End Of Racial Segregation 'Now' Proposed

Committee Report Hits Many Issues

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A committee appointed by President Truman proposed Wednesday that racial segregation be wiped out of American life "now."

Truman's Committee on Civil Rights, headed by President Charles E. Wilson of the General Electric Company, made 35 recommendations on explosive subjects in the whole civil rights field.

It urged enactment of federal anti-lynching, anti-poll tax, and fair employment practice laws — three issues which have torn Congress with bitter struggles.

It recommended that Congress and State Legislatures outlaw segregation and discrimination based on race, color, creed, or national origin, in such places as trains, buses, schools, hospitals, theaters, hotels, restaurants, the armed services, and private employment.

It proposed that states outlaw "restrictive covenants" by which property owners bind themselves not to sell or lease to "undesirables."

After receiving the report, Truman said in a statement that he planned to study it "with great care" and recommended that everyone else do the same.

He said he hopes the committee has given the country "as broad a document" as the Declaration of Independence, or, as he expressed it, "An American Charter of Human Freedom in Our Time."

The 15-member committee said the measures it proposed, and many others, are needed to bring the nation nearer to full realization of "the American way" of freedom and equality.

"We need to guarantee the same rights to every person, regardless of who he is, where he lives, or what his racial, religious or national origins are," the report said.

It declared "the time is now," for three reasons: moral, economic, and international.

Facilities Unequal

Concerning segregation—the separation of the country from other people—the committee said the "separate but equal" idea, as when a state has one school system for white persons and another for negroes, "is one of the outstanding myths of American history" because: "It is almost always true that while intended separate, these facilities are far from equal."

The committee criticized, without naming names, what it called "irresponsible opportunists who make it a practice to attack every person or group with whom they disagree as 'Communists.'"

South Repressed

The committee said "public excitement about 'Communists' has gone far beyond good judgment and calmness, and a state of near-hysteria now threatens to inhibit the freedom of genuine Democrats."

The 178-page report was made public by the White House.

President Truman set up the committee last December 5, to study how present laws and governmental agencies may be "strengthened and improved to safeguard the civil rights of the people."

In the group are two industrialists, two labor leaders, two college presidents, four church leaders, four lawyers, and the director of an educational fund.

Approve Russian Demands

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States agreed with Russia Wednesday that "elected representatives" of the Korean people should be heard in the United Nations Korean debate, but predicted adoption of a Soviet proposal on this question would only lead to new controversies.

U. S. Delegate John Foster Dulles proposed that such controversies be avoided by creating a temporary UN Commission on Korea to supervise election of representatives to take part in the discussions.

Dulles said the United States would accept the Soviet proposal if it were amended to provide for creation of the UN supervisory body.

Dulles offered his amendment after Belgian Delegate Victor Larock had accused Russia of "proceeding, which under the guise of benefiting the Korean people, is actually aimed at delaying the issue."

Would Delay Action

Larock said the Soviet proposal would delay action on Secretary of State Marshall's Korean proposal for at least a year. Marshall's proposal provides for national elections in Korea before next March 31 under UN supervision.

Andreï A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, laid the representation proposal before the Assembly's 57-nation Political Committee along with a demand that the UN order withdrawal of all American and Russian troops from Korea by January 1.

Colorado Mystery Now Being Probed

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO. — (AP) — El Paso County officers Wednesday investigated a six-year-old mystery, brought to light when a son accused his prosperous ranch father of shooting his mother and burying her remains in a farm shed.

Sheriff Ray Slocum said that held for investigation is Junia Wesley Vandervoort, 61, who steadily denies the shooting, maintaining her wife "just rushed off" early in 1941 and hasn't been heard from since.

Slocum said the son, Wesley, 21, after telling of the alleged shooting, directed authorities to the shed on the ranch southeast of here where they dug up most of a human skeleton, along with garter snaps, corset stays and other clothing fragments.

Son Tells Story

The son, who said he kept his silence under threat of death by his father, then broke it when he heard the rancher was maiming one of his three brothers, told this story, according to Slocum:

The elder Vandervoort, in a rage, shot his wife with a small rifle as she attempted to crawl under a fence to flee from him.

The father forced Wesley to help stuff the body in a wash boiler, which he buried in a dry arroyo three miles from the ranch home.

The father dug it up three nights later and threw the body in a pig pen. Finally he buried the remains in the dirt floor of the shed in a hole which he forced the son to dig.

Acquitted in Kansas

Coroner Henry M. Mele said the bones found in the shed were those of a woman but that the skull, hands and feet are missing. A search of the ranch area for those was slated Wednesday.

Vandervoort, a native of Bloomington, Ill., told police he had been acquitted in Wellington, Kas., in 1911 of a charge of murdering his first wife, Cora. He said he shot her accidentally, mistaking her for a burglar in the dark.

The council also deferred action on a school request for certain buildings at Midland Air Terminal until authority for releasing the buildings is determined. Councilmen assured the school representatives of their willingness to cooperate to the fullest extent.

Six Writers Now Voted In Contempt

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two more screen figures were cited for contempt by a House Un-American Activities subcommittee Wednesday, raising to six the number now facing this accusation.

The committee acted against Samuel Ornitz, a writer. Herbert Biberman, a producer and director.

Called as witnesses in the committee's Red-in-Hollywood investigation, these figures refused to answer questions. They took the same stand four writers had taken earlier—that the committee had no right to inquire into their affiliations or political beliefs.

The eighth day of the committee's hearings was launched with a statement from Chairman Thomas (R-N.J.) that it won't stop "until all the Communists in Hollywood are exposed," but immediately ran into difficulties.

Before calling screen writer Sam Ornitz as the first witness, Thomas read a prepared statement in which he referred to "powerful influences" he said "have sought in every manner to divert this committee from its main course of inquiry."

Illinois Victory Could Throw Big Nine Race Into Confusion

CHICAGO—(AP)—An Illinois victory over Michigan Saturday in a game rated as just about a toss-up would bring prospects of a three-way tie for the Big Nine crown and a headache for conference faculty men who must select a Rose Bowl representative.

Pending Saturday's outcome, Illinois, Michigan and Purdue—a team ranked at the bottom of the pile in preseason reckoning—could become shareholders of the championship without stretching the imagination too far.

One provision of the five-year contract signed by the Big Nine and Pacific Coast Conference last year prohibits Rose Bowl appearance of a league member more than once in three years, regardless if it is the champion. Illinois won the title last year and flattened UCLA 45-14 New Year's Day.

It was argued originally the provision might rob the Illini of some of their zest on the gridiron this fall, inasmuch as the Pasadena

Bulldogs Work In Scrimmage Drill

By TANNER LAINE

Preparing for the San Angelo game Friday night, the Midland Bulldogs engaged in a "full-treatment" scrimmage Tuesday afternoon.

It was an all-out affair under game conditions. The regulars were dressed in gold jerseys and the seconds wore white sweat shirts.

And the seconds gave the regulars all they wanted. In fact, the second string scored first on a field goal by Charlie Ruckman from 17 yards out.

Dunphy Goode ran 23 yards for a touchdown and put the regulars out in front after Bill Little had intercepted one of Joe Ed Filler's passes for the seconds. Goode place-kicked extra point.

Bull Whitson, regular back and guard alternately, intercepted a pass and ran 20 yards for a touchdown which gave the regulars an edge of 13-3 for the first hour and a half of scrimmaging.

Fred Dunn, first string end, was not at practice. He is ill. John Morrow played in Dunn's spot. Able to take part in the rough stuff was Charlie Moncrief, regular center. He suffered a cut nose in the Abilene game. Filling in for Moncrief were two big centers, Oscar Cooper and Kent Miller.

The 45-piece Midland High School Band and the 105-member Gold Jackets drill squad of girls will make the San Angelo trip and perform at the game Friday night. The pep legions will travel by bus to San Angelo.

Also getting in for regular end play were Billy Velvin and Pearl Ward.

When Whitson shifts to the backfield from the line, stubby Jack Hightower goes in to play the forward slot.

Alert and recovering fumbles in the rough scrimmage Tuesday were Ed Prichard, regular guard, and Lloyd Henderson, reserve tackle.

Doyle Roberts, reserve halfback, ran with a lot of "oomph" Tuesday. And Filler picked his holes expertly on running plays.

Derrick Light Held Cause Of Fatal Crash

SWEETWATER—(AP)—Sweetwater airman said Wednesday the fatal crash of C. L. Stewart's plane only two miles from the municipal airport apparently was caused when the pilot was confused by a light on top of an oil derrick.

The plane wreckage and Stewart's battered body were discovered Tuesday afternoon, ending a three-day search. Stewart had been missing since he took off Saturday from Love Field, Dallas.

Stewart was secretary and sales manager of the Brooks Packing Company of Sweetwater. A former Army transport pilot, Stewart was a veteran flier with more than 3,000 hours in the air.

Survivors include his widow; a daughter, Rita, and a son, Martin; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stewart, Tulsa, and a sister, Mrs. Robert Pitts, Ashland, Ore.

The body will be sent to Tulsa for funeral services.

Many Injured In Paris Street Riots

PARIS—AP—Unofficial counts of the number injured in Tuesday night's bloody, head-cracking street fight between Communists and Paris police ranged Wednesday from 40 to 300. The riotous street brawling, the first major political street battling in Paris since the bitter conflicts of 1936, occurred only a few hours after Premier Paul Ramadier opened his government's fight for life in the National Assembly, summoned into special session to deal with France's vexing political and economic problems. Communists estimated to number 35,000, responded to a call in their newspaper L'Humanite to break up an anti-Communist meeting in the Place d'Ettoile, sponsored by former Senator Gustave Guanhrot.

They besieged the meeting place and broke through three police lines and a wooden barricade before police drove them off. The assembly, which Tuesday heard Ramadier attack both the Communists and Gen. Charles De Gaulle, was in recess until Thursday when it was expected a vote of confidence would be taken. Most observers thought Ramadier would be able to win by a small margin.

Police reported the youth rode the bike out of Elder Chevrolet Building and into the path of the car.

Girl Scout Leaders Talk At Lions Club

Girl Scout leaders discussed the program of the organization with members of the Midland Lions Club at a luncheon meeting Wednesday noon in the Scharbauer Hotel. National Girl Scout Week is being observed in the city.
Mrs. C. E. Bissell, Mrs. Stanley Erskine and Mrs. J. J. Black were speakers. They said Midland has 27 Girl Scout troops including 500 girls.
Dr. H. A. Ireland spoke on the approaching Community Chest campaign. He described what the $22,000 to be raised would be used for by five receiving agencies—Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Goodfellow Fund, Salvation Army, and Junior Canteen. Ireland said 90 per cent of the money raised would benefit the youth of our city.
The Lions Club Philharmonic Hill Billy Orchestra entertained with a musical program to open the luncheon meeting.
New members of the Lions Club recognized were J. S. Hullum and C. L. Brady.
No noon meeting of the Lions Club will be held next week. Instead a night meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in the form of a District 2-T-2 meeting at which Roy Keeton, assistant secretary general of Lions International, will speak.

store at 506 East Florida Street was approved.
The council disallowed a request by Lewis Cobb, negro, for extension of the beer zone in Moody Addition. The petition was protested by the Ministerial Association.
Representatives of Midland tax concerns again were present to petition the council for permission to increase tax fares on a zone basis. The written request will be studied by councilmen, with a decision to be given at the next regular meeting.
It was proposed that conferences be held the first and third Tuesday nights of each month to discuss administration operations and policies and to consider plans for Midland's big expansion program. No delegations will be heard at the sessions and no official actions will be taken, although the conferences will be open to the public.
Council meetings during the winter months will be held at 7 p. m.

The South: Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, and Mrs. M. E. Tilly of Atlanta, an official of the Women's Society for Christian Service, Methodist Church.
The report said all the recommendations were a "general consensus" of the committee except on two matters, where there was a "substantial division of views." These were:
1. The committee recommended that the federal government refuse to grant funds to any state government or other agency—for public housing or hospitals, for example—if there is to be segregation in the use of the money.
Oppose Requirements
A minority of the committee, while favoring an end of segregation as an "ultimate goal," opposed making this a requirement for the giving of funds.
2. The committee recommended that the states enact laws banning discrimination in admitting students to the public and private schools. Church-supported schools would be exempted. A "substantial" minority of the committee was opposed to such laws.
Concerning poll taxes, the committee said the seven remaining states which require their payment before a person can vote ought to abolish such taxes themselves, but if they don't do it "promptly," the federal government should pass a national law.
The poll tax states are Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

building was occupied by courtesy of the owner until September 1. The Chamber of Commerce agreed to finance the canteen at $600 per month for a trial period of three months if the canteen members would put on a campaign to decrease vandalism, speeding and other activities obnoxious to the people of Midland. Police Chief Ellington reported the campaign a success. A paid director supervised the canteen from June, 1946, until September, 1946. Furniture and equipment were stored at Heidelberg Inn in September, 1946, and is there at the present.
From November, 1946, to June, 1947, the canteen was open on Saturdays at the high school gymnasium. The canteen has not been open since due to a lack of a meeting place, funds, and a director.
The Senior Advisory Board with Dr. H. A. Ireland as chairman is active in plans and efforts to reopen the canteen and is searching for a building, funds and a director.

Foul Play Suspected As Man Disappears

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Fort Worth and San Antonio police officials are attempting to locate Clyde Rollen Smith, 46, whose automobile was found abandoned here Tuesday.
Fort Worth City Detective H. J. Cobb said he believed the San Antonio tire tester had met with foul play. Cobb said Smith's hat, empty billfold, and personal papers were found in the car.
Smith disappeared from San Antonio last Thursday shortly after he had withdrawn $1,500 from his bank account.

Accident Postpones Veteran's Wedding

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Former Paratrooper Arthur J. Staggs, 27, of Fort Worth will not be able to walk down the aisle at the wedding he and Gladys Graves of Weatherford had planned for Wednesday.

The veteran of combat action in France lies in a hospital bed. He was hit by a railroad tank car Tuesday. Both legs were mangled. The left was amputated above the knee, the right below the knee. Hospital attendants said his condition was "fair."
His bride-to-be waited at his bedside and calmly declared: "As soon as he has recovered, I want us to marry."

Men's Suit Prices May Rise In Spring

NEW YORK—(P)—The supply of men's worsted suits still is behind demand and indications are that prices will be hiked another 5 to 7 per cent by manufacturers in the Spring.

Jerome I. Udell, president of Max Udell, Sons & Co., clothing manufacturers, said it is unlikely suit makers "can or will absorb much, if any, of the new increases" which he estimated at $1.25 to $1.50 on worsted and gabardine suits and $2 on tropical worsteds.

Udell, in an open trade letter, also said "labor already has cautioned that in the event the rise in the cost of living is not checked, the industry will face new wage demands both at the mill and garment making levels."

Granting of such demands, he said, would mean a further increase in the prices of Spring clothing.

In Japan, one-fourth acre of land is harvested for each person; in the United States it's about three acres per person.

Landscaping Problems Are Solved Here

Walker Nursery, located on the Andrews Highway, is a rapidly-growing Midland firm dedicated to this city's beautification.

Jimmy Walker and J. V. McCoy are operators of the concern, which was founded here about two years ago. Walker gained part of his wide landscaping experience in one of the major nurseries at Arlington.

The nursery handles a complete line of nursery stock, bulbs, and bedding plants in season. By November 1, Walker Nursery will have in stock a wide assortment of evergreen shrubs for Fall and Spring planting, and the owners invite Midlanders to inspect the many varieties that will be available. Pyracantha, which Midland garden clubs have named the city flower, is in stock at Walker Nursery in ample quantities.

The nursery is being enlarged with the building of a new lathe house for surplus supplies. Owners say they are growing some of their own flowers and shrubs now and plan to grow more in the future. Operators of the firm offer free landscaping estimates, and Midland home owners may visit the nursery and obtain information regarding cost and advisability of any landscaping plan without obligation. For telephone information regarding any landscaping problem call 2019.

New Stinson Being Shown In Midland

West Texas Flying Service, a mile East of Midland on Highway 80, is dealer here for one of America's most popular light airplanes—the Stinson. As evidence of the rate at which the nation's private flyers are buying Stinsons for business and pleasure, the company has manufactured and sold more than 3,500 planes since the war.

Joe T. Henderson, sales manager for West Texas Flying Service, reported recently he has a new 1948 model Stinson for demonstration purposes. Anyone wishing to see the ultimate in economical, safe, practical private planes is invited to inspect this model. Comfort, speed and dependable performance, as well as simplicity of operation are combined in the Stinson to such an extent that more businessmen than ever before are turning toward flying as a means of getting more work done in less time.

In addition to handling new planes for sale, West Texas Flying Service features a low-rate sky cab which Midlanders frequently find most convenient for taking long trips by air. One to three passengers can be accommodated on a trip to any place in the nation. This service is conducted under the Civil Aeronautics Administration's "non-schedule air service permit," which requires high standards of maintenance and pilot qualifications, assuring patrons of compliance with numerous safety regulations.

For the last word in a private plane of your own, or for a highly satisfactory charter trip in one of the company's planes, see West Texas Flying Service. The phone number is 844.

Greeks To Produce Boxes For Exports

ATHENS—(P)—The American Mission is pushing a program to revive 12 out of 22 idle box-making industries before December. Hopes are that they will be able to produce boxes in which to pack sultanas and currants for export to Great Britain in time for the Christmas season.

Greece has available for export 60,000 tons of currants and 10,000-15,000 tons of sultanas. Approximately 1,900,000 boxes are needed by December and 2,900,000 for later distribution, says Philip F. Maguire of South Plainfield, N. J., director of AMAG commerce and supply division.

Importing boxes from Norway and Sweden is cheaper than importing lumber and manufacturing here, Maguire says. However, the factories will import lumber and will temporarily operate "at slight losses in order to increase Greek employment."

Full Employment For Farmers

A team of Department of Agriculture experts handed the Senate and House Committees on Agriculture a bumper crop of recommendations for what might be called a guaranteed full employment and guaranteed prosperity bill for farmers. How many billions of dollars it would cost the taxpayers, nobody yet knows.

The recommendations are the result of a broad study on farm policy by some 200 agricultural economists who began their work during the war under Secretary Claude Wickard. It took three days for the team to present the program to the congressional committees, sitting in joint session. During the coming Congress, their job will be to write a new long-range farm policy law, to take effect on Jan. 1, 1949, when present wartime price supports expire.

Main idea of the new policy, as outlined by Secretary Clinton Anderson, is to organize the national economy for "sustained abundance." The secretary insists that making the farmer prosperous at the expense of everyone else is not the idea. Serving the general welfare—providing everyone with an adequate diet in hard times as well as good—is said to be the primary objective. In return for that, guarantees are asked that farmers be given fair prices and an income equal to that received by city workers.

To assure that this general welfare may be made permanent, a bushel of laws would be necessary, all wrapped up in one omnibus bill. It would conserve America's productive acreage, safeguard its water supply, protect its forests, raise the standard of rural living to city levels, give the farmers guaranteed markets for all they could grow, give other government aids through research and education, provide price supports, recalculate the parity formula to the farmer's advantage, and, in general, result in a completely planned and controlled agricultural economy.

Many of these proposals are not new. They were conceived and first put into practice after the major farm depression of the 1930s. Others were wartime controls, put in effect to get production of most-needed crops.

A permanent research program is called for, aimed, primarily, at reducing production costs, and, secondarily, at improving methods of marketing and distribution.

An organized effort to raise rural standards of living is proposed. A first step is to raise the income of roughly half of the 6,000,000 farm units that produce less than $700 crops a year.

How much the government is responsible for raising these standards is debatable. The argument in its favor is that if the country is to have an abundance of farm products, every farm unit must be made to produce its share. The problem is one of national interest.

Too Swell Swill

Nobody has even gone around inspecting garbage cans to check up, but official and unofficial estimates on the amount of food wasted in the United States put the figure at nearly 25 per cent of all food produced. That makes it approximately a $5,000,000,000 annual loss.

On this basis, President Truman's suggestion that the American people "waste less"—instead of merely asking them to "eat less" as Taft did—may give the new Citizens Committee under Charles Luckman something to work on in helping meet foreign food shortages.

In various food drives during the war, an effort was made to beat into public consciousness the fact that more food was wasted here at home than was supplied to the armed forces overseas and through Lend-Lease aid combined. Last year, only eight per cent of America's food production was shipped abroad, so cutting American food wastage by a third would supply enough food to meet all relief needs, if this pretty theory could be worked out. Actually, a lot of the food wastage and spoilage is unavoidable.

Impetuous Host

Marshal Tito has asked six of our prominent citizens to come to Yugoslavia and see the evidence of that country's innocence in the Balkan dispute. So far none of the six has seemed very anxious to go. It may be that they are frightened by the exuberance of Tito's obvious enjoyment of American visitors.

Just the other day, some of Tito's men delivered one of the boss's urgent invitations, at gun point, to three American soldiers. The boys seemed to have a fairly good time, except that the food was lousy, and, although they saw a lot of Yugoslavs, they saw very little scenery. The view from their quarters in a military jail apparently was nothing to write home about.

Strictly For Home Consumption

Grove Patterson, Toledo editor, says Russia's Andrei Vishinsky "fills the record for the sake of the folks back home." He's right, and his statement is worth remembering.

The UN General Assembly is an impressive sounding board, but Vishinsky's use of it does not add truth or dignity to his accusations. Nor do we think that the UN delegates are overly impressed. So, we would all do well to keep in mind that the Vishinsky oratory and the harangues of the Russian press are cut from the same bolt of cloth, and that they are tailored chiefly for the Russian people who must be constantly reassured that the American government is a pack of villainous warmongers.

Impatient Fellows, Aren't They?

Postmaster Oates Cites Needs For Hospital Here

Postmaster N. G. Oates, in discussing the need for larger hospital facilities here, said, "Midland has fine buildings, homes, churches and schools, but Midland has the most important necessities. It is an adequate modern general hospital."

"Midland has a wonderful reputation," Oates said proudly. "Soldiers from all over the United States have come back to Midland to settle down, but... Midland has a none too good reputation as far as adequate hospital facilities are concerned. If the health of the community was not the duty-bound concern of every citizen, civic pride alone should arouse the people to erect a general hospital here."

"When people have to travel to other cities for hospital aid, it proves Midland is failing to supply a potent need. Traveling expenses add to each hospital trip plus that of their families who visit them. When a man is desperately ill... when a man needs emergency care, and the present hospital is full; then it is time the citizens did something about it."

Oates described Midland as a

N. G. Oates

healthful city in which to live. "There is no reason," he said, "why Midland could not be a hospital mecca as are other well-known medical centers."

Steam-Powered Car May Enter 1948 Race

INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—A steam-powered car may be built by South Bend, Ind., engineers for the 1948 500-mile Memorial Day race, President Wilbur Shaw of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, said.

Shaw said David R. Osborne and Paul B. Kuehl of South Bend had reported plans to convert their internal combustion racer to steam power. They had the car at the track last May, but failed to get it ready for qualifications.

The Speedway president said he had asked the AAA contest board for a ruling on the eligibility of a three-wheel race car designed by Edward J. Smermeister, Jr., of Sheboygan, Wis.

Dallas Men Clean Their Own Streets

DALLAS—(AP)—Street cleaners are hard to find, so the businessmen of Beverly Hills, Dallas, do the work themselves.

They have organized a volunteer group to clean the streets of the suburban shopping center. They also are sponsoring a general beautification campaign for their residential area.

Alcoholism Therapy Is Faith Healing, Says Eminent Psychologist

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The therapy of alcoholism is faith healing, Dr. Howard W. Haggard, professor of applied psychology at Yale university, told the institute on alcoholic studies at the University of California at Los Angeles.

"I doubt extremely whether faith has moved any mountains," he said, "but I know beyond doubt that it has moved whole nations of men into patterns of behavior, into habits for the maintenance of which they are willing to die."

"I see nothing to be ashamed of in the statement that much of the therapy of alcoholism is faith healing and interpreting the rapport established between the patient and therapist as a feature common to all faith healing."

Will To Recover

"All that these statements signify is that there is no specific somatic-pharmacologic therapy for alcoholism. The important fact is that a great many alcoholics can be helped to recovery and to full rehabilitation."

Dr. Haggard warned that in creating the will to recover, it is usually essential to bear continually in mind the predominantly egocentric attitude of the alcoholic and "the reason for recovery had best be made to stem from his own self-interests, his own ego, and not from family neglect and failure of duties which are topics prone to arouse undesirable emotional reactions."

Poet Who Pleads Insanity Plays Host To Intellectuals

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Ezra Loomis Pound, the bearded, "unorthodox" American poet who temporarily beat a treason rap by pleading insanity, is playing host these days to scores of America's best-known college professors, poets and other intellectuals.

They come from all over the country to visit Pound in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where he is cozily established in a private room with a fine view of the U.S. Capitol and a typewriter on which, a hospital official said, he is tapping out free verse. Pound agreed that he is comfortable, but wouldn't admit he is doing any writing.

"It would be difficult to turn out good verse in a nut house," he said.

Pound is still under indictment as a traitor for alleged broadcasting activities from Italy during the war. He was confined to St. Elizabeth's after being declared insane by a Federal grand jury, and the Department of Justice attorney who handled his case says he can stay there until either Pound or his attorneys request a hearing. If he is then declared sane by a jury, he will face the treason trial.

A hospital official said there is no limit on the number of visitors Pound can have, and described his callers as noted professors and intellectuals, although he would mention no names. There was no secrecy, however, about a visitor named Dorothy Shakespeare, an English writer whose real name is Mrs. Pound. She lives a few blocks from the hospital and visits her husband daily. Recently, according to the Department of Justice, she sought to have Pound transferred to a private institution, but the court turned her down.

Waiting For Facts

Although he is in a "lock-up" ward, Pound gets outside on good days. A hospital official said he has more privileges than the other patients whom he leaves strictly alone. Although others in the same ward do a little work around the hospital, Pound's only activity, other than meditation, poetry, and

Ezra Pound: "It would be difficult to write good verse in a nut house."

Intellectual bull sessions with his visitors, is to keep his room tidied up.

About the treason charge against him, Pound said "anybody who really knows my work and reads the things I have written believes that I have done no wrong."

Of his plans for the future: "I am waiting to get more facts. And how can you deal intelligently with officials who will turn loose men like Lucky Luciano who is now organizing the Mafia in Italy?" he says.

Pound was born in Hailey, Idaho, attended Hamilton College, and the University of Pennsylvania where he received a Master of Arts degree in 1907. He left the U. S. in 1911 for England. He stayed away from the U. S. constantly, except for a brief visit in 1937, until his forced return after the war.

After the first World War Pound's unorthodox verse was popular among some groups in the U. S. and England for a time. Several of his books were published and he wrote essays on almost any subject in addition to writing poetry.

After living four years in Paris, Pound settled permanently in Italy in 1924. Then, according to the Department of Justice:

"Pound proclaimed a warm admiration for and personal acquaintance with Mussolini and other fascist officials and greeted many of his American acquaintances with the fascist salute."

The indictment charges that Pound's wartime broadcasts from Italy followed the familiar Axis propaganda line: that international Jewry was the root of the world's difficulties, that the U. S. was a pawn of Great Britain and that

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
(Third in a series of special Lesson Hands.)

The principle involved in today's hand is the importance of establishing a side suit. Bear in mind that when you hold a six-card suit and a five-card suit, you should expect abnormal distribution in the other hands.

Let us first take up the bidding of today's hand. South should not pre-empt with this type of hand.

South makes the correct bid of four clubs over three spades. This is a free bid, therefore it is a constructive one. If West passed the four-club bid, North should go to five clubs.

But when West bids four spades, North should not bid five clubs, for two reasons. First, he has shown the full strength of his hand and three clubs, and another free bid might cause South to place too much strength in his hand. Second, a bid of five clubs at this point might induce East to take a sacrifice and bid five spades. South's freak distribution and the strength shown by North justify South's bid of five clubs. The only thing that keeps West from doubling is the bidding, which clearly indicates abnormal distribution.

The opening lead is won in dummy with the ace of spades, and now declarer must establish his side suit before picking up the trumps. Therefore the singleton diamond must be led. East wins and returns a spade, which is trumped. A low diamond is trumped in dummy, a club is led and won by declarer, with the king. South then leads diamonds until West trumps. This is overtrumped, the trumps are picked up, the diamonds cashed, and a heart trick is conceded.

The Chiropractor and You

No. 6 of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of Chiropractic.

DR. C. L. BRADY
Palmer Graduate

CHIROPRACTIC IS RIGHT!!!

The true value of any health service should be determined by its effectiveness in getting sick people well. The desire of the person who is sick is to get well. Words, opinions, arguments and pedantic description and prescription may arouse interest to a certain degree, but the final and decisive test is the effectiveness of the health service rendered.

Chiropractic has proved the accuracy of its principles and practice by actual results secured in restoring the sick to health, and it has been the means of bringing health to millions of individuals. Why not consult a competent Chiropractor in your own community and determine for yourself the value of Chiropractic as a health service.

CASE HISTORY NO. 256—Confined to bed for nine months with excruciating sciatic pain, this comparatively young man had given up hope for recovery. An office colleague told him he was sending him "a birthday present." It turned out to be a Chiropractor who called at the suggestion of the friend. Realizing where the cause of the condition lay, the Chiropractor pal-ated the patient's spine, found a misaligned vertebra which was causing a nerve pressure, and adjusted it. Almost imperceptibly at first, the patient's condition improved. Within three months he was walking around again.

CASE HISTORY NO. 1470—This young man had been bothered with boils since he was a boy. At age 21 he was having 12 to 16 boils a week. The condition was so distressing that he had to remain in bed for long periods of time. At one period he was in bed for three months straight. On one occasion he had 13 boils lanced at one time. Having tried all else, he visited a Chiropractor and took spinal adjustments. The adjustments released nerve pressure and within six weeks the eruption of boils had entirely ceased.

1947-48 Fuel Supplies Barely Will Cover Nations Needs

POWER: Not enough cushion.

OIL: Not enough tankers.

COAL: Not enough cars.

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEW YORK — (NEA) — In the third winter of peace, you still may find it impossible to keep your home as warm as you want. There still is the chance that you will have to loaf for a few days, or weeks, because of power shortages.

If John Lewis does not pull out his miners this Winter, it looks dim as though there would be enough oil, gas, electricity and coal-over-all-to heat all our factories. But the margin is so close that this oil, gas, electricity and coal must be distributed with almost 100 per cent efficiency. Let almost anything happen that shouldn't, and some areas may experience brief but troublesome shortages.

Experts in the various fuel fields are anxious to have it understood that the nation does not face real distress from shortages; that nobody should go really cold; that nobody should be laid off for any length of time; that whatever shortages may develop should be local and spotty.

Many Fear Local Troubles

But most of them do not even try to deny that they fear brief local troubles. Careful check of the major fuel industries reveals these situations.

For the country as a whole there is generating capacity to provide five per cent more electric current than the peak demand expected. This is only two-thirds as much cushion as was expected earlier.

Generally, power lines are interconnected so that companies with an excess can help those with a deficit. But if equipment that has been hard-pushed for years should develop several bad breakdowns at the same time, somebody would have to be cut off the lines.

The first saving would be made by interrupting pumping and similar operations involving products that, like water, can be stored. The second saving probably would be made by cutting off, temporarily, industries like chemicals, which for decades have been getting all the power they wanted but only at surplus rates. This situation exists in the Northwest and in upstate New York, among others.

Gas Companies Are Over-Sold
Meanwhile, many electric companies are discouraging customers from putting in heavy-use equipment, like house-heaters, for the present.

As for gas, the gas industry admits frankly that it has over-sold itself. It is capable of producing more natural and artificial gas than the customers can use. But unlike electricity, gas systems can not be interconnected, nation-wide. If any individual area runs short, that's its hard luck.

The ban on house-heating that was imposed last Winter has been replaced in many areas. Most regions probably will get by this Winter, but some are almost certain to run into shortages that will call for self-restraint and patience.

Transportation Problems

The nation's petroleum wells are now producing more crude oil than we need. There is refinery capacity for more fuel than we probably shall want unless the Winter should be unusually severe. But there are two bottlenecks.

One is in getting crude from the oil fields to refineries in the Middie West. Another is in getting petroleum products from refineries to markets.

In the Midwest the companies are using high-cost tank cars and barge transportation, and operating expensive marginal refineries, in an attempt to satisfy demands. But even with this, some refineries can not get enough crude to run at full capacity.

The East Coast situation got bad because of a shortage of tankers in operation, though almost 100 government-owned craft were laid up in mothballs. In that section signs of tightness have become apparent.

In spite of the companies' best efforts to build up a reserve last Summer, they entered the Fall season with stocks east of the Rockies under those of a year ago.

Coal Supply Is Low

At least some insiders expect to see fuel oil scarcer in the Middle West this Winter than it was last. And the East Coast's fate depends upon how fast the Navy and the Maritime Commission can recon-struct 50 government-owned tankers, now released for direct or indirect benefit of domestic customers.

Coal stockpiles are low. Some utilities and large users consider their reserves dangerously low. Production is at a rate of around 600,000,000 tons a year, but many experts doubt that, if the Winter is severe, this will prove to be enough. Some mines are on part time because they can not get railroad cars. There is not much storage space at mines. If coal can't be moved, mining stops. The railroads are short 18,000 coal cars now, compared with only 14,000 a year ago. Every effort is being made to juggle hopper cars to get the greatest use from them, but they still contribute to the danger of a bad coal situation which might be reflected in home heating, and also in gas and electricity and in industrial operation.

Germans Prefer Jobs Paying Wages In Food

HAMBURG—(AP)—Farm work is the most popular occupation among the German population of the British zone, a report by the British Control Commission's manpower branch discloses.

There are now 250 workers in agriculture for every 100 employed in 1938, the report says. One of the reasons, the report declared, was that agricultural workers received part of their wages in food—an important factor in hungry Germany.

The report notes a general tendency for workers not to seek jobs making the best use of their skill unless the wages are paid partly in food, clothing or marketable goods.

Unemployment is at its lowest since the occupation began, but the report adds: "It would, however, be wrong to assume that these figures are a true reflection of the state of the German economy. Low unemployment figures are generally an indication that a country's industry is working at top pressure and this is clearly not the case in Germany today."

Soviet Expands After Record Whaling Season

MOSCOW—(AP)—The present whaling season in the Far Eastern waters has been the best yet recorded by Soviet whalers.

Reporting this by radio to Moscow, Captain A. Polyakov, head of the flotilla, gave these figures:

Since the beginning of the year—505 whales have been caught, 150 more than last year. The record catch for one day was 26 whales.

The biggest whale brought aboard the whaling ships weighed 90 tons. The Far Eastern Whaling Fleet which is under the management of a trust at the Ministry of Fishing Industry of the Eastern Areas of the U.S.S.R. is being steadily expanded and its operations extended far afield.

Sioux Falls Minister Wins 'Liar Contest'

HURON, S. D.—(AP)—The Rev. Charles D. Bullock, Methodist minister at Sioux Falls, S.D., has won the annual sportsmen's "liar contest" sponsored by the Huron Chamber of Commerce. His story: "My father homesteaded in Beadie County in 1885, the days of real drouths. That summer we found ourselves without even enough water to drink. So my father simply pulled up the old farm well and ran it through a wringer to get some water to give to my baby sister."
