 The Fort Worth Register, Tuesday, gives an interesting account of the disappearance of the City Sundry office boy after an exciting hunt by his friends was found wandering around on a vacant lot overgrown with weeds, where he had become lost and was unable to find his way out. We are expecting any day to hear of our City Marshal or some child disappearing in some of the dense weed and mesquite thickets in the city limits. There is one dangerous jungle in the street north of the lumber yards, where the weeds and mesquite have got bigger than a man's head. There are numerous other weed and brush thickets on side streets and vacant lots that ought to be cleared up. The City Council should in some way compel owners of vacant lots to clean them up.

 We fear Baird will have a disaster some day similar to the one that cost Coleman so many lives last week. Many dwellings are built in the valley of the small branch that runs east of town, and a flood from similar to that at Coleman would be equally as disastrous, unless the people had warning in time to escape. These little dry branches in this country are mighty treacherous sometimes.

Collections are usually very light at this time of year, and we will appreciate it those who owe us will pay part at least.

Millions for Baseball.
A million of dollars are spent every year for the purpose of buying baseball caps. It is not the cap itself that is sold, but the amount spent in search of health. We urge those who have spent much and lost hope to try Hotter's Stomach Bitters. It strengthens the stomach, makes digestion easy, and cures dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness and weak kidneys.

Edin's Pinkish's Vegetable Compound Cures Them—Two Letters from Women.
"Dear Mrs. Fenwick—I write to tell you of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I was sick in bed about five weeks. The right side of my abdomen pained me and was so swollen and sore that I could not walk. The doctor told my husband I would have to undergo an operation. This I refused to do until I had given you six medicine bottles. Before I had taken one bottle the swelling began to disappear. I continued to use your medicine until the swelling was entirely gone. When the doctor said I had better stop, I was so surprised to find me so well again that I continued to use your medicine. My husband and I are now in good health. I can do all my household duties and go to work. My mother got a bottle of your medicine and told me to try it. I took six bottles and now, thanks to your wonderful medicine, I am well again. My mother is well again. My mother is well again. My mother is well again."

My left limb could not swing and I could not step on my foot. I had such bearing down pains I could go through me that I thought I could not stand it. My mother got me a bottle of your medicine and told me to try it. I took six bottles and now, thanks to your wonderful medicine, I am well again. My mother is well again. My mother is well again. He entered the volunteer service in November, 1861, and served throughout the civil war, rising in the rank of captain. He was appointed a second lieutenant in the regular army July 28, 1866, reaching his majority April 24, 1893. He held a volunteer commission as colonel of the 10th United States infantry during the Spanish war.

Insurance Rates Advance.
The New York insurance officials have ordered an advance in rates ranging all the way from 50 to 100 per cent. The increase in rates during the last twelve months has been so unprecedentedly large that the companies not only have been unable to draw profit but their surplus. Of course the advance must be a heavy burden to property owners and tenants, but if this precedent had not been taken it would be only be a question of time before so many of the companies would have to go to the wall.

Leaves Society For Charity.

Miss Lillian Dunham, a handsome young society woman of New York, has abandoned the scene of gaudy with which she has long been identified, and will hereafter devote her energies to charitable work among the transient children of the metropolis. She has taken a big cottage at St. James, L. I., where during the warm weather she will give the merriest sort of hospitable parties to the little tots whose lives know no little happiness. Miss Dunham is the daughter of James H. Dunham, the millionaire dry goods merchant. Until she was 18 years old she lived in an atmosphere of wealth and luxury. Then she went to a quiet little town in Germany to complete her education. It was there that the change which made her decide to devote her life to doing good rather than to the gayeties of society took place. Upon her return to this country she informed her father that she disliked society and intended living for some time in the United States. She was interested in German church kindergarten, where she teaches poor children. Thirty of these visited her lately.

Wearing Sandals in London.

The women of London have taken to the Grecian and Roman sandals this year and at the watering places the most fashionable dames and misses are wearing them. "It is children who wear them principally," a maker of these sandals acknowledged, "children and young people. Women have them mostly for indoor wear, but the children's sandals are for general use, and it is astonishing how frantically they trade has grown during the last few years. Personally I have an idea this sandal-wearing is more of a passing fancy than a permanent institution. You see, this climate is so changeable it might rain at any moment, and the child's feet get very wet, and if in the summer it is not wet it is usually extremely dusty, and the dust gets through the stockings to the feet and is very uncomfortable, especially as

Bavaria's Royal Family.
The forthcoming wedding of Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria to the Duchess Marie Gabriel, daughter of Duke Charles Theodore, brings to notice the strange career of the royal family of Bavaria. Their first man, Prince Ludwig of Bavaria, and second, his grand-nephew, who has reigned over Bavaria the last fourteen years in place of the mad King Otto, who is 'the third man' in the way, who was imprisoned in Fürstentum castle, is not only mad, but of recent years of cruel internal disease has had his grip on him. He came into the world with a sad heritage. His grand-

International conference have nowadays become the passport for curing the world. The Hague conference was designed to bring eternal peace, but war is all quarters followed. Now comes the German paper who has just returned from central Africa, reports that the killing is merely continued. Now comes the German paper with a new conference. They want an international regulation of the export business in arms. It gives the hope to know that German Messers have been instrumental in killing the Kaiser's army in the East.

A Helpless Child.

A Little Mother's Cried of a Terrible Nervous Disease Has Been Practically Cured by Her Baby's Taking the Kennedy that Saved Her.
From the Frederick, Arkansas City.
Kennedy's Kidney Pills cured a terrible disease among many lives, it is only in recent years that a remedy has been discovered for some of the most cruel and agonizing ailments that afflict children—St. Vitus' Dance.

This ailment is a peculiar disease that causes the child to become so irritable and restless that the disposition of so many children can be satisfactorily treated by the use of Kennedy's Kidney Pills. It is the interesting story told by Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Armstrong, of Arkansas City, Kan.

My youngest daughter was for three years afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance, and we were despairing of finding relief in medical treatment. She was so irritable that she had no sleep, and she was so nervous that she was unable to take any food. I had heard and read great deal about Kennedy's Kidney Pills for Pale People, and I determined to try them. I had no other recourse. I bought a box of Kennedy's Kidney Pills for Pale People, and I gave my daughter two pills three times a day. She took them with the greatest ease, and she was cured in less than a month. She is now as healthy and happy as ever.

The stuporous Alibates are built in Texas and Colorado holding a grand child protectively in his bosom while in his right hand he holds a drawn sword. The pedestal of the statue to be of Vermont granite. The movement to erect the statue originated with Mrs. C. H. Lyles of St. Paul, Minn., who is president of the monument association.

Bavaria's Royal Family.
The forthcoming wedding of Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria to the Duchess Marie Gabriel, daughter of Duke Charles Theodore, brings to notice the strange career of the royal family of Bavaria. Their first man, Prince Ludwig of Bavaria, and second, his grand-nephew, who has reigned over Bavaria the last fourteen years in place of the mad King Otto, who is 'the third man' in the way, who was imprisoned in Fürstentum castle, is not only mad, but of recent years of cruel internal disease has had his grip on him. He came into the world with a sad heritage. His grand-

A little girl on Madison street had just finished a new house dress, called in one of her friends to assist in its customary wear among girls of a larger growth.

By way of explanation to her friend she pointed out that the waistband had been buttoned wrong. "Here, come and see, so that the skirt might be let down." "What on earth is that?" asked her friend.

MISS LILLIAN DUNHAM HAS ABANDONED SOCIETY LIFE AND GONE TO TOP ANCHOR, THE FOREN OF THE TENDERMEN DISTRICT.

The Great Transgression.
I was terribly shocked to have seen Geraldine, my betrothed, with what appeared to be a toothpick in her mouth. "Perhaps," I muttered, hoping against hope, "it was only a crumb of bread."

It was the best society, of course, which Geraldine and I were members of.

Two men were talking in low tones amid the gloomy display of a West Side undertaker's shop, says the New York Sun. One of them was leaning with his hand against the black paneling of the wall, his eyes fixed on a picture of the dead.

"That's the latest triumph of the mortuary art—the soft casket," said the undertaker.

It looked very beautiful and very like a sofa. Its width was generous, and near the head rose up, with sweeping curve, the undertaker paused for a moment and gazed at it with pride.

"Whenever I look at that I think of a funeral I saw at Manhattan, Minn. '92. There was a beautiful young lady living there, and invitations were sent for a big pink tea to celebrate her birthday."

The soft-casket was certainly a thing of beauty. It was covered with pink plush, full of lights and shadows, and was lined with delicate pink satin, elaborately shirred and trimmed with lace.

The room was decorated with pink flowers, and the white horses that drew the hearse had on pink rosettes and streamers.
