Tired Of 'Waiting Wife' Roles, Ruth Warwick Gets Variety

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD — Behind the Screen:
When Orson Welles first scooted into Hollywood as the vaunted Man From Mars, he looked around for an actress to play a genteel lady in his movie, "Citizen Kane," and made the first of many sour observations about Hollywood.
"I can't find any ladies in Hollywood," he roared. "Get me Ruth Warwick."
Ruth, a New York stage and radio actress came to Hollywood, played the role and forthwith was typed as a faithful, long-suffering celluloid wife. It reached the point where she didn't even bother to read her scripts because, as she says, "They were all the same."
Lately things have changed for Ruth. First there was a screwball press agent role in a Ros Russell at Columbia, then an "other woman" part in "China Skies" and now a succession of not so faithful wives in "Three Husbands," "Second Chance," and "One Too Many."
In the last-named, she plays a feminine lost weekend who hides her bottle in the soap chips and goes on the wagon only after almost killing her daughter. The film, she says, has a terrific impact.
"After the first preview we all came out of the theater with an 'anyone-got-a-drink?' look," she said.
Ruth recalled her fondest memory of her association with Orson. The day he finally started filming "Citizen Kane," after a year's delay, the RKO front office sent him several bouquets of dead flowers with a note.
"These were fresh the day you were supposed to have started the picture."
Short Takes:
Theda Bara, the one-time screen vamp, still a lovely sight at the Fox and Hounds...
Cornel Wilde's boiling over the money tangle that shelved his British indie film, "Lord Johnny." He turned down a dozen parts to star in the picture... Charles Bickford runs an appliance business, a telephone exchange service and a television maintenance business. Strictly for the bucks that are in it, he says. "I should hate to have the time come when I had to say yes to some people I know."
The marquee lights at a suburban theater went haywire the other night and the feature picture turned out to be: "The Kipper Surprised His Wife." Hummm, was a lady salmon, no doubt.

Hollywoodian to a babe: "Would you like to come up to my apartment and sign a loyalty oath?"
Budd Boetticher is huddling with Ann Sheridan on "A Moment of Fear," to be made in Mexico... Jane Wyman mixed the lead in "The Travelers" and script trouble is plaguing this Warner opus... Marie Windsor's perfect "38" will slip into a sarong for "Hurricane Island." Jon Hall never will be the same... Errol Flynn's yacht, the Zaca, makes its movie debut disguised as an 1864 sloop of war in "Bloodline."
Reel Indians Plenty Real
It could happen only in Hollywood:
Fifty Crow Indians at Billings, Mont., were hired for a redskin-cavalry battle in "Warpath." Then they were sent to "boot camp" to learn how to be Indian warriors.
Prop man Carl Coleman taught em how to use a bow and arrow; make-up man Norman Pringle showed them how to apply war paint; hair stylist Mary Smith fixed em up with braided black wigs over their modern butch haircuts; Joe Wonder coached them in war dancing, and Jack Sanders showed them how to ride bareback.
Drive-in theaters in the East are introducing automobile washing and greasing service while you watch the picture with "no jiggle—no bother." Probably this conversation takes place:
"Love section?"
"No, the pit section."

FROM HUNGARY—Mrs. W. S. Key, Jr., Midland resident, who is a former native of Budapest, Hungary, welcomes her mother, Mrs. Margaret Hiller, who arrived recently in Midland from Buenos Aires. Mrs. Hiller has been in Argentina two years visiting relatives and friends before coming to Midland to live.

Midland Residents From Hungary Appreciate Hospitality, Weather

By ANN CAROTHERS
"The only thing I miss in Midland are Hungarian breads and pastries," says Mrs. W. S. Key, Jr., West Highway 80. Mr. and Mrs. Key own the Western Motel in Midland. She is fond of Midland hospitality, people and weather.
Mrs. Key came to Washington, D. C. in 1946 from Budapest and has been living in Midland since the Fall of 1949.
Her mother, Mrs. Margaret Hiller, a native of Budapest, followed her daughter here about two weeks ago. She did not notice the great difference in America as much as her daughter, as she had lived for the last two years in Buenos Aires, visiting friends and relatives... and waiting for her visa to come to the U. S. in Budapest.
Back in Budapest, immediately following the close of World War II, W. S. Key, Sr. moved into the city as head of the Allied Control Command in Hungary. With him were his wife and son, W. S. Key, Jr. For their offices, the Bunapest Baurite Aluminum Trust Company building, of which Mrs. Hiller's husband had been president, was requisitioned.
When W. S. Key, Jr. and Kamilla Hiller decided to marry, she came to Washington and worked for awhile in the Hungarian Legation in that city. Then, with parents of both still in Hungary, Key followed her on 45-day temporary duty.
They were married in June, 1946.
About the wedding, Mrs. Hiller says, "Mrs. Key (Sr.) and I sat in one of the little cafes there in Budapest and cried. It was the day our children were getting married and both of us were so far away."
The Keys are native residents of Oklahoma City.
Before the war, the Hillers had traveled all over Europe and were especially fond of the coasts of Italy and France.
Coming from Budapest to Washington, D. C. in 1946, Mrs. Key describes everything as "fabulously wonderful... all lit up... the food, clothing and sudden plenty were amazing. And they were no ruins. For years, everywhere in Europe, there were partially or totally destroyed buildings."
"After living four months on beans, I gained 25 pounds when I came," she continued. And after wearing silk and rayon hose for the war years, Mrs. Key was happy to stand in the long lines which formed wherever nylon hosiery appeared on the capital city. "The meat, coffee, eggs and fresh vegetables here were wonderful."
Buenos Aires
Mrs. Hiller, coming from Buenos Aires, could not be quite as enthusiastic as her daughter about food as steaks there are 25 cents a pound, she says, for the finest prepared ones.
"It's warmer here than in Hungary," Mrs. Hiller says, "and so fresh in the evenings."
Mrs. Key studied in Worthing, Sussex, England, at Our Lady of Ston during 1937-38. She speaks

Beauchamp was named at a meeting Thursday to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Dave Allen, who moved from Midland.

Uncalled For Attack

You say you don't like President Truman's health program? Well, then, according to Oscar Ewing, Federal Security administrator, you're "stupid and dangerous."

This is quite an indictment. It lumps together a lot of people who disagree with the President's plan in widely varying degrees.

Truman's program would make government medical aid available to all regardless of specific need. A good many dissenters don't think that's wise.

They declare public health certainly is a matter for greater attention than it's had up to now. They doubt that private initiative is adequate to meet the vast needs that have arisen.

These dissenters offer a variety of plans, therefore, which call for some measure of collective effort. In some proposals, government would be asked to protect those in the lowest income brackets...

To pin the label "stupid" on all these people, it seems, is pretty harsh. Ewing is not only hitting the most conservative Republicans and the powerfully resistant American Medical Association...

Douglas in fact generally is rated one of the few real liberals in the Senate, a man who understands the liberal outlook and has not merely adopted the label because it's a slick product salable at the polls.

That men of narrow vision also are opposing Truman's plan doesn't justify this lavish pooling of the opposition as "stupid." Ewing showed an inexcusable intolerance of differing opinions.

Ewing has a job to do in Washington. However broadly its duties may be interpreted, they surely don't include encouraging intolerance of other men's opinions.

Aw, What's The Use?

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Drew Pearson says: Truman speech signals free-world counter-attack; Soviet invites U. S. businessmen to Russia; Real-estate lobby political liability.

EN ROUTE—Only a few insiders know it, but President Truman's foreign-policy speech is the opening gun in a hard-hitting demagogic counteroffensive against communism in the world.

In the San Francisco talk, Truman touched briefly on one point, land reform, that will be the key weapon to drive communism back in Asia, Africa and the Balkans.

Truman hit at the Soviet peace offensive as "glittering promises and false propaganda" because of intelligence reports of cynical Soviet moves.

One such American whose name must be withheld, reported he was invited to Moscow, with the hint he would be granted a private audience with Stalin.

Also, while Soviet diplomats and radio broadcasts piously call for peace, quite a different story is told the Russian people.

Currently, an agent of a Russian underground, the NTS, is in Washington seeking funds to operate. He is Constantine Boldyreff, a Russian-language instructor at the famed Catholic university, Georgetown.

Truman smiled pleasantly and said he would wait his turn. He did. Kingpin Lobbyist

Congressional candidates who befriended the real-estate lobby are feeling the sting of some juicy quotes by the kingpin of Washington lobbyists, Herbert Nelson of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Here are a few Nelson nifties which are being used against this friend in Congress:

"I don't believe in democracy. I think it stinks. I believe in a republic."

"I don't believe women should be allowed to vote at all. Ever since they started, our public affairs have been in a worse mess than ever..."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Maybe this is just a foolish question," writes a St. Louis correspondent, "but if a sensible answer is possible it would set our minds at rest."

West opened the king of spades and then led the jack of spades. East realized that his partner was showing the four top honors in spades, and he therefore discarded the deuce of diamonds on the second round of spades.

Now came the fatal trick. West led the queen of spades, and East discarded another diamond. South ruffed with a low trump, drew trumps, and easily won the rest of the tricks.

West was prompt to point out that if East had played the jack of trumps on the fourth spade the contract would have been defeated.

South would be obliged to overruff with the queen or king of trumps, and then West would surely win a trump trick with his ten.

East agreed with this statement. However, he argued that West should have led the low spade instead of the queen.

It isn't a foolish question, and it isn't hard to find a sensible answer. West made the only mistake, and East didn't make a mistake at all.

The reason is that West knows the contract will be defeated if his partner can ruff the fourth spade with an honor.

When West led the queen of spades at the fourth trick the effect was to tell his partner not to trump.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

German War Industries Revive As Western Europe Arms Itself

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WIESBADEN, GERMANY—Practically the only high U. S. official who stayed all through almost six years of Allied occupation in Germany is Dr. James N. Newman.

Dr. Newman formerly was a public school superintendent in New York state. He got into the original military government organization as an expert to help reorganize German schools along democratic lines.

He liked the life of living in a big house in Wiesbaden, so he stuck it out while others went home. For a time he went to all the meetings and made all the speeches he was asked to. He has let up somewhat now.

At first he had a staff of almost 1,000 U. S. Army officers and civilians to help him get the new government going in Hesse. Now the staff is down to 100. But in the time that he has been here, he has seen U. S. policy in Germany undergo a complete change.

We began by cooperating with the Communists to suppress German military production and the Nazis. Today we are working to suppress the Communists and we are taking the first faltering steps to rebuild Germany's military potential.

It will be only a matter of months, Dr. Newman believes, until U. S. military forces start pouring back into Germany. The three western zones of Germany may soon authorize the building up of a national guard force of perhaps several hundred thousand more men.

WIESBADEN, GERMANY—Practically the only high U. S. official who stayed all through almost six years of Allied occupation in Germany is Dr. James N. Newman.

Dr. Newman formerly was a public school superintendent in New York state. He got into the original military government organization as an expert to help reorganize German schools along democratic lines.

He liked the life of living in a big house in Wiesbaden, so he stuck it out while others went home. For a time he went to all the meetings and made all the speeches he was asked to. He has let up somewhat now.

At first he had a staff of almost 1,000 U. S. Army officers and civilians to help him get the new government going in Hesse. Now the staff is down to 100. But in the time that he has been here, he has seen U. S. policy in Germany undergo a complete change.

We began by cooperating with the Communists to suppress German military production and the Nazis. Today we are working to suppress the Communists and we are taking the first faltering steps to rebuild Germany's military potential.

It will be only a matter of months, Dr. Newman believes, until U. S. military forces start pouring back into Germany. The three western zones of Germany may soon authorize the building up of a national guard force of perhaps several hundred thousand more men.

PB Area Rotary Rigs Again Show Increase

The Permian Basin area of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico showed an increase of two active rotary rigs over the total number for the area on Oct. 1, 1950.
The October 15 report was 574, according to the semi-monthly survey of Reed Roller Bit Company. This is an increase of 163 rotaries over the Oct. 15, 1949, report of 411.
Scurry County listed 140 rotaries in operation. This is an increase of 14 during the last 15-day period.
Midland County and the Pegasus field—which is partly in Midland and partly in Upton Counties—follows Scurry with 57. On October 1 this area had 53 strings of tools in operation.
Kent County lost three during the last 15-day period and Terry County gained three.

Three Day Permian Basin Oil Show Is Huge Success

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor
The 1950 Permian Basin Oil Show at Odessa, which closed Saturday night, after running three days, was a highly successful affair. There were more than 250 separate exhibits of oil field equipment, supplies and service appliances. The exhibits covered more than 25 acres of space.
The exhibits were well worth the price of the tickets which were sold for $2 each to finance the show.
However, in addition, a good program of entertainment was provided for each ticket holder. A musical show was presented twice daily in the auditorium at the Ector County Park, the site of the show.
Four separate dances were held each night with "big name" orchestras furnishing the music.
The show was sponsored by the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute and it was supported by all branches of the oil industry in this territory.
It was a good thing for the industry and the general public as well.

New Oil Well Reaming Tool Is Manufactured In Odessa

A new oil well reaming tool recently introduced to the drilling industry has resulted in another manufacturing plant for Odessa and the Permian Basin.
Petroleum Tool Company was organized July 1 and ran their first reamer in a deep Ellenburger test in Crane County's Block 31 field. The company is now manufacturing, assembling and distributing oil well reamers in their new home at 1315 West First Street.
Oscar Garrett and Dave Blaker designed and assembled their first tool in space rented from a service station in Odessa. Rapid acceptance of the new reamer they have named "Lit'l Oscar" called for more space, machinery and facilities. Final machining, hard-facing of cutters, heat treating and magnetic inspection of the reamer bodies are now done in Odessa.
In addition to Garrett, who heads the company, and Blaker, who is general manager, Ross Jones is field representative and B. B. Davis is shop foreman.
Since the first test was made with the tool in Crane County, twenty-five "Lit'l Oscar" reamers are now running in wells drilling in hard and abrasive formations in numerous Permian Basin fields.
The new reamers, according to Garrett, are made with high-grade alloy steels heat treated for maximum strength and toughness.
"One of the main features of our service," Garrett said, "is our inspection service. We furnish the reamer bodies to our customers at "no-charge" and they remain our property. This policy assures proper maintenance and magnetic inspection before a tool is delivered to a new location."
Garrett believes proper maintenance and inspection, along with their improved design and manufacturing process, will virtually eliminate the risk usually associated with the operation of a reamer.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP—

Oil Production Boom Brought On By Korean War Just About Ended

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON —(AP)—The crude oil production boom brought on by the Korean war is just about over.
There is no connection with the optimistic turn of events in Korea but there is indication the long string of new crude output records will have to stand for some time.
Crude purchasers and refiners, for various reasons, have digged their estimate last May on desired above-ground crude storage was too high.
They notified the Texas Railroad Commission last week storage should approximate, on the average, 240,000,000 barrels.
The October 7 U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of crude stocks was 241,211,000, a decline of 420,000 from the previous week.
Last May the major oil company executives submitted a 245,000,000 average as the desirable figure.
Last week most of the executives not only reduced this average but told the Texas oil and gas regulatory body they would be unable to take additional Texas crude.

Order is issued
The commission then issued a November production allowable order obviously designed to keep output at October levels.
November's daily permissible production was placed at 2,722,705 barrels, a cutback of 26,808 barrels. The small decrease easily will be wiped out by production from new wells brought in between now and the end of November.
Texas crude conservation statutes interpret excess storage as being waste.
Charged with enforcing this statute, the Railroad Commission has made periodic calls upon the industry to submit a survey on most desirable levels at which above-ground stocks should be maintained in order to assure efficiency in meeting demand.
Last week's survey was the first since the start of the fighting in Korea.
No Need Indicated
Other estimates submitted by the company executives also indicate no need for further increases in crude output.
Gasoline storage estimates for September 30 next year averaged around 100,000,000 barrels, and heating oil 110,000,000. The American Petroleum Institute placed October 14 gasoline storage at 108,807,000 barrels, heating oils at 118,785,000 barrels.
Last April 1 gasoline stocks stood at a record 135,000,000 barrels.
Improved transportation facilities, particularly pipe lines, comprise one of the most important factors leading to the reduction of working stock levels.
The nation's vast network of petroleum pipe lines, with many big postwar expansions now completed, permit rapid, efficient transfer of crude oil from the well to the refinery and finished products from the refinery to the consuming area.
The Interior Department last week reported United States petroleum pipe line mileage has increased 20 per cent since 1941.
A department report said the nation last January had 152,814 miles of petroleum lines, an increase of 25,463 miles since May 1, 1941.
Lines for transporting refined products now are operating in 35 states and the District of Columbia.

A New Enterprise for The Permian Basin OIL WELL REAMERS
Manufactured and Distributed in Odessa, Texas
Petroleum Tool Company is now manufacturing a new reamer especially designed and built to withstand the extreme abrasive conditions imposed by modern West Texas drilling operations. "Lit'l Oscar" Reamers are made from the highest grade alloy steels and are heat-treated to insure maximum strength and toughness.
The element of risk usually associated with the use of a reamer has been virtually eliminated by the following features of design and marketing policies established by Petroleum Tool Company:
1. The design of "Lit'l Oscar" Reamers requires no welding in the manufacture or repair of the reamer body. This prevents grain growth and fissures which result from the rapid heating and cooling of any welding process.
2. Final machining of the reamer body is performed FOLLOWING heat treatment to assure perfect alignment of all parts.
3. Reamer bodies are furnished the customer at "no charge" and remain the property of PETROLEUM TOOL COMPANY. This assures proper maintenance and magnetic inspection before a tool is delivered to a new location.
4. Our design provides improved mounting for the cutter assemblies thus giving increased strength without decreasing the over-all sturdiness of the reamer itself.
5. Our design further provides for free rotation of the pin in the blocks thereby equalizing wear on the pin and avoiding continual concentration of wear and stress at a single point. This minimizes the possibility of pin failure.
"Lit'l Oscar" Reamers have proved their performance. The first "Lit'l Oscar" Reamer ran in a drilling well in Crane County's Block 31 field less than three months ago. Today more than 25 "Lit'l Oscar" Reamers are running in drilling wells over the Permian Basin.

MOST MODERN—One of the world's most modern office buildings, above, built by the Service Pipe Line Company, will be opened to the public Monday in Tulsa. The marble steel building, housing 500 of the crude oil transportation firm's employees, is the first building in the world to have "autotronic" or completely automatic elevators; the first in Oklahoma to have "Q" or honey-comb steel floors; and specially designed lighting. The building marks another advance in the Southwest's oil and transportation development.

McQuiddy Is New WOGA Staff Man

LOS ANGELES — Arthur M. McQuiddy, former executive secretary of the New Mexico Oil and Gas Association, has joined the staff of the Western Oil and Gas Association as a public relations field representative.

His particular function will be to coordinate the activities of the more than 100 area committees organized in connection with the association's "grass roots" public relations program in the five western states, it was announced by John M. Peirce, vice president and general manager of the association.

Prior to joining the New Mexico Oil and Gas Association, where he served as executive secretary for three years, McQuiddy had been editor of the Roswell, N. M., Morning Dispatch. He formerly worked for The Associated Press in Kansas City and for the Kansas City Star.

During World War II he served in the Navy for four years, retiring as a lieutenant.

McQuiddy is a graduate of the University of Missouri and of the Kansas City Art Institute.

He and his wife have established their home in Los Angeles.

Tom Green Protests Lifting Cotton Quotas

SAN ANGELO —(AP)—The Tom Green County Farm Bureau has protested the Department of Agriculture's complete lifting of cotton acreage restrictions.

In a resolution to be sent to Washington members favored putting quotas on a sliding scale. They backed a minimum quota of 40 per cent of all cultivated acreage in a county and a maximum of 80 per cent except in cases of dangerous cotton shortage.

The group, meeting Friday night, also opposed the recent cotton export ban.

Minard Funeral Held In Houston

Burial was held Friday at Booneville, Mo., for H. C. (Harry) Minard of Houston.

He died in a Midland hospital October 17, as the result of a heart ailment. The body was carried to Houston where funeral services were held Thursday. It was then sent to Booneville for burial.

Minard was sales representative for Ajax Iron Works of Houston. He spent most of his time in the Permian Basin and the ailment which caused his death struck him early last week when he was a guest in a Midland hotel.

Retail Merchants Will Meet Tuesday

A mass meeting of retail merchants will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday on the mezzanine floor of Hotel Scharbauer to determine Midland's Thanksgiving holiday and to map plans for the opening of the Christmas shopping season here. The session originally was set for last Tuesday but was postponed because of a conflict with the opening of the Community Chest campaign.

John B. Mills, chairman of the Retailers Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, urged each retail business establishment to be represented at the meeting.

Since Gov. Allan Shivers has proclaimed both November 23 and 30 as Thanksgiving holidays in Texas, Mills said it is necessary that merchants decide which day will be observed here. Midland public schools will observe the first holiday.

Lewis Weeks Addresses WT Geological Society

The broad structural features of the earth's crust and the relationship of geosynclines or basins of deposition to the occurrence of oil will be discussed by Lewis G. Weeks at the West Texas Geological Society meeting in the Midland Junior High School Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. Monday.

Weeks received his training in geology at the University of Wisconsin and Cornell University.

Weeks is making a tour under the sponsorship of the Distinguished Lecture Committee of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, and is speaking before several of the affiliated geological societies in the United States and in Canada.

Lewis G. Weeks

Prior to 1924, he was associated with mining companies in Arizona and Mexico.

He served as a geologist in India from 1920 to 1924, was associated with the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and subsidiaries in many of the countries in South America from 1924 to 1928, and since that time has been in his present position as Staff and Chief Research Geologist of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in New York City.

During the course of these years, he has given considerable attention to the world-wide analytical studies of basin development, sedimentation, and the environments in the basin of deposition, which appear to control the occurrence of oil. His talk will be illustrated with a large number of slides.

PBLA To Meet In Midland Monday

The first session of the Permian Basin Landmen's Association for the new year which started September 1, is to be held Monday at 7 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer in Midland.

What's the Price of a Buick?

Less than most people think

How good are you at guessing games? Before you answer, better put yourself to this test:

Look at the handsome honey pictured here—or recall the thousands like it that you've been seeing on the highways—and ask yourself what you think one would cost.

Bear in mind, this is an eight—and a very special eight—with the eager and ever-lively power of a high-compression valve-in-head engine that's a Fireball to boot.

Take stock of its generous expanses of safety plate glass that mean extra visibility—and the sofa-wide comfort of its deep-cushioned seats.

Take our word for it—or check for yourself—it rides like a dream—with coil springs on all four wheels instead of two—with big soft low-pressure tires on Buick's wide rims—and with feather-light handling for all its road-hugging heft.

Remember that such things as air cleaners, oil filters, dual horns, windshield wipers, sun visors and map lights, automatic dome lighting, and a built-in ventilation system all come as part and parcel of every Buick at no extra cost—and likewise that Buick, and Buick alone, offers Dynaflow Drive.*

Then check local prices and see how they jibe with your idea of what such a car should cost. If you've done any shopping, you'll quickly find out that you can own a Buick at prices that start below what you'd pay for some sizes.

Why not get the exact figures for the body type in the Series that exactly fits your taste and budget—starting now, with a visit to your Buick dealer.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Middle East Will Get 50,000 Tons Of Steel For Pipeline

WASHINGTON—The Commerce Department has issued licenses for the export of 50,000 tons of steel to start construction of a 555-mile, 30-inch oil pipe line in the Middle East, it was learned Saturday.

The decision was taken within the last six weeks in the form of two orders from the department upon an application of the Iraq Petroleum Company. The decision has been a closely guarded secret within government circles and the industry.

The decision means the United States has decided to allot to the project, which is still to be started, a total of at least 190,000 tons of steel line pipe needed for completion. Only the United States makes pipe of this size.

Spokesman for Consolidated Western Steel Corporation, Maywood, Calif., said the first shipment of steel for the line left Long Beach, Calif., September 27, aboard the steamship Midland Trader. It carried 20 miles of line pipe, about 7,200 tons. By the end of this week, spokesman said, a total of 48 miles will have gone.

The spokesman, reached by long-distance telephone, said shipments are under Commerce Department export license issued to Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

National Tube, which, like Consolidated, is a U. S. Steel subsidiary, and the Geneva, Utah, Steel Plants, are furnishing some of the steel for the project, which long has been planned.

Plans of Iraq officials, as given to Commerce, are to get as much of the steel from the West Coast as possible, and ship from Pacific ports.

Most steel exports have to be approved by the Commerce Department. Steel pipe and tubing is under inventory controls which forbid domestic users to keep on hand more than the "minimum" needed for operations. Allocations to domestic users are anticipated.

Owners of the Iraq Petroleum Company include Jersey Standard and Socony-Vacuum which together own 23 per cent; the French 23 per cent; Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, 23 per cent; Shell Oil Company, 23 per cent; and minor interests, 5 per cent.

West Texas Midland Steel Meanwhile, backers of a proposed $68,000,000 West Texas-California oil pipe line of 20 inches diameter are trying to find 205,000 tons of steel line pipe; they have filed an application with Interior Department for steel allocations, but there has been no action.

Steel involved in the Middle East oil line is two per cent of all steel used by the American petroleum industry at home and abroad this year. 20 per cent of all steel used for oil pipelines and an amount of tonnage which, if converted into casing, tubing and drill pipe, would enable the drilling of 4,800 oil wells in the United States.

In support of the application, Middle East pipe line interests are understood to have claimed the line is "urgently necessary" to supply Europe with oil; that it can be built under "advantageous conditions" compared with construction of the now-completed Tapline in the Middle East which is 1,000 miles long and "much quicker than" Tapline.

So guarded a secret has been approval of the steel export that Wilson K. Ray of the Commerce Department said he is under "definite instructions" to give out no information; Newton Foster of the department said the matter is "confidential."

Chapman To Speak Last year, the division of marketing of the American Petroleum Institute stole the show at the annual meeting in Chicago when it produced Vice President Alben Barkley as its chief speaker.

What was to be a simple division meeting, turned into the main event. Oil men from other groups and divisions swarmed into the main ballroom to hear the vice president. And the API's board of directors broke up a meeting early in order to be on hand.

This year, the marketing division has done it again for the annual meeting in Los Angeles in mid-November. While managers of the API meeting sought a big name speaker for the general assembly of oil men, the marketing division quietly lined up Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman.

Dr. John W. Frey, director of the division, explains that A. L. Nickerson and J. Howard Marshall, officers of the division, arranged for the Barkley and Chapman addresses.

Henry L. Stinson, Thrice Secretary Of War, Dies Suddenly

COLD SPRING HARBOR, N. Y. —(AP)— Henry L. Stinson, 83, the first American to hold cabinet office under four presidents, died late Friday of a sudden heart attack.

Stinson was secretary of War under Presidents William Howard Taft, Franklin D. Roosevelt; and

Henry L. Stinson

Harry Truman, and was Herbert Hoover's only secretary of State. Three months ago Stinson fell and broke his hip, but was making a good recovery and getting about with wheelchair and crutches. Friday afternoon he and Mrs. Stinson set out on a drive around the estate. He was struck in the car, was taken home immediately, and died a few minutes later.

While Stinson's four years as secretary of State, 1929 to 1933, were distinguished, military men have ranked him with Lincoln's Edwin M. Stanton as one of the two greatest secretaries of War in American history.

Ranch Hand Shot To Death At Home

AMARILLO —(AP)— A 60-year old ranch worker was found shot to death Friday at his home in Roswell.

The victim, Bob Waters, was believed to have been dead since Thursday night. Police throughout the tri-state area have been alerted to pick up a man who had been living with Waters and has not been seen since the body was found.

Waters was found sitting in his pickup truck beside his home with the top of his head blown away by a heavy caliber rifle bullet. Two more shots had gone through the truck. A rifle was found in the yard, about 10 feet from the truck.

The body was found when a neighbor asked police to investigate. The neighbor said Waters had failed to keep a breakfast engagement Friday morning and asked police to investigate to see if he had been taken ill.

After the body was found neighbors recalled hearing three shots fired early Thursday night.

Korean Republic Lists Battle Costs

REPUBLIC OF KOREA ARMY HEADQUARTERS —(AP)— The war against the Reds has cost the Republic Army 9,643 killed, 39,965 wounded and 28,721 missing, this headquarters reported Saturday.

These official figures represent battle casualties only. Some 3,000 other deaths and injuries have occurred through accidents and illness.

The most serious losses occurred in the first two weeks of the Communist invasion, when the Republic troops were hurled back from the 38th parallel border southward.

Since then the South Korean Army, with the help of American advisers and equipment, has been building up steadily.

A spokesman said it now totals about 175,000 men, most of whom have seen action.

Midlanders Return From WTCC Meet

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Ulmer and Bill Collins returned late Friday from Mineral Wells where they attended the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Tom Sealy, who also attended the session, continued on to Austin to attend a meeting of the Texas University Ex-Students Association.

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, another Midland delegate to the WTCC convention, returned Saturday after attending the Midland-Brownwood football game in Brownwood Friday night.

Ulmer, a past president of the West Texas Chamber, conducted a conference on Taxation and Legislation at the convention. He also was a member of the By-Laws Committee. Sealy and Collins were elected WTCC directors, representing Midland, at a business session Friday morning.

Downing was the toastmaster at the Friday noon luncheon, at which John Ben Sheppard, secretary of state, was the speaker. Hubert M. Harrison, manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, addressed the convention Thursday night.

Five Youths Killed In Auto Crash On Return From Game

EL PASO —(AP)— Five El Paso youths died in a head-on collision Saturday after an all-night drive. They were returning from a football game at Plainview when their car smashed into a truck 20 miles east of El Paso at 7 a.m.

The truck driver was injured. The youths had driven 308 of the 320 miles of their journey. Dead were: Antonio Ybarra, 22, driver of the car and Bowie High School (El Paso) alum; and Tommy Mendosa, 17; Manuel Cabrera, 17; Roberto Lopez, 16, and Oscar Payan, 17, all Bowie High students.

J. W. Grissan, El Paso truck driver, was hospitalized for bruises, shock, and possible concussion. Grissan and state police said the car was on the wrong side of the road.

"I saw the auto coming at me," the truck driver said. "It looked as if the driver was asleep. There was no place to go. I set my brakes. I braked out. When I regained consciousness, I was lying in the highway. The car was imbedded into my truck. A car came along and they started to get the bodies out of the wreckage."

MIDLAND, TEXAS, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1950

SECTION TWO

Design For Living

"Design for Living" will be the theme of the tenth annual Midland Flower Show to be presented Wednesday in the Miles Hall Buick Company showroom.

The show is sponsored by the Midland Council of Garden Clubs and is open to all Midland County amateurs. Clubs working on the flower show are the Midland, Yucca, Perennial, Pyracantha and Tejas.

Mrs. J. A. Koegler is general chairman and Mrs. A. P. Shirey is chairman of the staging committee.

Judging will begin at 11 a.m. Wednesday, and the show will be open to the public at 3:15 p.m. Entries will be received from 8 a.m. until 11 a.m. Judging will be done by flower show judges accredited by Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., and will be completed before the show opens so visitors may see the ribbons on the winning exhibits.

Various arrangements of roses, chrysanthemums, dahlias, cannas, dianthus, marigolds, petunias and other flowers will be entered in the show.

To carry out the show theme, arrangement classes will include Start the Day With a Song, Breakfast in Bed, Line a Day, Ten O'Clock Coffee, High Noon, One O'Clock, Time Out for a Good Book, Tea Time, A Stroll in the Garden, Barbecue on the Terrace, Sunset Glow, Out for the Evening, and Moonlit Night.

A special junior section for children who wish to enter has been arranged.

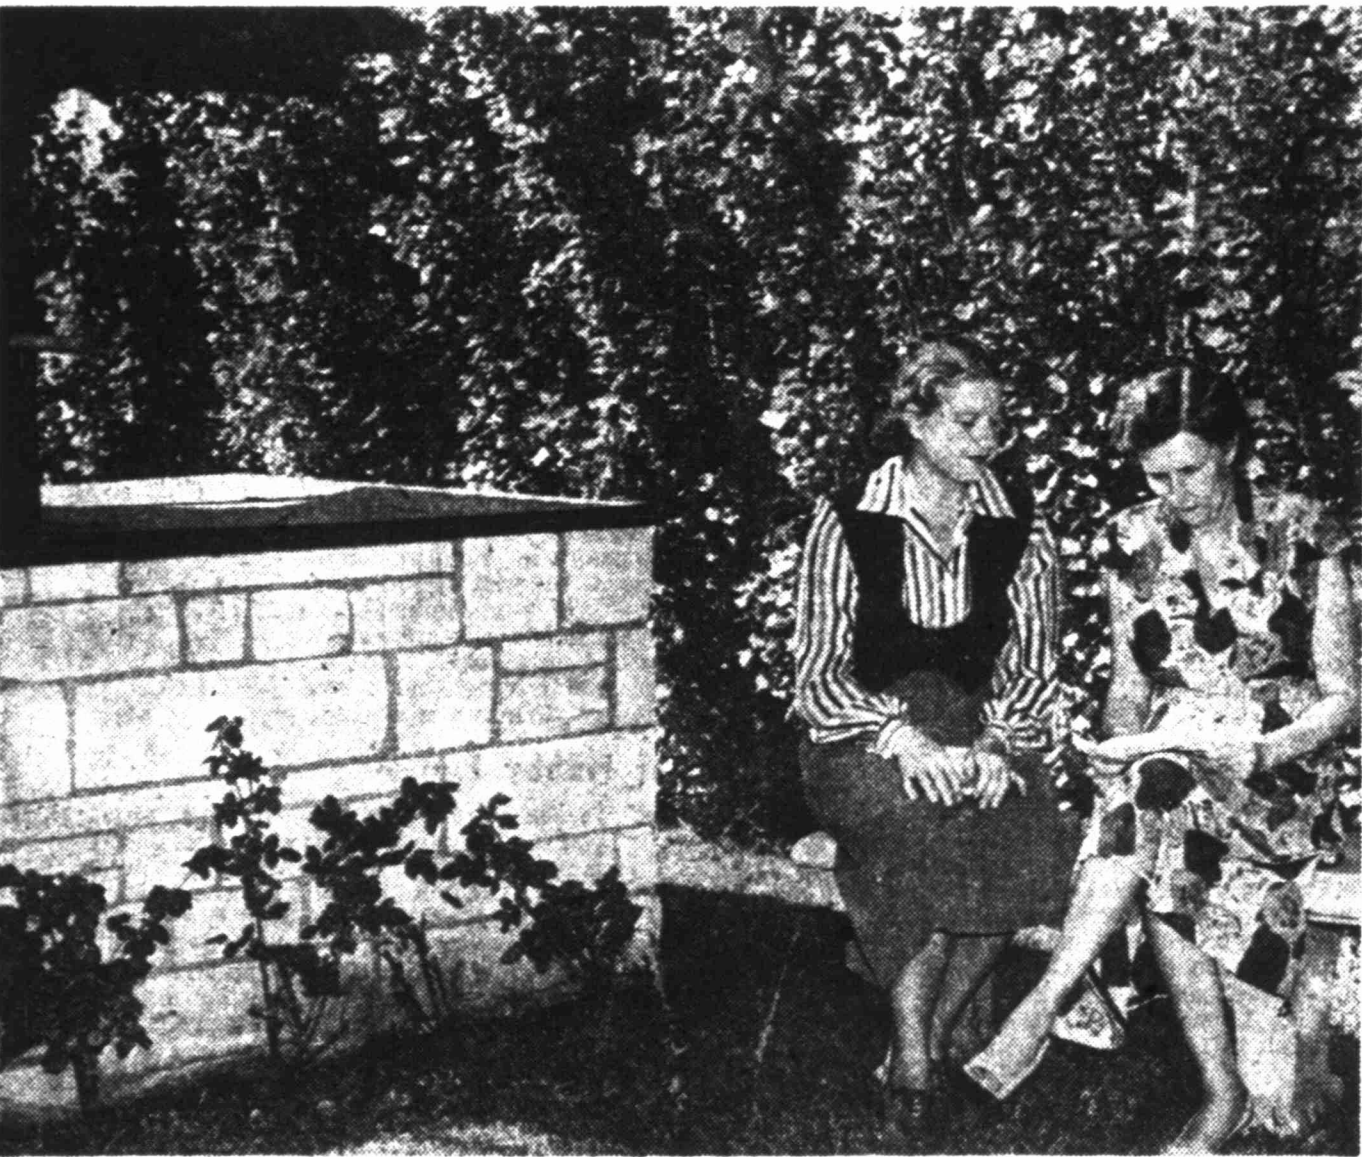

The first flower show held in Midland was in 1941, sponsored by the Midland Garden Club, the oldest of the clubs here. This early show was a wild flower show staged in cooperation with the Texas Highway Department. It was presented in the North Elementary School with 273 varieties of wild flowers on display.

The theme for last year's show was "Fall Flower Harvest," and the 1948 show used the theme, "Sunset on the Prairie."

EXAMINES DAHLIAS—Mrs. E. W. Cowden, a member of the Pyracantha Garden Club, examines her dahlias to see if they will be ready for the forthcoming flower show. The Pyracantha Club will landscape the Midland Officer's Club and help beautify the city's alleys as its 1950-51 projects. Mrs. Willard Bumpass is president of the club.

FLOWER SHOW PLANS—Mrs. M. S. Dickerson, left, and Mrs. J. A. Koegler, flower show chairman, discuss plans for the forthcoming flower show. Mrs. Dickerson and Mrs. Koegler are members of the Yucca Garden Club. Their project for the year is to help plant foliage and flowers around Guadalupe Hall. Mrs. R. E. Gillespie is president of the Yucca Club.

GATHER FLOWERS—Mrs. C. E. Marsh, left, and Mrs. C. E. George pause from their flower gathering to examine a sun dial. Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. George are members of the Midland Garden Club. This year the club plans to assist in the beautification of the Midland Memorial Hospital and to contribute to the Audubon Nature Camp, Kerrville. Club president is Mrs. C. F. Henderson.

TEJAS CLUB—Mrs. Jim Willis picks some pampas grass to experiment with a floral arrangement she will enter in the flower show to be held Wednesday. Mrs. Willis is a member of the Tejas Garden Club. The Tejas Club president is Mrs. W. D. Lane. This club plans to complete all its programs and projects and particularly to complete the landscaping of Carver Park this year. The club also plans to encourage tree planting in Midland.

FIELDHOUSE—Mrs. A. L. Gill, president of the Perennial Garden Club, examines the flowers planted around the fieldhouse at the Memorial Stadium. The Perennial Garden Club planted flowers and grass around the fieldhouse as its year's project. Members planted purple zinnias and yellow marigolds, representing the school colors.

Hair Styles Short Or Long

This season's longer (and shorter) coiffures and slimmer (and fuller) fashion silhouettes afford an opportunity for stylishly suiting individual needs. Longer hair (left) complements sleek down-sweeping neckline, and shorter hair (right) goes well with high, upturned lapels.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Since each season's most touted fashion is not always the most becoming for every woman, it's good news this Fall that a choice is possible—in both coiffures and clothes. This trend is applauded by Florence Lustig, outstanding designer, who points out that each woman should make herself individually beautiful. The co-ordination of fitting necklines and hairlines is one way to accomplish this.

Women who choose longer hair may quote as their authority D'Amico, noted hair stylist, who recommends a near-shoulder-length style for Autumn. A four-inch-length at the nape of the neck, he says, allows manageability and adaptability. It lends itself well to casual arrangements or to more formal chignon or curl effects.

Opposing this opinion is Bernard Az Guro, another famous coiffeur, who holds that the hair should be snipped short enough to show the head in its full beauty. Hair should serve merely to frame the face, he states, and to attract attention to itself. A new look is achieved when these brief cuts are swept back or up.

Monahans To Greet Air Tour Trippers

MONAHANS—A lunch stop will be made here Monday by participants in the All Texas Air Tour when the City of Monahans plays host to an anticipated 150 or 200 fliers between their flight from El Paso to Plainview.

More than 40 Monahans Chamber of Commerce members will greet the aviators at the municipal airport and escort them to the Monahans Country Club where luncheon will be served.

The Monahans stop will be part of a week's tour of the state, covering 3,400 miles with stops at 55 Texas towns.

Greeting the airmen will be Mayor Walter Harwell, Chamber of Commerce president E. L. Kent, and Charles Stuckey, chairman of the welcome committee. In charge of the transportation committee are O. G. Rudy and Clarence Brown.

Purpose of the tour is to demonstrate the practical utility of light planes in peace as well as in times of emergency and to stimulate the general public's interest in flying. The tour is sponsored by the Texas Flying Farmers, Texas State Aviation Association, Texas Private Flyers Association and Texas Aeronautics Commission.

Kiwanis Club Lifts Curtain On Minstrel-Revue Tuesday

Midland's Kiwanis Club lifts the curtain on its 1950 Minstrel-Revue Tuesday night with indications of five full nights of top-flight entertainment in store for ticket holders. Albert Kelley, Kiwanis Club prexy and chairman of ticket sales, says the duets are going at a fast clip. All members of the club have been peddling the tickets for the last week and Monday a reservation board will be set up at Tallorfine on North Colorado Street.

Old faces and new favorites will team to make the two-part 1950 show a success. Songs commemorating the first 50 years of the 20th Century will be presented in both the opening revue and the minstrel. Original music has been written for much of the show by Bill Pomeroy. Curtain for each show, Tuesday through Saturday, will be lifted at 8:30 p.m. The show will be staged in the City-County Auditorium in cooperation with the Midland Community Theater. Art Cole is director.

More than 150 persons have donated their time and labor to help put over the big minstrel, proceeds of which will be used to aid the underprivileged in the area. Tickets are $1.20 and for the admission price Kiwanis officials promise both the buyer and the underprivileged will be benefited.

Joe Koegler is general chairman of this year's production, which is the fourth straight. Talent, costumes and set designs are headed by W. J. Hunt, Virginia Flood and Art Cole, respectively. Production chairmen are Lee Flood and Hastings Pannill. Henry Conking and Hal Schauer are stage managers. Pomeroy heads the script. Jeff Williams, who has been drilling his cast for more than two months, is in charge of vocal selections. John Springer and Mary Williams are in charge of the instrumental department. Maedelee Roberts heads the make-up crews. Bob Richard leads the dancers Bob Conking, Randy Rubin and Waring Bradley are in charge of properties, lights and painting. Lee Weathers heads construction, Bob Sutton is in charge of rigging and Tom Erick heads the backstage crew.

Harvey Herd is business manager for the 1950 production. Perry Pickett is in charge of publicity. J. W. Ligon heads the concessions. Kelley is chairman of ticket sales, and Ford Buehrle is treasurer. Bill Pennebaker will lead a downtown parade each afternoon. The procession will feature approximately 15 Kiwanis Club members, dressed in colorful costumes. They will present a brief skit downtown each day. Coe Mills and Norris Creath are house chairmen.

Child's Party Scheduled In Officer's Club

A child's Halloween masquerade party will be held at 6:30 p.m. October 29 in the Midland Officer's Club.

There will be a witch to tell the fortunes in the club house patio, a fish pond, doughnut "dunking," refreshments and colored cartoon movies of favorite animals.

Mrs. Jess Lindsey is chairman of the party and is assisted by Mrs. R. W. Snyder, Mrs. J. C. Blackwood, Mrs. Haden Upchurch and Mrs. Adington Bruton. Mrs. John C. Stille is in charge of the decoration committee.

The party will be for children one to 12 years. Prizes will be awarded to the best dressed children in three classes, which are the four-year-olds and pre-school age division, those four to six and the school age children.

B&PW Club Week To Conclude With Tea

National Business and Professional Women's Week will end at 4:30 p.m. Sunday with an informal tea in the home of Neta Stovall, 1604 Bedford Drive.

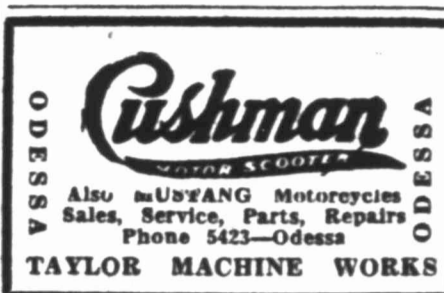

Thelma Gardner, Midland club president, personally extends an invitation to each nurse and teacher in the city to attend the tea.

Colysta Christian will be chairman and the elective B&PW officers will be in the receiving line. They include Mrs. Gardner, Ruth

Other persons who have commended the observance of B&PW National Week are President Harry Truman, Judge Sarah T. Hughes national president; Fleur Cowles, Flair editor, and Philip D. Reed, president of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. James Blaine Sammons, Jr.

Joan Wyche Weds James Sammons, Jr.

In a double ring ceremony held at 4:30 p.m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church, Joan Wyche became the bride of James Blaine Sammons, Jr. Officiating was the Rev. W. C. Hinds of Abilene, assisted by the Rev. H. H. Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wyche of Van Horn. Sammons is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sammons, also of Van Horn. The candlelight ceremony took place before a background arrangement of white pom-pom chrysanthemums, white stock and greenery. The aisle and altar were illuminated by white cathedral tapers. Mrs. Holt Jowell, organist, played "O Tender Moon," Gounod; "I Love Thee," Greg; "Call Me Thine Own," Haley, and "To the Evening Star," Wagner, before the ceremony. She accompanied Mrs. Foy Proctor who sang "Because," D'Hardiot and "At Dawning," Cadman. Mrs. Jowell also played the traditional wedding marches and "Wedding Prayer," Dunlap, during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an antique satin gown trimmed in seed pearls and fashioned under a satin redingote with long sleeves and a cathedral train. Her three-tier fingertip illusion veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley with showers of satin ribbon and blossoms caught at intervals in love knots.

Bridal Attendants
Marylee Cowden was maid of honor. She wore an off-the-shoulder colonial style dress of rose taffeta fashioned with a bustle. Her old-fashioned bonnet matched her dress. She carried a colonial bouquet of chartreuse spider chrysanthemums. Bridesmaids were Patsy Bray, Royce McKee and Patricia Sammons of Fort Worth, cousin of the bridegroom. Their chartreuse taffeta dresses and old-fashioned bonnets were identically styled to those of the maid of honor. They carried bronze spider chrysanthemums in colonial design bouquets. Nancy Ann and Cynthia Wyche, sisters of the bride, were flower girls. Their pale pink taffeta dresses, colonial bouquets and bonnets were styled to match those of the maid of honor. Also dressed in identical style were Nina Kay and Corkey Williams of Van Horn, candlelighters.

T. J. Sammons was best man for his brother. Ushers were Bill Narvon of Van Horn, Richard Jones of Eldorado, uncle of the bridegroom, and Bill Wyche, brother of the bride. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wyche chose a formal gown of egg-shell crepe. Mrs. Sammons wore a pale green satin evening dress. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the First Methodist Church Annex. An arrangement of white stock and pom-pom chrysanthemums decorated the serving table. White carnations and wedding bells formed a bouquet on the receiving line.

Other members of the house party were Mr. Hollowell, Mrs. A. E. Pettit, Mrs. George Glass, Mrs. Roy McKee, Mrs. Guy Cowden, Mrs. Clyde Cowden, Neva Francis Harrell, Mrs. Bill Wyche, Jr., Mrs. H. L. Bray and Mrs. Frank Cowden.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, Mrs. Sammons chose a green gabardine suit worn with black accessories and a pink hat. Her corsage was of white roses. Mrs. Sammons graduated from Midland High School in 1949 and attended Christian College in Columbia, Mo. Sammons graduated from Van Horn High School in 1949 and later attended Texas A&M. Out-of-city guests were Thomas B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones, and son, Mrs. T. K. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Meador, Mrs. J. A. Orif-

A Happy Wife And Mother Is Basis For A Happy Family

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Study the happiest families you know and you'll discover that the woman who is the wife and mother of the family has most all of these qualities listed below:

She has a good disposition and an easy relaxed attitude toward life.

She likes people of all ages and makes them truly welcome in her home.

She is practical—for an impractical woman, however charming she may be, doesn't give her husband and children the feeling of stability that is necessary for a really happy home.

She knows how to look a problem in the face, solve it to the best of her ability and then put it out of her mind.

She encourages the members of her family to be independent.

She isn't overly-socially ambitious for herself or her children. A woman who is always striving to keep up with the Joneses hasn't time to create the kind of home atmosphere in which a family can be happy.

Doesn't Want To Be Martyr

She's not a door mat and hasn't the slightest inclination to be a martyr. She expects and gets co-operation from her family.

She has a sense of humor, not the bitter kind that thrives on the ridicule of others, but the gentle kind that helps her to see the amusing side of the little incidents of every-day living and helps her to laugh at herself occasionally.

Though her family is her main concern in life—she has other interests, too, and encourages the members of her family in their own outside interests.

She is a good listener and an appreciative audience for her family.

BREAKAGE CAUSE

Never take a hot heat-resistant dish from the oven and set it on a wet sink; the quick cooling may cause breakage. Neither should you pour water into a hot heat-resistant glass dish when it is either in or out of the oven.

SUPPER MENU

Serve bacon on a supper menu sometimes; it's good teamed with creamed noodles topped with cheese and a green salad or cole slaw. For dessert you might have baked apples stuffed with dried fruit and nuts.

Skillful Tricks Add To Feminine Appeal

The ultra feminine appeal which women gain by good grooming and tasteful costume touches is irresistible to most men, according to Bradshaw Crandall, famed painter of beautiful women. Ruffled petticoat flashes alluringly beneath hemline of tweed suit (right). Provocative, wide-open neckline on black velvet dress (upper left) makes a perfect foil for flirtatious lace fan. Pretty show of shoulders (upper center) is aided by strapless top of plaid wool dress which is demurely covered by day under a black velvet jacket. Fake jewels on purse gadgets (lower left) add glitter and glamor to evening costume.

In this soap-worshipping era, it is quite an accomplishment for one woman's hair, make-up, dress, shoes and gloves to look more immaculate than the next lady's. But the one who does manage to out-dazzle her sister has a beauty advantage over her rivals who don't make quite such a fuss over being an eye-ful of appetizing freshness.

Any impression of ultra-feminine appeal in dress which a woman puts across tastefully and skillfully is also irresistible to most men, I think. Shorter Hemlines
Girls are smart enough to know that men columnists who wise-

Any poll of American men on women's fashions this Fall would bring out a unanimous vote of approval, I think, of hemlines which these designers have clipped a little shorter.

American men are much too proud of the perfection of American women's legs to have them hidden by long skirts. Even the woman with not-so-perfect legs shouldn't try to ignore the mode and try to hide faults under long dresses. She will only call attention to what she hopes to hide.

Business And Professional Club Concludes Week Of Activities

Business and Professional Women have added more than just years to their record as they conclude their 23rd anniversary Sunday. Today women constitute more than 50 per cent of America's voting public, they are in both houses of Congress, they hold 30 per cent of all jobs in America and do jury service throughout the nation.

"Measure Up for Full Partnership" has been the aim of the week, and included these slogans, "Keep Informed," "Be Active," and "Take Part." Emphasis shall be placed during the year on training for job betterment, opening new doors of work opportunity, education for sound management of money, planning for mature living, cooperation with other business and professional organizations. Others are for understanding of the special needs and problems of other women, the farm and home women, the women who work in industry, women in other countries, and participation as citizens in government and politics to build a strong country and a peaceful world.

The Emblem Breakfast, November 15, was the opening activity of the Midland week and was held in Hotel Scharbauer. There the progress, purpose and future plans of the club were explained. Symbols of the national club were explained in a pageant.

The Pot of Gold at the End of the Rainbow" was the program theme for the Tuesday night dinner when the B&PW Club was hostess to the Midland Woman's Club. Corsages, table decorations and the program carried out the financial theme. A panel discussion, "Measuring Up Financially," was presented by the finance committee.

A dinner previously scheduled for Friday night had to be postponed and a Sunday afternoon tea will conclude the activities.

All business women in Midland interested in joining the club are invited to attend the tea Sunday or the next regular meeting. Further details will be given at a later date.

West Texans Win Water Code Battle

AUSTIN—(AP)—West Texas Friday won a victory before the Texas Water Code Committee. They gained retention of a 19-year-old law giving municipalities top priority to appropriate water without condemnation or need for payment.

A proposal to replace the law with one allowing cities to appropriate up to 200 gallons per capita population was opposed successfully by State Senators Pat Bullock of Colorado City and George Moffett of Chillicothe and Rep. Preston Smith of Lubbock.

The Water Code Committee scheduled public hearings on the proposed reclassification of the state's surface water laws in Austin beginning December 11.

Committee members said the hearing would last as long as interested persons wish to study the widespread revisions.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Rubbing Noses

Early one morning, Daddy Ringtail decided that he would go visit his old friend, the Backwards Walker who lived way up in the mountains. It was such a long way to go that Daddy Ringtail had to hurry, hurry, hurry to get ready. He hurried to eat his breakfast, and that is when the trouble started. Did you ever try to eat your breakfast with two little monkeys standing beside you, talking as loud as they could, trying to ask you all the questions in the world? No one could eat and answer so many questions.

At last Daddy Ringtail said: "Sammy Ringtail! Bobby Ringtail! Please don't ask any more questions now. I want to finish my breakfast so that I can go visit the Backwards Walker."

Sammy and Bobby stopped asking questions, but when Daddy

Ringtail had taken his last bite of scrambled coconut toast, and when he was getting up from the table, Sammy said: "Daddy Ringtail, what makes the sky blue?"

Bobby said: "Daddy Ringtail, how high is the sky?"

Sammy said: "Daddy Ringtail, do the clouds moving make the wind blow?"

Bobby said: "Daddy Ringtail, what would happen if a cloud came down to the ground?"

Daddy Ringtail felt like jumping up and down, almost, when he heard all these questions. But of course the little monkey boys didn't mean to worry Daddy Ringtail, and so he said very kindly: "Sammy! Bobby! Stop talking now, and let me go. You can ask your questions when I come home tonight."

But Sammy said: "Daddy Ringtail, if we wait, we might forget what it is that we want to ask."

Daddy Ringtail smiled and then he reached up on the shelf of his closet and took down a little box. "This can be your question box from now on," he said. "While I'm gone today, Sammy can write down the questions you want to ask, and tonight I'll answer as many of them as I can."

The little monkey boys thought it would be fun to have a question box, because a question box is the thing to have, if you must wait to ask your questions. Happy day!

Baylor's Missing Bear Cub Is Back
WACO—(P)—Barney's back . . . Baylor's glad . . . and Baylor's not mad . . . anymore.

The missing cub mascot of the Baylor football team was discovered late Friday night after an anonymous caller telephoned a men's dormitory attendant and told him Barney could be found tied to a certain telephone post at a certain place on the old Twelfth Street road. Sure enough, there was Barney.

Barney, and his twin, Bailey, were taken from their pit on the campus before dawn Friday. But four hours later, Bailey turned up, apparently after a scuffle with his captors. But no Barney.

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Real heroes in war drawing least pay and fewest medals; Mrs. Veep has no yen for flying; Senator Williams battling for farmers to retain mineral rights on their farms.

EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON—Under the current Army pay system, the real heroes in the Korean war are drawing the least pay. They don't even get a fair share of the glory when the publicity and medals are doled out.

These unsung heroes are the infantrymen, who form the Army's battering ram, but who are not paid as much as the technical men and pencil pushers behind the lines.

It used to be that infantrymen could collect $10 extra each month for combat work. If they wore the combat infantryman's badge, it was good for a $10 monthly bonus. However, even this has been taken away from them in Korea, despite the fact that combat airmen and submarine men still draw $20 to $75 per month extra for "hazardous duty."

Meanwhile, it's the infantrymen who feel the bite of enemy bullets, who slog through mud, sleep in foxholes and live on cold K rations, who have little chance to take a bath, see a movie, attend church, write letters, or sleep with their shoes off.

Nevertheless, in Korea, the average monthly pay of a man in an Infantry rifle company is $135, compared with $226 for an Air Force combat crew man and $172 for a submarine crew.

Highest-paid troops in the army are Ordnance men, followed by Signal Corps, Armored Force, Quartermaster, antiaircraft, Field Artillery, Engineers, Medical and, last on the list, the Infantry.

It's the same story with other awards. During World War II, infantrymen suffered 70 per cent of the casualties but got only 11.6 per cent of the medals. The Air Force was decorated with 76.2 per cent of the medals, while other branches got the remaining 12.2 per cent.

Now that the Korean war is almost won, the Army should give fair pay and recognition to the foot soldiers who did the slugging and the slogging.

Crow Named Blackie Getting Acquainted With Alpine Citizens

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff

An outstanding personality and town loafer at Alpine, is a beer-guzzling crow named Blackie.

Blackie was just a fledgling last June when a couple of jokers gave him to Frank Hofues, Jr., manager of an Alpine hotel, telling Hofues that the bird was a Mexican eaglelet.

The hotel man soon learned the truth, but now wouldn't swap his crow for all the eagles in Mexico.

A reporter trailed Blackie around for a day and reports that the bird flies all over town and begs at least 10 free meals daily, besides the three he gets at his hotel home.

For First Breakfast
At 6 a.m. Blackie flies to the Williams Grocery for his first breakfast. He gets the second a little later from Mrs. Bertha Lentz of the hotel staff. At 8:30 a.m. he always lights on the shoulders of the hotel bellhop, Chon Sotelo and the two go to the post office for mail.

Daily, Blackie brow-beats Justice of the Peace Raymond Garnett for crackers. Garnett keeps a supply handy on his desk for the feathered friend.

The crow has a sense of humor and playfully dive-bombs citizens on the street. Most everyone recognizes him easily now—ever since the recent day when Blackie fell into a paint bucket.

Blackie is fed at Alpine schools and at Sul Ross College. Hofues gives him beer daily, a drink he highly appreciates. At first Blackie received beer through a medicine dropper but now drinks from a glass.

One night he fell off his windowledge perch at the hotel three times. Since then he has selected a safer and brighter perch for a drink-muddled crow—a big service station sign across the street from the hotel.

Mrs. H. N. Phillips Will Speak At Altrusa District Conference

Mrs. H. N. Phillips will appear on the main forum at the Seventh District Conference meeting of Altrusa International to be held Friday and Saturday in San Antonio. "Mirar en a Sara," meaning "Vision Into Action," will be the theme for the conference.

Mrs. Phillips, who has been chairman of the International Relations Committee of the Midland Altrusa Club since its organization two years ago, will discuss the theme from the standpoint of the international situation.

The Altrusa Club of Midland has gained both district and international relations. It has been named the most outstanding club in the Seventh District in this phase of activities.

With Mrs. Phillips as chairman, the club has been engaged in sending clothing and medical supplies to Korean refugees and it has fostered good relations with the Chihuahua Altrusa Club through correspondence, visits to the club and a gift of an Altrusa membership pin to each member of the club.

Correspondence has been carried on with foreign students, particularly Mrs. In-Ai Yang, Korean student educated at Vanderbilt University by the Seventh District Altrusans. Mrs. Yang has been a guest of the Midland Club.

New Kitchen Items Lessen Housework, Provide More Color

Ironing boards on wheels, flexible bowls, flat-powered whips, left-handed potato parers and toasters which make the toast not only light or dark but also soft or crunchy soon are going to move into the American kitchen.

A survey of new equipment and gadgets reveals that the homemaker's work will be considerably lighter and her life more colorful, in the very near future. For example:

The newest ironing board comes on wheels, so that it can be rolled in a jiffy to whatever room the homemaker wishes to use. And a new metal clothes-drying tree sprouts more arms than a Hindu idol for indoor wash days, collapses into a simple tube for storage.

The latest cabinet lines feature a corner cupboard with lazy Susan shelves, to utilize space that heretofore was wasted. If you already have cabinets, you now can increase their capacity with small slide-in shelves of metal, placed at the rear of present shelves or suspended below them.

Color is here to stay in the kitchen, manufacturers report. For example, clay tile, now used for countertops in about one of every five new homes, is available in some 300 shades. Many more accessories are also available in color, with red, yellow and gray leading favorites as hues.

If your electric mixer operates too noisily against bowls, get some of the new flexible plastic ones for it. A little adept manipulation of the bowl will enable you to whip any mixture evenly.

A left-handed potato peeler or can opener may seem just a knick-knack to the average person, but both are real boons for America's millions of left-handed women.

Finally, here are three gadgets to tickle your fancy: a coffee dispenser which measures ground coffee for you automatically, a popcorn popper usable on either a gas or electric burner, and a metal cup rack which operates on a track so that it can be pulled out of the cupboard.

HOME FOR 50-FOOT LOT—A one-story dwelling which can be built on a 50-foot lot is the kind of house desired today by many potential home builders, according to American Builder magazine. This plan was selected to meet those specifications. The main part of the house is only 25 feet, five inches wide. At the rear, the width is 39 feet, one inch, including the garage. Overall length is 54 feet, seven inches. The three bedrooms meet a requirement of many families.

Extra Room Can Be 'Shock Absorber' For Modern Home

A home, like an automobile, needs a good complement of shock absorbers, but many families do not realize so until the first cold drives the younger generation indoors.

Building an extra room on the house for Junior's tricycle speedway or Sis's jump and jive sessions is an excellent solution. Here are some Title Council of America tips on the subject:

1. Plan the room for a variety of uses, so that it will be as popular a family spot in 20 years as today.
2. Don't stint on built-in storage space. The room is the ideal place to store luggage and sports equipment.
3. If a laundry or workshop is included in the plan, make it compact and arrange to shut it off with screens or a large porch blind when it is not in use.
4. Select a flooring material which will take rough treatment.
5. A small snack bar will make party serving easier.
6. A built-in desk with a drop leaf will make an ideal place for children's letter-writing and mother's accounts.
7. Get new furniture for the room, even if it's only folding chairs. That tired look of too many such rooms comes from the old, "hand-down" furniture.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—Can linoleum be painted?

A—Yes. Any good grade of floor paint or floor enamel should be satisfactory. Two coats probably will be needed. Before painting, the linoleum must be cleaned thoroughly. Paint won't stick to grease or wax.

Q—Will painting damage wood veneer?

A—Not at all, but why paint it? Hardwood veneers are cut to reveal all the natural beauty of the wood grain. A finish that will protect the wood without hiding the grain usually is considered best. Wood veneer can be finished with wax, stain and varnish, shellac, lacquer or any other standard wood finishing material.

Q—Porch floor boards sometimes are painted before they are put in place. Why?

A—If only the top is painted, moisture will enter the boards through the unpainted surfaces. Eventually some of this moisture will collect under the paint and cause it to blister. Painting all the surfaces, including the hidden ones, keeps moisture out, and the paint will last much longer.

Q—What causes stucco to crack?

A—There are three possibilities. Stucco might crack if the house settles. Improper mixing or application of the stucco could be another reason. A third cause is that the lath, or other base on which the stucco has been applied, has moved. Metal lath, instead of wood, always should be used in stucco work. If moisture penetrates to wood lath, it will expand.

Q—How can a paper lamp shade be cleaned?

A—Sponge the shade with skim milk. The milk won't penetrate the paper as much as water would.

Insulating Tiles Provide Smart Ceiling Effects

A modern trend which is "catching on" rapidly in current home building and remodeling, lumber dealers say, is the use of insulating board tiles for living room ceilings.

The tileboards, available either in squares or rectangles, provide relief from the commonplace type of ceiling and offer a smart, distinctive effect which carries out the modern motif in up-to-date homes. Additionally, they provide insulation, which keeps a house cooler in Summer as well as warmer and easier to heat in winter. They also have considerable value as sound deadeners.

Appropriate To Home

While these tileboards are appropriate for dwellings of almost any style, they especially are popular for ranch type houses and homes of other design which feature corner windows and picture windows.

A factor in the growing preference for the tileboards is the individuality of room treatment which can be achieved with their use. They are produced in a variety of sizes, colors and surface textures. Pre-finished, they eliminate the need for further decoration. They can be painted, however, if a change in color plan is desired.

Economy and ease of application are other characteristics which have played a big role in the increased use of the tileboards, dealers say. The 12 by 12-inch size, for instance, usually can be obtained for about 10 to 12 cents a unit.

Particularly well adapted for renewing old ceilings marred by plaster cracks or other disfigurements, the units sometimes are attached right over the old surface by means of adhesives and supplementary nailing. The most common method, however, is to fasten wood nailing strips to the joists through the old plaster, then nail, staple or clip the tileboards to the strips. Such a job can be done in a day or two.

The U. S. imported 8,000,000 pounds of mustard seed in 1949.

Removal Of Old Roof Usually Not Necessary

Asphalt shingles are widely used for new roofs on old barns and other service buildings. A basic advantage of this type of material is that it can be applied on top of most old roof surfaces. Removal of the worn roofing, which would be an added expense, is not necessary.

Farm-owners are advised that proper application of asphalt shingles is necessary if the material is to give the full service of which it is capable. Nailing is important. Six nails are recommended for each three-tab, square butt strip shingle. In areas where high winds are prevalent, strip shingle tabs can be fastened down with quick-setting asphalt cement.
