Telephone Tieup Again Is Hated

Installers Go Back To Jobs, Resume Talks

NEW YORK—(P)—The threat of a nationwide telephone strike was ended Monday—at least for the present. Striking telephone installers called off their week-long walkout against the coast-to-coast Bell System and began new negotiations.

The back-to-work order flagged down pickets who would have marched Monday in an effort to paralyze the nation's phone service.

The break came at 1 a. m. after a 15-hour bargaining session with federal mediators, and only four hours before the first pickets were scheduled to walk.

M. Wayne Gray, vice president of the striking union, announced at 6:30 a. m. that the 10,000 installers had been ordered to return to the jobs by 8 a. m., local time. Thousands of New York City's 1.5 million were back at work and the remaining 200 were expected to report later in the day.

The strike was called last Monday by Division 6 of the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA) against the Bell System's manufacturing and supply unit, the Western Electric Company.

Division 6 now will join 23 other CWA divisions in new wage talks with the Bell System's parent corporation, American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and its several subsidiaries.

Poor Strike Support
The end of the walkout, Division 6 President Weaver stated:

"Refusal of the CWA to strike further has given us an opportunity to resolve these difficulties."

In the back-to-work settlements Western Electric reinstated the 104 original strikers at South Bend, Ind., who walked out to support six workers who refused to cross a muddy field to work on a television tower.

Agreement Forecast
The "muddy field" issue and the long-standing wage dispute led Division 6 to jump the gun and strike two days before the presidential strike truce ended last Wednesday.

Only a few hours before the truce ran out, CWA President Joseph Beirne called off the big union's scheduled national walkout, and bargaining continued. The postponement did not end the Division 6 strike, but the installers had refrained previously from forcing the issue with pickets.

Other divisions of the CWA have been reported to discuss a truce settlement with AT&T which could be extended to the whole union. The CWA originally demanded a 15 cent hourly wage increase and about one-third an-hour worth of other benefits.

Settlement In Chrysler Strike Near

DETROIT—(P)—Chrysler's general manager said Monday only technical wording of a new contract is holding up settlement of the 97-day-old Chrysler strike, but the United Auto Workers disputed this.

"There still are unresolved issues," the union said in a statement.

Herman L. Wreckler, Chrysler vice president and general manager, indicated only minutes before that a general agreement had been reached.

Wreckler indicated the company and the CIO United Auto Workers have agreed on general terms of a contract which provides $100 monthly pensions, including federal social security.

Wreckler issued the following statement, after federal and state mediators told newsmen "We're going to push it right on through."

"Assuming that the UAW stands by its verbal agreements on issues that have been discussed over and over again during the months of the strike, apparently the thing that is taking time now is language."

"Going over the language of the proposed contract does take time for discussion."

"That appears to be the UAW's reason for the current delay in ending the strike. We are not in a position to say more than that at the moment."

Telephone Firms Protest Proposed Anti-Gaming Bill

WASHINGTON—(P)—Telephone companies Monday objected to a proposed anti-gambling bill on the grounds it would saddle them with the responsibility of policing the gambling world.

Clyde S. Bailey, executive vice president of the United States Independent Telephone Association, protested in a prepared statement that a "whole army" would be needed to weed out telephone calls by gamblers and bookmakers.

S. Whitney Landon, attorney for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, said it would be "dangerous and unsound" for a telephone company "to assume the function of law enforcement itself."

The testimony was given to a Senate Commerce subcommittee which is studying a Justice Department bill designed to ban the movement of gambling information across state lines.

Rioting Students Return To School

NEW YORK—(P)—Students trooped peacefully back to classrooms Monday following a week in which thousands of them had joined in riotous demonstrations.

Monday was the first school day on which no disorders were reported since last Tuesday, when student revolts broke out in a demand for higher teacher pay and restoration of extra-curricular activities.

Rainmakers Don't Claim Credit, But Gotham Gets Rain

NEW YORK—(P)—New York City's rainmakers entered no official claim—but rain fell on the city for nearly 24 hours after they started a cloud-seeding experiment.

The rain fell also in the Catskill Mountains, where the city's thirsty reservoirs lapped up a partial runoff of nearly two billion gallons and expected more.

The experiment started at midnight Saturday with a generator streaming blue plumes of silver iodide smoke into the cloudy mountain air to stimulate raindrop formation.

Slight hours later, sleet began to fall in the area, followed by steady, drizzling rain that lasted until early Monday morning.

Dr. Wallace E. Howell, the city's 8100-day rain expert, directed the experiment by remote control from his home in Boston. As in other cases when rain or snow is

Red May Day Fetes Center In Split Berlin

Threats of trouble marked East-West May Day celebrations in divided Berlin Monday, but cool-headed German police from both sides prevented any outbreak of rioting.

In the western sector of the city, an estimated 750,000 Germans cheered speakers who attacked Russia and communism. Their demonstration centered around Potsdamer Platz. A few blocks away, at the Lustgarten, thousands of East Berliners took part in an organized demonstration where speakers assailed the West and marchers carried pictures of Prime Minister Stalin during a six-hour parade.

Celebrations marking the international Labor Day were held in Moscow and all over the world, but attention centered on Berlin—a powderkeg in the East-West cold war.

In the western sector, some 11,000 West German police, supported by 8,000 alerted Western Allied troops, were on hand to maintain order. Soviet sector Police kept similar watch in the East.

Trouble threatened when anti-Communist demonstrators at Potsdamer Platz began surging toward the Soviet sector. They shouted "Bak KSS" and communist pigs at the East German police. The West Germans began hurling stones at the East German police, who made no effort to retaliate. Officials said the stone throwers appeared to be led by young roughhouse elements who may have been drinking.

McCarthy's Intentions Questioned

WASHINGTON—(P)—Representative Karsten (D-Mo) suggested Monday an inquiry be made to determine whether the communism charges of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) constitute "a hoax, a deception or a fraud" upon the American people.

Karsten said in a statement to Republican-controlled House committees more than two years ago investigated "a list of 108 names of persons employed, or who had applied for employment in the State Department, on the question of whether or not they were security risks."

He said the committees found the State Department was "handling the situation in a satisfactory manner," and that it appears to him the "majority if not all" of the cases McCarthy has raised were among the 108.

GOP Split Threatens
Karsten added:

"If so, inquiry should be made as to whether or not a hoax, a deceit, or a fraud, has been practiced somewhere, by some one, upon the American people."

Karsten's statement came when Senate Republicans were reported split over a move by some to wind up an investigation by a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee of McCarthy's charges of Communist infiltration of the State Department.

The inquiry continued Monday with Freda Ulyed scheduled to testify on the case of Owen Lattimore, Far Eastern expert. McCarthy has charged that Lattimore, some time a consultant to the State Department, is a Soviet spy. Lattimore has vigorously denied it and has denied he is a Communist.

Senator Tydings (D-Md) heads the subcommittee.

Thick Clouds Bring Scattered Showers

By The Associated Press
Scattered rain fell Monday in North Central and Northeast Texas. A thick cloud blanket covered almost the entire state.

Sherman reported 1.80 inches of rain during the 24 hours ended at 6:30 a. m., and the rain was continuing. Texas also was getting more rain after a 24-hour total of 1.71 inches. Anna, between McKinney and Sherman, reported 1.14 inches, and Munn, east of Gainesville, had .87.

Elsewhere the rain was scattered.

Overcast in Midland And Area

A heavy overcast gave Midland a bit of dreary weather Monday and a heavy mist fell part of the morning.

No rain was reported in the area but prospects appeared good for precipitation.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Adm. Forrest P. Sherman said Monday the Navy has developed guided missiles to the point where they should be put into the fleet immediately, ready for use.

TAIPEI, FORMOSA—(AP)—A Chinese Nationalist Air Force communique Monday declared late model jet fighters of Russia's Far East Air Force had "definitely" joined the Chinese Communist Air Force in operations against the Chinese government.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme Court Monday refused to interfere with Gov. Herman Talmadge's "pet" Georgia law designed to curb negro voting by requiring prospective voters to meet educational tests.

RANGOON, BURMA—(AP)—Burmese government troops captured Pakokkuja, a big Communist stronghold, after killing 53 and routing the remainder of the defending force, it was announced officially Monday.

Reds 'Take Over' U. S. City

Frederick Rau, of Mosinee, Wis., places a sign in front of his home announcing sale in Russian rubles as the town gets into the spirit of being Communist-dominated for a day. The American Legion is sponsoring the idea to show citizens what they would be in for should the Reds ever take over Mosinee.

Mock Reds Capture Wisconsin City In May Day Uprising

MOSINEE, WIS.—(P)—The pajama-clad mayor of Mosinee was dragged into the snowy street and the chief of police was "executed" Monday as a mock May Day insurrection clamped an iron hand over this paper mill city at sunrise.

Police Chief Caryl Gewis was "shot down" in his headquarters for failure to turn over his offices to the Reds. Leader of the flying squad which took over the police station was Benjamin Giltow, who once was the real secretary-general of the Communist Party in the United States.

Real party members were not in evidence as the 2,200 residents of Mosinee began their one-day trial of life under Soviet rule.

One of the coordinated assault teams of six armed men each dragged protesting Mayor Ralph E. Kronenwetter from his bed into the snowy street. He faced Joseph Jack Kronenwetter, the commissar-for-the-day, who told the shivering mayor he was an "enemy of the people."

Watchdog Turns Comrade
The mayor's watchdog, silent during the invasions, was reported to be an agent of the Communists.

While the first arrests were made, other assault teams threw up road blocks, posted proclamations and (Continued On Page Seven)

West Texans Fete Chilean President

LUBBOCK—(P)—News of strike rioting in his country failed to dampen the spirits or dull the charm of President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla of Chile Monday.

Continuing his brisk schedule, the chief executive planned to visit an irrigation project, appear in a football stadium and attend a luncheon before leaving for New Orleans at 2:30 p. m.

Gonzalez Videla was watching square dancers and listening to cowboy music at a ranch near Lubbock Sunday night when a reported brought news of strike trouble in his country.

The Interior Minister, when informed at Santiago of a general police and a number of striking steelworkers had been injured in clashes. Also leaders of striking steelworkers plan a general walkout May 4 to coincide with his return from a state visit to this country.

Blames Trouble On Reds
The president quickly expressed his opinion that the strike troubles were Communist-inspired, and added: "I feel this is a typical reaction of the Communist Party after they have been defeated."

The greatest applause of the night at the ranch came when Gonzalez Videla was introduced. For the president had captivated West Texans.

His host at the party, Governor Livemore, Lubbock, was a devotee of oil and gas. He is a high school graduate and a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Pecos Doctor Named Year's Practitioner

PORT WORTH—(P)—Dr. Jim Camp of Pecos, 72-year-old country doctor, Sunday was named "general practitioner of the year" by the house of delegates of the State Medical Association of Texas.

The house opened the eighty-third annual meeting of the State Medical Association here.

Dr. Camp, who is rounding out his 50th year of medical practice as a self-described "country doctor," noted Dr. J. B. Cummins of Fort Worth 64 to 61.

GOVERNOR SHIVERS FLIES TO VERNON CELEBRATION

AUSTIN—(P)—Gov. Allan Shivers left here Monday by plane for Vernon to attend the annual Santa Rosa Roundup there.

The governor planned to return to Austin Monday afternoon.

Clean-Up Parade Is Reset

A downtown parade scheduled to open Clean-Up Week in Midland Monday has been postponed to Tuesday, Jay-Cee officials announced at 1:30 p. m.

Bad weather was the reason listed for postponement.

Clean-Up Week, an annual campaign sponsored by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce, is expected to cover every alley, lawn and vacant lot. By the weekend, Midlanders hope they can lay claim to West Texas' neatest and most beautiful city.

City and health officials, pledging wholehearted support to the project, have pointed out several conditions in Midland which should be corrected to preserve a sanitary water supply, make the city alleys more attractive, and promote a uniform garbage disposal habit.

A threat of polio is hoped to be averted by the stamping out of insects, replacing health-menacing cesspools with city sewage connections or septic tanks, covering garbage cans, and removing unsightly weeds and other debris.

The parade, keynoting the six-day effort of Midland citizens, was to form at 3:30 p. m. near the Junior high school, and was to wind through downtown Midland streets. Service and civic clubs, Cub and Boy Scouts, school bands and numerous other organizations were expected to have entries.

Key GOP'ers Would Lump Aid Bill With Domestic Spending

WASHINGTON—(P)—Two key Republicans asked Monday that global aid funds be tacked onto the "single package" appropriation bill when it reaches the Senate.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), top-ranking GOP member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, told a reporter he would ask Democratic Chairman McKellar of Tennessee to do this.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, called this "an excellent idea."

House leaders expect to spend the rest of this week considering the huge $29,000,000 foreign aid appropriation measure. It lumps all operating funds for domestic government activities into a single bill for the first time.

Senate leaders finally have an agreement to vote at 1 p. m. Friday on the $3,772,450,000 foreign aid authorization after three weeks of haphazard debate.

Both Bridges and Taft take the stand that chances for making some cuts in the foreign aid funds would be improved by their consideration at the same time that domestic spending before the Senate.

Cool Weather To Help Livestock Thiefts

ADA, OKLA.—(P)—The Western Oklahoma activities of a two-state alleged cattle rustling ring will get the attention Tuesday of the Texas Rangers and the Oklahoma Crime Bureau.

Criminal Agent Jess Lee of Ada and Ranger Jim Geer of Oklahoma City, would continue their search for the rustlers which has resulted in cash charges against five men.

Norman Davenport, 23, and his brother Chester, 25, of Wichita Falls, Texas, are jailed at Durant, Okla., under $25,000 bond each.

Herman Ashlock and Alfred Pierson are in the Wichita Falls jail. H. M. Patterson, uncle of the Davenports, is free from the Idabel, Okla., jail on $1,000 bond.

Lee said the men are accused of taking cattle from farms and ranches in North Texas and Southern Oklahoma. The livestock was hauled to Patterson's farm near Idabel and later sold at auctions in Arkansas, he claimed.

Spraberry Wildcat Staked In Midland

Lynn D. Durham of Midland is moving in rotary material to drill his No. 1 Mary E. Turner as an 8,000-foot wildcat in East-Central Midland County, 12 miles southeast of the city of Midland.

The well will be 1,980 feet from south and 490 feet from east lines of section 44, W. T. Holcombe survey. That makes it approximately one and one-half miles northwest of the nearest complete producers from the Spraberry sand in the Tex-Harvey field.

The Durham project will try to develop production in the Tex-Harvey field pay section. It is on acreage secured by Durham in a farm-out deal with Humble Oil & Refining Company.

Warren Completes Scurry Reef Link

Warren Oil Corporation No. 1 Cunningham, Central-North Scurry County wildcat, 19 miles north of Snyder, has been completed as a flowing oil producer from the Canyon reef.

The well made a calculated 24-hour potential of 1,224 barrels of pipe size oil, flowing through a one-inch opening on two-inch tubing. There was no water.

That production was from pay in the reef between 5,849 feet and the total depth at 6,200 feet. That zone had been treated with 1,500 gallons of acid.

Unproven Area
This new producer is one and one-half miles southwest of the Eastman & O'Neil No. 1 Feldman and Pardo, the nearest completed producer.

Location of the Warren well is in the southeast corner of section 653, block 7, H&TC survey.

Top of the Canyon reef was at 6,830 feet. That is on a datum of minus 4,405 feet.

Warren is to move one location north and start drilling at once on No. 2 Cunningham.

Loving Due Delaware Tester

Location has been staked for a 3,000-foot wildcat in Central-Southeast Loving County, to explore into the Delaware.

The project will be drilled by I. A. Stephens of Lubbock as his No. 1 Anderson. It is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 28, block 23, ps survey. That makes it approximately 10 miles east of Mentone.

SE Nolan Venture Develops Free Oil

Ryan, Hays and Burke No. 1 S. B. Moore, Southeast Nolan County wildcat developed a little free oil in a drillstem test in the top of the Ellenburger at 5,807-22 feet. The project has deepened nine feet and is running another test.

The show of oil came in a two-hour test at 5,807-22 feet. Gas came to the surface in one hour and 10 minutes. The gas volume was not gauged. No fluid came to the surface.

Recovery was 50 feet of heavily oil cut drilling mud and 100 feet of pipe line oil. There was no formation water. Shut-in bottom hole pressure was 300 pounds at 5,807 feet. Elevation is not available.

The prospect is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 181, block 64, H&TC survey. It is one and one-half miles northeast of Byron.

The wildcat did not log any possibilities of production in any of the formations above the Ellenburger.

N-C Hockley To Get Ellenburger Venture

Danciger Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Hubert V. Cook is to be a 7,000-foot wildcat in North-Central Hockley County, four miles east of Whitehall.

The drillsite is 440 feet from north and east lines of labor 2, league 729, Abner Taylor original grant, in State Capitol Lands.

The project destination of 7,000 feet is calculated to take the prospector to the granite.

Eastland Oil Offsets C-W Ector Discovery

The Eastland Oil Company of Fort Worth, No. 3-S J. L. Johnson, Jr., is to be a one-location east step-out of the same company's No. 1-S Johnson, recently completed discovery from the Permian line in Central-West Ector County, six and one-half miles southeast of Goldsmith.

The venture is to drill to 4,800 feet to test the San Andres. It is 2,310 feet from east and 2,322.5 feet from south lines of section 37, block 44, TP survey, T-1-S. Operations are to start immediately.

Deep Zone Top In C-W Midland Void

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 3 Roy Parks, assured Pennsylvania discovery in Central-West Midland County, 23, has developed no shows on a three-hour drillstem test in the Devonian.

Recovery on the test at 11,740-554 feet was 180 feet of drilling mud. Operators were reported drilling about 100 feet.

The No. 3 Parks topped to the Devonian line at 11,550 feet, which is 193 feet higher than the Warfield-Ellenburger pool discovery (Continued On Page Seven)

Answer to Previous Puzzle

GOP Plans To Meet Truman In Each Of Eight Set Speeches

WASHINGTON — President Truman is depending on eight prepared speeches and any number of home "trackside chats" this month to strengthen his "Fair Deal."

How the Power Commission will line up on the matter depends on the position taken by Mon C. Wallgren, who was named to the post by Truman following refusal of the Senate to confirm him as head of the National Security Resources Board.

Indications are that Wallgren will go over to the side of those favoring strict regulation of independent producers. It is certain that he urged a veto of the Kerr bill, although whether for political or economic reasons never has been made clear.

Hugh A. Stewart of Denver, whose job as director of the Interior Department's Oil and Gas Division is in jeopardy by congressional action, got a vote of confidence from the Civil Service Commission last week.

President Truman's veto of the Kerr-Harris bill automatically won't stop natural gas prices from going up. The word here is that some new contracts have been signed for 13 cents a MCF, and that the price may go to 15 cents shortly.

The federal government's authority to fix the price at which such gas is sold to interstate pipe lines still is in question.

Object of the bill was to prevent the Federal Power Commission from asserting such price-fixing authority.

Three Of Family Die In Crash, Child Saved

MOUNTAIN HOME, ARK. — A three-year-old girl is the only survivor of a California family of four whose flight to visit Arkansas relatives ended in a crash on a fog-shrouded mountain peak Sunday.

He starts for the west next Sunday on a 6,400-mile stumping tour carrying him into 16 states.

Such Republicans as Senator Taft of Ohio, Representative Martin of Massachusetts, Senator Wherry of Nebraska and National Chairman Guy Gabrielson are expected to be ready to reply on any issues Truman raises along the route.

However, he will make dozens of other talks from the rear platform of his bulletproof private car.

The President's itinerary, made public Sunday night, made no attempt to list the towns at which he plans to make platform appearances.

However, one of his top aides told reporters that "you may be sure that the President will be prepared to step out and talk at almost any town where his train stops."

Approximately 30 members of the Kermit Square Dance Club attended an organizational meeting of the Permian Basin Square Dance Club Friday night at Grandfalls.

Election of officers, adoption of by-laws and plans for Spring and Fall square dance festivals were made. Four area dances are planned for the year, with the dancers meeting in towns with facilities adequate to accommodate large crowds.

Students Show More And Better Work In Second Art Festival

From kindergarten through high school, art work of Midland students is on display this week in an exhibit which covers the walls of the City-Country Auditorium and the City-Country Art Festival sponsored by the Midland Palette Club Art Center and the American Association of University Women.

This is the second annual festival exhibit and is larger and more impressive than that of last Spring. Adult and student entries were displayed together last year but the adult show will be held during National Art Week in November this year.

Ribbons were placed on the winning entries before the show was opened to the public Sunday afternoon. Judges were art teachers, Isabelle Robinson of the Fine Arts Department of West Texas State College, Canyon, Mrs. David Mills of Seminole and John C. Freyburger of Lamesa.

The list of winners follows: Pre-school — Marion Wilkinson first for a drawing of three girls holding hands. First grade — Nancy Hitchcock first for a crayon picture of a caged circus animal and children; Jerry Mills, Freddie Jones, Judy Givens and Jerry Don Feemster, third.

Second grade — Billy Hunter first for a circus tent drawing; Raymond Pittman, second; Della Hernandez, Baselia Carrasco and Manuela Maldonado, third.

Third grade — Nancy Estes first for a crayon drawing of horses under a tree in a pasture; Fausa Raines, second; Ruth Ann Erskine, Vickie Olglin, George Giffert and Glenda Thomas, third.

Fourth grade — Carol Chiles first for a landscape in pastels with black overtones for a twilight effect; Bill Pannill, second; Dan Davis and Jerry Herndon, third.

Fifth grade — Ted Moore first for a silhouette sketch of grass and a tree; Keith Crabtree, Lydia Reyes, Elsie Conner and Bobby Chaney, third.

Sixth grade — Joe Ewing first and second for a colorful tropical beach scene and a black and white drawing of an old house; James Barron, second; Ewing, third.

Eighth grade — Mary Herndon first for a tooled leather purse; Donald Lees for a metal plaque in a bird design; Craft work made up the entire exhibit for eighth graders.

A special award was given an individual entry from a Junior High student, Bill Robisek, for his colorful abstract design in oils, a pattern suggestive of "flying saucers". Work of high school students was divided by subject matter. For a crayon design, Maxine Hill placed first; Barbara Varlandingham, second; Peggy Reed, Shirley Harrison and Barbara Burnham, third.

Installation Set For P-TA

Officers of the City Parent-Teacher Council and its six units will be installed at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Midland High School Auditorium. Frank Monroe, superintendent of schools, will conduct the installation ceremonies. Members of the High School P-TA will be hostesses.

Thurmon (Tugboat) Jones, high school football coach, will discuss the Summer recreation program. Mrs. Stanley Erskine will be installed as president of the City P-TA Council, succeeding Mrs. Bert Cole, Jr. Other new presidents are Mrs. M. B. Arick, high school; Mrs. Robert Wood, junior high; Mrs. E. J. Murphy, West Elementary; Mrs. Hal Rachal, North Elementary; Mrs. Clyde Gwyn, South Elementary; and Mrs. James Wilton, Terminal.

Attendance Rulings And Week's Program Announced At Center

Admission to the Midland Youth Center Building will be by membership card only beginning Monday. Mrs. Ray Gwyn, director, has announced. Members in good standing may bring out-of-city guests to the center but no local guests will be permitted, she explained.

Members will register at the door as they enter the building and each member is being asked to give a half-hour each week to assist with registration duties.

Activities at the center this week will include a Clean-Up Day Saturday, cooperating with the city-wide Clean-Up Week sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. A wiener roast is scheduled Monday night and a meeting of boys on the Honor Council has been called for Monday also.

Each member attending the wiener roast is to bring wieners for his own supper and other refreshments will be supplied. The party is set from 6 to 9 p.m.

Corky Moss, chairman of the Honor Council, has called the meeting of boys on the council. They are Clint Morgan, David Anguish, David Laverty, Max Shafer, Richard Patton and David Weaver.

The Clean-Up Day will start at 9 a.m. Saturday and all members are asked to report to the center ready for work. Some of the furniture will be revarnished, work will be done in the yard and the building will be given a Spring cleaning.

Plans for the future in the center include the anniversary ball in June, soon after the close of the school term.

Candle wax often disappears when sponged with wood alcohol, Chloroform, or carbon tetrachloride.

Pork Barrel Economy

When it comes to voting money for flood control and navigation projects, the Senate is a very charitable place.

Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, a liberal who doesn't believe that term inescapably involves heavy spending, tried hard this year to curb the Senate's charitable impulses.

The Senate has approved a waterways bill appropriating $1,565,767,825 for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This is the second time Douglas has sought to trim waterways appropriations. Last year his attack was general, but his recent economy campaign was specific.

Douglas had some constructive ideas aimed at easing the federal burden of cost. For example, he proposed that when flood control levees are built, the property owners who would benefit from the protection be asked to share the cost.

Senator Byrd of Virginia, long-time seeker after government economy, came to Douglas' aid by pointing out that many projects the Senate tossed into the bill hadn't even been approved by the President's Budget Bureau.

But there were no other influential recruits in the uphill fight so the outcome was no different from other years.

Many of the same senators, who in a sarcastic mood, clapped when Douglas announced he was about to give up, now will do a fast turn-around and begin yelping for economy in foreign aid funds.

"Economy for the other fellow" is clearly a well-established theme among our courageous lawmakers.

The only thing hard to grasp is that most of the men who will be singing this song expect to be taken seriously. Should they be?

Let Bygones Be Bygones

President Truman is making a determined effort to get the bipartisan foreign policy back in working order.

Earlier, of course, the President selected John Sherman Cooper, former Republican senator from Kentucky, for a similar role.

But the Dulles appointment means more. Before Gov. Thomas E. Dewey named Dulles to a Senate vacancy last year, the GOP foreign affairs specialist had been a United Nations delegate operating closely with the Administration.

Truman, irked by Dulles' criticism of his domestic program made during the New Yorker's election bid last Fall, worked hard to defeat him and succeeded. It was thought in many quarters that Dulles never again would put his experience to use while Truman remained in the White House.

That his talents and wisdom in this field have been called upon once more is a healthy sign. Sharp party division on foreign issues could be ruinous.

Russian Style Spring Fever

Reports from Europe indicate the Soviets are flexing their muscles along the eastern front of the cold war.

Nobody can say why the Russians pick this particular time to intensify the cold war. The Senate is considering the $3,366,450,000 foreign aid bill.

Do the Russians think they can scare us into spending money to the point of going broke to contain communism? Or is it possible that the master strategists in the Politburo are off on their timing? Maybe it's just a plain case of Spring fever, Russian style.

If the platoon system continues next year in football, arrangements should be made to have astronomers identify the stars in each play.

A western town has a traveling classroom. It's a way of keeping up with the geography during a dust storm.

We read of another sit-down strike. The result of conditions workers think they just can't stand.

Are They Going Along, Harry?

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Fortunately the secretary of state needs no defense from me. No one who knows his extraordinary record of able and distinguished public service can believe that he is in any danger from these little men.

Most businessmen now realize that they cannot conduct their businesses in disregard of the interest or wishes of their workers.

Little do people realize that Europe's preservation is in the interests of the whole world.

That he was not a "five percent" but a "fifty percent."

The committee promptly called him, and here is part of the testimony: "In 1946 I went to work seven months because of Drew Pearson... I was terminated, Senator, because Drew Pearson started writing... These past two years have been the worst in my life because of this commentator."

Behind John Maragon The real story of the John Maragon conviction is not about the ex-Kansas City bootblack who became the friend of the President and now goes to jail, but about a Congressman who remained in the background and doesn't go to jail.

None of this violated any laws, but a lot of it violated the sense of propriety of the American people.

John Maragon, once cocky and confident, now is a pathetic figure. A few short years ago he was able to demote generals, get airplane privileges to Europe, escape a conviction for smuggling, ride on the President's special trains and stand beside Truman as he reviewed the fleet.

So the most interesting question about the Maragon conviction is whether the Senate committee now will probe further into the Maragon-Vaughan-White House axis.

Even last month, when Maragon was under indictment he pulled powerful wires inside the Truman Administration—powerful enough to cause the FBI to work all night investigating a crackpot rumor that a member of my staff had evaded the draft during the war.

Also illustrative of Maragon's power was his demand three years ago that I be indicted for criminal libel. The District of Columbia criminal libel statute has not been enforced for 75 years. But after I reported that Maragon had pleaded guilty to illegally transporting liquor in 1928, both he and General Vaughan called the Justice Department to demand my criminal prosecution.

The White House reinforced Vaughan's demand—and so vigorously that the FBI took out precious time to cause the FBI to work all night investigating a crackpot rumor that a member of my staff had evaded the draft during the war.

What's RIGHT? You are a high school or college girl applying for work during the Summer months.

WRONG WAY: When applying for the job wear the type of clothes you wear to school. Go hatless, wearing loafers, sweaters and skirt, etc.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

"The trouble with most bridge players," said Generous George, "is that they're too stingy. I like the people who play bridge against me, and I enjoy making them happy. So I hand them a trick now and then just to see them smile."

"The opening lead was the queen of hearts," reported George, "and the first trick was taken by the king of hearts. I was all set to play my other heart to the second trick when I found that the jack of diamonds had been led back at me. What do you think of that?"

"A neat plot," I said admiringly. And here was the word for it. East planned to take his ace of trumps as soon as spades were led. Then he would lead a low heart in the hope that his partner could win the trick.

This risky play would work, of course, since West had the jack of hearts, and East would set the contract by ruffing the second round of diamonds.

"Nothing neat about it," said George. "Just dirty tactics. Trying to take the bread out of my mouth, that's all. Well, you know me. If they want a trick that badly, I'll always give it to them."

"I took the second trick with the king of diamonds and played some clubs. On the third high club, led from the dummy, that robber at my right hand played a trump."

"Well, he looked so hungry for a trick that I really didn't have the heart to overtrump. I just threw my other low heart on the trick."

"Also very neat," I commented. For now George could not be set. He hadn't actually given away a trick, because he was always bound to lose a second heart trick. However, he had made sure that East won the second heart trick, and East could not ruff a diamond because his partner would never be able to lead that suit.

"Nothing neat about it," said George. "Just brotherly love. Live and let live."

Infectious Disease Involving Liver Spread by World War II

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

During previous wars typhoid, typhus, smallpox, influenza and other infectious diseases often have caused serious epidemics. In World War II a disease called epidemic or infectious hepatitis, while not as widespread as some of the epidemics of previous wars, nevertheless has caused a good deal of trouble.

This infectious disease has been recognized in occasional outbreaks or individual cases for a long time and formerly was called catarrhal jaundice. It now is safe to say that it is an infectious disease involving principally the liver. It has occurred in more or less widespread epidemics both in this country and in many of the theaters of military operation.

In about 85 per cent of the patients, there is an early period of the disease lasting a few days, which precedes the characteristic appearance of jaundice, or yellow coloration of the skin. In about one out of 10 the jaundice appears at the beginning. The early stage usually is accompanied by easy fatigability, slight nausea and almost complete loss of appetite.

About half of the patients have a fever of up to 103 degrees. The jaundice often gives the victim an intense yellow color of the skin and eyes and other mucous membranes; sometimes the yellow coloration is very slight indeed.

Headache is present in a few. After the jaundice has appeared the second stage lasts from about two to three weeks. A convalescent stage is recognized too, lasting for one or two months. Usually from six to eight weeks is required for full recovery, though a few patients may not be quite well even at the end of several months. A chronic form has been described.

Most seem to recover without any serious or permanent harmful effects. The most important part of treatment is to begin start bed rest early and to keep it up for a long enough time. A diet containing a high proportion of protein foods also is used and seems to shorten the course of the disease.

The cause of this condition almost certainly is present in a few.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Editorial Views On McCarthy Charges Are Widely Divided

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Wisconsin Republican Senator Joe McCarthy did a lot of good for himself in his address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, meeting in Washington. ASNE is made up of about 600 working newspaper editors—the men who direct editorial policy.

More than 300 of them were present for the annual Washington meeting and heard McCarthy talk. The impression they carried away with them will have important bearing on the editorials they write in the future on McCarthy's charges of communism in government.

McCarthy got heavy applause from the editors during and after his speech. A part of it was admiration of an ex-Marine who had kept swinging even after he had taken an awful lot of punishment in and out of Communist camps. Many of the editors who came to doubt obviously were impressed.

McCarthy has developed a good political fighting technique. He can revolve with the punch like a rooster on a weathervane. He attacks constantly. He keeps repeating his charges: "Lattimore is the architect of our China policy. . . . Acheson is incompetent. . . . The Communist line shapes the thinking of our State Department."

He has an answer for everything. Most of the time it is not a direct answer. He ignores evidence that does not support his charges. When he is proved wrong about something he ignores it. The net effect is that he is convincing to a lot of people who want to believe in him.

Many of the newspaper editors in Washington were extremely critical of the Washington press corps. They said Washington correspondents were as wrong on McCarthy as they were on the 1948 election. The charge is that the Washington correspondents are too close to the scene—too much influenced by the Democratic administration and the State Department to know how the rest of the country feels about this.

As one editor expressed it, "McCarthy's charges have swept the country like a prairie fire." As McCarthy himself expressed it, "My activities are opposed by almost everyone except the American people."

If this is the case, it may be pertinent to ask how the American people found out about this situation? The answer would seem to be that the Washington press and radio corps could not have done such a bad job, or the news wouldn't be out.

There is no accurate gauge on what editorial opinion has been on the McCarthy charges. In general, the Knight, McCormick and Hearst press has been pro-McCarthy. Scripps-Howard, while critical of State Department's China policy, has held back on expressing any convictions about the McCarthy charges, waiting for all the evidence to be presented.

Such newspapers as New York Times, New York Herald-Tribune, Christian Science Monitor, Kansas City Star, Louisville Courier-Journal and St. Louis Post-Dispatch have been critical of McCarthy. Papers like Philadelphia Inquirer, Wall Street Journal, Omaha World-Herald and Oakland Tribune have been pro-McCarthy.

McCarthy himself is extremely critical of the "egg-sucking columnists" and "phony liberals" who have been critical of him. But here again there is a deep division of opinion. Pegler, Skolnik-Constantine Brown and others have been pro-McCarthy. Tom Stokes, Marquis Childs, Lowell Mellett, Drew Pearson and a lot more have been critical. Though McCarthy has been bitter against Pearson, the senator nevertheless uses an old Pearson story to prove that Acheson and Truman consulted Lattimore.

Q—As Clemency changed her track she was dreading that dinner—try as she would, she could not get the memory of that first one out of her mind, and somehow she hated the idea of Jon and Syrie being there, watching her romance with the unhappy cynic.

Besides, it was clear that however she tried to behave, Syrie had taken a violent dislike to her, and that she bitterly resented the engagement.

But why? Sitting before her dressing table, Clemency asked herself that question for the 20th time.

WHAT a wonderful day it had been! In Biskra Piers had had her finger measured and ordered her engagement ring to be specially made for her. It would be really lovely—a big square sapphire, set around with narrow oval emeralds, and the loveliest thing about it, the most valuable would be that it was her beloved's gift. Meanwhile, because it would not be ready yet, he had insisted upon buying her a diamond "eternity" ring.

"Can't let you go about without some sign that trespassers will be prosecuted," he had told her laughingly.

They had lunched in Biskra, and gone to see the Sandersons before driving back to Red Aloes.

Piers was very fond of Mrs. Sanderson, and Clemency had already gathered, the older woman returned his affection. She received their news with delight, Hamish and his sister were both out for the day with a picnic party.

"You are not going to rush the girl into any kind of hole-in-the-corner wedding," Piers—Mrs. Sanderson had announced firmly. "She is only expecting one wedding day in her life, and it must be a real one. She will come and stay here, and from here you will be married—with white satin and tulle and all the accessories."

"What I have let myself in for!" thought Piers. "That dinner was not, after all, the uncomfortable thing she had feared—it was, in fact, just another slice of her particular earthly paradise."

DO NOT DRESS UP NEGATIVISM AS A FRIEND

If we are to get out of negativism and inferiority attitudes, we must take certain positive steps. Our getting out will not just happen. No startling miracle of deliverance will happen unless we cooperate. The miracle of deliverance will work as we work, but only as we work. Don't sit helplessly and expect either God or man to perform a miracle on you. But both God and man can perform a miracle through you if you cooperate. Then take these steps: (1) Recognize negativism and inferiority attitudes as enemies—do not try to dress them up as friends. You will be tempted to look upon negativism as prudence, and inferiorities as humility. Strip off these false cloaks, and see these attitudes in their nakedness—as enemies of you and of your possibilities.

When a hard thing comes before you, you will take one of four methods in dealing with it, according to Dr. M. S. Congdon, a psychologist: (1) Flee it! (2) Fight it! (3) Forget it! (4) Face it!

The first three ways will end in failure—only the fourth opens a door. Your first step is a facing of the facts—the whole of the facts. Don't be like the Scotch minister who began by saying, "This is a difficult text; having looked it in the face we will pass on." Don't pass on until you have really looked your difficulty in the face and have seen it for what it is—not something that must be excused, or defended, or explained away or rationalized, but something that must be ousted.

A minister took the first step to victory when he arose and said in Mayor William Neely was the principal speaker for the dedication. Several hundred persons attended. DePhane Tabor, Senior Girl Scout, was master of ceremonies for the program. A flag ceremony, raising both the American and Girl Scout flags, was presented.

Association members presided at the registration table and members of Girl Scout Troops conducted tours through the building. The building and furnishings are completely paid for and most of the money for the furnishings was made by the sale of Girl Scout cookies.

Mrs. J. E. Starley of Pecos, area executive of Girl Scouts, attended the dedication. Commenting on the house, she said, "In all of the area there is nothing that compares with this house. There is everything that the Girl Scouts will need; nothing has been left undone."

Consideration By Husband Is Key To A Woman's Happiness

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Chances are your wife's a happy woman if:

You have her convinced that you think she is just as pretty as she was the day you married her. (In that case what her mirror tells her doesn't matter too much.)

She can feel reasonably sure that your homecoming in the evenings will be a bright spot in the day. (It's still a highlight even though you come home in a low mood, if you just don't take out a grouch on her, but let her offer sympathy and understanding, instead.)

She can count on you to help her figure out the answers to problems that concern the children.

She can look forward to a pleasant evening when the two of you go out together.

She can be a little bit extravagant once in a while without dressing to tell you about it.

She knows with certainty that you comes first with you.

She can, when she needs to, talk to you about a problem without being treated as though she is just another nagging or discontented wife.

Appreciation Important

She feels that, on the whole, you think she excels in her job of homemaker and that you appreciate the little extra, thoughtful things she does for your comfort.

She knows you like to see her look attractive and can count your spoken admiration when she looks especially pretty.

She knows you have confidence in her talents as a hostess and ability to carry off any kind of social situation.

She isn't afraid of growing because she knows that age won't lessen her worth in your eyes.

She knows that you regard her as a full partner, and as such, ready and willing to give her credit for carrying her part of the load.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Teeny Tiny

Eany Meany is a bug with wiggly and kinkly legs. He is very eany, and very meany. He has two cousins who live at the zoo, but they are so eany that their names are Teeny and Tiny.

One day Teeny and Tiny were crawling along and crawling along the Elephant Path. They were crawling along through the Great Forest, trying to go for a little vacation with Eany Meany to teach him not to be so meany. But those little bugs, Teeny and Tiny, were so very little that they couldn't crawl very fast, or very far, and they were very tired.

They were sitting down on a leaf to rest, when Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, came walking by on the Elephant Path.

"Oh, Daddy Ringtail!" called Teeny in his teeny voice.
"Oh, Daddy Ringtail!" called Tiny in his tiny voice.
Daddy Ringtail lay down on his stomach on the ground, the better to listen with his ear up close to Teeny and Tiny while they talked. They explained that they were going for a visit with Eany Meany, their cousin, but they were now too tired to go all the way by themselves.

"I'm tired!" said Teeny, in his teeny voice, because he was very tired and very little.

"I'm tired!" said Tiny, in his tiny voice, because he was very tired and very tiny.

Daddy Ringtail said he was sorry he couldn't carry them on their way to visit with Eany Meany, their cousin.

Daddy Ringtail had to go the other way to the zoo to visit with Uncle Bunkum, but Daddy Ringtail said: "Maybe if you took turns carrying each other—Teeny can walk a part of the way and carry Tiny, because Tiny is much too little to walk all the way by himself. And Tiny can walk the rest of the way and carry Teeny, because Teeny is much too little to walk all the way by himself."

And so the two little bugs, Teeny and Tiny, said they would do it. Neither of them was very heavy, you know, and that's the way they came at last to Eany Meany's house—carrying each other. It was a happy thing, all right, all right, to have helped one another that way. Happy Day!

A QUARTER LUNCH

REDLANDS, CALIF.—(AP)—Marsha Gumpert, six, had a quarter for lunch—literally. Given a 25-cent piece to buy her noon meal at school, she amused herself by tossing it in the air and catching it in her mouth. It was fun until the time the quarter kept right on going, down her throat. A physician said there was no cause for alarm.

Hungary Drops 'Made In Germany' Labels

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY —(AP)—Hungary is trying to eliminate the "made in Germany" from its place names. Through the long history of relations between the two countries, often tragic, the word "Nemet," which means German in Hungarian, has been incorporated in the names of many Magyar villages: Nemetlad, Nemetboly, Nemetmarok.

Eventually all these and many more will disappear from the Hungarian map. The new names? Lad, Boly and Marok.

well four and one-half miles to the north.
The No. 2 Parks already has flowed oil from the Pennsylvanian zone at 10,396-10,468 feet.
Drill site is 660 feet from north and 2,180 feet from west lines of section 10, M. Daugherty survey, and 11 1/4 miles southwest of the city of Midland.

SW Terry Wildcat Cuts Permian Lime

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1 Bever, Southwest Terry County wildcat to 12,500 feet, 10 miles southwest of Brownfield, and 600 feet from north and east lines of section 39, block DD, John H. Gibson survey, was making hole below 5,923 feet in middle Permian lime.
The test was at 5,776-5,923 feet. The tool was open one hour. Recovery was 440 feet of drilling mud and 1,000 feet of salty sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

Crockett Prospect Finds Water Level

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Clayton Ranch, after drilling almost 600 feet of Ellenburger, has finally reached salt water in that formation in Southeast Crockett County.
In the top of the Ellenburger, it previously had sprayed distillate on three separate drillstem tests.
The salt water was developed on a test from 9,022-76 feet. After two hours, recovery was 90 feet of mud and 1,320 feet of salt water, cut with mud, gas and sulphur.
Operators were last reported taking electric log.
Ellenburger was topped at 8,480 feet, on a minus datum of 6,000 feet. On a drillstem test from 8,627 to 8,655 feet, operators gauged a gas volume of 3,460,000 cubic feet per day along with a spray of distillate.
Distillate sprayed on two other drillstem tests down to 8,737 feet. It is presumed operators will run casing and make further tests of the distillate-spraying zone.
The No. 1 Clayton Ranch is 1,320 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 12, block 5H, G&S&F survey, and nine miles southeast of Ozona.

Spartan Drilling Company and associates, No. 1 Wolcott, Northwest Martin County wildcat, 13 miles northwest of Lenorah, and 5,864 feet from west and 1,471.8 feet from north lines of section 28, Ward County School Land survey, was preparing to core ahead from 7,844 feet in soft lime.
The prospector found soft drilling from 7,832 feet to 7,844 feet. The samples through that 12 feet showed some gas, some porosity and some oil stains.
Operators are running a junk basket to clean the hole, and will then start diamond coring.
The prospector is contracted to 13,000 feet, if necessary, to test the Ellenburger.

The project drilled on down to 6,160 feet. No shows developed in the samples and operators ordered abandonment.
Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 2, BS&T survey. Will Perry original grantee, certificate 1,609.

Mock Reds—

raised the Red banner over City Hall and the police station.
An event not planned by the sponsors happened Sunday.
Residents awoke to find copies of The Daily Worker, official Communist newspaper, and two pamphlets at their doorsteps.
One pamphlet scoffed at the "coup," terming it a maneuver being run by "the boss, American Legion big shots and stool pigeons," and not a true picture of communism. The other told of a Milwaukee May Day rally.
School officials Jailed
Fred Bassett Blair, head of the Communist Party in Wisconsin, said Communists from this area had gotten literature from Milwaukee and distributed it.
A huge picture of Joseph Stalin was to have been placed at the entrance to the town. However, the idea was abandoned because of the possibility that Stalin's image tracing an American town could be used for Russian propaganda purposes.
School children, their principals behind barred wire, attended classes garbed in prescribed party youth uniform of dark trousers or skirts with white shirts or blouses.
Industries were taken over and the workers told they will labor 12 hours for a daily wage of $4.

Negro Is Jailed After Two Girls Attacked

NEWTON, KAN.—A young negro was held Monday in connection with two vicious attacks on sleeping girls.
One girl's throat was slashed as she slept aboard a passenger train. A short time later another girl was slugged with a meat grinder while she slept at a home where she was baby sitting.
Police arrested a man identified as Joseph Moore, 20, Richmond, Va. Police Chief C. H. Sherman said he admitted the train attack but couldn't remember the other incident.
Moore was wounded a short time before his arrest. Otis Hays told police he shot Moore when he saw him attempting to take his truck.
The train attack occurred during a stop in Newton. Florence Howard, 20, Detroit, suffered a slashed throat as she slept in a chair car but she was not injured seriously. Just after the slashing a man leaped from the train pursued by other passengers.
A short time later Edith Hershberger, 18, was slugged in a Newton home. Her condition was not considered dangerous.
No charges have been filed.

Two Officers Die In Trainer Crash

The pair had taken off about an hour before the crash in a T-6 plane on a scheduled flight. Duerson was the pilot.
Investigating officers said long skid marks and the fact the landing gear was down showed Duerson was trying to land.

Farm Operators Apply For Cotton Revisions

Between 40 and 50 Midland County farm operators have applied for revision of their 1950 cotton acreage allotments, Charles Champion, county FMA director, said Monday.
Deadline for the applications was last Friday, Champion said. Most of the applicants profited little by the revisions but a few received as much as 12 additional acres.
Government allotments for 1950 are based on acreage planted in cotton in 1946, 1947 and 1948.
The purse value of the 520 stake races run during 1949 exceeded the total national annual purse distribution for all years before 1920.

Many Persons Along Seaboard Request Indian Classification

WASHINGTON.—Tens of thousands of persons in states along the Atlantic seaboard are trying to get the federal government to recognize them as Indians. This is the estimate of W. H. Gilbert of the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress, who has made a study of the subject.
The current census, he says, probably will produce the names of many tribes seldom heard of before. One new question to be asked in communities where there is mixed blood concerns what Indian tribe, if any, a person belongs to.
The Western Indian tribes are well known. Almost all of them were investigated and catalogued many years ago when the government enrolled the Indian population. All Indians so enrolled, and their descendants, have been entitled to various forms of federal assistance—education, medical care, farm guidance and so forth. That's what the Eastern Indians now would like to get.
They have been largely ignored up to now because they had never had any formal dealings with the federal government. Most of the Western Indians gained certain rights through treaties. But the Eastern redmen had dealt with the colonial governments, and their status had been pretty well settled by the time the federal government was established.
One little lost tribe is soon to have its day in Congress. Congressman introduced legislation by Rep. Poulson (R-Calif.) and Rep. Bosone (D-Utah) to grant recognition, in effect, to the Waccamaw Indians of North Carolina. They have introduced their bills at the request of James Ewan Alexander, a Los Angeles banker and scholar who has made a study of the tribe. The move is sponsored also by the Association on American Indian Affairs.

Hidden In Swamp

The Waccamaws comprise 70 families who have remained pretty well hidden throughout American history in the Green Swamp. This is a practically impenetrable wilderness about 37 miles from Wilmington, N. C. It is sub-tropical, filled with black bear, deer, alligators, rattlesnakes and water moccasins. Alexander says it's the only area in North America where you find a flesh-eating plant. This is the Venus-flytrap, which is insectivorous.

West Texas Water Is Kiwanis Subject

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, addressed the Kiwanis Club at its regular Monday noon meeting in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer, outlining the water situation in West Texas.
Downing told details of the proposed Colorado River compact between Midland, Odessa and Big Spring, and of recent changes in working agreements. He also outlined the proposal to build a dam near Robert Lee, a suggestion which has been made as an alternate proposal to the Colorado River plan.
Fifty members attended the noon meeting. Reese Cleveland, vice president, presided in the absence of President Albert Kelley.
Berte Haigh, chairman of the inter-club relations committee, reminded members that the program May 15 will be brought to Midland by members of the Big Spring Kiwanis club. He urged full attendance at the meeting.

Automatic Coffee Vendor Gets Rough

MINNEAPOLIS.—Here's a vending machine that gets mad and fights back.
Carl Hixon, Northwest Airlines employe, inserted a nickel in an automatic coffee vendor at the Minneapolis Airport. He pushed a button labeled "Cream and sugar." Nothing happened. Hixon hammered on the machine with his fist.
The machine clanked. Red lights flashed. A charge of hot coffee squirted on Hixon's suit. Then a sign over the nickel slot flashed: "Sold out."

May Day—

seized two east sector civilians and beat them severely.
Prime Minister Stalin reviewed thousands of cheering Russian soldiers and civilians—in a mammoth May Day parade in Moscow. Moscow, the capital of all Communist-style May Day celebrations was engulfed in a sea of red building. A military parade marched past Lenin's tomb and Stalin's reviewing stand. Overhead roared Moscow's most spectacular peacetime display of Soviet aerial power, led by Stalin's son, Lt. Gen. Vassil Stalin.
May Day, established as International Labor Day by the Social International at Paris in 1889, also has been celebrated traditionally throughout Europe.
The Soviet troops were reviewed in Moscow by Gen. S. M. Shumenko, chief of the general staff. He told cheering throngs in the Soviet Army and Navy, together with the Russian people, are convinced of their might and ready to defend their beautiful motherland from the encroachments of any aggressor.
Yugoslavia's Independent Communist celebration—minus the pictures of Stalin featured in the Soviet satellites—was touched off by a triumphant declaration that Premier Marshal Tito's regime had broken the Russian-led Communist blockade of nearly two years.
Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, in a May Day address blasted Red China's leaders and urged workers now living under a new Communist regime to fight with sabotage and strikes.

Pinch-Hit Single Gives Oilers Win

The Midland Indians moved to Roswell Monday for a two-game series with the Rockies. John Singleton was the nomination for Monday night's mound duty.

The Tribe returns home Wednesday night to face the Sweetwater Swatters in a doubleheader.

A pinch-hit single in the first half of the tenth inning with two out gave the Odessa Oilers a 4 to 3 win over the Midland Indians Sunday afternoon in Indian Park.

Veteran Ernie Nelson and Rookie Frank Dugger tied in a pitching duel for nine innings but one bingle decided the issue.

Odessa got a single run in the first inning on Palmer's lead and an error on a long fly by Eastham.

Midland came back to tie it up the first on a walk to Scooter Hughes and a single by Kenny Jones. A wild pitch advanced Hughes to second.

Odessa added one in the third on a single by Tony Bererra, a walk to Barney Batson and a single by Les Palmer. Another run came the fifth on a walk to Eastham, a walk to Bill Coarley and a single by Manager Al Monchak.

The Indians tied it up in the sixth on a walk to Quentin Basco, a single by Kenny Jones and a long bloop to right center field by Andy Eldridge. That was all for Midland nine.

Monchak sent a pinch-hitter, Bill Hoover, to the plate in the first of the tenth with two out and Emil Ogden on second via a single and infield out.

Hoover worked up to a three-to-two pitch and whammed a single between short and third to score the winning run. That was the final game.

WT-NM League—Lamesa And Clovis Keep Up Hot Pace

By The Associated Press

If the Lamesa Lobos can be used as a guide, each team in the West Texas-New Mexico League soon will be sporting a new baseball park.

The Lobos opened the season in a new constructed field, and since then have been pounding the opposition at a clip that is keeping them on top of the league's standings. They won again Sunday, downing Amarillo 11-4 for their eighth victory in the last nine starts.

Clovis kept pace, one and one-half games back, with a 7-6 win over Lubbock. Ray Kozur's grand slam home run in the sixth was the winning blow.

Albuquerque pushed over a run in the tenth inning on two errors, a hit, and a long fly ball to down the Pampa Oilers by the same count, 7-6.

Borger lost its second consecutive game to Abilene as the Blue Sox were pounding out an 8-4 win. The loss dropped Borger into a second place tie with the winning Clovis nine.

MAJOR LEAGUES—Bosox Whitewash A's 19-0 To Hang Up 10-Year Mark

By JOE REICHLER
 Associated Press Sports Writer

When bigger and better horsecollars are fashioned, it's a pretty safe bet the Philadelphia Athletics will wear 'em.

When a team wins by a lopsided shutout score, the A's are almost certain to be on the receiving end.

Until Sunday, 14-0 represented the largest shutout score in the American League in the last 10 years.

One such game was played in 1943. Another in 1944. The Athletics were the victims both times.

The luckless Mackmen made those two games seem like pitcher's battles Sunday in the first game of a doubleheader.

The Red Sox also won the nightcap 6-5. Boston missed by two runs in equaling the record high of 21-0.

Why, the A's of course. It was Red Ruffing of the New York Yankees whitewashed the Athletics 21-0.

Bat-Swinging Rook Assessed $5 Fine

DALLAS —(AP)— Jerry Lindley, Longview baseball club second baseman, drew a $5.00 fine for attempting to use a baseball bat during a free-for-all fight between the Longview and Gladewater clubs Friday night.

J. Walter Morris, president of the East Texas League, levied the fine Sunday. He said he was making the penalty light because it was the rookie's first offense, but that if it happened again "I will be forced to take drastic action."

"The trouble arose when Jack Jones of Longview used the famous 'Cobb slide' into home plate (with one foot up)," Morris said, "and the Gladewater catcher kicked Jones. Both teams then got into the act."

Grand Jury Report On Gambling Spurs Anti-Racket Action

KANSAS CITY —(AP)— A federal grand jury's report of multi-million dollar gambling operations in the Midwest Monday spurred local and state authorities into greater action against racketeering.

The jury decried an "utter disregard for our state as well as our municipal laws."

It said gambling operations centering in Kansas City netted an annual return of $34,500,000.

The "reach and ramifications of the Kansas City, Mo., underworld are not, however, confined to Kansas City and vicinity," the report stated, adding that the operations extended into Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska.

The jury named Charles Binaglio and Charles Gargotta as among those involved. Both testified before the jury. They were shot to death in their political clubrooms April 5.

Binaglio was a northside Democratic leader. Gargotta, an ex-convict, was his strong-arm aide and was known as "the enforcer."

But the jury reported the enforcer turned informer when he testified and squealed on his associates.

The jury, which has been investigating underworld activities for several months, said in its interim report Saturday but will continue its probe. No indictments were returned.

Monday Circuit Judge Ray G. Cowan moved toward a county grand jury investigation of state law violations. The county body will begin a probe next week.

Gov. Forrest Smith had no immediate comment on the federal jury's report, but said State Highway Patrol officers would be available for any county investigation.

In Kansas, authorities have already moved to curb gambling ring operations. They padlocked the Last Chance Tavern, a gambling joint that is built on the state line—half in Missouri and half in Kansas.

It was at the Last Chance Tavern that Binaglio and Gargotta were seen shortly before they were slain.

Both Gargotta and Binaglio would have been indicted, presumably for income tax evasion, had they lived, the jury said.

Life With The Tax Gremlins

This story begins with the empty bag and Uncle Sam briefing the three Gremlins who are going to fill it. The big Gremlin collects for the Federal Government; the other two go along to collect state and local taxes. When the bag is full the taxes have to be divided. Uncle Sam's share will be approximately three-quarters. What remains will be shared between the states and municipalities. Thus, three pairs of hands are always working in your pocket.

'Lippy

Behind the oversized lips and eyes is the pretty face of Joan Lalor, who donned the funny facial features for a society benefit ball in New York.

"Our economists seem to agree that taxation beyond 25 per cent of our national income will bring disaster. If you add up the actual and prospective annual expenditures of the Federal Government and then state and local governments, and if you truly compute the national income, you will find

The briefing: (Richard A. Mullens, NEA's tax expert, points out that this cartoon indicates all taxes—state, local and federal, are collected under direction of Uncle Sam. Actually, he adds, most tax experts feel we would have a much better over-all tax system if there was more cooperation between federal, state and local taxing authorities to eliminate overlapping fields of taxation.)

This warning red light shines with an intensity considerably over 30 per cent. This means far more than nearly one-third of the national income. It means a combustion of your savings and your possible standards of living.—Herbert Hoover.

"If every farmer sold his farm, all the equipment on it, and all the livestock, the total return would be $25,000,000,000. The government could not run seven months on that amount of money." —Senator Edward Martin.

"One worker out of nine in our country is on the public payroll." —Senator Harry F. Byrd.

A breakdown of the figures shows 1,696 Cub Scouts, 1,506 Boy Scouts and 816 Explorer Scouts in 174 units in the 17-county area. Adult leaders in the council number 1,272.

The new total represents a net gain of 279 boys since January 1, Thorson said.

Exploration Party Leaves For Mexico To Visit Big Canyon

LOS ANGELES — Only 500 miles below the U. S.-Mexico Border is a great crack in the earth known as Barranca De Cobre (Copper Canyon).

Although never explored, it is believed to be deeper and wider than the Grand Canyon in Arizona. Vague reports from the area, one of the wildest and most isolated on the North American Continent, say that here live real "cliff dwellers," last remnants of an ancient race of men.

An expedition has left Los Angeles to explore this canyon of mystery. The Los Angeles County Museum and William J. Sheffler, ornithologist, are sponsoring the trip. Museum representatives on the expedition are Kenneth Stager, curator of ornithology and mammalogy, and Robert Ariss, curator of history and anthropology.

Sheffler has made many trips into the region but never has descended into the canyon. He hopes to find new species of tropical and semitropical birds. The trip is being formed by River.

The great canyon, formed by the Urique River, has been reported to be 20 miles wide and some 7,000 feet deep. The point where the expedition hopes to enter it is near where the three Mexican states of Chihuahua, Sinaloa and Sonora come together.

The route of the truck-borne expedition will be by way of Nogales, Ariz., Guaymas, Navajoa and Alamos in Sonora. Near Alamos, on the Rancho Guiracoba, the eight-man party will transfer to horses and mules for the last 90 miles of the journey through the wilderness. Sheffler hopes to return to Los Angeles in about nine weeks.

Sheffler, who said he and his brother, R. N. Sheffler, own the 1100-bird aviary at Salome, Ariz., has been trying for years to get to the canyon.

Each time, disease, accidents or other misfortunes have kept him from reaching the goal. Nine years ago he had an expedition organized and ready to set out from the Guiracoba Ranch, 90 miles from the canyon. The day he was to start was Dec. 7, 1941. The trip was canceled.

Simple Services Held For Slain Americans

BANDOENG, JAVA. — Bodies of Yale University Professor Raymond Kennedy and Time and Life Correspondent Robert Doyle, victims of an unidentified Indonesian murder gang, were interred here Sunday following simple funeral services.

Several hundred Americans, including U. S. Embassy officials, and Indonesian and United Nations representatives, attended the graveside services in the European cemetery overlooking the city. The two Americans, police believe, were killed last Wednesday on a lonely stretch of highway by four assassins as they traveled unarmed in Kennedy's jeep.

New Candidate Plans 'O'Daniel' Campaign

Nation's Democrats Keep Eye On Florida, Alabama Primaries

By The Associated Press

Florida Democrats will decide Tuesday whether to keep Claude Pepper in the U. S. Senate or replace him with Rep. George Smathers.

The Democratic primary, in which communism and parts of the Truman national program have become involved, has attracted a record registration of 1,006,560 voters. It will be watched nationally.

Alabama also is holding a Democratic primary of interest beyond the state borders, offering possible new light on the depth of the civil rights dispute within the party.

Ballot box fireworks in those two states are likely to overshadow primaries in Ohio, where Democrats will pick an opponent for Senator Taft (R-Ohio), and in Indiana, where both parties will nominate for 11 House seats.

Florida voters will decide what looks like a photo-finish race between the veteran Senator Pepper and Smathers, 36-year old former Marine. The primary winner isn't expected to have any trouble with Republican opposition in November, as only 60,595 Republicans are registered.

Smathers has been trying to hang a pro-Red label on Pepper, contending the senator has been too friendly with organizations Smathers calls pro-Communist.

Denying this holy, Pepper has fired back that Smathers has been running "a Republican campaign against me in a Democratic primary," Pepper says he has followed the "Roosevelt-Truman program."

The President's civil rights proposals have figured in the Florida campaign, but not to the degree in which they've been mentioned in Alabama.

There, Senator Lister Hill is seeking renomination and at the same time is trying to help along a move to bring Alabama party organization back into line with the national Democratic Party.

Hill hasn't bothered to campaign against his primary opponent, Lawrence McNeil, but he and Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) have been contending that the best way to get benefits for Alabama is for the state party to turn away from the States' Rights group it followed in 1948 and go back into the national fold.

The crucial contest is over election of a 72-man State Democratic Committee to run party affairs for the next four years. Of the 158 candidates, 92 are pledged to stick with the national party, 59 endorse the States Rights stand, one is claimed by both sides and six by neither.
