President Reveals Probe Of Grains Gambling

Housing Shortage Probe Under Way

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A House labor subcommittee set out Thursday to learn how much of the national housing shortage may be blamed on restrictive practices by building trades unions and the construction industry.

Chairman Gwinn (R-NY) said his group would concentrate on government officials at Thursday's first hearing, "to find out what the government knows about this problem."

"We want to know whether the government is going to restore freedom to the housing industry," he told reporters. "It is our belief that a lack of free exchange of labor and materials is the cause of the present shortage."

The first scheduled witness was Raymond Foley, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Administration, followed by Professor Corwin D. Edwards of Northwestern University, formerly a Justice Department attorney.

The hearings here will last two days, Gwinn said. The committee will then visit principal cities across the country to study building conditions.

Will Cover 10 Unions
"We are not announcing where we will go or when," Gwinn said, "because we sometimes find that we cannot get the information we want if our schedule is known in advance. We will go only to cities where we are wanted, and where city officials are ready to help us out."

The investigation will cover the operations of 10 major unions, Gwinn said. These are carpenters, electricians, painters, bricklayers and masons, plasterers and lathers, plumbers, glaziers, hod carriers and laborers, engineers, and steel and iron workers.

Just before his address, CIO President Philip Murray unveiled a replica of the memorial plaque to the late President Roosevelt which is to be set in the CIO Memorial Children's Wing of the Georgetown University Hospital in Washington.

The former President's son appeared before the convention the day after a demonstration of overwhelming support on the part of the CIO for Secretary of State Marshall and the American foreign policy.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Justice of the Peace E. Wood Thursday ruled that Samuel Butler of Denver, brother of the late marine general, Smedley Butler, was killed by Frank Dwyer, his former associate in a refining company.

Justice Wood also held that Dwyer, who was found shot to death along with Butler near here Wednesday, died from wounds "probably self-inflicted."

A revolver was found near Dwyer's body and Butler's body was several feet from Dwyer's.

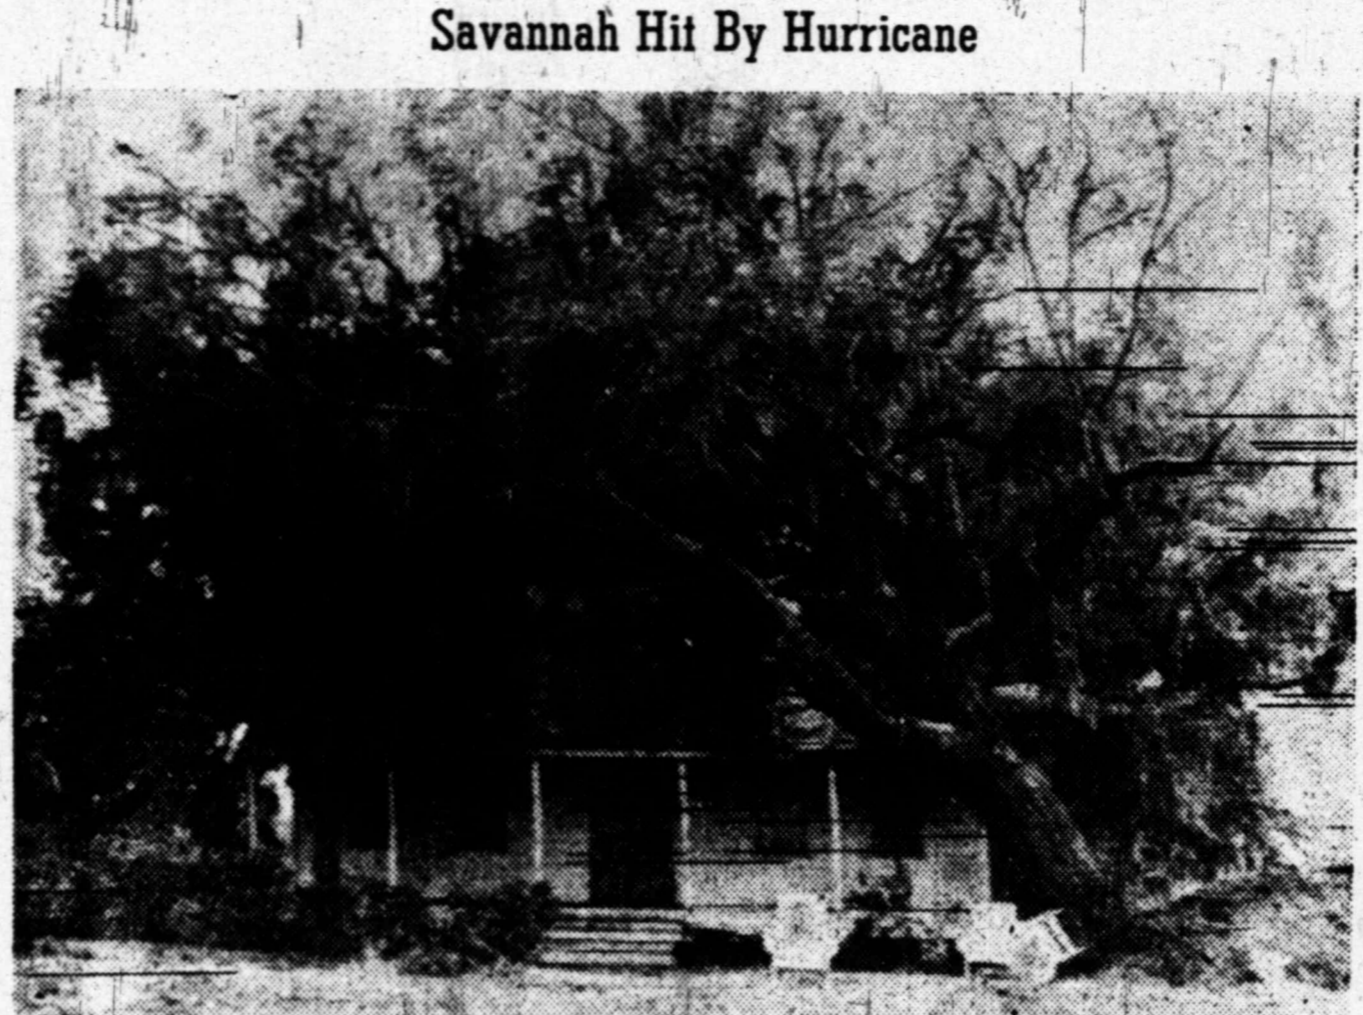

Justice Wood's coroner's verdict read in the case of Butler: "Deceased came to his death from pistol shots inflicted by Frank Dwyer." In the case of Dwyer, Wood said: "The court finds from evidence surrounding the body that the deceased came to his death from pistol shots, probably self-inflicted."

Funeral arrangements had not been completed for the two men but it was indicated Butler's body would be sent to Pennsylvania.

EARTHQUAKE RECORDED
NEW YORK—(AP)—A "very severe" earthquake, about 3,300 miles north-west of here and probably in the Gulf of Alaska, was recorded Wednesday night by seismographs here and at Weston, Mass.

Skippy's In The Game, Too
Patriotically complying with President Truman's food conservation program, Skippy, a stray pooch who has taken up residence in Washington's Model Home doghouse, enjoys a meal in accordance with poultryless Thursday. On Tuesdays he'll have to do without those delicious bones stockpiled at left. Gary Reeves, on roof, and his brother Glenn are on hand to make sure Skippy plays fair.

Texas Realtors' President Will Speak In Midland

M. A. Rowe of Houston, president of the Texas Real Estate Association, will address members of the Midland Real Estate Board and their guests at a dinner-meeting at 6:30 p. m. Thursday in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel.

Barney G. Grafs, president of the Midland board, announced.

The state president will discuss current conditions and problems and will outline the association's program for the year. He will be accompanied in foreign trade. He was for a number of years the youngest captain of sea freighters.

He is a former director, treasurer, vice president and president of the Houston Real Estate Board. Rowe now is a director of the National Real Estate Association and is a member of the Realtors' Enlarged Washington Committee.

Beer-Bread Saving Plan Still Pending

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman said Thursday Attorney General Clark is investigating gambling in grains and fibers on commodity exchanges.

Truman spoke out against gambling in commodities at a news conference, during which he attributed much of increased food costs to such speculation.

He also said that he thinks the Food Conservation Program is showing signs of success.

The President saw no immediate need for the return to food rationing and other such controls. He called them police-state methods usable only in extreme emergencies.

In a stern manner, Truman said there is a tremendous amount of gambling on the commodity exchanges.

He said the wheat crop had been traded in eight or nine times on the Chicago Board of Trade alone.

Questioned by reporters as to whether government purchases for foreign relief are largely responsible for prevailing high prices, the President said while this buying has had some effect, it is not considerable.

In response to another question, the President said Clark took up the exchanges investigation on his own initiative. Asked if the investigation also includes meat, he said meat isn't traded on the commodity exchanges.

Agreement Sought
Asked if a grand jury in Chicago already is investigating the meat packers, the President said yes.

Truman's aides' Food Committee went ahead Thursday seeking final food-saving agreements with the nation's bakers and brewers.

Chairman Charles Luckman planned conferences with both groups in the hope of working out ways for the bakers to save 3,000,000 bushels of grain a month and the brewers an amount described only as "substantial."

Representatives of the two industries held long talks with Luckman and his aides Wednesday, and an agreement with the bakers had been expected that night.

Poultry Stocks Revealed
It was not forthcoming, but Luckman denied there was any disagreement. He said only that some "specific details" remained to be worked out.

On the eve of the second "poultryless, eggless Thursday" the Agriculture Department disclosed that cold storage poultry stocks have reached a new high for this time of year.

The department said supplies on October 1 were 206,000,000 pounds, an increase of 23,000,000 pounds in a month and 18,000,000 higher than the previous record for the same date. Stocks have been higher at other times of the year in the past, but they are normally down in the Fall.

The report was regarded as certain to touch off a new argument over the advisability of asking the American people to cut down on poultry one day a week, possibly coming to a head next Monday.

On that day, poultry producers and grain and feed dealers will meet with the committee for further discussions of their part in the drive to save 100,000,000 bushels of grain for Europe.

Automatic Pistol Is Found Near Highway
Sheriff Ed Darnell sent a .45 automatic Colt "National Match" pistol to Austin Wednesday for ballistics tests after the gun was found by a Texas Electric Company high line crew near Highway 80 just east of the city limits.

Special Session Possible

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman said Thursday there still is a possibility he will call a special session of Congress to deal with Europe's financial plight.

The President told his news conference no decision has been made and that the administration is still continuing its search for funds for stop-gap aid to Western Europe.

The questions to Truman were prompted by published reports that officials see fair prospects that emergency help for Europe can be supplied without a special session.

Truman said administration financial officials have had considerable success in their efforts to develop stop-gap aid.

He cited Wednesday's authorization for the Army to buy $50,000,000 of French francs.

Cites Bank Efforts
This transaction will put needed dollars in the hands of the French. The Army will use the francs to pay for services the French have given the American troops.

Truman also cited efforts by the Export-Import Bank to transfer construction loans for France to a fund which can be used in food and fuel purchases.

The financial agencies are still making other efforts to locate funds he said.

"Is there still a possibility of an extra session call?" a reporter inquired.

The President said, "of course."

Basic Food Items Continue Advances
By The Associated Press
New price boosts in many basic food items in the nation's retail stores appeared on the way Thursday as the trend of prices on most of the country's commodity markets continued upward.

Cash wheat in Chicago sold for $3.06 a bushel, the highest price in 27 years, and in Kansas City $3.25 a bushel for No. 2 hard wheat was the top price in 30 years.

Other advances on the wholesale markets, indicating higher prices may follow in stores, were recorded in corn, rye, flour, cotton, cattle, hogs, coffee, cocoa and rubber. Lower prices were shown in lard, butter, lamb and oats.

Two Leaders Control AFL
SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—A Bronx plumber and a Boston coal wagon driver emerged Thursday as the undisputed bosses of the American Federation of Labor Convention.

Control of the convention for George Meany of the Plumbers and Daniel J. Tobin of the Teamsters carried with it virtual control of the 15-man policy-making executive council which will run the AFL's affairs from now until next Fall, when the federation meets again.

Together Meany and Tobin overwhelmed John L. Lewis and William L. Hutchison with their votes. While Lewis created the fireworks with his effort to block what he called "dehydration" of the executive council, it was Hutchison who suffered most. He and his carpenters have wielded the big stick in the federation since 1915.

The man was held in the Bexar County jail on a lunacy charge.

TEXARKANA—A challenge of the constitutionality of the Texas Minimum Salary Law was shaping up Thursday with H. W. Stillwell, Texarkana school superintendent, a leader in the plan.

Rome Elections Setback To Reds

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The Red drive to communicate the harassed governments of Italy and France—the next major objective in the Bolshevik conquest of Europe—has come a sensational cropper in the Rome municipal elections, which show a loss of Communist strength and a gain for the Democratic Right.
The broad significance of this is that the voting in the capital is supposed to reflect the political complexion of the rest of the country. That being so, Premier Alcide de Gasperi is entitled to take courage in his uphill battle to hold the fort for democracy under highly complicated circumstances.
Meanwhile in France the Bolsheviks are resorting to strong-arm methods almost on the eve of important municipal elections which are to be held throughout the country. The Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor has precipitated a strike of 3,600 subway and bus operators in the capital, threatening to paralyze Paris and affect some 4,000,000 people there.
Strikes Are Red Weapon
Premier Paul Ramadier summed the thing up in the declaration that the whole position "is shaping up like a political intrigue." He intimated that the strikers were trying to "create difficulties for the republic."
Ramadier could have been more forthright if he wished, because strikes and turmoil are favorite "political" weapons of Communism. Similar tactics have been under way in Italy for months. We see it in Chile, where officialdom charges the Reds with precipitating the serious strike in the coal mines in an effort to cause the downfall of the government. Of course all is lost once a government is dominated by the Reds for, as we have seen in Eastern Europe, there immediately follows suppression of opponents and the passage of measures abolishing personal liberty and inaugurating police rule.

Ann York To Testify In Ross Murder Trial

LA GRANGE—P.—The prosecution's star witness, a 13-year-old schoolgirl, comes to the stand here Thursday in the trial of Dr. Lloyd I. Ross, Harvard-trained San Antonio surgeon charged with murder in the ambush slayings of four people who were once his friends.
The witness is Ann York, lone survivor of a hail of rifle fire that killed her father, mother, brother and grandmother last May 25.
The trial here opened Monday, but it was not until Wednesday that the twelfth juror became qualified.
He was Eldor E. Zoch, 35, the one hundred and ninth man examined of two jury panels.

Yanks Intercept Important 'Wire' Before Delivery

Some smart Japs had a nice postwar nest-egg until First Cavalry Division troops literally did him dirt by unearthing his hidden hoard of 32 tons of pure silver wire near their camp on the outskirts of Tokyo. The silver in the handy coils seen piled at left, is valued at approximately $2,000,000 and is now safe in vaults under U. S. guard.

Australian Premier Rejects Pay Raise

CANBERRA—Australia's dour Labor Prime Minister Joseph B. Chifley has refused a sizeable increase in salary, because, he said, "my needs are simple." He asked the Parliamentary Labor Party to drop a proposal that his salary should be raised to approximately $16,200 a year, adding the extra money "would only embarrass me." The prime minister at present receives about $14,580 a year—the exact amount is not disclosed. Pointing up his "simple needs," Chifley marked his 62nd birthday a few days later with a typical 12-hour working day. He was up at 6 a. m. at the prime minister's residence, The Lodge, and made his own cup of tea.

He was first in line in the Parliament House barber shop for a haircut, was in his office at 8:45 a. m. and settled down to his mail. One of the first letters Chifley saw that day was formal advice from the Australian Federated Union of Locomotive Engineers "that he had been made a life member of the union in acknowledgment of 'splendid services during many years of active association.'" Chifley was a locomotive engineer before he entered politics. Only recently he moved his Canberra living quarters from a simple hotel room to The Lodge. Mrs. Chifley mostly has remained in the country town, Bathurst, living in the small cottage they bought when Chifley was an engine-driver.

Swiss Check Moves Of German Students

HAMBURG—Because 12 German university students have failed to return from officially sponsored visits to Switzerland, a specially strict check is in future to be made on students going abroad, the Swiss consulate here said. In some cases the "absent" students had sent their British Military Government exit permits back asking for an extension of time but military government officials said such extensions could not be granted. There is also some uncertainty about the movements of another 20 students who visited private persons in Switzerland. The extra precautions now being taken by both British and Swiss authorities recently delayed a party of 38 Hamburg students going to help Switzerland.

Super-Salesman Luckman Faces His Biggest Sales Job—Conserving Food

By MARC J. PARSONS
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—When Charles Luckman was 16, his class at a Kansas City, Mo., high school voted him "most likely to succeed."

Today, 39 millions of American housewives and their husbands hope he can succeed. If he does, he may be able to do something about soaring food prices. At the moment, he and his new Citizens Food Committee seem to be the last hope against mounting inflation.

For Luckman it will be the biggest selling job in a career of selling that began when, at 26, into the general sales management of Popcorn Co., and at 37 to the presidency of Lever Brothers, where he is selling more than $200,000,000 worth of soap products every year.

Luckman, who usually plans each step with meticulous care, became a soap salesman quite by accident. He studied to be an architect, even served the required two-year apprenticeship before going to the University of Illinois so that he would be all ready to go to work upon graduation. He graduated top man in his class and the only one with a state architect's license ready when he graduated. The depression blocked him; no one needed an architect.

He took a "temporary" job as a draftsman in the advertising department of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co. in Chicago. When salesmen criticized his first work, a sales portfolio, he took it into Chicago's toughest selling district and sold soap by using it. Less than a month later he was transferred to the selling department.

He quickly rose to Chicago sales supervisor at 23; to Wisconsin district sales manager at 24; to divisional manager of Colgate's biggest district, covering six midwestern states, at 25. A year later Popcorn hired him to put their sales program on a sound basis. He was 34 when he became president of Popcorn, 35 when Lever Brothers took over the company, 36 when he became executive vice president of Lever Brothers and 37 when he hit the top.

Won Place On Sales Record
Luckman was fulfilling a little behind his schedule of a promotion a year when President Truman named him chairman of the newly created Citizens Food Committee and opened completely new vistas to the "jet-propelled wonder boy" of U. S. business.

There is no indication that Luckman was picked for the job because he is a Missourian; he was born in Kansas City. His sales record, his sales record made him the top salesman to sell American soap on a program of "wonder sales."

But there is more in Luckman's record than just selling. Of late he has begun to poke a probing finger at the consciences of both Big Business and Labor.

He has charged "American Business" has "earned" the reputation of being "identified in the public mind as opposed to everything that spells greater security, well-being, or peace of mind for the little guy."

Turning on Labor, he charged them with failing to practice what they preach, with failing to grant their own 110,000 employees the general wage increases they urged on business as the price of industrial peace, of failing to provide their own employees with health, accident and disability benefits they demanded for their members.

"This country," says Luckman, "does not belong to Labor. It does not belong to Management. It belongs to the people. They have not offered it to us for a private battleground."

Luckman's solution to better business-labor relations is a training program for future Labor and management leaders.

"Let Labor nominate 500 of its promising young leaders; let Management nominate 500 of its promising young leaders. Let these 1000 young men and women spend one year in college together, studying the most enlightened methods for making our economy produce a higher standard of living for all."

He offered $100,000 towards the $1,000,000 he expected such a program to cost each year.

Charles Luckman: A promotion a year.

Legislature Passes Law To Protect Sharks
SACRAMENTO—(AP)—For the soupin shark, World War II ended officially on September 19, 1947—or did it?

Anyway, things should be easier for him in the shallow waters along the California coast where he has been having more and more trouble growing up.

It's like this. A soupin shark has two big worries about people:

(1) That they'll catch him for his fins, which contain gelatine prized by Chinese for making soup.

(2) That they'll get him for his liver, rich in vitamin A.

Fair Game In Deep Sea
During World War II there was such a demand for this vitamin (for better vision) that mature sharks brought up to $50. Even immature sharks were caught, despite studies showing that livers from young sharks were so low in vitamin content as to be not worth taking.

Anyway, the state Bureau of Fisheries figured the species was menaced, and got the legislature to pass a law making it illegal to take soupin sharks in less than 150 feet of water.

That went into effect September 19—end of war.

In deep water, however, a soupin shark still is fair game.

AMAG Plans Training For Greek Workers
ATHENS, GREECE—(AP)—With hopes of augmenting the nation's supply of skilled and semi-skilled workers, the American Mission for Aid to Greece is collaborating with the Ministry of National Economy and representatives of educational, industrial and labor groups to establish a vocational educational program.

Dwight G. Griswold, AMAG chief, says. Special attention is being given to the formation of an emergency phase to absorb some of the 15,000 excess civil servants slated for release from government jobs beginning now and the first of the year, he says.

The program will provide also for part-time workers, and the rehabilitation of general, long-term unemployed men; the few existing vocational schools as a basis.

The Egyptians had an engine to control as early as 300 B. C. It was a moderate sized box, with a pumping device for raising water and expelling it through a nozzle.

Luckman gets up at 5:30 each morning, works at home before breakfast, at his office from then until night and most night and weekends at home until midnight or after. To keep up the pace, he spends six weeks a year working on his ranch in the Laguna mountains in California; that's his relaxation.

He believes in testing his own selling methods at the housewives' doorsteps, asking them personally about their soap problems. If he carries this over into the new Food Committee, some women may have a chance to tell Mr. Chairman face-to-face what they think of high prices.

There have been several hints that Luckman may be looking towards politics as his next step upward. He has no comment, and his associates say he is interested only in getting today's job done right. But Luckman always has been a man to look ahead for opportunities.

AMAG Plans Training For Greek Workers

ATHENS, GREECE—(AP)—With hopes of augmenting the nation's supply of skilled and semi-skilled workers, the American Mission for Aid to Greece is collaborating with the Ministry of National Economy and representatives of educational, industrial and labor groups to establish a vocational educational program.

Dwight G. Griswold, AMAG chief, says. Special attention is being given to the formation of an emergency phase to absorb some of the 15,000 excess civil servants slated for release from government jobs beginning now and the first of the year, he says.

The program will provide also for part-time workers, and the rehabilitation of general, long-term unemployed men; the few existing vocational schools as a basis.

The Egyptians had an engine to control as early as 300 B. C. It was a moderate sized box, with a pumping device for raising water and expelling it through a nozzle.

Luckman gets up at 5:30 each morning, works at home before breakfast, at his office from then until night and most night and weekends at home until midnight or after. To keep up the pace, he spends six weeks a year working on his ranch in the Laguna mountains in California; that's his relaxation.

He believes in testing his own selling methods at the housewives' doorsteps, asking them personally about their soap problems. If he carries this over into the new Food Committee, some women may have a chance to tell Mr. Chairman face-to-face what they think of high prices.

There have been several hints that Luckman may be looking towards politics as his next step upward. He has no comment, and his associates say he is interested only in getting today's job done right. But Luckman always has been a man to look ahead for opportunities.

Fossil Dragonflies Are Super Giants

MOSCOW—(AP)—Dragonflies with wingspreads of over one meter once lived in the Ural mountain regions of the U.S.S.R.
 An announcement from the Moscow Orjankidze Geographical Prospecting Institute said fossils of the giant insects have been brought back to the capital after a recent discovery.
 A statement said these finds resemble dragonflies and were discovered in the Permian strata on the Vishera River. Hitherto, it was stated, fossilized insects of this type—but with a wing span of only 80 centimeters—had been found only in the coal strata in Commentry, France, and it was believed that they were extant only in the carboniferous period, i.e., 335 million years ago.
 The present find, it was stated, proves they existed also much later, about 110 to 120 million years ago.

YOUTHFUL COPS AND ROBBERS ARE REALISTIC

CHICO, CALIF.—(AP)—Three boys, 11 to 13, played cops and robbers almost daily for two months—then Police Chief Jim Evans discovered they were using real guns. Sometimes loaded, too, and occasionally fired, although no one was hurt.

Alice Faye Plans To Return To Screen

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Alice Faye, who was the queen of 20th-Fox musicals for a decade, wants to make another picture.
 Since her return to the screen in the maddeningly successful "Fallen Angel" two years ago, Alice has been content to devote her talents to her family and her air show with Phil Harris. Although she has turned down "Sitting Pretty" as well as other scripts, she has told her studio she wants to work again. Alice and Phil have agreed that she should return at her best, which means in a color musical. She would like to be with the old troupe of Ty Power, Don Ameche and Jack Oakie. That's a combination that would set the marquee humming again.

If you're planning a gay Hallowe'en party for the small fry, let your refreshment table set the party pace with cheerful informal decorations. These, you can make yourself.

In the setting pictured above, black paper cats used for the decorative motif are easy to duplicate. To make a centerpiece of shaggy pussy cats, use three 12-inch strips of black crepe paper, five inches wide, each folded into eight, thicknesses. Slash strips into coarse fringe and tie two of them with wires to fashion pouppous that form head and body. Third strip makes the tail. Face features are cut from colored paper and pasted on. Big bows of orange satin ribbon tie around their necks.

Cat silhouettes, cut from stiff black paper make the candleholders, nut-cups and placecards. White chalk outlines gleaming teeth, snowy whiskers and eye-brows. Orange crepe paper streamers form colorful borders for a white cloth. As a final festive touch, flatter your young guests by setting the table with your nicest silver, polished to gleam in the candlelight.

Northwest Asks For Slot Machines Again
ST. PAUL, MINN.—The old wild and woolly Northwest Territory, where "bars and injuns" once made life perilous, is so tame nowadays a man can't risk his nickel in a slot machine.

A spreading crackdown on gambling in half a dozen Midwest and North Central states is a chief congressional topic this way and a matter of deep concern to many social organizations. They have no quarrel with the abolition of dice and card games, but many are worried over enforcement of the ban against that great American booby, trap—the slot machine.

"Who'll pay the rent if we don't get the slot machines back?" is the cry.

It is a real problem. In many small country clubs, fraternal clubs, and war veterans clubs the whirring "one-armed bandits" have been a basic source of revenue. They are tremendously popular with both men and women.

"Our members would kick a steer against paying a dollar a week in dues," said one lodge official, "but they don't mind dropping $5 every Saturday night on the slot machines."

Spain Revives Pomp Of Ancient Royalty With Duchess' Wedding

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Nero immortalized his name by fiddling while Rome burned.

Last Sunday, the Spanish Duke of Alba, who is possessed of vast riches and has more titles than any other person outside the royal families of Europe, gave his daughter, the Duchess of Montoro, in marriage to the fourth son of the Duke of Sotomayor in Old Sevilla. It was an event whose magnificence hasn't been equalled since the palmy days of the Spanish Monarchy.

There were 2,000 guests. The bride's wedding gown reportedly cost about $10,000 and she wore jewels estimated to be worth $1,000,000. The duke is said to have allocated $370,000 for the wedding festivities. Four hundred waiters served $70,000 worth of food, and the elect ate from the Ducal gold and silver service. About $1,000 worth of lobsters and shellfish were served for one course. The duke also gave $4,000 to the poor of Sevilla and made a multitude of other gifts.

This runs the glittering tale of pomp and splendor in the darkness of a Europe which in many places is suffering hunger and cold and other privation—a Europe which is fighting against the servitude of a totalitarianism that thrives on chaos and propaganda against people of great wealth.

Spain, of course, is rather on the outskirts of the great economic crisis but the poor she always has with her in large numbers.

UN Workers Willingly Heed 'One-Slice' Order

Members of foreign staffs at UN headquarters, Lake Success, N. Y., willingly adhere to President Truman's "waste less" order, for many of them know they will be helping the folks back home. Here, Flora Brown, secretary for the Indian delegation, stops to read the new signs, in French and English, posted in the cafeteria requesting patrons to take only one slice of bread and one piece of butter.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

The boys in St. Paul, Minn., believe in getting a head start on the promotion of their annual tournament. The dates of Jan. 30 to Feb. 2, 1948, have been established for this event, which will be conducted in conjunction with the St. Paul Winter Carnival. I now that quite a number of the tournament players will make the trip to this tournament, as those of us who went out there last winter were surprised both by the large attendance and the fine caliber of bridge.

When Peter Levstrik and I played in St. Paul, South elected to open the bidding with a diamond rather than the four-card spade suit. North was a little contravertive with his bid of one heart, but I imagine his surprise when his partner bid two no trump. That bid was rather optimistic, but

North could not be criticized for his jump to six no trump. As a matter of fact, some players might have responded with seven no trump. The opening lead was won by declarer with the jack of clubs. The ten of hearts was played, West refused to cover and East won the trick with the queen. Any return except a heart would have made the play of the hand simple for the declarer. But a heart was returned and won in dummy, then declarer ran all of the hearts and all of the clubs. On the last club East was squeezed. He either had to discard down to the king of diamonds or discard one of his spades.

Teletronix To Bring Added Benefits To Communications Field

Midland (NEA)—A newly established laboratory in this field of research and experiment that should bring benefits to American readers and their readers through the application of electronic principles to all phases of work in the newspaper and communications field. Electronics will mean faster transmission of newspapers to newspapers with higher quality of reproduction. By simplifying present complicated processes it should enable papers to print newspapers in full color, on the same day they are taken. It should permit transmission of color pictures with the same speed that Telephoto now sends pictures by wire across the country. Acme Teletronix will apply electronic processes to engraving, printing and other types of reproduction in the publishing industry, in the belief that greatly improved results can be obtained. It plans extensive experimental work in Telephoto, television, facsimile and other pictorial communications.

Acme Teletronix will take over and expand production of Telephoto Trans-receivers and portable Telephoto machines for newspaper use. These machines will also be adapted to commercial and industrial needs. The laboratory is part of its experimental radio station in Cleveland. It is producing an improved model of the Acme Telephoto Trans-receiver, as well as a number of other new products. Results of the station's experimental and research work will be made available to all industries, and to the newspaper and communications field specifically.

Beans Spark A Low-Cost Buffet

Fresh Irish linen, brown bean pots, and rich dark green of a real Savoy cabbage make a cheerful scheme for a hearty buffet.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA-Staff Writer

For a beauty buffet after the football game or for the bridge club at night, here's a way to entertain well for less.

Use a rich peach Irish linen tablecloth in a plain weave to make a pleasing color combination with brown glazed bean pots and a real Savoy cabbage filled with cole slaw for a centerpiece. Use a cabbage with perfect outer leaves. Curl them back carefully and set the pot hard center. Insert a plain glass bowl inside the curling, crinkled dark green leaves; cover with a damp towel until dinner time; then heap with slaw.

Boston Baked Beans (Fast Method)
(Serves 12)

Four cups dry navy beans, 1 1/2 pound salt pork, 1 cup molasses, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon onion salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 3 cups boiling water (from simmered beans).

Wash beans, pick over and soak for 3 hours in boiling water to cover. Cover, bring to boil in same water (to preserve minerals and vitamins) adding extra water if needed to cover well; skim; cook slowly until tender—about 50 minutes.

Drain beans, reserving cooking water. Turn beans into bean pot or 3-quart casserole. Scrape rind of pork until white, score top by cutting down about 1 inch, and bury in beans with rind exposed. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over. Cover; bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 3 1/2 hours or until tender, uncovering during last hour of baking. If necessary, add more water during baking.

Boston Brown Bread
One teaspoon salt, 1 cup bread flour, 2 teaspoons soda, 1 cup corn meal, 1 cup whole wheat flour, 3/4 cup molasses, 2 cups sour milk or buttermilk, 1 cup raisins or nuts (if desired).

Sift flour, soda and salt. Mix with corn meal and whole wheat flour. Mix molasses with sour milk; add dry ingredients. Beat well. If desired, add raisins or nuts. Steam 2 hours in greased pot is filled two-thirds full and covered tightly.

Students Seek Job 'To Work As Cadaver'

BERKELEY, CALIF.—(AP)—Just for fun, Student Ellis Byer inserted this ad in the University of California daily:

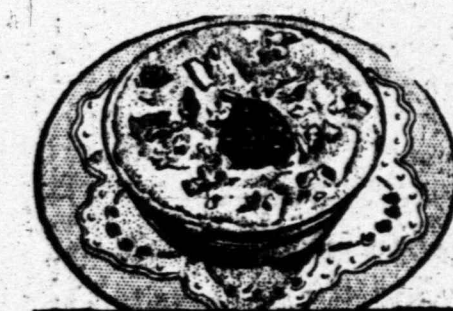

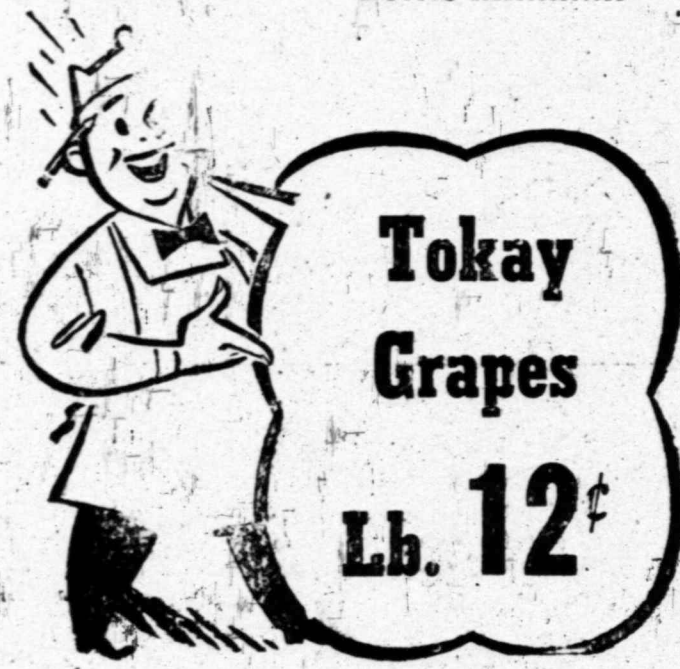

"Wanted: Freshman with light schedule, to work as a cadaver. No previous experience necessary. Two dollars per hour. A lot of applicants, he reported, answered just for fun, too, with stories like: 'My other employers always disliked the fact that I was dead.'"

But it was surprising, he added, how many seriously sought the job.

It is estimated that the Roman Catholic Church has almost 25,000 members in the United States and 50,000 priests.

BERKELEY, CALIF.—(AP)—Theater Manager William E. O'Neill tried to usher out a dog that had followed his young master in. Bitten promptly on the right leg, the dog was lassoed.

Poles Take Over Szczecin Region

SZCZECIN, POLAND—(AP)—The government has announced that the entire administration of the port of Szczecin now is being handed over by the Russians to the Poles.

Since the Nazis fled from Poland in 1945, much of the port has been Russian-controlled, but the Poles now say only a small strip is still held by the Soviets for shipments between their country and their occupied zone in Germany.

Eleven percent of U. S. farms had electricity in 1935, but 37 percent were electrified in 1943.

Swim Star, 4, Steals Show At Carnival

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—(AP)—A four-year-old girl stole the show of swimming experts in this area. Frances Roller took to the water at the age of three and learned to swim in a few short lessons from her father, a school teacher and swimming pool operator.

This summer she spent hours jumping, diving and perfecting her strokes. She stole the show at a water carnival at the pool.

Then at another carnival at the Tennessee Valley Authority's Lake Chickamauga she was to put on a big swimming act but the arena was too large and she was put on an equiplane behind a speed boat.

Housewife's Price Crisis Is Strain On Married Love

Food facts of family life are explained to Wanda McConville (right) by Dr. Gertrude M. Borgeson, expert on marriage economics. Under pressure of rising food costs, big items such as the check of silver must be forgotten; small items, such as ice cream sodas, magazines, cigarettes, canny and nail polish, will be trimmed; even war bonds and family savings will suffer.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Wanda McConville, young American housewife, was not surprised when a New York educator told her that zooming food prices are putting a heavy strain on married love.

At Hunter College, Dr. Gertrude M. Borgeson, expert in the financial aspects of marriage, warned Mrs. McConville that one of the effects of uncontrolled food prices may be an increase in divorce.

"Such a large part of the family income must go for food, there is little left for normal recreation such as travel, entertainment, vacations. That's bad for morale," she added.

Wanda and her husband, who live in a small town outside Battle Creek, Mich., have been forced to cut out driving to the city for movies or to meet her old high school friends.

Difficult To Earn Living

"The idea may be shocking, but I'd prefer to see the family savings or the war bonds nicked a little for a pair of movie tickets now and then rather than banish the 'lift' every married couple must have occasionally; man cannot live on bread alone," Dr. Borgeson said.

Dr. Borgeson believes sex appeal has been played up abnormally in America; that the new economic forces that are sending food costs up to stay will cause a more realistic appraisal of what a man needs in a woman. "He will seek 'woman's services' in his wife," she explained.

It is becoming so difficult for a husband to earn enough to feed his family that more and more married women will be forced into business to bolster the family income. "I don't think that is a good trend," she warned.

During the summer Wanda took care of a neighbor's two children every day besides her own two boys. She was paid $16 a week. Now she earns $15 a month by watering and feeding a friend's horse kept in an old barn on their property. She once took a job in a dress shop. Her mother-in-law came to run the house. It didn't work. So she quit.

"I thought I could get a new washing machine and a new hat with that money," she said, "but it went for meat and eggs and milk instead. So I still use the old washer my mother gave me when we were married, and I'm not going to wear a hat. Most of the young married women I know say they can't buy a new hat either, and are going to go bareheaded like me."

Sociological Shock

As Mrs. McConville, NEA's representative American housewife, heads back to Iakeview, Mich., she admits her visit to New York to query the experts in the price picture has been a sociological shock. This young wife and mother, who typifies millions of other women in her way of life, learned:

1. That the high level of food prices is probably here to stay.
2. That a better standard of living for more families in the U. S. is one reason why she must pay more for her family's food.
3. That the threat of Communism in Western Europe makes it imperative for Americans to cut their food allowances in order to bolster foreign governments that favor our democratic system.
4. That she is not just a housewife in a small Michigan town, but a factor in the world-wide economic revolution.
5. That she can cut her food costs by at least 10 per cent, and at the same time strengthen our new foreign policy, by selective marketing, avoiding waste and by modern science of nutrition.
6. That her married happiness is threatened by the change in the American standard of living unless she faces the situation and does something about it.

Despite the shock, Wanda now knows where she and the rest of America's housewives fit into the confused picture of the world struggle for food.

PASTOR URGES THIEF TO PAY HIM VISIT

BRAY, ENGLAND (AP)—The Rev. E. S. C. Lowman, whose church collection box was pilfered repeatedly, put out a public statement asking the thief to come and have a talk with him.

"There is no sin so great that it is beyond forgiveness," he said.

South Africans Have Shortage Trouble, Too

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—Natives on the Rand, in South Africa, are eager buyers for a consignment of new "love herbs" which have just arrived from the United States.

They mix the herbs with powdered lizards' heads and claim that it is very effective. The concoction is used to make a man capable of holding the devotion of his wife so that he need not fear that she will run away while he is looking for a second wife.

Native medicine men are pleased with this addition to their stock-in-trade, but complain bitterly that there is a serious shortage of hippopotamus fat, used to keep "bad luck away." The black market price of hippo fat has risen 200 per cent to 50 cents an ounce.

POLES EXCAVATE WALLS OF ANCIENT SLAV FORT

SZCZECIN, POLAND (AP)—Poles claim to have found new proof that this former German port city of Stettin was once a Slav stronghold. Archaeologists recently excavated the walls of an ancient Slav fortress.

Soups Give Cheap Nourishment

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Soups with milk, vegetables and fat provide low-cost protein, vitamins and a sense of eating well. That "good eating" sense is important in menus restricted by the high cost of many familiar foods.

Here are two good soups from Fannie Encle's practical cookbook: Potato and Parsley Soup (Serves 4)

Three medium-sized potatoes, 3 cups boiling water, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon butter or other fat, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 cups fluid milk or equal parts evaporated milk and water, salt, pepper.

Wash, pare and dice potatoes; cook until tender in the water with the salt. Put potatoes through a ricer or sieve; save the water. Pan-fry onion in butter or other fat; stir in flour and blend well; add 2 cups potato water and stir until smooth. Add the potatoes, parsley and milk. Heat. Add salt and pepper to taste. Serve at once.

Corn Chowder (Serves 4-6)

One-half cup finely diced potatoes, 1/4 cup diced celery, 3 cups boiling water, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 tablespoons butter or other fat, 1 cup chopped fresh or canned corn, 1/4 cup tomato juice, salt, pepper, 1 cup evaporated milk.

Cook potatoes and celery in boiling water until tender. Do not strain. Fry onion in butter or other fat until yellow and add to potatoes and celery. Add corn, tomato juice and seasonings. Cook slowly 15 minutes. Add milk and bring to boiling point. (The tomato juice may be omitted.)
