Hard-Hearted Harry

(NEA Telephoto) A bitter and unsmiling President Harry Truman interrupts his vacation at Key West, Fla., to blast Senator Joseph McCarthy and other Republicans who are seeking to discredit the State Department and "sabotage" the bi-partisan foreign policy. Truman also defended three government figures who have been targets of McCarthy and others—Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Phillip Jessup and Owen Lattimore.

145,000 Nose Counters Start '50 Census Taking

WASHINGTON—(P)—The big door-to-door quiz of 1950 was launched Saturday by 145,000 census takers. Four weeks from now—after visiting every family in the United States in the seventeenth nose count in the nation's history—the enumerators will hang up their talking shoes until 1960, when the huge tallying job starts all over.

Meanwhile, they will have learned that the nation's 1950 population totals something over 151,000,000, plus about 4,000,000 more in the territories and possessions. They probably will have found that California has been the big gainer, and therefore entitled to seven more seats in the House of Representatives. They also will have the ingredients for valuable statistics on a wide range of subjects—like the number of farms equipped with machinery, and the number of kitchens equipped with sinks. Those questions are on the list being asked by the enumerators, along with others dealing with the marital status, race, sex, age and occupation of every American.

Harry Enumerated

Every fifth person is being asked what his income is—a question which has prompted vigorous Republican criticism in Congress. Census officials say the figures are collected at the request of business groups and others.
In the cities, the counting job will be over in about two weeks. In

Red Cross Drive Is Over Top

Midland County's 1950 American Red Cross finance drive Saturday, last day of the campaign, was "over the top" by $546.71 as leaders reported returns totaling $12,546.71. The goal was $12,000.

Thus Midland became one of the few counties in the state to exceed its quota in this year's Red Cross finance effort, Chairman J. M. McDonald said.
The drive opened here March 1, with scores of volunteer workers, both men and women, participating in the month-long canvass of business, residential and rural districts. John B. Mills and John Parker served as vice chairmen of the campaign. Mills heading the commercial division, and Parker the office building division. Mrs. R. W. Hamilton directed the drive in the residential sections, and Mrs. John M. King and Mrs. Frank Midkiff were chairmen of the campaign in the rural areas. Mrs. Claire Rogers was the fund secretary.

Benefit Party
A Red Cross benefit box supper and 42 party held Friday night in the Greenwood School netted $154.50.

The drive got off to a fast start and contributions continued to roll in at a steady pace during the month. Midland has received statewide publicity on the success of its Red Cross campaign.
Thornton Hardie, Jr., chairman of the Midland County Red Cross Chapter, Saturday joined with McDonald in expressing appreciation to all campaign leaders and workers who contributed to the success of the drive. They also lauded individuals, firms and organizations upon their gracious and generous giving to the "worthy cause of the American Red Cross."

Colorful Band Meet Draws Hundreds To City; Ratings Listed

Music, music, music—the air was full of band music Saturday as more than 1,500 students from 21 high schools of the Permian Basin Empire met in Midland for the annual Region 8 Band Contest and Festival.
Downtown Midland was gay with the colors of band uniforms—reds, whites, golds, greens, grays—all the shades of the rainbow as students took time off for sightseeing in the city.
But it was in the new high school auditorium that an excitement was centered. From 7:30 a.m. until almost 7 p.m., bands played for three days and nights to earn their proficiency ratings.

Concert appearances were followed by sight reading periods in the band room, to earn another rating.
Midland, Kermit, Andrews and Odessa of the Class AA bands earned First Division ratings in both concert and sight reading phases of the contest. Odessa played in the higher AAI bracket, the only school in Region 8 in this classification. Lamesa, the only other AA band, earned Second Division ratings in both concert and sight reading.
Class A Ratings
Of the Class A groups, McCamey, Seminole and Wink earned top honors, with First Division rating in both departments. Monahans earned a First Division rating in sight reading and a Second Division in concert. Pecos placed with Second Division in concert, and a Third Division in sight reading.
Crane, of the Class B bands, was

LATE NEWS FLASHES

LIVORNO, ITALY—(AP)—A violent earth shock spread terror in Livorno and the surrounding Northwest Italy countryside about 11 p.m. Saturday. At least 30 persons were reported injured. First reports said three buildings collapsed in Livorno.

THE HAGUE, THE NETHERLANDS—(AP)—American and British military leaders, it was reliably reported Saturday night, have arranged a new system of exchanging confidential military information under which top secrets will bypass War Secretary John Strachey, charged by British Conservative leaders with Communist leanings.

Lattimore Brands Accuser 'Madman, Liar And Perjurer'

NEW YORK—(P)—Owen J. Lattimore, accused by Senator Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) of being a master spy for Russia, Saturday called McCarthy a "madman" making an "obviously political attack upon the State Department."

Lattimore repeated previous denials that there is any basis for McCarthy's charges, and said he was consulting his lawyers about possible libel action.
Lattimore also brought up the question of whether he ever was a State Department employee.
He said he had been paid by the department for taking part in a 1945 reparations mission to Japan.
In 1940, he said, he took part in a two-day panel discussion of China problems and gave the department a memorandum of his views.
Last June, he said, he gave a lecture to State Department personnel on Japanese problems.
"Splattered With Mud"
—Except for these instances, he said, "I have had no connection with the department."
Lattimore has said his whole series of charges against the State Department—that it has 57 card-carrying Communists in its employ—would stand or fall on his branding of Lattimore as a Communist spy.
Lattimore made the "madman" charge against McCarthy at a news conference where he issued a statement.
"No one likes to be splattered with mud," he said.

Seminole Man Dies In Traffic Accident

ANDREWS — Billy Amos Jones, 22, of Seminole was killed instantly at 3 p.m. Saturday when the automobile he was driving overturned about 13 miles north of here.
Joe Sample, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sample of Seminole, was in an Andrews hospital in serious condition as a result of the accident. The two were driving north in a late model convertible when Jones apparently lost control of the vehicle. The car was demolished.
Both Jones and Sample were employed by the Penrod Drilling Company of Seminole.
Jones is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones of Henderson. Singley Funeral Home personnel said the body would be taken to Henderson for interment.

Former Allied Boss Advises Outlay Boost

WASHINGTON—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower pointed to Alaska as the weakest link in the nation's defense Saturday and called for increased military outlays there and elsewhere.
The wartime Allied commander put Alaska at the top of a list calling for spending of from $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 more during next year than the $14,000,000,000 plus asked of Congress.

Midland To Elect Two Councilmen

Midland voters Tuesday will name two new members to the City Council in an election to be held between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. in the City-County Auditorium. Riley Parr will be the presiding judge.
It will be the second election held here in a four-day period, the annual school trustee election having been held Saturday.
Three candidates are seeking Place 4 on the council, which is being vacated by Robert I. Dickey, who is not seeking reelection to a fourth term. They are Albert William Rutter, Jr., geologist; Jack B. Wilkinson, long-time resident who has extensive real estate holdings here, and Lee C. Thomas, furniture and mattress company owner.
Interest in the election, noticeably lacking until a few days ago, mounted rapidly Saturday as friends and supporters of several candidates launched intensive "vote getting" campaigns.
Holder members of the council are Mayor William B. Neely and Councilmen Frank N. Shriver, E. Chiles, Jr., and W. F. Hejl.

Auto License Plate Demand Is Greater Than Supply Here

Midland County's motor vehicle license supply couldn't keep up with the demand Saturday.
J. M. Speed, tax assessor-collector, said all passenger car plates were gone by 2 p.m. and all licenses for trucks and other vehicles were sold before dark. The Midland County supply was to have been replenished Friday but the new plates failed to arrive.
Speed estimates a total of more than 12,000 vehicles, including trucks, tractors and automobiles, were registered. Of this number between 7,500 and 8,000 were passenger cars. Speed said. More plates are due Monday.

Christmas Story Has Happy Ending—Roger Is Normal Boy

By TANNER LAINE
It all began with a letter to Santa Claus.
The Reporter-Telegram on its page one, Dec. 11, 1949, published this letter to Santa Claus, which it termed out-of-ordinary.
"Dear Santa,"
"We aren't asking for ourselves. But will you please bring our little friend, Roger Dean, enough money to have an operation on his throat? He is badly in need of the operation."
"He has to wear a tube in his little throat to breathe through. An operation would make him well."
"Our names: Jerry, Judy, Donnie and Dennis Pelsen, Stanton, Texas."
A story with the letter asked if anyone in Midland and West Texas wanted to be Santa Claus to the little boy with a tube in his throat. Things began to happen.
On Dec. 12, 1949, still on page one of The Reporter-Telegram, a news headline said: "Yes, There Is A Santa Claus."
Because medical science in the person of a kind Midland physician had offered to answer that Santa Claus letter. He said he would do an operation—if it were necessary—in the name of Santa Claus, to make the little boy well by Christmas, if possible.
He examined the little boy. The doctor found an operation was not necessary, but plenty of treatment and skill was to make Roger Dean a normal boy again.
A headline of page one of Midland's newspaper, Dec. 14, 1949, said: "Merry Christmas Looks For Stanton Boy, Santa Says."
Still on page one, Dec. 15, 1949: "Christmas Story Unrings As Boy Visits Hospital."
"Twinkled Brightly"
A story with the headline read in part: "The Christmas tree in the waiting room of the Western Clinic-Hospital twinkled brightly. The nice-looking, blond youngster looked at it intently. He is two years old. He looked like any one of a million other little boys per-

Authentic Maps To Be In Setting For 'Command Decision'

Maps from the U. S. Army Map Service, which were used in the original New York production of "Command Decision," have been obtained for use when the Midland Community Theater presents William Wister Haines' drama of wartime Air Force action on the City-County Auditorium stage April 13-15.

The authentic maps will form a large mosaic on the wall of the single stage setting, which represents the office of Brig. Gen. K. C. Dennis at headquarters of the Fifth American Bomber Division in England. Reference to the maps is an important part of the play's action.

Changes have been made in two roles. Art Cole, director, has announced Perry Pickett will replace Jack Swift as Brig. Gen. Clifton C. Garnett, visitor from the United States at a time when General Dennis' policies in the American plan of daylight bombing hangs in the balance. Cole himself will take the role of T/Sgt. Harold Evans, the general's right-hand man, originally the assignment of John H. Healey.

William H. Pomeroy, Jr., will play General Dennis. Others in the all-male cast are Charles A. Shaw, Bill Adam, Marvin L. Shapiro, Charles Hughes, Paul Parker, J. Wilmont Hunt, Claude E. Neely, Waring Bradley, F. H. Pannill, Dick Dawson, Norris Creath, Martin Deuth and Howard E. Davis.

Ectoplasmic Reason Cited For Valentino Film Delay

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—There's an ectoplasmic reason for the delay in the film biography of Rudolph Valentino, according to his one-time leading lady, Mae Murray.

The way Mae sees it, producer Eddie Small might as well throw in the towel if the script shows the Great Lover as a sleek-haired lady-graber and nothing else. "If the screenplay doesn't stick to the truth, it's understandable that there have been delays. Valentino had a great power that would sweep from 'The Beyond' to keep himself from being hurt."

Pardon me while I go out and get my spine defrosted.

Paulette Goddard is talking about doing the fall tour of "Caesar and Cleopatra" and has even hired Constance Collier to give her some stage coaching. "Francis" and "Stromboli" are being double-featured at a Beverly Hills theater with the mule getting top billing over Ingrid.

Top film writer Helen Deutsch, biggest money-earner in the screenplay scribbling business, will announce any day now that she is marrying Austin Fisher, a New York business executive, and is quitting Hollywood for good.

For the Academy awards affair, Mercedes McCambridge fixed over her 13-year-old "career dress." It's white satin and lace, cost $55 when she first wore it at her college prom. She told me:

"I had it overhauled $30 worth—some new lace and replacements for rusty hooks."

Shelley Winters has her eyes on "Miss Private Eye," a new script at U.I. It's a satire on Sam Spade.

Florence Marly, the exotic Czech babe who speaks four languages and another one with her eyes, has a new twist on this marriage business. Florence is married to French director Pierre Chenal but their work has separated them for as long as two years at a time.

She doesn't mind the separation, she said, arching her eyebrow: "People who live together all their lives are separated. They don't feel anything, I'm separated but I have great feelings."

Pierre, she assured me, also has "great feelings." It must work. They've been married 10 years.

At the moment he's directing "Native Son" in South America and she's in Hollywood waiting for a new assignment from Allied Artists following her loan-out to H. Bogart for "Tokyo Joe."

There are three films in escrow for Florence—Maid for a Man, "The Highwayman," and a color western. Meantime she reads, prefers taxicabs to owning a car—"You never get to talk to anyone if you drive alone"—and enjoys "intelligent conversation." She

New Car Owners To Get Reduction In Insurance Rates

AUSTIN—New car owners will get a reduction in their automobile insurance rates May 1. State Casualty Insurance Commissioner J. P. Gibbs announced the reduction Friday along with a warning that higher rates are in the making for next year if the current traffic-death rate continues.

Gibbs said private owners of passenger cars not more than 30 months old who buy fire, theft, comprehensive and collision insurance will be the largest group to benefit under the May 1 reduction.

Rates, he said, will drop from 10 to 22.5 per cent on comprehensive coverage and up to 10 per cent on $50 deductible collision premiums.

Owners of older cars—particularly pre-war models—won't receive much benefit, Gibbs said. The reason, he said, is because cars in this group continue to show excessive loss ratio in comparison to premiums paid. It may be a different story next year, he said.

Charlie S. McLellan of Eagle Lake, a member of the State Legislature for five terms, Saturday announced as a candidate for the Commission of Agriculture. The establishment of an active and aggressive department of agriculture, which would work for all farmers and ranchers, is his basic platform plank.

Point Four Merely Expands Long-Time Federal Programs

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman's program of aid for underdeveloped countries has had a hard time catching on. It first was proposed as "Point IV" of his inaugural message in January, 1949.

Questions and Answers

- Q—Which of Stravinsky's compositions was derided at its first performance?
A—At the premiere of "Le Sacre du Printemps" the Paris audience jeered so that at times the music could not be heard at all.

So they say

I'm not going to back down anything I've said... I've closed the range to the point where I'm hitting them with every salvo, every burst.

Risky Gesture

The anti-American riots at Saigon, Indo-China, show for one thing that the French-supported government of Bao Dai is unable to maintain order in its headquarters city.

The outbreaks, however, contain a sharper lesson than that for the United States. What touched them off was the visit of U. S. warships to Saigon as a gesture of backing for the Bao Dai regime.

There have been many times and places in which such a show of strength may have had a helpful effect upon the course of U. S. foreign policy.

These masters established their control over large parts of Asia during the great colonizing days. Though they unquestionably contributed richly to the development of backward areas, it is true also that they sometimes relied upon force to maintain their position.

There's little doubt that native Asiatics today associate any parading of strength with the familiar application of force in the colonial era.

Nothing therefore is likely to do more damage to the cause of the United States and other free nations than sending warships into Asiatic harbors.

Such a technique is too crude for the subtleties of present-day diplomacy in that sector of the globe.

As Secretary of State Acheson has made clear, the free world must be firm in keeping Southeast Asia out of Communist hands.

Tempest In A Coffee Pot

A diplomatic crisis in Guatemala has been averted. It began down there the other night when a Guatemalan band played a popular dance tune to greet a Puerto Rican color guard at the Central American "Olympic" games.

The color guard was bearing the American flag, as befits the representatives of a U. S. possession.

But a couple of nights later the little coffee country acted to repair the breach.

Now all is forgiven and calm has been restored to our State Department.

Quietest Strike

Quietest strike of the year, if not of the decade. United Automobile Workers' walkout at Chrysler Corporation's nationwide network of factories.

The strike affects 90,000 workers. It's been on almost two months. Yet it's running a bad second to the daily weather report in the matter of total space in the newspapers.

There are signs the union wanted a quiet strike, as proof of its growing maturity.

The UAW may or may not have misgivings today as to the wisdom of this course.

It's our guess the union will come off just as well this way as by a more spectacular effort.

The annual cost of crime in this country runs into billions—and nobody can say we aren't getting our money's worth.

Who remembers when an auto stalled and it took two cranks to start it?

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.

Drew Pearson says: Sherman would take Crommelin back—"if he'll behave"; Secretary Chapman—"lawyer for the people"; Acheson explains Britain's recognition of Chinese Communists.

WASHINGTON—Any time Capt. John Crommelin wants to be restored to active Navy duty, all he has to do is walk into Admiral Sherman's office and promise to behave.

So reported the Chief of Naval Operations the other day behind closed doors of the Senate Appropriations Committee when he was testifying on the Navy's money needs.

"If Captain Crommelin walked in my office next week and gave me his word of honor that he would behave, I would take him back," Admiral Sherman said after being put on the spot by several nagging questions from Senator Homer Ferguson, Michigan Republican.

"Then why did you put him on furlough at half pay, to silence him," demanded Ferguson.

"I don't want the junior officers and enlisted men presented with the spectacle of a senior officer on active duty setting an example of insubordination," Sherman shot back.

"In that case, why wasn't Crommelin court-martialed?" persisted the senator from Michigan.

"That would only have caused further airing of his case and a public commotion over the accuracy of everything he said about institutions and individuals," replied the Chief of Naval Operations.

Senator John McClellan, Arkansas Democrat, suggested that Secretary of the Navy Matthews was responsible for furloughing Crommelin.

"I made the recommendation," spoke up Sherman. "I thought it was a good opportunity to remove from the active list of the Navy an officer who was setting a bad example."

Senator Bill Knowland, California Republican, wanted to be sure Crommelin wasn't disciplined for anything he may have testified before Congress.

"I would protect an officer from punitive action for testifying before a congressional committee," Sherman said flatly.

With that, the senators got back to the business of Navy appropriations.

People's Attorney Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman took a unique step the other day by appearing before a public commission as a "lawyer for the people."

Chapman's Interior Department is locked in a fight with private power interests over their attempt to grab half a billion dollars worth of government-developed power in the Central Valley of California.

Therefore, Chapman made the unusual move of personally appearing before the Federal Power Commission to oppose Pacific Gas and Electric's bid to distribute government power generated at the King's River project.

His appearance promptly was challenged by a power company lawyer who charged that he appeared with a "cloak of immunity," Bernard Chapman.

"I am not here as a Cabinet member. I am here as attorney for the people. I'll answer questions all day if necessary and debate you all night. The people's interests must be protected."

Acheson on China Secretary of State Dean Acheson gave a congressional group some interesting insights recently into why Great Britain broke ranks with the United States and recognized the Chinese Communists.

Good defensive play often requires teamwork. No matter how well you lay your plans, if they require the co-operation of your partner, and he fails to follow your line of thought, the plans go astray.

North's natural opening against the four-spade contract on today's hand was the ten of hearts, the top of his partner's suit.

With a straight face, Hayden declared from getting a heart ruff. West won this trick in dummy and led the king of clubs.

Now West ran off six spade tricks, and this left him with the king and eight of hearts and the eight and deuce of diamonds.

Then if declarer played the king of hearts, South could throw away the queen and keep the six; and when declarer played his last heart North would win it with the nine.

This would give North and South the last three tricks, which, with the heart ace won on the first trick, would defeat the contract.

Administration May Turn Back Calendar On Food Surpluses

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Stalled for the moment by Congress on the Brannan farm plan, the Truman Administration is preparing to fall back on machinery used during the thirties to dispose of food surpluses. That machinery was a more or less elaborate setup of state and local agencies for distributing government-purchased farm surpluses among needy families.

The Administration will do this reluctantly, but it sees no other way of disposing of vast stores of surplus foods being accumulated by the Agriculture Department under the government's farm price support program.

It would prefer the Brannan method of handling the surpluses, but Congress has shown no inclination to authorize its use. Under this method, the government no longer would buy up perishable products to keep prices received by farmers from dropping below set levels.

Instead, it would permit prices to drop to their natural levels. If they averaged below levels deemed to be necessary to assure farm prosperity, the government would make up the difference to farmers by payments from the Treasury.

Old Handout System
An indication of Administration thinking was given by President Ralph Trigg of the Commodity Credit Corporation — agency with more than $4,000,000,000 invested in surpluses — in a statement before the House Agriculture Committee.

Called to give the committee some suggestions, Trigg said giving surpluses to the school lunch program and to persons on relief offered about the only way out.

But lack of machinery hinders movement of goods to the needy. Agencies and machinery set up during the thirties were largely abandoned during the war. There were no surpluses then and few people were on relief.

Trigg said re-establishment of such machinery is needed to get the surpluses moving. Such agencies would repack the food in family-size containers and then divide it among local relief bodies.

Worm More Interesting

Sammy Knotts, three, is more interested in the worm in his hand, than in what the firemen of the Shreveport Fire Department are trying to do — namely, to free the lad's trapped foot from a four-inch drain pipe. The operation took 45 minutes and was very successful — including a crop of fish bait. The boy was trapped at his Shreveport, La., home.

Horse Trader's Body Found In Hobo Camp
ARDMORE — (AP) — A 66-year-old horse trader was found beaten and slashed to death Friday night in a hobo jungle on the north edge of Ardmore.

Two small negro boys played near the scene discovered the body, which was guarded by the man's Collier dog.

Cartier County Sheriff Howard Johnson identified the dead man as James Gaston, an old-age pensioner.

The sheriff issued a pickup order for a man described as five feet, six inches tall, wearing levis, jacket, boots and black hat.

Neighbors said they saw Gaston walking down the Santa Fe tracks with a man of that description Friday morning.

Texas Deserter Held On Kidnaping Charge

SAN DIEGO — (AP) — An admitted Army deserter, Ralph Overturf, 18, of Dallas, Texas, Saturday was booked in county jail on charges of kidnaping two men, including a police officer.

Overturf, who told deputy sheriffs he deserted from an Army base near Oakland, Calif., two weeks ago, was captured Friday night after a wild chase through Banning and Beaumont in Riverside County.

Sheriff's Detective Tom Isbell said Overturf had held as hostages Escondido Police Lieutenant G. W. Pierce, 36, and Harry Woodstra, 27, who escaped from him in Redlands.

Gets Into Police Car
Pierce was kidnaped when he questioned the youth, who was hitchhiking near Escondido. Overturf slid into the police car, pointed a .45-caliber automatic at the officer, and ordered him to drive to Riverside, according to Isbell.

In Redlands, Overturf ordered Pierce to overtake another vehicle. Overturf took the wallet of Woodstra, the motorist, and ordered him into the police car, Isbell said. A short time later, when the police car was stopped momentarily, Pierce and Woodstra leaped out.

Three shots were fired at Pierce, but none struck him. Overturf drove away, and was caught in Banning. He was returned here for prosecution.

The youth said he was hitchhiking back to Dallas after leaving the Army.

Texans Open Purses To Farmer Whose Bank Roll Wiped Out By Judgment

By WALTER P. BOSWELL
Associated Press Staff

Old Man William Hagedorn had money for another bank account Saturday.

Texans who read the 77-year-old Central Texas farmer's story sent it to him — through the Dallas Morning News, and some direct to Lockhart, where he lives.

Their donations ranged from a few cents to $100. The amount had grown Saturday to about $200 more than the $2,632.20 that went March 28 from Hagedorn's bank account to satisfy a judgment for damages in an auto accident caused by a mule.

The money rolled in after the Dallas Morning News reviewed the Hagedorn story in a series of articles.

More than three years ago Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Alexander had an auto accident near Lockhart. They swerved their car to miss a reddish mule. They said the car went into the ditch, overturning and severely injuring Mrs. Alexander. They sued Hagedorn, saying he owned the mule and let it run at large on the highway in violation of a stock law.

They won a default judgment. A garnishment of $3,126.84 was issued against Hagedorn's Lockhart bank account for damages. It tied up the $2,632.20 he had in the account. Later the district court held a new trial, heard sworn testimony of Hagedorn and others that the mule did not belong to Hagedorn, but to his son, Robert. Then the court ruled in favor of William Hagedorn.

Court Upholds Ruling
The Austin Court of Civil Appeals upheld the ruling. But the Texas Supreme Court, in a split 6-2 decision, said the original judgment must stand.

Records showed that Hagedorn, served with a citation by a deputy sheriff, appeared at the Lockhart Court House Sept. 1, 1947, as the citation required. But he found court wasn't in session, and asked the district clerk to notify him when to return. Hagedorn went home, and according to the trial judge's findings of fact, employed no attorney, and receiving no word from the clerk "or from any other person" relative to the suit, did nothing further about it until after April 1, 1948.

That day he learned a garnishment had been run against his bank account following a judgment rendered against him on December 8, 1947.

The trial court found Hagedorn "had a complete and absolute defense" to the Alexander's suit in that he did not own the mule and was not responsible for it being on the highway and that the court should not have entered judgment for the Alexander's.

The Supreme Court said that when Hagedorn asked the district clerk to notify him when to return he was asking the clerk to do something the clerk was in no sense required to do in his official capacity.

Respondent's Agent
"So, as to that, the clerk became respondent's (Hagedorn's) agent, and negligence of the clerk must be charged to respondent. It became his own negligence," the majority opinion said.

"Again," said the opinion, "Hagedorn can not prevail because he has not shown he was prevented from making his defense to the Alexander's suit by their fraud or wrongful act."

The opinion was written by Associate Justice Few Brewster.

The opinion said that because it is fundamentally important that some finality be accorded to judgments, "the rules are not to be relaxed merely because it may appear in some particular case that an injustice was done."

The two dissenting judges said they did not suggest the rules be changed, "but only that they should be reasonably fairly adapted and fitted to the facts of the case. They were Justices Graham B. Smedley and W. M. Taylor.

The News said its series of stories sought to bring to the attention of the average Texas layman the necessity of understanding something of legal rules and proceedings.

Concurring in the majority opinion were Chief Justice J. E. Hickman, and Justices W. S. Garwood, John H. Sharp, Meade F. Griffin and R. H. Harvey.

Ellenburger Yields Oil Shows On Snyder Townsite NE Edge

L. M. Lockhart No. 1 Patterson, wildcat on the northeast side of the Snyder townsite in Central Scurry County has developed some indications of production from the Ellenburger.

The venture is reported to have set casing to make production tests. Located 467 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 101, block 3, H&GN survey, and three-eighths of a mile northeast of the Gene Goff and associates No. 1 Joe Rylander, a Strawn lime discovery, the Lockhart project was barren in both the Canyon and Strawn limes of the Ellenburger, 7,780 feet, and to have logged its first oil stains at 7,796 feet.

Test In Ellenburger
The project drilled to 7,810 feet and took a one hour and ten minute drillstem test at 7,780-7,810 feet. Gas showed at the surface in ten minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated.

After operations had pulled 21 stands of drill pipe it started unloading oil. The well was shut off overnight and when all of the drill pipe had been pulled the next morning total recovery was 5,400 feet of fluid, mostly oil, and some drilling mud, and 40 feet of water in the bottom of the tester. Source of the water has not been determined. Some observers think it is connate water.

Operator has set casing and it is understood will make a production test as soon as the plug cures.

Permian Gives Oil In West Crockett

Ledge Petroleum Company, Inc., of Dallas No. 1-A Noelke Livestock Company, West Crockett County wildcat, 4,700 feet to explore into the lower Permian, logged some shows of oil and gas in a middle Permian sand at 3,716-21 feet for a possible new discovery.

The show was estimated good for about one barrel of oil per hour and 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day, naturally.

The venture is now shut down for machinery repairs. It is understood that operator plans to make a production test as soon as the rig and the hole is in condition.

This prospector is 375 feet from north and 437 feet from east lines of a 256.14-acre lease in section 36, block H&WTC survey. It is adjacent to the shallow Noelke field and seven miles southeast of Iraan.

It is near the M&M Production Company No. 2-B Bouscaren, completed recently as a discovery from the Clear Fork of the Permian at 3,943.5 feet, for 90 barrels of oil per day, plus about 80 barrels of water.

The pay showing for possible production in the Ledge No. 1-A is above that from which the M&M No. 2-B Bouscaren was completed. The Ledge venture will likely drill on down to the lower pay after it tests the value of the 3,716-21 foot section.

Magnolia No. 2 Parks Making More Hole

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 Parks, Central-West Midland County wildcat, 11 1/4 miles southwest of the city of Midland, and 660 feet from north and 2,180 feet from west lines of section 19, M. Daugherty survey, was making hole below 10,517 feet in Pennsylvanian lime, with streaks of shale.

No new shows of oil or gas have been developed since the project drilled below 10,468 feet. The section at 10,398-468 feet flowed 23.38 barrels of 44.6-gravity oil in two hours through a five-eighths inch bottom hole choke, to indicate a commercial discovery from the Pennsylvanian.

This venture was originally started to go to about 13,500 feet to explore the Ellenburger.

Crane Devonian Pool Assured Of Extension

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 3-B Cowden, one-location outpost to the discovery well of the Cordona Lake-Devonian field in Central-South Crane County is botomed at 5,660 feet in the Devonian and is preparing to start production tests.

This exploration is located 620 feet from southeast and 2,640 feet from northeast lines of section 16, block 2, H&TC survey.

It is cemented 5 1/2-inch casing on bottom. The plug will be drilled and the producing ability of the Devonian will be tested through perforations.

Top Of Ellenburger In C-W Crockett Dry

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Clayton Ranch, Southeast Crockett County wildcat, nine miles southeast of Ozona, and 1,920 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 12, block GH, GC&SF survey, failed to develop any shows of petroleum in a drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 8,611-24 feet.

The tool was open for one hour and 17 minutes, before the packer failed.

Recovery was 390 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. The prospector is to core deeper.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 8,469 feet, at a datum of minus 6,000 feet. The section of that formation above 8,611 feet has shown some signs of gas, but only slight shows of oil. The project will go ahead until it develops oil or water in the Ellenburger—or encounters granite.

Strawn Top Picked In C-S Kent Test

Seven miles southwest of Clairemont in Central-South Kent County, Heyser and others No. 1 Lohman, an Ellenburger wildcat, has topped a lime section believed to be the Strawn.

The white, chalky lime was topped at 8,774, on an elevation of 2,129 feet. Operators drilled to 8,807 feet and took a drillstem test. Recovery was 25 feet of mud with no shows.

The venture was last reported drilling ahead below 6,826 feet, still in lime.

This project is 1,012 feet from south and 2,045 feet from east lines of section 42, block G, W&NW survey.

Eleven miles south of Clairemont, Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Bilby-Wallace was conditioning hole to take a drillstem test at total depth 6,728 feet in Strawn lime.

This project is five miles northeast of the Cogdell pool, and 300 feet from south and west lines of section 776, block 97, H&TC survey.

SW Scurry Extension Staked With Offset

Humble Oil & Refining Company has staked a south offset to the Warren Oil Corporation No. 1 Reyman, recently completed one and one-quarter mile southeast extension to the Scurry County reef.

Humble No. 1 Herman Carter will be 600 feet from east and 1,960 feet from south lines of section 101, block 25, H&TC survey.

Slatid depth for the offset is 6,800 feet. Drillstem is approximately 19 miles southwest of Snyder.

Warren Oil has staked a west offset to its recent extension and R. E. Smith has scheduled a number of wells in the section directly north of the Warren No. 1 Reynolds.

Fifteen gas wells were completed, bringing the year's total to 183, compared with 198 last year at this date.

The commission reported 105 dry holes. Wildcat operations resulted in 16 oil wells, one gasser and 43 dry holes.

Giles Will Discuss Texas Public Lands At PBLA Meeting

A record attendance is expected for the dinner meeting of the Permian Basin Landmen's Association at 7 p.m., Tuesday night, when Bascom Giles of Austin, commissioner of the General Land Office of Texas will be the speaker.

Giles' address will be titled, "Texas Public Lands." The meeting will be held in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

It is expected that Giles will tell many interesting stories connected with the public lands in this state.

The Permian Basin Landmen's Association is the largest regional group of oil company landmen in the United States. It covers the territory from Abilene on the east to El Paso and Roswell, N. M., on the west and from Plainview on the north to the Rio Grande River on the south.

Restricted Membership
Its membership is restricted, to oil company land and lease men.

Harry H. Lawson, president, will preside at the Tuesday night session.

Advance reservations should be made with Maurice W. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the association at the district land office of The Texas Company in Midland.

Many Expected At Oklahoma Scouts, Landmen Session

OKLAHOMA CITY—More than one thousand members of the National Oil Scouts and Landmen's Association are expected to attend the national convention of that organization to be held June 8, 9, and 10 in Oklahoma City.

Program plans for the meeting are near completion and arrangements are being made to handle the largest number of oil men ever to attend a meeting of the group.

John W. Allen, president of the Oklahoma Oil Scouts Association, 1950 sponsor of the national convention, said.

While government officials cannot, normally, talk about prices without stirring up controversy, these officials did the closest thing to it. They explained that, drilling the exploration are continuing at high levels, because the "incentive" is there for this.

While there is little more on the record, there are whisperings here and there that the crude price level, influenced by many factors in addition to straight supply and demand, including proration, tells the answer too when imports have reached the danger point.

The effort to substitute this sort of thinking, of course, is an attempt to recognize a fact that already is here. The single statement of the industry on imports, that of the National Petroleum Council, calls for imports to the point where they supplement domestic production; they must not supplant it, says the statement. This point, however, long has been passed, and imports are now well above 850,000 barrels daily.

Thus, the effort to find a new definition to justify this situation.

When will the danger point come? It's hard to tell, for the "experts" have been predicting a drop in crude prices for more than a year.

K. S. Adams, president of the Phillips Petroleum Company, has just told the security analysts of New York, that the threat to crude prices is here, and the imports must be slowed to wipe out the threat.

Midland Legion Post Ranks Eighth In State In Membership Total

Midland's Wood W. Lynch Post No. 19, American Legion, now ranks eighth among Texas posts in membership total, it was revealed this week by the Texas Legion News.

The Midland post had 778 active members listed by the Legion News. New memberships in the last few days have raised the total to 869, according to Midland Legion officials.

San Antonio Post No. 2, with 1,650 members, ranked first in the state. Houston, Amarillo, Port Arthur, Beaumont, Fort Worth and Dallas were other posts ranked above Midland. Tyler and Houston posts were ninth and tenth.

Posts ranking in the second ten include Temple, Odessa, San Antonio No. 420, Plainview, Corpus Christi, Denison, Seguin, Austin, Lubbock and San Antonio No. 10.

Washington Oil—Government Officials Press New Concept Of 'Reasonable Imports'

WASHINGTON — A wholly new concept of the level of oil imports that is reasonable appears to be taking hold among top Washington officials.

It is that the price of crude oil is the governing factor, and not the level of imports needed to supplement domestic supply.

That is, imports are all right until they come in such volume that the price begins slumping.

First official statement to this effect came from T. S. Peterson, Standard Oil Company (California) and B. S. Watson, vice president Cities Service Oil Company, as far back as last December.

But their words went unheeded until a short time ago, when Rep. Eugene J. Keogh (D-N.Y.) carried the theme into a public address.

Keogh is chairman of an oil imports subcommittee of the House Small Business Committee.

"When is the domestic industry hurt by oil imports?" he asked the National Federation of Security Analysts. Then he replied:

"The domestic industry might possibly operate at reasonably healthy levels without any import restrictions if the current price of crude oil remained the same. . . if the price of crude oil dropped substantially, the domestic industry would undoubtedly be retarded in its exploration efforts, even if imports remained the same."

Others Adopt View
Some in the executive branches appear to have adopted the same view.

Thus, it is understood that Hugh Stewart and Ed Swenson, top men in Interior's Oil and Gas Division, have recently been to a House Commerce Subcommittee, that the American oil industry is "healthy" and producers are "more scared than ever."

While government officials cannot, normally, talk about prices without stirring up controversy, these officials did the closest thing to it. They explained that, drilling the exploration are continuing at high levels, because the "incentive" is there for this.

While there is little more on the record, there are whisperings here and there that the crude price level, influenced by many factors in addition to straight supply and demand, including proration, tells the answer too when imports have reached the danger point.

The effort to substitute this sort of thinking, of course, is an attempt to recognize a fact that already is here. The single statement of the industry on imports, that of the National Petroleum Council, calls for imports to the point where they supplement domestic production; they must not supplant it, says the statement. This point, however, long has been passed, and imports are now well above 850,000 barrels daily.

Thus, the effort to find a new definition to justify this situation.

When will the danger point come? It's hard to tell, for the "experts" have been predicting a drop in crude prices for more than a year.

K. S. Adams, president of the Phillips Petroleum Company, has just told the security analysts of New York, that the threat to crude prices is here, and the imports must be slowed to wipe out the threat.

Washington Oil—Adams, saying crude prices should be held at the present level, said imports "are a threat to a stable oil price." The level of imports should be about 500,000 barrels daily, he said.

Keogh, whose Rockefeller Center, New York, law firm has connections with some of the major oil importing companies, goes into the question this month with his subcommittee to hold fact-finding hearings on oil imports.

He's already been to Texas, and here's the coming schedule: Jackson, Miss., April 24; New Orleans, April 25; Lake Charles and Shreveport, April 26; Little Rock, April 27; Oklahoma City, April 28; Santa Fe, May 2.

A report, should be drafted by May 15, he tells friends, who are trying to speed up issuance of the report in time for Congress to act this year, if action is deemed necessary.

Kerr Amendment Senate passage of the Kerr natural gas act amendment, a milestone in years-long fight to make sure the Federal Power Commission will not take new controls over independent gas producers, takes FPC Commissioner Mon Walker off a hot spot.

The 44-38 vote in favor of the measure means the FPC is forbidden to regulate sales prices of natural gas of independent producers. The price lines, it never has regulated the price, but had been flitting with the idea of so doing. The two-two split in the commission on the subject would have had to be broken by Walker of Washington, a former senator.

Lea Test Develops Production Shows In Wichita-Albany

HOBBS, N. M.—Union Oil Company of California is starting production tests on a 200-foot section between 7,525 feet and 7,738 feet in the Wichita-Albany zone of the lower Permian, which has shown some possibilities of yielding oil and gas in commercial quantities at its No. 1 C. H. Kyle, Central-East Lea County wildcat, 10 miles southeast of Hobbs.

This venture, located 1,960 feet from south and 330 feet from the west lines of section 5-20a-39e, and almost on the west line of Gaines County, Texas, was originally started to test the Drinkard section of the Permian above 7,500 feet.

It failed to find production in that horizon and was deepened into the Wichita-Albany.

Series Of Tests
A series of drillstem tests have shown possibilities of production. The first test was at 7,537-99 feet. The tool was open three hours.

Gas showed at the surface in one hour and 30 minutes. Recovery was 630 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. The tool was open three hours. Gas showed at the surface in one hour.

Recovery was 1,440 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. Another drillstem test was taken at 7,638-7,738 feet. The tool was open three hours. Gas showed at the surface in one hour. Recovery was 540 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. 50 feet of free oil and 60 feet of salt water.

Five and one-half inch casing has been cemented at 7,509 feet. Operators plan to clean out the open hole between 7,509 feet and 7,438 feet, total depth, and test on the swab.

To Plug Off Water
It is probable that operator will plug off a few feet of the bottom of the hole to eliminate the water which was developed on the last drillstem test.

Interested observers think the wildcat has a fair chance to develop some sort of commercial production. It is a considerable distance from the nearest well producing from the Wichita-Albany.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Sams-Devonian, 10 miles south of the center of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 2-12a-33e, was making hole below 10,720 feet in Devonian lime and chert.

Devonian Top Picked
This project topped the Devonian at 10,562 feet, on an elevation of 4,246 feet. It topped the Devonian at 10,680 feet.

A string of 5 1/2-inch casing has been cemented at 10,650 feet. Operator plans to drill ahead to 10,892 feet and then test and complete the well.

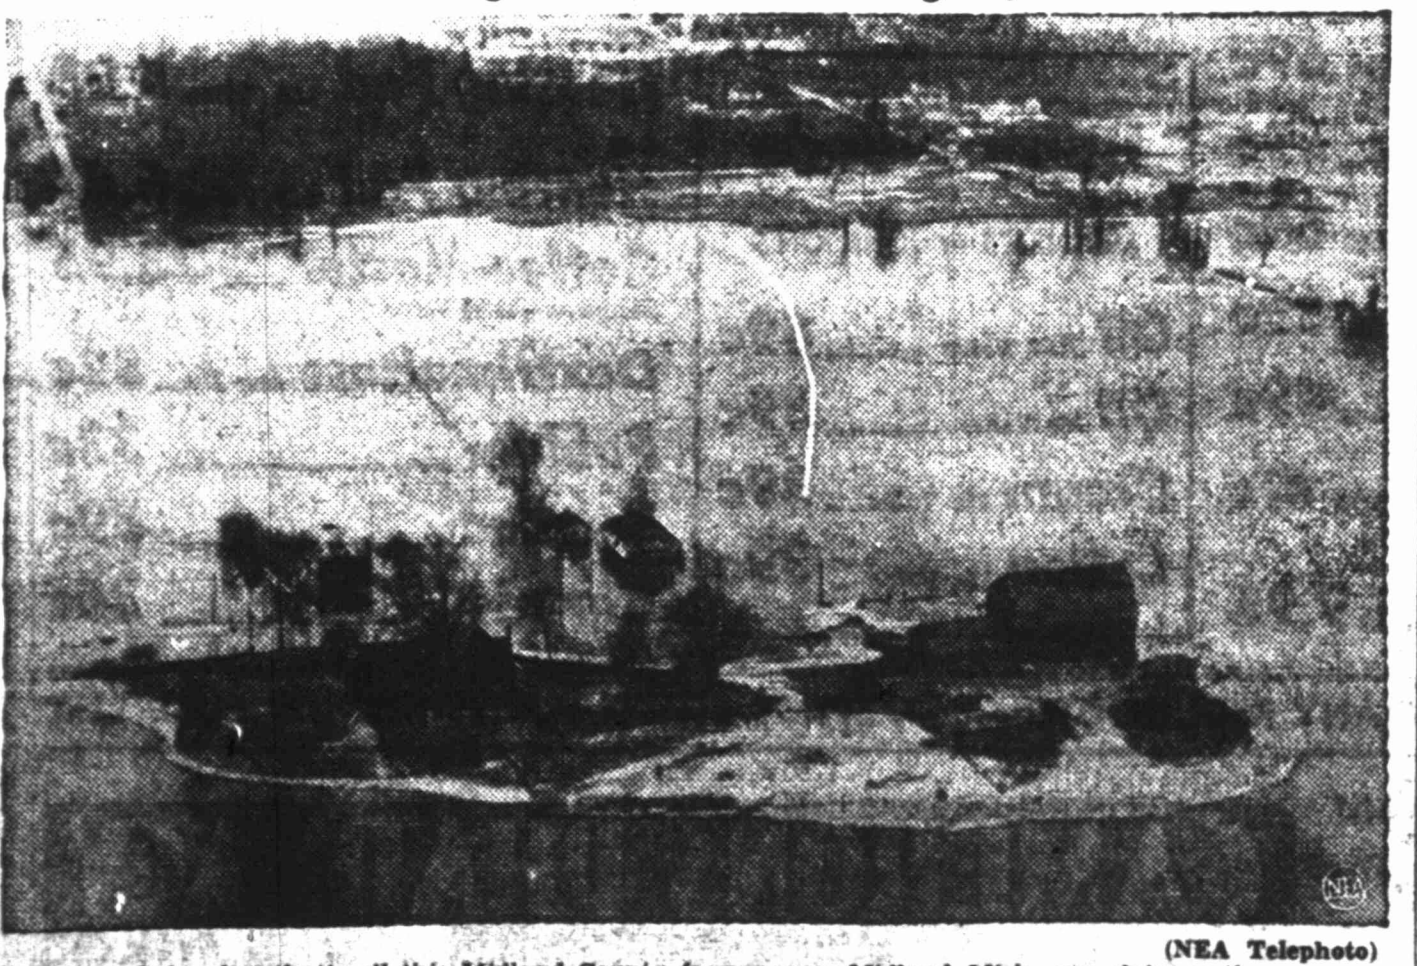

It correlates 176 feet high on the top of the Devonian to the same marker in Amerasia Petroleum Corporation No. 1-BTA State, the discovery for Devonian production in the Bagley field. It is 82 feet high to the Amerasia No. 1-BTC State, a completed producer from the Devonian a short distance to the north.

If an ant were enlarged to human size and its strength increased proportionately, it could move objects weighing 120 tons.

Three Special Problems Are Puzzling Petroleum Economists These Days

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON — (AP) — Petroleum economists are puzzling over three particular problems these days — gasoline and crude oil prices and competition from natural gas. The rapid postwar natural gas boom in the East and Midwest has captured some oil markets and taken others that might have been diverted to petroleum.

Gas pipeline expansion programs have not reached their peak as yet. Hundreds of miles of line are under construction now and many hundreds more still are in the drafting board stage. Continental Oil Company last week cut its wholesale gasoline prices in order to be in a more favorable competitive position should a price crisis arrive. The company abandoned a system based on average freight rates and began basing wholesale prices on local economic and competitive factors.

Junior Bulldogs Win District 2-AA Track Crown

Bulldog Golfers Win 2-AA Crown

The Midland High School Bulldog golf team scored a grand slam in the District 2-AA tournament held Saturday on the Odessa Country Club course.

The Bulldog foursome finished with a total of 639 strokes over the 36-hole route to best Lubbock, second place winner, by 72 strokes.

Roane Puett, crafty little Midland linksman, ruled the course all day as he fired four hot rounds to win medalist honors. His total for the 36 holes was 151.

Puett nudged out Midland's Graham Mackey by one stroke for medalist. Mackey finished with 152.

Johnny Ward had the third lowest total among the Bulldogs, a 163, and Bill Franklin recovered from some bad luck on the first 18 to register a 173.

Arlyn Scott of Odessa finished third in the field of 16 golfers with a total of 154.

Team scoring showed Lubbock with 711 strokes, Odessa with 731 and Lamesa with 769.

The win gives the Bulldogs a green light for the Regional Golf Tournament which will be held in Lubbock later this month.

Puett and Mackey also won the right to enter individual competition in the regional event.

The district win was the fifth against no defeats for Coach Audrey Gill's boys.

Nine Conferences Agree On Rules To Restrict Recruiting

AUSTIN—(AP)—Representatives of nine college conferences in the South and Southwest, meeting with officials of the Texas Interscholastic League, Saturday agreed on rules to prevent Texas schoolboy athletes from visiting college campuses for "try-outs."

It was an unofficial meeting, however, and each conference must adopt the rules before they can be enforced.

The league called the meeting, complaining that the colleges disturbed the boys in their school work, that it hurt high schools under the Gilmer-Aiken school law in Texas, which pays off on attendance, and that the boys in some instances were making a "trick" of it by accepting transportation money, then hitchhiking to the colleges or getting alumni to pay their way.

30 Schools Attend

The 30 representatives of the league and the college conferences agreed on the following:

1. Barring official visitation to college campuses by a prospective athlete while the boys are participating in a sport and prior to his graduation. If the boy has finished his athletic eligibility—meaning he is not participating in any other sport—the visit to college campuses would be allowable on non-school days.

2. Allowing contacts by college coaches and scouts with athletic prospects at the home high school during non-school hours only, and only after clearance by school authorities. All contacts would be limited to that portion of the year following the close of football season.

The Southwest Conference, Southeast Conference, Border Conference, Gulf Coast Conference, Texas Conference, Lone Star Conference, Big Six Junior College Conference, Southwestern Junior College Conference and Texas Junior College Conference were represented and agreed to the proposal.

Purple Third In Senior Division; Smith Sets Mark

By SHORTHY SHELburnE
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

BRONCHO STADIUM, ODESSA — The Midland Bulldogs walked away with the title in the junior division of the District 2-AA Track and Field Meet held here Saturday while the Odessa Bronchos were winning the senior division.

Along with the Midland juniors, a skeleton crew of senior Bulldogs, coached by Tugboat Jones, put Midland in evidence all over the place.

The short-handed senior Bulldogs, lacking field men and having only one entry in most events, battled like rojans to win third place behind Odessa and second place Lubbock.

Lamesa finished fourth and Brownfield trailed in team standings in the high school bracket. Juniors Win Easily

The Junior Bulldogs had little trouble taking highest honors from the other three teams entered. Odessa finished second, Brownfield was third and Lamesa fourth. Lubbock did not enter a junior team.

The meet turned out to be one of the best in history as six new records were set and another was tied in the high school bracket.

Harrie Smith, the greatest hurdler the district ever has seen, clipped more than five-tenths of a second off the high hurdles mark. He topped the timber in 15.15 seconds over the 120-yard route to leave the spectators astounded. It was the fastest Smith ever has run the event.

John Klinger added more glitter to the shining example the Bulldogs set by breezing to an easy victory in the mile run.

Klinger finished second in the 220-yard dash to finish third behind two of Odessa's seasoned performers. He also was a stand-out in the 440-yard relay, picking up 30 or 40 yards as he ran the last heat and put the Bulldogs in third.

Jack Burris, Ralph Brooks, Leo Hatfield, W. H. Black, Jimmy Locke, Johnny Kennedy, Dwane Bush, and Yates Brown gave good accounts of themselves in the face of the staggering odds Odessa and Lubbock offered.

Keisling High Junior

Robert Keisling was high point man in the junior division of the meet with eight and one-half. Harold Robbins was second with seven and one-half.

Howard Dye, Odessa ace, copped individual honors in the high school division with 10 3/4 points.

The team scoring found Odessa finishing with a landslide 74 2/3 points. Lubbock scored 34 5/8, Midland had 25 1/2 and Lamesa notched 15.

John Ed Giles of Odessa set two new records. He ran the low hurdles in 22.9 seconds and sped through the 220-yard dash in 23 seconds flat.

Joe Childress of Odessa ran the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds for a new mark.

Weldon Holley, also of Odessa, cleared the pole vault bar a 10 feet, 8 inches to establish a new record in that event.

Record Tied

A mighty leap of 20 feet, 8 1/2 inches by Howard Dye of Odessa, in the broad jump, tied the old mark.

The Odessa 440-yard relay team sprinted around in 43.9 seconds to hang up a new record.

Midland's senior Bulldogs put together two firsts and a tie for another, a second place, two thirds and a tie for another and three fourth places to finish third.

The Junior Bulldogs registered three first places, two seconds and a tie for another.

First and second place winners in each event in the senior division will enter the Regional Track and Field Meet in Lubbock later this month.

Coach Tugboat Jones is expected to send Harrie Smith, Ralph Brooks, W. H. Black and John Klinger to the regional meet.

The complete results of Saturday's meet follow:

Texas Returns To Glory In Own Relays; Kansas Steals Individual Show

AUSTIN—(AP)—Five records fell as the University of Texas returned to domination of its own Texas Relays Saturday but the University of Kansas—or rather its Pat Bowers—stole the show.

Kansas romped to three relay titles with Bowers the man of the moment in each. It earned for the stock distance runner the accolade of "outstanding performer of the relays."

Friday Bowers sparked the Kansas distance medley team to victory with a 3:02.4 three-quarters mile and Saturday he ran a 4:16.0 mile in leading the Jayhawk quartet to first place in the four-mile relay and a 1:52.0, 880 in pacing the two-mile relay team to triumph.

Bowers beat out Charley Parker, the great University of Texas sprinter, and a couple of high jumpers for the honor. Parker won the 100-yard dash in 9.6 and anchored two sprint relay teams to victory although suffering from a muscle injury in his leg. He ran with the leg bandaged.

Texas scored 28 points to win the university division title. Oklahoma A&M and Kansas State tied for second with 10 1/3 points.

In the junior college-college freshman division Oklahoma A&M romped home first with 18 points. Rice was second with 11.

High School Winners

In the high school class Galveston upset favored Corpus Christi with 16 points to 12.

Three of the records were in the university class.

One was on a prodigious high jump by Jack Razzetto of San Diego State and Virgil Sevens of Kansas State, each clearing the bar at six feet, 8 1/4 inches. It wiped out the record of six feet, 7 7/8 inches set by Doh Boydston of Oklahoma A&M and Dub Walters of Baylor in 1941.

The Kansas four-mile relay team and the Rice mile relay team set the other university class records. (Continued On Page 11)

Happiest Boy In Town

Little Pat Decker is just about the happiest boy in town as Owner-Manager Harold F. Webb of the Midland Indians presents him with a baseball at Indian Park and purchases $25 in Easter Seals to start off the Seal campaign in Midland. The Indians smile approval as Pat gets his heart's desire. Young Pat is a victim of arthritis and has undergone much treatment. He's better now and attends school regularly, having improved enough the last year to get out of bed. He lives with his grandmother, Mrs. M. P. Friday, at 419 South Colorado Street. Ball players pictured, left to right, bottom row, are: Ernie Nelson, Ralph Blair, Lou Dawson, Quinten Basco, George Firnback, Royce Thiebaud. Top row, left to right, Tommy Schoolcraft, Lonnie Balch, Glen Tibbets, Charles Stephenson, Pat Lorenzo, John Singleton, Jim Prince and Harold Wearne.

Hughes, Jones To Return To Midland

Stanley (Sooter) Hughes and Kenny Jones, two of the most popular ball players with the Midland Indians last season, have been returned to Midland for another year of seasoning, Harold Webb announced Saturday.

Hughes is expected to arrive here Sunday and Jones probably will be in Monday. Webb sold Hughes to the Dallas Eagles in a deal last winter. He requested that the Eagles return him to Midland for another year.

Jones was drafted by Borger of the West Texas-New Mexico League last December. He also requested to be returned to the Indians.

The Dallas club announced Hughes had requested to be placed on the disabled list several weeks ago when it appeared he would have to undergo surgery. He is improved now, however, and an operation won't be necessary.

Jones has been working out with the Borger Gassers in Spring training and will be ready to enter the lineup immediately. He was one of the top catchers in the league last year and was voted the Rookie of the Year by sports writers.

Hughes is not in shape and will not be able to play for several days. He is expected to be ready when the season opens April 11. Jones will add punch to the Indians' batting order. He hit 343 last season.

Hughes is a little weak with the stick but makes up for it with his major league fielding at shortstop.

SECOND SACK—FIRST PROBLEM

TAMPA, FLA. —(AP)—The second base situation has become the No. 1 problem for the Cincinnati Reds. Tribe At Borger For Sunday Tilt; Dukes Here Next

The Midland Indians are in Borger where they will meet the Borger Gassers of the West Texas-New Mexico League in an exhibition baseball game at 2 p.m. Sunday. Manager Harold Webb gathered up every man in camp, including Pitcher LeRoy Jarl who reported late, before leaving Saturday afternoon.

The Indians have experienced only minor injuries and ailments so far in Spring training. They are in good condition for Sunday's tilt.

Ralph Blair, veteran right-hander with a cracking curve ball, has been nominated as the starting hurler against the Gassers. He will work about half the game before turning the pitching chores over to Rookie John Singleton.

Harold Wearne and Ernie Nelson, both capable chunkeys, will be ready to take the hill if needed.

Stephenson To Catch

Webb emphasized before leaving that the exhibition was scheduled only to give his pitchers some work under actual game conditions. He also wants a look at his infield.

Chuck Stephenson, rookie catcher-outfielder from Oklahoma, will be behind the plate. He has been doing a fine job in squad games and may not be the best pitcher during the season. He probably will land an outfield berth when he is not catching.

Jim Prince, the slugging first sacker, will be hitting in the cleanup spot and playing first base. He has shown his old power at the plate in Spring training tilts.

Quinten Basco, rookie second baseman obtained from Cleveland, probably will lead off. He has been hitting regularly.

Pat Lorenzo will be at third base. He has developed fast and may win the position as a regular. His hitting has been improving.

Tommy Schoolcraft, a rookie who is fast in the short patch but lacking experience, may be the starting shortstop.

George Firnback, the big limited service shortstop, has been troubled with his feet the last few days and may have to sit it out at Borger. Dawson in Center

Lou Dawson, left handed hitting outfielder who was with the Indians last year, probably will move to the right side for Sunday's game. He is fast and can cover the wide expanse of the center garden.

Lonnie Balch, another rookie with power at the plate, will be in left field.

Ernie Nelson or Harold Wearne probably will play right field in the absence of a regular gardener.

Several more players, including pitchers and outfielders, are on the way to the Indians but didn't arrive in time to make the trip to Borger. Albuquerque Here Tuesday

The Indians will return home Monday and prepare to open the home exhibition season against the Albuquerque Dukes in Indian Park Tuesday night.

They play the Odessa Oilers in Odessa Wednesday night, meet Oklahoma City of the Texas League in Indian Park Thursday night, play Ballinger here Friday night and tangle with Odessa here Saturday.

Webb's crew will complete the exhibition season against the Borger Gassers here Sunday afternoon of next week.

The regular season opens here against Big Spring April 11.

KINER'S KORNER MAY BE SCRAPPED BY PIRATES

Unless Ralph Kiner's severely sprained wrist heals properly, the Pittsburgh Pirates may well scrap their synthetic left field fence, known as "Kiner's Korner."

The fence, erected several years ago, is a screen-like construction built several feet in front of the regular left field wall. It makes the home run at Forbes Field come easier.

At first, Hank Greenberg, the transplanted Detroit slugger, utilized it effectively with his long-range bombs. It was then known as "Greenberg Gardens."

BOBBY BROWN REPORTS TO BOMBERS, FILLING ROSTER

ST. PETERSBURGH, FLA. —(AP)—Bobby Brown, New York Yankee third baseman, reported to camp with his signed contract Saturday thereby bringing all the Bombers in line for the 1950 season. Brown's absence was caused by his desire to complete his medical course at Tulane University. He will receive his diploma this summer.

Following his first workout, Brown said he felt in good shape. He has been working out the last month with the New Orleans Pelicans as well as with the Tulane nine.

SO FAR, HANK MAJESKI IS MAN OF HIS WORD

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)—So far Hank Majeski has been a man of his word.

The Chicago White Sox, who have Majeski installed at third base, got him from the Philadelphia A's last winter in a trade for pitcher Ed Kleinman. At the time, there was some concern that Majeski might be "plate shy" after suffering two serious beanings in three years.

"I'll knock those runs in for you," he promised General Manager Frank Lane when the deal was made.

He has been stepping into the ball and belting it at a .300 clip all Spring. Hank wears a protective plastic device inside his cap—and just dares anyone to call him "plate shy."

NOT ON ROSTER BUT NUMBER ONE RELIEFER

BRADENTON, FLA. —(AP)—Ernie Johnson, lanky right-hander from Brattleboro, Vt., whose name doesn't even appear on the club roster, now looms as the number one relief hurler for the Boston Braves.

The Green Mountain lad was hurried into action Friday after Jocko Conlan, National League umpire ejected Starter Bob Hall after an argument. Johnson worked 4 2/3 innings, gave three hits, three walks and whiffed three.

FINDS NO REASON FOR AILING NEWHOUSER ARM

LAKELAND, FLA. —(AP)—An examining physician reported Saturday he could find no cause for Hal Newhouser's ailing left arm.

Dr. Edgar Watson said X-rays showed no calcium deposits, no arthritic condition or abnormalities in the pitching arm of the star Detroit southpaw.

Newhouser, who has pitched only two innings of an exhibition game this Spring, cut short his throwing in batting practice Tuesday. He complained: "my arm hurts."

The infield for the Colts will be Jose Chavez, first base; Jesus Reyes, second base; Gregorio Collazo, shortstop; and Martin Benavides, third base. Arturo Ochoa will catch.

Country Club, Chamber Of Commerce Statements Define Status Of Bauers

By TANNER LAINE

If not in direct rebuttal to inferences of recent publicity, then certainly for the sake of the amateur status of the famed Bauer sisters, the Midland Country Club and Chamber of Commerce Saturday issued statements in letters to Fred Hogan of Midland, who is a sectional USGA representative.

Here is the statement from the Country Club:

"With reference to your inquiry as to the membership status of Mr. Dave Bauer, this is to advise that in 1949 Mr. Bauer applied for membership in our club and was placed on the waiting list with other applicants. As soon as a vacancy in membership occurred whereby Mr. Bauer's application was next in line, he was admitted to membership and has been issued one share of stock in conformity with all other members.

"Your questions with reference to the membership privileges of Mr. Bauer's daughters is fully answered in the attached booklet of our club rules which booklet also contains a listing of the 1950 members. As provided in our by-laws, club privileges of the Bauer sisters originate through the membership of their father. Dues are assessed quarterly on Mr. Bauer's membership in the same manner that the assessment of dues to all other members is handled.

"Regarding your questions as to the amateur status of Misses Alice and Marlene Bauer, please be advised that the Midland Country Club has never contributed to the payment of any funds to the Bauer sisters or to their parents."

"Does Not Deserve" And here is the Chamber of Commerce statement:

"With reference to our conversation of today concerning the amateur status of Misses Alice and Marlene Bauer, allow me to set forth the following facts:

"1. The Midland Chamber of Commerce has made no arrangements whatsoever, financial, living quarters or any other way with the Bauer sisters or their parents.

"2. From all points of the United States this office has received various write-ups about the two famous girls. In more than one of them, I noticed that sports writers have given this office credit that it does not deserve.

"3. Because of the fame of the two girls and because of their admirable conduct in the field of competitive golf, the Board of Directors of this Chamber of Commerce did authorize me to present them with Honorary Memberships in this organization. From your own experience as a member of that board, you will know we follow this custom and that we have presented Honorary Memberships to our governor, the director of the Navy Band, Gene Autry and others.

"4. If a statement from our auditor verifying the fact that we make no contributions to them would be of value to you, it will be a pleasure to furnish it."

Indignation These statements may have been further prompted Saturday by the publication of an Associated Press story datelined Daytona Beach, Fla., which mentioned Dave Bauer's comments on an article in Golf World magazine which asked "Have the Bauer girls violated the amateur code?"

Hogan said Saturday he had found nothing different there in the status of Bauer girls and other children of club members.

Indignation at the implications of some publicity which might be harmful to the young athletes was the general consensus here of Country Club members.

Jealousy, both of the Bauer sisters and Midland's subsequent publicity, was mentioned by one member as his belief for the "to do" over the amateur status of the girls.

Meanwhile, the girls are famous. They are getting bales of publicity for themselves and for Midland.

Most agree Midland was smart in "adopting" the Bauers.

Hogan added that he believed Golf World magazine was wrong in its statement that "The odds are 1,000 to one that the USGA will not accept the entries of the girls in the amateur."

The issue is a trifle warm. It was bound to come as a result of the natural beauty and attractiveness of the Bauer girls and their smash success on the links.

Hogan opined false implications in regard to the girls' amateur status would be bad for women's golf throughout the country.

Bulldogs Lose To Bronchos

The Midland Bulldogs dropped a 13-2 decision to the Odessa Bronchos in an exhibition baseball game Friday afternoon on the Odessa diamond.

The Bulldogs held the tough Odessa nine on even terms for the first two innings but a five-run outburst in the third frame spelled defeat.

Don Smith hurled five innings for Midland and Bill Medart worked the last two.

Odessa scored two in the second, five in the third, three in the fourth and three in the sixth.

The two Bulldogs runs came in the second. Loren Roberts, Smith, Bill Branch and Jerry Culp singled to plate the pair of tallies.

Graziano, Janiro Fight To Standoff In Spite Of Radio

YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO. —(AP)—Boxing fans in this home town of Tony Janiro still were stirred Saturday by the contrast in radio and television accounts of his fight with Rocky Graziano.

The match Friday night in Madison Square Garden ended in a draw.

Some radio listeners said they got the impression Janiro was being licked.

Numerous television viewers, however, said they were certain Janiro was entitled to the draw, if not a victory.

In many night spots, where customers were offered both radio and television accounts of the fight, there were cries of "turn off the radio" and "is that guy (the announcer) seeing the same fight we are?"

Some radio listeners hesitated to believe a radio report that Janiro's face was a "bloody mess" after television viewers said Janiro's face appeared unmarked.

Magazine Questions 'Simon Pure' Status Of Golfing Sisters

DAYTONA BEACH, FLA. —(AP)—Dave Bauer says he hasn't made up his mind about any change in the amateur status of his two golfing daughters.

He also said he wasn't ready to say whether the girls will enter the 1950 Women's National Amateur championship.

Bauer is a pro from Midland, Texas. His daughters, Alice, 22, and Marlene, 16, now are competing in the Ormond Beach Amateur Invitational Tournament.

Bauer made his remarks when asked for comment on an article in Golf World magazine which asked "Have the Bauer girls violated the amateur code?"

The magazine said the U. S. Golf Association "has been conducting an investigation and it is said by reliable sources to be building up a portfolio which will be used if Father Dave enters them in this year's National Amateur."

Executive Secretary Joe Dey of the USGA said in New York that it was true they were investigating the sisters.

About the magazine article, Marlene said, "I'm pretty perturbed about it." Alice said she was "irked plenty."

"Now isn't that just cute," Alice said. "Talking about barring Marlene so the USGA is 'frowning.' Well, if the USGA wanted to frown, there wouldn't be many amateurs left in the country."

"Golf hasn't had anything like Marlene. She's a definite threat for the Nationals. No one has done as much to inspire youngsters to play golf as she has. They'd be sitting their own throats if they kept her out of the Nationals and I'm not just saying this because she's my sister. But when they pick on her, I come up fighting."

Girls, At Least Two Of Them, Will Play IL Baseball

AUSTIN —(AP)— Girls will be playing baseball in the Texas Interscholastic League this year—at least two of them.

Dr. Rhea Williams, athletic director of the league, said Saturday the coach of Asherton High School had called him with this question:

Since Asherton has only nine boys for baseball and two had moved away could Asherton use two girls to fill out the team?

Dr. Williams consulted the rules and found there was a prohibition against using girls in football but not in any other sport. So Coach Pure of Asherton can use the girls, whom he described as "good baseball players," on his team.

The league passed a rule against girls in high school football several years ago when a girl, Frankie Groves, played at Sunnert.

Let's Elect ...

J. W. (Bill) McMillen

To The Post of

City Council, Place 5

ON TUESDAY, APRIL 4

Consider These Outstanding Qualifications:

- ★ The City of Midland has grown to such proportions that administration of its affairs has become big business. Bill McMillen has made a success of his own business. Enough so that he is now in position to devote his full time to the administration of his duties as City Councilman.
- ★ Bill McMillen has always taken an active interest in civic affairs. He is thoroughly familiar with our city's problems and qualified to meet any problem that might arise from his duties as Councilman.
- ★ Bill McMillen is old enough to have mature judgment — young enough to be active in the administration of the City's affairs.
- ★ Bill McMillen is vitally interested in young folk. Much of his work has been anonymous but we doubt if there is another person in Midland that has given as much of their time and money to help young people get the right start in life as has Bill McMillen. Many owe the accomplishment of a college education to the help of Bill McMillen.
- ★ Bill McMillen has never asked for an elective office before . . . and would not ask for this one if he did not feel that he could creditably handle the job.
- ★ Bill McMillen is a graduate mining engineer, School of Mines, Wisconsin. He later attended University of Arkansas.
- ★ Bill McMillen has lived in Midland, Texas, since 1934. He is a substantial property holder, a family man, a good citizen, a man whose integrity is unquestioned.

Let's Elect A Man Who Is Interested, Who Has The Time, Who Has Ability, Who Has The Energy, Who Will Always Execute His Best Judgment . . .

Let's Elect Bill McMillen To City Council, Place 5

Williams Gets Third Homer As Sox Win

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—Ted Williams hit his third homer of the exhibition season and his teammates reeled off five double plays as the Boston Red Sox defeated the New York Yankees Saturday, 4-0.

The score: R H E Boston (A) 120 001 000—4 9 1 New York (A) 000 000 000—3 6 3

Masterson, Suchecki and Batts; Porterfield, Hood, Page and Houk.

Owls Win Again

HOUSTON—(AP)—Rice Institute beat Stephen F. Austin State College of Nacogdoches 6-3 in a baseball game here Saturday afternoon.

Texas Relays—

The Kansas foursome of Cliff Abel, Herb Semper, Bowers and Bob Karnes did the four-mile in 17:10.9, bettering the oldest record in the Texas Relays book—the 17:40.1 set by Illinois in 1928.

The Rice mile relay team with Tom Cox doing a 46.5 anchor lap smashed the record set by Texas A&M in 1948 by almost three seconds. Cox came from second place at the last turn to overtake Jerry Meador of Oklahoma and win going away. The Rice time was 3:14.5. The old record was 3:17.2.

Loyola of Chicago set a new record in the sprint medley relay of the college class with 3:25.0. The old record of 3:27.9 was set in 1949 by East Texas State.

The other record also was in the college class and was only because of a new event. North Texas State's time in the 440-yard relay was 42.0 and that will go into the books as record as this event was instituted only this year.

A crowd of 12,000 watched the big track and field carnival.

In the university mile relay the first three teams bettered the old record. Oklahoma did 3:15.6 and Texas A&M 3:16.5 while Oklahoma A&M, the fourth-place quartet, was only two-tenths of a second over the mark.

Montes Wins Two Firsts

Javier Montes, slim distance runner of Texas Western, was the only athlete in the meet to win two first places. He took the 3,000-meter run Friday by a yard over Howard Johnston of Trinity University. Saturday he won the Jerry Thompson Open Mile by six inches over the same Johnston. His time was 4:21.2—well over the record of 4:12.3 set in 1949 by Jerry Thompson of Texas for whom the special half mile is named.

Rollin Prather, Kansas State giant, missed a record by one-half inch. He threw the shot 52 1/4 inch. The record is 52 feet 3 1/4 inch set by Elmer Hackney of Kansas State 1939.

The Loyola team that set the sprint medley relay record in the college class was made up of Roman Growlin, Charles Whittingham, Frank Scarpelli and Bill Conrady.

Galveston, in winning the high school class title, took two relays—the 440 and mile—and the sprint. The same team of Neil Goodman, Bill Erhard, Clifford Quinn and Jerry Boyd made up both relay teams.

North Texas State used the same team in winning two relays—Harland Howell, Charles Whittingham, Lowe and Jerome Zaboynik taking both the 880-yard and 440-yard events.

Kansas, too, used the same men in winning two relays—the four mile and two-mile.

Reds Get 15 Hits But Lose To Sens

ORLANDO, Fla.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds pounded Mickey Harris and Lloyd Hittle for 15 hits Saturday but dropped an 8-6 decision to Washington.

The score: R H E Cincinnati (N) 010 202 001—6 15 1 Washington (A) 100 004 30X—8 7 0

Hetki, Panovich, Avera and Howell; Johnson; Harris, Hittle and Grasso, Evans.

Cubs Win As Rush Handcuffs Indians

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(AP)—Bob Rush, a hard-throwing right hander, limited the Cleveland Indians to five mealy singles Saturday as the Chicago Cubs won a 3-1 verdict.

The score: R H E Chicago (N) 020 000 010—3 11 1 Cleveland (A) 100 000 001—1 5 1

Rush, Chipman and Walker; Benton, Gromek and Murray.

Band Meet—

Roger Dean—

ing at a Christmas tree—except—Yes, except that he drew his breath—precious breath—through a silver tube in his throat. That little boy was Roger Dean of Stanton.

The headline of the front-page story, Dec. 18, 1949, read: "Stanton Boy Faces Long Fight, But No Operation Required."

The story with the headline said the boy could not be made normal by Christmas, but this was no sign there wasn't a Santa Claus.

The kind doctor, who wants to remain anonymous, accepted the challenge of what he found in Roger Dean's throat. "It can be done, I believe," the skilled physician said.

He found that Roger's trouble was in disuse and that his larynx thus was affected. Home exercise and other treatments were prescribed.

The doctor continued to work.

He said the size of the silver tube gradually would be diminished until such time as Roger Dean could breathe normally as other little boys do.

There were many medical terms in connection with the doctor's diagnosis, but to the layman, they only were: "The boy has a chance to be just a normal boy."

Psychology As Well

The silver tube had been in Roger Dean's throat since he was five months old. And it was a battle of psychology as well as medical science to get him to breathe without using it.

The story of December 18 said the Christmas story of Roger Dean did not have to end abruptly. There was the doctor's promise and his faith. We would see.

"Time will tell," the heart-warming Christmas story went on to say.

Roger Dean came periodically to The Western Clinic-Hospital to see the kind doctor who was being a Santa Claus to him. January, February, March—"Time will tell."

The size of the tube in his throat gradually was diminished. Roger Dean was being taught to breathe through his normal breathing tract.

A headline in The Reporter-Telegram of the March 30, 1950, issue read: "Santa Claus Letter Answered."

It was told in the story that Roger Dean was well on the way and close to a normal life. In fact, the physician announced that on April 1, 1950, it would be determined whether the tube may be left out permanently. The doctor was almost sure it would be possible.

In the examination March 30, the doctor found Roger could breathe without the tube.

Saturday's examination showed: Roger no longer needs the tube. A later plastic operation to cover the mark of the tube will end the last sign that Roger ever was other than normal.

God And Santa Claus

Can you not just see the happy Christmases ahead for Roger Dean and his parents. So you see—there is a Santa Claus. And a letter to him was answered.

Thanks to a skilled physician, who preferred to remain anonymous.

But God saw him help that little boy. God knows. God and Santa Claus.

Disc Crashes, Pilot Nabbed, It Says Here

LAREDO—(AP)—The Laredo Times devoted its front page to a story about the crash of a flying saucer at Municipal Airport and the capture and death of its pilot following a terrific struggle.

The story was by-lined "By L. O. Oflirpa as told to Hugh Robinson." Times staff writer, Oflirpa was described as an eye witness.

Under an eight-column banner headline, the story said: "The pilot was only 21 inches tall, but he weighed 320 pounds. His weapon was a strange ray gun which emitted 180,000 vibrations per second and temporarily paralyzed his victims."

But the pilot died 30 minutes after his capture, despite efforts to revive him with pure oxygen.

For readers who think a picture is worth, anyway, a couple of dozen words, The Times carried a seven-column shot of nine policemen and other officers aiming guns at the pilot. He was logged out in a weird costume, including a helmet with a circular antenna. The saucer showed up in the background.

Oh, so you've already figured it out—even how they got the pictures. Sure, photographers faked them. For the Times, Ray J. Smart (apt name, huh?) did it by superimposing six separate photos on an airport background picture.

But you're asking: Who would cook up a yarn like that? Here at Laredo, the answer is: William Prescott Allen, the publisher.

And you have caught on to that name—L. O. Oflirpa—yet? Spell it backwards.

Yes, Saturday was April fool, son, April fool.

Presidents Returned To Six State Schools

DALLAS—(AP)—Presidents of six state colleges were reelected Saturday by regents who govern the institutions.

The veteran among those reelected to one-year terms was Dr. Harmon Lowman, president for nine years of Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville.

Others reelected and the number of years previously in office: Dr. Paul L. Boynton, Stephen F. Austin State College, Nacogdoches, eight years; Dr. Richard M. Hawkins, Sul Ross State College, Alpine, four; Dr. James G. Gee, East Texas State Teachers College, Commerce, three; Dr. James P. Cornette, West Texas State College, Canyon, two; and Dr. J. G. Flowers, Southwest Texas State Teachers College, San Marcos, eight years.

DEL RIO BEAUTY NAMED UNIVERSITY SWEETHEART

AUSTIN—(AP)—Jackie M. Parris, a 21-year-old junior from Del Rio, Saturday night was named University of Texas sweetheart.

The tall, brown-haired, brown-eyed girl was selected over four other contestants—including last year's Miss Texas.

Lattimore—

muñ, even by a madman," he said. Asked if the word "madman" referred to McCarthy, he replied: "McCarthy is the man who has been talking about me."

Pressed for a direct answer, whether he meant McCarthy, he nodded silently.

Lattimore returned by plane after a mission to Afghanistan and promptly called McCarthy a "base and miserable creature."

At the news conference he said McCarthy's charges were made "falsely, irresponsibly and libelously," and added:

"If anybody has sworn that I have been or am a member of the Communist Party, he is a perjurer. He should be prosecuted to the limit of the law."

Lattimore said his attorneys had offered all his files "including my personal correspondence" to the Senate committee and they would be available also to the FBI, the State Department "and all other agencies of government."

Dr. Britt—

told E. R. Andres, hospital administrator, when advised of the appointment.

Dr. Britt is the immediate past president of the Second District, Texas Medical Association, which held its annual convention here last week. He also holds memberships in the Six-County Medical Association, American Medical Association and the American Academy of General Practice Physicians.

Extensive Training

A native of Georgia, Dr. Britt was graduated from Emory University in Georgia, and took his post-graduate work in the Children's Hospital, Philadelphia; Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., and Tulane University, New Orleans. He interned at the Grady General Hospital in Atlanta, and has licenses to practice in Georgia, North Carolina and Texas.

Officials said work on the new hospital building at the intersection of Illinois Street and the Andrews Highway is progressing satisfactorily, and completion is scheduled in May.

Furniture and equipment, arriving daily, are being installed as promptly as possible.

Alaska—

establishment is that it is, in a crisis, only as strong as its weakest link," he warned.

Alaska First

"In spite of this observation, I still believe that some defense of Alaska is so important that it should be considered above the others, both in time and importance."

Eisenhower said each major airfield in Alaska should have "not less than a reinforced infantry battalion and an anti-aircraft artillery."

"The service staffs might recommend small garrisons at a few other stations, particularly in the establishing of a radar screen in Alaska, but the Fairbanks-Anchorage area is of clear importance," he said.

Eisenhower said this should be started at once and completed in three years or less.

By December 1, the population totals will be complete. Some six months later, hard-working electronic calculators will catch up with the rest of the statistics. The estimated cost of the whole operation: 90,000,000.

Will Your Home Be Included IN YOUR ESTATE?

You're proud of your home—and justly so.
It represents in a concrete way the high regard you have for your wife and family. A home of your own not only provides your family with better living NOW, it is one of the best methods of protecting your loved ones if something should happen to you.

But here's something to think about. If your home has a mortgage on it, it may very well prove to be a liability rather than a substantial part of your estate. For the protection of your family, investigate our low-cost protection plan that assures your family of a home REGARDLESS OF UN-FORESEEN EVENTS!

Family Meets To Celebrate Birthday Here

Saturday, for the first time in their lives, five brothers and sisters were together. They are the sons and daughters of Mrs. Lucy Heard, 400 South Terrell Street, who met in Midland to celebrate their mother's birthday. All but one son, Doak, were at the party. He lives in New Mexico and could not be present.

This, however, was the first time that this many of the children ever have been together at one time. The youngest, Mrs. Van Turner of Monahans, was born after a son, Frank, the first to leave home, moved from Midland in 1920.

Last year on their mother's birthday, all were together except Doak and Frank. At some future date, they plan to meet when all six can be present.

Mrs. Heard has lived in Midland since 1908, and is the widow of the late Lee Heard.

Last Of Pre-Nuptial Party Series Given

Final parties of a series commemorating Joan Steinberger and her fiancé, David H. Donaldson of Odessa, before their wedding here next Saturday were given on the weekend. The couple will be married in the First Christian Church.

On Saturday morning, Mrs. E. A. Culbertson, Shirley Culbertson, Mrs. A. Knickerbocker and Jan Knickerbocker entertained for Miss Steinberger with an informal coffee and recipe shower in the Knickerbocker home, 107 Club Drive.

The table was centered with a miniature arrangement depicting a kitchen and back yard. The kitchen was surrounded by a tiny fence with pink and white blossoms arranged to resemble an old-fashioned flower garden. A miniature stove and other kitchen furnishings were inside the kitchen and a cook figurine was standing looking across the back yard.

Mrs. Ross Williams and Ken Williams entertained Miss Steinberger and her fiancé with a dinner Friday night in the Midland Petroleum Club. Pink and white, the bride's chosen colors, were used in the decorations. A pink cloth covered the table and pink flowers were used near the centerpiece. Pink carnations surrounded the base of the center arrangement, made of three white cupid holding bows and arrows and white wedding bells.

White ribbon streamers extended from the cupid to the places marked for Miss Steinberger and Donaldson. Their places were designated by a large white wedding bell with their names and wedding date inscribed on it. At the other guests' places were cards decorated with small white wedding bells. Miss Steinberger wore a pink corsage, a gift of the hosts. Her groom, Mrs. Clark R. Steinberger, and grandmother, Mrs. C. C. Steinberger of Houston, wore white corsages, also gifts of Mrs. Williams and her son. The honoree also was presented a host's gift.

Flowers Rank High For Easter Gifts

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Editor

At Easter time the traditional gift is flowers. Lilies, tulips or azaleas in all their Spring glory bring the garden indoors on Easter morn.

Romantic swains arrive on Easter day with their bouquets of cut flowers, potted plants or a corsage of roses or orchids for their lady loves to wear to church. Often, besides the floral gift, boy friend or husband will send an Easter basket, chock full of everything from jelly beans to chicken corn candy.

Lucky is the girl who gets a special bonus gift tucked in her Easter basket. Perfume, cologne and sachets are favorites. You can get floral colognes at budget prices that will be an added filly to her Easter. They'll keep her fragrant through Springtime, long after the Easter corsage has wilted.

Flowers On Bonnet

Most girls wear flowers on their Easter bonnets, and smart is the gentleman who gives a fragrance in a matching scent. Choose some of the delightful gardenia, lilac, carnation, violet and red rose scents that are available. You can get a red rose bouquet that will capture in the bottle the fragrance of a bouquet of freshly cut red roses. A wardrobe of these saucy floral scents is just the thing for Spring.

Before she departs for church on Easter morn, let her spray her chapeau with that floral scent. If she doesn't have fresh flowers at her lapel, she can give her matching hat a spritz of a whiff of that floral fragrance also.

There is something about the Springtime bottled scents that can make last year's old print dress look new. It can perk up a woman's spirits and make her feel ladylike and well-groomed even if she hasn't had a new chapeau in a fortnight.

It takes nearly 16 days less time to get from the United States to the Orient by flying than it took in 1940 by ship.

Patent Leather Back In Fashion

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

Remember the patent leather party slippers you wore as a little girl? Remember the festive feeling you had every time you put them on? You can recapture that best-biband-tucker feeling this Spring, for patent leather is back in the fashion picture with a bang. Not only in shoes, but in all kinds of accessories you'll be seeing it's gala gleam in handbags, belts, hat trimmings, collars and cuffs and wrist accents on gloves.

Patent leather sparks some of the top collections in both Paris and New York, not only in black but also in colors.

Gummetal patent is a new costume accent on Spring suits and coats in Paris, and entire coats of pastel patent have been shown in this country.

Lapels and deep cuffs of patent leather are seen on a Spring coat from one of New York's top designers, and patent trim also is used on a high style raincoat.

You'll have a wide choice when you go shopping for your patent shoes for Spring. You'll find them in all styles, from the classic opera pump to the most frivolous open sandals made of narrow strips of patent. They are available for street, afternoon or evening wear, the latter usually in pastels.

Millinery Shops Are Hectic Places During Easter Hat Rush

By FRANCES HAGAMAN

"Well, she certainly can't buy straw shoes!"—The woman looked at the saleslady as she turned back to the hat drawers in search of the kelly green hat she knew wasn't there.

That scene, and others characteristic of a hectic shopping season, took place in the millinery department of a Midland store last week. The Easter hat rush is on. Women large and small, old and young, fresh and tired—all are looking for hats to put them up front in the Easter Parade. Sometimes it can't be done.

It was late afternoon. Two women had come into the store a few minutes earlier for the second time that day.

They were looking for a kelly green hat. Manufacturers aren't making many kelly green hats for Easter, 1950.

The older of the two sat down at the mirrored table to try on hats. The younger one stood by, eager to comment.

Together, they explained that the older woman recently had bought a pair of kelly green shoes to match last year's straw bag of the same color. She wanted a straw hat to match. It would make her Easter outfit "just perfect."

"I'm sorry," the saleslady had said as she brought out a dark green straw trimmed with net, "but this is the nearest to a kelly green that I have."

"It's the wrong color but I'll try it anyway," the woman put on the hat and looked inquiringly at her companion who shook her head—"It looks nice but it won't match your shoes."

"You don't have to match shoes and hat any more," the saleslady answered. "This year everyone's matching shoes and bag and hat and gloves." The "straw shoe" remark followed.

As she turned back to the hat drawer, the saleslady said in a low voice, "I meant color, not material!"

After that, the woman tried on a few more hats, commented that "I should have brought my shoes so that we could really tell about the color," and left.

Two teen-age girls came in, fresh from school, and began trying on hats at a far counter.

The saleslady laughed. "They're so cute. They come in here almost every day and try on practically every hat I have. But I love them and they're always so sweet."

A little after noon the next day the shopper of the previous day returned, carrying a shoe box. "I liked that hat so well I thought I'd bring the shoes and see if they would match at all."

Out of the box came a pair of high-heeled pumps—not kelly green at all but, strangely enough, a green almost identical with that of the hat.

"Well, forever more, it just goes perfectly with the shoes. I guess they weren't kelly green after all. I'll take the hat."

Two women, obviously travel-worn, came in with several very tired children. They all sat down in the shoe department.

While waiting for a shoe clerk, one woman, wearing a navy blue dress and hat, walked over and began fingering the navy blue straw hats. She picked up a small one, trimmed with flowers, and put it on. It was becoming.

She thought so until she asked her friend, who merely shook her head "no."

The woman pulled off the hat. "I'm too tired to buy a hat today, anyhow."

A pretty young matron and her little girl stopped on their way through the store to look at the hats.

"Hello, could I help you?" the saleslady asked.

"No, I just wanted to look around. I'm not quite ready to buy my Easter bonnet yet but I want to see what you have."

"Look around as long as you want. If there's anything you need just call me."

"I want to see your black straws," a tired looking woman with gray hair said as she came in and sank wearily into a chair. "I'm really too tired to try to look for a hat but this is the only time I have. I work all day."

"I know. Just relax and stay as long as you like." The saleslady brought back an armful of small black straw hats.

"I wish this year's hats were large. I look so awful in these little hats and my hair isn't neat either."

"Why don't you try on a few anyhow?"

The woman began trying on the hats, studying each one and comparing it with the others. Soon she had discarded all but three—very simple but attractive.

"I don't want to decide this afternoon, with my hair the way it is, but I'll come back in a day or two and make up my mind. Thank you for being so patient."

"That's quite all right. I enjoyed helping you."

As the woman gathered up her things and left the saleslady turned. "She'll be back! People ask me how I can enjoy selling hats. That's the reason."

For The Easter (Egg) Parade

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—The smartest kindergarten fashion-plates will be decked out for their Easter egg hunt in pint-sized versions of the high-styled togs their mothers will wear for promenading.

As popular with little girls as with their moms are the starched white accents of collars and cuffs to set off suits and coats; pleats to flare a skirt or give freedom of motion in a straight-cut coat; and bloused belted jackets for suits.

Spring navy meets competition as a color favorite in pastels such as candy pink, apple green, robin's egg blue and dusty rose. Even checks and plaids are scaled down in size to make sporty togs for pram row.

For all their grown-up styling details, however, little fashions are sized with an eye to a youngster's rapidly growing figure. Deep hems and cuffs and ample side seams for letting out promise that clothes will keep a fitting pace with a little girl's growth.

Candy pink covert coat has lace-edged plique revers and cuffs, matched on the felt bonnet.

Checks highlight this trim little rayon-wool suit with Norfolk jacket and box-pleated skirt.

Scissors-sharp pleats back and front point up this semi-fitted plaid coat designed by Bambury. Double-breasted, it's in blue or tan. Matching felt roller has plaid piping.

Baptist Mission To Organize As Church

The North Midland Baptist Mission will become an independent church Easter Sunday, the Rev. J. H. Goins, mission pastor, has announced.

An organizational meeting will be held at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Big Spring, as the principal speaker. The Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the sponsoring church, will be the moderator. The mission was organized after a revival meeting in July, 1949, and has been supported by the First Baptist Church.

Charter membership will be held open through the revival meeting which will begin Easter morning and continue through April 23. Mr. Goins will be the evangelist for the meeting and E. Yates Brown will direct the music.

A covered dish luncheon will be served by the women of the church following the morning service. Training Union meetings at 6:30 p.m. and evening worship at 7:30 p.m. will conclude the program.

Goals of 200 for Sunday School and 100 for Training Union have been set for the day. A building campaign will begin soon after organization. Plans are being made to add a second floor to the building for Sunday School rooms. The mission has a $1,500 investment in the church building, parsonage and grounds now. It is located at 1800 North Big Spring Street.

Insecticide and fungicide dusts and sprays now are made to stick to plants by giving each particle or droplet an electrostatic charge. The charges are imparted by shooting the spray or dusting material through a nozzle at a velocity greater than that of sound.

Chickering

The Chickering, America's oldest and best known piano, was founded in 1823. Through the years, the Chickering has merited ever-increasing fame and renown. Over two hundred medals and decorations for excellence have been conferred upon it by States and Sovereigns, including the Imperial Cross of the Legion of Honor. Yet, there is one award that Chickering cherishes most... a tribute not of any Sovereign or President or Institute of Arts... but the tribute of the tens of thousands of Chickering owners... the invisible but none-the-less real medal of their esteem and high regard.

Making Plans For Brunch

Program Committee members for the Bonnet Brunch which the Modern Study Club will sponsor April 11 are pictured here with members of the club's Ways and Means Committee. Mrs. Harrie A. Smith, left, and Mrs. John Casselman, right, are on the committee arranging the program for the post-Easter benefit entertainment. Mrs. J. W. Carroll, standing in the center, and Mrs. K. C. Slough, seated, are on the Ways and Means Committee, which planned the brunch to raise funds for a club contribution to the Midland Woman's Club Building fund. The brunch will be given in the American Legion Hall.

Spring Hats To Be Contest Prizes At Club's Brunch Party

Spring hats will be the motif of the Bonnet Brunch which the Modern Study Club will sponsor April 11 to benefit the Woman's Club Building fund, and prizes in a hat contest will be appropriately Spring hats.

So that each prize winner may receive the bonnet of her choice, the awards will be in the form of certificates which will entitle the holder to make her selection at the store designated. Midland stores which have contributed the hat certificates are Dunlap's, Grammer-Murphy, Haynes, Wilson's and Colbert's.

Hats worn by guests at the brunch will be judged by a committee of Midland men and the prizes given on the basis of their decisions. Since the party will be held only two days after Easter, it is expected to be an occasion for the display of much Easter millinery.

Other prizes, also contributed by Midland merchants, will be given during the morning entertainment in the American Legion Hall. Members of the Modern Study Club are selling tickets, which must be purchased in advance so that table reservations may be made.

FISH GET AWAY
CHICAGO—P—Somebody stole Detective Raymond J. Walsh's car, and with it the bundle of herring, sardines, tuna and shrimp that lay in the back seat. The officer recovered his automobile two days later. The fish got away.

small TALK

By SUE COLEMAN

More than the flowers—and sandstorms—testify to its being really Spring. Marble games C. H. Ervin said in the park the other day and two others trying out stunts on the driveway of a home with an excited black cocker trying to help, and a couple of firemen had stopped a boy with a top and were letting him play with them—and his top—in front of the fire station.

Don't know whether they were feeling playful or not, but Mrs. J. E. McCain was carrying a big, bright-colored beach ball right down Main Street in a sandstorm one day last week and Mrs. C. H. Ervin said the wind last weekend tempted her to walk outside with a carpet and see if there wasn't something to this flying carpet story. Maybe some competition for the flying saucers.

The season didn't tempt Mrs. E. L. Mason a bit, though. She had a scarf around her head while she was shopping, and said an earache that accompanied her touch of the flu was enough to remind her not to walk bareheaded in March breezes.

One of the well-dressed-for-Spring ladies seen recently was Dorothy Perkins, in a golden beige suit with a straw hat that had flowers, mostly yellow, above her dark hair. And Mrs. Joe Mims wore a navy and white plaid redingote dress with a big cluster of violets at her throat.

A telephone call to the A. A. Jones home is often answered by a cute, polite child's voice that promptly calls, "Mama" when you ask for Lorena. A recent visitor to our desk with his mother was the Duke Jimerson's handsome son who laughed flatteringly at my attempts to entertain him.

Friends of the Bernard Kane Buffingtons who moved from Midland to San Antonio a few years ago, noticed in a San Antonio newspaper last week an item about the Buffingtons' daughter, Diane, a student at Mary Baldwin College. She is one of 30 students chosen from the College Glee Club to sing, with a selected group from the University of Virginia Glee Club, selections from the two Handel oratorios and the Bach "Magnificat" at the university Monday. She will sing at Mary Baldwin Tuesday in a joint performance with the Harvard Orchestra, and on April 24 with the University of Virginia Glee Club. Diane was just ready for high school when the family left Midland.

A few minutes casual conversation with Viola Hynd about flowers convinces you she is one of those people whom the flower arrangement experts mean when they refer to the arrangement of flowers as an art and a means of expression. She considers it fun, not a chore, but she puts real effort into fixing a bunch of posies for display on a table. And people who see it share her reward in the task.

Engaged Couple Complimented At Party; Wedding Date Told

Complimenting Irma Anderson and William B. James, who will be married April 9, Mrs. J. C. Perryman was hostess at a shower Saturday night in her home, 906 West Tennessee Street.

The bride-elect is the daughter of John S. Anderson of Muskegon, Mich., and the prospective bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. James, 609 West Watson Street. Announcement that the wedding will be solemnized April 9 in the Seventh Day Adventist Church, Keene, was made.

The house was decorated with Spring flowers carrying out a yellow and white color scheme. Yellow and white flowers centered the table which was covered with a cloth of Italian cutwork. Miss Anderson wore a corsage of yellow carnations, a gift of the hostess.

Program Given
A program was presented including a floral love story, a game and a bit of information about the couple's early lives, gathered and compiled in a small gift book entitled, "This Is Your Life," by Mrs. Wesley Spiva. "I'm in Love With You, Honey" was sung by Pauline James, small sister of the prospective bridegroom. Mrs. Robert Clement gave a humorous story and Marlene Marberry, a reading.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Holt, close friends of the bride-elect's parents, paid a special musical tribute to Miss Anderson. Mrs. Spiva gave a "Peek Into the Future."

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Spiva, Mr. and Mrs. Charles

C. James, Mr. and Mrs. Lester James, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Blount, Mr. and Mrs. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoekendorf, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hoekendorf, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hoekendorf, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stewart, Mrs. Charles Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Spiva, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Mabery, Mrs. R. H. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Madison, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shew.

Both the bride-elect and the prospective bridegroom attended Southwestern Junior College in Keene. Miss Anderson has been visiting in the home of James' parents and will return to Keene Tuesday.

The subject, taken from the National Parent-Teacher Magazine, is "The Open Mind in a Changing World." It will be discussed roundtable fashion with Mrs. E. W. Cowden as leader. Mrs. Charles Linehan will give the introduction.

Topics to be presented are "Mind-Opening Our Own Behavior" by Mrs. Woodrow Campbell; "The Adolescent Approach," by Mrs. Milton Loring; "Today's Shifting Frontiers," by Mrs. Robert Donnell. Mrs. William Waters will give the comparisons and conclusions to end the discussion.

Two students of the Junior High School will give declamations. Delegates to represent the association at the district Parent-Teacher conference in Abilene April 21 will be selected. The hospitality committee will serve refreshments at the beginning of the meeting.

Large Crowd Goes To Benefit Show

More than 1,100 Midlanders attended the "Dr. I. Q." show Friday night in the Midland High School Auditorium, given by the Midland Service League to raise money for its community service work.

The Rev. James McClain of Irving, Texas, the former radio "Dr. I. Q.," gave prizes to those in the audience who correctly answered his questions. Highlights of the program were the mystery voice and the biographical sketch of a Midlander.

Ken Regan was identified as the "mystery voice" and Sheriff "Big Ed" Darrill was the person to whom the clues in the biographical sketch referred. Mrs. Tom West identified Regan's voice and J. W. Hunt answered the biographical question.

Art Cole was master of ceremonies and expressed the Service League's appreciation to the many Midland merchants who contributed to the success of the show by donating prizes and contributing to advertising. He also thanked the others who have, in any way, worked in preparing for and staging the show.

Mrs. Joe Mims played organ music before the program. Mrs. Frank Thompson sang two numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Miller.

North Elementary Group To Meet In Children's Library

The Elementary Study Group of the Parent-Teacher Association of the North Elementary School has been scheduled from 9:30 a.m. until 11 a.m. Tuesday in the Children's Room of the Midland County Library, located in the basement of the courthouse. Mrs. Stanley Eskine will discuss "Learning to Like the Best in Good Literature."

Mrs. Lucile Carroll, Midland County Librarian, and A. C. Murphy, in-service consultant from the University of Texas, will assist with the discussion. Part of the program will deal with comic books—the good and bad ones and how to substitute good literature for them. Anyone interested is invited to attend and anyone having suggestions about good literature for children is urged to come and join the discussion. Anyone with books to show the group is asked to bring them to the meeting.

Museum Pieces Inspire New Cotton Skirts

By NEA Service
LOS ANGELES—European museum pieces supply the inspiration for brightly new cotton prints designed by Madalyn Miller in circular skirts for Summer's California fashion picture.

A rare piece of tapestry found in Prague is translated into the multi-colored flower-pot print at left. The circular skirt, gathered to a snug waistband, is worn here with a white cotton eyelet blouse with short, puffed sleeves.

A lovely antique fan from Madrid unfolds its charms in the full skirt at right. Traced in the pattern are the ribs of the fan joined by a delicate lace print. Ribs radiate to the deep hemline border motif of stylized flowers. An embroidered eyelet blouse with oval neckline and bracelet-length sleeves is pictured with skirt.

Floral, Practical Or Edible Gifts Are Ready For Easter

By FAYE SHELBERNE
Not because it is the tradition or just the thing to do but because it is a good time to express love and appreciation will many Midlanders give gifts this Easter.

Perhaps the most popular gift will be flowers in some form or other. For the floral gift that will last longer than Easter Day the florists of Midland have the traditional Easter lily as well as many other potted plants. Gloxinias, yellow calla lilies and hydrangeas in pink, blue and white are available. For the rose lover, the gift of the baby rambler rose bush blooming will be ideal. Among the less common are the fuchsias and the fancy leaf caladium in pink, red and white with green stripes.

Another gift to brighten the home on this special day is the bouquet of cut flowers. Bouquets of all seasonal flowers are suggested. All sorts of novelty arrangements done in the Easter theme ranging from the bunny to the more serious note of the day may be ordered.

Frierson-Davies Betrothal Told

McCAMEY — Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Mildred Louise Frierson to Samuel Benton Davies, Jr., has been made by her father, John N. Frierson of McCamey.

She is the daughter of Frierson and the late Mrs. Frierson, and Davies is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Benton Davies of San Antonio. The wedding will be solemnized at 4 p.m. April 15 in the Trinity Episcopal Church, Galveston, with the Rev. Edmund H. Gibson, rector, officiating.

Clubs Begin Effort To Spread Results Of Education Study

TEXARKANA—A worldwide effort to make a practical application of the principle that character development begins in the cradle is about to get underway.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs, which has more than 3,000,000 members in 63 countries, is backing the movement. The Palmer Foundation, philanthropic enterprise established by C. E. Palmer, Texarkana publisher, and Mrs. Palmer, is footing the bill.

The instrument to be used is a study entitled "Parents' Responsibility in Character Development." It was prepared last Summer at Washington State College, Pullman, Wash.

Designed to meet the needs of children of pre-school age, the program will begin in study groups of clubs affiliated with the General Federation. Later, it is anticipated principles laid in the study can be made a part of the thinking of parents, school teachers, and other persons engaged in work with children.

The theory back of the movement follows generally findings of psychologists and psychiatrists. These are that embarrassments, disappointments and frustrations of childhood often produce emotional scars which may remain in the subconscious mind and later cause trouble.

Reduced to writing, the study is an ultra-simplified set of principles that if a child learns at an early age to express himself without fear, to develop the impression he is being loved and accepted; to undergo discipline as a learning process; to make his own decisions and to take consequences of those decisions, he will be on the way to enrichment of character as he grows.

The Palmer Foundation has two major objectives: To foster and promote, through public schools and otherwise, basic principles of morality as best exemplified in the Golden Rule, and to promote American patriotism.

Nominees—

Registration will start at 8:30 a.m. in the YMCA Building, 1442 North Second Street. Luncheon will be served in the North Junior High and South Junior High Schools, Midlanders On Board.

District board members will have a pre-conference meeting and dinner on April 20. Members from Midland, in addition to Mrs. Black, are Frank Monroe, chairman of Audio-Visual Education; Mrs. L. G. Byerley, chairman of Character and Spiritual Education; Mrs. D. R. Carter, chairman of Educational Relations; Mrs. L. Waldo Leggett, chairman of the Endowment Fund; Founders' Day and Texas Congress Birthday and Life Memberships; and Mrs. Stanley Erskine, chairman of Mental and Social Hygiene.

Others from cities near Midland include Mrs. Paul K. Jones of Stanton, historian; Mrs. James T. Brooks of Big Spring, parliamentarian; Mrs. W. K. Scuddry, Garden City, chairman of Councils and Goals; Mrs. W. D. Wilbanks of Big Spring, chairman of High School Service; Mrs. Zolite Rawlins of Big Spring, chairman of Music, Radio and Recreation; and Mrs. J. A. Coffey of Big Spring, chairman of Parent-Teacher Magazines and Publications.

McMULLAN'S

FAMILY OUTFITTERS SINCE 1934

For a more lasting gift, the shopper may turn to the bookstores. Ideal are the books, "The Greatest Story Ever Told," Ourisler, and "In Our Image," Harte, two religious books of high recommendation. A new book, "Light of the World," Cook, is available. It is a reconstruction and interpretation of the life of Christ. The ever-popular and meaningful gift is a copy of "The Holy Bible" or parts of it. Midlanders will find a good selection from which to choose.

For the juvenile, the book, "Easter Bunny Gift," Martin, is suggested. It is a parody on "The Night Before Christmas." The Easter Bunny is on a tour of Santa and is endeavoring to distribute all of his eggs before sunrise. As he comes to the last nest he has only one egg left. It looks so lonesome he crawls into the nest himself.

Basket of Gifts
The selection of gifts for the small one in the family should be no hard matter. Easter baskets in the ever-good straw, in plastic and in a new tin foil cover may be purchased along with many bunnies, baby chicks in plastic, cardboard, cotton, tin and candy and an abundance of candy eggs to fill it. Baby chicks in all sizes, ranging from the size of the end of your thumb to the size of your fist are designed for the youthful enthusiast.

A plastic bunny with a tube attached that makes him jump when squeezed and that waddles at the slightest touch are some of the newer additions to Easter toys. A dancing rabbit musical box will charm the adult as well as the child of the family.

A large variety of stuffed animals is being displayed for this season. Large downy ducks, swans and horses are shown in addition to the bunny and chick in various colors. Sizes run from small to almost life size.

Hymn Festival Held By Presbyterians

CRANE—Members of the First Presbyterian Church participated in a Hymn Festival Sunday and Monday under the direction of Dr. W. H. Foster, director of Presbyterian's Work for the El Paso Presbytery.

He led the Sunday morning worship and introduced the new hymns that have been purchased by the church in the evening service. The festival included a study of hymn sources and the learning and singing of several hymns.

Man Who Saw Sam Bass Die Offers Reward For Person Who Stole His Grave Monument

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

A man who saw Sam Bass, the celebrated outlaw, die in 1878 is offering a $25 reward for the arrest of the person who stole the monument from Sam's grave.

Samuel Edward Loving, 82, of Round Rock, Texas, was 10 years old the day he watched Bass die. Bass had come to Round Rock to rob the bank and a Texas Ranger shot him. Thirty years ago, Loving bought and placed a monument on Sam's grave. It was stolen several months ago and now Loving wants it returned.

Loving, a veteran of the Spanish-American War with white hair and white mustache, stood on the front porch of his old home and told his story of Bass.

"Sam was a nice looking young man with black eyes and black mustache and weighed about 140 pounds. He was a bank robber and a train robber. Rangers got a tip that Sam and his gang would rob the Round Rock Bank on July 20, 1878. And they were waiting for him to try it.

On the nineteenth, Sam rode into town with two of his gang, a man named Jackson and a man named Barnes. They went into a grocery store and two deputy sheriffs tried to arrest them for carrying guns. They killed one deputy and wounded the other.

"Three Rangers were down the street playing billiards. They heard the shots. Bass, Barnes and Jackson ran out of the store and into an alley. Rangers and citizens began firing at them. I was down in the creek, a short piece from town, swimming. I heard the shots and got my clothes on and ran to town. When I got there I saw the body of Barnes in an alley. A Ranger pulled a fence board loose and pulled the body onto it. Bass had been shot through the back by Ranger Dick Ware but Bass and Jackson got away on their horses.

"Jackson never was caught. But the next day, Bass, mortally wounded, was found, two miles from town, and brought in. They put him on a cot in a carpenter's shop. I got an old dry goods box and watched through a window. Next day, on the twenty-first—his twenty-sixth birthday—he died. I was watching through the window. Sam was restless and a Ranger told him: 'I know what's wrong with you, Sam. You're dying.' And Sam said: 'All right, then—let 'er slide.' And then he died.

"They buried him the same afternoon at Round Rock. Twenty years later his sister came down from Indiana and put up a monument. Souvenir hunters got most of it. So 30 years later I put up one for him.

"Why did you do it?" "I just wanted to," he replied. "I figure no matter how bad a man is, he ought to have a monument. I've been keeping weeds off Sam's grave many a year. Let's see if my people are buried in that cemetery and I got out now and then. I know Sam was a bad man, but he looked like a brave man to me dying on that cot. I was just a kid, but it's something I didn't forget."

DREW PEARSON ON 'The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND'

(Copyright, 1960, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Living Buddha says "fierce prayers" for Owen Lattimore; This columnist visited the Living Buddha's Mongolian domain in 1925; The Dilowa hopes to establish church-in-exile in U. S.

WASHINGTON—In Baltimore, a weather-worn but merry-eyed Mongolian oracle, swathed in Oriental robes, is saying "fierce prayers" for his friend, Owen Lattimore, as he arrives from Afghanistan to face the charges of Senator McCarthy.

The old man is the Dilowa Hutukhtu or Living Buddha, spiritual leader of Mongolia's Buddhists, whose flock now consists of two Mongolian refugees. These three are the only foreign "agents" the FBI has been able to find who landed on the West Coast and got in touch with Lattimore.

But instead of being Soviet agents, the three Mongolians actually are refugees from communism with a price on their heads. They were persuaded by Lattimore to flee to this coast instead of Tibet, and now are cooperating with the State Department in the cold war against communism in the Far East.

When the Living Buddha learned of McCarthy's red charges against Lattimore, the old oracle asked Mrs. Lattimore: "Are these accusations fierce?"

"Yes," admitted Mrs. Lattimore. "Then I will say fierce prayers for Mr. Lattimore," he promised.

The Living Buddha reiterated his faith in Lattimore in an exclusive interview with this column.

Pearson Visited Mongolia
In this writer's look at the long tough trip over the Gobi Desert to the domain of the Living Buddha in order to ascertain what progress the Soviet government was making in its effort to penetrate Mongolia as a steppingstone toward seizing all Asia.

This route across the steppes of the Gobi was the same route followed by Genghis Khan and other conquerors when they terrorized Asia, and it was obviously the route which Soviet conquerors would take in any new move for conquest.

Had Senator McCarthy known about my trip, doubtless he would have had me investigated by the State or by driving in a Soviet-owned car. But since the Russians controlled all automobiles, it was the only way to go.

My chauffeur, incidentally, was Count Sergei, foreign minister who signed the Treaty of Portsmouth ending the Russo-Japanese War, and he was just as unhappy about the Soviet regime as Senator McCarthy is now. Some day, perhaps, the senator will learn that everyone seen talking to a Russian or even working with the Russians is not necessarily a Soviet spy — though it does seem that the senator learns the hard way.

When I visited Urga, the Living Buddha was a much younger man, living in the western part of Mongolia not far from the Siberian border. He had not only great linguistic influence, but was virtually the temporal ruler of that area, so it was significant that Owen Lattimore, who years ago realized the importance of this Russian border area, should have won the friendship of this key leader.

Living Buddha Talks
Speaking sing-song Mongolian in Baltimore, and interpreted brokenly by his two fellow refugees, the Living Buddha, now 87, dramatically waved his bony fingers to emphasize how baffled he was that Lattimore could be fighting against communism so vigorously, yet at the same time be accused as this country's top communist spy.

As for his own plans, the Living Buddha hopes to establish a church-in-exile in the United States to save it from being stamped out altogether by the communists. The last remnants of his religion are about to fall to the communists in Tibet, he fears.

This form of Buddhism is practiced chiefly in Tibet and Mongolia. It differs from Buddhism as practiced in India, Burma and China, much as the Orthodox Catholic Church differs from the Roman Catholic Church. The Living Buddha is second only to Tibet's Dalai Lama in spiritual influence over millions of Tibetans and Mongolians.

Already, in Mongolia, the Reds have purged the church and subjugated it to the political will of Moscow. As far back as 1931, the Living Buddha became the Cardinal Mindszenty of Mongolia. He was tried on trumped-up charges of treason and sentenced to five years. The sentence was suspended, however, because of public resentment, and the Living Buddha fled for his life.

His mission now, he feels, is to preserve his religion in this country that it may survive Communism and not die from the earth.

"I had a big temple in Mongolia," he said sadly. "Now my Baltimore apartment is my temple."
Aside from his religious preoccupations, the Living Buddha spends his time ransacking his memory for basic data about Mongolia, which is compiled by Johns Hopkins University under Lattimore's direction, and is made available to the State Department—a vital record about an area where the United States has no observers.

As the Living Buddha talked, he waved his fingers in expressive gestures that told what he was saying before it could be interpreted. He was wrapped in rainbow-colored gowns with a red orhmuji or scarf over one shoulder. But, under the oriental gowns, he wore a pair of solid American shoes. Mongolian shoes are hard to get in this country, and besides they hurt his feet.

Born in the year of the monkey, 1884, the Living Buddha was the son of peasants who owned only 30 sheep, four cows and two horses. A layer of ice sheathed the grass and strange lights appeared in the sky that year, so the baby became known as the "Lord of the ice plague."

About the time of his birth, the reigning Dilowa died and the "Chet-jong" or "inspired men" of Buddhism, had to find a successor. For three years, they deliberated over the names of 40 babies born just as the old Dilowa died. Finally there came a sign which convinced them which of the 40 was to become the Living Buddha. His young eyes spotted the dead Dilowa's silver drinking bowl, and he exclaimed: "That is my bowl!"

That is how the present Living Buddha, now in Baltimore, was ordained as the new Dilowa Hutukhtu, and later confirmed by the Emperor of China himself.

Looking back the Living Buddha recalled how the Communists infiltrated into Mongolia and finally took over the government. One of the first things they did was order his belongings confiscated, but the Dilowa beat them to it and gave everything away to the poor.

The chief confiscator, he recalled, was named Lobsang Jumba, which means "pre-eminently generous."

"But the pre-eminently generous was a pre-eminently taker," the Living Buddha sadly explained.

He also recalled how, prior to his trial, he had been jailed with an army deserter named Tsembil. The deserter suffered from the cold at night, so the Living Buddha shared his scarf—and got a dose of lice for his charity.

I wonder what happened to Tsembil," mused the old man, his eyes looking far away.

Brownie Troops Plan Easter Parties For Meetings Next Week

Plans for an Easter party to be held during the meeting next Thursday were made by members of Brownie Girl Scout Troop 36 who met Thursday in the South Elementary school.

The girls played games in the park near the school with one of their leaders, Mrs. H. L. Helbert, in charge.

Billie Helbert served refreshments to a guest—Mrs. G. F. Hagman, and Dolores Brashers, Barbara Grimes, Johnnie Houston, Nancy Brooks, Wanda, Carol Jean and Mary Jane Wilson, Cynthia McDonald, Gwendolyn Thomason, Ruthie Adams, Rosee Mills, Linda Pruitt and Joyce Shear.

Brownie Troop 5, meeting Wednesday, planned an Easter party for the next meeting in the home of Pat Nix, 1700 North Edwards Street.

After the business session the group visited KQRS as a part of their program on "Know Your Town." Ann Goodman served refreshments to the group.

Revive Old Hat With New Veil

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

For the modest price of a new veil, last year's Spring hat can step out this year with no apologies to newer bonnets.

To pull off this trick, strip your old hat of any wilted trimmings and limp veiling. Choose new veiling which will be most becoming to you and to your hat. A small off-the-face hat can take one of the new ribbon-bound face veils which ties at the back. A wisp of stiff, fine-meshed veil tacked to the brim of the hat can be shaped to screen the face to the tip of the nose. A longer strip of veiling is needed for a flat sailor hat. For this, crush the veiling around the crown of the hat and tie in a large, airy bow at the back, letting the ends float free.

A crisp veil bound in grosgrain ribbon gives an old felt bonnet a new spring look.

What color veil should you use? Many of the smartest hats are veiled in a slightly lighter or darker tone than the color of the bonnet. For example, a beige sailor takes kindly to a toast colored veil; black or gunmetal veiling dresses up a pale gray hat.

Too Many Movies Can Prove Harmful For Your Children

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Education Writer

Are you wondering what effects television and moviegoing have upon your children? If you are, you may be interested in a new booklet entitled "Your Child's Leisure Time," by Mildred Celia Letton, of the University of Chicago's Laboratory School. This booklet is eighth in a series of parent-teacher publications edited by Professor Ruth Cunningham and published by the Bureau of Publications of Teachers College, Columbia University.

Television and the movies have their purposes but are very likely to be more time-consuming than mentally stimulating, says the author. "Such ventures offer little dividend, either in personality development or in expanded interests."

If youngsters have stimulating recreation at home, she adds, they won't have much time or need for the movies, radio, television, and other unprofitable interests. In one survey, one-third of the youth who went regularly to the movies remarked that "there's nothing else to do!"

Develop Hobbies
Specific ways in which parents can help their children to develop absorbing and satisfying leisure interests are suggested. For example, what is your attitude toward your child's hobbies? asks Letton.

"Are you a father who takes Junior's electric train and plays with it yourself, or an impatient mother who would rather do the sewing yourself than to see Ruth struggle?"

Some children actually have no real leisure because adults not only act as guides but as "hogish participants," Letton points out that "a child needs time to think a child's thoughts. He needs time to daydream a little, to plan, to imagine, to solve his personal problems, without parental supervision. A "hands-off" policy, she feels, is to a certain extent wise.

Provide Own Room
If possible, advises Letton, give junior a room of his own where he can be uninterrupted and where he can have his hobby materials around him.

Age naturally makes a difference in a child's choice and use of leisure activities, notes the author.

Books are important as leisure, too. No home with a growing child should be without copies of the Bible, dictionary, atlas, encyclopedia, book of facts like the "World Almanac," a first-aid book, a nature book, Bartlett's "Familiar Quotations," a Boy or Girl Scout "Handbook" or its equivalent, and a library card for every member of the family.

Interests Far-Reaching
Parents should keep in mind, Letton suggests, those interests that will be long continuing and possibly lead to lifetime careers or hobbies.

Children appreciate their parents' interest in their leisure. One boy, whose mother and father had exchanged revealing notes with his teachers and with the parents of his schoolmates, observed to his little brother:

"You know, we do make a difference to dad and mom after all. I don't get by with just telling them anything, the way I did last year."

Have Pretty Face At Breakfast Table

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Looking spruce at the breakfast table is not easy for the average woman. If she has a family to manage, her mornings are hurried and harassed. If she has a career and a husband, she's equally rushed. But being untidy at the breakfast table doesn't pay, no matter how rushed you are. The way you look in the morning is the mental picture your husband keeps of you during the day. If your appearance is attractive early in the day, it gives you a better start for the hours ahead.

You probably haven't time for a full make-up before breakfast. But don't forget your lipstick. It will do wonders in helping you to present a pretty face at the table. Next, be sure to brush out your hair. Pins hidden under a scarf or net won't do. They rob you of the feminine look, and anyway, your husband will know quite well that they're there. Now, put on a robe which is both becoming and practical. It shouldn't be frilly; you do have to get breakfast. But it can be tailored in a pastel shade, and washable.

This morning routine will take you approximately five minutes and pay you back many times over in admiration from your husband and family.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Five Days Of Tornadoes Each Year Average For Texas, Research Shows

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Texans can expect five days of tornadoes a year, the U. S. Weather Bureau advises.

This and other information about tornadoes was supplied by the Weather Bureau and Federal Communications Commission to Rep. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater.

Beckworth, prompted by the storm of a few weeks ago which did considerable damage in Upshur County and nearby Louisiana, had asked the agencies if the warning service could be improved. "I wasn't criticizing them," Beckworth said. "I was wanting to see what they are doing, and if they couldn't improve the warning service."

He found there is close cooperation between the Weather Bureau and FCC in use of radio communications to get warnings to isolated communities as well as the larger towns, and with the Red Cross in relief work.

Officials of the agencies acknowledged the warning system isn't perfect. Sometimes a storm will originate in a remote area and move into populated sections before anyone knows it's coming.

Are Same Thing
The Weather Bureau's storm expert, I. R. Tannehill, says a tornado and a "twister" are the same thing, and both come under the general classification of cyclones. "Like a horse comes under the heading of a quadruped."

His report continued: Hurricanes generate out in the Gulf of Mexico, and are different. They are not so violent, but last much longer. A "water spout" is a land tornado that has moved out to sea and stirred up the water. Sometimes "water spouts" move inland and become regular tornadoes.

Tornadoes move along at a rate of 25 to 40 miles an hour, in an omnibus funnel with the point at the ground, cutting a swath some 1,000 feet wide. They take about 30 seconds to pass over a given point.

Hurricanes approach at a rate of 12 miles an hour, and may extend over a breadth of 200 miles. They build up slowly in intensity, with the maximum winds being reached several hours after the first strong gales. They have an "eye," or hole in the middle, which may last about an hour; the wind then returns with a blast at its full strength, or even greater than when it had gradually diminished.

Action Is Advised
If you find a tornado headed your way, Tannehill advises: If the funnel is coming straight toward you—appearing to get bigger and bigger—run to the right. (Run to the right. If you are facing the oncoming funnel.) If you are somewhat to the left of it, lose no time in getting much farther to the left.

A gutter or any depression is better than nothing. If you find yourself caught. If you are in a cellar, an excavation or any such safe pit, get to the southwest corner. That holds true wherever you may be in the country; the wind in the funnel is moving from southwest to northeast. Incidentally, the Weather Bureau knows of only two men who have lived to see up the inside of a tornado tunnel.

A farmer in Oklahoma saw a storm coming and ran for his cyclone cellar. He made it—but just barely. As he looked up to pull the door shut the center of the funnel, with its clear, partial vacuum, passed directly over him. He was so scared he was unable to get out. Weather Bureau much helpful information. A Kansas farmer had a similar experience.

Since 1880 the Weather Bureau has kept a close account of tornadoes in Texas. In a 60-year period they recorded the following total numbers of tornadoes for each month: January, 15; February, 11; March 34; April, 77; May, 74; June 25; July, 24; August, 17; September, 4; October, 12; November, 14; December, 11.

As Tannehill points out, Texas is so big that you have to keep in mind the part of the state you are talking about when you talk about the frequency of tornadoes.

In the North Central, Western and Panhandle sections they are more likely to occur in April, May and June. In the Gulf Coastal areas they are more likely in the late Fall. There is no breakdown as to their frequency in different parts of Texas, but an idea can be obtained from records they have on other states. In April, over a given period of years, there were 20 in Louisiana and 60 in Kansas. In November, over the same period, there were five tornadoes in Kansas and 12 in Louisiana.

TEXAS TODAY— How To Put Candidates On Spot: Just Ask How They Stand On Sales Tax

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN—(AP)—Free advice to Texas voters: Ask your candidates for the Legislature this Summer how they stand on the question of a sales tax. You might even put the same question to the dozen or so candidates who will be running for lieutenant governor, or the half dozen who may be in the race for governor.

Maybe you'd like to know in advance about that sales tax business because sure as shooting it's going to be the hottest issue when the 52nd Legislature meets in regular session next January.

The last two sessions have been able to stall, side step or stop gap in giving an answer to the simple question: who's going to pay the bill for our greatly expanded state services?

The next session, the 52nd, faces the ugly reality of raising something like $150,000,000 in new revenue if it also decides to continue state spending at the present rate.

How'd It Happen
How did Texas finances get in that shape, anyway? How come the state faces a huge deficit in prosperous times?

You could write a book answering those questions. The ABC of it is the state bought more than it could pay for. It spent its savings account on current or future demands, it didn't do anything about renewing the savings, and important revenues dropped.

The whole situation has been building up since 1947. It reached a crisis when the 51st Legislature's regular session lacked $1.2 million dollars of having enough to balance the budget. The special session made up this and then some by boosting the omnibus tax 10 per cent for 18 months, and by adding a penny sales tax to cigarettes, but it didn't tackle the bigger deficit problem.

There's that little fellow, sales tax, again. Most Texans have been pretty smug in believing they didn't have a sales tax, say, like Louisiana. They don't, now, like Louisiana. But Texas of course has a sales tax on gasoline, cigarettes, cosmetics, automobiles, radios, beer, and other commodities.

There will be a big drive during the next session to extend these into a general sales tax. There will be proposals for a state income tax for increases in the tax on natural gas and crude oil, and probably for more taxes on the growing chemical industry.

Announcement of a plan for any one of those, including the sales tax, will bring on a finish fight at Austin.

So while you're asking your prospective legislators or candidates for lieutenant governor embarrassing questions, you might as well include these:

1. If you favor cutting expenses, where will you start, on funds for education, welfare or roads? (That's where 90 per cent of the state money goes.)
2. If you're not going to trim, where are you going to get the money? General sales tax? Increase in the tax on natural gas or oil? Chemical tax? Income tax?

Final tip to the voter: get it in writing.

Blue Ribbon Cook Says Good Food Takes Time, Not Money

By GALE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—In this day of the packaged popover and the rapid cake mix, there exists one woman who would like to see American women spend more, not less, time in the kitchen. She is Mrs. Dione Wilson Lucas, who owns and actively operates the select Cordon Bleu Restaurant and Cooking School on New York's upper East Side.

Like any high priestess serving a cult, Mrs. Lucas has an extreme and unsmiling devotion to the skillet. She can, and frequently does, turn out an omelet fit for a gourmet in something under two minutes. Often she prepares almost 200 omelets at noon. But she is no friend of the can opener. The more complicated the recipe, the better Mrs. Lucas is apt to like it. Because she feels that good cookery is one of the few real creative outlets left to the average housewife, Mrs. Lucas is often heard to name time as the most important single ingredient in any recipe. In her cooking classes, she is wont to preface comments concerning a recipe with the remark: "This takes a long time to prepare." She says this with obvious satisfaction.

Her arrival in this country from England via Canada in 1941 was concurrent with the war. Her chief assets were a diploma from the famed L'Ecole du Cordon Bleu in Paris and an impressive assortment of copper pots and pans. Though a Cordon Bleu diploma means glittering cooking proficiency and is therefore coveted in Europe, New York was not at first impressed. Mrs. Lucas had to earn money, so she got a job fluting mushrooms for a restaurant chain, eight hours a day, five days a week.

"I have not been overly fond of mushrooms since," she says.

A year later she got backing for her own restaurant and school, and she still flutes mushrooms, as well as instructing both men and women in other intricate arts such as rolling up a chocolate roll, or larding beef. She is a firm believer in the superiority of men over women in the kitchen because, she says, they have more imagination.

As the only person in the United States authorized to award a Cordon Bleu diploma, Mrs. Lucas is awesomely regarded by many persons as a final authority on anything pertaining to food, but with a particularly sound sway over the omelet field.

The omelet is the specialty of the house, prepared to any one of 16 possible orders in Mrs. Lucas' renowned cast aluminum omelet pan. This pan is wiped clean with a cloth after each using and is never touched by water. As for an omelet recipe, she quotes Prosper Montagne: "The making of an omelet needs but a clean pan, fresh eggs, fresh butter, a steady hand, confidence and courage."

Mrs. Lucas, who has taught some 7,000 men, women and children the principles of gourmet cookery, does not believe that good food should be costly. It's a Lucas principle that company food should cost no more than a family's ordinary food—it just takes more time to fix.

Abundant Living

Matt. 6:25-34.
ONE DAY AT A TIME
In our meditation yesterday we saw that worry is a useless expenditure of energy. In India we have a bird called "Pity-to-do-it." It goes around all day saying, "Pity-to-do-it." And they say that at night it sleeps with its feet in the air to keep the sky from falling! It is a champion pessimist and worrier. It doesn't relax night or day, according to the story; hence it is thin and scrawny and fussy. Some of us are like that bird. But we do not have to be like it. We may contemplate instead the artist's picture of rest, depicting a bird on a nest overhanging a mighty waterfall. Amid the roar and confusion that bird is the symbol of quiet, rest, and calm. We must learn that. How?

bled about tomorrow; tomorrow will take care of itself. The day's own trouble is quite enough for the day." (Matthew 6:34, Moffatt.) He was not saying there were no troubles to be met. There are. Life is bound to bring trouble. It is made that way. But don't telescope the troubles of tomorrow and of the next day into today by anticipation through worry, then you spoil today. You are meeting two sets of troubles at once—one set that is actually here, and the set that you bring in by worrying about tomorrow's troubles. You are therefore meeting your troubles twice—once before they come, and once when they are actually here. Such a telescoping of trouble is a double expenditure of energy and needless. Worry is the advance interest you pay on troubles that never come. Some of them do come, and you can meet and conquer them separately. But tomorrow's troubles plus today's break you. . .

The theory of "divide and conquer" is applicable here. Divide your worries, and meet one day's worries at a time, and conquer them. But don't let worries gang up on you and come piling all at once into one day. Divide and conquer. Meet today, today.
O God, I see that I have been needlessly burdening myself. Thou dost give me a sufficient load for today, and Thou dost help me bear it. But I add to my burden, and thus diminish my strength for legitimate tasks. Forgive me, for I see that this is sin—sin against myself and Thee. Amen.

'Willie The Actor' Joins Top Ten

The FBI has named William F. (Willie the Actor) Sutton, left, above, as one of its "10 most wanted men." Sutton, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., is five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 155 pounds and is of medium build. He has blue eyes, a medium dark complexion and dark brown hair. The FBI believes he may have dyed his hair and be wearing a mustache and glasses. An artist's additions to Sutton's picture, at right, shows how he might look in this disguise. Sutton, suspected leader of a $53,000 New York bank robbery, joined top 10 list after William Nesbit was smoked out of a cave and captured near St. Paul, Minn., by seven youths.

Rapidly-Expanding Network Of Pipelines Reflects Natural Gas Industry's Growth

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's fast-expanding network of natural gas pipelines tells the story of the natural gas industry's growth in recent years.

The Federal Power Commission within the last eight years has authorized construction of 507 natural gas pipelines, add up to more than 30,000 miles in length and with a total estimated cost of $1,878,726,000.

The commission has no information as to the exact number of these projects which have been built, but one of its experts says he is certain that a majority of them have been.

Commission records show that since 1939 the annual operating revenues of natural gas companies under its jurisdiction have increased from $400,000,000 to almost $1,000,000,000 and that their investments in gas utility plants have climbed from under $2,000,000,000 to almost $3,500,000,000.

The commission's authority over pipeline construction became effective Feb. 7, 1942. In the rest of that fiscal year, ending June 30, 1942, it authorized only one project—a 20-mile pipeline costing $86,800.

Certificates Granted
In the next fiscal year—July 1, 1942, to June 30, 1943, four certificates were granted, for 51 miles of pipeline and 3,560 horsepower of compressor capacity, estimated to cost $1,642,569.

The next year, 1943-44, saw the number jump to 25 certificates, 2,373 miles, 108,490 horsepower, $106,082,485 worth of construction.

The figures for the succeeding years:

1944-45 — 43 certificates, 1,181 miles of line, 66,610 horsepower, $34,170,760

1945-46 — 52 certificates, 2,994 miles, 194,275 horsepower, $127,189,731

1946-47 — 132 certificates, 5,599 miles, 360,349 horsepower, $273,190,302

1947-48 — 98 certificates, 8,468 miles, 531,455 horsepower, $519,945,633

1948-49 — 91 certificates, 7,045 miles, 518,074 horsepower, $566,203,118

July 1, 1949, to December 31, 1949

—57 certificates, 2,637 miles, 132,025 horsepower, $195,597,697.

Four additional projects authorized in January, 1950, added $52,628,967 to bring the grand total to $1,878,726,000 in estimated cost.

In addition, applications pending before the commission February 1 called for building 14,000 miles of pipeline and almost 627,000 horsepower of compressor capacity. These projects would add 4,700,000,000 cubic feet of daily capacity at a cost of more than $900,000,000.

Since Early In 1942
Among the 507 projects authorized since February, 1942, are 142 costing $700,000 or more each.

The four pipeline giants, the commission said, are Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, for which the commission has authorized projects costing $309,364,000 to increase daily capacity by 1,103,000,000 cubic feet; Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, operator of the big inch line, $208,293,000 and 945,000,000 cubic feet; Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Company, $151,380,000, and 340,000,000 cubic feet; El Paso Natural Gas Company, $157,529,000 and 825,000,000 cubic feet.

The other companies with major projects authorized since early 1942, the estimated cost and the estimated daily capacity increase in cubic feet: Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, $90,116,000 and 433,000,000; Trunkline Gas Supply Company, $84,340,000 and 250,000,000; Northern Natural Gas Company, $82,444,000 and 277,000,000; Texas Gas Transmission Corporation, $74,343,000 and 411,600,000.

Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Company, $59,696,000 and 175,000,000; Pacific Gas and Electric Company, $57,537,000 and 250,000,000; Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America and Texomanatural Gas Company, $42,725,000 and 220,000,000; Cities Service Gas Company, $41,227,000 and 541,100,000; Southern California Gas Company, and Southern Counties Gas Company of California, $30,841,000 and 455,000,000.

Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, $25,280,000 and 131,000,000; Southern Natural Gas Company, $25,202,000 and 199,500,000; Atlantic Seaboard Corporation and Virginia Gas Transmission Corporation, $23,250,000 and 205,500,000; United Gas Pipe Line Company, $22,226,000 and 1,045,000,000; East Tennessee Natural Gas Company, $21,677,000 and 124,000,000.

Floridian Delivers Fish By Airplane

TAMPA, FLA.—P—Fish Breeder Herbert Woolf has built up a big tropical fish business in the north by using milk delivery methods. He loads a big plane with 30,000 little fish twice weekly. His pilots drop off cans of fish at airports along the route and pick up containers left before. The Woolf plane goes once a week to the larger cities in the East and delivers fish to the Midwest on another run.

Woolf has a 40-acre farm with 300 outdoor breeding pools. Such little fellows as guppies, swordtails, waltails are raised in the pools. Temperatures and feeding conditions are checked as carefully as they are at a hospital nursery. The fish are loaded into cans equipped with hundreds of rubber tubes through which air is pumped. Losses are negligible.

Wholesale tropical fish dealers are the largest purchasers of the air-shipped fish. The fish are resold to aquariums and retail dealers.

Freshman Frolic Given In Assembly

The freshman class of 1950 presented "The Freshman Frolic" in a paid assembly, Friday, March 31. The money raised will go to the inter-communication system of Midland High School.

As the students walked into the auditorium, Mary Jane Miller played a medley of tunes. John Petty, master of ceremonies, then welcomed the audience and started the show.

Jean Waddill, Anna Beas Doyle and Agatha Tabor began the show with a tap routine to the tune of "Easter Parade." They were accompanied by Kay Stalcup.

"Pop Goes The Weasel" was a violin solo by Jan Hotek accompanied by Glynnda Perin and Sam Van Landingham. The student body with their contortions.

Tommy Miller then presented a piano solo, "Coasting." Clayton Tatum and his wonder dog, Spike, amazed everyone with Spike's vast knowledge of numbers. Clayton asked the questions and Spike barked the answers.

A comedy skit to the tune of "California Schottisch" was done by Patsy Yeager and Nancy Klingler. Eunice Hudgins sang "My Happiness" accompanied by La Vonnie Clark.

"More Comedy" "Who Said Bombs?" a comedy routine, was given by Joe Brodigan, Russell Long and John Petty. Two vocal solos "Because" and "Is This Moment" by Barbara French were accompanied by Claudine Hamner.

Winona Armontrout and Walter Cremin tapped to the Canadian Capers "Cry of the Wild Goose" and "It's Later Than You Think" were sung by Charles Whitmore, Harold Paden and M. A. Rose, accompanied by Kay Stalcup.

Al Johnson next appeared on the stage in an impersonation. "Maybelle and Sam" performed to the tune of "Dark Town Strutter's Ball." "Belle and Sam" were none other than Ruth Harris and Grace Boles.

To close the program the entire audience sang the "Alma Mater." Spokesman for the Canadian Capers, Kay Stalcup said, "We, the freshman class, wish to thank the students, teachers and parents who so ably assisted us in making the 'Freshman Frolic' a success."

Parent-Teachers Elect Officers For Coming Year

Mrs. M. B. Arick was chosen to succeed Mrs. O. L. Stalcup as president of the high school Parent-Teachers Association at the business meeting Tuesday night in the high school auditorium.

Mrs. A. C. Castle and Mrs. Sherwood O'Neal were chosen as vice-presidents. Mrs. East Chapman, secretary and Mrs. Harry Miller, treasurer. The new officers will be installed in May.

Mrs. Arick, now serving as first vice president and program chairman, introduced the program participants, the cast of a one-act play, band soloists, and the speaker for the evening.

Cancer symptoms, its detection, and the responsibility of parents toward detection was the subject of a talk by Mrs. George Turner, representative of the Woman's Field Army for Cancer Education.

The association was entertained with Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," given by Betty Wilson, Robert Stubbsman, Agatha Tabor, Clint Dunaagan, Lois Thompson, Jimmy Locke, Tony Chapple, Virginia Breedlove, and James Johnson. This was the play given at the drama contest March 18, by the MHS speech department under the direction of Verna Harris.

Two of the MHS band students, Dow Scott and Clint Dunaagan, played solo for the pleasure of meeting members.

Plans were discussed in the meeting of the Executive Board for the annual Spring Conference of the and 22 in Abilene. Board members attending were Mrs. Stalcup, Mrs. Arick, Mrs. Robert L. Wood, Mrs. R. W. Patterson, Mrs. R. M. Payne, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Castle, Mrs. E. E. Throckmorton, and Principal Charles Mathews.

Ferguson Confesses To Murder; Is Acquitted By Grand Jury Members

"I've lost all my faith in peoples' judgment," said Prosecutor Atorney Lynn Nicholson. "After the murderer confessed, the jury voted to acquit her of the brutal knife slaying."

Jean Ferguson was brought before a twelve man jury last Monday in room 123 and indicted for the murder of Alex Pope, which took place March 23. Both Jean and Pat Emmons were seen running from the chemistry room, scene of the murder.

Witnesses Louise Boyd, Bill Franklin, and Richard Hull saw Pat and Jean emerge from the room with blood on their hands and heard Jean yell, "Stop her! Stop her!"

In the court of Judge Joyce Howell, the indictment, presenting of the grand jury evidence, and acquittal took only three days. Jimmy Chaucery, homicide detective, gathered the evidence—the murder knife and a girl's scarf—and the witnesses needed for the indictment.

The murder motive was established by Nicholson and Assistant Coun-

Do Unto Others

The borrowed pencil never returned, the fountain pen found and kept without effort to return it, and the attractive club pin taken when the owner's head was turned are examples of just one thing—thievery.

To propose that in any one of these instances the act was justified is utterly out of the question.

For a member of a high school to be guilty of such an act leads us directly to the conclusion that someone's conscience is 99 per cent underdeveloped.

It should be remembered that the group called the student body is simply one large family of boys, girls, and teachers bound together for four years.

If you or your friends think it is "smart" to get away with shady dealings it is time for you to choose a new crowd.

We would like to suggest that you adopt the familiar "Do unto others as you wish to be done by."

Tredaway, Hightower Elected Sweethearts By Future Farmers

Votes sold for a penny apiece made Frances Tredaway and Dot Hightower the FFA sweethearts of 1949-50 in an election which ended March 7.

Frances is a five foot, four inch brunette with brown eyes. She has lived in Midland since 1947 and is now a senior. She enjoys playing volleyball and baseball and is on the volleyball team. "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" is her favorite song though she says she can listen to any kind of music. She likes letter writing and going to see her brother, Marion, who is now in Knott, a town a few miles north of Big Spring. Frances' ideal man is tall, now a senior. She enjoys playing volleyball and baseball and is on the volleyball team.

Loren Roberts Hopes To Become Pro Ball Player

Baseball interest began at an early age for this 16 year old sophomore. Loren Roberts cut his teeth on the game as a catcher and center fielder for the MHS team, and a center fielder on the American Legion team last summer.

After finishing school Loren hopes to become a professional player. "I was four before I really became interested. My grandfather used to be a baseball player. I learned a lot watching him," says Loren.

November 17, 1933 in Midland. Both his parents graduated from Midland High School. He lived in New Mexico for a while. Nothing happened to Loren there, he says, except falling for a few burros.

A far cry from baseball is Loren's hobby of collecting miniature dogs—live ones. He has around 85 in his collection now. Loren also is a traveler. California is a second home to him. He's visited there five times.

First Grade Brat Loren admits that he was no angel when he started to school. Loren and side-kick, Frank Ingham couldn't stand to be bullied by bigger boys. They used to get on and chase the boys back into school, but a teacher soon put a stop to that.

Loren was both loser and winner in his schoolboy fights. He came home with a black eye once because he fought with Eldon Kinnikin. A MHS'er who was larger than he. He received a spanking once for disturbing a teacher and wading in a puddle of water.

Since those days Loren has settled down to become quiet, at times and well liked student. He was a B student in high school and also broke his nose playing football. This year Loren was one of the A squad reserves.

Loren's school courses are algebra, English 21, biology, study hall, typing, and baseball. His favorite dish is apple pie and cheese; his favorite girl, Gladys Crandal, is five feet four inches tall and has five-fingered hands. It's his favorite saying "You got it right."

Two MHS girls are recent brides. Two MHS senior girls have adopted the motto of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and "got their man." That is, they have gotten married.

Charles Worthington, cornet, and Myrna Faye Holliday became the bride of J. C. Holliday at a ceremony in the home of the Rev. A. L. Teaff on February 11. For the wedding she chose a gray suit and gray accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Myrna Faye has spent all of her high school years in MHS and she will graduate in May. This year she is taking English, Spanish and D. E. She is a member of the D. E. club.

And that pert little miss who used to be named Alice and was a B student, has now become Mrs. Walton Sellers. The marriage took place February 18 in the Terminal Baptist Church. She wore a blue suit for the marriage ceremony with pink and navy accessories and a corsage of white flowers.

Willma is a senior and takes history, English, shorthand and typing. She is secretary of the business club and is a majorette for the drill squad.

Party Held For Midland Teachers A party for all members of the faculties of Midland Public Schools was held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 28, in the Junior High School gymnasium.

There was entertainment to suit everyone, including volleyball, badminton, canasta, dominoes, and dancing.

Model Plane Exhibit In HE Showcase

Exhibits in the Homemaking showcase this week belong to the Model Airplane Club sponsored by Frank Blackwell, MHS history teacher.

The Model Airplane Club belongs to the Group II Clubs, meeting every other Thursday. During the club meetings demonstrations are given on the field. Students also have had practice in assembling engines. Since there is not enough time or space to construct model airplanes at school, each club member is held responsible for the building of one model plane.

Some students have built small ships and cars. These are among the exhibits in the showcase.

Exhibits include a large yellow plane built by David Anguish; a small green and white plane; and a small white plane; two racing cars; a hotrod and two plastic models built by James Upham; one model plane built by Tommy Chanaman (who in his spare time builds model trains, also); a sail boat and a motor launch.

Club members are: Zack Taylor; David Ankush; vice president, Bill Van Landingham; Larry Robertson, president; Cecil Wells; Don Mears; Tommy Vannaman; Jon House, secretary; Joe Turner; Earnest Thompson; Dewey Atwood; Gertrude; Kenneth Howard.

Dan Dickinson, Rosalyn Leggett, Fay Montgomery, John Klingler and Maggie Murphy were the five seniors from the National Honor Society who took the General Aptitude Test given by the Honor Society. The test was given Tuesday, March 28, in the home ec living room.

The test covered all phases of education with special emphasis on mathematics, vocabulary, and civics questions. It was given all over the nation to members who were selected. Selections were made by the faculty on a percentage of the members.

Winners of the GAT will be given prizes consisting of scholarships to further their education.

Student Council Has Made Large Strides Toward Aiding MHS

Art Room Has New Picture Displays

Twenty-nine water color paintings were on display in the art room last week. The paintings in water color of flowers and portraits were done by Mrs. Betty Sword of Midland.

They were secured for Midland High School by Mrs. Robert Clark, a former Midland teacher. Mrs. Clark also secured the AAUW painting collection for MHS that was on display a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Sword is a contemporary painter and belongs to the Midland Art Club. She majored in art at the University of Southern California.

Inez Parker, MHS art teacher, invites all those interested in art and the various displays to come to the art room and see them. Miss Parker soon hopes to put more collections on display.

Staff Publishes April Fool's Edition

A special April Fool's edition of the Bulldog, entitled "The Mongrel" was printed this week and sold to the students.

The Journalism class wishes to thank Howard Printing Company for their aid in printing the four page extra. This was the first time in the history of MHS that a paper separate from the Reporter-Telegram had been published.

"The Mongrel" featured comic articles mocking stories which have been carried in the Bulldog this year.

Two Bulldogs Win At Odessa

Three MHS trackmen scored 103.4 points for the Bulldogs at the West Texas Relays in Odessa on Saturday, March 25.

Harrie Buck, Bulldogs' ace high hurdler, ran the 120 high hurdles in the good time of 15.5 seconds. Smith won the event over some very strong competition and his time of 15.5 tied the meet record that was set by Jimmy Patterson of Odessa last year.

Ralph Brooks won the high jump at Odessa when he leaped 5 feet, 10 inches. Brooks' nearest competitors cleared the bar at only 5 feet 6 inches. Brooks was Midland's only returning track letterman this year. He is only a sophomore.

W. H. Black was involved in a five way tie for second place in the pole vault. The tie came at the height of 10 feet.

All three of these boys were expected to repeat their performances at Odessa yesterday in the district meet.

WHAT NO ADS TODAY?

Ever look through a newspaper like this that contained no ads whatsoever?

Weren't you disappointed? Didn't you find it dull?

Of course you did. Most folks find the ads just as interesting, just as worthwhile as many of the other features. For one thing for which you buy this paper is to learn about goods and services—where you can get them and at what price.

But that's only the beginning. Suppose there were no ads every day. What would happen to the jobs in your family?

Every pay check in America depends ultimately on somebody selling something to somebody else. And the advertisements that you read and hear on the air are the lowest cost, fastest way yet devised to sell goods and services.

Obviously, without the ads people wouldn't buy and sell so much. Soon businesses would begin to fail. Soon there'd be fewer jobs, poorer jobs. Soon your job would be affected.

Jobs depend upon good, healthy buying and selling. And advertising, by selling more goods to more people, makes your job—and everybody's job—better and more secure.

OTHER WAYS ADVERTISING HELPS YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

1 Brings you better goods for less money. 2 Makes shopping more pleasant and easier. 3 Gears consumer demand to production, to create prosperity.

Thousands Of Old Houses Await New Look, Survey Shows

MINNEAPOLIS—Although Americans spent approximately $7,000,000,000 in 1949 for home modernization, a vast majority of them "still live in places which are outmoded architecturally and functionally and do not afford the real advantages of modern living."

That is one of the conclusions of a study just completed by the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company appraising the nation's modernization needs. The analysis revealed that more than half—23,000,000—of America's 42,000,000 homes are more than 30 years old. Pennsylvania and New York alone have 4,626,079 in that category.

Many of these homes are beginning to show the ravages of time, suffering from the "creeping paralysis of inefficiency" which attacks plumbing, heating and lighting equipment and other functional parts. Waste usually sets in when 30-year obsolescence begins. In addition to stepping up the efficiency of his home, modernization enables the average owner to add thousands of dollars to the value of his property, the survey pointed out. In many cases the finished product becomes "actually a better bargain" than a new place, the study showed.

Architects Prevent Costly Mistakes In Home Building

Many families plan to build their own homes this year. They want a house that is individual in planning and sound in construction. For years they have filled scrapbooks with pictures and clippings of ideas they want to be incorporated in their new homes.

When the time comes to build the house, the building contractor will first listen, then say: "What you need is an architect."

It is essential that an architect draw up the original plans and specifications for the custom-built home which incorporates the owner's ideas. This assures the owner's satisfaction and guarantees a fair profit for the builder. It is pointed out by the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Building one home of special design is very different from putting up standardized houses which are being built every day in developments throughout the country. In the latter, four or five basic interior and exterior plans are used. The purchaser selects the type he wants and the builder puts it up. Few variations are permitted because these costs and interfere with production.

Architect's Functions
The architect not only draws the plans. He must know the legal requirements for building in the section chosen; the building ordinances; the possibilities of the site; whether the ground will safely carry the building; materials needed for a solid foundation and how it should be constructed.

The architect writes the specifications which tell the contractor how the work shall be done, and the quality of materials to be used. He knows how much space to allow for walls; how doors and windows should be installed to be tight and weatherproof; the proper pitch for stairs to make them safe and how much space they should require.

Advance Planning
He estimates how to make the construction fire-safe and vermin-proof; the proper roof design to harmonize with the exterior; and materials to cover it. Every part of the house has to be planned beforehand.

Stairs, doors, windows, chimneys, flues, closets—all the many small parts that make the house—must fit correctly into the pattern. To misplace any of them will spoil the utility and appearance of the house. The architect deals with the contractor, supervises construction and gives the owner a finished building. He prevents costly mistakes.

Well-Designed Medium-Price Home

Features usually found only in higher-priced homes are contained in this attractive 5-room, full basement, expansion attic floor, built for under $12,000. A 10-foot walk-in closet with double sliding doors and built-in shelves, a built-in bathroom vanity, a wall recess for telephone and door chimes, kitchen exhaust fan and a 9-foot picture window are among these refinements, paid for largely from savings in cost of the oil-fired warm air heating plant. Hardwood Flooring Available In Many Grades And Species

Almost everyone who builds a home wants it equipped with floors of hardwood. Perhaps few persons, however, are aware that a wide variety of hardwood flooring is available. Before making a selection it is a good idea to learn something of the field from which to choose.

Most popular of the species is oak. Others often used include hard maple, beech, birch and pecan. All can be obtained in a number of grades and sizes. In an unfinished stock, which receives its finishing treatment after installation, there are seven standard grades of oak. Maple, beech and birch are available in three standard grades, as well as in special grades selected for uniformity of color. Pecan comes in seven grades. Pre-finished oak is produced in four grades, beech and pecan in one.

The most common thickness for hardwood flooring is 3/4 inch. The strip style is used most extensively. Plank, parquet and unit block types also can be obtained.

No Mortar Needed For Brick Terrace

Easy construction which most home-owners can do themselves will provide an attractive outdoor terrace for many pleasant hours in mild weather.

First step is to measure the desired size adjacent to the side or rear door opening into the yard, then dig the earth away for a depth of five inches or six inches. Three or four inches of cinders or gravel are then spread evenly and tamped down for drainage. This fill is covered with two inches of sand and in this bricks are closely laid. Attractive designs such as herring-bone or basket-weave can be worked out with the brick, which the sand will hold without mortar or concrete underlayment. Rock salt mixed with the sand will keep the joints free from grass and weeds.

For shade, an awning the size of the terrace is suspended from the wall of the house. Provide additional support and strength for the awning by placing posts at the two outer corners of the awning frame.

Kitchen May Become Center Of Activity

The kitchen can be made the center of informal family life, now that there's a strong swing-back to kitchen breakfasts, quick lunches and party snacks. A breakfast nook can be worked into a kitchen corner or alcove handy to the sink and stove and yet out of the way of kitchen traffic.

Set a work counter at right angles to the wall to make a nook if none exists. Brilliant color treatment of the walls in that corner will give the breakfast nook the feeling of a separate room. Put a drop-leaf table in the corner and use gaily-decorated chairs.

Counter arrangements are clever space-savers and are desirable work-savers for informal family meals. When planning the breakfast nook, consider other activities which can be carried on there, such as laundry-sorting, caulking and even play space for the young child.

Magazine Predicts Construction Boom

NEW YORK — Residential construction is heading for a new record in 1950, according to a survey by Business Week magazine.

"If builders carry through the plans they have now, this year will top even 1949's record-smashing 1,020,000 starts," says the publication.

"According to the builders," the magazine adds, "the demand is there; the money is there; the labor is there. Not even a general business decline in the last half of 1950 would force many of them to change their plans."

The article notes that a key factor in this rosy construction picture is the way the housing market has been stepping along all through the winter. Buyers who had been holding off in 1949 waiting for a price drop have given up hope of lower prices and are buying homes as fast as builders can nail them together.

This year's market is expected to be a good deal like 1949's. Houses in the $7,000 to $12,000 bracket will be the backbone of the boom.

The magazine points out that costs will be firmer this year. Builders expect their costs—both labor and material—to be about the same in 1950. If there's any change it will be upward—possibly five to ten per cent.

The publication adds that if builders put up as many houses as the plan, they may find they have built themselves into a real materials shortage. That—rather than demand—may be what puts the limit on building this year.

Science has found a way to tenderize beef in 44 hours, 11 1/2 times faster than aging steaks, roasts, and other cuts under customary refrigeration.

Housewife Must Be Mechanic To Keep Appliances Running

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

To be a successful housekeeper, the modern housewife is obliged to be somewhat of an electrical and other gadgets that a woman is expected to know more about mechanical maintenance than any man needs to know about his automobile.

A man can usually pull in at the nearest service station when something goes haywire under the hood of his car.

But a housewife is alone and on her own with a veritable Frankenstein monster, with inventors who have jokingly nicknamed the "labor saving" house.

It may save physical labor, all right, but when it comes to mental labor—a run and keep in working order, she moves into a larger plant—something her grandmother never would have recognized as a kitchen.

Table scraps are dumped right into the sink to be washed down into an electric garbage disposer. All dishes go into an automatic dishwasher, where they'll be soaped, rinsed and dried till they glisten. The butter goes back into a special butter-conditioning compartment in the refrigerator, where a temperature control keeps it from getting too hard to spread.

The food freezer is checked to see if there will be anything to order when the butcher calls on the kitchen phone. There are chops and steaks galore—and that big roast that was bought at a sale two weeks ago.

And sure enough, there is plenty of ice cream in case the girls drop in for the afternoon. If they want chocolate malteds, there's the electric egg cooker, its drink-stirring attachment like a soda fountain's.

The modern wife can do more things with an electric mixer than some men can do with a whole tool chest. Deftly changing attachments, she beats up cakes, sharpens knives, polishes silverware, chops hamburger, makes candy and what not.

None of those old hairpin and chewing gum expedients are used in all this kitchen magic. Today's boys who grow up to be mechanics will learn a lot from their mothers. The ladies know how to mesh the thread on a bolt, how much of a load the electric circuit will carry, how to replace a blown-out fuse and where to turn off the current when they want to splice an electric cord.

Electric Washer And Ironer
Making one trip back to the breakfast table, they whisk off the linen and drop it into an automatic laundry machine where it is washed, wrung and dried to the right degree for zipping through an electric ironer.

The roast for dinner is placed in an electric oven. A clock is set to start the meat to cook at the right time and automatically turn it off when it is done.

A kitchen television may demonstrate something like stuffed Brussels sprouts, while the housewife follows handily while she flicks a switch to start the kitchen exhaust blower to carry off the fumes.

"Trouble with me is I'm an outdoor man!"

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Play Too Rough

Sammy Ringtail and Mugwump Monkey were playing out in the Great Forest. First they played a game of hickory with a hickory stick and a coconut for a ball. Next they played jumping-across-the-creek until Sammy fell in and got his clothes wet. He had to climb back up to the monkey house and change his clothes, and Mother listened while Mother Ringtail dried Sammy's hair with a towel. "It's just like when you play too rough," Mother Ringtail explained. "Somebody always gets hurt." Then Sammy and Mugwump slid down to the ground all ready to play again. "Let's play rough," Mugwump said, and he gave Sammy a push. "It's fun to play rough I guess," said Sammy, "and maybe we won't get hurt." He gave Mugwump a push. Mugwump laughed about it. Then he gave Sammy a push again. The push was hard enough for Sammy to go head over heels on the grass. "Maybe we shouldn't play rough after all," said Sammy, but Mugwump wanted to do it, and so they began to play as rough as they could. Sammy kicked Mugwump on the leg, playlike. Mugwump kicked Sammy on the leg, playlike. "Ouch!" said Sammy, because Mugwump had kicked too hard. He kicked Mugwump harder than ever. "Ouch!" said Mugwump. He began to pull Sammy's hair, and Sammy began to pull Mugwump's hair. They were fighting. They even jumped on each other's tail. And that is when Daddy Ringtail came sliding down to the ground in a hurry. Oh me, and oh my, my! I wish you could have seen those monkey boys—Mugwump and Sammy, you know. They looked something awful with their shins all kicked, with their hair all pulled, and with their tails all stepped on. They weren't mad at each other at all, but they were hurting all over from all of the playing too rough. Tch! Tch! Tch! I hope they learned their lesson and won't be doing it any more. Happy day!

Ringtail said: "Whenever you start to play jumping-across-the-creek, you can always know that somebody's going to fall in and get wet."

Textile Mill's Lawn Is Scene Of Southern Stock Feed Test

White-faced Herefords mow the lawn of this white-faced textile mill.

PENDLETON, S. C.—(NEA)—A Pendleton textile mill and a herd of 160 white-faced Hereford steers have come to an understanding. The mill is to provide them with grazing the year around on its 157-acre front lawn, and, in return, the steers are going to keep the lawn neatly mowed.

Actually, the mill—an ultramodern, windowless, air-conditioned structure—has a little more at stake in the steers than just chopping the grass. Grazing cattle on the mill property is part of an experiment with a new grass mixture, designed to make the South a great livestock region.

The lawn is seeded with a grass-legume combination that stays green all year. And it reseeds itself. Many agriculture experts throughout the South are attempting to find other crops for the once exclusively cotton plantations. Southern farmers have learned to produce as much cotton on about half the former acreage, leaving many thousands of acres for other uses.

One Drawback
Raising livestock is a fast-growing substitute, but there is one great drawback. Corn, the midwest's great fodder, doesn't grow prolifically or economically in the South, because of certain climatic factors. So Southern agronomists are working to find a high protein feed that will grow well.

As part of this agricultural experimentation, the lawn around the Gerrish Milliken rayon twisting and weaving plant here is planted with a mixture of alfalfa fescue grass and Ladino clover. The fescue provides grazing over a 12-month period, and the Ladino clover gives grazing plus legumes.

Clemson College, South Carolina's state agricultural school, is working closely with E. W. Simpson, the mill's resident farm manager in the development.

The fescue-clover combination was developed under the leadership of the Department of Agriculture, and has been tried out in Oregon, Pennsylvania and other areas. But Simpson and his co-workers think the mixture thrives better in the rolling hills of the Carolina Piedmont than anywhere else it has been grown.

Land Of Own
Many of the mill's workers, who have land of their own, have noted the growth of the grass and the year-round grazing of the 160 steers. They have been putting in requests for some of the seed, which is still scarce. Next June, the crop will be harvested and these and other requests filled.

The textile mill's experiment, Southern agriculturists hope, will help boost the South's livestock industry, resulting in more and cheaper cattle. Such a result would increase the region's per capita consumption of beef, still below the national average.

Production of petroleum from U. S. public lands tripled between 1933 and 1948.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —
By DALMON McNAIR

Almost five times as much cotton was produced in Midland County in 1949 than in 1948, recent figures reveal. The 1949 crop totaled approximately 18,244 bales, as compared to 3,665 bales in 1948. Nineteen West Texas counties showed a record total for 1949. A total of 801,399 bales was ginned in the 19-county area. Martin County had 83,162 bales compared to 24,680 for the previous year. Howard County had 66,071 bales. The 1948 total for the 19 counties was 265,472.

The Midland High FFA boys are busy entering judging contests in the area. Saturday, a group of five students was to enter a livestock judging contest at Sul Ross State College, Alpine, Monday, the group plans to attend the annual Field Day activities at Abilene Christian. J. R. Cuffman, vocational agriculture teacher, said his boys will enter the livestock and dairy judging contests at the ACC meet.

The Future Farmers have not done badly this year. At Odessa recently, the group captured second place in a judging contest. Last week the Midland contingent placed fourth in a dairy judging contest against Lamesa, Big Spring, Knott, Stanton, Welch, Odessa and Garden City.

Still on the agenda for the FFA club is the district judging meet April 15, at Texas Technological College in Lubbock. The teams placing in the top 10 per cent in each district will be allowed to go to the state judging meet May 6, at Texas A&M College.

Cuffman and his FFA boys have included the raising of chickens as a class project. Twenty-four White Leghorns are being kept in the FFA shop. Cuffman is teaching the boys correct feeding procedures and sanitation methods. The chickens are six weeks old.

The 1950 Sterling City Horse Show will be held April 22, Marilyn O. Hoffman, Sterling county agent, has announced.

Deadline on entries for the show has been set for April 15. A $3 entry charge will be assessed on each horse entered.

The Sterling City Show will have five classes, including Quarterhorse, Thoroughbred, Palomino, Gelding and Reining Horse.

Nine trophies will be awarded. Trophies will go to each grand champion listed and to the champion reining horse and gelding. Quarterhorse trophies are being given by the American Quarter Horse Association. Mrs. Glen Mayes, Garden City, will present a special trophy to the Grand Champion Quarterhorse Stud in memory of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Sullivan, pioneer Quarterhorse breeders of West Texas.

All entries must be turned into Hoffman at Sterling City.

Now is the time to begin treatments for hornfly control among cattle herds, according to James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A&M College.

The hornfly, a tiny, grayish black fly, about 3/8 of an inch long, usually begins to rot the livestock producer of pounds of beef about this time of year. The little fly is seen principally on the head, neck and shoulder of cattle, often in great numbers. If they are allowed to multiply, they may cover up to 50 per cent of an animal's body, says Deer. Control measures should be used early to check the multiplication in the first generation. The first spraying is very important and may reduce the total number of sprayings needed during the summer. Animals should be given the first treatment when the fly population reaches an average of about 25 flies per animal. DDT is a successful insecticide to use in combating the hornfly. Another treatment is toxaphene. Use either DDT or toxaphene in 5 per cent solutions for best results, Deer says. Keep the hornfly away and the cattle will gain an average of from 10 to 20 pounds more per month, according to Deer.

D. H. Jefferies, Abilene, has been appointed Tour Chairman for the annual Spring Hereford Tour of the West Texas Hereford Association. Henry Adledge, association president, has announced.

The 1950 tour will be held May 15-16 and a completely different itinerary from other years will be followed.

This year's tour will begin at Stephenville and association members are scheduled to visit herds of Hereford cattle in the vicinity of Stephenville, Comanche, Brownwood, Coleman, Abilene, Merkel and Sweetwater.

Development of green feed was at a standstill last week in all areas except in East Texas as the dry area moved farther eastward, according to the weekly Texas Crop and Weather Bulletin. In the eastern half of the state green feed was still plentiful but high winds continued to diminish the moisture supply and rain was urgently needed in the High Plains, Trans-Pecos and extreme southern counties to start new feed. Dry range feed was getting short in some of that area. Settling dust in the High and Low Plains continued to reduce palatability of dry feed. Rust in irrigated oat pastures in southwestern counties was cutting grazing season short. Livestock, with some feeding, were just about holding their own in the critically dry areas.

County Agent Charlie Green hopes a large crowd will be on hand Wednesday night to discuss the possibilities of extended REA electric service to the south part of the county. The meeting, to be held in the county courtroom, is open to all people living in the southern part of the county who are interested in obtaining electric service.

"It's important that everyone make plans to attend and tell other persons about the meeting," Green says, "because we must have a representative crowd on hand before we can make any progress." Jim Allen of the Cap Rock REA will be on hand to discuss the proposed extension with interested citizens.

Chinese Communists Use Bonds As Club

HONG KONG—(P)—Arrivals from Peiping say the Chinese Communists use their Victory bonds to club "uncooperative" citizens. They give this case as typical:

A Chinese educator was asked to write an anti-American article for the Communist press. The educator had lived in the United States. The educator asked to be excused. He didn't feel qualified.

Two days later he was informed the quota of Victory bonds he was required to buy had been set. The quota was about twice what he was worth. He had to sell his house and most of his personal property to meet the quota.

ISRAELI FINDS WORK QUICK

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL—(P)—In Israel, when one wants work, he asks for it and usually quickly gets it. Four hundred unemployed from the Ramle and Lydda airport area, in trucks and buses, drove through Tel Aviv's main streets shouting: "Work and bread!" Then they went to Ha-Kiryat (Government Place) and told their troubles to Zvi Berenson, director-general of the ministry of labor. Three hundred demonstrators were told they could go to work immediately on public works projects and repairing highways damaged by recent heavy rains.

The New York Board of Education is using the ship, permanently anchored to an East River pier, as a classroom for vocational training in marine sciences. On the Board's directory, the John W. Brown is listed as an annex of the Metropolitan Vocational School.

Ten teachers on the faculty of the ship-school teach a maritime curriculum to 400 students of high school and college age. Most of the boys want to go to sea when they graduate, or else take further training at one of the state or national marine academies.

The school is directed by Captains Alexander Donnegan and Joseph W. Schellings, who supervise a regular schedule of classroom. Classes are held on board, with the hours the same as those in landlubber schools.

The students can take one of three specialties—deck, engine room or steward—but are expected to acquaint themselves with the other two at the same time. They stand watch as bosun's mate, deck engineer and firemen, having to meet set requirements of actual hours in each duty.

Other items taught on the John W. Brown are instruction in general boat maintenance, fire-fighting, lifeboat drill and steering. Nautical terminology must be absorbed, too, by the would-be sailors.

After graduation, each student gets a chance to go to sea on a merchantman. But before that, there's a landlubber's chore: He has to spend half his time in a prosaic shore school, learning nautical things like English and math.

Fort Worth To Get Newsprint Ink Plant

FORT WORTH—A plant big enough to manufacture all the ink to print all the newspapers in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and New Mexico is under construction in Fort Worth and will start operation in May.

Ralph C. Persons, general manager of the George H. Morrill Company, said the plant will have a capacity of 16,000,000 pounds of news ink and 500,000 pounds of commercial and job ink per year, and will serve customers in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma and parts of New Mexico and Alabama.

"We are building this plant close to the source of our raw materials—oil and carbon black—because of high freight rates and increased demand for our products in the Southwest," Persons said.

BRITONS DRINK LESS BEER

LONDON—(AP)—Beer-drinking Britons are drinking less beer nowadays. Latest figures show the country's production of the stuff dropped to 1,831,769 bulk barrels a month. Analysts say the slump is due probably both to high beer prices—resulting from high taxes—and the growing popularity of entertainment found outside saloons. They guess the onset of home television may aggravate it.

Grand Prairie Bank Provides Low-Cost Meals For Employees

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff

Here's a bank with a snack bar, free coffee for customers and low-cost lunches for employees.

"We've had it 90 days," said George Harrison Turner, president of the Grand Prairie, Texas, State Bank. "It's working out fine."

Two entrances from the bank's lobby lead off to the snack bar, a gay room with rose and chartreuse walls and red, green, blue and yellow floors—with tables colored to match.

Every morning the bank's 30 employees decide what they want for lunch. Then Mary Lee Williams, negro cook, goes out and buys the groceries. The employees and bank officials make up a daily "kitty" to pay only the actual cost of the food. Lunches run from 20 to 35 cents.

Sample 35-cent lunch: boiled ham, new potatoes, fresh green beans, lettuce and tomato salad, sweet relish, hot corn bread muffins and upside-down cake.

Harrison, a stocky man with grey eyes and greying hair, installed the snack bar "because I think better understanding between employees and employees is the most essential thing in the business world today."

He added: "Good personnel relations is good business, for personnel turnovers cost money. Our rate of personnel turnover is very low—most of our employees have been with the bank many years. We want to keep them."

One night each month, the bank gives a dinner for employees in the snack bar—an informal affair for a mutual airing of suggestions and criticisms about the bank's business.

"When an employee has a suggestion or criticism," Turner told us, "I want to be the first to hear it."

During the day, employees are urged to have coffee and chat informally with customers and bank officials in the friendly snack bar.

"The bar is costing the bank about $300 per month," said Turner.

"I can't think of a better investment. The other day I heard one of our young lady employees was planning to leave us to get married. I asked her if this were true. "I was planning to get married," she admitted, "but I have changed my mind. I wouldn't trade our snack bar for any man on earth."

TOKYO—(AP)—The Japanese government will allow breweries and distilleries to produce 22,000,000 more gallons of alcoholic drinks in the fiscal year beginning April 1. Raw materials are more plentiful. Allowed production this current fiscal year was 94,000,000 gallons.
