Stonewall Wildcat Develops Oil Flow

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., No. 1 C. D. Wiley, Northeast Stonewall County wildcat appears to have discovered flowing commercial oil and gas production from a lower Pennsylvanian lime, possibly the Bend. This prospector drilled test for 57 minutes at 5,995-6,005 feet. Gas showed at the surface in four minutes. Mud flowed at the top in 18 minutes and oil started flowing in 22 minutes. The well flowed for 35 minutes through a five-eighths inch bottom hole choke, at an estimated rate of between 40 and 50 barrels per hour. Gas-oil ratio was 401-1. There was no water. It is reported that all fluid recovered from the test was unloaded from the pipe and there was no recovery when the tester was pulled. It is understood that operator is preparing to run casing and make production tests. Location is 660 feet from east and 3,889 feet from south lines of section 44, block G, Alice Stephenson survey. It originally was started to test the Ellenburger. It is 12 miles north-east of Aspermont.

Reeves Slated For Delaware Venture

Ford Chapman of Midland has staked a wildcat in North Reeves county, two and one-half miles northeast of a Hill & Hill and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 1 Brackenridge estate, a drilling Delaware venture. Chapman No. 1 Ralph Williams is to be 660 feet from north and east lines of section 24, block 57, T-3-T&P survey. The cable tool venture also will be a test of the Delaware sand with a projected depth of 3,400 feet. Drillsite will be 12 miles southwest of Orla. The Hill & Hill wildcat, two and one-half miles southeast of the proposed venture, has set five and one-half inch casing on bottom at 3,630 feet. It topped the Delaware lime at 3,836 feet, on a minus datum of 715 feet. Operator will drill into the prospective pay with cable tools. The No. 1 Brackenridge estate is 990 feet from north and east lines of section 39, block 57, pal survey.

Dual-Pay Extension Indicated In Scurry

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 2 Martin, north flanker to the North Scurry, Scurry pool in Central Scurry County, has developed an oil flow in two tests from the Strawn lime. On the drillstem test at 7,344-7,400 feet, the tool was open two hours and two minutes. Mud in 41 minutes and six minutes, mud in 41 minutes and six minutes, mud in 41 minutes and six minutes. The oil was flowed to tanks one hour for the gauged flow of 42 barrels. On another test from 7,480-7,500 feet, the No. 2 Martin pool in two hours at the rate of 16 1/2 barrels hourly. No water was developed on either test. On the deeper test, the tool was open three hours and 41 minutes. Gas surfaced in five minutes and oil in 98 minutes. Operators were last reported drilling ahead below 7,500 feet. The No. 2 Martin already has shown production from the Strawn reef. Drilling is one-half location north of a Strawn producer and three-quarters of a mile east of the nearest Canyon well in the Kelley-Snyder field. Exact location of this possible dual extension is 1,980 feet from south and 467 feet from west lines of section 38, block 97, H&T&C survey, and eight miles north of Snyder.

C-NW Scurry Wildcat Prepares To Set Pipe

Esperado Mining Company No. 1 McDonnell, Central-Northwest Scurry County wildcat, eight miles northwest of Snyder, and two miles north and the same distance west of the nearest completed Canyon lime producers on the northwest side of the Kelley-Canyon field, was bottomed at 6,936 feet in lime, and was preparing to run casing and make production tests. This venture topped the Canyon reef at 6,748 feet to give it a datum of minus 4,227 feet at that marker. It has not drilled stem tested since entering the reef. Informal sources report that the samples showed good possibilities of producing. Location is 467 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 33, block 97, H&T&C survey.

Strawn Discovery Completes In Kent

Spartan Drilling Company has completed a small pumping discovery from the Strawn lime in West-Central Kent County. Spartan No. 1 J. W. Young and others filed a potential of 51.23 barrels of 38.1-gravity oil plus 50 per cent water in 24 hours. Production is from perforations at 7,352-7,356 feet. Five and one-half inch casing is set at 7,500 feet. Operators tested all sections down to and including the Ellenburger at 7,265 feet, but developed no other possibilities of production. The Strawn perforations had been treated with 500 gallons of acid. Spartan Takes Over Originally this wildcat was filed as Lohman, Gardner, Teas & Guffey No. 1 J. W. Young. Spartan has taken over and completed the prospect as a producer. Location is 960 feet from north and west lines of a 40 acre lease in the northwest quarter of section 98, (Continued On Page 14)

City Council Slates Water Source Study

The City Council Tuesday night appropriated $3,800 out of the city's unappropriated water fund for the purpose of undertaking certain engineering studies pertaining to a proposed source of water supply on the Upper Colorado River north of Big Spring.

The study concerns a proposal submitted by the Colorado River Municipal Water District to supply Midland, Odessa and Big Spring with reservoir water to meet their present and future needs. Big Spring and Odessa reportedly are "ready to go" on the project. Water would be piped to the participating cities. The project would be financed by the sale of revenue bonds.

Firm Engaged
The firm of Forrest and Cotton, Dallas consulting engineers, has been engaged to make the study. Work is to be completed within 75 days. The engineering firm will review and analyze the available stream flow and determine the safe yield of the proposed reservoir; review and analyze all available data on quality of water; consult with the Board of Water Engineers, Bureau of Reclamation, Corps of Engineers, Preese and Nichols and other agencies and firms which may be deemed desirable; review preliminary plans of the proposed dam, reservoir, pipe lines and pump stations; review cost of estimates as to adequacy and division of costs to the participating cities.

Agreement Keeps Wall Street Zoning Spal Out Of Courts

A West Wall Street zoning matter, which two weeks ago was destined for District Court action, Tuesday night appeared to be out of the courts as the attorney for the plaintiffs, John Perkins, to City Manager W. H. Oswalt, announced to the City Council the controversy is ended in so far as his client is concerned. The City Council, at its April 25 meeting, had instructed City Attorney James Marberry to appear to the District Court an exception granted by the Board of Adjustment which would have permitted the establishing of an abstract office in a C zone at 811 West Wall Street. The property involved is owned by Dr. L. B. Pemberton. The Planning and Zoning Commission also had voiced opposition to the exception as granted by the Adjustment Board.

Medical Society Drops Dr. Sander From Membership
MILFORD, N. H.—(P)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander Tuesday night was dropped from membership by the Hillsboro County Medical Society. A terse statement issued by Dr. Lloyd L. Wells of Manchester, secretary of the society, said: "At a meeting of the Hillsboro County Medical Society it was voted that Hermann N. Sander is no longer a member of the society." About 100 of the group's 175 members attended. Dr. Wells refused to amplify the brief statement; but it was believed the action was almost automatic in the wake of the State Medical Board's revocation last April 19 of the Candia physician's right to practice a medicine in this state. The 41-year-old doctor was acquitted last March 9 of murder in the death of his cancer-doomed patient, Mrs. Abbie C. Borroto, 59, of Manchester. Dr. Sander has indicated he will apply for reinstatement of his license after June 19.

Low-Hanging Clouds Still Hint At Rain

By The Associated Press
A light rain fell Wednesday at Amarillo, and low-hanging clouds held a promise of rain for other parts of the Panhandle. A cool front from the Northwest became stationary near Wichita Falls and Southern Oklahoma. Children, in the southeast corner of the Panhandle, had 39 inch of rain Tuesday night, and a half-inch fell at Wichita Falls in the Red River Valley, Palestine, in East Texas, reported a trace. Occasional rains were forecast for the Panhandle and the Wichita Falls area Wednesday night and Thursday. Temperatures remained moderate.

Rescuers Work To Free Brooklyn Man From Well's Shaft

Willard Dubuque hands his two-year-old daughter, Ellen, to her mother, who stands in a Minnesota National Guard duck near Crookston, Minn. The National Guard is evacuating families from their flooded homes in this area. The Dubuques had been trapped in the house for two days. Half the homes in this town either are flooded or surrounded by water.

Rescuers Work To Free Brooklyn Man From Well's Shaft

NEW YORK—(P)—Police said rescuers reached Dominick Atteo at the bottom of a 20-foot Brooklyn well shaft at 12:10 p.m. Wednesday and that he still was alive.

NEW YORK—(P)—Dominick Atteo was almost unconscious from pain and exhaustion Wednesday as rescue workers toiled to rescue him from the bottom of a 20-foot well shaft. A physician, Dr. Harold Berson, was lowered into the shaft and administered more stimulants to Atteo, who had been buried up to his waist for almost 24 hours. One leg was pinioned by a boulder.

County Agents Begin Spring Meeting Here

County agriculture and home demonstration agents of 20 Permian Basin counties began arriving in Midland Wednesday morning for a three-day Spring meeting designed to enlarge the scope of 4-H Club work in the area. Twenty-seven agents, several 4-H leaders from the Texas A&M College Extension Service, and two district agents were to convene at 1 p.m. in the district courtroom.

Grace Martin and George W. Barnes, district agents from Fort Stockton, are in charge of the three-day sessions. They were to introduce the 4-H leaders who were to begin conducting study clinics in recreation, leadership, organizations and awards. Charles Green and Pauline McWilliams, Midland County agents, are in charge of arrangements for the program. Green will work with the leadership committee and Miss McWilliams will serve in the organization group.

Census Enumeration Nears Completion

A major part of Midland's 1950 census enumeration is expected to be completed this week, Richard M. (Shorty) Parker, county census director, announced Wednesday. Most of the city's areas will be covered by Saturday, Parker said. However, persons who were missed will be given an opportunity to be counted next week, he said. Several call-backs by enumerators also must be made next week to insure everyone's getting in the count, Parker said. Atteo's comely wife, Maria, 32, collapsed about 4 a.m. after an all-night vigil at the mouth of the shaft. But by 6 a.m. she was back at the shaft mouth, her tear-stained face taut, her lips moving soundlessly. Nearby, a son by a first wife, John, 28, sat with his face cradled in his arms in despair. Atteo is the father of six children. The rescuers hoped to save Atteo from the death that overtook little Kathy Fiscus—the three-year-old girl who fell into an abandoned 130-foot water well at San Marino, Calif., in April last year. For 48 hours desperate rescuers drove a 65-foot shaft to reach the child, only to find her dead from lack of air.

Senate Probers Get First Look At Loyalty Files

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senate investigators Wednesday got their first look at loyalty files on 81 persons named by Senator McCarthy in his charges of communism in the government. Four members of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee began looking them over at the White House shortly before 10 a.m. They were Chairman Tydings (D-Md) and Senators McMahon (D-Conn), Green (D-RI) and Lodge (R-Mass). Before he went to the White House, Tydings told reporters it was his understanding that the files "contain not only all of the data which the State Department investigators have assembled but also all the loyalty data which the FBI has gathered and referred to the State Department, and which has been made a part of these files."

17 Dead Or Missing In Flood Areas

By The Associated Press
Seventeen persons were dead or missing and more thousands were homeless Wednesday as the most damaging floods in years swept over three Midwest states. Hundreds miserably rose in the flood areas of North Dakota, Minnesota and Nebraska. Scores of communities were isolated as the surging waters from rain-swollen rivers and streams spilled out over thousands of acres of land. Across the border in Southern Manitoba, the flood crisis mounted. The homeless was some 15,000, and another 10,000 faced evacuation. All the fatalities were in Nebraska. One of the worst floods in almost 60 years struck the South-eastern section of the state Tuesday. Seven bodies had been recovered. Hope was abandoned for the other 10 missing persons.

Floodwaters Hit Bus
Seventeen or eight passengers in a Burlington bus strayed from Nebraska City to Lincoln were ordered to an aerial livestock feeding service started Wednesday. The flooding Red River, bordering North Dakota and Minnesota, dealt further devastating blows to property and livestock. The Red River crossed more families driven from their homes all along the swollen Red River.

The livestock situation in North Dakota was described as "desperate." Gov. Fred G. Aandahl ordered an aerial livestock feeding service started Wednesday. Damage to highways, bridges and culverts from the floods in Grand Forks County alone was estimated at almost $1,500,000. In Northern Minnesota, floodwaters menaced Little Fork and Floodwood. The Red Cross set up hundreds of cots in a new unoccupied creamery building to care for some 350 of Floodwood's 600 residents who were driven from their homes by the St. Louis River.

More than 10,000 residents of St. Vital, south of Winnipeg, were ordered to evacuate their homes by Friday. More than 15,000 other persons already have fled their homes in Southern Manitoba as the Red River and other streams spilled over some 200 square miles. At Winnipeg, the Red River's level was 28 feet, 11 inches, almost 11 feet above flood level.

Full Schedule Of Business Handled By School Board

A full schedule of business matters, ranging from proposed school ground improvements to consideration of possible sites for future school buildings, featured a lengthy meeting of the Board of Education of the Midland Independent School District Tuesday night. The session was recessed at 11:45 p.m., and was to reconvene at 4 p.m. Wednesday to complete regular business. Many visitors were present at the Tuesday night meeting.

All members of the board were present, including R. W. Hamilton, chairman, Mrs. W. H. Gilmore, Mrs. Ernest Sidwell, V. M. Caley, Cooper Hyde, Hoy Jowell and John Cornwall. A proposal submitted at the April meeting by a West Elementary Parent-Teacher Association committee concerning the grassing and improving of that school's grounds attracted considerable interest and discussion at the Tuesday night session. Jack Chase and M. O. Gibson were present to receive the board's answer to the proposal.

Action Postponed
Action on the plan was postponed pending development of an overall long-range program of grounds improvement and beautification. Board members and P-TA representatives agreed on the new proposal. (Continued On Page 14)

Vinson Hopes To Speed Draft Bill

WASHINGTON—(P)—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee said Wednesday he is trying to hurry House action on a bill to extend the draft for two more years. Vinson said he was going before the Rules Committee to ask that the bill be debated. The draft law expires June 24, and Vinson wants the House to take up the proposed extension immediately after it finishes with the pending appropriations bill. Vinson said he expects the House to approve the draft extension measure which provides that no inducements will be made until Congress has declared a national emergency requiring an increase in the armed strength.

Strike Halts Operation Of Four Systems

CHICAGO—(P)—A strike of railroad firemen Wednesday crippled service on four railroad systems stretching from coast to coast. As the strike became 100 per cent effective at 8 a.m. (CST), federal mediators who talked with union leaders throughout the night abandoned hope for a quick settlement. Francis A. O'Neill, chairman of the National (R-way) Mediation Board, said "We've given up."

Veep Picks Senatorial Crime Panel

WASHINGTON—(P)—Vice President Barkley Wednesday named five senators to conduct a nationwide investigation of crime and corruption after noting that he had not discussed it with President Truman.

Named to conduct the sweeping probe were Senators Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who first proposed the investigation, and O'Connor (D-Md), Hunt (D-Wyo), Tobey (R-NH) and Wiley (R-Wis). The inquiry to be made by a special committee representing both the Commerce and Judiciary Committees was voted a $150,000 fund by the Senate when the probe finally was ordered.

Barkley's unusual announcement that President Truman has not been consulted about either the committee to make the inquiry or its membership apparently reflected earlier Republican charges. GOP leaders contended Democrats had stalled the original inquiry asked by Kefauver and approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee. Later the Senate Commerce Committee proposed a similar probe and one of its subcommittees, under Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) had conducted public hearings on gambling with some big-time figures from the gambling world questioned.

Fireman Killed In SP Train Accident; Passengers Unhurt

HOUSTON—(P)—Fireman Joe Krupp of the Southern Pacific's Border Limited was killed early Wednesday when the engine and a refrigerator car of the Houston-bound passenger-freight train left the rails at Beasley, some 40 miles southwest of Houston. The engineer of the train, Sam H. Koenig, who jumped clear of the cab as the locomotive rolled over in a ditch, was injured. Most of the passengers in the train's five passenger cars, who still were asleep when the wreck happened, were uninjured.

Cold War To Last Long Time, Truman Tells Trainriders

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN—(P)—President Truman Wednesday told the grim prospect that the cold war with Russia will continue "for a long time." The Russian international situation was uppermost in the President's expressed thoughts as he delivered the first of 14 talks on a swiftness through Idaho and Oregon. "The first atomic explosion history took place in the desert New Mexico in July, 1945," said in a speech to a train audience at Pocatello, Idaho. "I decided at that time that would do my utmost to see that new discovery was used in a way which would make the world a better place to live in. "Nothing that has happened since 1945 has shaken my resolve to that great force is used for peace. Ultimate Victory The Pocatello speech followed a solemn foreign policy address Tuesday night at Laramie, Wyo., which he promised ultimate victory for the free nations in their struggle against the "new and terrible tyranny" of Russia. "This is a long-time project," President declared. "I know that American people are impatient. In this instance, we must be patient. "The conflict that exists in world affairs will be with us for a long time. "There is no quick way, no easy way to end it. "He gave assurance, however, that the non-Communist nations together have two-thirds of the world's free people and three-fourths of the world's productive power plus the greatest attraction of all—human freedom. "I say again that we have a task," Truman declared. "It may be many years before we can be sure that communism is no longer a threat, that our goal of stability and peace have been attained. "But those goals are clear within our reach."

Kitty Kallen, radio and night club singer from Philadelphia, shows off the other side of her feminine charms to give support to the assertion of Monte Proser, New York night club operator and theatrical producer, that her back is "a woman's greatest asset."

Pointing out that the back offers no room for fraud, Proser cited Miss Kallen's back as a perfect example, saying her rippling shoulders are "sexy—almost Bacchanalian."

Life In China And India Shown As Club Ends Study Course

Life in two of the world's most populous countries, India and China, was glimpsed by members of the Twentieth Century Club Tuesday afternoon in the final program of their year's study course on "International Friendship," which was an attempt to get acquainted with the everyday life of people in various parts of the world.

Mrs. James L. Daugherty and Mrs. Edwin C. Hall were hostesses in Mrs. Daugherty's home. Mrs. Robert Goff, a guest, played organ selections as a prelude to the program.

Ray Howard, who spent some time in India during World War II, was a guest speaker, substituting for Mrs. Howard, and Mrs. T. S. Edrington discussed "This is China—Portrait of a Nation."

Dr. H. H. Edrington, dominant religion of India, explains the backwardness of the nation, Howard believes. He described it as "a religion with no background, no Bible, no living God and no future," and added that it is actually a social disease.

Ignorance, lack of sanitation and the rather unstable government which replaced the English rule contribute to the unhappy plight of the thousands of people, he said, expressing the belief that the Christian religion offers a hope for the future if it is advanced actively.

Mrs. Edrington described China as ancient in origin and culture, able but impoverished, and torn by strife which has been almost constant for half a century. Its large area is mostly unproductive, so that its population is crowded into a small area, she said.

Acting 'Just Like A Woman' Is Smarter Than It Sounds

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Although men complain bitterly about female shortcomings, they secretly enjoy the notion that "women are different," says Dr. B. Joan Hart.

Sure they do, and the truly feminine woman realizes that and acts accordingly.

The woman who knows how to get along with a man doesn't struggle to prove to him that she has just as good a mind as he has, that she is just as sensible, that she is free of all the small inconsistencies and faults men like to attribute to women.

She acts the way her feminine nature tells her to act and isn't upset when a man acts amused, annoyed, or completely flabbergasted by her attitudes.

She takes a man's kidding good-naturedly. She isn't insulted by his "If that isn't just like a woman" reactions. She just goes sweetly on her way, being herself and making him like it. Not only making him like it, but selling him some of her ideas from time to time by playing up to his wonderful "masculine superiority."

Less Success

The woman who is a little less feminine never gets along so well with men. She wants too desperately to be considered his equal. She is too anxious to show him that she isn't like "most women." She would rather get into an intellectual argument with a man than use some feminine wile to bring him around to her way of thinking. She just doesn't realize the truth of Dr. Hart's contention that men secretly enjoy the notion that "women are different" and impossible to understand.

Yet women should understand it. For they share the same feeling. For all of their complaining to each other about the shortcomings of men, all of those "just like a man" qualities are a part of fascination. Trying to figure men out, to outwit them without them knowing they are being outwitted, and discussing men's comings among themselves a lot to keep life interesting for you. So why shouldn't men get a big kick out of thinking they have a lot of hard-to-understand frailties? (All rights reserved, NEA, Inc.)

Increasing Defense Costs

If you ever get to thinking that we're putting out too much money for defense, it might be well to take a look at what's happened to the cost of things our military men buy.

For example, back in the good old prewar days the average military plane bought by the government cost $10,000. Today it comes to $975,000.

The figures on planes are more startling when broken down. A wartime fighter cost $100,000, while a jet-engine craft to replace it will cost at least $150,000, or twice that. The original B-29's cost $2,000,000, but a B-36 or a jet B-47 in its place today and the cost may hit $4,000,000.

A dozen B-36's flying over the city on some ceremonial occasion mean $48,000,000, not counting operating costs.

This kind of expense isn't confined to the spectacular. A jeep cost us around $1,000 during the war; now $2,700. The bazooka, useful anti-tank weapon, could be had in wartime for $36 but its current price is $122, a cost double what they did five years ago. So do uniforms. Even military uniforms have more than tripled in price.

It isn't quite fair to assume from all this that we're spending only about half as much for defense for the same amount of money as we could get during the war; for some of the added cost clearly means added quality. We're getting out bigger and better weapons because we must keep pace with technical advances in warfare.

Still, we can't escape the fact that much of the extra cost simply reflects higher labor and material costs. A single dollar just isn't worth what it once was.

The saddest part of this story is that much of our extra military equipment consists of wartime leftovers soon must be replaced at present soaring costs. Some estimates suggest this replacement bill might add $5,000,000 to our defense budget next year.

If we intend to maintain the military establishment at a level of minimum safety, we can't avoid paying the price of keeping our arms up to date. The longer we put off replacing outmoded equipment, the riskier and more expensive this chore is likely to become.

The colossal load a big defense establishment imposes on the country today is a powerful argument for preventing the cold war from getting hot. The last conflict cost the U. S. $350,000,000,000. At existing costs, another would take at least a trillion dollars to finance.

Recruiting Problem

President Truman has named a committee to select a list of 200 men capable of filling the government's top executive posts. He would draw upon this reserve when critical gaps developed in the higher echelons.

That he felt it necessary to suggest such a pool is a gauge of how hard it is to lure competent talent to Washington these days.

The Republicans would say it's all because able men seldom have confidence in the long-entrenched Democratic administration. But there's obviously more to it than that.

Few men who prize a certain peace of mind care to undertake an executive life that exposes them to the constant threat of inquisition by senator. The mental and physical strain induced by congressional harassment has appeal for a normally sensitive man of intelligence.

Add to this the fact that taking a government post almost always involves a financial sacrifice and you have explanation for today's recruiting problems.

Before this outlook can be bettered substantially, we'll have to see a vast improvement in Washington's moral tone, especially on Capitol Hill. The wild hurling unfounded charges must stop. Statements issued from the congressional offices bear a shameful resemblance to the frenzied catcalls which long have been standard fare in Russia's propaganda organs.

This country is full of patriotic citizens who probably could endure the financial loss accompanying government work if they could be sure high blood pressure, heart disease and other ailments might not also be part of the price. Not to mention the possible discredit to their names that comes from irresponsible bismirching.

But there probably aren't 200 top men in this country who willingly would choose to be ducks in the shooting gallery which now seems to be the favorite sporting ground of Congress.

A lot of trouble in this world is produced by those who turn out nothing else.

It's always easier to copy something to do after it's too late to do it.

The fellow who is a stickler for law is usually a trial his neighbors.

Just In Case—

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Trygve Lie fears collapse of United Nations; Lie is determined to break cold-war deadlock; Secretary-General is self-appointed ambassador of good will between U. S. and Russia.

The brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, today goes to Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, now on an important mission to Moscow.

WASHINGTON — Shortly before Trygve Lie left New York on his current mission to Moscow, President Truman had announced that the world looked better—a statement which Truman reiterated last week. And Trygve Lie, talking privately to a friend immediately afterward, said:

"I am glad the press did not ask me to comment on President Truman's statement yesterday that the world situation is better than in 1946!"

For the secretary-general of the United Nations thinks the world situation is in a very dangerous state—not because of an immediate threat of war but because the U. N. is threatened for its very life. This is the reason for his trip to Moscow.

"I am going to tell them," he told a friend before he left, "what do you want to do about the United Nations; we must decide now, because in another six or eight months if the deadlock is not broken, this organization will collapse."

Lie added that he thinks the Soviet recognize that their walkout has been a blunder, just as the Berlin blockade was a blunder. But Russia is a big power and it cannot expect itself from this kind of blunder without some face-saving. Here he made a little circle with his thumb and forefinger, and peeped through it, and said:

"Some little peephole—just some little peephole."

Since then the search for the peephole has been made by Lie, the British Foreign Office and the French. The final result now depends on Lie's talks in Moscow.

Cornerstone Laver

Most Americans think of Trygve Lie as a stout, earnest-looking character, with a heavy Scandinavian accent, who does something or other at the United Nations.

This raggedness is partly Lie's fault. He has operated for four years on the conviction that the secretary-general of the U. N. should keep out of controversy. But he has changed in the last few months. Lie now is displaying some of the fire he used to display when, at 16, he became a local president of the Norwegian Labor Party—or the kind of fire he displays now on a Long Island tennis court when the score is six games to six and he wants to break the deadlock.

For, in these last months of his five-year term as secretary-general, Lie is determined to break the deadlock of the cold war. He is throwing his old caution to the winds. He doesn't care any more whether he has the support of the State Department.

Actually, he has lost it. Inside fact is that the State Department tried to sidetrack his mission to Moscow.

As a foreigner, and especially as premier of a country with a long border adjoining Russia, Lie is fearfully worried. He thinks the policy of both sides—name-calling and arm-blding—will lead to an eye-for-an-eye and a bomb-for-a-bomb. And his strategy is to try to knock together the heads of what European delegates call "Les Deux Grands"—"The Two Bigs."

For a long time he has been working behind the scenes with the skill of the best Washington lobbyist. One day, he whisks the Cuban delegate off to lunch at the Lie's Long Island home. Next day he makes a private appointment to meet a British or French delegate at the Manhattan headquarters of U. N.—where talks are more unobserved than at near Lake Success.

And the next day, a Polish or Ukrainian delegate for dinner—possibly mixing them with some of the

Bystander Takes The Rap Once More

DETROIT — (AP)—The innocent bystander—this time he was driving a car—takes the rap again.

Maurice J. D'Haene, 28, cruising along happily in his shiny new car. The sun shone brightly and in a few days more he would be married.

Suddenly, z-z-zing, a bullet whipped into his front seat. D'Haene was caught in a cops and robbers chase.

He braked his car to the roadside and stepped out with his hands held high. The pursuing officers, who had been chasing a stolen car, rammed their patrol car into the side of the new car.

It took D'Haene five minutes to explain the car was his. Then the officers apologized and helped unhook the two vehicles.

But D'Haene said Macomb County Prosecutor Fred Nicholson told him any damage claims would be denied because "the officers were performing their duty."

So now the prospective bridegroom will have to have the car repaired himself. And he wonders if it will be ready in time for the wedding trip.

Clary Sentenced To Life Imprisonment

COLORADO CITY — (AP)—Cliff Clary has been sentenced formally to life imprisonment for murder.

Judge A. S. Mauzey assessed the penalty Tuesday. Judge Mauzey denied a motion for a new trial and gave defense lawyers 90 days in which to file a bill of exception.

A jury convicted Clary on March 4 of murder in the death of his wife, whose body was found in the charred ruins of the couple's Runnels County home after it burned Jan. 31, 1948.

Larceny Lou looks like an unusually trustful cherub. You feel sorry for such a nice young fellow, considering how many nasty people there are to take advantage of him. Just as you're about to give him a bit of fatherly advice you notice that he's made off with everything that wasn't nailed down.

His pet stunt is to steal a trick while the opponents are still thinking about the bidding. For example, here's one that made a big difference in an important team match.

At both tables the bidding was the same, and in each case the West player opened the three of hearts. As a matter of fact, the whole first trick was the same. East put up the king of hearts at both tables, and declarer won with the ace of hearts.

When Larceny Lou played the hand, he casually led the jack of diamonds at the second trick! West just as casually played low, thinking that Lou was finessing for the queen. West expected his partner to win the trick with the queen of diamonds and return a heart. That was just what West wanted, because he didn't know that the jack of hearts was about to drop.

Actually, Lou was not taking a chance at all. He was just stealing the ninth trick before the enemy found out that they could beat him. After getting by with a diamond trick, Lou rattled off four clubs and three spades. Nine tricks were then home, and Lou cheerfully conceded the rest.

"How did you know I'd duck?" the West player asked. "What would you do if I went right up with the ace of diamonds?"

"I'd have been set," Lou replied. "I've been set before. What of it?"

"Don't worry," West said sheepishly to his partner. "The other half of our team will make three no trump also. Even without being such smart alecks."

But he was wrong. At the other table South was not a smart aleck and he didn't make his game contract. The trouble was that he blew a police whistle before he tried to steal a trick.

After winning the first trick with the ace of hearts, this South player ran off the four club tricks. This gave East the chance to make two very revealing discards.

East could see that his hand was never going to win a trick. He had already played the king of hearts, and his hand was otherwise entry-less. Since he had no other going to lead a heart to his partner's hand, the most he could do for his partner was to give him a complete count on the hearts. On the third and fourth clubs, therefore, East discarded his two remaining hearts.

This told West that the jack of hearts was alone in the South hand. Hence when South got around to leading diamonds, West took his ace at once and confidently ran four heart tricks.

26 YEARS ON JOB
WASHINGTON — (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover Wednesday observed his twenty-sixth anniversary as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It was "work as usual," he said.

Wayne Chatfield Taylor of the U. S. Marshall Plan staff has been working at this problem of increasing imports from Europe longer than anyone else. The encouraging thing now, he says, is that a few enterprising European exporters and the American importers are beginning to test the U. S. market, to see what it will take.

Britain Ready With Her Bid
The British auto show in New York is a prime example. The British hope they can sell $50,000,000 worth of automobiles in America.

Chicago is planning for an International Trade Fair August 5 to 21. Detroit will have a similar fair in 1951. International House at New Orleans, while primarily interested in Latin American trade, is becoming increasingly important as the import center for goods from Europe, for distribution throughout the lower Mississippi valley and study that he wondered suddenly if he should have listened to Syria. Had it been foolish of him not to explain last night? And yet how difficult it would have been! He had never been able to make Jon believe—

Knowing what Syria had twice done to him, he should have realized the possibility of the final blow. However ruthless they are capable of being, and however difficult it may be for the mere surface observer to believe, there is, in men like Piers Amberley, an almost childlike streak of trustfulness, born from their own complete integrity. He told himself now that when all this misery of the child's illness was over, Clemency would listen to him.

Distant Star

BY HERMINA BLACK
Copyright 1950 by Hermina Black. Dist. by NEA SERVICE, INC.

AT last Clemency went back into the house. She had reached the bottom of the stairs leading to the nursery when she became aware of someone descending. Looking up, she saw Piers.

"Clemency?"

As he ran down there was nothing to be done except to stand and wait for him, but as he would have taken her hands she drew back.

He said: "I have been wanting to see you all day. After I brought the doctor back I had to go out again. I only returned half an hour ago. My dear love, you look worn out. This is all too dreadful. They've got a night nurse, haven't they?"

She nodded. It was incredible that he should behave as if nothing except Baba's illness had happened to disturb their relationship; and yet at the sight of him in the strangest way the anger and bitterness which had underlain her pain seemed to have died, leaving only that searing ache in her heart, and a deepening wonder that anything in Syria's half-confession could ever have been true.

"Come and talk to me for a few minutes," Piers urged. "I know that at this stage it may seem selfish to think of our own affairs, but there are still some things which must be said between us."

"Not now!" she exclaimed. "Afterwards, perhaps."

"Very well, later," he conceded. "As long as you don't forget that we're important." This time he managed to gain possession of her hands, and then as he looked down at them he asked sharply: "Where is your ring?"

"Upstairs." She knew abruptly that she could not discuss it now. She pulled herself free. "I must get back to Baba," she said. "We can't talk now, and it's useless anyway."

Then she ran upstairs.

Watching her go, there was a puzzled pain in his eyes. It was only when he was back in his

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Europeans Work On Problem Of Increasing Exports To U. S.

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Gradually, this idea of "buying European" products seems to be catching on as a substitute for doling out billions of Marshall Plan dollars to close the balance of trade gap.

The Dutch liner Noordam steamed up Delaware Bay to Philadelphia a few days ago. It carried a million dollars worth of merchandise made in The Netherlands. The ship was welcomed by a Coast Guard escort and the mayor. Fireboats sported colored water and the bands gave with the patriotic music of both countries.

Early in May all this Dutch merchandise will go on sale at a department in Washington made the observation that "they would have to be blunt about this." It was a diplomatic way of saying that they would have to get out and sell the idea. Burgers since has become an American citizen, and dropped out of the picture.

Went Over To Look Around
Anyway, a date was made with Arthur Kauffman, executive director of Philadelphia Gimbel's. He said he wanted to make a trip to Europe anyway. So early this year he went to The Netherlands to see what they had to sell.

The Dutch gave him the number one hospitality treatment, which included tea with the Queen Empress Juliana. She is supposed to have contributed the idea that there should be some sort of a sale to this merchandising experiment.

Arrangements were made to have Julian's own Grenadier Regimental Band accompany the boatload of exports. And to accompany some modern Dutch paintings which actually will go on sale, the loan of some Dutch old masters was arranged, for exhibition only.

If it can be arranged, Prince Bernhard, Juliana's consort, who has been touring the United States, will inspect the merchandise. Included in the sale will be such varied stuff as food products, electrical goods, textiles, Delft china, ware and of course, diamonds, cheese, bulbs and nursery products, Dutch beer and liquors.

Just another smart advertising stunt by an alert U. S. department store sales manager? Well, maybe. But there's more to it than that. Some of the Dutch goods are samples. They may be taken on tour to other U. S. cities, and orders solicited.

Wayne Chatfield Taylor of the U. S. Marshall Plan staff has been working at this problem of increasing imports from Europe longer than anyone else. The encouraging thing now, he says, is that a few enterprising European exporters and the American importers are beginning to test the U. S. market, to see what it will take.

Southwest, San Francisco has plans for a permanent foreign trade fair. A year ago, the Germans held an exposition of their postwar merchandise in New York. The French and Belgians have similar exhibits on the road in the U. S. now, touring principal market centers. The Italians are trying to get their merchandise show over before very long.

Planning all these things takes time. Six months were required to plan, order, buy, ship and put the Dutch merchandise on display at Philadelphia Gimbel's. It will take months more, and maybe years, to build up buying habits and a sustained market for what The Netherlands has to export. One boatload of merchandise doesn't constitute a trade pattern.

In the meantime, opposition from American manufacturers in competitive lines has to be taken into consideration. It will take Europe's best sales efforts to build up enough volume business to close the dollar gap by the time the Marshall Plan runs out in 1952.

What's Right?

You hear in a round-about way of some lion that has come to a friend who lives at a distance.

WRONG: Feel that since the friend did not write you of the news you should not write a note of congratulations.

RIGHT: Be sure to write the friend a congratulatory note. Such thoughtful acts help to keep friendships alive through the years.

round in a haze of misery and semi-exhaustion.

Two or three times she was aware that Piers was near—aware, too, of the strange comfort his presence brought, even though they did not exchange a word.

Towards evening she went downstairs to ask Ahmed for something the doctor wanted, and when she found him, she found Syria crouching in a chair in the day nursery. For once the perfection of her make-up had been neglected, and she looked worn and haggard. As Clemency passed she nodded.

"I can't bear it," Syria covered her face. "I never knew I could feel like this. I didn't want her—I hated having her. And I told you I'm not the maternal type. But she's so pretty, and—I can't bear to lose her. I'll be different—I promise I'll be better for her, love her more if—if only she lives."

SOMEHOW Clemency could not bring herself to make any reply. It was not anything Syria had done to her personally which froze the pity in her heart. There was a hard gloss of selfishness on everything about the other which made it more tragic that she should have wrought so much mischief and unhappiness.

As she re-entered the other room the nurse and the two doctors were gathered about the bed. Sister Therese stood a little apart, silently telling her beads. Conscious of the nun's serene spirituality, which she translated into such practical scientific help when it was needed, Clemency thought involuntarily: It is that which we need above everything—faith and work together; and she passed on to join the others, strangely comforted.

The specialist was holding one of Baba's small, inert wrists between his fingers. After a moment he put it gently down.

Clemency looked at him, fear almost choking her. Then: "Oh, no!" she whispered.

The doctor passed a hand wearily over his forehead. "I think she should be all right now," he said. "She is sleeping quite naturally."

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Fun In The City

Daddy Ringtail was sitting out on the porch of his monkey house, up in the top of the very tall tree, right in the middle of the Great Forest. Sammy Ringtail, his own little boy was with him, and so was Mugwump Monkey.

"Oh, yes I have!" He told them what had happened, and as Mugwump listened he could hardly believe it. Can you? Listen. It happened a very long time ago, Daddy Ringtail explained. He was he would have to be back in the forest with his monkey family, he said. The stranger said that would be all right, if only Daddy Ringtail would go with him to the city, just for the Summer.

Daddy Ringtail did it, and oh it was fun in the city, with all the things to see that a forest monkey had never seen before. And every day the stranger would go out on the streets with Daddy Ringtail. The stranger would play music on the Hurdy-Gurdy that he carried with him, and Daddy Ringtail would make funny faces or stand on his head to make people laugh who watched.

"Oh, it was very exciting," Daddy Ringtail said, but he saw that Mugwump couldn't believe it. "You're teasing!" Mugwump said. "Whoever heard of a Hurdy-Gurdy? It sounds like something you made up, Daddy Ringtail, just so you could tell us a happy story." But Daddy Ringtail said: "I'll show you. Come on boys!" He took them up in the attic where Mother Ringtail kept all the old, old things. There was the Hurdy-Gurdy sure enough. Mugwump saw it, and now he believed, because seeing is believing, you know. Happy day!

climbing around in the forest one day, not even thinking about the city, when he saw a stranger who was sitting on a log. The stranger was a man. He looked unhappy, but he had friendly brown eyes and a friendly smile. He smiled bigger than ever when he saw Daddy Ringtail, and then he said: "I need you." He said it to Daddy Ringtail. "I need you to go to the city with me, to help bring happiness to the girls and boys who live there."

Daddy Ringtail said he would do it, but only as long as the Summer lasted. When Winter came again,

Criticism Of Water Policies Misleading, Says WTCC Leader

ABILENE —(P)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has charged a member of a Fort Worth engineering firm with "misleading" and "undermining" statements about the WTCC's domestic water efforts.

In a letter Tuesday to Marvin Nichols, partner in the Freese and Nichols firm which represents several West Texas cities in privately-financed dam projects, the West Texas group charged Nichols' statements in Coleman April 28 were "misleading" and "undermining" to the WTCC.

The letter was signed by WTCC President J. M. Wilson of Floydada and Homer D. Grant, president of the West Texas Domestic Water Association.

Nichols, at the Coleman meeting, accused the WTCC of "retarding" the water development of West Texas by its activities, and by exaggerating the water problems of West Texas to the detriment of the area.

Cost Comparison Asked
He said the WTCC had assumed leadership in the fight for domestic water.

The WTCC letter traced its work in supplying preliminary water surveys for 20 cities, of which four are solving their water problems. It said "The Reclamation Bureau has made and now is refining six large river basin multi-city water supply studies calculated to provide some 75 of our cities with an adequate water supply at their city gates for 30 years or more."

The letter asked Nichols to compare costs of both plans—that of the bureau and that privately financed.

"Cost of a private plan at the end of 30 years would be about $2,838,000, taking the $1,100,000 investment at three per cent and operating and maintaining the dam for 30 years—less the sale of about $2,375 worth of water a year," the letter read.

"This figure compares with about $1,369,000 for the 30-year gate rate plan where the cities buy water at 13 cents per 1,000 gallons without capital investment and unused water at the same rate for 30 years."

Oppenheimer Denies He Held Red Meeting

OAKLAND, CALIF.—(P)—Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer flatly denies the accusation of a woman ex-Communist that the top atomic scientist held a secret, closed meeting of Communists at his Berkeley home in July, 1941.

Mrs. Paul Crouch, admittedly a Communist from 1929 to 1942, told a State Senate Committee here Tuesday she attended such a Communist meeting at Dr. Oppenheimer's home when he was in the physicist department of the University of California.

Tuesday night in Washington, Dr. Oppenheimer, now director of the Institute for Advanced Studies at Princeton, N. J., denied it. He said in a statement:

"I have never been a member of the Communist party. I never assembled any such group of people for any such purpose in my home or anywhere else. I am unable to recall any gathering in my house that could reasonably have been mistaken for such a meeting. Neither the name Crouch nor the accounts of Mr. and Mrs. Crouch recall to me anyone I have ever known."

Ministers from Southern states held a preliminary pastors' conference Tuesday. A preliminary convention session and devotional message and prayer was held Tuesday night.

Dr. R. C. Campbell, of Shelby, N. C., in his convention sermon, "The Glory of the Cross," told Wednesday's assembly "our pulpits and pews must burn with the fires of evangelism."

"Christians totally surrendered to God can change a chaotic world into order," Dr. Campbell said.

Claims 25,889 Churches
The Southern Baptist Convention claims a total membership of 6,761,265 with 25,889 churches.

A PROBLEM-CENTERED GAZE IS UNHEALTHY

Just a word before we leave the point of looking at yourself even in God. Whatever gets your attention gets you, and you must be the center of attention even when you are in God. Our faith is God-centered, not you-centered. So look away from your sins and diseases; look away from yourself—look away to God.

Look away from your sins and diseases. If your gaze is on sin and disease—is sin-centered and disease-centered—you'll never get well. I asked some people in a sanitarium to sew and knit for China, that "continent of pain." As they had countless hours upon their hands, I thought they would crowd the lady whom I designated to take their names. Not a person gave a name. Then I saw what had happened: these people weren't self-centered because they were sick; they were sick because they were self-centered. And they would never get well until they turned their attention from themselves to God and others.

In airplanes in France there is a cup in front of each passenger with a sign, "For airsickness." In English planes the notice reads, "In case you feel indisposed, the steward will help you." In the English planes scarcely anyone gets sick, but in the French planes almost everyone does! Passengers look at the word "sickness" and the cup—enough! But when they read the sign in the English planes they think of a "steward," the attention is called off from self; the sickness is pushed to the margin. In an airplane in America we were riding a gale of 80 miles an hour, and over mountains—the air was churned terribly. A lady opposite me reading a book on "Health" yelled when the plane seemingly dropped out from under us, and she forthwith got sick. But I pictured myself as riding a bucking bronco, felt the exhilaration of the experience, and rode the bronco and the storm unscathed. A prominent minister preached 10 consecutive Sundays on "How to avoid a nervous breakdown," and ended up with one. His psychology was bad—it was centered on a breakdown. It should have been centered on the Resources.

My Father, God, I see where I should be centered—Thou art my center and my circumference. In Thee I am safe and steady and growing. In sickness and sin and myself, I wither. For I am fashioned in my inmost being for Thee—Thou Homeland of my soul. I thank Thee. Amen.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY Written For NEA Service

"What happens," asks a reader, "when you take the last of the undealt cards? Does the hand come to an end, or does it go on in some way? This has happened to us a few times, and each time we have come up with a different answer."

I'm not surprised there has been some misunderstanding of this point. The actual rule isn't hard to understand, but it has its complications.

Let's suppose that you are the player who draws the last of the undealt cards. Perhaps you then meld, and perhaps you don't. That makes no difference. What does make a difference is your discard. If your discard can be taken by the next player entirely by the melds that he already has on the table, he must take that discard. At the same time he must take the rest of the discard pile (if any).

If your discard can be taken by the next player only by means of cards that are still in his hand, he has a choice. He may take your discard or not—whichever he prefers.

For example, suppose you discard an ace. The other side has a choice. He may take your discard or not—whichever he prefers. For example, suppose you discard an ace. The other side has a mixed canasta of aces on the table. If the deck is not frozen, your discarded ace can (and therefore must) be taken by the next player entirely by the meld that he has on the table. There is no choice in the matter; the next player must pick up your ace.

Take the same example, and suppose that the deck is frozen. When you discard your ace, the next player cannot take it unless he has a pair of aces in his own hand. He has a choice. If he has a pair of aces in his hand, he may take your ace (with the rest of the pile, as always), or he may refuse.

Let's carry this one step further. You discard an ace, and the next player picks it up. He makes his meld and then discards. (If he melds out, the hand ends as it always does in the case of a meld-out.)

Suppose he discards a king. If your side has a meld of kings, your partner is obliged to take that king and meld it. If your partner can take that king only by using cards from his own hand (a pair of kings, or a king and a wild card), he may take it or not—as he chooses.

In other words, the situation is the same for your partner that it was for the player at your left. He is forced to pick up the discard if he can do so entirely by means of melds that are down on the table; he has a choice if he can pick up the discard only by means of cards that are in his hand.

This remains true if the play continues. As each discard is made, the next player is bound by the same rule.

Sooner or later the hand may end because somebody melds out. Or a player may make a discard that the next player cannot pick up. Sometimes it ends because a player makes a discard that the next player can legally refuse to pick up.

If nobody melds out, and play comes to an end, nobody gets credit for melding out. Each player deducts for the cards that he has left in his hand.

Before leaving the subject entirely, I'd like to point out that this is the only situation in Canasta in which a player is obliged to meld. At all other times a player who holds meldable cards may legally refuse to meld.

Chronic Fatigue Cure Comes By Balancing Work, Leisure

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

Chronic fatigue is one of the most common complaints in modern society. Almost everyone from time to time becomes tired and loses all zest for work or play. The cause usually is not hard to find—excessive work for too long a period, lack of sleep, dietary indiscretions or some similar fault of living. The remedy lies in correcting the cause—or at least not doing it again.

This kind of fatigue, however, is not much of a problem. That tired feeling which is chronic and persistent and the cause of which cannot be identified easily is much more serious. This type of fatigue is particularly common among housewives, many of whom are constantly exceeding their strength.

The strain of children cannot be pinned down on any one event nor is it easy to remedy—after all what can one do about it? There are other factors besides children which enter into chronic fatigue. Inability to relax or play, difficulty in getting away from the problems of every-day life, lack of sleep, a poor diet, and just plain too much to do are the most common.

Sometimes a diseased condition is at fault. A slight anemia, for example, can and does produce lack of customary energy. Any chronic infection or almost any disturbed bodily function is also likely to produce that tired feeling. Carrying too much weight, flat feet and innumerable other body conditions tend to produce excessive fatigue or to make that tired feeling worse.

Of course, if a definite disease condition can be identified, it usually can be remedied. This is the first step in combating fatigue. Should nothing be found, then it becomes necessary to analyze and study various factors such as those mentioned.

The proper balance between work, recreation and sleep has to be worked out. Change of occupation is not often recommended because it usually is not possible. Many people need to learn how to relax when they have the chance. The adoption of a balanced diet with plenty of vitamins is beneficial when the abnormal fatigue is at least partly due to faulty diet. Stimulating drugs are dangerous and should not be used unless upon a physician's advice.

Need Careful Schedule Everything which can be remedied should be, including such factors as too much smoking, too much alcohol, poor diet and the like. In far too many cases there is little to be found and perhaps even less which can be done about it.

This is a frustrating situation and no one yet has a perfect answer. Perhaps all that can be done is to become aware of those influences which are producing a state of chronic tiredness, remedy those which one can, and be prepared to cure the others as soon as circumstances allow.

Sweetwater Gets Breaks To Edge Indians By 5-3

The Midland Indians rolled out on the long swing to Vernon Wednesday to engage the Dusters in a two-game series. They will return home Friday night to face the San Angelo Colts in a two-game series.

Glen Patton chunks against Vernon Wednesday night and Ernie Nelson or LeRoy Jart will go Thursday.

A couple of top-notch hurlers battled it out Tuesday night in Indian Park in one of the best ball games of the season. Sweetwater edged the Indians 5 to 3 but the cash customers got their money's worth in good baseball.

Hal Wearne, the hard luck hurler of the Midland round corps, matched Lefty Besana of the Swatters or stered him, in every department. The only difference was—the Swatters got breaks and the Indians did not.

Two ground-rule doubles, oddly enough probably cost the Indians a ball game.

Kenny Jones, currently, the hottest hitter the Indians have, continued his blazing pace at the plate, the two doubles—both ground-rule in four trips.

Kenny's first two-bagger bounced off the left-center field fence. It could have been in, probably for runs bases, had it not bounced over the fence.

Three big things due consideration come to our mind. Every man entered from Midland placed, Harrie Smith won the high hurdles title and Ralph Brooks outdid himself in the high jump.

We always have been told that a team or individual which does its best will run out of the money lots of times. It's the guy or team who gives just a little more than the best—gives until it hurts—that always wins.

We believe Brooks, Smith and W. H. Black did just that at the state meet.

Brooks jumped five feet, 11 1/2 inches. That was an inch and one-half higher than he ever had jumped before.

Black cleared 10 feet, six inches in the pole vault. He hadn't done that but once or twice and never had gone higher.

Smith's 15 seconds flat in the hurdles was plenty good. He thinks he ran it safely and still made that good time. He wasn't taking any chances of tripping on a hurdle but was always sure he was in the lead. Give 'em due credit. They performed like champions.

Ed Sides, the Lubbock boxing promoter who recently moved to Midland, is thinking in terms of an athletic club here now.

He is toying with the idea of a gym and steam-bath combination and it might not be a bad idea. Midland long has needed a place where boxing, wrestling and other indoor sports can be held.

The national boxing scene drew a lot of attention Tuesday. The National Boxing Association ordered the retirement of Bob Montgomery, lightweight champ.

The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission announced it will recognize the winner of the June 5 Ray Robinson-Robert Villenaine fight as "the rightful claimant to the middleweight crown."

Jake LaMotta is the present middleweight champ. They didn't say just where he comes in when Pennsylvania wants to name some other pug to take over his crown.

Warren Cantrell and Charles Akey, both former Midland Country Club professionals, will enter the Texas PGA Tournament here May 29-June 4.

Cantrell is the pro at Harlingen. Akey entered the golf club manufacturing business in Dallas when he left Midland.

Hal Wearne, the classy right-hander who lost a 5-3 game to Sweetwater here Tuesday night, has drawn the toughest pitching assignments of the season so far.

He was matched against Big Spring's Bert Garcia in his first out. He drew some tough ones in between there and Lefty Besana, who hurled for the Swatters Tuesday night.

Wearne has had tough luck but he hasn't pitched a bad game all season.

Maybe he will draw an opposing pitcher who is just mediocre one of these days.

Besana definitely is above the average.

Memphis, Tenn., is the world's largest tennis market.

Invitation Tourney Runnerup

Mrs. Sybil Flournoy, last year's Midland Country Club champion, was runnerup to Mrs. Gloria Ezell in the recent Midland Country Club Women's Invitation Golf Tournament. She defeated Mrs. Sam O'Neal of Odessa with a hole in one on sixteenth in the second round but couldn't hold the pace in the finals. She is one of the better women golfers in this area.

Longhorn League—Sweetwater Back In Fourth Place

By The Associated Press

Sweetwater is sweeping upward in the Longhorn League in an unspectacular manner.

The Swatters beat Midland 5-3 Tuesday night to protect their hold on fourth place—last slot in the Class D league's first division. Just a few days ago they were deep down in the lower bracket.

Roswell bumped Big Spring 8-1, and Odessa beat Ballinger 12-2 in other games. San Angelo and Vernon were rained out.

Kenny Jones' double scored two runs for Midland in the ninth inning, but it wasn't enough to catch Sweetwater.

Roswell wrapped up its decision over Big Spring with a four-run eighth inning while Odessa had an easy time with Ballinger.

Sauer Says Baylor Stadium Will Be Ready For Opener

WACO —(AP)—Football Coach George Sauer said Tuesday night the Baylor Stadium will be ready for this season's opening game with the University of Houston September 30.

There had been a report from State College, Miss., that a game with Mississippi State had been transferred to Shreveport because the Baylor Stadium would not be ready.

Sauer said that the game had been shifted to Shreveport merely to get a neutral site for the contest, not because the stadium would not be ready.

Demaret, Reipen In Tie After 45 Holes

MONTERREY, MEXICO —(AP)—Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., and Warren Reipen of Harlingen, Texas, were tied Tuesday with 27 holes to play in the 72-hole International Golf Tournament.

Each had 45-hole totals of 177. They have played two 18-hole and one nine-hole rounds.

PINCH-HITTERS HIT GOOD IN THE PINCH

NEW YORK —(AP)—Pinch hitters connected five times in 16 official trips to the plate on opening day. The five batters who hit safely in pinch roles were Bobby Usher of the Reds, Billy Hitchcock of the A's, Johnny Mize of the Yankees, Marv Rackley of the Reds and Herb Conyers of the Indians. Usher's hit was a home run. Hitchcock hit a triple, Mize a double and the other two hit singles. Charlie Keller of the Tigers and Gene Woodling of the Yanks drew walks.

Robert Roberts of the Phillies was the most effective opening day hurler against pinch hitters. He faced three Dodgers, struck out two and got the other to hit into a double play.

FIFTH OF SERIES—

Don't Let Child Start Forgetting Golf Strokes

By DAVE BAUER
Father and teacher of the famous sisters.

As a child progresses in golf or any other game, he sees the importance of good sportsmanship and manners.

A lad who does not benefit from this training will not go very far in golf, or any other sport.

Most beginners, young and old, desirous of a good score, are inclined to "forget" strokes. This is common practice.

Training a youngster to keep score correctly and conduct himself properly is a fine test of character.

The young golfer must be disciplined, taught etiquette. He must learn not to blow up and break clubs. You don't want him to alibi, or make a nuisance of himself interfering with other players.

"Even though we love golf above everything else," I have always preached to my offspring, "if it should spoil your character in any way, you will quit the game."

Surprising as it may seem to some parents, I have taught several youngsters of four and five years of age, whom I could be certain would give me the correct score after a round of golf.

Such a child will make real progress. Next: Lengthen the clubs and add Nos. 3 and 7 irons.

City Major Loop Needs Two Teams

Friday noon has been set as the deadline for teams to enter the City Major Softball League. The loop now has six teams and is in need of two more.

Play in all softball leagues will open Monday night.

BOWIE WINS TITLE

SHOTTEN DECIDES MILLIKEN MUST WAIT

BROOKLYN —(AP)—Barney Shotten may have to wait until next year to see if his prophecy on Bob Milliken pans out.

"We had a kid at Vero Beach who looked very good," says the Brooklyn manager. "His name is Bob Milliken. He did everything right. He can't miss. If not this year he'll make it next year."

"It was Milliken's third Spring at Vero Beach but this time he came to camp in shape. He weighed 186 pounds as against 220 in 1949."

Milliken now is the property of Brooklyn's Montreal team.

MILAN STADIUM TO BE BIGGEST

MILAN, ITALY —(AP)—Milan will have the biggest stadium in Europe when an enlargement project at the San Siro Stadium is completed.

At a cost of almost $1,000,000, the big sports arena will be expanded to a seating capacity of 120,000 plus space for an additional 30,000 standees. The work will take at least 18 months.

Texas League—

Dallas Gets Out Of Cellar; Cats Increase Margin

By The Associated Press
Dallas and Houston traded places in the Texas League standings again Tuesday night—Dallas going into seventh, Houston tumbling back to last place.

Dallas vacated the cellar on a 3-0 victory over Beaumont. Houston didn't have a chance at keeping its seventh-place position. The Buffs were rained out at Tulsa.

In the only other game, Fort Worth dumped Shreveport 6-2 to boost its lead to three and one-half games over Oklahoma City, rained out of its scheduled tilt with San Antonio.

Rinaldo Ardisio, a recent addition to the Dallas roster, pitched a two-hit shutout his first time out. He's on option to the Eagles from Seattle.

His mates backed his pitching with single runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings and slapped four pitchers for 10 hits.

Rookie John Rutherford set Shreveport down on five hits and Tommy Tatum and Gene Clough each contributed two-run home runs to the Cats' attack. Rutherford got two of Fort Worth's 11 hits, one a triple which drove in the first tally of the game.

WT-NM League—Cloviss Wins 5-4 But Loses Player

By The Associated Press
Cloviss won a costly 5-4, 10-inning victory from Pampa Tuesday night to stay in front in the Class C West Texas-New Mexico League.

It was costly for the Pioneers in that Shortstop Willis Earhardt broke an arm sliding home with the tying run in the ninth inning.

In other games, Fordan Pitta set Lubbock down with six hits as Albuquerque nipped the Hubbers 3-2. Borger took advantage of seven Lamesa errors to rip the Lobos 10-5, and Abilene whacked Amarillo for 16 hits, seven runs in the sixth inning and a 12-9 victory.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

DiMaggio Still In Slump But Yanks Take Browns 4-2

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

What's wrong with Joe DiMaggio?

The star outfielder of the world champion New York Yankees, one of the greatest and highest paid figures, is in the midst of one of his worst batting slumps.

Not only does it have Joe worried, it has the entire Yankee team concerned.

DiMaggio is the first to tell you he's never felt better in his life. No aches, no pains, no back trouble and no sign of the heel disorder that kept him out of the first 65 games of the 1949 season.

What then is the reason for his current puny .247 batting mark? The Yankee Clipper would give a large chunk of his $100,000 salary to know.

"I can't explain it," he said before Tuesday night's game against the St. Louis Browns. "All I know is that my timing is off. There is absolutely nothing wrong with me physically. I had a great Spring. I'm in perfect condition. My weight is just right. I suppose I need more batting practice."

Joe, nearing 36, got in some extra licks before the game. Still he went naught for four as the Yankees defeated the Browns 4-2. Lefty Ed Lopat pitched a three-hitter for his third triumph.

DiMaggio now has gone six games with only two singles to show for his efforts in his last 22 times at bat. That's a microscopic .091 batting mark. During that time he has failed to drive in a run or score one. True, he was "robbed" of a couple of hits by some fancy Tiger outfielding last Monday, but the handle hit he got into short left field that day was nothing to brag about.

Is DiMaggio in just one of those batting slumps that every player undergoes at certain intervals? Or have the years sneaked up suddenly on one of the greatest outfielders of American League history?

Meanwhile, Ralph Kiner, the National League's home run king, went another batting spree Tuesday night. He blasted two home runs, one with the bases full, to defeat

Brooklyn almost single-handedly. Kiner's sixth and seventh homers of the season enabled the Pittsburgh Pirates to overcome a 5-0 deficit and whip the Dodgers 10-5.

Kiner's Eighth
Kiner's grand slammer, which came in the bottom of the eighth, was his second of the campaign and eighth of his big league career. That tied him with Philadelphia's Bill Nicholson for most grand slam homers by active National Leaguers.

Only Rogers Hornsby, the old St. Louis slugger, and George Kelly, former New York Giants first baseman, made more. Hornsby hit 12 and Kelly 10. Lou Gehrig, famous Yankee first baseman, hit the most in the majors, 23.

Mel Parnell pitched the Boston Red Sox into a first-place tie with Detroit in the American League, defeating the Tigers 6-1. Walt Dropp, subbing for the ailing Billy Goodman at first, hammered his second home run in eight games for the Sox.

Athletics Win
Eddie Joost's eighth-inning home run enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to shade Cleveland's slumping Indians 9-8 as Lloyd Hittle turned in a 3-2 victory for Washington over the Chicago White Sox in his first start of the season.

Lefty Johnny Schmitz hurled the Chicago Cubs to a three-hit, 6-0 shutout over the New York Giants. Giant Manager Leo Durocher, Second Baseman Eddie Stanky and Pitcher Sheldon Jones were ejected from the game during a seventh-inning argument.

St. Louis and Boston were rained out. Philadelphia and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Belgium became an independent kingdom in 1831, since which time it has had four kings.

Truman Submits Four New Proposals On Reorganization

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman Tuesday afternoon proposed to make the chairman of the National Security Resources Board the country's war mobilization planning "czar." W. Stuart Symington, former Air Force secretary, now holds the post.

Truman also recommended to Congress that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation be placed under the jurisdiction of the Department of Commerce.

The two proposals were among four new federal reorganization plans recommended by Truman affecting housing, lending and industrial mobilization.

All of the proposals except that transferring the RFC to the Commerce Department are in line with recommendations of the Commission on Government Reorganization headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

The plans, which will become law automatically unless they are rejected by the Senate or House within 60 days, involve:

1. Transferring to Symington, the chairman of the National Security Resources Board, all the powers now held jointly by the eight cabinet-rank members of the NSRB. The board would become merely advisory to Symington.

2. Shifting the RFC into the Commerce Department as a government corporation under Secretary Sawyer's supervision. RFC now is an independent agency making loans to business.

3. Stripping from the RFC its subsidiary corporation, the Federal National Mortgage Association, a multi-billion dollar mortgage buying concern. This agency would be merged into the Housing and Home Finance Agency under Administrator Raymond M. Foley.

4. Transferring from the RFC to Foley's agency the government's function of making loans to aid the production and sale of prefabricated housing.

The proposals bring to a total of 25 the number of White House reorganization plans pending in Congress. Twenty-one will become law on May 23 unless rejected by either the Senate or House. Resolutions opposing 11 of these have been filed.

AFL Campaign To Back 'Fair Dealers' GATHERING Steam

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The AFL drive to back "Fair Deal" Democrats in the November elections was gathering momentum Wednesday.

The union's National Executive Council in week-long session here, put its stamp of approval on a 10-cent-per-member assessment for the educational campaign of the Labor League for Political Education.

And the league, also meeting here, announced it plans to launch a special drive in June and July to collect a $2-per-member assessment on AFL unionists for the league's political activity.

Both assessments were described by AFL President William Green at a news conference late Tuesday as "voluntary."

The assessments must be voluntary to comply with provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, which prohibits unions from compelling its members to contribute to any form of political activity.

Green told newsmen he is "confident" AFL and CIO leaders soon will get together to discuss a plan for unified labor action, particularly in political matters.

Chinese Free Marine Fliers

Two long-detained U.S. Marine fliers, Elmer Bender, left, and William C. Smith, right, have been released at Hong Kong, China, the Chinese Communist radio at Peking announced. The two men have been detained since October, 1948, when their plane was grounded in Communist territory in Manchuria.

German Capital Has No Time For Blitz Anniversary

BERLIN —(AP)— Ten years ago Wednesday Hitler loosed a lightning bolt against the Western world, but Hitler's capital Wednesday hadn't time to think about the anniversary.

On May 10, 1940, the grey-clad Nazi legions attacked The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and France, waiting complacently behind the Maginot Line in a "sit-krieg"—sitdown war.

Five days later Holland had fallen, Belgium went in 18 days. In five weeks the Germans were in Paris and Hitler was preparing to dance a victory jig in the beautiful capital of his country's ancient empire.

The West had learned about "blitzkrieg"—lightning war. Berlin, Wednesday had no thought for the shower of confetti the city rained on Hitler when he returned from his triumph over France and Western Europe. His last monuments here long since have been obliterated.

The blitzkrieg, too, is only a faint memory. Germans now are hoping they won't be in the middle of an atom or hydrogen bomb war.

Prison Term Received For Dye Substitution

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Irvin Grossman, 29, has been sentenced to 10 years imprisonment on charges the "dye" he sold to foreign firms actually was common table salt.

Federal Judge Harry C. Westover, in sentencing him, said: "This is the most serious crime against international good will that I have encountered."

Grossman was ordered to make restitution to his victims in India, Holland, Belgium and Italy. It was charged that on one shipment of 115 drums of salt, Grossman received $44,000.

RED DELEGATE WALKS OUT

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND —(AP)— Russia's delegate walked out of a meeting of the League of Red Cross Societies Executive Committee Wednesday because the committee refused to approve a formal exclusion of any representative from Nationalist China.

Republicans Use Senate As Forum To Answer Truman

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) said Wednesday the Republicans intend to use the Senate as a forum to reply to all political speeches President Truman makes on his Western tour.

The party's Senate floor leader told reporters this is part of a coordinated plan by the Republican National Committee and the House and Senate GOP Campaign Committee to keep the party's position before the people throughout the President's trip.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) led off Tuesday with a reply to Truman's talk at Casper, Wyo., in which the President spoke against a return to what he called the Republican philosophy of greed and privilege.

The President recalled the Teapot Dome scandal of the Hardin Administration and said the philosophy that produced it is not dead.

Ferguson said Truman "spoke the truth" about that, all right, adding that the philosophy of greed and privilege referred to by the President is "rampant in Washington today" with Democrats in control.

Ferguson's remarks touched off a heated political row.

Voice That Soothes Public Is Heard Too Infrequently At Home, Movietown Opines

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Maybe the voice that lulls the public too seldom is heard at home, Movietown mused Wednesday.

The marital mishap files of the last year are far from reassuring to the lads with the crooning pipes. Dick Haymes, Frankie Laine, Frank Sinatra, and now—could it be?—Bing Crosby.

That's how Hollywood conjecture ran, even though Dixie Lee Crosby backed up Singer Bing's denial of a rift. "If Bing says there is nothing to it," said Dixie Tuesday, "there is nothing to it."

But the record of Bing's fellow members in the June-Moon-Spoon-Swoon Society is not encouraging.

Only two weeks ago Frank Sinatra's wife, Nancy, filed suit for separate maintenance after 11 years of wedlock. Frankie Boy, now about 33, is the father of three children.

He and Ava Gardner were seen often together in Houston and New York before she sailed for Europe recently.

Divorced By Joanne

Haymes, 34, was divorced by actress Joanne Dru last July and quickly married Nora Eddington, Errol Flynn's ex-wife. He left Miss Dru three children but became stepfather to Nora's pair.

Laine, 36, obtained a divorce last June from his wife, Nellina, on the grounds her drinking upset him. They had no children. He is making plans to marry actress Nan Gray next month.

Other crooners such as Rudy Vallee and Tony Martin also have their share of marital troubles. Vallee, 49, was married for the fourth time last Fall. Martin, former band leader of Alice Payne, now is the spouse of dancer Cyd Charisse.

The only settled-down singers at the moment here appear to be Perry Como and Gordon McRae, happy benefactors for about 15 and eight years, respectively.

The Crosbys have been married 20 years and have four teen-boys.

Intimates say whatever squabbles have arisen between them usually resulted from Bing's frequent trips. The same probably could be said for all crooners who have to keel on the road to satisfy their fans.
