleship admirals and now, just as the airplane carrier has come into its own, they find themselves stymied by unification.

The admirals who put up this long running-fight with the old-fashioned battleship admirals include such brilliant officers as General Bogan, Arthur Radford, L. T. Sprague and Jack Towers, now retired. Thirty years ago, just out of Annapolis, they went into the relatively new Naval Aviation as fliers and worked up to the top.

During the recent campaign in the Pacific, Admiral Sprague had the experience of commanding Carrier Squadron 22 with several other higher ranking admirals taking orders from him. Because operating carriers in battle formation, with their network of protecting airplanes and destroyers, is such a skilled job, Sprague, a junior, was in command. When the squadron put into Pearl Harbor or any other base, the senior admirals, untrained in carrier battle formation, then took over.

With the war over and the battleship being laid up in mothballs, Naval Aviation at long last appeared to achieve full recognition. Whereupon Congress passed the unification act, and with it, the chief air responsibility went to the Air Force. No wonder the air admirals are indignant!

The full story of the Navy's airplane carriers was one of the most heroic of the war, and the heroism was even greater because of a serious defect discovered in the carriers after the Navy had built most of them. This defect—like most of the Navy's trouble—was due to faulty engineering and bad planning.

The Japs, however, soon discovered this. The result was that suicide Jap fighter planes dived for the deck of carrier after carrier with deadly casualties. Entirely aside from the tragic loss of life, so many carriers were put out of commission that they had to be sent all the way through the Panama Canal to the Atlantic coast for repairs. The West Coast yards were too full.

At one time during the battle of Okinawa, virtually all of the Navy's carriers were either en route back to the U. S. for repairs or en route to battle after being repaired. The shipyards at Pearl Harbor were full. The West Coast yards were at capacity, and the East Coast yards had to handle the overflow—despite the extra time necessary to carry the limping vessels through the Panama Canal.

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service Recently I spent an evening at the Cavendish Club in New York, where the greatest card players in the country assemble. After chatting with some of the players, I gathered together enough hands for this week's articles. The first hand I heard discussed was a natural one for the lesson hand in the play which I am giving you today.

Dream House For Stranded Arctic Airmen

The pneumatic Quonset hut above, made of cotton fabric coated with a low-temperature neoprene compound to withstand extreme cold, is expected to help save the lives of airmen forced down in the Arctic. The hut is draftproof, snowproof, waterproof, compact and easy to carry. It houses four men comfortably and can withstand 100-mile-an-hour gales. It is bright orange in color, making it easy to spot from the air. A 10-foot-long air duct on the sidewall and a four-foot canvas, igloo-like entrance keep out icy blasts, but allow for ventilation. The quaint Quonset was developed by the Air Materiel Command and U. S. Rubber Corporation at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

WASHINGTON OIL—

Nine Major Companies Will Testify At Import Hearing

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
WASHINGTON—Nine major oil companies will be quizzed about their imports of crude oil and refined products in hearings starting November 15 in the Federal Court-house, New York, N. Y., it was learned Monday.

Congressman Eugene J. Keogh's House Small Business Subcommittee on petroleum imports will be in charge. Keogh is a Democratic congressman from Brooklyn, N. Y. Other members are Reps. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) and R. Walter Riehlman (R-N.Y.).

The companies, which have been invited to send executives to the hearing, are: Standard Oil Company of Indiana, Standard Oil Company (Calif.), The Texas Company, Gulf Oil Corporation, Shell Oil Company, Cities Service Oil Company, Atlantic Refining Company, Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, and Sinclair Oil Company.

Eugene Holman, president of Standard Oil Company (N.J.) testified before the subcommittee in June in Washington and a month later in New York. He rejected suggestions for legislation to limit imports.

Kept In Ground
Domestic oil producers say that at one time this year about a million barrels of petroleum daily was kept in the ground, partly because imports took over the market it would have had. At $2.50 a barrel, this amounts to millions of dollars.

Much of the present flow of imports displaces domestic crude oil, domestic producers say. Total imports are about 600,000 barrels daily, but exports should be figured in, too, to give the complete picture. Domestic producers also say the best way to have petroleum in the event of an emergency is to keep oil wells at home running, and therefore in a condition to operate. An idle well is of no value, they explain.

Foreign oil, say American companies which import, does not displace domestic oil. They chide domestic producers who fear the flow of imports may rise to a flood. But the solid facts are in a report to the State Department that imports will rise in coming months, to as high as 780,000 barrels daily next February.

36-Point Questionnaire
Sources close to the Keogh committee said the basis for the hearings will be the 36-point questionnaire sent to all major companies by the group last June. The questions asked future importing plans of the companies in specific figures, production costs of foreign compared with domestic oil, if imports are displacing domestic oil, and why the companies brought in oil to displace American oil.

The questions, which never have been released publicly, also ask if price factors mean foreign oil inevitably will reach the United States in greater volumes, if national security demands more imports, or more domestic production, if imports are cutting down domestic drilling, if the National Petroleum Council's stand in favor of imports only to the extent they supplement domestic production is sound.

If the policy is sound, "by what means should this policy be implemented to insure effective operation?" the subcommittee's questionnaire asks.

Special Counsel
Otis H. Ellis, who inspired much attention as executive director of the Small Business Committee, now has set up a law office in Washington; but he will be asking questions at the hearings as special counsel on petroleum matters for the group.

Also to be inquired into are the shift in sources of imports seen recently with less oil coming from the Middle East and more from South America, proportionately.

The program of oil expansion proposed to the Economic Cooperation Administration by European countries, which has been criticized by oil men over the country as too huge, is expected to come in for discussion.

Susan Snoozes Through It All

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.—(AP)—Tiny Susan Culp saw no reason for all the excitement when her foot became wedged in a cellar drain Sunday.

So she dropped off to sleep while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Culp, three police officers and a doctor worked frantically to free her.

They finally succeeded by knocking a hole in the cement floor and removing part of the drain pipe. Sixteen-month-old Susan slept tight through all the pounding.

She still was snoozing when her mother carried her up to bed.

Teen-Age Boy Dies When Ditch Caves In

LANCASTER, OHIO—(AP)—An eight-foot-deep open sewer ditch caved in Sunday on a group of five boys at play. Two were trapped. One was saved by the heroic efforts of a playmate.

The other died—crushed under the weight of more than a cubic yard of heavy sub-soil.

Two pairs of brothers and another boy were playing in the trench behind a house under construction. They were David Spung, 13, and his 12-year-old brother, Gary. There were Dick Smith, 12, and his six-year-old brother, Jimmy. The fifth boy was Edward Cook, 13.

When one wall of the trench fell, David Spung and Jimmy Smith were trapped.

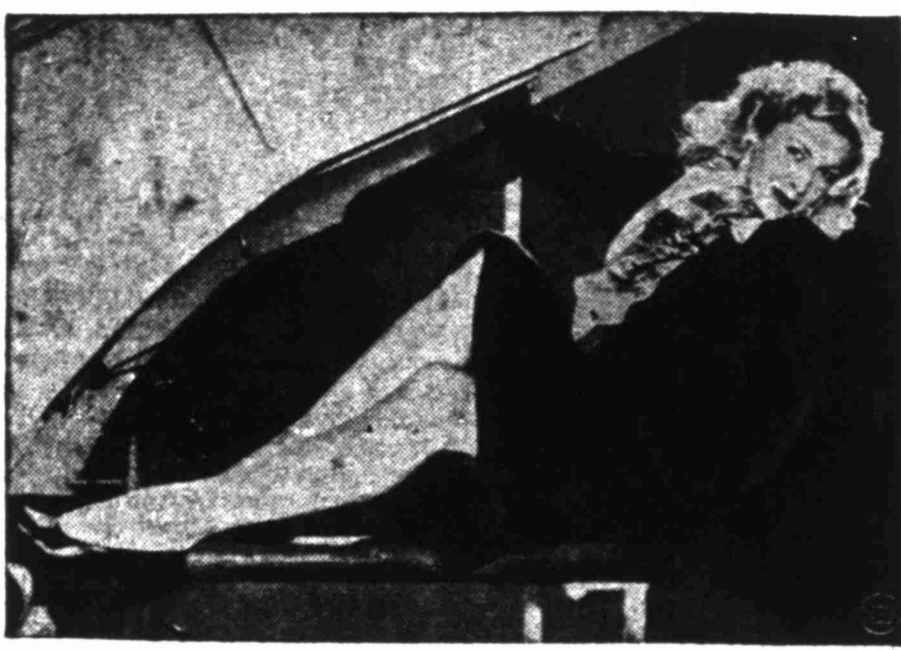

Only one of David's shoulders and part of one leg were visible. Jimmy's legs were buried.

As Eddie Crooks recalls it: "There was a great big clod hanging over Jimmy's head and I was afraid it would fall on him. So I got down in there with a pick and worked as fast as I could and pretty soon he was able to pull his feet out."

After a few minutes, the other boys gave up their frantic clawing at the dirt covering David. They called firemen. But David was dead, firemen found, when they uncovered his body with mattocks.

A Man and His First Cadillac!

SELDOM will you find a man in a happier state of mind than when he slides behind the wheel of his first Cadillac—and makes for the open highway.

It's a wonderful, wonderful feeling—as every Cadillac owner can attest.

Usually, it's the fulfillment of a long-cherished dream. And, of course, that means a glorious sense of achievement—with inspiring memories and a deep sense of personal satisfaction.

And, then, there are the immediate pleasures that press upon him...

... the feeling of pride that is inescapable when a man comes into possession of something which is so universally admired...

... the feeling of confidence that comes from Cadillac's great reputation for quality and soundness and long life...

... the feeling of elation that comes from the car's amazing responsiveness to throttle and brakes...

... the feeling of gratitude that comes from being able to surround himself, and all who ride with him, with every safeguard an automobile can provide.

And then, of course, there is the soft, satisfying rush of the miles—the easy, restful ride—the positive, effortless handling—the sumptuous and comfortable surroundings.

Yes, it's a great thrill for a man when he goes for his first ride at the wheel of his first Cadillac.

But it's only the beginning!

Day after day, year after year, he will have that same wonderful feeling as he rolls his Cadillac out into the street or highway. For the joy of Cadillac ownership is deep and abiding. Most owners find that it never leaves and seldom lessens.

Wouldn't you like to learn what it's like to sit at the wheel of a car that can mean so much to you? If so, come in today—for a ride that's a revelation. We may be able to make prompt delivery on the model you prefer.

Lubbock-Odessa Tilt Tops Texas Schoolboy Slate

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Texas schoolboy football campaign enters the last three weeks of the regular season with Lubbock and Port Arthur standing out as strongest contenders for the state finals in Class AA.

In the City Conference, it's anybody's choice but the winner of this week's battle between Thomas Jefferson and San Antonio Tech in the San Antonio District would be a good bet for the title.

Out at Odessa there's a loud note of protest over putting Lubbock in the state finals seven weeks before they are reached. It happens that next Friday Lubbock plays at Odessa with the District 3 title on the line. Enough folks believe Odessa can knock down the mighty Westerners that 21,600 tickets already have been sold for the game.

There are few to contest Port Arthur's high rating. The Yellowjackets look like the class of the lower bracket. The Jefferson-Tech joust won't determine the San Antonio District crown for a certainty unless Tech should win it. Tech already has beaten Brackenridge, the only other team with a chance left at the title, and will have only one game to go.

Pampa Vs Plainview
Class AA virtually will determine four district champions this week. Pampa and Plainview clash in the big show of District 1. Pampa it was that knocked down Amarillo 20-12 last week, practically eliminating the Sandies. It's been a long time since Amarillo had such a season as this one.

The Odessa-Lubbock battle is the headline but Paris and Gainesville get together in a tussle that could determine the District 7 crown. Marshal can clinch the District 9 championship by beating Longview.

There are 52 games on the schedule in the City Conference and Class AA this week with 47 of them conference tilts.

Four Perfect Records
Just four undefeated, untied teams remain in the state, all in Class AA. They are Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Port Arthur and Corsicana. Lubbock appears to be the only one in any danger this week. There also are two teams undefeated but one tied. They are John Reagan of Houston and Baytown. Reagan plays Lamar of Houston this week while Baytown meets Freepport.

Last week Sunset virtually sewed up the Dallas district title in the City Conference.

In Class AA, Pampa's victory over Amarillo was regarded as the deciding point of District 1. Highland Park beat Grand Prairie 13-6 to become the top-heavy favorite of District 8.

Records of the state's undefeated teams:

East Texas State Sacks Up Title In Lone Star Circuit

By The Associated Press

East Texas State Monday boasted the Lone Star Conference football title.

Bob Berry's Lions finished their league schedule with a perfect mark in three games Saturday by defeating Southwest Texas 13 to 6. The latter won the crown last year. In other games involving Lone Star teams, Stephen F. Austin rolled over Daniel Baker 40 to 0, and Sam Houston lost to Hardin College 13 to 21.

Halfback Jack Kyle of Sam Houston State added seven points to retain his scoring lead with 55 points.

California Bears, Rice Owls, Oklahoma Sooners Loom As Best Bowl Bets

NEW YORK (AP)—With just two big weeks to go in this wild "wham-the-favorite" football season, Oklahoma, California and Rice Monday stacked up as the only red-hot bowl candidates in the land.

It's a good bet that the unbeaten Sooners and Golden Bears will do repeat performances—third-ranked Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl and fourth-rated California in the Rose Bowl.

Rice's Owls, No. 8 nationally, have emerged as the outstanding team of the Southwest and should wind up as host in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Of last week's top 10 teams in The Associated Press poll, five—Notre Dame (1), Army (2), Michigan (3), Cornell (7) and Michigan State (10)—either are disinterested or are banned by conference edict from participating in the January 1 extravaganzas.

The other two—sixth-ranked Baylor and ninth-rated Southern Methodist—are beginning to lose some of their bowl glimmer.

Dark Horse Candidates
The Western Conference will send one of its representatives to Pasadena, but it can't be Michigan, which went last year, or Michigan State, which is a new league member but not yet a title eligible.

The prize probably will be decided Saturday at Columbus, Ohio, where Ohio State clashes with Illinois. Ohio's Buckeyes are tied with Michigan for the top lead.

Notre Dame and Army shun the post-season games while Cornell, as a member of the prim Ivy League, can't even flirt with the idea.

Bowl sponsors may have to dip down into the growing list of "dark horses" for candidates. Virginia, Wyoming, Boston University and College of the Pacific, all unbeaten and untied, head this group.

Rice Owls Occupy Driver's Seat As Baylor Bites Dust

By The Associated Press

The only barriers in Rice's path to a Southwest Conference championship now are Texas A&M, Texas Christian, Baylor and overconfidence. Overconfidence may be the toughest.

The Owls shot into undisputed leadership last week by beating Arkansas 14-0 as Texas knocked off undefeated, untied Baylor 20-0.

Their impressive record—six victories, one loss—proven ground and air game and wealth of experience make the Owls an overwhelming choice against their remaining conference foes.

But either of these three could upset the Owls if they happened to be "flat." Texas A&M will see if they are this week.

A&M pulled the biggest upset of the conference season last week, coming from behind to tie Southern Methodist 27-27. The tie ruined the Mustang's position as ninth ranking team in the nation and just about knocked out any hopes they had of winning the title.

Bears Face Wyoming
Texas this week plays Texas Christian, idle last week; Southern Methodist meets Arkansas and Baylor takes on Wyoming.

Wyoming is one of the few undefeated, untied teams in the country and last week swamped Colorado State by a score of 103-0. But the Skyline Six club will be a definite underdog against the Bears.

Only Baylor has much of a chance to nose out Rice for the title and the Bears still have Southern Methodist and the Owls to play. Texas proved that if you stop Baylor's offense, you stop Baylor's excellent defenses against passes.

Southern Methodist has won one conference game, lost to Rice, and tied A&M. That puts it in the hole against Baylor. Rice has won three straight championship games.

Aggie Soph Does It
Bob Smith, a 192-pound sophomore fullback, aided by a hard-blocking Aggie line, was responsible for the Aggie tie. He scored three touchdowns, all on line plunges.

Doak Walker stepped back into triple-threat duty in fine style after his case of flu, scoring two touchdowns and passing for another.

But the standout individual play of the SMU-A&M game was Kyle Rote's 100-yard touchdown run for SMU.

James (Froggie) Williams boosted his bid for All-America by scoring all of Rice's points. The big snared two touchdown passes, then kicked the extra points.

Texas finally got its offense clicking and reeled off two fourth period scores that sewed up the Baylor game.

Hardin Clinches Tie In Gulf Coast Loop

By The Associated Press

North Texas State and University of Houston play an elimination game as the feature of the Gulf Coast Conference schedule this week.

Hardin already has clinched at least a tie for the championship and the loser of the North Texas-University of Houston test at Denton Saturday will be knocked out of the chance of sharing the crown with the Indians.

Hardin backed into its clinch tie last week as North Texas State licked Trinity 32-21.

Hardin, meanwhile, was beating Sam Houston State of the Lone Star Conference 21-13.

University of Houston lost 20-14 to St. Bonaventure in an inter-sectional game.

Friday Hardin plays Oklahoma City University at Wichita Falls. Saturday Trinity engages East Texas State of the Lone Star Conference at Commerce.

Let us trace for you a circle in comparative high school football scores just to show you the record of our 1949 Bulldogs isn't as bad as it might seem—looking at it this way.

Ysleta whipped the Bulldogs 40 to 0 in the season-opener.

Midland came along and soundly thrashed the Plainview Bulldogs 14 to 0 a little later.

Borger trounced Ysleta 20 to 7 a little later in the season.

And, Plainview Saturday defeated Borger 20 to 13.

It just goes to show you — this schoolboy football can't be figured on comparative scores.

A new twist has been given the age-old request that some school be ousted from a district by the Interscholastic League. Such a request usually comes from another school in the district.

Out in District 6 of the Six-Man grid classification, officials have requested the Interscholastic League to remove Van Horn from conference play.

The officials pointed out (1) falsification of records and (2) undesirable treatment of officials and visiting fans at Van Horn's games.

The IL Executive Committee is to study the request Wednesday.

The Interscholastic League has released the dates for completion of play in all football divisions for schoolboys.

City Conference, Class AA and Class B bi-district games must be played not later than December 3.

Class A and Six-Man must play bi-district games by November 26.

District play in City Conference, Class AA, and B must be completed by November 26 and in Class A and Six-Man by November 19.

All eyes in District 5-A this week are turned to Kermit, where the annual grudge battle between the Kermit Yellowjackets and the Wink Wildcats will be unrelenting Friday.

The game, for the first time in several years, will decide the district championship.

If Wink wins, the Wildcats will be undisputed champs. If Kermit wins, the Yellowjackets will be in a tie with the Andrews Mustangs for first place in the conference.

Nimrods from Midland are out in the Davis Mountains armchairs, seeking blacktail and whitetail deer.

The season opened Sunday and will run through Friday.

Hunters from here set out mainly for Fort Davis, Alpine, Kent and Van Horn.

The blacktails are reported in good shape this season. Plenty of rain has kept feeding conditions good all year.

At first count, it appears five or possibly six bowl games will be played in Texas in December and January.

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas is the biggest and this year will be jammed with an estimated 77,000.

The Sun Bowl at El Paso again will be staged with the Border Conference champion as host team.

The Cleander Bowl in Galveston will be in its second year and will feature Junior College teams.

The Texas Rose Bowl at Tyler also will slate Junior College elevens.

The Prairie View Bowl for negro teams will be held in Houston.

The Cattle Bowl, also for negro teams, may be resumed in Fort Worth.

Kilgore JC Grigger Suffers Head Injury

BEAUMONT (AP)—D. L. Ashley, Kilgore Junior College football player, Monday still was listed in a "serious" condition from a head injury received in Saturday night's game with Lamar Junior College here.

Hospital attendants said Ashley, a tackle, revived so violently from a three-hour coma Saturday night that he had to be put back to sleep.

WT-NM Loop Votes To Play 147-Game Scheduled Next Year

LUBBOCK (AP)—The Class C West Texas-New Mexico League will play a 147-game schedule next season instead of 140.

This was the only important change directors voted at their annual Fall meeting Sunday.

The 1950 season will open April 19 and close September 10, with three doubleheader dates and the usual mid-season all-star game.

Milton E. Price of Dallas was reelected president of the league. Paul Dean of Clovis, N. M., and D. M. Spector of Borger were named vice presidents.

Representatives of Abilene, Amarillo, Albuquerque and Clovis, N. M., Borger, Lamesa, Lubbock and Pampa clubs attended the meeting.

A motion to increase the league's active limit from 18 to 17 players and the team monthly salary limit from $3,200 to $3,400 failed to pass. The vote was tied, Abilene, Albuquerque, Borger and Lubbock for; Amarillo, Clovis, Lamesa and Pampa against.

The league's annual schedule meeting will be held at Albuquerque January 21-22.

Washington Pro Grid Coach Gets Gate Unexpectedly

WASHINGTON (AP)—The five-year contract between the Washington Redskins football team and Coach John E. (Billie) Welchel was canceled Monday "by mutual consent."

The announcement was made by the National Professional League club.

Welchel, a former admiral, had been at the helm only seven games. His team had won three games, lost three and tied one.

He had been under heavy criticism, particularly after a one-sided loss to the Philadelphia Eagles two weeks ago. But Monday's announcement was a definite surprise since the Redskins beat the Pittsburgh Steels 27-14 Sunday.

The announcement said Herman Ball, who has been acting as scout for the team, will be the coach for the remainder of the season.

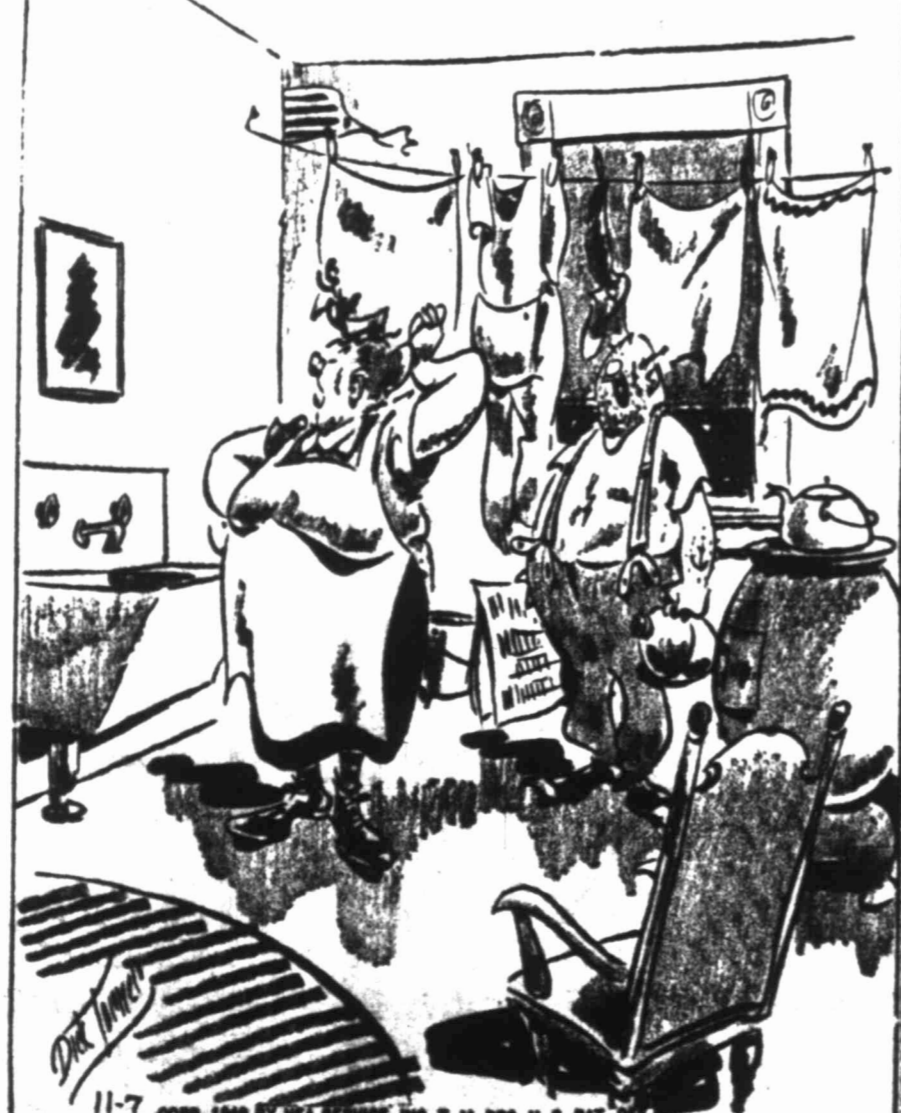

Bulldogs Boosters See Brownfield Tilt On Screen Tuesday

Bulldogs To Dig In For Thursday Tilt With Steers Here

The Midland Bulldogs Monday started preparations for a non-conference clash with the Big Spring Steers in Memorial Stadium Thursday night. Drills will be stepped up some and possibly will be longer due to the short time before the game.

The tilt originally was scheduled for Friday night but has been moved up to Thursday night to avoid a conflict with several other games in the area.

Big Spring, in bad mood from a 45 to 7 whipping at the hands of San Angelo's Bobcats in District 5-AA play, sports a record just about like the Bulldogs. The two teams are expected to be about even in most departments.

The Bulldogs' trounced the Brownfield Cubs 26 to 7 in a conference game Friday night.

Coach Tugboat Jones says his boys came through with no injuries in the tilt and will be at full strength for the Big Spring game.

All ball carriers — Jack Burris, Charles Crowley, L. C. Thomas, Luther Mooney and Ralph Brooks — are due a great deal of offensive work this week. They were sharp enough to run up a healthy score against Brownfield but will have to be sharper to carry the oval against Big Spring.

The Steers, like most teams the Bulldogs have faced this year, operate from the T formation. That undoubtedly will call for more defensive drills in the Midland camp during the week.

The Bulldog line looked good against Brownfield. It has shown steady improvement all year. The sure-fire play of Stan Coker, Dalton Byerley and Harrie Smith aided the win over the Cubs no little.

Other Games
Scouts report Big Spring has some speed in the backfield and can produce a potent passing game when it is needed. The Steer line will be lighter than Midland's, however.

The feud with Big Spring really gets started Thursday afternoon. Coach Joe Atkins will take his 'C' Bulldogs to the Howard County city for a game with the 'C' Steers. The 'B' Bulldogs are scheduled against the Lubbock 'B' Westerners at Memorial Stadium Saturday.

The Seventh Grade Bullpups of John M. Cowden Junior High School will meet Stanton's Buffalo Calves at 4 p.m. Thursday in Memorial Stadium.

Greentree Stable's Oullotine, crack two-year-old, will miss his fall racing engagements because of a swollen neck gland.

Cleveland Browns Top All-America Football League

By RALPH RODEN
NEW YORK—(AP)—The Cleveland Browns, usually resting up for the playoffs at this time of the year, once again are undisputed leaders of the All-America Football conference.

Cleveland broke its stalemate with the New York Yankees for the top rung Sunday by trouncing the Chicago Hornets, 35-2, while the Yanks were upset, 17-14, by the Buffalo Bills.

Both contenders have three games remaining, including a date in Yankee Stadium two weeks hence that probably will settle the issue.

Meanwhile, the Philadelphia Eagles and the Los Angeles Rams staged an expected "preview" of the National League championship in the Quaker City.

The Eagles, Eastern division pacemakers, cuffed the Rams, Western division leaders, 38-14. Each sport an identical 6-1 record and each has five games remaining.

Two of the Eagles' contests are against the New York Giants, who are tied with the Pittsburgh Steelers for second place.

The Giants were stunned by the New York Bulldogs, 31-24. It was the Bulldogs' first victory. Pittsburgh also bowed, 27-14, to the fourth place Washington Redskins. The Bears stopped Green Bay, 24-3.

Southwest Circuit Is Padded Cell Bait

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS—(AP)—This is the time of the year when coaches develop ulcers on their ulcers and sports writers become the darlings of the psychiatrists.

This is the upsetting time of Southwest Conference football, than which there is none whither.

The fans of the nation got a sample of it Saturday when Texas A&M, working like mad to develop character, knocked a hole in Southern Methodist's chances of finishing in a respectable place in the standings with a glorious 27-27 tie.

The Aggies had won one game this year—from Texas Tech. And who hadn't beaten Tech? It knocked SMU out of the nation's top 10 and virtually wrecked its bowl chances.

Then there was that thing at Austin when the Aggies and Texas kicked over undefeated, untied Baylor 20-0.

Down through the years, the Southwest Conference probably can claim more upsets than any other region. In the last decade only twice has the title favorite come through but it's the private feuds that cause all the ulcers and padded cell bait.

There was 1937 when Baylor, unbeaten and untied, played a Texas team that hadn't won a conference game. Texas beat Baylor 9-6.

In 1940, Texas A&M, acclaimed national champion and winner of 19 straight games, fell before Texas 7-0 in one of the greatest upsets in football history. That same Texas team in 1941 was called "the greatest in Southwest Conference history."

It was rated No. 1 in the nation; was a certainty for the Rose Bowl. A Baylor team that had been swamped by Texas A&M tied Texas; a so-so Texas Christian team beat it.

And why is football so screwy down here in the Southwest Conference?

"It's mostly psychological," says James H. Stewart, conference secretary who has played and been an official in the circuit for more than a quarter of a century. "Much of this comes from incidents that happened years before—little things most everyone but a coach or player has forgotten. It's the closeness of the teams—all within a few hundred miles of each other, all except one team in a single state."

Stewart means family troubles.

Dr. Borchers said that Handel's "Messiah" will be performed in December with the SMU Symphony Orchestra. He also announced plans for the inauguration of a university music festival the latter part of March in cooperation with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

Area Chiropractors Honor Officials At Meeting In Midland

West Texas chiropractors Sunday paid tribute to three fellow members of their profession at a luncheon-meeting in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer here. More than 100 persons from Midland and area cities attended.

Dr. J. Dow Scott of Midland is the president of District 4 chiropractors who sponsored the meeting. The district extends from El Paso to Comanche.

Honored were Dr. H. H. Kennedy of Longview, new president of the Texas State Chiropractic Association; Dr. J. C. Shipman, Jr. of Abilene, vice president; Dr. R. B. Florence of Tyler and Dr. Joe E. Busby of Abilene, members of the new Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

The meeting was one of a series planned by the state association to introduce the profession's new officers and members of the nine-member examining board appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers in accordance with the new chiropractic licensing law.

Specialized Field
Dr. Kennedy, in the main address, told the chiropractors the principles of chiropractic have been proved by 30 million cases of clinical application and now are recognized in 44 states as an indispensable healing art in a specialized field.

"I am proud to say that Texas now is among the states with a licensing law," Dr. Kennedy said. The president said that with the new licensing law the chiropractors of Texas now have one of the highest standards of training for its specialized field of any profession in the country.

Another speaker, Dr. Florence, told the group that 1,500 applications for licenses have been received by the examining board.

Applications Processed
We have spent many hours processing applications and ironing out numerous problems so that the public will be assured that every chiropractic doctor issued a license to practice is qualified, both by training and experience," he said.

Jerry Bristol of San Antonio, editor of the League Chiropractor College magazine, also spoke at the meeting.

Out-of-state guests who attended included Dr. and Mrs. Paul O. Parr and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Shipman of Oklahoma City.

Gene Rambo Wins IRA Champ Cowboy Title Third Time

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Hard-riding Gene Rambo of Shandon, Calif., is the 1949 world's champion cowboy in the International Rodeo Association's books.

He won the title Sunday night before 7,000 spectators at the Grand National Livestock Exposition, rodeo and horse show in Houston.

The 28-year-old rider also won in 1946 and 1948. This year he won $425 in prize money—the most important slice of which was the $2,500 he got for the IRA title.

Jim Shoulders of Tulsa, Okla., placed second to Rambo in the all-around cowboy event. Casey Tibbs of Port Pierre, S. D., was third.

Homer Pettigrew of Chandler, Ariz., won the world's championship in calf roping. Troy Port, Lovington, N. M., third in the IRA, won the Grand National title in that event.

CRANE—Dr. Jack Ramsay, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Crane is keeping up the family tradition. His father, the Rev. J. C. Ramsay is a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Laredo, Texas, and he has a cousin serving in a Presbyterian church.

Dr. Ramsay received his degree from Davidson College, North Carolina, and took extra work during two summer terms at the University of Texas. Later, Dr. Ramsay entered the Theological Seminary at Richmond, Va., where he received his Bachelor of Divinity degree.

Dr. Ramsay then went to Roscoe and served as minister of the church there for a year, leaving to enter the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. After two years, he received his Doctor of Philosophy degree and returned to the states to accept the position of minister of the newly-organized Crane church.

While in Scotland, Dr. Ramsay took every opportunity to see the British Isles and in the summer of 1948 in company with three other students toured Europe. They visited France, Italy, Austria, Germany, Switzerland and Holland during their seven-week tour. In Rome, they had an audience with Pope Pius XII, with a large group of tourists. One week was spent behind the Iron Curtain, in Czechoslovakia, where they found the people very friendly toward Americans, Dr. Ramsay said. They were unable to get visas for Yugoslavia or Hungary.

DADDY RINGTAIL • By Wesley Davis

Daddy Ringtail and Noise Kuchunk

It happened the very first night when Mugwump, the monkey boy, had come to live at the monkey house. He was to sleep in the same room with Sammy and Bobby. There was a bed for each of the boys, and they all jumped in, but they didn't go right to sleep, of course. They talked a bit and laughed a bit, and then everyone did a fine job of sleeping until way in the night when Mugwump fell out of bed. "Kuchunk!" was the noise he made when he hit the floor. Daddy Ringtail heard the noise, and he knew what the noise was, but he didn't know who had fallen out of bed. "Oh! . . . Mugwump! It's you!" said Daddy Ringtail when he saw him. "Sure it's Mugwump," said Mug-

wump, and he sat up on the floor and laughed. "What are you going to do with me, Daddy Ringtail?" he asked. "Sh-h!" He said to be quiet so that no one else would wake up. Then he picked little Mugwump up and put him back in the bed. Daddy Ringtail went back to his own bed, and soon he was fast asleep, almost before you could say, "Kuchunk!" That is the noise that woke Daddy Ringtail up again. He went in to the boys' room, and there was Mugwump down on the floor, just like the other time. "Come pick me up, Daddy Ringtail!" said Mugwump. "Come pick me up like you did before."

Daddy Ringtail did it, but he had an idea that little Mugwump had fallen out of bed, this time, just to get some attention. "What does your father say," Daddy Ringtail asked, "when you fall out of bed at home?"

Mugwump smiled. "My father," he said, "tells me to get back in bed before he gets hold of me."

Well, Mugwump didn't want Daddy Ringtail to have to say that, and Daddy Ringtail didn't want to say it, and so Mugwump got back in bed and went to sleep without falling out any more. And do you know what I think? Boys are a lot of trouble. I know, but they are so much fun to have.

(Copyright 1949. General Features Corp.)

Wump, and he sat up on the floor and laughed. "What are you going to do with me, Daddy Ringtail?" he asked. "Sh-h!" He said to be quiet so that no one else would wake up. Then he picked little Mugwump up and put him

DR. C. L. BRADY
Palmer Graduate

Case No. 175

Woman, age 20, entered Brady Chiropractic Clinic September 20, 1946. She had headaches, was extremely nervous and irritable and suffered pains in her neck and back. She tired very easily. She was troubled with occasional vomiting spells and dizziness with abdominal pains and spots before the eyes. A Chiropractic adjustment was given and only four weeks later she was "feeling fine." She continued Chiropractic service until completely well. She now reports "I am not nervous or irritable any more . . . am feeling fine!"

If you have any health problems, an interview with Dr. Brady may lead to a solution of these problems. There is no charge for consultation. Call 1236 for an appointment.

Crash Kills Three

(NEA Telephoto)
Three men were killed when this DC-3 cargo plane undershot the north-south landing strip at the Canton-Akron Airport in Ohio, grazed some trees, turned over and crashed into the woods below the air strip. Bad weather was blamed for the accident which killed J. R. Harrington, pilot and president of Harrington Air Service; John E. Franklin, assistant to Harrington and co-pilot; and Robert S. Yarno, crew chief. All three men were residents of Cleveland, Ohio. Harrington was widely known in Northeastern Ohio aviation circles.

Home For The Road

In Albany, N. Y., funnyman Joe Jackson, Jr., wears a 64-year-old clown costume that belonged to his late father as he tries out the jeep station wagon he will use for touring Europe. Joe, who carries on a comedy act originated by his father, will use the station wagon for a dressing room and living quarters with his wife.

Oil, Gas, Sulphur Lobbies Charged By Panhandle Solons

AUSTIN—(P)—Two Panhandle legislators joined Monday in charging that oil, gas and sulphur lobbyists were taking a lead in the fight against the annual session annual pay constitutional amendment.

The amendment is one of four that will be voted on in Tuesday's election.

Rep. J. Blake Timmons of Amarillo also protested a ruling by Licuor Administrator Coke Stevenson, Jr., holding that beer and liquor may be sold on election day except where local ordinances prohibit it.

Timmons requested Stevenson to ask the attorney general for an opinion on the liquor administrator's interpretation of the law. Stevenson had held that Tuesday is not a general election day as defined in the state liquor law.

So-Called Third House
Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo also issued a statement saying if the annual session and pay amendment is defeated, "it will be another of the many successful victories originated by the so-called third house, or major company lobbies in Austin, such as oil, gas and sulphur."

He said not everyone opposing the amendment was affiliated with the lobbies, but that their tracks are evident in many organizations fighting the proposal.

Timmons said it appeared that both the "oil-gas-sulphur-pipe line" and certain "short-sighted, big-time" liquor lobbyists favor an underpaid Legislature and do not look with favor on annual sessions.

Trailer, Household Goods Are Burned

A trailer containing household goods and other items burned Sunday night a few miles out of Midland on the Garden City Highway.

The trailer was being pulled behind an auto driven by Clifford Wood, was enroute from Monahans to San Antonio.

Most of the trailer's contents were destroyed.

Early Treatment With Oxygen Cuts Polio Death Rate

INDIANAPOLIS—(P)—The death rate of infantile paralysis victims given early oxygen treatment at Riley Hospital has been only about half the national average, hospital authorities reported Monday.

Evidence is this must be due to a great extent to oxygen treatment, said Dr. Arnold J. Casely, medical director of Indiana University Medical Center, which supervises the hospital.

The hospital has had 277 poliomyelitis patients and 13 of these have died.

This is about half the average death expectancy in the nation and in Indiana as a whole.

This record was made despite the fact that the hospital took only serious or critical cases.

Dr. Casely pointed out that use of oxygen was not new, but that Riley Hospital has facilities to try to experiment on a fairly large scale.

At the first indication of lack of oxygen the patient was treated with oxygen and placed in a respirator.

The first patent for the coaxial cable designed for television relay, was filed on May 23, 1929. It was not until October 5, 1936, that the first circuit, from New York to Philadelphia, was opened for tests.

Mother Confesses

(NEA Telephoto)
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kamorek of Clayville, N. Y., gaze at the empty crib of their six-week-old son, Stephen Henry. Mrs. Kamorek told state police the baby had been kidnapped, later admitted she had dropped the child, then tossed it into a pond near the Kamorek home. "I was afraid of what Henry would say," she told officers after the body was found.

Derrick Sitter Comes Down As Texarkana Passes Chest Quota

TEXARKANA—(P)—Rudolph came down from his perch as Texarkana went over the top in its Community Chest campaign.

For 20 days Rudolph sat on a derrick until the chest quota was reached. The quota was $82,827.18 and it was oversubscribed by about $847,500 Sunday.

"You people are wonderful," said Rudolph, who was identified only by that name.

Wups! Pardon, Wrong House

A South Baird Street resident and his wife awoke Sunday night to see a strange man, very calmly making himself at home in their house.

When asked his business and why, the stranger replied "I'm Sandy Hopkins." And he got out of there in a hurry.

They heard him drive off in an automobile. The wrong-house man was slightly the worse for drink, the residents said.

The Pay-off is your Pay Envelope

What One Worker Says:

MACHINIST—I'll say advertising helps me. We make typewriters. I get paid because my outfit—and thousands of other companies we sell to—can sell their products or services at a profit. They do this mainly through advertising—modern mass-selling operation without which we'd really be in a fix. Advertising, by selling goods, protects my job.

Perhaps You've Never Seen It Put This Simply Before

ADVERTISING has been defined as "salesmanship in print—or on the air waves." The more advertising sells, the more goods are needed to fill that demand. The more goods needed, the more men and women are needed at the factory that makes those goods—yes, and on the farms and mines and mills that make the raw materials needed to make the product. In addition, more men and women are needed by the railway and trucking companies that ship the goods, and by the stores that sell it.

Advertising, by selling goods, starts a never-ending chain that leads to more jobs, better jobs, greater personal security.

So when you hear or read advertising—remember, it's helping you by making your job, your home, your income, far more secure!

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.
